France, Russia Set Declaration Of Political Ties

PARIS (AP) — France and the Soviet Union have agreed to a declaration of principles to govern their future political relations, informed sources said today. The declaration will be signed Saturday at the end of the official visit by the Soviet Communist party chief, Leonid I. Brezhnev. It is the result of a compromise between Brezhnev and President Georges Pompidou.

Kosygin Arrives In Cuba

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin arrived in Cuba from Toronto, Canada, shortly after noon today and was greeted by huge crowds of cheering Cubans and a 21-gun salute. Kosygin, making his second visit to the Communist island in four years, was met at Jose Marti International Airport in Havana by what Cuban radio described as a "delegation representing the party and the government."

Rackley Case Two Panthers Plead Guilty To Conspiracy To Murder

NEW HAVEN (AP)—London Williams and Horry Hille, the last two Black Panthers to face a Connecticut judge in an alleged plot to murder another Panther more than two years ago pleaded guilty today to reduced charges of conspiracy to murder. Their pleas all but closed the books on a spectacular series of accusations, demonstrations and trials that included a murder trial last spring for Black Panther Chairman Bobby Seale. Williams, 27, and Hille, 20, were originally charged with the capital crimes of aiding and abetting the murder of Alex Rackley, a New York City Panther.

Top Court Lets Plan on Busing Stand in Pontiac

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today its ruling that a massive busing plan for a one-segregated school in Pontiac, Mich., and a black college near Petersburg, Va., is constitutional. Rejected a challenge to the tentatively promoted segregation. The plan and the ruling, U.S. District Judge Damon J. Keith of Detroit, had been appealed to the court by school officials with the argument that whatever segregation exists in the industrial city 25 miles northwest of Detroit is a result of housing patterns. While Keith charged the school board with locating new schools and arranging busing routes in such a way as to perpetuate segregation, the officials told the court in the petition filed Aug. 26 that they tried to reduce racial imbalance even amidst shifting population.

British Soldiers, Snipers Battle Across Irish Border

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops battled IRA guerrillas across the Irish border today and in the backstreets of Belfast. Two deaths elsewhere brought Northern Ireland's two-year toll to 135. One of the dead was found gagged and bound and shot through the head, apparently the victim of an "execution" in England, two former crew members of the luxury liner Queen Elizabeth 2, both Irishmen, were charged with having 37 hand grenades aboard the ship. Six suitcases full of arms for the IRA were found last week in Cork, Ireland, after the ship called there. In Dublin, a 23-year-old Irish girl was shot by British and Irish police in connection with three tons of Czechoslovakian arms captured at Amsterdam airport sidestepped questions about arms smuggling. Brunette Maria Maguire said she and IRA official David O'Connell, also wanted by Dutch police, "were just seeing the sights and enjoying our- selves."

Many World Capitals Back Seating of Peking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United Nations today rejected a U.S. resolution to make expulsion of the Nationalists an "important question" requiring a two-thirds majority for adoption. Among the U.S. allies who broke with Washington and voted against the U.S. resolution were Britain, Canada, Denmark, France, Norway and Pakistan, Belgium and Italy abstained. As it turned out the Albanian resolution got more than a two-thirds majority. Its adoption killed a rival U.S. resolution to provide "dual representation" for both the Communists and the Nationalists, a situation Peking said repeatedly it would not accept. The first reactions came from Asia. Prime Minister Eisaku Sato of Japan said the U.N. decision in the long run will benefit Japan. He told parliament his government will "continue positive efforts" to normalize relations with Peking. Foreign Minister Takao Kudo told the same session the Japanese people will not be proud of their government which has kept faith with Nationalist China. In the Philippines, President Ferdinand E. Marcos said Red China "could provide a constructive and effective leadership" if it entered the United Nations "with a conciliatory and cooperative attitude." He pledged to retain "fruitful and friendly relations with Nationalist China." Deputy Foreign Minister Sang Kittuachorn of Thailand told reporters in Bangkok that (See Page Three)

Tanzanians Jump Assembly Vote on Peking Brought Jigs of Joy to U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.N. General Assembly vote today to expel the Nationalist Chinese from the United Nations was greeted with jubilation in Beijing. The vote, which was 76-33, with 17 abstentions, was a major diplomatic victory for the Chinese government. The vote was taken after a long and heated debate. The U.S. delegation, led by Ambassador Jeane Kirkpatrick, argued that the Nationalists were the legitimate government of China. The Chinese delegation, led by Foreign Minister Qiao Gueihua, argued that the Nationalists were a puppet government and that the Chinese government was the only legitimate government of China. The vote was a significant blow to the U.S. position on China.

Fight Shapes Up in Senate Over Bid to Cut Aid to U.N.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A fight to slash America's money to the United Nations for expelling Taiwan was shaping in the Senate today with more advance votes lined up against it than for it. Sen. James L. Buckley, Conservative, announced Monday that he would introduce legislation to cut off U.S. financial contributions to the U.N. after the 76-33 U.N. expulsion vote Monday night. Buckley's administration would attempt to reduce the aid to $100 million a year. An effort to tack the fund out of the foreign aid bill before the Senate in the next two weeks is a possibility, his office said. Buckley said this will do no more than reflect a major downgrading of the U.N.'s role in the eyes of most Americans. Buckley said (See Page Eight)

Rogers Hits Expulsion of Nationalists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers said today the expulsion of Nationalist China from the United Nations was a regrettable act that could adversely affect the future of the world body. The secretary told newsmen the Nixon administration will, however, respect the majority decision of the United Nations in expelling the government on Taiwan. Rogers said "This administration deeply regrets the expulsion of the Republic of China and thinks the precedent is a most unfortunate one and will have adverse effects in the future." He expressed hope, however, that the United Nations would be able to resolve the dispute. Rogers said the U.S. would continue to support the Republic of China. He said the U.S. would continue to support the Republic of China. He said the U.S. would continue to support the Republic of China. (See Page Eight)

Wiretap Probe in Drugs Threatened by Fuesenich

HARTFORD (AP) — Two major narcotics distributors in two large Connecticut counties will face the threat of police wiretaps as soon as they are available, says State Police Commissioner Cleveland B. Fuesenich.

