Tobacco Firms See Crime Boom In Wake of Tax

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Connecticut state legislature adopts Gov. Thomas J. Meskall's proposed 24-cent-a-pack tax on cigarettes, Connecticut will have the highest tobacco tax in the country and might attract organized crime activity, the U.S. Justice Dept. says in its March 18 report.

"Where his proposals to become law, nearly all of the nation's illegal cigarette smuggling activity, now dominated by organized crime, would probably shift immediately to Connecticut because of the vast profit potential there in relation to other states," the Justice Dept. says in its report.

The Justice Dept. says that Meskall has proposed a four-cent-a-pack hike in the tobacco tax and would bring cigarette sales tax to seven percent of the total sale price, bringing the total state tax on cigarettes to 24 cents a pack.

The Justice Dept. says that organized crime has been active in Connecticut since the late 1940s, and that the state's tobacco industry is one of the most profitable in the country.

SEEK EXTRA CHANCE RATHER THAN GUESS

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

How good are you at vibrations? Can you look an opponent in the eye and tell from the vibrations that a finesse is going to work? If you have a built-in Geiger counter, you don't have to read about today's hand. But if you sometimes go wrong in these eye-to-eye situations, you may profit from Sheinwold's mistake.

North dealer.

Opening lead — 8♣ of Hearts. East took the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned a heart. South took the spades discarding a club from his hand, and led a diamond from dummy to the queen in his hand.

West won with the ace of diamonds and returned the six of diamonds without a bid.

South looked West over very carefully and then turned to look at East. South had been flawless at inspecting opponents' hands for a long time, but after the inspection that he had known before. Deciding to rely on the club, he played the king of diamonds and returned a diamond.

What do you say? Answer: Bid three clubs, the slayman. Conventions adding partner to bid a major suit of four or more cards. If partner bids three spades, you should raise to four spades. If he bids anything else, you will bid 3NT.

Billboard Ban

WASHINGTON (AP) — Billboards within 500 feet of federally funded highways will begin disappearing within 30 days, says Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe.

He told a House Appropriations subcommittee Thursday that $8.5 million earmarked for highway transportation this fiscal year will pay for the removal.

The 125-pound animal was being moved through the business area when it escaped from its cage in downtown Wednesday evening. Sheriff's officers, policemen, highway patrolmen and state game officials were summoned.

Shane and Jack Mack received a painful bite on his right thumb during the capture effort. Eventually a veterinarian used a tranquilizer to calm the bear.

Welfare Benefits Guaranteed For Period of Month

HARTFORD (AP) — The Connecticut Welfare Department should guarantee one month's worth of welfare benefits to recipients in the case of nonpayment, a department spokesman said Thursday.

Ira Bernstein, one of the welfare commissioners' four chief assistants, made the comment while testifying before a legislative committee against a bill that would require the state to make a deposit that would be claimed for property damages as well as for failure to pay an extra month's rent.

Bernstein said, "I can't believe you can create 12 different welfare guarantees, and not think of 15 ways to help you community," he says.

Now, after a speaking role in the French Connection case, walk-on role in "Shat," and the part in "Scraping Bottom," McGreggor is on the Fortune Society's staff, and he hopes to pursue his acting career.

But that doesn't mean he's going to stop trying to help people face the problems he's had to deal with. He conducts group counseling sessions for drug users on Long Island, helps out at Fortune Society and accepts numerous speaking engagements.

"An addict is everybody's problem when he needs a fix," McGreggor says. "But once he has his dose he's no problem to society. When I was an addict, all I could think about was my fix, and until I had it, I was like a wild man."

"But now some people are saying 'legalize heroin.' They just want to solve the criminal problem, so the addicts won't have to steal. They're not concerned with what heroin is doing to the minds and bodies of the people using it."

Drunk Tank Visitor

HOT SPRINGS, S.D. (AP) — A black bear was held in the "drunk tank" at the hot Springs jail until being transferred to a state zoo to serve a 10-day sentence.

The 125-pound animal was being moved through the business area when it escaped from its cage in downtown Wednesday evening. Sheriff's officers, policemen, highway patrolmen and state game officials were summoned.

Shane and Jack Mack received a painful bite on his right thumb during the capture effort. Eventually a veterinarian used a tranquilizer to calm the bear.

IRS Promises New Probe Of Kellems Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — There's a new case being built up in the years-old bout between Vivian Kellems and the Internal Revenue Service—though the initial rounds haven't been settled yet.

Miss Kellems, now 78, has been refused to fill out her 1970 income tax will bring about an investigation.

On March 17, Miss Kellems published an advertisement in the form of a two-page open letter in the Washington Post, declaring that she would file a blank signed return for 1970 and would not pay any tax.

"Your return indicates that you are filing a blank signed return for 1970 and are not paying any tax," says a letter to her from Internal Revenue Commissioner Randolph W. Thorne.

Thorne's letter does not constitute a tax return as required by law.

"Your refusal to file a return or pay the tax with respect to your income for 1970 will require investigation by the Internal Revenue Service," Thorne released the contents of the letter here Thursday.

How They Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Five Connecticut congressmen voted with the majority Thursday when the House passed, on a 298-96 vote, a two-year extension of the Selective Service Act.

They are: William Coker, Democrat; Bill Grasso, Democrat; John Monagan, Democrat; Stuart McKinney, Republican; and Robert Steele, Republican.

Rep. Robert Chalmers, a Democrat, was not recorded as voting.

