water pressure dropped considerably for a short time. One fireman said that normal pressure of 200 gallons per minute dropped to 30 gallons per minute at one point. Because of the water pressure problems, several pieces of fire apparatus could not operate at their capacity, firemen said.

Fred Thrall, general manager of the Manchester Water Co., said mechanical pump out of operation for a short time. Repairs now have the problems fixed, Thrall said today, but water pressure has still not yet built up to normal.

For some time during the struggle against the blaze, firemen laid hose and ran water from the town's system, via a hydrant at Main St. and Middle Tpk.

Controlled Late Monday
The blaze was declared under control at 8:07 p.m. Monday, nearly six hours after it was discovered. Many out-of-town men went home when the fire was brought under control, but firemen continued to pour thousands of gallons of water into the building up until about 3 a.m. today.

This morning, the building was still smoldering and occasionally flames were breaking out in scattered areas. One Eighth District truck was at the scene today, setting down the building. Chief Lingard said wetting down and cleanup would probably continue for several days.

As water was poured into the building during the night, below-freezing temperatures caused lines to freeze up temporarily. Sheets of ice covered walls of the building as the fire subsided.

After firemen had the blaze under control — when shooting flames from upper windows could no longer be seen — the area around the building was iced. Icicles formed everywhere, and many firemen suffered minor injuries slipping and falling on the ice-covered ground.

Town highway department crews sanded roads in the area, as they were covered by snow from rain-out. Police had blocked off streets in the area, and Hilliard St. was still closed to traffic today.

The monumental cleanup job began before midnight, even as some men were still fighting scattered fires in the building. The Hartford Fire Department sent steam jennies to haul out hose and equipment. Crews from the Rocky Hill Fire Department arrived to assist at about 9 p.m.

Hundreds of spectators jammed the area in late afternoon, and police were busy trying to keep youngsters away from the burning building. Problems were reported by police.

The Salvation Army's canteen truck from Hartford arrived at the fire scene early, serving coffee and refreshments to weary firemen. Many area residents opened their doors to the men, offering food and warmth.

Fire companies gathered at the scene in the early stages of the fight were probably there the longest. They included not only the Eighth District volunteers, but also men from the Town of Manchester, Vernon, Rockville, and South Windsor.

Dramatically fighting the fire were the Town of Manchester's ladder truck, the Rockville Surt (an aerial boom), and South Windsor's "cherry-picker," an aerial snorkel with a platform.

The town ladder truck was positioned on the west side of the fire.

Why are vitamins popular? ... Some people believe that vitamins relieve sluggishness and fatigue. ... There is no foundation for this. ... Others believe that vitamins prevent colds. ... Again there is not the slightest bit of evidence to support this contention. ... But the man who has been taking vitamins has been fortunate enough to avoid a cold during the winter. ... The vitamins he is taking are really useful and necessary and sometimes lifesaving. ... Proper medication alleviates a great amount of discomfort. ... # IRS Backs Off On 'Invention'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The head of the Internal Revenue Service says he regrets that someone in his agency invented and used the mythical name of Hubert H. McGovern in a sample income tax return. The mythical citizen has as his mythical address, 1599 Pennsylvania Ave., Washington, D.C., which would be in Lafayette Park, directly across the street from 1600 Pennsylvania Ave. which is the White House.

The name and address showed in an IRS publication called "Fundamentals of Tax Preparation" in a section that deals with income averaging. The agency said the publication is designed for college and adult education course in tax preparation.

Johnnie M. Walker, the IRS commissioner, sent letters of apology to Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential candidate, and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, who contained the McGovern name and some name combinations. "We deeply regret the use of the name and address which some individuals may associate with you in an uncomplicated way."

Walters said "It is safe to say that the mythical name of Hubert H. McGovern has been removed from the publication."

President 60 Years Old Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, observing his milestone 60th birthday today, says he "hopes to do great things" in the first four years of his seventh decade.

He doesn't feel old, he says. And to keep feeling young he suggests looking to the future, not the past, and staying in contact with younger people.

Nixon granted a birthday-eve interview to two news-service reporters, provided the discussion was limited solely to his birthday reflections. He took time out from working on his inaugural address for a 25-minute talk in his Executive Office Building hideaway.

The President said he doesn't like observing birthdays annually anymore and prefers to make note of them only on the decades—"every 10 years."

He cited his 10-year milestones starting at age 20 when he was "a junior in college, majoring in history and English, going out for football," but "never made the team."

At 30, he was in Bougainville in the South Pacific in World War II. At 40, he had just been elected vice president. At 50, he was just defeated for the governorship of California and at 60, just re-elected for a second presidential term.

Never in those decades, he said, had he had just been elected vice president. At 50, he was just defeated for the governorship of California and at 60, just re-elected for a second presidential term.

Dr. Kennedy, in his prefatory comments to the recommenou budget, said that these objectives were used for planning. To meet prior commitments, especially as part of the two-year contract settlement with administrators and teachers; meet inflationary demands; meet statutory requirements for the education of exceptional children; budget realistically for contractual and fixed items that have been cut to meet past budget reductions.

Also, make available adequate teaching and learning supplies and equipment; provide adequate maintenance for the schools and other buildings and grounds entrusted to the Board of Education; improve the educational process for students by continuing the trend towards individualization of instruction; provide additional options and alternatives for students; and provide opportunities for in-service training for the present staff and continue curriculum development activities.

The 1973-74 budget anticipates $2,580,100 revenue from sources other than taxes on real and personal property. The five largest individual items are $2,155,000 in general state aid; $250,000 for special education; $80,000 for elementary and secondary school transportation; $55,000 for Project Concern; and $15,000 from building rentals.

Major John Thompson summarized the board's majority feeling which was echoed by the others. He urged referring the issue to the voters and stressed the need for the directors to push the proposal to the people.

The property in question is owned by Wells C. and Robert C. Dennison who have given the town a "no strings attached" option to buy until July 1. The action authorizing the referendum will, if approved, allow the town to buy the property for $449,500 and expend an additional $200,000 for site preparation and landfill operating equipment. A total authorization of $1,391,000 in general obligation bonds is being requested.

The consensus of the board seemed to be that the issue had been raised at public hearings last week, were discussed and it was agreed that for the foreseeable future the landfill method of solid waste disposal would be the most efficient and economical for the town.

Shovel an improved method be developed in the future, the land use could be diverted to alternate uses such as recreation which is the intent when it can no longer be used for waste disposal.

A resolution was also adopted declaring the board's intent not to complete the purchase of the property, should the voters approve a referendum on the issue.

Town Manager Robert Weiss approved the board information concerning the project would be disseminated immediately, when concern was expressed over the lack of time to inform the voters on the project proposal, its need, costs and other pertinent matter.

Laurel Lake Referendum To Be March 13

By FLOYD LARSON (Herald Staffer)
On March 13, the voters of Manchester will be asked to approve a referendum authorizing the town to purchase the 110-acre Laurel Lake property for a sanitary landfill site.

The town directors at a meeting Tuesday night voted with one exception to go ahead with plans for developing the tract into a sanitary landfill and set the date.

The exception in the 6-1 vote was that of Director Anthony Pietroniro, who said he could not support the referendum in good conscience because of the date. He said, "I think it will be better if we wait until after June 15, when we have a chance in May."

Director Jon L. Norris was absent and the seat vacated by William W. Brown, who took over this new duties of the office of probate has not been filled on the nine-member board.

Major John Thompson summarized the board's majority feeling which was echoed by the others. He urged referring the issue to the voters and stressed the need for the directors to push the proposal to the people.

Town Schools Given $115,000

By FLOYD LARSON (Herald Staffer)
Four Manchester school system programs which have been operating under deficit financing since September are in the black today.

The Manchester Town Board of Directors Tuesday night approved the appropriations to the system of $115,000 from the town's surplus.

The action was substantially less than the $208,000 originally requested by the Board of Education and explained at a public hearing on the matter last week.

The appropriation was approved after only some clarifying discussion between the directors and Superintendent of Schools James P. Kennedy over the difference between a $93,000 request for the four reinstated programs, funds in teaching supplies, repairs, etc. of approximately $115,000 had been set aside. These now can be applied to the programs.

The four reinstated programs funded by the board action are: adult education, $26,000; dental hygienists, $27,000; extra-curricular, $21,000; and private school busing funds, $41,000, all of which had been trimmed from the school budget but reinstated in Council-Crossroads program.

Other items originally requested, but not granted by the directors, were: cafeteria supplies, $17,000; accumulated sick leave for teachers, $18,000; contractual salary agreement with certified teachers, $50,000; and $8,000 originally allocated for high school roof.

Tax Reform Proposed

HARTFORD (AP) — The Governor's Commission on Tax Reform told Gov. Thomas J. Meskill today that Connecticut doesn't need a state income tax at this time, but urged instead a comprehensive overhaul of the state's present revenue system.

The commission's long-awaited report noted that while future revenue needs might necessitate a state income tax eventually, "the existing state tax structure will be sufficient to meet Connecticut's needs in the foreseeable future."

Having its position on anticipated revenue increases of 6.7 per cent a year and a 5 per cent per year increase in state income taxes, the commission said new taxes would not be needed.

In fact, the panel suggested several areas in which existing taxes could be cut, including a recommendation that the state's seven per cent sales tax be reduced to 6 1/2 per cent, effective July 1. The sales tax rate reduction should be coupled with elimination of the present exemption on children's clothing and the application of the 6 1/2 per cent levy on personal services, the commission said.

The report also argues property tax reductions for increased business and corporate taxation, the commission recommended that corporations taxes be carried forward where there are capital or operating losses, that corporations be allowed to deduct from corporate taxes 100 per cent of the interest paid starting in 1974, and that in 1976, banks be allowed to deduct interest paid to depositors from their bills.

As for insurance companies, the commission suggested their corporate taxes be brought under the same provisions as other business taxes and that the current levy on interest and dividends be eliminated in the present statute expires at the end of this year.

To compensate the cities and towns for revenues lost because of the commission's other tax proposals, the report argues that block grants be increased. It also suggested that tax-exempt property be assessed for services taxes, but not regular property tax rates.

Also recommended by the commission is a complicated reworking of the system for financing local education. It would involve equalization of financial support for public education, a format once described by Gov. Meskill as the "Robin Hood principle." Essentially it would redistribute education funds so that wealthier communities would help poorer towns carry the burden on school financing.

Part of the plan includes establishing a State Board of Assessment and Supervision and a uniform assessment date of Oct. 1 by which all property in the state would be assessed on the same criteria once every five years.

The commission's findings were contained in a three-volume report submitted at the close of a study of the state's tax system begun last summer.

Firemen Seek Cause Of Bon Ami Blaze

By DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter)
Preliminary investigation of the general alarm fire Monday which gutted one of the old Bon Ami buildings on Hilliard St. has determined that the fire apparently started on the third floor near the center of the concrete building.

The intense fire, fought by more than 250 firemen from Manchester and surrounding towns, is still being investigated. The blaze was "definitely suspicious," Eighth District Fire Chief Granville Lingard said, noting that there were several smaller suspicious fires in the same building in the last year.

Meanwhile, another major fire which occurred early Tuesday morning has been classified as of "unknown" origin, Lingard said today.

That fire, which destroyed a three-family house under construction at W. Middle Tpk. and Hawthorne St., was reported at 4:10 a.m., and weary firemen were still battling the warehouse fire on Hilliard St.

Chief Lingard, the State Fire Marshal's office, and local police are investigating both fires. Lingard said today that there was "nothing to point to anything out of the ordinary" at the house fire. The nearby completed dwelling was a complete loss, Lingard said, noting that it is very hard to prove anything when a fire entirely destroys a building.

The fire is still considered suspicious, Lingard said. He mentioned that there was an arson attempt at another dwelling just a few homes away on W. Middle Tpk. recently.

CRC Favors Ban On Firemen Holding Political Office

By SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter)
The Manchester Charter Revision Commission, by a 3-2 vote last night, rejected a proposal to ban firemen from holding public office.

It was a sequel to an action taken only three weeks ago, when a proposal to lift the ban against policemen holding public office was defeated 9-0.

The chief advocate of the ban before we're told to lift it. Robert Stone replied, "It's wrong for us to quote something like this (court action) without a study, and it's wrong for Mr. Sullivan to bring the proposal before us so abruptly. I'm disappointed, John, to see you do this way."

John Sullivan proposes new charter drop ban on holding political office by firemen.

