In Peace Corps

Timothy Donahue, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Donahue, 102 Avondale Rd., is serving with the Peace Corps at Koror, Palau, in the Western Caroline Islands of Micronesia.

He trained in the District of Columbia and was assigned to Palau as a teacher in English and History.

Donahue has recently assumed the position of starting a library for the school, and he is in need of first and second grade reading books.

Those having books to donate may contact Mrs. Joseph Donahue, or Mrs. Matthew Morarty Jr., 26 Bruce Dr.

His sister was not hospitalized. Rychling will await his March court appearance in jail, in lieu of $2,000 bond.

To Await Town's Vote

School Board Delays Decision on Busing

The Board of Education last night voted to postpone decision on whether to remain in Project Concern until after the town advisory vote April 30.

Continuation of the project, under which Hartford children are being bused to suburban schools in Manchester and several other area towns, has been approved by the Hartford Board of Education.

Last night's discussion and tabling action was prompted by the local board's receipt of a formal request for a continuation, contained in a letter from Modell Bair, Hartford's superintendent of schools, dated Feb. 5.

Though the vote to table carried without opposition, Dr. Walter Schwartz obtained, after the meeting, an explanation of his objection by saying he felt the board—as a body of duly elected officials—should have the sole responsibility to decide on the project and that he was opposed to "government by referendum."

The Board of Directors voted on Feb. 6 to place the informational question, "Should we continue to participate in Project Concern?" on the voting machines together with several other referenda items April 30.

Before last night's vote, School Superintendent William Curtis said, in answer to a question from the board, that the administration is making a study of estimated space to be available next fall in the elementary schools.

He also noted that the outcome of the advisory would not be binding upon the Board of Education.

et. Concern and that I hope the community will see fit to continue it in Manchester."

After the director's surprise vote to place the matter before the electorate for an advisory referendum, Town Councilman John Shea ruled that such an advisory vote was legal, so long as it required no expenditure of funds by the town.

He also noted that the outcome of the advisory would not be binding upon the Board of Education.

Board chairman John Rottzner was careful to clarify the tabling motion so that members understood their vote did not preclude additional discussion of the project at future meetings.

It is incumbent upon us to get as much information as possible on which to base a final decision," Rottzner said.

At the conclusion of the discussion, Supt. Curtis told the board, "I hope you know that I'm very much in favor of Proj.

Rychling Case Slate March 5

The case of Thomas A. Rychling, 24, of Coventry was continued until March 5 today at Rockville Circuit Court 12 and the charge of injury to a child was added to the present two counts of cruelty to persons.

Rychling was arrested Feb. 18 after allegedly disciplining 18-month-old John Jackwin and his three-year-old sister, the 18-year-old son of Kathleen A. Jackwin, 12 Mountain St., Vernon.

An spokesman at Hartford Hospital said today that the Jackwin boy is still in critical condition and that he has not improved since admission to the hospital on the night of Feb.

What does it cost to retire?

Retirement is more than a dinner and a solid gold watch. It's pension plans, insurance policies, annuities, social security, equity in your home, savings accounts, stocks and bonds.

And most important, it takes a lot of careful planning and management. We see many people at Hartford National who recognize the need for advanced planning in this area. People who know they must plan for tomorrow while they are busy enjoying today.

That's one of the many reasons they consult a banker at Hartford National. He knows how to help. After all, that's what he's there for.

Washington agrees say a secret report estimates it would cost $77 million to meet a presidential riot commission's recommendation that Negro membership in National Guard units be substantially increased.

Top military and administration officials are debating whether to ask Congress for funds to initiate what the sources described as a three-year nationwide recruiting effort.

The congressional report on military programs said the $77 million estimate may be low. "Soldiers are an expensive commodity," he said.

Last Aug. 10, when two weeks after it was appointed by President Johnson to investigate riots in Newark, Detroit and elsewhere, the Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders reported that only 8,000 Negroes were among the nation's 800,000 National Guardsmen.

This deficiency, it declared, "must be corrected as soon as possible." The commission did not set a specific goal or deadline.

Johnson immediately sent the recommendation to Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara with the notation: "This is a matter of highest urgency and I know you will give it your immediate attention."

A special panel headed by Brig. Gen. R. M. Williams, the Army's assistant chief of staff, was formed at the Pentagon to study Negro membership in the Guard. Known as the "Williams Board," this panel sent a confidential report to to lead the first round of balloting in one field, regardless of party. The two high men enter a runoff if no candidate gets a majority.

A heavy Negro turnout in many areas pushed the vote to about 15,000 or 15,000 more than had been predicted.

The celebration at Griffin's headquarters matched that at the homes of other candidates.

