Schuetz Receives Citations For Bringing Cheer to Vets

During an epidemic of polio and the staff at the Leavenworth Hospital in Kansas in 1918, Paul Schuetz of 23 Summer St. led a 10-man squad of volunteers for six weeks to help the medical staff. His services to military men in hospitals is still being today. He is the goodwill ambassador of the Manchester Army and Navy Club.

Among his present duties is the trip Mr. and Mrs. Schuetz take once every three weeks to the Rocky Hill Veterans Home and Hospital. For five hours they bring cheer to about 150 of the 1,150 vets there.

"I have learned to know all these men by their names," Schuetz said. "Some of the vets have been there 15 years or more." Schuetz retired from Cheney Bros. 14 years ago after 51 years working there. Shortly after his retirement, the Army & Navy Club, which has been longed to since it began in 1918 appointed him their ambassador.

"He's done a great job," according to James J. Anderson, local club president. Anderson said the club recently honored Schuetz and his wife of 44 years with a special dinner night for them. He was also given plaques for "doing the most for the club" in 1965, 1966 and 1967.

Major Francis R. Miner, assistant commandant of the Rocky Hill Hospital, said, "The smiling countenance of both Mr. and Mrs. Schuetz have been of great therapeutic value to all the patients, and their visits are looked forward to with much pleasure by both the patients and the staff."

The hospital has given him a plaque in honor of the frequent visits over the past 12 years, he said.

Other hospitals the Schuetzes visit include the Newtonington Veterans Home and Manchester Memorial Hospital.

He spoke of some of the activity he and other workers are involved in at Rocky Hill.

"One day a week Mrs. Evans plays the organ here and the veterans all sing the old songs and push their wheel chairs and many have no family or friends. We see them all."

Water ebbed slowly after rising to six feet deep in 50 to 700 homes at Midland in West Texas by estimate of police Sgt. R. D. Lemon. There also was damage from a small tornado at Midland.

Official warnings of renewed storms went up before dawn, according to Corpus Christi and the Lower Texas Coast where two teen-agers drowned Thursday as flood waters gushed down a drainage ditch in a city park.

Up to 11 inches of rain swamped an area just north of Corpus Christi and four twisters in the vicinity inflicted limited damage.

Fresh flooding developed along the Trinity River and its tributary creeks below Dallas during the night as an estimated 10 inches of rain sent water climbing into perhaps three feet on homes at Corsicana. The same deluge caused six severe flooding further east at Malakoff and Athens.

As the waters rose from Corsicana to Athens, the Weather Bureau issued a special flood warning for five counties traversed by the Trinity River here and below Dallas.

At Midland, salesman Herbert D. Neighbors, 46, of Lombard, was driving a 1967 Ford when it was struck by a truck and derailed on a flooded draw near a railroad crossing. The driver was killed. The truck driver was injured.

Humphrey Finds New Slogan

RAWLINS, Wyo. (AP) - Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey in his speeches likes to link himself to such Democratic presidents as Roosevelt, Truman, Kennedy and Johnson, who also found a slogan.

Franklin D. Roosevelt had the New Deal, Harry S. Truman had the Fair Deal, John F. Kennedy used the New Frontier, and Lyndon Johnson has the Great Society.

Hubert H. Humphrey has the "New Democracy." In Denver, Colo., and in Atlantic City, N.J., before delegates of the United Auto Workers union, Humphrey trotted out a phrase: "New Democracy at the corner."

The current phrased both young people against a storm sweeping across the country to pull the bodies free. A plebe invoking three civil rights delegates to the Democratic national convention in August-Humphrey promised Thursday night "to bring a new America to a New Democracy."

In a speech prepared for delivery in Rawlins today, Humphrey declared, "You've all heard about the new economies. Well let me tell you we can have a New Democracy in our country if we plan for it now and work for it."

He also said he knows of no U.S. effort to free the men by paying ransom. Representatives of the opposing sides met again at Panmunjom Tuesday—their 16th session on the Pueblo. There was no outward evidence of progress resulting from the preliminary talk.

The North Koreans are calling on the United States to admit guilt and apologize for what they contended was criminal espionage within their territorial waters.

Maj. Gen. Chung Kook Pak speaks for North Korea at Panmunjom. The chief American delegate on the armistice commission at the time of the ship seizure, Rear Adm. John V. Smith, was succeeded at Panmunjom May 1 by Army Brig. Gen. Gilbert H. Woodward in what was termed a routine shift in assignments.

North Korea, meanwhile, continues to berate the United States in what U.S. officials regard as a Red effort to extract maximum propaganda mileage from the affair.

Flash Floods Hit Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) - Flash floods beset three areas of Texas today after turbulent weather caused five deaths, damage running into millions of dollars and thousands of dollars of delirium of a freight train and bridge washouts.

Heavy rains caused the derailment today of 25 cars and the engine of a northbound Cotton Belt freight train at Dauphin in East Texas. Nine inches of rain fell at Dauphin.

One of the railroad cars was filled with lumber and the other supplies. The engine caused an embankment to slide onto the track.

Several trucks and cars were stranded by high water in the Athens area of East Texas. Farm road bridges were waded out in the Athens area.

Two tornado funnels were sighted on Houston's northern outskirts but neither touched ground.

Water ebbed slowly after rising to six feet deep in 50 to 700 homes at Midland in West Texas by estimate of police Sgt. R. D. Lemon. There also was damage from a small tornado at Midland.

Move Seen To Release Pueblo Crew

WASHINGTON (AP) - A congressman who subcommittee deals in Asian matters says there is some indication North Korea is willing to release the crew of the 82 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., chairman of the House subcommittee on Asia and Pacific affairs, told a newsman today while he couldn't go into details, "there is some indication that they will be released."

"There is no doubt that we are coming nearer to a return of the men," he added.

The capture of the Pueblo Jan. 23 set off an international crisis which is being dealt with mainly at U.S.-North Korea talks at the Korean truce site, Panmunjom.

Department officials said Thursday the ship has been moved from Wonsan Harbor, North Korea, to a port near the truce site.

It there after setting it in what the United States claims were international waters.

