MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy accused President Johnson's backers today of lying about his position on draft dodgers, while Richard M. Nixon staged a final sprint to turn out the Republican vote in Tuesday's season-opening New Hampshire presidential primary.

McCarthy told a hastily called news conference that the men heading a Johnson write-in campaign were "attacking the motives and loyalty of any man who dares run in an election against the President."

He said that Sen. Thomas McIntyre, D-N.H., a leader of the Johnson campaign, had accused him in radio advertisements of wanting to "honor draft dodgers and deserters." McCarthy called it a "total distortion" and demanded that McIntyre either explain himself or withdraw the ads.

Rockefeller Pressed by GOP Heads

NEW YORK (AP)—More than 20 top Republicans, summoned to a strategy meeting with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller at his Fifth Avenue apartment, have urged him strongly to become "an announced and active candidate" for the Republican presidential nomination.

A spokesman for the group that included seven governors, three U.S. senators, five congressmen and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York, said Rockefeller would decide about plunging into the race after consulting with other party leaders in the next few days.

Rockefeller, who has maintained he would not be a candidate unless there was a draft, had no comment following Sunday's two-hour, closed-door strategy session.

McCall said Rockefeller's candidacy was "no longer an abstraction" following the meeting. Asked if he thought it constituted a draft, McCall replied: "Well, it's almost irresistible."

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania read a brief statement to newsmen that said there was "very strong sentiment" that Rockefeller get into the race as "an announced and active candidate." Asked if all those present had endorsed Rockefeller's candidacy, Scott said the statement spoke for itself.

A written statement was not given out. Scott read from notes, which he retained. The statement said Rockefeller "will consult other party leaders in the next few days and his decision will be announced."

Accidents Kill Eight Of State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Eight Connecticut residents died during the weekend in traffic accidents, which included a crash in Rhode Island involving two fatalities.

In addition, five persons perished early Saturday when fire in a Meriden apartment building spread thick smoke through upstairs rooms.

John Dolan, 23, and Ronald Pawloski, 23, both of Danbury, were killed Saturday night when the car they were in crashed through a guard rail in Kenyon, N.H. Police said the car was traveling at a high rate of speed when it went through the rail, then went over an embankment, flew through the air for about 75 feet, and slammed into a tree at a point about eight feet above the ground. The car broke into three pieces, and its occupants were dead at the scene, police said.

A 49-year-old Groton man died Sunday on Old Military Highway in his hometown. Authorities were not immediately certain if the victim, Arthur A. Lehner, was stricken before the accident or died of injuries received in the crash. They said his car swerved off the road and struck a rock.

A head-on collision early Sunday on Route 44 in Eastford killed Mrs. Ellene Benton, 43, of Chestnut Hill, and injured her 15-year-old son, Rick Chesser. Two Providence, R.I., men in the other car were seriously injured, authorities said.

Rusk Offers Bombing Halt

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk offered today to stop the bombing of North Vietnam to get war settlement talks going. He did not add any of the usual qualifications, but neither did he say any of them had been dropped.

Testifying in the long-awaited confrontation with war critics on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Rusk said in order to bring about the talks, "We are willing to meet their principal condition—stopping the bombing."

He renewed the U.S. pledge that "we are prepared to negotiate today without any conditions."

The only thing he added was a suggestion there might be discussions about steps to reduce military action.

There was no talk about whether Rusk's remarks reflected any modification of the San Antonio formula advanced by President Johnson in a speech in the Texas city Sept. 29, 1967.

The chief executive said the United States "is willing to stop all aerial and naval bombardment of North Vietnam when this will lead promptly to productive discussions." He said this assumes that while discussions proceeded North Vietnam would not take advantage of the bombing recess or limitation.

Rusk's statement came at the end of a sharp exchange with Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the committee chairman, who told the secretary he is more than ever convinced "that our present policies in Vietnam have had and will have effects 'abroad and at home that are nothing short of disastrous.'"

