Six Lives Lost in Blaze

WILMINGTON, Mass. (AP) - Mrs. Nancy Landers, 38, and five of her eight children died in a fire early today when their home burst into flames in a vain attempt to save her children.

The blaze destroyed the interior of the 2 1/2 story wooden house. The dead youngsters were identified as: David Jr., 12, William, 12, Kevin, 10, Lisa, 7, and Kathleen, 5.

Mrs. Landers' husband, David, 38, Joseph Casey, 22, cousin and three of the children—Michael, 14, Susan, 13 and Harry, 17, survived.

Witnesses said Landers and Casey were burned badly. Harry said he was sleeping in the basement when he "woke up to screams."

"The smoke was so thick, I just had to get out," he said. He said he saw his mother "take some of the kids out. Then she went back in and didn't come out."

A neighbor, John Russo, said he tried to get into the house while his wife called flames, but the flames "were just too much."

He said flames were "bleaching out of the front windows." Fire officials said the blaze started on the first floor and mushroomed up through the rest of the building. They said aluminum siding on the house held the heat inside, making it very difficult to fight.

The victims were dead on arrival at Choate Memorial Hospital in Waterbury.

Thorp Writes 30 To Herald Career

After today, a familiar face will be missing from The Herald, as well as "along Main St. and some side streets," as another Herald employee, the late Archie Kilpatrick, used to write. One month short of 40 years' service at the present building...

Thorp, who had served three terms as mayor and before being elected mayor in 1967, was a member of the board of aldermen for 22 years, and his presidency of the board of aldermen for 11 years.

Nixon Says He Plans For Peace by 1970

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Nixon said Friday he is trying to settle the war in Vietnam before the end of 1970, and declared that proposal to set a deadline for U.S. troop withdrawal and destruction and undercut his effort.

He appealed to the nation for "more support" in pursuing his goal of peace. At a White House news conference, Nixon twice talked of a settlement before the end of next year, or by the middle of 1971.

Nixon said efforts to impose a cease-fire would be a "disastrous school desegregation policy, calling it a middle course. I do not consider it a victory for integration when the federal government cuts off funds for a school," he said.

Back on the subject of Vietnam, Nixon said his administration's school desegregation policy, calling it a middle course. I do not consider it a victory for integration when the federal government cuts off funds for a school," he said.

To the Editor,
 Recently we have heard of one death and the arrest of other young people for sniffling glue. Unfortunately children and youth fail to realize the seriousness of this search for "kicks."

The publication, "What you should know about Drugs in Narcotics," published by the Hartford Courant on page 21 states, "Sniffing glue, or other toxic vapors to a person and very dangerous, it is now found among the very young and some teenagers. Both in the glue and other products can act as poisons and can result in permanent damage to the nervous system and liver, or in a single massive dose can kill."

The pamphlet, "The Dope or Drug Abuse," by Robert V. Seliger states, "An extremely dangerous means of obtaining a 'kick' practiced by young teenagers is the sniffling or sniffing of solvents. The chemicals contained in plastic cement and some toxic fluids used for household and hobby purposes can cause brain damage, destroy kidney and liver tissue etc., when inhaled."

Ceausescu Says: Romanian Liberalism Won't Begin at Home

By ROLAND PRINZ
 Associated Press Writer
 VIENNA (AP) — Party chief Nicolae Ceausescu told Romania's press Thursday to lay the official line in a speech understanding that the Communist regime's liberalism in foreign policy does not extend to the home front.

One of the early signals that Romania's foreign policy was heading on an independent course came two years ago when it became the first nation in the Soviet bloc other than the Soviet Union to recognize West Germany.

Ceausescu also condemned the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia, principles of sovereignty, independence and noninterference in the internal affairs of other nations. He also attacked the charges of some cultural and artistic publications were not fighting "imperialist tendencies" in the arts, "travels that have nothing in common with Romanian realism."

"In our society," the Romanian leader stressed, "the whole press, be it daily or weekly, socio-political or cultural, must consistently and firmly promote the political line of the party."

"All reviews and publications must mirror the concept and views of the political, social and cultural institutions to which they belong."

"It cannot be admitted for any reason that works of opinion be published... which run counter to the ideology of our society."

Ceausescu's criticism reflected the apparent opposition of some periodicals to his regime's extensive controls. The speech could be viewed as another step toward the Soviet government that Romania will remain faithful to authoritarian communism and not go the way Czechoslovakia started last year.

Ceausescu has irked the Soviets in several ways since he took over the government. He rejected Soviet attempts to keep Romania as a supplier of agricultural products to already industrialized parts of the Soviet and instead started building up Romania's industry. Unlike most other Communist nations in Eastern Europe, Romania maintains good relations with Communist China and has remained neutral in the power

Most Demanded Specialist In 1970's: The GP

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The new breed of physician to families will be the "most reliable and most demanded" specialist in the 1970's, says the president of the American Academy of General Practice.

Now that a new specialty for family practice has been approved by the American Medical Association, with diploma-awarding board established, the family physician "will become the most universal specialty," Dr. Edward J. Kowalewski declared Thursday.

First qualifying examinations for general practitioners will be held Feb. 28, and March 1, 1970 in different cities. General internists with six years experience and who have completed 300 hours of post graduate study are eligible for the comprehensive exams.

"Practically-eligible" generalists will be offered for 10 years, after that examining physicians will become diplomates only by specializing in a family medicine.

