

U.S. Urged to End Import Surcharge

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pierre-Paul Schweitzer, managing director of the International Monetary Fund, put pressure today on the United States for quick removal of its 10 per cent import surcharge.

Schweitzer also called on the major industrialized countries to get a new set of values for their currencies to help resolve the international monetary deadlock.

In his prepared opening address to the opening session of the annual IMF meeting, Schweitzer also urged all nations concerned to contribute to currency realignment.

The United States has been resisting devaluation of the dollar in terms of gold, action which many countries believe should be the United States' contribution to settling the impasse.

"The surcharge can be justified as a means of improving the U.S. balance of payments only until it is possible to supplant it by effective action in the exchange rate field," Schweitzer said. "Let me stress the importance of moving to an agreed solution on these two issues without delay."

The major 10 industrialized non-Communist nations agreed Sunday on a plan to resolve the international crisis by the end of the year, with meetings scheduled in mid-October and late November focusing first on currency realignment and removal of the surcharge.

Karl Schiller, West Germany's minister of finance and economic affairs, urged longer-term aims: Reforms to create a new international reserve sys-

Prisoners Protest In Bay State

NORFOLK, Mass. (AP)—Nearly half the inmates of the Massachusetts correctional facility here staged a peaceful protest today, presenting officials with 20 demands.

About 50 inmates carrying signs bearing slogans started the prison yard protest this morning, and the group swelled to over 300.

There were no incidents, and newsmen were allowed to roam freely among the prisoners as the list of demands were boomed from a loudspeaker by Richard Lester, an inmate-spokesman.

The demands included better visiting facilities, better diet, better medical treatment, increases in the education budget and amnesty for all associated with the demonstration.

Leaders Hold Meeting On Irish Battling

By COLIN FROST
LONDON (AP)—Three prime ministers met today in a crucial summit session aimed at dragging Ireland from the jaws of civil war.

Britain's Prime Minister Edward Heath was host in the calm of the English countryside to Northern Ireland's Brian Faulkner and the Irish republic's Jack Lynch.

Even as they met at Chequers, Heath's country residence, the turmoil ground on in embattled Northern Ireland.

A major riot erupted in Belfast's New Lodge Road as British troops swooped in a search for suspected guerrillas of the outlawed Irish Republican Army.

A hail of gasoline bombs met a bulldozer sent in to tear down barricades. Men of the Duke of Wellington's Regiment opened fire and reported one rioter was shot.

Nine men were arrested in the Belfast swoop. Ten others were taken in a dawn raid at Bellaghy, a village 30 miles northwest of Belfast.

The three prime ministers met at noon. Earlier, Lynch had a private 90-minute session with Heath.

Faulkner had a similar session with Heath Sunday night. Informal sources said Faulkner impressed on Heath the need, as he sees it, for firmer action by Lynch to control manufacture and distribution of explosives in the Irish republic.

Nixon, Japanese Emperor Meet in Historic Session

By FRANK CORMIER

President Nixon and Emperor Hirohito sit down for private talk in Anchorage, Alaska. (AP Photo)

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—President Nixon and Japan's 70-year-old Emperor Hirohito stood stiffly at attention as red-jacketed U.S. Marines heirs to men who fought Japan on dozens of Pacific battlefields in World War II, passed in review.

Nixon and the Emperor—the first reigning Japanese monarch ever to leave his homeland—met for more than an hour on American soil late Sunday night. For those present, it clearly was a moving and historic moment, symbolizing the postwar alliance of onetime enemies.

As Hirohito later boarded his American-made jet transport for an over-the-pole flight to Copenhagen, the Alaskan night sky was illuminated brilliantly by a spectacular display of the Northern Lights.

Before the Emperor's arrival Nixon attended a reception at the anchorage home of Walter J. Hickel, the man he dismissed as interior secretary less than a year ago.

Nixon made an 8,140-mile round trip to Alaska to become the first U.S. president ever to meet with an emperor of Japan.

Their talks were general in nature—a circumstance dictated by the Emperor's position as one whose influence on Japanese policy can be exercised only in subtle ways.

There was no immediate word on the content of any of the talks, however, and no communique was issued at the conclusion of the royal visit.

The President, welcoming Hirohito at Elmendorf Air Force Base, said:

"Your journey to Alaska symbolizes Japan's growing position in world affairs. We meet in . . . a place which is approximately the same distance between Tokyo and Washington D.C. This fact reminds us that for the past quarter century we have built a structure of political, economic and cultural ties which spans the space between our two countries. . . ."