The Reds were reported to have moved the vessel to a smaller port in a port about 50 miles away Wonsan.

The whereabouts of the American crew is being kept secret and the North Koreans have refused Red Cross efforts to contact the prisoners.

But Zablocki said he has been informed the Americans are in good health.

He also said he knows of no U.S. effort to free the men by paying ransom.

Two Trapped Miners Reach 13 Others

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) - Two men trapped four days in the dark, flooded passageway of a coal mine crawled a half-mile today to reach another 13 known to be alive.

The remaining 10 of the 25 men trapped when millions of gallons of water poured into the mine through a wall break Monday, are presumed dead. There has been no contact with them.

Mine foreman Frank Davis and miner Edward Bunk, isolated 1 1/2 miles from the mine entrance, groped through the murky waters and reached the other group at 10:30 a.m. The group of 13 was cut off by the flood waters one mile from the mine opening.

The director of rescue operations said it was hoped that "we'll have them out late this afternoon."

Washington will begin paying more federal income taxes shortly, if Congress enacts the 10 per cent surcharge package worked out by Senate-House conferees—and if President Johnson signs it.

The President has sought the tax increase in this way instead of basic change in rates to preserve its identity as a temporary tax and to make it easier to remove once the Vietnam war permits.

Q—How many Americans will pay the tax? A—The Treasury estimated about 43 million. About 17 million others in the two lowest income tax brackets—those who pay taxes at the 14 and 18 per cent rates—will pay nothing.

Q—How will I pay the tax? A—Beginning with the first paycheck after June 10, according to the present schedule, your paycheck will reflect a deduction covering the surcharge. For example, if $15 a week is now deducted from your paycheck for federal income taxes, you will pay an additional $1.50 for a total of $16.50.

Q—How long must I pay this extra tax? A—Until June 30, 1969, unless a bill is passed.

Envoy Set Monday Morning For Preliminary Peace Talks

PARIS (AP)—U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives agreed today to start preliminary peace negotiations in Hanoi at 10:30 a.m. Monday following a further meeting Saturday on arrangements.

The starting time was worked out in the session of first contact here between Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance, deputy of the U.S. delegation, and Col. Ha Van Lau, No. 2 man in the North Vietnamese group.

They spoke separately to newsmen after a meeting, which lasted nearly two hours.

The announcement indicated both sides were prepared to skip over possible procedural disputes which could deadlock the conference at the very outset.

The North Vietnamese were reported to have asked for the first contact today to be held at less than top level in order to arrange procedural details. U.S. officials expressed disappointment and said they had been prepared to go into all-scale preliminary talks this afternoon.

Officially a U.S. spokesman would say only that the delegation had requested this kind of beginning.

Saturday's second procedural session will begin at 10:30 a.m. (5:30 a.m. EDT). U.S. Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and the leader of the negotiating team from Hanoi, Xuan Thuy, stayed in the background because of the high level of the talks.

Some forecast the possibility of an extended deadlock over procedural problems.

Tolland Parents in Carter Dr. Area Petition for School Bus Stop

A delegation of four fathers from Carter Dr. presented the Board of Education with a petition seeking a school bus stop on the street at Wednesday night's meeting.

The petition, signed by all residents of the neighborhood including Carter and Glen View Drs., requested the routing of a school bus around Carter Dr. with one stop in the middle.

Spokesman Dick Roberts of Carter Dr. explained the children are presently out of sight of the homes when they walk approximately one-third of a mile to the bus stop. Several children from the neighborhood will be starting kindergarten and first grade in September.

It was also pointed out the bus presently makes four stops on Road Rd. One of these stops could be eliminated entirely by the rerouting and another could be changed to the requested stop at Carter Dr., the petitioners proposed.

The school board agreed to include the petition with the material for planning bus routes this summer and to seriously consider the request in the fall.

The board backed the decision of music director Henry Kreske to decline requests for the school band to participate in the Boys League and the VFW Parade.

Kreske cited a hearing schedule of activities during May and June to which the band is already committed and in need of rehearsal time to participate.

Do-It-Yourself Project

Supervisor of Schools Robert Beaton showed the school board an eight-piece set demonstrating the decision of the club, made co-operatively between Kenneth Krivaneck's science class and the woodturning class of Robert Logunbal for next to nothing in cost.

The eight-piece model cost $78.50 for a set purchased through regular sources, he explained.

The board approved a request to present a trophy to the student in the eighth grade graduating class of 1968, who maintains the highest average in science. The trophy would be presented in memory of Paul Slocum.

The schoolboard was notified of the formation of the Tolland Association of Educational Secretaries during Wednesday night's meeting. Mrs. Janice Waligala, a secretary in good high school, was elected president; Mrs. Emily Stotzner, secretary; Mrs. Karen Matthews, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Florence Peacock, recording secretary; and Mrs. Lucille Smith, treasurer.

Boys League Notes

A baseball clinic will be held tomorrow morning at 10 at the Hicks Memorial School ball field for members of the six team Boys League.

The clinic will feature a Carol Proctor, Joan Clark, Paul demonstration by the Blue Ruth team. Clinics for the farm teams will be conducted at a later date by Chuck Ramondo, Jasper Wynter, and Daniel Deveau, 322 Oak St. Brian.

Coventry Chatfield CGS Head

Oliver Chatfield has been named principal of the Coventry Grammar School, effective July 1. The board of education, Chatfield presently serves as principal of the new yet-unopened Capt. Nathan Hale School, and will give up those duties when he moves to CGS. Just last week, Chatfield was appointed acting principal at CGS starting May 12 when Clarence Edmondson leaves to take an assistant superintendent position in New Hampshire. The permanent appointment of Chatfield was acted on last night by the board.

Chatfield came to Coventry from New Hampshire last summer as principal of the Capt. Nathan Hale School and was in charge of setting up the school for its opening this fall. He also acted part-time at the administrative duties there.

Superintendent of Schools Laurence O'Connor was authorized last night by the board to advertise for the post of principal at the Capt. Nathan Hale School.

Teacher-board negotiations on salary and conditions of employment are still under way, with the last session held on Tuesday night. Negotiations in meeting were discussed in executive session last night by the Board of Education. Negotiations are also held in closed session.

