WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass (AP) - Connecticut Gov Thomas J Meskill was saluted at a luncheon today as the 51st Eastern States Exposition noted Connecticut Day. It was Meskill's second visit to the 10-day annual fair, having met with other New England governors last Friday. Included in today's visit was a tour of the Avenue of States. including the Connecticut Building, which almost failed to open this year for the first time. A year ago, Meskill announced his state would no longer support the exhibits and maintenance of the building His decision followed an announcement from exposition trustees that they would keep the fair in West Springfield, despite lucrative offers from several Connecticut communities to move to tax-free land in the Nutmeg State.

Following Meskill's pullout, exposition officials negotiated with the Connecticut Farm Bureau Association and the Connecticut Business Industry Association, who agreed to take over the Connecticut Building, and have set up exhibits on the theme of the partnership of agriculture and industry.

Mayor Frank McCoy of Vernon, and First Selectmen Francis Prichard of Ellington and Erwin Stoetzner of Tolland, have issued proclamations in connection with Saturday's events.

The proclamation explains what is probably not too wellknown, that the money taken in for fishing and hunting licenses goes to support state conserva tion agencies and that sportsmen requested that they be required to purchase these licences for that purpose.

U.S. News and World Report says more than a million federal employes probably must wait until Jan. 1 to get a pay raise of 5.14 per cent that, by law, was scheduled for Oct. 1. The President told Congress he is postponing the increase because the white collar employes involved already have received the raise of 5.5 per cent allowed for this year under government wage ceilings. Some 2.3 million military servicemen are due to get a matching increase. A comparability law requires that federal salaries be boosted to meet those paid in private industry for similar work.

says the worst earthquake ever to hit the United States wasn't the San Francisco jolt of 1906. In his study, he claims the worst quake was at New Madrid, Ill., in 1811. At the Mississippi port of New Madrid, a 30-foot wave swamped barges, flatboats and keelboats. The river hissed, boiled and turned a muddy red. Islands disappeared and banks crumbled. And at places, the mighty river flowed backwards. And yet though every building within 50,000 square miles of New Madrid was destroyed and shocks were reported as far away as Boston, fewer than 100 settlers and Indians died in the sparsely inhabited region. The earthquake brought an amazing religious revival, supported by the belief that the quake was a sign of God's displeasure. Preachers reportedly reaped a "harvest of

A subscriber wrote us last week that he believes we are the first newspaper to insist that the writer's name be published with a letter to the editor instead of a pen name. He then comments: "But as I was informed, Manchester is a corrupt, wicked town, and it must be that pressure has been brought to bear on yourself (publisher) and your newspaper. The quotes are from one well known to all in the town. Sorry to see you afraid to stand on your own two feet." My friend, on the contrary, most newspapers insist that letters to the editor be signed with the true name of the author and simply won't condone pen names. We don't really understand what the gentleman means in his remark about pressure being applied to the publisher. Like Harry Truman, we always felt when we couldn't stand the heat in the kitchen, we'd get out. We don't yield to pressure. We have an acquaintance who attempts that strategy just about everyday that we open our mail and generally there is some type of sermon as part of every letter. But it makes us feel closer to God, and we'll confess, we need it. Speaking of letters, last week we received one in which the seal had been slit and there was nothing inside. It may have

Whale Dies In Mystery SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) -Veterinarians at Sea World are investigating the death of Baby Tootoo, a 700-pound Beluga

Officials said the 7-foot mammal, between 2 and 3-years-old, survived a weekend flight from taken after her capture, but died on the way from the airport to her new home.

Sea World veterinarian Robert Temple said Baby Tootoo had been ill since her capture and was riding a wet sling aboard a flatbed truck when she died. An autopsy will be performed, he said.

Vacation Plans Awry

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

The best laid plans of mice and men, not to mention women. invariably go astray when vacation time rolls along.

No matter how early you start no matter how many lists you make, something is bound t happen that leaves you with a last-minute flurry of unpacked essities. unconfirmed reset vations and and unsettled nerves This year I was determined to beat the system.

Our passports were in order. So were our smallpox vaccination certificates, even though you don't need them these days to get back in the country.

The trains, the planes and the mails all were reported to be in working order. Unlike the year there was a postal strike in Britain. Grudgingly, I placed a transatlantic phone call to make hotel reservations in England only to be told: "Can't you confirm it in writing, please?"

