Credential Flap Delays Start of Peace Discussion

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong delegation refused at two sessions today to present its credentials to the four-party joint military commission, stalling the entire peace-keeping apparatus, a source close to the talks said.

Hundreds more cease-fire violations were reported across South Vietnam.

A third meeting was called for tonight in efforts to resolve the presentation of credentials and another diplomatic snag. Nearly 150 additional North Vietnamese delegates flown from Hanoi to Saigon aboard two U.S. Air Force C130 transports staged a plane sit-in at Tan Son Nhut air base, apparently refusing to fill out customs and immigration forms.

It was learned that U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker had personally intervened for the second time in two days in efforts to resolve the haggling. The four parties — the United States, South Vietnam, North Vietnam and the Viet Cong — met for a total of three hours in morning and afternoon sessions but accomplished "absolutely nothing," the source said.

"It was jabber, jabber, jabber," he added.

The United States, South Vietnam and North Vietnam presented their credentials at the first commission meeting attended by all parties in the morning, the source said, but the Viet Cong refused without citing a reason.

The protocol on the joint commission makes no mention of credentials.

The stalled conference of the four parties marked the first time the United States, North and South Vietnam and the Viet Cong met face to face across a conference table in Saigon.

Two U.S. Air Force C130 transport planes landed shortly before noon at Hanoi's Gia Lam Airport, which American jets had bombed only last month. They picked up the 142 North Vietnamese officers and men who will brief the Joint Military Commission, then flew them back to Tan Son Nhut, while members of the commission who arrived here Sunday were holding their initial meeting on the base.

But the second contingent of North Vietnamese did not disembark from the planes. Seven hours after they landed they were reported still aboard.

U.S. and North Vietnamese officials held several short conferences at playaside.

The International Commission of Control and Supervision also held its first meeting. A Canadian delegate, Michel Gauvin, told a news conference that representatives from Hungary, Indonesia and Canada are "ready to move out now."

Public Views On Education Solicited

HARTFORD (AP)—The state chancellor for higher education has called on Connecticut residents to make a personal contribution to the state's master plan for higher education.

Chancellor Warren Hill said the recommendations of eight committees which have been studying higher education in Connecticut will be made public in early February as a first step in composing the master plan. Those recommendations will be merged with recommendations from public hearings that the Commission on Higher Education plans to hold this summer and all the recommendations will be considered in drawing up the master plan.

Hill invited all citizens to the public hearings, saying $111 million is spent in Connecticut each year at 139 post-secondary educational facilities and that people should be concerned about how the money is being used.

Both Sides Charge Truce Violations

SAIGON (AP)—The South Vietnamese government and its Communist opponents accused each other today of widespread violations of the cease-fire. Officials of the new international peacekeeping force expressed hope of getting teams of observers into the field by Tuesday.

An American soldier died today of wounds suffered Sunday, the first U.S. fatality since the cease-fire went into effect. In the four days prior to the truce, four American military men were killed, and 19 U.S. soldiers and 12 U.S. civilians were wounded.

The U.S. Command announced the withdrawal of another 400 troops today, the second contingent of 400 men to leave since the cease-fire agreement took effect Sunday.

The Command said the men were flown out of the country by commercial airliners. This dropped U.S. troop strength in Vietnam, to 22,700 men. The cease-fire agreement requires them to leave the country by March 28.

The South Vietnamese command reported nearly 500 violations of the cease-fire by Communist forces since it went into effect at 8 a.m. Sunday.

The Viet Cong in a broadcast accused the Saigon government of "unceasingly violating the cease-fire agreement by military actions... throughout South Vietnam."

It said its forces "throughout the entire area of South Vietnam have completely carried out the cease-fire."

From one end of the country to the other, reports flowed into Saigon of sharp fighting.

In Quang Tri Province below the demilitarized zone there were heavy artillery barrages just as before the truce. In many other areas, small but bloody battles were fought for control of villages and hamlets before the international observer teams are deployed.

Military sources said a document captured in the Mekong Delta instructed Communist troops to keep fighting until the international teams were in place, and to continue where there are no teams.

