But now the dominant public image, when it comes the day for our instituions of learning to open their doors gain after the summer holiday, is that of an official of some union breathing defiance to school board, finance board, or taxpayers in general, and threatenng a strike by teachers unless certain iollars and cents demands are met. It does not seem to make very much difference whether such striking is against the law, or whether the pay

And it ought to be pointed out that salaries did become fair and adequate before the tough unions came along and before the strike was invoked as a weapon, and in an atmosphere when it was still mutually understood that both parents and teachers had an equally solicitous and interlocking concern for the welfare of the child.

There are many ways in which to judge how civilized we are. One of them continues to be the behavior of those who, by their profession and position, occupy the role of keepers of our civilization, and inevitably demonstrate their idea of its values not merely by what they teach but by what they do.

The Season Of Stings

In France, where the latest statistic is that wasps have killed five human beings in the last 10 days, there are alarmists who think perhaps some new breed of the insects has been developing, and is getting ready to advance upon civilization, in the style of some Hitchcock horror movie. Other explanations, supposed to be slightly more scientific, suggest that the tain psychologists think both mice and men do to the increasingly crowded conditions of modern life. 'Aggressive exasperation,' say such theories, may be causing ordinary wasps to sting more people, with the expectable statistical result that they will therefore sting more of those people for whom the wasp sting can be so toxic it is One thing is for sure. No matter

Sweating Out The Mideast When a 90-day Mideast cease-fire was agreed to at the end of July, President Nixon warned that no one should "underestimate the difficulties that lie ahead." Events of recent days have re-emphasized that warning. Mideast peace discussions already are threatened by Egypt's violations of the cease-fire and Israel's understandable reaction. The U.S. confirmed vesterday that the Egyptians have broken the agreement by sites in their half of the 60-mile-wide cease-fire zone that straddles the Suez While much optimism about the prosects for a real Mideast peace would have been unjustified when the cease fire was announced, it also would be a mistake to lapse into despair now over brought about in great part by American liplomacy but also, no doubt, by the fact that everyone had reasons for wanting to stop the shooting. Evidence that this was true was the circumstance that both sides were willing to overlook some fairly obvious uncertainties in the agreement. Israel, for nstance, could hardly have taken very seriously the U.S. assurances that Egypt would not use the cease-fire for a military build-up since the U.S. had only limited influence over Egypt. Similarly, Egypt must not have seriously believed that Israel would heed an Egyptian in-

Spanish Style Potato Salad, made with shrimp and seasoned with pimiento-stuffed olives, is heaped in a shallow bowl and garnished to make an elegant dish of a homey American favorite.

CHILI BEEF PIE (Makes 4 to 6 servings)

1/2 pound ground sausage

1 large onion, chopped

2 cloves garlic, minced

sweet onion, if desired.

6 hard-cooked eggs,

1/2 cup chopped pimiento

1/2 cup chopped celery

2 tablespoons chopped

scallions or green onion

chopped

powder

1/4 cup flour

1 pound ground beef chuck

2 to 2-1/2 tablespoons chili

POTATO SALAD SPANISH STYLE

(Makes 8 servings)

2 quarts sliced, cooked potatoes (about 3 pounds) 1/2 cup chopped celery

Salad Dressing

1/2 cup sliced pimiento-stuffed olives 2 tablespoons chopped onion

1 pound shrimp, cooked, shelled and cleaned

1/2 cup mayonnaise Salt and pepper Whole pimiento-stuffed olives

Chilled watercress Hard-cooked egg slices

Combine potatoes, celery, sliced olives, onion and 1/2 cup of the dressing in large bowl; toss lightly and chill. Coarsely chop all but 8 of the largest shrimp. Pour remaining dressing over whole and chopped shrimp in shallow dish; chill. Just before serving add mayonnaise and draine chopped shrimp to potato salad and mix lightly.

Add salt and pepper to taste. Mound salad on chilled plate. Drain whole shrimp and insert toothpick on inside of head end of each shrimp. Arrange shrimp (on picks) in ring around top of salad, Garnish with whole olives. Surround salad with watercress and garnish with egg slices.

*Salad Dressing: Blend together 1/3 cup salad oil, 1/3 cup-vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon dill weed, 1/4 teaspoon salt and 1/4 teaspoon pepper.

BAKED CHICKEN WITH OLIVE SAUCE

(Makes 4 servings)

1 teaspoon basil 1 large clove garlic 1/4 teaspoon anchovy paste 1/2 cup olive or salad oil 1 cup (4-3/4-ounce jar) small 1/4 cup flour pimiento-stuffed olives 1 teaspoon salt 4 ripe medium tomatoes, peeled and 1/4 teaspoon pepper

3-pound broiler-fryer chicken, cut up 1/2 cup dry vermouth, white wine or chicken broth 1/4 teaspoon marjoram

Saute garlic in oil in large skillet; remove garlic. Combine flour, salt and pepper. Reserve 2 teaspoons flour and dredge chicken with remainder. Brown chicken on all sides in oil. Place chicken in baking dish with 3 tablespoons of the drippings; reserve 3 tablespoons of the drippings in skillet. Bake chicken in 350° oven 30 minutes, or until chicken is tender. Mix the reserved flour with reserved drippings in skillet. Add marjoram, basil, anchovy paste, olives, tomatoes and wine. Cook, stirring constantly, until sauce boils 1 minute, then simmer about 5 minutes. Arrange chicken on serving platter; pour sauce over chicken.

