Polluter Bill Passes House

A bill hailed as landmark legislation in Connecticut's fight against air and water pollution passed by a 150 to 11 roll call vote in the House yesterday and was sent to the State Senate for consideration.

The measure, backed by legislative leaders of both parties and endorsed by Gov. Thomas Meskill would give private individuals and groups the right to sue or to obtain injunctions against "unreasonable" polluters. The word "unreasonable" would have to be defined by the courts.

All 11 votes against the bill were by Republicans. Leading the opposition was State Rep. Robert D. King, R. of Tolland, who called it "a destructive and potentially dangerous bill," and predicted "harrassment" of businesses and scape of the state's economy.

King pointed out that "Connecticut is now the pride of America in the fight against pollution. We are Number 1 in the nation. We were the first to create a Clean Water Task Force and a Clean Air Task Force, and now we're saying any industry group in the state to zero in on its pet project, regardless of the effect on the state."

The bill was defended by State Rep. Francis W. Clampi, D. of Waterbury, chairman of the legislature's committee on the environment. Clampi said that the bill has checks on indiscriminate suits and that it provides for the posting of bonds by those suing, to protect those being sued.

"The people of Connecticut only want their rights," Clampi said. "They're not going to the big manufacturers. Certainly our judges are not going to issue injunctions in discrimination."

King, however, was not convinced. "The decision for suits should come from the proper state agency," he insisted. "We should strengthen the powers of those state agencies, instead of diffusing their powers and forcing them to private individuals and organizations."

The bill, sponsored by House Speaker Carl Albert of Okolona, passed in the roll call vote.

Nixon Would Give States $2.5 Billion Transportation Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon proposed today that $2.565 billion be given to the states to help solve their transportation problems. Twenty per cent of the funds would go toward strengthening mass transit systems in the nation's cities.

In a message to Congress on his special revenue sharing plan, Nixon proposed that $2,565 billion during the first year be spent for the planning, construction, acquisition, improvement, operation and maintenance of...

He said the remaining $225 million would be used to provide what he described as fast relief for many of the nation's mass transit systems "which now suffer from inadequate equipment, and law enforcement. Still to allowing them to undertake the essential work of modernization."

All the funds that would be included in the new program would come from 23 existing federal grant-in-aid programs which are now grouped under 15 major headings: urban public mass transit grants, $225 million; airport grants, $225 million; highway safety grants, $225 million; federal aid for state systems, $1,625 million; and other activities related to the development and implementation of national transportation objectives.

Following is the New England state by state breakdown of the $2.565 billion revenue sharing plan President Nixon proposed today to help them solve their transportation problems:

State, general Transportation, urban mass transit: Connecticut $20,280,000 $4,333,000 Maine $10,474,000 $270,000 Massachusetts $36,225,000 $17,919,000 New Hampshire $1,184,000 $157,000 Rhode Island $1,184,000 $1,508,000 Vermont $9,184,000 $230,000

Nixon's message to Congress on transportation is the fifth of a series of messages he has sent to Capitol Hill special messengers on urban development, rural development, manpower, law enforcement, and law enforcement. Still to allowing them to undertake the essential work of modernization.

Under the general transportation element in today's message, Nixon said he would like to see the federal government take a more active role in the development and implementation of national transportation objectives.

"We are remaining 90 per cent of the general element would be allocated to the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the District of Columbia according to the following formula:

Twenty-five per cent for the State, general Transportation, urban mass transit:

Losses Soar for South Viets; Sixth Base in Laos Abandoned

By MICHAEL PUZZEL Associated Press Writer SAIGON (AP) — Heavy attacks drove South Vietnamese troops in Laos back toward their own border today with soaring losses. At least 110 South Vietnamese troops were reported killed Thursday and 500 wounded.

The South Vietnamese abandoned another base in Laos, Landing Zone Brown, the sixth given up since the campaign began Feb. 8. Saigon also pulled two battalions and a regimental command post back to South Vietnam. North Vietnamese gunners continued to pound the troops still in Laos with mortar and artillery.