South Vietnamese officials reported that total casualties on both sides since the cease-fire was announced five days ago approached the bloodiest weeks of last year's Communist offensive. They said 6,133 were killed, including 3,322 enemy and 575 government troops. Of these, 1,095 enemy and 168 government men died in the 24 hours beginning at 6 a.m. Sunday, two hours before the cease-fire began.

Hijacking Of Bank Foiled

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Banks have been run on, bombed and robbed. Now, police say, someone has tried to steal one.

Police reported Sunday that Richard John Lee, 26, broke into a motor home used as a portable Bank of America branch, ransacked it and then tried to drive off with it.

Officers said Lee was unable to get the vehicle into gear and asked two men at a nearby service station for aid.

But the sight of the ransacked interior and the "Bank of America" painted on the vehicle "aroused their suspicion."

The men called police, who took Lee into custody without incident.

He was booked for investigation of theft, police said.

January "Unthaw" Arrives In State

A low pressure area moving northeastward and confronting an arctic air mass caused an end to unseasonably mild winter temperatures in Connecticut over the weekend. Manchester, like most of the rest of the state, greeted the new week with a heavy wet snow and the prospect of more of the same causing motorists to exercise extreme caution and the closing of most area schools. ### Control Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration starts making its case for renewed authority for wage and price controls before the Senate Banking Committee today. Some Democrats were ready to question whether Phase 3 is strong enough.

There seems little doubt that the committee and Congress will give the President an additional year to impose controls. The present authority expires April 30.

Robinson Rites

NEW YORK (AP) — The body of Edward G. Robinson, the movie "tough guy" who died Friday in Hollywood at 79, was to be flown here today for burial.

Private family services, led by Rabbi Nathan Perlmutter of Temple Emmanu-El, were scheduled before burial in the family Mausoleum in Beth-El Cemetery. Funeral services were held Sunday at Temple Israel in Hollywood.

Eruption Continues

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (AP) — A fiery storm of lava ash and small rocks poured down on the town of Vestmannaeyjar until a wind shift Sunday brought at least temporary relief for the town off Iceland's southwest coast.

But police reported that at least 62 of the island homes had already been destroyed by boiling lava and hot ash from Helgafell, the nearby volcano that erupted last week.

Stranded

BEIRUT (AP) — Ten thousand Nigerian Moslem pilgrims are stranded in Saudi Arabia because the airport at Kano, Nigeria, remains closed after the airliner crash there a week ago, the Saudi state radio reported today.

King Faisal is giving food and financial assistance to the stranded pilgrims as they await transport home, the radio said.

A chartered airliner flying pilgrims home from Mecca crashed at Kano last Monday, killing 176 persons.

Shadow Sub

LONDON (AP) — British Air Force planes and a Royal Navy submarine are shadowing a foreign submarine sighted off northwest Ireland, the Ministry of Defense said today.

"It is not one of ours and it is not an allied one," a spokesman said.

The spokesman declined to confirm a report that the submarine was Russian but added "this is the normal route the Russians take on their way home from the Mediterranean."

Avalanche Kills Three

LUCERNE, Switzerland (AP) — Three Swiss youths died in an avalanche Sunday and three more skiers were missing in a blizzard in central Switzerland, police reported today.

Heavy, Wet Snowfall Blankets Most Of State

By DOUG BEVINS
(Herald Reporter)

Winter finally came to the Manchester area Sunday night — The first major snowstorm of the season dumped more than six inches of heavy snow before the weather turned to snow flurries before noon today.

Flurries will continue through the afternoon and will probably stop by early evening, according to the National Weather Service at Windsor Locks. Additional accumulation of snow is estimated at between one and three inches.

The snow piled up quickly Sunday night, keeping highway crews busy all night and today. Plowing crews kept up with the storm, according to the Town Highway Department, although the very wet snow was heavy and difficult to push.

Traffic on local roads and highways moved slowly this morning, as visibility was very bad, but no major tie-ups were reported in the Manchester area. Town and area police said there were several "fender-bender" collisions this morning.

Schools were closed today, but very few meetings or activities scheduled for tonight were canceled. However, the Manchester Adult Evening School has canceled all classes scheduled for tonight.

