Bolton Firemen, Education Board Critical of Budget Cuts

The chairman of the Board of Education for their children, Education, the chairman of the but nothing was settled last night. The Board of Finance Bolton Volunteer Fire Department will reconsider the budget with most Chief attendees of the Board the others they have been asked of Finance meeting last night to reconsider.

John Rothwell, chairman of the Board of Education, also asked the board to reconsider the commission's budget. Rothwell was "worried up over the well said the board had cut budget" and wanted to know things that were necessary for why the $1,000 expense fund had been cut from the budget. It has been cut from the budget, will mean that the commission had to print revised zoning rules Board of Finance, told him that the printing item had been cut too low for this on the fact that it appeared the Finance Department "was a disaster."

Re-evaluation Contract
The Department "was a disaster" toward being a paid department rather than a volunteer one.

Harlow said he wished the Board would reconsider, "but apparently they were being penny wise, but dollar foolish."

He said that the amount was too small to be "worrying about the money, and that a paid fire department couldn't be started for less than $50,000." He said the agreement to reconsider the Fire Commissioner's budget.

The Board of Education was represented by William Grunstone, chairman; William Houle, board member; and Joseph Castagna, superintendent of schools. Grunstone said that he had hoped there would be a closed meeting of the Board of Education and the Board of Finance before any cuts were taken from the budget, "but apparently the Board of Finance must think this was necessary."

Grunstone asked the Board of Finance from what areas the cuts were taken. Riley said that although actual category cuts in the can not be made in the financial they would discuss them with the Board of Education.

The Board of Education is not allowed to take specific cuts from the Board of Education, but only one amount. It had, however, gone over the entire budget before making cuts and there were areas it felt could be cut.

Grunstone said the Board of Education had argued over the budget and cut $60,000 before it was brought to the Board of Finance. He said the Board of Education had made a possible budget to maintain a reasonable level of education.

Both Board of Education and Finance agreed that the Board wanted lower taxes and good education.

Lynns Wed 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Lynns of 417 Hartford were honored on Saturday for their 50th wedding anniversary. The celebration in their home was a general men's dinner party at the home of the Church of the Assumption, a reception at the Marine Corps Home on Parker St., and a family dinner party at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Marceau, 8 Tracy Dr., Westfield, Mass.

Guests from Philadelphia, Pa., Arizona, Massachusetts, New York and New Jersey attended the dinner. The couple received 14 gifts from friends and relatives in England and Ireland.

The couple was married April 29, 1920 at St. John's Church, Drummer, Portland, Ireland. They have two other daughters, Mrs. Joseph Wray and Mrs. Hugh Hayden, both of Manchester; two sons, John Lynn of the upper 70s to low 80s and Lynn of Tucson, Ariz.; 38 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynns are communicants of St. James' Church and were both employed by the Manchester Board of Education before they retired. Mrs. Lynn is a member of the W.V.W. Auxiliary.

Mr. Lynn served with Co. K of the 16th Infantry during World War II. He is a member of the British-American Club, Campbell Council, N.O.C., and the American Legion, the W.V.W. and its color guard, and the Worn Pop Tent, Military Order of Coedon, of the W.V.W. (Herald photo by Buocivich)

British Dads Go Mod... So Sons Revert to Moderacy

LONDON (AP) — Just when British dads are unringing their umbrellas a little bit, leaving their bowler hats at home and donning maver shirts and sneakers, many of their sons are going conservative.

Dad's son doesn't want to look like him, and it's the sons who make the trends.

When papa began to prance instead of pace, his male offspring unringing his bowler and switched from velvet to worsted.

Last 29-year-old Stanley Adams, who runs high-fashion menswear shops:

"Fashionable clothes get a lot of attention these days, and after awhile the fathers begin to think, 'Well, if my son can't do it, why shouldn't I grab part of the scene, too?'"

"The trouble is the kids don't want their dads to dress like they do. And that's one reason why it's rapidly becoming trendy to be square," a shop's spokesman said.

John Adams, who has harvested more than $2.4 million on Carnaby Street catering to the kooky trends in male reinvent, sees the new wave, too.

"Black, blue, grey and brown suits are best sellers, and at least half of them have waistcoats (vests)," a shop's spokesman said.

Adams says the migration from mod to modernity is led by the 20-25 age group. A year ago they were wearing cord trousers, velvet jumps, Arab outfits and beads. Now they're hooked on neat tailored suits, tweed sport jackets and unadorned shirt suits.

Adams said sales of three-piece suits in his shops in the last year went up five times in the last year and six times in the last two years.

Around the trade they say three-piece suits have doubled in sales in the last year. Down King's Road, once the hippie fashion strip, the men's stores are keying more and more toward the classic suit.

Even the mass production tailors—Hopworth, Burton, John Collier and John Temple—admit that youth is pioneering the return of the prosaic.

"Not only are sales to young men increasing," said a spokesman for Hopworth's, "but it is the traditionally 'old' styles of

Market Hits Lowest Ebb In Six Years

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market stands at its lowest level in six years as measured by the Dow Jones average, and the outlook for any major recovery looks bleak.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks closed at 10.82 at 7:43, the lowest closing level since President Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963, when the average closed at 71.49.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,300 common stocks dropped 4.82 Tuesday to 44.08, the lowest since Jan. 4, 1965, when it closed at 48.82.

Investor pessimism, already fed by continued lower first-quarter earnings reports and concern over the Chamberlain's union, suffered a new jolt Tuesday when the government reported its index of leading economic indicators fell last month after showing a gain in February.

Declines Tuesday outlasted barrel advances by 1,094 to 506 on the New York Stock Exchange. There were 2,176 losses for the year and 1 new high.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks closed off 3.4 at 24.9, the lowest since March 7, 1965, when it reached 29.7. Industrial Tuesday were off 2.8, rule off 3, and utilities off 4.4.

Standard & Poor's 500-stock index dropped 1.19 to 80.27, a new low for the year. The previous low was Monday, when it was 81.08.

Volume on the Big Board was active, 12.62 million shares as compared with Monday's 10.25 million.

Motors, rubbers, mail order-retail, electrical, metals, chemicals, oils, rails and glassware were generally off. Stocks, utilities and airlines were mixed.