Evers—most observers said winning a runoff spot against Evers, the first Negro to become a Mississippi congressman in this century, took advantage of a six-way split in the white vote in Mississippi special congressional elections, all candidates are in one field, regardless of party.

4,000 GIs Arrive To Bolster Allies

SAIGON (AP)—A 4,000-man brigade from the U.S. 3rd Airborne Division has arrived in Vietnam to bolster allied forces in a war now marked by renewed jungle fighting along with continued Communist pressure around Saigon.

The U.S. Command announced today completion of the airlift of the reinforcements, including many veterans of Vietnam. They are assigned to the Americal Division, elements of which reported killing 148 of the enemy in a coastal engagement Tuesday at a cost of two dead and 14 wounded.

Viet Cong maintained pressure on Saigon overnight by bombardment of six military installations within a 25-mile arc of the capital, including a radio port facility.

Pressure was maintained also on Khe Sanh, the U.S. Marine base 40 miles away in the northwest corner of the country. North Vietnamese gunners fired there for 20 hours of artillery, rocket and mortar fire on the base in the 24 hours of the assault.

LBJ Given War Facts By Wheeler

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson today got a report from Gen. Earle G. Wheeler on the "war facts" in the Vietnam war, the White House said.

But newsmen's questions as to whether additional troops were requested for the war effort went unanswered.

White House press secretary William French said Wheeler's report was "a full-scale Cabinet meeting, done and then presented to the President."

Ship Rams Their Boat

3 Cubans Lose Gamble for Asylum

VIENNA (AP)—Three Cubans lost a wild gamble to win asylum in the United States when a 292-foot U.S. ship rammed their small craft in international waters off Virginia.

The episode, covering 15 minutes, reached its climax off the coast of Virginia Tuesday afternoon. The U.S. Coast Guard said it did not see the ship, the 26 of July, but failed in an attempt to bring her to Norfolk when they could not get the anchor up, Coast Guardsmen meet her with Master Boat-swin's Mate P. W. Caviness, 43, of Silver City, N.C., in command. The ship stopped between the cutter and the lifeboat and "I didn't see them (the three men) anywhere."

Caviness said he watched the ship approach from the east-northeast. He said he had instructions not to board the vessel but to try to get it into inland waters—inside the U.S. territorial limit.

At 2 a.m. Tuesday the Cuban ship pulled the anchor up and started moving toward the cutter. Caviness said he saw the ship's searchlight beam on the cutter and the cutter's searchlight beam on the ship.

Coast Guard sources said the cutter rammed the lifeboat and the cutter rammed the lifeboat.

Wheeler met in Vietnam with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, third pass he had received orders to "take all necessary steps to see that this Cuban vessel did not run over this boat a third time...my guns were uncovered. Wheeler said a great many things that are going to be evaluated," Christian said.

The four-star general briefed sources said, apparently to avoid aggravating American tensions over the situation growing out of the seizure of the Pueblo and its crew.

The only one reported injured in the Pueblo incident, between the U.S. destroyer and a Soviet merchant ship, the Kapitan V. Solovkov, on Jan. 31. The U.S. claimed the Rowan had the right of way.

The unreported incidents were near-misses, sources said. By the time that Soviet ships, mostly destroyers and intelligence gathering craft, steamed into the mid of U.S. naval formations or sailed dangerously close to American ships.

Both countries have scented down their naval forces in the waters off Korea recently. At one point, the Soviets had some 14 warships, including two cruisers, operating in the same general area where the U.S. fleet had been built up.

This Soviet naval presence has now been reduced to about five or six destroyers and a few intelligence vessels. The rest reportedly have moved back toward Vladivostok, the main Soviet naval base in the Far East.

The U.S. Navy has meanwhile withdrawn the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise from Korean waters and sent it into action in the Gulf of Tonkin against North Vietnam. This was the Enterprise's original mission before it was diverted to the sea of Japan shortly after the Pueblo was captured.

Two big U.S. aircraft carriers, the Ranger and the Coral Sea, together with their supporting destroyers and supply vessels, remain in waters near Korea. At its peak, the U.S. naval buildup off Korea totaled more than 20 ships.

The dual problem of Korea and Vietnam is straining the Navy's carrier resources in the Far East.

There normally would be three carriers off North Vietnam, executive secretary of the NAACP, said the subcommittee's report suggests that there are other organizations that do sponsor gun classes.

Publicity about the Dearborn Gun Clinic prompted interest elsewhere in the Detroit area. The subcommittee's report says that began after the riot. Fifteen and a half guns can be purchased without permits, and by one of the slightest idea of how many have been newly stocked in citizen-owned stores.