Service stations in Manchester were busy this morning, answering calls to pull cars out of snowbanks, to plow driveways and parking lots, and to start cars with battery problems.

Many people were late for work today in area businesses and industries, but few workers called in sick.

Taxi companies in the area were flooded with calls for cabs this morning. At about 10 a.m., the Manchester-East Hartford Cab Co. said there was a two-hour wait for service.

The Manchester office of the Hartford Electric Light Co. said there have been no power outages. The Southern New England Telephone Co. noted a few isolated service disruptions.

Road plowing operations in Manchester started at about 9:30 p.m. Sunday, with about eight trucks salting roads. At about 1 a.m., when the heavy snow started to pile up, there were about 30 trucks (both town and contract crews) plowing the roads.

At about 3 a.m., the snow turned to rain, and by daylight the rain turned back to snow, occasionally becoming sleet. The rain weighted down the snow, necessitating faster plowing speeds and thereby throwing snow off roads much further than usual.

The Town Highway Department office was receiving the usual number of complaints this morning, from residents whose shoveled driveways and sidewalks had been plowed under again.

The storm was caused by a low pressure center which started off the New Jersey coast and moved northeastward toward Nova Scotia, according to the National Weather Service. At midday, the low pressure center was over Falmouth, Mass., the weathermen said.

The precipitation ranged from next-to-nothing on the Connecticut shoreline, to nearly a foot in higher areas.

High winds of about 25 miles an hour were expected tonight, with gusts of up to 40 m.p.h. The temperatures will drop tonight to the twenties, and will probably be in the teens by morning.

The cold weather is likely to stay here for the next few days, with a chance of rain Thursday.

Watergate Trial Nears Conclusion

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government rested its case in the Watergate political espionage trial today.

The government rested after calling 51 witnesses including seven members of President Nixon's White House and campaign staffs and two officials of the Democratic party.

The case grew out of the break-in and alleged bugging of the Democratic headquarters in the Watergate building complex last June 17.

The defense was expected to complete its presentation briefly, and presiding U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica scheduled closing arguments for both sides in the afternoon.

The jury was expected to get the case either tonight or early Tuesday after receiving its instructions from Sirica.

Nixon called his budget a turning point in national policy though still written in the familiar red ink—a $24.8-billion deficit this year and a $12.7-billion deficit in fiscal 1974. But the President pointed to 113 program cutbacks and terminations, worth $6.5 billion in savings in this fiscal year alone, and told the lawmakers:

"The 1974 budget is the clear evidence of the kind of change in direction demanded by the great majority of the American people."

"No longer will power flow inexorably to Washington."

The figures—some of them leaked in advance by Nixon himself—were:

For fiscal 1973: Outlays $249.8 billion, receipts $225 billion.

For fiscal 1974: Outlays $268.7 billion, receipts $256 billion.

Nixon invited an intensified power struggle with the Democratic-controlled Congress not only on spending but on two other old battle fronts. He urged the bundling of 70 federal aid programs into four broad "special revenue-sharing programs" for the states and cities, with less federal control. And he repeated his call for a drastic governmental reorganization which Congress has resisted for two years.

"A thorough overhaul of the

Budget Offered As Alternative To New Taxes, Inflation

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon demanded death for dozens of federal spending programs today, called on Congress for a rigid 1974 budget ceiling of $268.7 billion, and cautioned that greater spending would mean "high taxes, higher interest rates, renewed inflation, or all three."

"I oppose these alternatives; with a firm rein on spending, none of them is necessary," Nixon said in his fiscal 1974 budget message, sent to the new Congress as the foremost of the three major annual presidential messages.

The document lived up to advance billing as an ax job on many social, health, housing, education, and antipoverty programs of his Democratic predecessors—programs Nixon said had failed after a fair trial.

Despite the domestic cutbacks, the budget called for $81.1 billion of military outlays, the second biggest defense budget in history even with the peace agreement in Vietnam. It provided no funds for reconstruction of South Vietnam.

federal bureaucracy is long overdue, and I am determined to accomplish it," the President said.

