You and your family may not be sauce lovers, but all homemakers should know how to make a good sauce... Cream Sauce, White Sauce, Mornay Souce or White-Wine Sauce. To perfect the art of sauce making, the cook must know not only the method but the purpose—which, in the case of white sauce, is primarily to glaze food. The chicken, fish or meat should be placed on the serving platter and the Sauce, Mornay Sauce or over it. When the platter is put in a hot oven or under the broiler, a thin, lustrous and appetizing film is achieved. Try garnishing your next dinner meal with a delicious sauce.

Potholes, Washboard Celebrated in Novel

A Manchester novelist in her book, "The O.B's," has an obstetrician say of the roads in her fictional Mitchell City, "You don't have to see the city line to know where you are. Pot holes and washboards! There's one by the rotary I hit every day."
The author, Mrs. Virginia

tor's statement was that such a vealthy city should have such absolutely miserable roads." Money, or the lack of it, is the "root" cause of the town's poor roads, according to town officials. This is their answer to irate motorists and the judge when suits for road-caused damage appear in court. The loss in ruined front ends on cars, flooded streets, lawns and cellars, and store customers driving to other towns is hard to measure, he said. But until Manchester makes some move, people will contimue to refer to it in novels and newspapers as the town with the car-mangling pot holes

BIBLE SPEAK! Eugene

October 26 is Loyal Tem perance Sunday, so designat-ed as to call special atten-tion to the scandalous problem of alcohol in an afficent America. Alcohol is involved in over half of the mounting traffic fatalities— 53,000 hast year. The President's Crime Commission reveals that alcohol is a factor in at least 52% of all crimes. Dr. William Terhune of New York calls alcohol "addictive." the most dan-gerous drug being used in America, with 9,000,000 al-coholics and another 15,000. 000 "somewhat alcoholic de-pendent." (The Union Signal, Oct., 1969)

The relation of tobacco and disease called forth a Fed-eral study, which is effectiveby throwing the apotlight on the problem. When will an equally authoritative review be made of the alcohol is-sue? The physical, social, economic, and moral weifare of the nation is at stake! Isaiah prophesied woe upon Israel because priest, proph-et, and prince were over-come with drink (Read Isa'ah 28)—and he was correct

New York (AP) — What causes the stock market to rise and fall is always a debatable matter, but there never is an absence of explanation, especially in recent weeks.

Almost invariably, any rise or dip in prices is attributed to the Vietnam war, or more precise by to the prospects for peace in that country. But one wonders it that country. But one wonders it this is so—if money men really think so idealistically.

A Rapidly Building Father Image Just as Vice President Spiro T. Agnew managed to put into words, down in his New Orleans speech, what a good many of us really wanted to say about the participants in Moratorium Day, so, in his newest service to his nation, he probably speaks for a whole generation of frustrated parents.

For the proper picture of the Vice President in what may become his ultimate role - that of the Father Image all of us have been waiting for so longone must put together two separate presentations of the same general thought. One came just the other day, as he disclosed that he had forbidden his own 14-year old daughter to march or wear a black arm band on Moratorium Day. "She was unhappy for about a day, but she got over it. Parental-type power must be exercised. Some parents have just forgotten how. "People in the establishment don't want to say 'no' to young people even if they are wrong. Some self-serving politicians see our huge youth population as a volatile political commodity avail-generation and put its ideas to test. But continuing thing." As quoted by Columnist Nick Thimmesch in the Hartford Courant, Vice President Agnew had voiced similar sentiment last June in a commencement address at Ohio State University.

There he scolded his own generation for failing to "define and defend either its achievements or its inheritance from past generations of Americans.

"A society which comes to fear children," he said then, "is effete. nivelling, hand-wringing power structure deserves the violent rebellion it ncourages. If my generation doesn't stop cringing, yours will inherit a lawless society where emotion and muscle dis-

Taking these two pieces of Agnewiana on top of the impressively ringing prose of the New Orleans performance, we find ourselves on the way to several important realizations about the Vice place reason."

He is not kidding, he is not trialsome speechwriter. He really believes what he says. And against the common sophisticated view that he keeps putting his foot in his mouth, it might be more occurate to say that he keeps putting his parental-type foot down just where and just how he thinks it ought to be put

To go on from there, he is obviously not as easy to answer when he preaches his sermon about the elder generation and its shirking of what he considers its esponsibilities as he is when he takes what seems a rather cheap pot shot at some of the leadership of the younger

In fact, the more he says, the more he seems likely to pick up more people who really agree with him, and who, while they still would not quite care to say it themselves, are glad to have him saying

It is perhaps time to move him out of any classification as a curiosity, a foot in-the-mouther, a political risk, and concede that what he is building is that image of law and order, first in the family, then in the streets, so many ericans probably hunger for. This handsome figure, who speaks out other spheres, on other issues. He may indeed be that Father Image. Should not any man who can rule his own 14-year old daughter be automatically consider ed fit to rule us all?