Fuesenich says in his annual report to the state Drug Advisory Council he will apply to the courts for authority to use electronic surveillance against the major drug distributors "as soon as the State Police Department has this capability."

But, he adds, "We cannot make any significant inroads into the distribution of narcotics on the higher levels in Connecticut without a commitment of money for technical electronic equipment. I, too, have transmitters and receivers and various other electronic surveillance devices."

The commissioner says the department has been concentrating on the main narcotics dealers in the state since he took office April 1.

Three distributors have been arrested in the last few months in the Hartford area and in the towns of Meriden and Fairfield counties. He adds, and two major figures in the distribution network, one of the underworld distributors who have been treated to one of the distribution networks.

The underworld distributors work independently and "each is a large distributor in their own county," he says. He gave no more details.

An expense of about $20,000, he says.

Army Would Lift Sights In Enlistee Standards

WASHINGTON (AP) — technology and complex equipment, the Army is appealing for permission to take in fewer new enlistees with low mental abilities.

The Army now is required to draw 24 per cent of its new enlistees, both volunteers and draftees, from among a group scoring lowest in intelligence aptitude tests.

Army leaders have asked Pentagon chiefs to cut this quota to 20 per cent, and it's likely they will try to reduce this even more later.

Starting about five years ago all the armed services in effect were ordered to lower mental standards and take in men they otherwise would have rejected.

The administration of then president Lyndon B. Johnson felt this was a way to aid thousands of young men by giving them special help, including remedial literacy training, and to assure that what were called "the opportunities and obligations for military service" were shared more equitably.

The Lofty Camel Remains Prime Part of Arab Scene

By ALY MAHMOUD
CAIRO (AP) — The merchandise stands quietly, watching prospective buyers through partially closed eyes.

This is Cairo's old camel market at Imbaba.

The lofty camel, bypassed by huge lorries and fast, comfortable cars, remains a dominant feature in the Arab World where for more than 80 centuries it has been a part of the scene.

Today camels are seen on tree-lined residential streets in Arab capitals, ignoring cars and hooting taxis, the distant rumble of diesel freight or the overhead whine of the most modern jetliners.

Domestication of the camel, in the 13th century B.C., was as revolutionary to the desert as the automobile was to the high seas.

The emergence of the Moslem Empire 14 centuries ago was in many ways a camel achievement. When the Persian Empire invaded Iraq, Gen. Khalid Ibn Walid led camel-borne shock troops seaward across the desert and dealt the Persians a coup de grace.

The camel also contributed in much the same way to the downfall of the Roman Empire. The use of the camel in desert warfare accounted for the surprising mobility which enabled the Bedouin warriors to topple the great empires and surge into Europe.

When the Arab world entered the age of automation, sociologists predicted an early end to the age of the camel in the Middle East. But the "ship of the desert" defied all predictions and remained on the scene.

The camel stores up water and food in its fat hump. It is able to carry a load of nearly 800 pounds over a long desert trek.

The camel is a desert animal in the fullest sense. It has transparent eyelids which drop automatically during sandstorms. It can close its nostrils as it does its mouth, a protection against inhaling dust and desert sands. Its wide, soft feet flatten out when it steps on sand, making the walking smooth even on sand dunes.

But the usefulness of the camel has dwindled in the face of fast developing modern means of transportation. Land routes, railways and airplanes cover vast desert areas, and the camel has been reduced to a near donkey status. However, it still has many uses.

Meriden School Hit by Vandals

MERIDEN (AP) — Vandals broke into the Nathan Hale elementary school through windows during the long weekend and caused several hundred dollars worth of damage, police said Monday.

Several small windows at the rear of the building on Atkins Street Extension were broken with rocks, investigators said.

The vandals blocked drains in second-story rooms and ran water onto the floors, overturned bookcases, ripped bulletin boards from the walls and wrote obscenities on walls, according to police.

Det. Lt. John Roberts said vandals headed down to the ground floor. "There's a huge cleanup job to be done here," he added.

The damage was discovered Monday while the school was closed for Veterans Day.

Next Tuesday - Town Election Day

Question 1 Next Tuesday - Will confront the voters of Manchester with four special questions of vital, first rank importance to the future of the whole community.

The first of these, "Question 1," deserves the most thoughtful kind of consideration. Especially, it should not be allowed to frighten voters and taxpayers because of the way it has to appear on the voting machine.

On the voting machine, Question 1 reads as follows: "Should the Town of Manchester appropriate $2,250,000 for the acquisition and purchase of property and assets of the Manchester Water Company, contingent upon the voters of the Eighth Utility District at a District meeting voting to unify and consolidate their sewer operations with those of the Town of Manchester?"

The frightening aspect of this question is the lump sum of $2,250,000, which, owing to the lack of space, has to be presented to the voters without the explanation that this $2,250,000 in purchase bonding would be retired through water and sewer revenues and state and federal assistance grants.