Coventry 'Cap't. Nathan Hale School' Picked as New School Name

"Cap't. Nathan Hale School" naming committee which is the name of Coventry's new over-intermediate, or middle school, was voted unanimously last night by the board of education. The board held a brief discussion last week before the formal vote, on slight variations of the Hale theme, such as "Cap't. Hale School" and "Hale Middle School".

The board has recommended the special committee for carrying out its task so swiftly, having been formed only a month ago. Mrs. Bennett, first selectman, said she was honored and pleased to be honored also. Board Chairman Ruth Bennett said last night that she had received a phone call earlier in the day from a Nathan Hale Fire and Drum Corps representative. The caller told Mrs. Bennett that the school would play at the school dedication no matter what name the board picked.

The board also attempted to clear up an apparent misunderstanding about $1,000 appropriation for clerical help at the Cap't. Nathan Hale School. The administration committee has requested a clerk-secretary, but building committee representative Paul Boardman claimed that funds were already available. Boardman said he has checked with the BDC, and finds that the $1,000 is specifically for clerical costs incurred for administration at the new school, but the board is to pay these expenses and be reimbursed by the BDC. The board cannot legally be paid for anything, he said, so that such a reimbursement should technically go into the town general fund. Therefore the board is actually paying the bill, while the funds required by the BDC. The board agreed that it must check with Auditor Wilbur

Stevens and get advice on a way that this can be straightened out. So far, McKenna said, only about $100 has been spent that can be directly charged as a cost of the new school.

Poems by Cohen Court the Universe

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeature writer
Leonard Cohen, photographed by himself in a coin-operated machine on Broadway.

NEW YORK (AP)—Poets emerge slowly from the mists. Right now we're beginning to learn about Canada's foremost poet, Leonard Cohen. He has had an underground following in the United States for some time, but now is stirring general interest and appreciation. He has written two novels as well as four books of poetry and he has made his first recording, which is selling substantially. He will start his first U.S. college "reading tour" of his poetry in March.

It doesn't bother Cohen that people don't read poems; he thinks hearing them is better. "Great poetry needs great audiences. You get a line out in front of people. Everybody roushies it and it comes back to you as a completely different thing.

"Singing is even more disarming. In 1967 I was working in a night club over a delicatessen in Montreal. I was chatting the poetry along with a Jewish band. It was similar to what I'm doing now, but in those days you were really thought to be a little out of your head.

"I could never make the distinction of what a poem is and what a song is. I don't want to call them one thing or the other—poem or song. To call a thing anything is to belittle it.

The record which includes his best-known song "Suzanne" is titled "Leonard Cohen." It's like MOP for "my old poems" or MGS for "my old songs."

"I think you especially limit a poem with a title. I think you should just use the first line." Leonard Cohen talks satisfactorily like a poet, though at first meeting he appears shy. A New York Times writer termed him "vulnerable." It is the right word. At 33 he doesn't seem especially young, or insecure. Instead he seems to open himself so widely to the world that he is defenseless. But he doesn't appear intimidated by past hurts.

There were no prizes for poetry in Canada on any level until very recently. In the group of poets I grew up with, our books weren't reviewed. We published our own. We supported ourselves doing some kind of job.

"I used to write poems to court ladies. But somewhere the area of your courting gets wider and wider and you end up trying to court the universe.

"After awhile part of the reason you write is because you like the way you feel when you write. You're not so much concerned with the product as the state of mind when you write. I like to feel that I'm being kissed softly by the world when I write."

Examining another facet of Cohen says, "People do have the sense of wanting to be chosen for their work. And I had the appetite for that kind of selection. I wanted a great poet to say, 'You're a great poet.' All your visions and suffering have a deep significance."

"Sometimes young writers show me their work and they want me to pass on to them my apostolic blessing. But I can't do it, because I didn't receive one."

In a movie about Cohen made by the National Film Board of Canada, he is shown staying in old, ramshackle hotels. He says, "I always stay in cheap hotels. I think they are more luxurious in a way. I've never been in any of the great hotels. But I have the feeling that their atmosphere is somewhat closer to the atmosphere of the cheap hotels than all those hotels in the middle."

He does not, as might be imagined, choose work to be conducive to writing. "My interior landscape stays pretty much the same. If you could change how you felt by where you went it would be a very nice idea."

Minimum Wages Increase, Lost Time More Costly

By BYRON BEARD
Associated Press Writer
Management, spread by new federal minimum-wage law, hopes after the maverick minute that got away.

Labor, which opened the corral gate, takes a front seat for the lost-time spectacle.

Maverick time is unearned wages for laborers Joe Decker, a company can expect to lose $3.20 for each hour lost.

