WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld today the power of states to keep sexy magazines from children.

Clifford Sees GI Reduction

New York (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford said today South Vietnam's increased fighting effectiveness will permit a leveling off of U.S. efforts in the war and "in due time" permit gradual troop reduction.

Clifford said his assessment was based on results of a comprehensive review of American policies and programs in Vietnam, ordered by the President after the setbacks of the Communists' Tet offensive.

control what children—but not adults—may see and read.

The ruling on magazines involved a 1965 New York state law, the movie case a 1965 city ordinance.

Speaking for a 6-3 court, Justice William J. Brennan Jr. said in the magazines case: "The well-being of its children is of course a subject within the state's constitutional power to regulate."

State legislatures, he said, are permitted by the Constitution to help parents assess "sex related" material.

Besides, he said for the majority, the state has an interest all its own in the well-being of its youth.

With Brennan in the majority were Chief Justice Earl Warren and Associate Justices John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart, Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall.

The dissenters were Justices Hugo L. Black, William O. Douglas and Abe Fortas.

Harlan was the lone dissenter in the 8-1 ruling on the Texas case. That decision struck down an ordinance allowing a board of censors to classify movies as "not suitable for young persons."

Douglas, with Black agreeing in his remarks, said in the magazine case dissent: "As I read the First Amendment, it was designed to keep the state and the hands of all state officials off the printing presses of America and off the distribution systems for all printed literature."

To do otherwise, Douglas said, would require a constitutional amendment.

Clifford made that assessment in a speech prepared for the annual membership meeting of the Associated Press.

It was his first public address since he became defense chief seven weeks ago.

Clifford said his assessment was based on results of a comprehensive review of American policies and programs in Vietnam, ordered by the President after the setbacks of the Communists' Tet offensive.

"The results were clear and the results were encouraging," Clifford declared. "They disclosed that Hanoi could not bend South Vietnam to its will by military force."

"We concluded that Americans will not need always to do more and more, but rather that the increased effectiveness of the South Vietnamese government and its fighting forces will now permit us to level off our effort—and in due time to begin the gradual process of reduction."

Clifford offered no timetable on possible American troop withdrawals but top military officials including Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, and Gen. Harold K. Johnson, Army chief of staff, have raised the possibility this could begin in 1969.

Final Steps Taken For Church Merger

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Final steps were being taken today for America's biggest church merger amid tensions underscored by a walkout of some Negro Methodists from a vast, solemn service of holy communion.

They staged the action to dramatize their charge that racism remains in plans for the new denomination—the United Methodist Church.

To be formally inaugurated Tuesday, it will join the 10.3-million-member Methodist Church and the 746,000-member Evangelical United Brethren Church into a single body.

"In sorrow we perceive a United Methodist Church still divided by the infamy of segregation and discrimination," said a statement by the protesting group, Black Methodists for Church Renewal.

Their walkout occurred in a hushed interlude of a mass celebration of the Lord's Supper Sunday night in the Dallas Memorial Auditorium.

About 40 Negroes, joined by more than a score of sympathetic whites, quietly filed out as the bread and cup were being distributed to a throng of about 10,000 church delegates and visitors.

The Rev. Cecil Williams of San Francisco spokesman for the demonstrators, said they refrained from taking communion to symbolize "the brokenness in the fellowship."

Their statement said they found no indication that the united church "intends to take immediate steps to deal with

Conservative Party Split by Race Issue

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Conservative Party was badly split today following a clash between two of its leaders over the racial question.

Edward Heath, the leader of the opposition party, fired outspoken rightwinger Enoch Powell from the party's shadow Cabinet, calling a speech by Powell Saturday "racist."

Political writers considered Powell's speech a challenge to the more moderate Heath's leadership, forcing the party chief to take strong action or abdicate to the Tory right wing.

The Times said Heath acted "to demonstrate beyond doubt that he dissociates himself and the Tory party from racialism."

the shadow Cabinet for defense and would have taken command of that ministry if the Conservatives ousted the Labor government. Reginald Maudling, the deputy party leader, took over Powell's defense duties while Sir Alec Douglas-Home assumed Powell's brief for commonwealth affairs.

Other right-wing Tories denounced Powell's "firing." One, John Jennings, called it "a tragedy." Powell's speech and the party split also gave the Laborites valuable ammunition for the House of Commons debate Tuesday on the Labor government's controversial race relations bill.

The bill seeks to outlaw racial discrimination in housing, jobs and public services.

Quick Settlement Not Seen Phone Union Defies Two Injunctions

By NEIL GILBRIDE AP Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The A.F.L.-C.I.O. Communications Workers defied back-to-work court orders today in two states in the fifth day of the nationwide telephone strike, and said the injunctions blocked chances for an early settlement.

