Thieu Says Vietis Plan Bigger Army

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu indicated today that a large number of American troops could be withdrawn from Vietnam in 1970 beyond the 90,000 already ordered reduced this year.

This would mean a new conference in Vung Tau that the independence movement would be held there.

He said, however, that before more American troops can be withdrawn the United States must meet the South Vietnamese armed forces requirement for "material, funds and a reasonable time for training and leadership."

Thieu said that he would ask President Nixon to send more troops to the United States and would try to meet Nixon's wishes.

Thieu did not disclose how many American troops could be withdrawn next year. However, he said that the United States said last week that 100,000 to 200,000 American troops could be withdrawn by the end of 1970.

The first round of U.S. troop withdrawals, 50,000 men, was completed last August. The second round, which will number 30,000 troops and be completed by Dec. 15, began six days ago.

The current pullout, ordered Sept. 18, will cut the authorized ceiling of U.S. troops in Vietnam to 484,000.

Meanwhile the U.S. command reported that American battle-field deaths in Vietnam so far this year total 8,118—43 per cent decrease from the corresponding 28-week period of 1968. This is an average of 13 deaths a week.

Last year, the command said, 10,000 were killed.

GIs Find 1,000 Dead Civilians

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. and South Vietnamese forces have found more than 1,000 bodies in mass graves of civilians massacred by the Viet Cong during the enemy's 2 1/2 offensives in February 1968, military spokesmen said today.

Spokesmen said about 100 mass graves that have not yet been found.

The U.S. command said the latest grave, discovered a week ago south of Hue, contained 200 bodies, 100 more than previously reported.

Some 850 bodies were found in two other mass graves east of the city last spring, the command said.

Spokesmen said about 100 more Hue residents inside the city when they were captured by the enemy, and that nearly 1,000 residents still are unaccounted for.

Viets: GIs Leave in '72

WASHINGTON (AP) — High South Vietnamese officials are planning to call for the replacement of U.S. forces in their country to be completed by the end of 1972, although some American troops still would be required after that.

The South Vietnamese estimate appeared to cover a longer period of time than President Nixon had in mind when he told a news conference Friday he is trying to end the war before the close of 1970 or the middle of 1971.

The South Vietnam officials are programming a buildup of their regular army, together with regional and provincial forces, to a total of 953,000 men by the end of 1972.

Their plans, however, would call for American units to continue supplying not only logistic support, but combat support, as well from infantry units, 232 units from helicopter gunships.

The South Vietnam military base are based on continuing the present situation in which 100,000 men into South Vietnam each month. This number is said to be sufficient for replacement of North Vietnam casualties.

The North Vietnamese forces are not building up strength and are not sufficient to hold even at the present level of infiltration, according to this estimate.

South Vietnamese officials are in accord with President Nixon's judgment that Hanoi lacked the strength to mount a serious offensive during the summer months. Describing what is known as the

Army Calls Capt. Marasco 'Trigger-Man' in Spy Killing

SAIGON (AP) — The Army disclosed more details of its murder and conspiracy case against six Green Beret officers today, naming a 27-year-old intelligence specialist as the trigger man in the execution of a reported Vietnamese spy.

The documents named Capt. Thomas Francis Marasco, 27, of Bloomfield, N.J., as the man who fired the pistol shot that killed the Green Beret officer. It was disclosed that he was a double agent working for the North Vietnamese as well as for the Americans.

Marasco Loved Army

BLOOMFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Army Pvt. Robert F. Marasco pointed to a statue of a U.S. infantryman at Ft. Dix and said, "This is why I am choosing to go all the way," and make the Army his career.

That was three years ago. Today, Marasco, now a captain in the 100th Airborne, was charged by the Army with shooting to death an alleged Vietnamese double agent. Marasco's father, Frank, described earlier this week his son during basic training at Ft. Dix in March 1966.

"Bob took us to see the statue there called the 'Ultimate Weapon' and said 'This is why I am choosing to go all the way.'"

THE BIBLE SPEAKS
By Eugene Brewer
September 28 to October 3
These are the dates for a special series of evangelistic services conducted by the Church of Christ. David Tarbel, outstanding young minister for the church in Danbury will be the guest speaker at all services. 10 a.m. and 7 p.m. weekdays. The purpose of this series are: 1) To be instructed in the righteousness; 2) To acquaint our friends with the Church of Christ; 3) To motivate the unconverted to obey Christ; 4) To encourage Christians to study the Bible throughout. I believe that together we can have the national worship in song. The Church of Christ is beginning its ninth year in Manchester, and we are planning a nucleus of 30 people meeting in a rented hall, and depending upon outside assistance, to care for a group of 125 to 150 people. If you would like to learn more about the Church of Christ, if you enjoy studying the Bible, singing hymns, prayer, and Christian fellowship, attend these special meetings.