Several appointments to an ad hoc committee were made last night, also. From the community at large, four residents were named: Mrs. Donald C. Smith, Donnell and Kingsley, Jesse A. Brainard and Zolton Feuerman, and for the Board of Education, Robert Merrill, 40 Hickory St., Messier.

Locker Library

The Tolland Board of Education has tentatively approved the use of the Hicks Memorial School lockers for the school library. Bookings will be placed along the wall overlooking the entrance to the lockers.

The alternative location with one stop in the middle. Spokesman Dick Roberts of Carter Dr. explained the children are presently out of sight of the homes when they walk approximately one-third of a mile to the bus stop. Several children from the neighborhood will be starting kindergarten and first grade in September.

It was also pointed out the bus presently makes four stops on Road Rd. One of these stops could be eliminated entirely by the rerouting and another could be changed to the requested stop at Carter Dr., the petitioners proposed.

The school board agreed to include the petition with the material for planning bus routes this summer and to seriously consider the request in the fall.

The board backed the decision of music director Henry Kreske to decline requests for the school band to participate in the Boys League and the VFW Parade.

Kreske cited a hearing schedule of activities during May and June to which the band is already committed and in need of rehearsal time to participate.

Do-It-Yourself Project

Supervisor of Schools Robert Beaton showed the school board an eight-piece set demonstrating the decision of the club, made co-operatively between Kenneth Krivaneck's science class and the woodturning class of Robert Logunbal for next to nothing in cost.

The eight-piece model cost $78.50 for a set purchased through regular sources, he explained.

The board approved a request to present a trophy to the student in the eighth grade graduating class of 1968, who maintains the highest average in science. The trophy would be presented in memory of Paul Slocum.

The schoolboard was notified of the formation of the Tolland Association of Educational Secretaries during Wednesday night's meeting. Mrs. Janice Waligala, a secretary in good high school, was elected president; Mrs. Emily Stotzner, secretary; Mrs. Karen Matthews, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Florence Peacock, recording secretary; and Mrs. Lucille Smith, treasurer.

The Claw And The Purr

If Americans hoped of peace in Vietnam first themselves disturbed by the display of Vietcong violence in and around Saigon, there are rationalizations that can be indulged in.

It is an old habit for the rulers of Hanoi to try to combine aggressiveness in the field with toughness at the conference table. And, as a matter of fact, it is part of the code for all prospective negotiators to improve their own "bargaining positions" by military pressure, if they can exert it.

In this particular situation, Vietnam in the spring of the year 1968, there is little doubt that the success of the enemy's Tet Offensive launched in February had something to do with producing that reassessment of American aims and capabilities which resulted in an opening toward the negotiations now about to begin in Paris.

What has been happening this week has been the Vietcong resort to these small but bold military moves. As much as Hanoi gets ready to go to the conference table, it is once again, demonstrating its capacity to intimidate and harass Saigon itself.

This present phase may be followed by renewed American sweeps, designed to improve the American position at the bargaining table by demonstrating that Saigon is clear and secure once again.

It is tragic and regrettable that the conference process should be accompanied by such back and forth flaming of military muscles and taking of lives, many of them, as usual in Vietnam, innocent lives.

But it is apparently going to have to be faced that both sides in Vietnam are not going to be able to resist the temptation for military advantages which seem like increased bargaining power at the true table.

Perhaps no statement in the long diplomatic history of the Vietnam issue has had more intensive study than the Hanoi statement of May 3, agreeing to the Paris meeting. For what the statement seemed to say was that Hanoi was not only agreeing to meet, but that it was agreeing that the meeting, when it did take place, would be a meeting possibly several stages beyond anything indicated by previous discussions of "talks about talks."

The Hanoi language of May 3 seemed to suggest that the Paris meeting need not restrict itself to the original single item of talking about more cessation of bombing in order to get more talks, but can take up, in "formal" talks of its own, "other related matters of interest to both sides." This is a more businesslike prospect than anybody expected from Hanoi; it opens the possibility that the talks in Paris, when they begin, can get toward real business much more speedily than had been considered likely.

It has to be a grim kind of hope—that the savagery around Saigon may be the cause for a batch of reassessments at Paris—but it is better than any hope we have had before, and if there proves to be any real balance in it, there can come the day when the negotiators at Paris may be able to call off the bloody demonstrations of progress in the field.

Still Himself, Risk Or Credit

Inevitably, irresistibly, like a liquid of a certain specific gravity finding its own level in spite of its being a season for chameleons, the lifelong politician of Richard Nixon is beginning to reassert himself in the present campaign, "new Nixon" or not.

That perennial part of the Republican front runner which cannot resist the squalid, sneering kind of effort to discredit an opposition is still, when it appears, the worst handicap he carries with him in his question for public favor and confidence.

But that part of Mr. Nixon which represents his own undragging and unalterable natural position on issues is also part of the appeal he does have to those Republicans who are most enthusiastic for him. And it is, as well, a mark of some creditable and competitive honesty on his part that he does not prove himself able, in this new campaign, to pretend he has changed any of the really deep spots in his makeup.

There was a glimpse of the old Nixon who has always been a liability to himself the other night, when he was found toying savagely with the theme that any administration that could let a fourth-rate nation like North Korea set an American ship and get away with it was an administration that needed to be replaced. It would be true, we think, that Mr. Nixon would have favored every circumstance of American policy which would involve him in Vietnam to our spying along the North Korean coast—which helped tie the hands in the Pueblo incident.

If that was the slant of the old proscenium Nixon, not too responsible in the premises for his indictments, the formal document issued by Nixon's office on the issue of crime was a legitimate and reasoned exposition of views Mr. Nixon and many conservative and traditional-minded students of modern society have every right to take and represent. There are many who do feel that the present aim of lawlessness in this country can most properly be dealt with by a rise, not a drop, in the severity and toughness with which the law is enforced on the streets and by the courts.

