Communist Truce Prevails Following Bratislava Talks

PRAGUE (AP) — A truce prevailed in the Soviet bloc today with Czechoslovakia's liberal Communist leaders and the Soviet press each assuring their people all was well in the wake of the Bratislava conference.

Observers in Prague foresaw more strains between the Czechoslovak leadership and such defenders of the Communist status quo as Walter Ulbricht of East Germany and Wladyslaw Gomułka of Poland. But the future looked brighter for party chief Alexander Dubcek and his associates than it had in many weeks.

Planes Crash In Midair, Three Dead

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — A jet-prop airplane, with the wreckage of a light plane and the bodies of its three young passengers embedded in its side, landed safely Sunday before most of the 10 passengers aboard knew what happened.

Capt. Ted Baum, 43, Skokie, Ill., brought the twin-engine plane in with one engine dead and his copilot badly injured in the cockpit.

"I thought that something was wrong, but not a collision," said Mrs. Nancy Steffens, 44, of Two Rivers. "I was more nervous after I got on the ground and realized it had been a collision."

"We didn't know what hit us. I think only the stewardess knew," said Wilma Ross, 37, of Saginaw, Mich., "and she just told us to stay seated with our seat belts on. The pilot came down with what seemed like a normal landing."

Officials said the single-engine Cessna 150 rammed North Central Airlines Flight 261, a Convair 440, over southern Wisconsin. The light plane hit just behind the copilot's seat, also damaging the propeller on the plane's right engine.

The copilot, first officer John Mazur, 30, of Wheaton, Ill., suffered multiple fractures of his right leg and head injuries. He was reported in serious condition in a Milwaukee hospital. He was the only person on the airliner injured.

The victim's bodies were removed after the plane landed. They were identified as Rick L. Stenberg, 19, of Elk Grove Village, Ill., the pilot; Virginia Johnson, 18, Mt. Prospect, Ill., and her brother, Richard, 12.

"That pilot did a fantastic landing job," a federal official said. "Otherwise there was no comment as a team of about 35 National Transportation Safety Board investigators led by board examiner Thomas Saunders arrived from Washington."

Dubcek said it was acknowledged in Bratislava that "mutual relations of Socialist countries must be based on real internationalism, which harmoniously combines the principles of equality, sovereignty, national independence and territorial inviolability."

He said this "fully complies with the regeneration process started in January" when Dubcek and his associates ousted President Antonin Novotny and others of the party old guard.

Dubcek also spoke of the possibility of further democratization in Czechoslovakia and re-emphasized that "we are determined to continue advancing the post-January road." At another point he added: "There are no justified fears for our sovereignty."

By avoiding any outright claim of victory, Dubcek appeared to be trying once more to save the Russians' face. But there was much speculation as to what made the Russians change within a week from threat to hugs.

Dubcek also gave assurance that "No other conclusions have been adopted (at Bratislava) apart from the document published."

Nixon's Vote 574

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Here is the standing of Republican presidential nomination candidates at 12:30 p.m. EDT today in an Associated Press tabulation of publicly committed first-ballot votes:

Nixon 574; Rockefeller 232; Reagan 73 plus 86 as Calif. favorite son, total 159; Other favorite sons 218; Uncommitted 180.

Cong Wound U.S. General, Down 'Copter

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong wounded an American general whose son was killed in action in 1967 and shot down a helicopter in two fights south of Saigon today. U.S. infantrymen reported killing 41 of the enemy and capturing 19 weapons.

U.S. casualties were two killed and 15 wounded, including Brig. Gen. Franklin E. Davis Jr., 50, commander of the U.S. 109th Light Infantry Brigade.

Davis was out about the face by shrapnel and gashed over his right eye when a band of Viet Cong guerrillas showered rocket grenades on an allied river patrol from mangrove swamps along a river bank 13 miles southeast of Saigon.

The general returned to the scene after being treated at the brigade aid station, commenting: "It was just an occupational hazard."