Now, after a speaking role in the French Connection case, walk-on role in "Shat," and the part in "Scraping Bottom," McGreggor is on the Fortune Society's staff, and he hopes to pursue his acting career.

But that doesn't mean he's going to stop trying to help people face the problems he's had to deal with. He conducts group counseling sessions for drug users on Long Island, helps out at Fortune Society and accepts numerous speaking engagements.

"An addict is everybody's problem when he needs a fix," McGreggor says. "But once he has his dose he's no problem to society. When I was an addict, all I could think about was my fix, and until I had it, I was like a wild man."

"But now some people are saying 'legalize heroin.' They just want to solve the criminal problem, so the addicts won't have to steal. They're not concerned with what heroin is doing to the minds and bodies of the people using it."

Welfare Benefits Guaranteed For Period of Month

HARTFORD (AP) — The Connecticut Welfare Department should guarantee one month's worth of welfare benefits to recipients in the case of nonpayment, a department spokesman said Thursday.

Ira Bernstein, one of the welfare commissioners' four chief assistants, made the comment while testifying before a legislative committee against a bill that would require the state to make a deposit that would be claimed for property damages as well as for failure to pay an extra month's rent.

Bernstein said, "I can't believe you can create 12 different welfare guarantees, and not think of 15 ways to help you community," he says.

Jobless Rate Rose In March

Employment has stayed virtually level since last May; it is 100,000 below the record high of March a year ago.

Demographic Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien commented in a statement:

"The latest unemployment figures are but one indicator of the results of the President's misbegotten, dehumanized approach to the economy. But what we can expect of a President who fired the opening shot in the legislative process of the executive who has now reduced the number of jobs for thousands who are unemployed is not encouraging."

The increase in unemployment is the highest since the 20-year-old age bracket, which is now 20 percent above the level of a year ago.

Mr. O'Brien compared with 5.8 per cent in February, and 6.2 per cent in December.

Last month's decline was described by Secretary of Labor J. Edgar Hoover as "indeed heartening" sign of improvement.

Mr. O'Brien said that the "immediate employment for non-dread of thousands who are unemployed is not encouraging."

Second Congressional District Steele Plans Trip To Probe International Drug Traffic

By ANNA FRISHA (Herald Correspondent)

Second District Congressman Robert Steele today revealed plans for a 24-day international investigation into the drug problem in the United States.

Steele said he will be accompanied by a press conference in Middletown.

Declaring that immediate control of the burgeoning world-wide traffic in heroin must be a top priority of United States foreign policy, Steele said that he will leave tomorrow on a nine-nation fact-finding trip "designed to further international cooperation and to bring these people that are suffering from the effects of the drug traffic to the attention of the United States government."

Steele said that the effects of the drug traffic are "very drastic" and that he is "very anxious" to halt the import of heroin.

Upon his return, Steele will file a written report with the Foreign Affairs House committee and make available to Congress all the information gathered and any results realized.

He said he intends upon his return to bring before the House a bill to amend the Drug Abuse Control Act of 1964, which would increase the penalties for the importation of heroin.

Steele said that the effects of the drug traffic are "very drastic" and that he is "very anxious" to halt the import of heroin.

Police Trace Drug Sale To Boy, 15

Hebron Resident State Trooper John Soderberg took into custody a 15-year-old boy this morning at Rham High School on charges of sale of controlled drugs and possession of controlled drugs.

The juvenile authorities at Willimantic were contacted and the boy was taken into custody of his mother pending a hearing on the matter.

As a result of the investigation, which was conducted with the cooperation of the juvenile authorities, several students have been suspended, according to Soderberg.

John M. Griffith of East Hartford said he saw no need for lines on the northwest bank of the Hoquonock near the site of the former Case Bros. paper mill dam at Manchester, East Hartford line. He stated that there have never been floods in that area because of the steepness of the bank.

A Ronald Blake, town technical planning assistant, read into the record letters from Town Manager Robert Weiss and Town Engineer Eric Potter, commending the SWRC for its study of the SWRC.

After study of yesterday's and today's testimony and requests, Police held the SWRC in abeyance for a few days. It will have three choices: 1. To accept the proposed lines; 2. To amend the proposed lines; 3. To abandon them and establish new lines. When the SWRC has decided, it will be notified.

that if the defer or exempt one man he's got to get the other man who may end up in Vietnam. Last year 180,000 men were drafted for induction through May of this year.

Radio station WVIC in Ocella, Ga., said that during a four-hour program on the draft, it received many calls from parents and other concerned adults of the three towns of Hebron, Andover and Marlborough.

The Michigan Senate passed by voice vote a resolution urging President Nixon to grant clemency in the event the sentence is not reversed on appeal. The Arkansas House and Senate took similar action.

In New Jersey the state Senate approved by voice vote a resolution asking Nixon to expedite the judicial review of Calley's conviction.

Individual citizens took various actions.

Don Walz, a Birmingham, Ala., businessman, said he had in Memphis, Tenn. that he had wired Nixon offering to serve.

Steele said that the effects of the drug traffic are "very drastic" and that he is "very anxious" to halt the import of heroin.

It's That Time of the Year For Picking Summer Camp

By JOHN J. GOLDMAN
The Los Angeles Times

NEW YORK — They sat at noon in a darkened room, a block from the Hill Hudson River.

The little girl wore purple and swung her two-toned saddle shoes a bit idly. Her 13-year-old brother in dungarees and gray sweatshirt stared intently at a small screen set up near the piano. A slide projector clicked away.

Leopards with mountains. Click. Baseball game with red-shirted catcher. Click. Waterfront with paddleboard. Click. Two girls playing the piano. "We have 18 pianos," said a woman's voice in the darkness.