This is where his friends and admirers would expect to find Mr. Nixon. This is the direction he would try to lean in, if he were President. And, to his credit, even though his document also reaches out to embrace many of the modern palliatives, including more psychiatric, and more emphasis on rehabilitation, it never dispels the basic impression that the first and number one thing he believes in with regard to crime is being tough on criminals. The "new Nixon," to his credit, is not really pretending to be anything he is not.

A New-Old Unity?

We are beginning to doubt that Columbia University—or any other American institution of higher learning—is ever going to be quite the same after the spring of 1968.

So far as the question of who is really going to operate our universities in the future, an internal battle is being fought. The answer this spring has been all one way. On campus after campus, actual control of policy has been handed over to whomever the small but bold military moves happened to occupy offices in the name of some sacred sociological cause. So it seems fairly well established, by this extensive 1968 precedent, that the future operation of our great universities and colleges is going to be in the hands not of their presidents, not of their boards of trustees, and not of their faculties, but in the hands of self-designated groups of students.

The routine possibility this condition offers is that of an extensive experimentation period in American high education, during which we see whether a few supposedly inexperienced, immature students can be a state employer, forking over 2 per cent of his paycheck to the high state party treasury.

Moreover, this ancient system of politics in Indiana has been given some modern flourish—including widespread use of computers—by innovative Democratic state Chairman Gordon St. Angelo.

It came, then, as a considerable shock to Hoosiers when the poll after poll showed the same results: Branigin was not being beaten from a front-running position far behind Kennedy. To the amazement of the party regulars, the machine was as good as useless in a party primary.