Davis, who is from Waltham, Mass., is one of half a dozen American generals wounded in Vietnam, while another three have been killed. Davis' youngest son, 2nd Lt. Stephen Davis, was killed in action in Vietnam in 1967.

The heaviest of the two fights raged in a stand of paddies, canals and huts 24 miles southwest of Saigon. The fight was triggered in mid-afternoon Sunday by Viet Cong gunners who shot down a helicopter that was landing troops for a reconnaissance mission.

The Viet Cong then opened up with small arms and automatic weapons on the company of 150 infantrymen from the U.S. 9th Division. More than 500 more Americans were landed in the area in darkness and heavy rain and set up a cordon around the enemy area of paddies, canals and huts. A prisoner told U.S. interrogators that about 100 Viet Cong were in the area at the start of the fight.

With the cordon established, helicopter gunships firing machine guns and rockets raked the enemy positions through the night and artillery pounded them. The infantrymen swept the area after daybreak Monday and reported finding 41 enemy bodies and 19 weapons. Two Americans were killed and seven were wounded.

"Enemy gunners shot down another army helicopter 50 miles southwest of Da Nang as it was going in to pick up a Viet Cong waving a flag, believing that he wanted to surrender. Instead, he was shot down."

Dirksen Sees No Dissent To Republican Platform

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Republican plank-writers will hand to the national convention Tuesday a platform pledging peace negotiations without surrender in Vietnam and drives against crime and social ills at home.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, chairman of the platform committee which wound up work early Sunday with a compromise plank on Vietnam, indicated he expects no floor battle when the party document goes before the full convention for final approval.

Dirksen said he anticipates no dissenting report from his 10-man committee and added the Vietnam proviso "will come as close to satisfying any candidate we may nominate as anything we might reduce to writing."

A spokesman for Richard M. Nixon, the frontrunner for the nomination, praised the 13,000-word policy declaration as a forthright document embracing "principle and a program of action which hold the promise of restoring to America effective and responsible leadership."

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hailed it as a platform "we can win on and I want to run on." California's favorite son candidate, Gov. Ronald Reagan, had no immediate comment.

The 33-page manifesto combined promises for crusades against violence with a wide range of social betterment planks which pleased avowed liberals on domestic affairs.

It carried no price tag for its proposed programs, nor did it call for major tax changes at this time.

It was the Vietnam proviso which remained in dispute right up to the final minutes of the platform group's 18-hour secret session which started Saturday and ran to 3:15 a.m. Sunday.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits of New York, a Rockefeller supporter, and others objected to what they termed a Reagan hard-line on Vietnam in the officially proposed draft language. Its word-

As GOP Convenes Tensions Mount In Miami Tumult

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Tension mounted inexorably today at the opening of the 29th national convention of the Republican party.

There were rumors that the party of Honest Abe Lincoln might soon have to confess to an absence of a quorum. Too many delegates were down with heartburn after their first abandoned visits to Miami's gastronomic parlor and bachelorette.

Rising restiveness was reported among the disciples of "fiscal responsibility" because of cuts that cost $45 between hotels, hot dogs that commanded $1.85 on a sizzling sea of cold slaw, bellboys who looked suicidal over any tip that failed to ensure the college education of their progeny as yet unborn, hotel rooms that cost $40 a day for a view of the "rock garden," which turns out to be a pebbled roof below, and $8 lunches over which it is impossible to avoid noticing, through a glass wall, the mind-boggling forms of swimmers, male and female, thin and fat, in the hotel pool, from a fish-eye's view.

Suspense was everywhere. For the first time in the history of the Republic would a national political party be able to start a convention approximately on a

(See Page Three)

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The Republican party opened its 29th national convention today with Richard E. Nixon pushing hard to win the GOP presidential nomination on the first ballot.

By the Associated Press' count he was about 100 votes short and his two top challengers, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, were pinning their hopes on extending the balloting Wednesday night beyond two rounds.