Nixon said he hoped their meeting would "demonstrate for all the years to come a determination of our two great peoples to work together in friendship for peace and prosperity for the Pacific and for all people in the world."

Hirohito said he was "deeply moved" that the President and Mrs. Nixon had undertaken a long journey to meet the Emperor and Empress. "Nagato on what was undoubtedly a simple refueling stop en route to Europe."

Secretary Morton Says:

Interior Department May Release Report Backing Alaska Oil Pipeline

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The Interior Department may be able to make a favorable environmental report on the trans-Alaska oil pipeline because of changes agreed to by the proposed builders, Interior Secretary Rogers Morton says.

The pipeline "can be built compatibly with the environment" and an Interior Department report on the project should be issued by the end of the year, possibly before Dec. 1, Morton said here Sunday night. He said it would be March or mid-April before construction could start.

Morton, who accompanied

President Nixon on his trip to Alaska to meet Japanese Emperor Hirohito, commented during a reception for members of the Allied Daily Newspapers of Washington.

Morton said the Alyeska Pipeline Service Co., the combine of oil firms which proposes to build the 800-mile line, has agreed to allow the Interior Department to stop construction if it is not satisfied environmental requirements are being met.

Morton said virtually all reports on the pipeline were from other government agencies, including the department of commerce and defense, and added: "I can't foresee any difficulties with any of them."

The pipeline has been opposed by conservationists and Alaska native groups who fear it could harm the arctic ecology along its route from the Alaskan North Slope to the ice-free port of Valdez. Opponents also have argued that fishing grounds would be endangered by the possibility of oil spills at the line's southern terminus on the Gulf of Alaska.

Prior to his meeting with Hirohito, Nixon issued a prepared statement in which he said he felt environmental problems could be solved, although he did not commit himself to support of the project.

"Based on the information now at hand, I do not believe that the apparent conflict between oil and the environment represents a permanent impasse," he said.

"Instead," he said, "it presents a challenge—a challenge to our engineering skills and a challenge to our environmental conscience."

"I believe we can meet that challenge, proving that natural resources—in the Arctic or elsewhere—can be developed and transported in a responsible manner with respect to environmental values."

Col. Henderson's Attorneys Claim Case Being Rushed

FT. MEADE, Md. (AP)—Attorneys for Col. Oran K. Henderson protested angrily today that their case was being rushed to suit the convenience of a lieutenant general whose investigation of the My Lai massacre led to the cover-up charges against Henderson.

The officer, Lt. Gen. William R. Peers, is to begin testifying in an afternoon session. The prosecution estimated the questioning will take two days or longer.

Henderson's trial, on charges he tried to conceal the My Lai incident went into the sixth week today.

Peers is being transferred from the Pentagon to Korea to take over as deputy commander of the 8th Army. Maj. Carroll J. Tichenor, the prosecutor, said his presence is needed there on Oct. 3 for maneuvers.

Henderson's attorneys argued the tight schedule will not permit extensive cross-examination.

"I don't know why the 8th Army couldn't get along without a deputy commander for another week," Lt. Col. Frank J. Dorsey, Henderson's military lawyer, complained while the seven officer jury was out of the courtroom studying documents.

Part of the questioning of Peers will concern the voluminous testimony Peers' investigative group took from Henderson in three sessions 1½ years ago. Henderson was on the witness stand on one day for more than nine hours.

Dorsey's civilian colleague, Henry B. Rothblatt—who has protested previously about the extensive retelling of the My Lai affair—told Judge Peter S. Woodrowlaski:

"For three weeks we were involved in superfluous garbage. Now we are being rushed to suit the convenience of Gen. Peers . . . to rush us right now would deprive us of the due process of law."

At the trial start, the defense offered to concede that 100-150 Vietnamese were killed at My Lai including innocent civilians. Rothblatt argued about admitting Henderson's Peers testimony and about the prosecution's request to eliminate certain portions.

He said the Peers hearing was riddled with speeches by the general, recitations of previous testimony and the debilitating effect of testifying for long stretches.

Concerning Canceled Parade

Red Chinese Schedule 'Important' Newscast

HONG KONG (AP)—Canton television has announced it will make a "special and important" newscast Tuesday night about "circumstances of the commemoration of the 22nd anniversary of the founding of the Peoples Republic of China."

Observers in Hong Kong believed the telecast probably would give Peking's official reasons for unexpectedly canceling the traditional Oct. 1 celebration and parade in the capital.

