New School Bus Routes Called 'Very Successful'

The Porter School bus transportation, re-routed after two years, was termed "very successful," according to the Board of Education, which completed Richard Kelly, new principal, on the "smooth opening day."

Thomas Carlson asked the board to have his daughter, a student at Windham Regional Technical School, driven to her home after school. He said she is dropped off on Rt. 6 at Howe Street and must walk two tenths of a mile on a hazardous street of road.

Wallace Lohr, board member, said he had personally checked out her route and said by foot that it was still light at the time of her return and there is not much traffic on the road at that time. The board voted to deny Carlson's request, stating that not only would it be a precedent but there is no hardship involved.

The board's selection has caused to attend the next meeting of the Board of Education to discuss a request from the Democratic Town Committee asking to change the polling place for elections in York Mansfield to the school.

Nursing policies and proposed changes were presented. It was decided that copies of the policies with the changes be given to all members of the board and the administration for further study.

Burlington Ground Group Marshall Nuffer has been elected president of the West St. Burlington Ground Association. Other officers named at the recent meeting were Arthur G. Dunne, vice president; Mrs. Jerry Dunne, secretary.

In 'Free Belfast' Catholics Feel Safe Behind Barricades

Life behind the barriers is not too bad, the Catholics here say. The barricades are open to the Falls Road area. Women picking their way along the sidewalk are untroubled because the stone slabs have been the raw material of the barricades.

A 64-year-old grandmother expressed the general feeling. "I want to be peace and quiet and I want to sleep at night. That's all anybody wants here. While the barricades are up we can't see the other side of the street. The schools are open. Men can get to their jobs. We feel safe. So why change it?"

The barricades went up four weeks ago when Northern Ireland's ancient feud between Protestants and Catholics erupted into riots that left eight dead and hundreds injured.

Now the barricades form an iron wall around the red brick streets of the Falls Road area, commonly known as "the Falls." There 2,000 Catholic families make their own rules and want to keep things the way they are.

Protestants have put up their own barricades elsewhere in Belfast to protect the Catholic ramparts. But the scattered Protestant barricades do not form an isolated enclave like Free Belfast.

Prime Minister James Callaghan has warned that the barricades, both Catholic and Protestant, must be torn down. As a first step, the troops began putting up a "peace wall" of wire between the Falls Road area and the Protestant Shankill area Wednesday after pushing a Protestant barricade out of the way.

The great majority of the Falls Road Catholics believe they are in danger of attack from Protestant firebombs in the barricades come down. "That is why the flag of the Irish Republic, officially banned in Northern Ireland, flies from the lamp posts and second story windows inside the Falls houses. This is a kind of insurance, even an insurance subsidized by the government. Mothers by James Roche, GM board chairman, and Edward N. Cole, president at a news conference.

miners seem to have discovered this for themselves and launched their own campaign against it. But "brown lung" was a next best frightening thing, and could make headlines almost as forbidding as no provision on mine weekend crusade for the young crusaders who now make a career of crusading from one alarmist sensation to another.

One thing he has going for him. Perils do exist. There is hardly anything in life that doesn't offer some danger, some of it unnecessary and avoidable.

In such a world, it is, we suppose, very comforting to know that, if you notice something dangerous like the fact that a cake of soap is a slippery thing to step on, sooner or later the young crusader will zero in on that danger and launch at least a weekend crusade for the development of a non-slip cake of soap.

But it also gets boring, this business of a new safety crusade every weekend. It makes its way into the news media, one way or another. Then it gets it introduced into the Congressional Record. Then the newspapers take notice, and even write editorials taking the young crusader seriously, as if he himself were not engaged in a merry process of exploiting the same public he professes to be protecting.

There ought to be some better business hours which could be a special breed of confidence man who gets his living by exposing the alleged sins and neglects of everybody else.

Inquest Postponed
The postponement of the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne was a disappointment to the curious, but that is a small loss if the postponement means to safeguard the reputation of Edward Kennedy's constitutional rights.

Senator Kennedy's lawyer argued that the "gathering crescent" of publicity attending the inquest might "taint" any subsequent judicial proceedings against the Senator. To this Judge Paul C. Hear, Jr. of the Massachusetts Supreme Court agreed in postponing the inquest.

Judge Hear's concern is proper. An inquest should not be made a spectacle. It should be an orderly judicial proceeding of which full public report should be made. Such report, however, should be unaccompanied by television coverage that was in preparation.

Senator Kennedy is caught upon the horns of a cruel dilemma. If he were not a public figure, the inquest would attract scant attention. But the national fame which he and other members of the Kennedy family have coveted and courted so successfully now becomes an embarrassment. This public renown does not entitle him to any special consideration, preferment, or exemption not accorded to other citizens; neither should it be allowed to subject him to any penalty.

There is no way for Senator Kennedy to divest himself of public attention. If he were to resign, the interest would continue. Instead, under such circumstances, it would intensify. He has the choice of going to terms with his condition. Normally, a politician would welcome such public exposure.

One can rely upon Judge Hear and his associates to protect the legal rights of Senator Kennedy. Other members of the court are not so disciplined. Rightly or wrongly, Senator Kennedy stands to be judged by public opinion.

Judge Hear has done well to order a postponement. His action will provide a breathing spell, will establish safeguards, and will set up some ground rules. But there must be no unnecessary delay for the country will not be satisfied—nor should it—until the full facts surrounding the death of Mary Jo Kopechne and the subsequent conduct of her case are fully made known through proper judicial channels. —MORRIS RECORD

Kindness At Woodstock
So much was written and broadcast about the tremendous number 400,000 of young people and the emergency they caused at the Woodstock festival that the reporting almost obscured the most significant part of the event.

Fortunately, there were a few reports and accounts that showed the kindness of the group, and anyone who read these moving accounts must have stopped for a short moment to commendation of the youngsters' care-free behavior.

These were the stories of the kindness the young people showed, one to another, and to the people who helped them in the crisis that occurred when the hundreds of people descended on the small town of White Lake, N.Y., that was so unprepared to receive them.