A cabin with freshly made bunk beds came into focus. Click. Children dancing. One dressed as a turtle. "This is something the youngsters created in creative dramatics," the voice continued.

Click. Basketball games. This another building. One story. "The middle part is the rocky hill and the astronomy work shop," the voice said.

In thousands of living rooms, similar screenings are taking place these days. It's an American ritual: Choosing the ideal summer camp.

Once, camp directors came with scrapbooks and postcards. Now, slide projects seem to be de rigueur. And there are other changes.

Camp no longer confines you only memories of blue sky, green grass and mashed potatoes for dinner. The menu has been broadened in all respects.

This year parents are faced with an array of exotic choices. Youngsters can dive for buried treasure in the Bahamas, learn to pilot planes in Maine, become bat twirlers in Indiana, be turned into judo experts in North Carolina and Colorado. Ballet and ranch camps abound. So do those which guarantee to train the over-achiever (one's brochure brags, "last summer's weight loss averaged 31 pounds").

Famous athletes compete for parents' attention. There's a Ted Williams baseball camp. Harry Hoymann, a basketball clinic.

Joe Orson and Tucker Fredericks are in the football camp business. Ron Ellis and Paul Henderson of the Toronto Maple Leafs operate a hockey camp.

The reason for all the attention is simple. What started out as eight weeks in the country in tents at the turn of the century has become big business. More than 3,000 private camps are scattered across the United States; about one million youngsters attend at prices ranging from $50 to $1,200. Estimates of the industry's income run as high as $400 million a year.

It's hard to find a sport that's not taught, exclusively at summer camps these days. At the Harry Hopman tennis camp, the coach of the Australian Davis Cup team for 21 years puts youngsters through rigorous conditioning exercises plus court tactics five hours a day. Instant TV replay is used to improve strokes. There's even an adult version.

For the fat nonathlete, weight loss camps flourish — often with dramatic results. The regimen generally includes strict dieting and a rigorous schedule of sports and exercises.

Lloyd O. Appleton, head of Camp Tahoe in New York State, is associate director of physical education at West Point; and he borrows techniques used to toughen the cadets.

The aims of camp remain the same: Build confidence, awareness of nature, adventure, responsibility, a sense of community and individual identity.

Other things don't change — like the campfires at night, the adventure of being outdoors, the friends made, swimming lessons, postcard home.

"Dear Mom, This is the worst fun I ever had," wrote one youngster last summer.

That's the spirit. The 20th century crafts, assembled by Lee Nordness, whose gallery has hosted many craft exhibits, and Paul Smith of the Museum of Contemporary Crafts, the exhibit opened at the Smithsonian Museum in Washington, D.C. and will travel to museums and colleges across the country.

But, as is sometimes the case, the problem really isn't the failure of technology. It appears so much as it is the failure to contain and direct technology toward human goals.

The problem of urban erosion, mosaic and metal — are represented. And there is something for everyone. There's humor, wit, sophistication, whimsy; there are examples of traditional, funk, camp, avant garde objects, all of which show a high quality of skill.

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Molasses got a little sticky when a molasses tank truck overturned about 10 miles west of Garden City on U.S. 80.

Highway patrol troopers said they were thankful that most of the molasses ran into a ditch rather than onto the highway.

The driver, Max D. Cochran, 33, suffered only minor injuries. He said he lost control of the truck when a tire blew out.

Rowan Adrift

MARINA DEL REY, Calif. (AP) — Comedian Dan Rowan has left Beautiful Downtown Burbank to search for "reality."

Rowan, star of television's "Laugh In," and two friends boarded his 27-foot sailboat Thursday for a voyage to "reality."

"I have to go," the television funnyman told newsmen. "It's been too long since I dealt with reality and I want to see if I know how."

This year, the slide projector is clicking overtime. Camp owners not only are competing against each other but against an ever-growing array of other pleasurable pursuits — cheap tourist fairs and cruise ships.

"The spectrum of summer activities has broadened in the last 20 years," says Ed Andrews, assistant director of the American Camping Association, an owner's group. "Families go to Europe, the Caribbean. Also to local camps, but some are more clubs. Little Leagues. There's a fantastic amount of activity for kids."

"Everyone is working harder because of the economic situation," he adds. "Most are selling their homes."

Over the years, summer camps have grown so numerous that organizations have sprung up just to help parents make the right decision. One such group is the Camp Advisory Service on the 11th floor of a Fifth Avenue office building in Manhattan. It offers free consultations to puzzled parents.

Interviews determine whether a child is intellectually oriented, what his hobbies and interests are. Then a match is made.

Parents sending children away for the first time generally pick camps with broad-based activities that offer several summer, restlessness can set in. Thus, the emergence of specialty camps which cater to teen-agers who have been regular campers for several seasons.

At least three unusual camps offer a summer of skin diving and treasure hunting in the Bahamas. For $1,125 plus air fare, youngsters can spend five weeks as members of the Under Sea Academy exploring the Spanish Galleon San Jose. At Bahama's Sailfoot Camp, not only are scuba diving, snorkeling, marine biology and spearfishing taught. Owner Walter Bush has organized a junior peace corps. Campers travel to a local village, work on projects with the townspeople.

Summer camp without operation of a foot canoeing party search vessel plus a two-man submarine for underwater exploration.

