Protecting The Forked Tongues

It is surely something when the highest symbol of law and order mankind has ever attempted to create, the United Nations, cannot hold an anniversary session without finding itself in a state of fear and trembling over the actual physical safety of the individual diplomats and officials attending the ob-

How can a world which cannot even control the bomb which might be in the hands of individuals who are supposed to be subject to some influences of religion, conscience, and civilization hope to control the course of nations, which claim the right to be amoral in their

Or how, if the anarchist and his mere threats of violence have to be allowed to govern our use of our own streets and our own buildings, can we expect something better than anarchy in the world at large? If we jungle-ize our centers of civilization, how can we expect to civilize the jungle?

It is difficult to escape the theory that there has to be some inevitable interplay between the lawlessness we perand the lawlessness which is the only consistent policy in the relationship of But'if there is such an interplay, we would attach the greater blame to the conduct of nations rather than to the conduct of individuals.

If there is a threat of lawlessness by individuals on the occasion of the anniversary of the United Nations, that threat rises in an atmosphere made desperate and cynical by the failure of the great founding members of the United Nations to honor either the letteror the spirit of the law they helped

Most of the speeches the representatives of these great nations made during this anniversary observance will have to be speeches made with forked tongues. And all the security measures. that are going to have to be taken to insure their personal safety while they do this forked-tongue speaking of theirs will, in the efficiency we hope they attain nevertheless constitute something of a reproach to the assembled nations, that they have not yet decided to make any real sacrifices in order to obtain for themselves and for all even the most elemental questions of the collective safety of mankind.

The objective in both potential spheres of security can be simply stated: no bombs to go off in either aphere. The trouble is equally simple: over whelming police force in one sphere, but none at all in the other.

This should, if it were honest, be th saddest, most self-reproachful anniversary in all history.

Canada Recognizes China

For some time, as in its wheat deals, our neighbor Canada has been showing its rejection of the impossible American theory that Communist China is nothing more than an illegitimate inernational

Now Canada's formal diplomatic recognition of Peking regime as the "sole legal regime" in China puts Canada's diplomacy where its sentiment and its sanity have been, all along. That this has now taken place is, however, more a result of developments in Peking itself than in Ottawa. Peking wanted this step badly enough to give up its original insistence that, as part of the recognition package, Canada acknowledge Peking's sovereignty over Formosa. Instead, in the recognition communique, Canada "notes" but does not accept the Peking claim that Formosa is an "integral part" of the territory of Communist China and "does not con sider it appropriate either to endorse or to challenge the Chinese Government's position on the status of Taiwan."

It is perhaps even more important, for the future, that Communist China s beginning to show some interest in improving its normal relationships with the outside world, than it is for the outside world to be evolving out of its own ostracism of the revolution which has now been in office and power for more

In realistic fact, Peking's behavior in the past with those countries which have given it diplomatic recognition has not suggested much of a disposition to get along with the world.

ever, that Peking, having resolved some of its own domestic ideological turmoil, is interested in trying to achieve at least a normal degree of diplomatic respectability in the world. It will continue to be up to Peking in some part, and not entirely to the outside world, how swift this movement toward normalcy, with eventual admission into the United Nations, is to be.

Nation's Weather scribed, is for a portion of the right-of-way for the widening of Connecticut Routes 2 & 17, which is a Connecticut highway projection

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
An eastward flow of cold air brought crisp temperatures to the nation's midiands today.

The Weather Bureau issued freeze warnings for parts of Michigan. Wisconsin. Iowa. Missouri and Kansas.

Moist cool air brought snow to the eastern slope of the Rockies in southern Colorado and northern New Mexico.

Connecticut Routes 2 & 17, which is a Connecticut highway project authorized by the General Statutes of Connecticut. The reasons for the proposed taking of said open space land rather highway operations, to harmonize with local area planning objectives, to minimize the taking of homes and places of employment and to secure the most efficient utilization of public funds.

More detailed information and plans developed by the Connecticut Department of Transportation-Bureau of Highways are available for public inspection or copying in Room 234 at the Bureau of Highways office at 24 Wolcott Hill Road in Wethersfeld, Monday through Friday, from 8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M.

In addition to the discussion of the proposed layout and acquisition of said open space land, relocation assistance programs, as yard, 2 baths, $25,900. Keith