John Sullivan, Manchester's mayor, proposed today that the town charter be amended to allow firemen to hold public office. Sullivan said the current ban is "outdated and restrictive."

Sullivan said the current ban is "outdated and restrictive." He said the ban was put in place in 1954, but that firemen have since held various public offices, including school board members and town council members.

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

North wasn't overjoyed to jump-raise in hearts with only three-card support, since such a bid usually promises four or more trumps. In this case, North had to make an unmistakably strong bid, and the jump-raise was the least of evils, provided that South knew how to handle a short trump suit.

West took two spade tricks and then led the third spade. South had to make the key play of the hand at the third trick. If South ruffed and tried to draw trumps, he would use up all of his own trumps, but West would still have one. West would be able to ruff the second club and cash the rest of the spades. This would hold South to eight tricks.

Dummy Can Ruff
If West leads a fourth spade, dummy can ruff. Then South can safely draw four rounds of trumps and cash his high cards in the side suits.
If West leads anything but a spade, South can still draw four rounds of trumps and run out the rest of the tricks. He takes four trumps, one diamond and five clubs.
Remember this little trick of discarding, instead of using a trump. It will serve you well when dummy is ready to take over the job of stopping the opponent's suit; and it is very useful when you have only a four-card trump suit.

Chamber Seeking Tight Shoplift Law

The Board of Directors of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce passed a motion at its meeting Tuesday urging area legislators to give their support to any legislation aimed at discouraging shoplifting.

The chamber members have for some time been concerned with the increase in shoplifting, not only in this area but all over Joseph Paradis, manager of the Grant store at the Tri-City Shopping Plaza, and several other members of the board, expressed concern that the penalties for shoplifting are not severe enough and urged that they be strengthened.

Government Given Broader Access To Tax Records

Gives Talk

John F. Sutherland, instructor of history at Manchester Community College and director of its Institute of Local History, will give an illustrated talk on "Immigrants in America," an examination of their experiences in cities, particularly in Connecticut, at Sunday's meeting of the Manchester Historical Society.

It will be held at 2 p.m. at Iling Junior High School. Sutherland initiated two of the local institute's projects. One involves a survey of regional historical records of social, economic, and political institutions, public and private. The other is a non-credit, enrichment course that has been given several times at MCC on local history, emphasizing genealogy, preservation of old manuscripts, and techniques of museum operation.

He is also vice president of the Connecticut League of Historical Societies, chairman of the Association for the Study of Connecticut History, and a member of the American Historical Association.

A native of South Portland, Maine, Sutherland received a BS in education, with distinction, in 1964, and an MA in history in 1965, both from the University of Maine. He is a candidate for a PhD in history at Temple University.

Before joining the MCC faculty, he taught at Schriber High School in Port Washington, L.I., N.Y., and at Temple.

'Car-Doc' Makes House Calls

FAIRFAX, Calif. (AP) — Frank Lathrope carries wrenches and pliers alongside a stethoscope and forceps in his little black bag.

His two partners are similarly equipped, and their converted postal truck has a handy selection of timing lights, compression testers, ignition parts, fan belts and other tools found in a normal service station.

Lathrope, Neil Crowley and Michael Tachet run a "Car-Doc" business here that specializes in house calls. Their bright-yellow truck is a miniature service station on wheels. It brings help to ailing autos wherever they may be 24 hours a day.

Lathrope said he has adapted the stethoscope — useful for locating sinister noises in a running engine — and the forceps and other tools for special mechanical tasks.

"I have a standing order with all the tool supply places to let me know when anything good comes in," he said. "If a tool can make the job easier or save time, I want it."

As for business, "There's a lot of people who don't like to take their cars and leave them in service stations for hours on end," Crowley said. "We work right there, wherever they have their car at."

He said some customers are awed to hear Car-Doc makes house calls and surprised at the flat $10 service charge.

Crowley said they are able to charge a low price because they don't have the overhead of keeping up a building.

Lathrope says he has only turned down one call. "It happened onto a car stalled on the freeway and offered Car-Doc's services," he said, "but the driver wanted me to lift out the whole engine and put in a new one, right there on the freeway."

The partners hold down other jobs and take turns running their auto service outfit, but soon they hope to have three fully equipped trucks.

Vandals and souvenir hunters in Rome are attacking so many ancient statues throughout the Italian capital that the city's Antiquities Office now maintains a complete collection of molds of every statue's nose to ensure accurate restoration.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government has a right to compel bookkeepers and accountants to turn over tax records of their clients, the Supreme Court held Tuesday by a 7-2 vote.

While specifically avoiding a hard and fast rule, the majority said a Roanoke, Va., restaurant operator had no right to assert her Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination when her bookkeeper was hit with an Internal Revenue summons for her tax records.

In dissent, Justice William O. Douglas said the decision could lead to government invasions of privacy which will "stultify the exchange of ideas that we have considered crucial to our democracy." Writing for the majority, Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr. said, "it is important to reiterate that the Fifth Amendment privilege is a personal privilege. It adheres basically to the person, not to the information which may incriminate him."

"The criterion for Fifth Amendment immunity remains not the ownership of property, but the physical or moral compulsion exerted," Powell wrote quoting from an earlier decision.

The case arose when Mrs. Lillian V. Couch appealed a Richmond Circuit Court decision which upheld the summons to her tax consultant. She claimed that the summons violated her Fifth Amendment rights and her rights under the Fourth Amendment to be free from unreasonable searches and seizures. Her records for 1964-1968 were summoned from Harold L. Shaffer, a bookkeeper who has aided Mrs. Couch with her taxes from his office above a drug store since 1959.

Mrs. Couch maintained that the Internal Revenue Service was not only examining her tax returns but was considering criminal prosecution.

"The privilege against self-incrimination is the shield of the taxpayer as soon as the finger of accusation turns toward her," read her appeal to the high court.

Mrs. Couch's complaint stemmed from the revelation of possibly incriminating information. Powell wrote, not from the manner in which it was extracted.

Such divulgence, he continued, where the individual was not coerced, "is a necessary part of the process of law enforcement and tax investigation."

Powell said the court did not decide what qualifies as possession falling under Fifth Amendment protection. He said the situation in which possession by a third party is so temporary and insignificant as to leave the person substantially intact," which are more experienced in the ordinary practices of taxpayers, in order to examine more closely the limits that should be placed on governmental inspection of records.

Justice Thurgood Marshall dissented, saying he would have sent the case back to the district court and circuit court, which are more experienced in the ordinary practices of taxpayers, in order to examine

The decision sanctions yet another tool of the ever-widening government invasion and oversight of our private lives," objected Douglas. ## School Board Considers Offering Spanish Course

JUDITH DONOHUE
Correspondent
Tel. 649-8499

The possibility of offering Spanish as a foreign language at Bolton High School and a presentation on a proposed Individually Guided Education (IGE) program for the elementary school are two of the major items on the agenda for Thursday's Board of Education meeting to be held in the Center school's library at 8 p.m.

The feasibility of including Spanish in the curriculum at the high school was brought up at last month's board meeting, where it was noted that addition of the course would probably necessitate a cutback in other phases of the foreign language program. At the present time the only language offered are Latin and French.

IGE Report
IGE unit leaders are expected to present the school board with a proposal for implementation of a more individualized program for students in elementary school.

Teachers have been studying IGE since the summer and have been attending workshops, lectures, and gathering materials in the hopes of introducing the program this year.

Teachers are expected to ask for board approval of the program Thursday so that necessary materials may be included in budget requests now being prepared for the next school year.

The related arts program, which has recently encountered some difficulties at the Center school, is also slated for discussion at the meeting.

Also on the agenda is a discussion of the health program, reports from subject area coordinators (department heads), and reports by board committees.

Work on the budget for the 1973-74 school year will continue, as the board has scheduled action on personnel, program and space needs presented at previous meetings. Requests for library and audio visual materials and funds for operation of plant will also be considered this week.

Girl Scout Cookies
It's girl scout cookie time again, and the little girls in green will be calling on Bolton residents from Jan. 13 to Jan. 27.

Lillian Harpin of Shady Lane is in charge of townwide sales. She will be assisted by a cookie chairman in each scout and brownie troop.

Marilyn Glidden is chairman for Troop 85; Deborah Goric, Troop 69; Mary Radion, 68; Jean Mahon, 67; Marylou Lemaire, 66; Rose Fiano, 65; and Dorlee Cloutier, Troop 64. Anyone wishing to purchase cookies who is not contacted by a scout may contact Mrs. Harpin.

Candidates Sought
The nominating committee of the Democratic town committee is seeking qualified candidates for offices to be filled in the upcoming May elections.

Persons wishing to learn more about any of the posts or to submit their name to the committee for consideration may contact Maureen Houle, nominating committee chairman, or any other member of her committee which includes Sophie Litvinskas, Gertrude Vogel, John Mahon, Aloysius Ahearn, Richard Broslow, Richard Barry, or Allan Hoffman.

Common Market Expanse

A potential super power — the European Common Market — took a big step forward with the beginning of the new year. England, Denmark and Ireland joined the six original members, France, Italy, Belgium, Luxembourg, the Netherlands and West Germany.
So far and for the foreseeable future, the Common Market is a loose economic and trade confederation, with no political union. It may be decades before it can achieve much more than a customs union and free trade area. Common policies of the nine countries are concerned primarily with taxes and protectionism.
Their announced goal is monetary and economic union by 1980 but some experts hold that political union is required for economic union and a general policy may be needed for such an evolution.
Inflation is a problem for the Common Market countries as it is in nearly every other part of the world.

While the United States and Soviet Russia are dominant power factors in Western Europe, as well as eager competitors for trade, Japan has been making tremendous inroads in electrical appliance manufacturers are asking for curbs on Japanese imports. And, while Western Europe continues to rely upon the protection of the United States against Russian power, the Common Market will vie for Russian and Chinese markets and at the same time endeavor to retard the growth of American business within its borders.
Italy has a jump on the other partners and competitors in doing business with the Russians, thanks in part to a huge Fiat factory in Russia.
The task for the United States is to persuade the Europeans to shoulder more of the burden of their own defense and to permit the maximum of free trade, not only among the Common Market members but with the free world.

Other Editors Say 1973 Assembly Opportunities

If the General Assembly goes up in Hartford this session, it will have nobody but itself to blame. A Republican Senate and a Republican House will be partnered by a Republican governor and administration. With a forthright leadership and a modicum of good will, the party should be able to put through a long, aggressive, constructive program.
The legislature finds the state with enough going for it so that no emergency breakthrough programs or desperate experiments are called for. Gov. Meskill's austerity program has helped produce a healthy surplus while still holding most state services at adequate levels. Federal revenue-sharing money has come through to towns and cities, taking the heat off the state to provide funds for relief of the property tax payers.
Connecticut is in the happy situation, then, of needing no new taxes and even being able to get a cut in the old. It has been clearly demonstrated that we can get along without an income tax. We should also get along comfortably with one percent taken off the sales tax — which is at present the highest in the nation at 7 per cent.
This is a good year for study and restructuring of taxes to make them more consistent and to eliminate loopholes. If the Republicans can accomplish this in a statesmanlike manner they will have justified their session — and Democrats who act as watchdogs against special privilege and politics will have done their job.
Meriden's legislators have committed themselves to legislation which will eliminate the pension plan program voted by the last General Assembly, and to rolling back the inordinate pay raises. No pensions are needed for legislators, and pay raises should be in context with other pay raises and fringe benefits. When it comes to a shield law to protect news sources in Connecticut, an all-inclusive law, with no exceptions, would be the only one worth considering. To protect only certain cases would provide less rather than more protection than the First Amendment already underlies. Instead of categorized protection, most newsmen would prefer to take their chances with the courts.

There is work to be done, too, with social legislation. We need a no-fault divorce law, and perhaps improvement in the no-fault insurance law. If, as looks likely, the Supreme Court throws out the present strict abortion law, it would be nice if legislators could keep hands off this problem which is one of personal ethics and medical judgment not of law — but don't bet on it.
Adjustments in the state's environmental protection apparatus may be necessary — the regulations on control of wetlands are not yet really enforced, much less enforced.
There is room, too, for constructive advance in the attempt to open up the highway fund for use in mass transit systems.
Altogether, if the legislators keep their noses to the grindstone and their eyes on the real needs of the state, they have a chance to turn in an exceptionally illustrious performance for 1973. They won't have to go far to make themselves look better than their predecessors in the 1972 session. — Meriden Morning Record

Today in History

Today is Wednesday, Jan. 10, the tenth day of 1973. There are 355 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1946, the first general assembly of the United Nations convened in London.
On this date —
In 1776, the American revolutionaries in France published their pamphlet "Common Sense."
In 1861, Florida seceded from the union.
In 1889, France established a protectorate over the Ivory Coast in Africa.
In 1928, one of the chief architects of the Soviet Union, Leon Trotsky, was ordered into exile.
In 1920, the League of Nations was established as the Treaty of Versailles went into effect.
In 1942, the Japanese invaded the Dutch East Indies in the second world war.
Ten years ago ... Ceylon's prime minister arrived in Peking on a mission of conciliation in a border dispute between India and China.
Five years ago ... Secret Service agents arrested three persons in New York City and seized more than $4 million in counterfeit $100 bills.

