

Booknik Festival

Doris Lang Kosloff, a student from the Hartt School of Music holds the attention of South Windsor children as she entertains with folksongs at the Booknik Festival held at the library on Sullivan Ave., last week. The festival signaled the close of the summer reading program for all children who were old enough to read. The children were given cards at the start of the program. The cards contained reading trails and the children who completed a certain number of trails were given pins at the festival. Instead of doing the usual book reports the children illustrated some of the books they read by doing handcrafted projects. The program was directed by Mrs. Wilma Hawkins, head of the children's library. (Herald photo by O'Hara.)

Week In Business

Auto Makers Try To Justify Higher Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's four auto producers went to Washington this past week to justify their requests for price hikes of up to $106 a car. As expected, they said they would soon be asking for more. Under Phase 4 rules, large corporations have to give the Cost of Living Council 30 days' notice before raising prices. The council can then prohibit, cut or delay the hikes, but it's expected to let the auto price increases go through. Ford Motor Co. plans hikes averaging $106 a car. General Motors wants an increase of $102; Chrysler $70, and American Motors $61. The companies argued before the council that the planned hikes were needed largely to recover expenses of safety and environmental features required by the government. And they said they would have to ask for more later to pay for labor agreements still being negotiated, higher costs for materials and an anticipated drop in 1974 sales.

The Cost of Living Council declared a third extension of the gasoline price freeze, extending it a week and delaying the start of new price ceilings opposed by dealers.

A council spokesman said the extension was to give retailers time to put the new ceilings into effect. Retailers originally were to have posted new price stickers on pumps by the first of September.

Chrysler Corp. is the target automaker this year to contract talks with the United Auto Workers. And while the auto companies defended their case in Washington, the union turned down Chrysler's first offer. That proposal called for 3 percent pay raises in each of the next three years, cost-of-living protection and higher pension benefits. UAW President Leonard Woodcock called the offer a "mockery," describing it as "worse than we got in the very bad recession year of 1968." UAW contracts at Chrysler, Ford and General Motors

Prophane Priority Suggested

WASHINGTON (AP) — A mandatory program to allocate scarce propane fuel has been proposed by the White House. John A. Love, director of the White House Energy Policy Office, said in a statement that propane is only a small fraction of the nation's total petroleum fuel supply. But he said it is critical for such needs as crop drying and heating rural homes and trailers.

Dentists' Biggest Problem Is Patients' Fear Of Pain

FARMINGTON (AP) — A dental school psychologist says at least eight million Americans don't go to dentists because they are afraid of pain. And most of those who do go judge their dentists by how well they minimize pain or stress, according to Dr. Matsuyohu Weisenberg. He suggests that one way to lessen the fear of pain is to turn the dentist's chair into something of a psychiatrist's couch. "There are dentists who will look only at the mouth and forget it's part of the body. We try to deal with the total person, with all his needs, with all his fears," said the assistant professor at the University of Connecticut.

Besides indicating the location of cavities, patient charts also should list a person's psych-

Love said priority in receiving propane supplies would be assigned to customers who use it in agricultural production, food processing, residential cooking and heating, mass transit vehicles and buildings housing medical and nursing patients. The statement said there probably would be insufficient propane to fill the demand and distributors would be required to "divide their remaining supplies among non-priority customers in proportion to what they sold each customer during a base period measured from Sept. 1, 1972, through April 30, 1973.

In addition, Love said he has asked the Cost of Living Council to permit increases in the price of propane. He said that "higher prices may be necessary in order for an allocation program to be most effective, and to encourage conservation, and to induce increased production and importation of propane."

He said refiners could make more propane available by avoiding its use as a refinery fuel and substituting other, more costly fuels. Love said the COLC also was asked "to provide necessary incentives" in the form of some sort of allowance for the higher costs incurred. Love ordered public hearings on the propane proposal next Friday.

Arab Gunmen Take Over Embassy

PARIS (AP) — Three Arab gunmen took over the Saudi Arabian Embassy today and demanded a plane to fly them and at least five hostages to an unnamed Arab capital, police reported. The gunmen, who claimed to be members of a Palestinian splinter group, said they would transport the hostages seized in the embassy for the release of a high-ranking Palestinian resistance leader, reported to be held in Jordan or Kuwait. After negotiations conducted by calling messages back and forth from the ground to an upstairs window, police reported the gunmen seemed to be softening and were asking only to be allowed to leave unharmed. Police Commissioner Jean Bucheton said the Arabs claimed the release of a high-ranking Palestinian resistance leader, reported to be held in Jordan or Kuwait. Olcott Bridge Action Delayed

SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter) — A Board of Directors' decision on what to do about a new Olcott St. bridge will be made Sept. 11, after the board reviews bids that came in over estimates. The bridge was damaged beyond repair June 30 during a Manchester torrential rainfall. The apparent low bid, submitted by the Amull Construction Co. of Manchester, is $125,041. Others ranged to a high of $194,996. In early July, the directors were told an adequate new bridge would cost about $80,000 to $100,000. Town Manager Robert Weiss said last night he considers the bids unfavorable. He recommended a modified specifications for new bids, to aim at a cost within $100,000. He suggested a contract which would permit the town to act as its own general contractor. Ron Churchill, employed by the Amull Construction Co. as its estimator, cautioned the directors not to consider a "general contractor" suggestion by Weiss. "If the town acts as general contractor on a job, he explained, the town employees would be subject to a pay raise, possibly as much as 50 per cent, to bring them to the level of union wages paid by the contractors. He said the contractors would insist upon the wage scale for town employees on the bridge job. As an example, he said, union wages for a laborer are as high as $5.20 an hour, plus fringe benefits. Churchill said one of the considerations in the bidding is the Nov. 15, 1973 completion date in the bid specs. He said the black-top plants shut down the end of November and if the Nov. 15 completion date is to be met, construction of a new bridge should begin at once. The board will consider a suggestion by Director James Farr, prior to arriving at a decision. He suggested a more moderate and less elaborate approach — possibly of pipe-arch type. Weiss revealed that the torrential rain last Friday night in Manchester created considerable damage to Henry St. driveways. He said a $55,000 appropriation may be required to repair the damage and to make drainage improvements on Henry St., in order to prevent future flooding and damage.

Heat Wave End Two Days Away

If it's any consolation to thousands of perspiring outdoorsers, you're living through record-setting temperatures. The end could still be two days away. Here are some hot, hard facts from the National Weather Service at Bradley International Airport in Windsor Locks: June, July and August (the months commonly referred to as summer) were the hottest ever recorded — an average 74.4 degrees. The previous warmest summer was in 1949 with 73.8 degrees. August's average 76.4 degrees was the warmest since 1949. Temperatures in the 90s are predicted for today. The highest official temperature in August was 98 on the 20th, a record for that date. Tuesday it reached 96 degrees at Bradley, a record for Sept. 4. A spokesman said Tuesday night that the weather service air stagnation advisory posted Tuesday would continue through Wednesday as a cold front affecting our area moves toward Maine, leaving Connecticut with hazy, hot and humid conditions. The state Department of Environmental Protection Tuesday issued a "stage one" air pollution advisory, meaning all open burning must cease. For relief look toward the midwest, the weatherman suggested, where another front is moving eastward, preceded and accompanied by thundershowers which should move into Connecticut late today and Thursday, dropping temperatures into the 80s. The heat wave is expected to break by Friday. Variable cloudiness, hot and humid with a chance of scattered thundershowers this afternoon. Highs in the 80s inland and the 80s along the coast. Hazy, warm and humid tonight, lows in the low 70s. Thursday, partly cloudy, very warm and humid with showers and thundershowers likely. Highs in the mid 80s. Precipitation probability 30 per cent this afternoon, 20 per cent tonight and 60 per cent Thursday.

Watergate Case Now Has Unusual Legal Twist

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an unusual legal twist, both the White House and special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox plan to appeal a court order for presidential Watergate tapes. The White House said it would file its papers Thursday in an attempt to block efforts to force President Nixon to turn over the tapes. Cox's appeal will seek "clarification or modification of the standards and procedures to be followed in determining what parts of the evidence will be presented to the grand jury," the prosecutor said. He did not elaborate. Although neither side has yet filed papers, Hugh Kline, clerk of the Circuit Court of Appeals, Tuesday set Sept. 11 as the date for oral arguments. Meanwhile, U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica was scheduled to meet today with lawyers for Watergate figures Jeb Stuart Magruder and James W. McCord to determine whether the two men may continue lecture tours on Watergate. Sirica may also meet with Magruder personally, Magruder's office has indicated. Magruder, former deputy director of Nixon's re-election campaign, cancelled a speech set for today at West Virginia University that was to kick off his national lecture tour. McCord, convicted of participating in the June 17, 1972, Watergate break-in, already has been tentatively ordered by Sirica to stop his lecture tour. Cox has asked Sirica to prohibit Magruder and McCord from making the tours. Special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox won the first round in the court test on whether President Nixon may withhold tape recordings in-

Ex-White House Aides Reportedly Indicted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Former presidential adviser John D. Ehrlichman has been indicted by the grand jury investigating the break-in of the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist, the Los Angeles Times and Washington Post said today. The newspapers said Ehrlichman, who was White House adviser on domestic affairs, was indicted separately Tuesday along with former Ehrlichman aide Egil Krogh Jr., David Young, a former aide to Henry A. Kissinger, and convicted Watergate conspirator G. Gordon Liddy. The newspapers said they had learned Ehrlichman also had been indicted on a perjury charge. The Post said the four men were named in burglary-conspiracy charges. The Times did not specify the other charges, but said they were in connection with the break-in. Sources for the stories were not cited. There was no immediate official comment on the Times' story. After the sealed indictments were returned, an aide to special Watergate prosecutor Archibald Cox said they could threaten Cox's Watergate investigation. Superior Court Judge James G. Kolts, who received the indictments late Tuesday, ordered the documents sealed until at least one of the indicted surrenders to authorities. Names and charges stemming from the probe were to be released immediately afterward. Kolts also ordered that arrest warrants not be issued until Tuesday to give the indicted a chance to surrender on their own. He set bond at $500 for each person indicted. Cox's aide, James Doyle, said the Watergate prosecutor could be expected to issue a statement today about the effect of the indictments on his investigation. "They've got a small piece of a much bigger thing," Doyle said. Sources close to the grand jury previously had said that Ehrlichman, Krogh, Young and Liddy were possible targets for indictment in the probe. Dist. Atty. Joseph Busch declined comment on that report. There was considerable discussion by the public Tuesday night concerning the proposed development, with most of the speakers urging caution. "A huge project such as this one requires a lot of careful study by town officials and interested town residents," said William Buckley, the first to speak. Buckley is a retired consultant. Buckland Area Sewer Swap Plan Tabled

SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter) — The Manchester Board of Directors Tuesday night tabled action on a proposed sewer swap with the Town of South Windsor until such time as the public is thoroughly briefed on plans for a 50-acre mixed-use development in the Buckland area. The vote was unanimous. Preliminary plans for the development will be heard and seen Oct. 1 by the Planning and Zoning Commission. The directors recommended that the commission invite the public to its Oct. 1 meeting and that it permit the public to comment and ask questions. Director Vivian Ferguson, who made the motion to table, said she wouldn't want to see a repeat of the turmoil two years ago when a proposal was made (later withdrawn) for a CUD (Comprehensive Urban Development) project off Keeney St. Director Anthony Pietrangola, in seconding Mrs. Ferguson's motion, pointed out that the proposed sewer swap is one of the last decisions to be made — following action by the Planning and Zoning Commission on the proposed mixed-use development — planned for Hartman Tobacco Co. land, half in Manchester and half in South Windsor. There was considerable discussion by the public Tuesday night concerning the proposed development, with most of the speakers urging caution. "A huge project such as this one requires a lot of careful study by town officials and interested town residents," said William Buckley, the first to speak. Buckley is a retired consultant. First-Day Problems Said Minor

The first day of school in Manchester, while generally without any major problems, did have a few minor ones, according to Raymond Demers, Board of Education business manager, reported today. Most of the problems, he said, stemmed from changing of some bus routes and pick-up times; but on the whole these problems were not major and were soon remedied. "Some children on Hilliard St. were not picked up by the bus scheduled to do so and were taken to school by their parents. Demers said arrangements have been made for their rides home today and for regular bus transportation beginning tomorrow.

Utilities were preparing for continued heavy electric power demands today as a muggy heat wave blanketed much of the Eastern Seaboard for the ninth straight day. Temperatures in the 90s strained the New England regional power grid so severely on Tuesday that it reduced voltage by 5 per cent for the first time during the current hot spell. Meanwhile, the stagnant air mass caused pollution to reach hazardous levels in some areas."

THAT SMARTS
LINKOPING, Sweden (AP) — Hot socks put 50 Swedish soldiers on the sick list, some suffering second-degree burns on their feet. Authorities said a computer at the central defense laundry apparently mixed far too much lye or disinfectant in the wash. A warning was issued that at least 1,500 "poisonous" pairs of socks may have been distributed to army regiments.

Castagna Resigns, Will Take Post In Southington

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
Tel. 646-0375
Dr. Joseph Castagna, superintendent of Bolton Schools, yesterday announced his resignation at the general staff meeting held annually the day before school begins.

Castagna, who has served as superintendent of Bolton for six years, has accepted a position as assistant superintendent in Southington. The resignation is effective no later than Nov. 30 with a request by Castagna for an earlier dismissal if possible. Castagna said he regrets making the move at this time, but as the schools are in good shape everything should run smoothly.

The Board of Education will now have to seek a superintendent as well as an assistant principal and a half-time industrial arts teacher.

Beach Fee Hearing

MONICA SHEA
Correspondent
Tel. 742-9495
There will be a public hearing tonight at 7 o'clock before the regular council meeting concerning the removal of the $2.50 fee charged for using Liscie Beach. The hearing will be held at Town Hall.

During the regular council meeting there will be an explanation by the South Coventry Water Co. of the almost 100% increase the water company is asking for.

The Board of Education has requested a meeting with the council to discuss adult education and the extension of the driveway at Capt. Nathan Hale School.

The council must rescind the action of an emergency meeting Aug. 27 and authorize the installation of drains around the foundation of Town Hall.

The council must approve which bridges are to be repaired and at what cost. This proposal must be submitted to the Planning and Zoning Commission. The council will discuss a date for the Town Meeting necessary for the approval of the funds.

Michael Pesce has submitted a report on the activities which have taken place and which will be taking place in the Streets Department.

There will be a communication from Town Atty. Abbot Schwebel along with an ordinance establishing the Planning and Zoning Commission as the Inland Wetland Agency.

PUC To Reopen Hearing
Due to a request of the Coventry Town Council the Public Utilities Commission (PUC) has agreed to reopen the hearing held Aug. 7 in Hartford on the application of the South Coventry Water Supply Co. to increase its rates.

The reopened hearing will be held in the Town Office Building, Rt. 31, Coventry on Sept. 21 at 10:30 a.m.

The purpose of the reopened hearing will be to receive testimony of the town and other customers of the water company.

The commission may designate a member of its technical staff to hold this hearing and make a report of it to the commission. The member of the technical staff so designated shall have the power to administer oaths to witnesses in conducting this hearing.

Assessor Closed
On Thursday there is a special meeting in the Hall of the House of Representatives to explain and discuss the new "circuit breaker" tax relief for the elderly.

In order that the assessor may attend this meeting and fully understand this bill, the assessor's office will be closed Thursday.

Appointed

Dr. Donald F. Behrend of Newcomb, N.Y., has been appointed acting executive director of the Institute of Environmental Program Affairs at the College of Environmental Science and Forestry, Syracuse, N.Y.

Behrend, a Manchester native and a 1959 graduate of the University of Connecticut, earned his BS degree in forestry from the University of Connecticut in 1968 and his MS in wildlife management at UConn two years later.