"We are still in Laos but concentrated near the Vietnamese border now," said Lt. Col. Do Viet, a military spokesman in Saigon. "We are moving out to carry the U.S. bombers attack for a more responsible approach to serious negotiations than we have displayed so far. When you are ready to discuss the issues in a reasonable manner, you will find us ready to do so."

Bruce's income statement was in sharp contrast to long speeches he gave in the past. "We are ready to discuss the issues in a reasonable manner, you will find us ready to do so."

Seale Trial Opens; Prosecution Calls Surprise Witness

By PETER COWEN Associated Press Writer NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The prosecution called a surprise witness to start the case against Black Panther National Chairman Bobby G. Seale and Ericka Huggins today.

The witness, a former member of the Panthers' local chapter, George Sams Jr., a former Panther and bodyguard to Stokely Carmichael who has pleaded guilty of second-degree murder in the case and is expected to testify that the killing was committed and carried out by Seale and Huggins.

Seale and Mrs. Huggins face capital charges in connection with the May 1969 slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Memphis. Mrs. Huggins faced similar charges in the slaying of James Earl Ray, but she later was allowed to plead guilty to the lesser charge of aggravated assault. Her sentence was limited to time already served.

She was a defense witness in the only other trial which has been held in the Rackley slaying, that of Louise McLazon. When Mrs. Huggins took the witness stand, Judge Harold M. Mulvey asked her if she would answer questions. She replied that she would plead the Fifth Amendment. Markle then offered her immunity from further prosecution, but the judge did not act immediately on the proposal.

The jury was led out of the courtroom while Mrs. Huggins asked for time to act as Mrs. Huggins' attorney, despite her constitutional rights and go over her testimony in the McLazon trial.

After further arguments, Mulvey allowed the attorney and the witness 10 minutes to consult and review testimony. When she returned, Mrs. Huggins said they had been unable to cover only 12 of 122 pages of her testimony and it would be "unfair under the circumstances" to have her testify.

Mulvey then granted a recess until after the testimony of the witness in the McLazon trial. Mrs. Huggins was charged with kidnapping resulting in death and aiding and abetting murder—offenses that carry the death penalty—plus conspiracy to kidnap and to murder. Mrs. Huggins also is charged with binding with criminal intent.

Vernon Drugline Opens On Full Basis

The Drug Information Assistance Line went into 24-hour service the first of this month. The need for the full-time assistance was according to Daniel Woolwich, chairman of the Mayor's Committee to Combat Drug Abuse.

Previously the service was available only during the evening hours. A tally of the calls that came in during the day, disclosed that many calls went unanswered.

The line serves Ellington, Tolland and Vernon. It is confidential and the caller remains anonymous while being referred to the proper agency where he can receive help or information concerning his problem.

The program is manned by State volunteers and funds which are primarily used to pay the telephone bill, come from contributions made by various local organizations.

Jeanette Tyler is chairman; Joan Lander, assistant chairman; Elaine Pimental, secretary; Gail Mayle, education; Mike Turk, publicity; Dennis Thompson, scheduling; and Len Trotter, ways and means.

The final full week of kindergarten registration for the Vernon school system will start Monday and will continue through Friday from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. each day.

Registrations will be accepted at all of the town's elementary schools. A parent should bring the child's birth certificate when registering and will be present for the joint registration procedure.

The screening program will be conducted sometime in May and all children who will be entering kindergarten next fall must be screened.

'Trovatore' Done Well, Not Sparkling

By JOHN GRUBER

It was about an average "Il Trovatore" with which the Connecticut Opera Association continued its winter season last evening at the Bushnell.

The trouble is that Frank Pandolfi often gives us above average opera that when a routine one comes along, it sounds poor in comparison. When judged against absolute standards, this one wasn't bad; it just wasn't outstanding.