Lindsay Ought To Sue The Poll The 1969 Daily News poll on the mayoralty election in New York City has guaranteed itself a destiny as the most discussed and perhaps controversial poll in political history by starting out with Mayor John Lindsay leading

Mayor Lindsay may have grounds for suing the poll, when and if he now loses the election, with the argument that it spoiled everything for the underdog kind of support which was really all he had left going for him. That may have n the only possible way he could have won the election - by secret support in which hundreds of thousands of individuals were going to vote for him because they felt so sorry and guilty over the fact nobody at all was going

Now the Daily News poll has made him a favorite, there is almost nothing he can do, except to try to keep on wearing that hang-dog look which has been natural for him in the past few weeks. As for all the people who were secretly going to vote for him, they are unmasked, and so their plot has lost its flavor and excitement for them, and > erybody involved in the New York City election must hate the poll, and be wishing it had never been taken. It is almost a certainty, we should think, that this will become a poll which will be used for extensive study of the possibility that a poll can interfere with and influence the course of an election it is trying to nobody can guarantee where they will

In the early years of the present Town Charter, which deliberately took the terminology of business organization for its own political forms, there was a fortunate concentration on persuading men of business standing and experience to give their town service on the new

Harry Firato was one of the business executives who found time to answer that call, and who subsequently played an important role in holding the new town government close to the ideals of they must reason their way, not jump to firmly-spoken and non-political in his depublic business he did consider vital to the town's best interest

When he retired from public office, he left an honorable record behind him, as he has now left honorable and friendcivic and fraternal associates, and loving memories among those privileged to be

Only In New England

All the rest of the country has four seasons. In New England we also have

The season which we have been en joying for the past two weeks is some outside of and beyond the usual wheeling of the year, a time set apart that somehow doesn't count in the stress of growth and decay, seedtime and har vest in which we are usually enmeshed The glory that is October serves no utilitarian purpose in the great natural scheme of things. The warmth of sun is not for growing of crops or the r'pening of fruit. All that is over and done with, and the fields lie fallow in the soft light. The riot of color in the trees to for no useful end, such as atracting bees or hummingbirds to help izing and cross-fertilization. The scarlet of the maples and the gold of the birch trees is sheer, lush luxury, as far as the practical furthering nature's ends is involved, simply a hap-

The season's effect on New England ers is just as unprogrammed, just as much a matter of serendipity. Other parts of the country may get spring fever but only in New England are recorded widespread attacks of Indian Summer Fever. This pleasant malady s characterized by a strong urge to ge outdoors and wander, by car or on foot through the sunswept brilliance of the liage, and by sharp, poignant attack gered by the smell of some neighbor's leaves being burned fliegally.

Maybe the special season has beef accorded only to New Englanders be cause they've earned it. We still like to think of ourselves as the hardest-working, the most energetic and inured to hardship, and perhaps still the most rock-ribbed and observant of ancestral

Maybe, on the other hand, only New inglanders have more need of a time ike this. Ours is still a rugged climate, demanding of fortitude and patience in the cold, dark months ahead. Perhaps nature's plan for the seasons here cludes deliberately a time to rest and to renew the spirit at the end of the season of growing and before the time of ice and storms

Tom and Georgy

Two film hits come to television this week. Below, Albert Finney and Susannah York are lovers in "Tom Jones." The film, which won four Oscars, will be shown today 8:30-11 p.m. on NBC. At left, James Mason helps Lynn Redgrave shop in "Georgy Girl," Wednesday 9-11 p.m. on ABC.

Judy Carne To Do Play

NEW YORK (AP)— Judy Carne has left NBC's "Laugh-In," with immediate plans to do a New York play. Earlier, Chelsea Brown, another of the show's regulars, pulled out to move in other carner directions move in other career directions. And if Arte Johnson's half-hour pilot turns into a mid-season replacement series on the net-work, the Monday night show would undoubtedly lose his serv-

By the end of last season, Judy was doing her best to con-ceal her boredom with those "sock it to me" routines and was beginning to complain about the rough treatment she suffered week in and week out.

"Sock it to me" happily has been mothballed and Judy has not caught a bucket of water or dropped through a trap door this season, but some of her old bounce and enthusiasm have been missing.

Tom and Dick Smothers have made a deal with NBC for a special. It will be broadcast on Feb. 16 at the end of the Mon-day night schedule that includes a Bob Hope show. The program is the first network project of the brothers' new production

Doctor Is a Hit

By BOB THOMAS HOLLYWOOD (AP) television season is still a bit young for predictions, but most observers agree on one thing: "Marcus Welby, M.D." is a hit.

The reviews were good, the ratings have been excellent. The medical series, along with "Mod Squad" and "Movie of the Week" has given ABC command of Tuesday night for the first time in its history.

What makes a hit? Cynics say the time slot is all-important, and "Welby" is doubly blessed by facing CBS news shows and NBC's weakest movies. On the more positive side, "Welby" is modern, well-produced and sharply written.

But the essential element of the show's success may well be its enormously likable and empathetic star, Robert Young.

Most producers thought Bob Young would never return to a television series. He had been through a distinguished career in films, had five successful years in "Father Knows Best" on TV, plus a hapless season in
