A GI dashes for cover past a Special Forces soldier huddled over equipment in the back of a jeep as incoming North Vietnamese mortar fire impacts on a nearby ridgeline at the Bu Prang Special Forces camp in South Vietnam's central highlands. Last Year:

Pentagon Misjudged Enemy's Manpower

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. intelligence misjudged enemy strength in South Vietnam last year by at least 68,000 men. This conclusion is inescapable after comparing a new official estimate with an earlier calculation of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong manpower for the fall of 1968. The Pentagon said Wednesday night "revised best estimates of enemy strength in South Vietnam during the fall of 1968 now indicate an enemy force of at least 290,000."

There was no immediate official explanation for the wide variance in the estimates. But it tends to underscore Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird's reluctance to deal publicly in numbers. It also casts doubt on the Pentagon's new "best estimate" that there were at least 240,000 of the enemy in South Vietnam this fall.

The Pentagon put out the new figures for autumn 1968 and autumn 1969 after Laird, under questioning by newsmen said Tuesday: "I would estimate that the range of enemy presence in Vietnam is in the neighborhood of at least 40,000 below last year."

In trying to avoid citing specific figures, Laird said "it's not (See Page Four)

Hanoi Negotiator Continues Boycott

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's chief negotiator boycotted the Paris peace talks for the second straight week today and the United States declared that "there is nothing to be gained by delay."

Ambassador Philip C. Habib told the other side: "It is time for you to join us in serious negotiations. There is nothing to be gained by delay. If your side is willing to talk seriously, you will find us flexible and forthcoming."

War Deaths Headed For 40,000 Mark

SAIGON (AP) — American battlefield deaths in nine years of the Vietnam war will total more than 40,000 by Jan. 1 if the current rate continues. The U.S. Command announced today that 85 Americans were killed in action last week, 15 less than the previous week. This raised the number of U.S. battlefield dead since Jan. 1, 1961 to 39,827.

For the past six weeks, the total of U.S. combat dead has averaged about 100, and there is no expectation that this will decrease substantially any time soon.

The U.S. Command also reported 836 Americans wounded in action last week, a sizeable increase over the 592 wounded the week before. A total of 281,256 Americans have now been wounded in the war. South Vietnamese headquarters said 421 government troops were killed in action last week, 10 more than the week before, and 1,486 government troops were wounded.

U.S. May Ease Trade Embargo With Red China

By TOM LAMBERT The Los Angeles Times

WASHINGTON — The United States is considering a relaxation of its 19-year-old embargo on trade with Communist China, the Los Angeles Times learned Wednesday.

Under a plan being reviewed within the administration, American-owned subsidiary firms overseas would be per-

House-Senate Committee:

They Snip At Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Provisions worth about $5.5 billion in either increased benefits or tax cuts appear certain to be missing from the tax reform bill that finally emerges from a House-Senate conference committee. The 14-member committee has finished most of its work on the measures's reform provisions and hopes to complete action on the rest of the bill by tonight. In an effort to compromise the differences between the House and Senate versions, versions, and head off a threatened presidential veto, the conferees apparently are set to delete at least nine provisions from the Senate bill while compromising other additions passed by that chamber.

Federal Judges Rule:

Georgia Must Enforce School Desegregation

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A panel of three federal judges has ordered the Georgia Board of Education to terminate state funds to school districts which have not filed desegregation plans by March 1970. The far-reaching decision Wednesday also: — Defines an integrated school system as one in which 75 per cent of all pupils of a minority race are enrolled in integrated facilities. — Requires the state board, with the assistance of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), to process and review all school desegregation plans in the state before April 1, 1970. — Directs the state board, in cases where desegregation plans are not in compliance by Sept. 1, 1970. The decision was believed to be the first in the nation placing with court standards, to insure compliance by May 1, 1970. — Orders each of the desegregation plans fully implemented the responsibility for school desegregation at the state level. In the past, such action has been directed at local boards with the possible cutoff of federal school funds used as the prime method of enforcement.

Nixon Asks Congress To Cut Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon says his fight against inflation is in danger but could be rescued if Congress forgets "the cost in political popularity" and cuts down federal spending.

"At stake is nothing less than the future of the American economy," Nixon said in a Dutch-uncle letter sent to House and Senate leaders Wednesday. The President said his $12.9 (See Page Nine)

Newark, N. J. Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio leaves the Federal Building followed by his attorney Bernard Helling. The mayor and 14 other persons were indicted by a federal grand jury Wednesday on charges involving income tax violations and extortion.

Despite Indictment

Mayor Proclaims Business as Usual

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio pledged "business as usual" today despite his indictment by a federal grand jury probing alleged official corruption in New Jersey's largest city.

Demands for the ouster of Addonizio and of other officials indicted Wednesday on charges involving extortion and tax evasion drew this reply from Gov. Richard J. Hughes: "New Jersey law does not authorize removal of a public official because he is under indictment."

Addonizio made it clear he had no intention of resigning. The indictments allege extortion of $263,000 from the engineering firm of Constrad, Inc., a contractor on various city projects, including sewer construction and urban renewal.

Those indicted besides the mayor include: — Anthony "Tony Boy" Bolardo, whom the FBI has named as a Mafia figure.

Municipal Court Judge Anthony Guiliano, whose activities on the bench were suspended by the New Jersey Supreme Court "pending the outcome of said indictment."

City Councilmen Calvin West, Irvine Turner, and Frank Addonizio, a distant cousin of the mayor; and former City Councilman Lee Bernstein.

Former corporation counsel Philip E. Gordon and Norman N. Schiff.

—Anthony LaMorte, head of the Municipal Utilities Authority, and James Callaghan, an employee of the authority.

—Contractors Joseph Bianco, Myric Gallo, Ralph Vicaro and Benjamin Krush.

The 55-year-old mayor also was charged with income tax evasion. The indictment said that in 1968 he reported an income of $38,423, while actually making much more.

Bolardo, son of reputed Mafia boss Ruggiero "Riche the Boot" Bolardo, was charged with reporting lower-than-actual income of $265,032 in 1966, plus $80,763 in 1967 and $67,191 in 1968. The younger Bolardo had been sought for grand jury (See Page Nineteen)

Hausman Scores Giaimo Accounting

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Congressman Robert N. Giaimo's report on how he spent the proceeds from a 1966 testimonial dinner "is not an accounting at all," Republican State Chairman Howard E. Hausman said today.

"What the congressman has released is really no more than the equivalent of a statement that the money was properly spent," said Hausman. "Since he says that the figures were accumulated from canceled checks, I suggest that he make available a complete listing of each endorsement, including the amounts paid and to whom paid."

Giaimo, a Democrat, released an accountant's report Wednesday. But Hausman said the report "is not an accounting at all, because it is impossible to audit it."

"The entire proceeds (over $35,000) were used for proper political purposes from 1966 to 1968," said Giaimo, as a (See Page Three)

Morgenthau Refuses To Resign His Post

NEW YORK (AP) — U.S. Attorney Robert M. Morgenthau has declined to resign his post, at least for the moment, as the state's top Republicans split with President Nixon over the latter's move to oust the prosecutor before the end of his term.