To begin with, I thought it would be a fine job. Louis Sgarbi sang the opening "Abbetta signora" in good voice and with good style.

The orchestra, under new conductor Orlandino Di Giuseppe, was good. The vocalists were good. The production was good.

Leonora, sang consistently sharp throughout the evening. Her voice was good. The production was good.

OVERSIDERER LEARNS HOW TO PLAY CARDS

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Several thousand experts will play in the national tournament now in progress in Atlanta, and practically all of them are over-riders. Some overriders learn how to play the cards well, call themselves optimists and play in tournaments to show how good they really are.

The rest never learn to play the cards well, keep going down at their optimistic contracts and call themselves optimists. Today a hand would separate the optimists from the unlucky players.

South dealer. East-West vulnerable. Opening lead - King of Clubs.

West opens the king of clubs and switches to a trump at the second trick. If West had somehow found a trump opening lead, South would need more than optimists to make his contract.

With the trump draw bridge here, he would draw three rounds of trumps and then look around for new ways to conquer. He would wind up with eight tricks and would have the pleasure of scolding his partner.

If South were a bad bridge player, he would draw three rounds of trumps and then look around for new ways to conquer. He would wind up with eight tricks and would have the pleasure of scolding his partner.

Art Recovered

PARIS (AP) — Police said today they have recovered 10 paintings valued at $150,000 which were stolen from a local art gallery a year ago.

The paintings included a Picasso, Utrillo, Modigliani and a Foujita. They had been left in a baggage checkroom at the Montparnasse station.

But despite the rather average abilities of most of the cast, there were some very definite features on the plus side of the ledger. The chorus sang very well indeed. I had just heard the Met do this one last Saturday and the New York chorus was not as good as the local group. This was, perhaps their best effort all season, although they sang very well in "La Boheme" an earlier date. The real surprise was in the orchestra. Verdi wrote a score here that has always annoyed me with its monotonous comp-rap-flap accompaniment. Today it was played with a high degree of interest.

Whenever the singing got a little less than desirable, I concentrated on the orchestra and was pleasantly surprised. I was really thoroughly first rate.

The Met's John Gutman staged the production and I can't say that he provided anything new or startling compared to what we have had in the past. Like most of the opera, the staging was well done but not outstanding.

The finance work, and South catches the ace of spades and the ace of diamonds and then crosses to take his 10 tricks. If the spade finesse lost, West would return a second round of trumps, and South would then need good luck in diamonds.

Tolland County Court Trio Ordered To Hospital For Drug Care

Two men and a young woman, all residents of Hartford, who were originally charged in connection with that of a motor vehicle and a break into an Ellington restaurant, have been committed to Norwich Hospital for drug treatment.

Superior Court Judge William P. Barber ordered the three committed to the custody of the commissioner of Mental Health when they were found to be drug dependents.

They were scheduled for trial in Tolland County Superior Court but withdrew their pleas of innocent and pleaded guilty to breach of peace on substance information.

Patricia Galvin, 22, Charles Peredini, 33 and John O'Brien, 33, each received suspended six month sentences. They were committed to Norwich State Hospital for a period of from 90 days to 24 months.

Another young woman who was arrested at the same time as the other three was found guilty of breaching and entering with criminal intent and theft.

Even as the House of Representatives (National Organization for Women) was celebrating St. Patrick's Day yesterday afternoon, an Italian flag was observed flying under the American flag on the east side of the State Capitol.

Nobody seems to know how it got up there. At least they weren't saying.

Reports are that the new primary bill agreed to by leaders of both parties will include a provision which would allow a very beneficial last year to for-
Mansfield. The Laurel Club's biennial dinner is scheduled for Saturday, May 9, at Restland Farms in higher office without losing the Republican Dutch-treat luncheon, he had to choose to go to one or the other.

State Rep. Donald Genovesi, minority member of the legislature's insurance committee, will join three other members of the committee on a trip to Boston on March 28.

