Payroll Tax Proposal Comes Under Attack From Industrialists

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The president of one of Connecticut's major utility companies today attacked a payroll tax proposal to "act in a state-male manner" by enacting a personal income tax increase.

Another utility executive, President Anthony Wallace of the Connecticut Light & Power Co., called for imposition of the corporate tax on utilities instead of raising the present tax on gross receipts.

Wallace, a former Republican speaker of the state House of Representatives, said he understood the political hazards of raising more revenues for the state. He assured the committee that his company was willing to pay its fair share of a general tax increase.

However, taxing the earnings of utilities would be preferable to increasing the present tax on their gross receipts, he said. Most of the witnesses at the hearing were manufacturers opposed to the administration's proposal.

Ben. William Verrier, D-Waterbury, who is co-chairman of the Finance Committee, interrupted Governor's call for an income tax and told him to stick to the subject.

Bowman replied that he felt it was his responsibility to propose a tax without recommending an alternative source of revenue.

should not necessarily rest upon or be followed by any naive public assumption that he is a (Delaware) businessman.

Another Postal Increase? Sixteen months ago, the five cent letter became a thing of the past.

The reason seems to be that all members between five and ten a year pay the same to the paying public.

Our contention is that in a nation which has had little hesitancy in weaving into its fabric the most sophisticated machinery for everything from farmers to air line there ought to be at least one little subsidy for every man.

And the sentimental little subsidy we would like to see provided for the ordinary citizen is that of being able to write a letter, either for friendship or for business, for him or for her for a nominal rather than for a bulge-balancing fee.

THE AMHERST LETTER: The faculty and students of Amherst College have just experienced an exciting semester.

Like it or not, the whole resolution of the Pueblo case, from the methods of the government employed to obtain the release of the Pueblo crew on down to Secretary Chase's final rulings this week, concludes one more proof that we are making ourselves less and less capable of that tough, unthinking, unswerving militarism which was once supposed to represent the highest strength and glory of a nation.

Like it or not, we are turning soft. The outcome of the Pueblo case—with no court martial for any of the principals involved—may be just. In our opinion it is, just from every humane, civilized point of view.

In this softness, we entertain and tolerate new degrees of protest against the very wars in which our own nation is engaged.

In this softness, we relax the standards of conduct for those who wear the uniform.

In this softness, we lose the capacity to strike for total victory. We do not even "fight to win."

The President's speech. Interpretation of it differs. There are those who think it is the end and the small for America, and that what it signifies is that we are on the way to making ourselves the doormat of the world.

And there are those who think this may be the birth of the American we were destined to be from the beginning—a leader in civilization. It may be our people are indeed getting an education they are beginning to reject war as a proper, legalized institution in human affairs.

Are we really getting ready to put people above discipline, questions of humanity above those of national pride and prowess?

We have a long way to go, if that is the direction. But no other age has gone quite this far.

"They have suffered enough," says Navy Secretary Chafe of the men and officers of the Pueblo, and the human part of us all agree.

"They have suffered enough," one might say of all the innocents of the world who get ground up by the savage mills of war.

Is civilization trying to establish an amnesty for them too?

Not Quite Sir Galahad. Greco-Latin, tortuously for a nation which surely would never know what to do for itself if he ever stopped watching out for it.

Nepotism and corruption are, in this instance, the parallels to bothism of decay Mr. Nader might, on one hand, be discovering in the nation's food supply, or to the sundry ills and dangers he now makes a profession of discovering in whatever field may make news any given weekend.

There can be no quarrel with Mr. Nader's decision to create a career for himself in the role of grand protector of the universe, so long as it is understood that this is what he is doing—making a career.

On that basis, his own eventual fame and property should rest on the accuracy and honesty of his charges and disclosures.

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans Jr. Robert D. Novak

NEW YORK—As Mayor John V. Lindsay began a walking tour in his old Manhattan Congressional district last week, a well-dressed matron broke through the phalanx of Negro boys trailing the Mayor to ask him a question.

"Do you know what's going down there?" she asked, pointing to a Lindsay supporter who was widely scattered among the edge of the Murray Hill district. "The drugs and sex and who knows what else."

"Yes, I know," Lindsay replied softly and moved on. "You bet you know," the woman shouted after him, "but you don't do a damn thing about it!"