Nixon gave Morgenthau, a Democrat, an ultimatum Wednesday to quit or be fired. He named Whitney North Seymour Jr., a Republican, to be the new top federal prosecutor in New York's Southern District.

Morgenthau, who has filled the post for almost a decade, said he would consider whether Nixon's announcement had undermined his effectiveness and if, therefore, he should resign. "Meanwhile, my staff and I intend to pursue our work," he said.

U.S. Sen. Jacob K. Javits and Charles E. Goodell, both Republicans, said in a joint statement that Nixon's move posed "a serious problem."

They praised Seymour but said they would try to hold up Senate action on his nomination.

"It is our duty to determine whether on the basis of the cases pending and in process there is a paramount public interest in not replacing the in-

Angered because he didn't get a parole, Quinn held the hostages for nearly five hours. Detective's Son Gets One Year In Death Case

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Frank Nerkowski Jr., the 20-year-old son of a Bridgeport police detective, has been given a one-year jail term for killing a 17-year-old youth.

Nerkowski had plead no contest to a charge of manslaughter in the shooting of Fred Santoro during a riot at Jeff's Patio Drive-in on May 18.

Santoro was only a bystander in the melee between two groups of young people.

According to State's Atty. Joseph T. Gernley Jr., Nerkowski had suffered a concussion during a fight at Seaside Park beach earlier that night.

Nerkowski went home and got the barrel and trigger mechanism of a .22-caliber rifle belonging to his father, and then reloaded his companions as they drove around the city.

The altercation between the two groups of youths resumed when the car in which Nerkowski was riding tried to leave the path was blocked and someone threw a plate of french fried potatoes in his face.

At that time Nerkowski got out of the car and started firing the rifle. One bullet ricocheted and hit the Santoro youth.

Nerkowski's lawyer said medical examinations disclosed that the young defendant had suffered a cerebral concussion which caused amnesia. He said Nerkowski was not in control of himself after being struck on the head by the potato.

Gernley said that "no consideration was given to the accused because of the fact that his father's position as a member of the police department, nor have any other factors been taken into account."

walking to South Vietnam in a journey that takes some three months, according to expert opinion.

Experienced officers acknowledged it is very difficult to gauge the number of men moving on foot in small parties along many different routes.

"Whatever turns you on," is how today's phrase goes, and everyone tries to do his thing. There's something about holidays that attracts these merry-makers. The more—Halloween is a great time of the year for them to do their thing. Pumpkins, in particular, are the irresistible temptations. Put them out, and you immediately turn them on.

Last Halloween, my daughter thought she had the answer. She had placed a large pumpkin on her doorstep. The next morning, she found it on the lawn—broken, but not broken enough to throw away. She placed it back on the doorstep. Then she went into the house and typed a message, which she scotched-taped to the top of the pumpkin.

The message read, "There is a camera hidden inside this pumpkin. It will take your picture, if you so much as touch it."

The pumpkin was missing the next morning.

LUCKY SEVEN
BURR OAK, Ill. (AP)—Seven just has to be the lucky number for the Burr Oak kindergarten this year. In the class of 14 youngsters there are seven boys and seven girls, seven blondes and seven brunettes, seven pupils who are the youngest members of their families. And to top it off, this is the 7th year Mrs. Carl Stepp has taught kindergarten.

"The season to be merry" is how the song goes. But how merry is merry? Some of the ones who are destroying or stealing Christmas lights and ornaments.

To me, that's stretching the merry bit a little too far. "Is how today's phrase goes, and everyone tries to do his thing. There's something about holidays that attracts these merry-makers. The more—Halloween is a great time of the year for them to do their thing. Pumpkins, in particular, are the irresistible temptations. Put them out, and you immediately turn them on."

Stores Close Early In Protest After Shooting

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Groups of Negro youths protested the shooting of a 16-year-old Negro boy by a policeman Tuesday night by singing civil rights songs in front of stores and closing down the downtown shopping area an hour early Wednesday night.

The singing and demonstrations were orderly, but more than 40 stores—virtually the entire downtown shopping district—had decided to close by 8:30 p.m.

Most of the stores stay open until 9 or 9:30 p.m. in the weeks just before Christmas.

Earlier Wednesday, about 150 black youths wearing black armbands marched to the mayor's office to question him about the shooting.

A similar pledge was made by John Brown Jr., executive director of the Committee on Training and Employment, Stamford's anti-poverty agency.

Suspensions Upheld Of Middletown Police

MIDDLETOWN, Conn. (AP)—Suspensions of two policemen for firing warning shots have been upheld by the Middletown Personnel Board.

Police Chief Vincent S. Marino ordered five-day suspensions for both officers after they fired warning shots while arresting a young Negro man with Mayor Julius M. Wilensky after the March from the old town hall.

A spokesman for the mayor's office said the mayor was on duty and provided a good excuse of information.

Police regulations forbid the use of force in the absence of information.

No date has been set for the trial of the officers, John Bellamy and Lynn Shibley, who may appeal the ruling of the personnel board of four black youths this board.

Moscow's Mideast Policy That of No-War-No-Peace

By WILLIAM L. BYAN AP Special Correspondent

Soviet policy is making important gains in the huge, strategic area loosely described as the Middle East. That is shaping up as the main cockpit of East-West political conflict in the 1970s.

The Russians profess to stand for Arab "defense potential," but they are also a minimum demand for a settlement, but the Moscow switching to a speech during the meetings while pledging itself to support Arab "defense potential," Moscow heeded to a relative of blood and a horizon of fire." The Russians seemed to tell him to cool it.

According to Pravda, Soviet leaders told a high-ranking Mas-Soviet arms destroyed in the West of the Arab East, benefits from economic-technical cooperation with the Russians.

Those nations are part of the inner core of the triangle. At the eastern corner, the Communist bloc has extended generous credits to Iran and has been aiding creating the amounts. Egyptian armaments with Soviet advisers. It is economic projects. At the western corner, Algeria's revolutionary regime gets expensive Russian aid.

From the southern tip of the triangle, Sudan's revolutionary government recently sent a delegation to Moscow to prepare for help. Moscow also has been steadily bettering its relations with Turkey, which commands the Dardanelles and the Mediterranean.

While they plot these promises, the Soviet leaders go ahead on other fronts with what look like efforts to reduce tensions, notably in Western Europe and Asia. Soviet activity in Latin America at present seems based upon a hard-headed, businesslike practicality. As for black Africa, it can wait. The Russians found there that they would not disturb two nesting birds. They are rare falcons and enthusiasts were afraid the machinery would scare them away. The section will be completed when the birds have left with their brood.

British Cardinal Deplores Fight Over Liturgy

LONDON (AP)—John Cardinal Heenan, head of the local hierarchy, chided Britain's Roman Catholics today for quarreling among themselves.

"It is quite shocking to see the animosity with which Catholics speak and write of each other when they have differences of opinion," he said in his Christmas message.

"Some want no Latin. Others want nothing but Latin. Some treasure the old form of the Mass and want nothing new, while others seek only novelty and would gladly bury the liturgical and musical treasures of the past."

"If those with differences of opinion cannot yet bring themselves to love each other let them this Christmas at least resolve to keep a civil tongue."

