GIVE OPPONENTS A CHANCE TO MAKE A MISTAKE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

In some hands the contract may depend on getting an opponent to make a mistake. You must usually play for the error as early as possible, while the opponents are still groping for the right defense.

You have already limited your strength by an original pass. Otherwise you must show your value by bidding a new suit and raising the spades later.

The response of two hearts promises at least a five-card suit, but you don't mind breaking this promise since you intend to go back to spades no matter what your partner does.

West to know the true situation, and he cannot be blamed for his play. Good defenders learn by experience to play low quickly and casually in such situations. Declarer put up dummy's king of hearts, hoping that West had ducked with the ace. This was of course, the case, and now South didn't have to lose a heart trick. He could afford to lose the diamond finesse, and his slam was therefore safe.

The winning play is simple enough, but the crafty reader should observe that it wouldn't work if tried later. If South draws trumps and loses the diamond finesse to begin with, West will then realize that the ace of hearts is the setting trick, and he will take it at the first opportunity.

Stratford Theater Revamped

STRAFORD (AP) — A change of top brass and a four-year development plan were announced Tuesday by the American Shakespeare Theater.

Robert M. Carr, senior partner of the New York accounting firm of Lutz and Carr, was named president of the organization, which dropped the word Festival from its title.

Joseph Verrier Reed, a founder of the center 1964, moved over to chairman of the board of trustees. Francis V. Slosser, president of Bridgeport's City National Bank, replaced Carr as treasurer; Mrs. J. Kenneth Bradley, Westport, was elected vice president to head a trustee committee seeking broader national representation.

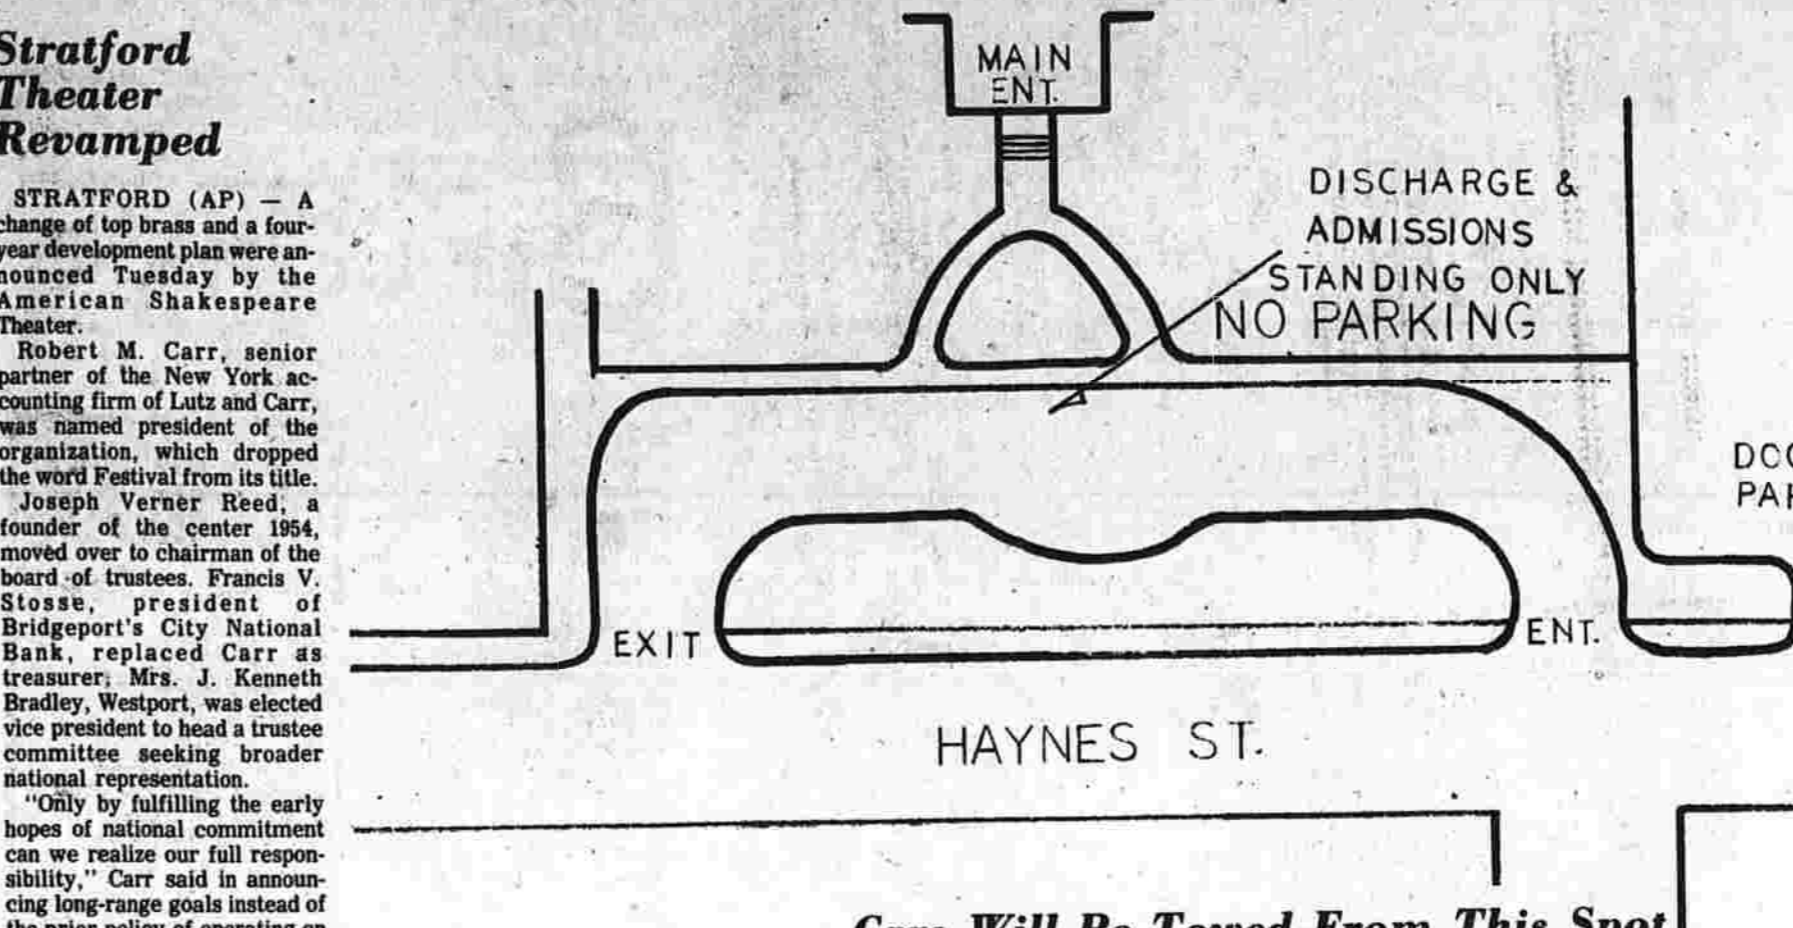

"Only by fulfilling the early hopes of national commitment can we realize our full responsibility," Carr said in announcing long-range goals instead of the prior policy of operating on a season-to-season basis.

Program, budget and fundraising are to be worked out for the extended period under a plan submitted after an extended committee study.

Year-round administrative headquarters of the organization have recently been moved to Stratford from New York.

Among future projects of the AST are cross-country tours after the Stratford season to Washington, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Chicago, Dallas, Baltimore and Detroit. Also being contemplated are mid-winter university residencies, expansion of the new playwright series to help young dramatists, and improvements in plant and administrative facilities.

The 19th season opens June 12 under the artistic direction of Michael Kahn. The summer schedule includes "Macbeth," "Measure for Measure," "Julius Caesar" and William Whycherley's "The Country Wife."

Cars Will Be Towed From This Spot

Effective Monday, parking in front of the hospital will no longer be permitted and cars parked in the area will be towed away at the owner's expense. Fire Chief Rivosa and Police Chief Reardon have declared the move essential for life and safety. Chief Rivosa has said that under present conditions it would be impossible to get equipment in the area and any delay could be fatal. The area has long been marked as a fire zone but ignored by the public. "Patients being admitted or discharged can still be picked up or dropped off at the front entrance," Edward M. Kenney, administrator of the hospital pointed out. "However, under no conditions can a vehicle be parked in the area."

Social Security

Q. I am over 65 but never worked under Social Security. I was not covered by the hospital insurance part of Medicare because of my not working. My brother tells me that a change in the Social Security law makes it possible for me to now obtain this coverage. Is this true?