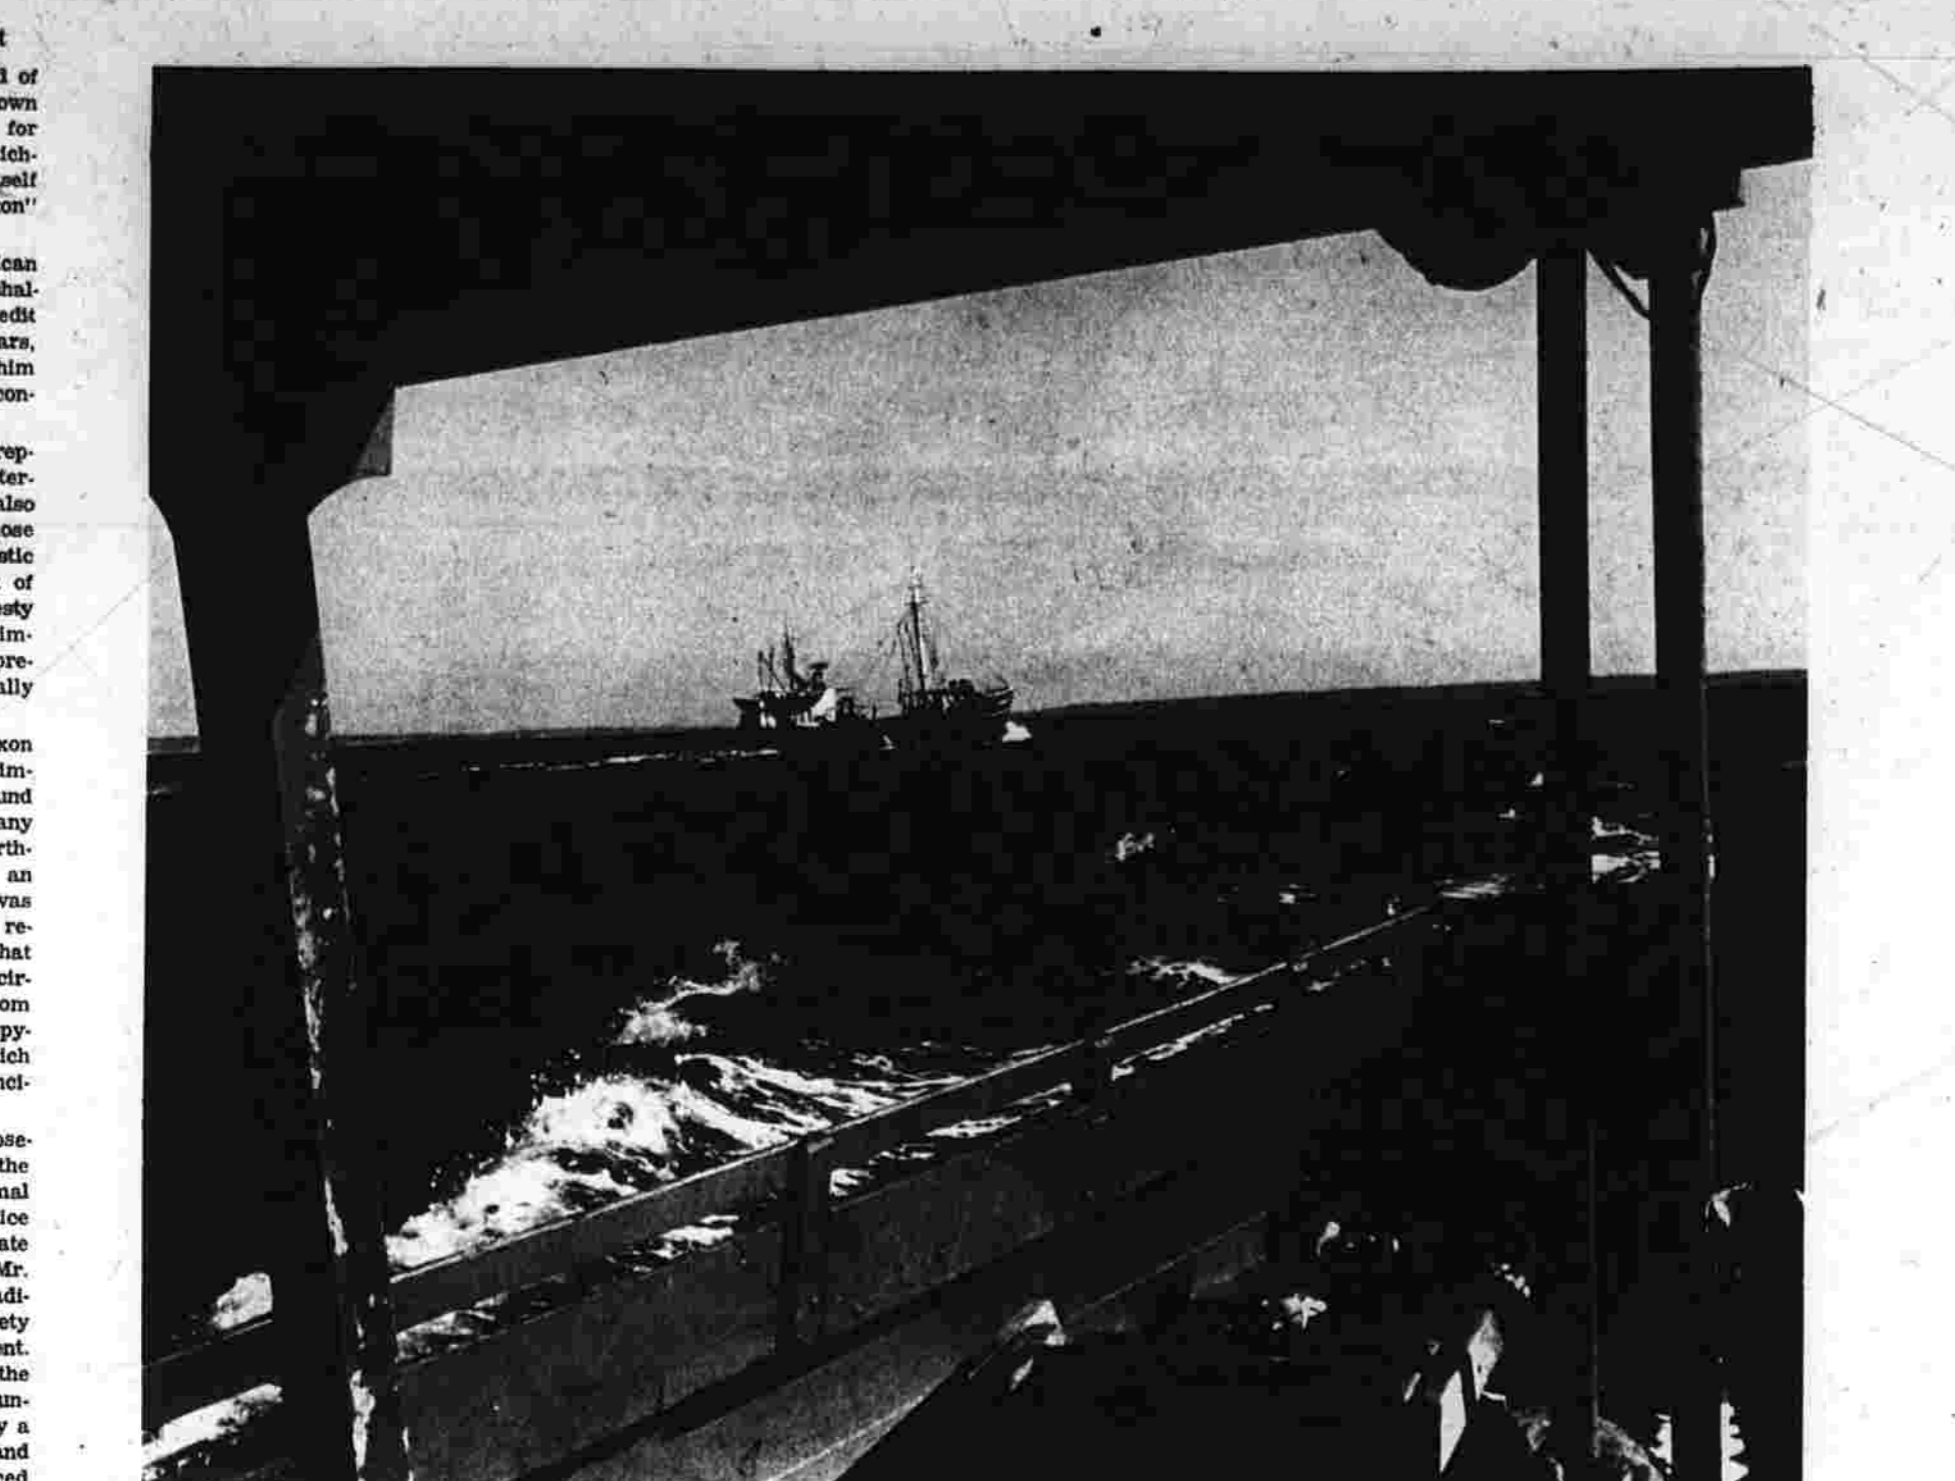

What had happened? The regulars have their answer, which exonerates the machine and puts the blame on the Governor. Branigin, a highly successful corporation lawyer who began his first public service

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans Jr. Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—However much or little it really means toward picking the Democratic nominee for President in 1968, the Indiana primary Tuesday has been a graphic demonstration of just how ineffective is the traditional political machine in the 1960s.

The regular Democratic organization, led by Gov. Roger Branigin and fed by patronage, simply failed against Sen. Robert Kennedy and Eugene McCarthy. To probe the reasons why is to go to the heart of American politics today.

It should be remembered that when Kennedy first entered the Indiana primary on March 28, a Branigin victory was taken for granted. Nor was this just an impression created by Branigin's propaganda. That Branigin would win comfortably was assumed by Indiana politicians and reporters.

Their assumption was based almost wholly on Branigin's regular organization, a relic of times past that persists in Indiana because the patronage system persists. The Democratic party worker there is apt to be a state employee, forking over 2 per cent of his paycheck to the high state party treasury.

Tollard Cook Scores Finance Board For $32,000 School Cut

Board of Education Chairman David Cook has criticized the Board of Finance decision to cut the Board of Education budget by $32,000.

"In this day of deficit spending, it is only natural to cut back anyone who balances their budget," Cook told the Herald.

The school board budget as presented approved last year was "a comfortable budget," according to the chairman, "and we will complete the year with a $60,000 balance."

The balance includes a $29,000 deficit from Rockville High School on tuition overcharges.