His appearance was the latest in a parade of would-be Democratic candidates to see the governor during recent weeks. Duffey is the only announced competitor for the seat now held by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, however.

Alaskan Restaurants
While Alaskans have no fruit and vegetable markets, retail bakeries or antique stores, and only six department stores, one cigar store and one newsstand to boost their economy, they do have a bar, night club and information to boost their morale.

According to Dan & Bradstreet's marketing service, drinking and eating places constitute the major portion (34.3 percent) of Alaska's 2,194 retail establishments.

In Memoriam
On the 10th anniversary of the death of my dear father, I am reminded that I had a moment which always re-appears to me. It was a beautiful day in the summer of 1930. My father and I were walking along the beach in Weymouth, Mass. He had just read a newspaper article about a young man who had been killed in a car accident. He said, 'I wish I could see that young man again. I wish I could see him in the same way that I see you now. I wish I could see you in the same way that I see you now.'

State Correction Discloses New Data Computers
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—The Connecticut State Correction is planning a state-wide computer system, and unveiled some of the equipment that will play a major role in the system.

Con-Donnell said the system will be installed in the correctional facility headquarters in Hartford and in the department's major offices.

A computer will automatically bring inmate records up to date from information supplied by records clerks in other parts of the system.

12th Circuit Court Cases

MANCHESTER SESSION
Judge Francis Quinn today expressed the opinion that Delaware Community College is probably involved in the break and entry with larceny at Marlboro's facilities for Oct. 19 for which he had been charged, but the judge said he found no evidence.

Hildebrand, 21, was charged along with Dennis Martin, 26, of no certain address, with the break and theft of a number of small televisions and stereo equipment.

Martin was bound over to Hartford County Superior Court on the Marlboro break and some eighteen other breaks committed in this town over the summer and the early fall.

Hildebrand pleaded not guilty to charges against him and a probable cause hearing was held today.

The prosecution had trouble with the evidence presented by several contractors, who assured by several contractors, who assured by several contractors, who assured by several contractors.

Dr. Banded said the contract signing is expected to take place in the next few days.

The California architectural firm of Daniel, Johnson, Johnson and Mendelhall, which is planning the permanent campus, has also participated in the interim campus site selection.

Policeman's Son Gets Year's Term in Death
BRIDGEPORT (AP)—A one-year term in the state correctional center was handed down yesterday to Frank Nerkowick Jr., the 20-year-old son of a Bridgeport police detective.

The new East German move came after the East German Minister of Foreign Affairs, Walter Ulbricht, East German president and Communist party chief, sent a message today to President Gustav Heinemann of West Germany.

The furry of diplomatic activities in Bonn surrounding the question follows initiatives by the new brand government to improve relations with the Soviet Union.

The 1981 exchange came to nothing because the East German man insisted on full recognition to the East German government.

Whether or not a price tag should be attached to the use of school facilities by Tolland residents after school hours is one decision facing Tolland voters.

Nixon Asks Congress To Cut Spending

billion federal spending ceiling is threatened by $8 billion in rising costs that are beyond his control and added millions dictated by congressional action.

The letter, timed to coincide with Congress' efforts to pass a tax reform bill and complete action on appropriation measures for the current fiscal year, also said:

"The responsible fiscal toward protecting the buying power of the consumer's dollar is clear. But the Congress has not appeared willing to take that step."

The keynote of Nixon's 1,300-word message was responsibility. "The Congress, along with the executive branch, bears the responsibility for the economic health of the nation," he said.

Nixon coupled his plea for responsibility with a new attack on the tax reform bill, saying it would force a conference committee for long hours each day in an effort to compromise the Senate and House versions.

"The Congress appears to be well on its way to substituting tax reduction for tax reform," he said. "This will harm rather than help the average taxpayer."

"A tax cut for some citizens would mean a rise in prices for every citizen."

"Inflation—the hole in everybody's pocket—is the most unfair tax of all," he said.

Despite the fact that a combination of action and inaction "would add an additional $10 billion to the federal deficit," he said.

It is this combination of added spending—such as the $1.6 billion away from revenues."

Holding Finished Product

If you own a lacrosse stick (doesn't everyone?), it probably was made at a small factory on Cornwall Island in Ontario, Canada. Since the game of lacrosse originated with the North American Indians, it is fitting that the plant is built on the St. Regis Indian Reservation and is staffed with Mohawks who have the special skill needed to bend and carve the hickory wood into the finished product. Only one non-Indian is connected with the operation: Colin Chisholm, who with a Mohawk partner started the factory some 40 years ago. Today, the facility turns out 50,000 sticks a year, employing 120 workers in the peak season. These photos are by NEA picture editor Bob Stearns.

Doing a Good Turn

MORE THAN 100 Mohawk youth put the main bend on a hickory stick which will be held in position by a wire for a three-month drying period. STEAM BATH softens wood so it doesn't crack or break in bending. These sticks have already had steam baths; handles are being steamed for straightening.

CARVING is the most specialized skill in lacrosse stick manufacture. Since all work is done by hand, no two sticks are ever exactly alike.

This Session Minus Four Ill Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four veterans senators are now on the sick list in this session of Congress.

The latest victim of ill health is Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, 47, of South Carolina. He was hospitalized before the Christmas recess.

Also out are Sen. Richard Russell, the Georgia Democrat and chairman of the Appropriations Committee; Sen. Karl Mundt, the South Dakota Republican who is the ranking GOP member of the same committee; and New Mexico's Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, a ranking Democrat on the tax-writing Finance Committee.

Russell, 72, often plagued by ill health, entered Walter Reed Army Hospital Monday with a virus. He suffers from emphysema and any cold on his chest is cause for alarm. His office expected him to be released today.

Russell kept talks from his hospital room with the final thrashing-out of the 1970 money bills from his committee.

Last May, Russell announced that he had had a cancerous tumor on his left lung. In October he was in the hospital to be fitted with a back brace because of a compression of a vertebrae against a nerve.

Anderson, 74, took 10 days' hospital treatment of a new drug said to cure Parkinson's disease.

He now is an out-patient at Albertus hospital and reports feeling no side effects from the drug, L-dopa.

In addition, his office said Wednesday, his speech apparently has improved due to the drug and he is more mobile. Doctors aren't sure if Anderson has Parkinson's disease but he shares common symptoms of halting speech and balance difficulties.

As a conferee on the mammoth tax reform bill, Anderson has been in touch by telephone with his Finance Committee colleagues during House-Senate deliberations this week.

His office said he is expected to be back in Washington for the start of the next session of Congress Jan. 19.

Mundt, 69, was felled by a stroke Nov. 24 and remains in Bethesda Naval Hospital with paralysis of his right arm and leg and with impairment of speech.

The hospital lists his condition as satisfactory and says he is taking therapy twice daily and works with a speech therapist every afternoon.

The hospital said he would be kept for 6 to 8 weeks and should be discharged in early January. There is no predicting when he will return to the Senate.

Hughes of Iowa Determined In Fight Against Alcoholism

By COLMAN MCCARTHY The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — One of the most forceful critics in the Senate is Sen. Harold E. Hughes (D-Iowa).

He is a tall, large-bodied, dark, muscular man who, when he has a few shots of liquor in him, can rage and fume like a dozen Elmer Ganttrys.