This year, I mailed neatly typed letters - carefully filing the car-bons - a full three weeks before

Of course I managed to mis adress one of them, sending it to the wrong address in the wrong city in the wrong county Somehow, those British postmen now back on the job thank goodness, got the letter on the ight track and I received an answer. After a long-enough delay to allow for considerable worrying - on my part - and rision - on my husband's.

Then there was the problem of laundry. Anyone who's eve packed for vacation knows that it takes at least a master's degree in nathematics to figure out just men to do the last laundry before leaving. Timing is crucial so the whole family has enough clean clothes to take along and enough clean clothes to wear before departure. Naturally, somebody always winds up with one too few pair of something. Planning where to go is simple right? Wrong. Three weeks before we were to leave our itinerary was set. Then meone suggested another opion. Two weeks before departure lay we were wavering. Another friend talked about the crowds. Maybe we should change plans. And what about the weather? One week before eaving we were more uncertain Thurs. Only-Sept. 21st!

It's 1973, and Chevrolet roofs are opening, seats are swiveling, bumpers are retracting, hatches are flipping up.

Did you ever have so much to talk about that you didn't know what to say first? We're happy to report that's us for 1973. But since everything must begin somewhere, we'd like to draw your attention to our root...

Isn't it romantic?

You see that rectangle beaming at you from above? That's a moonroof. Not to be confused with a sunroof. (Although many people will undoubtedly be caught using it like one.) A power roof is available on Chevelle and Monte Carlo; a manual one on Nova.

We've been thinking about your legs One of the few things people asked us to improve in our popular Chevelle was leg room in the backseat. Well, your knees will be pleased with the '73s. There are almost 31/2 more inches for leas in the sedans.

Take the easy way out

Order our new Strato-bucket front seats that swing out 90°. They help make entrances more dignified and exits less showy.

You can get them on Chevelle and on Monte Carlo, our new road car. Monte Carlo, by the way, is gorgeous. And if you'll forgive a little immodesty, we think you'll find it the best handling American car you've ever driven.

Who'd have thought we'd ever get excited about bumpers?

This year's, however, are something to get stirred up about. One of our new bumpers,

New Malibu Colonnade Hardtop Coupe for example, is built around twin hydraulic cylinders. So on minor impact, the whole system retracts to cushion the shock. It's standard on all big Chevrolet, Chevelle and Monte Carlo models.

You know us for our little Vega Hatch-oack. Now dependable Nova has one. Which iterally makes it half trunk with the backseat down. It's a feature as practical as Nova itself.

"Rides like a truck" is now a compliment We designed a completely new pickup for 1973. And tried to make it everything. you've always wanted a truck to be. We think it's the smoothest riding, easiest handling pickup ever built. And the roomiest inside. It also looks like a light-duty truck ought to look.

Naturally, we've only given you a taste of what's new in Chevy cars and trucks for 73. Among other things, we're introducing a new Exhaust Gas Recirculation system, a hatch-back for wagons, a wider selection of colors and vinyl roofs and new interior trim fabrics. Plus a highly refined flow-through power ventilation system, a reading light for front seat passengers, improved suspension systems, reclining seats and scores of dramatic styling changes.~

Computers Still Lack A Memory

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) - A computer is a better recall machine than the human memory in some

But it excels only in terms of pure quantity. No human mind could store and then deliver back on demand the millions of figures or letters or words that a computer can.

But when it comes to quality, the machine is hopelessly outclassed. Only the blood-fed heart and mind can recall the flavor of a memory or restore an emotional event with all the impact that it had originally.

The memory of a machine brings forth only statistics; the memory of a mind makes the past come alive again and throb with feeling and meaning. You've got a pretty good

Business Mirror The Fringe Of Benefits

By JOHN CUNNIFF NEW YORK (AP) - If you fail to analyze critically those surveys made from time to time about the swift growth in fringe benefits paid to workers you might believe that life was becoming a big handout. So great has been this growt that the term is not just a misnomer in terms of English com position but is badly dated archaic in fact, in 'terms o modern labor-management col

Merriam-Webster, for exam ple, defines the term this way An employment benefit grante by an employer that involves a noney cost without affecting basic wage rates."