Kowalewski was guest speaker for the annual symposium of the Connecticut Association of General Practice meeting at the Hilton, Tuesday. Nearly 800 physicians attended the technical lectures.

Chavez To Seek Backing For Boycotts in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — California table grape boycott leader Cesar Chavez comes to Washington this weekend seeking financial and moral backing for his farm workers union movement.

He will attend a rally at the National Cathedral Sunday night. Other speakers include Sen. Edhel Kennedy, folk singer Joe Raposo, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Mich., and Rep. James O'Hara, D-Mich.

Chavez also is scheduled to appear Monday before Sen. Edhel's Senate migratory labor subcommittee, which is exploring the use of pesticides. On Tuesday, Chavez will go before the House Select Committee on Labor to endorse O'Hara's bill on occupational health and safety standards for farm workers.

Chavez will talk Tuesday night at the opening of a 21-hour "surprise" — billed as demonstrations at spots not announced in advance — in support of the grape boycott.

MEABANE, Swaziland (AP) — The Marine Corps wrestled today with a heady problem: Will the young blacks be allowed to have bushier haircuts than the traditional crew cut? The move by the Marine Corps commandant was aimed at cooling racial tensions in the tight, traditional restrictions of the Marine Corps.

Camp Pendleton officials spent $140 to bring Morrow and four male models from San Diego, where he operates a hair styling parlor for Negroes, for a three-hour demonstration before Marine photographers. The pictures, before and after, now are being studied.

"It showed it can be done," Morrow said Thursday. "I showed them four different Afro hairstyles, and did them in 10 to 15 minutes each."

Morrow tried headgear of all types on moon-mouled hair of the models. Morrow, 29, says they fit, and the hair looked neat.

The pictures won't be made public, a Camp Pendleton spokesman said.

Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., earlier this month granted black Marines permission to wear limited Afro haircuts. The move by the Marine Corps commandant was aimed at cooling racial tensions in the tight, traditional restrictions of the Marine Corps.

Husak, Extremists Clash On Dubcek Regime Purge

PRAGUE (AP) — Communist Premier Oldrich Cernik appeared to be on the offensive against Czechoslovakia's party leadership as the party Central Committee probed the second day into alleged errors of the Alexander Dubcek Soviet invasion.

Cernik, also premier under Dubcek, was listed as the second speaker at Thursday's opening of the purge. He was expected to be harshly criticized by the 181-member Central Committee.

The purge was expected to be the most far-reaching since the end of the Prague Spring. It was expected to be the most far-reaching since the end of the Prague Spring.

Mrs. Harold Porcheron
Girl Scouts

When Patricia Porcheron was a freshman at Manchester High School, she went to hear a talk on senior scouting, the group she was now eligible to join.

There was another meeting for the mothers, to which Mrs. Harold Porcheron went and came away as one of the leaders of the Mother program at Bowers School.

Although Mrs. Porcheron had been a Girl Scout, she had no background in this particular phase of the program, so she learned along with the girls and the other leader, Mrs. Theodore Chambers.

Now Mrs. Porcheron carries on alone with twelve to fourteen girls at weekly Mother meetings, during which she teaches the terminology and general principles of scouting. When it is possible, she takes the girls and her twelve-foot Sea Gull to Bolton Lake to give the Mothers further experience. The scouts also work for Junior and senior Red Cross Life Saving certificates. As a result of their three years with Mrs. Porcheron, some of the girls have become water front directors at camps, and two have taught Red Cross swimming classes in Bolton.

Another aspect of Mrs. Porcheron's work is advising the Mothers in their choice of activities in the community. They have picked up litter to help the Chamber of Commerce in its "Keep Manchester Beautiful" campaign. They have served as volunteers at Lutz Junior Museum and at the Mary Cheney Library. One year, the Mothers devoted time to teaching games and songs to retarded children in Manchester and Mansfield. Another year, they helped with the painting and upkeep of the Girl Scout Camp Marriedwood on Gardner St. Leaders of Brownie and Girl Scout troops have been assisted by Mothers in conducting programs at their meetings.

The girls have organized money-raising projects to enable them to participate in the training program of sailing instruction at Mystic Seaport. A part of this program consists in having the group sail a 22-foot schooner.

In working with teenagers, Mrs. Porcheron finds there is not the generation gap of which we hear so much. Today's teenagers are more involved with people and the community. They may express themselves differently, perhaps not always wisely, but they may do these things to make adults more aware of what they are trying to accomplish to meet today's needs.

The Porcheron family lives on Rock Rd. in Bolton. Mrs. Porcheron is a design analyst at Pratt & Whitney in North Haven, and Mrs. Porcheron works at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Patricia has just graduated from West Virginia Wesleyan College, where her major is education. She will go on to teach in her troop's immediate area. Mrs. Porcheron receives professional material from the Connecticut Valley Girl Scouts Council. The United Fund contributes to the support of the Girl Scouts. Your donations support the United Fund.

Sikorsky Copter Set for Delivery Across Atlantic

STAFFORD, Conn. (AP) — The first of 12 Super Jolly Green Giant helicopters ordered by West Germany was delivered Thursday to American and German military officials.

The West German parliament authorized $22.5 million last year for procurement and support of a helicopter fleet. The order is the largest ever handled by Sikorsky, whose plant is here.

Delivery of the two-turbine CH-53D marks the beginning of a co-production program in the United States and West Germany expected to extend into many years.