But there is one important difference between Hughes and the Ganttry of the alcoholic world, as well as one difference between Hughes and the drunk who drives cars and kills people, or the whine who passes out in gutters or the upper class boozers who have wives and butlers to care them up after they get into the fifth martini, the difference between Hughes and these alcoholics is that Hughes hasn't had a drink in 15 years.

"I'm not a practicing alcoholic now," he says, in a deep, low voice, but he is like any other alcoholic who doesn't drink. "Despite how long a man may be sober, if he suddenly resumed drinking, the progressive and compulsive nature of this disease would once again take over."

From the time Hughes was 16 until he was 22, the bottle was the most important thing in his life. "I remember the first drink I had," he said in his Senate office. "It was bathtub juice called Cream of Kentucky. That was during the days following the depression and prohibition, and in Ida Grove, Iowa, you had to take any kind of booze you could get. The 75 cents a pint stuff was kind enough for me."

"In high school, I was a wild spree drinker. A long weekend or holiday would come along and that would be it. I'd drink and drink and drink. In college, the spree increased and I regularly lost control of myself. By the time I went into the Army, I was hooked. I needed it the way you need food."

Hughes is an intelligent man, and he rightly calls alcohol a drug. Many people think alcohol is a stimulant, others call it a depressant. "But it's a drug—dirty, vicious and brutal. It's the mainstay drug of the American adult society. The kids get lectured about pot from their parents; but the kids are smart and know hypocrites when they see them—the anti-social adults are the same ones who can't get through the day or face the night without the most dangerous drug of all, alcohol."

Since he came to the Senate a year ago, after three terms as governor of Iowa, Hughes has been going up and down the country talking about alcoholism. He is Chairman of the Senate Subcommittee on Alcoholism and Narcotics; hearings have been held in Washington, Los Angeles, New York and Denver.

Hughes sells audience after audience, reporter after reporter that alcoholism is not an irreversible disease, that in nearly all cases it can be treated, controlled or prevented. That it's a health problem not a moral problem.

mean it if you said I want to have better than such a lowering, soft-spoken man who is an ex-drunk who made it to the U.S. Senate. The people believe he supports. Not even power don't. The Johnson budget for fiscal 1970 requested 4 million dollars plus money for community assistance grants for alcoholism programs.

Total Automatic Color—Is truly the greatest advancement in Color TV reception. Color on ordinary sets today isn't very stable—you see green and purple people instead of warm, natural flesh tones when the scene changes—when you switch to another channel—or when a commercial comes on. Revolutionary TAC ends all that. The color is right all the time—automatically. TAC is an exclusive Magnavox electronic system which combines all the functions of these innovations: Automatic Tint Control—lets you select the flesh tones most pleasing to you and keeps them that way on every channel, every time. Automatic Chroma Circuit—assures uniform color intensity from station to station; no matter how often you change channels. Automatic Fine Tuning—eliminates the need for critical picture tuning; it gives you a perfectly tuned precise picture instantly and automatically. Magnavox Total Automatic Color—so simple a child can tune it perfectly!

These other advanced features contribute to your unequalled viewing enjoyment: New Magnavox MX500 Brilliant Color Tube—gives you vivid, more natural 295 sq. in. color pictures which are clearer and sharper for more life-like picture fidelity and realism. Exclusive Chromatone—adds thrilling depth and rich beauty to color; warm to black and white; Quick-On pictures and sound—eliminate annoying warm-up delay. They Decorate Tree With Old Newspapers

By MARGARET HAYDEN
What do you do with old newspapers?

Mrs. Stanley G. Zima Jr. of 203 Summit St. decorates her Christmas tree with old newspapers. She tears them into strips which she dips in glue and makes paper mache fruit. She glues three layers of paper strips on real fruit, some of which has been cut in half. After the paper shell is thoroughly dry, she cuts it off with a knife, sticks it together with more strips of paper, spackles the joint, sands, paints and attaches the now smooth and hard fake fruit. Antiquique adds brown specks to the finish and adds the bright orange, green and red items.

Along with the many hand-crafted tree trimmings are old candleholders and wax candles, reminders of Mrs. Zima's early Christmas in the Nathan Hale Homestead in Coventry where she was born. Her father was caretaker to the family lived in the ell part of the famous house. Because they didn't have electricity in her home until she was 14, Christmas trees of her youth were not lit. This, she feels, may be the reason she prefers unlit Christmas trees.

Other reminders of her childhood in her living room are pictures of Nathan Hale, the homestead, and a lamp she made from a cedar post when she was in high school.

Mrs. Zima made many of the other craft items in her living room. Her cloth mache angels guard a bowl of papier mache fruit. The bowl and candlesticks that complete the arrangement were sprayed with same kind of gold paint used on the angels. Framed creel embroidery and antique paper mache candlestick, a wreath, a crocheted tree, embroidered pillows and an arrangement of greens, handcrafted fruit in a paper mache container add individually to the decor of the room.

An old Franklin stove warms the dining room that doubles as a workshop for sewing and family crafts. It is here Mrs. Zima tells of her own Christmas. Zima makes her clothes and the family works on hobbies. Zima painted the walls and she has a big picture window and shelf that display small antiques and a wide assortment of plants. A dining room plaque has five rhododendron leaves. "The leaves dried to such a pretty leathery-brown. I glued them to a piece of wood," Mrs. Zima said. "Each leaf represents a member of the family." Son Stanley's plaque of dried flowers and Erika's wreath also decorate this wall. Scott's plaque of bird seed, arranged to say "Happy Holidays" is most appropriate in this warm, bright room.

Although Mrs. Zima's interests in making things goes back to childhood and covers a wide variety of crafts, her specialty is papier mache which she makes with newspapers. She decorates her papier mache boxes with twine, paints them and fills them with homemade judge for Christmas presents. At craft fairs, she sells jewelry she designs and paints with bright colors.

Being the wide variety of items Mrs. Zima creates from old newspapers makes this reporter wonder if the story she writes is part of a candlestick, a candy box, or an ear ring worn by some elegant lady.

Poland Still Giving Papers To Jews for Emigration

By MARTIN ZUCKER

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Jews appear to be still receiving accelerated exit papers despite a government announcement in June that stricter emigration procedures for them would go into effect Sept. 1.

More than 10,000 Jews are believed to have left since Poland severed diplomatic relations with Israel in June 1967 because of the Middle East war.

A rush of about 1,000 departures a month in recent months is attributed to the announced intention to end relaxed procedures and bring them in line with stricter general standards.

Fresh Oil Leak Threatens Coast At Santa Barbara

By MARTIN ZUCKER

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — An oil slick covering 50 square miles of the Pacific drifted slowly southward today from a massive oil slick early this year.

The slick spread over 1,800 square miles of the Pacific in 11 days, blackened beaches in Santa Barbara County and smothered the Southern California coast for miles north and south.

At last report, the new tear-drop-shaped slick was five miles off Ventura County coastal counties as oil company crews worked to skim it up before it could reach beach areas.

CONCORD, N.C. (AP) — Two distant relatives had an amazing get-together near Concord Tuesday.

Their automobiles collided on U.S. 29 just outside the city limits.