The proposed expenditure of $2,250,000 will not, in other words, require any income from the town tax base. Once the financing has been made clear, the issue becomes the same simple, familiar issue Manchester has been struggling with for so many years - the issue of consolidation.

Manchester cannot plan for its own future property, or service its own water system, on the basis of two water systems, one public, the other privately owned.

Manchester cannot sensibly try to face into the future with two sewer systems, one a town system, the other a district system, run by separate budgeting and separate engineering managements, when common sense dictates continual cooperation and reciprocity between the two systems.

The logical first step toward the right kind of future is authorization for the purchase of the Manchester Water Company. This is what will be given by a yes vote on Question 1 next Tuesday. Once the voters of the whole town have given their approval to the proposed purchase of the Manchester Water Company, it will be up to the voters of the Eighth District to give their decision on that unification of sewer systems which has to be a realistic part of water system consolidation.

Poling government from its natural rights.

This policy, adopted before the Korean war, has always been a mistake. For this long mistake, the United States was finally punished at the United Nations last night.

The shameful part of the United States defeat at the United Nations last night was that it caught us in what amounted to a betrayal of our commitment to the Chiang Kai-shek regime on Formosa.

The fact that this commitment was in itself a mistake does not make our final escape from it an act of virtue. We found ourselves forced, at the tail end of our China policy, to be ruthless and unprincipled in our desertion of our own wrong principle. We had deliberately headed into a course of behavior on the China issue which was going to be a failure unless the nations of the United Nations did us the favor of defeating our great final grandstand play in behalf of Formosa.

Our fellow members obliged what had to be our own secret wish, and thus cleared the way for our own new diplomacy with regard to Peking.

But that new diplomacy has had to be founded on the sacrifice of Formosa, and that is of some shameful importance, not so much because Chiang Kai-shek is there, but because some 14,000,000 people on Formosa are just as entitled to membership in the United Nations as are the hundreds of millions on the Chinese mainland.

So it is a shabby world, with a shabby mixture of right and wrong, justice and injustice, in almost anything it tries to do.

In this kind of world, there are two kinds of hope. One is a hope for the recognition of those basic principles which, if ever honored, might bring sense and peace to the way the world governs itself.

The other, more available kind of hope is the hope for the success of some aim of our teeth brand of pragmatism, in which we somehow keep escaping the worst we deserve, and proceed from one unsatisfactory solution to another.

A typical expression of this kind of hope would say that perhaps Communist China will provide the fresh blood and outlook which will help restore national pride and prestige to the United Nations.

Some day, by some kind of miracle, that which is right and fortunate is going to happen to us in our involvement in Vietnam. Meanwhile, we watch the bad luck accumulate.

France, Russia Set Declaration

Hundreds of police mingled with the crowd and pounced instantly on the few demonstrators. Several men were heard to shout "Breshnev is a traitor!"

Another man at the arch shouted "Freedom for the Jews" and was removed in the same way.

Many of the crowd, apparently members of the French Communist party, cheered and waved paper Soviet flags. Other demonstrators in the crowd were silent.

Premier Jacques Chaban-Delmas sat beside Breshnev in the open car, specially built for Gen. de Gaulle. Breshnev stood upright waving at the crowd with a broad grin.

From the arch, Breshnev was seen leaning to get tough with the welfare situation.

Both men emphasized the conference proposal in speeches Monday night, the first evening of Breshnev's official visit to Paris.

Connecticut Yankee

By A.E.O. It is Governor Thomas Meskill and Welfare Commissioner Henry White who are standing in the front line to take the brunt of the storm they themselves are brewing on the welfare front.

But, although they may be up there, as legitimate targets for all those who think the welfare policies they are trying to promulgate are too harsh to make common sense, a candid reading of the record says that they should be entitled to some degree of immunity from attacks from their own rear.

We believe that Governor Meskill and Commissioner White both want to be doing what they are doing, we believe share the opinion that welfare has developed into a racket, benevolently managed by a social worker bureaucracy which gets paid well for doing nothing.

It was the General Assembly which, before Meskill and White, indulged itself in persecution and abuse of State Welfare Commissioner Bernard Shapiro, the professional's professional in the design and expansion of the state's welfare function.

It was the General Assembly which hired itself a survey of the state welfare operation, a firm of supposed public management experts, and which then rejected the survey, when it failed to indict, and instead actually defended, the Connecticut welfare system.

And it was the General Assembly which, by bipartisan vote, rejected the survey, when it failed to indict, and instead actually defended, the Connecticut welfare system.

Where Was Mitchell?

By Rowland Evans Jr. and Robert D. Novak

WASHINGTON - Largely overlooked in President Nixon's abrupt and wise retreat in the Supreme Court early last week is the fact that he was in Washington on Oct. 20, Mr. Nixon inactively reacted as he always does in the face of genuine crisis. He held up alone with a thick sheet of critical press stories, the familiar pad of yellow foolscap and his own thoughts in his hideaway in the Executive Office Building.

The actual result was that this American family was condemned to two years of believing its son was unaccounted for when it could have known that he had been taken prisoner.

Any such discovery has to be bad luck for an administration which has been specializing in trying to evoke national sentiment to protest against the alleged inhumanity of the enemy's treatment of prisoners in Vietnam.

Asia leads the world in refugees. Its total, without the latest millions who fled to India, was 11,962,249. Africa's 1970 count was 3,748,715. Europe's 698,487. The Middle East's 1,869,215. And the Western Hemisphere's 1,667,315.