The craft, modified versions of the Super Jolly Green Giant used by the U.S. Marines in Vietnam, are to be flown to New York today where they will be loaded on a freighter for shipment across the Atlantic.

The order for the first two helicopters was received by Sikorsky through the U.S. Naval Systems Command, which accepted the helicopters before turning them over to the West Germans.

The aircraft can carry a payload of six or seven tons and accommodate 24 fully equipped troops. It has a top speed of 120 miles per hour and a range of 274 miles.

Tolland School Board Votes Policy On Public Use of Fields

The Board of Education Wednesday night approved a series of policies covering such items as the use of the school athletic fields, high school credit for band and the establishment of a petty cash fund for each of the schools.

All local recognized community groups are eligible for use of the school playground facilities, according to the new policy written by Dr. Kenneth MacKenzie, superintendent of schools. The use must be confined to such times and places which will not interfere with the regular school activities, whether extra curricular or interscholastic, or with activities sponsored by the Board of Recreation.

A deadline of 11 p.m. is set on the use of the grounds, and a certificate of insurance with minimum limits of $100,000 and $500,000 must be on record with the schools before said facilities will be released for use.

No bicycle riding or any other vehicle other than maintenance will be permitted on the running track. Special permission must be obtained to use the running track, because of the high maintenance costs involved. Parking areas will be limited when school athletic contests are scheduled.

The board also agreed to a policy which would give full academic credit to students participating in the high school band, which rehearses five days per week and participates in concerts and parades.

An additional policy governing delayed school opening hours in poor weather was adopted. The board agreed to attempt to delay school opening hours rather than cancel school for the day whenever possible, and when storm or icy road conditions make traveling hazardous, notice of the delayed opening will be announced on WTIC radio, not later than 6:30 a.m.

School will close at noon on these days, with special kindergarten schedules announced to parents. If weather reports indicate that road conditions will continue to be hazardous throughout the morning hours, the schools will be closed for the day.

The establishment of petty cash funds, although previously authorized, has not yet been made at the schools. Dr. MacKenzie recommended the fund be handled on a revolving basis, with the school board determining the amount of the fund to be drawn. The policy sets up the technical regulations for handling the fund.

Assessors Home Tolland tax payers have again arrived at the time of year when they must make their annual trek to the town hall to declare their property, with the exception of registered motor vehicles.

Nixon Backs Haynsworth

months before President Nixon announced the nomination.

Asked whether he has been impressed by the Haynsworth's actions, Mitchell replied, "Certainly not."

He also said Haynsworth has, as a federal circuit judge, faithfully followed the decisions of the Supreme Court.

The Senate Judiciary Committee, about to wind up its confirmation hearings on Haynsworth, is giving a group of hostile witnesses a hearing.

Although the committee is expected to finish hearing testimony today, the chances remained slim that the Senate would confirm Haynsworth by the end of the session.

During two weeks of hearings, witnesses and some senators have questioned Haynsworth's stock holdings, and his rulings on civil rights and labor laws.

Wald, a spokesman for the influential American Bar Association, who testified in favor of Haynsworth last Thursday.

"If the facts which have been made public, I don't anticipate any change," Wald said Thursday in a routine interview.

Even Senate opponents of Haynsworth have conceded recent changes of block confirmation.

Among the issues which engulfed after the ABA took its initial stand on Friday at the Justice Department disclosure that the judge had written the book "The Law and the Courts."

Haynsworth's record on civil rights is "clearly demonstrated in his layout, type, and offset (used by the Herald), which enables us to work right from the original copy being advertised."

But it's incidents and individuals that he most vividly recalls over the past 10 years.

Columbia First Draft of Charter Is Due on Wednesday

According to Dr. Bruce Bradburn, chairman of the Charter Commission, a preliminary draft of the charter is due Wednesday.

All drafts are to be delivered to the commission secretary, Barbara Bradford, on Wednesday.

The Board of Education in April, the commission members are working together, as sub-committees and with the town officials.

The officers of the town have been invited to discuss their duties and responsibilities and to point out problems and needs.

There was a meeting held Sept. 18. It was found that pay for the amount of work done seemed unreasonably small.

Bradburn said this seemed to be the best way to handle the matter. He said the board should be asked to pay for the amount of work done.

SNAFU As An Ending

The possibility that civilization may get itself finally involved in one significant technological snafu has been growing more and more lurid lately.

One danger signal comes in a special report on the effect of computers on the lives of Americans who are abroad.

Their geographical location means that it is no longer possible for them to make a phone call, or a personal visit, to the human managers of whatever computer it is which has fouled things up lately.

If you are situated abroad, and your bank balance goes haywire, or your stock market transactions never get confirmed to you, or your insurance companies aren't mailing premium notices to the proper address, or your credit card offices get your number mixed up with that of somebody else, there isn't much you can do about it except try to deal with the situation through the slow process of the mails, in the course of which the other end may perhaps be using your own old address back in the States.

There is enough of this sort of experience, apparently, to give Americans who have been living abroad the feeling that, whatever the difficulties abroad, life here is probably better than it could be at home, where everything seems to be breaking down.

It is actually a little worse than they may think, on the basis of their long-range trouble with computers.

Were they back in this country, for instance, that simple remedy of calling up the office in question and getting the computer corrected is no longer as simple as it once seemed.