A. Yes it is. Starting in July people who did not qualify for Medicare hospital insurance will be able to get that protection by paying a monthly premium.

Q. Is it true that the monthly premium for people who wish to elect hospital insurance coverage because they were unable to obtain it before, will be $3 per month?

A. Initially the premium will be $3 a month but this may increase later as hospital costs rise.

Q. I receive Social Security benefits on my husband's work record. I never worked. I am covered by Medicare. Does the $3 premium apply to me since I never worked myself?

A. No. As long as you are receiving Social Security benefits on your husband's record, the hospital insurance coverage is yours automatically and the new provision in the law does not apply to you.

Q. Must I file an application to become covered under hospital insurance since I was not eligible for it when I became 65?

A. Yes. You should contact the local Social Security office to file for this coverage.

Have a question about Social Security and its retirement, survivors, disability and Medicare benefits? Write to Questions & Answers, Social Security Office, 657 Main St., East Hartford, 06108.

Voice May Be Clue To Heart Disease

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The harsh, grating voice on the tape recorder belonged to one of San Francisco's most successful executives.

It is a sound picture of a man, who when interviewed about his life's details, responded impatiently. He answered some anticipated questions before he was asked and finished sentences in sharp, crisp cadence.

What makes the tape more than an ordinary interview is that the subject, age 61, died one year later of a heart attack.

The San Francisco research doctor who questioned him has supervised over 3,000 such interviews and says the potential attack victim could be spotted by his voice, manner and even constrained facial characteristics.

Dr. Meyer Friedman, cardiovascular research director at Mount Zion Hospital here, contends that men with certain personality traits are more prone to heart attacks, even though they may eschew cigarettes and cholesterol-laden foods.

He is quick to add, however, that such high-risk men increase their chances of a coronary when they smoke or eat a lot of fatty foods.

Friedman, an energetic 63 and a former coronary victim himself, says there are two types of personalities—Type A, those with high-risk behavior patterns; and Type B, less intense men less likely to have heart trouble.

"Coronary disease develops only in the Type A heart, the rich ground from which coronary victims are plucked," Friedman said in a recent interview. "Ten per cent of the As between 35 and 60 will get a heart attack."

"A" men have "free floating hostility, insecurity, look at everything as a challenge and are addicted to habit formations. The Type A man makes everything in his life a matter of time urgency," he said.

The Type B man is not rushed or bound by habit to set near-impossible goals for himself. "A's never say they're good at something, they intimate it by the projects in which they are involved. A's know very well how good he is and will say so. He has a horizon and limits," Friedman said.

Silverstein Asks Capital Works Poll

DONNA HOLLAND

Correspondent Tel. 646-0375

Morris Silverstein, member of the Board of Finance, recommended at its last meeting that a bipartisan committee be formed to poll all voters and taxpayers of Bolton so as to establish a priority list of capital improvements in the town for the years ahead.

He says, "With all due respect to revenue sharing, we would hate to think of our taxes would be if we undertook the library, school addition, park development, fire house, etc. at the same time." The poll would produce taxpayer preferences that would aid the Board of Finance in evaluation requests.

The majority of board members thought the poll was not their function, so it was not undertaken.

Grand List Up $541,113

DONNA HOLLAND

Correspondent Tel. 646-0375

Bolton's Grand List is up $541,113 over last year, according to figures released by the town clerk's office. The abstract indicates that this year's total net taxable property after exemptions is $20,371,712, compared with last year's total of $20,029,599. Figures are based on property owned Oct. 1, 1972.

A breakdown of this year's total shows that $18,314,997 is for real estate, $20,396 for personal property, and $2,246,319 for motor vehicles. The figures are for the gross Grand List. Service, blind and elderly exemptions total $569,291 making the net Grand List $20,371,712.

Figures show that there are 1,084 houses in town, 775 out-buildings, 1,502 building lots, 32 stores, 5 factories, and 6,043 acres of land. There are 2,852 motor vehicles listed.

Coin Show Set Sunday

The Central Connecticut Coin Club of Manchester and surrounding towns will hold a coin show Sunday at the Knights of Columbus Home, 158 Main St. The event is open to the public free of charge.

There will be 22 bourse dealers from Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and New York for buying, selling, trading and appraising coins and currency.

There will be exhibits by members of the club and trophies will be awarded to the winners. Some of the exhibits will be of United States Coins and Currency, mini first-day covers with elongated coins, national currency of Connecticut and a Canadian Centennial exhibit. There will also be exhibits of foreign coins and currency. The exhibit receiving the most points in the judging scores will receive the "Best of Show" trophy.

This year the junior members of the club will compete with each other to win awards with their exhibits. Each member must make up his own exhibit without any help from the adults. Trophies will also be given members in the junior division.

Mrs. Sally Kirka is general chairman of the show. Al Kirka is bourse chairman and Don Spector will handle registration. Members of the Knights of Columbus will be in charge of the refreshment concession.

His plan would include mailing a ballot to all eligible voters listing major capital improvements that were presented by Brown, Donald, & Donald in their 1971 Plan of Development.

The poll would give the Board of Finance a clear mandate to follow. "After all," Silverstein said, "it's their money we're spending." It should be considered very vital to the town as it will direct their future development and expansion.

He feels it is particularly appropriate as it is budget time and requests for capital improvements have been received by the board. Being an election year, current voter lists are readily available.

He makes it clear that he does not feel any board or agency has been negligent in its responsibilities. Requests for capital improvements have been received by the board and more are expected. This poll would give them an indication of which direction to follow, Silverstein feels.

At the same time, he credits the American Bar Association with helping to head off four mediocre candidates after it endorsed Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. and G. Harold Carswell only to see the nominations rejected by the Senate.

Kohlmeier covered the Court on a daily basis for The Wall Street Journal while Nixon undertook to give it a "law and order" cast. He is highly critical of the President and even more so of his first attorney general and closest adviser, John N. Mitchell. Nor does he speak much in praise of President Lyndon B. Johnson, who persuaded Arthur J. Goldberg to step down to make room for Abe Fortas, whose resignation gave Nixon an extra vacancy to fill.

For a parallel to the current trend, Kohlmeier looks back to Chief Justice Roger B. Taney and the pre-Civil War era when the Court was insensitive to the yearnings of the Negro slaves. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger recalls to him Chief Justice William Howard Taft, who emphasized judicial administration and Frederick Leeves in "My Fair Lady."

The book well could have gone back to 1886 and what is generally accounted the first Broadway musical, "The Black Crook." Although the girls were thoroughly covered with lights, grandma and grandpa were reminded for the first time that women had legs, on stage as well as in the boudoir.

And there are the great names in musicals: Irving Berlin, George Gershwin, Jerome Kern, Sigmund Romberg, Cole Porter, Oscar Hammerstein II and Richard Rodgers, Lerner and Lowe. What pleasures those names evoke!

There is one omission of recent date that well could have been included because in itself it is an enchanting journey through memory lane: "Folies."

Go Ahead and Eat

It doesn't appear that the suggestion that housewives boycott the butchers or even grocery stores has caught on. President Nixon may be right that a boycott of beef in the long run could prove counter-productive. In other words, the cattlemen might decide to raise something else, possibly race horses. Horseflesh, for pet foods, has been going up, too.

Consumers are going to have to grin and bear it because higher food prices appear to be here to stay. If you replace steaks with hamburger on your shopping list, the price of hamburger goes up. Cheese and fish, recommended by some government advisers, are not exactly giveaway items.

But there is a bright side to all this. Americans still eat better than almost anybody else in the world. And overweight is still a great American problem.

Some nutritionists have observed that homemaker's efforts to economize on their food purchase may actually improve America's eating habits so far as nutrition and a balanced diet are concerned. Less beef and saturated fats probably will mean more chicken, fish, and vegetables, especially those rich in proteins such as dried beans and peanuts.

And you are not alone in striving to hold down costs. The Navy recently substituted hamburger for steak on its menus and Admiral Elmo Zumwalt, chief of Naval Operations, cautioned food managers to stop buying high cost luxury and convenience items, such as steaks, roasts, lamb chops and lobsters.

Restaurants, hospitals and jails are feeling the pinch and the jails can't raise prices. One New York restaurant chain raised its coffee from 15 to 20 cents a cup. Another boosted hamburgers 25 cents apiece to a price not revealed lest it boggie the minds of potential customers or prove too great a shock for people old enough to remember the 25 cent hamburger.