The Industrious Military Complex

The beginning of the end for the Military-Industrial Complex, as we had come to know and love it, can now be dated from the closing days of 1972.

It was then that the U.S. Navy purchased for $1.7 million a majority of preferred stock in The Gap Instrument Company, a faltering defense firm on the verge of bankruptcy.
In a democracy dedicated to civilian control of the military, this unprecedented step naturally created an outcry. "Why," queried my Uncle Sherman, for one, "didn't the Navy buy a good growth stock like Fidelity Investments, instead of this dog?"
But the Navy knew what it was doing. Just as a man who's got two shares of Sunoco Oil naturally goes out of his way to buy Sunoco gas, so the Navy naturally went out of its way, too.

What's a couple of million in overruns between us stockholders, ha, ha?" the Navy cheerily told Gap Instrument. "Have another. So who counts?"
Business boomed. The stock soared. By June, the Navy realized a neat net profit of $4.7 million — which it promptly invested in Beagleman's Battleships.
"Do you really think there's a profit these days in building battleships?" the Navy's new Chief of Investment Operations (CINOP), Admiral Radford Bradford was asked.
The Admiral smiled. "There is now," he said.
In nine months, America was on its way to having not only the mightiest, but the richest, Navy afloat. Consternation reigned in the other branches of the service.
Not to be outdone, the Army retired all fiscally conservative generals and bought 100 shares of Consolidated Crossbows, which in a year, it parlayed into a fortune of General Motors.
The Air Force drafted Sweeney (Take a Flier) Shave, a suede shoe salesman, as its Chief of Staff. And who can forget Marine Corps General Burton (Buy 'em Out) Bixby, who won two Silver Stars for bravery in exercising stock options under adverse fire?
"Ticker tapes hummed in the Pentagon. Fearless teams of Coupon Clippers snipped beyond the call of duty. And in the War Rooms, cold-eyed strategists studied and analyzed the latest Dow-Jones averages, plotting their tactical moves.
By mid-1974, through a dazzling series of mergers, America was now denoted by The Military-Industrial Conglomerate, Inc., a registered holding company.

Admirals and generals wore diamond stars and drank champagne from ladies' slippers. Enlisted men from non-commissions offers to stockholders, third class, grew paper wealth in reinvested dividends and deferred debentures.
Then, on Black Tuesday, Oct. 29, 1974, panic!
Somebody started a vicious rumor that peace in Vietnam was at hand. Despite General Bixby's heroic charge up Wall Street firing off salvoes of buy orders, there was no stemming the tide.
A despondent Admiral Bradford buried himself from his Pentagon office window.
(Fortunately, he had, as always, gotten in on the ground floor.) And the conglomerate went under, taking its defense subsidiaries with it.
With generals now selling apples in the streets, Congress had no choice but to rebuild the military and the industries from scratch. But this time they added a simple law that each must henceforth mind its own business.
At all costs," said one Congressman wisely, "let us avoid The Complex."

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

If you are planning an airline trip, be sure to allow additional time at your boarding station for your security check.
The answer is to eliminate carry-on luggage if you are taking a trip and this can be pretty difficult for women and salesmen. If the airline delays a briefcase, the salesman might just as well have gone Amtrak.
A woman feels she needs a cosmetic case even though there is only one chance in 100 that she'll ever open it during a flight but she feels better simply because it is under her feet or under her seat.
At larger airports, though, more inspectors are going to be needed to handle the crowd and it will be expensive for the passenger having to pay. It is safe to assume that some days you can have six inspectors on duty, with three of them standing around most of the day, and there will be other times when six couldn't begin to handle the crowd. Some folks in the travel industry tell us that January is the slowest month of the year but you wouldn't believe it in visiting airports from here to the far West. And even in January, it is a bit risky to travel without a hotel reservation. At any rate when traveling it's pretty difficult to believe all the stories you read in some circles about a sluggish economy.

In regard to anti-hijacking measures it is safe to assume that if our congressmen stand in line long enough and often enough for the security check there will be a change in the law.
We can understand why space at dining establishments New Year's Eve is at a premium. Yet we discovered that by greasing the waiter's palm, money talks in Chicago just like it does elsewhere. For your entertainment, we can heartily recommend the comedy, The Prisoner of Second Avenue, starring Art Carney and Barbara Barrie.

Tough Anti-Litter Bill Introduced

HARTFORD (AP) — A strong, anti-littering bill has been introduced in the Connecticut legislature by Senate President Pro Tem Peter L. Cashman, R-Lyme.
The measure would set a $500 fine for convicted litterers and would also require the litterbug to perform up to 40 hours of useful labor — cleaning state parks and roadsides.
In addition, Cashman's measure would suspend the litterbug's driver's license for 10 days and the individual's hunting or fishing license for a year.
Auto-industry observers also were intrigued by the production of a couple of one-off cars — a Pinto from Ford and the "XP-898" test car from Chevrolet.

Two State Towns Given HUD Grants

WASHINGTON (AP) — New Haven's Housing Authority and the Town of Branford were among the receiving end Tuesday of two federal grants from the Housing and Urban Development Department.
HUD officials said Branford would receive $422,700 to help finance sanitary sewer line construction in the heavily populated shoreline areas of Indian Neck, Short Beach and Double Beach.
The New Haven grant involves $171,571 for the rehabilitation of a building at 31 Jefferson St.
The building will be renovated to house neighborhood services agencies, including a Day Care center, recreational facilities, a teen lounge, offices for Area Legal Assistance and the Wootter Square Corp. and classrooms for the Branford High School in the Community, a program for high school dropouts.
Plans call for extending the facility's services beyond the immediate area by providing special bus transportation and other housing projects to the center.

It promises to be a bumper legislative year.
According to Commerce Clearing House, which keeps tabs on the doings of state legislatures, 49 legislatures are meeting this year. This is 12 more than met last year and some meet only every other year.
Clearing House says almost every subject imaginable from A to Z will be covered by the houses of bills that will cascade into legislative hoppers. And if the past is a guide, there will be emphasis on R and T, revenue and taxes. Amen.
Worth thinking about during these January doldrums: The pleasure-boat industry reports a 25 per cent increase in 1972 over 1971 boat sales as more Americans seek pleasure recreation to take advantage of increased leisure time.
The number of tennis players was up 20 per cent; bicyclists 15 per cent, and skiers, 10 per cent. Golf had only a 4 per cent increase in players at the nation's 10,665 golf courses. There are now 10.4 million regular golfers and 2.5 million who play 15 or fewer rounds a year.
What's your golf category?

U.S. Automakers Eying 'Sporty Car' Models

DETROIT (AP) — Domestic auto makers, long adherents of the "longer, lower, wider" syndrome, may be thinking seriously of producing sports cars or at least "sporty cars" — in the intermediate price range.
So far, the imports have cornered the small but significant market, paced by Fiat, Triumph and Porsche. Another import, the Opel GT, is distributed by Buick.
Meanwhile, the only true American sports car is the Chevrolet Corvette, and its sticker price puts it in a league with Alfa Romes, Jaguar, Lotus and the more expensive Porsche 911.
Several considerations may be prompting the pondering of traditional two-seater sports cars by the domestic auto makers:
— The move toward smaller cars, already met with the Pinto, Vega, and Gremlin to combat the small imports. Automakers believe people are moving away from the luxury car laden with options, and the compact and subcompact now hold about 30 per cent of the market. "Small doesn't mean cheap any more," one auto company official said.
— The restrictive safety and emissions standards. It is easier to meet the standards with a light car getting good mileage on a small engine, although meeting crash limits may annoy stylists of the trim sports cars.
— The success of the import sports cars, especially the Datsun 240Z. That Japanese product hit Detroit hard, and domestic dealers began yelling as they watched their competitor ship in cars already sold.
The Datsun, a sleek GT hardtop sports car, is only now building up an inventory, and waits of up to six months for delivery were not uncommon. Automotive experts — including both the car-magazine people and jealous Detroit officials — regard it as one of the very best new cars to enter the market in years.

Auto-industry observers also were intrigued by the production of a couple of one-off cars — a Pinto from Ford and the "XP-898" test car from Chevrolet.
The Pinto is a small, square-off convertible with a removable hardtop similar to the Porsche 914's. Some observers believe it is a forerunner, or perhaps a cousin, to a "mini-Mustang" they expect to replace the lagging muscle-car.
The needle-nosed XP-898 is not intended for production, but it is still a thorough, worked-out sports car. It was designed to test a new construction concept — a unified body-frame of foam filled fiberglass layers — and was a solid success in that area, according to Chevrolet.
If such a type of car does emerge for public consumption, it probably would sport a price tag from $3,000-$4,500; an engine to produce more power and performance than other small cars; and either a hardtop or the removable top with integral rollbars. The rollover standards have spelled the death of the canvas-top convertible.

Double Sessions Will Cut Cost of School Buses

A schedule for busing Vernon students next September, was approved Monday night by the Board of Education with members being pleasantly surprised to find that it will cost the board less than the current busing schedule.

Wolff Asks Clear Data On Schools

Speaking briefly to the Board of Education Monday night, Town Councilman Thomas Wolff, who was also co-chairman of a committee formed to push for an addition to Rockville High School, urged the board to clarify its projected school enrollment figures before it again tries to seek voter approval of a twice-rejected school addition.

School Board Bars Student Delegate

A motion to have a student advisor representative on the Board of Education, was defeated by the board Monday night and a new motion calling for further information to be brought to a future meeting was approved.

Wolff, armed with recent school population figures, emphasized that the school population has leveled off, and if the high school addition is finally approved, this would increase the school building program in Vernon, now and in the future. He said this included elementary building as well as secondary.

Reid Questions Fund Share

ANNE EMT Correspondent

First Selectman Aron Reid informed the Board of Finance Monday that he is still consulting with the town counsel regarding an appeal of the low amount of Federal revenue sharing funds that the town is receiving as compared to area towns of comparable size.

The town has received the first of two equal installments, the total of which amounts to $13,288, and Reid stated that it is felt that the town is not receiving a fair amount.

ZBA Bars Moving Of Gas Pumps

The Zoning Board of Appeals, meeting Monday night in public hearing, denied a request to relocate the gas pumps at Vinton's Store, now the Driftwood Restaurant on Rt. 31. The request had been made by Arthur J. Vinton, who was represented by Atty. Richard Crumie.

The request was to relocate the pumps 200 feet further down Rt. 31, to a point just about opposite the fire house. Since the land in question is a non-conforming use, ZBA action was necessary. The relocation would have constituted an extension of a non-conforming use.

Although it was not brought out at the Monday night hearing, Vinton explained to the board this morning that if the variance had been granted, he would probably have sold the land, and that he "suspects someone would like to put up a gas station there."

Speaking against the request were residents Herman Marshall and James Curry. Voting against the request were Donald C. Smith and Marlyn Richardson. In favor were Sterling MacPherson and Alternate Richard Hawley, who was sitting in for absent Chairman Raymond Desmore.

Nader Seeks Car Price Cutback

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ralph Nader and his Consumers Union asked the courts today to roll back increases granted by the Price Commission for 1973 model General Motors and Ford cars.

Last month the commission granted increases averaging $54 a car for General Motors and $23.55 for Ford. The commission also based the increases on figures from a three-month period when earnings were abnormally low.

The commission analyzed the profit data for the automakers' third quarter, the suit said, but failed to allow for strikes, model-year changeover and the low-profit fleet sales which accounted for a significant portion of the quarter's sales.

Women Wear Paintings

By ALISON LERRICK PARIS (AP) — What is a portable, washable and knitted painting? It's a sweater.

The new art form at Axis, a kitsch L&L Bank gallery, only looks good on a body.

There used to be plastic shrubbery, satin apples and painted ice-cream sodas in the gallery. Now, there's a two-tone jacquard knitting machine, borrowed along with its technician from Woolmark.