New Yorker Asks Full Report On Child Abuse Law

NEW YORK (AP) — Assemblyman Alfred Lerner, R-Queens, says he wants to know why cases of child abuse are still going unreported despite the 1960 Child Abuse Law.

The Assembly committee on Child Abuse, which Lerner chairs, was to begin hearings today to determine the effectiveness of the 1960 law and the need for further legislation to provide protective services for abused children.

In hearings held earlier this month in Albany, New York State Social Services Commissioner George K. Wynn testified that more cases were going unreported under the law than the city and blamed doctors for a failure to abide by the law and report cases.

Lerner said abused children are ineffectively protected but he wants a registry designed by the 1964 Legislature to collect reports of child abuse has been used for statistical purposes and not as an aid to officials handling children.

Doctors and law enforcement officials, Lerner says, who frequently must make agency decisions about the safety of children are not allowed telephone access to the central registry.

"It is absurd that a merchant in California can check the credit rating of a New Yorker in five minutes before selling him a TV set, but that a doctor at a hospital emergency room cannot call to find out if a child has been previously abused," Lerner said.

In preparation for the hearings, Lerner and his staff, including Peter Costigan, R-Shelton, visited children's shelters here Monday and discovered a city-funded but privately-run shelter operating at half the cost of a city-run shelter—and with a much warmer atmosphere.

"This may be the route we have to take—fund private agencies and let them run the shelters," Lerner said during the visits.

Bolton Tigers Move To Top Spot In Football

The undefeated Bolton Tigers moved into undisputed first place in the Southern Division of the Charter Oak Midweek Football Conference Sunday, blanking the Coventry Panthers 19-0 on a rain-soaked field.

Steve Whitman, substituting at quarterback for injured Brett Hassey, was the star of the day, carrying the ball five times and scoring two touchdowns.

Hassey, who suffered a hand injury during last week's contest against East Hartford, may be out of commission for the rest of the season, according to Coach Gil Botsman.

Dane Ward was again the outstanding ball carrier by 100 yards said, going for at least 140 yards on ground runs. He also was credited with a touchdown.

Craig Jensen was charged out of a touchdown score because of a penalty on the play. The Panthers' defense was held to a field goal by Ed Hartford, who kicked a 22-yarder.

The Tigers lost two touchdowns Sunday due to penalties Botsman said, and have had a total of 10 penalties called back for penalties since the season began.

The Tigers finish regular season play Sunday when they play the Panthers at 2 p.m. at the Hartford Memorial Park at 2 p.m.

Uneasy Geysers Watched Following Thermal Upset

Some of the hot pools and geysers might give future visitors a bad time if they erupt in the way heat from the molten earth is pushing to the surface.

Whether the changes will remain in the park's central area is still speculation. Dumire predicted that some changes would remain while others would slowly allow the tourist attractions to return to their former configurations.

Seamans Warns Of Air Decline

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Cling a downward trend in U.S. air-traffic combat effectiveness, U.S. Air Force secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr., says the trend will continue unless new fighters are developed.

He said the margin of air-to-air combat effectiveness has dropped from 12-1 in the Korean War to 24-1 in the Vietnam conflict. He predicted it would be 1-1 before the Vietnam war winds down.

Seamans Warns Of Air Decline

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Cling a downward trend in U.S. air-traffic combat effectiveness, U.S. Air Force secretary Robert C. Seamans Jr., says the trend will continue unless new fighters are developed.

He said the margin of air-to-air combat effectiveness has dropped from 12-1 in the Korean War to 24-1 in the Vietnam conflict. He predicted it would be 1-1 before the Vietnam war winds down.

An invertebrate collector, Gardner also donated a collection of several hundred sea shells from the South Seas to Meadowbrook School where they are displayed in the library.

U.S. Convoy Is Ambushed By Viet Cong

SAIGON (AP) — The North Vietnamese and Viet Cong made five small attacks north of Saigon today and Monday, including a daylight ambush of a U.S. convoy.

Eighteen South Vietnamese troops, one U.S. soldier and one of the enemy were reported killed, and 17 South Vietnamese and two U.S. soldiers were wounded.

Two of the three 16-ton trucks in the American convoy were destroyed when about 40 of the enemy opened fire with mortars, bazooka-type rockets, machine guns and rifles this morning 50 miles northeast of Saigon. Enemy losses were not known.

A South Vietnamese convoy carrying a payroll of between $1,000 and $10,000 to a forward camp was ambushed 40 miles north of Saigon and eight soldiers were killed. A Jeep was destroyed and two trucks were heavily damaged, but reports from the field said ground reinforcements' artillery and helicopter gunships drove the enemy off and saved the payroll.

Enemy casualties were not known.

Five miles to the south, Viet Cong snipers slipped into an outpost manned by about 30 government militiamen. Hurting satchel charges and grenades, they killed eight militiamen and wounded eight others, then fled, apparently without any casualties.

Viet Cong gunners fired 25 rounds of mortars and rocket grenades into a hamlet 40 miles north of Saigon, killing two South Vietnamese, wounding four and badly damaging the office of the hamlet government.

A terrorist threw a hand grenade into a police station in Tam Binh village, seven miles north of Saigon, wounding five persons. The terrorist escaped.

La Gen. Nguyen Van Minh, commander of the 3rd Military Region, said that four regiments of about 2,500 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been ordered to increase attacks in the region, which includes Saigon and 11 surrounding provinces.

