BILL ST. ONGE FOR CONGRESS COMMITTEE ANNE M. HOGAN, TREASURER

COST OF LIVING: YOU CAN BRING IT UNDER CONTROL.

Inflation is the cruellest tax of all. It quietly picks your pocket, steals your savings, robs your pay check. The cost of living is going up faster now than at any time since the Truman administration. How can you protect the purchasing power of your dollar? Elect Richard Nixon President. Here's what he believes we should do:

Make sure that Federal money is spent only where it should be. Cut down on the unnecessary federal spending that causes prices to go up. As the war is ended, use a portion of the "peace dividend" to reduce the enormous annual deficit that drives the cost of living up; use another portion to cut taxes and increase every employee's take-home pay.

U.S. Embassy Hit By Jordanian Mob

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Bedouin security troops and armed demonstrators exchanged fire in front of the American Embassy today when a mob stormed the building and tore down the U.S. flag.

First reports said one person was killed and several police and demonstrators were wounded.

The demonstration, involving at least 10,000 people, began as a quiet march in downtown Amman to protest the 25th anniversary of the Jordanian declaration of independence, which proclaimed a national holiday for the Jews in Palestine.

In the Arab section of Jerusalem, some 7,000 Arabs gathered for a demonstration with a general strike. The Arabs looted themselves, their homes and streets became deserted and public transportation was idle. It was second such strike in a week and the fourth since the start of the Arab revolt.

Jordanian and Israeli forces exchanged artillery and mortar fire in the area of the Syrian Heights for about 20 minutes. No casualties were reported.

In Amman, reports said the mob attacked the embassy after a speech by Palestinian nationalist leader Yusef Nuhdi.

Armed guerrillas matched machine-gun fire with the Jordanian police and the mob.

Some 1,000 people gathered in front of the embassy and tried to force their way in. They were repulsed by the Jordanian police.

Lincoln School--Voters Asked to Replace It

Lincoln Elementary School in the center of Manchester on the northwest corner of Main and Center Sts. was built by the Cheney Bros. workmen in 1911.

Lincoln School stands on six tenths of an acre. The blacktop parking lot in back of it as well as its driveway belong to Center Congregational Church. Until just a few years ago, there was a fire station in back of the school which also used the church's driveway. Children were always among the first to know of a fire when the siren blew.