It's busy knitting "paintings" at the rate of 25 a day, all signed and designed by seven contemporary artists: Adzak, Hernandez, Roughten, Maglione, Rancillac and Lourdes Castro.

Fashion Tips

Complexion Concealed
To conceal a ruddy complexion, use a greenish-colored under-make-up-toner before applying regular foundation.

Healthy Hair
Electric rollers are not hot enough to damage hair, especially healthy hair. But if they're used too frequently, the hair will become dry and brittle. Those who use already damaged hair should use the conditioner lotion that goes with these setters.

Make-up Removal
All make-up should be carefully removed at night in order to avoid skin irritation. A cleansing cream removes most make-up, but skin freshener and a thin moisturizer helps keep the skin in good condition.

Other officers to be installed are: Mrs. Edward Denkin of Bridgeport, president; Mrs. Leo Velous of West Hartford, first vice president; Mrs. Matthew Scott of Danbury, second vice president; Mrs. Bernard Sherman of Stratford, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Sherman of Stratford, recording secretary.

Bus Crisis Talks To No Avail

HARTFORD (AP)—Talks on two fronts of the Connecticut bus crisis produced words of hope but no agreement Tuesday.

The Connecticut Co. met face-to-face with representatives of the state-wide Amalgamated Transit Union for the first time since mid-October to discuss a proposed emergency bus service plan.

Union chief John Thompson said nothing was settled, and added there was "no way" the union would agree to any plan in which only part of the drivers were rehired.

Congress said the two sides would talk again later this week or after Monday's PUC hearing on a proposed emergency authorization.

At the state Capitol, Meskill's executive aide, Colin Pease, said talks with the state-wide committee had been fruitful and useful, and said the state would provide the committee with some "information" it requested. He would not elaborate.

Want To Test Your Mind?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The start of the new year is always rough. Common sense tells you that each year is getting more demanding than the one before. That is the way the world is going.

Therefore now is the best of all times to check up on yourself to see that you are fit for the ordeal.

You need a mental as well as a physical exam.

A glance into the mirror will tell you what needs to be done to tone your body up. But how about your mind — that whetstone of performance? Is it ready to face the ordeal and challenges of 1973?

We've prepared a simple, easy-to-do home test that will help you solve that problem. Simply answer the following questions:

If someone suddenly played "Jingle Bells" in your car right now, would you either scream silently or start denouncing Santa Claus?

Do you think modern school children get too many vacations and ought to spend more time studying and less time frittering the year away?

Have you decided that this is probably the year you'll finally go bankrupt before April?

Are you tempted now and then to sell your house and become a hermit on a desert isle?

Do you tell yourself that you and your whole family would probably be better off if you just threw in the sponge and went on relief?

Aren't taxes about twice what you think you should pay?

Isn't it true you feel you wouldn't need Social Security when you retire — if Uncle Sam would just quit digging in your pocketbook so much you don't have enough to do any real saving yourself?

Don't you just wish the government would let you have a raise to pay commensurate with the way you feel prices have gone up?

For some reason inflation has hit your family harder than it has any other family in the block, hasn't it?

You did get a little tired of the football season toward the end, didn't you?

Every time the laundry sends back two or three more items frayed at the collar or true? The laundry probably has a secret grudge against you and is rubbing them with sandpaper — right?

Well, for that matter, nothing seems to last very long anymore, and they simply don't make things as well nowadays as they used to — isn't that so? Those are the questions. Now to your score.

If you answered no to more than three of them, you are out of your mind and living in a fool's paradise.

But if you answered yes to all the questions, you're in the pink of condition. You simply have a normal case of "winter blues." You should weather 1973 in the same shape. The more you despise you are in January, the more likely you are to be healthy in June.

Reserve the Date

More than an announcement; it is an invitation to all who can, to join with Manchester residents in observing the town's 150th birthday, June 29-30. The billboard is located on the north side of W. Middle Tpk. between Exit 92 from I-88 and the highway overpass. Another is scheduled for West Hartford. Space for both has been donated by Bolte Advertising Companies of West Hartford. ## Town Sues Shopping Center

WEST HARTFORD (AP) — Claiming that Bishops Plaza is a "continuing nuisance," the town of West Hartford has asked a Court of Common Pleas for $100,000 damages and also requested that the court shut down the five-acre shopping area.

Judge Maurice J. Sponto has ordered G & L Corp., plaza owner, to appear in court Jan. 24 to show why it should not be closed.

The shopping center, containing about 25 stores, is located at Bishops Corner.

"The exterior of the premises and the parking areas shall be maintained in a clean and orderly condition," according to a condition under which the Town Council originally granted G & L permission to build in 1966.

The town claims G & L has not lived up to this condition.

Refuse Contractor Given Suspension

The General Sanitation Co. of Newington is being barred for 45 days from dumping refuse in Manchester's landfill area.

The action, announced by William O'Neill, director of public works, followed a meeting he had Monday with General Sanitation officials.

The meeting followed a temporary suspension given the private refuse contractor last week, when it was observed dumping refuse picked up in Hartford.

Private contractors are given permits at no cost to dump refuse at the Olcott St. Disposal Area, provided the refuse is picked up in Manchester.

As a result, in addition to having its permit suspended for 45 days (to Feb. 12), General

Area Pharmacists To Get Licenses

Seven Manchester area residents will receive their licenses to practice pharmacy in Connecticut in formal ceremonies Monday morning at the Hall of the House at the Capitol in Hartford.

They are Linda Wood Quinn, Louis A. Melisko, Ralph Stannone and Antone Ferreira, all of Manchester; Karlen L. Mons of Bolton; John C. Alberti of Rockville; and Paul F. Davera of South Windsor.

Do Not Go Past Go

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Anyone who's ever played Monopoly knows that Atlantic City and the Atlantic City Public Works Commission are the only two places where you can't go past Go.

That may change soon. City officials are thinking of changing Atlantic Avenue to a one-way street, from Mont, and Mediterranean to Melrose.

Democrats Filing Very Few Bills

By DON MEIKLE

Associated Press Writer

HARTFORD (AP) — With the Republicans in solid control of the legislature, the outlook for any bills filed by Democrats is bleak.

However, the minority leaders in the House and Senate have filed a batch of bill proposals, 65 of them so far, which incorporate the plans of the Democratic state platform of 1972.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Robert H. Steele, R-Conn., is touring Latin American countries, in an attempt at securing their leaders into a crackdown on the movement of illegal drugs into the United States.

After visiting Argentina, Steele is spending several days in Peru. He also will see officials in Colombia, Panama and Mexico, his office said.

Steele was among the first public officials to say there was widespread use of heroin by American GIs in South Vietnam.

A spokesman said Steele was traveling under auspices of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. He said the White House is supporting Steele's effort.

West Ladies Fete Sidles On Feb. 17

The Fifth Annual West Side Reunion Ladies' Night has been scheduled for Saturday, Feb. 17, at Willie's Steak House, committee chairman Francis Mahoney announced today.

He said the theme will be a St. Valentine's Dinner-Dance, with cocktails at 6 p.m. and dinner (a choice of stuffed shrimp or roast beef) at 7. Dancing will be to the music of the Tony O'Bright Orchestra.

The committee, in addition to Mahoney, consists of Nick Angelo, Clarence Gipp, Gustafson, Ed Werner, Steve McAdams, Ty Holland, Tom Conran, Earl Bissell, Bill the new system will be in addition to the present weekly lottery and will include a larger number of small prizes.

The report said the drawing for the new operation will be held Thursday immediately following the regular weekly drawing. The second number drawn will apply for the new game and will probably be based on less than six numbers.

Almost without exception, the tributaries draining into the Amazon River are color keyed, the National Geographic Society says. Streams from the north tend to flow black, darkened by the stain of rain-forest vegetation; those from the south are filtered clear by the white sandy country and pick up the sky's deep blue, and streams from the west churn with brown silt of the Andean highlands.

Poland's Mini-Capitalist State In Hot Water

ZAKOPANE, Poland (AP) — Scores of citizens and Communist officials have gone on trial here for turning Poland's most popular holiday resort into a "mini capitalist state" setting, as one paper puts it, with corruption.

Zakopane, known as the Switzerland of Poland, is in a picturesque valley near the Czechoslovakia border by the dramatic snow-peaked Tatra Mountain range. Every year it is visited by more than three million holidaymakers.

Now the town of 30,000 has come under the glare of spotlight as Warsaw's central authorities because of massive land price increases, private speculative deals and widespread bribery of officials.

Zakopane's affluence compared with conditions in rest of Poland sticks out a mile. Visitors familiar with the gray, monotonous designs of Warsaw's prefabricated apartment blocks immediately notice the difference in this southern town.

In lush-green hillside are studied with beautiful alpine-style houses — many of them costing five times more than an average Pole earns in his whole life. Hundreds of these luxury villas have sprung up here in the last few years.

Those now on trial include former officials who allegedly received gigantic bribes in return for approving building sites to private developers. Investors have been charged with obtaining the building materials without holding proper permits.

The state contends that Zakopane's private investment for housing during the '60s reached 1.2 billion zlotys, more than matching the 1.1 billion zlotys of the city. That's the equivalent of $4 million at the official exchange rate.

Polish newspapers are now demanding: "Zakopane must start to fulfill its social role toward the whole country. We into the hands of private capital which quickly imposed its own speculative deals and widespread bribery of officials."

Although Poland has a Communist system, it allows private housing investment and land speculation. This town made holes in the regulations, mainly through bribery.

Said one local paper, Zycie Literackie: "Private initiative did not ask how to bribe, as there was plenty of money around, but whom. Zakopane was unlucky with its authorities."

"There was a saying rife in the town, an official arrived with a briefcase, after two years he has a car and after three more, a luxury villa. Polish stone masons also

Skylab Pre-Flight Tests Under Way

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Late February to be readied for a May 1 liftoff with astronauts Charles Conrad Jr., Paul J. Weitz and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin, a physicist, at the Kennedy Space Center, the first Skylab astronauts was moved to the launch pad Tuesday for a series of fueling and other tests.

After three weeks, the rocket will be returned to the assembly building to be mated with the modified Apollo capsule that will transport the three astronauts to the Skylab space station, orbiting 270 miles above the earth. A dummy spacecraft was on the rocket for the tests.

The Saturn IB was rolled slowly to the pad riding upright on a large transporter with tanklike treads — the same vehicle used to move the larger Saturn 5 rockets that boosted Apollo crews toward the moon.

The most noticeable difference was the pedestal on which the Saturn IB rested. It is made of thick steel beams and its appearance earned it the nickname "Bar Stool."

The structure became necessary when the space agency decided months ago to disassemble two Saturn IB launch pads and to fire the rocket from launch complex 39, from which the Apollo Saturn 5s were lifted.

The complex has two pads and more modern launch control facilities.

But there was a problem: The Saturn IB has one less stage and is 127 feet shorter than the 36-story Saturn 5. So the pedestal was built to elevate the upper stage and the modified Apollo ship to the same level as the Apollo mission.

That way the same checkout facilities could be used without major modifications to the pads of the Whig and the third stage of the Saturn 5 are identical.

The purpose of Tuesday's fueling and electrical line firing tests is to make certain that property and that there are no unforeseen problems with the "Bar Stool" arrangement.

Once back in the assembly building, the spaceship will be mounted on top and the rocket again will be rolled to the pad in

School Board Will Seek Site Development Grant

By JOHN A. JOHNSTON (Herald Reporter)

The Board of Education, Monday night, authorized the school administration to submit an application to the state Department of Education, Bureau of School Buildings, for a site development grant to cover, in part, the cost of athletic and parking facilities at three schools.

Work has been and is being done by the Town Public Works Department, which has requested the school administration to file for state reimbursement since the facilities will contribute to the educational program. William O'Neill, department director, made a preliminary estimate that the grant could amount to $35,000, based on 50 per cent of the total cost.

He added that the repair of four tennis courts at Manchester High School has been completed; two tennis courts and a basketball court at Washington School are ready for use, except for color coating; and the construction of two tennis courts, two basketball courts, and the parking area at Robertson School is about 90 per cent completed.

Student Request

Board action followed on the heels of a request from Christopher Saunders, MHS senior class president, to look into the possibility of the rehabilitation of the two tennis courts adjacent to the high school, hopefully for use this spring. His letter, enumerating a list of disrepairs and calling for repair of the courts, was read by Richard Wasserman, student representative to the Board of Education.

