Mothers Day

l'omorrow is Mothers Day. In these days of women's lib, unisex, and even, open flaunting of the sacrament of marriage, the observance may seem to be something out of the past.

Yet despite these efforts to downgrade motherhood as a lofty and meaningful role for women, it survives in the home at least, despite the headlines and philosophical debates among sociologists and others who find human behavior so fascinating. The role of a mother, we think, is not being diminished because of liberation, political activism, and even pursuit of individual careers outside the home.

When done as an added challenge to a woman's personal desire for a fuller life, rather than a substitute, it can and does add new dimensions to the home and family which is our basic social unit.

Today's woman has choices. Modern technology has freed her to the point where she can exercise many options. Mothers Day in 1973

Today, on the eve of Mothers Day, this might be updated for women in general and mothers in particular to: "Never underestimate the potential

Even without a traffic jam, it was a good day for Oriole pitcher Jim Palmer, who beat the Yanks for the 13th time in 17 tries. NEW YORK (AP) - After 19 games, the Minnesota Bonds, SF, 46; Cedeno, Htn, 43. Twins have finally learned how to pitch to John Mayberry...very carefully. The Kansas City bomber continued to wreck the Minnesota Twins with a home run, triple and single Friday night that powered the Royals to a 6-2 victory.

Mayberry's three RBI gave him 27 against Minnesota in the last 19 games dating back to last year. In that period, Mayberry has also had the Twins beside themselves with eight home runs and a .41 batting average. # Red Sox Get Pitching To Vacate Last Place

BOSTON (AP) — A supposedly strong pitching staff was

"He's getting stronger every time out," Kasko said of the man who came out of the bull pen in mid 1972 to post a 15-6 record and season, but at long last Luis Tiant and company seem to be win the league ERA title. "He's the kind of pitcher who has to Detroit

Tiant's four-hit, 4-2 victory over Cleveland Friday night marked the fourth straight complete game by the staff, lifting the Red Sox out of the American League East cellar and giving manager Eddie Kasko a big psychological boost as well.

"I never thought we were as bad as we looked in that first month, but it kept on showing up that way," Kasko said. "Now maybe we're finally on the right track."

Strong pitching was the key to the Red Sox' second half surge a ear ago when they just missed the divisional title by a half ame. More of the same was expected this spring, but instead the nound became a disaster area. The resurgence came this week as John Curtis, Bill Lee and Tiant all went the distance for victories, while Marty Pattin lost a 1-0 heart breaker at Chicago. 'That takes us through the rotation once; now we start again," Kasko said as Curtis (1-2) prepared to face Cy Young Award winner Gaylord Perry (4-4) today. Tiant (4-3) gave up both runs and all four Cleveland hits in the first two innings, then baffled the Indians with his twisting mo-pitch regularly to be at his best." The only sour note was that Luis gave up his 11th homer, compared to seven for the entire 1972 season - a set of figures for Milwaukee which he has no ready explanation.

"Every time I make a mistake this year; it just seems that they hit it out," he said. Cleveland scored in the first inning on a single by John Lowenstein, a freak double by Rusty Torres on a bunt that squirted into Kansas City left field and a sacrifice fly.

Dave Duncan slugged the homer leading off the second and Buddy Bell followed with a single, but that was to be all for the Minnesota ndians in the hit department. Tiant did have one more anxious moment when he walked two men with one out in the eighth, but he pitched out of the jam. "I wasn't tired," he said. "I was just trying to throw too hard." John Kennedy's two-run homer tied the score in the second. A walk, Luis Aparicio's single and an infield out by Carl

Yastrzemski produced what proved to be the winning run in the Aparicio singled again in the eighth, stole second and scored on a double by Danny Cater for the final tally.

No-Windup Key For Alan Foster

NEW YORK (AP) - Alan Foster can't kick. The one-time bonus baby of the Los Angeles Dodgers certainly had nothing to gripe about after what he and his St. Louis teammates did Friday night.

They battered former Cardinal Mike Torrez and four relief pitchers for 15 hits and routed the Montreal Expos 12-0 behind But that's not the real reason he can't kick. It's because of tendons he tore in his right shoulder back in 1968, when he was with the Dodgers.

Before that, the big, blond California native had a Juan Marichal-type delivery. "I used to have this big kick," he said, Davalillo scored on the play but Oliver only made it to third. #### Mrs. Dean, Chambers To Head Campaign

Judith Dean and Harvey Chambers last night were elected co-chairmen of the November campaign for the Tolland Democratic Town Committee.