No New Spending

Nixon proposed no new spending programs. Yet the 1974 budget will bring an $18.9-billion increase in spending over the year that ends June 30, largely because of military pay and price increases and what Nixon called "uncontrollable items"—including a $1.9-billion increase in interest costs on the climbing federal debt.

The $6.5 billion in cutbacks and withholding of funds already appropriated throws down a challenge to Congress, where every program has its loyal supporters, and makes it doubtful that Nixon can make his ceilings stick.

However, he gains extra leverage by insisting on the four special revenue-sharing plans for education, law enforcement, job training and community development. Mayors, governors and local pressure groups who want to save a doomed day-care or health program, for instance, might be able to do so by using revenue-sharing money; they are likely to apply heat on Congress to provide such funds.

The upturn in defense spending, to a total only half a billion dollars smaller than the $81.6-billion peak of warfare and atom-bomb outlays of 1945, also is likely to strike sparks.

The total includes military foreign aid, atomic energy and other indirect defense outlays, but the share for the Pentagon alone is up $4.2 billion from this year, to a total of $79 billion.

End of the War Costs

The Defense Department said moreover that it may have to ask Congress for more money to pay for mine-clearing, troop withdrawals, and other closing-out costs in Vietnam. Other sources said privately that funds for Vietnam's reconstruction also are likely to be asked later on. But Secretary of the Treasury George Shultz told newsmen that if new costs are

Manchester Mother Awaits Son's Return

The good news that Air Force Maj. Kenneth North, a Rockville native, will soon be home from the war was received by his mother, Mrs. Florence North of 73 Charter Oak St., Manchester, 1:30 a.m. Sunday.

Maj. North, a native of Rockville, was shot down over North Vietnam on Aug. 1, 1966. His sister, Mrs. Patricia Iamónico and a brother, Robert North, live in Rockville. His wife and four daughters make their home in Wellfleet, Mass., where Mrs. North is first selectman. His sister said today, "The long wait is finally over and we hope he will be home in a couple of weeks."

She expressed sorrow for those families who have been given the bad news that their loved ones will not be coming home.

Mrs. Iamónico said she had not dared get her hopes too high after the disappointment in October when peace was thought to be near. She added, "We are waiting to hear he is in the States and on free ground." She said her mother was told he would come in at Westover Air Force Base in Massachusetts.

Noting that her brother only has one and a half years to go before his retirement from the service, Mrs. Iamónico said she does not know what his plans are. She added, "He loves to fly but hasn't flown for seven years."

Vernon officials and residents are planning to honor Maj. North at special ceremonies to be held March 4 in the park in Rockville center. At that time, a tree will be planted and dedicated to Maj. North and all prisoners of war and service personnel missing in action.

Hopefully the Major will be on hand for the ceremonies.

DRAWING TRUMPS MAY BE FATAL By ALFRED SHEINWOLD The art of being a good dummy consists largely in providing your partner with enough trumps to guarantee him control of the trump suit and with enough silence to get his work done. It must be admitted, however, that it's hard to maintain the silence when your partner misuses the trumps you've put down for him.

Neither side vulnerable Opening lead—Two of Spades South won the first trick in dummy with the king of spades and promptly led the jack of diamonds to draw a round of trumps. East played low, and the jack held the trick. So far so good.

Now South made the fatal error of leading a second trump from dummy. East stepped up with the ace of diamonds and shrewdly led a third diamond. This left only one trump in dummy. South could therefore ruff one club and discard one club on dummy's ace of spades. This still left him with one losing club, so South was down one instead of making his slam contract.

Must Ruff Clubs South should see that he wants to ruff two clubs in dummy. Hence he must not make it possible for an opponent to reduce dummy to one trump. After dummy's jack of diamonds holds, South should take the ace of clubs and ruff a club with a high trump. East should discard since he cannot gain by overruffing. Now South leads a heart to the king and ruffs another club with a high trump.

Only after doing this can a declarer afford to lead a second trump from the dummy. South will draw trumps as quickly as he can from this point on, and the hand will present no further problem.