Albert Eugene Brown of Landis, N.C., and Lonnie James Brown of Rutledge, Ga., were chatting after the crash as they awaited a highway patrolman.

Their conversation led to a discovery they were distant cousins. They got together led to leave were threatened with suits over alleged debts. They were forced to settle out of court.

Estimated 30-35 Million See Tiny Tim, Miss Vicky Wed

By MARTIN ZUCKER

NEW YORK (AP) — It's "sweet, gentle, kind, patient, not puffed up, charitable, slow to anger and swift to forgive," Tiny Tim wed Victoria May Budinger Wednesday night in an unconventional ceremony seen by millions watching Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show.

They were surrounded by 10,000 guests and telecast five hours later.

NBC estimated the national audience at between 30 million and 35 million. The overnight New York Nielsen ratings for the show were 39.4 and an 84 per cent share of the audience. The rating is higher than that of a prime time show. Merv Griffin on CBS and the ABC late night show tied with 1.3 rating each and a share of 1 per cent.

They Vote to Modify Bill on Desegregation

By MARTIN ZUCKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The votes of both of Connecticut's senators Wednesday helped modify the amendment to an appropriations bill curbing the government's school desegregation powers.

Senators Thomas J. Dodd and Abraham A. Ribicoff voted with the majority of 52 senators. The vote was 37 against inserting a phrase in the legislation which would permit federal use funds to force school changes on constitutional grounds.

This Story Rated X Word Begins with S

By DAVID LARSEN
The Los Angeles Times

LOS ANGELES — This story is rated X. For adults only. Because the subject is that forbidden one which begins with "S."

O.K.? Now about Santa Claus.

The story of the North Pole Santa Co., Inc., begins with 64-year-old Dick Westermann. He used to be a high school football coach and ran employment agencies. In 1948, after he had portrayed Santa Claus in a parade, he discovered his services were much in demand. All manner of organizations needed Santas.

Now, 21 years later, Westermann provides an office in suburban Lynwood, supervising 132 Santas. As Christmas nears, and the demand grows, he will have 200.

"Watch that beard," he cautions one new recruit, dispatching him to a department store.

"It hasn't been bad this year but about five years ago we had an epidemic of beard snatchings," Westermann recalls. "The word got out among the kids that the thing to do was to have a Santa beard hanging on your wall at home. It got to be a real problem. The men have them held around their heads with elastic. If the kid didn't snatch successfully, the beard would snap back and smack the man in the nose."

The work is demanding. Westermann is Vince Lombardi at North Pole. You practice until you get it right and remember, when you get out there with a kid on your lap, it's mistakes that make the difference.

For one thing, all girls are greeted as "Sister" and all boys as "Junior." (Otherwise you can spend too much time trying to find out their names.)

And parents are referred to as "Folks." The child is told to be good to his "Folks." A few years ago a Santa told one girl to be good to her father. She burst into tears and said her daddy had run off with a waitress.

After the greeting, one of four expressions of recognition is used:

For the average girl: "My, you are even more beautiful than last year."

For the chubby girl: "Say, you must be the best dressed girl in town."

For the average boy (hand held above his head): "You are sprouting up just like a weed."

For the chubby boy: "Hey, you're getting more rugged every year."

Now comes the matter of transferring the child to Santa's lap. North Pole uses what it calls the hydraulic lift. Santa extends his right leg, brings the child against his knee and moves the leg underneath the chair. The child pops up like a piece of toast.

It is time for the child to recite what he wants for Christmas. This takes the most time of all. "Most kids have at least 10 things in mind," says Westermann.

Now it is Santa's turn — "You told me what you want, now I'll tell you what I want. Eat your vegetables and drink your milk. Go to bed on time. Brush your teeth twice a day. Be good to your folks."

Much of the demand for Santas comes from stores but North Pole also services parties. Anyone sent to one is reminded to make sure the address is correct. This dates back to the night Westermann, filling an assignment himself, stopped at a home he incorrectly believed to be the one where he was supposed to show up.

There was indeed a party going on. Santa knocked on the door, was invited in, and began mingling with the guests. After about half an hour, the host asked: "By the way, what are you doing here?"

There was also the time one Santa turned up at a store at which another was already on duty. They argued over who was supposed to have the job and wound up in a fistfight.

Renting a Santa costs a customer $40 a day, $200 a week, $380 dollars from Dec. 12 through Christmas Eve, or $690 from Nov. 8 through Christmas Eve.

A helicopter landing which brings Santa for the day costs $250.

Running North Pole is a year-round job. During the summer Westermann flies east to buy wigs, beards and the imported fabric (made in Italy) which his wife, Besse, uses to sew the costumes. It costs around 100 dollars to outfit a Santa.

North Pole has more than 300 suits and accessories in stock. The accessories include pillows which some of the men like to wear behind their bellies. This extra expense, though, is partially offset by the fact that three of the Santas this year grew their own beards.

Their pay varies from 16 dollars on a daily basis to 405 dollars for the whole season.

Many of the Santas are retired men. This year's roster includes former doctors, attorneys, dentists, chiropractors, servicemen, policemen and firefighters. Westermann recruits talent at state employment offices and college campuses and was here last year?" he will ask.

Santa will nod yes. Santa then will get kicked in the shins, with the explanation: "That's for the bike I didn't get last year."

Finally, there are the children who have reached the age of skepticism. When this subject is brought up, Westermann produces a cartoon. It depicts a boy sitting on Santa's lap and Santa is saying: "Look, kid, you don't believe in me and I don't believe in you. But neither of us can afford to buck the system."

Batteries Replaced
WASHINGTON (AP) — Justice William O. Douglas spent five days in the hospital last month having the batteries of his heart pacemaker replaced, a spokesman says.

Douglas was at Walter Reed Army hospital from Nov. 3 to Nov. 8. The pacemaker was implanted in the 71-year-old justice in June 1968 to correct an abnormally slow pulse rate.

"He's healthier than you or I," his spokesman remarked Wednesday.

Andover Scouts Schedule Sale of Cookies

At a recent meeting of the Andover Girl Scout Adults, it was announced that Mrs. Francis Haines of Wales Rd., will be Andover Girl Scout cookie chairman again this year. Mrs. Haines will coordinate the efforts of all troops in Andover, with the exception of the Brownies who do not sell cookies. However, Brownies families who wish to purchase cookies, are urged to contact members of the Junior, Cadette or Senior troops with their orders, or Mrs. Haines.

The schedule of events is as follows: Jan. 24 to Feb. 7, order taking; March 2 to March 13, cookie delivery; March 26, conclusion of sale.

The Educator Escort Co. will be supplying the cookies for the third year. All funds realized from the Cookie Sale stay within the Council. The troops make a five-cent per box profit, which stays within the troop.

John Mather Chapter of DeMolay Earns Many Anniversary Honors

John Mather Chapter, Order of DeMolay, has completed DeMolay's 60th Anniversary Year successfully earning awards from Masons, the chapter's sponsor, and participating in various activities ranging from community service projects to a marathon softball game.

The chapter opened the anniversary year with a party on Jan. 1 to watch the "tournament of roses" parade which included a DeMolay float. In July, two members of the chapter went to Paris, France, to attend the dedication of a plaque at the grave of Jacques DeMolay, exemplar of the Order.