"Granted?" Of course not even management concedes that it is "earned." And what about 'benefit?" The word has it origins in "an act of kindness, which also makes its us uestionable Semantics aside, what ar called fringe benefits are inde rising as a percentage of payrolls. Last year, according to a National Chamber of Commerce study, they accounted for 30.8 per cent of the average firm's payroll.

In 1961, it states, the average nnual benefits paid cost $1,254 Similar payments last year averaged $2,544, a gain of 103 per cent in one decade. Out of average annual earnings of $8,260 paid in 1971, the Chamber lists three average benefits per employe: Social Security $372, up 178 per cent in a decade; insurance $369, up 171 per cent; paid sick leave $81, 131 per cent up.

Following in order are: profit sharing $86, up 105 per cent; paid nolidays $244, up 94 per cent; private pensions $402, up 91 per ent; paid vacations $400, up 90 per cent, and "other" $228, up 20 per cent.

Does this mean that labor i draining away the vitality of its employer? Some businessmen are inclined toward that point of view, and you don't have to search for them. They include U.S. Steel executives and variety store proprietors.

Before jumping to conclusions you must define "worker, pecause some of the most peneficial fringes are those that make the executive's life more comfortable and financially rewarding. Benefits are not solely a blue-collar phenomenon.

Nevertheless, some executives draw on a vast array of statistics showing that corporate profits have indeed been pinched in recent years by rising payroll costs, despite the growth in overall prosperity

But in a broader perspective that includes social good and national goals it is more difficult to assess the impact. Productivity of American factories has not risen as fast as in many countries. but that may be changing.

In fact, a study just released by Standard & Poor's shows that "for the first time in recent years there was a significant dip in 1971 in the portion of the sales dollars of industrial companies that went into payrolls.

S&P defines payrolls to include wages, salaries and fringe benefits, which it said amounted to only 26 cents for every dollar of sales, down from nearly 28 cents in 1970. The percentage was the lowest since the 1950s.

Of 29 industrial groups for which comparisons were made. 19 showed declines in wage-cost

THE OTHER WOMAN. By Rona Jaffe. Morrow. 246 Pages.

The principal figure of this novel is a woman with an odd quirk. All her life - and she is pushing the age of 40 when these events take place - she has avoided marriage, housewifery and the domesticated life, having a zero response to such things.

Her name is Carol Prince. and she has done pretty well in what she always wanted to do - writing. As a free lancer for the magazines she wanders around the world writing articles that give her a comfortable income, working at her own pace and getting some kicks out for those who crave a good of the oddballs she runs into. RELUCTANT NEIGHBORS. By E.R. Braithwaite. McGraw-Hill. 184 Pages. $6.95.

The author's current work demonstrates his ability to write smoothly and profoundly about a very static topic racial discrimination

This book is autobiograph cal. Braithwaite's casual and slightly humorous style takes some of the weight from heavy, emotional situation. De spite the chuckles, he is telling the world that he and many others like himself have been terribly abused, through no fault of their own.

This time the scene is America. The author is riding il, the train is behind schedule His irate seat companion initi ates a conversation and i shocked to learn that he has taken a seat (the only seat that was available) next to the author of "To Sir, with Love."

The stranger asks the autho why he is teaching and writing when he was so highly trained in the field of physics. Braithwaite explains that when he discovered it was his color that made the difference, he accepted teaching as an alternate means of earning a living -- "in a smelly classroom with 46 foulmouthed youngsters ....

The author's experiences and his childhood in Guyana are told through flashbacks. Most interesting of all, he gives us more of those touching classroom scenes that delighted the readers of his first book - "To Sir with Love." But Braithwaite's personal testimony of hi struggle in a racially oriented society carries the message o how a little understanding en couraged him to make the most of a bad deal - and in doing s he has tried to reach out to help others.

Ouster of Reds Builds Hope Of Mideast Peace

Editor's Note-Egypt's dramatic expulsion of Russian military advisers in July provided a faint but real glimmer of hope that peace was possible in the Middle East. The Munich tragedy brought a setback but it has not dashed that hope. Here is the first of two dispatches on what the Middle East looks like today and what the future may bring.

By HARRY DUNPHY BEIRUT (AP) - Passions ignited by the Munich tragedy will take a long time to subside, and more violence is likely in the Middle East. But the general mpetus is toward peace, not wan in the weeks before Aral terrorists struck at the Israelis' Olympic headquarters, Egypt and Israel showed renewed interest in reaching a negotiated settlement of the 1967 war.