Behrend was formerly stationed at the college's Newcomb Campus as director of the Adirondack Ecological Center, where he was responsible for the research program in the 15,000 acre Huntington Forest. He held this position until his recent appointment.

Behrend is married to the former Joan Belcher of Manchester.

Ten New Courses Offered at MCC

Several new courses will be offered at Manchester Community College (MCC) this fall by the division of summer session and extension services.

The ten new courses, all to begin this week, are:

- Reading speed and comprehension, a course for students who wish to improve their reading speed and comprehension through a planned, individualized program of study in classroom and laboratory situations. The class will meet for 15 weeks on Tuesdays, 7 to 9:30 p.m., in Room 110 at the Bidwell St. campus.
- Governmental accounting is a course which will survey the principles of governmental and institutional accounting, including budgeting, cost accounting, auditing, and financial reporting. It will meet for 15 weeks on Mondays and Wednesdays from 7 to 8:15 p.m., in Room 12 at the Bidwell St. campus.
- Yoga will offer an introduction to the basic philosophy and discipline of yoga, with emphasis on self-development and understanding. The class will meet for 15 weeks on Tuesdays from 7 to 8:30 p.m., in Room 207 at the Hartford Rd. campus.
- A course in intermediate bridge, one of four to be offered on increasing levels of complexity, will emphasize play of hand and general defense. The course will meet on Wednesdays for nine weeks from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. in the staff lounge in the student center building on the Bidwell St. campus.
- Introduction to flying, a course which teaches basic pilot ground instruction will cover the areas of aerodynamics and theory of flight, federal aviation regulations, meteorology, navigation and radio uses. The course will meet on Saturdays for 15 weeks from 9 a.m. to noon in Room 8 of the campus.
- Transactional analysis is a rational approach to understanding and analyzing behavior. It is based on the assumption that an individual can learn to trust himself, think for himself, make his own decisions, take more control of his life and express his feelings. The class will meet for 15 weeks on Saturdays from 9:30 a.m. to noon in Room 2 at the Bidwell St. campus.
- A course in interior design will have as its objective the development of the students' understanding and appreciation of interior design and enable the student to work out specific

Comment Session

A Manchester taxpayer who says the 8478 tax bill is one month overdue is questioning the rationale behind a law adopted by the 1973 General Assembly. The new law teaches acting and encourages individual creativity in beginners and advanced drama students. The course is to be held on Fridays for 15 weeks from 7 to 10 p.m. in the cafeteria of the Hartford Rd. campus.

The consumer and the automobile is a course for men and women who have little or no knowledge of the mechanics, servicing or purchasing of a new or used automobile. The class will meet on Tuesdays for four weeks from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 211 at the Hartford Rd. campus.

Travel in Europe is a course which will deal with ways to get around the continent inexpensively as well as describe some desirable places to stay and things to see. The eight-week course will meet on Tuesdays from 6:45 to 8 p.m., in Room 207 at the Hartford Rd. campus.

A woman resident of E. Center St. recommended that Mary Cheney Library be air-conditioned — particularly its reference room.

She also recommended that weekly sessions be held for the elderly — to counsel them in matters of the law, Social Security, Medicare, and the like. Also, she recommended that dent children be taught in local schools instead of traveling to out-of-town schools.

A Deerfield Dr. resident complained that a neighbor leaves garbage cans on the street at all times, every day of the week. The same person complained of an unused and unsightly car parked on Linnmore Dr. all day and all night.

A man who resides in the Joseph St. area complained that street lights at Main and Woodbridge Sts. and complained of bicyclists who don't obey traffic rules and who ride without night lights.

He also recommended cutting the weeds along the railroad right-of-way to prevent grass fires from sparks produced by the trains.

BOOK REVIEWS

AMERICAN FOLK MEDICINE. By Charles Meyer. Crowell, 296 Pages, $5.95.

While we're being nostalgic, let's remember that the current fads in organic foods, herb medicines, and nature remedies have an ancient if dubious lineage.

Clarence Meyer, who has been studying medicinal plants since he was sent as a child to the fields to gather them for his family, has selected and set down with humor and charm some of the more sane recommendations from the past. A prudent brief note at the start emphasizes the collector "does not represent an endorsement of any recipe, nor does the author or publisher vouch for any claims made for them."

Let's take a look at some of the specimens, arranged in alphabetical order of the ailments they were supposed to cure or alleviate:

Asthma — "Get a muskrat skin and wear it over the lungs, with the fur side next to the body."

Hayfever — "Rub the ears briskly when there is the slightest indication of fullness in the nose."

Intoxication — "To remove the effects produced by an excess of wine, etc., drink a negligible amount of oil. It will prevent the hurtful fumes from rising."

Baby Boy

BABY BOY. By Jess Gregg. Putnam, 226 Pages, $8.95.

Meet Baby Boy Calabron, one of the biggest (and to appear in recent fiction and also one of the most endearing.

"Baby Boy" so named because the orphanage he was raised in never quite got around to giving him another name, in alliteration, a condition he manages to get around when he wants something read to him by claiming his eyes were injured in an industrial accident or some other outrageous lie. He is also a thief, an utterly incompetent one, so bad, in fact, that when he breaks into a house the most valuable thing he can find among a collection of rare antiques is a snapshot album which he loses to another thief who breaks into the same house and robs it as well as Baby Boy.