On the American Stock Exchange, prices fell to their lowest level in more than two years. The Amex price change index dropped 20 to 21.7, lowest level since March 5, 1965, when it was 21.68. Volume was 4.68 million, up from Monday's 3.4 million.

After Doing Own 'Thing' Beasties May Reunite

NEW YORK (AP) — Beasts George Harrison says the four members of the musical group may get together again.

Paul McCartney has announced his intention to break away and perform separately. Harrison, here on a business trip, commented Tuesday: "Ever since this year he's trying to do his individual album, but after that I am ready to go back to work together again."

Coventry El Barrio in Willimantic Seeking Help from Area

The People's Place-El Barrio in Willimantic has put out a plea to area residents to assist in making repairs to the headquarters of this multi-purpose youth and community center, which is run by and for the people of Willimantic.

Specifically what is needed are such things as: lamps, rugs, games and a record player; or people with special skills to contribute; or cash donations.

The People's Place-El Barrio was founded because the young people of Willimantic need a free place to study, to relax and to get together for socializing and recreation. They need a place to study because conditions at home may make studying difficult. Some of these young people would like to take help with preparing for high school equivalency exams, or lessons in basic English or Spanish or other subjects.

Others need a place to get reliable information and straight answers to their questions, as well as counseling with personal problems.

Besides serving young people, the community center can provide benefits for the whole community as a headquarters for meetings, health programs, films, consumer education, information on voter registration and adult education tailored to community interests.

Receiving these needs, a group of Willimantic residents and those of the surrounding area recently rented a large apartment at 30 Union St. According to these volunteers, The People's Place—El Barrio is a true experiment in community self-help, as the planning and work is being done not by some remote outside agency, but the people themselves, those who will be using the center.

Any Coventry resident interested in helping this venture can contact the center itself in Willimantic, and arrangements can be made for pickup of donations if this is desired.

Immunization Clinic
The Public Health Nurse Association is sponsoring an immunization clinic this Saturday from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m. in the Town Hall.

Immunizations offered are diphtheria-tetanus-whoping cough, oral polio, mumps, measles and tetanus. Any child who has had German measles within the past 30 days will not be immunized. A 50-cent donation is asked to help defray expenses. The next clinic will be held on June 6.

Bulletin Board
The Coventry Willimantic Square Dance Club will have "Singing Sam" Mitchell drum

Michigan as guest collar at a dance Friday night at the high school. All club level dancers in the area are invited to dance from 8 to 11. Soft-soled shoes are required, and tickets will be available at the door.

Tax Collector Audrey Bray will be mailing out about 700 lien notices Friday, and payment on these must be received in her office by 4 p.m. on Monday or liens will be placed on the properties in question.

The North Coventry Women's Club will hold an open house on May 5 at 4 p.m., at the Church Community Center, 444 Main St. Special guest will be Charles Schrader of Hebron, a 1968 F-150 student who went to New Zealand. The public is invited to attend.

Ends Training
Airman John D. Wile Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wile of 141 Brook Rd., Coventry, has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Charlie AFB, Ill., for training in the armament systems field.

New Telescope 'Calls' Scientists To Netherlands

WESTERBORK, Netherlands (AP) — The world's newest and biggest radio telescope, probing eight billion light years into space, is beckoning U.S. scientists to Europe.

"There is almost a brain drain in reverse," said Dr. Ernst Raimond, superintendent of the observatory to be opened here June 24.

Many U.S. scientists want to come to Europe, Raimond said, because Europe has a more ambitious radio astronomy outlook than the United States.

"Even if they started right away it would mean that they would have comparable potential before the end of the '70s," he observed.

The observatory has 12 parabolic radio telescopes each 100 meters in diameter and spread over a one-mile area. The plant was inspected last week by experts from many countries.

Raimond said after the tour the U.S. astronomers, headed by Dr. Allan Moffet of Pasadena, Calif., said they would call on the American government to allocate more money for radio astronomy projects.

Raimond said in an interview that his new telescope system could be compared with Britain's Jodrell bank, whose 250-foot dish is used extensively for near and deep space research.

"Westerners can reach farther, he said, but Jodrell Bank gives a better overall picture."

Dutch astronomers are hoping to probe the mystery of the start of the universe, which according to the "big bang" theory, originated about 10 billion light years ago.

Raimond said he is concerned that his telescope may encounter interference from a mystery transmitter nearby of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which has caused front-page speculation in the Dutch press. The newspapers suggested the radio station was connected with the storage of atomic warheads. Dutch government officials refused to comment.

Raimond said he was invited the American commander of the NATO base to the opening of the observatory.

The Sahara Once Was At South Pole

By VICTOR COHN
The Washington Post

WASHINGTON — The south pole of 450 million years ago was in the Sahara Desert — the desert has since slid away from the pole by the same process that made all the continents drift.

The north pole of that day must have been in mid-pacific somewhere south of Hawaii. This was reported Monday by a Columbia University geologist, speaking for an 11-nation scientific team that had just completed the central Sahara expedition.

The Sahara findings fit into a vast amount of recent evidence that the continents have indeed drifted slowly over the ages.

They fit too into a growing belief that the earth's crust, 40 to 60 miles deep, is actually a series of huge plates — each about six major ones plus smaller ones — that slide over more rigid material, making the continents drift.

The 14-scientist team spent all of January exploring the central Sahara by plane, land rover and foot.

"It was evident," Fairbridge said, "that we were dealing with an area once occupied by a large body of continental ice. The physical dimensions extend over 3,000 miles — from Morocco, through Mauritania, Algeria and Niger to Libya and Chad."

The group intensively studied old reservoir rocks in the huge Mansour field of southwestern Algeria. Bertram — The voice of air.

"This area is full of desert," Fairbridge said, "but in many places the sand has been swept away to expose the rock. If you are flying, you can follow the glacial traces for hundreds of miles. It looks like an enormous wall has scraped over the rock, where grooves have been made by the movement of ice."