Seasoned diplomats thought it was just a matter of time. Many were certain the logjam would break after the U.S. elections, which they expected to ease restrictions on the Nixon adninistration's range of actions in the Middle East.

Egypt fundamentally altered the strategic equation in July by expelling thousands of Russian troops and military advisers Without them and without new Soviet arms, Egypt would be virtually powerless in a new war with Israel.

Until the expulsion, war in some form seemed inevitable. Now it appears much less likely, but this does not mean that peace is just around the corner.

The thorny, seemingly insoluble problem of Palestinian refugees-and the guerrillas who fight their cause-will continue to upset peace efforts, as they did at

Israel has warned it will "strike at the terrorist organizations wherever we can," as in the retaliatory air raids in Lebanon and Syria this month. But Prime Minister Golda Meir added: "The terrorists cannot weaken our desire for peace. They will not alter our peace policy."

Thus although Munich has thrown up a roadblock to peace moves for a while "the dust will settle and we can start up," an official in Tel Aviv said.

President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, in a separate holding action of his own, has been preparing a diplomatic offensive to get European Common Market countries involved in trying to arrange a settlement with Israel As a result of Munich, relations between Egypt and West Germany, re-established three months ago after a seven-year lapse, are strained. But Bonn did not figure as prominently in Cairo's plans as did Britain and One key to action seems to be the United States and the useful role it can play by using its political weight to secure an Israeli withdrawal. Perhaps anticipating postelection pressure from Washington. the inner circle of the Israeli Cabinet has been informally discussing what frontiers are needed to guarantee the country's security, but no decision apparently has been reached Egypt's primary concern is getting Sinal back. The only realistic way appears to be the U.S. plan or "proximity talks" aimed at an interim agreement to reopen the Suez Canal as a first step. This in turn must await the outcome of the November elections, officials in Cairo believe.

Sadat rejected Mrs. Meir's appeal on July 26 "to meet as equals to make peace," repeating Egypt's position that no negotiations are possible without an advance Israeli commitment to withdraw from occupied land-that otherwise such talks serve only to reward aggression. The other linchpin in Egypt's position is that there must be no bargaining on the rights of the Palestinians, but this is purposefully left vague.

The guerrilla attack clearly embarrassed the Egyptian government but the guerrillas are not a major factor in official thinking about a possible settlement.

Palestinian leaders get moral support and the use of a radio transmitter but little else from Egypt, which has almost no resident Palestinian population and keeps tight rein on guerrilla ac-

Two years ago the palestinian guerrillas represented a dynamic new force in the Arab world. Now the movement seems to be on the ropes.

The organization called Black September has its origins in a civil war that began two years ago this month in Jordan between King Hussein's army and the guerrillas, who were crushed and eventually driven from the coun-

That defeat marked the start of the decline of the guerrilla movement and opened a way toward increased peace moves because until then Arab leaders had to take into account the considdrable support the guerrillas enjoyed among their populations.

The man who some historians say really was the "first President of the U.S." now appears on a new 6-cent post card.

The card honors John Hanson, a Maryland delegate to the Continental Congress who was elected to head that body under the Articles of Confederation and signed himself as "Presi-dent of the United States in Congress Assembled." Accordingly, his supporters argue that therefore he preceded George Washington as the first chief executive of this nation. The fallacy of the argument is that the Articles of Cor federation did not provide for such a President. That came later with ratification of the Constitution and the subsequent election of Gen. Washington. The new post card is the second in a series dedicated to colonial patriots issued by the U.S. Postal Service as part of the commemoration of the Bicentennial of the American Revolution. The first in the series, honoring Paul Revere, was issued last year. The design features a por trait of Hanson, above which appears the wording "John Hanson Patriot" and beneath which is "U.S. Postage 6c."

The new supplement begins where Catalog 8 left off - the King David stamp of 1969 and runs through the "Let My People Go" single stamp of March 7, 1972. Catalog 8 lists all issues from No. 1, the famous Coinage stamps of 1948. The catalog sells for $1.50 and the supplement for 50 cents at your ocal stamp dealer or stamp department.

