Political Disclosure Set by Rockefeller

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller will make "an announcement concerning his political plans" at 11 a.m. Tuesday, Leslie S. Slot, the governor's press secretary, said today.

Rockefeller was reported ready also to cancel his appearance on a tour with Republican governors in several western states early next month to obtain information needed to put together a GOP platform for the upcoming presidential nominating convention.

Since that time, President Johnson apparently took himself out of the re-election picture by saying he would neither seek nor accept renomination.

At Columbia Students Blockade Protesters

NEW YORK (AP)—An impatient faction of the Columbia University student body tightened today a blockade aimed at choking off a protest by fellow students that has disrupted the Ivy League school for a week.

Doctors Concerned

French Perform Transplant

PARIS (AP)—The first French heart transplant operation was performed this weekend but doctors today expressed concern for the patient's recovery.

The operation began Saturday night at La Pitié Hospital and ended nine hours later. Heart surgeons Christian Cabrol and Gerard Guiraudon headed the operating team.

The cardio vascular or circulatory problem developed during the operation and the blood pressure suddenly lowered. There was speculation that there had been some brain damage, before the blood pressure returned to normal, but Mercaudier did not mention this possibility.

The heart was taken from Michel Gyppez, 23, who suffered fatal head injuries in an automobile collision Thursday. Gyppez, a metal worker, was returning to his home in the Paris suburb of Bondy driving a small car, when it collided with another at an intersection.

Demands Outlined 'Poor' Campaign Gets Late Start

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Poor People's Campaign got off to a late start today as organizers outlined a series of strong demands for the Department of Agriculture.

The Rev. Ralph Abernathy and his "Committee of 100" advance scouts for the campaign were more than an hour and a half late for their first activity, a 9 a.m. meeting with Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman.

Collective bargaining, and revision of the food stamp program so that persons too poor to buy stamps can get them free.

Another 250 students, opposed to the sit-in, either slept or talked nearby in the center of the campus at the sun dial.

Humphrey's Toughest Task Seen Enticing Party Heads

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's toughest assignment as an active candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination apparently will be to entice party leaders off the political fence.

But party leaders in swing states whose support he needs to assemble the 1,312 convention votes required for the nomination didn't budge from the neutral position they have taken since President Johnson announced March 31 he would not accept renomination.

He said he thinks about one-fourth of the delegates will represent organized labor. AFL-CIO President George Meany is

Teen Held In Five Slayings

CHARLESTON, Ill. (AP) — Thomas Charles Fuller, 18, is being held in Coles County jail without bond for a preliminary hearing Tuesday on charges of murdering three brothers and two sisters of a girl he reportedly dated.

The youth was arrested Sunday near Eastern Illinois University some 13 hours after the five children of Mr. and Mrs. William Cox were shot to death outside their home near Matton.

The dead children were found Saturday night in and around a barn on the family farm. Deputy Coroner Jess Caudill said each of the victims had been shot in the head with a small caliber pistol and the two girls' heads also had been battered.

Police said a teen-age daughter, Louise, 16, was home at the time of the slayings but was unharmed. Friends of the family said Louise, whose twin brother, Lewis, was killed, had been dating Fuller.

Authorities declined to discuss possible motives for the slayings and said they had no comment on whether the brown-haired youth made any statements.

Cavalry Hits 'Paydirt,' Finds Camp, Supplies

SAIGON (AP) — A big U.S. force that plunged by helicopter into what its commander called "real paydirt" has found at least one enemy camp and supplies in the A Shau Valley, but the enemy troops scattered before the invaders.

The 10-day-old offensive, not announced until Sunday night, continues under a security blanket, called Delaware, was a "reconnaissance in force," indicating that the American force would smash the staging areas and supply lines and then pull out. South Vietnamese paratroopers formed a blocking force at the valley's exit toward Hue.

Despite the heavy antiaircraft fire, casualties on both sides were reported relatively light in the first three days, with fewer than 50 North Vietnamese and 29 Americans killed. Sixteen U.S. helicopter crewmen were wounded.

After the landing, Pfc. Jimmy R. Rose of Smithfield, N.C., and Sgt. Hillary Craig of Winter Park, Fla., followed a communications wire to a 30-building enemy camp evacuated so quickly that laundry still was hanging on lines.

The American troops found dozens of 50-gallon drums of gasoline, four Russian trucks, 300 Chinese automatic rifles still in crates, hundreds of artillery and antiaircraft rounds, a ton of rice and 100 Russian mine detectors.