The Dean-Chambers slate received 14 votes, and a slate composed of Chambers and Michael Murray received 8

Last night's election was a result of several committee members' objections to the appointment of campaign officers by Democratic Town Committee chairman Charles Thifault. They referred to the minutes of the April meeting which showed a unanimous vote in favor of picking campaign officers by election at the May Thifault had previously ap-pointed Harvey Chambers and Michael Murray as campaign co-chairmen, Carol Gordon as secretary and Stanley Johnson Thifault stepped down to par-ticipate in discussion prior to the vote. After reiterating past disputes with Mrs. Dean, he concluded that he 'cannot and will not support her." After Thifault agreed to elections, Chambers and Murray were nominated by Edith

Champion Chorus Celebrates Win

A jubilant crowd of more than 200 was on hand Thursday night to fete the Mountain Laurel Chapter Chorus of Sweet Adelines and its "Illusions" quartet for their championship wins last weekend in Syracuse,

The chorus and quartet celebrated their dual victories at the Ukrainian American Citizens Club in Hartford, "We walked away with all the prizes in Syracuse," Vincent Zito, director of the chorus, told the guests. "My wife even won the raffle," he added. The chorus, which successfully competed against 27 other entrants from New England, New York and Canada at Syracuse, saluted their guests with the prizewinning songs, "Opening Night on Broadway" and "Back in the

The 57 members of the chorus spent more than three months practicing the two songs. Zito said. They are now faced with raising $20,000 to pay expenses to go to Milwaukee, Wis., in 1974, when they will compete with 14 other regional choruses for the international title.

The Hartford Chapter Chorus, SPEBSQSA, serenaded the champions and presented Zito with a check for $50 to be used for the 1974 international The "Illusions," who will go into international competition in October in Washington, D.C., shimmied and sang their prizewinning songs, "Back in the Days Gone By" and "I Wish I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Mary Jayne Crandall of

Iona Workers Reject Union

Yesterday the employes of the Iona Company voted to reject union representation by a vote of 248 to 115. The election was conducted under the auspices of the Boston office of the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB).

The union involved was the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, AFL-CIO. On March 30, 1973 the union filed a petition with the NLRB requesting that a secret ballot election be held among Iona people to see if a majority of the employes wish to be represented by the union. Joseph Kane of the NLRB's Boston office supervised the secret ballot election.

In announcing the vote, Joseph Zimmermann, president of the Iona Company, commented, "I want to thank all employes for voting. The turnout was fantastic. I appreciate the show of confidence and trust towards this company, which I believe our employes demonstrated today.'

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The Julie Andrews Hour wasn't renewed and this is one demerit for the Ameri-can audience.

Julie's show has been a beauty all season. Granted, the time slot ABC stuck it in was downright stupid and makes one wonder about the mental capabilities of network executives. Still, the public should have found the show and supported it better than it did.

Julie says she isn't wor-ried. Whatever happens, she figures she's come out

In the first place, she isn't playing the ratings game. She says that when the season began she decided she would ignore the ratings completely. She says she knows that they haven't been too good but she's just gone along, doing what she thought was best.

"That's all one can do," she says.

But, over and above the ratings consideration, for Julie this has been a good year.

"Doing the show got me going again," she says, "I hadn't done anything at all except for the Carol Burnett special, for three years.

"For a long time, I had thought that I had to work, since I began so young and spent my youth doing noth-ing but work. Then, during those three years I found that I enjoyed not work-ing."

She might have gone along, happily not working, except that ABC offered her a small fortune to do the series.

"The offer was so gener-ous," she says, "with all kinds of fringe benefits, that I had to say 'yes'."

So she went back to work.
And she says that she was forced to do things she had forgotten she could do—sing and dance. She says doing the show got her into physical shape again, made her start singing again, "got me start singing again, "got me going again."

She's enjoyed doing it. It's been fun, she says, and she thinks she's learned a lot.

On the plus side is the fun, the experience, the learning —and the money.

But there's a big minus side, too.

"I've been sad," she says,
"because I've had to be away
from my family so much.
This year has been about 80 per cent work, 20 per cent family—and that's too much on the work side. on the work side.

"The children have been very good about it, about having their mother come home and go right to bed but I've been feeling very guilty about it."

"I've learned a few lessons," she says, "about what to do and what not to do. There's really no need for three big production num-bers on every show. Two would be fine and one would be sufficient."

She is in what she calls "a lovely position."

Right now, she's off to make a movie—"The Tama-rind Seed"—which she and

Which Band Instrument Would You Like to Play?

The cornet is like a trumpet.

Brass instruments are great in bands and parades. Strong lips are important in playing them.

Percussion instruments are played by hitting them. They make the loudest sounds.

It's fun to be a part of a group that's making music. Maybe you would like to play in a band. Bands usually are made up of woodwind, brass and percussion instruments.

The secret to being a good player is practice. You also must take good care of your instrument.

All of these instruments on this page are played in elementary school bands. When you are older, you can play them in a marching band, a dance band, a concert band or a symphony orchestra — with one exception. The saxophone is hardly ever played in a symphony.

Brasses The trumpet is the most popular brass instrument. It often has the lead part and you can play it very loud. The cornet looks very much like it and looks a little shorter. It has a mellower sound. Some people feel the cornet is easier to learn to play than the trumpet. The trombone is played by pulling the slide in and out. It does not have valves. You need long arms to play it. You can't play fast tunes on it, but you can make loud, clear sounds and you can play very low notes.

Percussion instruments The drums are important to a band because they give the rhythm or keep the time. They are used in symphony orchestras, but are not as important. If you play the drums, you will also probably learn to play the bells and cymbals.