It will continue until you and the other political leaders of our country address more effectively, manfully, and persistently the major social and foreign problems of our society.

Such ideological alienation represents one level of Lindsay's difficulty within his own party. The other is at the clubhouse level where stalwarts of the New York Republican organization have defected from Lindsay by alarming numbers.

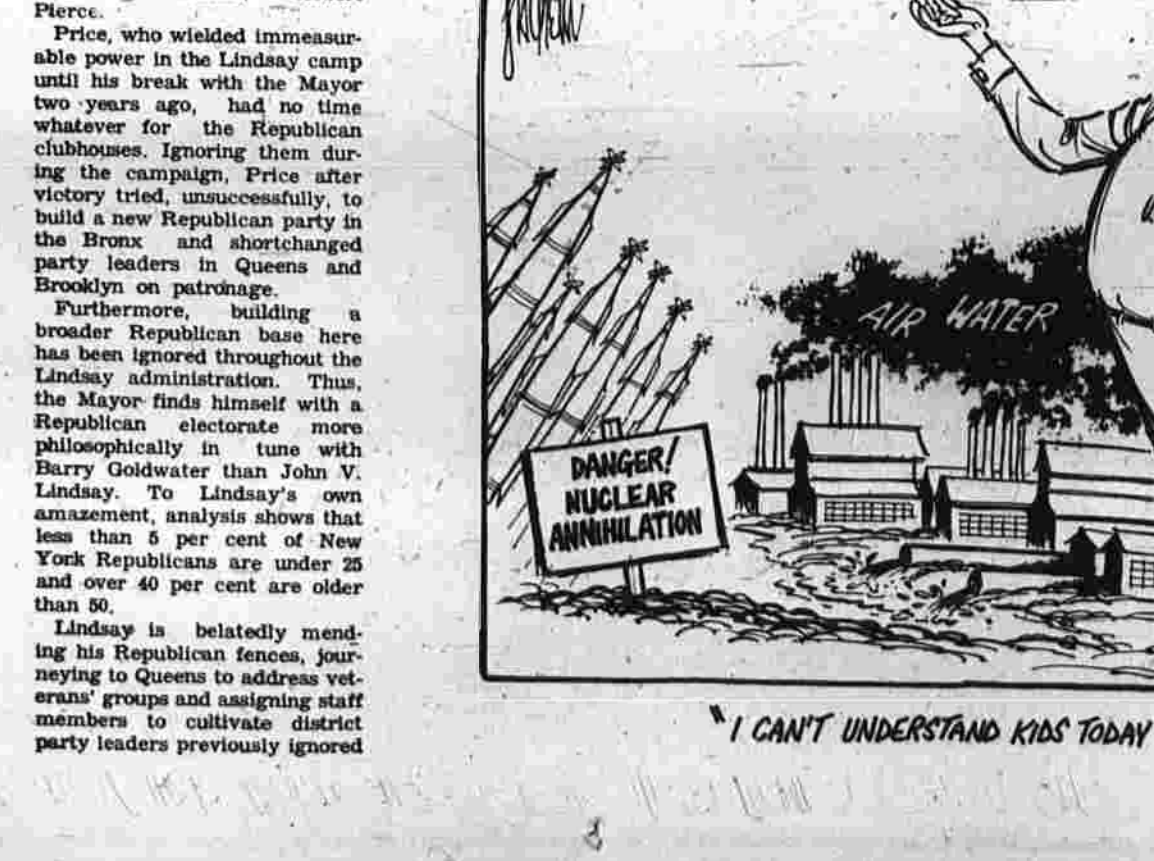

On this date in 1945, President Harry S. Truman announced the end of the war in Europe. He said in a broadcast: "The allied armies, through sacrifice and devotion and with God's help, have won from Germany a final and unconditional surrender."

In 1949, John F. Kennedy lifted the English siege of Orleans. In 1951, Spanish explorer Hernando de Soto discovered the Mississippi River—at a point near the present city of Memphis, Tenn.

In 1973, revolutionary forces under Gen. Castmir Pulaski lifted Charleston, S.C. In 1846, the first battle of the Mexican War was fought at Palo Alto, Texas.

