When, through failure to use such rocesses, violence erupts in the world, there should be law which has the clear authority and the routine police force to step in and maintain order, halt vioence, and enforce a law against war. Civilization is the growth of the rule

Of the two uses of law, the use of law as the instrument of progress and justice needs a constant priority. But, until human beings, individually and collectively, learn the use of law, it is also mandatory that the law be able to keep them from trying to settle their problems by acts of violence. Until human nature, in its individual and its collective functioning, becomes more perfect, law is the only safety there

To make it grow, in prestige and yower, as the route toward progress, as the restraint of the methods which must be classified as evil no matter how excusable their aims, is the kind of loyalty to law which must find continued growth inside all of us.

how is your rib roast

That depends upon where you buy it.

At A&P, we sell only short-cut, oven-ready Ribs of Beef.

We remove the excess Short Ribs and sell them separately at the lower Short Rib price. We never tuck them under and charge the Rib Roast price.

We remove the back-strap and feather bones for easier carving.

We remove the excess wasteful chine bone.

Is all this trimming important to you? Well, on an average four-rib roast we trim up to 11/2-lbs. of excess fat and bone.

Something else you should know.

At Rib Roast prices, that adds up!

We cut our Rib Roasts only from the first four ribs. We never charge extra for the first two ribs.

Next time you buy a Rib Roast, think about these things.

And then think, shouldn't A&P be your store?

Your Dental Health

Are We Approaching Dental Shangri-La? By WILLIAM LAWRENCE, DS

Two recent discoveries may bring a new era to dentistry real prevention of tooth decay. Dentists now practice prevention in the sense that they pre-vent premature loss of teeth by treating tooth and gum disease. But these discoveries are im-portant because they come closer to solving the basic problem —prevention of disease itself.

These two decay preventatives one for children and one for adults, have been reported by a research team of dental sci-entists at Indiana University. The children's preventative is a new fluoride solution called stannous hexafluorozirconate. It's significantly more effective than stannous fluoride (SnF2) now being used by dentists. And like SnF2 it's use is simple — it's applied directly to the Use of the new fluoride solu-tion has substantially reduced incidence of tooth decay. The claim is 75.8 per cent. This same study showed that another group of children receiving SnF2 had a reduction of only 54.5 per cent. In some cases, use of the new solution reduced decay as much as 95.5 per cent.

The adult preventative is a substance called sodium dihydrogen phosphate which added to regular breakfast cereal has effectively reduced dental decay. In a group of adults aged 17 to 58 receiving phosphate-enriched cereals, dental decay was reduced over 20 per cent. The cereals used were sugar The cereals used were sugarcoated corn flakes, sweetened puffed wheat, sugar-coated alphabet shaped out cereal, sweetened crisp rice and sugar-coated animal-shaped out cereal.

I shudder to think of anyone having to eat this sweetened horse food first thing every morning but if it prevents decay, it's worth it.

This may be the first time that fortification of adult diet has produced a reduction of human dental decay. If this work can be improved upon, including some other means of admission, we may indeed be approaching Dental Shangri-La.

Ural Sore Cancerous

The Los Angeles Times Washington Post News Service LOS ANGELES-Mouth can cers are insidious tumors which usually begin as painless sores that, unluckily, don't seem to be anything to worry about, a Boston surgeon and research investigator said Saturday.
Thus they are neglected, Dr. Blake Cady of the Leahy Clinic Foundation said in an interview.

He said the painless sores are especially dangerous for pipe and cigar smokers, who are used to having sores in their even though relatively painless. Dr. Cady said about 90 per cent of more than 600 cases of mouth pipe smokers, compared with the 15 per cent of the entire or pipes. Or. Cady said he thinks there is adequate proof that many mouth cancers are caused by the chemical products of burn-ing or chewing tobacco rather than by the smoke itself or the frequently blamed pressure of pipe or cigar on lip and tongue. -In India people who chew betel nuts unmixed with tobacco do not have a higher than average chance of developing mouth cancer. But people who do chew tobacco mixed with betel nuts have a high incidence of mouth cancer. —With certain African peoples there is a higher rate of cancer of the nose and pharynx than of the mouth and lung, probably because they spent a lot of time in tiny, smoke-filled huts, collecting the cancer-causing chemicals on the membranes of their noses and throats as they

The highest percentage of mouth cancer begin low on the inside of the cheeks on both sides of the tongue, probably because that is where saliva "puddles," Dr. Cady said. The moker's saliva, of course, is copious and is a solution of the chemical products of burned toacco, some of which have been proved to cause cancer.

Despite recent efforts to warn the public of the potential dangers of persistent mouth sores, a third of the 606 cases Drs. Cady and Catlin reviewed had already spread to lymph nodes in the neck or jaw when 10 per cent of mou cancers that had already spread had not been suspected to be cancer, even by the patients' dentists," Dr. Cady said. "Every dentist ought to be able to recognize mouth cancer," he said.

Even though there is neglect, the survival rate mouth cancer victims has improved from 35 per cent in 1946 to 64 per cent in 1967 among the 606 cases studied.

Dr. Cady was a speaker at the 21st annual meeting of the James Ewing Society, an organization of specialists in the diagnosis and treatment of proved from 35 per cent in 1946 diagnosis and treatment of cancer. The society's meeting at the Huntington Sheraton end-