Released from prison, after serving time for a crime he wasn't anywhere near smart enough to have pulled off, the young ex-con wanders, innocently into a civilian life that he can neither comprehend nor adjust to. His adventures on the outside are hilarious to the reader, but not so to Baby Boy, who decides after a while that life in prison is vastly preferable to being outside the walls.

But with a mind like his, getting back into jail is almost as hard as getting out. He succeeds, but it takes a bit of doing on his part as well as on that of the authorities.

"Baby Boy" is a picturesque type of novel, with adventure following adventure, and all of them funny.

The Great Wine Scandal

Nothing has rocked the candlelight dining set as much as the Great Bordeaux Wine Scandal of 1973.

The report that as many as two million bottles of fake Bordeaux wine were found just before it was to be moved into the market has had many repercussions.

In order to get a perspective on the incident which might well become France's Watergate (we must point out that President Pompidou hasn't been linked to the affair as yet) we contacted a few French friends for their views.

Vin LeBlanc, a conservative who has long defended French wines, decried the incident as one perpetrated by a group of LePlumbeurs obviously in league with CIA (California Imitators Association) to subvert the long-established integrity and originality of Bordeaux wines.

He blamed the Council of Bordeaux Wine Producers for very lax security and strongly urges more barrel taps in the future.

And finally, the stupid way the fraud was attempted reflects the foolishness of replacing professional wine tasters with advertising men who place the means ahead of the end in creating demands for the product, LeBlanc said.

Also critical was Ralph "Vinny" LeRouge, who is the author of the best-seller, "Unsafe In Any Glass," a expose of wine industry deceptions such as the concave bottoms in bottles, excessive pressurization so that most of the wine winds up on the ceiling, and artificial grape-stomping. The latter, LeRouge alleges, is having an adverse effect on quality.

He is alarmed that men could stoop to such illegal and dishonorable acts. "The credibility of the French wine industry and its ability to dominate the world of grape lovers has been impaired. Those involved must be punished and I don't care if it leads to the innermost circles of the Republic."

The Concierge at the Hotel de Motel said, "Oui, it is a bad thing this fakery for the French, but for the Americans it is no problem for as we say when dealing with tourists, it is not the wine but the label."

Marcel DeLute, a wine foreman, offered to testify if granted immunity stating he had presented the plan to his superiors and after several revisions was given approval. Rumors immediately circulated that he would, if given immunity, implicate high-level wine tasters and would reveal a cloak-and-dagger operation designed to make 1974 the Year of America for the French wine industry.

It is rumored this yet unnamed group planted spies in the Christian Brothers winery in California and planned a letter writing campaign to undercut Mogen David.

Henri LeSlipper, the grand old man of the French Wine Tasters Association, urged the people to exercise restraint and not jump to conclusions.

"Bordeaux wine is as sound as a franc. That some venal men have seen fit to sully a public trust should not be construed as a reflection on the whole system. The country will survive. Viva la France."

The real disturbing comment came from a vineyard worker who wishes to remain anonymous. "It quit drinking wine years ago. It is bad for the liver. But because French water is so bad, I now drink beer and there should be an investigation here also for I seem to be drinking it more but enjoying it less. Could it be the only genuine thing about my bottle of Heineken is the bottle? After all if I cannot trust my fellow Frenchmen with the wine can I trust the Dutchmen with my beer?"

A quick survey of Manchester package stores indicates all Bordeaux wines in stock to be genuine. If you don't believe it, look at the price.

Kissinger Deserves Confirmation

We think that Dr. Henry Kissinger will receive quick confirmation for Secretary of State by the Senate after it returns from vacation.

His effectiveness in foreign affairs has been dramatically shown over the past three years in his negotiations with the North Vietnamese.

The new warming diplomacy between the United States and Russia also is on the credit side of the Kissinger ledger, since in great part he cleared the way for the visits of President Nixon with results that have been good for the nation.

While the work of resigned Secretary of State William P. Rogers has been overshadowed by Kissinger's peripatetic activities in the interest of international accord, his resignation must be accepted with an accolade for services well done.

Rogers has brought strong personal dignity to the administration and has remained totally untainted in the aftermath of the over-zealous activities of the White House inner guard.

He has run the State Department's many branches and in some respects has been akin to a business manager while Kissinger has been the star salesman on the road.

Unfortunately, at the same time, Kissinger's prominence has caused some mutterings in the department since it was felt that much of its duties were being performed outside.

Perhaps the time had come for Kissinger to take over the department and organize it to better implement the accords which he has worked out. If he is to do this well he will have to become more of an administrator, and some of his personally negotiating skills may have to be set aside during the period of reorganization.

Kissinger, while a former Harvard professor, is much unlike Mr. Rogers. He possesses no lack of admiration for good-looking women and also has a quick sense of humor.

We think he has served the United States exceedingly well and feel certain that he will have much to accomplish in his new position.

Inside Report

Roulund Evans and Robert Novak
Nixon, Post-Watergate

WASHINGTON — "What he really needs is a one month vacation, without any interruption."

That careful recommendation from an intimate of President Nixon reflects no particular feat that the President, groping out of the horrors of Watergate, is on the verge of nervous exhaustion.

It does reflect a view, now widening into the political consciousness of many politicians ranging from very friendly to hostile toward President Nixon, that the President should take a long breather from the heavy pressures of the Watergate crisis these past six months. The toll has been enormous.

