The roads around the schools are technically for responsibility of the Board of Education, although they bear names authorized by the town. These are service type roads around and between the various schools. They bear some degree of town traffic and are carried on official maps as town streets. The board is concerned that the sole responsibility for them lies with the Board of Education.

Board Chairman Harry Anderson suggested that a meeting between representatives of the various town boards and commissions involved might help. Miss Putnam

The grateful praise this community speaks to Catherine Putnam as she this year concludes her service in the History Department of Manchester High School goes to an individual who has represented the best traditions (New England we say unashamedly) in the context of educational modernity, Miss Putnam has had the capacity, founded in her own unswerving dedication to the sound scholarship seem adventurous, to reach with what was vital from the past and from her own generation to what was vital in each oncoming generation. She ended her career, fittingly, by teaching college level courses with college

She herself has been like a piece of New England at its best, an inner warmth under a controlled exterior, a generous thoughtfulness masked with modesty, a person who, in the minds of her students, was one they found it slow to know, but remembered long.

Pleasant days to her, as all her days in more than three decades have been pleasant and beneficial for others at Manchester High School.

> Decision Deferred The decision of the Wallingford Board of Education to defer participation i Project Concern is unfortunate. The project called for contracting with New Haven to admit 25 children to available classroom space in Wallingford's public elementary schools, at no cost would be transported by bus under proper supervision.

'Pile board's decision to table participal

tion must be viewed in the light of the bitter opposition to the project which de-veloped at an unruly public hearing. Although the reason given for the tabling was to permit members to learn mor about it, there can be no doubt that the real reason was the storm of protes which developed. Clearly, the board de cided that discretion, in the form of concession, was the better part of vastantial benefits of Project Concern far outweigh its disadvantages. Moreover, it was obvious from the tone and tenor of the criticisms raised at the public hearing that most of the objection was rooted in ignorance or misunderstand ing of what was involved in the project efits of the proposal at this time. It is sufficient to say that where it ha operated, the children, their parents heir classmates, and the home com munity have been satisfied with the results. This has been true in Hartford; it is more than likely that it will prove true in New Haven when Operation Con cern starts in the fall. It is always a matter of regret see an issue of principle settled upon the basis of expediency, which is the way the disposition of Project Concern appears to have been disposed of in Vallingford. It is good, however, to know that the project has not been rejected altogether, as it has by some other comnunities.