People may be stewing over meat prices but they aren't beefing. It could be worse. Cuba's communists are rationed to 4 to 12 ounces of beef every nine days.

Bolton's Bone Pile

This lets dig up and gnaw on some well buried bones in answer to claims in the political newspaper left in Bolton's mail boxes. This newspaper bestows on itself, the name "Truth" a claimed self infallibility, enjoying by right the power of the world. It's namesake Pravda (Truth), Moscow's finest.

First, it is used for the listing and touting the education degrees of its candidates. Omitting the fact is the No. spot of first selection. Truth must be an education mob.

Candidate for selectmen gets half of the page and charges that Bolton hasn't done enough to provide adult education and recreation and will be selective in adopting new programs like tennis courts and expanding the town office building.

One: If he will give that "careful analysis of his" past records he will find it was the Board of Finance of the town of Bolton that decreed and blocked the vast sum of $400 to initiate adult education in Bolton. Further checking he will find it was this party of truth that rejected the free offer from the state owned Bolton Lake Dam for recreation. The same cost of another pay loader could have provided swimming to all.

A favorite few of Bolton's political brethren will get that recreation use of the lake. The courts, the others will get their exercise by working extra hours to pay for them, and the like like three selectmen will enjoy the expanded office. Perhaps he will arrange a tour after completion to our high school students during their lunch time.

Truth states that it brought fiscal sanity and reduced the tax rate.

One: The November 1972 published tax figures of the state shows that Bolton and Ellington taxpayers pay some of the highest property taxes in the state. Bolton taxpayers are soaked $30.00 per $1,000 compared to the state average of $25.50.

Current Notes

"The bill is a recognition of the obvious: that Phase 3 isn't working and that immediate action is needed to halt the spiraling increases in prices, rents and interest rates."

Texas Democrat Wright introduced a bill to stabilize rents and freeze all prices and interest rates for 60 days.

Joe Sikspak's Cure for Crime

Dear President: I, Joe Sikspak, American, take pen in hand to roast a chestnut in your fire. It's about the death penalty.

Soon as I heard the news, I slumped by Paddy's Place. "Give me a Seven-high, Paddy, to celebrate," says I. "The President's going to give us back our death penalty."

"That makes sense," says I. "What's more," says Paddy, "it's the perfect form of punishment. The whole idea of our system of justice is to punish the offender and make sure he doesn't do it again. And statistics show the rate of recidivism among those receiving capital punishment is less than one per cent."

Truly Yours, Joe Sikspak, American

The buses are rolling at long last thanks to a state subsidy. And how would you Mr. Businessman, like a guaranteed profit of 5 per cent monthly, the same guarantee given the bus company? Drop Tom Meskill a line and see what he says.

The Town of Manchester can be thankful it was a mild winter. John Harkins, assistant town manager, told us that expenditures for personnel overtime and chemicals used in snow removal and sanding totaled $81,000. This compares to the previous winter when $82,000 was expended but it was also mild by most standards.

In contrast, Flagstaff, Ariz., measured over 140 inches of snow this winter and some of it fell in March. It is estimated that it will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 just to repair city streets. Sawmills closed in March and construction was virtually at a standstill.

The heavy snowfall does bring Arizona one reward though, an increased water supply.

Mayor John Thompson's suggestion for a committee to undertake a study of proposals for a change in Manchester's form of government is a good one.

The Eighth District Fire Department needs a boat, it got one, and it is good insurance for Manchester. We hope Town Manager Robert Weiss looks favorably upon the request.

To keep the press and the public fully informed, according to senators anyway, the U.S. Senate is spending almost $1.5 million annually on salaries for press secretaries.

The report of the Senate's secretary shows 73 persons listed as press aides and on the average they earned $39,313 annually. The report shows 64 of the secretaries are men, come on ladies?

Our salute to Regal's on the new canopy that over hangs the sidewalk. It is a good addition to downtown Manchester. In fact it got us to thinking that the canopy might be a good idea for an entire block or two.

Orders are starting to come in for our special edition, Manchester Then and Now, which will be published June 23 noting the town's 150th anniversary.

Herald subscribers will receive the edition at no extra charge. Extra copies will be available for 50 cents and we will mail them to friends and relatives for that price anywhere in the nation.

The Wall Street Journal says domestic-made new car sales rose 2.5 per cent in early March from a year earlier. The total exceeded the forecasts of some industry sales experts and was the second highest ever for the period.

What is good for General Motors is good for America, an economist at the University of Illinois has some pretty fair statistics to substantiate the phrase.

It is pointed out that a strike of major magnitude against the world's largest auto maker can reduce the gross national product as much as $9 billion. The stoppage of purchases by GM from the 39,000 suppliers it draws upon for everything from steel springs to candy bars leads to layoffs of thousands of workers. Even firms that do not deal directly with GM experience ripple effects as suppliers cut their purchases.

The Connecticut Development Commission says construction activity during 1972 soared to a new high, generating more than $1.2 billion in contract awards. The 1972 construction total represents an increase of 26 per cent over 1971.

The commission comments that construction this year may not match the record high level of last year due to cut backs in federal housing funds, high building costs, rising property taxes and some over supply in both commercial and residential space.

While back we received a letter inquiring why offices in the Town Hall couldn't be open until 5 o'clock or so for the convenience of the public.

Up at the hall the other day though we noticed one office that is open after 4:30, that of town clerk Ed Tomkiele. It also isn't unusual to find Ed in his office on Saturday.

This is open house week at The Herald and the unveiling for the general public is Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Cobventry Clerk Approved For Town Study

HOLLY GANTNER, Correspondent

The Town Council has approved the request of the Rehabilitation Committee for clerical assistance required to accomplish a number of tasks related to its work.

In the request to the council, committee Chairman Robert Fitch said, "The committee has been engaged in a number of activities during the five months since its formation, including defining its areas of concern, determining what possible avenues towards rehabilitation of the lake region may exist, which in turn permits better defining of the nature of and quantification of the magnitude of the problems involved."

Other members on the committee are Paul Goodin, Rose Fowler, Dick Broun, Town Planner Frank Conolly, and Town Manager Dennis Moore.

Firemen Get Training In Ambulance Work

HOLLY GANTNER, Correspondent

Due to the increase in ambulance service at the Cobventry Volunteer Fire Association, the department has started an intensive training program for the men, according to an announcement from Harold Crane, CVFA president.

In the past seven months, the department has responded to 240 calls, with more than 200 of these for emergency ambulance service.

Canine Control Considered

HARTFORD (AP) - Dogs that are spayed or neutered will cost their owners less.

The bill would raise all dog registration fees but charge less for altered dogs. And, it would give $15 refunds to dog owners who alter their dogs.

The committee also rejected a plan to establish state-operated spaying clinics. Aphorh said the bill allows people to go to their own vets.

Under the bill, the new fee schedule would be $5 a year for spayed or neutered males, $7.50 for an unaltered male, and $10 for an unaltered female.

About Town

The Children's School in Manchester will hold a tag sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday, at the former A&P store on Broad St.

The society testified last month that it had destroyed 50 to 60 unwanted animals a day at its five shelters.

The main thrust of this bill is to stop that slaughter, Aphorh. The idea is to stop it at the source, however, by reducing unwanted litters of Puppies.

The committee threw out another bill which would have required the use of barbiturates on costs, social impact and representative of the Heart Association.

Starting tonight, under the direction of Chief Roger Bellard, all firemen will be attending fire training drills every Wednesday and Sunday.

A third group of men are now attending an Emergency Ambulance course at the area hospital. In the past three weeks 52 men in the department have been instructed in cardiac pulmonary respiration (heart message). This course involves the use of a resuscitator, a representative of the Heart Association.

Other members on the committee are Paul Goodin, Rose Fowler, Dick Broun, Town Planner Frank Conolly, and Town Manager Dennis Moore.

NEW HAVEN (AP) - The New Haven Housing Authority has won recognition from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development as a leading New England agency in providing employment opportunities to minority groups.

White quoted an official of HUD's Boston office as having commended the authority for "its excellent job of increasing minority employment on jobs contracted by the agency."

Sound Bridge Foes Plan Organization

STAMFORD (AP)—A group of opponents of the proposed Rye Oyster Bay Bridge across Long Island Sound agreed Tuesday to form a foundation to continue the protest.

About 300 persons from Connecticut and Long Island Sound attended the meeting called by Joseph V. Toner, president of the Slippan Point Association to demonstrate regional opposition to the plan.

The group adopted a resolution to create a regional non-partisan, privately funded foundation whose "sole purpose would be the preservation of Long Island Sound."