In August, the chapter staged a marathon softball game and established a new DeMolay as well as a world record. The game lasted 90 hours, 50 minutes, and 50 seconds. Clothing and other donations were collected during the event for Manchester charities.

Raymond J. Islein, past master councilor, received the "Dad Walsh Award" as the chapter's outstanding DeMolay of the year. The award is given annually by Manchester Lodge of Masons, the chapter's sponsor, and consists of a citation, a medal, and a U.S. Savings bond.

John Mather Chapter surpassed its goal of 20 new members during 1969, and is the only chapter in Connecticut to reach its goal. Rocco J. Francoline Sr., chapter "Dad," received a White Honor Key for encouraging 19 new boys to join the chapter. Seven of the new members received their Initiatory Degree in outdoor ceremonies in August at the top of Highland Park's Lookout Mt. Many other individual membership awards were earned by chapter members during the year.

Five DeMolays received the Representative DeMolay award in semi-public ceremonies in October. They are Brian J. McAwley, Rocco J. Francoline Jr., Michael J. Fields, Wayne S. Pierce, and Robert B. McBride. The award is granted by the International Supreme Council of DeMolay to those members who show outstanding achievements in community affairs, education, athletics, family relations, religion, social affairs, and DeMolay activities.

Two past master councilors, Richard W. Belmont and Rocco Francoline Jr., qualified for two of the four Knight Templar scholarships to be awarded in the state.

The chapter had the largest delegation at the annual State Conclave and four of its members were elected and installed as state officers.

The only two "On the Go" awards earned in Connecticut went to the Manchester chapter. The awards were sponsored by the International Supreme Council, Order of DeMolay, and were awarded the chapter that demonstrated over all excellence in anniversary celebrations. The first award was for publicity and the second for membership. Six members and advisors attended the Order's Golden Jubilee festivities in Kansas City in July.

The chapter has also instituted a new award, for advisors, which will be known as the Dad Rocco J. Francoline Advisors Award. This award will be given for "outstanding service to the chapter and superior judgment in helping to mold the minds and spirits which mark an all-around young man."

Santa Visits Handicapped Class at School

Santa Claus has a captive audience in Brad Staiger and Carrie Foulks during his visit to the pre-school physically handicapped class at Keeney St. School yesterday. Was he regaling them with tales of life at the top of the world, inside secrets of how he raises such a spirited and tireless team of reindeer,

End Angle Parking, Reardon Tells Town

"The only thing wrong with Downtown Main St. traffic is the angle parking," said Manchester Police Chief James Reardon Tuesday night.

Speaking at an informal meeting of the Board of Directors, Reardon stated emphatically, "Remove the angle parking and Main St. traffic will move smoothly."

Reardon said that state traffic engineers have completed their survey of Downtown Main St. traffic lights and that they have a plan ready for implementation.

"However," said Reardon, "they have decided to hold that plan in abeyance, until the town removes the angle parking."

The police chief said that, although he is the town's traffic authority, with the power to order a stop to angle parking, he prefers to get the go-ahead from the town directors and from officials of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce.

He said that the state's plan for new traffic lights would synchronize the flow of Main St. traffic, from the center to the terminus.

A planned phase-out of angle parking, Reardon said, would eliminate approximately 150 parking spaces — spaces that would have to be replaced by off-street parking.

The recommended phase-out, he said, would start by eliminating angle-parking on the east

Murray in Post Of District YR

William M. Murray Jr. of 15 Griswold St. has been elected second vice chairman of the state's First District Young Republicans (YR). Irving Knight of West Hartford was named chairman.

The elections took place at the District YR convention, held Tuesday night at DePaquade's Restaurant, Newington.

Manchester delegates to the convention were Karin VonDeck, local acting YR chairman; Charles Ringel, Roger Ousette and Carl Dewey.

Murray was the unsuccessful Republican candidate for Manchester town clerk last month.

Woodrow Wilson defeated two former U.S. presidents in one election. He did this in the election of 1912, when he defeated Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft.

Hebron Boards Fill Vacant Posts

Several of the town's boards and commissions have appointed members to fill vacancies created by resignations and the election.

Roy Wirth will fill the vacancy until Jan. 1, when the Recreation and Zoning Commission, created by Selectman Robert Dixon's resignation, will be re-elected.

Also named to the Recreation Commission, as the Board of Education's representative, was Charles Barrows, who replaces Cynthia Grinnell, and Howard E. Porter, who will be the Board of Finance's representative, replacing Arthur Koffine.

Approval was withheld on 13 of the lots located on Daley and London Rds. until satisfactory engineering information is received by the Commission.

Manchester Evening Herald correspondent Anne Kent, telephone 238-3911.

Mayfair Project Ahead of Plans
Mayfair Gardens, housing project for the elderly at N. Main and N. School Sts., as of Nov. 30, was 43 per cent completed against a scheduled 23 per cent completion.

There are about 300,000 motorbikes and about 24,000 cars on the island of Taiwan.

Vernon Nurses Made 1,060 Visits For Month

The Rockville Public Health Nursing Association reports 1,060 visits were made during the month of November.

Of the total number of visits, 247 were for the purpose of assisting the elderly in their homes.

An immunization clinic, which was attended by 21 infants and pre-school children, was held on Nov. 5 under the direction of Dr. Joseph J. Greal.

At the Tolland well-child conference held Nov. 7, Dr. Robert E. Brewer, chief of pediatrics at the clinic, presented 12 children.

In the Ellington schools Dr. E. Brewer has been examining the health of the children since Feb. 2 pending the arrival of the new health nurse.

The report also notes that the Ellington schools' health aides have completed the vital testing in all schools and the nurses are resting those children who are not yet tested.

In the Bolton school the two health aides have been testing the vital signs of the children.

Spain Police Face Fighting Over Priest

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Police today broke up a fighting crowd of 700 people outside the Palace of Justice where liberal priest Father Mariano Gamo is being tried behind closed doors on charges of libel and sedition.

Witnesses said supporters of the priest were attacked by youths from the extreme rightist organization "Cristo Rey" and that fighting continued for about 15 minutes before police moved in.

One priest was reported injured and witnesses said police seized some of the scuffles. Supporters of Father Gamo took shelter in the nearby Santa Barbara church and police moved in again as the riotists tried to invade the church.

Father Gamo was arrested after he delivered a homily Jan. 28, 1968. "We have to put up more fight to achieve liberation of man because we cannot live under the tyranny of a minority."

He has been held in the Paul Monastery 30 miles north of Madrid since Feb. 2 pending trial.

The prosecution has asked seven years imprisonment for Father Gamo for illegal propaganda and two years for having taken copies of a letter to the bishop of Bilbao last year.

The Star editor, a Newark morning newspaper, said in an editorial on the indictment of the city officials that "the best interests of the city would be served if those under a cloud of suspicion were to remove themselves from office."

Gov. Deane C. Davis says he has taken steps to inform the federal government that Vermont residents are upset over the increasingly high cost of fuel oil.

Davis said he has spoken directly to Interior Secretary Walter Hickel about the situation and added: "We have been told the President himself will intervene on behalf of New England on the matter."