"All hopes for a quick solution have faded," said CWA President Joseph A. Beirne, who denounced the court orders obtained by Southern Bell Telephone Co. in Alabama and Kentucky as "preposterous" and "anti-union."

Beirne said the injunctions indicated the Bell Telephone System, and its parent American Telephone and Telegraph Co., want "to go on fighting" the strike of nearly 200,000 union members in some 40 states, instead of settling the wage dispute at the bargaining table.

AT&T President Ben Gilmer reported meanwhile that telephone service in most areas was being maintained without undue trouble despite the first nationwide strike in 21 years.

"Management people who are filling in at the switchboard are gaining experience, and customer cooperation has been most gratifying," Gilmer said.

Some customers, however, found it strange to dial for an operator and hear a man's voice instead of the usual female "voice with a smile."

In addition to the union's angry reaction to the court injunctions, company reports of cables being cut and phone booths damaged, and union charges that company supervisors were driving trucks into pickets, further heated tempers in the strike.

Beirne called his 13-man union executive board into session Sunday to consider Gilmer's offer to explore a union proposal. But the meeting ended after eight hours "without any prospect for an immediate settlement," Beirne said.

No formal company-union talks are scheduled, he said. Beirne, who issued his blast at the court orders in the midst of the top-level union meeting, said the injunctions "directly impede any possible progress" in the nationwide strike.

The injunctions order Bell System employees whose contracts have not expired to go back to work despite picket lines of their fellow union members—telephone installers employed around the nation by the Bell subsidiary, Western Electric Co.

Some 23,000 Western Electric telephone installers in about 40 states are on strike, in addition to Bell System operators, linemen, repairmen, clerks and other workers in 15 states. Western Electric manufacturing employees in Buffalo, N.Y., also have walked out.

Where Bell System contracts have not expired, such as in Alabama and Kentucky, many telephone workers are refusing to cross the picket lines of the Western Electric installers.

Some Bell workers in Alabama, however, had set up their own picket lines to protest what they called attempts by the Southern Bell Telephone Co. to intimidate them from respecting installers' picket lines.

Viet Troops On Alert in Saigon Area

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnam's army in Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces were placed on full alert today because intelligence reports indicate a big attack on the capital is near, Vietnamese sources reported.

A U.S. mission spokesman said, however, that "no alert or any warning has been issued to American personnel" in connection with the Vietnamese intelligence reports.

A U.S. military spokesman said American troops were on the same alert they've been since the big enemy lunar new year offensive in February that ravaged Saigon and other major South Vietnamese cities. He added: "We're just normal."

Another source reported U.S. military police in Saigon had been told to be more cautious in the next few days and that Marine guards at the American Embassy were briefed on the Vietnamese reports. The embassy was attacked at the start of the Tet offensive.

The informant said the briefings were normal procedure that did not indicate U.S. officials were particularly worried.

Vietnamese officials at Cho Ray Hospital in Cholon, the Chinese section of Saigon hard hit in the previous offensive, told U.S. nurses there to go home. One nurse said the officials told them an enemy attack was expected late Monday or early Tuesday.

Vietnamese troops had been on a 50 per cent alert since the February offensive, with half of them allowed overnight passes. Now all troops are restricted to their bases.

The intelligence reports said the Communist attacks would be on the scale of those during the February offensive, when thousands of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops infiltrated into Saigon and attacked all over the city.

Officials reported Sunday that a North Vietnamese colonel had surrendered and turned over plans for another assault on Saigon by 10,000 enemy troops.

The colonel, the highest ranking defector to fall into allied hands, said the assault had been planned for today but some unknown circumstance had resulted in a delay.

Allied forces reported killing at least 135 enemy soldiers Sunday.

State News Fire Probed At Sub Base Escape Tank

GROTON (AP) — Navy and fire officials are investigating a blaze that caused about $500,000 damage Sunday to the escape training tank facility at the U.S. Submarine Base here.

The fire, discovered early Sunday morning by a sailor on duty in the diving locker, heavily damaged the elevator shaft that runs parallel to the 138-foot-tall diving tank and the wood control shed atop the tank.

One diver said he thought the fire, believed to have started in the locker, was fueled by an exploding high-pressure air line.

When the line exploded, he said, flammable insulating material surrounding the shaft went up in smoke.

The tower and its support system has been used to train submariners in escape and rescue operations since 1950. It is somewhat of a landmark in southeastern Connecticut and is the symbol of the Navy training base.

Shiffs and walkways leading to escape locks alongside the tank were badly burned and firemen had to break windows to fight the blaze.

Three firemen suffered minor injuries fighting the blaze. It was brought under control at 6 a.m. Sunday, about three hours after it was discovered.