Wasserman said that he agreed with Saunders that the two courts have been allowed to deteriorate for two years and constitute a safety hazard for persons attempting to use them. Wasserman reminded board members that Theodore Fairbanks, supervisor of buildings and grounds, has budgeted funds for two years for the courts, but the money has been lost to other priorities.

Wasserman commented that use of the Charter Oak Field courts by the tennis team involves two problems. First, transportation would have to be obtained. Second, he said, the Recreation Department will not reserve them for school use.

Personnel

The board approved the following appointments: William Woodruff, a resident of Newington, to teach science at Bennett Junior High School, effective Jan. 2. He received his BS from Central Connecticut State College last month. Salary, $7,725, pro-rated.

Also, Mrs. Dorothy B. Reardon, also a resident of Newington, to be a social worker, effective Jan. 2. She received her BS from CCSU in 1965 and her master's from the University of Connecticut School of Social Work in 1970. Her previous experience was two years in Hamilton Township Schools, Trenton, N. J., and three years in the West Hartford school system. Salary, $10,635, pro-rated.

Also, Mrs. Mary Dwyer to be a school nurse at East Catholic High School, where she has filled the position for 12 years. Under Public Act 286, the position now becomes the responsibility of the Board of Education. A resident of East Hartford, she graduated from St. Mary's Hospital in Waterbury, Conn., in 1956. Salary, $7,725, pro-rated.

Chairman Refutes

Allan D. Thomas, board chairman, during the superintendent's report, looked into two critical statements that were made during last week's public hearing portion of the Board of Directors' meeting. The first was that the Board of Education is spending $100,000 to convert the original Robertson School building to central administration offices.

"The town is actually spending $25,000," Thomas said, adding that the state reimbursement will be $25,000, and the remaining $25,000 is the town's in-kind contribution of labor.

In reply to the person who said that the Board of Education is "permissiveness" of the open lunch period at MHS, during which students may buy food at a place of their choice outside the building, Thomas said that the senior high cafeteria shows a profit. The deficit, he noted, is in the elementary schools, where pupils have to remain for lunch.

Mayor Seeks Mandatory Bike-Safety Program

Mayor John Thompson.

Manchester Mayor John Thompson is seeking the support of Manchester-area legislators and the Connecticut Conference of Mayors for a mandatory state bicycle-safety program for all elementary school children.

Noting that bicycle riding has become a favorite pastime for many Connecticut residents, he said, "Thousands of new bicycle riders appear on Connecticut streets and roads each year, and many of them are young children who have no concept of road safety.

"Three basic rules of the road are violated every day of the week in every community of the state. The children run stop signs and traffic signals, they ride on the wrong side of the road, and many of them ride at night without lights or reflective equipment."

Thompson stated, "In the coming fiscal year I will seek funds to begin a five-year construction program of bicycle pathways throughout Manchester. We have mapped out over 23 miles of these pathways, to provide hours of pleasurable riding."

Guest Speaker Town Man In Running For $75,000

State Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian will be guest speaker at the Democratic Women's Club of Manchester annual dinner meeting Jan. 15 at the Manchester Country Club. The event will open with a cocktail hour at 6 p.m., and a roast beef dinner will be served at 7:30.

The affair is open to all club members as well as to members of the Democratic Club of Manchester, the Young Democrats of Manchester and other interested persons.

The guests will include Mayor John Thompson and Ted Cummings, Democratic town chairman.

Killian, a Democrat, has served as attorney general since 1967. A former assistant attorney general, he is a member of the Hartford law firm of Gould, Killian and Kreczky.

Reservations for the event may be made by contacting Mrs. Francis Pisch of 71 Grand Rd., Mrs. Nicholas Jackson of 405 Hackmatack St., or Mrs. Mary E. LeDuc, 531A Hilliard St.

Leaves of absence granted to Mrs. Eleanor Aulman, Bennett science teacher, effective immediately; and Mrs. Carol Hill of the reading department, effective Feb. 26.

Miscellaneous

Paul Greenberg, building and sites committee chairman, announced that the citizens' advisory committee, to study the board's long-range building program, will hold its first meeting tonight at 8 in Room 21-22 of the Barnard Building in the Bennett complex. To date, he said, 22 acceptances have been received.

Stanley Ostrowsky opened the meeting with a critical commentary on the board's plan to communicate effectively with the public. Dr. Kennedy disagreed with one comment that Ostrowsky said he had heard, to the effect that student representatives on the board do not do anything. The criticism, as he heard it, Dr. Kennedy said, is that students sit on the board but do not pay taxes.

Vin Ingraham Dead, Was Retired Banker

Vincent W. Ingraham, 65, of 8 Ardmore Rd., retired vice president of the Main St. Branch of the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., died Tuesday at Manchester Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Ingraham was born Sept. 9, 1907 in Manchester, son of Frank and Iva Wetherell Ingraham, and had lived here all his life.

After graduating from Manchester High School, he joined the staff of the Manchester Trust Co. as a runner in 1925. He worked up through the positions of bookkeeper, teller, discount clerk, chief clerk, assistant secretary, assistant treasurer, and in 1955 was named vice president and treasurer of the Trust Co. In 1958, when the Manchester Trust Co. was absorbed by the Connecticut Bank and Trust Co., he was named vice president and served in that post until his retirement in 1972.

During World War II, he served with the Navy in the South Pacific. He was a member of the Army and Navy Club and a former member of the American Legion and Manchester Lodge of Elks.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Lucy Dickson Ingraham; three brothers, Edward A. Ingraham of Milford, Ralph Ingraham of Campbell, Calif., and William Ingraham of Worcester, Mass.; and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Henry and Mrs. Doris Isham, both of Manchester.

Private funeral services will be Friday at the Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St. Burial will be in the Veterans Section of East Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association, 71 E. Center St.

Mrs. Olive P. Clapp SOUTH WINDSOR - Mrs. Olive Pitkin Clapp, 88, of 681 John Fitch Blvd., widow of John S. Clapp, died Tuesday at a South Windsor convalescent home.

Mrs. Clapp was born in South Windsor and had lived here all her life. She was a member of the First Congregational Church of South Windsor and a life member and past patron of the Bigelow Chapter, OES, of East Hartford. She also belonged to the West Suffield Grange.

Survivors are a son, J. Sclden Clapp Jr. of Warrenton, Ore.; two daughters, Miss Olive E. Clapp of South Windsor, with whom she made her home, and Mrs. Dorothy C. Martyn of West Suffield; a sister, Mrs. Mabelle P. Johnson of Canton; four granddaughters and six great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be Thursday at 11 a.m. at the Newkirk and Whitney Funeral Home, 318 Burnside Ave., East Hartford. The Rev. Dr. Charles Williams, pastor of the First Congregational Church of South Windsor, will officiate. Cremation will be in Springfield, Mass.

There are no calling hours. The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to a charity of the donor's choice.

Mrs. Elvira G. Del Tatio Mrs. Elvira Galante Del Tatio of Bennington, Vt., mother of Charles Del Tatio of Manchester, died last Saturday at Putnam Hospital, Bennington.

A family service was Monday at the chapel of the Honen-Walbridge Funeral Home, 213 W. Main St., Bennington, Vt. Burial will be in Park Lawn Cemetery, Bennington, in the spring.

Other survivors are three daughters, nine grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the Kurn Hattin Homes or to the Bennington Rescue Squad in care of the funeral home office.

Walter A. Utting Walter A. Utting Sr., 69, of Forest Hills, N.Y., died Saturday at Columbus Hospital, New York City. He was the brother of Charles Utting of Manchester and father of Mrs. Anne Sarazan of Los Angeles, Calif., and Crystal Lake, Ellington.

water problems," Lingard said. He mentioned that about 20,000 gallons per minute would be needed to extinguish a fire of the size faced Monday. "As it was, the chief noted, it was very difficult just to contain the fire.

Quake Reported PIRGOS, Greece (AP)—An earthquake struck 133 miles southwest of Athens today and the tremor was recorded at 5.25 points on the Richter scale. Many houses were reported seriously damaged in the town of Pigos, but no casualties were reported. The town's power supply was temporarily cut off.

Fuel Shortage BOSTON (AP)—An imminent fuel-oil shortage concerned New England oil company representatives Sunday for a meeting today in the regional office of Emergency Preparedness (OEP). "Let's not kid ourselves," Herbert Sostek of Gibbs Oil Co., Revere, said Tuesday. "Demand is catching up with supply, and if this cold weather keeps up, there will be a real clamoring for oil in seven days."

Written Message WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon has decided against making an oral State of the Union address to Congress, and will send a written message.

jurisdiction," he said. "There's no reason for intermingling the money which supports the department of public works and sewerage fees, which supports the water and sewer departments. If and when we have public works and sewerage fees under one roof, it may work out. I can't see it now. I'm for maintaining fiscal autonomy."

The Salvation Army sent a canteen truck to the scene, to serve coffee and sandwiches to weary firemen who battled the fire throughout the night. Many area residents opened their doors to cold firemen who were struggling with not only the fire but with below-freezing temperatures.

Most of the men and equipment returned home early Tuesday morning, but Eighth District men remained on the scene until Tuesday night. They returned this morning.

All of the departments involved are now busy completing cleanup operations. Eighth District Dispatcher Rick Skoglund said his department's cleanup job is nearly complete. The Eighth District alone laid almost a mile of fire hose—and it all has to be washed, dried, rolled, and put back in place. Several pieces of other equipment, some of which froze after the fire subsided, are being cleaned and readied for service.

Remarkable Olegard, "After explaining to people for so many years that a Board of Directors is just like a Town Council, I'm afraid, if we change the name, I'll have to tell people a Town Council is just like a Board of Directors."

The CRC also rejected the following proposals: "To create a Consumer-Development Division. It was agreed the proposal could be implemented under the existing administrative system."

To grant the Board of Directors powers to form and consolidate departments. The board chairman said he would like to see the Board of Directors' power to form and consolidate departments.

To provide that all department heads reside within the town.

To provide Town of Manchester fire protection for all of those outlying areas which are not within the boundaries of the 8th Utilities District—northeast and northwest sections. The town Fire Chief John Rivosa has estimated it would cost the town about $400,000 in the first year to erect and man a new firehouse in the Buckland area.

To provide stronger regulations for the sale or their time pieces to the correct hour—and it also blew at 5 o'clock, the close of work day.

The latter whistle, too, was the signal for youngsters in neighborhood athletic events to stop play immediately and high-tail it for home to make the dinner hour.

Old timers, too, can recall the years when the Bon Ami locker and shower facilities were the pre- and post-game headquarters for North End football teams during the 20s and 30s when the sport was the biggest weekend attraction.

The showers were also used by many North End residents, before the Community Y was built, and during the era before showers were part of every home.

Under new business, the directors also: "Tabled a bill of $600 as the town's share of legal fees in a Connecticut Conference of Mayors' at al vs. Agostinelli, suit."

Accepted the resignation of James Anderson from the Civil Defense Advisory Board and tabled the appointment of his successor.

Formally accepted with regret the resignation of Probate Judge William Fitzgerald from the board and tabled appointment of his successor.

Prior to adjournment the meeting was thrown open to public comment and several spoke on various issues including failure to use revenues-sharing funds and surplus funds for tax relief.

As outlined, the work could be completed within the next three years and meet the 1976 deadline for re-evaluation required by the state to be done every ten years.

Belleville would use his staff to handle residential work and after learning the town is incorporated, the consultants would be used to assist the local staff in conducting the work in a manner compatible with automating the assessment process so that in the future the valuations can be kept up-to-date. The consultants would be used also to help evaluate business and commercial property.

The cost, which was offered by Town Manager Robert Weiss as highly tentative, is estimated to be about $10,000 over the three years, which could be incorporated in the regular budget.

Mayor John Thompson suggested the alternative to the council pointing out there is much apprehension on the part of property owners over re-evaluation and his feeling that the more it can be done by local people the more acceptable it might be in the long run. He praised Belleville for his work in correcting his confidence that the assessor's personnel could do the job and still meet the state law requirements.

Rudy Piarro of 181 Dartmouth Rd. was named an alternate member of the Zoning Board of Appeals to succeed James Tani for a term expiring in November 1973. Piarro is the past chairman of the ZBA. His term on the board expired last November, and the Democratic-controlled Board of Directors replaced him with a Democrat.

Piarro's appointment last night left off a minority representation requirement of state status.

The CRC will meet again Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building. It has only five proposals to consider and to take action on.