Rham District TV Program Set Sunday

The special half-hour television program on which the Rham High School's students will appear will be aired Sunday at 2:30 p.m. on Channel 30.

Hanoi Negotiator Continues Boycott

man, who preceded Lodge. After the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had assailed Nixon's declaration that 50,000 troops would be withdrawn from Vietnam by April 15, Habib Thompson, the British expert on the question the other side on its intentions.

"We would like to know" he said "whether you also have a concrete proposal for the withdrawal of North Vietnamese forces that you have sent to South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos."

"We cannot consider your call for a withdrawal of American forces a serious proposal for negotiations unless it is accompanied by an equally specific indication that your side is prepared to withdraw North Vietnamese troops."

Habib took the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong to task for their refusal to enter into genuine discussions with all the parties, as well as your refusal to consider mutual de-escalation.

Then he referred to a statement by the other side that the people of South Vietnam should settle their own affairs without interference.

Does this mean that North Vietnamese forces are being ordered to withdraw from South Vietnam and let its people decide their own future?

"Does this mean that under such circumstances there can be competition in the free election in South Vietnam and that you are prepared to abide by the result?"

Col. Lam said Nixon "relates his old talk about negotiation from a position of strength, refuses to appoint a new head of the U.S. delegation, deliberately downgrades the Paris conference on Vietnam, and carries out his scheme of sabotaging the conference."

In the period after the set speeches, Habib referred to a statement by the North Vietnamese that they treat prisoners humanely.

"Such claims remain uncorroborated in the American press and to the world at large," Habib said.

Habib referred to a resolution passed by the U.S. House of Representatives protesting the North Vietnamese treatment of prisoners and added: "Not only in the United States, but throughout the world, people condemn the failure of your side to act in accordance with normal humanitarian standards and with your international obligations."

Georgia Must Enforce School Desegregation

Niem's office had been ransacked by the protesters. Books and papers were strewn on the floor, windows broken and a typewriter damaged, he said.

Niem had been waiting in his office for the Faculty-Student Judiciary Committee, meeting in a nearby building, to reach a decision. It came about 5:45 am.

Students then left the building, freeing Niem, before police arrived.

Lau said the new U.S. troop withdrawal "is evidently in the framework of the policy of piecemeal withdrawal, of prolongation of the U.S. military occupation and war of aggression in Vietnam."

He said Nixon feels a rapid withdrawal would mean defeat and humiliation for the United States. But the North Vietnamese forces are being ordered to withdraw from South Vietnam and let its people decide their own future?

Mrs. Binh also struck out at the Nixon speech and repeated the earlier Viet Cong proposal for a complete American withdrawal in six months, with- out a guarantee for security during the withdrawal.

Ambassador Pham Dung Lam representatives of the government of the Republic of Vietnam. If you answer to these questions in a firm, affirmative, great progress can be made toward resolving the Vietnam conflict."

Alcoholism Programs Need Time in Order to Get Results

By COLMAN MCCARTHY
The Washington Post
WASHINGTON

When a person in the downtown area of any major American city falls to the street in either an alcohol-related or a victim of an automobile accident or a falling spell, he will likely be taken quickly to a hospital, put in a bed and be given moderate to excellent medical care until healthy or recovered. Society is conscientious in tending to the decently sick.

But if a person happens to have the indecent disease of alcoholism and falls sick to the street, one of three probable fates await him, none of which includes a hospital bed: First, he lies there until he is himself up and can move on. During the passed-out time, he will either be beaten, robbed, ignored or encircled at a passerby. Second, if he is in the case of only about four American cities, a well-run detoxification center.

Third, if he is a middle- or upper-class citizen, he will likely be taken by friends to his home where the sick person may have jokes made about his "bender," or how "good old Bill" really had one on.

Many see the public alcoholic as the most pathetic, the most hopelessly sick. Most were once healthy, happy and employed men, with wives and families. Now they are broken, defeated men, almost completely forgotten by society. They are not Martinis; they are not G. Dan Martin cutesy poses; nor gibberish, nor funny-drunk, like Jack Gleason. Instead, they are pale, unshining, stinking, bearded drunk, classic trappings of what happens when America's most popular drug is abused.

Until a few years ago, a person diseased by overdose of the alcohol had only the Alcoholic Anonymous for hope of recovery, assuming he wanted recovery. The AA, which began in 1935 and has about 300,000 U.S. members, still has the best recovery record of any program.

But taking nothing away from it, the AA's success may be because it has virtually had the field to itself. Only in recent years have community health boards, county and state departments of health and federal health officials become involved. Like alcoholics the morning after, the awakening has been slow.

More and more, scientists appear about alcohol disease programs achieving remarkable success in their local areas. Most of these programs, and the growing number like them—such as Al-Anon and Alateen for friends and relatives of problem drinkers—are for the rich and poor. Many are unique because they bring together services and staff that formerly worked on the program separately, if not competitively.

Since these programs are new, this inevitably means that politicians and planners are breathing down their necks for results. Politicians know how to be scrupulous about wanting public money when they want to be. But what the politicians need here is not scrupulousity but patience, the same patience they have in awaiting "results" from cancer, heart and other research programs which no politician would dare criticize or deny funds.

Alcoholism is a person whose drinking messes up some, or all, parts of his life; about one in 20 Americans has been diseased by the drug. No one completely knows the exact causes of the sickness, nor are the changes it effects in the body and psyche completely known. Alcoholism cannot be cured, at least not in the sense that the sick person can return to "normal" drinking.

The pattern of alcoholism is complex. Some persons are hooked from the first drink. Others drink for years, see the disease coming and seek help, the way they would seek help for oncoming cancer or leukemia. Millions who know the drug is harmless if not abused, drink sanely and on appropriate occasions. But when a person's body chemistry and psychic reactions become conditioned to whiskey, gin, bourbon, rye, rot-gut or whatever, that's the trouble. He is either an alcoholic addict or an alcohol dependent person where there is no such thing as a "sober drink."

Orcadians Are Proud Of Their Viking Past

By GODEFREY ANDERSON Associated Press Writer

Today in History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Today is Thursday, Dec. 18, the 322nd day of 1969. There are 43 days left in the year.

On this date in 1787, New Jersey ratified the Constitution. In 1796, George Washington was buried at Mount Vernon.

In 1823, the United States rejected a request by the Soviet Union for diplomatic recognition. In 1928, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee approved the Kellogg-Briand anti-war treaty.

In 1961, President Franklin D. Roosevelt named a committee to investigate the military disaster at Pearl Harbor 41 days earlier.

In 1968, hundreds of African students in Moscow staged a Red Square, protesting against racial discrimination. The year was also the year President Dwight D. Eisenhower prepared to leave the White House.

In 1969, President Lyndon B. Johnson said the United States planned to build a new sea level canal in Central America or Colombia.

Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam berated critics in the United States, saying he was guided against "so-called friends."

seventeenth and today Orcadians still regard it as a golden age. The Vikings made the islands first a refuge for their longships, then a stronghold from which to raid the rest of Britain. While it was an independent island, it lords ruled even parts of Scotland, England and Ireland.

