Girl Catches Arm in Drain Of Swim Pool

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Patricia O'Brien just wanted to cool off at a municipal pool, but the 12-year-old girl's dip turned into a weekend of extreme pain when her arm was caught in a drain pipe.

Patricia, of nearby Watervliet, went to that city's Schuyler Park Pool Saturday afternoon. At about 4:30, her left arm became lodged up to her shoulder in a drainage pipe that protruded several inches above the concrete base of the shallow pool.

Her father, Albert, told reporters that Patricia slipped and that her arm went into the four-inch, steel pipe as she fell. The pool was being drained at the time, causing suction.

Police and firemen tried at first to extricate her arm by using grease and oil. When that failed, they broke the concrete with air hammers and separated the pipe section from the base after five hours.

Patricia, under sedation for pain and the piece of pipe still around her swollen arm, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital here.

A second ordeal lasted for nine hours Sunday as members of Troy's rescue squad cut away the pipe with hacksaws. The delicate job was completed at about 8:30 p.m. with files and portable pneumatic drills.

Moscow-NYC Flights Begin Regular Runs

NEW YORK (AP) — At 4:30 p.m. EDT today, an Ilyushin 62 jet passenger plane is scheduled to land at Kennedy International Airport, marking the end of the first direct flight from Moscow to New York and the beginning of regular air service between the two world capitals.

After more than seven years of negotiations, interrupted by such Cold War flareups as the building of the Berlin Wall, the United States and the Soviet Union reached agreement earlier this year on a weekly plane service.

Under the agreement, the government-owned Soviet Airline, Aeroflot—which calls itself the "world's biggest and busiest airline"—will fly from Moscow to New York, with a brief stopover in Montreal, on Mondays and will return on Wednesdays.

Pan American World Airways—which calls itself the "world's most experienced airline"—will schedule a flight from New York Monday evening and, flying via Copenhagen, will arrive in Moscow on Tuesday, Moscow time, returning the same day.

The four-engine IL 62, which will have a seating capacity of 20 first and 102 economy class passengers, will have a crew of 11 for its inaugural flight. All speak English. The five stewaresses will wear dark blue uniforms.

Pan Am will use Boeing 707-300B jetliners for its flights to Moscow. Each has a capacity of 16 first and 127

Humphrey and Nixon Win More Delegates

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon have boosted their delegate leads for the Democratic and Republican presidential nominations despite weekend setbacks in Colorado and Utah.

Humphrey gained 21 new first-ballot delegate votes for 68% of the 1,512 needed for the Democratic nomination, according to an Associated Press survey of firm votes.

Nixon was reported to have gained 2 but his total for firm votes remained at 501 of the 667 votes needed for the GOP nomination.

The AP tabulation of prospective first-ballot votes counts only delegates committed, pledged or publicly stating voting intentions.

Republican presidential aspirant Nelson A. Rockefeller, meanwhile, announced he'll conduct his own poll to indicate who the strongest GOP presidential candidate would be. And an apparent move to elevate Democratic Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota as a presidential contender appeared to die a quiet death.

Humphrey's setback came at the Colorado Democratic Convention where a slate of 12 at-large delegates favoring him was shut out by a coalition backing Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The shutout came after McCarthy addressed the convention.

But Humphrey won 17 new votes at a Washington state Democratic convention and 4 in Colorado. McCarthy backers

Viet Cong Reported Leaving Saigon Area

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. sources said today that some enemy units believed poised for an attack on the capital have pulled back and "there is no immediate major threat to Saigon."

"The enemy has backed off," said one highly placed U.S. official. "They don't have the capability to attack except in a very small way. There isn't any forward movement at all."

"Some elements of the major units have physically pulled back. All of them didn't pull back. It is not a general withdrawal. But if you are going to mount a major attack you don't pull back anyway."

Although he said there was no immediate threat, the source qualified this by noting that the situation could change rapidly.