Stamford Mayor Julius M. Wilensky warned opponents of the proposed bridge not to be lulled into false optimism by recent developments such as a decision by the U.S. Department of Interior not to grant an easement for the projected bridge route.

"There is nothing the bridge planners would like to see more than to see the course of opposition die down," Wilensky said. He predicted that if this happened, New York State officials who favored the bridge would be quick to take advantage.

Support for the group was expressed by aides of Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., U.S. Rep. Stewart B. McKinney, R-Conn., and U.S. Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y. In addition, messages of support were received from Sen. James L. Buckley, CR-N.Y., and Mayor John V. Lindsay of New York.

Mike Smith, an aid to McKinney, reinforced the bridge's status to remain vigilant in opposition to the bridge. He said "high level meetings have already taken place in Washington between the Department of Interior and those who want to change their decision."

Charter Commission Will Meet April 4

The Manchester Charter Commission has scheduled a meeting for April 4 to clarify 2 of its 12 recommendations for charter change. The clarification will be at the request of the Board of Directors.

The directors on March 20, accepted the other 10 recommendations. It requested clarification of the proposal for placing the water and sewer departments under the jurisdiction of the department of public works, and the one for emergency borrowing without a referendum.

The directors appeared concerned that the city of water and sewer departments might be subordinated to a minor position. It was concerned also that the water and sewerage fees might become intermingled with General Fund monies.

On the proposal for emergency borrowing, the board wants to know who would declare officially that an emergency exists. It also wants to guarantee that the borrowing would be by a two-thirds vote of the entire nine-member body.

The directors are asking one other consideration by the Charter Revision Commission. They want it to give its "further reaction" to the question of what form of government is best for Manchester.

The commission already has recommended that the council-manager form of government be preserved. By its action, it rejected a proposal for a change to a strong-mayor government, recommended by the executive board of the Manchester Property Owners Association.

The request for the commission's "further reaction" is because of a 1,484-signature petition filed with the Board of Directors March 20 by the MPOA. An "opinion" petition

Court Approves Stamford Busing Plan

BRIDGEPORT (AP)—A U.S. District Court judge Tuesday upheld a Stamford school-busing plan, saying it does not discriminate against minority-group pupils.

A suit was brought against the school board's busing plan by Regional Legal Services on behalf of 16 black and Spanish-speaking pupils. They claimed the busing plan put an unfair burden on minority group pupils in order to achieve racial balance in the city's elementary schools.

U.S. District Judge Jon O. Newman ruled, however, that evidence in the case appeared to show the busing was an "inevitable" result of several school closings.

"Plaintiffs (the pupils) have offered no proof that the disproportionate burden they bear is anything other than the inevitable result of the present locations of Stamford's elementary schools, which plaintiffs do not challenge," he wrote.

The Rice and Stevens elementary schools were closed in 1970 as part of a desegregation plan to achieve as close as possible a 7-to-3 ratio of white to minority-group pupils in the elementary schools.

In the mid-1960s, about 70 percent of the city's Spanish-speaking and black pupils attended Rice, Stevens and a third elementary school, according to the school board.

Lawyers for the 16 pupils claimed that busing of the minority group pupils to new schools located outside their neighborhoods labeled them as "being inferior to white children" and was based on "considerations of political expediency."

Newman said in his decision that the effect on a large number of minority group pupils was to be expected as a result of the two school closings.

But he added that "a case of discrimination in this context is established not simply by the existence of the disparity between the percentages of each group affected but only by a disparity significantly greater than the one to be expected from use of a racially neutral plan."

"Integration planning must necessarily be 'color conscious' and it is constitutionally proper for it to be so," he said.

Stamford Mayor Julius M. Wilensky said, "I am very happy with the decision and not a bit surprised."

Men Entering Nursing in Volume After Centuries Away from It

By AP NEWSFEATURES NEW YORK (AP) - When most people think of the stars of the nursing profession they think of Florence Nightingale.

Few recall that during the Crusades of the 11th century, the celebrated knights of the Middle Ages banded together in military nursing orders to build hospitals to care for the sick and wounded.

Somewhere along the line they released their foothold and nursing became a woman's profession.

But times are again changing. Men see nursing as a new frontier profession. Enrollment in schools of nursing across the country reflect this new attitude.

Shortages of nurses in hospitals across the country is one factor in the increase of men in student nursing programs.

Former military medical corpsmen are being hired by hospitals to supplement professional nursing staff and encouraged to continue their training in the nursing field.

Many men in safety professions, such as police and firemen, are studying in evenings at Hunter College-Bellows School of Nursing in New York City, the experimental nursing program trains such safety personnel for a second career after retirement.

The American Journal of Nursing recently featured an article suggesting that the new image of the profession would require a name change. Health Care Practitioners was suggested as a new title for nurses and School of Health Care Practice was the name suggested for schools of nursing.

Bolton Cruiser Rejected At Town Meeting

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-0775

Over 150 residents attended last night's town meeting which rejected the purchase of a police cruiser and unanimously approved the seven remaining items on the agenda in about an hour with little or no discussion. Residents approved the appropriation of $2,550 from cash surplus for preliminary plans and cost estimates for a new town library and $3,851 from cash surplus for general highway maintenance. An $10,000 appropriation from capital and non-recurring for a new dump truck with a radio, sander and plow frame was also approved. Mrs. William Morris questioned why the amount could not go into the budget. First Selectman Richard Morra answered by asking why we should continue to build the contingency fund. He said that any board could apply for this money for equipment.

adjacent to the present Herrick Memorial Park. Those present also approved a resolution to thank Mrs. Herrick for all the land she had donated to the town.

The general feeling concerning the purchase of a police cruiser was that if Bolton has reached a point where it does need additional police protection, an in-depth study of the need should be made first.

The appropriation of either $3,000 from cash surplus for a used patrol car or $5,000 for a new fully equipped patrol car with a radio was unanimously rejected.

Morra said, "All I wanted to do was to give townpeople an added service. If they don't want it, it's okay."

Boycott

At its last meeting the Bolton Democratic Town Committee voted full support of the upcoming meat boycott scheduled the first week of April.

To show our alarm with the spiraling food costs, we urge all consumers to refrain from purchasing meat the first week in April in the hope that the administration in Washington will take notice of this action and that a solution to the nationwide problem will be forthcoming.

John Mahon, Democratic Town Committee chairman added, "Nixon's trend of 'economic policy' has become too expensive for the consumer to swallow. We urge all shoppers to support this boycott."

Applications Available

Applications for absentee voters are available at the town clerk's office. To be eligible for absentee voting, you must meet one of the following requirements: Armed Forces member, student in Connecticut or spouse of membership

Wine Festival

There are a limited number of tickets left for the Republican Wine Festival March 31 at St. Maurice Parish Center. Tickets can be purchased by calling any Republican Town Committee member.

Girl Scout Drive

Mrs. William Vogel, Bolton coordinator for sustaining membership enrollment in the Connecticut Valley Girl Scout Council, Inc., has announced that the drive has been completed.

She would like to thank the following volunteer workers for their assistance on the successful drive: Mrs. Marshall Latulippe, Mrs. Robert Gallant, Mrs. Anthony Pano, Mrs. Gerald Greene, Mrs. Norman Lemaire, Mrs. Joseph Gately, Mrs. Dale Higgins, Mrs. Ernest Duke, Mrs. Walter Smith, Mrs. Thomas Franz, Mrs. Alden Chick, Mrs. Siddy Sattar, Mrs. Norman Barnard, Mrs. Norman Nadeau, Mrs. Louis Cloutier, Mrs. Lawrence Cassella and Mrs. John Mahon.

The Board of Education will present its budget to the Board of Finance tonight at 7 at the town hall.

The Senior Choir of United Methodist will hold its rehearsal tonight at 6.

Area Police

State Police of the Hartford Barracks reported a minor accident at Exit 82 in the west-bound lane of I-84. The accident, which occurred at approximately 7 a.m. today, tied up traffic for about an hour. Police said that traffic was backed up all the way to Vernon Circle.

VERNON

Vernon Police made two arrests on warrants, issued by Circuit Court 12, Tuesday night.

Robert Laurie, 22, of Centerville, Mass., presented himself at Police Headquarters and was charged with issuing a bad check. He was released on a $100 non-surety for court April 17.

Richard W. Dahlem, 32, of Eldridge St., Manchester, presented himself at Police Headquarters and was charged with releasing a $200 non-surety bond for court on April 17.