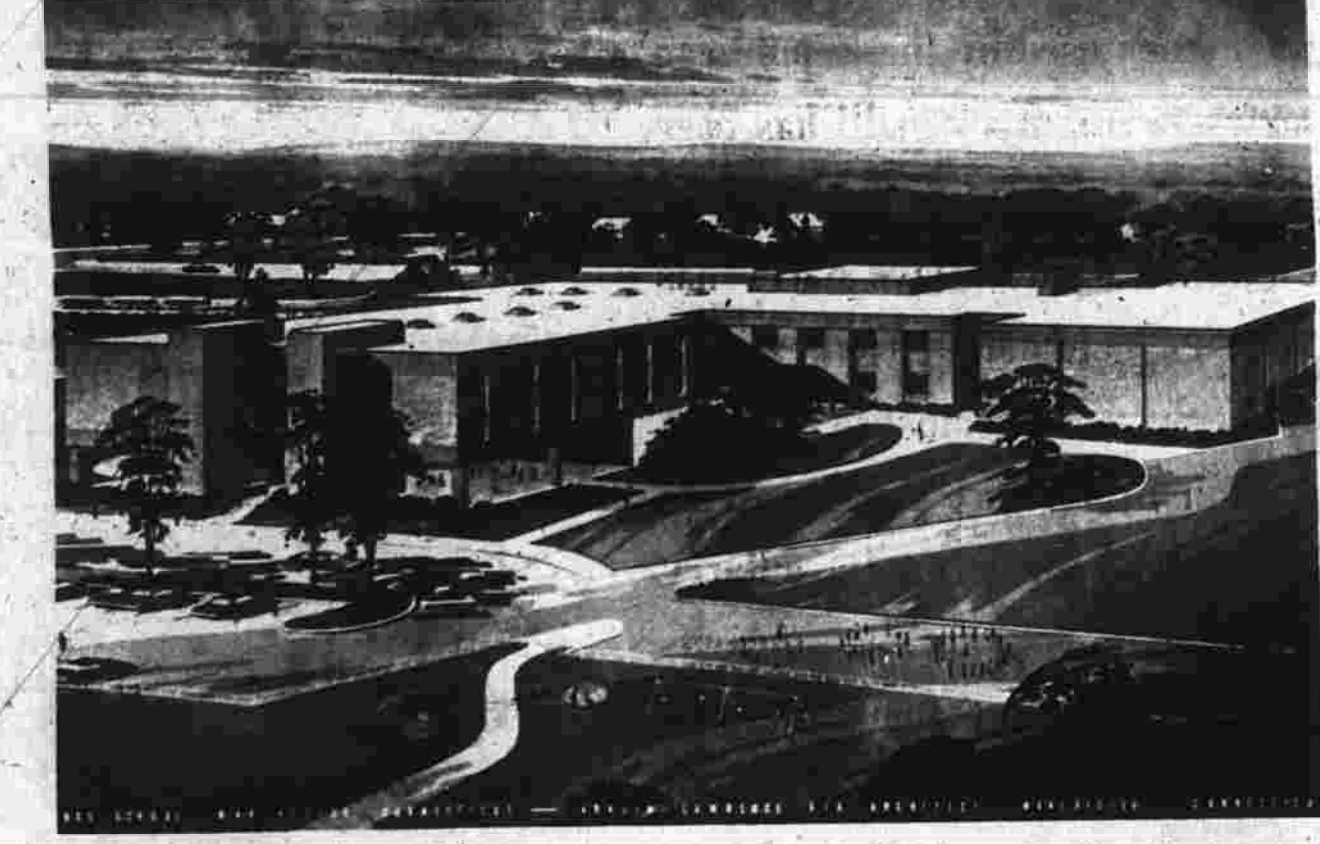

Besides the parking lot playground, a second playground used frequently by the school is in the park just below the school. It is a small softball and kickball field which gets heavy use. Below that is a basketball court on blacktop.

The school plus a classroom rented from the Center Church held 399 children when school opened this year. The Board of Education has rented two more, one for the crowded third grade and the other for special education classes.

The kitchen in the basement is a little smaller than a classroom and has a railing along the hall side of it where children pass through to get their trays filled. They then walk down the basement hall to eat in the library at the other end.

Also in the new school will be a gym-auditorium, cafeteria, a nurse's station and an open space below the south wing of the school which faces the park and will serve as a covered, outdoor play area all year.

Miss Selly Fox' fifth grade classroom is typical of the Lincoln School. Its high ceilings increase the noise of unruly classes.

This is an artist's rendering of the new school designed by Architect Arnold Lawrence. The steep slope of its site means the top floor will be the entrance on the Liberty St. side while a covered play area will be under the bottom floor on the side facing the park.

Teachers have reported nauseated children from engine fumes when the opened classroom windows for fresh air at the Center. Many of them walk the double white lines in the foreground to reach the school. (Herald photos by Buescivicius)

Chi Chi, An An Choose Long Engagement
LONDON (AP) — The latest attempt to bring romance into the middle-aged lives of Chi Chi and An An has failed. But London officials are hoping that Moscow will allow the Russian panda to remain until spring when Britain's Chi Chi will be her next, hopefully loving mood.

Chi Chi and An An spent the last two months together at the London Zoo in what officials hoped would lead to the first birth of a giant panda outside Red China.

But a zoo attendant reported Friday, "I'm afraid both bears are avoiding each other as usual. They're both round asleep, keeping well apart. Isn't that sad?"

At the Soviet Embassy there was no word of a move to send An An home.

Italy Names Group To Study Concordat
ROME (AP) — The Italian government has named a special commission to study possible changes to its 30-year-old concordat with the Vatican, which established Roman Catholicism as Italy's official religion.

The commission is a compromise in a parliamentary battle over a proposal to legalize divorce in Italy. The Catholic Church believes that marriage is indissoluble.

The fight began when a parliamentary commission voted that a bill to allow divorce in certain cases would not be a violation of the concordat or the constitution.

This was hotly disputed by the Vatican and Italy's largest political party, the Roman Catholic Christian Democrats.

The concordat was signed in 1929 during the Fascist regime of Benito Mussolini.

Congo Making Cement
BRAZZAVILLE, the Congo — A $7.7 million cement factory has gone into operation in the Louisa region of the Congo, 140 kilometers west of Brazzaville. It has a capacity of 80,000 tons of cement a year and was built with German technical assistance.

The regime called off plans for the state funeral and announced it would send a finance undersecretary, Niklas Moris, to represent the government at the funeral.

Chant for Papandreu
ATHENS (AP) — Hundreds of friends and supporters of former Greek Premier George Papandreu chanted "Papandreu, Papandreu" as the 50-year-old Greek statesman's body was moved Friday night from a hospital chapel.

Peruvian Reporters Set Strike for Monday
LIMA, Peru (AP) — A nationwide strike has been set for Monday by the Peruvian Federation of Journalists to protest the closing of two newspapers, two radio stations and a magazine by the month-old revolutionary military government.

If the strike is carried out it means there will be no reporters present at a Monday evening news conference by President...