The latest survey of the domestic telephone system indicates that in many large cities, not just New York alone, the quality and promptness of service is a perpetual gamble. There is frequent trouble getting even a dial tone; the dial tone may disappear before anyone has dialed anything; it may shift to a busy signal before he has finished dialing; recordings tell the dialer that a number he is calling is no longer in service when he knows it is; in any public array of pay telephones, as at an airport, he is likely to find half the phones wearing out of order signs.

The common illusion is to be drawn from such experiences, and from many others that could be cited from many fields of American life today, is that every technological advance which promises a new efficiency and convenience also has hidden in it the forces of confusion and paralysis.

Business and Hemlines: The most intriguing theory of economic over development is the one having to do with the relationship between women's hemlines and the business cycle.

As hemlines go up, so does prosperity; as they go down, so does the economy.

In all these activities, again, he was a performer of tasks rather than a chooser among them, the source of ideas toward decision and action, a leader who kept things moving by the forward pressure of his own willing shoulder.

If he has ever been guilty of pride, it has been for himself but for the career of his son Anson toward increased rank and accomplishment in the service of his country in the United States Army.

Inside Report

by Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

PITTSBURGH — The unrelenting but unavoidable detestation by Republican John Tabors' campaign managers that he can be elected mayor of Pittsburgh only by siding with the white workmen against the black militant is reflected in a new campaign mailing now being prepared.

The mailing, to be addressed to every labor union family in the city, consists of a clipping and a letter.

The clipping is the Sept. 13 front page of Human Events, a right-wing weekly, featuring a column by Ralph De Toldene, a columnist who has finished dialing recordings tell the dialer that a number he is calling is no longer in service when he knows it is; in any public array of pay telephones, as at an airport, he is likely to find half the phones wearing out of order signs.

A Thought for Today

Sponsored by the Manchester Council of Churches

"Lifeline of Hope" "So that through two unchangeable things, in which it is impossible that God should prove false, we who have fled for refuge might have strong encouragement to seize the hope set before us."

While it is true that God's gifts are more wonderful than we have a right to expect, it is also true that our anxiety might have heard something quite interesting.

The reflexes of the news industry are such that any militant minority can count on dominating the news on an event which is walking in on an event which they know some personage will be addressing an audience and the press will be present.

That was unfortunate in this case, because there were other aspects of the Finch appearance that were really quite remarkable.

Hard-line white man's candid details. Far behind in the polls, however, Tabors is starting to court the blue-collar rebellion.

When Finch spoke here Friday night, both wings of the Harvard Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) were holding meetings in nearby halls, and the 400 students at those sessions could easily have caused some trouble. Instead, they left the disruptive tactics to outsiders — the "welfare rights" people — whose demonstration against Finch was, as a matter of fact, staged with utmost decorum.

The significance of the evening was not that Finch earned his medal for bravery in being the first high administration official to face a student audience in this hall, but that he chose to say — and not to say — to the students.

His prepared speech was a discourse on the environmental crisis, but in the course of the questions-and-answers period, Finch made three extremely interesting remarks.

In 1915, a holy alliance was formed by Russia, Austria and Prussia. In 1907, New Zealand became a self-governing dominion within the British Commonwealth.

Pompidou Revises French Priorities

PARIS (AP) — Twenty two years ago a headline in a Gaulish newspaper trumpeted, "The dollar is against the wall."

The paper's editors apparently believed that De Gaulle's France had paid the dollar there, and had overtopped the winner of a great monetary battle.

This week Georges Pompidou, De Gaulle's successor, pleaded with French housewives to man the front-line trenches to save the devalued franc.

"Each time a housewife argues about a price, or refuses to pay an unjustified price rise, she is defending the franc," he said.

Not only had the franc been devalued, but public pessimism about its prospects was forcing exchange dealers to discount the currency in foreign markets.

Without strong, stable industrial economy, he couldn't hope to succeed, these men say. He perpetually postponed the hard economic decisions which have made his policy work.

His first 100 days as president, Pompidou has demonstrated that he intends to change the priorities, and this means an end to the "dollar look" France.

Pompidou's major policy decision was to devalue the franc, and to devise a series of measures to restore the health of the national economy.

He said that transferring credit responsibilities to the West-names troops is not a sufficient, long-run solution to the problems of the war and the draft.

He said that after the experience of Vietnam, it is inadvisable that "American" overseas commitments will be reduced, because the great majority of the American people will demand that we pull back.

Muse use of it each day and find strength for each hour. "Loyd, keep us steadfast in Thy Word," Amen.

Mariners 8 and 9 May Cast Deciding Vote on Mars Trip

PARADISE, Calif. (AP) — The next spacecraft U.S. scientists send to Mars may be cast by the 1971 Mariners 8 and 9.

Major mission of Mariners 8 and 9, scheduled to be launched a week apart in May 1971, is to map 70 per cent of the Martian surface and find sites suitable for unmanned landings in 1972.

The 1,500-pound vehicles will be programmed to orbit as close as 1,000 miles for up to a year with television cameras capable of viewing objects the size of a football field.

The cameras and electronic sensors are expected to return enough information to help plan men's decisions whether manned exploration is feasible.

Scott Sees New Move To De-Escalate

WASHINGTON (AP)—Amid mounting Republican pressure for faster U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott has hinted President Nixon might announce a new de-escalation move shortly.

"I know he has in mind further de-escalation as a condition of any withdrawal," Scott said Thursday in defending the administration's Vietnam policy.