The new U.S. assessment contradicted South Vietnamese intelligence reports of a continuing enemy buildup along the Cambodian border and in Hau Nghia Province west of Saigon, where the North Vietnamese 9th Division has its headquarters.

Earlier today it was reported that the North Vietnamese 32nd and 33rd regiments had reached the Cambodian border after evading U.S. B52 bombers on a 250-mile march from the central highlands. The main thrust of an enemy attack on the capital is expected to come from the west.

Only hours before the report of the new American assessment, the South Vietnamese government again ordered its security forces in Saigon on 100 per cent alert for possible attacks and increased terrorist activities.

There have been intelligence reports that elements of at least four enemy divisions are within striking distance of Saigon and that 1,000 Viet Cong commandos are already inside the city.

Only one terrorist incident was reported in the capital—the assassination of a Viet Cong defector by two women who escaped.

U.S. Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford, in South Vietnam on his first visit since succeeding Robert S. McNamara, got a briefing from top U.S. commanders and presumably was informed of the fresh assessment.

Clifford, who arrived Sunday, said the United States would speed up deliveries of M16 rifles to the South Vietnamese army "even at the expense of our own forces." He did not elaborate, but Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, the chief U.S. information officer, explained that he meant South Vietnamese units would get the rifles before American logistical troops. U.S. combat forces already are equipped with the rapid-firing rifles.

Clifford met with Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker in the morning and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. military commander in South Vietnam, in the afternoon.

The general lull in the ground war continued. South Vietnamese military spokesmen said government forces sweeping the outskirts of Saigon clashed with an enemy force eight miles southwest of the city killing one Viet Cong and seizing several weapons.

Clifford was scheduled to spend two days in Saigon and two days in the provinces. A meeting with President Thieu and Vice President Nguyen Cao

Drill Master In New Mold, Aids Recruits

FT. KNOX, Ky. (AP) — This gold repository and armor training center is the home post of an Army drill instructor who is 18 years old.

The Pentagon says Sgt. Gary Rodriguez is the youngest DI in the Army. He may not seem the image of the hefty, leather-lunged DI of legend, but when he strides up to his company of "boots" in starched fatigues and jaunty campaign hat, they snap to and pay attention to their ramrod straight sergeant.

The thin, hawk-faced Rodriguez is a native of San Francisco and has been in the Army since he was 17 years and two weeks old. Seventeen is the minimum age for beginning an Army tour.

In spite of his youth, however, the dark haired Rodriguez likes his job and knows how to shepherd a group of bewildered civilians from their first ego-shattering haircut through graduation from Army basic training.

"You have to treat each man individually," he says. "Some, you have to pound it into their heads. Others, you have to be real nice to them."

"Getting their minds on the Army is not easy," Rodriguez adds. "They're daydreaming for the first few days—thinking of their girl friends, or mothers, or somebody back home. I just try to be firm but fair."

Rodriguez rises in time to

Must Defend at Gates Faulty Intelligence Hurts Saigon Defense

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist command's ability to mass elements of four divisions around Saigon underlines once again the weakness of allied tactical intelligence and the enduring strength of guerrilla warfare tactics.

Despite massive firepower, helicopter mobility, numerical superiority and computers, the allied command has been forced toward the medieval strategy of pulling back to defend the city's gates.

The allies have the equivalent of some nine divisions in the Saigon region and along the major infiltration routes leading to the capital. But they have not been able to find and destroy a significant enemy formation, either on the way to Saigon or in their pre-attack positions.

Some 15 enemy battalions are reported within 15 miles of Saigon. One highly placed Vietnamese source says some 1,000 enemy troops have infiltrated the city itself despite the ring of defending troops and hundreds of police checkpoints.

The establishment of a vastly beefed up capital military district command is a tacit admission that the Viet Cong cannot be stopped before they reach Saigon. During the two previous offensives this year, some 4,000 troops managed to penetrate the city in February and about 1,200 in May and June. The allied command was caught flatfooted in February but had ample warning of the May offensive.