The base commander, Capt. Walter A. McGuinness, released the damage estimate for the wood shaft structure. He said

Assassin Descriptions Conflict, Says Officer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A ranking Memphis police officer acknowledges there are "a whole lot of discrepancies" in official descriptions of the man sought as the sniper slayer of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Asst. Chief Bill Price referred to statements that James Earl Ray, 40, an escaped Missouri convict, and Eric Starvo Galt, first sought for King's April 4 assassination in Memphis, are the same person.

"You don't know what to look for," Price said Sunday as officers here and elsewhere continued their investigation of the slaying. The nationwide manhunt continues.

The FBI issued a conspiracy warrant Wednesday for Galt, then updating his case Friday by saying a fingerprint comparison showed Galt was really Ray.

The naming of Ray in the case caused confusion, primarily because earlier official statements indicate that Galt and Ray were in different places at the same time.

When Galt was charged as a conspirator in King's death by rifle bullet, the FBI said the man had taken dancing lessons in New Orleans in 1964-65. The FBI said later the earlier description should have said Galt reportedly took dancing lessons rather than stating it flatly.

During that time, Ray was in the Missouri State Prison at Jefferson City, serving a 20-year sentence for a 1955 supermarket robbery.

The age of the man also was in conflict. Witnesses who saw a man in a Memphis rooming house from where the fatal bullet was fired estimated his age as in the late 20s. The FBI, in issuing its warrant, said the man was in his late 30s.

U.S. Diplomatic Courier Survives Jetliner Crash

WINDHOEK, South-West Africa (AP) — "My God, how could I have been so lucky?" American diplomatic courier Thomas Taylor asked rescuers who found him beside the wreckage of a plane crash that killed 122 persons.

Taylor, 36, of Tahlequah, Okla., was one of six survivors of the crash of a South African Airways Boeing 707 jetliner Saturday night. Three other Americans were reported aboard the plane, which was bound from Johannesburg, South Africa, to London, and at least one was known dead.

The U.S. Embassy in Pretoria, South Africa, confirmed today that the American diplomatic pouch Taylor took aboard in Johannesburg was recovered intact Sunday.

First reports said the plane carried $700,000 worth of diamonds and these had not been found, but officials said no diamonds were in the cargo.

Taylor said today he was "much better than I should be. . . I'm able to move around without much pain. I didn't sleep much last night, but I slept most of yesterday."

The big jet had just taken off from Windhoek when it wobbled and plummeted out of sight.

Watchers at the airport heard a crash and saw flames spurt into the sky.

The courier, who is based in Frankfurt, Germany, was reported to have a cracked rib, a minor leg injury and an injured thumb.

Taylor said he "wasn't able to do much because of the severe pain in my chest. I recall assisting two passengers from their seat belts and got some seats off them and got an obstacle off one man's legs. It was piling him down. I made him comfortable. . . I heard a woman crying outside the aircraft and I climbed out to see if I could assist, but it was dark and I couldn't see where she was. I saw lights approaching and I shouted toward them."

THE WAY I HEARD IT

by John Gruber

Frank Pandolfi has announced a really exciting series of operas for the next season by the Connecticut Opera Association.

Lore Kuhse, from Berlin, will sing the title role. She is new to this country. I can discover, but Eric Leinhardt has chosen her for the same part in the recording of the opera he will make with the Boston Symphony this summer.

Ignid, Elmore is cast as "Sigismondo." She was heard here once with the Hartford Symphony in Fritz Mahler's opera, and was received with great enthusiasm.

Jon Vickers will sing "Rigoletto," a role for which he is internationally famous. Thomas Stewart will be the "Wotan," for the benefit of those who wouldn't think a Scandinavian would think it included a couple of old stiffs.

John Grillo, who has sung "Boris" in the past, will be the "Fricka," while Mirella Freni will sing "Hansel and Gretel." This is a bit of casting on which I had some reservations, but she has surprised me in the past and may be worth a try.

Sen. David M. Barry District Council, scheduled for June 18 at the Buckrook Hotel in West Hartford.

Barry said today that he expects this to be a lively election year, and that he looks forward to a vigorous and challenging campaign.

Sen. Barry, a Manchester native, first was elected to the State Senate in February 1966. I expect he will repeat his victory on March 19.

He was re-elected to a full term in November 1966. During the 1967 session of the General Assembly, Barry was designated chairman of the Military and Veterans' Committee and was a member of the committees on Judiciary and Public Welfare and Human Institutions.

Sen. Barry is a former state representative from Manchester and has served as Manchester deputy mayor, as a member of the Board of Directors, and as chairman of the Charter Commission.

Barry has practiced law in Manchester and Hartford since 1954. He is a member of the U.S. Army Counter Intelligence Corps.

Barry is married to the former Judith Leinhardt of Manchester. They have three children, Joan, 6, David Jr., 4, and Michael, 10 months.