Another GOP senator said privately the President told him at midsummer that if current efforts to end the war failed by fall, the administration would try something else.

Growing Republican apprehension over the political impact of the war carried through with speeches by Sen. Charles McNamara of New York and Charles H. Percy of Illinois and a move by a handful of younger House Republicans to force a total U.S. pullout.

An aide said Rep. Donald W. Riegle Jr. of Michigan and other GOP House members hope to circulate a letter urging support for a proposal to limit the 1970 limit on the 1964 Goldwater Resolution. This was cited by the House in 1967 as the authority for sending U.S. forces to Vietnam.

The Goldwater Resolution was amended in 1967 to support U.S. forces in Vietnam. It was amended to draw sharp blasts from Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, the man who appointed Goldwater to the Senate in 1964.

Rep. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, said he expects his panel to hold public hearings on the Vietnam issue in its consideration of the Goldwater proposal.

"It's a matter of great importance," said Fulbright, whose committee was the center of another Vietnam hearing during the Johnson administration.

Other senators said they expect to hold public hearings on the Vietnam issue in the next few weeks. The administration is well aware that its political chestnuts are being tested. If a de-escalation move is announced, it would be a major test of the administration's resolve.

Goodell, who made his call for a pullout at a news conference in a Senate hearing room, said he is not a pacifist. "I see no sign that the approach we are taking will work in any reasonable way acceptable to the American people."

After Goodell's speech, Percy revealed the outline of a talk he had prepared for Thursday night in Evanston, Ill. Percy called for faster troop withdrawals and a ban on sending troops to Vietnam once U.S. troop strength falls to half of the present half-million man force.

Blackboard to Stage Boards

The small of the great part, the crunch of the chalk, they mix conveniently for Robert Lunny, area teacher-tutor.

When the musical, "Mama," opened last night at the Municipal Auditorium in Hartford, Lunny was on stage in the chorus, and it certainly was a regular actor's meet with any degree of disaster, Lunny will be out front. He's understudy for the parts of the Older Father and the character, Uncle Jeff. He also performs academically in tutoring two young actors in the company.

For Lunny home base is now the Vernon address of his mother, Mrs. Amelia DePaulis of 76 Hillside Ave. He finished a summer tour of the "Mama" company a few weeks ago and is about to begin a cross-country tour. The company has Charles H. Percy of Illinois and a move by a handful of younger House Republicans to force a total U.S. pullout.

Rogers, Gromyko To Discuss Mid-East

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko will discuss the Middle East situation during their meeting here today.

Rogers will be in the city for the session at the headquarters of the United Nations. Gromyko is expected to arrive in New York on Thursday.

The meeting is the first in a series of talks between the two men during their visit to the United States. Rogers is expected to meet with Gromyko on Thursday and Friday.

The meeting is expected to be a working session, with the two men discussing the current situation in the Middle East and the role of the United States and the Soviet Union.

Rogers is expected to discuss the recent developments in the Middle East, including the recent ceasefire in the Arab-Israeli conflict. Gromyko is expected to discuss the Soviet position on the conflict and the role of the Soviet Union in the region.

The meeting is expected to be a key event in the ongoing diplomatic efforts to resolve the Middle East conflict.

Return Visit To Ulster Set By Callaghan

By Andrew Tobin
Belfast, Northern Ireland (AP)—British Home Secretary James Callaghan will make a return visit to Northern Ireland Oct. 9 and 10 to check progress of the peace process in the embattled province, officials announced today.

Callaghan will meet the provincial prime minister, James Chichester-Clark, and other leaders, including representatives of the Roman Catholic-based opposition. He is the sponsor of a series of talks designed to remove Catholic discrimination in housing, employment and other areas.

Chichester-Clark presented the results of his talks at a news conference here today. He said the talks were a success and that a further meeting was scheduled to discuss the report of a judicial inquiry which laid part of the blame for recent rioting on Ulster failure to remove genuine sources of Catholic resentment.

Rioting flared Thursday night in Londonderry, flashpoint of a year of crisis, brought the British atmosphere back to breaking point. British troops were out in strength to keep rioters against a Northern school.

Waterloo Place, where angry Catholic youths stoned and pelted police vehicles before midnight, was sealed off by 30 riot police. A military "line" of barbed wire snatched shut the area around the Catholic stronghold of Bogside.

About 140 extra troops were drafted into Londonderry Thursday night, when rioting broke out. The rioting was the most serious since the arrival of British troops in the city in 1969. The rioting was the most serious since the arrival of British troops in the city in 1969.

Baby, Awaiting Transplant, Dies

San Francisco (AP)—Bob Zimmerman, born 13 months ago with a defective liver, died Thursday after a futile year-long wait for a transplant operation.

Earlier in the week he underwent a fourth operation to cleanse his liver, which lacked ducts to carry off body wastes. Doctors who discovered his liver problem a few weeks after Bobby was born in Redding, Calif., said he could not survive long without a transplant.

No suitable donor was ever found, because of the difficulty in matching tissues with infant recipient victims and other potential donors.

Bobby died at the University of California Medical Center here. Except for the liver defect, he was a normal child.

The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Herb Zimmerman. They had moved from Redding to San Jose to be near the medical center. Zimmerman is a rodeo rider and clown.

HAITI AIR TRAVEL
PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Air travel to Haiti during the first five months of 1968 was the heaviest in more than 10 years. It reflected a 19 percent increase in the number of passengers over the same period in 1967.

