where the show must be broken for the sponsor's mersages. They can be used as pilots for potential series. Next season's 'The Bold Ones" and "Then Came Bronson" on NBC both emerged from "world premiere" shows. ABC's "Marcus Welby, M.D." was assayed in the two hour TV form as was CBS's "Medical Center."

The mystery remains, why, during recent seasons, anthology series a different, complete show each week tied together by a continuing star-ho t-have at tracted audiences of unsatisfactory size while shows labeled (or often mislabeled) movies got big rating.

"Movie of the Week" will mark the first time movies will compete with movies in prime time. The series will play opposite a portion of NBC's "Tuesday Night at the Movies."

Premiere program on Sept. 23, will be about seven blind survivors of a plane crash on a mountain top and will feature Dira Merrill, Milton Berle, Barry Nelson and other. A week later, it will be a Western comedy with a cast of gray beards.

More than two dozen of the nation's top comedians will join forces with Bob Hope to help launch his 20th season on NBC when "Chrysler Presents The Bob Hope Special" Sept. 22. The funnymen who will inaugurate the 1969-70 season for the Bob Hope-Chrysler series include (alphabetically): Steve Allen, Shelley Berman, Red Buttons, Sid Caesar, Johnny Carson, Jack Carter, Wally Cox, Bill Dana, George Gobel, Shecky Greene, Buddy Hackett, Jack E. Leonard, Pat Paulsen, Nipsey Russell, Phil Silvers, Danny Thomas and Flip Wilson.