Obviously, the drug-taking and the nudity and the other generalities of the older generation. Anyone over 30 just cannot and probably should not—condone such things.

But what the older generation can accept with great enthusiasm is the friendship and kindness—the sharing of food and drink and blankets—shown with such lavish generosity by the young people. And the townspeople demonstrated a kindness at least as great. Indeed, those who most decried and resented the invasion of the festival fiasco were the first to come forward to help when the shortage of food and medical supplies created a genuine crisis.

The White Lake adults, like most middle-aged Americans, will probably continue to frown at the long hair, the strange clothes, the nudity and, most of all, the drugs, but they developed a million respect on that they kept peaceful.

Connecticut Yankee

By A.H.O.

Governor Dempsey the other day, carried out the bidding of his good friend, the Legislature, and announced seven appointments to a new "Connecticut Wall Drilling Board."

The appearance of this board, officially on the scene in Connecticut's official family at last, represents something of the climax of a long trend for the business of trucking up to Hartford and get themselves licensed and regulated.

There was one session in which the General Law Committee, bored to death with the pattern of bills adopted, turned everybody down.

But in the last session the same committee adopted a new leadership, got tired of the bureaucracy, and the granting of the re-educational charter to the wall drillers was the symbol of final and complete surrender on the part of the committee.

There was no particular reason why the wall drillers were served to be last on the list. They were always persistent, but never obnoxious. As were several other groups which were committees made earlier.

The mixture of their motivations in seeking themselves a bill was certainly and greatly different from that with other occupations or enterprises who wanted to get themselves licensed and regulated.

There was, in other words, some measure of a desire to provide protection to the public, plus some portion of an instinct to get themselves licensed and regulated.

Pair Indicted For Holdup

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — A federal grand jury here indicted two men Wednesday in connection with the $100,000 holdup of the Fairfield County Trust Co. in Norwalk Jan. 9.

The two men were identified as Edmund J. Devlin of Branford and Edward Reed of New Haven. Devlin was already under federal indictment for interstate transportation of stolen property in connection with a stolen money order case.

Devlin had his bond for $50,000 revoked in U.S. District Court Wednesday when he failed to appear in court. Judge William Timbers, who revoked the bond, ordered a fugitive warrant issued for his arrest.

Devlin had been identified in a letter to the grand jury as a leader of one faction of a 100-mile strike of Seoul, and had infected 514 people. Although the disease appears to be a strain of cholera, it established order instead of chaos.

Devlin was acquitted on a charge of interstate travel to commit extortion and a murder, but a reversal from the U.S. court identified health authorities.

Cholera Epidemic Spreads in Kusan

SEOUL (AP) — Thirty-eight persons have died of a disease believed to be cholera in South Korea's port city of Kusan, the Health Ministry announced today.

The epidemic is spreading, but no cases have been reported among American military forces, a U.S. spokesman said. Air Force has instructed troops in the Kusan air base to restrict their movements in the city, not to visit civilian homes, and to stay in military quarters unless on official business.

The Health Ministry said the disease broke out last month in Kusan, a city on the west coast of South Korea. It has since spread to other parts of the country.

Although officials from other towns involved in the program differed in opinion as to the best way of starting such a program, all agreed it could be accomplished as long as people were willing to work.

These officials, from Hartford, Ellfield and Tolland, explained what the movement is, how it operates and how it is initiated.

LE Robert Kjelquist of the Vernon Police Department headed the group-organization committee. He was assisted by Mayor John E. Roberts and R. Bernard Crowl.

LE Kjelquist explained that Vernon also has about 1400 people who do not have fathers living at home. He also explained that this is not a program for juvenile delinquents, but for young boys who wish to help a young boy, may be a "Big Brother."

Convict Trio In Slaying Of Black Panthers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Three men were convicted of second-degree murder Wednesday in the slaying of two Black Panthers at the University of California at Los Angeles campus Jan. 17.

The prosecution contended the slayings stemmed from a dispute between the Panthers and a group of students which the three were members.

George Stiner, 21, his brother-in-law, Neil Lund, 20, and Donald Huggins, 20, were also convicted of conspiracy to commit murder, in addition to second-degree murder.

John J. Huggins, 21, and Alphonse Carter, 20, were killed in a classroom. Huggins was originally from New Haven, Conn.

Hawkins and the Stiner brother, were also convicted of conspiracy to commit murder, in addition to second-degree murder.

Big Brother Program Set To Aid Fatherless Boys

By vote of about 30 interested people, at a meeting held last night in Vernon, the Big Brother movement was adopted for the three-town area of Vernon, Ellington and Tolland.

Any fatherless boy aged eight through 17, who needs a friendly, affectionate, and guiding of a mature man, married or single, who wishes to help a young boy, may be a "Big Brother."

Although officials from other towns involved in the program differed in opinion as to the best way of starting such a program, all agreed it could be accomplished as long as people were willing to work.

Hide Demand to Drop

CHICAGO (AP) — The domestic market for cattle hides has been constant for the past 10 years at 22 to 24 million pieces a year, but because of inroads by synthetic leathers, researchers predict a demand for only 21 million pieces by 1980, when hide production is likely to total 46 million pieces.

Under the present system the donor placed in a patronizing position, the receiver in a demeriting position. We use aid as an excuse for meddling in government affairs. We cannot resist to impose conditions. To use the aid as a lever for punishment.

As a result, Church continued, the United States is "regarded as the enemy of progress in the western hemisphere affairs."

Church said he no longer could accept the belief that a liberalist must be for economic aid because it symbolizes change. Economic aid now identifies with those governments receiving it as fully as military aid.

Railroad Lawyer Says: New Haven Fare Increase Earmarked for Rebuilding

NEW YORK (AP)—A Penn Central Railroad lawyer says there is "no possibility" that extra revenue derived from proposed fare changes on its New Haven division would "go into the pockets" of the railroad.

Robert D. Brooks, general officer of the company, told an Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC) hearing Wednesday that the fare revision is a necessary first step in rebuilding the bankrupt New Haven Railroad before the Penn Central took it over.

Brooks said the fare revision would not result in a 10 percent increase in revenue. Commuter groups are protesting the proposed revision.