Barry Seeks Senate Seat Third Time

by John Gruber

Sen. David M. Barry, Democrat of Manchester, today announced that he will seek re-nomination and re-election from the 4th Senatorial District, comprised of the towns of Manchester, Glastonbury, Marlborough and East Hampton.

He said that he will ask for the support of Democratic leaders and town committees in each of the four towns, prior to the primary election.

"In the air war against North Vietnam, American fighter bombers returned in force to the skies over the southern panhandle Sunday, flying 151 missions. The deepest penetration was made by Navy fighters from the carrier Hornet Homebound. They hit four trucks along a highway 22 miles north of the coast.

The target was 106 miles from the coast. The Navy also hit two miles south of the 19th parallel, the main target for the bombing set by President Johnson.

The resurgence of U.S. air power was facilitated by a break in the monsoon weather, which allowed for the number of air missions to 14. But the monsoon has begun to return, and the weather is "light to broken clouds," the U.S. Command said.

All Navy submarines, McGuinness said, must pass the state safety tests before they can be used. Submariners have to qualify every 30 months.

The captain predicted it would take a year to repair the shaft and make the reactor operable again. Congress, he said, had to authorize funds before repairs can be made.

WAKEFIELD PLAY SOCIETY PRESENTS

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD The average man is sensible enough to dislike wastefulness. He would rather have a high trunk than a low trunk. He would rather have a high trunk than a low trunk.

When today's hand was played in a recent town trick in the first trick in the dummy with the ace of clubs and led a club. East stepped in with the ace of clubs and returned the king of diamonds.

South ruffed and tried the spade finesse, losing to the king. East returned another diamond, and South ruffed again.

Relying on a normal trump break South cashed the king of hearts and led the nine of hearts to dummy's ace. The bad trump break was a little more than expected.

Partner deals and bids one heart, and the next playing pass. You hold: Spades, A-Q-J-10; Hearts, A-10-8; Diamonds, A-5-3; Clubs, 4-3-2.

What do you say? Answer: Bid one spade. The hand is not quite good enough for an immediate jump to two spades. Change one of the small cards to a heart or a spade, and you would jump to two spades at once to force to game and into immediate slam.

Obviously, South could have made his contract by several different lines of play. The heart is to lead the ace of hearts at the second trick and continue with the tenhearts for a finesse. South draws four rounds of trumps and plays the spades, winning five trumps, four spades and the ace of diamonds.

South's actual line of play was reasonable, but when East ruffed the fourth spade and the queen of hearts South should have led the king of hearts to dummy's ace.

Democratic delegates to the Second Congressional Convention have received personal letters from U. S. Congressman William St. Onge congratulating them for "having been chosen to represent the Democrats of your community".

Reunion Guest

Miss Jeanne M. Low, former French teacher and chairman of the Foreign Language Department at Manchester High School, will be guest of honor at the 20th reunion of the MHS Class of 1948.

The reunion will be held May 22 at the Elks Home in East Hartford, beginning at 6:30 p.m. A roast beef dinner will be followed by dancing, with music provided by the Clayton E. Edwards Orchestra.

Miss Low, who still makes her home in Manchester, returned in 1963 after a 32-year career at MHS. The 1948 edition of the yearbook, "Memphis," was dedicated to her.

Atty. Vincent Diana is chairman of the reunion committee. Other officers are Robert Kaminski, treasurer; Mrs. Alva Russell Jr. and Mrs. William Collins, co-secretaries; Mrs. Hugh Swanson, publicity; George Hubbard, orchestra arrangements.

Lee Silverstein will serve as master of ceremonies. Committee members include Mrs. Edward Weiss, Mrs. Ed McCabe, Leonard Johnson, Albert Lea, Nunzio Lupachino, Mrs. James Morley Jr., Mrs. James Coughlin, Mrs. Harold Ortell, Mrs. Harold Carey and Carolyn Raymond.

A final meeting of the planning committee will be held Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Atty. Diana's law office, 733 Main St. It is open to any interested class member.

Anyone wishing further information about the reunion may contact Mrs. William Collins, 299 Brickland St., Glastonbury.

Worth Knowing

Our attention was called to an old survey which reported our reference to non-holiday accident figures. It said, "In late years the fatality of traffic deaths during a four-day Thanksgiving day period has ranged from more than 400 to 900. In a similar survey a 4-day period without a holiday, the fatalities were 600." So, as we reported, there's not much difference in a Memorial Day weekend and a P.A.P. compilation. So we'd 410 deaths, whereas a similar count for the previous NON-HOLIDAY weekend had more than 400 deaths. It's not surprising that during the holiday, if these grim figures refer to defensive driving, not only on holidays, but every day, they serve a good purpose. TO SERVE you well here and in business is our good purpose.