Languid Joe, a minimum wage employe, is a member of the lost-time set. Last year, he stole almost three days' wages from his employer.

Joe's a good guy with an expensive habit. He manages to lose five minutes each working day, the company loses $680 a year.

For the 500-worker firm late for work.

His time larceny will cost the company $68 this year. Multiply 600 for those five minutes that by the number of workers in Joe's office who perform the identical time maneuver and are in laundries, day cleaners, you'll see why employers feel every minute counts.

Vernon 3 Stories, Elevator in New School

The 39-room elementary school to be located on Center Rd. will contain three stories in the classroom section of the building. The third level of the classroom wing will be level with the auditorium at the other end of the building, giving the appearance of a one-story school.

It is the first multi-story school to be constructed in Vernon since the 1920's and the first to contain an elevator. The elevator is now required in all public buildings of more than one story construction by state law.

The school will contain 36 regular classrooms and three larger kindergarten rooms. It will have a 1,000-student capacity, based on the rate of 25 students in each of the 28 classrooms and 90 in each of the three kindergarten rooms. (The 50 kindergarten students are calculated on the basis of 25 pupils for each of two sessions.) State grants will permit 30 students to a class and 90 in kindergarten or a maximum for state aid calculation of 1,200 students. These statistics have been calculated by Superintendent of Schools Dr. Raymond Ramsell last year.

The school building specifications presented last year, call for the inclusion of a reading clinic, a speech and hearing room and an instrumental music room. The latter two would be soundproofed.

All classrooms would be wired to receive educational television. Also included in the plan is a library unit with storage workroom including a mobile cart.

The administrative unit of the school would be connected to the classroom unit by an elevated walkway at the second floor of the classroom wing. It could contain the main office, principal's office, health unit with nurse's and dental room, a vault large enough to store audio-visual equipment including television sets and conference room for social workers and teachers.

Also included in the specs are a teacher's room, combination auditorium and play activity room with a folding stage, a cafeteria seating 200 pupils and a food preparation unit including cold and dry storage.

Storage areas for book and teaching supplies, for stage and interior physical education equipment and outside storage for grounds equipment would be provided.

Custodial facilities would include an office and workroom, a receiving and storage room, incinerator and four slop sinks and broom closets.

Outside site work would include provisions for an assembly play area, a baseball and playing field, adequate land scaping and a bus loading area.

The three kindergarten rooms would have their own washrooms and outside exits.

Four Programs Offer Guidance To Collegebound

A series of four programs for parents of students planning to go on to college or other form of post-high school education will be presented next month at Manchester High School by members of the guidance department.

The series, sponsored by the Manchester Adult Evening School, will be held in Room AT at 7:30 p.m. on successive Tuesdays beginning March 5. The announced speakers and topics are as follows:

March 5: "Choosing the Right School or College," Donald Brooks.
March 12: "Steps in Getting Admission to a School or College," Harry Matlock.
March 19: "The Role of Parents, Students and Guidance Counselors in Choosing and Getting Admission," Mrs. Grace Keane.
March 26: "Financing Post-High School Education," Miss Anna Beecher.

All programs will be open to the public without charge, and there will be adequate parking in the lot behind the auditorium, according to school officials.

Manchester in Days Gone By

No jet, bus, train, automobile trip could ever generate in these youngsters the slow-moving vehicles of yesterday.

Arrival at the park proper presented the youngsters with a variety of choices. First was usually the first diversion. At the main pavilion, there were innumerable delicacies to be purchased: Fresh, fluffy popcorn immersed in golden butter, peanuts, crackers, jackets with a tiny toy in ever box, soda from the marble fountain.

Wrigley's spearmint gum and park-made ice cream, chocolate, vanilla, and strawberry. There is no modern commercial product that can equal the rich flavor of Laurel Park ice cream.

Kitty, the Park Horse Three Manchester sisters recall with happy memory their very first ride on the merry-go-round. The child enjoyed the vicarious thrill of controlling a monstrous vehicle teeming with excited youngsters and calming parents. A spot on the front seat also provided an unobstructed view of the merry-go-round.

Many boys, without the aid of state aid counselor, determined on a career in the transportation field as they watched the deft movements of their hero, the motorman. Several of them, in fact, have chosen a trade in a daredevil fashion. Moving cautiously along the trolley-length running board, he maneuvered from row to row collecting the fares.

It was when the conductor made change that the child was fascinated. Releasing his hold on the supports, this surefooted castler dug into his money bag, filled his hand with an assortment of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. A later bit of conductor equipment, the money belt, was not nearly so entrancing.