of the olive - both the lovely green fruit itself and the oil of the

The most prominent feature of the Spanish cuisine is the sign fruit. The heart of the olive growing country is western Andalusia in the south of Spain. Almost all of the world's supply of green table olives - what we know as pimiento-stuffed green olives—are grown within a twenty-mile radius of Seville

There is a saying in Spain that the best olives in the world grow within the sight of the Giralda, the imposing tower of Seville's main cathedral. Pimiento-stuffed olives are used by Spanish cooks in much the same way as their American counterpart - to lend color, flavor and texture to snacks and relish trays; to soups, stews, meats, casseroles and salads. A fine example of a Spanish dish with olives is this Potato Salad, Spanish Style. Most of us think of potato salad as strictly home-grown American fare - a favorite for picnics, barbecues, family reunions and church suppers. It's all that but it's as much French and Spanish as it is American. The Spanish season their salad with a tart lemon-y mayonnaise and frequently add slices of pimiento-stuffed olives for color and a salty tang. They often add seafood, too, such as shrimp, so that it becomes almost a meal in itself. And an elegant meal, too, by the time the garnishes are added - hard-cooked eggs, some whole shrimp, more olives and bunches of watercress.

Spanish olives are one of the few imported foods readily available in almost any part of this country - on supermarket shelves — not just specialty stores and gourmet shops. It's as much a part of the American scene as the hot dog and hamburger and probably one of the first "exotic" foods a child tastes. Olives are particularly popular with the younger peration in sandwiches and snacks. And for those, of all ages, who are counting calories - a pimiento-stuffed olive contains only 4 to 5 calories.

MANCHESTER, CONN. HI, NEIGHBOR!

Now that the Thanksgiving holi-day is over (an event celebrated day is over (an event celebrated annually by mothers all over America when the kids go back to school) and after about a year and a half of courageous effort on my part in operating the Glorious Emporium, (giving unstintingly of my time Fridays 10 to 9 and Saturdays 10 to 5) I think a little explanation is in order for the benefit of those who have never visited:

order for the benefit of the who have never visited:
WHAT IS CONN, SALVAGE? It's an honorable warehouse building housing an assortment of lazy people, surplus and salvage goods, closeouts and etceteras. It has lost the Good Housekeeping Award four times in a row and has been referred.

row and has been referred to as "shocking." It has a classy name to cover the fact that its' rather messy. It sells every thing with a 100% "no-hard-time" money-back guarantee. WHO IS CONN. SALVAGE? Just me, Cousin Rich, assisted by a motley crew of no-pressure salespeople(?) and a pretty cashier. WHY IS CONN. SALVAGE? Because insurance companies trucking and railroad companies need an outlet for their surplus and salvage merchandise and because I have to eat. HOW DO WE UNDERSELL EVERYONE? Because we buy irestocks, sprinkler stocks, freight damage and similar lots some items may be marred or scratched but all are func tionally perfect and fully guaranteed. Whenever we buy a regular item, we make sure we can be substantially under the market with it. WHERE? WHEN? Just off I-84 at Exit 92. Hilliard Street is signs past the two schools. We're just minutes from anywhere (by jet). We open only Fridays from 10 to 9 and Saturdays 10 to 5 because we're not exactly overenergetic and because we usually sell everything we can get in that time. Also, I'd rather play golf than work. So that's the story. Come visit us and see for yourself. Try our free delicious coffee and browse to your heart's content.

of Silver Lane in East Hartford northerly to 1.0 plus or minus mile north of West Middle Turnpike in Manchester, a distance of approximately 2.6 plus or minus miles. Included in this project are the connecting roadways for interchanging traffic between these two intersecting highways. This hearing will be concerned with the Department's recommended design plan, as well as the acquisition of certain park land consisting of approximately 19.5 plus or minus acres of Veterans Memorial Park located in the Town of Said recommended design plan and park land to be taken are more particularly shown on a photogrammetric map dated June 12, 1970 entitled "Interstate 84 and Interstate 86, East Hartford and Manchester," at a scale of 1"=200' which is on display in The proposed use of park land, as herein before described is for a portion of the right-of-way for the widening of Interstate 84, which is a Connecticut highway project authorized by the General Statutes of Connecticut. The reasons for the proposed taking of said park land rather than other land are to facilitate adequate provision for efficient highway operations, to harmonize with local area planning objectives, to minimize the taking of homes and

B52s Stage Heavy Raids By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) - For the fifth day the U.S. Air Force today flew heavy raids against North Vietnamese forces intensifying their attacks on a South Viet namese base near the Laotian Three waves of big B52 bomb ers dropped nearly 300 tons of bombs on bunkers, base camps and storage and staging area within seven miles of Fire Base Other B52s hammered North Vietnamese supply depots and transshipment points on th Laotian side of the border. Smaller U.S. fighter-bombers also kept up attacks closer to O'Reilly, trying to hit mortars, rockets and recoilless cannon that this week have pumped about 500 rounds of shells into the base and South Vietnames patrols operating around it. Military spokesmen said the fighter-bombers had flown more than 100 missions since Monda around the base, and that thi was about 20 per cent of the Al Force's entire operation in Vietnam during that period. South Vietnamese military headquarters said its forces with the help of American bombers had killed 530 North Vietnamese in operation around O'Reilly since July 1.

A spokesman said the South Vietnamese forces also had cap-