He said the patient's electrocardiogram was normal, that his pulse was regular but his blood pressure was high.

Dr. Maurice Mercaudier, chief of surgery at La Pitié Hospital, told a news conference "the condition of the patient is causing anxiety among us."

Mercaudier said Roblain had not yet recovered lucidity, but did not explain further. He added that there had been no difficulty in the operation itself.

Word of the operation leaked out, however, and newsmen flocked to the hospital. Parents and other relatives of Gyppez and Roblain were in seclusion.

Robert Ouvrard, the concierge in the new seven-story apartment building where the Gyppez couple lived, said they had moved in three months ago.

"It was a wonderful thing to have done," he told a newsmen. Dr. Christian N. Barnard, who headed a team that performed the previous successful heart operation in South Africa, said in Johannesburg he was pleased at the news.

Mercaudier said that for five years Cabrol and Guiraudon had been conducting experimental work on cardiac surgery and that plans had been ready since last January for a human heart transplant.

Mercaudier said that the surgical team would have preferred to work without any publicity. Word of the operation leaked out, however, and newsmen flocked to the hospital.

Site Selection Tedious

LBJ Trying 2 'Peace Lines'

An AP News Analysis By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the month since President Johnson reversed course on Vietnam, his war and peace moves suggest a basic decision to cut U.S. involvement in the conflict as fully and quickly as possible.

He appears to be working along two lines. One is directed toward finding a way out of Vietnam through a peace settlement negotiated essentially with North Vietnam.

A month of effort, beginning with Johnson's March 31 bombing limitation and call for talks, has shown that even selection of a place to meet can be a long and tedious process.

This is at least a preview of slow, frustrating negotiations to come, and it may even indicate that neither Johnson nor any successor will be able to find a negotiated way out of the war.

The alternative route Johnson appears to be developing toward progressive disengagement is to hand over the war more and more to the South Vietnamese government, making it progressively more responsible for its own survival and security. At some point along that route reduction of U.S. forces in South Vietnam would begin. It is the program often talked about in the past. But this time high officials are saying privately the time has come for the South Vietnamese "to face up to their responsibilities" — with the implication that if eventually they cannot stand pretty much alone they will have to accept the consequences.

Officials said agreement on a site could be reached in a few hours with the kind of contact now possible with North Vietnam through the U.S. and North Vietnamese embassies in Laos. Or the squabbling could drag on for more weeks.

The Johnson administration meanwhile is disturbed by the heavy flow of men and supplies poured into South Vietnam by Hanoi since the bombing stopped. Washington officials said about 10,000 truckloads of men and goods have gone south in the past month, an increase of about 25 per cent over the record levels of December and January.

This widespread speculation about the possibility of compromise on Paris as a site for preliminary peace talks was paralleled by some rumblings of worry about what Johnson may feel he has to do about the bombing limitation if Hanoi maintains its expanding military activity. Johnson has about nine months more in office in view of his decision against re-election, and no one in high position in Washington thinks the odds seriously favor his concluding a peace agreement in that time.

What he is doing in one sense, therefore, is preparing for his successor a range of choices in Vietnam policy next year, with withdrawal at one extreme and military escalation at the other.

How the new dual course develops in the next few months will depend greatly on what happens in Vietnam — in the war, in Hanoi's diplomatic maneuvers and in Saigon's acceptance of responsibility.

President Nguyen Van Thieu of South Vietnam and his associates should understand that in terms of U.S. policy, time may be running out for them. They could have far less U.S. support next year from a new president in Washington, with even more radical changes in U.S. policy than those Johnson has initiated.

Seemingly balking at that possibility, Vice President Nguyen (See Page Fourteen)

Ugly Spring On The Campus

One must first compliment, as posed elsewhere, the kind of response which shows authority first able to govern itself, the way in which college officials at institutions like Trinity and Columbia have reacted trying to answer insolent student force with some counter-force in uniform.

Such conduct on the part of authority may constitute one of the best available formulas for taking the steam out of the new tactic spring of 1968 has introduced to the campus.

But as for the tactic itself, it is one which defies the spring fever of the student, wedded this year, no doubt, to reform causes, going much too far for the good of anybody.

The student improvement of college administration of the student occupation of college administrative facilities, can never be tolerated as a means of influencing college policy. It is not a tactic which can be held within any framework of influencing. It is a tactic which, if persisted in, can merely destroy the institutions it purportedly seeks to influence.