The reason for all the attention is simple. What started out as eight weeks in the country in tents at the turn of the century has become big business. ### Stock Broker Sees Trend Turning on Technology

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — "We're looking at technology companies out of our portfolio," said the young stock broker, claiming that in so doing he was merely recognizing a developing trend.

"This country is fed up with technology," he said. "Look where it got us." He said, and he rattled off a long list of problems familiar now to almost everyone: Pollution and malfunctioning machines and an obsession with material acquisitions.

"The reaction has set in," he said. "As he saw it, the rejection of further federal funds for development of the superionic transport plane supplied continuity of vision of the direction the nation was taking.

But, as is sometimes the case, the problem really isn't the failure of technology. It appears so much as it is the failure to contain and direct technology toward human goals.

Crafts Alive and Well

By AP Newsmasters
It may be the machine age, and the dawning of total technology, but some experts from the computer science are resisting in an intensely creative way.

These people are making their own hand, a kind of kind, boxed, wall hangings, neckties, a chest of drawers, urns, boxes, drinking glasses, chairs and vases. Some are functional, others are for esthetics, but each is a personal statement.

Set Stage for War

The stage for the Spanish-American War was set in 1896 when a blast in Havana Harbor destroyed the battleship Maine, which burst into flame and sank in the harbor of some 350 men aboard, 300 died. The exact cause of the explosion was never known.

Public Hearing — Town Budget — April 5th — 8:00 P.M. — Waddell School

Common sense has become just a memory from the past. Inflation has been used as an excuse, but inflation is caused by the foolish spending of governments. They cause the problem and then use it as an excuse to continue it. If you are satisfied with the services you get from your local government then you can continue paying with no complaints. But if you are dissatisfied and feel that money could be saved in some places and spent more wisely in others, then you must speak out at the Budget Hearing to be held April 5th at Waddell School at 8:00 p.m. This is your only opportunity to be heard. You have no right to complain after the taxes are set if you haven't complained before. All the people who want more money spent will be in force, the only way you can have your voice heard will be to speak out also. The silent majority cannot afford to be silent or they will pay the price. Your silence will be considered as approval. This is your town, it is your tax money that runs it. You have the right to say how it will be spent.

The Manchester Property Owners Association's purpose is to work for the best government at the least cost. They will speak out for this purpose at the Budget Hearing, but in unity there is strength, an old saying but still true. "Stand up and make us strong."

Dry Grass Poses Peril For Firemen

April is the grass fire month, because the grass is dry, dead, and before it starts to freshen and green, it will ignite with the slightest spark.

A good demonstration of this was a six-acre grass fire about 4 p.m. yesterday afternoon, at 77 Lydell St., which the Town and Eighth District firemen put out together.

Fire officials remind Manchester residents that open burning is forbidden, and that extreme care should be taken at this time of year.

The Eighth District had four fires almost simultaneously about 1 p.m. They were at 401 Tolland Tpk., at Deming St. and Tolland Tpk., near exit 94 of the Wilbur Cross Highway, and at 260 Tolland Tpk.

Three pumps were kept busy with the fires. Firemen from Tolland Tpk. with dense smoke at times. Police are investigating suspicious nature of them.

The Eighth District firemen also put out a grass fire at 90 Union St. yesterday afternoon, and a leaf and brush fire yesterday evening at 121 Croft Dr.

The Town Firemen put out a grass blaze at 11 Spring St. about 5:45 p.m.

Suez Proposal Termed Absurd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
On 17 Israeli Premier Golda Meir's closest associates declared Sunday Israel's new proposal for reopening the Suez Canal was absurd and indicated that Israel would reject it.

Information Minister Israel Gali made the statement in a radio interview hours after Deputy Premier Yigal Allon gave more favorable response to Sadat's proposal.

Gali gave the following interpretation of the Egyptian proposal: "The Israeli should agree to the opening of the canal and in return for this acquiescence, the Egyptian would be so kind as to move an Egyptian army across to the east bank, and perhaps a Soviet army with it, that the Egyptian resumes closed-door talks in an effort to head off a strike by 7,000 engineers set for noon Monday."

Gali said the Egyptians explicitly stated that this will be a step toward total withdrawal and this "is absurd from the point of view of possible Israeli security."

The Jerusalem government has said it is willing to withdraw from the canal banks if there is peace, but not back to the old borders which it considers insecure.

Allon said in a speech today that his government should be ready to discuss a partial treaty with Egypt over the Suez Canal.

But, he added, a partial withdrawal must be accompanied by agreement for further negotiations for a lasting, secure peace, and Israeli shipping must have the right to use the canal.

It would go there myself," he told the legislature's Committee on Corrections, Welfare and Human Resources. He said he had not because of the bloodline of his family, but because of marriage with white people the state would be entitled to take over the family's property. He asked for a change of law to reimburse heirs for land taken in such cases.

Under Connecticut law a person is entitled to inherit rights of his or her estate. Chief Justice, a middle-aged man who testified dressed in civilian clothes, urged the committee to approve a bill that would create a seven-member state commission on an Indian affairs representing the state's four reservations to administer the welfare assistance and to review regulations related to Indians.

"The legal system is designed to maximize freedom, to encourage people to plan, to act, to create a seven-member state commission on an Indian affairs representing the state's four reservations to administer the welfare assistance and to review regulations related to Indians.

State Indians Ask New Voice In Own Affairs

By DAN HALL
HARTFORD (AP)—American Indians made an unusual and colorful visit Thursday to the State Capitol to ask for more voice in determining their future in Connecticut.

Chief Irving A. Harris, of the dwindling Schaghticoke Tribe which has a reservation in Kent, said a number of the 500 Connecticut residents of Indian blood would like to return to reservations to live if the law were changed.

