Some New Commandments

In view of the concern over campaign financing and shenanigans that are being unveiled in the wake of Watergate, it has been suggested new laws be passed governing campaigning, campaign fund solicitation, campaign fund reporting, and campaign spending.

Since Watergate is not an isolated instance, but merely the latest in a series of political scandals which have occurred throughout history, it appears obvious the original Ten Commandments do not fill the bill.

1. I am the voter your master, who brought you out of obscurity, out of the house of anonymity. You shall have no other allegiance before me.
2. You shall not make for yourself an image, or likeness of anything that is not your true self. For I am a jealous master and will visit upon you or any of your children my wrath should you deceive me.
3. You shall not take the trust of public office in vain for I, the master, will not hold guiltless those who fail to merit my trust.
4. Remember the taxpayer and keep him happy. Six days you labor on his behalf and on the seventh you may rest knowing you have earned it by labor rather than by promises.
5. Honor thy country and thy party that your days may be long in the land of public service the voter gives you.
6. You shall not kill the ideals you swear to uphold by faithless and worldly acts of graft, greed and corruption.
7. You shall remain faithful to the Constitution and not enter into adulatory acts with those who would subvert it.
8. You shall not steal.
9. You shall not bear false witness

Cancer Losing To Science

We are now three years into the decade in which it is hoped that men will see the final victory of medical science over cancer. Progress has been and continues to be made on many fronts.

One of the most recent steps was the announcement by Dr. Albert B. Sabin, developer of live-virus polio vaccine, that he and a colleague had found a link between two common viruses and certain forms of cancer. The announcement was properly cautious: There is evidence that the viruses, which ordinarily cause fever, blisters and cold sores, play an important role in some types of cancer "in certain individuals under special conditions."

According to George Goldenberg, president of Ormont Drug & Chemical, few researchers now think in terms of "curing" cancer, particularly in light of the widely held view that the body is constantly producing abnormal cells.

"The eventual answer — and researchers stress that it will probably be a series of answers rather than a single 'miracle cure' — may well be in discovering ways to stimulate the body's own defenses against cancer," says Goldenberg, whose company has invested heavily to develop an "early warning" cancer detection system.

There are almost 200 types of cancer, he notes, and it is not known how many are caused by viruses. But the field of immunology offers new hope for very early diagnosis of cancer as well as its treatment, he adds.

For instance, a Russian research team in Moscow has discovered an immunological test for diagnosing liver cancer, widespread in South and West Africa and Southeast Asia.

Researchers in London are seeking to develop a mass-screening skin test based on the work of Lebanese-born American scientist Dr. Jack Makari. But research is long and difficult. The answer, suggests Goldenberg, may be a "United Nations of Medicine" where cancer research, regardless of the end goal, could be conducted and financed in a concerted, intensified effort to eliminate the disease as a major killer.

WASHINGTON — The depth of White House deception of President Nixon's own official knowledge or complicity than to Dent or to President Nixon's Commerce Department.

Dent, clearly concerned about what amounted to a White House order to give Magruder a $36,000-a-year which did not require Senate confirmation, was told by the White House that Magruder had been "cleared by the (Watergate) grand jury and that Dent had nothing to worry about. Dent also told friends that, under American jurisprudence, a man is innocent until proven guilty.

Magruder worked in his Commerce Department job, driven around town in a chauffeured limousine paid for by the Committee to Reelect the President, until that was shortly after he went back to federal prosecutors and began to sing.

Dear Sir: How is it that Christians, dedicated to the teachings of Jesus Christ and members of all religions who continue to worship their concepts of God, have not raised a world-wide outcry against the horror of our terrible bombing raids in Cambodia?

The name of the foundation is the National Retinitis Pigmentosa Foundation, Inc. and its national headquarters are in Baltimore. I am interested in establishing a local chapter in Connecticut. I believe it is important to make people aware of the fact that something is being done about this disease so that in the future, when a doctor tells parents that one of their children has this disease, more can be done for the child than to just go home and start learning braille.

