Four American jetliners were diverted to the Philippines after a domestic flight in the Philippines.

An airline spokesman said the hijackers were all 17 to 20 years old, spoke a central Philippine dialect and told passengers they were setting the MAC11 jetties for "ideological reasons."

The plane was diverted about half an hour after taking off from Manila for Davao, on Mindanao Island. It first made a 90-minute stop for fuel in Hong Kong, and there 20 of the 45 passengers were released.

The airline and the U.S. Embassy in Manila said the four hijackers were Russell E. Eberstadt of Jersey City, N.J., George W. Drysdale of Wadsworth, Ill., and Edward Fekwes of Burley, Idaho.

In New Jersey, however, Eberstadt's parents said their son and his wife were from North Caldwell, and were Baptist Evangelical missionaries. They were on route to a one-week medical mission conference on Mindanao Island.

Drysdale, 41, is president of Marsman Co., Inc., a Manila-based diversified company involved in importing, exporting, mining and agriculture.

The four planes returned safely, the command said, but it gave no indication if they hit the enemy guns.

A special communiqué said the attacks were "protective reaction" strikes exercising "the inherent right of self-defense... to save American lives."

The first indication that the U.S. Command was planning a strike north of the river separating North and South Vietnam came last week when the Pentagon reported that the North Vietnamese had moved field artillery pieces into the six-mile buffer zone.

American field commanders just below the DMZ said about a dozen 122mm guns had been positioned several weeks before, apparently in response to the U.S. and South Vietnamese buildup just below the DMZ.

The U.S. Command said the strike followed "increased enemy attacks by fire on military and civilian locations in military region 1," the northern five provinces of South Vietnam. But it did not say the shelling came from the DMZ.

The biggest increase in enemy activity in recent days has been south of Da Nang, nearly 100 miles from the DMZ.

Paper Planes To Compete In Lutz Event

Lutz Junior Museum will hold a paper airplane contest April 18 at 2 p.m. Contestants may start pre-registering at the museum tomorrow, with Apr. 10 the deadline. Plans do not have to be finished by then.

These rules will govern the competition: 1. Boys and girls, ages 7-12, are eligible. Age groups 7-9 and 10-12 will be judged separately.

2. In each group, a prize will be awarded in each of the following categories: Time in the air, flying distance, originality of design, and stunt flying.

3. Plans must be completely made of paper - no cardboard, metal, plastic, paper clips, staples, etc. Glue or cellophane tape may be used if necessary.

4. The airplane must be an original design by the entrant and made without any outside help.

5. Plans can be no more than two feet in length.

6. One entry per person.

7. Each entrant will be allowed two minutes in which to make his or her plane perform.

8. Plans must be launched by hand.

9. Judges' decisions will be final.

The museum will have a book, "The Great International Paper Airplane Book," at the desk for reference. There will also be a display of some entries in the first International Airplane Contest, sponsored by the "Scientific American."

Jet Hijacked To Red China By Five Men

HONG KONG (AP) — Five young men hijacked a Philippine airliner to Communist China today, but the plane, its 25 passengers and five crew members were expected to be returned quickly.

It was believed to be the first airliner hijacked to Red China. Except for a brief message from the pilot, Capt. Antonio Misa, saying the passengers and crew were safe and the airliner was being "checked out" there was a news blackout from Canton, where the plane landed.

Their comments came late Monday after the jury's decision brought to an end the nine-month-long trial of Manson, Patricia Krenwinkel, 23; Leslie Van Houten, 31; and Susan Atkins, 22.

The same seven-man, five-women jury that convicted Manson and his three women codefendants in the Tate-LaBianca murders says, "I wanted to protect society." A prosecuting attorney says the verdict "reflects common feelings."

Defense attorneys' who had made impassioned pleas for the "gift of life," appeared shaken by the verdict. One wiped his eyes as the sentences were read; another quickly fled the Hall of Justice saying he was "stuck at heart."