Adding to the list of the many nations issuing stamps for the Summer Olympic Games in Munich are Tunisia. Indonesia Egypt, Burundi, Ethiopia, Iran, reland and the Netherlands. The Tunisian designs are unusu al in that they feature athletes eaping or swimming through the Olympic circles while a stylized sunburst, designating Munich, appears prominently.

Look for a special stamp next year by Canada commemorating the centenary of the famous and fabulous Royal Canadian Mounted Police, sometimes referred to as the Northwest Mounted Police.

> A. To have disablity protection, most workers need Social Security credits for at least five years out of the 10-year period ending when their disability begins. For the worker who becomes disabled before 31, the requirement ranges down with age to as little as 11/2 years. Q. When is a person considered

"Disabled" A. A person is considered disabled under Social Security if he has a physical or mental impairment which (1) prevents him from doing any substantial gainful work, and (2) the condition is expected to last (or has lasted) for at least 12 months.

Q. Can payments be made under disablity if I will return to work after one year? A. Yes. Payments may be made even if a person is expected to recover from his disability as long as it was expected to last a year and prevent you from doing substantial gainful work. Q. Is there a special provision for blind people under Social Security as to what is considered blindness? A. A person whose vision is no better than 20/200 even with glasses (or who has a limited visual field of 20 degrees or less) is considered "blind" under the Social Security law. If he is not working, he can generally get monthly benefits if he meets the work requirement. Q. Is there a pamphlet that gives some information about Social Security disablity benefits? A. Yes. It is entitled "If you become disabled" and may be obtained by writing, telephone or visiting the East Hartford Social Security office, 657 Main St., East Htfd 06108

Q. When do Social Security disability benefits start if I am found disabled?

A. Payments do not begin until the 7th full month of disability. Q. Should a person wait six months before filing for disability henefits? A. No. You should file as soon as possible after the disability

Reading Grant Received

Ralph Saccuzzo, principal at It is a residential camp for Similar treatment is allowed Hebron's Gilead Hill School, children with language disreports an innovative reading program aimed at increasing eading interest of students in Grades 2 through 4 will begin by the end of this week.

The program is sponsored by a $2,000 fund grant from the State Department of Education. Mrs. Doris Schefisch, fourth grade teacher, and Mrs. Jacouelyn Smakula, second grade teacher, are directing the program.

Youngsters involved in the program will be evaluated by their teachers for a period of si weeks to determine reading ability and their use of the library and media materials and knowledge of library skills.

Following this the children will be scheduled into the library for an additional one hour per week during Phase I of the program. During this three-week period students will be encouraged to browse through the materials and equipment especially purchased for the program such as books. tapes, film strips, records, etc. Saccuzzo said this should stimulate interest in the program and help the children to gain familiarity with the materials in preparation for Phase II. At this point, children will be encouraged to read and report on classmates. This is where their creative abilities will be utilized. he said.

The children can share their reading experiences through making a film strip depicting the plot of a story or through skits. plays, puppet shows or drawings. In other words, the media they choose to report on the book which they have read will be as the tax commissioner 30 days varied as their imaginations and creativity allow it to be. Saccuzzo feels the program, which will be 18 weeks long, should prove to be worthwhile in the terms of adding that dimension of motivation needed to stimulate greater interest in reading

Judge Rules Erving Case To Brooklyn

NEW YORK (AP) - A federal judge in Brooklyn, N.Y., has ruled that his court, not a federal court in Norfolk, Va., nor a state court in Georgia. has jurisdiction to decide where Julius Erving will play basketball.

The ruling prompted a federal judge in Norfolk to postpone indefinitely a hearing he had scheduled on a suit brought by the Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association to bar Erving from playing with Atlanta of the National Basket ball Association The 6-foot-7 forward, one of the ABA's leading scorers and rebounders as a rookie last season, has jumped to the Atlanta Hawks for a reported $1 millionplus contract. Hawks is a claim on Erving from the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA, who contend he belongs in Milwaukee because the Bucks NBA player draft.

Erving brought the Brooklyn court into play when he filed suit as a New York resident asking the U.S. District Court there to declare his contract with the Squires invalid

The Brooklyn judge Tuesday said he would hear the case, and set Sept. 29 as a hearing date for the Squires' plea for a preliminary injunction to prevent Erving from keeping company with the Hawks.