"I would go there myself," he told the legislature's Committee on Corrections, Welfare and Human Resources. He said he had not because of the bloodline of his family, but because of marriage with white people the state would be entitled to take over the family's property. He asked for a change of law to reimburse heirs for land taken in such cases.

Under Connecticut law a person is entitled to inherit rights of his or her estate. Chief Justice, a middle-aged man who testified dressed in civilian clothes, urged the committee to approve a bill that would create a seven-member state commission on an Indian affairs representing the state's four reservations to administer the welfare assistance and to review regulations related to Indians.

Tolland County Residents Back Income Tax

By BETTE QUATRALE (Herald Reporter)
speaking engagement in Somers. Describing the hearing as "honest observations" on the part of the individuals who are not as opposed to an income tax as is often imagined.
Tolland's state Rep. Robert King, a Republican, still favors the institution of some type of state income tax, claiming there is not much difference between the piggyback and the graduated state income tax. The administration of a piggyback tax would be easier, he contends.
Also on hand were State Rep. Dorothy Miller of Bolton, Mansfield's State Rep. Audrey Beek and Vernon's State Rep. Thomas Dooley.
Support for Piggyback
Generally those people representing various special interest groups tend to support the 20 per cent piggyback in Windham County as well as come tax proposal advocated from Tolland County. It was by the State Revenue Task Force report.
Individual taxpayers spoke in favor of Rep. George Ritter's bill 6796, calling for a graduated state income tax. Speakers from the State Labor Council and its area chapters also boosted Ritter's bill.
Tolland's First Selectman Charles Thibault and Frank DeTolla, a member of the State Rep. Robert Housley of the Town Council there, were present, arrived half way through the event due to a handing not for the low income student able to obtain scholarships or for his "well-heeled" grocery purchases, was sharply criticized.

"The people are beginning to realize the sales tax increase to seven per cent is far more than merely boosting the present tax from 5 per cent," Housley stated after the hearing.
Several senior citizens painted a bleak picture of their tax situation, including John Cardinal of Ellington, Mrs. Ruth Abbott and former four-term state legislator Stephen Loyalin of Coventry.
All three advocated a graduated state income tax, claiming the state's taxation program forced them to continue to work into retirement age and particularly complained of proposal to add the sales tax to medical insurance premiums, and medical supplies and prescriptions.
Loyalin advocated a graduated state income tax combined with dropping the level of the sales tax. He also called for a thorough "overhauling of the state government, promoting efficiency and economy" and increased aid to the towns.
Student lobbyists opposing the proposed tuition costs at state universities drew a picture of completed their remarks, often he would pay more under the times they returned to their seats, to hear a pitch for Ritter's bill. He is optimistic over the chances for the passage of his graduated income tax bill or some modification of it, during this legislative session.

Judging by the testimony at last night's hearing, the people of Tolland County would favor the income tax, particularly a raise about $900 million in a 15-month period, permitting the elimination of the state sales tax and provide financial reimbursement to the state's towns and cities for 50 per cent of their education, police and fire protection costs.
In addition, Ritter explained following the hearing, the state could assume the full costs of welfare and local public assistance.

Exemptions of $2,000 each for the taxpayer and his first dependent could be claimed, with an additional $1,000 for each of the other dependents included. Generally a taxpayer would have to earn about $22,000 before

Gardening

With

Frank Atwood

Some lady bugs appeared on the inside of a second-floor window at our house. They must have found a hibernating place inside the window casing for the winter and in the warm sun of April they were ready to go to work again. For lady bugs work by finding and devouring aphids, many bugs eat scale insects.

I took them to the basement and showed them a lemon tree in a pot under fluorescent lights that should provide them with a few meals of soft brown scale insects. A few of them are still there, apparently content.

Lady bugs, or lady beetles or ladybirds as they are variously called are recognized as biological control agents. Their favorite food is the soft-bodied, slow-moving aphid which is easy to catch and evidently tasty. Aphids will appear quite soon and it would be nice to have a squadron of ladybugs guarding the roses. My bugs can get outdoors easily enough and I am sure they will go wherever there is food.

Another predatory insect is the praying mantid, or mantis which is many times bigger than a lady bug and has a bigger appetite. Praying mantids are still in the egg stage. They do not hatch until after insects come out in sufficient number to keep them supplied with food. Praying mantids are better after they hatch than when they are in the egg stage. They are small, crumbly, it is said to be "frit-dog" and they are "spring dogs." Praying turns some of the insects of appropriate size.

Mantids, we are told, feed only on moving prey, do not make a distinction between insects that are harmful or beneficial from the gardener's point of view. They are on large front legs to grab any insect that comes near. They are honey bees or another mantid. To spray or not to spray is a gardener who is adverse to using insecticide sprays for any reason will welcome either lady bugs or mantids. A gardener who uses insecticides may kill the benefactors as well as the enemies of his garden.

This illustrates a problem in biological control: the population of another insect. It is too much to expect that the predators will eliminate the harmful insects. If they did, they would wipe out their own food supply and would move on to the garden next door.

Mrs. Madeline McAvoy, director of the Lutz Junior Museum, says children bring in egg cases of the praying mantid and ask what these straw-colored round things are. She explains, and then asks them to take the egg cases back where they found them. If the eggs were allowed to hatch in the museum, somebody would have to raise other insects to serve as food. The small mantids will manage better, if left by the roadside or wherever the mother mantid places the eggs.