Rockefeller got a big break when the 58-vote Ohio delegation caucused just before the opening and decided to side with Gov. James A. Rhodes, a favorite son, on the first ballot.

Rockefeller's strategy is to try to keep the several favorite son candidacies among the states alive long enough to give the impression that Nixon does not have the strength to go over the top.

Reagan, meanwhile, was striving to pick off individual delegates—an effort which Rockefeller said at a news conference was meeting with some success.

"I think the movement is to Reagan in many of the delegations," Rockefeller said.

Of his own efforts, he said he is picking up "bits and pieces." The governor said his count showed Nixon with 650, himself with 350 and Reagan with 250.

The AP figured it Nixon 568, Rockefeller 232 and Reagan 159, with 144 delegates uncommitted and a whopping 232 for favorite sons. Needed for victory: 667.

Rockefeller beamed, winked and joked as he fielded newsmen's questions. But he was unable to report any massive shift of strength to his side and said he wasn't planning any major announcement between now and Wednesday night, when the balloting begins.

The Ohioans, meanwhile, decided at a breakfast meeting to stand behind Rhodes, at least on the first round. All but two of the 53 succeeded in this tactic. The two mavericks were considered Nixon men.

The delegation chairman, John S. Andrews, said Reagan was trying to meet with the group and "we are attempting to work that out."

At the same time, Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's chief press spokesman, was telling reporters the former vice president did not intend to leave the choice of a running mate to the delegates.

Rather, Klein said, Nixon "will ask the convention to nominate his choice" and will disclose his choice after the presidential election.

Israeli Jets Strike Site Near Amman

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab and Israeli forces exchanged fire across the Jordan River for the second straight day today following a retaliatory strike by Israeli warplanes which the Israelis claimed destroyed Arab guerrilla bases only 15 miles from the Jordanian capital of Amman.

An Israeli army spokesman said Jordanian troops rained bazooka and mortar shells on three settlements in the Beisan Valley. Israeli forces returned the fire, he said, and no Israeli casualties were reported.

Israeli jets streaked across the Jordan River Sunday and dealt what military spokesmen called "a substantial blow" to Arab guerrilla bases inside Jordan.

Jordan reported 23 civilians and five of its soldiers killed in the air attack and 82 persons wounded. It claimed one U.S.-built Israeli Skyhawk jet was downed. But Israel said all of its

As Catholics Debate Pope Says Encyclical Allows Birth Limits

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Pope Paul VI said Sunday that his encyclical banning artificial birth control had been misunderstood by some critics and emphasized it did not bar "reasonable" limitation of families. But meanwhile the dispute among Roman Catholics over obedience to the papal ban showed no sign of abating.

Addressing thousands of pilgrims to his summer residence south of Rome, the 70-year-old pontiff said the policy he proclaimed "is not in itself opposed—as some seem to think—to a reasonable limitation of birth, nor to scientific research and therapeutic cures, nor even to a truly responsible parenthood nor to peace and family harmony."

The Pope's encyclical, of Human Life, renewed the church's prohibition against chemical and mechanical methods of contraception. Total abstinence and the rhythm method of abstinence during the wife's fertile period remain the only methods approved by the church.

Obviously concerned by the growing opposition to his decision, the Pope said: "We know that there are many who have not appreciated our teaching. In fact many oppose it. In a certain sense we can understand this incomprehension and also this opposition."

But he gave no indications of retreating from his decision, and said his encyclical "is derived from the laws of God." While not issued as infallible, the encyclical is considered binding on the world's half-billion Catholics.

America Catholics who went to church on the first Sunday after the encyclical was issued heard every shade of comment from their priests, including outspoken support for the Pope by high church officials, "It's up to you" statements by some lower ranking clerics, and open opposition by other priests and theologians.

In Washington, the Catholic University of America announced that the number of American Catholic theologians opposing the Pope's ban on artificial contraception had risen to 222.