The lawyer said that under proposed agreements with Connecticut and New York, the Penn Central "cannot receive any revenue windfall from the increase in fares or from other investments in modernization."

Another hearing witness, Martha Levitt, 21, of Queens, a member of the Students for a Democratic Society labor committee, said the Penn Central would be paid to build the new line and to operate it, but she said that the company would be required to pay for the cost of the new line and to operate it.

Army Investigates NCO Club Kickbacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army says it is investigating a Phoenix, Ariz., and who has specific names and instances of professional engineering and consulting alleged money kickbacks to operators of military clubs in Vietnam.

The kickbacks were reported by a "confidential" source who said that the source had been required to provide a dozen top non-uniformed managers of noncommissioned officers clubs.

His and other allegations of misappropriation of millions of dollars generated by NCO club fees and profits are the current focus of a Pentagon probe being pushed by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird.

Noel said performers have to pay $80 or 10 percent of their fees, some of which range up to $800 a week, in order to get booking assignments from some NCO club managers.

The Army said it could not relate Noel's correspondence because Noel refused to provide a list of names of performers who might be prejudiced. But he was reported to have given several Army sergeants who were in the club management investigation the kickbacks in Vietnam.

The Washington Post reported Noel quoted one noncommissioned officer as commenting: "Now you're going to face some miserable club custodian who are going to ask you for kickbacks on shows. I know this is going on, and there's not a thing I can do about it."

Another source quoted by the newspaper had a serious concern about the investigation, the source said that Noel was a member of the club management investigation, the source said that Noel was a member of the club management investigation.

Tollard Use of Schools at Night May Cost $50 to $100

Organizations planning to use the schools to hold their events this year will likely be charged a night, according to discussions at last night's Board of Education meeting.

Superintendent of Schools Kenneth Mackenzie was authorized to draw up a policy governing the use of the schools by outside organizations, following a joint meeting of the Board of Education with other organizations, including the Board of Finance.

Robert Klipping, first selectman of the town, said that the Board of Finance proposed the schools charge organizations using the facilities an amount approximately equal to the cost incurred by the town for the use of the facilities.

The finance board then proposed that the schools be charged a fee of $50 to $100 for the use of the facilities.

MRA Seeks New Bids Plans Dropped Again For Shopping Center

Failure to get a prime tenant has caused a second developer to abandon plans to build a shopping center in the North End Renewal area.

The North End Associates dropped its proposal when it could not get firm commitments from either a supermarket or a department store to rent space in the proposed center.

Last April, Suburban Associates backed out of the project for the same reasons and because interest rates had jumped to 8 1/2 per cent.

The Manchester redevelopment agency has voted to re-advertise for bids on the shopping center parcel, a 4.2 acre site on the southwest corner of Main and N. Main Sts. The new bid opening is scheduled for Oct. 15.

Green To Give Lectures On Kerner Report

Arthur L. Green of 121 Lenox St., director of the Connecticut Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities, has been named by the University of Connecticut to give a non-credit, non-certificatory course, "American Civil Disorders," at the Manchester High School.

The course will be held on eight Wednesdays from 7-9 p.m., beginning Sept. 24. Lectures will be based upon the Report of the National Advisory Commission on Human Relations, commonly known as the Kerner Report.

Green's course will deal with both the conditions and suggested remedies, covering such topics as Police and Community Control of Disorder, Community Disorganization, and the use of force.

Green is past chairman and a director of the Connecticut Civil Liberties Union, past director of the Hartford Chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, past vice president of the Connecticut Junior Chamber of Commerce, and is a director of the Greater Hartford Family Service Society and Connecticut Housing, Inc.

Enough Jobs To Go 'Round In Vietnam

There would be enough jobs to go around in Vietnam if the United States could get its act together, according to a study by the U.S. military forces.

"Admittedly, this is a very intricate business, but the areas where movement out has occurred, there has been no problem so far," said one source.

Most American military units employ Vietnamese in a wide variety of jobs—chiefly maintenance and service—at division and brigade levels.

Some observers in Vietnam believe that the withdrawal of U.S. military forces might result in a severe dislocation of the economy, including a high jobless rate.

Ten Changes Ordered Under Housing Code

Manchester's housing code inspector made 207 inspections last month and ordered 10 changes, according to a report by the Town Health Department.

All of the inspections were of single-family dwellings. In addition, calls were made to 12 living quarters to determine whether previous orders for corrections had been made.

The 10 violations noted last month included: no fire escape, no fire extinguisher, no fire escape, no fire extinguisher, no fire escape, no fire extinguisher.

The Health Department, in addition to making the housing code inspections, received 13 complaints, inspected two proposed septic installations, issued three permits for septic tanks, and made seven inspections of a miscellaneous nature.

It reported listed only four cases of communicable disease in Manchester during August, one each of mumps, salmonella, strep throat, and venereal disease.

She'll Talk To Dr. Pike

Pike's body was found Monday in a canyon in the Judean Desert. He fell 70 feet while attempting to climb out of the canyon to find help.

They had become lost during a field trip in the desert where they were doing research on the life of Christ, "The Other Gospel." Their car became stuck and they started walking out. Pike's legs gave out. Mrs. Pike said she felt if there is to be any communication between us, it will come through it.

"This is a long story and I will write it carefully. Some messages will come through because we are not separated by death. Jim has found peace and joy and he knows it is not necessary for him to talk to me because he knows it."

After his son's death in 1966, Pike said he had established communication with the youth and wrote about it in a book, "The Other Bible."

No One Bids On Heating To Start Friday, Officials Say

Because no bids have been received for installing a new, hot-water heating system in the Manchester Police Station, town officials must decide whether to advertise again for bids to negotiate for the renovations.

"They say it's going to take months to get them out," said Juanita Mayle, mother of 18. "But I sure hope they're wrong. I hope it's much sooner."

About 200 widows and other relatives attended a meeting in Farmington Town Hall Wednesday night called by mining experts to explain the reopening of No. 9, scheduled to start Friday.