One seed company catalogue that came in the mail offered mantid egg cases at a dollar each, containing "hundreds" of eggs. They offered adult lady bugs at $4.98 a pair, and tainting 9,000 beetles, according to the sales pitch. I am not going to invest, but if any gardener who reads this has tried this kind of biological control, we would like to learn about the results.

Easter Lilies Seize
The florists who grow Easter lilies have some nice plants this year, but not as many as they hoped. The crop is short because there was unusually cold weather in Washington and Oregon, where the bulbs are grown, and the plants did not store up as much food as they needed for vigorous growth this spring.

The florists say that many bulbs did not have the strength to push the flower stalk up through the soil in the pot. The suppliers took the loss on bulbs that failed but local growers had to stand the wasted expense of potting the bulbs and caring for them. There will be an increase in the retail price of lilies if you have a pot of Easter lilies or one as a gift, you can not cut it out in the garden next month in a well-drained spot with good sunlight and it should bloom again next year.

With luck, it will bloom for several years. It may even bloom a second time this year, in August. Flowers should be removed when the plant is set outdoors, but not the leaves. They are needed to rebuild the food supply in the bulb.

Early Vegetables
Some of our readers have planted their first peas, I am sure, and later on we would welcome reports of the first peas that are ready to be eaten. The earlier the better in the rule with peas, if the soil is ready. How early you can plant depends on the location of your garden and the type of soil you have.

There is no use planting any-

Women's Revolt Writer Sees Only Little Change

By VIRGINIA SHEWARD (C) 1971, Newday

NEW YORK — Oliver Jensen is a man endowed with a superabundance of true grit. He freely admits to having authored "The Revolt of American Women," two decades ago and, more important, to approving a newly released paperback edition (Harcourt Brace Jovanovich) because "it is contemporary."

And from the security of the tiny ivory tower allotted him as editor of American Heritage magazine, the tall, young-but-tough Jensen also admits to holding the most heretical belief of all. For even after all the seasons and furies and vicissitudes attendant upon the women's lib movement, Jensen has the temerity to state bluntly and positively that there has been little change in the movement since his book was originally published.

excited attention of television

"There's a lot of attention being paid to the ladies these days," he said. "The exhibitionist attitude of television, but in spite of all that, and the ministrant and Betty Friedan and Kate Millet and the sexual revolution of the '70s, it seems to me that it is not as much change as it is a matter of degree, of note, of publicity."

Jensen pointed out that 125 years ago feminist Mary Wollstonecraft called for a simple rule, taught to beginning gardeners in the 4th Grade, for as good as come out in sufficient number to keep them supplied with food. Praying mantids are better after they hatch than when they are in the egg stage. They are small, crumbly, it is said to be "frit-dog" and they are "spring dogs." Praying turns some of the insects of appropriate size.

Looks are another plant of the onion family, but they are grown from seed. They should be started right away in the house and the tiny plants set out in May. They need a long season and will be ready to use in late fall.

Shade does not benefit from heavy fertilization which tends to produce green tops and small bulbs. Look for onion harvest in late fall. The lower part of the stalk is the part that is eaten. My garden book says nothing about keeping leeks through the winter to harvest in the spring, but we find that ours can be dug out and used as soon as the frost is gone. Perhaps they

Abortion Bill Cleared For House Vote

HARTFORD (AP)—The controversial issue of abortion law would be debated in the State House of Representatives again this year.

The Public Health and Safety Committee endorsed the debate by giving an unfavorable report Thursday to a measure sponsored by Rep. Jean Thornton, R-Glastonbury, the General Assembly's leading advocate of abortion reform.

The committee could have killed the bill and all similar measures, but it was reportedly urged by legislative leaders to get the matter out for debate without Mrs. Thornton's resignation. She had to be asked to petition it out, as she has had to do in previous sessions.

history of liberation of womankind

In tracing the history of the "liberation" of womankind from her mid-victorian pedestal to office to kitchen to the current "sexual revolution," one message in Jensen's book comes through: "Patterns of human emotion have not altered at all; happiness, like sorrow, is a fairly steady commodity; men and women are not fundamentally different; equal legal rights, equal civil rights duly enacted, equal education and 45 years, have produced the millennium which the feminists had expected to reach by the victory of 1969, receiving the vote."

Hebron School Board's Request Tops Budget by $56,708

The Board of Education last night conducted in Hebron with a proposed budget of $1,000,253 for the 1971-72 fiscal year. This represents an increase of $56,708 over last year's budget.

Among items highlighted by Board of Education chairman Marvin A. Ross as "major items" are: a large increase of $12,387 in salaries, principals, salaries, textbooks, teaching supplies, educational materials, and other classes, basic bus contract, insurance, and contracted services for garbage disposal.

These eight items alone account for almost $48,000 of the total increase. In discussing the proposed increase in teacher salaries from $29,018 last year to $32,000 this year, or a $14,882 increase, Ross said this was our best estimate as teacher negotiations have not been completed.

Vernon 'Rid Litter' Campaign Is Planned

Sale To Benefit Girl Scout Camp

The mothers and families of Girl Scouts in the Central Service Unit of Manchester will sponsor a Trash and Treasure Sale to benefit Camp Merrie-Wood on Gardner St.

The camp serves about 750 girls each year for summer camp and troop camps. The money earned will be spent for new canvas slides for the permanent shelters at the camp, which were vandalized during the winter.