"I am surprised and saddened by the actions of these gentlemen—actions which are setting the church on fire," said Washington's Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle in a sermon urging obedience to the Pope. But later in the day 62 of the priests in the cardinal's archdiocese wanted to surrender. Instead, surveys is now forced to breath it in... for instance, in one eastern seaboard metropolis, which are at least as great a damage to health as the cigarette smoke of an smoker. Obviously, neither danger should be considered welcome, and to combine them voluntarily would seem foolhardy. The answer with an excessively proper regard for his own health would obviously give up smoking and move to a cleaner climate. But it could also be that, if the air we breathe were cleaned up again, to what it was 30 and 40 years ago, it would also be found that the danger of the cigarette had retreated to its level at that time too.

We are not interested in encouraging people to smoke, or in discouraging the cigarette. We are just interested in conclusions that seem to have a chance of making sense, and it has never occurred to us that the cigarette is anything other than a piece of paper that is burned, and the smoke that it produces is inhaled. It is not a matter of life or death, but it is a matter of health, and it is a matter of choice.

Disappointing Return Of Expo MONTREAL — Jean Drapron, Montreal's brilliant little mayor, is a man who in recent years has known little of failure. In fact, considering the magnitude of his projects, he's had some staggering successes. Not the least of these successes was Expo '67, the world's largest and most successful exposition since the 1889 Paris Exposition Universelle. For 1968, Mr. Drapron determined to revive Expo under the name "Man and His World." He was banking on a carry-over of last year's immense popularity to bring in the visitors. Conceivably, there might come a day when a pure cigarette, in pure air, could be regarded as safe. In our day, as a pipe.

Not the least of these successes was Expo '67, the world's largest and most successful exposition since the 1889 Paris Exposition Universelle. For 1968, Mr. Drapron determined to revive Expo under the name "Man and His World." He was banking on a carry-over of last year's immense popularity to bring in the visitors. Conceivably, there might come a day when a pure cigarette, in pure air, could be regarded as safe. In our day, as a pipe.

Disappointing Return Of Expo MONTREAL — Jean Drapron, Montreal's brilliant little mayor, is a man who in recent years has known little of failure. In fact, considering the magnitude of his projects, he's had some staggering successes. Not the least of these successes was Expo '67, the world's largest and most successful exposition since the 1889 Paris Exposition Universelle. For 1968, Mr. Drapron determined to revive Expo under the name "Man and His World." He was banking on a carry-over of last year's immense popularity to bring in the visitors. MIAMI BEACH—Top strategists of the Democratic Party believe Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio must agree, in advance, to go on the ticket as Vice President if Rockefeller is to have any chance for the Presidential nomination.

It is true that outwardly "Man and His World" looks the same as its predecessor. Almost all the pavilions on the islands were designed by the city of Montreal (a gesture not as magnanimous as it sounds) and were responsible for the exhibition's cost. Only the Russian and Czechoslovak pavilions are entirely new. Indeed, the colorful architecture pleased guests and remains a major attraction.

But most of Expo's other stellar attractions are of age. Some countries such as the U.S. and France have pavilions that have been erected and some downgraded to mere trade displays. The new Irish pavilion even has a sign urging "Buy Irish Linen," something Expo would never have done for any of its previous years.

Many of the films for Expo were justly noted as missing too. Ontario's pavilion was not there, nor was the National Film Board of Canada's "Labyrinth."

Back in the 1940s, 61 countries that participated last year plus Poland and Ireland. Most of the excellent "theme" pavilions remain, though some not their original form. A variety of new exhibits including live rock music, a variety of new exhibits, a variety of new exhibits, a variety of new exhibits.

Entering the grounds for the first time since last October, one can't fail to notice there seems to be almost no one there. One, thankfully, is the myriad of people who are here to see the exciting exhibits generated by a jam-packed program of events.

Reaching through some national pavilions, one is struck by the bored expression of the people. In the past, last year mirrored excitement. Many pavilions give little to be proud of, but the people are here to see the exciting exhibits generated by a jam-packed program of events.