An Advance View of Home of Saturday's Tour

Mrs. Fred Blish III, chairman of the Cheney Homestead committee, welcomes Mrs. John Horton, center, newly elected president of the Women's Club of Manchester, and Mrs. Vernon Mose, immediate past president of the club, for a preview of the Cheney Homestead which will be on view Saturday during the Golden Anniversary Home Tour with four other historical Manchester area homes. The tour, sponsored by the Women's Club, will be held from 1 to 5 p.m. and proceeds will be donated to the Manchester Historical Society for the Cheney Homestead Fund. Other homes on the tour include Scotch Acre on 221 Keney St., Glastonbury, the Cal Ereams Brown House at 189 S. Main St., the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Boss at 526 E. Center St., and the home of the late Edward J. Holl on Tolland Rd., Bolton. Tickets may be obtained at each house on the tour, and the homes do not have to be visited in any special order. (Herald photo by Bucivicius)

Creation of Great Letters Goes Way of the Quill Pen

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Curbstone comments by a pavement Plato: However this chaotic age is remembered in the future, it won't be recalled as a period of great letter writing. It has neither the inspired grace nor mellow philosophy — or even the passionate desire to communicate one's thoughts that stimulates the creation of great letters.

It's getting harder every year for anyone to achieve lasting fame as a letter writer even though he sets out deliberately to do so. There are too many factors to blame besides the more practical efficiency of the telephone, the telegraph and the time-saving machines — plus the time-wasting allure of television. Who will take the trouble to write a clever letter to a giant hawk?

Copper Gets Ready for 4-H Horse Show

The scene is not outside the barns at Churchill Downs; the approaching event is not Derby Day; the horse is neither Personality nor Terlago; and the young man is not a stable groom. He is Tommy Jacobs, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Jacobs of 742 Hillstown Rd., and he is coming to Copper in preparation for their appearance at the Hartford County Junior Horse Show, sponsored by the Hartford County 4-H Clubs, Sunday at the fair ground on Bradley Field in Windsor Locks. Grants Xined For Students' Mistresses

LONDON (AP) — Arguing that a new education law could mean state-supported sex for university students, the House of Lords voted Tuesday night the government's plan to allow cost grants to unmarried students who live together. Calling for students to discipline and control themselves, the House of Lords' Baronesse Summerville of Ken Wood said the proposed law "would not only condone sex before marriage but would indeed subsidize it through the taxpayer." In her day, said the 62-year-old peeress, students "did not moon because the government did not support our boyfriends or girlfriends." Most of the lords and ladies man state-supported sex for government project was defeated by 119 votes to 72. The defeat spread little alarm among student ranks, however. The bill goes before the House of Commons later and the Lords will likely be overruled. The controversial clause in Summerville of Ken Wood said that if a woman living with a male student "is vice versa—

Two Sentenced In Theft Ring In Waterbury

WATERBURY, Conn. (AP)—A sentence of 18 months to 10 years in state prison was handed down Tuesday to Charles Verdale, named as a "fence" by a one-man grand jury investigation of a theft ring, and convicted of receiving stolen goods. Verdale, 64, of Waterbury, was sentenced by Superior Court Judge Anthony Armentano after he pleaded guilty to a charge of receiving stolen goods valued at more than $2,000 in Waterbury. Verdale was paroled April 17 after serving 10 months at state prison at Somers of a two-year sentence on charges of larceny and possessing obscene film. He was arrested on his release from prison and was held on $20,000 bond.

The charge of receiving stolen goods grew out of a probe conducted by retired State Superior Court Chief Justice P.B. O'Brien, who was into crime in the Waterbury area. O'Brien's report last May said Verdale helped dispose of goods stolen by a group of thieves who carried out burglaries of more than $100,000 in merchandise in Connecticut and Massachusetts. In another case connected with the same investigation, Carlo J. Palomba, Waterbury's 33-year-old former police chief, received a three-month suspended jail sentence and was placed on probation Tuesday. Palomba had pleaded guilty to obstructing an officer, an original charge of perjury. He was

Dissolve Distance Between Theme of May Fellowship

The annual May Fellowship sponsored by Church Women United will be held Friday at St. George Episcopal Church, Rt. 44A, Bolton. A small neighborhood will be served at noon, and the program will begin at 1 p.m. This year's theme, "Dissolve the Distance Between," is designed to help close the gaps which perpetuate misunderstanding and inequalities. The Appalachian mountain people, of which three million have crowded into urban centers in the past fifteen years, will be highlighted in a special filmstrip as a group reflective of the rural-urban gap. Similar people, black and white, from deteriorating rural areas, and Indian American, from reservations, are being forced by a technological society to abandon their livelihoods for a bewildering, alien city life. These people are invisible. Mrs. Winthrop Reed is in charge of the planning committee. In Amherst all sections opened week. Swiss stocks sank on a broad front amid heavy selling and closed today at new lows for the year. Blue chips were among the hardest hit.

Stocks Drop in Europe After Wall St. Decline

LONDON (AP) — Prices declined on a broad front on Wednesday, following the heavy losses on Wall Street. In London the selling was light at the opening, with smaller or dips or prices than Tuesday. But Continental exchanges recorded steeper drops in the afternoon. In Frankfurt and Milan stocks were sharply lower in active trading. Frankfurt closed at the lowest level since last October. In Amsterdam all sections opened weak. Swiss stocks sank on a broad front amid heavy selling and closed today at new lows for the year. Blue chips were among the hardest hit. In London leading industrial shares were down, with all sections lower and U.S. dollar stocks sharply down.

Red China Says Satellite Still Orbiting Normally

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China reported today its first satellite state Superconducting Normality "normally" around the earth-five days after it was lofted into orbit. In a brief Chinese-language broadcast, Radio Peking said the satellite package in orbit "continuing its orbit normally" on an elliptical path which transmits since it was put into orbit Friday. The satellite is a radio transmitter and other electronics. Radio Peking did not say if the satellite's batteries were still strong enough to broadcast the Red Chinese anthem. "The East is Red," which it has been transmitting since it was put into orbit Friday. The satellite is a radio transmitter and other electronics. Radio Peking did not say if the satellite's batteries were still strong enough to broadcast the Red Chinese anthem.