Yemen Rulers Opposed

Yemen's Republican government is reported under fire from the Popular Resistance Movement. The movement is reported to have taken up arms to help fight off the royalist siege of Sana'a.

Kosygin Visits India

NEW DELHI (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin paid a short visit to New Delhi Sunday, apparently to insure Prime Minister Indira Gandhi that he had made no agreements adverse to the Soviet Union and Red China. The government then declared an attack on the movement's headquarters, and after to improve them." Kosygin told a clash in which several persons were killed, the Resistance was in favor of the best possible relations between India and Pakistan, and we believe them reversed itself and that is possible.

Reds Launch Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union announced today it has launched a communications satellite to aid transmission of television programs and telephonic messages to the far reaches of Siberia and Soviet Central Asia.

Another important reason why people who live by a gas line are called "luckies"

Switch to gas home heat and save 20% with satisfaction guaranteed!

You can save at least 20% on your home heating costs every year by switching to clean, modern, low-cost gas. And the added costs of burner service and maintenance are eliminated, too... forever.

Here's how the costs of heating the average home in Greater Hartford by oil compare to the cost of heating it by low cost gas.

	GAS	OIL
Energy used*	131,600 cubic ft.	1,124 gallons
Fuel cost per unit	$1.356/1000 C.F.	17.9¢ gallon
Total fuel cost	$177.66	$201.14
Cost of electricity to pump fuel to burner	—	8.50
Service contract (optional)	—	20.00
Total heating cost	$177.66	$229.64

*Based on average home heat for heating and water heating.

We'll install a compact, quiet, fool-proof gas burner in your present furnace. And there's no charge for installation, even if we have to bring the line in from the street. It will cost you as little as $2.95 a month... plus the low cost of the gas you use. And your satisfaction is guaranteed... unconditionally... for the first full year.

Coverity Town Budget Hearing Planned for Tonight

Coverity residents will give their views on the proposed town budget for 1968-69 at the annual budget hearing tonight at 8 at the high school.

Board of Finance chairman C. Peter Van Dine has urged all residents to attend the hearing, since "only through a well-attended and outspoken hearing can the board properly assess the desires of the people."

The budget as proposed would require a tax rate of 64 mills, nearly 15 mills over the present figure of 49.75. However, Van Dine notes that the proposed budget does not represent the recommendation of the Board of Finance.

Copies of the budget will be available at the door tonight.

Board of Education Chairman Ruth Benoit issued a statement over the weekend, giving an explanation "for the reasons behind the major increases" in the school budget.

The total school budget proposed for 1968-69 reflects an increase of 6.6 per cent over the current appropriation, and Mrs. Benoit notes, "When one considers the operation of the school system, the increase is not excessive."

Capt. Nathan Hale School and the advent of kindergarten, they must realize that Coverity's educational program is being faced with a two-fold increase.

"The estimated cost of operating a kindergarten program for the first year is $42,147," or 20 per cent of the total budget increase, Mrs. Benoit said.

State Aid Increase

She adds, "One of the serious points to consider here is that the State Per Pupil Grant, which is based on the average daily membership of the schools, will not increase in 1968-69 because of kindergarten enrollment into the year 1969-70. Therefore the town will not receive any increase in state aid for the ensuing fiscal year."

Mrs. Benoit also points out that the opening of the new Nathan Hale School "will bring additional fixed operating costs. The estimated figure for this category is $35,116, or 20 per cent of the total budget increase."

Transportation shows an increase of 22.5 per cent of the total increase, and Mrs. Benoit explains, "This comes about due to the new transportation contract, addition of one bus to cover the increase in enrollment, and estimated $5,000 for noon trips for kindergarten pupils, and an estimated $3,000 for extra mile age for Capt. Nathan Hale School pupils."

Mrs. Benoit also explains, "Due to the fact that the board is presently engaged in negotiations with the Coverity Federation of Teachers for salaries and other conditions of employment, the figure in the instructional staff category of the budget is one that is based purely on an estimate of the total package which the board is hoping to settle on. As of this date, negotiations are proceeding quite smoothly, and a settlement is hoped for prior to the Annual Town Meeting in May."

Mrs. Benoit concludes by pointing out that "all school board members will be present at the hearing tonight to hopefully give satisfactory answers to all questions. We ask that the citizens and taxpayers of Coverity give careful consideration to all our requests before any decision is reached."

Edmondson Reception

A reception will be given for Mr. Clarence Edmondson on May 5 from 3 to 5 p.m. at the Coverity Grammar School. Edmondson, principal of CGS, is leaving town on May 12 to assume the position of superintendent of schools at Portsmouth, N.H.

Friends of Edmondson are invited to attend this function, which is sponsored by the Education Association of Coverity and the CGS-PTA.

The sponsoring groups add that "it is our wish that all

Would We Spend It At Home?