About Town

A workshop for all Junior and Brownie Girl Scout leaders will be held Thursday from 9:30 a.m. to noon at Center Congregational Church. The workshop will be a combination problem clinic and program resource. The new material on the Sign of the Arrow and the Sign of the Star, "Paths to Action," will be discussed. Trainers are Mrs. Roger Gray, Mrs. Reginald Christensen, Mrs. Thomas Oppelt and Mrs. Beidon Schaffer.

Hartford Notes Drop In Crimes

HARTFORD (AP)—The overall level of serious crime dropped by 26 per cent in the past five years in Hartford but incidents of aggravated assault jumped from 67 cases in 1968 to 573 last year, according to Police Chief Thomas J. Vaughan.

In a report to Mayor George Athanson, Vaughan cited new burglary, robbery and auto theft units and a reorganization of the police patrol structure as important factors in the overall decline in crime.

The report said major crimes numbered 8,941 in 1968 but fell to 6,597 last year. In 1970, the number of crimes hit a peak of 9,365 cases.

Town Slate Voter Sessions

The Board for Admission of Electors will be in session in the Town Office Building to admit all persons qualified to be electors on the following dates: March 31 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and April 3 and April 9, both from 7 to 9 p.m.

Applicants must be 18 years of age, residents of Andover, and if foreign born, must be naturalized citizens.

Schools Consider

Supplies and maintenance
The Board of Education is considering a $650,000 budget for supplies and maintenance, including asphalt maintenance, the high school roof, repairs to gymnasium floors, and replacement of maintenance equipment.
"We're solvent," Dr. Kennedy mentioned, "but we're not solvent because we've had a number of budgeted priority projects all through the year."
The Board of Education is expected to make a decision on how the budget will be balanced at its next meeting. In other business Monday night, the Board of Education:
• Formally adopted a policy regarding school lunch operations. The board, which desires the lunch program to be self-supporting as possible, directs the school administration to conduct periodic cost analysis of the cafeteria operations and adjust prices as necessary.
• The central administration had already been given the power to take action on school lunch prices (prices go up five cents April 1, and Monday).
• The Board of Education also considered a proposal to consolidate drug enforcement efforts in the FBI. In the message's only reference to the FBI, Nixon said his proposal "would make possible a more effective and unified role" for that agency, especially in dealing with the relationship between drug trafficking and organized crime.
But Nixon made it clear the FBI will take a back seat in the war on drugs, saying he intends "to see that the resources of the FBI are fully committed to assist in supporting the new Drug Enforcement Administration."
The President said his administration has made significant progress in curbing the rate of new addiction, increasing drug seizures and the arrests of traffickers and is reducing the number of narcotic-related deaths.
But, he said, "much more remains to be done" because "drug abuse is one of the most vicious and corrosive forces attacking the foundations of American society and the American way of life."
Nixon's reorganization plan would take effect on July 1 unless overturned by Congress. The head of the new agency would be appointed by the President with confirmation by the Senate.

Dealers Thrive On Commodities

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) - A seat, or right to trade, on the Chicago Mercantile Exchange, where frozen pork bellies are the chief attraction, is now worth more than a seat on the New York Stock Exchange, where General Motors shares are sold.

In the latest seat sale on the Big Board, a broker paid $95,000 for the right to transact his business there. On the Mercantile Exchange the price was $120,000.

This is but one way of illustrating the tremendous interest that has developed in guessing the future price of commodities, which include besides those bacon bellies, such items as corn, coffee, iceed broilers and silver.

In all, there are scores of commodities traded, at least 60, on exchanges in various parts of the country, but mainly in Chicago, home of the largest, the Chicago Board of Trade, and the Mercantile Exchange.

Seeking profits that stock market traders don't even dream of, about 500,000 traders are now active in commodities, compared with 50,000 a decade ago.

That is the personal rather than official estimate of Michael Weisberg Jr., Board of Trade chairman, who projects no less than three million active traders by 1980. And big profits are usually, but not always, the attraction.

As an illustration, a speculator put up $1,000 margin on Nov. 16, 1972, for a single contract of soybeans - 5,000 bushels - to be delivered this March. By Feb. 16, 1973, he had earned a profit of $11,670. He paid a $30 commission.

This seemingly disproportionate reward is his for correctly calculating such forces as supply, demand and weather. There are other factors too, but it was those three interrelated factors primarily that pushed prices from $3.89 to $6.03 a bushel.

One contract of iceed broilers, weighing 28,000 pounds, was bought last November at $28.25 a hundredweight. The margin was $300. The commission was $30. The net profit, based on a Feb. 16 price of $39.25, was $3,078.

A silver contract of 5,000 troy ounces was bought at $1.83 an ounce with only $500 down. It was sold on Feb. 16 at $2.22 an ounce, providing the trader with a profit, after deducting the $30 commission, of $1,920.

These are, to be sure, exceptional illustrations. There has been an almost continual "up" market since last fall. Consumer demand is high. Food sales abroad have spurred interest. Bad harvest weather curtailed some crops.

There is another side to the market, and that is down. If a trader isn't thoroughly informed and disciplined as a monk he can lose everything from his tie to his shoelaces by playing the market long when prices are falling.

If he accurately forecasts a price drop, and acts on the forecast by selling short, he can make a sizable profit in a down market. There's money to be made both ways.

Sixty per cent of the money is from a private source, another 30 per cent from the Small Business Administration and the remaining 10 per cent from the state and a local development body, the Bristol Industrial Development Corp.

A MAN with a lot of trouble on his mind is E. T. Klassen. He's the postmaster general, and you know what's not been happening as it should.

Bristol Firm Aided

HARTFORD (AP) - Gov. Thomas J. Meskill said Tuesday that the Connecticut Development Commission had worked out a financial package that will allow a Bristol firm to double its employment.

Under the program, The Arrow Manufacturing Co., will buy and renovate a building and increase its work force from 78 to 151 persons.

Martha Mann Randolph, daughter of President Thomas Jefferson, had 12 children. Her 8th child was the first baby to be born in the White House.

Economy Vote Bars Exchange Student Plan

A request from the University of Connecticut to the Board of Education to sponsor two students in an exchange program with colleges in England and Denmark was vetoed by the board Monday night when chairman Joseph Powers voted against the motion, breaking a tie.

Powers explained he was not against the exchange plan but felt he could not justify spending the requested $500 on two students. The school systems are being asked to reimburse a student $250 for his work in the school system. A motion to sponsor just one student was also rejected by Powers breaking the tie.

The reimbursement would be for work the student would do as a teacher aide as well as his being available as a resource person, to other classes and faculty members interested in either British or Danish life and education. The students will come from England and Denmark.

The students are expected to arrive early in the 1973-74 school year. During their first week in this country they will

South Windsor Officials Support Library

Leon Mainelli, Councilman

The proposed public library is the top priority item in South Windsor's "Five Year Plan," according to Councilman Leon D. Mainelli. Mainelli also noted that the new library was given first priority by the Capital Improvements Committee.

According to Mainelli, the plan also shows that the library expense, whether funded by bonding or a combination of capital reserves and revenue sharing funds, can be carried by the town without undue hardship.

"The Town Council unanimously feels," he added, "that the expenditure of funds for the library is the optimum use to which money can be put at this time."

In a prepared statement,

John Cook, Library Board

"Build a new structure now, capable of being equipped to meet all requirements as they arise for the next 20 years," John Cook, chairman of the South Windsor Library Board urged in a statement issued this week.

Cook said that eight years of study of South Windsor's need for library services, as the town has grown, lead to only one conclusion, that the facility should be built now, and he urged South Windsor residents to vote favorably in the referendum to be held Saturday.

"The growing needs of South Windsorites of all ages and occupations would be ignored and the library program would ultimately disintegrate if the library is forced to remain in its present location," Cook said.

Cook said that any substantial delay in construction will be accompanied by major increases in cost since construction rates, he said, are rising at an average of 12 per cent a year. He also alluded to the $27,000 federal grant which he said will be lost if the referendum is defeated.

Cook is also opposed to building a structure to serve the present needs only in the expectation that it could be added to and when it is needed. He said such action would be irresponsible and inadequate and more expensive in the long run.

Commenting on the eight-year study of library needs, Cook said every possible alternative to a new building was explored thoroughly and found wanting. He said because of all of the planning and review, the library board is confident that its recommendation is in the best interests of the town and its people. "It should be approved as a basic facility capable of properly serving the town and its citizens for the next two decades," he concluded.