The massive parade has been staged in Peking and attended by Chinese Communist party Chairman Mao Tse-tung since the Communists took over the mainland in 1949. Cancellation of the affair had triggered rumors that Mao was seriously ill or dead.

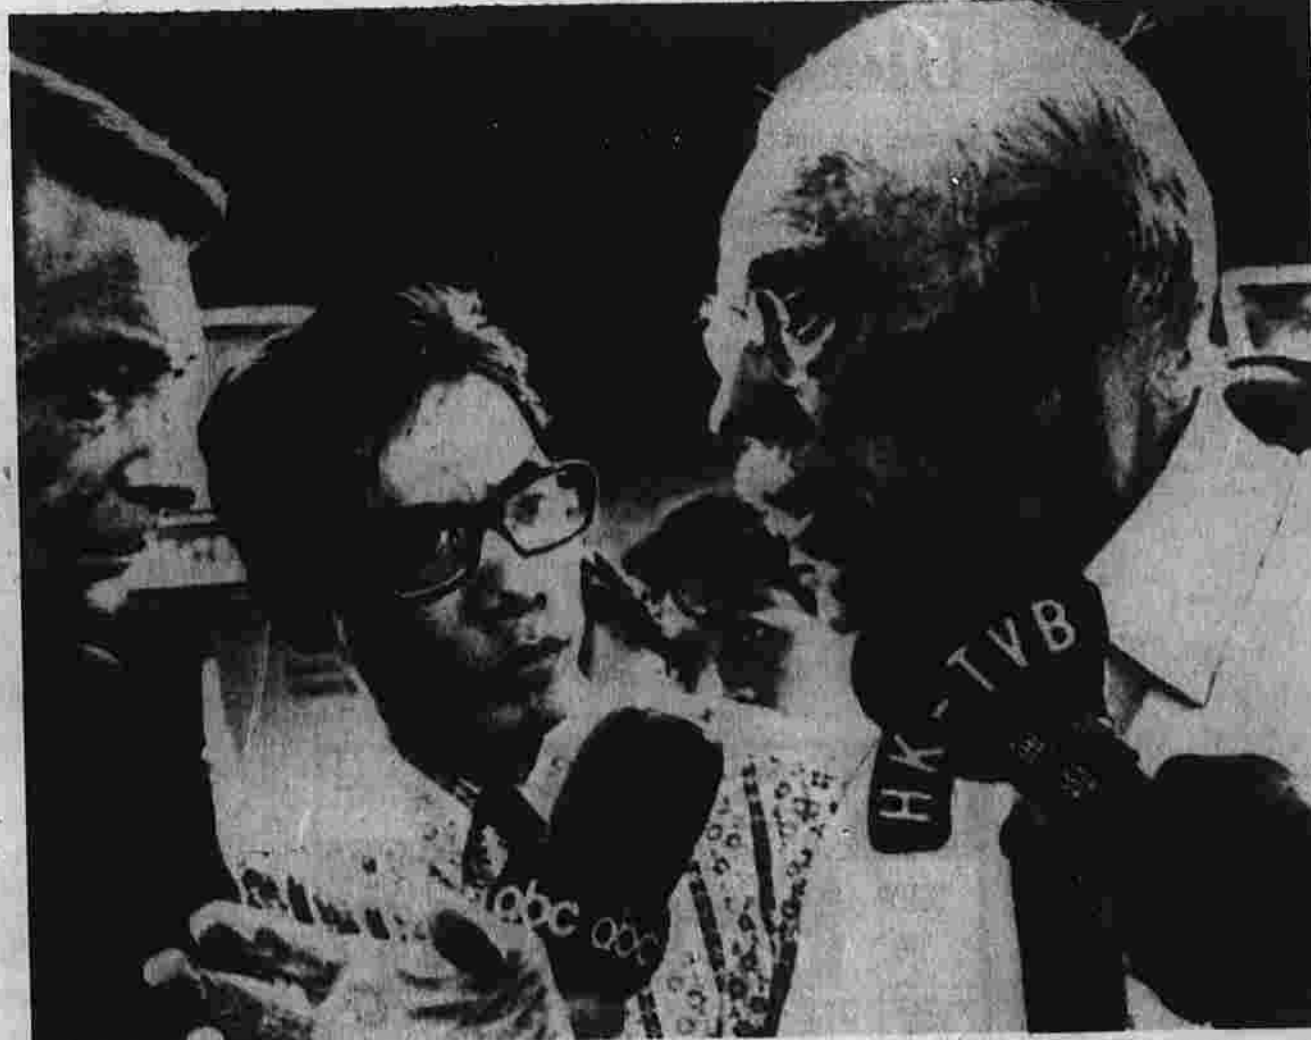

A Chinese traveler just back from Canton said Sunday's announcement described the upcoming telecast as "of great importance to the people" and urged that "all persons should make arrangements to see and hear it."