"EDITORIAL — The Citizen's Choice — DAVE BARRY —

The contest for the State Senate is between Democratic incumbent Dave Barry and Republican Candidate Nathan Agostinelli. We are a bit dismayed at the campaign methods used by the Republican candidate against his opponent. Somewhere Mr. Agostinelli has been misled by his supporters or campaign managers. We cannot condone material which is misleading to the public. Senator Dave Barry has been placed in a defensive position which should not be. We know Mr. Barry's record in the Senate and because he voted against Republican amendments does not mean he voted against the entire program. This is where the Republican candidate erred. We believe that Dave Barry is not what his opponent claims him to be and the Citizen supports DAVE BARRY for re-election. We know it will be difficult for Senator Barry to carry Glastonbury but we hope he can make a good showing.*"

ALL CITIZENS SHOULD ENDORSE DAVE BARRY

Peace And The Election

First things are first, and any possibility of halting the war in Vietnam honorably, any possibility of preventing the sacrifice of more human lives to it on either side, rates far ahead, in importance, of the special concern of a Presidential election.

We hope — and tend to believe — that President Johnson had valid steps and announcements of adequate responses from Hanoi before he announced his cessation of bombing of North Vietnam.

We hope — and tend to believe — that whatever may have been the President's original desire to make some progress toward peace in time to help his party and his candidate in this Presidential election, his action concedes what he did was, as he himself tried to describe it, an almost compulsory compliance with the trend of events, and the decisions of Hanoi, which were not within his own tidy control.

We hope — and feel that almost any study of history confirms the same thing — that the chain of events which has now gone so far in the department of peace-making over Vietnam has now become possession of the same kind of impetus which kept pushing itself into the expansion and escalation of war, when that was the direction which Washington was committed.

As for the bombing itself, it should have been stopped because it should never have begun. It has always been the one big false step in our Vietnam policy, the one big decision which rendered our role in Vietnam questionable, and not only was it wrong legally and morally; there has been continual question as to its practical efficiency. It should have been stopped without concessions. If concessions have now been obtained, that is so much the better.

In any case, this is a moment when all those Americans who have, perhaps for varying reasons, come to regard Vietnam as an unhappy national burden, to shift into some positive channels. The horrible war seems on the way toward its end; the process may be drawn out and protracted and expensiveness and it may be that negotiations will not move as swiftly as they ought toward the end of cease fire, tacit or otherwise, which would mean that 26 and 19 and 20 live out their lives; but a direction has been established. We doubt that either side can really turn back now.

And perhaps, as peace becomes more real and draws closer, some of the unprecedented points this unhappy conflict has poured into world politics, and into the moods of Americans living at home, will begin to abate, and we will find other problems a little less unsolvable.

As for the possible influence of peace developments in the weeks ahead on the way Americans are going to vote next Tuesday, we feel that it will or should have very much pertinence in any direction.

We may feel a trifle more kindly toward the man Lyndon Johnson, but we are not yet ready to make him a hero for finally beginning to edge his way out of the mess he and his advisers blundered to into.

As for the Presidential candidates out in the field, they have all made it clear that they are for peace, and those who were not part of the administration conducting negotiations at Paris have been patriotically careful not to do or say anything which would jeopardize Mr. Johnson's chances of success there.

Such conduct has left all three of them in position to go along with the results of the President's success, if it proves to be that, and either complete the peace-making task, or, if the President can hand over peace along with the office on Jan. 20, get on to the next order of business, one item which would be to try to make sure we don't let ourselves sink blindly into some new Vietnam.

The appraisal of the voters, as to which candidate and what party can best handle the general problem of restoring to ourselves some greater degree of control over our own destiny, should be the same appraisal today and next Tuesday if it was a week or more ago.

We congratulate President Johnson on having got this far with peace possible, and on having taken the action which we think any President of conscience would have to take in the circumstances.

And, for Election Day Tuesday, The Herald reiterates its endorsement of Richard Nixon and the Republican ticket.

To Him A Weapon's A Weapon

We suppose it is primarily because he is a professional soldier, and a gentleman who has a very strong instinct to say what he believes, even though it may not be polite to do so, that General Curtis LeMay still goes in an occasional piece of realism and some about nuclear weapons.

The thing General LeMay can't quite stop himself from saying, now and then, is that there really isn't any basic difference between a nuclear bomb and another bomb which doesn't happen to be nuclear.

To his mind, which is, as we say, both a soldierly mind and apparently an avian mind, the nuclear bomb is not really anything more than another weapon — bigger, more powerful, capable of more one-blow committee and destruction than other weapons — but basically not in the least different from these other weapons.

That much being established, in the LeMay mind, he would treat the nuclear bomb as just another weapon, and have little hesitancy about employing it in the particular war and battle situation, it happened to fit. In a hand to hand encounter he would reach for the revolver, or the hand grenade; in a small war for conventional air power and its varied arsenal of terrible conventional bombs; in a war of continents, or war to the death of a nation, he would reach for the biggest and best military weapon he had.

The LeMay approach to the nuclear question may be rough and unscientific and without much hope. But it keeps him free of such nonsense as any pretense that we can solve the nuclear problem by adopting a non-proliferation treaty by which we keep nations from getting nuclear weapons but still permit the present possessors to manufacture and flourish them.