LBJ Doubts Findings In JFK Slaying

NEW YORK (AP) — The Columbia Broadcasting System has deleted part of a taped interview with former President Lyndon B. Johnson. Published reports say the deleted part contained Johnson's comments on the findings of the Warren Commission. Johnson expressed doubts about the "motivations and connections of Lee Harvey Oswald" and said he has never been "absolutely" satisfied with the report's identification of Oswald as the sole assassin of President John F. Kennedy, according to the published reports.

Richard S. Salant, president of CBS News, said Tuesday that a deletion in the interview scheduled for airing Saturday evening was made at the former president's request and on the grounds of "national security." But Salant declined to make the contents of the deletion public. Salant issued a statement saying: "The CBS News agreement with former President Johnson concerning his filmed memoirs included a provision which permits the former president to review audio transcripts of his remarks and to delete comments involving the national security." "To be specific, the following statement will be made at the beginning of the program: 'Certain material has been deleted from this broadcast at the request of former President Johnson. The deletion was made on the grounds of national security.'"

The decision to comply with Mr. Johnson's request for the deletion was made by Mr. Johnson's attorney, who obviously would compromise the accuracy of the material which Mr. Johnson chose to withhold at this time.

Usurper Steals Thunder From Capt. Cook Show

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A usurper swept in by speedboat today and stole the show as Queen Elizabeth II watched a coronation rehearsal on the Capt. Cook's landing at Botany Bay 200 years ago. As the official Capt. Cook was proved ashore in a longboat, the pirate a p o e d e s t, wrapped across the bay in front of the royal party and another Cook in 18th century costume leaped onto the rock on which the original captain is believed to have landed. While 20,000 spectators cheered, he waved a huge Union Jack and defied his feathered cap in a pantomime bow. The cheers turned to laughter as the police, separated by 25 yards of water from the rock, ordered him to leave.

"Get your feet wet," the crowd cheered to the police. But as they started to wade, an unidentified impersonator jumped back into his boat and sped away, pursued by a police launch. The police said later they had arrested the man, but his identity was not immediately revealed. Otherwise the show 10 miles south of Sydney went without a hitch. Every detail had been researched during two years of planning for the 25-minute ceremony. A few 20th century touches were added, however. The canoes used by aborigines were fibreglass covered with tree bark. And the 26 aborigines taking part wore a bit more than their ancestors did. To protect aborigines "fish- ing" in the bay, a dead stingray coated with shark repellent was kept on the line. Frograms also patrolled for sharks. The queen, Prince Philip and Princess Anne had a ring-side view from the royal yacht Britannia. Thousands gazed. The organizers' advice that viewing would be better on television and jammed the shores. Hundreds camped out overnight. Meanwhile, hundreds of thousands of holiday travelers into the festively decorated City Center area along Sydney Harbor to take up the best spots for a half-hour fireworks display after dark. "I've never seen anything like this crowd before—and I don't think Australia has," said a weary traffic cop.

Welcher Will Play Tennis With Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressman Lowell P. Welcher Jr. of Connecticut will be volleying with Vice President Agnew in a benefit tennis tournament May 10. The benefit, sponsored by the Tennis Patrons to raise money for tennis facilities for Washington children, will pit 10 members of Congress against 10 students of the executive branch of the federal government. Welcher will be teamed with another Republican, Sen. Jacob Javits of New York, while Agnew's partner will be Penna. Corp. Director Joseph Blatnick. The tourney will be played at the Hilton Racquet Club.

It's All a Part of the Act

Miss Maureen Anderman, in the role of Antigone from Jean Anouilh's tragedy of the same name, expresses longing for her uncle, King Creon, played by Joseph Maher, for his contemptible treatment of her dead brother, and the fate to which he has sentenced her. The players, from the American Shakespeare Festival company of Stratford, also enacted scenes from "That's Your Trouble" by Harold Pinter, and "Birds" by Maher, for Howell Cheney Technical School juniors and seniors Monday. Each scene was played twice to underline character and motivation concepts. The appearance of Miss Anderman and Maher was the final portion of a three-year program in state vocational-technical schools, sponsored by the State Department of Education and Stratford Theater under Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Fashion Stylist For Nixon Girls Conservative

NEW YORK (AP) — A favorite fashion designer this spring of President Nixon's daughters has selected for a fall collection of below-the-knee hemlines and grown-up colors.

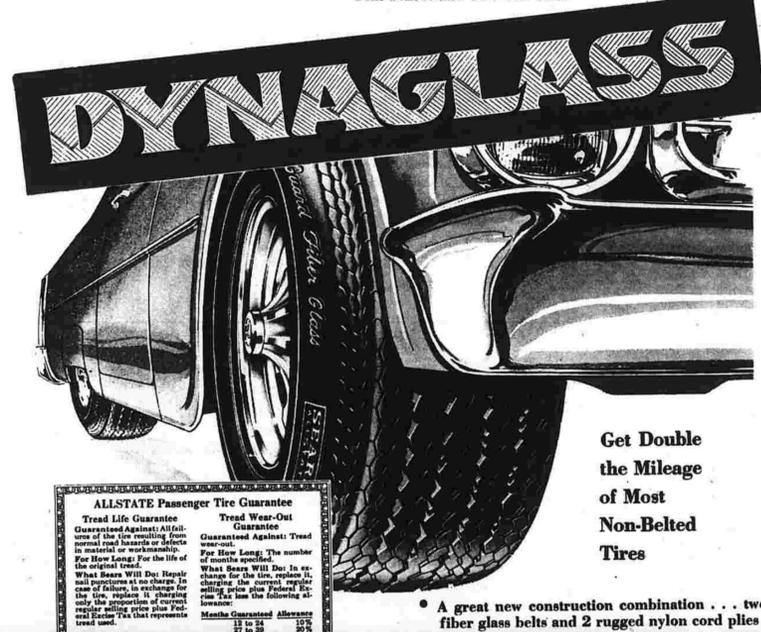

Included in the Tuesday showing by 28-year-old Beverly Meyer for Gino Christie were deep blues, blacks, greys and copper, as well as sporty-appearing look for evening in dazzling plaid and argyle brocade with glitter trim.