Chief defense counsel Paul Fitzgerald told newsmen the women defendants had hoped they would be spared. In spite of their witness stand statements in which they expressed defiance toward dying, Fitzgerald said, "They never indicated that to me, they indicated a strong desire for life."

After the verdict, Bugliosi told newsmen he felt the decision "reflects community feelings," and was "unquestionably the right verdict."

"I feel this case will undoubtedly reach the U.S. Supreme Court," he said. "It was no more easy and pleasurable for this jury to return this verdict than it was for me to ask for it."

Fitzgerald, who defended Miss Krenwinkel and argued that the women were mentally ill from chronic use of LSD, said of the verdict: "I fall to see how it could be anything but the country's choice. The country that..."

U.S. Bombers Hit Batteries In Viet DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — Four American jet fighters bombed a North Vietnamese artillery battery in the northern half of the demilitarized zone, the U.S. Command said.

Jury Decree On Manson Is Death

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One of the jurors who decreed the death penalty for Charles Manson and his three women codefendants in the Tate-LaBianca murders says, "I wanted to protect society." A prosecuting attorney says the verdict "reflects common feelings."

Sharon Tate's Father Calls Death Verdict a Just One

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sharon Tate's father, a retired Army intelligence officer who was masqueraded as a hippie and murdered the actress' five children for four months, says of Monday's death verdict: "That's what we wanted. That's what we expected."

Blender, youthful-looking, 46, said he spoke for himself and his wife, Dolores. A jury had hanged Tate and her four children for a mistake and heard and mingled with drug addicts, lived in communes, and frequented hangouts of youthful drifters in a search for peace.

"I turned up quite a bit, but that's another story. It's a book, really. If I knew how to write a book, I would write it."

He makes no claim that what he turned up led to the arrests and conviction of Tate and her four children. How long does it take to learn "But there's no jubilation in..."

Calley Will Enter Plea For His Life to Jurors

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL. Associated Press Writer. FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William Calley Jr., will plead for his life to the jury that convicted him of premeditated murder of Vietnamese civilians at My Lai. The sentencing phase begins today.

One of Calley's attorneys said the defendant definitely would take advantage of the opportunity to address the jury. It was not disclosed what Calley would say but lately he has been expressing antiwar sentiments.

The trial judge, Col. Rald Kennedy, raised the possibility that when the jury learns it can choose only between life and death "maybe at that point they will reconsider the finding of guilt."

Such reconsideration would be a lesser verdict such as an unpremeditated murder or voluntary manslaughter in which the jury can assess punishment that is less than a life sentence. Only a single sentence will be returned.

It took only four members of the six-man panel to return the three findings of guilty returned Monday, but it takes a vote of five for a sentence of life in prison and all six to sentence Calley to death.

In a previous case, a jury did reverse itself when learning of the six-man panel's verdict under military law. In that case the jury lowered the verdict from a premeditated murder to involuntary manslaughter.

"It'll do that," Judge Kennedy said. "It's not a foregone conclusion that the members will reconsider the findings at any time before returning a sentence." Calley's chief defender, "It'll do that," Judge Kennedy said. "It's not a foregone conclusion that the members will reconsider the findings at any time before returning a sentence."

Seale Judge Okays Some Seized Items

By PETER COWEN. Associated Press Writer. NEW HAVEN (AP) — Judge Harold M. Mulvey of Superior Court ruled Tuesday that the seizure of some items from the local Black Panther headquarters two years ago—including a tape recording and alleged murder weapon—was legal and may be used in the trial of Bobby Seale and Ericka Huggins.

Judge Mulvey said the raid and seizure in the early morning hours of May 22, 1969, was legal but that "the casual and sporadic visits by members of the police to the premises after that time... were illegal and any evidence seized during those searches was illegally seized."