They will meet with the Massachusetts Insurance Commissioner to discuss the results of the no-fault insurance legislation adopted by Massachusetts. Similar legislation is being considered for Connecticut.

Making the trip with Genovesi will be State Sen. Joseph Dinelli, D. of Bristol; State Rep. James Palmeri, R. of Waterbury; and State Rep. Albert Crockett, R. of Greenwich. Dinelli and Palmeri are co-chairmen of the committee.

Gov. Thomas Meskill has sent State Sen. Odgers a letter thanking Odgers for the constructive suggestions he made concerning the "Little Hoover Commission" appointed yesterday.

The governor assured Odgers that the constructive suggestions he presented have been incorporated in the executive order which created the 48-member commission.

The fifth grade classes at Bentley School visited the State Capitol yesterday. They were accompanied by teachers John Geary and Mrs. Margery Altman; and by room mothers Mrs. Donald Genovesi, Mrs. John Hickey, Mrs. Raymond Bianco and Mrs. John Frank.

After a tour of the Capitol, they were treated at 1:30 and 2:30 p.m. to a musical performance by the State session by Lt. Gov. T. Clark Hull.

State Rep. Genovesi, who arranged the visit, introduced the group to the House members who gave the students a round of applause. They were welcomed in the Senate Chamber by State Sen. Odgers.

Car Stalls in Road, Accident Results

A Coventry man was charged with making an unsafe U-turn following a two-car accident, last night, on Rt. 6 in Bolton just over the Manchester line. Philip Madore of Cedar Swamp Rd., according to state police, was attempting to make the turn when his car (left) stalled broadside across the eastbound lane. The second car being driven by Mrs. Leonard Bjorkman of Willimantic Rd., Bolton, struck the right side of the stalled car. Both were eastbound. Mr. and Mrs. Bjorkman were treated at Manchester Memorial Hospital and discharged. Madore is scheduled to appear in Manchester Circuit Court 12, April 5. (Herald photo by Flint)

South Viets Abandon Sixth Base

Jensen flew over several bases today and saw troops crouching in their bunkers. "We have moved back," he said. "All search missions are ended and a number were missing."

South Vietnamese military sources said 300 rounds of 122mm rockets smashed into the base at 2 a.m. on March 17. The rockets killed 100 soldiers from the 1st Infantry Division's 2nd Regiment. The base was then abandoned.

North Viets Shun Talks

South Vietnamese delegate Pham Dang Lam spoke at length of the "success and remarkable results" achieved by the South Vietnamese operation against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos.

Both in his prepared speech to the conference session and in remarks to newsmen, Vy stressed a long-standing Communist cease-fire offer that would allow American troops to withdraw from Indochina.

North Vietnamese delegate Nguyen Minh Vy told newsmen, "If President Nixon really wants peace, he must give a negative reply to the (Viet Cong) proposal to permit an American withdrawal in security and honor."

Confidence sources said the remark appeared to be a response to the American assertion that the drive into Laos was necessary to safeguard the withdrawal of American forces. Viet Cong peace proposals offer to guarantee American forces against attack, provided the withdrawal takes place without conditions and by an agreed date.

David K.I. Bruce and Pham Dung Lam, the chief American and South Vietnamese delegates, entered the conference without talking to newsmen. There was no indication of their own delegations to the deputy level at world sessions.

Major fighting also was reported by South Vietnamese troops in Eastern Cambodia, more than 300 miles south of the Laotian front.

Government headquarters claimed 400 North Vietnamese were killed, many of them by U.S. air strikes, near the Chu rip plantation about 110 miles northwest of westernmost base still occupied by Saigon.

Size of Bid Suggests Curtailed Trash Pickup

The bids recently received by the town for refuse collection appear to be within the limits the town can afford. Although the type of service the town will decide on and the low bidder are still in question, it is almost certain that the town will have less collection service in the coming year than it does this year. Prices for the service the town has now were very high.