Wants Answers
To the editor: On May 1, 1973, the Manchester Board of Directors held a meeting. On the agenda under new business was "Recommendations Regarding Cemeteries." The board honored my request to not place a "Flush Marker" in the New Veterans section of East Cemetery. I also quote The Herald's article of May 2, 1973: "Weiss said instances of the flush markers will be held in abeyance, pending a board decision."

Seeks To Form Chapter
Dear Sir: I spent a weekend in Baltimore with a group of people who have a common interest — an eye disease called Retinitis Pigmentosa, or RP. This disease can cause loss of vision as early as age 1 or 2 and may lead to total blindness early in life. Often night vision is first affected. Until recently there was little being done about this hereditary disease which affects an estimated 100,000 persons in this country. Often more than one child in a family has the disease.

Today's Thought
"Oddly enough, it's the person who knows everything who has the most to learn." Outer space is unreachably, and the inner mind is unfathomable, and the more we really know, not just think we know, the humbler we really are. Vernon Vote on Sewers Set for June 19

Ordinances asking for a total appropriation of $12.7 million were approved by the Town Council Monday night and June 19 was set as the date for a referendum.

A public hearing, preceding the council meeting, didn't produce any negative remarks on either the ordinance which asked for an appropriation of $2.2 million for extension of sewer lines or $10.5 million for expansion of the sewage treatment plant.

Several persons living in the areas where the proposed sewer lines will go spoke in favor of the proposal, noting they would be anxious to tie in. One installation will involve the Richard Rd. Berkeley Dr. area, and the other the Overbrook Dr. area and will involve several streets.

Mrs. Phyllis Campbell, who said she represented the 71 members of the town's Women Voters, listed several reasons why the league is in favor of expansion of the sewer lines. She said that the town is adjacent to the Memorial Building which is now used for that purpose and will also allow expansion of parking areas.

The council also passed an ordinance which will make it necessary for property owners to obtain a permit when putting in a new driveway or relocating an old one to avoid drainage problems which have been created in the past.

The permit will not cost the property owner any additional amount over the existing building fee for new construction.

Vernon Council Rejects Review Of Double Session Plan

Barbara Richmond (Herald Reporter)
Indicating faith in the Board of Education and its decision to put the high school on double sessions next fall, the Town Council failed to adopt a resolution last night which would ask the board to reconsider its action.

League members also feel the enforcement of the sewer ordinance is absolutely necessary for optimum performance of the system.

Engineer A. Richard Lombardi explained that the new plant should operate at 95 per cent efficiency and is projected to serve the town for at least the next 20 years.

Following a brief special town meeting the council also adopted a resolution appropriating $25,000 for the purchase of the People's Savings Bank Building on Park Place.

The one question raised at the meeting was what the town proposed to do with the property, and it was explained that it could provide additional office space for town offices because it is adjacent to the Memorial Building which is now used for that purpose and will also allow expansion of parking areas.

The council also passed an ordinance which will make it necessary for property owners to obtain a permit when putting in a new driveway or relocating an old one to avoid drainage problems which have been created in the past.

Voters Reject Rham Budget

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 299-3071

Residents from the three Rham district towns, Hebron, Andover and Marchborough, last night, by a standing vote of 143 to 97, voted to reject the proposed 1973-1974 budget of $1,693,856 as presented by district Board of Education.

Attempts were made, but overruled by moderator Emory Taylor of Hebron, to put motions on the floor to reject the budget even before it had been presented by the board for consideration by the assembly.

Most of the two-hour meeting was spent in the presentation by the board, because the moderator ruled that no debate could be held during the presentation.

A few questions were raised about the large proposed teacher increase (11 1/5%), the addition of another assistant principal, and additional costs throughout the budget reflecting the anticipated increased enrollment of 140 students.

The board attempted to explain that many of these increases were not due only to the increased enrollment, but also to an effort on the part of the board to bring these areas up to standard. Many of these areas, it was explained, have been consistently cut back over the years leaving many short-handed, with staff and materials.