One sport on the moving trolley, enjoyed by courageous boys and tomboys with permissive parents required daring and agility. It was possible to climb over the backs of several rows of seats to a more desirable spot beside a friend. Unfortunately for many adventurous children, this practice was discouraged and sometimes completely forbidden by cautious parents.

The open trolley ride was only a preliminary step to the joys that lay ahead. The long, long hike along the sun-lit dirt road was a path of never-ending surprises. There were hills to scamper down, a wooden bridge to clatter across, and a steep hill to scale. Here and there, a break in the trees revealed glimpses of Laurel Park Park where a flamingo lived, pink lotus grew in profusion, the electric boat sailed noiselessly, and row boats skimmed with sheer beauty as care struck the water in rhythmic beat. The row boats on this pond were responsible for initiating lasting romances. Several present-day grandmothers

Litter-Bug Prevention

There was another exciting adventure for a few privileged children whose brothers worked in the park in a part-time janitorial capacity. These youngsters investigated the wide expanse of park land to find Big Brother in his fascinating job. They found him armed with a long wooden rod to the end of which a spike was attached. The laurel park offered vacationers a chance to enjoy the vicarious thrill of controlling a monstrous vehicle teeming with excited youngsters and calming parents. The open trolley ride was only a preliminary step to the joys that lay ahead. The long, long hike along the sun-lit dirt road was a path of never-ending surprises. There were hills to scamper down, a wooden bridge to clatter across, and a steep hill to scale. Here and there, a break in the trees revealed glimpses of Laurel Park Park where a flamingo lived, pink lotus grew in profusion, the electric boat sailed noiselessly, and row boats skimmed with sheer beauty as care struck the water in rhythmic beat. The row boats on this pond were responsible for initiating lasting romances. Several present-day grandmothers

There was another exciting adventure for a few privileged children whose brothers worked in the park in a part-time janitorial capacity. These youngsters investigated the wide expanse of park land to find Big Brother in his fascinating job. They found him armed with a long wooden rod to the end of which a spike was attached. The laurel park offered vacationers a chance to enjoy the vicarious thrill of controlling a monstrous vehicle teeming with excited youngsters and calming parents. A spot on the front seat also provided an unobstructed view of the merry-go-round.

Many boys, without the aid of state aid counselor, determined on a career in the transportation field as they watched the deft movements of their hero, the motorman. Several of them, in fact, have chosen a trade in a daredevil fashion. Moving cautiously along the trolley-length running board, he maneuvered from row to row collecting the fares.

It was when the conductor made change that the child was fascinated. Releasing his hold on the supports, this surefooted castler dug into his money bag, filled his hand with an assortment of pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters. A later bit of conductor equipment, the money belt, was not nearly so entrancing.

One sport on the moving trolley, enjoyed by courageous boys and tomboys with permissive parents required daring and agility. It was possible to climb over the backs of several rows of seats to a more desirable spot beside a friend. Unfortunately for many adventurous children, this practice was discouraged and sometimes completely forbidden by cautious parents.

Observation Tower

Long before the production of aerial maps and in the days when no child had viewed the earth from a high-flying airplane, Laurel Park's Observation Tower presented this panoramic concept to the child of the early 1900's. The hike to the location was steep but fun-filled. With strawberries grown in abundance and could be legally picked and consumed. Little did the boys and girls care that

Coventry Run-off Vote By Teachers Set March 6

March 6 has been tentatively scheduled as the date for a special run-off election to determine the bargaining agent for Coventry teachers in this year's salary negotiations with the Board of Education. The contest will be between the two local teacher organizations, the Education Association of Coventry (EAC) and the Coventry Federation of Teachers (CFT). The election should settle a question that has been pending since an earlier election Dec. 20 in which the CFT was selected as bargaining agent by a 4-4 vote. With a total of 88 voting in that election, 2 votes were also cast for a third ballot choice, "neither organization". The EAC claimed at that time that since neither it nor the CFT received a clear majority of votes cast the election was invalid. Moderator David McKenzie ruled the CFT the winner, and negotiations were begun between that group and the school board.

The EAC, however, officially challenged the election results, and papers were served on the CFT to show cause why an injunction should not be served against it. But both sides were postponed while the two sides agreed out of court to the special run-off election.

Some details remain to be settled before the March 6 election date becomes definite. A moderator must be selected, and the EAC reportedly favors use of a professional arbitration association in this capacity.

In past years, the EAC has requested teachers in the annual salary talks, since it was the only teacher organization in the town. The CFT was formed last fall, necessitating the December election to determine the bargaining agent. Both groups are affiliated with state organizations, the EAC with the Connecticut Education Association and the CFT with the American Federation of Teachers.

Adopted Blind Child Responds to Love
PITTSBURGH (AP) — Norma Claypool, an unmarried teacher, has adopted three-year-old daughter, Patti Elaine, a little laughing blonde. Both are blind.