In Saigon, the Jeep of a U.S. adviser to the national police was firebombed and damaged. Nobody was injured. It was the 30th U.S. military or civilian vehicle firebombed in Saigon since early September. All are believed the work of students protesting the American military presence in Vietnam and the U.S. government's support of President Nguyen Van Thieu.

Along South Vietnam's northern coast, U.S. and South Vietnamese troops continued a massive relief and rebuilding operation in the wake of killer typhoons. Government officials put the Vietnamese death toll from the typhoon last Friday at 100 and estimated that 200,000 persons were homeless. They said more than 85,000 homes were damaged or destroyed, more than 45 per cent of the food crop was wiped out and 40 per cent of the livestock were killed.

Despite the disruption to life in the area and the diversion of military forces to relief operations, there was no upsurge of enemy attacks in the region.

By Budget vs Service

To the Editor,

It is irresponsible of Welfare Commissioner Henry White to make his own misconceptions to a public which may think they are the facts.

He recently stated that case-work as a method of social work education is not useful. He fails to recognize that different problems and purposes call for different intervention means and actions. The curriculum in schools of social work is increasingly generic so that the graduate is knowledgeable about each method—group work, community organization and casework.

I have had professional experience in public and private social agencies and in social work education. The State Welfare Department needs workers of varying degrees of skill and their preparation is not an either-or proposition. There is merit in both and that is the point. Staffing is not the problem. It is important to differentiate positions, tasks, responsibilities and staff competencies necessary to the purpose of the agency.

The State Welfare Department is constantly in the news with emphasis primarily on fiscal reform, cost cutting and procedures. There is a singular disregard for individuals as human beings. The jobs have emerged as scapegoats for the failure of government in other areas. The November cuts are heartless and insensitive. I have seen numerous evidences in the Welfare Department of family breakdown and emotional disturbance in lives impoverished for a major reduction in staff. Insufficient staff, rigid policy and concern for immediate fiscal and annual cost have led to subsequent large and unavoidable expense and tragic consequences for helpless people.

Commissioner White should see his function not only as administrator of a budget but as the administrator of a service to people and to society.

Sincerely yours,
W. D. Marlowe

Woman's Body Found After Hitchhiking Jaunt

CEDAR RAPIDS, Iowa (AP) — The body of a woman was found in Cedar Rapids Wednesday. He and his wife plan to return to Boston Thursday, he said.

It was reported that Casey was working with Iowa authorities on the investigation of the case. "I've been in contact with them," he said, "but I haven't been working with them. I'm here just to arrange for the funeral."

Authorities declined to comment whether the death of Mrs. Street was connected with those of three other young Iowa women found dead recently.

No suspects have been apprehended in the gunned-slaying of Karen Gores, 23, whose body was found Saturday near Cedar Rapids, and her husband, Ronald, committed to classes at the University of Iowa.

Mrs. Street was last seen alive a week ago when she left her job at the American Optical Co. in Cedar Rapids, telling co-workers she was going to hitchhike to Iowa City.

An autopsy was performed on Mrs. Street's body late Sunday. It was a good body, determined if Mrs. Street had been slain. Iowa County Sheriff William Spurrer was quoted as saying Mrs. Street died of heart failure.

It was a killing, I don't know what the motive could be," Casey said. "She carried nothing with her, not even cash. She was just going to visit her husband."

He said the body was dressed in blue jeans, a shirt and pants when found in the water near a bridge.

Casey said Mrs. Street would be buried in Cedar Rapids Wednesday.

Three Ministers Lose Jobs After Poland Shakeup

WARSAW (AP) — Three of Poland's cabinet ministers have lost their jobs, the government announced today—just two months before the Communist party's sixth congress meets to map out more political changes under the new leadership of Edward Gierek.

Removed were Stanislaw Walczak, chief of the Justice Department; Lucjan Motyka, responsible for culture, arts, and Edward Zawada, head of the chemical industry.

Motyka will be Poland's new ambassador to Czechoslovakia.

Making the announcements to the Sejm, or parliament, Premier Piotr Jaruzelski also said that Witold Trampczynski, a former foreign trade minister, will be ambassador to the United States.

The appointment of Trampczynski as ambassador to Washington did not seem to mean that he was in disgrace. He is acting chairman of Poland's Planning Commission.

Zawada and Walczak's removals are regarded as a step down the ladder. Zawada, said Jaruzelski, will go to Rome as a commercial counselor to the Polish Embassy.

The big reappraisal of the Polish Communists are undergoing stems from December's bloody price riots in Baltic coast cities. The economic discontent abruptly ended the 15-year rule of Wladyslaw Gomulka and brought Gierek to power.

Agnew Reports On Greece Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew gave an hour-long oral report to President Nixon today on his recent trip to Greece, Turkey and Iran.

White House press officer Ronald L. Ziegler, when asked if the administration felt the vice president had overrated the case when he talked in Athens of the Greek military junta moving toward democratic procedures, said it had been the administration's understanding for some time "that the objective is for Greece to move to a democratic government."

Questioned about a report that the Greek government had a $50 million plan to build a new service modern jet warplanes and weaponry, Ziegler said he did not know what the final disposition of a proposed loan through the Foreign Military Sales Act would be.

But he described it as "a routine commercial transaction" that would not require specific presidential approval.

Reprisals In E. Pakistan

By ARNOLD ZEITLIN

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Despite persistent denials, the Pakistani army and police continue to take reprisals against civilians living in areas where Bengali rebels operate.

Authorities say the American government has urged the Pakistani army to create a tranquil atmosphere to attract back some of the millions of refugees who have left East Pakistan since March 25.

