Why You Need This EXTRA CASH Plan In Addition To Ordinary Hospitalization

You know, of course, that the tremendous jump in hospital costs has forced millions who already have hosnitalization to dig into savings or go into debt. They risk using up their savings or, worse yet, turning to family and friends for help. In fact, very few people have enough savings, hospitalization or income to cover the TOTAL cost of being sick or injured.

How long could you stay in the hospital without worrying about the pile-up of daily expenses? Who will pay for the expenses of costly X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? And how about the expenses at homerent, food, telephone and others that just go on and on with expenses like these, could you avoid having your savings wiped out and your family life upset?

Better Safe Than Sorry

Wouldn't it be comforting to know these problems could be solved by your Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan - the plan that gives you $100.00 a week - IN CASH - tax-free - from the very first day you're in the hospital for up to 100 full weeks.

That's why you can't afford to be without this lowcost, high-benefits Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan. Source: United States Department of Labor

EXTRA CASH Gives Peace of Mind and Security

Helps Replace Lost Income Everything costs more these days. (Who knows better than you?) Hospital costs alone have TRIPLED in just a and they're expected t soon. While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most find that benefits simply don't cover ALL the bills that mount up when sickness or accident strikes. Union Fidelity created this low-cost Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan to help cover your UNCOVERED expenses while hospitalized to put EXTRA CASH in your hand for bills from the doctor, the surgeon, the nurse, the druggist or anyone else who provides service and treatment you need and want. You may even have enough left over to help REPLACE any income you lose because of your confinement.

These Are The Only Exclusionsl.

The new Union Fidelity Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan has NO WAITING PERIODS. It covers you immediately for every possible kind of sickness and accident except, of course, hospitalization caused by mental disorders; act of war; pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage; or care provided in a federal government hospital. It even covers you for any pre-existing conditions after your policy has been in force Send No Money-Special Offer Expires Midnight of Date Shown on Coupon Below!

In fact, show it to your own insurance man ... even though he probably works for another insurance company! If he is a personal friend, he wants what is best for you. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better value available anywhere. Then decide for yourself ... and while you're making up your mind, you can be protected by this wonderful Plan by sending in only one month's premium at the low rate shown below. If the Tax-Free Extra Cash Plan isn't everything we say it is, return the policy within 30 days and your money will be cheerfully efunded with no questions asked. However, if you decide to continue this worthwhile protection, you may do so at these low rates.

The Big Social Year Of 1972

Now the itineraries would seem nearly complete. The President is going to Peking, and then he is going to Moscow. On the way to one or another, it can be arranged for his plane to make a refueling stop on Okinawa, where he could meet Emperor Hirohito and make a symbolic gift of Okinawa back to him. Both in Peking and Moscow the President will be obligated, in the normal rules of civility, to extend an invitation to his hosts, to come over and visit him

Somebody from both sides will have to remember to pay en route courtesy calls to such onlooker powers as West Germany, Britain, France and Italy, themselves once members of some Big Four or Big Five, but now no longer on a par with the new super powers of the United States, Russia, China, and Japan.

But, a few details aside, it is now all set, and we are in for the greatest round of high international visiting world diplomacy has ever seen.

We can see our own President now, at the high tide of all this, clasping his hands in gestures of friendship and ace for a whole generation, and we n hear him coming back to us with the message of hope. And we hope, in our anticipation of this, to make one thing very clear: All this high international folksiness is going to be better ig would be. We are not going to try to esman short, just because he, in and techniques, may is somewhat unsophisticated mself too much under the influspell he is trying to cast over that the world, even the read world of the Communist synrome, is ready for a full dose of that rand of salesmanship which first tried its wings in the famed kitchen appliance debate with Khrushchev of nearly two for the best. We hope the weld is amenable to this sudden new owering of high personal visitations. We hope the ritualistic exchange of gifts ludes, now and then, something from he super powers not to each other but rom them all into a chance of survival or the world which is founded on something more solid than the international

Invention Coming Up

The automotive experts, the market trend analysts, are now announcing the leath of the convertible. What this means is that, possibly no too many years from now, there will be an announcement from Detroit which will read something like this:

"The American automobile industry has decided to stake a heavy share of its ential future prosperity on the introduction of a new model which will make its appearance with this fall's new lines.

ew style car, with low, long sweeping lines, is designed to be driven with no metal or glass coming between the motorists and the sky under which they are traveling

The experience of riding in one of the new models is said to make instant conerts. Universal testimony is that drivers engers alike experience a new sense of freedom and relaxation while they are on the road.