James Westfield of the U.S. Bureau of Mines and John Ashcraft, state mines director, detailed the re-entry plan. W.A. Boyle, United Mine Workers president, and John Corwin, president of Consolidation Coal Co., which owns the mine, explained the positions of their organizations.

Games Benefit Cripples

INDIANAPOLIS — Many innovations have been introduced in the Indianapolis 500-mile race, in 1922 a Duesenberg was the first car to win exhibition games and donate the profits to the Crippled Children's Fund. So far they have contributed more than $500,000.

Westfield said men will set foot briefly in the mine the first of next week to open the shaft within 10 days.

"We're saying it will take months before we can begin to search for the miners," Westfield said, "but I'm hoping we can measure that in weeks."

Boyle explained extreme caution is necessary in the search because of danger to crews. He said a mine which was sealed several years ago was opened prematurely with a resulting explosion and the death of 10 men. "We can't let that happen here," he said.

Boyle said he told the relatives that "all the resources of the union are at the disposal of the recovery operation officials."

C-DAP Kickoff Dinner Held For Citizen Participants

Citizen participation in Manchester's C-DAP (Community Development Action Plan) study got a send-off last night at a Dutch-treat dinner for about 80 persons, in the cafeteria of Manchester High School.

Those attending included about 60 volunteer workers; town department heads, C-DAP staff members, and representatives of the Traversers Research Corp., consultants under contract for the study.

C-DAP (pronounced seed-appe) may be compared to a giant Comprehensive Plan. Its objective is to create programs for the future. Manchester's C-DAP study, scheduled for completion in May 1971, is expected to come up with a program of goals and an indication of how to achieve these goals.

The study will be based on a survey of existing programs, facilities and problems of the entire community. When completed, it is expected to produce a priority list of recommendations for the next year's program following. The six-year program would coincide with a charter city, which requires the town manager to submit a project budget to the Board of Directors.

Manchester's C-DAP study is being conducted under a $100,000 budget, with the state furnishing $12,500 and the town $87,500 share of the budget will be mainly by kind services, to include office town department head as an ad, plus a representative of the Traversers Research as another aide.

Also to be involved in C-DAP are almost all of the town's department heads, agencies and commissions; plus representatives of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and League of Women Voters; plus any other town residents who wish to volunteer their services.

The Manchester Board of Directors will be the final determining authority for approving priorities in the six-year program, when it is recommended.

Assistant Town Manager John D. Hartman has been designated C-DAP coordinator, responsible for coordinating the study with consultants, town staff, and volunteer workers.

A 50-member Citizens Advisory Committee (CAC) has been formed to advise the Board of Directors on the study.

Nursery School Sets Meeting Of Mothers

Mothers of children enrolled in the YWCA Nursery School will meet at the Community Y, 79 N. Main St., Monday at 8 p.m., at which time the room mothers, Mrs. John Holland and Mrs. Clarence Brown, will be introduced.

Mrs. Glenn Cornish, director, and Mrs. Paul McKay will explain the program and show slides depicting school day activities. Field trip and other special event plans will be discussed, and mothers will be able to view play and learning equipment, some newly acquired this summer.

The school will start its 1969 year on Sept. 18. On opening day, Mrs. Frances E. Monahan, year's room mother, will serve coffee to mothers in the social room.

The boy was taken to Manchester Memorial Hospital by two persons, one a registered nurse, who were seen and Mrs. John Hancock, sunshine.

Boy Rides Bike Into Car's Path

BRUCE GUNTON, 12, of 149 Lakewood Rd., was hit by a car while he was riding his bicycle on Ferguson Rd. yesterday. He was not seriously injured.

According to police, young Gunton suddenly rode his bicycle from the side of the road into the path of a car operated by Mrs. Frances E. Monahan of 56 Grandview Ave., Rockville. Mrs. Monahan told police that she pulled her car to the left but could not avoid hitting Gunton.

The meeting, held at the Porch, Manchester, Tuesday (AP) — Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman and U.S. Ambassador Leonard Unger had the second series of meetings today on the gradual withdrawal of some of the 48,000 U.S. troops in Thailand.

A joint statement issued by Unger and Thanat said they had reviewed the results presented by a military working group of Thai and American officers.

The working group has suggested a figure for the cutbacks, which is expected to be released later this month.

Ten Changes Ordered Under Housing Code

Manchester's housing code inspector made 207 inspections last month and ordered 10 changes, according to a report by the Town Health Department.

All of the inspections were of single-family dwellings. In addition, calls were made to 12 living quarters to determine whether previous orders for corrections had been made.

The 10 violations noted last month included: no fire escape, no fire extinguisher, no fire escape, no fire extinguisher, no fire escape, no fire extinguisher.

The Health Department, in addition to making the housing code inspections, received 13 complaints, inspected two proposed septic installations, issued three permits for septic tanks, and made seven inspections of a miscellaneous nature.

It reported listed only four cases of communicable disease in Manchester during August, one each of mumps, salmonella, strep throat, and venereal disease.

After his son's death in 1966, Pike said he had established communication with the youth and wrote about it in a book, "The Other Bible."

Boyle explained extreme caution is necessary in the search because of danger to crews. He said a mine which was sealed several years ago was opened prematurely with a resulting explosion and the death of 10 men. "We can't let that happen here," he said.

Boyle said he told the relatives that "all the resources of the union are at the disposal of the recovery operation officials."

Welcomes Wagon Meets Tuesday

Mayor Nathan G. Agostinelli and Miss Catherine Shea of the Manchester Historical Society will speak on "Manchester: Today and Yesterday" at the Manchester-Hilton Welcome Wagon Club meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Iona Hall of the Iona Manufacturing Co.

Mayor Agostinelli will highlight contemporary Manchester. Miss Shea will show slides and speak on the town's history. A question and answer period will follow each speaker.

The first business meeting of the season will be held Monday, Sept. 15, at 7:30 p.m. in the same room. The working group has suggested a figure for the cutbacks, which is expected to be released later this month.

U.S. Dead In Vietnam Drops 25%

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. casualties in the Vietnam war dropped 25 per cent last week, the total of enemy dead dropped slightly, and South Vietnamese losses rose sharply, the weekly casualty reports showed today.

