any part of the globe—perhaps, not, the territory has been widened to include space as well—any time its country needs to.

Along such lines, it has now been revealed that one of the great American prizes is World War II. It was the successful capture of the famous map files of the German General Staff, and that one of the great prizes within this prize was the special maps of the impassable border land in Central Asia, the German General Staff had prepared with the aid of a Swedish spy.

That indicates that now, thanks to space travel, our War Department is pretty well set, map-wise, for any eventualities anywhere, and, with today's weapons, somewhat more capable of waging war in or on Tibet than was the German General Staff. Then it took a few pains to have the map, at least, ready for Hitler.

One never knows, one says to one's self if one is in a sufficient mood, it would be foolish to say one would never need to fight in Tibet, wouldn't it?

The crusade to introduce the siesta to American living continues to lose ground. Not only is the siesta being ousted from the American home, but it is being ousted from the American mind.

Indian Ocean. This was followed by the still-discussed Apollo 11 mission, which marked the first manned circumnavigation flight. This year—1969 will mark the landing of astronauts to return lunar surface samples and relay television pictures from the surface.

Thus, by 1967, when the first plateau ended, we had acquired significant information about government of the earth, the moon and some of the planets. Plateau 2 began not in 1967, but rather, in 1968 when the Russians landed a probe on the moon, the path to manned space exploration suddenly opened.

The Space Age today has reached the second of three plateaus on the way toward manned landings on the planets. The first plateau was achieved in 1957 with the successful launching of Sputnik 1, the first Russian satellite.

Our colleagues covering the 1969 General Assembly had a most interesting time. Hi folks! Well, who would at Bennett Junior High and so on. We're very grateful to you all for volunteering and getting a chance to help. We also want to thank the remaining volunteers.

Well now, let's not have any more snowstorms. I had to go through when all we needed to get through was a little snow. Because of the storm, all our goodies, and because activities were very definitely curtailed including the snow-throwing older, I don't quite fit in with the right age bracket to call a choice of these youngsters.

With all the snow and its problems, just picture what else I had to go through when all we needed to get through was a little snow. Because of the storm, all our goodies, and because activities were very definitely curtailed including the snow-throwing older, I don't quite fit in with the right age bracket to call a choice of these youngsters.

Wonders of the Universe

New Space Age Era

By DR. I. M. LEVITT, Director of The Franklin Institute

The dramatic Apollo 8 flight brought us closer to the end of one era and the beginning of another in the Space Age. With the successful flight around the moon, the path to manned space exploration suddenly opened.

The Space Age today has reached the second of three plateaus on the way toward manned landings on the planets. The first plateau was achieved in 1957 with the successful launching of Sputnik 1, the first Russian satellite.

Later, the Russians started the world with their first manned space flight, when the flight another milestone was passed, for man had successfully risen above the atmosphere to orbit the earth.

In 1969 the Russians once more pulled a coup. They not only succeeded in hitting the moon but launched a lunar probe which circled the moon to relay to earth the first pictures of the moon's hidden side.

More and more satellites were launched, and finally, successful Mariner spacecraft were launched to Venus and Mars by the United States and the Russians launched their Venus 4.

Seven Wins in Last Eight Starts Tech Needs Overtime

Still elated after gaining a journey spot for the first time in 28 years, Cheney Tech was forced into overtime last night in Somers before overcoming Stafford High, 68-65, in a thriller.

The Beavers got 30 points from John Goodrow who scored in the first half and 16 in the second half. He hit 16 times from the field and added three charity tosses.

Dave Heritage (12) and Dan Swartz (10) again wound up in twin totals for the winners. Game scoring honors went to points.

Top Performance Nets MCC Victory

Turning in its best effort of the season, Manchester Community College last night scored an impressive 100-70 decision over Concordia College of New York at the Clarke Arena.

The success was the 18th in 21 starts for Coach Pat Mistralla's high-scoring combine. Simply fantastic off both boards were Dandy Don Chafin and Bob Beckwith. Both grabbed more than 20 rebounds and also paced the scoring.

Chafin, the team's leading point maker, with 28 points, and Beckwith, with 20 points, led the attack. Chafin also had 10 rebounds and Beckwith had 10.