It was not immediately clear whether any items the state had planned to introduce would be barred by the ruling, but it was known that the tape recording made during the Black Panther interrogation of Alex Rackley and the weapon allegedly used to kill Rackley were seized during the raid, which Mulvey said was legal.

Visits by law enforcement authorities during the three days that followed, the judge said, were illegal because search warrants were not obtained. After the ruling, Mulvey warned that items seized Wednesday because of the jurors was ill.

The recording, which was played at a bail hearing and at the trial of Lonnie McLoosa last summer, was made after Rackley allegedly had been tortured with hot water in an effort to force him to admit he was an informer, according to the prosecution.

It was made, police say to justify for the party's leadership the treatment Rackley received. On May 21, 1969, his body was found in a riverbed 20 miles north of here.

The location was the Judiciary Committee hearing room, which is not capable of containing...

Reactions Varied On Verdict

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. An Athens Ga. draft board's threat to resign and a pledge from a retired army sergeant to conduct a free Calley campaign were among varied reactions today to the murder conviction of Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr. for his role in the My Lai massacre.

Gia in Vietnam expressed sympathy for the lieutenant and others said he should not be punished alone. Speaking in Framingham, Mass., Monday night, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., termed the court-martial verdict "another tragic chapter in a tragic story," and said he believes Calley's superiors should be punished for their role in the killings.

'No-Fault' Insurance Spurs Debate

By DON MERRILL. Associated Press Writer. HARTFORD (AP) — The volatile issue of "no-fault" auto liability insurance was thoroughly aired at a long public hearing Monday night—a hearing featuring testimony from lawyers and insurance industry spokesmen on opposing sides of the issue.

The hearing lasted for just about four hours, and just about every argument was raised. But both sides skirted the obvious economic implications. For the lawyers, no-fault legislation meant fewer fees representing clients in liability suits. For the insurance companies, it meant lower expenses because of fewer lawsuits and lower costs due to a ban on "pain and suffering" suits for minor injury cases.

Representatives of the insurance industry were thoroughly grilled by the attorneys on the Judiciary Committee, and representatives of the bar association were cross-examined by the insurance agents on the issue of space and the world oceans and other fields.

Bresnahan prepared his remarks on record as seeking a "halt to the race in all types of weapons" for the U.S. and the Soviet Union. He expressed support for a treaty which would ban all nuclear, chemical and bacteriological weapons.

"We favor," he said, "a convocation of a world conference to consider disarmament questions to their full extent."

As for China, he said: "We re-..."

Jury's Verdict of Guilty Not Expected by Calley

By KATHRYN JOHNSON. Associated Press Writer. ST. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Lt. William Calley said he did not expect a verdict that would be as harsh as the one he had planned a victory party after the verdict.

When the first conviction of a premeditated murder of Vietnamese civilians was read, his friend and fellow soldier, Lt. William L. Calley Jr., said he was shocked and that he was not participating in war. But he also had planned a victory party after the verdict.

ENOUGH WAR?

Had Enough 'Victory' in Laos?

Despite the most calculated efforts ever made by an American administration to control the new, eye-witness reports from every major news agency in the world call this latest expansion of the war a costly and humiliating defeat of the very best troops South Vietnam could field. In a six-week operation that was supposed to last until the monsoon rains in May, the war is one country wider. Invading ARVN's best-trained and best-equipped forces have been killed and the rest driven from Laos in panic, many of them — wounded and shelled — patriotically clinging to the landing aids of U.S. helicopters. Over one hundred American helicopters have been destroyed, two hundred American men offically reported killed, and untold thousands of civilians lives sacrificed in the most intensive aerial bombardment ever rained down on men, women and children in the man history. Less than a fifth of the Ho Chi Minh Trail was ever reached. At this moment, North Vietnamese troops — far from being beaten — are pushing across the border into Laos, and the captured stockpiles of arms and munitions are being used to rearm the Viet Cong. The same Administration that has had a boasted of the "success" of Vietnamization, still insists that the war has a great victory. U.S. President Nixon, Henry Kissinger, and Secretary Rogers all insist that the war is a success. They are telling the truth about the war.