Mountains of intelligence on the expected "third wave" attack is in allied hands, but the

Fights to Hold Tears Brazilian Girl Miss Universe

Miss Universe in the Footlights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Martha Vasconcellos, a bright-eyed schoolteacher from Brazil, walks into a new world today as Miss Universe.

With a wave of her scepter, a nod of her sparkling crown and a losing effort to fight back happy tears, Miss Vasconcellos ascended her throne Saturday night. She was chosen the loveliest of girls from 45 countries.

Until next July when she returns to Miami Beach to hand her crown to Miss Universe 1969, Miss Vasconcellos will spend her time trotting about the globe, earning the $10,000 she is promised in a personal appearance contract.

In addition, the crown carries an award of $10,000, a $7,500 chinchilla jacket and stacks of lesser prizes. When making personal appearances, she is fully chaperoned and travels first class.

Photographers — 116 those who posed her in bed with her trophy and then trooped to the beach with her Sunday—will become an integral part of her life for the next year.

But the 12 months of merry-go-round activity have hardly started and already Miss Vasconcellos admits, despite the admiring horde: "I am lonely. I am without my family for the first time."

She tried repeatedly to call couldn't get through. She finally settled for a telegram.

Miss Universe likes both her hair and her skirts long. The 5-foot-8, 130-pound beauty says she likes miniskirts but on other girls. "On me I think they're ugly because I am tall," she said.

Miss Vasconcellos has definite ideas about her future. After she hands over her crown next year, she'll go home to her childhood sweetheart, Reynaldo Lou-Retro, an engineer. "We'll marry as soon as I can," she said.

Friday she will fly home to see her fiancée and her family in Salvador where her father is a police official.

And there will be a special conversation with a younger brother who told her: "You will never win."

Miss Curacao, Anne Marie Braafheid, was the first runner-up and would become the first Negro to wear the world beauty crown should Miss Vasconcellos be unable to meet her commitments. The other three finalists were Miss Finland, Leena Brunst; Miss Venezuela, Peggy Kopp; and Miss USA, Dorothy Anstett.

Contractor Killed In Ditch Cave-In

By BILL MOQUIN

A 41-year-old East Hartford man was crushed to death at about 10:15 this morning when a sewer ditch caved in, burying him up to his neck.

The victim, Edward Hatem, of 228 Main St., owner of the Glastonbury Sewer Co., was working in the eight-foot-deep ditch with an employe, Edward Pelletier, of 6 Pinehill Rd., Hazardville, when the cave-in occurred.

Hatem noticed the first signs of the falling dirt and shouted a warning to Pelletier who won a frantic scramble for his life. The heavy clay bank just caught his leg at the knee and he was able to pull free.

James Bebery, also of 6 Pinehill Rd. in Hazardville, who was operating the backhoe at the opposite end of the ditch, saw the accident and together with Pelletier, rushed to the aid of Hatem, who appeared to be unconscious and buried up to his neck in a horizontal position.

They uncovered him, and administered both mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration and heart massage with no response, while another workman ran for help.

Two police units and a Manchester Ambulance Service team arrived within minutes and an attempt to revive Hatem with a mechanical resuscitator also failed.

By this time 20 or 25 persons had gathered at the scene and an ominous silence fell over the area.

One police patrolman gave his opinion immediately. "He was

Hike Begins Today In Weekly Tax Bite

WASHINGTON (AP) — Because of this retroactive feature, the tax withheld from paychecks won't cover all the money individuals will owe the government by the end of December.

The extra 3 1/2 months must be paid when Federal income tax returns are filed by next April 15.

This will mean smaller and fewer refunds next year and larger payments of additional tax.

For calendar 1968 as a whole, the surcharge will represent an over-all increase in taxes of 7.5 per cent since it will be paid for only nine months of the year.

The surcharge is scheduled to expire next June 30 but at least one administration official, Undersecretary of Commerce Howard J. Samuels, already has urged its extension to help pay the nation's social legislation costs.