Politicians accustomed to watching the President — any President — for signs of mood, direction or work habits are flabbergasted at the extraordinary changes of scenery which now seem such an essential part of Mr. Nixon's regular life.

The record of the peripatetic President's last three weeks of travel reads like a man desperately searching for a peace he cannot find: Aug. 9 at the White House; Aug. 20 and 11 at Camp David; Aug. 12 back at the White House; Aug. 14 back at Camp David; Aug. 15 back at the White House for two nights; Aug. 17 at Key Biscayne for three nights; Aug. 20 at San Clemente for 10 days.

As we write this, Mr. Nixon is due back East, in Washington or Camp David. So, during the past three weeks, he has moved from one place to another no less than eight times.

Every politician we have discussed with this agrees that no one can either work well or rest well under such conditions of permanent floating. As one presidential ally told us: "The President says he wants only to get on with the job of being President and leave Watergate behind, but how is that possible under the travel schedule that keeps pulling him away from the Oval Office?"

Moreover, the way Mr. Nixon has been spending his time the past few weeks strongly indicates that even in the Oval Office — or more likely in his preferred office in the Executive Office Building — the President has hardly been able to concentrate on "getting on with the job." Thus, he has consumed vast amounts of time studying the transcript of the Senate Watergate hearings, not cursorily but in unwholesome detail.

Presidential aides justified this study as inescapable cramm-

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

One of the ways toward solving the growing shortage of newsprint, the commodity upon which your newspaper is printed, would be the establishment of recycling plants but like new paper plants they cost money.

Stockholders are reluctant to invest in newsprint industry plants when they can only realize a return of about 30 per cent on their investment, at least that has been the pattern of the past.

Recycled newsprint would cost the newspaper a bit less on a ton basis. Though the sheet is weaker, not as bright, which would result in more spoilage in printing.

Here at The Herald we sell all our scrap paper and the price has climbed from 8 to $14 per ton.

In a previous column, we commented about the Newport, R.I., Mercury being the oldest newspaper of continuous publication in America and said the paper suspended publication for a time during the Revolutionary War.

Mrs. Kenneth Weibust of Manchester writes that according to legend the Mercury never ceased publication during the war. The printing press was simply moved around from farm house to farm house, secretly, to keep it hidden from English soldiers quartered on the island and the paper was printed all the time during the war.

And we think publishing today is hectic. Thank you, Mrs. Weibust.

In response to one of our editorials a reader writes that Watergate is a lawyer's production, not a politician's.

The objection to the editorial seems to revolve around this paragraph: The abdication by our citizenry of leaving politics to the so-called professional politician contributes to the climate in which Watergate is thrives.

Sorry, but we still think there is a lot of truth in that statement.

In the meantime, though, some folks will become wealthy, or nearly so, because of Watergate. They remind us of those who pilfer the homes of tornado or flood victims after the disaster has struck.

A number of books are being written on Watergate. Some of those involved in the proceedings are hitting the lecture circuit and commanding a pretty fair speaking fee such as Jeb Magruder who will make an appearance at the University of Hartford Sept. 12.

There was a big tennis match awhile back in which Sens. Edward Kennedy and John Tunney were paired against Sens. Edward Brooke and Lowell Weicker. Kennedy, Tunney and Weicker have a lot in common but we can't imagine Brooke in the same company unless he just happens to love tennis.

Out in the Midwest, a town councilman has suggested the town set aside $5,000 for each candidate seeking office this year so that no behind the scenes or under the table fund raising efforts would be necessary.

At first, the idea seems ridiculous but the longer one thinks about it, perhaps it has merit.

In Connecticut, each political party gets a share of taxpayer money and we don't think that bad. It is possible that in Manchester each political party could get a share of taxpayer's money?

Such a program might even entice candidates, who are in a financial bind, to seek public office.

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a breakfast forum on the new Phase 4 Tuesday morning, 8:30, at Willie's Steak House.

Without a doubt, there is a lot of confusion on the new regulations. You can make reservations by contacting the chamber office.

The high cost of medical care? They are looking for a physician at the San Diego, Calif., County Jail. The doctor who is supposed to care for the inmates there reportedly receives $20,000 per year, spends two hours daily at the hospital, and each patient averages two minutes of care.

Tax Foundation, Inc. currently reports there is a bill in Congress which would permit a blood donor, if the blood donated to a non-profit collection agency, to deduct up to $125 per year from his federal income tax. Up to $25 a pint and up to five pints a year would be permitted under the proposal. Passage of the bill might be a boon to blood donations.

The Herald will be participating in the distribution of the 1974 Associated Press Almanac. Sometime this month we will be carrying advertisements which will contain a coupon whereby those interested can order the Almanac. It is a good piece of reference material.

Of interest is that the Philadelphia Inquirer is preparing to appeal a ruling that newspapers don't have the right of general access to lists containing the names, addresses and amount of assistance received by persons on welfare. The court said that neither Pennsylvania's Right-to-Know Act nor common law right to inspect public records overrides the Public Welfare Code which states that the welfare department has the power "to protect the names of applicants for and recipients of public assistance from improper publication."

We'd wager, however, that publication would result in a lessening number of those receiving welfare.

According To Study Making A Living In Sports Isn't Much Different

NEW YORK (AP) — While a career in professional baseball might be the dream of youth and the envy of adults, it is just another way of making a living and to the analysts at the Department of Labor.