General LeMay doesn't believe we are very near solving our problem, but he is quite right when he talks that man's kind's real problem is not any particular weapon in war, but war itself.

When we get men into such an excited state that they won't use a club, then we won't have to worry about his using the bomb.

But if, despairing of such perfection in human nature, we decide to try to handle the conduct of man by creating and enforcing world law, then the law will be at particular weakness or at the reduction in the level of weapons, but at the act of war itself.

That is the weapon, but the resolve to kill which is humanity's terror to humanity.

General LeMay is more faithful to the tenets of his profession than the peace makers are to the basic principles which must be admitted before a real peaceful order in the world.

Bell Bottoms Back?

The latest fashion news from the campuses is that bell bottom trousers are on the way back.

This should be good news for the manufacturers of cloth, since trousers of the more ample proportions will take three times as much cloth as the peg-leg style of the past decade.

It will be good news for housewives, who will appreciate the way these long, broad cuffs raise up and drape the dust as they swing across the floor.

And it will be comfortable news for men who have only one pair of shoes for all sorts and alights, and who resent having to take their shoes off in order to get pants off or on.

But as for hoes, we're afraid that the whole business will look just as ungainly and as silly in their way, as the peg-leg pants have looked in theirs.

Nixon's The One

The further the campaign progresses the more apparent it is that Richard M. Nixon is the only candidate with programs which have any hope of solving the terrible problems which have descended upon the nation over the past years. This is not only because Mr. Nixon was vice president during the Eisenhower years of peace and domestic tranquility. It goes beyond the fact that Mr. Nixon has not been in a part and does not need to defend the policies of the Kennedy-Johnson years.

Mr. Nixon has presented his position on the Vietnam War and none can fault it, if they are interested in peace. Beyond that, the Nixon foreign policy shows that he stands alone in his knowledge of the Communist conspiracy and of how to deal with it without bloodshed.

On the domestic front he seems to be the only candidate who recognizes that unless restraint in spending is initiated there will be a runaway inflation which will hurt hardest on the old, the poor and pensioners. This does not mean that because he would curtail some items that he is a man without heart or compassion. On the contrary, he would subsidize "neglected down programs" of today with programs involving private citizens giving aid to other private citizens. He has no doubt the faith and courage to believe that given a chance people have the ability to solve their own problems by helping one another.

Richard Nixon deserves support for a reason which goes beyond that of program and policy. This is a rapidly changing era. Conditions arise unexpectedly. Only a man of exceptional character can be depended upon to solve new problems as they arise.

Mr. Nixon has been tested as few men in our history. He has served in Congress with distinction. He was a real leader of the administration of government as vice president. His courage, both physical and moral, cannot be questioned. His devotion to his country has never wavered. He has suffered defeat and emerged stronger than before. He is a man who has earned the love and respect of his countrymen.

But Abe Ribicoff, the steady proponent of the art of the campaign which never makes the candidate an ad hominem type of attack, deserves to have it said that he

"First Things First" To the Editor, It is true that it would be nice to replace Lincoln School but I believe in first things first and that is the school.

It is true that the school is overcrowded and that the voters should remember that the Board of Education says we must have a new junior high, a new elementary school, a new high school, a new Vernon St. due to the Oakland St. apartment plus the construction of a new post office on Hillside Rd. If the town built the needed school at a reasonable cost as possible that would be one thing but they act as though our money is no object.

As usual there are many local state and national issues to be weighed and discussed before the final balloting. Each one of us should take it upon himself or herself to become familiar with everything pertaining to these issues. Thus I commend to you to think on these local, state and national questions and voters them as your consciences direct.

The year 1968 is one of decision for all of us and we do want to see this community, state and country run in the coming year! We the people find ourselves at a turning point in the governing of this great nation. What we decide at a polling place this election may have a long and lasting effect upon the future and fate of the present generation and the generations to follow.

Also the officials all admit that part of Center Springs Park is used by tramps and dangerous characters. If they had built the school as originally planned in that section it would have been cleaned out and made safe for the time it is already used as a school. It is already used as a school and will be exposed to the dangers of the time it is already used as a school. I think the whole planning of the new Lincoln School is wrong so it should be defeated.

Sincerely, Mrs. Peter Sudolki

"Could We Very Well" To the Editor, It certainly would be objectionable for our parks being used for other purposes.

For instance, a housing development or anything like that would be objectionable for Center Springs Park.

However if the new school is built where the plans of the mayor indicate it is to be built, I do not believe that the park will be ruined. I would object to having the beautiful river near Main St. ruined. According to the plans the school is to be built near Lodge Drive which will not damage the best part of Center Springs Park.

The present Lincoln School is obviously overcrowded and in about the worst location for a school. An overcrowded school is the worst.