That decision will be up to the administration slated in November, and to the new Congress.

The tax is intended to help meet the cost of the Vietnam War—now running more than $28 billion a year; to keep President Johnson's Great Society programs rolling; to stem inflation, and to reduce a budget deficit.

The scene at Plains Field in Coventry for first annual town picnic. Special guests were the 106 British visitors.

Coventry Throws a Picnic for 1,000

One of the main events of the picnic was the soccer game, which had predicted to be no contest. But it turned into two games, with each side winning one game, and each score 1-0. The teams, of course, were made up of British and American boys, and it was a fairly strenuous undertaking, considering the heat.

There was a cricket exhibit and apparently not very many of the players lined up all afternoon to try this little puzzle, though a successful run. It was also a disappointment to a few people who thought "Walk the Wire" might be a do-it-yourself high wire act set up in the air.

The picnic was a success. The Recreation Committee, specifically to coincide with the visit of the 106 people from Coventry, England. Most of the visitors are students at the Calcutta Castle School; the rest are faculty and family of the boys, for the most part.

The Recreation Committee said it is delighted with the success of the event, and Mrs. Donald Bishop, secretary of the committee, has thanked everyone for their cooperation. In particular, she said, "We want to thank Roy Martindale for the use of his public address system." Martindale had offered the equipment for the picnic, and then spent the better part of the day running it as well.

Everything from the tug-of-war rope to the candy given out as prizes was donated by townspeople and local merchants, and Mrs. Bishop said "We could never have done it without the really great generosity of so many people."

The next function during the remaining week and a half of the British visit is the 4-8 Talent Show Friday night at the High School. All talent at the show will be British.

At the sack races, an agile forehead-branded group hope on.

Amplifiers up. The Darkest Hour rock group plays for the under 30—and some tolerant adults.

Plenickers find some quiet moments by trees.

Mrs. Donald Smith, local chairman of Coventry-to-Coventry panel.

B. H. Vickery, housemaster of Calcutta Castle School.

Harold Tilley, headmaster of the British boys' school.

Eric Williams, the former lord mayor of Coventry, England.

Britons brought cricket equipment and a match was inevitable.

sources" from everywhere, including Moscow and London, speak of such an offensive against Saigon, one wonders how any such offensive could really hope to score any points for the negotiators at Paris.

One possibility seems to be that both sides are cooperating in setting up and waging an imaginary paper offensive, a summer substitute for real action.

This, if true, is at least a civilized step in the direction of de-escalation, and to be welcomed with the hope that the whole operation can be carried out in news columns around the world rather than in the streets of Saigon.

"Speak For Yourself John" Surely one of the colorful, teasing moments of the 1968 presidential campaign occurred out at Madison the other day when Mayor John Lindsay of New York City appeared to do some campaigning for Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York State.

A record crowd of some 7,000 students from the University of Wisconsin heard the New York Mayor enthusiastically up to the point when he said the one thing he had supposedly visited Wisconsin to say, which was: "I believe that in 1968 Nelson Rockefeller is best able to provide the kind of leadership that America needs."

Then his audience hissed and booed. Actually, the Madison audience had been coached a little beforehand. The Madison Capital-Times that day had appeared with a long front page editorial which had a big three column headline which read as follows: "Speak For Yourself John."

Every now and then we Americans are fortunate enough to witness how we have something truly genuine in our midst. We came to feel that way about John F. Kennedy. Circles of feeling that way about John Lindsay are beginning to spread out, making it seem a pity that 1968 is too soon and 1972 so far away.

Taking The Challenge Away One salutes the spirit of true surging which, at first greeting, reboiled against the invasion and introduction of the motorized motorcycle. But even as one salutes it, one knows such romantic defiance of progress is doomed to disappear.

When the motorized becomes a motorboat, it is easy for anybody to ride, for any purpose. And, incidentally, it does not mean that the waves begin a much easier process.