"It is part of the design of the new models that there is, for employment in ase of storm or temperature emergency, a top covering available, which can e summoned out of neat recesses behind he rear seat by the more pressing of a ton. But it is stressed that, with a of Americans whose lives some increasingly structured to idoor leisure, and with the cliof winters turning progressively milder, the top covering is not likely to be resorted to very often by the typical owner of the new model.

"There has as yet been no formal selection of a name for the racy-looking vehicle, which is designed to become the possible favorite of a generation of sunloving, fresh-air gulping, leisure-loaded Americans, but R. B. Siet, the designer who is given credit for inventing the new model, and who hails it as the ultimate word in air conditioning, has suggested that it might be called the roadster, or the convertible."

The Cycles Of Custom And Taboo

The inconstancy of human affairs is it self a burden. Far better, we sometimes feel, to live amid familiar surroundings however unsatisfactory, than to endure the sense of disorientation that accompanies change. Men have long known, however, that there is a way to make necessary adjustments easier, and that is to recognize that the very certainty of change amounts to a kind of stability. Change at least is something you can count on Beyond that, in the wide area of social customs and taboos, history offers ample vidence of cyclical movement. Eventually, we are tempted to infer, we will ge back where we started. In the 1970s, fo nstance, men's fashions are about where they were in the 1930s. As for wo men's styles, word has just reached this epartment that the pageboy hairdo is coming back.

In a more significant field, that of public attitudes toward morality, there are ndications that the mad rush to drop all restraints is beginning to wane. The porindustry, which in recent nography years has been good to its entrepreneurs, is running into tough times. People are getting bored with the stuff and revenues are falling. And with every alleyway of deviant behavior thoroughly exploited, what is left? Could it be that the era of anythinggoes is passing? And if it is, what may we expect in the years ahead? It is possible to see, in the general way that history allows, that other eras o non-restraint were followed by energetic conservative movements. Where there is a revolution there is also a counter revolution. A sudden push in the direc tion of licentiousness has generally car ried within it the spring for a resounding backlash . By the same token, a period of dour conservatiism tends to build up pressure for an explosion of permissive-

This sort of cycle took place in ancient Rome, in Renaissance Europe and in postrevolutionary France. We remember the Victorian Age in England as a period of seemly appearances - a reaction to the loose behavior of the royal family some years before - even though the Victorians were strenuous users of bed and bottle.

The stuffy Edwardian decade was followed by the grimness of World War I, so that when the 1920s arrived almost everybody wanted to cut loose. The American expatriates in Europe invented, or thought they had invented, a senses free play, and they converted their fear for the future and their earthly passions into an important shelf of lit-

In Germany in the 1920s there was a evenent. Called the Wandering Birds, the young people tramped about the countryside, disdained marriage and the other proprieties, and felt they had made an important discovery. But in a few years the Wandering Birds were gone and Hitler's Youth set the style for a generation of Germans.

in our own time, so dramatically put tuated by sexual freedom, drug abuse, and other manifestations of what some people consider decadence, can we look forward to a smart backlash? The experts don't seem to think so.

There is a feeling today that we have entered an era unlike any other in history," says Stephen L. Klineberg, assistant professor of social psychology at "Therefore it's not safe to Princeton. project past swings into the future. Few cycles are inevitable. Today pecple hold that are new - the idea of Spaceship Earth, for instance. There i more of a sense of world community There is the realization that the world could be destroyed. This new way or looking at things, as Margaret Mead and others have pointed out, reflects the imprecise nature of today's world."

Must we conclude, then, that we can' have the foggiest notion of what's ahead in a cultural sense? Not quite. Melvin Tumin, professor of sociology and anthropology at Princeton, believes hat there will probably be some reacion to the cultural liberalism of the recent past. But he can see a rigorous pull ing back only if the nation slips into an economic depression or elects a stern. right-wing President. Professors Tumin and Klineberg believe society has come oo far to retreat into the gloom of Vic-

Both scholars credit the younger go eration with training their parents in the acceptance of new values, and Professo Tumin emphasizes the effect that the widening role of women will have on so-

It is probably just as well. There is not much to recommend in a repressive culture. That kind of society causes human emotions to become misdirected, even as it reduces the satisfactions of life. But we know in our bones that the other extreme is equally undesirable. When go so far as to seek disorder in personal lives they become capof their passions. In a very rea tives sense they become less free. And they become weak In my telephone