Sincerely, Donald S. Conrad 14 Harvard Road, Manchester, Conn.

Wonders of the Universe Heat Shields

By DR. L. M. LEVINE, DIRECTOR The Fraunhofer Institute of the Franklin Institute One of the most critical tasks in fulfilling manned space flight aspirations was the re-entry of the manned vehicle at escape velocities.

Zone 5's dramatic impact in the Pacific Ocean proving its circumlunar flight proved the problems associated with re-entry of a spacecraft from the 25,000 m.p.h. escape velocity without burning up on re-entry. In this single flight Russia demonstrated superb navigational, approach guidance and re-entry capability.

The United States launched a Saturn 5 vehicle in April 1968, which propelled an Apollo command module into an orbit around Earth. The module was then accelerated earthward at 28,000 m.p.h. (within 2,700 m.p.h. before entering the atmosphere to verify its ability to survive re-entry from the moon. The program proved an unqualified success in the accuracy of scientific research.

It is estimated that when the spacecraft's heat shield begins its brief atmospheric journey its temperature rises precipitously from about 100 degrees below zero to about 6,000 degrees in a matter of seconds. The Apollo heat shield is made of a special ablative material which is designed to absorb the heat and prevent the spacecraft from burning up.

Car Hits Gas Pumps, Yale Student Critical

Yale Student Critical

A Yale University student was critically injured when his car struck gasoline pumps at a service station early today.

A two-car pile-up caused by the crash took over an hour to clear.

The driver, alone in the car, was identified as Timothy Kuhn, a Yale student from Brookline, Mass. He underwent emergency surgery at Yale-New Haven hospital for head injuries suffered in the 1:30 a.m. crash, state police said.

Kuhn's car was eastbound on a service road alongside the Connecticut Turnpike when it struck the pumps at the Sunoco Service Station, which was closed as the time Kuhn was thrown from the car.

State police said there were no other injuries or damage, which enveloped the front of the service station.

Tolland County Houley Calls Repko Charge He Missed Meetings 'False'

Believing to what he terms "11th hour misrepresentation, distortion and misstatement," on the part of his opponent, Democrat Robert Repko, Houley yesterday stated that he has "substantiated my elected responsibility."

Houley was the target of a critical statement made yesterday by Republican incumbent Senator Andrew Repko of Willington.

In his statement Repko said he called Houley for a letter sent to residents of Willington by the Willington Citizens for Schools Committee. He also charged Houley with missing six meetings of the Board of Representatives and having authority in Vermont to which he was elected.

In a prepared statement Houley said, "It is unfortunate that Mr. Repko has chosen to attack me at this late hour without first stating the facts."

"I would prefer not to even acknowledge this type of tactic. However, this new desperation measure is as far from the truth that I must set the record straight," Houley explained.

"The 'misrepresentation' charge that I have addressed my 'elected responsibility' has been easily refuted and given false information."

In the eighteen months since being elected to the Vermont Board of Representatives there have been exactly 34 regular meetings, six special meetings, and over 19 full evening budget meetings," Houley declared.

"My attendance record cannot be surpassed by any member of the Board of Representatives, including Mayor John Crest, who is my opponent's campaign manager," Houley continued.

"In fact I had never missed any regular meetings until Oct. 24, when I was out of the state on business."

Cupeake Sale Aids UNICEF

Students of the United Nations School in the town of Bennington held a cupcake sale yesterday morning.