At that time the army cracked down against the Awami League and its leader Sheikh Mujibur Rahman, throwing the predominantly Bengali province into an increase in the war.

These sources said Rep. Peter H.B. Fruling, Huysen, R-N.J., was instructed to ask President Agha Mohammad Yahya Khan about attacks on unarmed persons when he met the military leader in West Pakistan during a tour earlier this month.

According to the sources, the president denied shootings were taking place and would not concede they might have happened accidentally.

Evidence of reprisals is a burned strip 200 yards square in the Duvayani residential district outside the railway line connecting Dhacca to its river port of Moxynghaj, 11 miles away.

According to witnesses, troops, police and volunteer "Bazarkars" burned dozens of homes and shot scores of people a week ago. An hour later two men believed to be members of Mukhti Bahini (the "freedom army") were gunned down six soldiers in a patrol.

Survivors claim the reprisals took at least 50 lives. Many other persons were wounded as forces carrying automatic weapons went from house to house, burning into rooms and setting buildings afire.

From atop a bridge one can count 60 homes razed. Residents said the families have fled from most of the 300 houses in the neighborhood. Shopkeepers, laborers and minor officials.

There was no Mukhti Bahini when the army came," said one civilian servant. "I'm a government servant and I tell you no person had a weapon."

The residents readily spoke to this correspondent about the attacks, despite the presence of a armed guards nearby, but they refused to give their names for publication. One shopkeeper said the people feared police.

Mrs. Eisenhower In Hospital For Annual Checkup

BAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Doctors at the Army's Brooke General Hospital report Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower is in excellent spirits after being admitted for an annual physical examination.

She is in the hospital's presidential suite.

The former First Lady arrived in San Antonio Monday for a visit to Ft. Sam Houston, where she met the late president and was admitted to Brooke at 4 p.m.

A spokesman for Mrs. Eisenhower said she planned to do nothing but rest while here.

It's bad enough to be poor. Or sick. Or old. To be all three is something else.

For most of us, there's always a chance that tomorrow will be a better day. There's always the future.

It's a different story when you're old and penniless. When you've outlived all your friends and loved ones. When what you have left is all you've ever had.

Think about it. Then do something about it. By giving the United Way you can make somebody's last years a little more comfortable for a happier future.

People are counting on you. The old, the sick, the disturbed, the poor. Help us help.

If you don't do it, it won't get done.

His life depends on your reaction time. Your reaction time depends partly on your skill as a driver. But mostly on whether you're a driver who is always alert, anticipating the unexpected.

Our streets are filled with surprises. And each one is an accident in the making. In fact, accidents are surprises. Unexpected. But the driver who expects the unexpected—every minute behind the wheel—gains precious seconds. The seconds needed to avoid an accident.

Our business is automobiles. Our concern is people—both in and out of cars. And we know what can happen when a driver fails to give driving his full-time attention. For your sake, as well as others, give yourself all the time you need to react.

President Recruited to Help Make Wedding Bells Ring

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — If you think all it takes to marry off a daughter is money, you're wrong. You also need a groom, and he's got to be at the wedding— which is where I run into problems.

When the President, after his speech, moved past someone who thought all it takes to marry off a daughter is money, you're wrong. You also need a groom, and he's got to be at the wedding— which is where I run into problems.

NEW YORK (AP)—"Today Show" meteorologist Mark Davidson, whose stolen $1,000 Greek vase was found with other loot in an uptown house, said Monday that "when I get it back I'm going to give it to the Metropolitan Museum."

"It's not safe to own such a thing in New York anymore," Davidson added.

The weatherman on the NBC show also commented that thieves these days seemed to be "getting cultured." The vase dates back to the 4th century B.C. and another Greek vase and four 18th Century Italian engravings were taken in the same robbery.

One of the two youths who allegedly robbed Davidson at his Manhattan apartment Oct. 10 was identified as Douglas Jordan, a senior at the University of the Sacred Heart in Maryland. Jordan is a former member of the National Student Reliance Council, a former member of the National Student Reliance Council, a former member of the National Student Reliance Council.

Lighting Firm
Begs Rate Hike

NEW HAVEN (AP)—United Illuminating appealed to the federal government for an exemption to the price freeze to allow it to increase customer rates starting Nov. 1.

The company cited the high cost of low sulfur oil, which electric utilities must use under a state law that went into effect Sept. 1, as the reason for the request.

The appeal was contained in a letter sent to the Office of Energy Preparedness by UI President Angus N. Gordon Jr.

The company had made a similar request Oct. 8. Gordon said if the OEP doesn't grant prompt approval, he will ask the agency to transfer the request to the newly created price commission.

The price freeze announced by President Nixon in August extends until Nov. 30, when Phase 2 goes into effect and the price commission assumes authority.

Manchester High's brief one game home stand was rewarded as the schoolboys ended four-game losing streak by upending Maloney High of Meriden, 40-12, in a lopsided contest, Saturday the Red and White travels to East Hartford to battle Fenney High.

Jumping off to a quick 40-0 lead, East Catholic has been quieted down in its last two outings and now boasts a 4-2 mark. The OCCL standings were altered after Saturday's contests. The biggest change was the addition of Fenney High, which upset Platt High of Meriden, 34-13. Currently there is a four-way tie for first place. Platt, Bristol Central, Conard and Hall all share a 4-1 CCCL record.

In the Central Valley Conference, Windsor High leads the nine-team loop with an unblemished 3-0 record. A half game behind is Simsbury High at 2-1. Southbury High is next with a 2-1 record.