Cold Spells Hits Celtics In Setback

ATLANTA (AP) — The Boston Celtics picked the wrong time to run into cold spells and it cost them valuable ground in the National Basketball Association's Eastern division race.

The Celtics blew a lead, rallied to tie and then missed a shot in the closing seconds of the fourth period Friday night before losing to the Atlanta Hawks 104-101 in overtime.

With the score tied at 92, the Celtics called time out to set up what they hoped would be one final decisive shot.

Strike Now Reality Stan Smith Can Enhance Recognition

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — Baseball's player strike became a reality Friday when the Chicago White Sox opened camp a week earlier than most clubs.

The White Sox, because of an exhibition series scheduled in Mexico City prior to the opening of spring training camps, called the strike a week earlier than the other major leagues.

Stan Smith, who was the player representative when he talked about the strike, said he was glad to see the players' union taking such a strong stand.

Maxwell, Beard Share Golf Lead In Phoenix Play
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — "They're bigger and taller and have more instruction in the fundamentals," said Billy Maxwell, well known golfing pro, who has been leading the Arizona Country Club in the 1800-member Phoenix Open.

Yet, going into the third round today, it was the 29-year-old Texan, Maxwell, and Frank Beard, 29, of Louisville, leading the remaining 78 pros who survived Friday's cut.

Maxwell shot a 68 and Beard a 69 on the second round to capture the midway-point at 131.

The Senators' new owner, Robert E. Short, who bought the team last week for $20 million, confirmed he had offered Williams options on a six-year contract.

"I haven't signed a contract yet, but we're definitely agreeing on terms," Williams added.

The former Boston Red Sox slugger, who ranks as baseball's greatest living hitter with a career average of .344, said only one more minor league contract remains to be worked out by attorneys.

"The money is certainly a part of my decision," Williams said, "but I can't deny I love baseball."

He added, "Besides, I've been sitting around doing very little for eight years except fishing."

Williams, last man in the majors to go to the majors, was traded from the Boston Red Sox to the Los Angeles Angels in 1962.

Windham Marks Men Win In Match Against Indians

The Manchester High rifle team lost another close match to strong Windham High yesterday 902 to 891.

Weakness in the difficult standing position was evident in the results of this match as this contributed rather heavily to the Manchester defeat. With hopes of still capturing a winning season in the remaining six matches, the team travels to Meriden to take on Wilcox Tech, a match postponed because of the snow storm on Monday.

Manchester's record now stands at 4-8 while Windham is 5-4.

Driver Dies In Car Crash

A one-car auto crash at Bolton Notch took the life of Clifford Wilde, 58, of Rt. 12, Danvers last night at about 11 p.m.

State police suspect Wilde was struck just before his car hit a guard rail at the overpass where Rt. 6 merges with Rt. 44-A. No skid marks were found and the nature of Wilde's injuries were not serious enough to cause death, police feel.

Police said the car was west bound on Rt. 6 when it went off the road to the left and hit guard rails.

An autopsy will be performed today at Rockville General Hospital to determine the cause of death.

Since that time a new show has been chosen every season.

Previous shows have been as far west as Kansas and Mon-

Nixon Said Wooing Top Labor Units

The labor leaders also give Nixon points for not trying to compel a settlement of the two months longshoremen's strike with special legislation such as Johnson had done in some major strikes.

"He kept his cool," a highly placed AFL-CIO source said of Nixon's handling of the dock strike, which he inherited from the Johnson administration.

One major reservation in labor's cautious optimism toward the GOP administration is Nixon's proposal for "new approaches" in federal labor law for dealing with national emergency strikes. The only weapon in the present Taft-Hartley Act is an 80-day cooling off injunction to halt a strike which the government considers endangers the national health or safety.

The dock strike resumed after an 80-day "cool-off" period injunction invoked by Johnson.

Most union chiefs here don't see any stiff new anti-strike law in the cards, but they are waiting to cross examine Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz on what Nixon has in mind.

Shultz will appear before the AFL-CIO executive council next week.

Nixon eased on fear of labor by promising not to try to impose any white house guideline limits on wage hikes to curb rising prices, a tactic which Johnson used unsuccessfully and had the labor movement up in arms about it two years.

Peru Releases U.S. Tuna Boat

The State Department has not said whether the law would be invoked.