U.S. headquarters said 137 Americans were killed in action and 1,460 were wounded, compared with 185 killed and 1,057 wounded the previous week.

South Vietnamese headquarters reported 502 government troops killed—the highest loss since the week of June 8-14—and 1,210 wounded. In the previous week those totals were 504 killed and 960 wounded.

The two commands reported 2,201 enemy killed last week, compared with a revised figure of 2,477 a week earlier.

The bulk of the casualties occurred Friday and Saturday as enemy attacks were stepped up throughout South Vietnam to commemorate the death of North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh.

The markedly higher South Vietnamese casualties reflected the American drive to "Vietnamize" the war and turn over the fighting over to the Saigon government so more Americans can be brought home.

The casualty report raised to 38,480 the number of Americans reported killed in action in the Vietnam war since Jan. 1, 1961. The total number of wounded rose to 248,607, and another 1,330 are listed as missing or captured.

Dr. Cooley Says: Research Disputes Led to Resignation

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Denton A. Cooley, who has performed more heart transplants than any other surgeon, says a disagreement over research with artificial hearts led to his resignation from the Baylor College of Medicine.

In a statement issued Wednesday, Cooley said his appointment as unpaid clinical professor of surgery at Baylor was contingent on his acceptance of control of his research activities by the Baylor research committee.

"Subsequent refusal of the committee to accept my proposal for continuation of research at the Texas Heart Institute in the field of cardiac replacement then followed," Cooley said.

The resignation does not affect his relations with St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital, where his team has performed 20 heart transplants. Two patients survive.

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, president of Baylor Medical College, heads a team which has performed 11 heart transplants at St. Luke's since Cooley said he resigned from Baylor "so that I could continue with clinical research, which is vital to the future conquest of cardiovascular disease."

Cooley and his team implanted a man-made heart in Haskell Karp, 47, last April 4. Karp died April 8 after the mechanical device was replaced with a donor heart.

Following the implantation, DeBakey said the artificial heart Cooley used had been developed by a federally funded heart program. This program was subject to federal research guidelines.

Cooley claimed the heart was developed with private funds.

Coventry Elephant Is Back But It's a Mini

The positively puzzling pachyderm case continues to mystify local elephantophiles. Owners of the missing beast have reported receipt of a package containing a miniature papier mache elephant.

Accompanying the package was a note explaining that this specimen "of the luxodonta africana genus, was discovered wandering in a daze in the vicinity of Wrights Mill Road. Speculation is that this elephant has been sprayed with 'no-volens' poison by some notable Democrat in this area. Please nurture well before ejection!"

While it is true that the miniature papier mache elephant is an exact replica of the missing larger papier mache elephant, informed sources cannot say for certain if it is a different one, or indeed the same one, shrunk through some unknown method.

Democratic Town Chairman Raymond Bradley, who lives on Wrights Mill Rd., could not be reached for comments in this latest development, although Bradley had earlier speculated on the possibility that the GOP elephant encountered the Democrat donkey and as a result whether the notes are the work of the same individual cannot for the Nov. 4 election campaign. Meanwhile, the elephant's whereabouts are determined at this time, but owner Hugo Thomas, has re-concern, continues in GOP support receipt of more ransom clues over the safety of the gray notes from the elephanttrappers, beast, who is subject to treatment that a substantial damp weather.

One of these notes has de-remitted attacks of mildew in the ash tree in Ashford, and necessary should the elephant another has put the site at the have suffered any ill effects, noted tree in Bolton Notch, and Thomas hopes it will be returned in time to do its stint as a substantial damp weather.