He pointed to the budget drawn up by the outgoing Board of Selectmen, which later proved too little.

"This caused the new selectmen to finish the year with a deficit of $25,000, or so I have read," Cook stated.

"We thought we were turning back over two mills to the town, only to find that other agencies had used it up," Cook said.

The school board members expressed disappointment over the cut in a budget which they felt to be pretty tight. They felt generally, however, the cut should have been made in the budget requests from other town agencies.

The Danny Thomas March to benefit St. Jude's Research Hospital for children will be held this weekend.

Marchers will meet at the Town Hall tomorrow at 9 a.m. prior to canvassing the town. They will receive instructions and kits at the Town Hall. Transportation can be arranged, if needed, and all marchers will wear name tags.

Teenagers who collect a designated amount of money will be guests of Danny Thomas at a rock 'n' roll show to be held at the Town Hall tomorrow night, May 28. The show will feature the Rock Topps, the Rockers, and Yesterday's Children, plus two surprise appearances.

Additional information may be obtained by calling Mrs. Donald Barrows, 7601 Rd. or by coming to the Town Hall tomorrow morning. Marchers should be at least 15 years old.

Congregational Church Notes Reservations for the Tolland Association annual meeting may be obtained from the Rev. Don Miller. The meeting topic "Suburban Responsibility to the Urban Poor" will be explored at the meeting to be held May 19 in the Andover Congregational Church beginning at 8 p.m.

Speakers for the meeting include John Rogers and Harris of the Governor's Committee on Civil Rights; Harold Peterson of the C.D. and Rev. Richard Battles, assistant to the late Dr. Martin Luther King and Hartford pastor.

New Women's Fellowship Officers are Mrs. Charles Warren, president; Mrs. Howard Homman, treasurer.

Volunteers for the Church Wide Visitation program, May 19 are being sought by the Board of Deacons. Those willing to accept are requested to contact Mrs. Thomas Moore, Browns Bridge Rd.

Donations for the church auction to be held May 28 in the church parking lot may be picked up at the church.

Wants Alice Madden Back To the Editor: This letter in reference to I. O. H. and what it has meant to me is a wonderful idea, just added to my village charm, if long overdue.

My association and knowledge of I. O. H. has been wholly as the parent of an instructor. Three of my four children have participated in this well founded and supervised project, and I expect my fourth and last child will feel the same.

Because I feel I have been present in my home since 1960, I have a great pride in being the father of teenagers who are willing to give a helping hand to the less fortunate. This has always been a teenage volunteer project and they well deserve the high acclaim for such an outstanding job done by them.

So let's leave it that way. Once the adults stick their noses in and start to make a big project out of this program, the end of a great idea will be near.

Officers elected include Walter Bielecki, vice president; Stanley Book, secretary; John Bonner, treasurer, and Ray Dupres, marshal. The officers will be formally installed at the next meeting, planned for the latter part of May.

How Would a Surcharge Affect Income Taxes?

Congress extends it beyond that point.

Q—Isn't the tax retroactive?

A—Yes, but it won't affect the amount withheld from your paycheck. The surcharge on individual taxes will go into effect as of April 1. You won't be paying it until June under the tentative schedule, thus missing more than two months of deductions from your paycheck.

Q—Will I be required to pay this later?

A—Yes, but not until you file your income tax return for 1968 by April 15 of next year. When you figure out how much tax you owe the government for 1968 at that time, you will be required to assess the surcharge from the previous April 1.

This will be included in the instructions the Internal Revenue Service will send to you next January at income tax-filing time. As a result of the surcharge you may get a smaller refund next year or be required to pay more by April 15 than you ordinarily would.

Q—Won't the tax for 1968 be actually less than 10 per cent?

A—Yes, for 1968 as a whole the tax will fall down to a 7 1/2 per cent surcharge since it will be assessed for only nine months of the year. But it will be collected during that time at a 10 per cent rate.

During 1968, the surcharge would fall down to a 5 per cent rate over the entire year since it would be collected for only six months. But it would be collected at a 10 per cent rate for those six months.

Q—How about an example?

A—Let's suppose you're married with two children and earn $10,000 a year. For 1968, you would pay $1,114 in federal income taxes if you took the standard deduction allowed on your return.

With the surcharge effective April 1 you would pay $1,118 in taxes this year, an increase of $84. During 1969, your tax bill would be $1,170, or $56 above what it would have been without a surcharge.

Q—Who is exempt?

A—Single persons who pay $106 or less in taxes will pay nothing additional. The same applies to persons filing joint returns who now pay $206 in taxes or less and persons filing as head of a household who pay $220 or less in taxes.

Q—Will corporations also pay a surcharge?

A—Yes, and for corporations the tax will be assessed from last Jan. 1. Corporations also face a surcharge in their tax payments to put them on a more current basis.

Q—Are there other parts of the tax package?

A—The measure also includes an extension of the 10 per cent tax on telephone service and the 10 per cent manufacturers excise tax on automobiles.

Q—How much will the government collect over-all from the surcharge?

A—Through June 30, 1968, the government expects to collect $7.8 billion in additional taxes from individuals and $1.8 billion from corporations—$11.6 billion in all. The speedup in corporate tax collections will mean an additional $90 million to the Treasury while almost $3 billion will come from extension of the excise taxes.

This raises the total to $15.5 billion, including almost $1.5 billion in the current fiscal year and $14.04 billion in the next fiscal year.

Q—Will this reduce the budget deficit to a reasonable level?

A—The deficit in the current fiscal year will be lower but not as low as the administration wanted. The over-all tax package—$1.8 billion collections begin in early June as now assumed by the Treasury—will increase revenues by about $1.5 billion by June 30, the end of the current fiscal year.

This is only half what the administration wanted. What isn't collected in the current year, however, will be carried over into the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

With increases in defense spending already announced, the deficit in the current fiscal year is now expected to run about $2.8 billion. In the next fiscal year, if spending is cut by $5 billion as voted by the Senate-House negotiators, the deficit could drop to as low as $3.5 billion.

The speedup in corporate tax collections will mean an additional $90 million to the Treasury while almost $3 billion will come from extension of the excise taxes.