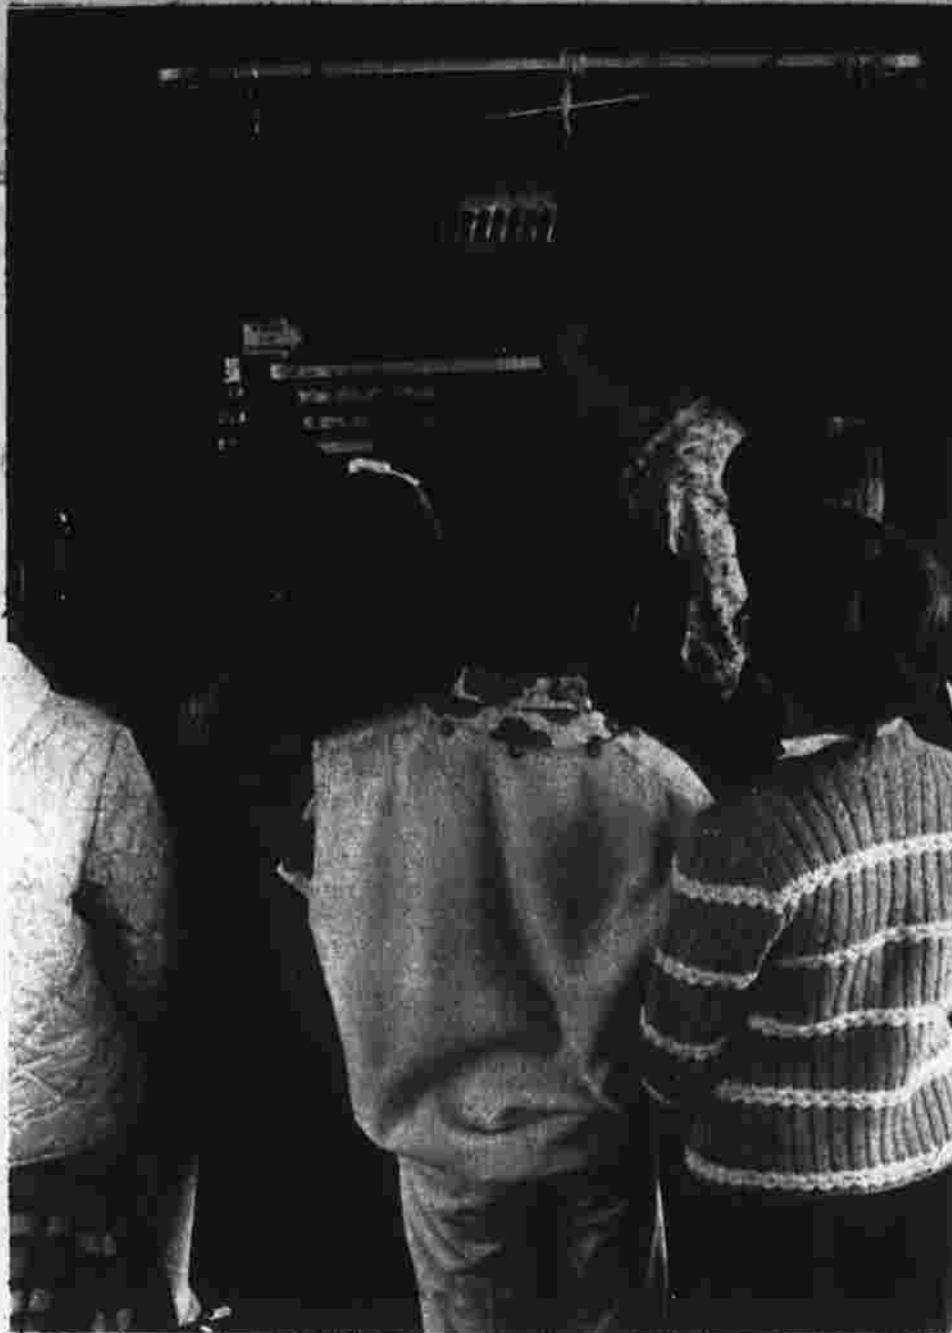

The students of Mrs. Gertrude Wolf and Mrs. Jean Freeman sold the cupcakes for a nickel apiece to their fellow students during the morning so they could eat them during lunch.

The sale earned $30, which was turned over to UNICEF.

The third graders will turn the money over to UNICEF.

Town Elementary School students received a practical course in civics yesterday at Town Hall as Mrs. Hannah Milder, machine tender, demonstrated the simple mysteries of voting machines.

WTIC Survey Indicates Gain For Humphrey

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—A telephone survey taken this week by WTIC and WED-TV indicates that Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey has closed to within a few percentage points of Republican Richard M. Nixon in Connecticut.

A larger sampling taken between Oct. 14 and Oct. 24 gave Nixon 43 per cent of the vote to Humphrey's 41 per cent. The vice president was the choice of 40 per cent in the more recent poll while Nixon's percentage remained the same.

The poll indicated that Humphrey's added support came mostly from previously undecided persons, with some shift also from those who had favored third-party candidate George C. Wallace.

While the earlier survey gave Wallace 8 per cent, this week's poll showed his support at 6 per cent. Meanwhile, the percentage of undecided persons dwindled from 17 to 11.

Some 3,000 responses were obtained in the first poll; about 800 in the second.

Democratic Sen. Abraham Ribicoff lost some strength, but was still far ahead of his Republican opponent, Edwin H. May, Jr., according to this week's poll. It showed Ribicoff with 65 per cent to 34 for May and 5 undecided, compared to 59 per cent for Ribicoff earlier with 30 per cent for May and 11 per cent undecided.

Mrs. Miller Reviews Issues
'Paramount' to Area Voters

Mrs. Dorothy Miller, in a price has destroyed virtually all salary increases.

On taxes, she said that "Governor Dempsey's so tax increase pledge carried out during the 1967 General Assembly resulted in a greater tax burden on the people of the state."

On education, she said that "the 1967 General Assembly passed a law that would have increased the state's contribution to the cost of education by 10 per cent."

On budget, she said that "the truth is that large deficits are synonymous with Democratic control of the legislature, while Republican control of the legislature has resulted in sizeable surpluses."

On special education, she said that "the 1967 General Assembly passed a law that would have increased the state's contribution to the cost of special education by 10 per cent."