CRC chairman John Fitzgerald appointed a committee consisting of himself, John Shea, Robert Stone, and Phyllis Jackson, to draft the commission's report to the Board of Directors. The report, due Feb. 6, will include recommendations and resolutions for proposed charter changes. Whatever proposals are approved by the directors—after public hearings and discussions with the CRC—will be scheduled for referendum.

Reduce Gas Supplies

By The Associated Press The arctic cold gripping much of the nation has resulted in shortages of natural gas in a few areas and forced some fuel companies to cut off or reduce supplies to industrial and municipal users.

A number of industries planned to shut down or curtail operations in Louisiana and Mississippi and to rely on fuel oil in Texas today due to problems in meeting the increased demands for natural gas.

Strong Third Period Decisive As East Turns Back St. Paul's

By Earl Yost

It was a punch following East Catholic High's 71-58 decision over St. Paul's of Bristol last night on the basketball court was winning mentor Stan Orogndik.

Playing before the usual capacity crowd, the Eagles broke open what had been a tight first half with a third period onslaught that proved too much for the visitors in the Hartford County Conference meeting.

"We put it all together," a relieved Orogndik said as he reviewed the latest conquest, the sixth in eight starts, and third in four HCC meetings. St. Paul slipped to 5-4 overall and 2-2 in league warfare.

It was a combination of some eye-filling shooting by Joe Martens in the third period—when he canned 10 points—eight coming on hoops—and great rebounding by Bill Gorra and John McKeon. The latter two had a field day grabbing caroms off both boards.

Consistency marked Gorra's play. The hard-working frontcourt operator gained scoring honors with 24 points, getting six in each of the four periods. The visitors just didn't have any rebounding to speak of and practically all their scoring came from outside. On the other hand, East had a field day inside.

Eristo gave the Eagles plenty of trouble until Martens broke loose in the final four minutes of the third canto. It was East, 32-29 at the first two breaks. The Saints came within two, 36-34.

Joe Whelton, East's top point-maker, was hoisted only 11 points. Al Geitz had to do with 12 points, an "off-night" for before Martens went wild with Gorra—caging three twinpointers for a 51-40 margin after three periods.

"We showed a lot of composure and the boys responded to several different type defenses without losing their poise. We just executed perfectly," the coach noted. Joe Whelton, East's top point-maker, was hoisted only 11 points. Al Geitz had to do with 12 points, an "off-night" for

Platt Tops Tribe By 70-59 Margin

By Dean Yost

Twenty-four personal fouls on Manchester High took their toll last night as Platt High, winners only once this season, picked up its second victory in seven outings by turning back the Indians, 70-59.

The CCIL contest in Meriden left a lot to be desired from the officials, Frien Kenney and Al Santillo, who seemingly were against the Silk Town invaders.

"We played against seven men," said a disappointed Manchester coach, Jim Moriarty. "It's tough when you are even, but even tougher when the odds are against you."

Each club netted 25 field goals, Manchester 25-49 while Platt was 25-51. Again the foul line played an important part with Platt netting 20 of 29 tries while Manchester canned nine of 12 attempts.

"We didn't play real well out there tonight," Moriarty added, "but I thought we played good enough to have beaten Platt."

Again a scoring drought by the locals hurt the offense as Platt ran off nine consecutive points before Kurt Carlson finally pumped in a 25-foot jump shot.

Third period heroics by John Feeney brought Manchester back into the game as they closed the gap to 42-39 with 3:36 remaining. The Tribe kept close through the remainder of the stanza

In JV activity, Manchester headed Platt a 78-44 loss. Norm Davey, Zeanah's Ony Paron won on Sullivan each chipped in with 11 points while John Koepsel netted 10 tallies.

Pro Scout On Mission

NEW YORK (AP) — Al McGuire would prefer that his Marquette basketball team pay attention to him rather than Wayne Embry. He's really sensitive about it, fellows. Of course you couldn't really blame the Warriors' coach for feeling slightly neglected. Embry, the general manager of the pro Milwaukee Bucks, comes to Marquette home games to ogle prospective college talent.

And while Embry looks over McGuire's bunch, the kids make 600-700 eyes back. "I don't like Embry sitting that close because I think my players start using a little peripheral vision," said McGuire after his fourth-ranked team turned back Chicago-Loyola 82-77 for its 81st straight home victory Tuesday night.

Rockville's Guns Bomb Newington

South Windsor High's Jeff Hoyt returned to the Bobcat lineup for fulltime duty last night and with his presence South almost upset powerful Simsbury High. The latter managed to hold on in the final going to register a 67-65 CVC victory.

Rockville High had its guns loaded as it bombed Newington High on the Rams' homecourt, 91-80. East Hampton barred Rham High in Hebron, 109-60.

SOUTH WINDSOR — Brian Coome, who scored 20 points for Simsbury, all from the field, scored his last field goal of the season by hitting Simsbury to victory. The visitors now sport a 6-1 conference mark and 8-1 overall. The Bobcats dipped to 3-4 in the CVC and 3-5 overall.

HEBRON — Breaking open a relatively close game in the fourth quarter with a potent point showing, visiting East Hampton edged away with a 41-35 victory.

ROCKVILLE — Decked out in their finest shooting attire, Rockville High placed four starters in double figures with Dick Hoermann pumping in a

Wali Jones On Waivers

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks asked waivers Tuesday on suspended guard Wali Jones, whose attorney pledged an appeal to National Basketball Association Commissioner Walter Kennedy and said there was a "possibility of litigation."

Philadelphia attorney Richard Phillips insisted Jones, 30, is entitled to remain with the Bucks at least through this season and to his salary for the duration of his contract, which has 2½ years to run at a reported $90,000 to $100,000 a year.

of shooting and rebounding to lead the Colonias to a 112-106 victory over the Virginia Squires in an American Basketball Association game.

Isel, hitting consistently with his medium-range jump shot and mauling his 260-pound frame under the boards, scored 44 points and grabbed 18 rebounds. His efforts helped Kentucky break open a tight game in the fourth quarter.

In other ABA games, Carolina thumped the New York Nets 110-87, Utah rallied to beat Memphis 112-111 and San Diego defeated Denver 113-100.

Coach Joe Malloney said of Isel's performance, "Dan did a fine job, but it really wasn't because we overemphasized him."

Isel and Virginia high scorer Julius Erving traded baskets throughout the game until Isel took control late in the third quarter.

Erving finished with 34 points, four above his league leading average, and 17 rebounds.

Clemente Never Boomed in Pittsburgh
Although Roberto Clemente was in the twilight of his major league playing days, the late Pittsburgh Pirate outfielder was still a great all around performer and one of the game's premier hitters.

I never got to know this better-than-average big leaguer intimately although our paths crossed many times during spring training, the regular National League season and during World Series play.

The only time I was really all alone with Clemente was in 1960, shortly after the Pirates defeated the New York Yankees in the seventh and final game of the World Series.

In the opening minutes, Barry Jostled Foster with an elbow under the chin and Foster decked the Warrior star with a roundhouse right.

It was easy, Clemente told Biederman. When the young Puerto Rican joined the Pirates he could speak no English and he knew it was important to make friends. So each day after every home game he would give his autograph to everyone who stopped him.

Celts Bump Heads With Houston in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — The Celtics meet the Houston Rockets for the third time in two weeks tonight, thanks to a quirk of National Basketball Association scheduling, and Coach Tommie Heinsohn hopes to have the psychological edge on Houston held the last time the two teams played.

"We had a good month, winding up with a 10-4 record on the road, and we have had a lot of road lately," the coach said.

The Celtics will be playing at center and John Havlicek at Boston Garden Friday and in Philadelphia on Saturday.

After the Houston game, the Celtics play two more this week against Atlanta at Boston Garden Friday and in Philadelphia on Saturday.

Phils Pick First In Baseball Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Philadelphia's talented Phillies had the first choice of free agent prospects today, and were expected to tab shortstop Alan Bannister, a former Arizona State standout, as No. 1 in the regular phase of the draft.

Bannister, who spurned a $55,000 offer from the California Angels in 1969 in order to attend Arizona State, says he's ready to move to the pros now. "I just felt that I had accomplished everything I could at Arizona State," he explained.

"The Phillies definitely need help or they wouldn't be drafting first," he added. "I'll get a chance."

Starr admitted receiving several coaching offers and said one, from an unnamed NFL club, was "particularly exciting."

"It was a tough decision and I know I'm going to miss football," he said. "But I'm very excited about our business ventures. I'm excited with the

The British Post Office has produced a souvenir brochure honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of the Royal Couple. It consists of 16 pages which feature photographs of the nuptial event a quarter of a century ago, the Coronation and the investiture of the Prince of Wales on July 1, 1969.

Attached to the inside cover is a glassine strip to hold the two Silver Wedding stamps which are included with the brochure.

Collectors in this country may obtain this brochure from Stanley Gibbons Ltd., 585 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017 at $2 each.

Three more major U.S. post offices have opened "post-iques" which specialize in U.S. stamps and philatelic items for collectors. The locations are Atlanta, Columbia, S.C. and Houston, Tex.

Each postoffice offered cacheted envelopes with special cancellations. The Atlanta cachet hailed the 125th anniversary of the city. The Columbia cachet combined an outline map of the state, state flag and a reproduction of the main post office. The Houston cachet highlighted the city's two best known industries — oil and space.

Stamps In The News

AP Newsfeatures
By SYD KRONISH

The completion of its national communications network—a project four years in the making—is the subject of the first set of stamps to be issued in 1973 by Papua & New Guinea. Built at a cost of $20 million, this project now will provide Papua & New Guinea with a system of line-of-sight radio repeater systems long needed in this area. But the herculean task of placing the equipment on top of mountains 11,000 feet high is a story in itself. The workers climbed the rugged mountains over treacherous terrain while the equipment was brought in by helicopter. Four 7-cent stamps show repeater stations atop Mt. Tomawatu, Mt. Kerigoma, Saitelberg and Widenau. One of the stamps depicts a helicopter lowering the special sophisticated equipment on the mountain top. The 9 cents pictures a modern teleprinter while the 30 cents features a map of Papua & New Guinea indicating the widespread telecommunication network.

Collectors living in remote areas who do not have easy access to leading stamp dealers or to visit stamp shows can obtain better grade postage stamps from a reliable source. H.E. Harris & Co. of Boston has listed over 2,500 stamps from various countries. Included are many complete sets ranging in price from 45 to many hundreds of dollars. You may get the list for your personal use by sending 10 cents to H.E. Harris & Co., Dept. EXT, Boston, Mass. 02117.

France has announced an ambitious stamp program for 1973 with issues ranging from historical happenings to commemorative hailing famous French personages. Commemoratives include a stamp honoring the 50th anniversary of "The 24 Hours of Mans," 50th anniversary of the death of Moliere, centenary of the birth of Therese de Lisieux, centenary of the discovery of leprosy bacilli by Hansen and 75th anniversary of the Eiffel Tower.

There will be stamps for stamp day, tourism and the arts.

From the initial list — and there probably will be more as the year progresses — it is obvious that France's stamp program will be three times as large as that of the U.S. Postal Service.

The British Post Office has produced a souvenir brochure honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of the Royal Couple. It consists of 16 pages which feature photographs of the nuptial event a quarter of a century ago, the Coronation and the investiture of the Prince of Wales on July 1, 1969.

Attached to the inside cover is a glassine strip to hold the two Silver Wedding stamps which are included with the brochure.

Collectors in this country may obtain this brochure from Stanley Gibbons Ltd., 585 Fifth Ave., New York, N.Y. 10017 at $2 each.

Three more major U.S. post offices have opened "post-iques" which specialize in U.S. stamps and philatelic items for collectors. The locations are Atlanta, Columbia, S.C. and Houston, Tex.

Each postoffice offered cacheted envelopes with special cancellations. The Atlanta cachet hailed the 125th anniversary of the city. The Columbia cachet combined an outline map of the state, state flag and a reproduction of the main post office. The Houston cachet highlighted the city's two best known industries — oil and space.

BOOK REVIEWS

LOVE OF EARTH. By Herbert E. French. Putnam. 314 Pages. $7.95.
For the lay reader this is a book about what the author calls Earth Island, and it follows somehow in the category of popular science with a potpourri of recent items about oddities and oddments in the news.

Its main themes are geophysics, geology, the earth crust, minerals and mining, forests, animals, farming, cities and recreational activities in nature.