This raises the total to $15.5 billion, including almost $1.5 billion in the current fiscal year and $14.04 billion in the next fiscal year.

Q—Will this reduce the budget deficit to a reasonable level?
A—The deficit in the current fiscal year will be lower but not as low as the administration wanted. The over-all tax package—$1.8 billion collections begin in early June as now assumed by the Treasury—will increase revenues by about $1.5 billion by June 30, the end of the current fiscal year.

This is only half what the administration wanted. What isn't collected in the current year, however, will be carried over into the next fiscal year beginning July 1.

With increases in defense spending already announced, the deficit in the current fiscal year is now expected to run about $2.8 billion. In the next fiscal year, if spending is cut by $5 billion as voted by the Senate-House negotiators, the deficit could drop to as low as $3.5 billion.

Q—How about an example?
A—Let's suppose you're married with two children and earn $10,000 a year. For 1968, you would pay $1,114 in federal income taxes if you took the standard deduction allowed on your return. With the surcharge effective April 1 you would pay $1,118 in taxes this year, an increase of $84. During 1969, your tax bill would be $1,170, or $56 above what it would have been without a surcharge.

Q—Who is exempt?
A—Single persons who pay $106 or less in taxes will pay nothing additional. The same applies to persons filing joint returns who now pay $206 in taxes or less and persons filing as head of a household who pay $220 or less in taxes.

Q—Will corporations also pay a surcharge?
A—Yes, and for corporations the tax will be assessed from last Jan. 1. Corporations also face a surcharge in their tax payments to put them on a more current basis.

Q—Are there other parts of the tax package?
A—The measure also includes an extension of the 10 per cent tax on telephone service and the 10 per cent manufacturers excise tax on automobiles.

Q—How much will the government collect over-all from the surcharge?
A—Through June 30, 1968, the government expects to collect $7.8 billion in additional taxes from individuals and $1.8 billion from corporations—$11.6 billion in all. The speedup in corporate tax collections will mean an additional $90 million to the Treasury while almost $3 billion will come from extension of the excise taxes.

This raises the total to $15.5 billion, including almost $1.5 billion in the current fiscal year and $14.04 billion in the next fiscal year.

Shifting Holidays Backed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved a bill that would give the nation four long weekends a year by moving three national holidays to Monday and creating a new one—Columbus Day—also to be observed on Monday.

Rejecting the charge that it was upending the nation's historic past, the House voted 218 to 163 to accept the existing dates for Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day.

Under the bill, which faces a questionable future in the Senate, Washington's Birthday would fall on the third Monday in October and Veterans Day on the last Monday in May, Columbus Day on the second Monday in October and Veteran's Day on the fourth Monday in October.

The changes would take effect Jan. 1, 1971, in order to give the states time to enact conforming legislation and calendar-makers time to adjust.

N.Y. Times Editor Hits ABA Press Guidelines

WASHINGTON (AP) — The managing editor of The New York Times says lawyers trying to curb pretrial publicity because of concern about defendants' rights "are using a sledgehammer to kill a flea."

Clifton Daniel criticized the American Bar Association's press-trial guidelines on crime news, accusing proponents of heavy-handedness which "may wreck freedom of the press" and "shatter the very keystone of our democracy."

He spoke before a seminar sponsored by the American Enterprise Institute for Public Policy Research.

The guidelines would specify limits on the information court and police officials could provide news media about a pending criminal case. They also

Humphrey Finds New Slogan

"If we do we can have a America free of stunts, free of demagoguery, free of bigotry, free of illiteracy, free of fear and hatred, an America where individual people can make real choices about their lives. That's the America I see."

However Humphrey cautioned that unless towns like Rawlins and others like it grow, and unless "we have the courage to build new towns...I see no solution to what we have come to call the urban crisis."

Humphrey, talking to the Colorado Democrats in a sweltering hotel ballroom packed almost shoulder to shoulder, urged them to back President Johnson as his team of negotiators begins talks in Paris with the North Vietnamese in an effort to end the war.

Such support for the president's negotiating team, Humphrey said, was a "citizenship responsibility."

As well as visiting in Denver and Rawlins, the vice president will speak tonight in Omaha and will visit in his home town, Huron, S. D., on Saturday before returning to Washington.

Only the District of Columbia and federal employees would be affected by the bill, but the states are expected to go along if the new lineup becomes law. Greater business efficiency and a lessening of absenteeism were the major reasons given by supporters for passage of the bill, which is strongly supported by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Opponents countered by declaring it violative of the Constitution and was an act of national crisis.

The strongest fight by opponents was directed at keeping George Washington's birthday on Feb. 22. Only Christmas Day is more sacred to the nation, said Rep. Dan Kuykendall, R-Ky.

A motion to keep the Washington's birthday observance from being shifted permanently to Monday was defeated by a roll call vote of 183 to 141. Similar attempts to keep the other holidays on their present dates were defeated on nonrecord votes.

The addition of Columbus Day would increase the number of national holidays to nine, the others being New Year's Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Rep. Joe D. Waggoner, D-La., opposing a day honoring Columbus, said "when he left, he didn't know where he was going, when he got here he didn't know where he was and when he got home he didn't know where he had been."

But it was the addition of Columbus Day that carried the fight for supporters of the bill.

Italian-American and Catholic groups have long fought for a national holiday honoring the explorer and his inclusion in the bill assured wide support.

Armbuster and Alexander both have shore duty now—Armbuster near San Francisco and Alexander in Boston.

Testimony, not given under oath due to the unofficial nature of the hearing, turned up allegations of brutality aboard the Vance before and after Armbuster's command.

Chief Petty Officer William Young of Cincinnati described the Vance as having had the worst disciplinary record in the fleet before Armbuster's arrival.

Young said Armbuster should have received a commendation instead of being relieved.

He added: "He made us feel like men of war with no time for boredom."

Seaman John Clerich Jr., 22, of Mission, Tex., described conditions aboard the Vance after Armbuster left as "unbelievable." He said ranking crew members burned others with lighted cigarettes, fought among themselves, and beat up younger men. Such goings on, he said, had not occurred under Armbuster's command.