Erving also sought to have a state court in Atlanta declare his Squires' contract invalid but the court refused to rule on the legality of the agreement. The Georgia court did, however, issue an injunction forbidding the Hawks from barring Erving from

Notes From The Little Black Book

Look for a vast improvement in the Illing Junior High football team this season just because of the presence of Alex Ferguson on the coaching staff. The big fellow has been a "winner" for more than two decades as a player and coach and he knows the game from A to Z. Ferguson will assist Bill

Troy with the gridders. The former will be reunited with a number of his former players from the fine Midget Football League program ... It's been good to read in numerous daily and weekly publications critical comments on Howard

Dan Madulano caused a few raised eyebrows recently when he scored three's on the last five holes at Ellington Ridge. Two of the holes are par three and the others par four...Several tennis buffs in town have called to complain that some platers are not observing the rules and when other players are waiting and play on and on for as much as two hours. Other complaints have been that youngsters move onto the courts after-dark at Memorial Field and do not feed the meter but use the light from the adjacent court while raising cain. It's a problem that won't be cured at either Memorial Field or Charter Oak unless there is supervision and that is too costly ... "I looked over the midget foot ball league and thought that it was too rough," Cunningham said, "and in Little League baseball, I found that the parents spoiled it for the children with too much competitiveness. So for myself and the boys. Karate was the answer." Cunningham and his three sons. Edward, 12. William, 10, and Brendan, 9 began their lessons in January. One month later, his wife Joar and their daughter Fionna, 7 started taking lessons.

'Warate, which is characterized by chopping blows delivered with the side of the open hand, is great for physical fitness and discipline." Mrs. Cunningham said "Our instructor is very strict. We have one-half hour of exercise to do each night a home and at class we begin with a half-hour of exercise before we start our lessons, she added.

"Karate is really a series of defense movements. One such move, 'chun ii', means 'heaven and earth.' Another, 'ton tun epresents the legendary founder of Korea," Mrs. Cunningham Explaining the loud shout that defenders use when they let go a blow, Cunningham said, "That shout is called 'Keu' and is meant to intimidate and ward off an attacker. It also gives the defender a chance to release ox ygen thereby making the blow nore powerful." "The purpose of Karate is no to actually strike your opponent but to intimidate him and scare him off," he added. Edward, who is in the seventh grade at Bennet Junior High School, enjoys the lessons very much.

"We practice together," said," and sometimes the kids at school ask us to demonstrate bu we turn them down. We usually tell them that if they want to see how its done, they can attend any of the classes and watch."

In a referendum held March the question was also defeated, by fewer voters but by a much wider margin of 1,481 to 1,015. At that time the voters were not offered any alternatives. The expansion plans were presented as one $8.6 million package. In March only about 22 per cent of the 11,500 registered voters turned out. In yesterday's referendum about 45 per cent voted, and this was by far the largest percentage to vote in a referendum, even higher than when voters approved conolidation eight years ago.

> Plans for expansion of the hig school have been in the works for about five years. The question of whether to expand the present facility or build another separate high school was weighed for several months before the Board of Education agreed that the one large school would be the best for the town and the students. Voters approved an appropriation of $125,000 to purchase land adjacent to the high school which would allow for the expansion. This was accomplished at a referendum held in December 1970 and in February, 1971 an appropriation of $120,000 was apoved to allow the architectural irm of McHugh and Associates, prepare preliminary plans.

Meskill noted that Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian plans to appeal the ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court, and also is asking the lower court to allow the antiabortion law to remain in effect until the appeal is decided. The court could do this I granting a stay of its injunction against enforcement of the law. "I think we should first of all wait and see what happens to that request for a stay," Meskill said at a news conference today

The governor said he had not nished reading the federal court ruling, but already found rather difficult to understand

"We haven't had a review of our abortion statute by the Supreme Court and certainly we're entitled to it." said state Atty. Gen. Robert Killian Wednesday night.

A three-judge U.S. District Court struck down a Connecticut abortion statute Wednesday for the second time in a year, declaring that "A fetus is not a person within the meaning of the 14th Amendment," the amendment concerning equal protection of the law.

The Supreme Court hears arguments on Texas and Georgia anti-abortion laws Oct. 10 and although it is too late to include Connecticut in the hearing. Killian hopes to have the state's record before the justices when they deliberate. The Texas law is "quite similar" to Connecticut's, said Killian