Chamber Praises Planting Efforts

By WALLY FORTIN, DIRECTOR

The Manchester Chamber of Commerce City Beautiful Committee has sent communications of recognition and appreciation to the Manchester Garden Club, Girl Scout Troop 600 (Youth Garden) and Girl Scout Troop 10 (Mary's Church) for the latter's plantings of community gardens in Manchester during the summer of 1969. In the communications, Rev. Douglas H. Smith, City Beautiful Committee chairman, commented, "It is always encouraging to note the constructive activities of community groups such as yours. Without such endeavors, we would not have the beauty of Manchester which we are proud to call our home."

The two clubs and the two troops are presently making plans to continue garden plantings in 1970. The Manchester Garden Club has projected to augment its program by planting a garden in the North End in 1970.

The Manchester Garden Club plants its garden on E. Center St. opposite the Post Office. The Youth Garden Club plants its garden in Munro Park. Girl Scout Troop 600 garden at Manchester Green, and Girl Scout Troop 10 garden around the Civic War monument in Center Park.

Plus produced by barman has twice the strength of any commercial brew now on the market, the National Geographic Society says. The natural adhesive hardens in salt water and withstands more than 7,000 pounds of force.

Mime's Villa a Family Place

By WALLY FORTIN, DIRECTOR

Mr. Grosso is the jovial host at his home replete with proper accessories and travel memorabilia.

The house exterior is casually furnished for convenience and comfort. A gut table is often used for a guest dining during the winter weather. The glass doors lead to a small breakfast room (used also as a study) with a view of the lake. The infant of Prague on the wall is a gift from Mrs. Grosso when she first started housekeeping by her mother. The roomy bedroom is accented with gold and silver and a gold rug. Another entertainment spot is found in the basement and is a very intimate lounge with a car accident suffered while driving a member of the Coventry-Coverly group in England this past summer. Mrs. Grosso intends to make large changes in the recreation area from the living room. He will trim the lamp shades with British beer coasters.

The Grosso enjoy the pleasure that his late living provides. Mr. Grosso and his daughter play the piano, and Mrs. Grosso is employed in the quality control department of the Iona Manufacturing Company in Manchester. Mr. Grosso is also a member of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce. Young Art Association.

In hardening its victims toward the unreasonable and unjust savagery of war... One can hear the traditional dogs of war growling in shocked anger and disbelief.

But this is what the Army does that is driven to in its effort to prove that, of all things, can be democratic, respectable, humane. And the Army is driven to this because it can feel a whole people shifting toward a rejection of war itself as an institution.

War is in trouble. It and its apparatus, have been in the center of the stage, under too bright a light, for too long a time. Any really serious military must be praying for peace, and for a chance for people, and prospective soldiers, to get their fill of that boredom which peace can bring.

Hunting The Quark Since 1948, the world's physicists have been engaged in hunting the quark. They have hunted the quark in every possible way and by every possible means—in the depths of the sea, on the mountain top, in the midst of the hottest action of the world's biggest atom smasher.

The hunt is complicated, to some extent, by the fact that nobody is quite sure just what a quark looks like when it is cornered. In fact, even its very existence is a kind of theoretical proposition.

But the other day, some Australian physicists claimed success in the hunt. They had, they said, seen four quarks at a quark. It turns out, it is a possible subject of matter, possibly a third of a proton.

If the quark does exist, as what it is supposed to be, a constituent probably is the key to the basic nature of all matter. The Australian physicists thought they saw their four quarks in the course of their observation of the behavior of 60,000 particles generated by recent cosmic ray showers.

But along with this main picture, there are recurrent additions, all of which in minor key, add their indirect contributions to the accumulation of rejection of things that war involves.

Ones take, for instance, the matter of poison gas. After decades of evidence in our military stockpiles, after decades of free and unpublicized movement about the country into various industrial uses, the mere existence of such a weapon has become controversial, and the transportation of any of it about the country a thing that increasing numbers of people, politicians and communists disagree with total horror.

Actually, inflation cannot be brought under control with a one-industry attack. Nor will a major reduction in highway construction, bridges, etc. readily guarantee that home costs will come down. Homes are not built with bulldozers and cement. The resources released to the home-building field would be relatively few.