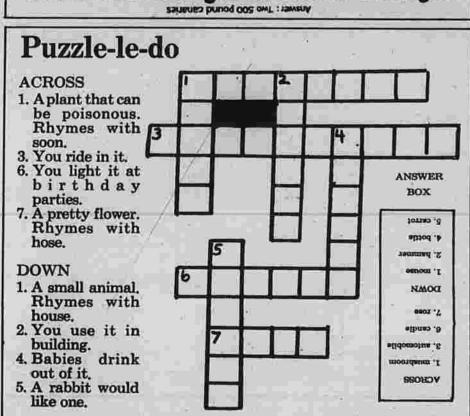

Drums are very easy to play, but some people get tired of just playing the rhythm and would like to play a melody or tune. Woodwinds

The clarinet is the most popular of all woodwind instruments. It is used in just about every kind of music. It can be played very rapidly or very slowly.

The saxophone is a member of the woodwind family, but it is really a combination of a woodwind and a brass. It has a reed mouthpiece, but it is made of brass. It is used in the popular music of dance and rock-androll bands. It is played very much like the clarinet and some people switch from one to the other. It is thought to be one of the easier instruments to learn to play.

The flute has a pleasant, soft tone. Some people think it is harder to master than any other woodwind instrument. Others like an instrument that makes louder sounds. You can learn to play very fast tunes on a flute.

John Philip Sousa

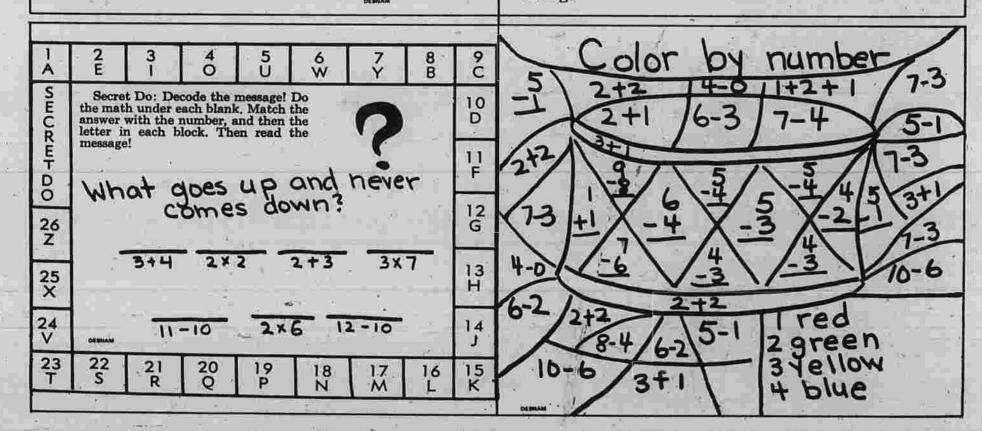

John Philip Sousa was our country's most famous bandmaster. He composed many kinds of music including operettas (musical compositions with short plots, happy music and spoken words) and waltzes. He was most famous for his marches and became known as the "March King."

known as the "March King."

Sousa was born in Washington, D.C. in 1854. He studied the violin and, at the age of 17, became a professional musician. He played with dance orchestras and variety shows.

He became the leader of the U.S. Marine Band in 1880. This band became one of the best in the world. It was during this time that he wrote many of his famous marches. In 1892 he left the Marine band and formed his own band which toured this country and Europe. He was the most popular bandleader of his time. From 1917 to 1919 he served as bandmaster for the U.S. Navy. He died in 1932.

His famous marches include "The Washington Post March" and "The Stars and Stripes Forever." He also wrote books and an autobiography called "Marching Along."

Super Sport: Ferguson Jenkins

Ferguson Jenkins was the 1971 Cy Young Award winner. This award is given to the most outstanding pitcher in the National League. The Chicago Cub right-hander has won 20 or more games for five years straight. In 1969, he struck out 273 batters, more than any other pitcher in the National League. He has signed a contract worth $100,000 a year. "Fergie," age 29, is six-feet, five inches tall and weighs 205 pounds. He was born in Canada and attended school there. Very few major league players come from Canada.

Mini Page Quiz-a-roo.

What are three kinds of bands?

Marching bands plan their routines very carefully. They march in parades and football games. The trombones usually come first, followed by the brass instruments. The drums are midway so all band members can hear the beat. The woodwinds usually come last Concert bands use fewer brass and percussion instruments. The woodwinds usually sit in the front of the band. The concert band does not play as loud as other bands.

A dance band is made up of seven to 17 members. There is a sax section. The members of the sax section usually double by playing the clarinet or some other woodwind instrument. There is a trumpet section, a trombone section and a rhythm section. The rhythm section is composed of a piano, drums, bass fiddle and sometimes, a guitar.

Animal of the Week: The Cougar

The cougar has several names. It is also called a mountain lion and a panther. The cougar is really a large cat. Its favorite food is deer. It is usually quite shy and afraid of man. Today, most a cougars are found in the far West. There are also a few in the Florida Everglades. They are in danger of becoming extinct. A cougar can grow to be five feet long with a tail as long as three feet. A mother will have from one to five cubs at a time. The cubs stay with the mother about two years. A cougar can live to be 12 years old.