It is far too early for such a happy kind of thought, but what if it should find ourselves confronted with the threat of a Vietnam war and we might then find ourselves confronted with the threat of a Vietnam war and we might then find ourselves confronted with the threat of a Vietnam war...

Would we rate the expenditure of social purposes as valid and necessary an expenditure as the expenditure of billions for military purposes abroad? It has, in Vietnam, cost some $100 billion in the hundreds of thousands of dollars, to kill one Vietcong or North Vietnamese soldier. Would we ever consider spending two or three hundred dollars of dollars just to save the life, or improve the living, of one American?

We have, in Vietnam, been willing to burn down the homes of the natives and transport them to new homes perhaps less suitable to them and their way of life, all in the name of military necessity. Would we be willing, in America, to burn and transport and provide more suitable new homes in the name of social necessity?

These questions may seem fanciful, but they are not without logic. Yet we all know that they are never going to get a clear yes from us. We would never agree easily among ourselves that such expenditures could be afforded or that such purposes could be classified as either advisable or necessary. War is still the only human cause necessary in generating its own unlimited funds.

All lesser causes still have to go around with their hand out, begging for their case, asking for token contributions. A six million dollar plan is shot down in a moment, perhaps because of faulty design or manufacture, or poor timing, and no one really complains. We merely keep on making more plans, and trying to make better ones. But as an anti-poverty program, or an urban renewal program suffer and crash from imperfect design or poor human performance, and our instincts react and demand all such programs.

So, despite the happy thought, don't be dreaming that an end of the war of military billions in Vietnam would trigger immediate war of social purpose billions at home. In Vietnam, we feel it almost a duty to waste the taxpayers' money. At home, we expect each other to guarantee the taxpayer his money is not being wasted.

A Huk Part Of Us? Over in the Philippines, in a ceremony in a village 100 miles north of Manila, a group of farmers became, the other day, owners of land for the first time in their lives, or in the lives of any of their ancestors.

This was an important land reform, being put into effect in an area where 20 years of military and police operations had not succeeded in stamping out the Huk insurgency which flared up immediately after World War II.

The Huk were once considered Communists. Some of them may have been, some may still be. Others are jailbirds. Others are extremist idealists. Others are farmers who are tired of a system which amounts to serfdom. They are not, today, anything like the power they once were, when they held whole patches of the country under terror. Still, they have not been eradicated by 20 years of jungle fighting against them. And today the government of President Ferdinand Marcos is at last trying one more formula—the formula of trying to establish enough land reform and social progress in their area to end their main and most valid reason for existing and obtaining support from the peasantry.

There is, of course, no guarantee this land reform is going to work, no guarantee that the problem of the Huk insurgency in the countryside will not last for another 20 years. There are those who insist, often on the basis of their own management of the land, in the shape of large estates, that land reform cannot prove practical, and that the only reform that is a dead one, and the only truly happy peasant is one who works the land for somebody else.

Both Parties Need A Voice

If we were to be allowed what might be the very sensible privilege of picking this year's presidential nominees on the basis of votes, we would have an easy time of it selecting a standard bearer for the Democrats.

He would be Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford who, in his first press conference the other day, had the reassuring round tones of poised leadership. He talked with the sound of a leader of a country in troubled times ought to have. Now a man, or a candidate, is assuredly not confined to being what his voice is, or what his voice suggests to us. But the slow and easy, strong and untruffled tones of Clifford do suggest something of his known character, just as the too eager tone while the other Democratic politicians suggest something about the quality of their leadership.

The voice may indeed suggest what kind of a Presidency a candidate would give. Beyond that, it can also have a great deal to do with whether a candidate can get elected. Our campaigns are supposedly decided on imaginary ballots because the voice itself is not pictured, there is no reason to overlook the extent to which it colors every candidate's picture.

Each 1968, for instance, the possibility is that it was not merely the visual shadows on television which influenced the candidates of Richard Nixon. He may have suffered, as well, from the fact that he had developed Thomas Dewey's habit of surrounding each word with too perfectly rounded a diction technique before releasing it.

In 1968, when we know it is the "new" Nixon, a much less pronounced and more subtle voice of Richard Nixon. He may have suffered, as well, from the fact that he had developed Thomas Dewey's habit of surrounding each word with too perfectly rounded a diction technique before releasing it.

The voice does seem to begin to exert a certain soothing influence. But the truth is that if we were to select the Republican nominee on the basis of voice, we might feel forced to go as far outside the routine field as we did when we interviewed the Democratic candidate. Somewhere there must be a Republican voice better than the too eager baritone which now reverberates in the ears of us who know if you happen to hear it.

On Straightening The Tie Talking of representational art, there has been an exhibition of paintings at Oklahoma City which has broken attendance records. It is interesting to inquire why.