Sanitary Refuse is the town's current contractor. This is the second time the contract was bid. The first time the bids were so high that Town Manager Robert Weiss began to consider whether or not the town should set up its own collection service. Preliminary investigation has revealed that the operating costs for such an operation would be somewhat lower than the current contract, but other related costs, such as the cost of building a garage to house equipment, would raise the cost to about the same price private companies have been offering.

The town now has twice per week curbside collection of rubbish (solid, inorganic materials) and once per week yard collection of waste and once per week curbside collection of rubbish (solid, inorganic materials). The cost for this service this year is $308,000. Bids for equivalent service in the coming year range from $410,000 to $460,000.

The services which, according to Weiss, the town could afford and the low bidder in each case are—
1) Once per week curb collection of rubbish (solid, inorganic materials) and once per week yard collection of waste and once per week curbside collection of rubbish (solid, inorganic materials). There is no indication when the contract will be awarded, but according to Maurice Pasa, director of general services, there is a time factor involved.

Some of the bidders would require a minimum of 90 days to acquire their equipment. The proposed contract would begin July 1.

Suds Ban Battle Won But Soapy War Goes On

PATCOQUE, N.Y. (AP) — Some complained the law did not go far enough. "It's a good law, I think if they went all the way and banned all soaps, it would be a better law," said Stephanie Hansen at the A.A.P. clerk's table. "So why don't they ban those detergent soaps?"

In theory, the women support the nation's first law of its kind which bans the use of automatic dishwashers. But many housewives who do their dishes by hand are threatening to cross the picket lines. Some of the women have made some pretty strong statements.

Assumption J.H. Stays Open, Tuition Increase Planned

Assumption Junior High School will remain open next year. The Rev. Robert J. Burbank, school director, made the announcement at a Home and School Association meeting Tuesday night.

He said that continued operation of the parish school will be made possible by increasing the tuition from the present $40 to $100 for the first child of a parish family, and from $30 to $80 for the second child. Currently, there is no tuition charge for other children from a parish family.

For several months, a parish committee, headed by Harry Ferguson, has been working on a solution to the school's financial predicament. Pierre Clark has served as chairman of the finance committee, and Harold Collins as chairman of the enrollment committee.

At the same time, Assumption parishioners have been reorganized on the 22-member board of trustees. The new board, headed by Atty. Thomas Bailey, is studying the feasibility of consolidating the facilities and staffs of the town's three parochial elementary and junior high schools. Tuesday's decision was reached after weigh-

State Urged to Speed Bill On Bonds for Water Firm

State Rep. N. Charles Boggin and Town Manager Robert Weiss yesterday urged the legislature's committee on banks and regulated activities to take quick action on a bill pertaining to town purchase of the privately-owned Manchester Water Company.

H.B. 7312, co-sponsored by Manchester State Rep. Boggin, and introduced by House Speaker Donald Genovese, would amend two provisions of a 1959 public act which already authorizes the purchase of the water company.

The new bill would remove a 5 per cent interest ceiling on a bond sale, and would raise the bond limits to 30 years.

Boggin, who said he was speaking also on behalf of the Manchester Water Company, said the bill would be brought before the committee to report the bill out favorably and to place it in the "Consent Calendar" of the House and Senate, for early consideration and passage.

He placed on the "Consent Calendar" carry the backing of both parties and are voted without debate.

Weiss, in urging approval of the bill by the committee, said he is recommending that a referendum be held in the spring, to consider town purchase of the Manchester Water Company.

Last April, the town was informed by HUD (the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development) that a sum of $71,824 had been allocated to acquire the water company's open spaces of the water company.

The sum is 30 per cent of the appraised value of the open spaces. The state would pay an additional 25 per cent and the town would pay the remaining 25 per cent.

The combined $71,828 is part of the $2.26 million estimated cost for the entire holdings.