Emergency Effort Aimed At Preventing Blindness

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - An emergency campaign is under way to save a generation from going blind in the new country of Bangladesh. It means giving every child under 6 a dose of high potency Vitamin A, and it is succeeding, Dr. Wadie Kamel reports.

Dr. Kamel, a public health specialist, estimates that 150,000 Bangladesh youngsters were blind from malnutrition in 1972. Food distribution and health services had been crippled by a destructive cyclone in 1970, followed by the Pakistan-India conflict of December 1971.

UNICEF, the U.N. Children's Fund, sent Dr. Kamel to Bangladesh last November to tackle the problem. He says: "I had never seen such retarded growth and malnutrition in my life."

Dr. Kamel worked for more than a decade in the Middle East for the World Health Organization and other international organizations. In a crisis, he continued, you try to help those with the most serious problem. Malnutrition of children can be checked, but "once the eye is insulted by Vitamin A deficiency, it is irreversible."

The View From Abroad

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS LONDON (AP) - The continued presence of the United States in Panama held the attention of foreign editorial writers last week after the special U.N. Security Council meeting in the Central American country.

Foreign editors also commented on President Nixon's economic report criticizing European and Japanese trade policies. Britain's political blueprint for Northern Ireland and the Watergate affair.

Zarich's "Times-Antreiber" declared that the U.S. military presence in Panama "has ceased long ago to serve the protection of the canal." "The Soviet news agency Tass accused the United States of "neocolonialist, imperialist" policy aimed at suppressing "national liberation movements" in Latin America.

La Cite de Brussels said the U.S. veto in the Security Council of a resolution calling for prompt signing of a new canal treaty between Panama and the United States was an "expensive" victory in the terms of world opinion.

But other newspapers came to Washington's defense. Frankfurt's "Augsburger Zeitung" declared that "the canal is vital for the U.S.A." and is also "a strategic transit route for the transportation of nuclear weapons."

The London Telegraph called the Security Council debate a "hilarious excursion to pillory (the United States) as a big colonialist bully."

"What a lousy-lousy situation has now established itself," the Telegraph said. "America by building the canal created the country and gives it assured property... Russia, on the other hand... simply grabs a string of great, ancient, highly civilized and prosperous coun-

CONSUMER AFFAIRS CORNER
HOW BEEF IS PRICED

Food prices result from available supply, consumer demand, competitive forces and the cost of doing business. Consumer demand has been a powerful force behind the rise in beef prices. Each one of us will consume more than 110 pounds of beef this year.

Algonquin Indians were comprised of six principal tribes: the Malecite and Micmac of the Maritime; the Montbrun of northern Quebec, the Algonquin of the Ottawa Valley, the Ojibwa of the area north of Lakes Superior and Huron and the Cree of Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

For more than 60 years the only major error found on U.S. postage stamps have been the omission of one or more colors, or the omission of perforations.

New Auctioneer Jacques C. Schiff Jr. reports the discovery and authentication of the first clear, double impression in modern U.S. philately. The error is a single of the 8-cent Statue of Liberty design issued in 1955. These stamps remained in use until 1968 when a printing of similar design replaced them as the regular 8-cent stamp.

Apparently the sheet which had gone through the press prior to the error sheet was overinked. As a result the next sheet (the error sheet) was printed partially without the red. To correct the lack of the red, the printer put the sheet through a second time, but some of the 400 stamps thus obtained two red impressions. Only five of these stamps are known to exist and are in the hands of collectors.

Two new stamps from Norway will mark the centenary of the discovery of the leprosy bacillus by Dr. Gerhard Henrik Armauer Hansen (1841-1922) of that country. Both designs show Dr. Hansen at a microscope with a slide of the bacterium. Discovery was made in 1873 after he had devoted his life to this task.

Built over the rock from which Mohammed is said to have ascended to heaven, the mosque is a dome through the city of Jerusalem remains the sacred site to three faiths. The dome once appeared on a stamp of the old British Protectorate of Palestine.

Since postage stamps reflect the growing concern and major priorities of individual nations, it is expected that ecology will be the subject of many designs on postal issues for years to come.

Papua & New Guinea, presently concerned with possible extinction of its famed Birds of Paradise, have issued four new stamps featuring such birds in their glorious plumage. It reports the Empire Stamp Gallery. The survival of the island's Birds of Paradise is in question and thus the government has instituted a Bird of Paradise Conservation Program in conjunction with the World Wildlife Fund, the International Union of Nature and National Resources and other similar groups.

The 7 cents shows the Queen Carol's Bird of Paradise. Already somewhat rare, it is further threatened by those clearing the forests who are destroying the nests.

The 14 cents illustrates Paradise Decora with its thick, rich, red plumage.

The 21 cents has the ribbon-tailed Bird of Paradise, found at high altitudes.

The 28 cents depicts the Princess Stephanie Bird of Paradise, whose long pairs of central tail feathers are unfortunately highly prized for ornamental adornment by the peoples of the thickly populated New Guinea Highlands. The new stamps will be available at your local stamp dealer.

DevCo Plans Seen as Chance To 'Manage' Coventry's Growth

HOLLY GANTNER Correspondent

The opportunity to manage and control future growth and change in Coventry was cited Tuesday night as one of the major reasons for supporting the new community being proposed by DevCo, the development arm of Greater Hartford Process, Inc. Speaking to the Booth-Dimock Library Association, J. Richard North, DevCo's new community project manager, said "Coventry has an opportunity, as few other communities have had, to plan for the change and growth forecast for the town in the years ahead."

"The new community," said North, "presents an opportunity to channel future growth to planned centers with public facilities, helping to retain the rural character of the rest of the town. Planning for growth and change now is the only way to manage growth and change in Coventry as a whole. We are not proposing just another asphalt-covered, neon-lighted, strip-developed, unplanned example of urban blight, slowly killing the very characteristics which make the town so attractive today. Growth and change are going to happen in Coventry, as has been the case throughout the state and much of the nation. Coventry is in a position today to manage that change and growth, to control it, rather than react to it. This is the major reason we believe the proposed new community is a long-range plus for the town, not a minus."

North continued, "Coventry today has one of the lowest tax bases in the state. We believe the new community, over a 12- to 15-year period, will have a positive financial effect on the town, broadening and increasing its tax base and more than paying for additional services with increased tax revenues."

Coventry Carlson Commended For Service to Town

HOLLY GANTNER Correspondent

Arnold Carlson, former chairman and a long-time member of the Coventry Planning and Zoning Commission who resigned last month, was commended by the PZC at its meeting this week for his many years of service to the town. A formal resolution expressing a "vote of friendship, esteem and appreciation" was signed by all PZC members, planning consultant Sam Spiering, Town Manager Charles Moore, Town Planner Frank Connolly and Building Inspector John Willmott.

The resolution stated that the signers hoped Carlson would continue to take an active interest in planning and zoning affairs. At its Monday meeting, the PZC turned down an application of Manchester to change property at the corner of Rte. 44 and 51 from RU-40 to a commercial zone. The commission had conducted a public hearing on the application in mid-December and reached its decision Monday night on a two-to-one vote, with Everett Frost opposing to the change, and alternate Sandra Slave in favor. Chairman Stephen Loyrin broke the tie by casting a no vote.

Six members and alternates were present at the meeting, but only those who had attended the December hearing were eligible to vote on the matter. The question of whether or not a proper decision would be made by only three members of the five-member commission was resolved when town attorney confirmed that such action would be legal. Loyrin said he had made several inquiries Tuesday to assure that the decision was legal, and referred to Section 3 of the state statutes governing zoning affairs.

'Phantom Polluter'

Masked Man Declares War Against Tolland

VIVIAN V. KENNESON Correspondent

The "Phantom Polluter" paid a visit to the Board of Selectmen last night to declare an all-out war on Tolland. A declaration, presented to First Selectman Erwin Stoetzer, claimed the town is ignoring pollution of its streams, lakes and roadsides, and that now the interiors will also be polluted. The masked, cloaked man then dumped a garbage bag on the selectman's desk. The bag contained throwaways such as beer cans, disposable diapers, and paper containers.

million cost of the school addition. The Board of Selectmen will call a town meeting for Friday, April 6, for the final approval from the townspeople. If it is approved, building can begin next month with the possibility of some classrooms being ready by September.

Stoetzer reported the rafter's are now up on the new town garage on Old Post Rd. The roof is expected to be up by Friday and the building should be completed within a month.

Commission on Aging Elects James Watt

The new Commission on Aging elected its first chairman at an organizational meeting earlier this week. James Watt, assistant executive secretary of the Catholic Family Services of the Archdiocese of Hartford, was named to the post.