"THE WAY I HEARD IT" by John Gruber

I suppose I'm going to get a flock of letters to the editor saying I am a rotten music critic and don't know what I'm talking about, since I gave "Otello" a good review the other night at the Bushnell. I am perfectly well aware that there were a goodly number of people in the audience who didn't like it.

There were many complaints when Thomas Stewart and his wife Evelyn Leary failed to appear, because of illness. Now neither one has ever sung here and their performance as Otello and Desdemona would have been a first anywhere, so not one of these self-appointed experts could have foretold how they would sing.

Hebron Zoners Approve Dog Kennel Bid

Following an executive session last Wednesday, the Zoning Board of Appeals voted to grant the request of Zell A. Butler for special exception to permit the conversion of an existing barn into an indoor dog kennel on the corner of Old Colchester Rd. and Niles Rd.

No opposition was presented at the public hearing held by the ZBA prior to its executive session, and Butler's request complied with all the stipulations in the regulations. It was brought out at the public hearing, however, that the Butlers were in violation of present zoning regulations even though they had received a kennel permit from the town clerk's office.

FitzPatrick Backs Choice Of Jackson

John FitzPatrick, president of the Democratic Club of Manchester and one of seven persons considered for a vacancy on the town Board of Directors, is backing the screening committee's choice - Mrs. Phyllis Jackson.

FitzPatrick has congratulated Mrs. Jackson and has commended the Democratic Town Committee's executive board (the screening committee) for making "an excellent choice."

"It would be difficult to find someone more qualified than Phyllis," he said. "Anyone who knows her appreciates the hard work she does. In addition, I am particularly pleased that a member of our club has been selected."

The town committee will meet tomorrow night to endorse a candidate for the director's seat vacated by William FitzGerald when he assumed his new post of judge of probate. Tuesday's meeting will be at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building Hearing Room.

Mrs. Jackson and to be nominated from the floor is Robert Price, another of the seven candidates endorsed by the Democratic committee's executive board.

Mrs. Jackson had received the majority vote of the members of the executive board. Price had been tied with Arnold Klu and Mrs. Harriet Handley for second high. Following the vote, a motion was passed to make the endorsement of Mrs. Jackson unanimous.

The Board of Directors - 5 to 3 Democratic - will elect a successor to Judge FitzGerald on Feb. 6. They are expected to elect whenever is endorsed by the Democratic Town Committee. The term of the vacancy is to November of this year. Town elections are scheduled for Nov. 6.

South Windsor Council Ponders Library Funding

BARBARA VARRICK Correspondent Tel. 644-8274

The South Windsor Town Council will hold an informational meeting tonight to discuss various means for funding a proposed building program for a new town library.

The meeting is for public participation at 8 in the Town Hall at which time the council will outline possible sources of available funds for the $1,100,000 project which is subject to voter approval in a referendum.

Last week, John Cook, Library Commission chairman, requested using $450,000 of the Capital Reserve fund, the two-mill annual tax levy held aside for capital improvements in the town. The fund currently has approximately $60,000.

Other methods of funding to be discussed will be state grants, revenue sharing money, and bonding.

All interested citizens are being urged to attend the meeting and give their suggestions and opinions on the proposed methods for financing.

On Tuesday, the council will hold a workshop session to discuss the orientation of the new system for a budget format with the Board of Education to be initiated this year. This session will be at 7:30 p.m. in the council chambers.

Heralding Politics

By Sol R. Cohen

To people wondering when the bus strike will end and when bus service will resume, the name, John Thompson, is synonymous with the transportation crisis. To most of them, one John Thompson is all John Thompson.

John B. Thompson of Stamford is statewide head of the Amalgamated Transit Union - whose bus-driver members are out on strike in all the large cities of Connecticut.

John W. Thompson is mayor of Manchester and has nothing to do with the bus drivers, their union, or the transportation crisis. He is a member of the research and member services for the CSEA (Connecticut State Employees Association).

Mayor Thompson relates he is being confused daily with union-head Thompson, and that he's having trouble convincing people who really are interested.

He says he's been getting calls from radio and TV stations, from wire services and from newspapers - all seeking information related to the bus strike.

The calls that worry him the most, says Mayor Thompson, are the ones he is getting from Manchester residents - his constituents.