Over in the Hartford County Conference, Xavier High is almost a sure bet to take its second consecutive title. Last year the Falcons won top honors with a 4-0 mark. East Catholic and Northwest Catholic are tied for second with 3-1 marks. The standings could be altered again this weekend. Front-running Conard meets Bristol Central, while the unpredictable Windham Whippersnappers and Southbury collide in the CVC.

Manchester after enjoying its biggest scoring outburst of the season, plays another weak effort in its home game Saturday. Knights have been romped in all six of their outings. In their opener, Waterbury placed a 42-10 loss, on Fenney, Eastern won easily, 24-11. Hall trolled the Black Knights, 49-0, in a non-league contest. Platt registered a 42-10 bombing and a shutout. Platt defeated a 42-10 bombing and a shutout.

Manchester will face Fenney in the Tribe must stop the one-time CCCL warfare. Last year Knights, passing in order to the field goal. Against Platt, Fenney put the ball in the field goal department.

Double coverage—The aggressive Manchester High's defensive secondary of Bill Rhodes, left, and Lyle Eastman beat the ball away from potential Maloney High receiver Ron Bacote last Saturday.

Hectic Moments of Happy Day
All in Day's Work for Jockey

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—The hectic minutes of a happy day for young jockey Bobby Woodhouse came when he had to rush from the Laurel press box to ride another horse following his victory on Run the Gantlet in the $150,000 Washington, D.C., International.

"Thanks for inviting me, one and all," trainer Elliott Burch said in accepting congratulations as the 3-year-old Run the Gantlet gave him and Pat Mellon their third International victory in the United States in 10th of 20 runnings.

The 22-year-old Woodhouse barely had time to catch his breath before the stewards said he couldn't get off his mount in the eighth race. He had to rush to the paddock, made the race—a $25,000 allowance—and won by about a length on a horse called Target.

The victory over Target, a 4-year-old, was Woodhouse's second in the International. The Gantlet in the annual $150,000 International and Horse of the Year honor.

"Moving to the Yankee race track at Saratoga, N.Y., was a big change for me," Burch said. "But at this time, Run the Gantlet is as good as a top performer as at the same stage of development. He will not run again until February in Florida."

When Run the Gantlet does run again, and again, Burch said, it will be on the grass. "My horse likes to run on the grass," Burch said. "If he runs on the dirt, he won't have a chance to shine."

Before the race, Burch had said Ord's horse to ride with him.

"I'm happy to see that," Burch said. "The horse is really a fine horse. He's got a lot of talent. He's got a lot of talent. He's got a lot of talent."

On Run the Gantlet's Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's off-track betting on Run the Gantlet's victory in the International at Laurel, Md., Monday, compared to the track's payoff of $3.00 on a two-dollar bet.

The exacts, the exact order of finish by the first two horses, was $2.80 for a one-dollar bet.

The victory in the 1 1/2 mile International, Run the Gantlet, one of two American entries in the field of nine horses, won on odds-on favorite at 4-3.

The Laurel crowd of 21,323, the largest in the city since the start of the season, was in good luck. The exacts, the exact order of finish by the first two horses, was $2.80 for a one-dollar bet.

World Series Hero Blass To Speak Here

World Series pitching hero Steve Blass will be in Manchester Tuesday night, Nov. 16, to tell how he beat the Baltimore Orioles in his two appearances, including the final game, which gave the Pittsburgh Pirates the championship.

The occasion will be the annual Manchester Lodge of Masons Sports night. The Masonic Temple, dinner tickets are now available from lodge members.

Landing Blass is a real plum as the 28-year-old righthander out of Mountain Regional High School is the No. 1 figure in baseball today following his World Series triumph. True, he didn't win the series most valuable player award — which went to teammate Roberto Clemente — but he has been recognized in many quarters as top performer for the underdog Pirates.

Soul of Baseball: National League American League Declined After Downfall of Yanks

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (NEA) — The cold figures provide a crunch for infielders. The soul of baseball is in the National League. The people respond to its brand of the game. This year, the NL outdrew the American League by five million fans from four million last year.

Of the 22 teams in the National League, only San Diego failed to exceed a million in attendance, generally the break-even figure. Of the 12 in the American League, only four made it. They're they rampant decline of the American circuit is directly related to the decline of the New York Yankees.

More than that they destroyed an image. People loved to hate the Yankees. They were the resident bad boys of the history of baseball. Baseball front office men like Gene Paul in Cleveland jockeyed around 150 schedule makers for Yankee Sunday dates in their home parks.

They did, through a draft, and they broke up the league. More than that they destroyed an image. People loved to hate the Yankees. They were the resident bad boys of the history of baseball.

"I heard of the Yankee spirit when I was in Chicago," he recalled. "But I didn't know what it was. Then I joined them in '46. Early in the season, Yogi Berra came to bat in a 3-1 game. Yogi had been around the club since '46 but was just then coming on a regular. He hit a 4-6er between the rightfielder and the first baseman. Yogi could fly like hell in those days, but he just jogged down to first. When he fell in, he settled for a single. The next two batters died out and there was a grandstand to end the inning. No run.

"When he came back to the dugout, I was the runner, smoking a cigarette. I heard Charley Keller, say to Yogi in a straight voice, 'You're talking to me — why didn't you run that one out?' Then Johnny Lindel bopped on him. You Billy Johnson. And Dimag took a 4-10. Dimag had to do what an important underdog against Washington. One

Season High Bench Experience Factor In Climb of Boston Celts

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, who won 11 National Basketball Association championships with Bill Russell and a flock of other talents, are counting upon bench experience for a "now" future.