On inflation, she said that "wage earners have seen their gross pay rise 23.25 since 1965, but their real pay has risen only 23 cents. Inflationary pressures have occupied her attention and which she said had been 'paramount' in the minds of many of the hundreds she has visited in their homes and places of business."

These are inflation, taxes, budgets and special education.

Herald Feels Agostinelli SHOULD WIN STATE SENATE SEAT

Below is a segment of an editorial carried by the Manchester Herald on Wed. Oct. 30, 1968

IT SHOULD BE MAYOR NATHAN AGOSTINELLI FOR THE STATE SENATE SEAT FROM THE FOURTH DISTRICT. It should be DONALD GENOVESI, ROBERT STAVNITSKY AND WILLIAM FORBES from the 18th, 19th, and 20th General Assembly Districts respectively.

SUCH REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES CAN, IF ELECTED, PLAY A PART IN TRYING TO BRAKE DOWN AND CONVERT TO 'SOLVENCY THE NO-BRAKES, NO STEERING WHEEL, NOT EVEN SEAT BELT DRAG RACING THE LAST ALL-DEMOCRATIC GENERAL ASSEMBLY TOOK THE STATE INTO.

HERE, TOO, GOVERNMENT IS RUNNING LOOSE AND OUT OF CONTROL HERE. TOO, THE GREAT PROBLEM IS THAT OF WHETHER OR NOT THE PEOPLE ARE GOING TO BE ABLE TO REGAIN SOME DEGREE OF INFLUENCE OVER THEIR OWN MOST VITAL AFFAIRS.

Mayor Harold Turkington stated that "Nathan Agostinelli represents the movement by young, energetic Republican candidates who are willing and able to assume roles in responsible positions in our local, state and federal governments." (Oct. 8, 1966, Herald).

John Garside, Secretary of Board of Directors (Herald, October 30, 1968). "Nate's dedication... His deep feeling of responsibility to all voters and taxpayers... bringing the people's voice back into government... his insistence that any tax dollars must be spent in the best interest of the taxpayers of Manchester... Nate will show you a better way."

I BELIEVE that the qualifications one needs to be in federal or state office are identical to those of local office:—

SINCERITY AND INTEGRITY... LOVE OF TOWN, STATE, AND NATION... DEVOTION TO JOB... REPRESENT THE PEOPLE... COURAGE TO TAKE A STAND ON CONTROVERSIAL ISSUES... HELP EVERY PERSON AND NOT JUST BIG BUSINESS OR THE VERY WEALTHY... A DESIRE TO MAKE OUR COMMUNITY A BETTER PLACE TO LIVE...

I do not feel that the number of clubs you belong to, or where your house is located, or the amount of your financial wealth are qualifications. If you elect me as your State Senator, I shall represent you on the State level with the same efforts and interest that I have tried to exert as your Mayor.

My phone and home and time have always been available to old or young, rich or poor, famous or unknown residents of our town of Manchester. I shall work as hard as being your State Senator as I have as your Mayor. BUT NOW, I NEED YOUR HELP.

Sincerely
NATE AGOSTINELLI
GOP Candidate, State Senator

Committee for Nathan Agostinelli (Frank Filorano, Treasurer)

Waiting For Help To Come

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the time of the year when under normal conditions people employed by television networks suddenly start talking a lot about "Father Knows Best" and "The Dick Van Dyke Show."

"Sure, 'He and She' isn't getting good ratings," they were protesting last season at this time. "But remember that 'Father Knows Best' had a terrible time with the ratings at first and finally caught on..."

"Yes, 'Accidental Family' isn't doing at all well, but give it time. After all, 'The Dick Van Dyke Show' was actually canceled when its ratings started to go up and you know what happened after that..."

Both 'He and She' and 'Accidental Family' departed because audience help never arrived. But this season, although it is easy enough to spot the hits, the misses are more difficult to recognize.

The reason is a busy, confusing combination of paid political broadcasts, variety or dramatic specials and even professional football games in prime evening time slots of them, pre-empt the regular series and affect others.

Sometimes these pre-emptions cause mysterious increases in flagging ratings. For instance, 'The Beautiful Phyllis Diller Show' on Sunday nights seems to be one of the soft spots in the NBC schedule. In a Nielsen report issued Monday, however, it ranked 12th in popularity in a list of 97 programs. In the previous report a week ago, it was 68th in a list of 90. Its rating zoomed from an anemic 12.9 to a blooming 22.8.

The reason? "Mission: Impossible," its CBS competition, was pre-empted for a political broadcast, so a lot of people who normally watched the adventure show tuned in the NBC show. And, in addition, NBC had announced that it would interrupt the Diller show as soon as it received film of the Kennedy-Onassis wedding.

A couple of weeks ago, NBC's "Ironside" took a dramatic nosedive in the ratings. It turned out that about three dozen stations that normally broadcast the program had pre-empted its time period for a regional political broadcast.

