Hil Well another week is over, and it sure flew by fast. We had fine turnouts for all our activities, and it's great to see many "new" faces blending in with our regulars.

Our trip to the races is all set, and we will be leaving the Center at $:30 in the morning. Those going on the trip will meet in the basement. I suggest you bring a couple of sandwiches with you to eat at the track, otherwise vou'll find the prices for food quite expensive. We plan to stop and have activities, and it sure flew by fast.

Here's a little information about our Bermuda trip. We will be leaving our Center Saturday morning around $:30 in the morning, and plan to board the Sea Venture around 1 p.m. in the afternoon. We will return to very large to be back in action before too long.

Also received a thank you members card from Eva Post, who is recuperating at her care from Eva Post, who is recuperating at her care so many cards, and to know there's sc many nice people around.

selves well informed on what is hapening in Israel and face an electorate that cares about and demands Senatorial commitments on Israeli politics. The same is true of Massachusetts Senators concerning issues in Ireland and Italy. Other states have their own versions. American blacks have heretofore exerted almost no influence at all concerning our policies in Africa. Pressure from such a large segment of our population could produce experts on African affairs from many states and could cause several corporations to search for more substantive reasons for their presence in Southern Africa.

The idea has a more human value. American blacks and Africans have found both a natural affinity and barriers of hostility between them. At a time when many American blacks are developing a sense of black pride and an interest in their heritage, more knowledge about Africa would be helpful. Africans are equally interested in black America - its heroes, its tragedies, its culture. All Americans could stand to know more about black America and Africa.

Africa has fallen to tertiary importance in our foreign policy, and our ignorance about Africa is considerable. There is vast room for more cultural awareness between Americans and Africans. To cite but one of many examples, many white and black Americans think that the Afro hair style came to the United States from Africa. It didn't, nor is it found in Africa except being worn by African students returning from the United States, Last month Tanzania banned "Afro" haircuts as an element of unwanted, foreign cultural imperialism. This example has no deep elevance other than to demonstrate the ignorance and misperceptions that exist between Africa and the United States. The Innis proposal was included within a wide range of rhetoric and called for some difficult and unlikely forms of coperation. Among his suggestions were a Marshall Plan scale of U. S. asdistance for Africa, direct trade between american blacks and Africans, dual citienship for American blacks in African ountries, and military defense pro-

Plan, it would probably be domestic, American, and urban. Economic links with Africa would be corporate and public, and our corporations and government are not based on ethnic units. All of the practical suggestions he offered, except for the lobby in Washington appear most unlikely to be realized. But the mobilization and the lobby are ignificant in themselves.

We should cut through the rhetoric and recognize that there is fertile ground for greater cultural, economic, and political cooperation between the United structive is to emerge from the October CORE meeting, Innis should harness and efine his basic idea. It's a good one, it deserves full attention, and it should not be lost in an excess of zeal dismissed for being too removed from reality.

We live in a world of stimulants and created distractions, the television, advertising, and the strange things we consume to get high or low. And a young man recommends a pure, unpolluted dose of fear taken while swimming in a clean ocean.

The caverns, in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, attract some 500,000 visitors a year. And visitors' habit of throwing coins into the caverns' natural lake prompted the idea of making it a wishing well for charitable causes.

Recently the lake was drained to remove about two million coins which had accumulated since the last draining in 1966. This is a tedious hand labor job. The water has to be pumped out before maintenance men brooms to gather up the coins. Next stage is the coin "laundromat" - a cement mixer which washes the "filthy lucre" in a mixture of sand, detergent and water, after which it is taken out and fast-dried with a flame thrower. Local volunteers belo to count, bug the coins and get them to the bank. The money is distributed to various health organizations. The muscular dystrophy fund, for example, will receive $28,000 of the total of over $43,000 this five-year total was more than that for the preceding 12 years. In all, since 1954 more than $87,000 has been collected in small change-pennies to half dollars. And who knows how many wishes have come true?

throws the homerun ball, a tendency which leads Murraugh to give him the hook early. Other starters, off and on: Luke Walker, ERA; Bruce Kison, a stringbean rookle who throws a lat like Ewell Blackwell. Only Walker throws lefthanded.

RELIEF PITCHERS - Dave Giusti, not as good as last year, will still get 30 saves. Giusti is righthanded short man and his out pitch is still the palmball. The Pirates picked up Bob Miller from San Diego. Bob Veale, the only lefthanded reliever eligible for postseason play, once had a 6-0 record with an 8.00 ERA.