A year ago, when the child came to live permanently with her new family, she had a vocabulary of three words. She crawled with hesitation at an age when other children walk. But a year of love has wrought an amazing change. The youngster now runs like a tomboy and jabsbers incessantly. "She'll crawl into my lap and say 'Hug me tight, Mommie. Kiss me!' she's a very warm little girl. I can't imagine what it would be like not having her in the house," says Miss Claypool.

She met Patti Elaine in her job as a teacher of handicapped children. After having the child in her home for two brief vacations she decided she would try to adopt her.

Army Plans to Send Grandmother to Viet
DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — The Army plans to send a grandmother to Vietnam to help improve its logistics system.

Mrs. William B. Harvey, 54, who has seven grandchildren, said she answered an Army call for volunteers for the program and was accepted.

"I thoroughly agree with our reasons for being over there," she said.

Mrs. Harvey, who expects to be stationed in Vietnam for four to six months, is a computer systems analyst with more than 25 years of government service. She said her husband, a World War I Army chaplain and a retired Baptist minister, is considering going to Vietnam on his own to be with her.

Mongi Slim Reported Improving
TUNIS (AP) — Mongi Slim, president of the U.N. General Assembly at the 1967 fall session, is reported improving from a heart attack suffered last weekend.

Officials said Tuesday that Slim, 59, was stricken while heading a Tunisian Muslim pilgrimage to Mecca. He is Tunisian secretary of state for justice.

U.S. Army General To Get Seoul Award
SEOUL (AP) — The South Korean government will award the Order of National Security Merit Second Class to U.S. Army Gen. C. W. Abrams, deputy commander of U.S. forces in South Vietnam.

A government spokesman said today the award is in recognition of close cooperation and support rendered by the four-star general to Korean troops stationed in Vietnam.

Priest Gets Prison Sentence

MANILA (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest who shot and killed another priest during a quarrel over parish funds was sentenced today to 8 to 17 years in prison.

The Rev. Jose Blon Estrada was found guilty of homicide and illegal possession of a firearm by a local court. The shooting occurred in 1965 in Pangasinan province, northwest of Manila.

The victim was the Rev. Isidro Estrada, but the priests were not related.

Father Estrada was also fined $250 for possessing an unlicensed gun and was ordered to pay damages to his victim's heirs. He was out on bail while his lawyer arranged an appeal.

Schools Closed in Madras, India

MADRAS, India (AP) — All educational institutions in 7 of the 14 districts of Madras state were closed indefinitely today in an attempt to ward off violence by students agitating against the official use of the Hindi language.

Students in southern districts of the Tamil-speaking state are demanding that Madras pull out of the Indian Union unless the central government abandons its plans to make Hindi the official language. The students' contention is that speakers will grab all the government jobs.

At Virudhunagar College in the Ramnad district, accessionist students clashed with anti-accessionist students. Windows and lights in the college buildings were broken.

Ex-Prime Minister Returns from Rhodesia

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home returned from a three-day visit to Rhodesia and said he would submit new proposals on the rebellion in the African territory to Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Douglas-Home, the Conservative party's spokesman on foreign affairs, had talks with Rhodesian premier Ian Smith during his visit. He would give no clue to the nature of his proposals.

Air France Offers Bargain Trips to N.Y.

PARIS (AP) — Air France today advertised round trips to New York with 15 days in a hotel for $1,881 francs—$118.

The bargain trip also includes sightseeing in New York, a full-page ad in Paris papers said.

The ad said that holders of a French passport would also get reductions of 10-30 per cent on certain tourist facilities such as travel, hotels and car rent. A reduction of 50 per cent on air flights within the United States is being considered, the ad said.

Deaths in The Nation

Elmer Brown
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Elmer Brown, 66, president of the International Typographical Union since 1958, died Tuesday. Brown had announced earlier that he would not seek another term as ITO leader. Doctors said pneumonia was the immediate cause of death, but that Brown had suffered from cancer.

Walter Beretta
NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Beretta, 59, a sculptor who had served as monuments officer for the New York City Parks Department since 1934, died Monday of cancer. Beretta was responsible for maintenance of more than 700 statues in the five boroughs of New York.

Frank J. Lyman
NEW YORK (AP) — Frank J. Lyman, 26, leader of a rock 'n' roll singing group called "Frankie Lyman and his Teen-Agers," was found dead Tuesday in a friend's apartment. Police said Lyman, on leave from Ft. Gordon, Ga., where he was in the Army, died of an overdose of narcotics.