No one connected with a current program, including network executives, will ever admit that any series is wasting away for the simple reason that it is a lousy show that people tune out. TV shows, to hear them defend them, suffer because of circumstances—running against powerful feature movies, against an established, popular show, shown at a time when the audience is otherwise occupied or following a program that chased viewers to other channels.

Whatever the causes, some new and some old programs appear to be in trouble. Among them are ABC's "Ugliest Girl in Town" and "The Don Rickles Show"; CBS's "Daktari" and "Blondie" and NBC's "New Adventures of Huck Finn" and "Star Trek." All these—and several more—appear regularly on the losers end of the weekly Nielsen list.

Whatever the causes, some

"Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in" continues to be the ratings champ in the weekly show category. In the new report it was topped only by Bob Hope's comedy special, and few programs can ever beat Hope. "Julia" continuing to hold its place in the top 10, now seems securely established as the season's biggest hit.

June Lockhart Is Back in Comedy

HOLLYWOOD (AP) —

There's a new lady at Petticoat Junction, but she won't be new to veteran television watchers.

June Lockhart has begun a starring role in the bucolic CBS series, replacing the late Bea Benaderet.

"I'm sorry it had to be under these circumstances," says Miss Lockhart, "but I'm delighted to be joining the show. For one thing, I play a doctor, and I'm a medical buff; I read the doctors' journals every month."

"Also, I'm a railroad buff. My husband (architect John Lindsay) and I belong to a society of ferroequinologists, which means iron horse students, and we often take trips with fellow members to explore old rail routes."

"An added factor is that I'll be playing a doctor from the big city, and I'll be able to wear smart clothes—and to do some comedy. On the stage and in live television, I always played comedy. But in films and in television series, I somehow got typed in serious roles.

"I spent six years in 'Lassie,' clutching my breast and calling, 'Lassie, come home!'"

The daughter of film performers Gene and Kathleen Lockhart, June began her acting career by playing their daughter in MGM's "A Christmas Carol" in 1938. She had a lively career as an ingenue in such films as "All This and Heaven, Too," "Meet Me in St. Louis," "White Cliffs of Dover" and even "Son of Lassie." She graduated from little-girl roles with a seductive performance in "For Love or Money" on Broadway, then returned to films as a leading lady.

Her career with "Lassie" looked as if it might develop into a lifetime job, but then the series' producers decided to scuttle the dog's family and send him off to live with a forest ranger.

"They took me to lunch at the Brown Derby and broke it to me gently," Miss Lockhart recalled. "They said they were getting rid of the family, but

Comedians' Quips Give Towns Fame

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Outside of having a natural disaster or a famous son, a town's best chance for fame may be to capture a comedian's fancy.

Three Los Angeles suburbs were relatively obscure until Jack Benny's stationmaster in 1941 began 24 years of howling on radio and television: "Train leaves on track five for Anaheim, Azusa and Cuc-Arizona."

Vaudevillians used to stutter, "I'm from Walla Walla, the town they n-named t-twice."

The latest comedy-celebrated community is Burbank, population 97,000, whose chamber of commerce threw a big civic luncheon the other day to honor television's Dan Rowan and Dick Martin for references to "beautiful downtown Burbank" on their "laugh-in" series. The comedians tape the show at the NBC studios in Burbank.

The "lunch-in" had all the trimmings: Rowan, Martin and their cast arriving on shrieking Burbank fire trucks... about 1,000 diners... a congressman and several state legislators on the date... honorary chamber memberships and ambassadorial sashes for Dan and Dick... kisses from Miss Burbank, Terry Murphy.

"You have made 'beautiful downtown Burbank' a nationally recognized slogan," Mayor John E. Whitney intoned.

The honors actually represented a turning of the other cheek. Rowan and Martin—ignoring the town's $1 million shopping mall, starlight theater and other attractions—had filmed and shown the national audience a dilapidated motel, trash-littered alleys and other views as "beautiful downtown Burbank."

"Luckily," said Rowan, "we have a community with a sense of humor."

The reverse of praise has paid off in tourist-attracting publicity "you couldn't afford to buy," said the mayor. A tourist wrote him, "we drove all the way from Cleveland to see beautiful downtown Burbank."

Some airline pilots tell passengers, "now landing in beautiful downtown Burbank." Bumper stickers, "vacation in beautiful downtown Burbank," have shown up as far away as West Germany. Some distant telephone operators ask, "Oh is this beautiful downtown Burbank?"

Dialect virtuoso Mel Blanc, who played Benny's train caller, says Chillicothe, Scappoose, Hoquiam and Puyallup were favorites of vaudevillians, who thought they sounded funny.

Bob Hope told vaudeville audience, "I played Elyria, Patneville and Ashfabula—and then I played the small towns."

New York comics still get laughs with Brooklyn. And a grateful Waukegan, Benny's oft-mentioned home town,