By BUCKY WALTER of the San Francisco Examiner (Written for NEA)

FIRST BASE - Willie McCovey. Awesome slugger, often on the bench with a knee cartilage fear and a torn throwing hand. Yet you can count on the big fellow to play first base if they have to trundle him out in a wheelchair.

SECOND BASE - Tito Fuentes. A late-season lapse, partially because of a bad ankle sprain, did not dim the luster of the sprightly Cuban's fine performance in the field and with the bat. Pesky switch hitter. Good hands, "quick" arm. SHORTSTOP - Chris Speier. The 21-year-old shortstop solidified the Giants' infield, which previously had been one of the least regarded defensively in the league. His range, glove and slingshot arm already are legend.

THIRD BASE- Alan Gallagher. Can rise to the heights or flop to the depths. At his best, which is very good, Gallagher could be a considerable asset in the post-season. Gallagher, who hit off his front foot, stings the ball to right field, aften with power He is a scrambler afield.

LEFT FIELD - Ken Henderson, Disappointing season. In stretch drive, fell into dismal batting slump that affected his fielding CENTER FIELD - Willie Mays. The years have taken their toll, but even at 40 it is possible that Wondrous Willie could be a dominant factor. He still has his exceptional skills in the outfield. Nobody runs the bases with more verve when occasion demands. But there is no doubt that Mays will be tired. RIGHT FIELD - Bobby Bonds. By mid-September had passed the O-home run barrier and was team's RBI leader by wide margin.

Still has tendency to strikeout because he is a free swinger and can be puzzled by sweeping curve balls. An excellent baserunner CATCHER - Dick Dietz. Was another Glant who had an offseason with the bat, although he contributed with home runs and batted in an adequate number of runs. Dietz is considered a smart handler of pitchers. He is not, however, a good thrower and it is likely baserunners will test his arm. STARTING PITCHERS - Juan Marichal, At times, this year, has been the pitcher of vore, which means the very top class. At other times, he has been buffeted. When he lost this season, it usually was because of lack of sharpness in his control. Gaylard Perry-Perry's record is deceptive. More formidable than the mediacre won-lost record indicates. He aften had the misfortune to pitch in tight games in which the Giants didn't score runs a fielded badly behind him, as well. John Cumberland. Giants southpaw starter. Not overpowering, yet is a building type with a good variety of pitches. Don Carrithers. Fourth pitcher in ratation. Righthander. He throws hard and has good stuff. Carrithers hasn't RELIEF PITCHERS - Ron Bryant, Southpay, fell out of rotation due to an August shoulder ailment. Strong pitcher when well, Jerry Johnson, Giants' top fireman, Victories and "saves" in wholesale lots in short-duty finishes when the Giants' bats were active. Steve Hamilton. His innings pitched and other statistics belie hi value to the Giants as a southpow reliever.

BENCH - Dave Kingman, still green, is power pinch hitter, with penchant for strikeouts. On defense in outfield and at first, is mercurial. Jim Ray Hart is experienced pinch hitter and third-base and outfielder replacement; recovering from sore arm. Singles-hitting switch-hitter Jimmy Rosario is excellent defensive autfield replacement. Hal Lanier is fine infield insurance; weakish bat. Veteran Russ Gibson is good defense, light bat, formidable arm.

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

A BEST BUY - BY BELFIORE

Yes, people's preferences in homes are as diversified as they are in cars. Some prefer stately Colonials, others like cosy

Capes, etc. It is generally agreed, however, that a Raised

Ranch gives you more potential living space for your money.

Here's a three years young Raised Ranch with a list of extras

so long we have almost three typewritten pages (available upon request) to describe the property! You name the amenity or the extra — the chances are this home has got it! Add all this to tender, loving care by the meticulous owners, and you

Grenadiers Please Crowd At Bushnell

By JOHN GRUBER

The band of the Grenadier program in conjunction with the west of Pine St. and south sary of the Governor's Foot water source closest to Guard. This is the band that area, Giles says. plays for the "Changing of the Guard" at Buckingham Palace, and occupies much the same po-sition in London as the United States Marine Band does in Like all British bands it has a somewhat different sound than the sound of an American mili-tary band. The tone is rounder, less incisive, slightly more mus-ical and slightly less showy. This is undoubtedly due to the instrumentation used.

With the exception of four ceremonial trumpeters who use straight trumpets, also known as herald's trumpets, the band employs no trumpets in its makeup, substituting cornets in their place. There is also a larger number of middle- and low-range brass instruments and fewer clarinets than is customary here. Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt were guests on the show, and they also pleased in no uncer-tain fashion, but I'll get to them in a moment.