$484 for Your Food
WASHINGTON — Expenditures for food in the United States in 1967 are estimated at $96.5 billion — up 3 per cent from 1966 and about double the 1947 outlay. Per capita food expenditure was $484, up about 2.5 per cent from 1966 and about double the 1945 cost.

'GIB' BOUBON

"That's just right," the farmer sighed after sampling the gift.

"What do you mean 'just right'?" asked the hunter.

"If it were any worse," the farmer explained, "I couldn't drink it, and if it were any better, you never would have given it to me."

Sources Say JFK Wanted to Dump Evelyn Lincoln

By MAXINE CRESHIRE
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON—From what Kennedy administration insiders are saying, it was really Evelyn Lincoln that JFK yearned to dump.

This ironic disclosure—late in coming because other members of the new frontier have heretofore been too preoccupied to include it in their own memoirs—should be of particular interest to President Johnson.

Mrs. Lincoln, who was John F. Kennedy's personal secretary for a dozen years, made headlines last week when she came out with a new book "Kennedy and Johnson," claiming that her former boss intended to find himself another running mate to take LBJ's place on the 1964 ticket.

The assertion, unsubstantiated by anyone else connected with the White House at the time, has been denied by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and others privy to the late president's thinking on the subject.

Predictably, everyone concerned is furious with Mrs. Lincoln. Other loyal, longtime Kennedy staffers and cronies are saying things they would never before have wanted to see in print.

"John F. Kennedy tried for years to get rid of Evelyn Lincoln," one of the late president's top aides recalled last week. "He actually fired her—or tried to fire her—three times that I know of. She just wouldn't go."

"The first time was about 1960 and the last time was in 1964, right after he went into the White House. He told her she could still work in his office, but that he had to have a personal secretary who was first-rate at typing and shorthand, and one who could compose letters and memos."

Kennedy had already hired a replacement: Janet Parsonson, the stewardess on his 1960 campaign plane who was so competent and efficient that her own nickname was "mother."

Kennedy had already hired a replacement: Janet Parsonson, the stewardess on his 1960 campaign plane who was so competent and efficient that her own nickname was "mother."

"The last time was a few days," says the same source. "Her life was made so miserable by Mrs. Lincoln that Janet wanted to be transferred to the embassy in Paris."

Mrs. Lincoln had been internally left behind on the campaign. "But she showed up on her own (in October) and she stubbornly stuck with us for the remaining few weeks."

Even Jacqueline Kennedy was aware that her husband was not always entirely satisfied with Mrs. Lincoln's services.

One of the recollections making the rounds about Mrs. Lincoln here last week came from a close Kennedy friend who was at an intimate dinner one night at the White House when there was one place conspicuously vacant at the table.

Mrs. Lincoln had forgotten to telephone the eighth guest on the list.

"Poor Jack!" teased Mrs. Kennedy. "He is always threatening to fire Mrs. Lincoln. But he is so soft-hearted that he always backs down."

The Kennedy family was reportedly mad at Mrs. Lincoln even before she wrote "Kennedy and Johnson."

They were not too pleased about her earlier non-political memoir, "My Twelve Years with John F. Kennedy." One spokesman claims "no one in the family even knew she was writing it till it was too late."

Some members of the family later accused her bitterly of working on the first volume things they would never before have wanted to see in print.

"Mrs. Lincoln no longer works under the patronage of the Kennedy family."

They may be sorry. One New York book agent who negotiated with her lawyer says that she originally had planned to do "Churchill's days" but that she was going to divide up into a children's book and a Jackie book and of course, she's found out she had, an LBJ book.

we care

a pledge from the management of A&P

What we are about to say is not new. Matter of fact, it's over 100 years old.

A&P IS DEDICATED TO BRINGING THE MOST GOOD FOOD, TO THE MOST PEOPLE, FOR THE LEAST AMOUNT OF MONEY.

That is the basis on which our company has grown and prospered over the years.

We think it's important during this period of time to reiterate that pledge.

We want there to be no doubt in your mind about our policy with respect to food costs.

We want you to know we are concerned. We want you to know we're doing our level best.

We want you to know that above all, "We Care... About You."

One Third of Non-Whites Jobless in Big City Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government says nearly one-third of job-age nonwhite youths—the vast bulk of them Negroes—are unemployed in the nation's 20 largest metropolitan areas.

A newly completed Bureau of Labor Statistics breakdown on unemployment shows the jobless rate for all potential nonwhite workers is at least triple that of whites in 16 of the 20 metropolitan areas.

It says 52.7 per cent of nonwhite aged 16 to 19 were without work—compared with an 18 per cent jobless rate among white teenagers in the same 20 metropolitan areas.