And when studied that way, it is Harold Blitz of the Labor Department has done, it begins to look like every other occupation. Lots of work, plenty of competition, weary resignation, tough days as well as easy ones.

About 400,000 boys play on about 13,000 high school baseball teams, according to the study, "The Drive to Win: Careers in Professional Sports." Another 25,000 play on about 1,000 college teams.

Of these, about 1,200, or one per cent of the eligible pool, including foreign players, can expect to be drafted. Once drafted they have to make the team; once they make the team they have to fight toward one of the 600 major league positions.

In 1970 about 100 rookies escaped the pool and made it to the major leagues. Those who didn't make it may have returned to a grueling life, for which they might be paid $500 or $600 a month.

"Unlike that of the majors, life in minor league baseball — where most professional players work — is characterized by small parks, small towns, small crowds, cheap hotels, and 20-hour bus rides."

Major league salaries ranged from $13,500 to more than $150,000 last year, according to the study. The average was nearly $20,000 a year.

In addition, players received $15.50 a day for food and $25 a week for laundry, dry-cleaning and incidentals during spring training. Sometimes the rookies got bonuses.

"The number one pick in the country might get about $70,000, and the fourth or fifth might receive $30,000," which is decidedly more than the brightest prospects from Harvard or Stanford business schools can expect.

And if they manage to play in a World Series they might, if they are winners, receive nearly $25,000, as the Oakland players earned last year, or $19,000 if they are losers, as were the Cincinnati Reds.

Other players earn money from endorsements, but this income is usually limited to the stars. Some capitalists, by writing books, but this activity is even rarer.

It isn't at all uncommon to hear a major league complain about his inability to make ends meet — in some cases, at least — the necessity of maintaining two homes.

While they are in the game they must make the most of their opportunities. The average major league career is over after 7 or 8 years. A second career is foreordained.

South Windsor Notes

The Connecticut Artists' Exposition 73, South Windsor's annual outdoor art show, has selected William R. Cowing to serve as judge. The show will be held Sept. 16 and will be sponsored by the South Windsor Art League and the Recreation Department.

The show will be open to all artists and craftsmen and there will be separate divisions for adult, teen and children's entries. Artists and craftsmen wishing to exhibit may obtain further information and applications by contacting Mrs. Robert Smith at 288-4781 or by calling the Recreation Office, 644-2511.

Cowing is a teacher of art at the Westminster School in Simsbury and also at the West Hartford Art League. He has served on the council of the Connecticut Academy of Fine Arts and the board of directors of the Connecticut Watercolor Society which he also served as president. He has won numerous awards both regional and national.

Revelation Town Assessor Bert McManara has announced that field men of the United Appraisal Co. which is conducting the revaluation of real estate and personal property in town, will begin inspection of a number of streets this week.

Streets scheduled are: Sullivan Ave., Rye St., Windsorville Rd., Brookfield St., Troy Rd., George Rd., Scantic Meadow Rd., Harvest Lane, Plum Lane, Pear Tree Lane, Dower Rd., Ann Rd., High Tower Rd., Meadow Rd., Farnham Rd., Allison Dr., McGrath Rd., Apple Orchard Lane, Wendy Dr., Gordon Dr., June Dr., Crow Park Rd. and Community Rd.

School Lunches. The South Windsor schools will open Thursday this week on a full-day session for Thursday and Friday and lunches will be served.

Thursday, Ravioli, green beans with butter, Italian bread, mixed fruit. Friday: Tuna subs with lettuce, cole slaw, potato chips, spice cake. Milk is served with all meals.

Cub Meeting. Cub Scout Pack 888 will hold a registration for new scouts and already registered scouts, at the first pack meeting to be held Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. at St. Margaret Mary's Church.

Boys must be accompanied by a parent at this meeting.

Big Ben, the great bell in the clock tower of the British Houses of Parliament, was named after Benjamin Bell, the first commissioner of works in 1856, when the bell was installed.

A 4 to 8 p.m. voter-making session will be conducted Saturday, in the Manchester town clerk's office in the Municipal Building.

Eligible applicants must be at least 18 years of age, residents of Manchester and U.S. citizens. Those signing up Saturday, and at subsequent voter-making sessions, will be eligible to vote in the Nov. 6 municipal session.

New voters may sign up also on any working day, during regular office hours, in the offices of the town clerk and registrar of voters. The latter office also is in the Municipal Building.

Hearty Salad Fits a Budget

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

For a lunch or supper main dish that uses foods that are widely available and comparatively inexpensive we suggest this hearty Seaside Salad. With the salad serve potato chips and pickle slices (for something crunchy) and ice cream.

To make 2 quarts of ice cream (enough for 10 servings) bring 1 quart of cold water to a full rolling boil in a saucepan. Remove from heat and add 15 tea- spoons or 1-3rd cup loose tea. Stir again and strain into a pitcher holding 1 quart cold water; cover and let stand at room temperature to help prevent tea from clouding. When ready to

1 teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
Cook macaroni according to package directions adding a little salad oil to keep separate; drain and chill. Mix with tuna, egg, onion, celery, green pepper and olives. With a whisk or a fork beat together the remaining ingredients; toss with macaroni-tuna mixture. Cover and chill until serving time.