Once debate was permitted, following a motion to accept the budget, only two questions were asked before a motion was passed to cut off debate. These dealt with double sessions next year, and were directed at Dr. David Cattanch, superintendent of schools.

To the first question, "Is Rham High School being used to 100 per cent capacity in a sound education way?" Dr. Cattanch stated that it is "being used to full capacity as rated through the proper formula."

To the second question, "Will the children be getting a better education on double sessions?" Dr. Cattanch replied "as opposed to putting them all in this building, yes."

Richard Grant, chairman of the Hebron Board of Finance, felt that rejection of the budget was "gratifying despite the fact debate was cut off before actual enrollment classroom figures could be presented, regardless of rating."

It was the Hebron Board of Finance which last week recommended to its residents rejection of the budget on the basis that proposed double sessions for Grades 7 and 8 are totally unwarranted and unnecessary. The board feels that the school is not operating anywhere near its intended classroom capacity.

Future Action
The board met briefly following the budget meeting and voted to meet this Thursday evening at 7:30 to reconsider the budget.

The administration was asked to come to this meeting to explain to the board the reasons for the areas which are being cut back.

No date was set for the next budget meeting, which, according to the board, must be held within two weeks.

Mrs. Robert Conde of 81 Kelly Rd., South Windsor, was elected president of the Lutz Junior Museum League, at its annual meeting and luncheon Monday at Willie's Steak House.

Mrs. Donald White, awards chairman, presented Mrs. Conde with a scroll naming her "Volunteer of the Year."

Three books were also donated to the museum by the League in her name. They are: "The Indians in Connecticut," by Chandler Whipple; "Steven Caney Toy Book" by Steven Caney; and "Eddie Wild Plans," by D. A. Medgar.

Silver bracelet charms engraved with "L.J.M." were presented by the League to members contributing 100 hours or more. Recipients were Mrs. Allen Cox, Mrs. Jerome Dvornek, Mrs. George Elliot, Miss Hazel Lutz, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Charles Swallow and Mrs. White.

League members cited for 50 hours or more are, Mrs. Edward Cahalan, Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mrs. Edgar Cheney, Mrs. Charles Froh, Mrs. William Mimich, Mrs. Harvey Pastel, Mrs. Wallace Pettengill and Mrs. Robert Russell.

Thomas Latham, chairman of the board of trustees, presented five-year pins in appreciation of service to Mrs. Herman Dvornek, Mrs. Richard Pabst, Mrs. Robert Russell and Mrs. White.

The League members include 73 active and five associate members. This year more than 5,000 hours were donated.

Approximately 800 classroom exhibits and 90 display cases went out to the schools from the school loan department.

Renovation of the museum store, adding new shelving and a numerical system for stock was undertaken this year by Mrs. Dvornek, president and store chairman. Addition of a desk assistant and four guides to assist the public and aid the staff was undertaken by Mrs. Robert Russell and Mrs. Irving Gustin, respectively.

Guest speaker for the luncheon was Miss Lutz.

PTSO Changes Family Night

The Bennet Junior High School PTSO "Family Night" program originally scheduled for Wednesday night has been postponed until May 16 at 8 p.m.

The new officers will be inducted at a short business session, which will open the event on May 15.

The program will include sports films and activities for fathers and sons in the school gymnasium. There will be a fashion show for the mothers and daughters. Clothes made by girls in the Home Economics Department and summer fashions from Marshall's will be shown.

Later, refreshments will be served.

Post Wins Pulitzers

NEW YORK (AP) — "The newspaper didn't flinch or buckle under pressure. It's good for journalism and the country. It's time to be cautious, not to speculate but stick to the facts as we did."

That's how Washington Post reporter Robert Woodward summed up his reaction to his Pulitzer Prize for meritorious public service for its work on the Watergate scandal.