Most of the new displays are fairly recycled, though they certainly will appeal to buffs of the specialist. There are antique cars, stamps, cartoons, dolls, firearms, films and, inevitably, the Canadian winter. The latter doubtless will appeal to the tourists who don't have to put up with the real thing.

Though the pavilions are relatively deserted, there is a booming business and the La Ronde amusement park, always popular, is more packed than ever.

Good foreign restaurants still abound, but though their prices have come down since last year, they are still expensive. Currently, Montrealers are summering in their cottages north of the city, leaving the site open for U.S. and other tourists who don't have to put up with the real thing.

It was curious when Gov. Raymond Shafer of Pennsylvania took a soft line on Vietnam. In a telephone conversation with Dirksen tried to talk Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York into limiting his testimony to the United States. Dirksen's chief aide on the Platform Committee — Clyde Fynn, a Senate Judiciary Committee lawyer — said that Dirksen's testimony was a relatively safe thing to do. But it's still a major attraction, particularly for those who missed Expo or feel nostalgic for some of the exhibits that were not there.

That Connector Again... I gather from the report of the meeting of the Board of Directors and the property owners concerned with the Oakland St. connector that I was present.

The efforts by Gov. John Volpe, still hoping to be Nixon's running mate, to line up Massachusetts Republicans, behind Nixon has caused a deepening split in his state's party.

The telephone wires also stated when Volpe pleaded in vain with two members of his state's Congressional delegation.

Actually, Rockefeller aides sounded out Rhodes about the Vice Presidency several weeks ago and did not get a favorable response. Rhodes reiterated that his personal dream ticket was still Rockefeller for President and Gov. Ronald Reagan for Vice President.

St. Augustine once asked: "Why did Christ weep?" He gave the answer: "For no other reason but to teach us how to weep."

For now, Rhodes continues to play his valuable cards close to the vest. The long-awaited Ohio delegation caucus today at the Doral Hotel here may decide only to support Rhodes as a fall-out vote on the first ballot.

Convention Sidelights

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—President Johnson's personal bodyguard and constant companion in the 1964 campaign has been named as a secret service agent protecting Republican presidential contender Richard M. Nixon. Rufus Youngblood, the agent who threw himself on top of Johnson when President Kennedy was assassinated in 1963, was seen on duty in the welcoming party for Nixon as he arrived for the Republican National Convention. Also among the agents was Thomas L. Johns, former head of Johnson's White House detail. Both Johns and Youngblood have been promoted to senior positions in the Secret Service.

State Delegation Poised To Jump on Nixon Wagon

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Although three-fourths of its members prefer Nelson Rockefeller, Connecticut's delegation to the Republican National Convention will jump today to support a first-ballot Nixon victory because a certain. One long-time Rockefeller supporter in the 16-member Connecticut contingent declined to go on record in favor of the New York governor when the Nulung State delegates polled themselves for the first time on the presidential issue. James E. Best of Hartford walked out of the caucus because he felt the Connecticut group should not be regarded as a hard and fast position which could not be modified later. Support of Rockefeller felt the delegation by the four top leaders—Laumant, state Vice Chairman Anna-Mae Switak, National Committee Chairman John Alroy and National

Nixon Hopes for Party Unity, Sees Victory on Early Ballot

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Richard M. Nixon said today he will not attempt to raid the critical favor-on delegations of California, Ohio and Michigan in his quest for the Republican presidential nomination. The non-rising candidate said he would keep hands off the big delegations, even the interest of party unity, but his comment clearly indicated he has been unable to crack the uncommitted stance of Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio and George Romney of Michigan. The strategy of Nixon's chief rivals for the nomination, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Ronald Reagan of California, hinges on keeping the major delegations of Ohio, Michigan and California out of Nixon's camp. Holding a news conference at the headquarters hotel, Nixon predicted he would win the nomination on an early ballot, if he does, he said, he may travel to the Soviet Union this month. And he said if elected president, he would travel to Paris to work to "re-ignite a dialogue with Gen. DeGaulle and the French government."