There's "no question" however, that Mrs. Meyer kept her special customers—Julia Eisenhower and Tricia, Nixon-in mind. Here and there were bright, pink, gentle scooped necks and innocent-looking styles. "I would hope they'll go into the deeper colors this fall. They're young as I am, I met them, and I enjoyed them." Prices in the Beverly Meyer for Gino Christie line run from $80 to about $185. The collection has a clean, elegant look with raised waist, shirt waist bodices, and some tunic tops over skirts and pants.

Estimated Revenue Suffers From Slowdown in Building

A slowdown in building operations and in real estate transactions is affecting Manchester's estimated revenue for the current fiscal year, Town Manager Robert Wiles reports.

In a budget analysis to the Board of Directors, for the nine month period ended March 31, Wiles reports that fees to the Building Department from 20 to 25 per cent below estimates, and that fees to the last several years. The taxes, estimated as revenue, were lowered by court actions in assessment appeal cases.

The accumulated sum has been carried as an account receivable and was wiped out each year by using new revenue. Under Wiles' proposal, the 1970-71 allocation next year, the sum would be wiped off the books permanently.

Wiles states that, as in past years, department heads have been asked to curtail their purchases of services and supplies to cover the balance of the year and to secure only those items which are essential to daily operations.

Sweet Adelines To Compete At 18th Annual Convention

Mountain Laurel Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc. will compete this weekend with 30 other groups at the 18th Annual Convention and Quartet Contest at the Hotel Bradford, Boston, Mass.

Since chartering in 1951, Mountain Laurel Chapter has achieved a place among the top five choruses (the medallion ribbon at each convention and in 1969 was the coveted blue ribbon in Kingston, Ont., Can. In 1967, the members were trophies in Hartford for the annual convention and did not compete.

The chorus is entered with 12 members singing under the direction of Vincent A. Zito who has directed Mountain Laurel since its inception. Barbershop arrangements are "Sitting on Top of the World," and "I Ruled the World."

"The Illusion," a newly created quartet, comprised of women from the ranks of Mountain Laurel membership, are also registered to compete with 20 other quartets. The members, who have participated in regional and national conventions, are: Mrs. Mary Jayne (Truman) Crandall, soprano; Mrs. Susan (David) Guinn, alto; Mrs. Joseph (Joseph) Sullivan, tenor; Mrs. Charles (Michael) Florence, bass; Mrs. Florence (Joseph) Sullivan, baritone.

Heralding Politics

By Sol R. Cohen

Manchester's 85-member Republican Town Committee meets tonight at the Municipal Building Hearing Room to organize and to elect officers for the next two years.

Expected to be chairman: M. Adler Dobkin, clerk: Mrs. Susan Taylor, secretary: Mrs. Mildred Schaller, treasurer: Charles McKenzie.

The committee's executive board has yet to announce its recommendations for a new town director, to succeed Donald Kuhl; and a new member of the Manchester Redevelopment Agency, to succeed Arthur Smith. Both had resigned because of the press of personal business.

Kuhl's unexpired term is to November 1971, and Smith's is to November 1972. Both are Republicans and both will be re-elected by Republicans.

Alphonse Donahue, candidate for the Democratic nomination for U.S. senator, is predicting that he will win next Tuesday's Democratic primary in Stamford, with more than 50 per cent of the vote; that he will be nominated on the first ballot at the June 23-27 Democratic State Convention, with at least 41 per cent of the vote; and that, if an Aug. 19 state-wide Democratic primary is held, he will win it "in a walk."

Palmer S. McGee Jr. of Farmington, in a letter to GOP state convention delegates, declared that of the six candidates for the Republican senatorial nomination, he offers the best chance of appealing to urban, as well as suburban and rural, voters.

"Connecticut's 1970 U.S. Senate race," he said, "will be won or lost in the state's 12 largest cities, where the Democrats are far ahead in party enrollment."

GOP State Chairman Howard Housman is expected to name chief chairman of the 100-member Republican State Platform Committee.

Goldberg, who is the General Assembly's GOP legislative committee chairman, ran for the office of Second District congressman in 1968. He was defeated by the incumbent, William St. Onge.

The GOP Platform Committee will include the approval of a national budget and the election of national officers and directors.

According to U.S. trade extension of the league's activities in the area of pollution control and conservation planning will be an important consideration at the convention. Other topics planned for discussion include proposals supporting development of opportunity, continuing support of U.S. trade development policies, and advocating closer relations with Communist China.

Three in Area Plan to Attend LWV Confab

Three area women will be among 1700 delegates attending the 80th Anniversary national convention of the League of Women Voters of the United States, May 4-8 at the Park Sheraton Hotel in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. William Whitney of 159 Avoye St. will serve as representative for the Manchester area. She is a member of the Regina College, Newport, R.I., as a delegate to the National Student Nurses Association convention this week at Miami Beach Fla.

Miss Barbara Backus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Backus of 18 Robin Rd., has been elected to represent the Manchester area at the National Student Nurses Association convention this week at Miami Beach Fla.

The Smart Tensis Club will conduct a car wash and vacuum Saturday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at King Junior High School.

Crash of Cruiser in False Call May Result in Damage Suit

A two-car accident at McKee and W. Center Sts. April 17, involving a police cruiser, is believed to be a false complaint of the basis of a damage suit against the Town of Manchester and Patrolman Wayne Rautenberg, driver of the cruiser.

Rautenberg was reported to have a hand injury and Mrs. Ursario, multiple abrasions.

Both vehicles, reportedly, were heavily damaged.

Today, in a letter filed on her behalf in the town clerk's office by Hartford Atty. Stanley Cohen, Mrs. Ursario served notice that she intends to institute suit for injuries received. She charges Rautenberg with negligence in the operation of a police cruiser. The suit, she states, would be against the Town of Manchester and Rautenberg.

The Duke of Windsor and the marble sculpture he unveiled at the Fuller Brush Company plant in East Hartford this morning. The Duke and Cummings toured the plant and the sculpture to establish relations with the Fullers.

The Duke of Windsor and the Duke's wife, the Duchess, arrived at the Fuller Brush Company plant in East Hartford this morning for the unveiling of a marble sculpture of the Duke. The Duke and the Duchess were accompanied by Mrs. Nathan Cummings, president of the Fuller Brush Company, and other guests.