Furthermore, one has to be careful how trustingly one accepts the claim which says that the kindergartners are really interested in certain specific matters of college policy. Perhaps every such movement is mired in the motivations of its participants.

But there is always the possibility that there is a hard core in every such activity which merely uses positive causes as a cover-up for its own really negative intentions.

There is, somewhere inside almost every trend toward violence in this country today, a core of motivation which is nihilistic and anarchistic, which means, roughly, that there are people who think that the only way to change the system is to destroy it.

Such nihilistic, anarchistic forces make it their confirmed tactic to attack first not the worst things they can find and then the best. They are much more likely to try to attack and cripple liberal programs and accomplishments, which may tend to be more visible, than they are to concern themselves with the reactionary force of progress.

This is not an ironic accident when we find the believers in nihilism and anarchism delivering their most savage blows to the best and most liberal colleges, or taking a city like New Haven with its supposedly model program of liberal progress, as their prime target.

If they succeed in tearing down or crippling the best efforts at solutions of our problems, they are serving their own warped version of eventual redemption and progress.

At Trinity, the college authorities obviously came to believe that they were dealing with a sincere interest in a piece of liberal progress and were not dealing with it by extending and affirming action they themselves had already taken under planning discussion. At Columbia and other campuses the certification of good, valid motivation seems likely to prove more difficult, and authorities may have to face the unpleasant fact that there are some activists who, claiming the privileges of democracy and the privileges of college liberalism, are in fact engaged in working to destroy it.

Recently, I was driving around the eastern United States for the first time in seven years.

What struck me most was the degree to which, in that short time, the American landscape has been wrecked.

You can drive from Boston to Washington—400 miles—almost without ever being in real town or real country.

Far worse, you can drive for hundreds of miles in what is supposed to be rural America without ever feeling really free of the suburban tentacle.

There is plenty of open land; the industry is sporadic.

But there is no end to the villas and the gas stations and the drive-ins.

Every few yards, often miles from a recognizable center, up pops another fragment of urban civilization, a bar-b-que stand in jazz modern with the gusto taken out of it, an Episcopal church with some genuine fragments around the door, a giant high school far from the centers it serves, a new Baptist church which is simply a square box with holes.

Almost all have been built within the last 20 years.

This is an environment of total confusion and mediocrity.

After a few miles of it in Draine or Texas, he just wants to get the hell out. Yet, stop the car and walk a few yards into the trees and you are in primordial America.

A visitor who traveled by air or on one of the new interstate motorways might think that the whole country was still a Thoreau idyll.

It is a crazy situation and I think it has some crazy human consequences.—IAN NATHAN IN THE LONDON OBSERVER

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans Jr. Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON — The long, bitter, and wholly unnecessary fiscal feud between President Johnson and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas has been quietly resolved in recent days, making passage of a tax increase within the next few weeks nearly inevitable.

Although several roadblocks remain, the biggest obstacle — the stubborn impasse between the President and the Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee — is no more. It has become clear in private conferences the past week that Mr. Johnson now is willing to buy fiscal packages tailored to Mills' specifications.

That means an immediate $10 billion increase in personal and corporate income taxes, raised by an upward revision of rates, as Mills desires, rather than the LBJ 10 per cent surtax formula. Far more important, the package includes deeper cuts both in current spending and in authorizations for future spending.

Having abandoned his joint session, Mr. Johnson then took a more conservative tack by privately agreeing, in effect, to both parts of the Mills fiscal package.

The tax part is no real problem. It probably will consist of restoring about half of the Kennedy-Johnson tax cut of 1964 by changing rates, a formula making it easy for Congressmen on record against the President's 10 per cent surtax (a surcharge of 10 per cent on normal income tax payments). The revenue gained would be around $10 billion in either case.

The expenditure part is much harder for Mr. Johnson to swallow. Although Mills is characteristically silent, it is believed the package will contain a reduction of around $6 billion spending for the year starting July 1 and strip about $20 billion from the Federal spending pipeline — new spending authority for years ahead. Cleaning out the pipeline, which Mills has always stressed as far more significant than reducing current spending, will require not only cutting back requests for new spending authority but also adopting actual prior actions of past administrations.

This means rejection of the House Appropriations Committee, some of whose members feel Mills is intruding in their jurisdiction. But the committee chairman, Rep. George Mahoney of Texas, is a fiscal conservative, like Mills, and should not be a serious roadblock.