Canton radio indicated the telecast would originate in Peking, but there were no other details.

American heart specialist Dr. Paul Dudley White said on arrival today in Hong Kong from Peking that he saw nothing during his 12-day stay to support the rumors that Mao was sick.

White, an 85-year-old Boston cardiologist who treated the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, said he heard the speculation that Mao is seriously ill

Women Quiet On Vacancies On Top Court

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The three women President Nixon has appointed to the federal bench are exercising judicious, if not judicial, discretion, each declining to comment on her chances of becoming the first female Supreme Court justice.

Although no one can be sure of the President's support, Mrs. Nixon told reporters Thursday she was "talking it up" with her husband to appoint a woman to the high court. She mentioned three women to federal courts—Cornelia G. Kennedy of the U.S. District Court in Michigan and Sylvia Bacon and Normale Holloway Johnson, both of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia.

In case "they don't get one this time," Mrs. Nixon said, "they're grooming them. They'll be moved up to other courts."

The next day, Mrs. Nixon

Viet Cong Intensify Offensive

SAIGON (AP)—North Vietnamese forces mounted heavy attacks today along South Vietnam's border with Cambodia for the second day, reportedly inflicting heavy losses on South Vietnamese forces.

Two U.S. aircraft supporting the South Vietnamese were shot down with five Americans wounded the U.S. Command said.

Field reports said the South Vietnamese lost at least 20 men killed, about 100 wounded and a number of artillery pieces, tanks and armored cars destroyed, some of them apparently by sappers who broke into the government positions hurling satchel charges.

The South Vietnamese Command reported that 92 North Vietnamese troops were killed, many of them by U.S. helicopter gunships, fighter-bombers and artillery.

On the outskirts of Saigon, two Viet Cong sappers were detected attempting to penetrate an ammunition depot near Tan Son Nhut air base, South Vietnamese headquarters said. One of them was killed and the second escaped, a communique said. A series of explosions ripped through a section of the dump a week ago, destroying 300 tons of ammunition.

Viet Cong sappers used a mine to blow up a train traveling from Qui Nhon to Tuy Hoa on the central coast. The Saigon Command said one civilian was killed and six were wounded, adding that the lo-

Veterans Riot In South Viet

SAIGON (AP)—An estimated 200 disabled war veterans, some armed with hand grenades, rioted in protest against the government today in Da Nang and national police used tear gas to herd them off the streets.

Other demonstrations broke out in Qui Nhon on the central coast, in Saigon and at Can Tho in the Mekong Delta.

At least five policemen were wounded before the Da Nang outburst was calmed and the protesters were confined to their shantytown.

Sources said five policemen were hurt by hand grenades lobbed at them. One policeman was reported in serious condition with a head wound.

The protest, near the Da Nang airbase at the edge of the city, began with about 50 veterans and quickly swelled to 200, the sources said.

In Qui Nhon, some 2,000 disabled veterans and students marched peacefully in a demonstration against President Nguyen Van Thieu's unopposed campaign for re-election next Sunday. The march was by far the largest anti-Thieu demonstration of the past three weeks. Police made no effort to break it up.

The demonstrators burned Thieu posters and voting cards. Leaders said the groups would "react strongly" if Thieu did not resign. But they did not elaborate on what they would do.

In Ca Tho, about 100 veterans also demonstrated against

"THE WAY HEARD IT"

By John Gruber

We come now to the third and final act of Tristan and Isolda, the Wagner opera slated for production at the Bushnell, Nov. 24. It hasn't been done in Hartford for over 50 years, and it's a tough, which is the reason why I have gone into it in such great detail. Even so, I hardly heartily recommend that you borrow the recording of the opera, and become even more familiar with it before you attend.

Act III is, in my opinion, the most dramatic and the most beautiful of the three. It is a scene of intense emotion, and it is here that the opera reaches its climax. Tristan and Isolda are reunited, and they sing the "Love Song." It is a beautiful piece of music, and it is here that the opera reaches its climax.

Suit Names Agostinelli On School Fund Cutback

State Comptroller Nathan G. Agostinelli of Manchester is one of the defendants in a suit filed today which seeks restoration of cuts made in school grants by the state.