"The motor," says the salesman for it, "is not as old as the motor of the British on one hand and Russia and the United States on the other, it is that Britain has come toward the capacity to face reality, whereas Russia, for instance, is just beginning to play the game of fleet in the Mediterranean, while the United States, even in the period of Britain's abandonment of Singapore, is busy building its own gigantic Singapore in Vietnam and Thailand.

But not even Britain has really abandoned all of the situations of the imperial past. The British announcement concerning Singapore has, for instance, been accompanied by an ornate white paper in which it is set forth that the retrenchment in the Far East will enable Britain to assume a much stronger and more valuable posture in the NATO power politics design in Europe. In fact, NATO is just as dead, just as useless, just as outmoded, and just as much a waste of resource and energy as would have been any determination to hold Singapore forever. Singapore is not just one of the imperial fortresses; Singapore is everywhere.

High-handed Tree Removal "Woodman, spare that tree!" has been a line often quoted since it was written by a poet George Pope Morris in 1820. In the more than a century intervening it is a plea which has been now frequently echoed and in a swelling crescendo of urgency. Destruction of the redwoods in California may be a most striking example, but other and as assorted species much closer to home are marked for the axe, or the chain saw. Appeals that these be spared are heard but not always heeded.

In the spring such an alarm was raised by the Massachusetts Audubon Society. A threat to roadside trees of similar implication was brought to notice. The alert underscored a prime example of the left hand of government not curing what the right may be doing in the way of beautifying America. What roared the conservation group to protest in Massachusetts was a national Bureau of Public Works booklet "Highway Design and Operational Practices Related to Highway Safety." Official policy stated therein, in effect directed that millions of trees along America's highways must be cut down. Specified were trees four inches in diameter or larger located within a distance of 50 feet from the road, at the edge and in the median strip. Affected would be limited access roads, all federal-aid roads, roads with speeds of 50 miles per hour or greater.

It is the Volkswagen who have been spreading the threat of their impending new attack on the city of Saigon, as part of their war nerves at Paris and against Saigon itself?

Or has it been the American military internationalist and imperial apparatus which, finding itself confronted with a dwindling amount of real military news in the field, has been employing its talents in the construction of a enemy threat which, if it never materializes, can then be said to have been frustrated by our disclosure of its immaturity and our measures against its progress?

To try to view the situation of Saigon realistically, there seem to be two other well established facts about it. First, the enemy can, with infiltration and occasional shelling, create guerrilla action and tension there, almost at will.

Second, the enemy has never come close to the kind of action or around Saigon which could result in actual enemy control of the city.

CHICAGO — The trigger setting off the demolition of a bold project to tame Chicago's Negro youth gangs was pulled by the Mayor Richard J. Daley, as most politicians here suppose, but by politically-minded police officers.

In fact, two months ago Daley was grudgingly and slowly conceding to the big wave, the pushing out of anti-poverty funds to attempt reforming the Blackstone Rangers and other Negro gangs.

What stopped him was highly effective intervention by police that cleverly set in motion the investigation against the gang project by the Senate Investigating Subcommittee of Sen. John B. McClellan of Arkansas.

This hearing includes those that Daley, though uneasy the most powerful of today's big-city mayors, is an absolute monarch. But the fact that he was undercut here by supposedly non-political police ought to be disquieting to liberals usually fondly berating Daley for dictatorial tendencies.

Actually, Daley had waged a long, hard fight against a Federal grant by George Morris of Economic Opportunity (OEO) to The Woodlawn Organization community action group on Chicago's Southside to deal with Negro gangs. By refusing to occur in several nominations for a director of the project, the mayor managed to block Federal funds early this year.

Although Daley was less than enchanted with the whole idea of cooing gangs, what really bothered him was his threat to city hall's total control over the political process. He never forgave OEO director Sargent Shriver for approving a direct grant for the gangs project, by which the city would be among all poverty projects in Chicago was outside the mayor's domain.