Once the Appropriations Committee acts, Ways and Means can quickly write its tax bill and move it directly to the Senate-House conference now considering the 10 per cent surtax already passed by the Senate. It could be law by June 1.

But nobody is counting on that. Mr. Johnson's handling of the tax crisis has been mercurial and illogical, a singularly inept performance in his formal, legislative career. Because nobody can be sure there won't be still another aberration, some figures are still crossed on Capitol Hill.

The Coventry Police Budget To the Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to correct a statement made by a Herald reporter in the article "Coventry's Long Hot Summer," which appeared in the April 23 edition of The Manchester Herald.

The Coventry Police Department Budget, as submitted to the Finance Board, had a request for Equipment and Supplies in the amount of $128,000, not $800,000 as reported by your correspondent. In this regard, it was asked that 1 (one) 12 gauge shotgun and 2 (two) chemical mace dispensers be purchased. These two items carry a total expenditure of $121.90. Shotguns and chemical mace are considered standard equipment in Police Departments. I do not classify these items as riot equipment, but as standard police equipment.

The Negro resident of Coventry, Mr. Charles White, made the statement that he had heard that riot equipment was included in the Coventry police budget. I would like to state for Mr. White and the residents of Coventry that the riot equipment was included in this budget.

For several months, the Coventry Police Department has been equipped with chemical mace and a shotgun. The request made to the Board of Finance was to supplement the present equipment.

The Herald reporter who wrote this story, should have written the facts before submitting this item to the Herald. My office has been, and continues to be open to any reporter for the purpose of securing facts concerning police activities.

Very truly yours, Eugene W. Menard, Chief of Police

Editor's Note: There was apparently a difference between the amount of original Police Department request for Equipment and Supplies and the figure which was reported at the open meeting. Chief Menard's description of his own original request is correct.

3 Western Powers
Warn Soviet Union

BOON AP — The three Western powers have warned the Soviet Union it is responsible for preventing East Germany from interfering with access to West Berlin.

The United States, Britain and France sent protest letters to Pyotr Abramov, Soviet ambassador to East Germany.
They cited "documented instances of East German interference" including the turning back of West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schütz Friday as he tried to drive to Bonn.
East Germany clamped a ban on travel through its territory by high West German officials after the shooting April 21 of leftist student leader Rudi Dutcher in West Berlin.

80,000 Greeks Cheer
Premier Papadopoulos

ATHENS AP — About 80,000
Greeks packed the Olympic stadium in Athens and cheered Premier George Papadopoulos
Sunday night in a rally commemorating the first year in power of the military regime.
The army took over Greece
April 21, 1967, but nationwide anniversary celebrations were postponed one week because the Greek Orthodox Easter fell on April 21 this year.

No demonstrations against the regime were reported. The Athens rally was broadcast over the government radio network and piped over loudspeakers to public squares through the capital and suburbs.
The government-endorsed Athens newspaper Ellinthos Kosmos said in a front-page editorial: "The present regime is strong and stable. It will have a long life and will not change before it completely achieves its aims."

Students Riot in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP) — About 400 leaving students slipped in and out of large crowds of shoppers to evade police and pelted officers with rocks in sporadic clashes for about an hour Sunday on Tokyo's Ginza.

More than 2,000 riot police were sent to the shopping and entertainment district after the students chanted "Return Okinawa" and anti-Vietnam war slogans in an unauthorized demonstration. Then they stoned a police box at a major intersection. Four policemen were reported injured slightly.

In other demonstrations calling for the United States to return Okinawa to Japanese rule, 5,000 persons marched in downtown Tokyo and 200 Okinawans and 1,200 Japanese met on the sea in boats.

Japan and the United States have agreed that Okinawa and the other Ryukyu islands, captured in World War II and now used for a U.S. military base, will be returned to Japan "at an appropriate time."

Red May Day Prediction

LONDON (AP) — Britain's schoolboy experts on the Soviet space program predict the Russians will launch a manned space shot Wednesday to coincide with the Communist May Day celebrations.

The amateur satellite trackers at the Kettering Grammar School outside London based their prediction partly on the flight of the unmanned Soviet satellite Cosmos 216, which they believe was a test run for a manned flight in the Soyuz series.

The Kettering team predicted the Russians would bring Cos-mos 216 back to earth Sunday.
They had spotted Cosmos 216 in the same orbital path used last April by the ill-fated Soyuz 1 spacecraft in which Vladimir Komarov was killed.