According to Jean Sauril, director of the Haiti Tourist Office in New York, air travel from January through May of this year totaled 3,287. It compared with 2,842 for the same period in 1967. Totals for the five-month period of the previous year were 5,608.

During the same period of this year, more than 100,000 tourists for the first time visited Haiti, bringing in $2.8 million in foreign exchange.

Sauril says: "A great deal of the increase in air travel to Haiti is due to the improved service with new airlines serving the country."

He pointed out that Caribbean, Trans Caribbean and Dominican Airlines have inaugurated services since January.

He said that the increase in air travel to Haiti runs to include daily service to the island of St. Martin, St. John, St. Kitts and Nevis, and St. Lucia. It also includes service to the island of St. Vincent and the Grenadines, and St. Lucia.

State police said the man, James Mark White, 22, of Brooklyn, N.Y., had been charged on Thursday with the shooting of two border patrolmen and a customs agent in a Canadian border crossing today.

Met Given $100 Million Art Collection

NEW YORK (AP)—The famous Robert Lehman art collection, which experts say might have brought $100 million if sold, has been given to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

The collection includes approximately 3,000 objects, among them paintings by Rembrandt, Botticelli, El Greco, Goya, Van Gogh, Renoir, Gauguin, Matisse and Picasso.

Other works, covering the 12th through the 20th century, are Western European bronzes, tapestries, furniture and ceramics.

Thomas P. F. Hoving, director of the museum, described the collection as priceless and said it was "practically without parallel in the history of private collecting."

The collection was assembled by Robert Lehman, a New York investment banker, who was the museum's chairman until he died Aug. 9 of the age of 77.

The gift to the museum was announced by his son, Robert Lehman, and Edwin L. Hovey, president of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, at a news conference Thursday.

The 10th anniversary of the museum's opening is next April 13.

Arthur A. Houghton Jr., president of the Metropolitan, called the gift the largest in the history of the museum and a "crown of glittering and precious jewels."

The collection is presently housed in the last banker's office apartment and five-floor mansion, both in Manhattan. The collection will be "maintained together as an entity within the museum forever," the museum reported Thursday in a news conference.

Robert Owen Lehman said he and his father often had discussed the future of the collection and that he had decided to give it to the Metropolitan.

He said they felt the collection would be "preserved in perpetuity" and would be shared not only by the people of this country but also the people of the world.

Coventry Teen Center Will Hold First Meeting Thursday

A teen center open to all Coventry High School students will have its first meeting Thursday from 7 to 10 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The center is being sponsored by the Coventry High School Church Community Council, Rt. 4A.

The church has donated use of the building for the center on Thursday nights, and much of the work to set up the center has been done by the church members.

ELLINGTON Aborn Was Happiest 4-H'er

At the many 4-Hers who participated in youth activities at the Eastern States Exposition, Richard Aborn of Ellington was the happiest. He has been a member of the 4-H Club since he was 12 years old.

Aborn's 4-H activities include raising a pig, a cow, and a turkey. He has also been a member of the 4-H Club since he was 12 years old.

COVENTRY Three Wounded, Gunman Dead In Border Shooting

CHAMPLAIN, N.Y. (AP)—A man who police said shot and wounded two border patrolmen and a customs agent in a Canadian border crossing today was apparently committed to a psychiatric hospital.

State police said the man, James Mark White, 22, of Brooklyn, N.Y., had been charged on Thursday with the shooting of two border patrolmen and a customs agent in a Canadian border crossing today.

Indians Keyed Up For Season Opener

By DEAN YOST

"We (Manchester High football team) are definitely up for Saturday's game against CCL member Conn in West Hartford. The team is really pulling together and the spirit is really boiling with each practice," stated Head Coach Dave Wiggin.

The Indians of Manchester High school will open their 1969 football season Saturday when they face the Chiefs of Connecticut High, game time is 1:30. The Red Sox swept their opponents in a backfield with a 4-1 mark and lost to Concord 15-0 in the rain. Revenge will also be on the minds of the young Indian squad.

"I'm satisfied with the progress of the team, and for what we have, we've come a long way," added Wiggin as players only 27 will be in uniform for the weekend contest. Junior fullback Kevin Walsh will miss the first two Indians games due to an injury. Bob

Gay and Doug Downham will also miss the Concord game. Carl Werhosen is experiencing administration problems and also a doubtful starter Saturday.

Since practice started some three weeks ago the players that showed the most improvement are Bob Corcoran, Bill Lopez and Dennis Wirzella. "These boys have shown their desire and willingness to play hard," commented the head teacher.

"Conard is a little bit bigger than we are and they have a backfield with a 4-1 mark and lost to Concord 15-0 in the rain. Revenge will also be on the minds of the young Indian squad."

Defensively the Indians will have, Coughlin and Dave Bray of the ends, Vinick and Coran tackle, center Duffy; linebackers Lopez Holik and Wirzella, Charabariak and Ken Tedford at the corner and Balzano safety.

The Indians will be ready for the opener with a young team. "We will be in there fighting all the way," Wiggin said.

Doing the leg work for us will be Jim Balzano hitting off the extra point attempts will be the task of Dave Hassett and the rest of the team.