The families working on this sale represent 20 troops and 400 scouts from the Central Service Unit. The sale will be held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Martin, 1000 Main St., Manchester, on Saturday, April 10, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Girls' Track Team Gets Coach

Interest in track for the supposedly "weaker" sex is expanding at MHS. Because of this growing interest, it has become necessary to hire a woman track coach. The woman coach was designed so the girls would be near to female advisors. I.e. the nurse, in case of the business department.

Spanish Classes Visit Met

Two of Mrs. Maria Eysaquirre's Spanish classes "hit the road" on March 24, destined for "The Big Apple"—known to the uninitiated as New York City. The pilgrimage started off in front of the high school when the students, comprised of members of the G period Level I and Level II, and D period honors class, boarded their chartered bus.

Sock and Buskin Hears Playwright Discuss Craft

Sock and Buskin Drama Society heard some professional tips at its last meeting from playwright Joe Manchester. He said that ideas for plays must always be open and susceptible to them. He believes that a writer's first draft is usually the best.

Math Team Tops Rivals In League

The Manchester High School math team continued its winning ways with an impressive showing at the meet held at Plainville High School on March 24. The team's 47 points was the highest score registered in the three-year history of the Capitol Area Math League.

Guidance Notes

College representatives visiting MHS during next week will be: Monday—Dr. Shapiro of Eastern Connecticut State College, who will talk to interested students about summer programs at ECSC. He will speak second period at 9:15.

Peace Calendar

The following is the calendar of events for the Manchester Peace Action Committee members and any other interested persons:

March 21, a public hearing was held in Hartford concerning House Bill 3668. This bill will make it illegal for a Connecticut resident to be forced to serve in an undeclared war. A similar bill has already been passed by the State of Massachusetts. This was one of the first events.

April 1, a panel discussion on the relationship between racism and the Vietnam War was held. It was also a commemoration of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King.

April 24, as well as serving to commemorate Dr. King's death, the Vietnam Veterans Against the War will hold a march to Danbury Federal Prison in support of the Bertinotti brothers and other political prisoners.

Youths Like Special Sort Of Gunport

By JIM FARRELL, Associated Press Writer
NEW HAVEN (AP)—The sharp crack of the 22s, counterpointed by the pneumatic thump of the air rifles, were just a few of the sounds of a couple of days ago at the Winchester ranges in New Haven.

Intermitted was the chatter of hundreds of teen-agers and adults who had flocked there for the "perfect way to keep occupied, with guns."

It was a special sort of gunport, a demanding one having little to do with the fine old American pastime of beer-can plinking and nothing at all in common with the viler uses of firearms.

And when the shooting was all over, the happiest faces in the place were on the kids taking home the medals from the large indoor, mall-type rifle matches in the country.

One of them was Ed Eitel, an 18-year-old University of New Haven student who reigned as high individual junior shooter in the matches and No. 2 overall. His skill is in the telling—simple. He just holds some 17 pounds of wood and steel still enough and precisely enough so that 40 grains of lead will hit the middle of a one-inch black spot 50 feet away.

Eitel says he began shooting 11 years ago and has a very simple aim in the telling—accuracy. "I want to be the best small-bore shooter in the country."

He is already 10th best according to National Rifle Association records, and talks of getting himself into a Olympic tryout.

Why bother, a newsmen here asked. "You measure the cost of a target shooting outfit in hundreds of dollars, the practice time in hundreds of hours and the tangible results in perforated pieces of paper."

There are several general changes which I am able to recognize. Education should not be made a hateful thing. It will be more able to be satisfied with their lives, and to enjoy their lives. This will occur only in a school (and society) in which more prestige is not granted to the mathematician and the farmer.

Report on U.S. Drug Traffic Given to Religious Leaders

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — In the last year, arrests for drug smuggling rose 88 per cent. Seizures of marijuana tripled. They multiplied 15 times in the case of cocaine, more than doubled for hashish. Local arrests of dope pushers and users soared across the United States. This is part of the picture of rising drug traffic outlined by government officials last week before an extraordinary White House gathering of top-level leaders of the nation's religious bodies.

"At most, we have 10 years to prevent a social catastrophe, if it is not too late already," said John Ingersoll, director of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, which has been leading agents ferreting out suppliers. Myles J. Amrose, Bureau of Customs commissioner, said the drug "cancer in our society" has spread with "frightening speed and intensity" among the young, in colleges, in business and the military.

"We have epidemic on our hands that can produce an American disaster," he said. "We've lost more Americans to heroin than there are victims of the war."

The gathering involved a day-long presentation of facts, figures, drama and films, depicting the scope of drug abuse, expanding efforts of the government to combat it and appeals to the church leaders for help. President Nixon, saying the "heart of the problem" lay in the human spirit and motivation, told the churchmen, "If there is an answer, you have it."

It was the first time the Nixon administration had met with the country's religious leadership, including top officials both of mainline and smaller denominations, Christian and Jewish.

Rev. Dr. W. A. Criswell, of Dallas, former president of the Southern Baptist Convention, said he had never realized that the "immense proportions" and "depth and breadth" of the Christian Church (Disciples).

men also had made clear that only a spiritual answer can ever hope to solve the problem."

Egil Krogh Jr., the president's deputy assistant for domestic affairs, said concern shown by the religious leaders indicated the value of another possible similar gathering in two months, with fuller chance for renewal in our culture and increasing drug abuse and its ravages.

"We've come to a crisis and doubled for hashish. Local arrests of dope pushers and users soared across the United States. This is part of the picture of rising drug traffic outlined by government officials last week before an extraordinary White House gathering of top-level leaders of the nation's religious bodies."