The President also directed that the government step up training of needed skilled labor for the construction industry. He said a shortage of skilled labor is at the root of the industry's problems.

While the President is again part right, he has also obscured the issue. The problem of the time delay, made partly by money, expensive money, restrictive union practices which limit entrance to the industry, the majority of which have large industries to get their plants up and running in the housing industry, a lack of an effective federal program to absorb blacks into their own houses by slanting down payments, high lumber prices, certainly not in the immediate future. And, if time limits are not reasonable, then planners must have to face an impatient Congress.

Wonders of the Universe: Controversy on Charting The Earth's Resources

By DR. I. M. LEVITT, DIRECTOR The Felix Planimeter of The Franklin Institute

A mild controversy has been triggered between proponents of the Earth Resources Technology satellite (ERTS) and aerial photography as to which system holds more promise for the future. While both space and air photography are used to map the earth, each has its own advantages and disadvantages.

Proponents of space pictures indicate that satellites have long life and can provide ground resolution on the order of 300 feet. Long life and ability to repeat observations at no material cost, they believe, has overriding merit. However, resolution and illumination under ground conditions, satellites appear to have serious deficiencies.

Let's compare pictures from air and space. In an aerial photograph we can discern a building. The pictures taken by space astronauts have been superb, but their photographs, from an altitude of 200 miles or more, reveal only the city without detail. Scientists believe, however, that with time-lapse photography we can discern more detail—such as individual buildings.

Present plans call for ERTS to have three Return Beam Vidicons operating in three parts of the electromagnetic spectrum. It will have a one-inch-square imaging surface. It is hoped that the time delay, made partly by money, expensive money, restrictive union practices which limit entrance to the industry, the majority of which have large industries to get their plants up and running in the housing industry, a lack of an effective federal program to absorb blacks into their own houses by slanting down payments, high lumber prices, certainly not in the immediate future. And, if time limits are not reasonable, then planners must have to face an impatient Congress.

Administration Feels House Was a Bit Too Enthusiastic

By ERNEST CONNIE The Los Angeles Times. A massive counterattack against the tax reform bill is under way in the Senate, and out of this campaign of attrition a great truth emerges.

The loudest and most politically potent defenders of tax "loopholes" are not the so-called fat cats whose tax returns are directly involved, but the museums, foundations, universities and charities who are beneficiaries of the wealthy man's tax breaks.

To put the matter more harshly, we are being reminded that some of the most wonderful enterprises in this country depend for their survival on the tax breaks.

A foundation representative object that the reform bill as passed by the House would "probably constitute the death knell of the foundations as we know them."

Undoubtedly the tax reform bill as passed by the House does have some rough edges which need something. The measure may have gone too far in some respects.

What amount of personal assets can a family retain and still be eligible for aid? How many times a year must a family report its income for recomputation of benefits?

Other issues, appearing trivial on the surface but still important, have been settled, sources say. A family would be able to keep its house, for example, and still receive benefits.

People in the middle brackets were particularly incensed a few months ago at the revelation that they do not qualify for family deductions which drastically reduce the actual rate of taxation on their income.

The House took him at his word and then sent the reform package which was ultimately sent to the Senate was much less than the original legislation had proposed.

Take the example of a wealthy man who donates to a museum a painting for which he has paid $100,000.

Under present law, he is allowed to deduct the entire $22,000 fair market value—$12,000 more than its cost to him—against his income.

Under the new law, the deduction is limited to the actual cost of the painting, and the deduction is reduced to 30 percent of the cost.

Kinks in Family Assistance Slows Nixon Welfare Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's welfare reform comes. One thing certain to be needed, said Ball, is a massive public campaign similar to the one that brought 20 million elderly persons into the Medicare system.

In addition, he said, his agency would have to expand staff and mobile offices in rural areas. Ball and other officials in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare admit special problems would be posed by the old job man, the seasonal or migrant worker and the tenant farmer.

The biggest task would be informing these sometimes illiterate people of family assistance programs and helping them into the program, Ball said.

What about the old job man who cannot remember how much he has earned in the past year and the amount was too little to be reported for social security?

"We simply ask him how much he has earned in the past year," Ball said. "I do think we can do it."

Save the jobs drained from maraschino flowers. Use them to color and flavor cream cheese for great lunch-box or tea-party sandwiches.

WCSB Speaker

Richard Speer, vice president of Connecticut East District United Methodist Women's Society, will be guest speaker at a potluck buffet of the North United Methodist Church WCSB on Monday at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

Members of the Chapman-Joy Circle will be guests of honor at the senior women's meeting of the church, whose devotion and energies held the church together during the depression years, and have been the mainstay of the Women's Society through the years.