After missing the playoffs the last two years with Russell in retirement, the Celtics are sporting a new-odd look under Coach Tom Heinsohn, a former Boston star.

Badminton Featured On Skates

Badminton anyone? World-champion badminton player, Hugh Fergie and his attractive partner, Shirley Marie, give a skilful exhibition of badminton on the ice with the recent edition of the Ice Capades, opening Tuesday Nov. 16 at the Eastern States Coliseum, W. 21 Springfield, Mass. for just 10 nights and eight matinees.

Fergie's artistry on the blades and his phenomenal athletic wizardry would be a challenge to most of the country's top skaters. He has been hailed from one end of the world to the other.

As a youth in Brantford, Ontario, his athletic energies went into football and hockey as well as badminton, but even with great ability as a hockey player, badminton won out. He went on to become 11 times world champion.

After the tournament circuit with the late Ken Danvers and his doubles partner, Ice Capades scouts came up with the idea of putting Fergie on the ice against the New York Yankees. The results thrilled audiences. For an absence of two years for a personal health problem, he returns with even more deftness and showmanship.

The amazing performance projects both ease and simplicity to the audience. However, as much stamina as any sport I know, its dazzling speed calls for split-second timing, it is the quickest reflex action and perfect coordination. Only the best conditioned athlete can play it well. "That goes double for badminton on ice!"

The fact that Fergie plays the game with such great agility that, at times, even Shirley Marie has trouble keeping up with him. Finally, Fergie winds up playing and returning his own shots, keeping around the clock to pick up after shot after shot.

He coordinates so well to gether you forget the whole game is on ice, with both playing wearing skates. "I don't know how he does it," said one of the audience members.

The dinner is slated to start at 6:30. The Nutmegger is the first of the best pitcher on the 15-16 last season. Blass, who appeared here several years ago in a pinch, was the North Canadian hurler work of the 1951 season. He was the first to turn out, Robinson was right.

Blass has been in pro baseball 11 years, six of which were spent with the Pirates in the National League. He has set a time record of 66 wins and 81 defeats, his best years being 1954 in 1960, 15-10 in 1959 and 1958 last season.

Former Star Rod Gilbert In Between Bruin Aces

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League's scoring race looks ever so familiar to day with Boston's Phil Esposito and Bobby Orr of the Bruins leading the way.

What's not so familiar about it is that, squeezed in between the two Boston hotshots is New York's Rod Gilbert, off to the best start of his 10-year NHL career.

"I'm in the middle of Esposito and Orr, and I'll be chukking. I don't think I'll like that," Esposito said.

Esposito, who set an all-time record last year with 76 goals and 132 points, won his second scoring title last season with 50 goals and 103 points.

That's fast company for Gilbert and he's enjoying it, thank you. "We had a couple of high scoring games," the flashy right winger said, "and that's how come I got so many points. But I think you'll see me playing a little more defensively this season."

Defense has been the key for Rangers who won the Vezina Trophy by allowing the fewest goals in the NHL last season. Emile Francis, general manager and coach of the team, prefers a close-checking style of game and the Rangers are modeled as that kind of team.

Still, you have to score goals to win games and that's where Gilbert fits in. The Rangers have scored 30 this year and the Bruins lead the league with 44 goals.

Sharockman Intercepts Two Passes Vikings Douse Colts' Touchdown Flames

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP)—Ed Sharockman grimly remembered what he called the early days of the Minnesota Vikings—days when Johnny Ultras and the Baltimore Colts used to burn him with long passes.

But Sharockman, and such an inanimate object as the goal post, doused Baltimore's touchdown flames Monday night, 16-10, in National Football League defensive struggle decided in the final minute.

Ultras, who came into the game with 10:30 to play and the Colts down 10-6, grazed the underside of the goalpost on a fourth down play from the Minnesota 42-yard line.

Marinero Impressed Pro Scouts

BRIDGEPORT (AP) — Professional football scouts are labeling Cornell's Ed Marinero as one of the best prospects from the East, according to two Connecticut coaches.

The general consensus of opinion is that Marinero will be No. 1 in the East in the draft. University of Connecticut coach Bob Ciesla told a Connecticut Sport Writers Alliance meeting Monday.

Marinero booted his performance average above 200 yards and moved to within seven yards of the major college career-average record set by Steve Owens at Oklahoma in Cornell's 31-0 victory over Yale last Saturday.

They said he ran "just like Owens," Farrell said.

What's New at Child Guidance Clinic

The Child Guidance Clinic, a private non-profit mental health agency, offers prevention, treatment, and guidance to families where children are having emotional and adjustment problems. This year the clinic plans to expand, to provide training for psychologists, psychiatrists, and social workers. But lack of space limits opportunities for the program.

Each year, the town's youth population and the complexity of their problems increase. At that time, a group of welfare demonstrators took over the Hall of the House of Representatives and earned the corridors of the State Capitol. They created a disturbance during which one legislator received a bloody nose and had his eyeglasses broken, another fell or was pushed to the floor, and a third missed possible injury by stepping into the safety of the press room.

The Child Guidance Clinic faces a continuing challenge to improve the quality of assistance. All projections indicate increased needs in the next few years. The clinic president, Vernon O. Peterson said, "With our excellent staff and energetic board, I am certain we shall meet the challenge of these needs."

The Community Child Guidance Clinic, at 317 N. Main St., is one of the Red Feather agencies of the United Fund, whose annual campaign is now under way. Your contribution gives the United Way, which helps these agencies serving the community and growing.