Nevertheless, the essence of Daley's political genius must be that he did not, most particularly, his ability to withdraw from seemingly intractable positions. Thus, when the Blackstone Rangers performed admirably in keeping their Woodlawn area quiet last April following Martin Luther King's assassination, Negro neighborhoods in the city were burned and looted by rioters, Daley was impressed.

The mayor was at that point ready to acquiesce in, though not approve of, the gangs project. The Federal refunding of TWO seemed imminent. It was then the elite Gang Intelligence Unit (GIU)—commonly called the Gang Unit (GU)—moved in to action.

Semi-autonomous within the police department and the subjugation of some fear by fellow officers, the Gang Unit has been waging a holy war—without great success—against the Blackstone Rangers. It was not about to accept the experimental project, did not change the facts of life. The Blackstone Rangers and the other gangs will remain, as strong and as criminally-inclined as ever, with even less hope for the slightest redemption.

Simultaneously, city hall is increasing appropriations by $1 million for the Youth Welfare Commission, displaced by Negro youths as a neighborhood CIA supplying police with spy data about the gangs. Thus does life on the Southside return to the pattern favored by police and politicians before the poverty fighters in Washington started meddling.

Why does the Board of Education lack the courage and will to stand up to the College crowd in demanding an immediate settlement of last year's issue? Here is a Board which has the right to dictate to the electorate. Yet, all of their vaunted power seems to melt away when they run up against monstrous State Dept. of Education bureaucrats and home-towners!

If the Board of Education really worth its salt, it should settle the issue for the coming year before August 15, 1968 or order the College to get out of our High School. Failure to do so will learn the Board the title of "Paper Tiger."

Sincerely yours, Frank U. Lipson

That "College Crowd" To the Editor,

Here is some timely information about the long delayed and as yet unresolved issue of our High School to the Community College.

The issue should have been completed when college opened in September 1967. This was a matter which the Manchester Board of Education allowed to drag on and on. This, of course, was just what the State's Community College Board needed to prolong their stall, delay and evade routine.

After several months of apparent inaction or ineffectuality of the School Board to get anywhere with the College officials, the mass was dumped into the Board of Directors' lap.

May 1968 solidified around and despite the honest persevering efforts of Town Council, John Shea, the College officials showed little interest and an utter lack of cooperation in consummating a lease for the High School.

College graduation, marking the end of the school year took place in the High School. Would you believe there is still no lease in sight for a whole year? Use of our High School from September 1967 to June 30, 1968? What a mess!

Gantner, Selectmen Divide Over CDAP

Stating he was "thoroughly disgusted with all that's occurred," Robert H. Gantner, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission, stormed out of the selectmen's meeting last week.

The selectmen had returned to consider the Community Development Action Plan (CDAP). Gantner felt it was not up to the selectmen to turn down the CDAP program, but should be left to the discretion of residents.

Gantner inquired how Selectmen had progressed in their investigation of the application for a CDAP program for Coventry. The town completed the program in 1965. This year, Gantner used a physical plan of development for the town including roads, zoning, and other factors.

Ships Move

In Seaway After Strike

OTTAWA (AP) — Ships moved through the St. Lawrence Seaway again today after a 24-day strike that lifted nearly 200 ships and cost an estimated $25 million in wages, seaway tolls and other losses.

Traffic resumed Sunday night a few hours after some 1,500 striking members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers voted 73 per cent in favor of an agreement providing a 12 per cent wage increase spread over three years and another 4 per cent in fringe benefits.

The industry will cost the seaway authority $3 million for the three years covered by the agreement.

Ninety-six ships, most of them ocean freighters, were awaiting entry to the inland waterway at Montreal when the strikers ratified the agreement hammered out in two days of bargaining which ended late Saturday.

Another 70 ocean ships were trapped in the St. Lawrence Seaway. More than 100 lake vessels beyond Montreal were stalled.

The agreement virtually wipes out the 20 per cent wage gap between the wages paid Canadian workers on the seaway and those paid by the United States.