Last year Peru received $6 million in military aid from the United States and $15 million in economic aid.

The incident Friday soured already deteriorating relations between Washington and Lima. Peru's military regime last fall expropriated the U.S.-owned International Petroleum Co.'s wells and refineries in Peru and later took over the company's facilities.

The United States has threatened to cut off all aid to Peru and stop buying Peruvian sugar—valued at $40 million last year—if the government refused to pay compensation for the property.

The Lima government replied to the threat with a charge of "economic aggression," and the incident has stirred growing anti-American feeling in Peru.

School Board To Take Up Personnel, Fiscal Matters

The board has received a letter from Chester A. Zaniewski, chief of the lease division of the State Public Works Dept., in answer to a reply by board member Herbert A. Phelon Jr. to Zaniewski's letter of Jan. 22.

In that communication Zaniewski outlined the board's interest in renewing Manchester Community College's lease of Manchester High School facilities. Now he is requesting the stipulation of terms and conditions of a firm lease proposal.

A complaint has been registered by residents of Glendale, Winthrop, and Garnett Rds., regarding transportation to Keeney School. The board will take up both the letter and the proposed solution of the problem made by Douglas Pierce, business manager, which was unacceptable to the area families.

In the first of two "wash-out" accounts, a $2,550 balance of the $10,990 account established Dec. 9 for Project Remodel, a joint high school mathematics program, is to be used to purchase desk calculators now on loan. Purchase at this time will require the board's approval to by-pass customary bidding procedures.

A new account of $1,277 must be established for a summer school classes in reading and arithmetic for approximately 30 children in grades 2-6. The program has been approved by the State Department of Education for funding under Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Act of 1965.

The State Department of Education has also allocated an additional $9,720 to the adult basic education program. Previously $9,900 was allocated. A motion will be in order to add the new appropriation to the established account.

Democratic Caucus Names Candidates

Democrats endorsed all the Democratic Town Committee's recommendations at a party caucus last night attended by 43 persons.

There were two nominations from the floor, one to school board, and one for assessor; but both lost in the balloting to the committee's recommended candidates.

Mrs. Virginia Butterfield, a former school board member, was nominated to that board for one of the full terms. In a best-two-out-of-three contest, she polled the least votes. The tally was Mrs. Marilyn Moonan, 30, Ronald Farris, 29, and Mrs. Butterfield, 21.

(This column was in error yesterday when Mrs. Moonan's husband, Russell, was listed for the school board position.)

Richard Barry was nominated from the floor for the Board of Assessors. In the polling, committee-endorsed candidate Aloysius Ahearn received 26 votes, and Barry, 17.

Ahearn will automatically become an assessor in the May 5 election because a Democrat is needed to fulfill the minority representation requirement. The other two members of the board, Mrs. Gertrude Noren and Ray Cocconi, Republicans, are not up for re-election this year.

In his campaign for representative from the 5th District, Ahearn advocated regional professional assessors to be shared by all towns.

Ahearn was also endorsed for one of the full terms on the Board of Finance, along with John Connolly, a newcomer to Bolton politics. Russell Moonan, who is filling an unexpired term, was switched to the partial-term slot after its meeting Thursday night.

The nature of this partial term was being investigated by both parties. According to the secretary of state's office, in a ruling announced last night, the Democratic candidate for the partial term is automatically selected, fulfilling the minority representation requirement of at least two from the same party on a six-man board. Moonan is therefore assured of the post. Foreseeing this, the Republican Town Committee has endorsed one for that slot, although William Cavanagh, has filed.

Ahearn and Connolly will oppose the two Republican candidates. Roy Peckham and Norman Lemaire have been endorsed by the GOP town committee for those spots. Remaining on the board this year are Republicans T. J. Crockett and William Riley and Democrat Paul Brown.

The vacancies on the Board of Education are treated separately. The town committee switched its endorsed candidates for three positions here, also, putting William Houle in one of the partial term positions, assured of election. Houle is currently serving an unexpired term. The Republicans will also set up one candidate for the other partial term, also assured of election.

The Republicans and the Democrats each put up one candidate.

alleged "racist policies."

At San Francisco State College, three hecklers and the Negro director of the school's new Black Studies Department were arrested Friday after they interrupted a speech by Acting President S.I. Hayakawa.