Cummings Says Town Lax, Easy Prey for Developers

Democratic Town Chairman Tom Cummings in a strongly worded statement today, charged that "this is the time of go and grab, as far as special interest groups in our town are concerned."

Referring specifically to plans to build a new town office building at 4,000 off Keeney St., Cummings said that "some town officials fled from the hip, when they said for the CUD (Community Development) project off Keeney St., he remarked, "We are not aware of any other contractors that are in the area."

He called on the Town Planning Commission to "take it easy, and take plenty of time" before it makes a decision on the Keeney St. proposal.

In addition, he asked the Commission "in the future," to require in its rules "full disclosure of the facts to the public" plus proper assurances that the town's financial interests will be protected.

"This is not so now," Cummings said.

"Concluding his statement, he said, "The directors and planning officials begin to react in panic and confusion, when confronted by situations like the ones stirring up here."

Cummings reminded town officials and residents, "We have plans regarding the use of land that date back 10 to 15 years. We have plans for orderly development. We have our Master Plan. We have our CDP plan. We have our zoning ordinances. We have our research committee has submitted a plan for a loop line 22 orderly growth and to protect

A $10 per car charge will be made for vehicles which DeSacco will have to pick up.

The creative dramatic talents of the Sock and Buskin Drama Society were on display tonight at the high school, when the group presented "Summertime" using the timely musical of Cole Porter.

From Your Neighbor's Kitchen

BY VIVIAN FERGUSON

Yesterday, I saw a leprechaun. My mother and my son saw the leprechaun, too. And on St. Patrick's Day at that, begorra!

We were traveling down Main St., Portland, Conn., when the creature waved and smiled upon us in a most fetching manner. Dressed all in green, it was, from head to toe, with a mischievous, lovable look in its eyes.

A leprechaun is an Irish fairy said to be about two feet tall looking like an old man. Supposedly, they own great treasures. All Bucevichs, Herald photographer, knows all about leprechauns although he's not one yet.

The leprechaun I saw is German. At one time he and his husband owned The Brownstone, a restaurant in Portland noted for its home-looking, German style, of course. Now retired from the restaurant, the lady is a school crossing guard. It is said the children love her and most especially the ones who are out of school.

Born in County Wexford, Ireland, where the stakes were married Christopher Cullen, the lady is the mother of six daughters. A sunny boy greeted me. "Oh, it's a simple matter to have him while his parents work. He is much more content, as you can imagine, in this household," said Mary, Cullen, age 5, smiling brightly at her mother.

The living room mantle holds an assortment of photographs of attractive young ladies surrounded with the leprechaun's greeting cards. These are the five eldest daughters. Ellen will graduate this year from Western Connecticut State College, N.Y., on her 21st birthday. Angela is a junior at Western Connecticut State College. Noreen and Patricia can be found at East Catholic High School and Christine at St. Bridget School.

The aroma of freshly baked soda breads ready to be served with black currant preserves and newly brewed tea was tantalizing. "Have you ever had the famous 'banock bread'?" I asked. Only this week, Carol Katz asked me for a recipe and I, in turn, having lost one which contained all-brain, molasses, baking soda and raisins. Mary and I searched through her Irish cookbook with no luck.

"I used to bake more—eggs and all that sort of thing. The girls are more diet conscious now so I don't as much. You know, I never knew one could eat dandelion greens or corn on the cob until I came here."

"I do wish we could all travel more. We would appreciate it if you would understand each other as I don't as much. You know, I never knew one could eat dandelion greens or corn on the cob until I came here."

Personal Income Up in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. personal income advanced slightly in February after a big jump in the previous month, the Commerce Department said yesterday.

At the same time, housing starts registered a slight gain in February, reaching an annual rate of 1,718,000 units on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Personal income climbed $2.2 billion last month, with the slow expansion centered in wages and salary payments. In January, personal income leaped by $9 billion.

The February rise was about one-fourth of the January gain and about half the average monthly increase last year.