The Duke and the Duchess arrived at the plant at 10:30 a.m. and were met by Mrs. Cummings. They then proceeded to the unveiling of the sculpture, which was done by the Fuller Brush Company.

The Duke and the Duchess were seen in conversation with Mrs. Cummings and other guests. The Duke was seen to be in good health and in high spirits.

HRC Divided Over Issue Of Neighborhood Schools

Members of the Human Relations Commission (HRC) divided equally into opposite camps last night over the issue of neighborhood schools.

The group came to a deadlock because of a 4-4 tie in its response to a motion by Frank Rizzo asking it to "endorse the premise that every child has the right to obtain a quality education in a neighborhood school at the elementary level."

Those opposed to the motion said they were not opposed to quality education or neighborhood schools, but to the racial connotation of the statement and its restrictive nature. They said that the best way to get it is through neighborhood segregated schools.

Mrs. Goldberg also said that the motion did not foster human relations and was thus contrary to the function of the commission. She said that the motion was "a step back" and that it was "a step back" from the progress of the commission.

Disagreeing with her, Mrs. Beverly Malone said Mrs. Goldberg's motion was "a step forward" and that it was "a step forward" from the progress of the commission. She said that the motion was "a step forward" and that it was "a step forward" from the progress of the commission.

Urbanetti Joins Trip to Italy

Peter Urbanetti, 561 Center St., on Friday will return to his native Italy for a month's vacation. He will spend most of his vacation time in Rome but on May 15 he will join the celebration of St. Liberto in his home town, Magliana, Salsola. He had enjoyed his annual event before he came to this country in 1918 at the age of 14. Urbanetti's father, Giuseppe Urbanetti, was a member of the Italian Navy. His brother-in-law, Romeo Paganini, of 22 Foster St., and Paganini's daughter, Mrs. Bienville Monalini will also go on the trip.

Starvation May Be Cause Of Massive Wildlife Kill

KING SALMON, Alaska (AP)—Starvation, not oil, or perhaps a combination of the two, has been advanced as the possible cause of a massive wildlife kill in coastal Alaska.

Federal and state officials said Tuesday they still have no positive proof of the cause of death of thousands of moose, sea birds and other marine life in what one of the officials termed an "ecological disaster."

There was some discussion over Mrs. Goldberg's statement that the motion would lead to a loss of an unduly attitude toward integration.

Among those who felt that the statement should be better stated as a simple statement on quality education and neighborhood schools was the Hon. Mrs. Magr. Edward, head of the commission.

"I don't know why we're debating so much over this statement," he said. "I think it's obvious and it's clear and I don't see any hidden meanings myself."

In response, Mrs. Goldberg, referring presumably to Project Concern, said, "Isn't it consoling to know that we're not alone in our struggle?"

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Protecting You From Yourself

Strange as it may seem, the motorcycle helmet has become the center of a raging constitutional debate. It came about in the following manner: A number of states, worried about the soaring rate of motorcycle accidents, have passed laws requiring every rider to wear a helmet. However, these laws are being challenged on the ground that the government cannot force a person—just because it is good for him—to do something he doesn't want to do.

Of course, the government does have a right, under the "police power," to step in when there is danger to others as well. Thus, compulsory vaccination was held constitutional long ago because the disease may endanger not only the person himself but also others in the community.

But in the case of motorcycle helmets, the primary purpose is to protect the motorcyclist from the consequences of his own carelessness. That is, the government is trying to protect him from himself.

So far, a few courts have held the helmet requirement to be unconstitutional, on the theory that the individual should be "master of his fate and captain of his soul." As one opponent put it, if the government can go this far, it could just as logically require everybody to be in bed by 10 p.m.

On the other hand, a majority of courts have held these laws valid. They argue that there is at least some benefit to others, because a helmetless rider, if struck by bugs or flying pebbles, may lose control of his motorcycle and cause a collision.

Besides, they add, some safeguarding of the individual is justified, because if he is injured, he (or his family) may become a public burden.

"It is to the interest of the state," said one court, "to have strong, robust, healthy citizens."

Of course, not all motorcyclists are concerned about the fine points of constitutional law. However, they all might take note of a harsh statistical fact: the vast majority of motorcycle deaths are the result of injuries to the head.

Prawn Sets Fishy Record For Distance

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A tagged prawn released in the Hunter River at Newcastle was recaptured off Cape Moreton, 400 miles away—one year and 10 days later.

And that, the fisheries people say, is almost certainly two new records for fish travel. The U.S. distance record was 300 miles by a white shrimp, and the maximum time between releases and recapture, 287 days in the case of another white shrimp.

Fisheries scientists are excited about the recovery of the tagged king prawn, caught by professional fisherman Bill Smith, in 348 feet of water. It is believed, among other things, how far and fast prawns can travel (speed of this one was a mile a day) and that they migrate northward.

It also indicated how much they grow. This one was 4 1/2 inches long when released, and had grown 1 1/2 inches and weighed two grams by the time it was caught the second time.

In the past two years Fisheries Department men have tagged 4,500 prawns. The tags are small yellow plastic rectangles with N.S.W. fish on one side and a serial number on the other. Fine nylon fishing line is threaded through the first segment of the prawn's abdomen and the tag is tied on loosely—to give the prawn space to grow.

TV-Area Income Up

KNOXVILLE — Personal income in the Tennessee Valley region averaged more than $2,600 last year, according to the Tennessee Valley Authority. This was an increase of about 7 per cent since 1960, compared with a 56 per cent gain nationally in the same period.

Tolland Panel Appointed to Study Town Use of the Old Jail

The Board of Selectmen finally appointed the advisory committee to study the use of the former state jail for a town administration building during last night's meeting. Republican Selectman Robert Dumont wanted to spell out the duties of the advisory committee, limiting its study to the allocation of space in the administration building, the town hall, the barn and garage. Also, that the committee serve at the pleasure of the present Board of Selectmen and until such time as the Board of Selectmen dismisses the committee.

Appointed to the committee were the three selectmen, First Selectman Charles Thibault, Second Selectman Donald Morgan, and Third Selectman Robert Dumont. Also named were Donald Morgan, Robert Dumont, and Donald Morgan. The committee had originally been recommended by Thibault.