Professors Klineberg and Tumin, I detided not to ask how they thought a society could beat protect itself from extremes in the cultural cycle. No doubt if they knew they would have mentioned it to somebody before, this. Too, it is a journalist's question, and I have been more than once asking sweep tions of cautious scholars. will have to see how the culturd course we are on proceeds, and it may be another generation before we know i the cycles of other times could have told us something now. - EDWIN A ROB ERTS, JR., IN THE NATIONAL OB-

. .Resolve not to remove the marks of normal usage-slight scratches or even chisel mark that are made in the construction of an old piece. Some sen blance of old paint can give piece character. It is difficul to remove some old paints any way-buttermilk and red paint mixtures that were used on some old pine pieces is one example-a little of the paint color left when you refinish the piece is another sign of an-

Pieces in bad condition may need glueing and clamping, and even tourniquets of cord to provide pressure neces sarv to hold the piece togethe while loose joints or breaks bond. It takes time and thi phase of a project seems unrewarding, but you don't want the piece to fall apart after it is re a lovely light sheen. Fill holes or gouges with wood putties or stick shellacs or some of the other available fillers. Purists like to make their own fillers, and these maybe made with silica combined with 2 parts of Japa drier, 2 parts of turpentine and 5 parts of linseed oil tinted with l color to match the piece Some people use their own or prepared fillers with a finish of shellac sticks which come a colors to match the wood. Slight dents may be removed by covering the dents with woo and steam-ironing the area This should swell the wood and raise the dimple.

... To remove varnish paint completely from legs, you may make a sandpaper shiner-a long strip of sandpaper cut from the larger place-us ing it shoeshine fashion aroun the leg, exerting pressure.

.If you plan to give a piec of furniture an antique paint finish, it is good to visit mu seums or antiques shops where painted pieces might be seen or ideas. For example, handsome shadings may be done by feathering in oil colors at the end of flat pieces, bureaus or table tops. You apply the shadings along the edge of the plece, and then you rub it in working from the inside to the outer edge. This is a lovely e fect, but you should see it before you do it. Some paint combinations include greyed white ackgrounds with feathery ma coon or bluish green tinges. One girl used gray and white to get some lovely French grey effects for bedroom furniture

Exquisite paint technique can turn some old-fashioned furniture into choice pieces The wood frames of Victorian and Empire furniture can b painted to match upholstery Experienced painters can re produce lattice effects on headards. Before beginning a project, ask youself: Is this piece worth the trouble? If the wood is not worth refinishing to reveal its true grain, painting it may be the answer. Many have proceeded on the theory that wood is good and after giving piece seven sandings seven shellackings to achieve a glossy look, they discover it wasn't worth the effort. In the library there are books illustrating woods and grains. You can ndpaper a section of your piece and study the grain, and lecide whether it is worth reinishing the wood or whether should be painted.

right of self defense is the right port. This doctrine goes all the way back to the days of feudalism, when the master of the household was legally entitled to protect his family from attack. But in such situations, there is always the chance of escalatin the violence. Therefore, the lay places careful limits on this right of family defense. 1) The force used must not be excessive, For example: A father found his son involved in a fracas with the man next door. Rushing to the rescue, he knocked the man unconscious with a mighty blow on the head Then he followed up with a swift kick in the abdomen.

For the resulting internal inuries, the father was duly held liable in court. The right to de-fend his son, said the court, did not include the right to kick someone who was lying on the ground unconscious. 2) The force must be used only to defend, not to "get even." in another case, a father found out that a certain teacher had slapped his son in class. Days ater, meeting the teacher on the sidewalk, he punched him in the

Could the father be held liable? Again, yes. The court said that since the boy was-in no danger at the time of the punch, the father's action could not fairly be called defensive.

3) Many courts add that the father's right to use force is no greater than the child's. Thus: A belligerent teen-ager deliberately picked a fight with another youth, But by the time his father came along, he was already getting the worst of it. The father promptly slugged the other boy with a rock. Sued later for damages, the father claimed he had acted to protect his son. But the court held him liable anyhow. The court said that, in terms of the right to use force, he "stood in his son's shoes"-that is, in the shoes of the aggressor.

Oil Find On Island Seen Threat

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP) - The discovery of foil and gas on Sable Island, a crescent shaped sandbar in the Atlantic 175 miles east of Halifax, has stirred conservationists.

For 400 years the island, 20 miles long and 4 miles wide, has been known mainly as a hazard to ships and a home for seals and wild horses. Sable has had only about a dozen inhabitants since the ear-ly 1900s. The population jumped to 80 when Mobil Oil of Canada Ltd., sent a crew to drill a test well at the island's western tip. Mobil's superintendent, Merv raham says: "Our policy is

Day Changed For Program By Simpson

"My Window with Cliff Simp-son" which premiered; last Thursday night on radio station WINF has been rescheduled for Sunday evenings from 7 to 8 p.m.