One hundred and forty persons attended and dined to open three-day celebration of Army and Navy Club's 40th anniversary. Mayor Eugene T. Kelly sets week aside to observe 45th anniversary of the Manchester Pipe Band.

I CAN'T UNDERSTAND KIDS TODAY — WE GAVE THEM EVERYTHING!

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

There continues to be an air of uneasiness about what this 1968 Connecticut Legislature obviously considers some of its own great moments.

Observers keep waiting for some individual or some group to come along and "shake and wake" this General Assembly into an awareness of its own brand of logic, into some emergence into broads and patterns of thought which will bear some relation to the way people outside the legislative syndrome think and read.

But the good legislators themselves, mostly progress from one bemused spell to another, bewitched by their own logics, committed to communalisms more than to any consistent analysis or principle.

There was some rather easy understanding of their argument and voting on the subject of annual sessions for themselves. Here they were fascinated by their imagination of their own potentially expanding role in the public service; they were carried away, as is anyone's right, by an auto-introduction.

But the matter of the right to vote for Connecticut 18-year-olds was not one which concerned them personally, or institutionally.

Yet the House debate, and on this issue, was quite as surreal in its logic, quite as remote from what might be considered normal patterns of thought, quite as much the demands of a group of people speaking and voting under some kind of spell, as previous legislative behavior on the issue of annual sessions.

It seemed to matter absolutely nothing to the overwhelming bipartisan majority for the vote for 18-year-olds that they were using the "old enough to fight" argument of a group of people who are much more mature than we were at their age.

Soviet General Dies, Ninkh in 16 Days

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Defense Ministry reported the death of another general today, the fourth in 16 days. Although the cause of death has not been announced for any of them, in accordance with Soviet custom, there has been nothing in any of the obituaries to suggest any connection.

The Defense Ministry newspaper Red Star today announced the death of Lt. Gen. Yevgeny I. Smirnov, 51, after a brief illness. He was deputy chief of the ministry's engineering and technical department.

Ulster's Chief Promises Universal Adult Suffrage. Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP) — Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark promised the Roman Catholic minority universal adult suffrage in local elections by the fall and won a unanimous vote of confidence from Northern Ireland's provincial parliament Wednesday night.

The new prime minister also named the man he defeated last week, Minister of Development Brian Faulkner, to devise a plan to restructure local government.

In his first speech to the parliament controlled by his Protestant Unionist Party, Chichester-Clark sought to please the Protestants by approving the government will keep Northern Ireland in the United Kingdom.

The Roman Catholic third of the population contends that property requirements for voting in local council elections by the Protestants control in some Catholic districts. Clashes between Catholics and Protestants over the issue of local elections by the fall and won a unanimous vote of confidence from Northern Ireland's provincial parliament Wednesday night.

Costa Rican Charges Panama (AP) — Foreign Minister Nander Pizarro has told Costa Rica that the Panamanian government is violating the "exhaustive" investigation charges that the Panamanian National Guard is training Costa Rican in pursuit of anti-government guerrillas.

Pizarro's note suggested "bandits" disguised as Panamanian guardsmen may have been responsible for the assassination of the late President.

The National Guard, Panama's army, reported a week ago that an estimated 100 guerrillas had crossed into Panama from Costa Rica, hanged two members of a government guard and looted a bar before national guardsmen caught up with them and killed two.

Anti-Soviet Slender, Charged to Ex-General MOSCOW (AP) — A former Soviet army general who openly challenged the secret police for arresting anti-government protesters last week has been charged with anti-Soviet slander, sources report.

Friends of former Maj. Gen. Pyotr Grigorenko said the 63-year-old lieutenant intellectual was arrested in Tashkent where he had gone to protest the trial of a group of Crimean Tatars trying to regain rights they lost in World War II.

The outspoken champion of free speech was stripped of his rank and expelled from the army by Nikita Khrushchev for criticizing government policies.

Grigorenko has appeared at several recent trials of other opponents in Moscow who had spoken the secret police. He has long been a vocal critic of the suppression of literary freedom in the Soviet Union.

He was taken into custody by police once before but was released after questioning.

Israel To Bolster Lebanese Border

Supporters of refugees in demonstrations of the guerrillas two weeks ago touched off clashes with Lebanese troops which resulted in the death of 16 persons and the destruction of Premier Rashid Karam.