Foxy Foe

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Frank Mihelich, victimized by a crafty four-legged animal while playing golf the other day, is glad he had a witness.

He said he and Sid Smith were walking toward the green on No. 8 fairway after Midoloh left his ball in front of the green.

But a fox trotted out of the brush, stopped and sniffed the ball and then zipped off with it in its teeth.

Kelley Playing Waiting Game in Braves' Camp

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The former major league pitcher who also starred in American Legion play and made it to the major leagues with Cleveland is getting a second shot at the big show.

If performance in the Grapefruit League means anything, Kelley will be wearing No. 47 when the Braves open the 1971 season Monday in Cincinnati against the defending champion Reds.

Kelley has appeared in five games, all in brief relief stints, has worked 22 innings, allowed 14 hits, 10 runs—six which were earned—walked eight, struck out four batters and gave up two home runs. His winning record is unimpressive, 0-2.

"Kelley is an open pitcher," says manager Tom Kelly. "I don't know if he's a pitcher or a batter. I don't know if he's a pitcher or a batter. I don't know if he's a pitcher or a batter."

Feels Great "I feel just great," Kelley said. "I feel just great. I feel just great. I feel just great. I feel just great. I feel just great."

Arm Miseries Gone "Does Kelley's arm or shoulder ache anymore?" asked Tom Kelly. "I haven't taken a shot since 1967."

Hour of Decision "The hour of decision is drawing near," Kelley said. "The hour of decision is drawing near. The hour of decision is drawing near."

N. Power Rests Along Ohio River Between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati

NEW YORK (AP)—Pennant potential once again spreads from coast to coast in the National League this spring, but this time it's in the Ohio River between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

The Reds and Pirates, loaded with long-ball punch, are this season's pick to break out of an October rematch of the 1970 pennant playoffs. Cincinnati, a runaway winner in the West last year, scored a home run, 45, and run batted in, 148, in the returning regular season.

Major League Teams Continue to Pare Rosters Ernie Banks Will Be Missing From Cubs First Day Lineup

NEW YORK (AP)—Ernie Banks will be missing from the Chicago Cubs' first day lineup as he pitched the San Francisco Giants and double by Felipe Alou.

Pinch-hitter Gene Lamont double in the ninth inning, capping a 10-4 victory over Boston.

Arm Miseries Gone "Does Kelley's arm or shoulder ache anymore?" asked Tom Kelly. "I haven't taken a shot since 1967."

Hour of Decision "The hour of decision is drawing near," Kelley said. "The hour of decision is drawing near. The hour of decision is drawing near."

Rec Swimmers Score in Meet Manchester Rec swim team members scored last week in the Class B AAU Meet at West Hartford.

RESULTS: Boys 19 and under—Ricky Funke, third, 100-yard freestyle; Roger Hancock, first, 100-yard freestyle; Mike Wasyk, fifth, 100-yard freestyle.

Legion Baseball Meeting Monday American Legion baseball coach, Wally Fortin, has announced that there will be an important meeting for all boys interested in playing ball this season on Monday night.

Trinity Captain Hartford, Conn. (AP)—Dick Thomson of Baginva, Mich., has been elected captain of the Trinity College baseball team.

The DRY Side of Sports Knicks Stage Usual Late Rally to Triumph

NEW YORK (AP)—"At the start of the last quarter it looked bad for the home team," Walt Frazier said again. He was beginning to sound like a broken record.

"I finally had the opportunity to put this season into a perspective," said Frazier. "I'm extremely proud of the accomplishments of this club."

Speaking of his floor general, Frazier said: "I think he's the greatest player I've ever seen. He's got an outstanding attitude, leadership, ball handling, and a great sense of humor."

Team Analysis "Continuing his analysis of the club, the coach stated, 'Quah Jim Balesano was an honorable mention on the All-Star team.'"

Bantam Fighters To Renew Feud For Title Tonight LOS ANGELES (AP)—World heavyweight champion Chuck Weppler and Ruben Olivares are scheduled to renew their bitter feud in a 15-round title fight.

Carl Lacey Rifle King In Swanson Matches Sunday afternoon climaxed a busy weekend for the Manchester Rifle Club as the final rounds were fired in the ninth annual David Swanson Memorial Match.

Carl Kleinsteuer Dicks Cote "Carl Kleinsteuer and Dick Cote were the top scorers in the 10-pin town tournament registration dates extended."

10-Pin Town Tournament Registration Dates Extended Qualifying times have been extended in the 10th annual game across eight alleys with the top seven scorers advancing to the final round.

Home Advantages For Top ABA Clubs

NEW YORK (AP)—The four winningest teams in the American Basketball Association get a little more from the top spots in their divisions. They also get "home-court advantage" for the first two games of the division semifinals.

Issel Wins ABA Season Point Title NEW YORK (AP)—Super rookie Dan Issel of the Denver Nuggets, the league's largest home-court advantage, won the ABA season point title.

Player Far Behind After First Round GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP)—Lee Trevino held an eight stroke lead over Gary Player going into today's second round in the $100,000 Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament.

Ellis Basket Prevents Clean Sweep by Bucks NEW YORK (AP)—A delphia shot guard Baltimore 104-Los Angeles, dribbled the Bucks into a 106-100 victory for a Sunday 106-100 win in the National Basketball Association play-off.

Lucky Long Shot Saves Club NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Bucks from making a four-game sweep of the San Francisco Warriors in the National Basketball Association play-off.

Ski Notes "The Mt. Washington Valley Ski area in New Hampshire is the best in the state," says a local ski expert.