As popularized science writing, it delves into such topics as "the new science of global plate tectonics" as an explanation of the shifting surfaces of this planet. But it also (1) conveys a staggering number of interesting items, such as where to find the biggest gem stones or the biggest man-made stone sculptures, or the fact that Marie Antoinette wore potato flowers in her hair at Versailles; and (2) throws in side comments on the good earth, for example (on adjoining pages) by Cincinnati, George Washington, Irving Berlin and Antoine de Saint-Exupery.

His sources have been many books — there is a good sized bibliography — and hundreds of newspaper dispatches and magazine articles relating recent examples of remarkable discoveries, theories and explorations.

Obviously this is not a book for the serious student of one or more earth sciences, but a sort of running log — amplified by the personal comments of an enthusiastic magazine editor and writer — on what's new around the lab. The lay reader is likely to find it to be browsing material, and that is a legitimate function of books of this type.

THE GREAT MILITARY SIEGES. By Vezio Melegari. Thomas Y. Crowell Co. 252 Pages. $19.95.
Books that tend to glorify field warfare are frowned upon these days by many people, even though — and probably because — we ourselves have appeared to be instinctively ingested for decades. But sieges are another matter: there the victims, a majority of them generally civilians, often have demonstrated throughout history incredible valor against aggression.

The Italian historian Vezio Melegari, after consultations with historians and museum curators in various countries, has written interesting but not seriously exaggerated brief accounts of 22 famous sieges, from Troy to Dien Bien Phu.

This now has been translated into English and published with the remarkable collection of illustrations that appeared in the original edition.

These illustrations, most of them in full color, constitute the most exciting aspect of the book. Naturally, not all are contemporary.

EXCUSE OF YEAR
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — "Madame, may I have your excuse, please," said Municipal Judge Claude Perasso to Mrs. Lillian Lee, 31, who had been cited for double parking.

"Why judge, I wasn't double parked at all," said Mrs. Lee. "That traffic along Grant Avenue is always slow. In fact, the meter maid came along and saw me stopped and thought I was double parked."

"Charge dismissed," ruled the judge.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Trailer Park Tumble
To stimulate business, the owner of a suburban trailer park installed a set of climbing bars for children. However, in disregard of the manufacturer's advice, he placed the apparatus over a solid strip of blacktop.

One day, a seven-year-old boy lost his grip on the bars and fell heavily to the pavement. In short order, the park owner found himself on the target end of a lawsuit.

And the court ruled that the boy was indeed entitled to damages. The court said the defendant was guilty of negligence in creating a condition of special danger to the unwary young.

The rapid spread of trailer parks has focused attention on the responsibilities of the management, in case of an accident. The law says the management must show both foresight and diligence in the way it maintains its premises. But not every accident that happens in a trailer park is the park's fault. In another case, a woman was injured when a tree came crashing down on her trailer during a storm. She sued for damages, arguing that the tree was decayed and should have been cut down.

Yet, there had been no signs of decay visible on the outside of the tree, nothing to put the management on the alert for trouble. The court laid the blame on an "act of God" and turned down the woman's claim.

Nor will the law blame the management if the victim has voluntarily "assumed the risk" of injury. Thus:

A woman taking a shower in a trailer park shower room sank her foot on a broken tile. But when she demanded damages in court, the management argued that out there were two other shower rooms which she knew could have been used with greater safety.

Rejecting her claim, the court said: "One who chooses to follow a dangerous course when there is a safe course known and available is said to have assumed the risk. This relieves the defendant of responsibility."

1973 American Bar Association Shirret Class Starts Jan. 25
The Manchester Recreation Department's shirret rug making class offered on Thursday's from 1 to 3 p.m. will begin Jan. 25 instead of the original date, Jan. 11. Louis McCarty the originator of this technique and author of the textbook, will teach six weeks of shirret for $18. Participants will learn how to make a round mat, a square mat, and oval mat, and can continue on to complete larger rugs. Materials for shirret include cotton or wool, new or scrap materials. Shirret utilizes a simple crochet technique along with shirring of fabric into reversible rug. An average mat sells for $20 if bought completed, yet women will learn how to make this mat for a few dollars in materials.

Louise McCarty has taught at WYCA's, recreation centers and adult evening schools. Now, for the first time, she plans a special intensive workshop on advanced shirret techniques. This workshop will be open to anyone who has previously taken a shirret class. It will be held on Feb. 23 and March 2, Fridays, 9:30-11:30 a.m., at the West Side Rec. 110 Cedar St. A $5 fee will be charged.

Anyone interested in any classes at the West Side Rec. can call any day after 2:30 for information or to register for open classes. Mother's are reminded that free babysitting is provided in the pre-school play program.

FAMILY FIGHTS
SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP) — The police now have been responding to family fights at a local apartment. But it's only play acting.

The warring family members are all professional actors and the police are policemen. Called Project Diversion, it's a federally funded program.

"Our officers are learning how to be professional actors," said Lt. Tom Dempsey, project director. "A national survey showed that 40 per cent of violence is caused or killed in line of duty resulted from family-related incidents."

Wholesale Farm Prices Climb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Grains were 4.1 per cent higher than a year ago, livestock was 2.4 per cent above last year and eggs were up 2.8 per cent, the government reported today.

The report, by the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, blamed weather damage to crops as the main reason for the big increase.

The sharp climb in food prices boosted the government's over-all wholesale price index 1.3 per cent in December, the largest in 22 years. The increase was slightly less, 1.6 per cent, on a seasonally adjusted basis.

Prices of a broad range of industrial raw materials rose three-tenths of 1 per cent while wholesale consumer finished goods ready for market at retail had climbed 1.2 per cent, the report said.

The big increase in prices of farm products, largely uncontrolled by federal price regulations, included boosts of 21.1 per cent for grains, 16.9 per cent for eggs, 13.6 per cent for hay and oil seeds, 9.4 per cent for livestock, 7.8 per cent for plant and animal fibers, eight-tenths of 1 per cent for poultry and one-tenth of 1 per cent for milk.

The only decline was 5.1 per cent for fruits and vegetables.

View From Abroad

LONDON (AP)—Newspapers abroad contained more sharp criticism last week of the U.S. role in the Indochina war despite President Nixon's halt of the bombing of North Vietnam.

In Italy, traditionally pro-American newspapers agreed that U.S. conduct of the war was wrong.

Elsewhere, there were predictions that South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's days will be numbered if the United States and North Vietnam reached a peace accord at Paris.

Il Messaggero of Rome said antiwar sentiment in the United States was causing "adverse prospects at the start of the President's second term."

The conservative Il Tempo said March 15, 1973, would have hurt North Vietnam militarily but it cost the United States more lives.

La Stampa of Turin said: "Hanoi could not resist much longer such a heavy and continuous bombing, but neither could Nixon carry it on indefinitely, in the wake of the adverse reactions of the U.S. public opinion and Congress."

Corriere della Sera of Milan said a settlement would require more flexibility from the two Vietnamese governments.

"Even Saigon has been bombed," it said, "and only politically," the paper said.

Y Nursery School Sets Open House

The WYCA Nursery School will hold open house at its 80 N. Main St. quarters in New York from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in conjunction with the WYCA annual fund-raising drive.

The school group will be in session until 11:30 a.m. Visitors are invited to observe classroom activities through one-way windows, so that children can be seen without being aware of it. Between 11 and 11:30 a.m., visitors may enter the room to see programs being conducted and inspect the equipment.

Mrs. Glenn Cornish, school director, will be available from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. to answer questions and explain the facilities.

Books describing the curriculum will be available, and registrations for the 1973-74 school year will be accepted. A child must be four years old on or before Jan. 1, 1974 to be eligible.

It looks for the re-establishment of peace through the annihilation of the enemy and through the annihilation of criminals to gain the eradication of crime," the paper said.

In the Netherlands, the NRC-Algemeen Handelsblad said the "fate of South Vietnam is of minimal importance compared with the question of the credibility of American power."

Italy's America's vulnerability separates them from its ultimate downfall," the Dutch paper said.

The Hong Kong Standard said Thieu's fall would come "probably automatically" with the exit of U.S. power from Vietnam.

Support for President Nixon continued to come from London's Daily Telegraph. It said: "A big majority of Americans seems to want a settlement that will enable the Thieu regime to work out the country's democratic salvation if it has the necessary ability, courage and popular support."

"Those who pour one-sided abuse on Mr. Nixon and seek to harass him... must be very stupid if they do not see how they are playing into the hands of Hanoi's imperialists," the conservative paper added.

Proposed Long Island Sound Bridge Opposed

ROWAYTON (AP)—The six-town Southwestern Regional Planning Agency has voted unanimously to oppose the construction of a proposed bridge across Long Island Sound between Rye, N.Y., and Oyster Bay on Long Island.

The bridge would be "highly visible" from Connecticut and would triple the present truck traffic on the Connecticut Turnpike within 20 years after completion of the span, according to agency Director Richard Carpenter.

"I think it's madness to consider this bridge," said Mayor Julius Wilensky. He said he would go to a bridge hearing in White Plains, N.Y. in the near future to register his opposition.

"The reason New York State wants to do this," Wilensky said, "is to open up Suffolk County, I like Suffolk County the way it is. We have seen what has happened to Nassau County in the last 20 years."

The six towns in the planning agency, which covers the corner of Connecticut near the New York State line in the Rye area, are Stamford, Wilton, Westport, Norwalk, Darien and New Canaan.

"If that bridge is built, you are going to see one heck of a mess on the Connecticut Turnpike," Carpenter said.

Wilensky suggested that if more transportation is needed between the mainland and Long Island, ferry service should be increased.

Presidential of the revised comprehensive plan for the town has been delayed until next Monday night.

Although the Planning and Zoning Commission held their work session Monday night, consulting planner John Colman did not attend, and copies of the brochure are not yet available.

The PZC and the advisory committee on the town plan are well on their way towards the creation of a revised zoning regulations which will permit the actual implementation of the new town plan.

The PZC will meet with Colman next Monday at 9 p.m. following the public presentation portion of the regularly scheduled meeting in the Town Hall.

Beaconsfield Basketball The Tollard Boosters Club

Town Plan Brochure Delayed

will hold a double header basketball game to raise funds for the organization Saturday night at Tollard High School.

The first game, between the town members of the Tollard Boosters against the male faculty at the school, beginning at 8 p.m.

Tickets are available at $1 per adult and 50 cents per student at the door.

The Tax Review Board has held taxpayer grievance hearings on assessments next month.

The hearings will be held in the Town Hall Feb. 1 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and 7 until 10 p.m. Feb. 3 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.; Feb. 8 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. Feb. 10 from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. and Feb. 12 from 7 until 10 p.m.

The tax review board has promised publicity to reduce land values declared under Public Act 40, to levels advocated by the Connecticut Farm Bureau.

Guidance Meetings The High School Guidance Department will hold a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the school lecture hall for junior class members and their parents.

The meeting will be held to answer questions about planning for the year after high school, including getting a job; selecting a college of other school; scholarships and other financial arrangements which are available. The results of the recent test scores will also be explained.

The courses will be among those offered during the school's second semester. Interested applicants may contact Mrs. Joseph T. Kolwicz.

Upcoming Event St. Matthew's Ladies Guild will meet tonight at 7:30 in the parish center.

Correspondent Sought The Herald is seeking a new correspondent for Tollard. An interest in town affairs and an ability to write are assets. Interested persons may contact Alex Girelli at the Herald office, 643-2711.

Instructors Sought The Tollard Art Education Program is seeking qualified instructors for courses in gourmet cooking, upholstery and bridge.

South Windsor Winter Safety Stressed

BARBARA VARRICK Correspondent
Tel. 644-8274

Police Chief John J. Kerrigan and Town Manager Terry Sprinkel have stressed the importance of the obligations and cooperation of citizens during inclement weather.

Sidewalks must be cleared within nine hours after snow or ice has formed on them or within nine hours after sunrise if snow or ice has fallen or formed during the night hours, according to a release from the town officials.

Kerrigan said it is impractical to remove ice, sidewalks must be made safe and convenient for travel, so sanding or some other suitable method must be done.

He also reminds motorists that no vehicle shall be parked on public streets during a snow and ice storm which has been in progress after one hour. Parking will not be allowed for an additional twenty-four hours after the storm has ended. Vehicles will be towed.

Bicycles Safety Stressed Thomas Hart, youth service officer for South Windsor, is calling on residents to insure that their bicycles are being received by the Police Department from residents who have had "near-misses" accidents when a bicyclist suddenly appears in the path of a motorist. He particularly stressed the need for newspaper carriers to be heard warning, for safety reasons.