Rocky Hails Endorsement From Evans

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller hailed his endorsement by Walter H. Evans today as a major boost for his presidential bid because of Evans' role as mayor of the Republican National Convention. "It's terrific," Rockefeller told reporters when informed Evans had made the move and by sought by the Rockefeller camp to counter new support uncovered for Richard M. Nixon. Rockefeller described Evans as a man "respected by all for his awareness of the problems facing the country." A keynote speaker, Rockefeller said, "he laid out what he felt was the essential course of action by the Republican party and then he said he thought the person who could best handle it was myself."

Humphrey, McCarthy Agree on TV Format

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy camps have agreed to the format for a national television debate the week before the Democratic National Convention. Aides to both the Democratic presidential contenders said Monday the hour-long confrontation would be divided into three segments—foreign affairs, domestic problems and the candidates' concepts of the presidency. Humphrey's people said in Mississippi the debate will be either Aug. 26 or 29. But the McCarthy camp, which had proposed three separate debates beginning as early as July 31, said it would be sometime during the week before the convention begins Aug. 28. "There's a fairly substantial agreement but the dates aren't all that certain," said Blair Clark, McCarthy's campaign manager. Clark said the agreement provides for direct exchange between the two candidates on issues. Humphrey aides said all three major networks have been notified of the tentative agreement. In another development in the campaign, Sen. McCarthy said today, seeking an enemy force that air strikes, artillery and helicopter gunships had pounded through the night. Early reports said the troops of the 1st Air Cavalry Division found 12 enemy bodies in a grave, but the toll was expected to rise as the sweep progressed. A Viet Cong battalion—perhaps as many as 300 men—were in the area and pushed the enemy force toward the river until the area was broken about 4 a.m. Two Americans were reported killed and 10 wounded, all in the initial assault when helicopters were and certain steel used in came under heavy machine gun fire. One observation helicopter was shot down, but the pilot escaped. The American battle along the

Two Major Steel Firms To Hold Line

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two of the major steel-price boosters have agreed to hold the line on some defense items, but the government is still probing for the first significant crack in a nearly solid industry front. Republic, No. 1 producer, and Armco, No. 2, assured the Pentagon Monday they would not raise prices on military barbed wire and certain steel used in shell casings. But both firms quickly noted they hadn't raised the prices on the items—accounting for less than 20 per cent of the Pentagon's steel purchases. The American battle along the

It said preliminary indications were that the attack resembled a myocardial infarction. His condition was stable when the hospital announcement was made at 10 a.m. The hospital said Eisenhower was expected to be discharged today.

One long-time Rockefeller supporter in the 16-member Connecticut contingent declined to go on record in favor of the New York governor when the Nulung State delegates polled themselves for the first time on the presidential issue. James E. Best of Hartford walked out of the caucus because he felt the Connecticut group should not be regarded as a hard and fast position which could not be modified later. Support of Rockefeller felt the delegation by the four top leaders—Laumant, state Vice Chairman Anna-Mae Switak, National Committee Chairman John Alroy and National

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy camps have agreed to the format for a national television debate the week before the Democratic National Convention. Aides to both the Democratic presidential contenders said Monday the hour-long confrontation would be divided into three segments—foreign affairs, domestic problems and the candidates' concepts of the presidency. Humphrey's people said in Mississippi the debate will be either Aug. 26 or 29. But the McCarthy camp, which had proposed three separate debates beginning as early as July 31, said it would be sometime during the week before the convention begins Aug. 28. One observation helicopter was shot down, but the pilot escaped. The American battle along the

Two Major Steel Firms To Hold Line

Republic, No. 1 producer, and Armco, No. 2, assured the Pentagon Monday they would not raise prices on military barbed wire and certain steel used in shell casings. But both firms quickly noted they hadn't raised the prices on the items—accounting for less than 20 per cent of the Pentagon's steel purchases. The American battle along the