Magic Number 20 for Mets in Flag Bid Anything Can Happen in '69

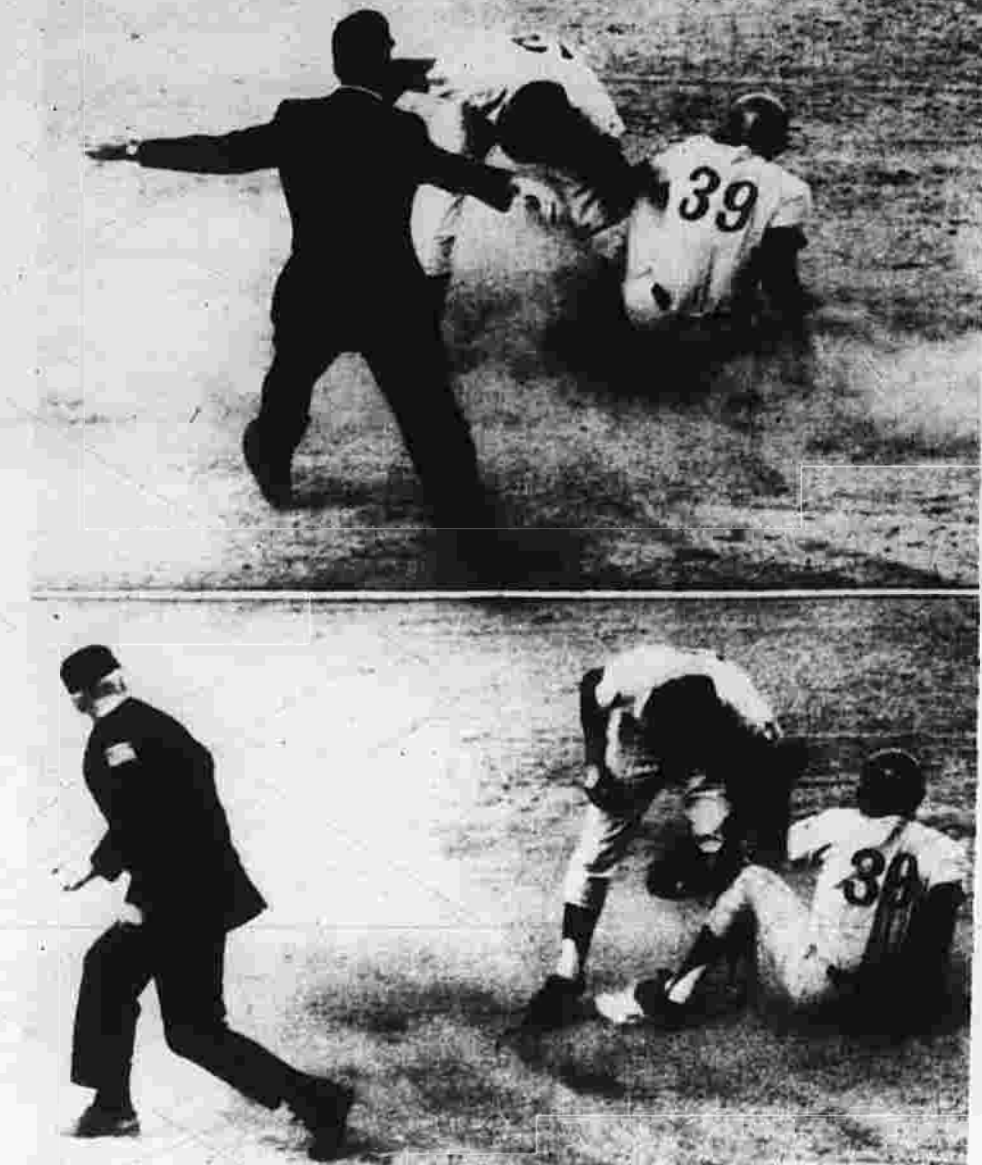

NEW YORK (AP) — Tuesday night when Ken Boswell laced a single to center, driving in Cleon Jones with the winning run in the 12th inning of the first game of the Mets' triumphant flag bid in the NL East.

The New York Mets are in first place.

The chronicle of history will note that the Mets, lovable losers for seven long, adventure-filled seasons, made it to the top of the National League's East Division for the first time ever at precisely 8:43 p.m., EDT, most unbelievable one-game lead over everybody else in the East.

"Look, who's No. 1 now," the Mets' clubhouse manager, Jerry Grotz, chanted, proudly displaying the NL standings as Mrs. Joan Payson, the club's principal officer, took a triumphant stroll in front of the Mets' dugout, smilingly acknowledging a standing ovation from the fans.

The Mets made it to the top in their 140th game — they now have 21 games to play and their magic number is 20 for clinching the pennant. In 1962, after

WHAT GIVEST? — Second base umpire Doug Harvey appears set to make safe call (top) but bottom shows he is emphatic about calling Montreal's Jose Laboy out in an attempted steal. Taking the throw is Mets' Ken Boswell.

Expansion Entries Should Take Heart

NEW YORK (AP) — scored Cleon Jones and put the Mets in first place for the first time ever, by one-half game.

The Mets increased their lead in the National League East. Keep the faith San Diego and Montreal. The Houston Astros are just two games out of first place in the National League West.

Don't be embarrassed with your 49-97 mark San Diego. Seven years ago today, in those pre-dreadful days, the expansion Mets were in last place with 56-106 record and the new Astros were just a notch ahead of them with 56-87 mark.

But the Mets and the Astros have kept plugging, and Wednesday night, New York swept Montreal 3-2 in 12 innings. Houston smashed Los Angeles 4-1 in 12 innings. The Mets had plenty of trouble with Mike Wagner, who pitched a credit record of 15, but they were helped by their slugger, R. H. Bennett, who hit the 12th and got the victory.

HELP NEVER COME — Chicago Cub pitcher Ken Holtzman looks to score, lead bearing sign, FINEB BAST, but some came from Montreal against New York as Mets swept pair from Montreal and Phillies beat league leaders.

The DRY Side of Sports Jets AFL Choice To Capture Title

By DEAN R. YOST

NEW YORK (AP) — The new playoff wrinkle may wind up curling Joe Namath's Fu Manchu moustache but it won't keep him from unfurling the passes that will lead the New York Jets to the American Football League championship.

That, at least, is the way it looks from here in the AFL's last season before clasping hands with the National Football League in one giant league split into 10 12-team conferences.

The AFL's new playoff system will make it just that much more difficult for the Jets to defend their title. The AFL's new playoff system will make it just that much more difficult for the Jets to defend their title.

Women's Football Auxiliary Active

By EARL YOST

Right arm of the Manchester Middle and Pony Football Assn. when it needs help is the Women's Auxiliary, now in its ninth year of operation. Since its inception at the start of the 1961 season, the auxiliary has contributed over $4,000 to the support of the project.

This financial disclosure was made by Mrs. Winifred McHenry, president.

"The money that we have raised is used for the support of the operating costs of the Middle League, the Pony League and the Pony Football Assn.," Mrs. McHenry said.

Cal Hill Nudges Baynham For Starting Assignment

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas last week's 25-9 victory over the Cowboys head coach Tom Landry finally has made Cal Hill the starting quarterback for the Dallas Cowboys.

Hill, the Cowboys' No. 1 draft choice, had been a backup for Tom Landry's starting assignment since his first appearance in the Cowboys' second preseason game against the San Francisco 49ers.

Orioles Move Closer to Title Nagy's Magic Wearing Thin After Sox Defense Collapses

BALTIMORE (AP) — Move with his 1,600th major league hit, his 32nd homer of the season, Baltimore's slugger, Frank Tomar, hit his 32nd homer of the season.

A double by Moses and a single by O'Brien lifted the score to 4-1 in the top of the fourth.

Then O'Brien, who had four hits, opened the gates to a six-run inning as Baltimore's offense exploded for the first time in the game.

Southern Boasts Experience, Balance Principal Problem

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — across three times and completed the 15 of 31 passing attempts for 204 yards.

Fussell, also a senior, brings more experience to the backfield. Competing with him for the two halfback slots are junior Dave Campbell and sophomore Gordon Taylor.

Second Shot In Montreal

NEW YORK (AP) — The city of Montreal gets another chance tonight to prove itself as a future expansion site for American professional football as the New York Giants and the Pittsburgh Steelers meet for their final preseason game.

The Boston Patriots and the Detroit Lions drew a sparse crowd of 2,112 in the city of two languages last month. It was the lowest attendance figure in U.S. exhibition football play, and the game itself little to entice Canadians about American pro football.