Midgets Open Play Tonight

Helping the Manchester Midget Football League open its 15th season tonight at Mt. Nebo with a doubleheader will be the Bennett Junior High Band. Appearing with the band will be Craig Bushey and Mary Sloan, above, with Ricky Walsh. First game which starts at 6:30 pits the Giants and Patriots with the Eagles and Jets slated in the nightcap.

Powerful Ohio State Ready for First Test

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio State launches its football season Saturday—and it's not expected to take very long for Coach Woody Hayes' veteran national champs to reach orbit.

The Buckeyes are overwhelming favorites to crush aside Texas Christian and extend their nation's longest winning streak to 16 games.

"It'll be a high scoring game," predicted Hayes, but with the mass of talent available, it will probably be the No. 1 ranked Buckeyes doing most of the scoring.

Hayes has 12 of 22 regular back from last year's squad which rolled past 10 straight foes, including Southern California in the Rose Bowl.

And, the Ducks boast excellent depth at every position, particularly the backfield headed by quarterback Ron Maciejowski and Rex Kern, fullback Jim Ots and halfbacks Larry Zelina, Ray Gillian, John Brockington and Leo Higgins.

UComs After Second Win Over Yale at Bowl Saturday

Connecticut's football team has come to Yale Bowl this time, often with squads expected to lead Yale. But only one Connecticut team did so, in 1965—when it wasn't expected to.

It's another of those stories that connect teams from various parts of the state. Both Trinity and Williams have large hopes to fill as the Yale squad Saturday at the site of the first game of the Connecticut football season—and it's extremely hard game to pick.

Also hard to figure are Connecticut's rivals at Middlebury College in Vermont. Middlebury is favored to beat Bridgeport at the opening of the season.

But, he adds, "if we continue to win, nobody can catch us." The Braves begin a three-game series with the Red Sox to night and close the season here against Connecticut on Tuesday and Thursday.

Atlanta leads a 13-game lead over San Francisco in the three-game series in the National League playoffs which opened for a berth in the Cincinnati League playoffs opposite the amazing New York Mets.

"I suppose there's no better place to be than in first place," said Atlanta manager Tom Post. "I'm not completely satisfied on my own and with the pennant I'll win."

Key Game for Webster and Co. Against Tough Detroit Defense

NEW YORK (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams, Cleveland Browns, Green Bay Packers and Dallas Cowboys look like solid bets to romp to a second straight victory Sunday.

Webster and his coaching staff backs up Bart Starr's passing out as yet although the Browns are in a tight spot.

Third Soccer Win Notched by Tribe

Under the direction and watchful eye of Head Soccer Coach Dick Danielson, Manchester High School scored another victory yesterday afternoon at Memorial Field when they turned back CCL member Platt High.

Platt was held to a 1-1 tie. The Braves begin a three-game series with the Red Sox to night and close the season here against Connecticut on Tuesday and Thursday.

Crucial Series on Weekend in American Sox, Tigers In Dog Fight For Second

NEW YORK (AP) — There is, believe it or not, a crucial series coming up in all places, the American League's East Division.

That's the East Division where the Orioles have won 18 games and lead the second place team by 23 games. Second place—Baltimore's crucial series takes place Thursday and third-place Boston whips New York 4-3, leaving the Red Sox just one game behind the Tigers.

The two teams open a three game series, label it crucial. In Boston, the Sox are expected to show a complete new staff of coaches next season. Bobby Doerr, first base and batting coach the past two years, has decided to pack it in.

REMEMBER THE METS WHEN... Third baseman Felix Mantillo camped under a fly ball but it popped out of glove and was caught by Sammy Taylor.

Manager Casey Stengel strutted around like a bantam rooster to argue with the umpires, but like the Mets of old he always wound up a loser.

Two base runners wound up on the same base. Here Frank Thomas (25) is trapped off third only to find teammate Charlie Neal already there.

Sox, Tigers In Dog Fight For Second

NEW YORK (AP) — There is, believe it or not, a crucial series coming up in all places, the American League's East Division.

That's the East Division where the Orioles have won 18 games and lead the second place team by 23 games. Second place—Baltimore's crucial series takes place Thursday and third-place Boston whips New York 4-3, leaving the Red Sox just one game behind the Tigers.

The two teams open a three game series, label it crucial. In Boston, the Sox are expected to show a complete new staff of coaches next season.

BY DAY 'AL' IS A GOOD TRUCK DRIVER, AT NIGHT 'AL' IS A GREAT MUSICIAN!

He learned to play "The Saints Go Marching In" in 5 minutes flat.

At it self-taught - he pushed the magic music button! Just imagine what he'll be playing in three weeks... three months... three years. It's easy... and it works! We call it the Electronic Teaching System - an exciting new way of learning to play the organ. Simply push the magic music button and you're off and learning. No weekly lesson schedules to keep, no old-fashioned scales and finger exercises to start with. It's just a fun way of learning to play - fast. Like anything else, you'll have to practice.

You can learn at your own pace, whenever you have a leisure moment... in the morning with carphones for complete privacy; between your favorite TV shows; before or after work. When ever you wish.

Forget about the many years you've wasted wanting to learn to play because now everyone can learn by pushing the magic music button.

We highly recommend that your children have private, disciplined instruction. For them we have an excellent experienced staff of organ instructors available to serve you.

The electronic teaching system is economical too. Now for the first time, you can be playing the organ as a family, and, therefore, it becomes a new hobby that can bring pleasure immediately to everyone.