The Montreal Gazette reported that Israel has built five 20-million atomic bombs at its atomic reactor plant near Dimona.

An Israeli military court sentenced three men to 18 months in prison because they were charged with the murder of a guerrilla in occupied Hebron.

The army, trying to play down the uprising, refused to give a casualty figure, but sources among the native Papuan said many natives have been killed.

The unrest also spread to other regions.

The guerrillas want to use Lebanon as a staging area because it is nearer the Israeli industrial complex at the port of Haifa, but the government has resisted them because it fears Israeli reprisals.

Balaban, Tiant Winless, Each Has Lost Six Games

NEW YORK (AP) — The year 1968 was the Year of the Blank for major league pitchers. For Luis Tiant and Stan Bahamon, 1969 has started out in blanket-blank fashion.

The winless right-handers, among the top losers in the American League a year ago, were shelled again Wednesday night, leaving each with an 0-6 record and wondering where his next win is coming from.

Tiant, who won a game last season and led the league with 30 earned runs in 24 starts, struck six hits and as many runs — including two homers by Harmon Killebrew — in the second inning, leaving him with a 0-6 record and wondering where his next win is coming from.

Tiant has now pitched 33 2/3 innings and allowed 48 hits and 24 runs in 11 starts. "I really don't know what the matter is," said Alvin Dark, manager of the Indians. "I know he isn't throwing as hard as he was last year, but we don't know why. He has had a little arm trouble, but it hasn't been serious."

Tiant was Bahamon's nemesis, driving in three runs with a double a single and scoring the first run in a row for the first time since 1967.

White Sox held off Baltimore 4-1, Boston edged Seattle 5-4, Oakland bopped Washington by the same score and Detroit whipped Kansas City 8-2.

Killebrew's two homers, his sixth and seventh of the season, struck with his eighth home run that added the Indians to their 19th loss in 23 games. Philadelphia's Steve Carlton, Oliva and Ted Uhlander each drove in two runs while Killebrew's Jose Cardenal homered twice.

Mauch Unleashed Self Right out of Park

NEW YORK (AP) — Mauch unleashed himself right out of the park in the new York game, leading the Yankees to a 4-0 victory over the Red Sox. Mauch committed two errors on the same play that led to two Seattle runs and helped make the Yankees a 3-0 lead in the first inning. Rice Pate drove in the first run, and Mauch's quick kick came during the fifth inning of the Sox's loss.

Irate Willie Davis Too Much for Cubs

Doughnut Sales Finance Bennet Projects

By JOHN A. JOHNSTON

Bennet Junior High School's Student Council makes a doughnut sale a long way. As far as Vietnam aid goes, it is one of the best.

The council doesn't ship to these places. Nor have they cut down George Washington's reported feast with the silver dollar across the Rappahannock River.

Last October, council members started a Monday lunch hour doughnut-selling period to raise funds for projects they had in mind. It consisted of...

So far this year, the Bennet council has netted $200 to the St. Labre Indian School and Mission at Ashland, Mont.

Before this school year ends, the council plans to donate another $200 to the education and school activities of the mission children.

Also, the council's improvement committee has purchased materials to replace the school sign, which has been better days.

Albert Hadigan, faculty adviser, estimates 75 per cent of the council's treasury comes from the doughnut sale.

During the week of May 10, candidates for next year's council offices will campaign, and the student body will vote by machine on May 21.

Council representatives make their annual report to the student body. David Johnson, vice president; Harry Bodman, secretary; and...

For Deborah Smith, it's selection time in the Franklin Building cafeteria during the Bennet Junior High School Monday lunch hour doughnut sale.

Pope Drops Many Saints From Liturgical Calendar

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Dozens of saints—including some of the best known such as St. Christopher and St. Barbara—were dropped today in a dramatic revision of the Roman Catholic Church's liturgical calendar.

A Vatican liturgical committee struck from the calendar saints whose cultic value is now officially considered to be negligible.

The action was expected to cause personal problems for many Catholics, particularly in Latin countries where devotion to saints is widespread and intense.

The action may also bring a change in the choice of names some Catholic parents select for children.

More than 60 saints were listed in the new calendar, but many of the names were removed from the calendar because they were considered to be "fellow travelers" who according to some legends numbered in the thousands.