The artist is Andrew Wyeth, the contemporary American painter. Thirty-six of his landscapes, scenes and portraits have been assembled by the Red House Museum in some of the Oklahoma Museum of Art, which is the large white house overlooking the main highway in the town of Brantford, Ind. (U.S. 46) and Lincoln Boulevard.

There is something about Wyeth which appeals not only to the professional artist but to laymen at many levels. It is not just that his Pennsylvania farm personality and our instinctive response are instantly recognizable. Beyond that, he has a remarkable ability to evoke mood, vividly.

This instant and almost universal communication runs counter to the present trend in representational art. But Wyeth doesn't keep the crowds away from him, as does the work of many other artists. He has a remarkable ability to evoke mood, vividly.

Even conceding the absence of pro-Brantford rural voters in this sample, these results belie the determined underdog strategy spread by the Kennedy camp. Among both white and Negro blue-collar workers, Kennedy maintains a tight emotional hold. Using Mrs. Sutherland's professional polling techniques and a questionnaire constructed by Quigley, we reached these conclusions: many conventional political wisdom here.

The key ingredient in Kennedy's popularity is neither his Vietnam nor domestic policies—neither of which are broadly perceived—but his family identification. Many volunteered that they were voting for Kennedy to bring back what they regard as the John F. Kennedy golden era.

Brantford is still unknown here. More than half of those interviewed expressed no opinion about his performance as a Senator and most were laggard about his views (a situation that could be changed by thousands of more college students for Kennedy).

Brantford, described constantly by the press as an extremely popular Governor by Kennedy aides, drew a relatively low job rating of 62 per cent favorable in our sample—lower than ratings for President Johnson, McGovern and Hubert H. Humphrey. Our interviews showed only a dim appreciation or acceptance of Brantford's role as a favorite son to give Indiana bargaining power at the Chicago convention. About half the sample simply did not regard Brantford as a serious candidate, and some supporters viewed him as a stand-in for Humphrey, which definitely is not the Governor's strategy.

The massive crossover of Republican voters for Brantford is expected by a vast majority of those interviewed. Although as a fiscal conservative Brantford enjoys an enormous reputation, or not to be trusted. On the other hand, 25 or the 43 agreed with the statement that Kennedy is not "big enough" to be President, while indicating no recognition of Brantford as an intellectual or a leader of the nation's youth.

A concerted effort by the regular organization for Brantford and the onslaught of Kennedy's little corps may well drastically modify our findings between now and the election. Never mind our poll suggests that Kennedy begins the Indiana campaign with an extraordinary level of mass popularity, though for reasons wholly unconnected with his policy positions, and not at all in the period undergirding our poll. When are you going to start for home?

Hanson-Rubera

The marriage of Miss Elaine Rubera and William Edward Hanson, both of Manchester, took place Saturday morning at St. Bartholomew's Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Rubera of 483 Woodbridge St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Hanson Sr. of 24 Green Rd.

The Rev. Edward LaRose of St. Bartholomew's Church performed the double-ring ceremony and was co-officiant with the nuptial Mass. Bouquets of assorted flowers were on the altar.

The bride was given six-ribbons by her father. She wore a full-length gown of de-lustrated satin accented with re-embroidered Alagon lace, fashioned with scooped neckline, long tapered-sleeves coming to points at wrist, double panel of lace at front of cage skirt, and detachable chapel-length train bordered with Alagon lace.

Her elbow-length veil of silk tulle was arranged from a crystal chandelier and she carried white orchids.

Mrs. Linda Cole of Manchester was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Laurie Aceto and Miss Carolyn Robert, both of Manchester, and Mrs. Robert Satyb of Rockville. Miss Heidi Hanson of Manchester, niece of the bridegroom, was flower girl.

The attendants were dressed alike in full-length gowns of aqua chiffon over tulle, designed with mandarin collar, long-sleeved and long-sleeved with face veils, and the honor attendant carried a bouquet of pink gladioli.

Frederick Hanson Jr. of Manchester served as his brother's best man. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of light pink gladioli.

Andover $1,000 Raised Here to Help Complete School in Bolivia

News items temporarily...
Pupils at the elementary school returning from the home-land today vacation were greeted this morning at a special assembly with the long-awaited news of the identity of the partnership school for which they and the school staff raised $1,000 in a little over two months' time.

A letter from the assistant director of the Peace Corps, under whose sponsorship the project was launched, reveals that the community is located in Karajaya, Bolivia, in the town of Poopo, which numbers only 300 inhabitants. The school, which the locally raised funds will build will serve to children in Grades 1 through 3.

Snippets enclosed with the Peace Corps letter show that a building had already been started when the project had to be abandoned because of lack of funds. The local school had, however, completed the road leading to it.