The selectmen gave the go-ahead to the Tolland Historical Society for the purchase of the former jail which will be used for a historical museum. Also permitted was a request from the United Congregational Church to use a portion of the barn for storage of items to be used in the church.

The Republican selectmen again used their majority vote on the board to override Thibault's recommendation of Mr. Martin's candidacy for the position of alternate to the Planning and Zoning Commission, appointing instead the Republican choice, Bradley Fuller of Kistler Rd.

Anyone wishing to help out the town may join the committee by contacting the selectmen's secretary, Mrs. Vivian Kohnen, between 8 and 10 a.m. at the first selectman's office or by signing a sign-up sheet at the town clerk's office.

The selectmen agreed to Thibault's recommendation to delete a total of $10,114 from the selectmen's budget, as being their share to bring the town's proposed mill rate more in line with what the townspeople can afford.

Thibault feels that if the finance board can bring the mill rate down to 70 mills it will be somewhat more palatable to the taxpayers than the proposed 75 mill budget. The selectmen had cut $87,000 from the request, before submitting it to the finance board at Thibault's recommendation.

Two letters were read from the Tolland Junior Women's Club one of which requested a change in the date of the town meeting as set last week by the Board of Finance. President Mrs. Barbara Davidson expressed disappointment over the date explaining that the date of the 75-member organization's annual request and installation of officers and had been set since last fall.

Thibault added he had received calls from members of the organization confirming that the date cannot be changed since reservations were made last fall, and that money has already been paid for the tickets.

He Picked Police Work As Ministry

LAWTON, Okla. (AP) —John Joel Stowe III ended a line extending through five generations when he turned down a prayer book and pulpit for bullets and a badge.

But the Lawton policeman still considers himself a minister. And his father, a Tulsa pastor, agrees.

"John is simply approaching it from a new angle," said Dr. J. Joel Stowe Jr., pastor of the Rose Hill Methodist Church in Tulsa. "Law enforcement is a ministry of service. It has value and place, just like the ministry of the pulpit."

The Stowe family ministry began in 1824, when a young farm boy named John B. McFerrin decided to become a minister. The family carried down the tradition through Dr. Stowe but then it took a different turn. Or maybe it didn't.

"Others interpret it differently," the police sergeant said, "but I can see law enforcement work as a ministry of love, helping society, as when an officer restrains a drunken driver or counsels with school children."

The younger Stowe became a police officer in 1966. He's currently sergeant of the Tulsa traffic division.

The Rev. Dr. Stowe said no pressure was placed on him when it was time to choose a profession.

"Perhaps our family keeps producing ministers because of a lack of pressure to become one," he said. "The father doesn't recruit. It is always the son's decision."

But Stowe's interest in police work isn't too unusual. His father started the chaplain corps for the Oklahoma Highway Patrol in 1961 while in Hugo.

And the Rev. Dr. Stowe seems to have a soft spot in his heart for police work.

"The pharisee forces a mixture of emotion, fear and confusion to mislead after the fact of nothing," the minister said. "He must be good judge and listener, ready for every need from driving at breakneck speed to changing a light bulb or tire."

"John is a licensed Methodist minister, which means he can give sermons and has taken a vow not to drink or smoke. It all holds him in good stead." The Rev. Dr. Stowe continued.

"A Highway Patrol trooper once told me his call is to be a policeman as much as to be a minister. I believe he was correct."

Spring Is Time To Spruce Up Your Lawn

BY EARL ARONSON

AP Newsfeatures

Don't expect your lawn to look as attractive coming out of winter as it did last fall. There is no healing while grass is dormant, and disease and traffic may have caused injury near driveways or walks and mow may have made through-furrows under the mower.

What must you do to repair the lawn?

Heavy weather and spring rains will help, but you should reseed bare spots promptly to thicken depleted turf. Broadcast seeding is done at half the rate recommended on the package for new lawns. Use good quality seed with "true-to-type" components and without serious lawn weeds.

Use a lawn spreader either with wheel-cast or drop arrangements, for best results.

Seed early. Frosting doesn't harm seed, but don't expect it to sprout in cold weather. The tiny seeds become imbedded to advantage in frost pits of the soil. Before reseeding, rake up thatch that could prevent seed from reaching soil.

If you want to thin the lawn, there are far rent power rakes that slice turf. The soil scratches from a tiller makes a good home for seed.

Feed early if the lawn has not been fertilized recently. Fertilization at time of seeding should not cause difficulty, for the rains that bring sprouting also disperse nutrient salts. But once seed has sprouted, don't fertilize until the seedlings are old enough to have had two mowings.

Avoid weed killers until new grass is established.

Income Tax Spreads

NEW YORK —Forty states levy an individual income tax, with Hawaii being the first to do so — in 1961, long before it became a state. Two states, Maine and Illinois, imposed the tax in 1965 for the first time.

Human Rights at the Heart Of High School Rebellion

principals, administrators, parents and politicians. The current generation in the high schools has discovered that the situation they confront as students is inhuman and the status they hold is one of subjugation," said teacher Marc Libarite in the introduction of a book he co-edited, "The High School Revolutionaries."

"There is nothing radical about what the students are asking—the right to form their clubs such as anti-war or political, the right to dress as they wish, the right to a fair trial if accused," said Mrs. Libarite. "The students are not willing to back it."

"Because of TV," he continues, "many youngsters are aware of social problems before they can read. Anyone under 25 years of age has always lived under the shadow of nuclear war. That's significant. They know doom is just around the corner."

Glesner said in almost every instance where a school has trouble the students were rebuffed when they sought redress of grievances in an orderly fashion.

"When students become militant, they do so because of long frustration," he concluded. "Once turmoil starts, many school administrators are outside agitators. But Moffett said there is a lot of evidence that outside agitators are not the cause of the problems before the students as the chief perpetrators of trouble."

He adds, however, that "external influences such as drugs, racism and war does influence school conduct."

Students may be easy to get on or off school grounds, Ken Blumenthal, senior and top scholar at Sullivan High in affluent North Chicago, said: "It's abundant. It's not easy to get much for liquor. Pot is easier to get and cheaper."