Wage and salary disbursements advanced $1.2 billion following a rise of $2 billion in January.

The figures again reflected the continued decline in the economy, as President Nixon seeks to expand it.

Housing starts gained by only 6,000 units on a seasonally adjusted annual rate. The January rate for housing starts was 1,709,000 units.

The Nixon administration has set a goal of 2 million housing starts in 1971 in hopes that the homebuilding industry will lead the way to economic recovery.

The Commerce Department said building permits issued in February were down from January, reaching a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1,683,000 units in February.

The rate of housing starts actually recorded in February was 101,900 units, down slightly from the January total, after a seasonal adjustment calculated.

Tolland County Tax Hearing Scheduled At High School

The General Assembly Joint Committee on Finance will hold a public hearing on all proposals in Tolland County on April 1 at 2:30 p.m.

Such a hearing is usually held in Hartford during the day. Tolland was selected as being the most central part of the 38th Senatorial District.

Commenting on the hearing, State Sen. Robert Houley praised the efforts of State Rep. Dan Stock, a member of the Finance Committee, for his coordinating and intervention on behalf of having the hearing held locally.

This is a unique opportunity for the people of this district to present their views on pending tax measures before the General Assembly," Houley said. He said he hopes all of the interested people from the county towns will attend.

The area legislators of both parties, according to Houley, have agreed not to take any speaking time in order that they may hear all of the views of the citizens attending. Comments will be invited on the Governor's tax proposals, the Revenue Task Force recommendations, various income tax proposals as well as other pending legislation concerning tax acts, Houley said.

Top-Level Study Set By Meskill

NEW HAVEN (AP) — Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said Wednesday he has enlisted the financial and technical support of about 150 corporations in the state to create a commission to study the executive branch of state government.

At a press conference in New Haven after meeting with the business leaders, the governor announced Edwin D. "Ted" Eberhart as chairman of the new Commission on Services and Expenditures.

Eberhart, a former president of Wesleyan University and a one-time president of the American Stock Exchange, was an unsuccessful candidate for the GOP senatorial nomination last year. He was recently named by President Nixon to head the National Center for Voluntary Action.

He said the purpose of the study is to show the governor how he can operate the executive branch more effectively and with less cost within the framework of existing state policy.

Based on a feasibility study done in Connecticut, Eberhart said savings of more than $30 million a year in the executive branch operations are possible.

The cost of the study is estimated at $164,000, and the governor emphasized that taxpayers will not foot any of the expense.

He said the study will be financed by contributions from the corporations that part. This figure includes $40,000 to cover two-year's salary for a specialist who will be hired to help implement the recommendations.

The 12-week study will begin in mid-April and plans call for the final report to be handed to the governor in the fall.

The commission will consist of 45 members, including representatives of business in the state. They will study six broad areas of governmental operations, including transportation, education and general government.

Eberhart said the governor will be able to implement most of the recommendations with executive orders but that some of the recommendations will probably call for legislative action.

Vernon Rotary Club Names Citizen of the Year

For the third time in 15 years, a woman was singled out to receive the Rockville Rotary Club's Citizen of the Year Award.

The presentation was made at a dinner last night at the Ellington Ridge Country Club. Miss Gertrude Fuller, who is a Vernon reporter for the Hartford Courant, was named the 15th Citizen of the Year.

In presenting the award, Nat Schwedel noted that Miss Fuller's background has been steeped in history. She was born in Rockville and has lived there ever since.

She graduated from Rockville High School in 1915 as valedictorian and continued on to Smith College, graduating Cum Laude.

Way back then, in 1920, after the passage of the Women's Suffrage Act, Miss Fuller was among the first women to enroll on a voter.

More than 30 years ago she began her career as a newspaperwoman, first with the former Rockville Leader, then the Rockville Journal and the Journal Inquirer and then to her present position with the Hartford Courant.