Mayon Volcano Calming

MANILA (AP) — The Mayon
volcano is calming down.

The Commission on Volcanology said Mayon, 200 miles southeast of Manila, erupted four times Sunday night with two "moderately strong" and two "mild."

These brought to an end the number of eruptions since April 20.
The commission said lava continued to flow from the creter.

Some 30,000 villagers have been evacuated from the volcano's hills. Two deaths have been attributed to the eruptions —an elderly man who died of heart failure and a 12-year-old boy who was suffocated from volcanic ash.

ATTENTION MANCHESTER PROPERTY OWNERS, and ALL TAXPAYERS!

Ballot form with 18 numbered questions and 'YES/NO' options. Questions cover various town charter amendments and projects.

PLEASE CUT OUT THIS BALLOT and TAKE IT WITH YOU TO THE VOTING BOOTH WHEN YOU VOTE TOMORROW

(CUT ALONG DOTTED LINES)

THE ANSWERS CIRCLED ABOVE ARE THE VOTING RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE MANCHESTER PROPERTY OWNERS PROTECTIVE ASSOCIATION...

(Leave Pointers Down That Express Your Opinion Until You Leave The Booth, So That Votes Will Be Registered)

QUESTION No. 20: PROJECT CONCERN

This is the busing of Hartford children to surrounding suburban community schools.

The Property Owners are concerned. Not with the 62 children now being bused to Manchester, as every thinking person knows that these 62 children are not going to jeopardize our ability to educate our own children, and in fact the Property Owners would not oppose the Project Concern Question if the question placed a limit on the number.

The Property Owners Association, after many hours of consideration is recommending that the question BE VOTED DOWN for the following reasons:

- 1. (a) The wording of the Question, "Should the Town of Manchester participate in Project Concern?" places no limit on the number of children that can be bused.
(b) This alone would not be so important if it were not for the statement of the Hartford Superintendent that 4,000 children should be bused to surrounding towns.
(c) And furthermore, the reluctance of every single proponent to answer the question — would you favor this question if the number were 500 instead of 62?
2. The prospect of unlimited busing and it is a real one—raises the question—If the number of bused children was increased substantially, would it jeopardize the educational program of our own children?
3. Hartford has not lived up to its obligation to educate its own children (40 million dollars has been approved to build new schools without any being built!) whereas Manchester has built many new schools and additions to existing schools during the last decade.
4. The Project, to be really effective within the next decade, would require thousands of children to be bused and educated in our schools. This is economically unsound! Therefore we feel that a yes vote would only be a cruel HOAX on the very people who are supposed to be benefitted by it.

Here Is Another Reason For Voting NO On Question No. 1:

The Manchester Property Owners Protective Association has ascertained that it is a WASTE OF $5,000 to remove the brick wall on Wells Street and regrade the area! Why? Because, we have a request from a contractor who WILL BUY THE WALL FROM THE TOWN.

Manchester Area Police Probe Three Breaks In Vernon

Vernon police are investigating three breaks in three stations, reported by the owners this morning.

At 5:30 this morning the owner of the A and M Shell Station, Windsor Ave., reported someone tampered with the door and took $100 in cash.

At 7 a.m. employees of the Rockville Science Station, Union St., reported the cash register had been taken, along with an undetermined amount of cash.

The third break was reported at 8 a.m. by the owners of Shee and Tech, Atlantic Station, Windsor Ave. where an unknown amount of cash was found missing.

Vernon police investigated a one-car accident on Reservoir Rd. yesterday when a car driven by Michael LeFrancois, 18, of 135 East Middle Turnpike, Manchester, went off the road and struck a tree.

LeFrancois was treated at Rockville General Hospital for a head injury and was later issued a warning for failure to drive proper lane.

Other police activity included: COVENTRY - Bernard M. Costello, 42, of Homestead Rd., Coventry, was charged with operating a motor vehicle while his license is under suspension.

At 12:30 p.m. a car was stopped in Manchester Circuit Court by Officer M. Gorman, 28, of Rt. 11, Coventry, was charged with operating under the influence of liquor and operating at night without headlights.

Other motor vehicle arrests made by Coventry police, over the weekend, included: Richard Neff, 21, Lynnwood Rd., Bolton, failure to obey a state traffic control device, court May 20; Thomas Marchesa, 21, R. 6, Columbia, speeding and no motorcycle license, court May 20; Michael M. Taylor, 24, of Cos Cob, failure to carry registration, court May 20, and Edward Orcutt, Wales Rd., Andover, breach of peace, court May 20.