The new agreement runs until Dec. 31, 1970, assuring the seaway of a strike-free shipping season if the U.S. workers don't strike.

Despite Strange Happenstances Topsy-Turvy Campaign Producing Similarities

By BILL HENRY
The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON — This topsy-turvy, unpredictable political campaign already characterized by an unexpected presidential withdrawal, an assassination and assorted strange happenstances—has, instead of producing some sort of bizarre results, actually come to win a completely orthodox pairing of leading campaigners in both parties.

Each party has, as its favorite candidate, a completely standard party candidate — a small boy who wears his hair on the political ladder and is as hungry for the White House as the other candidate. The Democratic candidate is Lyndon B. Johnson, and the Republican candidate is Richard M. Nixon, each with vice presidential experience, and in the Honorable Alger tradition.

Each party also has, as its main other contender, "a new politician," neoparty, anti-establishment man who claims to have large nonparty support but to be the victim of wicked smoke-filled room machinations designed to prevent the voice of the people from being heard.

Both are regarded as "just" by party workers, not just

Columbia Zoners Rap Beckish

The Zoning and Planning Commission has issued a statement saying, "It can no longer be denied that the zoning charges made against it by Peter Beckish, owner of the Landmark Drug Store.

Beckish recently charged the commission with being "discriminatory" and added he was forced to close the pharmacy department because he did not feel he could adhere to rules and regulations set forth by a vote of the town and enforced by the commission.

The statement released by Edward Peterson, chairman of the commission, reads: "A number of public statements regarding the Zoning Commission have been made by Peter Beckish, owner of the Landmark, that are so loaded with misinformation and false charges that the Commission feels it can no longer be silent regarding these statements.

"We therefore, have turned the complete file on Beckish over to the Town Council, Robert Haggerty, for his recommendations as to what action should be taken by the Commission.

At this particular moment, the commission is reviewing the charges and the prospects for the "outs" are not so encouraging while the establishment candidates Humphrey and Nixon are hungry eager for victory.

Beckish has a long record of public statements regarding the zoning commission, but to be the victim of wicked smoke-filled room machinations designed to prevent the voice of the people from being heard.

David Rutherford, 26, of Hazardville was treated for facial cuts yesterday at Rockville General Hospital where he was taken after a one-car accident.

Rutherford was charged with failure to drive in established lane, Police said he was traveling slowly and could not explain why his car suddenly swerved and abandoned a telephone pole. No court date was set.

South Windsor Last Town Council Meeting To Follow Hearing Tonight

The public hearing to be held tonight on the construction of a library on the site of the old school building will be followed by a regular meeting of the Town Council. The public hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the school library.

The town council session for the summer, the last meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school library. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the school library.

Among the items on the agenda for tonight's meeting is the appointment of a member to the Public Building Commission.

This position has been vacant since late May. Then Councilman Carlo Prestileo sent his letter of resignation to Mayor Edward E. Pitts. The appointment to the PBC will be a term which will expire in November 1971.

The council will expect to authorize Town Manager Terry to submit an application for an open space grant with the State of Connecticut. The grant will be used for the purchase of land for the Natural Resources. Work on this application has been carried out by the Town Conservation Commission, chaired by Mrs. David Evans.

Also under consideration by the council will be approval of the placing of certain referendum questions before the voters as part of the regular November elections.

Another authorization for Town Manager Sprentel to submit an application for an open space grant to the state is also to be considered. The land to be acquired under this application will not be just for open space but also for recreational use.

The application will be submitted to the State Department of Agriculture and Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

Councilman Umberto DeLorenzo will lead the discussion of proposed changes to Ordinance 2-601 which sets up and organizes the public libraries in town. The council will then also select the final report of the Charter Revision Commission.

Other items on tonight's agenda include a discussion of a proposed conservation easement for open space land adjacent to the South Windsor Town Hall. Also heard will be a report of the activities of the Conservation Commission.