Rusk mentioned the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin resolution, which has been a principal vehicle for attacks on the administration by critical senators, saying "we hoped that Tonkin would serve as a deterrent" but that "unfortunately it did not have that deterrent effect."

Fulbright promptly criticized the administration's contention that U.S. responses to the Gulf of Tonkin incident were due to provocations by Communist warboats.

"The provocations to say the least were extremely slight," Fulbright said, adding that "they could well determine that we were determined to attack them."

At another point Fulbright told Rusk there are "striking discrepancies" between events of the war and the administration's description of them.

He said what he called discrepancies have caused a crisis in this country over the war.

Rusk's opening statement was a plea for committee support for the administration's new foreign aid bill of nearly $3 billion. He had come prepared, however, for sharp questioning on Vietnam.

Fulbright, long a leading critic of the Johnson administration's conduct of the war, said that "we are all for our fighting

After 2 Month's Debate

Senate Approves Rights Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate today approved a landmark civil rights bill designed to strike down racial barriers in four-fifths of the nation's housing.

The compromise measure, passed after nearly two months of debate, also embraces anti-riot provisions, federal protection for civil rights workers, and extended constitutional guarantees for American Indians.

The bill was sent back to the House, where its fate is in doubt.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., floor manager for the bill, praised fellow senators for backing the nation's first federal ban on housing discrimination despite mail running heavily against it.

Hart said he knew colleagues "who would have been politically more comfortable if the issue had crept away to a quiet death and yet who voted to keep it alive and flourishing."

"The Senate," he said, "responded not to the demands of expediency but to the demands of history."

Southern senators, who staged a seven-week filibuster against the bill before the debate was cut off on a fourth and final try, took the position that anti-riot and other amendments had made the compromise measure more palatable. There was no effort to forestall the final vote today.

The Senate had cleared the way for passage with a 61-19 vote Friday favoring the expanded compromise version. The House originally passed the bill last August as a limited measure dealing only with federal protection of minority groups' constitutional rights.

House leaders have indicated they may try to pass the Senate bill as it is rather than risk a possible stalemate by sending it to a Senate-House conference committee for adjustment of differences.

In 1966 the House passed a more limited open housing measure which was strangled to death in the Senate by a filibuster.

Now the situation is reversed and there is a question whether the House will accept the Senate bill.

The Senate has added amendments that would eventually bar discrimination in 80 per cent of the nation's housing and extend Bill of Rights protection to American Indians.

It also wrote in an anti-riot provision similar to a separate bill passed by the House last year.

House leaders said they hoped to bring the Senate version directly to the floor rather than send it to a House-Senate conference committee where it could become embroiled in a further stalemate.

The House could vote only to accept or reject the entire package if it were brought directly to the floor and leaders reportedly hope support of other provisions will outweigh opposition to the open-housing feature.

The House passed a more limited housing measure in 1966 but many of its supporters were defeated in the election that year.

The way for Senate enactment of the measure was cleared last Monday after seven weeks of debate and maneuvering when a 65-32 vote succeeded in shutting off debate on the fourth try.

Burned by Inmates

Cleanup Begins At Oregon Prison

SALEM, Ore. (AP)—A cleanup and rebuilding job is under way at the Oregon State Penitentiary after rioting convicts won a change in the command of the prison by burning most of it down.

The inmates released four guards Sunday after holding them hostage in the prison yard overnight.

They had won almost everything they asked, including a promise that they would not be prosecuted for their orgy of fire, window-breaking, and smashing everything in sight.

Prison officials estimated damage at $6 million.

George W. Randall, state director of corrections, agreed to the demands, presented by six convicts representing the prison population of 1,150. The demands were presented shortly after midnight Sunday.

Randall walked into the prison yard, with several reporters to talk the prisoners into releasing their hostages.

He told the prisoners there would be no reprisals.

"I've never lied to a prisoner, and I'm too old to start lying now. We won't harm anyone," he said.