Nathan Hare, the director, led the hecklers onto the stage where Hayakawa was welcoming about 500 teachers for the spring semester, which begins Monday. "Get the hell out of here!" Hayakawa barked at Hare. Laughing, Hare replied, "We're not going."

"This is a perfect example of their tactics to suppress freedom of speech," Hayakawa told the audience later during a lull in the noise. He was cheered when he pledged to keep the campus open "no matter what it takes."

said, this way, senator, and took him to the right."

Edward Minsalan of the hotel's catering department testified he heard the plans were changed to accommodate newsmen from the eastern time zone who had to make deadlines.

Uecker said that in the pantry he heard something like a fire-cracker.

"I looked and saw a man with a gun in his hand. I grabbed for the gun. I was trying to push the gun away from the senator."

The man kept shooting I don't know how many shots. I bent him over the steam table as far as I could."

The Warren Commission said all of the shots that struck the President and Gov. John B. Connally were fired from a sixth floor window of the depository by Oswald, acting alone. It said it found no credible evidence of conspiracy.

Shaw, 55, a retired New Orleans businessman, was charged with conspiring with Oswald and others to murder Kennedy.

Other witnesses were Miss Elizabeth Carolyn Walker and Roger D. Craig, both of Dallas. Miss Walker said she looked at the depository as she waited for the motorcade and saw, in an open window, two men—one of them holding a gun. She said she heard four shots, not three. "I was very questioned about this by law enforcement officials," she was asked on cross-examination.

"Yes, sir, by the FBI," she replied. She was promptly dismissed.

Craig, a former Dallas County deputy sheriff, said he saw a muscular, Latin-looking man while Oswald away from the scene after the assassination.

Testimony by Craig was roughly the same account he gave the Warren Commission—which decided "it could not accept important elements of Craig's testimony."

In Washington, general sessions court Judge C.W. Halleck ruled that Garrison could obtain the rifle used in the assassination—but rejected a request for some items sought in the subpoena hearing.

Garrison had asked for X-rays and photographs made at the Kennedy autopsy, contending they would corroborate other evidence in showing the Presidential assassination.

The judge ruled that if the federal government gives Dr. Cabot U.S. Ambassador Henry Caryl H. Wecht, a pathologist, permission to look at the autopsy documents they need not be sent to the Shaw trial.

A spokesman for the New York-New Jersey Waterfront Commission estimated that 9,000 to 15,000 men were answering job calls today, beginning the return to work at Saturday premium pay.

The time-and-a-half rate was on an hourly wage of $4, up 38 cents from the last contract. Wages will increase another 60 cents hourly in the next two years of the three-year contract. The agreement also gives the longshoremen a full year's guaranteed employment.

Longshoremen voted Friday, by 9,329 to 3,213, to accept the agreement reached on Jan. 14 by the New York Shipping Association and the International Longshoremen's Association.

The ballot was held under a federal court order secured by the National Labor Relations Board. Union officials had sought to block the vote until the other agreed to similar terms.

Fire in Ellington Kills Two Persons

A combination oil and gas stove in the kitchen of a 10-room Ellington home on Crane Rd. is suspected of causing the fire last night which killed two of the home's three residents.

Mrs. Serina Haezelm, 88, and her son, George Woodward, 64, were found dead in their bedrooms in the large old home after the fire was put out about 10 p.m., according to Chief Walker Blair of the Ellington Volunteer Fire Department.

Another son, Charles Woodward, 60, was the fire's only survivor. He told what happened to firemen and state police.

The older brother said he was sitting in the living room at about 8:15 last night he got up and went to the kitchen. He opened the door and found the room ablaze, he said.

He yelled to his mother, who was in a downstairs bedroom, and his brother, who was in an upstairs bedroom, and then he ran outside and to the house of a neighbor, Mrs. George Bidwell.

Woodward's hair was singed and his glasses were black when he entered the Bidwell home and said his house was on fire.

The Bidwells called the police and the fire department as Woodward ran back out "to see what he could do to help," Mrs. Bidwell said.

Woodward and Mrs. Bidwell's son, George Jr., 18, went to the two-story wood house but were unable to reach the victims inside the burning building.