"Not all the crew liked Mr. Armbuster," Clerich remarked, "but the majority of the more responsible crew members thought he was doing a great job."

Resnick said he found it difficult to understand how Armbuster's firing could have been upheld when the rear admiral who reviewed his case recommended he be restored to command.

Residents Take Citizens Oath

Five area residents became naturalized citizens of the United States this morning during ceremonies presided over by Judge T. Ernest Clark of the Second U.S. District Court in Hartford.

They are: Mrs. Teresa Skyruck of 222 Sand Hill Rd., Ellington; Mrs. Christa R. Christensen of 445 Abbe Rd., East Wapping; Mrs. Ann Y. Belleville of 4 Gem Dr., Ellington; Mrs. Blanche M. Crockett of 82 Wells St., Manchester; and Ernest P. Somogy of 10 Emma Lane, Vernon.

Armbuster, 42, was relieved of command in March 1966 after some of his junior officers complained about him. He subsequently appeared at a private hearing at Babe Bay in the Philippines and was found guilty of 3 of 41 charges against him.

Armbuster has claimed he could not call witnesses at that session and Resnick supports his contention that an official court of inquiry should be held.

Sitting in with Resnick at Thursday's hearing were Reps. Don H. Clausen, R-Calif., and Phillip Burton, D-Calif. Burton joined Resnick in calling for a congressional probe.

Resnick said he also wants Congress to study the background of a change in duty for an officer who had come to Armbuster's defense. He is Capt. Richard G. Alexander, 45, who, after speaking out for Armbuster at the Pentagon, declined comment.

THE HIGH SCHOOL WORLD

VOL. XXX, No. 30 FRIDAY, MAY 10 Compiled by Students of Manchester High School

Four Begin Campaigns

This coming Wednesday, May 15, the students of MHS will be voting for a new President of our Student Council.

By Friday, the political scene had changed again. Now, only four candidates were running. The candidates and their campaign managers are: Susan Moyer (Chuck Carson), Lee Poterion (Fred Butler), Janice Bobham (Ben Grzyb), and Jim Nacheke (Ben Grzyb).

On Monday, April 29, there was only one prospective candidate, Susan Moyer. Tuesday, April 30, the political scene was no different. But on Wednesday, May 1, by the end of the school day, six candidates were acknowledged.

It seems that she has taken some time off from watching Sunday afternoon Boston Celtic games. She is also interested in that she can do some sports stories for the High School World.

She is still very busy doing something in the car. She's talking to a little boy with dark eyes and curly braided hair. That must be Nancy's student from the North End of Hartford.

Her writing talent manifests itself in other areas besides newspaper work. Two years ago, Nancy won Honorable Mention in the Scholastic Writing Awards and received the David Hartwell Memorial Prize in last year's Fine Arts magazine.

She is planning to do an article on Motorcycles in the next issue of the magazine. She is also planning to do an article on the Purple Juggernaut.

Ten AFS Students Enjoy Weekend

Lively debates, exhausting Saturday turned out to be a sports days, and above all, perfect day for being outside. Many friendships prevailed this weekend.

Student Vote Is 2-1 For Project Concern

We believe that a large segment of the voters of Manchester committed a terrible act of inhumanity against the poor of Hartford and particularly against the sixty-two children that are being bused here.

It is our belief that the vote on the referendum on Project Concern, we who have grown up in Manchester, are ashamed of it now. There was absolutely no reason why 3,646 people voted to end Project Concern.

Marion Lorne Dies: TV's Aunt Clara

NEW YORK (AP) — Marion Lorne, who won television prominence for her comical roles and who had a long career on the American and British stages and in movies, died of a heart attack in her New York apartment Thursday at the age of 62.

She recently had been playing the spall-headed Aunt Clara in the American Broadcasting Co.'s "Bewitched" series on television.

Miss Lorne lived in London for many years, playing roles for comedy to tragedy. She was married to a playwright and producer. The couple returned to New York in 1942.

Harold Gray Dies; Created Comic Strip

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — Harold Gray, the creator of Little Orphan Annie, aged 87, died yesterday.

Gray drew the cartoon—say, three weeks in advance—until entering the hospital nine days before his death. His physician, Dr. Harry A. Collins, said Gray suffered from lymphoma, a glandular form of cancer.

He is survived by his widow, Winifred. They married in 1929. His first wife, Doris, died in 1925.

Although little change is anticipated, "a new man could eventually bring changes, undiscernable at first," said Henry Raduta, syndicate manager.

We believe that a large segment of the voters of Manchester committed a terrible act of inhumanity against the poor of Hartford and particularly against the sixty-two children that are being bused here.

It is our belief that the vote on the referendum on Project Concern, we who have grown up in Manchester, are ashamed of it now. There was absolutely no reason why 3,646 people voted to end Project Concern.

Frustrated Red Sox Lead for New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1968 American League season looks more and more like "one of those years" for the Boston Red Sox. Little is going right for the members of last year's "Impossible Dream." All but one starter collected at least one hit, but the Red Sox managed just one run Thursday night as the Senators snapped a six-game losing streak with a 5-1 decision at Washington.

The Red Sox, struggling to break out of a prolonged early season slump, were a frustrated group as they headed for New York and a four-game series opening tonight at Yankee Stadium.

Ken Harrelson, Boston's 30-year-old catcher, then led off the inning with a single. The Red Sox bled five runs in the eighth as Joe Foy and a walk-off homer by Jim Rice.

In the eighth, the Red Sox put runners on first and second with one out as Ken Harrelson walked. Washington struck to end the inning with a double play.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Chicago White Sox are back on the road to the pennant race, using a new way—for them—to travel. The Sox are winning with home runs.

Redesigned Hole Brings Protests

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Controversy raged today over the redesigned 15th hole at the plush Lakewood Country Club golf course where the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open moved into its second day.

The tee was moved up 60 yards on the hole, making it 470 yards and a par 4. The hole is a most hazardous one to drive because a ball hit to the right or even slightly to the left could land in the lakes on either side of the narrow fairway.

The official records show that there were more birdies than pars being made, necessitating a redesign of the hole, said Wels.