Randall agreed to fire warden C. T. Gladden, 73, who had served 15 years. Gladden, ill for six weeks, was not on duty during the riot.

The riot started, apparently with no advance planning, Saturday afternoon when a small group of convicts seized the control center, the nerve center for all operations inside the walls.

That gave them control of almost all of the prison. Most of the convicts soon joined in the riot.

By their burning, the prisoners destroyed all of the prison's rehabilitation facilities, more than half of the cells, and the means of preparing food and feeding the prisoners. All of the offices of the treatment officials, such as the chaplains, sociologist and counselors, were destroyed.

The damages touched off speculation that a special session of the Oregon legislature would be needed to finance reconstruction.

As soon as the hostages were released, prison guards and state police forced all of the convicts into the recreation yard. They stayed there Sunday night, because making the cell livable will take at least until late today.

One of the guards who was held in the yard said, "It was the longest 17 hours of my life."

Someone asked the guard, William Lowery, 27, if he was frightened. "Are you kidding?" he asked.

Lowery said the riots were caused because "everyone was talking about the problems and no one was doing anything about them."

Other demands which were granted include better medical treatment, more liberal visiting and correspondence privileges, an inmate council to air their grievances, a better prison

"Imagined Values" To the Editor: Your note appended to my recent letter regarding the financial benefit gained by Manchester because of Project Concern certainly deserves your further comments.

Your explanation of the $44 per pupil difference which I referred to as a deficit per pupil follows. The difference is that the interest expense on Manchester school building bonds was not included.

According to the best calculations available from the Business Manager of the Manchester School system, as of Thursday, March 7, 1968, the interest expense for Project Concern children, that the deficit would be $27 per pupil of course.

We now learn that other normal school expenses are "studied" and that the Hartford children were placed on an "empty" tank by placing our own Manchester pupils in these empty seats? I challenge the HWY statement that Manchester has benefited financially from Project Concern.

Most Area Teachers to Get $6,100 to Start

By HETTY QUARALE
Teacher salary negotiations in seven Manchester area towns have been successfully completed and are still continuing in three others. Manchester itself had halted negotiations in favor of state mediation.

All area towns, with the exception of those in the Rham District, have settled on a starting salary for BA degree of $6,100. Rham District towns including Andover and Hebron as well as the district itself, have settled on $5,900 starting pay.

Although the towns of Vernon, South Windsor, Columbia and Ellington begin together, the top salaries range from $5,200 in Columbia to $7,700 in Vernon.

Negotiations are continuing in Tolland, Bolton, and Coventry, complicating the presentation of the school board budgets to the local Boards of Finance during the week. The three Boards of Education will submit estimates of teacher salary proposals for the budgets for the time being.

The Tolland school board and the Associated Teachers of Tolland issued a joint statement last week explaining they were still unable to reach agreement on salaries, and would not be able to meet before the budget's presentation to the Finance Board on Wednesday.

Chavez, 41, drawn and weary after his ordeal, appeared at a special mass of thanksgiving to the shouts of "Viva Chavez, viva Kennedy and viva la union!"

He took his first solid food since Feb. 14 at the special mass of the mass. The symbolic portion of bread was tendered by Kennedy who told 7,000 persons gathered at the Delano City Park he was in his highest mood of honor "one of the most important figures of our times."

But, said Kennedy, "I did not come only to honor Chavez but to congratulate you who are locked with him in the struggle for justice for the farm workers, and the struggle for justice for the Spanish-speaking Americans."

"You are the first—not the first farm workers to organize—but the first to get light and triumph over all the odds with out proper protection of federal laws."

Kennedy, who spoke the first words of his brief remarks in Spanish, pledged to work for federal legislation for farm workers.

The mass started with a procession through the parts to the altar which had been placed on a flatbed truck. Participating were priests of the Roman Catholic church, members of the Protestant clergy, Jewish rabbis, nuns and hundreds of farm workers carrying banners of the United Farm Workers organizing committee.