Urges Listening: NEW YORK (AP)—Congressman Emilio Daddario, D-Conn., urged a meeting of the American Chemical Society here Wednesday to listen to the criticism of the so-called "bleeding heart humanists" who question the value of a technology which damages nature and social relationships.

Daddario said critics by the young people came from a realization that the quality of life and not material wellbeing was the important social value. "Technological development that has existed to a large extent exclusively within the realm of intellectual endeavor must be brought into the practical social realm," he said.

Rosh Hashanah Starts Friday

Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, will begin tomorrow at sundown and will continue through Saturday and Sunday. Services will be held at Temple Beth Shalom tomorrow at 8:15 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday at 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m.

This Rosh Hashanah marks the beginning of the year 5730 in the Jewish calendar. The figure represents the number of years since creation as based on Biblical reckoning.

The two days of Rosh Hashanah are referred to in the prayers as "Days of Judgment" on which all creation, including man, is judged by God who weighs the merits of each creature and determines its destiny. This emphasis on God's judgment is to move the Jew to live a life of good deeds and integrity in order to merit a favorable decree. The prayers in the synagogue stress the concepts of God as the Sovereign of the Universe, the Redeemer of man and the Source of man's intellectual, moral and spiritual strength. During the services the shofar or ram's horn is blown. The shofar is not regarded with the same reverence as in ancient times to call communities together and to rouse them to action in times of crisis. In the services today it sounds a call to man to awaken to the tasks and responsibilities that face him.

Rosh Hashanah begins a period of ten days of repentance which will culminate on Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, on Monday, Sept. 22. During this period, the Jew is to search his heart and soul, to repent his sins and transgressions which he committed during the year and to ask for forgiveness from God and from man, for only such forgiveness can merit a description in God's Book of Life.

China Getting New Looks
ROME (AP) — Foreign Minister Aldo Moro announced today contacts between Italy and Communist China are taking place with the aim of establishing diplomatic relations.
He reaffirmed Italy's allegiance to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—despite the Communist campaign that Italy withdrew.
Moro pledged that Italy would remain faithful to the basic NATO tenets, including what he called the "necessary presence of an adequate number of American troops on European soil."
He called the American troops and bases—against which the Communists have been denigrating for the past year—"a concrete sign of the American commitment for the defense of Western Europe."
Meanwhile, the new look in Russian-Chinese relations led Western diplomats to say today that Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin may have gone to Peking to meet with Chinese Premier Zhou Enlai in Moscow to discuss the new look in Sino-Soviet relations.
The diplomats speculated that Kosygin would not have flown so far out of his way unless he had a specific purpose.
A brief announcement said the planes today went in at 10:30 a.m. and returned to Istanbul unharmed.
Singled out for attack, a Tel Aviv spokesman said, was B-70 bomber, 60 miles south of Port Said, and was shot down by 100 miles south of Port Said, which is on the southern end of the Suez Canal.
Earlier the Israeli reported one of its jets killed eight Arab guerrillas in a clash 25 miles from the Dead Sea Thursday night.
A military spokesman in Tel Aviv said the Israeli forces intercepted an 11-man Arab guerrilla squad near the Daniyra Bridge which crosses the Jordan River. He said there were no Israeli casualties. Three guerrillas were apparently captured.
The spokesman also reported several rocket attacks from Lebanon following the 72-hour cease-fire they had announced to mark the death of Ho Chi Minh.
Ziegler said the level of enemy activity now has returned to the previous level and that, for that reason, Nixon had sent the big bombers back into the skies.
The announcement came as the President closed himself with key advisers from Washington, Saigon and Paris for a broad review of the Vietnam situation.
Ziegler said he would have nothing to say about the White House policy conference.
The press aide, in seeking to explain the motivation for the halt in B-52 operations, said Washington wanted to determine whether the Communist-initiated truce "had political significance beyond the death of the half in 1962 mission."
In other words, the question was whether the other side might continue to hold down military activity even after the end of the cease-fire period.
In addition, Ziegler said, the United States wanted to make it clear that the enemy and not the U.S. forces would be responsible for resumption of full-scale fighting.
He emphasized several times that the halt in 1962 mission "is a gesture of de-escalation."

Mideast Air War Rages
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israeli war planes swept across the Gulf of Suez in an attack on Egyptian military objectives on Egypt's eastern coast, the Israeli military announced in Tel Aviv.
It was the fourth straight day of aerial activity on the Egyptian-Israeli cease-fire line. It came 24 hours after fierce air battles with Egyptian fighters which Israeli claimed shooting so far out of his way unless he had a specific purpose.
A brief announcement said the planes today went in at 10:30 a.m. and returned to Istanbul unharmed.

Poor Tots Need Polio Protection
WASHINGTON (AP)—Government health experts, warning against a resurgence of polio if the nation lets down its vaccination guard, say potential pockets of the dread disease exist in every metropolitan area of the country.
Public Health Service doctors cautioned against any undue complacency from the fact that so far this year only 19 cases of paralytic polio—the lowest rate in history—have been reported. There were 64 such cases last year.
"In the years before 1965 when vaccines first became available, there were up to 20,000 cases annually of deadly or crippling polio."
But the government doctors said that even now on a national basis approximately 30 percent of the children in the most highly susceptible 1 to 4 year age group remain without vaccine.
Most of these are in ghetto or other low socio-economic areas.
The possibility of outbreaks in these communities worry doctors such as F. Robert Freckleton, chief of the immunization branch of the Public Health Service's Communicable Disease Center at Atlanta, Ga.
"If we lose any of our present momentum in the vaccination program—and we already have problems there—these pockets of unvaccinated or incompletely vaccinated children may increase in number and size," he said.
"And, if for a period of several years we had an outright poor promotion and utilization of vaccine services, one could foresee some fairly large outbreaks occurring throughout the country, for example, you might have 70 or 80 cases in a prepared statement."
The Jeffersons said in a prepared statement.
"This is especially so in relation to the high-priced, competitive brands of infant formulae and baby foods and the so-called 'ready-made' baby foods."
The Jeffersons, nutritionists for the Caribbean Food and Nutrition Institute in Kingston, Jamaica, said poor health in infants is the latest documented problem of urbanization.
"It is justifiable," they asked.