The report, based on unemployment last year but believed to accurately reflect current urban employment patterns, appears certain to generate concern as the nation's big cities face another summer of predicted racial violence.

In the St. Louis metropolitan area, the overall nonwhite unemployment was more than four times the white rate.

No city-by-city breakdown was provided on teen-age unemployment by race.

The figures on total unemployment varied widely from area to area.

In Detroit, Pittsburgh and St. Louis, more than 18 per cent of the nonwhites in the work force were unemployed.

In Washington, only 12.2 per cent of the nonwhites in the work force were unemployed.

Of the 20 areas included in the study, Los Angeles-Long Beach had the highest unemployment rate among white persons, 8.3 per cent. Washington, had the lowest jobless rate among white persons, 2.0 per cent.

In St. Louis, the area with the greatest disparity between white and nonwhite unemployment, the white jobless rate was 12.3 per cent, the nonwhite rate 52.7 per cent.

Nonwhite unemployment was at least three times that of whites in 16 of the 20 metropolitan areas.

Of the areas for which comparative figures were provided, only New York, Los Angeles, Long Beach and Washington had nonwhite jobless rates less than double the white rates.

For twice the wear, Half the Cleaning. A BRAIDED RUG from FAIRWAYS has the MANCHESTER CARPET CENTER, TER, 311 Main Street, is a purchase that will bring you complete satisfaction. Not only is a BRAIDED RUG soft and cushiony, but it is rugged and will wear and wear. In addition, a BRAIDED RUG is easy to keep clean because even the most stubborn vacuuming, the rug can take the evidence of daily living since every lint-sock or cookie-crumbs doesn't show glaringly. The colors are so cheering and they are different looking. What more can one ask from a rug purchase? You have much to choose at MANCHESTER CARPET CENTER.

Vivid Beauty

The Color is Green. Allow Plenty of Time for Yourself. At THE LITTLE SHOP, 208 East Center Street, spring is bursting out of tissue wrappings as DRIZZLES, BUTTS and BEA-ERATES are lifted out. Do see the kicky CULOTTIE that looks like a dress but has the comfort of shorts. For leisure time beach wear the TERRY DUFFERER is here, also sweater and cool cottons. Buy for yourself or for gifts.

Stores Around Town

Call It the 'Lack of the Irish'. What nicer place than the PLANO'S RESTAURANT AND COCKTAIL LOUNGE for a ST. PATRICK'S DAY DINNER. "When Irish eyes are smiling," you'll have that carefully prepared food in being temptingly served. PLANO'S RESTAURANT, Route 4 and 44 in East Canaan, is a place where you can accommodate big and little private parties in the banquet hall, especially suitable for WEDDING RECEPTIONS, club meetings, testimonials or reunions. The food, the service and the prices will please you completely. 643-2242.

Allen to Return to Baseball Scene

Good news was the announcement Mel Allen was back in baseball. The Cleveland Indians, Allen, 56, was fired by the New York Yankees after the 1964 season and worked briefly with the Milwaukee Braves, before they moved to Atlanta. Allen replaced Jimmy Dudley, also a sportscaster who was fired by the Braves.

Here 'n There

Although the American Volleyball League at the East Side has had its problems trying to complete its schedule matches each week it was evident last week that the team has some of the best talent in the state. Winning the Bradford Invitational Tournament last Saturday was a feather in the hat of Coach Bill McCaffrey and his talented crew.

End of the Line

Little Calvin Murphy of Niagara Falls, N.Y., has won a place on the second All-America basketball team. Murphy, 17, is a graduate of Southern Connecticut State College. Murphy was named to the team because of his performance in the 1967-68 season. Murphy averaged 18.5 points and 10.5 rebounds per game.

Three UCLA Stars Decline Bids To NCAA Olympic Trials

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Three UCLA stars declined bids to the NCAA Olympic Trials basketball squad for several reasons, many of them financial. The three UCLA stars who declined are 1967 All-American Mike Warren and Lucius Allen, all key figures in UCLA's success in the NCAA tournament. Warren and Allen are a late starter in pro ball. His college three-year scoring total is second in major college history only to Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati.

Ski Notes

By BILL SACHERER STRATTON, Vt.—This is a pride area, even the weatherman is predicting a pleasant 24 above with very little breeze. This was the first day in a long while one could get in a light jacket. With brilliant sunshine, every thing was in excellent condition, the snow still powdery and the slopes and trails in beautiful shape. A good crowd of skiers was on the slopes.

Psychology of Contract Negotiations in Baseball Camps

NEW YORK (AP)—The psychology of contract negotiations has been taken over baseball's spring training camps. The trick, of course, is for the players to remind the owners that they are the important ones here and that they should be paid more than the owners are getting out of it.