Although the award went to the newspaper, the Post's managing editor, Howard Simons, singled out for praise Woodward and fellow reporter Carl Bernstein. The two young reporters have spent the last 10 months producing the newspaper's major disclosures of White House involvement in the 1972 campaign espionage operation.

David Broder, the Post's national political correspondent, also received a Pulitzer Prize for commentary for his political columns on the 1972 election campaign.

Other winners of the 1973 Pulitzer Prizes announced Monday were:

Associated Press
Photographer Huynh Cong "Nick" U, a Vietnamese, won the prize for spot news photography for his picture of a little, naked Vietnamese girl fleeing a napalm bombing. The award to U was the 11th time an AP photographer has won the prize, including four of the last five years.

Reporters Robert Boyd and Clark Hoyt of the Knight Newspapers' Washington bureau won the prize for reporting on national affairs for their disclosure of the history of psychiatric therapy undergone by Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo. Eagleton subsequently withdrew as the Democratic vice presidential nominee.

The Chicago Tribune was awarded the prize for general local reporting for its investigation of flagrant violations of voting procedures in a primary election.

The Pulitzer trustees award the prizes on the recommendation of an advisory board of journalists.

AN URGENT MESSAGE TO GOVERNOR MESKILL, LEGISLATURES AND LAWYERS

Dear Gentlemen:

Is there nothing sacred in politics? First the lost credibility of the FBI and the Justice Department, and then the President of the United States himself, and his staff. Now the politicians seek to destroy the very sacred probate system by several well placed political judges, who seek to control their own checks and balances. Millions of dollars are at their discretion to control and dispense. We can not allow the danger of an unscrupulous judge and not having him checked and audited by a disinterested peer judge. If any legal area is untouchable it should be the Probate System.

Superior court Judge Jay Rubinow has done an impeccable job as the administrator of the state probate court system. If a man is to be judged by his words and his good deeds... such a man is Judge Jay Rubinow. He has earned the finest reputation in the legal profession. Professor Robert Whitman, an expert on probate courts and Probate Judge Karl Zittel have come out strongly against this political move to endanger the future credibility of the probate courts. Are these two voices the only voices to be heard? Where are the other fine lawyers? Why aren't their voices heard? This is one time when winning cases is not the thing... but seeing JUSTICE!

The question is... should we allow politicians to take over the probate courts? Someday each of us will die and want to be assured that our kin will come into their rightful legacy. We have learned bitterly that politicians are only controlled by strong laws of checks and balances.

As Mark van Doren stated, just before his death on December, at the age of 78, "I believe that justice is the most beautiful thing on earth, or if not on earth, then in heaven. No dream is dearer than the dream that we shall one day drive the truth into a corner, the WHOLE truth—and force it gently to show its face."

This letter is placed with the sole intent of hoping to touch the conscience of legislatures, lawyers and politicians, and concerned citizens. Write Governor Meskill and your State Representatives and have them bring a halt to the debasement of the Probate Courts!

Sincerely,
Michael Dworkin, Reg. Pharmacist

Tennis Is For Tigers

Sometimes I wonder how a gentle peace-loving, non-aggressive woman like me ever started to play tennis in the first place. In my normal state I wouldn't dream of hurting anyone, let alone hitting them in the head with a tennis ball. But occasionally when I'm caught up in the heat of a tough match, I would do EXACTLY that, if I could. Tennis does something to my personality! Once a week, I play doubles with three other housewives. We meet at the tennis courts at 9:30 a.m. This gives us time to make the beds, clean up the kitchen and wave the kids off to school. After exchanging a few pleasantries, we pick up our rackets and start to play. Now, when my partner and I are ahead, we are models of decorum and good sportsmanship. "You should have had us," we call encouragingly to our opponents as they knock the ball into the net court. Or "That was a good idea," we praise when their lob misses the base line by three feet. But just let our opponents get the lead on us and the match turns into a battle where anything goes. "Hit hard and low to the net-man," my partner will whisper to me. "She was out late last night." Or, "hit to the center and make them fight over the ball," or "LOB EVERYTHING." That will drive them crazy. It's hard to explain what happens to my personality, but it frightens me a little. I take a devilish pleasure in returning a ball to my opponents' feet or even hitting one of them in the back. This is not of my nature; I would rather not know was there. Fortunately, the etiquette of the game demands that we all shake hands after the match. Then we usually share a thermos of iced tea and exchange a few more pleasantries. By the time we're ready to go home we're usually simmered down. We usually simmered down. We were totally annihilated. We tried every trick we knew to no avail. Our opponents were without mercy and took us 6-0. At one point I became so frustrated I considered breaking my racket in two and give up the game forever. "You wouldn't have known me," I confessed later to my husband. "I become a regular Jekyll and Hyde on the tennis courts. Seriously! I entertain mean, murderous thoughts. Why I'm probably not fit to be a mother." My husband didn't seem very concerned. "As long as you work out ALL your aggressions on the tennis court," he said with a smile, "I'll be happy to keep you in tennis balls and rackets."