Experts Say: Tot Food 'Push' Aids Infant Malnutrition
WASHINGTON (AP)—The hard-sell, status-oriented advertising used by some baby food manufacturers is contributing to infant malnutrition among poor families new to big city life, two food specialists charged today.
Derrick B. Jefferson and Patricia Jefferson pointed a finger at the baby food manufacturers during the fifth International Congress of Nutrition.
"The unappreciated new townsmen, striving for the jet age and with no experience of budgeting and home management, is an easy prey to the deceitful half-truths and skillful motivation of the commercial persuaders," the Jeffersons said in a prepared statement.

Reuther Calls Car Prices 'Unjustified'
KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP)—Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, says prices for new cars are "unjustified" Thursday by General Motors for its 1970 automobiles are "unjustified."
"The auto industry has been and is highly profitable, showing a 30 percent return on investment, which is about double an ordinary investment," Reuther said in an interview.
"Labor has traditionally taken a position," Reuther continued, "that wage and fringe benefits should be based on productivity and savings brought about by technology, rather than on increased costs passed on to the consumer."
Higher prices for metals and increases in state and local taxes for price increases averaging approximately 125 per cent for 1970 models.

Riots Like Family Spats: You're Ashamed Afterward
HAITPORE, Conn. (AP)—"I almost feel personally about the riots," said the lady mayor of Hartford. "It's as though you've had a family quarrel. You're ashamed when you go to visit another town."
Antonia Phyllis Locello, her last name means "bird" in Italian, leading someone to dub her "Hartford's Lady Bird," unmarried, 40-year-old daughter of a Sicilian-born shoemaker, was a woman successful in the man's world of politics and Republicanism.
She was transformed into a woman Democrat was recalling her reaction to the looting and fire-bombing that ravaged Hartford's North End last week.
Some of her friends thought she looked angry when she went on television the night of Sept. 2 to denounce the violence. This disturbed her.
"I wouldn't have called it anger," said Ann Locello, remembering how she had rushed into the TV studio after a hurried return from a Maine vacation. (remembering also, she said, "there the riot, telephone booths uprooted and smashed down," a library burned, a library where children had gone to special summer programs.)
Some black and Puerto Rican leaders perceived Miss Locello's reaction as an expression of White Establishment outrage against the behavior of minority groups—and also as an attempt to recoup whatever political mileage she may have lost to one of her opponents in the upcoming mayoral election.
Deputy Mayor George B. Poirer, who was in Hartford when the Labor Day riot broke out and dominated center stage until the mayor got back the next day.
But, as Miss Locello explained, her position further in another speech Sept. 8, it was more the reaction of a decent, constructive citizen appalled by the destructiveness of "hoodlums" who had victimized their own neighbors.
"The criminal activity we see," she said, "is a gesture of de-escalation."
He said the other side might continue to hold down military activity even after the end of the cease-fire period.

Female Takeover Starts as Rewrite
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—The girls are already serving notice that there will have to be some changes made at Yale College, which is going to national this fall for the first time in the 265 years of its existence.
Some of the early-arriving freshmen girls have taken offense at a booklet which is supposed to offer helpful advice to the callow class of '72.
"Treat Yale as you would a good woman," advises the student-authored Ell Book 1972—1973, which is going to national this fall for the first time in the 265 years of its existence.

Nixon, Top War Aides In Unusual, Cloaked Confab

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon convened his top Vietnam strategists in an unusual session today amid secrecy over an apparent new bid by him to scale down the war. Further U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam were also a major item for the White House. The meeting was attended by the administration's leading military and diplomatic figures. As the presidential advance headed to the Cabinet room, a high White House source refused to confirm, deny or otherwise comment on the report from Saigon of a halt in B-52 missions as a peace bid to the new leadership of North Vietnam. The State Department and Pentagon also held a strict public silence on the matter—reminders of the official Washington secrecy when former President Lyndon B. Johnson began a 37-day suspension of bombing of North Vietnam in a January 1968 peace move. Such an initiative can come normally on orders only from the President himself, as commander in chief of military operations and as chief director of the nation's foreign policy. What further steps the United States might make toward a peaceful solution to the lengthening war was not made known, nor was it disclosed whether a signal had been sent to Hanoi through diplomatic channels. The next Paris peace conference meeting is scheduled for Saturday.

Bombing To Resume Over South Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon personally ordered a 36-hour halt in B-52 bombing missions over South Vietnam but has now ordered that the bombing be resumed, the White House announced today.
Press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said the temporary cessation in sorties was ordered to give policymakers time to determine what the Communists intended to do about the level of the bombing.
Ziegler said he would have nothing to say about the White House policy conference.
The press aide, in seeking to explain the motivation for the halt in B-52 operations, said Washington wanted to determine whether the Communist-initiated truce "had political significance beyond the death of the half in 1962 mission."
In other words, the question was whether the other side might continue to hold down military activity even after the end of the cease-fire period.
In addition, Ziegler said, the United States wanted to make it clear that the enemy and not the U.S. forces would be responsible for resumption of full-scale fighting.
He emphasized several times that the halt in 1962 mission "is a gesture of de-escalation."

Lethal Gas Envelops Town After Explosion

GLENDORA, Miss. (AP)—A shifting southerly breeze forced thousands of people to evacuate a town and estimates that about 200 people were in an area of one-half square mile as high as 200 feet as far away as 30 miles today after forcing the evacuation of thousands of people.
No fatalities and no injury were reported, although some livestock was killed, authorities said today.
Glendora is about 30 miles north of Greenwood. The tank cars were carrying highly flammable vinyl chloride when they were involved in today's derailment of chemical train. The train was headed for the West from a Colorado atomic plant to a burial ground in Idaho.
Atomic Energy Commission officials said they were not sure how long the gas scene at the request of civilian authorities. They included an official and three enlisted men from Ft. Meade, Md.
"I would like to reiterate that neither the car involved nor the chemicals belong to the military," he said.