By a quirk of history the Orcney Islands became Scottish property in the 18th century. In 1689 King Christian of Denmark, who also ruled Norway and the Orkney and Shetland Islands too, betrothed Princess Margaret of Norway to King James III of Scotland. Unable to pay a promised dowry of 60,000 British pounds, the king pledged the islands to Scotland.

Today the Orcney Islands are a dramatically populated, especially on the remote outer islands. A hundred years ago the population of the 20 inhabited islands was 25,000. Today it is slightly over 15,000, with nearly 15,000 of those living on the biggest island, the Mainland.

The population drain is illustrated by the plight of the late of Rosay, which had a population of 978 in 1841 and now has only 140. There are only three girls of marriageable age on the island. Nearby Sanday has 38 boys and only two girls in the island youth club.

Only two islands nearest to Mainland have piped water and electricity from Kirkwall. The rest manage to use television and radio by satellite from a station on the island of Orkney. Orcadians raise Aberdeen Angus or cross-bred cattle for some of the finest meat in Britain. Orkney smoked salmon is supplied to transatlantic liners. Island distilleries export whisky to Europe and America. And there's a flourishing export business in lobsters and scallops.

"Knuckle, which we use today to mean the knuckles of the hand, once meant any bone joint, including those of the human spine. Thus to 'knuckle down' means to put one's back into the job."

CUP BUNNETT OVER SCOTLAND. A Scot and a Scot. Jack Paton, 21, pleased when he got a hole-in-one at the time on an Ayrshire golf course. It was a special moment when he did it again at the 18th hole. "I thought the ball was lost," he said. "Then I saw the look on my partner's face when he lived on in people's memories. He was later canonized, and the cathedral of St. Magnus, which still stands, was built in his name. The last Orcadian Viking, Svein Astleith, died after capturing Dublin later in the 12th century. With his death the saga would "be conducted to the public good."

SECRET EXPOSED LONDON (AP) — Henry, the floppy-eared bloodhound star of a series of dog food commercials, won't be making any for awhile — "he" is having puppies. The closely guarded secret of the dog's real name, Banguine Ballyn, was a secret no longer when she became pregnant. The Norse period had lasted

Formosa Elections First Since 1947

By CLAY POLLEY Daily Staff Writer

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — "You see that policeman? Knowledgeable politicians say Formosa did get his job. We gave it to him; we, the people. And we can tell him what to do with it."

But the party bureaucrats, as soon as they have to go through this election business, they kept coming up with delays. But in his 1969 New Year's message Chiang called for elections "before the year is out."

Dr. Walter Schardt, president of the medical association, said the film was donated to the school system for use in the junior high schools and at Manchester High School.

After the election Formosa's representation in the National Assembly will rise to 25 per cent from 13 white membership in the legislative Yuan will rise to 4.2 per cent.

NFL Most Valuable Player Awarded to Roman Gabriel

NEW YORK (AP)—Roman Gabriel, the sturdy Los Angeles Rams' quarterback who reached his peak in 1969, has been voted the Most Valuable Player in the National Football League by a 48-man panel of writers and sportscasters for The Associated Press.

The 6-foot-4, 220-pound former North Carolina State passer led the Rams to the Coastal Division title with room to spare and was named MVP for the first time in his career.

Gabriel received 21 full votes and a portion of another ballot that was split among Garber, Calvin Hill of Dallas and Joe Kapp of Minnesota.

Kapp, the man who helped engineer the Rams' defeat at the

HUNTING and FISHING Former Pro Cager, NFL Coach of Year

MINNEAPOLIS—ST. PAUL (AP)—If Harry "Bud" Grant had been, in his own words, "Good enough" as a professional basketball player, he might not have ever gotten involved with professional football.

But Grant wasn't, at least in his own mind, so after two years in the National Basketball Association with the Minneapolis Lakers, he became a Philadelphia Eagle, later switched to the Canadian football, became a coach and came back to the National Football League three years ago.

Grant, now coach of the Minnesota Vikings, was named Coach of the Year in the NFL by an overwhelming vote of a panel for The Associated Press.

The former basketball player received 42 first votes to two for his recent competition, Tom Landry, coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

Receiving one ballot each were Vince Lombardi of Washington, Blanton Collier of Cleveland, and George Allen of Los Angeles. One vote was split three ways among Grant, Landry and Allen.

After earning his fourth letter in football at Minnesota, Grant joined the Lakers because "I could play pro basketball in Minneapolis, which was my love."

In 1967, Grant, then 40, took over as head coach of the Vikings, succeeding stormy Norm Van Brocklin.

The Minnesota players called him the "quiet man" but they did his "great coach."

Chiefs Can Be Assured Lamonia Will Throw Mystery Surrounds Operations In Camp of Oakland Raiders

NEW YORK (AP)—The theory of operation that has made the Oakland Raiders one of the most successful organizations in the American Football League is built around shrouding operations in mystery, reportedly by creating a psychological edge by instilling doubts in the opposition.

A member of that organization, quarterback Daryle Lamonica, has been schooled in that theory. He also has destroyed it.

The Raiders will practice very much in secret and will operate behind a semi-blackout of information, but there is no mystery about what Lamonica is going to do on the field. The elements of the game plan always dissolve into a "Bomb Away" attitude.

Oakland's system, devised to exploit the pass, is the perfect complement for Lamonica, a player in the championship game in 1968.

Lamonica has been able to achieve what he has while keeping his plans a tribute, where the ball is—and very often, where the rules are turned into Lamonica. Tom Lamonica is going to do the thing he gets the ball time and time again.

Obviously, there is the power of running of Herolt Dixon and the breakaway threat of Charley Smith, which Lamonica complements by tight ends Bill Cannon and Mike Hagerty.

That line—with Bob Strubus and Harry Schell at the tackles, Gene Upshaw and Jim Harvey at the guards and Jim Otto at center—have thrown a protective ring around Lamonica that has made the American Football League its most successful organization in the past few years.

The explosive offense is a surprise because of the defensive line that has been accused, at times of using tactics just as effective as the offense. It is not, it creates, like the mystique of the spiral in baseball, an intangible, it is a catch in the opposition is always wary of it.

Double Duty Helps Renfro Earn Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Mel Renfro did double duty last Saturday against Baltimore. In an effort to shake up the Cowboys' defense, Coach Tom Landry played Renfro at his normal free safety job for one half and moved him to a cornerback spot for the second half.

During the afternoon Renfro intercepted two more passes to raise his season total to 10.

Renfro's performance earned him the Defensive Player of the Week award.

Cheney Tech Loses No. 4 At Windham

CHENEY, N.H. (AP)—The Cheney Tech Beavers were defeated by Windham Tech yesterday afternoon in an away game, 70-47. Cheney is yet to win a game in four outings.

The defeat wasn't all bad for the local five as two bright spots showed in the results. Cheney was able to score 47 points in the most all season, and Captain Ken Larimore popped in 22 points.

Bill Smith, Windham's small guard, topped all scorers with a 25 point outburst. He jumped in 21 in the first half. Windham took the intermission break with a 43-16 lead. Also, Churchill and Meehan combined for 14 and 14 points respectively.

For the losers, Larimore was the only double figure man, McStowe with six points was next in line.

Cheney's next contest is Thursday at home against Granby.