The study indicated that most eruptions, violent and non-violent, seem to be spontaneous. After long simmering a p.i.l.a. Once trouble starts, however, nearby colleges, members of the Students for a Democratic Society and other militant groups often do move in to give advice, direction and support.

Mrs. Lillian Mitchell, associate editor of a Teamster Union newspaper and mother of four who took an active part in leading St. Louis' predominantly black Restaurant High, sees other factors underlying the turmoil.

"Our children love us," she observed, "but they know we couldn't help ourselves so you can't help us." The white children are ashamed of their parents who have permitted. That's why they wear long hair, dress sloppily. They want to be identified with the underprivileged."

Beaumont is a typical school where trouble began to brew but school officials and parents didn't see it coming. Last Oct. 16 the students were refused permission to stage a special Vietnam Memorial service. The pot began to stir during a Negro History Week program earlier this year.

Four of six slides depicting contemporary Negro history had been presented when a school official stopped the program on the grounds publicity had been used.

Mrs. Mitchell said the "proximity consisted of such words as hokey and pig, none of the recalled four letter words."

In the video, three popular teachers were fired by telegrams which said "the cause of your termination is insubordination to the school administration."

"The demerits have been withdrawn but the teachers are not yet back in school. Students responded with boycotts. Police were called and although, according to Mrs. Mitchell, the students were peaceful they were pelted around and some arrested. Beaumont got a new principal but not until there were several shutdowns and some vandalism. Commented Mrs. Mitchell, "This may be a blessing in disguise. The kids may have shown us the way."

Halfway across the continent, Roosevelt High in east Los Angeles has run the gamut of the disruption after student demands—more money for college counseling, elimination of the test and more Mexican-American studies—have gone largely unheeded. Student leaders Jorge Rodriguez and Freddie Plank, each 17 and both instrumental in setting up Roosevelt High school for 50 expelled students, describe Roosevelt "as like a prison. It's fenced. Gates are locked. Guards patrol the grounds and halls."

A new principal has inaugurated what is called the "clean sweep." When the lady sweeps, classrooms doors are locked. Mentions go down the halls and heard youngsters they find into a cafeteria. Caught three times and a student who has his parents come to school. "How can a locked door close an educational session?" asked Martin Puz er and police broke them up. One first actually was thrown bodily through the air. Another's arm was twisted until she whined with pain. They called their foul names and referred to them as dirty bastards. Denying police had acted illegally, Police Sgt. William Hartman said, "any use of force is considered brutality and this is highly erroneous. We used force only when they became combative."

Unarmed police have been removed from school grounds but Plank and Rodriguez maintain that plainclothesmen are coming in the entire high school education system.

Chicago's Metro High School is an example of what the future may hold. The "school" is on an upper floor of an 18-story office building in Chicago's Loop. The 150 students—two from each of Chicago's high schools—were selected from 1,000 volunteers with no reference to academic achievement or deportment.

Underway only 19 weeks, Principal Natg Blackman, whom the students call Natg, reports "not one single incident of problems that are plaguing other schools."

Students get the basics at Metro but move all over the city for some of their studies—typing at Illinois Bell, Spanish in the Spanish-speaking neighborhood.

Students are urged to set out a newspaper and started it on their own. Blackman says it is not censored but live teachers read the copy. If there is a dispute about the article and the student wants it published anyway, "the student person here," Blackman said, "we told them to discuss problems. When one goes ahead, we put youngsters asked, 'what about militant signs. We told them our rights under the Bill of Rights. We haven't any rights!'" a father in the audience jumped up, pointed his finger at the speaker and shouted, "You have no rights until you're asked advice."

Court Cases

CIRCUIT 11
Rockville Session
Three youths appeared in circuit court yesterday to face charges of possession of marijuana, all brought about by a minor traffic mishap. About a month ago a local retractor, Samuel Lewis of Vernon, insufficient detail, noticed a small green bottle drop from a car which he had bumped into as it was stopped for a traffic light at Vernon Circle. Lewis picked it up, invited the boy into his nearby office and notified police. A few days later, after the courtroom floor and announced that everyone around the case until May 19. Richard Barrett, 27, of 330 Main St., Tolandville, was cited for possession of marijuana, the bottle fallen from a seat in crowded Yankee Stadium when by its name legit 60,000 people would have been charged. Judge Eli Cramer, without showing impudence or animosity, stated that those in the courtroom were not in a car, of Maple St., Ellington, were charged with possession of marijuana, and that his concern was over the results of probable cause, not in a charge of arguing the merits of the case. He stressed that the state would have the problem of proving it. Eastern Johnston of Eaton set at 8:00, and Ralph Maynes, Rockville on a charge of allowing someone to operate a motor vehicle and $10, on a charge of allowing operation of an unregistered motor vehicle. He explained to the court that he bought a car for his 15-year-old son to drive on private property. The boy was between driveways on Prospect St., Rockville, on 91 Prospect St., Rockville, was fined $25 on a charge of failure to drive in established lane, substituted for reckless driving. Robert Warratt was arrested for reporting a truck stolen after he had been charged with failure to drive in established lane on another date. Unexpected Pleasure in Texas

Unexpected pleasure for Bert Dittus, director of development and public relations at Manchester Hospital, while on a trip to Texas was an opportunity to play golf with one of the top touring pros, Lee Trevino.

Bert Dittus, director of development and public relations at Manchester Hospital, is seen here with Lee Trevino.

"He's one great guy," Dittus reported of the Mexican-American golfer who dropped up on him overnight in the limelight as one of the country's top pros and money winners.

"Thanks to Trevino's passing up playing in the Masters, the tour was not.

"I was in El Paso," Dittus said, "and decided to get in a round of golf at the Horton Country Club in El Paso where Trevino is the pro."

"I had never met him before, but he was so friendly and so great a guy to play with."

"Trevino asked if he could join us and he did. He's one great guy to be playing with."

Cincinnati's Perez Sets Homer Record, Snatters 48-Year-Old Mark for April

Whatever Perez has up his sleeve, he gave Houston more of the same Tuesday night, setting a major league record with his 10th home run this month as the Reds whipped the Astros 4-2.