COLUMBIA - Roger Marchan, 56, and Resnick Marchan both of 42 Reservoir Rd., Vernon, were treated at Windham Memorial Hospital following an accident Sunday in Columbia.

Police said Marchan had back injuries and Mrs. Marchan had injuries. Morris Gaidisler, 21, of Colchester, driver of the other car, was charged with failure to yield the right of way and driving on the wrong side of the road.

There May Be Too Little Time to Save the House

Lack of time appears to be the factor which may doom a proposal to save this gracious Victorian home—the historic Rogers House at 50 Prospect St.—from destruction.

The house, which is owned by local community college and is being sold to save it, is being sold to save it, is being sold to save it.

Richard M. Nixon is the only announced major candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Miller was asked if he thought that Rockefeller's entry and race would split the party. He said "no," and declared that he would like to see the Republican Party.

Richard M. Nixon, the only major Republican presidential candidate in the state's May 7 primary, has announced that he will campaign in the state Thursday and Friday.

Police said the car, a 1966 Mercury, had been taken from Mortuary Bros. on Center St. and the plates were stolen earlier in the week from a New Britain Oldsmobile dealership.

Free Agent Signs - BOZTOWN (AP)—Bob Tucker, a 280-pound tight end from Bozaburg (Pa.) State who led the nation's pass receivers in total yardage last fall, signed as a free agent Monday with the Boston Patriots of the American Football League.

France has carried out its first heart transplant operation there will be a future for that type of operation from now on in that country, he said.

Other budgets approved, an amount of $25,000 budget as payment for the Feder Rd. water line which services the Industrial Park; Closed out two accounts for water lines already paid for an extension of Rt. 83 and one on Kelley Rd.; $1 to keep the Charter Revision Commission budget open; under Public Welfare, $5,000 for general hospital, $1,000 for licensees, $2,000 for outdoor relief and $400 for other towns.

$14,800 Restored to Budget

After wading through two-thirds of the budget accounts, the Board of Representatives Friday restored $14,800 cut by Mayor John Grant.

The board will deliberate every night this week that a quorum can be reached. In the absence of Mayor John Grant, who is on vacation, Atty. Frank McCoy will act as mayor pro tem.

Other budgets, the Recreation and Fire Department, District 2, were reviewed Friday along with several small accounts.

Restored to the recreation budget, after being cut by Mayor Grant, was an amount of $7,500 designated for construction of a building at Legion Field.

The town recently signed a 10-year contract with the Legion for the rental of the field at $1 a year. The proposed building will contain rest rooms, picnic space and a concession stand.

Donna Berger, head of the recreation department, made a plea to have the amount restored to the budget.

Other budgets approved, an amount of $25,000 budget as payment for the Feder Rd. water line which services the Industrial Park; Closed out two accounts for water lines already paid for an extension of Rt. 83 and one on Kelley Rd.; $1 to keep the Charter Revision Commission budget open; under Public Welfare, $5,000 for general hospital, $1,000 for licensees, $2,000 for outdoor relief and $400 for other towns.

Active Noncandidate? Studying Rockefeller Becoming Big Sport

By WALTER R. MEARS Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP)—Analyzing New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and his political inactivity is becoming a leading indoor sport, Rockefeller is sometimes the umpire, some times a player—always reminding the fans it is his bill.

Is he an active noncandidate? An inactive candidate? Or a politician looking for an opening White House?

That, Rockefeller acknowledges, is where he would like to be. But he's waiting to be asked. "If the party would like me to be their candidate, I'm available," he said.

One month ago, he rejected a campaign for the Republican nomination and said it was clear "at the moment a considerable majority of the party's leaders want the candidacy of former Vice President Richard Nixon."

Legality of Joint Newspapers To Go Before High Court

By JEAN M. WHITE The Washington Post WASHINGTON, April 28 — The government plans to move against at least some of the 21 joint operating agreements between competing newspapers if the Supreme Court upholds the federal antitrust laws in Arizona, the Justice Department's antitrust chief said recently.

Opposition to the "Big Deal" also came from Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of The Federal Trade Commission.

Dixon said "newspaper publication may well be one of the least regulated industries in our nation" and no special antitrust exemption should be granted to "legitimate" existing joint operating arrangements.