The building will be constructed of adobe bricks, and will consist of three rooms, a "dormitory" (health room) and a "di-

Rudolph Dirks Dies; Started Comic Feature

NEW YORK (AP) — Rudolph Dirks, originator of the "Katzman Kid" comic strip, died Saturday night at his Manhattan home. A private funeral service was held Sunday.

Dirks created the Katzenjammer brothers, Hans and Fritz, in 1917, at the suggestion of an editor for the Hearst newspaper. The strip currently is syndicated by United Features to about 100 papers.

Dirks' son, John, who worked with his father on the comic for the past 15 years, said he would carry on with the "Katzman Kid" strip.

A native of Germany, Dirks came to the United States in 1917, at the suggestion of an editor for the Hearst newspaper. The strip currently is syndicated by United Features to about 100 papers.

Architects Continuing Work On Plans for Middle School

The Middle School Building Committee has authorized the architects Russell, Gibson and Von Dohlen to continue work on preliminary plans on the middle school in anticipation of setting the location in May to bid.

The plans are presently being prepared on schedule, according to Board of Education chairman David Cook.

Eye Screening Program

The Tolland Junior Woman's Club will hold the first in a new series of Eye Tests for pre-school age children tomorrow at the United Congregational Church.

The testing program is sponsored by the Connecticut Society for the Prevention of Blindness and is designed to detect amblyopia or lazy eyes.

Trained members of the Tolland Juniors will administer the tests in the presence of a registered nurse.

The Tolland Juniors have contacted all parents of children between the ages of three and five years. Screenings are arranged by appointment only.

Parents are presently being notified of the testing date for their child. Additional testing sessions will be held Thursday and Saturday, as well as April 29 and May 1, from 9 a.m. to noon.

and add to his grasp of a subject taken during the regular school year.

The enrichment program will be conducted at Eastern Connecticut from June 24 to August 2 for students from public, independent and parochial secondary schools in the Windham area. Additional information is available from the guidance department.

Classes on Road

Several Rham classes have been traveling lately: students in Warren Scamman's Earth Science classes had a field trip to the Conservation and Wildlife Preserve in Hampton; seventh grade science students went to the Boston Museum of Science recently and the Laboratory Club visited the University of Connecticut library and were given a guided tour of the facilities.

About Town

The Manchester Rotary Club will meet tomorrow at 6:30 p.m. at the Manchester Country Club. Dr. Aylkys of the University of Connecticut will speak on "Vietnam."

Clarks Wed 25 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Allan W. Clark of 43 Arcella Dr. were held yesterday at a 25th wedding celebration at Piano's Restaurant, Bolton. About 40 attended the event, which was given by the Clarks' two daughters, Mrs. Louis Zimkiewicz and Mrs. John Pitta.

The couple was married April 17, 1943 at Center Congregational Church by the Rev. Browne Barr, and have lived in Manchester since their marriage.

They also have three grandchildren, Bolton. About 40 attended the event, which was given by the Clarks' two daughters, Mrs. Louis Zimkiewicz and Mrs. John Pitta.

IRS Guidelines For Politicians

WASHINGTON (AP) — Political candidates—announced or not—must pay federal income tax on any campaign contributions diverted to personal use.

Guidelines just published by the Internal Revenue Service also specify that political funds mixed with personal funds will be considered diverted to personal use and thus taxable.

The guidelines define a candidate, for purposes of taxing diverted political funds, as any political figure even if he is not up for reelection this year.

An IRS spokesman said the guidelines break no new ground but provide politicians with specific guidance in a single document.

Draftee Physicals Hit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Richard S. Schweiker says the Defense Department spent more than $18.6 million last fiscal year to draft or enlist some 20,000 men later found physically unfit and discharged.

The Pennsylvania Republican, accusing Armed Forces medical examining stations of an "appalling sloppy job" of screening prospective draftees, said the cost was revealed by a Committee General's study he requested.

The study showed 2.6 per cent of the draftees had to be discharged because of medical conditions existing before they were drafted, Schweiker said.

Former Masters Of Masons Will Confer Degree

Thursday night will be Past Master's Night at Friendship Lodge of Masons, and the new and old masters will confer degrees by past master's of Friendship Lodge of Masons.

There will be a dinner at 6:30, served by Temple Chapter, Order of Eastern Star. Reservations will be accepted by John Von Deck Jr., the unit tomorrow night, and working tools by Bogus, the should be made with Russell Schlatzer, 74 Bunny View Dr., and the charge by Tapley.

Buses for Freight?

WASHINGTON — Market researchers are encouraging bus companies to plan vehicles to carry passengers by day and freight by night. This would make use of the half to three-fourths of bus equipment that stands idle between busy hours.

Capital Quote

"Can separate schools really be equal? I just don't know. But if our southern schools are any indication, maybe not." —Mrs. Ruby Martin, newly-appointed chief of the federal school desegregation program.