Had Enough Vietnamization?

Even before the disaster in Laos, U.S. field officers, as well as thousands of returning G.I.'s, have made clear that without direct and interminable U.S. support, our Saigon puppet forces cannot suppress the National Liberation Front nor the forces in Hanoi who view this war as a struggle for national independence and unity. Let it be that we ask why after ten years of fighting with 60,000 American men have been sent to fight in one of our nation's most costly wars? We must plan on keeping 200,000 men in Vietnam for the next two years from now. But the Pentagon — as headlines in one of our nation's newspapers state — some weeks ago — insists that we should withdraw a million men to a quarter of the million men in Vietnam. The Pentagon's plan is to withdraw a million men to a quarter of the million men in Vietnam. The Pentagon's plan is to withdraw a million men to a quarter of the million men in Vietnam.

Had Enough 'Success' in Cambodia?

We have seen the pictures of the captured stockpiles and heard the body count figures. We visited the South Vietnamese border area, which cost a spring-time of death and displacement, still insists that the war has a great victory. U.S. President Nixon, Henry Kissinger, and Secretary Rogers all insist that the war is a success. They are telling the truth about the war.

Had Enough Repression at Home?

As the Administration grows more desperate in the face of its obvious failure to end the war, it increases its pressure on its critics at home. The Vice President bitterly attacks a free press. The Army conducts trials for Naal war criminals. Tuesday he could not understand the military tribunal's finding in the case of Lt. William Calley. Dadd, who was defeated for re-election to the Senate last year also said he was annoyed by the military tribunal's finding in the case of Lt. William Calley. Dadd, who was defeated for re-election to the Senate last year also said he was annoyed by the military tribunal's finding in the case of Lt. William Calley.

Had Enough Being Told That The President And His Advisors Must Know Best?

The Johnson administration, which went down to defeat because it wouldn't end this bloody war, now acknowledges how tragically it was misled by its own "advisors" and "experts." Nixon's advisors must surely have informed him that the Laotian invasion had more than 500,000 American troops. Nixon's advisors must surely have informed him that the Laotian invasion had more than 500,000 American troops.

Had Enough Despair That Nothing Can Be Done to Stop The War Now?

One of the Administration's most blatant deceptions has been to claim that it has quieted the battlefield or in the best of cases, that the Peace Movement is dead. This is a bloody propaganda and is shortly to be disproved. At work across the country this spring is the great anti-war movement. It is a tragedy that it is being crushed by the military establishment. It is a tragedy that it is being crushed by the military establishment.

Had Enough Brutalization and Demoralization Of The U.S. Army?

What has the Administration said about the widely reported deterioration of U.S. military discipline in Southeast Asia? Entire units refuse to obey orders. "Fragging" of officers becomes so common that U.S. troops do not even salute their officers. Drug use in actual combat is epidemic. The morale of the American people cannot be held together. Drug use in actual combat is epidemic. The morale of the American people cannot be held together.

Had Enough Recession and Inflation At Home?

Millions of American workers are being asked to believe that the military production can be expanded without affecting the civilian economy. The military production can be expanded without affecting the civilian economy. The military production can be expanded without affecting the civilian economy.

Had Enough Double Talk from Washington?

Perhaps the saddest ultimate tragedy of this war has been the demoralization of our own people. We now witness the shocking spectacle of men in high office — right up to the man who sits in the White House — using such deceitful, manipulative devices as calling the flight instructor of the Vietnam Air Force "a hero" and the flight instructor of the Vietnam Air Force "a hero" and the flight instructor of the Vietnam Air Force "a hero".

Manchester Evening Herald... PUBLISHED DAILY... 1000 Main Street, Manchester, Conn. 06105

Subscription Rates: Single Copy 10¢... Annual $10.00... Foreign $15.00

Co-Defendants All: In the case of L. William Calley II... the literal which is unreal, and relatively least important.