A sneeze at the wrong turn caused the car driven by Ross W. Sherman, 19, of 187 Clinton Dr., Wapping to go off the right side of Slater Rd. last night and strike a tree before coming to rest in a ditch, Sherman told police.

Sherman was uninjured, but the car was towed from the scene. He was given a written warning for driving too fast for conditions.

Manchester police reported eight other minor accidents, most due to ice on the roads.

Will the World Spoil Goldie Hawn?

By WAYNE WARGA The Los Angeles Times

HOLLYWOOD — Goldie Hawn made her first appearance on "Rowan & Martin's Laugh-In" when the show was several weeks old and everybody was edgy. The night of her first taping the following exchange took place between Goldie and producer George Schlatter, both of which are a little bit cuckoo. "George," Goldie complained, "some of these people don't think I'm for real." "Don't worry, Goldie," Schlatter confided in return, "some of them think I am."

Schlatter still wonders just who was putting whom on. He thinks he may have come out second best. Later that evening he got Goldie to say "Oh, poor baby" in front of the camera. The rest is Monday night history: The emergence of a leggy, insouciant, sexy d'ingaling named Goldie Jean Hawn. At 23, she can massacre a sentence, write her name backwards and quite literally charm millions of people at once. She's funny, too. Goldie is not really a dumb blonde. For one thing, she's not really a blonde. For another, she's not so much a dummy as she is basically a silly girl with a large dose of common sense. She has been silly, she claims, since she was a three-year-old in Washington, D.C., and liked to run through the backyard naked, pretending she was a cherub.

"I can remember almost all of my childhood, and all the memories are pleasant. There was no conflict, no push and no competition in my family. When I decided to go into show business no one disagreed. My father, who is a musician, believed we should do whatever we wanted."

Her first job back in California was in the chorus of the Andy Griffith special. Next, she was a wacky neighbor in "Good Morning World," an ABC bomb three seasons ago. But Goldie's hunch proved right; the night ABC canceled the series Schlatter saw the show, telephoned Goldie and she moved over to "Laugh-In."

A small apartment in the foothills of Hollywood contains Goldie, a poodle called Lamb Chop and a Siamese kitten, Ticia. It is a most unshowbusiness sort of place, with warm carpeting, cluttered bookshelves, lots of dark wood and classical records.

There are also several pipes lying around. They belong to Goldie's intended, a handsome 29-year-old Greek-American, Gus Trikonis.

"Gus is one of those all-over-the-place-very quietly type of people. We met when we were both working in a road company of "Kiss Me Kate" and he's been my guy ever since. We've both changed a lot; especially Gus. He can do a lot of things; dance, act and paint," she says, gesturing at the paintings in her living room. "Now he's settled on producing and his first picture is being edited. We have a lot to look forward to."

They have dated steadily for two years and plan to marry next summer.

Last summer, while all the "Laugh-In" cast capitalized on their familiar faces and wits at fairs and in night clubs, Goldie went to Washington for a short visit and spent the remainder of the summer being domestic.

Jack Benny at 75: Still Fretting

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — By mid-afternoon Thursday, the world's youngest 39-year-old violinist had been so busy answering telephone calls and being interviewed by relays of journalists that he was still in pajamas and dressing gown. The debris of a late breakfast still occupied a table in the living room of his hotel suite.

Jack Benny, born in Waukegan, Ill., on Feb. 14, 1894, celebrated his 39th birthday—again—yesterday. The birthday is a milestone, but since Jack has an NBC special coming up next Monday, it seemed less important than making sure Benny fans would tune in.

"When you do a few specials as I do—like one a year," explained Jack, with his own brand of earnest, blue-eyed salesmanship, "You've got to make sure that they—the audience—remember when you are on. It's different, of course, when you have a weekly or even a monthly show."

The comedian, after 75 years mostly spent in show business, still frets about his appearances on television as much as a kid with his first booking.

"What are you doing in all those gasoline commercials?" was a question asked by several interviewers.

"When it comes that way I know they are after something," said Benny with utter seriousness. "I just ask them why they don't ask me what Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Bob Hope and I are doing in all those commercials. I'll tell you this: It was a fabulous offer and the company was interested in a lot of things. I wouldn't have touched them unless the company had been interested in sponsoring my special. Besides, I love doing them—they relate to me and they make people laugh. So?"