Social Security

Q. When I became 65 last summer, I signed up for medical insurance under Medicare, but I didn't do enough work under Social Security to get hospital insurance coverage. I heard that Congress recently changed Medicare law. Does this mean I can now sign up for hospital insurance, too?

A. Yes. Starting July 1, people who are 65 and over and are ineligible for hospital insurance may sign up for coverage on a voluntary basis. For those who enroll, the monthly premium will be $3. Enrollment for Medicare insurance is also required.

Q. When I enrolled in Medicare some time ago, I was told that if I wanted doctor bill insurance, I'd have to sign up for it within three years. But my neighbor who just turned 65 was told that there is no such deadline. Which of us has the right information?

A. Both. Until recently, there was a three-year deadline on signing up for medical insurance. The 1972 Social Security Amendments eliminated this insurance program during any general enrollment period (Jan. 1 to March 31 of each year) in people who delay their enrollment more than 1 year pay higher premiums, depending on how long they wait to sign up.

Q. I'm enrolled in the doctor bill insurance part of Medicare and I heard the annual deductible is going to increase. Is this true?

A. Yes. Beginning Jan. 1, the annual deductible under the medical insurance part of Medicare will increase $10 from $60 to $70. An increase was necessary because of rising medical costs.

Q. My brother has been getting monthly disability payments from Social Security since 1968. I recently read in a paper that disabled people under 65 will soon be able to get Medicare. Is this true?

A. It's true that people under 65 getting Social Security disability payments will soon be eligible for Medicare coverage. Starting in July your brother and other disabled people who have been getting Social Security disability benefits for at least two years will be eligible for Medicare.

Q. I'll be 65 next August and I'm trying to keep up with all the latest information on Medicare. Has the recent law changed the way I'll enroll in the medical insurance part of Medicare?

A. Yes. People who become 65 in July or later and are eligible for Medicare hospital insurance will automatically be enrolled in the medical insurance part of Medicare. However, you'll still have the opportunity to decline enrollment if you decide you don't want medical insurance coverage.

Police Report

MANCHESTER
Four persons were taken into custody on drug charges this morning, after a Manchester Police raid of an apartment at 56 Birch St.

A small amount of marijuana and related paraphernalia were seized in the 9 a.m. raid, police reported.

All four arrested were charged with illegal possession of controlled substances, and one was charged with possession of a dangerous weapon.

William H. Davis, 23, of 56 Birch St.

Michael J. McCarthy, 22, of 56 Birch St.

Carol L. Champlin, 18, of 29 Pineapple Rd., Ellington.

James E. Vandervoort, 24, of Somers, formerly of Vernon, has been named to a new position of group industrial relations director at United Aircraft Corporation. He had been corporate industrial relations administrator.

Vandervoort, in his new position, will be responsible for policy guidance and coordination of personnel practices and industrial relations activities at specific units of the corporation, which will include all Connecticut plants of Pratt & Whitney Aircraft, its Florida Research and Development Center, United States Turbo Power and Marine Systems Subsidiary and United Aircraft of West Virginia.

William H. McLaughlin, who joined P&W Aircraft at its Florida Research and Development Center in 1967, was appointed to a similar position. His responsibilities embrace Hamilton Standard, Sikorsky Aircraft, Norden Aircraft and P&W Aircraft Research Laboratories, all in Connecticut, and United Technology Center in California.

According to N.B. Morse, vice president for industrial relations, the new positions were created because of the broadening of United Aircraft's complex of its industrial relations programs.

Vandervoort joined Pratt & Whitney Aircraft in 1942, became a personnel adviser in 1948 and was appointed assistant to the division manager in 1955. He was transferred to Hamilton Standard division in 1968 and moved up to personnel manager in 1969. He was named corporate industrial relations administrator in 1968.

McLaughlin, a graduate of the University of Tennessee Law School, was appointed supervisor of plant protection and in 1965 as personnel manager. He was transferred to UAC corporate office in 1965 as assistant to the personnel director and in 1968 as industrial relations administrator in 1968.

Standard division as assistant personnel manager in 1968 and moved up to personnel manager in 1969. He was named corporate industrial relations administrator in 1968.

Court Cases

CIRCUIT COURT 12
Manchester Session
It was "standing room only" Monday morning on the second floor of the Manchester Police Station as Circuit Court Judge J. J. Spilleck presided over a docket listing more than 200 cases.

When the long court session was over Monday afternoon, about half of the cases had been continued (postponed).

Nearly 50 cases had been nolle prosequi (not prosecuted), and only about 20 cases were disposed of. Some 30 cases, listed on the docket, had been previously disposed of, but of those, by mailed guilty pleas and payments of fines to the court.

Erected in 1883, St. Mary's Episcopal Church is seen in the upper photo as it fronted on Church St. In the horse and buggy days about 1905, when the rector was the Rev. Manning B. Bennett. With its steeple removed, the original building has since been succeeded; and what was its nave, now without pews, is used for church school classes. The new church, dedicated in 1956 and consecrated last year, is joined to the older structure and has its main entrance on Park St. (Herald photo by Buccivichius)

Hunt Pleads Guilty Again To Watergate Allegations

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prosecution's opening statement outlining a broad operation of political espionage for a second time today, and this time the court accepted his plea, removing him from the trial of seven men charged with burglarizing Democratic party headquarters.

But before the plea was accepted, Hunt said under questioning from the bench that the prosecution's opening statement outlining a broad operation of political espionage for a second time today, and this time the court accepted his plea, removing him from the trial of seven men charged with burglarizing Democratic party headquarters.

Police Ponder Key Question

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Authorities focused today on a key question: did Mark J. Essex act alone when he entered a downtown hotel and hailed gunfire on guests, police and passersby?

Six sniping victims died and 17 were injured in the shooting last Sunday at the Downtown Howard Johnson's hotel. Police gunfire from a hovering helicopter killed Essex, a 23-year-old black from Emporia, Kan., as he zigzagged across the hotel roof.

Police and FBI agents questioned Rodney France, one of Essex' former New Orleans roommates, Wednesday. But a police spokesman said, "It appears just Frank has no connection with the incident."

The spokesman also said nothing had changed since Giarrusso declared Tuesday and were checking guests — raising the question whether Essex might have had someone with him who had taken a room at the hotel.

Education Tax Change Proposal Explained

HARTFORD (AP) — Probably the most controversial of the recommendations of the Governor's Commission on Tax Reform is its plan to equalize educational opportunity through a statewide redistribution of school tax funds.

Gov. Thomas J. Meskill has already dubbed it the "Robin Hood tax" because it spreads tax revenue from richer towns to poorer towns. But commission Chairman Francis Bakes said Wednesday that Meskill was simplifying it.

The commission noted that school systems are unequal in Connecticut. Some are poorer than others—that is, some have a smaller tax base. Those towns must tax their residents at a higher rate to provide the same education being given in richer towns.

Federal courts have ruled that such inequalities lead to unequal educations and are therefore unconstitutional. One alternative is state funding of public education, but the commission said local autonomy would be sacrificed under such a plan.

News Capsules

Emission Costs DETROIT (AP) — Meeting federal emissions standards in 1975 and 1976 will add approximately $275 to the cost of each car, Gerber Motors Corp. Chairman Richard C. Gerstenberg says.

Gerstenberg also told the Society of Automotive Engineers on Wednesday that federal government emissions standards are too high, too soon and too expensive.

"We strongly disagree that the provision of the Clean Air Act with respect to automotive emissions represent legislative overkill," Gerstenberg said.

But he said he still had hopes the auto industry would receive a one-year reprieve from orders to meet 1975 and 1976 emission standards.

Sign Pact TOKYO (AP) — North Vietnam reported today it has signed military and economic agreements for 1973 with the German Democratic Republic.

The accords were concluded in Berlin, according to Hanoi's Vietnam News Agency, and the North Vietnamese delegation left for home Wednesday.

Crowns Stolen NEW YORK (AP) — Thieves who were apparently hiding in the church have stolen two diamond-encrusted gold crowns and other jewels valued at $350,000 from an altar mural in a Roman Catholic shrine in Brooklyn.

The same crowns were stolen in 1962 but were mysteriously returned eight days later. Police said then that reputed Mafia leader Carlo Gambino, who attends the church, let it be known he wanted them back.

Raid's Continue SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes kept up heavy raids on the North Vietnamese panhandle today while ground action tapered down in South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese officials reported 54 enemy attacks in the 24 hours before dawn, the lowest number since the New Year's strike period.

American fighter-bombers flew 144 strikes over North Vietnam below the 20th parallel and U.S. B52s flew 42 more, dropping about 1,300 tons of bombs.

Lift Restrictions WASHINGTON (AP) — Stunned by the sharp rise in farm prices, the Nixon administration has canceled a requirement that farmers must hold land from wheat production. The action is intended to boost grain and livestock production, thus cutting prices.

The Agriculture Department announcement Wednesday also includes removal of a ban against allowing livestock to graze on acres "set aside" under government control programs for wheat and feed grain.

Nixon Acts To Ease Economic Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today abolished mandatory wage-price controls except for the food and health industries and established a new program of voluntary compliance.

The surprise move—far more sweeping than had been expected—came as Nixon asked Congress for a one-year extension of his authority to control wages and prices. The President abolished the Pay Board and the Price Commission but retained the Cost of Living Council to manage his Phase 3 economic system.

The new program, which immediately replaces the Phase 2 system established in November 1971, is self-administered and based on "voluntary compliance," the White House said.

No longer will large businesses and labor unions have to get prior government approval for wage or price hikes—except in "special problem areas" which Nixon listed as food processing and retailing, and the health industry.

The President also continued the present system of looser mandatory controls over construction wage increases and said the present voluntary effort to keep interest rates down would stay in effect.

Under Phase 3, a new labor-management committee with members including top industrialists and such labor leaders as the AFL-CIO's George Meany will decide whether the current 5.5 percent ceiling on wages increases should be modified.

That standard remains in effect until the panel meets and the Cost of Living Council decides whether to accept its recommendations.

As a general guide for Phase 3, the White House said price increases should not exceed increases in costs. "Even where costs have increased," a White House summary said, "prices should not be increased if the firm's profit margin exceeds the firm's base-period profit margin."

"Alternatively," the summary added, "a firm may increase prices to reflect increased cost without regard to its profit margin if the firm's average price increases would not exceed 1.5 percent in a year."

Nixon told Congress the extraordinary wage and price controls system would be continued "with special vigor for firms involved in food processing and food retailing."

Nixon told Congress the extraordinary wage and price controls system would be continued "with special vigor for firms involved in food processing and food retailing."

He said he was establishing a government committee to review federal policies affecting food prices and a non-government advisory group to examine other ways of stabilizing food prices.

But for those industries and unions freed today from mandatory controls, the government retains the right to move in with stiff action to roll back unreasonable increases.

Nixon said in a message to Congress that his goal is to reduce the inflation rate to 2.5 percent or less by the end of 1973. He said his 90-day Phase 1 wage-price freeze and his Phase 2 mandatory controls on details of various items that might be included in a cease-fire agreement. The joint meeting of the top negotiators and the experts indicated that the negotiations between Kissinger and Tho were going beyond arguments over basic principles.

Both sides maintained their news blackout, and there was no evidence of progress toward removing the main obstacles to agreement.

At the four-party peace talks, the North Vietnamese delegate again demanded that the United States sign the agreement drafted by Kissinger and Tho in October. He accused the United States and the Saigon government of continuing to "make arrogant demands to reverse questions of principle and substance already agreed upon" in the October draft.

Dinh Ba Thi of the Viet Cong rejected the demand which Kissinger has been reported pressing for, recognition of the Saigon government's sovereignty over all of South Vietnam and re-establishment of the demilitarized zone as a frontier between two independent states.

Frisina, an electronics technician, is being held at the Connecticut Correctional Center at Hartford in lieu of a $25,000 surety bond.

He was arrested by State Police in Andover Dec. 25. Frisina was allegedly shot his 28-year-old wife, Anna, at the home of their neighbors on Bear Swamp Rd. The shooting occurred at about 6 p.m., police said, and Mrs. Frisina was pronounced dead on arrival at Windham Community Memorial Hospital later.

Frisina was brought into court this morning by two plainclothes officers. When pleading to the murder charge, he was accompanied by his new attorney, George J. Sherman of Hartford.

Frisina's first attorney, Jerome Griner of Hartford, said in December he was withdrawing from the case because he may be a witness when the case goes to trial.

Frisina was wearing a blue-gray suit in court this morning and appeared to be in good spirits, chatting with his attorney and the two officers with him.