The program will keep the same format but the station de-cided there would be a better audience response on Sunday evenings. This Sunday the Rev. Clifford

O. Simpson will discuss the book, "Treat Me Cool, Lord" by Carl Burke, a chaplain at a re-form school. This book compiles poetry, songs and prayers, written by boys at the school. This Sunday will also mark the beginning of a five-week discussion section on "The Will of God."

Questions, suggestions and ideas are welcome from the listening audience.

Helpful hints on Nutrition by Dr. Fredrick J. Stare, world-famous health authority, consu ant on Nutrition to the U.S. Public Health Service, and advisor to First National Stores on its Nutritional Awareness Program Information on Types of Milk Today we want to identify some of the various types of milk available in the supermarket. Let's begin with the simplest — ordinary whole cow's mik Grade A pasteurized milk is the only kind allowable in interstate commerce for retail sale. This milk must pass strict standards for sanitation and nutritional value. An eight ounce glass of whole milk provides about 165 calories Another kind of milk, Vilamin D milk, is exactly the same as ordinary milk except that 400 units of Vitamin D have been added per quart. This is Pork Butts Fresh Boneless Ideal for Stuffing very desirable and I would certainly urge everyone to buy milk fortified with Vitamin D. Vitamin D is necessary to absorb the calcium and phos-Fresh Pork Shoulder 39 phorous of the milk. Homogenized milk — another type of milk — is simply Grade A gasteurized milk that has been Swift Canned Ham 3.22 mechanically treated to break up the milk fat into very small particles. This distributes the fat eventhroughout the milk, and the cream doesn't Fresh Ham But Portion Shank 59% Another kind of milk - evaporated milk - and nore recently evaporated skim milk - are just exactly what they say, about 60 percent of the water has been evaporated. When you mix evaporated milk with the proper volume of water, the resulting milk contains essentially the same nulfive value as the milk from which it was made Sweetened condensed milk is evaporated milk with about 30 or 40 percent sugar added Skim milk is milk without cream it is lower in calories because the fat has been removed, but it is also lower in Vitamin A because Vitamin A is contained in the fat that was removed. Recently some skim milks have had Vitamin A added to hem. This is a desirable procedure Dried nonfat milk, which is skim milk dried, is he least excensive milk. When you add water to vou get skim milk More recently we have had the low fat milks Family Pack with only 1 or 2 percent milk fat and frequently some extra milk solids. Building. In submitting Robinson pointed out that the property is centrally located, being near the primary inter-section in town and that it is on a major highway artery.

He also stated that the highway is wide and is neither winding nor steep in grade and the property is close enough to a traffic light to hold down the speed of passing vehicles. He compared this piece of property with most or all of the present business areas in town which "are in actuality residential in character", he said, "having much of their frontage already occupied by residences and are therefore not available for business de elopment."

Robinson described his property as the "only remaining entrally located tract of land still in the open state and as yet unspolled by numerous residence."

He stated that he has been assured that capital is available and that within three or four years the town could expect a planned business complex, possibly in the quartermillion dollar category which would have an immediate effect upon the tax structure of the town.

Robinson explained that he is seeking the change at this time since an opportunity to sell a portion of the land had been ost already because the interested party had been unable t additional land for

By requesting the expansion now, Robinson said "in the future I will not have to face this problem." John Sibun, a of the Planning and Zoning Commission, spoke against the expansion, calling it "strip zon-Sibun also said that this area would not contribute to the general welfare of the town as a business zone. His reason included "close proximity to the church and the school (Rham), concern about the safety factor, strip zoning, and reservations as to whether we can or cannot create ample parking."

Also speaking against a busi-ness zone for the land, which abuts property owned by Rham High School, was Regional Board member Everett Jewett. Jewett was mainly concerned with the "welfare of the young." He said the property borders not only the school property but the road leading to the school. He felt that the town "as a member of the Rham High School region should take specific care as to what we put in there". Commission members that no action should be taken on the request until the matter could be discussed with the town planners who have been hired to draw up the new town

In other action the commission approved the request of Ledgecrest Inc. to divide the interior of the subdivision on Wall St. to create three additional lots with the stipulation that these lots not be used for building purposes.

Being interior lots, Ledgecrest Inc. will now have to go before the Zoning Board of Appeals to request right-of-ways to the lots.