The program opened with a fanfare and went through a number of marches, including a Bousa march, while the band marched and countermarched within the limit of the program of the limit of within the limits of the Bushnell stage.

The group of numbers ended with another ceremonial fan-fare and it was time for the guest artists. Everybody knows Earl Wrightson and Lois Hunt, of course. They've been around for thirty years or so to my recollection, and they still sing

Miss Hunt's voice is not what it once was, but she still sings musically and still is personable. Mr. Wrightson sounds much as he always has. They were accompanied at the plano by Fred Woolston, who turned out a businesslike but somewhat routine job. As might be expected, Miss Hunt and Mr. Wrightson were heard in show tunes from mu-sicals with which they have been associated in the past, offering just the right amount of nostalgia for an audience that was, in general, middle-aged. Captain Peter Parkes, musical director of the Grenadier ok over the er semble for some concert numbers, and the sound reminded me of Creatore's Band, of forty or more years back, (In case you don't go back that far, Creatore and Pryor were band leaders whose bands were both somewhat more proficient than Sousa's but who didn't rate the adulation since their leaders were not so adept at writing

There was good variety in the offerings, bût Captain Parkes was inclined to unduly fast tempos. This was particularly true of the Shostakovich Overture, where both clarinets and Cornets "smeared" passages due to excessive speed.

The last half of the program featured solo sounds from the band, trombones, trumpets, xylophone, and so on. There was also a group of miscellaneous numbers and a grand finale of partiotic tunes including Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance No. 1," known as "Land of Hope and Glory" to most people. There were also "Rule Britannia," "America The Beautiful," the national anthems, and so on.

It was a rather long program but very well done and the band was extremely well received. You can hear them in the parade this afternoon, and I'm sure you'll find them well worth the trip to Hartford.

Town Treats Globe Hollow

Complaints about water in the west side of town have dropped off since the summer, according to Jay Giles, town water and sewer administrator.

"We get about as many complaints in a week now as we got in a day during July and August," Giles says.

The source of a fishy odor which west side residents complained of was never pinpointed, but one possible cause was cleared up last week as part of normal water department procedures.

Bi-weekly tests of the water in the town's four reservoirs in-dicated last week that Globe Hollow Reservoir had a high microorganism count. The water was then treated with copper sulfate. This prevents the growth of algae. The drop in complaints can

'You Are There' Heading West

The story of a marathon ride through hostile Indian territory by Bob Haslam, a 19-year-old courier for the Central Overland Express, will be retold on "The Record Ride for the Pony Express," an episode of "You are There" to be broadcast Oct. 2 on the CBS Television Network. CBS News Correspendent Walter Cronkite is anchor man.

The date is May 12, 1860 and the episode revisits the Old West, where the tireless young rider (played by John Glover) covered 380 miles during 36 hours in the saddle and set a company record.

At this point in American history, just before the Civil War, the Peny Express was a vital communication link between east and west. It was soon replaced by the telegraph.

"The Record Ride for the Pony Express" was written by Philip Reisman Jr. and direct-ed by Burt Brinckerhoff, Burton Benjamin is executive producer of "You are There," Vern Diamond is the producer and Barbara Schultz the co-producer.

On the scene will be CBS News Correspondent Hughes Rudd and CBS News reporters Gary Shepard, Bruce Hall and Walter Lister.

TV Notes

TV Audience Shuns Opening Of New Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — The first national Nielsen ratings of the new television season hit the industry this week with an impact similar to the winds of Hurricane Doria.

During the Sept. 13 - 19 period, when the new programs of all three networks were having their premieres, it appears that most viewers were visiting old friends and watching old movies instead of looking at new arrivals—and snubbing some important movie stars newly arrived in televisionland.

Most popular program of the week was "Marcus Welby, M.D.," a situation likely to prevall throughout the season since the ABC series not only has a lot of devotees but no network competition during the final 30 minutes of its hour. CBS and NBC return to local programming during that time pe-

Flip Wilson of NBC came in second, and CBS's broadcast of the 1987 hit movie, "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner?" was in show position. Other programs among the top 10 in popularity that week included "Gunsmoke," "Laugh'in," a Bob Hope special, the ABC "Movie of the Week" and an old John Wayne western.

The only new program in that illustrious company was "Columbo," the miniseries starring Peter Falk which is a part of NBC's "Mystery Movie."

Audience measurements during premiere week are considered to be insignificant in terms of the ultimate success or failure of programs. They do hold, however, some fascinat-ing clues about the public's interests.

Don Hastings of "As the World Turns" on the CBS Television Network has been acting since his radio debut, as a singer, led to an audition for the national company of "Life With Father" in 1941.