CofC Puts Emphasis On Urban Problems

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce will conduct two breakfast meetings to emphasize the organization's programming in the direction of solving urban problems. The two meetings will be May 15 and 17, from 8 to 9 a.m. at the Colony Room at the Steak Out in Vernon.

The purpose of the first meeting will be to identify the major urban problems facing Manchester. The second is to narrow the number identifying the five priority urban issues to which the Chamber will commit its resources toward workable solutions.

Richard G. Clark, the Chamber's executive vice president, said the breakfast technique is one used in Rockford, Ill., for the 1969 Forward Rockford Congress involving over 1,000 Chamber and community leaders identifying the urban issues facing the Greater Rockford area.

The Greater Manchester Chamber's 73 Action Program Development has been signed to accommodate a maximum number of Chamber and community leaders. Invitations have been extended to town leaders, in addition to the Chamber's 350 member firms.

The results of the breakfasts will be completely computerized through the courtesy of Manchester Community College. Commenting on the program, Richard Lawrence, co-chairman of the program, said "Businessmen have a vital stake in the future of our town. We must be prepared to work for the solutions of the urban problems affecting the residents of the town and the economy of its business community."

Place for Little Man Even in Basketbrawl

NEW YORK (AP) - Even in basketbrawl, there's a place for the little man. Ernie DiGregorio of Providence, the smallest man on the floor, proved it Monday night as he sparked the U.S. squad to an 89-80 overtime victory over the touring Russian National basketball team before 7,724 at Madison Square Garden.

Locker Room Ban

MONTEAL (AP) - A public meeting is planned Wednesday night starting at 8 at the Manchester High cafeteria. A constitution and by-laws will be presented for the adoption. Election of officers will also take place. A 10-man board of directors is planned. Anyone interested in hockey is invited.

Mount Hoping Fisticuffs Will Be Missing in ABA

LOUISVILLE (AP) - Rick Mount, who picked up a black eye and stitched brow in last Saturday's game with the Indiana Pacers, says he hopes fisticuffs don't get in the way of his team's success. "You just don't know," he said after practice Monday. "Playoff games are funny. With all that tension, it might break out again, especially considering the rivalry between Indiana and Kentucky."

Major League Mets and Tom Seaver Both Snap Streaks

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Mets and pitcher Tom Seaver both snapped losing streaks against Atlanta Monday. The Mets got back on the track after five losses with a 7-2 victory over the Braves.

Losers in Longest Game

First decision of the 1973 National League baseball season for Manchester's Tom Kelley was a loss. The veteran right-hander, making his third relief appearance of the spring, was tagged with the defeat in Atlanta's 20th inning 4-1 Friday night.

New Plan For Wilt

NEW YORK (AP) - "I just may have to take the ball up more," said massive Wilt Chamberlain, pondering a more active offensive when his Los Angeles Lakers try to even their National Basketball Association championship series against the New York Knicks in tonight's nationally televised fourth game at Madison Square Garden.