Watt, who resides with his wife and seven children at 143 Autumn St., was chairman of a conference on the aging last fall at Manchester Community College. At that time, it was voted to establish the new commission.

Mrs. Carol McKeon was elected vice chairman and secretary. The duties of the commission were presented by Town Manager Robert B. Weiss.

Commencing on the problems facing the commission, said surveys and work on programs such as "meals on wheels" are being initiated in Manchester.

Discussion centered around methods of locating elderly persons who have no outside contacts in the community. The town manager suggested contact might be made through a question in the school census.

Among the other areas under discussion were a calling system, legal services, health needs, transportation, and funding of various programs, geared to assist the elderly.

The commission will study the recommendations of the Conference on Aging, Miss DellaPera and the Rev. Robert Burant of the Church of the Assumption, will develop bylaws for the commission to meet the fourth Monday of each month at 8:15 p.m. at the Senior Citizens Center.

South Windsor Library Alternatives Proposed by SWAC

The South Windsor Association of Citizens (SWAC) today proposed four alternatives to the construction of a new town library. The library proposal is slated for referendum Saturday. The polls will be open from noon to 8 p.m.

SWAC says its proposal will minimize the burden on local taxpayers. The Library Board is proposing the construction of a $1.18 million building adjacent to the Town Hall.

proposed library is too expensive in relation to other town needs. It offers the following alternatives: Lease of the space in the Sullivan Ave. Shopping Plaza formerly occupied by the Poplar Market; an agreement with the owner of the shopping complex to construct a new facility and lease it to the town on a long-term basis; extension of library hours at the high school and elementary school libraries; or the hiring of professional fund raisers.

East Hartford Session
Robert Aycock, 24, of 92 Main St., South Windsor, was presented in court at East Hartford Wednesday and his case was continued to Friday.

Aycock was charged Monday with first-degree rape, second-degree assault, risk of injury to a minor, threatening, and delivery of liquor to a minor, in connection with alleged incidents with a 14-year-old East Hartford girl.

He was taken to the Connecticut Correctional Center at Hartford in lieu of a $5,000 cash bond to await court.

Another board member, Steven Marcham, explained that the curriculum committee thought that the first thing to do was to equalize pupil to book ratio in all of the schools and that was why a larger amount was spent in that area this year.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, urged PTO members to get out to the public hearings on the budget and the annual budget meeting to let the Town Council know their feelings. He reminded them that the council takes its directives from those who attend the hearing.

Richard Tingley, athletic director at the high school, explained he was withdrawing an original proposal that hockey go varsity. He said if a boy is on a varsity team then he is prohibited from playing on other teams according to rulings of the Connecticut Interscholastic Athletic Conference (CIAC).

As a club member Robert Dubeau, repeating that the board is on record as saying it wants full-time librarians in all of the schools and "I think the intent of the board is cogently recorded in last year's budget," he added.

More Forest Service Funding Needed To End Spiraling Lumber Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — Timber industry spokesmen told Congress Tuesday the government should meet the challenge of skyrocketing lumber and housing costs by increasing funds to the U.S. Forest Service rather than reimposing Phase 2 price controls on the forest products industry.

"Instead of aggressively pursuing intensive forest management practices to increase timber yields, the government is cutting the Forest Service's budget for such work and withholding appropriated funds," George A. Craig of the Western Timber Association said.

Craig, executive vice president of the WTA, told a Senate housing subcommittee studying the lumber-price problem: "Pennywise and pound foolish, the government is failing to harness the timber production capacity of the national forests."

In a statement for the panel, Craig said "the public will continue to suffer losses through such mismanagement because trees not planted yesterday will not be available for harvest when needed in the future."

Ralph D. Hodges Jr., executive vice president of the National Forest Products Association, which is a federation of 25 various forest products trade associations, said "continuous, reliable and substantially increased funding is imperative for the management of" national forests.

A major part of that funding, Hodges told the subcommittee, should go for building more logging roads into untapped forestlands.

Another board member, Steven Marcham, explained that the curriculum committee thought that the first thing to do was to equalize pupil to book ratio in all of the schools and that was why a larger amount was spent in that area this year.

Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, urged PTO members to get out to the public hearings on the budget and the annual budget meeting to let the Town Council know their feelings. He reminded them that the council takes its directives from those who attend the hearing.

Pre-Playoff Tilt Likely, Bucks Messed Up Works

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers could have made it simple by winning. Instead, the Milwaukee Bucks put the National Basketball Association Western Conference playoffs in a mess.

Los Angeles can clear everything up again tonight — this time by losing.

After trailing by 11 points in the first half and nine with eight minutes to play, the Bucks ruined the playoff schedule by coming back to edge the Lakers 85-84 Tuesday night for their 14th consecutive victory, the best ever NBA season-ending winning streak.

The victory wound up Milwaukee's regular season 60-22 and split the season series with the Lakers at 3-3.

Los Angeles is now 59-22 and a victory in their final game tonight over Golden State would leave the Pacific Division champion Lakers with the same season mark as the Bucks — and force a pre-playoff contest Friday night at Milwaukee to determine the best conference record.

At stake is the conference title, home court playoff advantage and the playoff pairings.

Oscar Robertson scored 25 points and Kareem Abdul Jabbar 24 for Milwaukee while Jim McMillan got 32 for the Lakers, who completed the lowest point total of the season.

In other NBA games Tuesday night, the Chicago Bulls defeated the Cleveland Cavaliers 121-109; the Detroit Pistons smashed the Baltimore Bullets 112-98; the Boston Celtics tripped the Atlanta Hawks 117-110 and the Houston Rockets stopped the Buffalo Braves 121-111.

Chet Walker and Bob Love combined for 74 points in the title, home court playoff advantage and the playoff pairings.

Walker, who finished with 30 points, and Love, who finished with 44 points, led the Bucks to their 14th consecutive victory.

WARWICK, R.I. (AP) — The signs read "Ernie for President." "You're Number One with Us," and "UCLA — The PC of the WEST!"

That's the way an estimated 5,000 fans felt Tuesday as they mobbed Providence College basketball team at the Green Airport in Warwick.

Returning from St. Louis and Indiana in the NCAA championship tournament, the Friars found that they were indeed Number One to their coaches.

Ignoring police lines, the fans stormed the team's airplane, pulling tagging and backpacking as their heroes made their way down the ramp.

The fans started grabbing a wide-eyed stretch of grass on the basketball court floor before the Friars' 4:06 p.m. scheduled arrival time.

Expecting a crowd, airport officials and the Air National Guard had arranged a special debarcation setup, complete with a public address system, flanked trailer for the team to stand on, and even a forklift for injured center Marvin Barnes.

"I wouldn't miss it for the world," said one North Providence woman who admitted to being an Ernie DiGregorio fan. My girls wanted to come so bad that they gave up their Girl Scout meeting.

"Finally, raising his forefinger — the "We're Number One" code sign — he said, "We're going to be back for more in '74."

"Finally, raising his forefinger — the "We're Number One" code sign — he said, "We're going to be back for more in '74."

WARWICK, R.I. (AP) — The signs read "Ernie for President." "You're Number One with Us," and "UCLA — The PC of the WEST!"

That's the way an estimated 5,000 fans felt Tuesday as they mobbed Providence College basketball team at the Green Airport in Warwick.

Returning from St. Louis and Indiana in the NCAA championship tournament, the Friars found that they were indeed Number One to their coaches.

Ignoring police lines, the fans stormed the team's airplane, pulling tagging and backpacking as their heroes made their way down the ramp.

The fans started grabbing a wide-eyed stretch of grass on the basketball court floor before the Friars' 4:06 p.m. scheduled arrival time.

Expecting a crowd, airport officials and the Air National Guard had arranged a special debarcation setup, complete with a public address system, flanked trailer for the team to stand on, and even a forklift for injured center Marvin Barnes.

"I wouldn't miss it for the world," said one North Providence woman who admitted to being an Ernie DiGregorio fan. My girls wanted to come so bad that they gave up their Girl Scout meeting.

Tigers Add to Elderly Image, Marichal in Form

NEW YORK (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, a team often labeled "too old to win," reinforced their elderly image Tuesday by acquiring veteran pitcher Jim Perry, while the San Francisco Giants' pennant hopes received a boost by the outstanding performance turned in by veteran Juan Marichal and Willie McCovey in exhibition baseball Tuesday.

Minnesota sent Perry, 36, to the Tigers in exchange for minor league pitcher Dan Fife, who was 14-7 with Montgomery of the Southern League last year.