"Women Who Care" is this year's theme of the Women's Society, as well as the theme of Monday's program. Mrs. Speer, who also serves as president of the South United Methodist Church WCSB, will speak at 8 p.m. Both the upper and lower rooms are open to all women and friends of the church.

Honey, Jar Was 12 oz., av. Not fl.

By SOL R. COHEN The phone rang, and when I answered I could hear only one word over the clatter of the typewriter—the word was "honey," and it seemed to be a question, or an invitation.

I replied, "You must have the wrong number," and I was ready to hang up.

Whoever it was, and it turned out to be my wife, said, "Oh no, I have your number."

Well, as she explained it, she wasn't calling me "honey," she was asking me to bring home a jar of honey.

Only a few days before, my wife had announced that she would bake a honey cake. The day before the phone call, we bought a huge order at the supermarket. My wife bought all the ingredients for the cake, she thought. But, she forgot the honey.

The next day, on her way and from the beauty parlor, she passed three groceries twice. But she again forgot the honey. That was the reason for the phone call. "Do remind me to buy the honey."

I bought the honey—a 12-ounce jar.

That night I went to a meeting and my wife got busy on the cake. It was beautiful, it was high, and it had the right texture, and it was delicious.

Her recipe called for 12 ounces of honey, and that's what I had bought. However, the 12 ounces she was talking about were fluid ounces of honey, not avoirdupois ounces.

And, when she poured the contents of the jar into a two-cup measuring cup, it measured only one cup, or eight fluid ounces.

Reuben Plen's Texaco

Are you one of the many motorists who depend upon the fine mechanical service given at Reuben Plen's Texaco Station located at 381 Main St. Mr. Plen has a general repairer's license, and you know that you are getting the services of one of the finest mechanics available when you take work here. Not only that, but all the work is guaranteed, so that you will be certain of the utmost in satisfaction when the work is done here.

Reuben Plen took over this Texaco Station on July 1, 1962, and he has many years of experience in back of him as a fully trained mechanic working on all makes and models of cars. No matter what your particular car problem may be, you can be sure that Mr. Plen can and will diagnose the trouble and fix it for you. Not only does he do an excellent job but you will be most pleased with the reasonable prices that he charges for his work. If you are not satisfied with the way your car is running, let it over to Reuben Plen's Texaco Station and let Mr. Plen take a look at it.

If you need new tires — and it is foolish and risky to drive on worn tires — you will find a full line of Firestone and Good-year tires at Reuben Plen's Texaco Station. Whether or not you have new tires, it would be a very smart idea to have a front end of your car checked to see if it is out of alignment. If it is, you are driving your car every day, the chances are that it is out of alignment, for it is almost impossible to drive without hitting the many "potholes" in the roads. You will not be able to see by looking at your tires if the car is out of alignment, unless this is a condition that has existed for some time. Be safe and have your car checked now.

How are your brakes? Do they pull unevenly or perhaps you have not had them checked for some time. Worn brakes will still stop a car but they risk having the drums scored. Regular checkups will prevent this and save you money. Stop in at Plen's Texaco Station and have your brakes checked.

Mr. Plen advises that every 20,000 miles the motor should be turned up, the filter changed and also the oil in the transmission. This will prevent transmission trouble and also prevents the seals from drying out. The charge for this service is most reasonable and certainly a lot cheaper than having a transmission job done.

Reuben Plen's Texaco Station offers all-around repair service. He rebuilds ball joints, tie rods, etc. This is certainly the place to take your car for swift and expert mechanical service.

Are you acquainted with the fine Texaco products? You will enjoy using them. Fire Chief the regular gas or Sky Chief the high test gas will really make a difference when used regularly in your car. As for oil, the next time you need an oil change get Texaco's Havoline, one of the oldest of the fully tested oils on the market today. If you need a new battery get a sturdy Texaco or Delco battery and you will have no worries over starting your car, no matter how cold it may be.

Braves' Phil Stops Padres And Brother Joe Niekro

NEW YORK (AP)—"A wonderful feeling," said Orlando Cepeda.

"Not as pleasing as it should be," said Phil Niekro.

"That's what brotherly love will do for you."

Cepeda, you see, unloading on Niekro's brother, Joe, who in a grand slam homer that triggered the Atlanta Braves to a 10-4 victory over San Diego Friday night and lowered their magic number to the National League West to four.

Of course, Phil wasn't entirely innocent. He hurried into the dugout to hug the pitcher who started the Braves' big six-run third with a single, one of his three hits.