Benny, looks like a man in his 50s. He works, he estimates, about six months out of the year—TV shows, charity concerts, club dates and even an occasional tour. The rest of the time he spends playing what he calls "dreadful golf" in Los Angeles or Palm Springs. His wife, Mary, accompanies her husband on his many trips only when he expects to be away from home for a prolonged period. They moved into an apartment several years ago but "Mary felt cooped up," and they expect to move back into a Beverly Hills house again soon, they also have a home in Palm Springs. His health is excellent. Jack will fly back to Los Angeles today for a small birthday gathering at home, followed on Saturday by a bash thrown by the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences—not for his birthday but for his 20th anniversary in TV.

Are the Movies Still a Treat?

NEW YORK (AP)— Broadcasts of feature movies on television occupying two-hour blocks of prime network time seven nights a week, are not quite the treats they were when the vogue started. Audiences now seem to be tuning in the blockbusters with the star power and keeping away from turkeys. To date this season, the most popular movie broadcast has been ABC's "Cat Ballou" early in October, with NBC's "To Kill a Mocking Bird" in November second. Least popular according to Nielsen reports were ABC's rebroadcast of "The King and I" and CBS's "The Defector."

Will the World Spoil Goldie Hawn?

She went to Sears, bought a sewing machine, and now makes some of her own clothes. She is also a furious knitter.

If all this seems strange for a girl who—on camera—seems to have an IQ the same as her age, it doesn't bother Goldie a bit.

"The silliness is just a part of me. So sure, I can be silly at home, too, and I often am. You really want to know what it is? It's timing, that's the key to comedy. My timing is nothing intellectualized—it's just something instinctive, something a part of me."

"I am also feminine. Ann-Margaret, I think, is the last of the aggressive, invented sex symbols. Lena Horne, Sophia Loren and Audrey Hepburn—my favorite women—are the other kind, feminine and honest, the kind of women other women don't resent and the men like best. Women must be real and they must be feminine."

Goldie will soon test her femininity against the comic precision of Walter Matthau—as his girlfriend and her opposition—in "Cactus Flower." It will be a big film and an important break. She has passed up commercial after commercial (totaling more than 100,000 dollars) waiting for a film offer, and now she's anxious to get the movie started.

"I'm not a skilled actress, but I've had experience. It's useless now to take lessons. It seems more sensible to rely on timing and the experience I've had. I'm not a skilled singer either, but I like singing."

"Most of the stuff I do on the show I'm doing fresh. I never memorize too far ahead; I do it as I go on because that way it's more spontaneous."

Consider Goldie's mishandling of Colorado River Rapids Boating Hint Number 304. In a miniskirt and life vest she marched up to the cameras and said, or rather tried to say, "If you're shooting the rapids and you look up and see a boat passing over you, you're drowning." The first time she did it, with most of the cast and all of the crew watching, she got the giggles. So did everyone else. Gordon Wiles, "Laugh-In's" director, asked her to do it again. "We couldn't quite understand what you said," he explained.

"Neither did I," Goldie cackled back.

Schlatter, amused, shouted "go to it, Goldie!" from the sidelines.

The sequence was repeated, with Goldie giggling her way through transposed words and improbable expressions. When she finished Wiles announced, "I wouldn't change you for the world, Goldie. That was perfect."

The big question right now: Will the world change the freshness of Goldie? Probably not; she seems to know where she's going and she's a lot stronger than she looks. The direction, generally, is up. If you don't believe it, you could look it up in your Funk & Wagnalls.

Sports Show Established

NEW YORK (NEA) —After only one year, the Academy of Professional Sports show on NBC seems to be permanently established. This year's show, to be aired on Feb. 19, will be bigger and better and producer Gerry Gross hopes all the bugs are out.

What makes Gross particularly happy is that the athletes themselves apparently recognize it as important. They are all eager to participate, often (as in the case of Joe Namath this year) foregoing big-paying jobs to be present.

"One reason," Gross says, "is because we treated them all first class last year —put them up at the Beverly Wilshire, put a limousine at their disposal, gave them a party and expense money —and the word got around."

Gross sees sports as a major part of television's future.

"Eventually," he says, "I think nighttime TV will be news, sports, specials, movies and an occasional series."