Another Manchester Thompson getting calls these days is Roy M. Thompson of 53 Sycamore Lane.

His calls are from members of the Republican Town Committee, urging him to seek the post of GOP town chairman. M. Adler Dobkin is chairman since 1968, is resigning the post and has called a town committee meeting to designate his successor.

Clean-burning gas comes to you through safe underground pipelines in any weather. So you're assured of a constant supply, day or night, season after season. And converting to gas heat is easy. You use your present boiler or furnace. Just a small conversion unit is installed. End those winter heating worries. Call your gas heating contractor or CNG in Hartford (525-0111) or New Britain (224-9157). Ask about the CNG low-monthly rental plan. Modernize your heating system and save with gas heat.

TV Looks At Itself

"TV Times," a magazine-television program that provides television's first unflinching, in-depth look at itself, will air on ABC-TV's Wide World of Entertainment Thursday (Feb. 1) at 11:30 p.m.

ABC Sports commentator Don Meredith, former quarterback of the Dallas Cowboys, and Roger Grimby, anchor man of WABC (New York) "Eyewitness News," will co-host the show.

When the Republicans took control of the 1973 General Assembly, they promised a sharp reduction in the number of bills to be filed. About 7,000 had been dropped in the 1971 session. The GOP pledge, coupled with a cut in the House membership (from 177 to 151), forecast a streamlined session.

However, it may not materialize. To date, about 6,000 bills already have been filed - about 4,000 in the House and about 2,000 in the Senate. GOP leaders are looking for a way out - so they may stick to their promise of early adjournment.

BALANCING COLOR Applying rouge evenly on both sides of the face, and with just the right amount of color, requires skill and just a little luck. If there is too much color, rather than try to rub away the excess, put a dab of cream on a tissue and blot it up. Set the color with a cotton square dampened with good quality white hazel. Use the same pad to blend the makeup at the hair line and throat.

Budget Asks $93 Million For Amtrak

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration proposed to Congress today a $93-million outlay for Amtrak for continued operation of a nationwide network of railroad passenger trains.

The initial two-year experimental period for Amtrak will end June 30. In its first year Amtrak received $77,875,000, and in the current fiscal year, its second, it is to get $106,900.

Amtrak has estimated losses at $154 million the first year and $128 million the second.

The Administration recognizes the importance of rail passenger service and will recommend the continuing operation of Amtrak beyond the two-year experimental period ending June 30, 1973, in the budget message said.

Congress has ordered the Department of Transportation to make a detailed report by March 15 on the effectiveness of Amtrak, along with recommendations for an intercity rail system for the future.

President Nixon said the March 15 report will contain detailed recommendations for a specific rail network.

Town Report Ready at End Of February

Town Manager Robert Weiss said today that Manchester's annual town report for the year ended June 30, 1972 will not be ready until the end of February. He said it then will be entered in the Town and City Report Contest sponsored annually by the University of Connecticut's Institute of Public Service.
The 1971-72 town report was distributed as a supplement in The Manchester Evening Herald. Weiss said there are no plans to do the same this year. He said the report will be printed by a commercial firm and will be distributed as in prior years - house-to-house.
The UConn contest will be for entries in six population-group categories. Manchester will be in Class V - 20,000 to 50,000 population.
Beldon Schaffer of Manchester, director of the UConn Institute of Public Service, said the reports will be judged on content, readability, attractiveness and utility, with awards in each population-group category and with a "Most Outstanding Report" prize to the best in the state.
The deadline for submitting entries is April 1.

Nixon Seeks Firm Rein

put into the budget, "something else will have to come out."

The budgeting process foreseen for calendar 1973 makes possible the curtailment of some work and welfare programs. The Nixon administration said, Shultz said the government expects joblessness to decline from the present 5 1/2 per cent rate to 4.5 per cent by the year-end.
In a nationwide radio address from his Key Biscayne, Fla., home Sunday, Nixon made an appeal for support.
"Every member of the Congress gets enormous pressure from special interests to spend your money for what they want, and so I ask you to back up those congressmen and those senators, whether Democrats or Republicans, who have the courage to vote against higher spending. They hear from the special interests, but not from you."