The listed names were also dropped from the liturgy of the Mass, particularly in the Eucharistic prayer.

Many of the saints removed from the calendar have been the subject of hundreds of years of fervent devotion.

Vatican authorities expect that many faithful will be shocked that the Vatican double their favorite saints even in prayer.

"This raises a problem for church leaders who want to discourage veneration of dubious saints without undermining any one's faith."

The new calendar was issued under a decree by Pope Paul VI, the Paschal Mystery. It said the saints were removed from the liturgy because they were considered to be "fellow travelers" who according to some legends numbered in the thousands.

Saigon Bars Coalition, Considers Other Points

SAIGON (AP)—The government rejected Friday night the Viet Cong's latest demand for a coalition regime and what it called "prefabricated neutrality."

But it agreed to discuss other parts of a 10-point peace program the Viet Cong offered at the Paris talks.

The government spokesman knocked down reports that South Vietnam was turning its back on the program, put forward by the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front Thursday.

In agreeing to discuss some of the points, Foreign Ministry spokesman said the proposal represented nothing new and would be discussed in the next round of talks.

At about the same time Saigon was making known its position, a Japanese news agency reported that the United States would find it hard to reject the Viet Cong plan.

The North Vietnamese went quiet as saying American demands for mutual withdrawal of troops from South Vietnam had been met by the Viet Cong peace proposal.

What the North Vietnamese appeared to be saying was that Hanoi was willing to accept the U.S. proposal of mutual withdrawal but that the question was whether it could be worked out between North and South Vietnam.

This interpretation did not appear, however, in the South Vietnamese communiqué. It declared the other side had refused to consider the principle of mutual withdrawal of North Vietnamese and allied troops.

The communiqué noted that the Viet Cong plan advanced certain proposals which should have been discussed at the 1963 Geneva agreements on Laos and the 1964 Geneva accord on the Indochinese war, and exchange of war prisoners.

On these points, the South Vietnamese statement said, the Communist side had refused to discuss the principle of mutual withdrawal.

Thames and "substantial" additions, the Foreign Ministry added, could have been or should have been discussed in Paris or "following the procedures which the government of the United Kingdom has followed."

On Thursday night, the British government announced that it had decided to support the Viet Cong plan for mutual withdrawal of North Vietnamese and allied troops.

Officials at Indiana University said that the Indiana University Board of Trustees had approved a resolution to support the Viet Cong plan for mutual withdrawal of North Vietnamese and allied troops.

Two days after the Board of Trustees approved the resolution, the Viet Cong announced that it had decided to support the Viet Cong plan for mutual withdrawal of North Vietnamese and allied troops.

Joint Chiefs Seek Delay In Arms Talk

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Joint Chiefs of Staff reportedly are trying to persuade the administration to delay U.S.-Soviet arms talks to a new session this summer of a new missile weapons system.

The military leaders are said to be concerned that starting the talks earlier would prevent testing the Multiple Independently Targeted Reentry Vehicle—MIRV—sat that the United States behind the scenes.

Study Puts ABM Cost at $13 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—A private study indicates the Safeguard antimissile system's ultimate cost may top $13 billion, 60 per cent more than official estimates.

Disclosures of the study Thursday prompted immediate assertions, notably by Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., that the nation's current administration "has created a credibility gap for the Nixon administration."

The study, by the Defense Research Survey, a McGovern-Hill Service for industrial firms, estimated the cost of Safeguard between 1969 and 1975 at more than $13 billion.

The study did not include $1 billion to be spent by the Atomic Energy Commission on nuclear warheads and the cost estimates for Safeguard's radar and spirit missiles were more than $1 billion less than calculated by the Nixon administration.

Critics were quick to point out that adding in these figures would bring the total to more than $13 billion, compared with the current official estimate of $7.7 billion.

"In a program as complex as Safeguard," the study concluded, "the cost estimates are likely to be considerably higher."

Sen. McGovern, a leading critic of Safeguard, said "it has not revealed the true price of the nation's defense program."

Another person active in the Safeguard fight, who declined to be quoted by name, said, "I think the credibility gap will widen over the next months because of cost."

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who has been speaking in favor of Safeguard around the country, told Republican governors in Washington, D.C., last week: "The decision is yours. It is yours to make."