We have set up several private demonstration rooms so you and your family can spend a delightful time while learning how this new idea can have you playing the organ faster than you can say Tchaikovsky.

After the demonstration, any member of your family may push the magic music button and take a short simple lesson in one of our private studios - "Believe it or not" you'll be playing "When the Saints Go Marching In" within 5 minutes.

OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY, SEPT. 28th 12 to 6 P.M.

FREE with the purchase of any new organ you will receive the new Billing Organ Course including: Instruction tapes, music material, Ball and Hollow cassette tape recorder. Valued at $100.00.

Thieu Says Vietis Plan Bigger Army

SAIGON (AP) - President Nguyen Van Thieu indicated today that a large number of American troops could be withdrawn from Vietnam in 1970 beyond the 90,000 already ordered reduced this year.

This would mean a new conference in Vung Tau that the independence movement would be held there. He said, however, that before more American troops can be withdrawn the United States must meet the South Vietnamese armed forces requirement for "material, funds and a reasonable time for training and leadership."

Thieu said that he would ask President Nixon to send many more troops to the United States and would withdraw next year. He said he would try to meet Nixon's wishes.

Thieu did not disclose how many American troops could be withdrawn next year. However, he said that the United States said last week that 100,000 to 200,000 American troops could be withdrawn by the end of 1970.

The first round of U.S. troop withdrawals, 50,000 men, was completed last August. The second round, which will number 30,000 troops and be completed by Dec. 15, began six days ago.

The current pullout, ordered Sept. 18, will cut the authorized ceiling of U.S. troops in Vietnam to 484,000.

Meanwhile the U.S. command reported that American battlefield deaths in Vietnam so far this year total 8,118—43 per cent decrease from the corresponding 28-week period of 1968. This is an average of 13 deaths a week.

Last year, the command said, 10,000 men were killed.

GIs Find 1,000 Dead Civilians

SAIGON (AP) - U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have found more than 1,000 bodies in mass graves of civilians massacred by the Viet Cong during the enemy's 2nd offensive in February 1968, military spokesmen said today. And they said they believe there are other mass graves that have not yet been found.

The U.S. command said the latest grave, discovered a week ago south of Hue, contained 200 bodies, 100 more than previously reported. Some 850 bodies were found in two other mass graves east of the city last spring, the command said.

Spokesmen said about 100 more Hue residents inside the city when they were captured by the enemy, and that nearly 1,000 residents still are unaccounted for.

Viets: GIs Leave in '72

WASHINGTON (AP) - High South Vietnamese officials present plans call for the replacement of U.S. forces in their country to be completed by the end of 1972, although some American troops still would be required after that time.

The South Vietnamese estimate appeared to cover a longer period of time than President Nixon had in mind when he told a news conference Friday he is trying to end the war before the close of 1970 or the middle of 1971.

The South Vietnam officials are programming a buildup of their regular army, together with regional and provincial forces, to a total of 953,000 men by the end of 1972.

Their plans, however, would call for American units to continue supplying not only logistic support, but combat support, as well from infantry units, 232 units from helicopter gunships.

The South Vietnam military base are based on continuing the present situation in which 100,000 men into South Vietnam each month. This number is said to be sufficient for replacement of North Vietnam casualties.

The North Vietnamese forces are not building up strength and are not sufficient to hold even at the present level of infiltration, according to this estimate.

South Vietnamese officials are in accord with President Nixon's judgment that Hanoi lacked the strength to mount a serious offensive during the summer months. Describing what is known as the

'Stars and Stripes' Irks Top Command

SAIGON (AP) - The U.S. High Command in South Vietnam said today that the Stars and Stripes newspaper is "not down-right dishonest—referred to as an Associated Press story that was withdrawn by the U.S. Army command in Vietnam."

In a speech he wrote for an in-formation officers' meeting this week, the chief of staff, Gen. James Campbell, chief spokesman for the U.S. Army command in Vietnam, said the "treason" one battle eye-witness report by a Stars and Stripes reporter was "clearly irresponsible—if not downright dishonest—referred to as an Associated Press story that was withdrawn by the U.S. Army command in Vietnam."

Campbell, a former editor in chief of European Stars and Stripes, is scheduled to take over as editor in chief of the Stars and Stripes next January. The Associated Press objected to his appointment because of his past work for the Stars and Stripes newspaper.

The story, by a Stars and Stripes combat reporter, Spec. 4 Robert B. Johnson, was an eyewitness account of an action in the Pacific Division area. Campbell said that Johnson had earned for itself the title of "The Hanoi Herald."

"Perhaps this may seem a bit harsh, but we of U.S. Army command in Vietnam feel that there is more than a bit of justification for it. The latest example of reporting is a story that appeared on page 8 of the Sunday, Aug. 31 issue of the Stars and Stripes."

Army Calls Capt. Marasco 'Trigger-Man' in Spy Killing

SAIGON (AP) - The Army disclosed more details of its murder and conspiracy case against six Green Beret officers today, naming a 27-year-old intelligence specialist as the trigger man in the execution of a reported Vietnamese spy.

The three top-ranking officers from defense attorneys that would produce the case, military officials made public the charges in which all six men are accused of plotting and carrying out the slaying last June 20.

The documents named Capt. Thomas Francis Marasco, 27, of Bloomfield, N.J., as the man who fired the pistol shot that killed the Green Beret officer. It was disclosed that he was a double agent working for the North Vietnamese as well as for the Americans.