It claims that the bill, which permits a five per cent cut in state aid to schools, is unconstitutional and that the state is in violation of its obligation to provide a free and adequate education for all children.

The suit is believed to be the first in Connecticut history when a member of the legislature is taken to court to challenge an act of the state.

The action, which is returnable next month in Hartford Superior Court, charges that the state is in violation of its obligation to provide a free and adequate education for all children.

Mr. Justice Black

Hugo Lafayette Black was a man of conviction. He held to his beliefs when he was on the minority side of the Supreme Court as well as when he was in the majority. He was truly a giant in the history of the Court and an architect of constitutional law.

Black's father was a Scotch-Irish farmer and a Presbyterian minister. His mother was the local postmistress. The family was neither poor nor wealthy.

Black held that the press served an essential role in a democracy; that role was to serve the governed, and not the governors. He once stated that the Constitution removed the government's power to censor the press.

Black's formal education was not at all substantial, but he became one of the best read justices on the Court. He surrounded himself with books.

Writers have discovered popular perception of Justice Black by noting that he once belonged to the Ku Klux Klan. In 1923 Black started a new law practice in Birmingham.

Black will be remembered as a strict constructionist, a political liberal, and an "activist" with an expansive view of social change. During his ten years in the United States Senate he was a strong backer of President Roosevelt's unsuccessful effort to reorganize or "pack" the Supreme Court.

Inside Report

Whipsawing Nixon

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON—The whipsaw now being used so effectively by Hanoi to undercut President Nixon's negotiating posture at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, already near talk-bomb status, has now severed the last strand of credibility here in what the Communists seem to be saying in Paris.

Indeed, the deliberately misleading, ambiguous triple-speak emanating from the peace negotiators at Paris, who represent both Hanoi and the Vietcong Government, has now severed the last strand of credibility here in what the Communists seem to be saying in Paris.

Pressing Le for an explanation of the stark contradiction between what South Vietnamese Sen. George McGovern said he had learned about the Communist settlement plan a few days earlier, and what chief Hanoi negotiator Xuan Thuy had said to U.S. Ambassador William Porter on Sept. 16, Randall exclaimed to Nguyen Thanh Le.

"Do you understand why we no longer understand anything, do you understand the confusion in our mind? Either things are not clear or I am a fool, and if I am a fool I am ready to withdraw from active life."

Randall, the Post's chief correspondent in Paris, is no fool. His mental anguish accurately reflected the growing credibility gap between what the Communists have been telling such unofficial peace-seekers as McGovern, a Democratic Presidential candidate, and what they have been telling Porter and the U.S. government.

Ever since the unveiling on July 1 of Hanoi's seven-point peace plan, peace-broke leaders in the U.S. Senate such as McGovern have been hounding President Nixon to set a date for U.S. troop withdrawals, as demanded by Point One of the peace plan. If he would only do that, they proclaim, the Communists would release U.S. prisoners of war in a percentage ratio equal to U.S. troop withdrawals.

Common Cause

By D.J.R. BRUCKNER

(C) 1971, The Los Angeles Times. NEW YORK—Common Cause is just past a year old, and growing.

Professional politicians, who used to smile knowingly at the talk of a "people's lobby," have less to smile about now. Common Cause obtained a court order last month allowing its lawyers to take depositions from contributors to national political parties.

Full disclosures of past individual contributions would embarrass both parties and their contributors. The only way the parties can head off this suit is to write a tough campaign spending bill in Congress soon.

Common Cause's great personal interest remains the reform of institutions, specifically government institutions; this interest reflects his experience as a former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare. His membership is steadily widening, and he is taking an interest in affairs far beyond government.

Reform, however, is the key. Comfortable combinations of bureaucrats, lobbyists and key legislators in both state and federal government can frustrate almost any attempt at reorganization or reform; the major parties are dominated by their officeholders and beholden to contributors, including the big lobbies that represent business, labor and other interests.

Gardner's great personal interest remains the reform of institutions, specifically government institutions; this interest reflects his experience as a former secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Papal Abdication Talk Held 'Fatuou'

BY DAVID MAZZARELLA. VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Vatican says it is a "fatuou" (fatuous) of progressive modernism and conservatism.

An extraordinary broadcast by Vatican radio on Pope Paul's 74th birthday on Sunday also implicitly blamed Paul VI for the current crisis.

But it indicated he was tired and liked his life and work to "martyrdom," increasing the impression conveyed in the Church. It is said that he wept under the great pressure of critics of his ban on birth control devices three years ago.