Will Smokers Be Warned?: The question is how far should we go in a free society in trying to stop people from doing things that are bad for them.

As for Lieutenant Calley, he is caught, on the literal level, and the hope with regard to him has to be that our society does not compound its crimes by trying to kill his life, too, in cold blood.

Time-Zoning Sports: Just when many of us were hoping that we could soon see professional football occupying our television screens all year round...

In January, Basketball could be telecast only between Dec. 1 and the second Sunday in April.

Football, baseball and basketball franchises are, he said, proliferated and "marketed around the country like so many hamburger stands."

On that literal level, there has never seemed much real doubt that this particular individual, in such a place at such a time, pumped bullets into a group of helpless women and children.

Realistically, the question is how far should we go in a free society in trying to stop people from doing things that are bad for them.

Connecticut Yankee: After nearly three months in office, Governor Thomas Meserve is scheduled to be on vacation this week.

As the whole state knows by this time, he is not a man who wears all his feelings on his sleeve.

One kind of guess seems fairly safe. The job has quickly revealed itself in all its horrible proportions, enslavements, difficulties, and humiliations.

WASHINGTON—The central, unpublicized fact about the Laos operation is that it marks the final commitment of U. S. troops, either on the ground or in the air, in support of a major military operation against Communist sanctuaries or supply lines outside South Vietnam.

Pro Basketball War Heated Up As NBA Begins College Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — The pro basketball war within one league and another between two of them heated up Monday as National Basketball Association teams finally found out for whom they are fighting.

The battle within the NBA for the first pick in the draft was between the Boston Celtics and the Los Angeles Lakers. The Celtics' first pick in the draft was between the Boston Celtics and the Los Angeles Lakers. The Celtics' first pick in the draft was between the Boston Celtics and the Los Angeles Lakers.

Haywood, who signed with the Denver of the rival American Basketball Association, two years ago and will be Cleveland's first pick had been to Cleveland, and Villanova's Howard Porter, who was drafted by the Boston Celtics, was also a contender.

The NBA warned earlier about the little guy who has inherited the starting shortstop position with the Boston Red Sox. Luis Aparicio, who was drafted by the Boston Red Sox, was also a contender.

Little Looie Landed in Many Circles

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. — "He's the greatest shortstop that I've ever seen," Ted Williams said about the little guy who has inherited the starting shortstop position with the Boston Red Sox. Luis Aparicio, who was drafted by the Boston Red Sox, was also a contender.

Medicaid
Study Spurs
State Fight

HARTFORD (AP)—State
Health Commissioner Henry C.
White says Connecticut will fight to the Supreme Court if necessary.

The finding was announced
Tuesday in a statement that said
Connecticut violates federal welfare regulations in five cases and is liable for a loss of up to $103 million in retrofitted aid.

White dismissed as remote the likelihood of a fund loss so large, however.

While said action is now being taken or will be taken soon in the state legislature to bring the state into compliance with the four other rules — but he said Connecticut will stick by its current Medicaid policy.

State officials say the medicoid policy is an outgrowth of state laws designed to insure that the state pays the lowest possible cost for services.

The examiner, Edward K.
Adelstein, found that the celling which Connecticut sets on hospital costs has the effect of barring some needy poor persons from Medicaid. While said the federal government wants Connecticut to pay the actual cost of hospital services for the poor.

Five Bodies Found After Boston Fire

BOSTON (AP) — The bodies of five persons today badly burned to be identified immediately were removed this morning from the ruined upper floors of a sprawling apartment building that was swept by a general alarm fire.

Fire officials said earlier seven persons had been killed, but the number was reduced after they learned some victims had been counted twice. The official count dropped to four, but a fifth victim was discovered later.

Meanwhile the search continued for possible additional victims who might still be in the ruined structure, officials said.