Nixon Asks Benefits Hike Payoff Now

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's call for an immediate payroll-tax hike to finance higher Social Security benefits has been received on Capitol Hill with puzzlement and limits of resistance.

Nixon approved Wednesday a hastily enacted 10-percent increase in Social Security benefits for the 26 million beneficiaries. But he urged Congress to immediately increase the wage base on which the Social Security payroll tax is levied from $7,600 to $9,000.

The bill he signed contains such an increase, but not starting until next Jan. 1. The raise in benefits is retroactive, however, to last Jan. 1.

The increase, whenever effective, means a maximum annual tax rate of 162.40 each on an employee and his employer.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, declined comment on chances of hastening the effective date of the tax hike.

But he said a tax increase this year would more than cancel out the loss of the Social Security benefit boost was calculated to provide for a still sluggish economy.

The benefit raise is expected to pump an extra $3.6 billion to the Treasury, of whom would be expected to spend the new money quickly.

Sources on the committee that shaped the legislation said advance indications were that the administration, to feed the economy, would happily accept a benefit increase this year and a tax increase next year.

However, Rep. John W. Byrne of Wisconsin, senior Republican on the committee, said he is sure Nixon's recommendation is a fair recommendation.

But even Byrne indicated he isn't sure what the President is so concerned about. "I can't get excited about this one way or the other," he said.

Byrne said further changes are not concerned about. "I can't get excited about this one way or the other," he said.

About 3,000 Viet Troops Leave Laos

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese Command announced today that it has withdrawn 3,000 and 3,000 of its troops from Laos in the past two days, leaving about 15,000 over the border.

Evidence mounted that the Viet government is beginning to close out its campaign in Laos after nearly six weeks.

Some South Vietnamese units which were heavily engaged by the enemy were pulled back to South Vietnam.

Some of Saigon's troops at the front were reported packing to return to rear headquarters.

SST Wins Panel Vote In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Appropriations Committee voted 17-10 today to restore full funding for a federally subsidized supersonic transport plane.

The committee vote which was counter to Thursday's vote in the House eliminating SST spending was announced by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who said he will campaign to make sure the full Senate goes along with the House view.

But two committee members, Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, and Gale McGee, D-Wyo., changed positions from last year voting for the SST approval.

Repetition of Testimony Decried By Attorney Defending Calley

PT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A screen and projector rehashing of testimony for the jury in the trial, already the longest in the history of the military justice system, was decried today by the attorney for the accused.

They are getting way beyond anything that could be anticipated in this proceeding, said George Latimer, Calley's attorney.

American, Israeli Understanding Seen At Talks in Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said today that he has reached a better understanding of the differences between the American and Israeli positions on Middle East peace terms.

Eban went into Rogers' office at the State Department at 11 a.m. EST after meeting with a group of senators, evidently to argue for Israel's announced determination to hold on to strategic territorial positions captured from Egypt and other Arab states in 1967.

Eban said that he has reached a better understanding of the differences between the American and Israeli positions on Middle East peace terms.

Nearly 600 Killed In Avalanche

LIMA, Peru (AP) — An avalanche of mud and rocks touched off by an earthquake thundered down an isolated mining camp high in the Andes and killed 400-600 persons, federal police said today.

Police said the avalanche struck the mining camp of Chungara, about 85 miles north of Lima shortly after a light quake rocked the area Thursday.

The camp, an eight-hour journey by foot from the nearest town, was inhabited by an estimated 1,000 persons.

Initial reports from rescue crews that reached the camp today said that the deaths were the result of a 17-day "period of grace" March 8.

Gorillas, Bare Toes Toll Collectors Encounter Motorists' Monkeyshines

(Editor's Note—It's not all roses for those uniformed men in the turnpike toll booths who take your coins, they also have to deal with some monkeyshines.)

WEST HAVEN (AP) — When toll collectors stick out their hands for the toll, they never quite are what you'd expect: a bare foot, a gorilla or even heated coils.