With apparent intent to set a cost-cutting example, Nixon announced a shakeup of his executive office with five of its agencies will be abolished or moved elsewhere and its staff will be cut from the present 4,250 to 1,686 in 1974.
The five are the OEO, the Office of Emergency Preparedness, the Office of Science and Technology, the National Science Foundation; the Office of Consumer Affairs, shifted to HEW.

The OEO, the Office of Emergency Preparedness, whose functions will be shifted to other agencies, is the National Aeronautics and Space Council, eliminated.
This was the budget's impact on some major segments of government.

Nixon said the budget "assures us of sufficient strength to preserve our security and to continue as a major force for peace," even without relying on a peacetime draft.
The $81-billion budget will permit continued development of the Trident sea-based ballistic-missile system and the B1 advanced manned strategic bomber, and begin development of a new generation of intercontinental cruise missile.

DEFENSE

In announcing $5.5 billion in cutbacks from this fiscal year's spending to bring the budget on target, the $20-billion ceiling he has proclaimed, Nixon said the pressure in the 1960s for federal programs to be cut was intense. He said the program will be cut from $1.2 billion to $1.1 billion.

Nixon Budget Assessed By Economists

AP News Analysis
By JOHN DOEFMAN
NEW YORK (AP) - President Nixon's proposed budget for fiscal 1974 is headed in the right direction, though it does not go far enough, some economists say.

The budget calls for federal spending of $208.7 billion in fiscal 1974, with a deficit of about $12 billion. That compares with a projected $20 billion spending total in 1973 and a $12 billion deficit for the current fiscal year.
Professional economists contacted by The Associated Press said the President's intention was apparently to reduce stimulation of the economy by cutting back the amount of money pumped into it through deficit spending. They indicated general approval of this intention.
However, four economists said Nixon had not gone far enough in the right direction. "We should really be running a surplus next year," said James O'Leary, executive vice-president and economist for U.S. Trust Co.
"Just to have a smaller deficit isn't enough," O'Leary says. "A booming economy ahead, with the danger of inflation fueled by consumer demands. Of the two major government weapons for controlling the economy - tax policy and monetary policy - the latter will be burdened with the entire task of fighting this inflation, O'Leary fears.

"All this budget represents is kind of a holding action," he said. "It puts a big pressure on the Federal Reserve to be restrictive in the credit area, and poses the danger of another credit crunch like that of 1969-70."
If the Fed doesn't tighten the money supply enough to cause a crunch, O'Leary and others worry that the pace of inflation will increase.

Albert T. Sommers, chief economist for the Conference Board, said a $12 billion deficit would not be much of an inflation factor, but added "if anybody says this budget means there will be no inflation, that's wrong."
Elliott Janeway, a syndicated investment columnist and author, said President Nixon is misinformed if he believes a $208.7 billion budget would create only a $12 billion deficit, and predicted "an inflationary crisis."
Others, however, believe Nixon had struck exactly the right balance.
"It is obvious the administration's determination to hold down the growth of government spending is very real," said William Wolman, chief economist for Argus Research.
"There is no doubt this will strike a blow against inflation," Richard W. Everett,

Selective Service Retired

WASHINGTON (AP) - The credit-raised piece of paper that sent armies and led hundreds to flee their homes to avoid its reach has been retired.
But the draft system which monthly sent "Greetings" to thousands of young men is still intact and as alive as it was during the peak of the Vietnam war. Only the power to induct men into uniform has been retired.
Eighteen-year-old men will still have to register for the draft-and receive a draft card-and standby lotteries will be held annually.
The power to induct can be reinstated-through an act of Congress-and probably would be in a national emergency. But now, for the first time since 1948, men aged 18 through 35 will not face induction.
The farewell to the draft was spoken by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird who told members Saturday.
"With the signing of the peace agreement in Paris today, and after receiving a report from the secretary of the Army that he foresees no need for further inductions, I wish to inform you that the armed forces henceforth will depend exclusively on volunteer soldiers, sailors, airmen and Marines."
The action puts the nation's military on an all-volunteer basis five months ahead of President Nixon's goal.