As the procession moved toward the altar, the farm workers joined in singing the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" and the rallying call of the union, "We demand social justice" Sunday with thousands of his union followers shouting "Viva Chavez" as he ended his 25-day fast.

Waiting off with championship honors for the first time were Pete Plumley and Kitty Sibrinsz. Plumley, 28 and one of two Class A rollers in the Men's Division, defeated Rolie Irish, four games to one in the best of seven final, viewed by several hundred fans yesterday afternoon. Irish also holds membership in the Class A ranks. Sibrinsz, a graduate of the Women's Division, won her second straight game wins over defending champion Pat Annuli, also a member of seven set. It was Mrs. Annuli, on its route to the crown a year ago, who ousted Mrs. Sibrinsz. Yesterday it was a different story and the result saw a new champion crowned.

Mrs. Sibrinsz, 36, and an office secretary at RCA in East Hartford, averaged a fine 129.1 in defeating Mrs. Annuli. This year's event marked the fourth time that the new champion had qualified. She won her way to the finals by defeating Roy Johnson, 3-0, in a quarterfinal match and then eliminated Jeanne Irish in the semifinals, 4-1. Mrs. Annuli, seeded into the quarterfinals, first whipped Mary Scott, 3-1, and then trimmed Dolores Smith, 3-1, to reach the finals. Plumley, a graduate of the Men's Division, won his second straight game wins over defending champion Pat Annuli, also a member of seven set. It was Mrs. Annuli, on its route to the crown a year ago, who ousted Mrs. Sibrinsz. Yesterday it was a different story and the result saw a new champion crowned.

There were 65 entrants in the Men's Division. Defending champion George Cochran was unable to participate. For Irish, he was one of three members of his family in the championship. His wife, Jeanne, placed a qualifying field of 24. Mrs. Irish placing fourth.

Break Reported at Legion Home

A routine police check early today revealed an apparent break into the American Legion Home on Leonard St. It was not known immediately whether anything had been taken.

In a check of the building about 1:40 a.m., police discovered a second story window pane broken at the rear of the building and that access to the building could have been made from the roof of an adjacent building.

The building superintendent was notified and an interior check revealed only that a beer cooler door was ajar. There was still some beer in the cooler, and nothing else appeared to have been disturbed, according to police.

Voting in N.H. Reported Light

CONCORD, N.H. (AP)—New Hampshire voters today cast their ballots in a record-breaking turnout for the presidential election. The first trial of the nation's opening presidential primary.

There may have been a bit of gamsmanship in that. By forecasting Rockefeller would get 30 per cent or more of the vote, Nixon was setting a target far higher than that chosen by the New Yorker's supporters.

76 Missions Flown Warplanes Hit North Viet Targets

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. warplanes targeted North Vietnam during 76 missions flown over the coastal plain and inland areas of the country.

The day before, the South Vietnamese forces cornered a North Vietnamese battalion of about 600 men north of Dong Ha and reported killing 102 of them.

The partial mobilization plan announced last week by the Viet Cong's lunar new year offensive to provide a net increase of 60,000 men in South Vietnam's armed forces by mid-February.

Secretary Balks at Consulting

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today he can offer no present hope that Hanoi is interested in a peaceful settlement of the Vietnam war.

Rusk balked at the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. "There is room for indignation over the repeated rejection by Hanoi of even the smallest step toward peace."

Rusk commented in his second day of testimony before the committee, headed by Fulbright, at a hearing on the administration's Vietnam policy.

The idea, he said, was to gradually expand the areas of military effort to hope that the war would end in a negotiated settlement.

The government already has instituted increase draft calls, extended the draft age, begun calling up reservists and stopped discharges from the armed forces, but has referred to all these actions as partial mobilization.

U.S. Announces Transfer Of $450 Million in Gold

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Treasury Department announced today the transfer of another $450 million in gold from the nation's money stock to the Exchange Stabilization Fund from which sales are to be made to the dollar market.

The switch from one government account to another stems directly from the heavy speculative gold buying in Europe.