Perry, the Cy Young Award winner in 1970 when he compiled a 24-12 record, is the winningest active pitcher in the American League with a career mark of 180-139. The 6-foot-4 lefthander, who'll be entering his 15th major league season, was 13-16 with the third-place Twins last year with a 3.24 earned run average. He earned an estimated $68,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Marichal, the National League's winningest active pitcher with a 227-126 career record, took a giant step on the road to recovery from a season of injuries by hurling seven innings of hitless ball as San Francisco stopped the San Diego Padres on one hit-6-0. And McCovey, the Giants' slugging first baseman who missed much of last season with a broken right forearm, belted a two-run home run and added an RBI single to provide the offensive power.

After Marichal's seven-inning performance, he collected three hits against Houston 6-4. Montreal topped Houston 6-4. St. Louis edged Philadelphia 7-1. ### Josephson on Disabled List

RSox Trade Two, Krause Released

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (AP) — The Boston Red Sox were down to a roster of 30 players today and scheduled a news conference in the early morning to announce a trade or a new cut.

The Red Sox traded veteran Phil Gagliano and Andy Kosko to the Cincinnati Reds, released Lou Kravitz and released Lou Kravitz.

The club announced that veteran catcher Duane Josephson would be released as he was eligible for benefits of the players' health-welfare plan.

General Manager Dick O'Connell said that Jose would be retained on the roster as a disabled player until after the start of the season. Then, O'Connell said, Josephson will be given a new contract as a scout for the Red Sox.

The Red Sox snapped a threegame losing streak by edging the New York Mets 3-2 Tuesday. Reggie Smith had two hits and drove in one run. Dwight Gooden drove in another and Bob Montgomery hit a 40-foot home run.

John Curtis, Boston's number one left-handed starter, allowed just four hits and one run in six innings.

Rookie southpaw Craig Skok, a major surprise in training camp, surrendered just three hits, including a wind-blown homer, over the last three innings.

The Red Sox, who have a 9-11 preseason record, hit the road today to take on the St. Louis Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla. Curtis is scheduled to start.

Pentathlon Competitor Files Suit Against NCAA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association is violating the 14th Amendment when it threatens athletes and their schools with economic sanctions for competing in AAU events until April 17 when it resumes hearing a suit filed by two athletes.

The Associated Press learned today that the Amateur Athletic Union will make the charge in the competition. The contest will be held in the Connecticut State Armory in Hartford, Conn., on April 6. The contest will be held in the Connecticut State Armory in Hartford, Conn., on April 6.

United States and the Soviet Union at Richmond, Va.

The meet was sanctioned by the AAU but not the NCAA.

The NCAA, which governs sports programs of about 600 colleges and universities, has threatened to withdraw its sanction of AAU events until the AAU applies for NCAA certification and receives it.

The AAU argues it doesn't have to ask for NCAA sanction for international events because of an arbitration agreement handled down by the late Gen. Douglas MacArthur in 1963 and again five years later by a special five-man committee headed by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey.

Duer admitted there are problems among amateur athletes organizations.

"I am firmly convinced," he said, "that we have reached a point where we have to admit that the organizations themselves have not done the job."

Unintentional Mark Set In Six-Mile Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Steve Prefontaine works hard to structure his entire track season and then, in one afternoon, blows the schedule to bits.

Year after year it's the same story, he says. "I work hard early in the season, run a couple of indoor races and then wait until late in March before I run outdoors."

"So we went to Bakerfield (Calif.) for our annual spring break meet," said the University of Oregon senior, "and I did it again. Don't ask me how."

What he did set was an American record in the six-mile run of 27 minutes 8.4 seconds.

"Really, I had no intention of running for a record," said the 6-foot-4, 165-pounder. "Coach (Bill) Dellinger told me to cruise around in 28 minutes — kind of use it for a workout. It was supposed to follow a pair of 70-second laps for the first mile, 90 seconds for the second mile and 90 seconds for the third mile. That would have put me at 18:48 for three miles."

"Well, I was on pace but I felt so good I picked it up. Bill told me if it got too hot to ease off and with two miles left I started getting blisters on both feet. But I felt fine."

His 27:08.4 was 2.2 seconds better than the previous American mark set by Billy Mills and Gerry Lindgren in 1965. "Pre" had run 27:23.4 for

Redmond Obliges Fan, Joins NHL Elite Group

NEW YORK (AP) — A man with a sense of history and plenty of confidence in Detroit's Mickey Redmond, showed up at Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens Tuesday night with a hat marked '50' for the National Hockey League star.

Redmond had 49 goals going into the game and with just over three minutes left to play, he still had 49. Then he deflected a shot past Leaf goalie Ron Low for the magic No. 50 and 18 seconds later, he was back on Low's doorstep for No. 51.

As the Wings left the ice, the fan handed Redmond the hat with the outdated number on the front. "I guess," Redmond laughed later, "the guy just has time to change."

Redmond's two goals and a pair by Billy Collins helped Detroit win its 81st victory over Toronto. That kept the Red Wings one point back of Buffalo for the fourth and final playoff spot in the Eastern Division.

Minnesota took over second place in the West, moving two points ahead of idle

Philadelphia by defeating Vancouver. Lou Nanne's second goal of the final period, with less than five minutes remaining, was the winner.

Ron Waddell scored his 49th and 50th goals of the season for the New York Rangers but the WHA club lost to Minnesota, hitting its chances for a playoff spot. The Fighting Saints moved within one point of clinching a West Division playoff berth.

The Fighting Saints moved within one point of clinching a West Division playoff berth.

The victory moved the Aces a step closer to a playoff slot in the WHA West.

Los Angeles hung on to second place in the West by defeating Chicago. The Sharks completed their regular season with 80 points and two up on Houston.

Raise Helped Keep Living Standard Even

By DEE WEDEMEYER Associated Press Writer MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A recent $2,000 raise has enabled the Marvin Menzels to maintain last year's standard of living.

Menzel scrutinized four full-page newspaper ads, clipped coupons and made three shopping lists. Before it was all over the excursion took two hours and cost $60.17 for 10 bags of groceries.

Bananas were 10 cents a pound where she bought them; 12 cents elsewhere. The beef steak she bought was 99 cents a pound; $1.09 at another store.

She got turkey for 49 cents a pound instead of 58 cents and 79 cents at two other markets. Velveeta cheese spread was 79 cents; $1.29 other places.

Menzel has a simple lifestyle, centered around the Lutheran church and their family. They do not drink or smoke.

She has no ambition to have a large house, a swimming pool or membership in the country club, not far from their home.

Her most expensive dress cost $40, a purchase she feels guilty about but she rationalizes that she has worn it frequently.

He needs a new suit, a $150 expenditure, and possibly he would like a pool table for their basement recreation room.

Menzel, his wife Dawn and two children live modestly if not frugally on his new gross income of $17,000.

The Menzels do not keep a formal budget but their joint checking account, which they balance carefully, serves that purpose.

She writes a check for everything, even 72 cents to the newboy.

Though she has to pay for the car, there is no service charge because they opened a ready reserve service — a line of credit for overdrafts.

Kristine, 5, attends a morning nursery school which costs $21 a month but so far most of the children's expenses are small.

Swimming lessons for Scott, 7, at a municipal pool are only $3 for a course.

However, Mrs. Menzel feels the prices of children's clothes are outrageous.

Storage sales are big business on the street of pastel-colored ranch-style homes and Mrs. Menzel often buys clothes for the children from neighbors.

Menzel is planning to replace his 1969 Ford — she has a 1971 Pinto — but before he does some serious comparison shopping.

Deliberate More "I can't remember when I've been so deliberate about buying a car," said Menzel, 29. "It will probably be a trauma."

Last summer they planted a small vegetable garden for the children to play with. This year they plan to raise vegetables.

Recently they tallied their canceled checks for food from Jan. 1 through March 15 of last year and came up with $299.

This year the figure was $388.

"But we aren't exactly eating like we were eating last year," said Mrs. Menzel, 28. "You watch more closely. You go from hamburger to the roast. You try to figure out where is the most waste by shrinkage or by bone."

Sirloin steak is now a company-only treat and a weekly menu more than likely will include spaghetti, hash, pork and chile. Sometimes she shops several times in one week because, she said, she can't find spending a large sum of money at all once.

"It makes me so sick," lamented the slim blond. "I look at the meat prices and I feel guilty. I guess it's a crime to pay that much when you eat it and it's gone."

A year ago she shopped at only one grocery store. Now it's two and recently, when she wanted to fill her freezer, she went to three.