Curtis' 'Plate Sense' Halts Chisox Skein

CHICAGO (AP) - Because erstwhile relief pitcher John Curtis of the Boston Red Sox suddenly found his "plate sense," the Chicago White Sox nine-game winning streak now is history. Curtis pitched a masterful five-hitter in his first start since April 19 after three relief chores and subdued Chicago 4-1 at rained-out White Sox Park Monday night.

Town Takes Steps On Study, Burials

Atty. Gen. Robert K. Killian this morning called for an interested, aroused and insistent citizenry so that those in high levels of government in Washington will move to protect the independents in the petroleum business and also the consumer.

Killian was the breakfast speaker at the Insight '73 Forum, sponsored by the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce at the Steak Out in Talcottville.

When hamburgers rose to $1.09 a pound, the people hollered, and a ceiling price was established. When in Washington going to move on the petroleum industry? When gasoline goes to $5 cents a gallon, when fuel oil is 30 cents, when we stop buying American cars and go to foreign markets? Washington will respond only to what the people demand," commented Killian.

Other survivors are three brothers, Francis R. Sobral of Vernon, Joseph J. Sobral of West Hartford and Walter Potyra of South Windsor; three sisters, Mrs. Stella Varrick of Manchester, Mrs. Josephine S. Gerchich of Hartford and Mrs. Gertrude P. Brown of Bristol; and several nieces and nephews.

Sanitarian Describes Paper Pickup

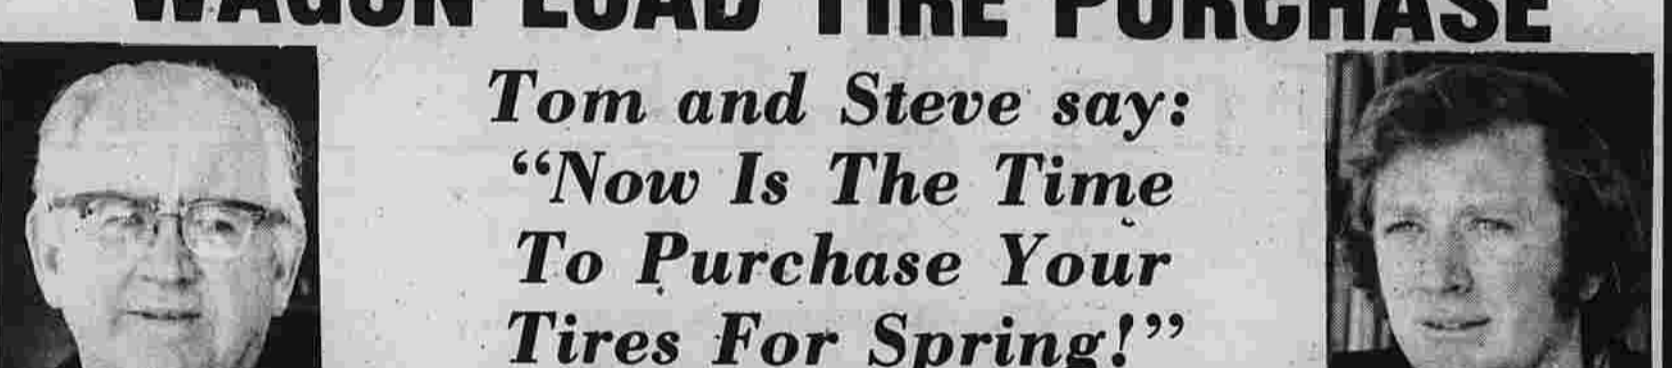

Betty Ryder (Herald Reporter) Curbside collection of newspapers for recycling and the most effective methods used were discussed Monday night at the Manchester Conservation meeting.

Guest speaker Philip Block, registered sanitarian of the Wethersfield Health Department, commented on the collection methods in area towns, namely, Rocky Hill, West Hartford, Glastonbury, Wethersfield and Bloomfield.

He placed special emphasis on the need for publicity, convenience and reliability, so that residents would know just when newspapers would be collected in their respective areas.