Mrs. Mary Lanza will begin her sixth consecutive one-year term as tax collector. Howard B. Keeney, treasurer, and Joseph A. Volz, clerk-treasurer, also will be re-elected.

The board will appoint Granville Lingard, fire chief, Mrs. Paul Cervini, ratemarker, and Calvin C. Taggart, public works superintendent.

The appointment of fire marshal will result in a choice between Lingard and Francis Limerick, who retired recently from the fire chief's job in 1965.

Also to be appointed are chairman of three standing committees of the department, public works and insurance.

In other business, the board will discuss the timing of a new sewage main in Oakland St., to serve three new apartment complexes in the northern part of town.

Preliminary plans for new sewage lines in other sections of the district will also be viewed.

Report Unconfirmed Of Pueblo Progress
ROME (AP) — A Soviet news agency quoted a diplomatic source as saying negotiations between the United States and North Korea are believed making headway toward release of the 22 crewmen of the U.S. intelligence ship Pueblo.

The Pueblo was seized Jan. 23 by the North Koreans, who claimed the ship was spying in the North Korean waters.

North Korean spokesmen said the U.S. delegation to the talks at Panmunjom should be freed from the North Koreans argued that the Pueblo should be freed.

The report was not confirmed by either U.S. or North Korean spokesmen.

Rickover Says Navy Failing To Turn Out Good Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says the U.S. Navy Academy is not producing the mature, confident and well-adjusted officers the modern Navy needs.

Rickover also says the Defense Department is "too much influenced by an industry viewpoint" in its dealings with the academy, "far from being too low as claimed," may be too high.

The deputy commander of the Navy's nuclear propulsion program issued the broadside at a closed House appropriations subcommittee hearing in May.

Rickover's criticism of the Naval Academy is not new. In recent years he has accused the school of spending too much time on frills and not enough on training.

In similar testimony to a House appropriations subcommittee in 1966, he said the academy's greatest weakness, "the one that hampers its students' learning," is its "overemphasis on the rote learning of facts."

As for defense contracts, he said in the testimony released today that contractors are able to "make large profits in costs so that the government never really pays for the product."

Rickover said he had been told by one member of the Class of 1967 that the academy is "not a school, it is a business."

The academy, he said, believes in "rote learning of facts, not in the development of the student's mind."

The Directory Assistance operator will still give you the number you want, but she'll also assist you in using your directory correctly. Dialing 411 or 1-411 might seem faster than the phone book, but it really isn't. In the time it takes you to get the number from the Directory Assistance operator, you could already have looked it up and started dialing. We know, we've tried it. Why don't you try it? You'll save yourself a little time.

Condominium Application Before Planners Tonight

Public hearings and present indications point to the presence of a large crowd tonight at the Buckley School when the Town Planning Commission conducts a public hearing on the second plan revision of the proposed Green Manor condominium for the north side of Lyndon Hill, near Vernon St.

The commission has already denied applications filed on the large project in November of last year and in February of this year, and a court appeal on the denial is pending.

More than 500 citizens packed into Buckley School, the site of tonight's hearing, last October to hear the original Green Manor plan that called for 302 dwelling units, 90 one-bedroom, 122 two-bedroom, 122 three-bedroom and 30 four-bedroom homes, arranged in a town house. At that time, the commission also was expected to be offered for prices ranging from $15,000-$22,000.

Orchestra Seeks String Players

The organizing committee of the newly formed Connecticut String Orchestra invites any and all string players to join with them in the fall for rehearsals weekly in preparation for two concerts in the coming season. The members of this orchestra are:

1. The project was not in keeping with the town's comprehensive plan which calls for low density living in that area.

2. That it would endanger the public health, safety and welfare by creating traffic problems, overcrowding units and having inadequate fire protection.

3. This type of project is not in keeping with existing zoning laws in the area or with the town's overall development and growth.

The Green Manor Co. filed a protest against the commission's ruling last November on the project.

The commission has already denied applications filed on the large project in November of last year and in February of this year, and a court appeal on the denial is pending.