Elsewhere, San Francisco, 15 games behind Atlanta, kept pace with a 2-1 triumph over Los Angeles, Cincinnati took two from Houston 5-0 on Jim Maloney's one-run fourth, and East Division champion New York Mets blanked Philadelphia 5-0, Pittsburgh tripped the Chi-

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox spent most of the American League season chasing the Detroit Tigers—with both teams tied for runner-up in the East Division championship.

A couple of weeks ago, the Sox appeared assured of second place and runner-up money. However, someone forgot to tell the persistent Red Sox.

Boston's late-season charge paid off Friday night as the Red Sox, edgily Detroit 6-5 and moved into a second-place tie with the Tigers before a surprising turnout of 20,623 fans.

The victory was Boston's fifth straight, including the four-run act of manager Eddie Popowski, who took over after Dick Williams was fired Tuesday. The Red Sox have won eight of their last nine outings and have a 16-10 record for the month of September.

Detroit and the Tigers, who won the 1968 World Championship, are caught in a nightmare.

Kiddie Corps Due For First Outing

Wiggin's Kiddie Corps, a youthful, inexperienced band of Indians, will be unveiled this afternoon when Coach Dave Wiggin sends his charges into battle against Conant High. Kickoff for the OCLL attraction in West Hartford will be at 7:30.

Manchester brings into the contest one of the best signal callers in the league in Jim Williams. Last year Balaam directed the Indians to a 6-1 record. Conant, paced by senior quarterback Jeff Roywood, plotted the Christians to an 8-1 overall and 7-1 OCLL record last year. Conant finished second in the league and will be edged out by powerful Windham. Windham was the only team to score more than one touchdown against the mighty Conant. In 1968, Windham posted a 12-0 record on West grounds last year.

Even though the Indians are small in number (37 suited up), they are strong and feel that they have edge going to today's game. Our spirit is way up and the boys are looking for a Red and White victory. They will be looking for a Red and White victory.

NCAA Rules Yale Track Ineligible

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Langer, a Yale substitute baseball player, has been declared ineligible for the coming season by the Eastern College Athletic Conference for playing in the recent Maccabiah Games in Israel.

But Yale's athletic director, Delaney Kipphut, said Thursday night "We will suit up Langer for the Connecticut game."

Yale and Connecticut, both members of the ECAC, are scheduled to meet Dec. 2 in the ECAC opening game.

The ECAC follows the rules of the National Collegiate Athletic Association NCAA.

The NCAA, still battling the Amateur Athletic Union control of amateur athletes in the sport, has ruled that a sanction college basketball players of the Maccabiah Games—excellent athletes—had not permitted collegians to play for the United States in the games held every four years, previously.

The AAIU, the U.S. representative body, has ruled that a college ball Federation, had sanctioned the players for the Games.

All of the other basketball players with eligibility for the ECAC game were allowed to play for the United States in the games held every four years, previously.

Popowski Still Undefeated After Four Straight Games

NEW YORK (AP)—If things keep going the way they have been, Eddie Popowski could become the first manager in the history of baseball to leave his job without ever having lost a game.

Popowski was named to lead the Boston Red Sox over the final week of the season after Dick Williams was fired Tuesday. He was named to replace Williams as interim manager.

The Red Sox have won four straight games since the change, the most recent a 6-5 decision over Detroit Friday night which moved Boston into a second place tie with the Tigers in the American League's East Division.

Elsewhere Friday night, Washington dropped Cleveland 4-1, New York trounced Baltimore 4-3, Oakland topped California 5-1 and Seattle beat Boston 10-4.

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Lee Trevino, the recognized comic of golf, has this year, but he refuses to drag his wife and 4-year-old daughter around on the tour.

Trevino said of the round which he played with his wife, "Ladies and I colored in a coloring book."

Leslie, a cute and knowledgeable 4-year-old, wears a question at the new conference with her father. "Daddy, did you know you made a lot of birdies?"

But the relaxation it gives him is not enough to make Trevino take his family on the tour. "I can't drag my family around like that."

Trevino had a one-stroke lead over Billy Casper and Bert Green, who each had one over the 564-yard, par 35-72 Portland Golf Club course.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Denver Broncos, already in high gear, shuffle off to Buffalo, and the New York Jets, trying to get out of reverse, head for the Golden State Sunday.

Denver has won its first two games, including last week's 27-10 victory over the Oakland Raiders. A victory over Buffalo would keep the Broncos on a winning streak.

The Jets, who have lost their first two games, are looking for a win against the Oakland Raiders.