The broadcast, beamed around the world, was an attempt to reassure Roman Catholics that Paul's papacy is not near an end. He has not attempted to hide the problems being faced by the Pope on the eve of another test of his strength—the World Synod of Bishops, it opens here Thursday and will deal with two of the most difficult questions before the Church—the crisis of faith and the role of Catholics in fostering peace and justice.

The radio broadcast, conceded that "eight years of a pontificate are not a holiday."

The responsibility of the vicar of Christ is by itself sufficient to wear down the energies of a person in normal life of the international Red times," it said. "In a convulsed Rome has found a use for those time like the present which women's liberties seem to shake every in-want."

He cuts them in half, down task becomes simply delimiting the middle and uses them to it resembles martyrdom." hold rice and flour.

Heating Oil Import Limit Held New England Peril

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. McIntyre, holding hearings on the proposed legislation to limit heating oil imports, said it could cause a serious shortage.

Conte, R-N.H., has circulated a letter to the New England and New Quotas will result in a severe fuel shortage in the Northeast, causing factories to shut down and homes to be without heat and electric power.

The proposed regulations are being tried to persuade Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton to change his mind.

The oil is used largely in homes, hospitals, utilities and some industries.

A deadline of Aug. 30 set for their homes because of oil shortages after competition from other sources.

Negotiators Seek Quick End To West Coast Dock Strike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Reached. Longshoremen and shippers resume negotiations today in an 85-day West Coast dock strike, after the intervention of major economic leaders.
Negotiators have agreed to meet and talk to end the strike, but the union says it will not return to work until it receives a contract with a 10 percent wage increase.
The strike has cost the nation $1 billion in lost wages and productivity. It has also caused a major disruption in the West Coast economy.
Negotiations are being held in San Francisco between the International Longshoremen's Association and the National Marine Transporters Association.

Prisoners Protest In Bay State

MANCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — Reached. Prisoners in the state prison at Walpole today protested their conditions. They demanded better food, clothing and living conditions.
The prisoners also protested their long sentences and the difficulty of obtaining parole. They said they were being treated unfairly and that they were being held in inhumane conditions.
The protest led to a meeting between the prisoners and prison officials. The officials said they would look into the prisoners' complaints and try to improve their conditions.

Women Quiet on Chances For Top Court Selection

BOSTON (AP) — Reached. Women's chances for selection to the Supreme Court are being discussed in Washington. There is speculation that President Nixon might appoint a woman to the court.
The discussion is centered around the name of Judge Ruth Bader Ginsburg. She is a prominent civil liberties lawyer and has served on the Second Circuit Court of Appeals.
Other names mentioned include Judge Sandra Day O'Connor and Judge Thurgood Marshall. However, Marshall's appointment would require a constitutional amendment.

Morton Sees Backing For Oil Pipeline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Reached. Senator J. Lee Rankin today predicted a law to give the Atomic Energy Commission authority to build a pipeline through the nation's oil fields. Rankin said the law would be passed by the end of the year.
The pipeline would connect the Gulf of Mexico with the Midwest. It would pass through the states of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, and Ohio.
The law would also allow the Atomic Energy Commission to use eminent domain to acquire land for the pipeline. Rankin said this was necessary to speed up the construction of the pipeline.

Defense Highlight of Eagles' 8-6 Triumph

Bilodeau Nets TD Via Pass

By PAT McCAE

Defense was the name of the game for the East Catholic High Eagles Saturday afternoon at Mt. Nebo Field as Cliff Demers' defensive charges came up with their second stellar performance in as many dates. Led by the likes of defensive backs Russ Bilodeau, Bill Logey, and John Healy, the Eagle defense thwarted many St. Bernard threats while the offense scrambled for eight key second quarter points to give the locals an 8-6 upset victory.

New Face Meminger Knicks' Future Star

New faces are always pleasing in any sport and the New York Knicks unveiled a new look last night in the person of Dean Meminger against the Boston Celtics at Trinity College. A turn-around crowd of 2,127 paid its way into the beautiful Fernwood Center for this pre-season NBA season exhibition and most came away talking about the former Marquette All-American selection last season.

Meminger speared the Knicks to a comparative 108-84 decision over the rebuilding Celtics in the first of two games. He was at his best in the second half, scoring 15 points, including a pair of three-pointers. He was also the floor work of Jojo White. It was typical pro ball, featuring a parade to the foul line, New York making 45 points from the stripe and Boston 29. The impression was that the Knicks will be among the Eastern Division contenders and Boston needs in addition to being a fine scorer.