SEASIDE SALAD
1 package (8 ounces) small macaroni shells
2 cans (each 7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
2 hard-cooked eggs, diced
1/3rd cup finely chopped onion
1 cup thinly sliced (diagonally) celery
1 green pepper, seeded and cut in thin short strips
1 cup pitted ripe olives, sliced
1 cup mayonnaise
1/2 cup commercial sour cream

Family Conflicts Are Normal, Release Tensions
Does our family have conflicts, angry discussions? It's normal, Abraham Lurie, MD, director of social work service, Long Island Jewish-Hillside Medical Center, New Hyde Park, N.Y., recently told a community seminar on family problems.

"When people live together, there are bound to be differences," he added. "It is best to talk things over, even if it means having angry discussions at times."

SUNDAY BRUNCH
Fresh Fruit Cup
Potato Omelet
Grilled Ham
Peanut Cofeeecake
Beverage

POTATO OMELET
From Spanish cuisine.
3 small potatoes
1 small onion
4 tablespoons olive oil
1 egg
1/4 teaspoon salt
Peel and thinly slice potatoes—there should be about 1 1/2 cups. Peel and thinly slice onion and separate into rings. In a 10-inch skillet heat 2 tablespoons of the oil; add potatoes and onion and cook gently, stirring occasionally, until potatoes are soft—this may take as long as 1 hour but potatoes and onion should not brown. In a medium mixing bowl beat eggs and salt until yolks and whites are combined; stir in potatoes and onion. Add the remaining 2 tablespoons oil to the skillet and heat; add egg mixture. Cook gently until lightly browned on underside and just set on top; invert a large plate over the potato mixture and turn out; slide back into skillet and brown underside. Cut into 4 wedges and remove with a wide spatula. Makes 4 small servings.

PORCH SUPPER
Sliced Cold Meat
Macaroni Salad
Cherry Tomatoes
Fruit Salad Beverage
MACARONI SALAD
Mild flavored but good.
1 package (8 ounces) elbow macaroni
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 cup minced green pepper
1/2 cup finely sliced pared cucumber
1/2 cup minced parsley
1/2 cup mayonnaise
Salt and white pepper to taste
Cook macaroni according to package directions; drain; rinse with cold water. Mix remaining ingredients with macaroni, stirring lightly but thoroughly. Cover and chill. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

WEEKDAY DINNER
Pork Chops Potatoes
Marmalade Beets Salad
Fruit Cup Beverage
MARMALADE BEETS
A sweet vegetable with a thin sauce.
1 can (16 ounces) sliced beets
1 teaspoon cornstarch
1/8 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup orange marmalade
Drain beets, reserving 1/4 cup juice. Turn cornstarch into a 1-quart saucepan; gradually stir in reserved 1/4 cup beet juice, keeping smooth. Add salt, lemon rind, lemon juice and marmalade. Stirring constantly, bring to a boil. Add beets and cook until hot. Makes 4 servings.

Rup-Zimmer

Miss Frances E. Zimmer of South Windsor and Andrew J. Rup Jr. of Watley, Mass., were united in marriage Sept. 1 at St. Margaret Mary Church in South Windsor.

Mrs. Andrew J. Rup Jr.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Zimmer of 2354 Ellington Rd., South Windsor. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Andrew Rup of Watley, Mass., and the late Andrew Rup.

The Rev. Joseph Schick of St. Margaret Mary Church offered the Mass and performed the double-ring ceremony. Helene O'Connor of Glastonbury and Bonnie O'Brien of Amherst, Mass., were organists. Paul Klemoak was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white crepe princess-style gown with train, all trimmed with Brussels lace. Her headpiece was of matching lace and she carried a cascade of miniature white roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Judith Hattings of Manchester was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Elizabeth Canali of Hawley, Mass. and Mrs. Alyce DiMartino of Hebron, N.H., the bride's sisters; Mrs. Michele Piola of Manchester; Miss Kathy Hepburn of Sunderland, Mass. They wore light blue chiffon gowns with white collar and cuffs, blue steamer headpieces and carried cascades of assorted flowers.

Miss Diane Skawski of Northampton, Mass. the bridegroom's niece, was flower girl. She wore an apricot print gown and a blue ribbon headpiece. She carried a miniature nosegay of white, apricot and blue flowers.

Thomas Peabody of Amherst, Mass. was best man. Ushers were Kyle Zimmer Jr., the bride's brother; Dennis Toziok of South Deerfield, Mass.; Charles Toziok of Sunderland, Mass.; and James Sagan of South Deerfield, Mass. Daniel Wetherell of Camp Springs, Md., the bridegroom's nephew, was ring bearer.

A reception was held at the Kof C Home in Manchester. For traveling, Mrs. Rup wore a green and white plaid knit dress with black patterned skirt. The couple will reside in South Deerfield, Mass.

Mrs. Rup is a graduate of St. Vincent's Hospital School of Nursing in Bridgeport, Mr. Rup is employed by Warner Bros., Inc., in Sunderland, Mass.

Here's How Connecticut Woman Does it All Herself

By VIVIAN BROWN, AP Newfeatures Writer
 Judy Allan hasn't built a house yet. But she's built just about everything that goes into one.

Lithe, pretty, petite, she is an example of the new look in do-it-yourselfers. After all, you can't always find a workman. And if you do there is the little problem of the high cost of labor.

The Allan house in Wilton, Conn., reflects her skills at carpentry, plumbing, cabinet making, floor laying, wiring, furniture building, as well as upholstery. A home economist, she is a graduate of Cornell University where she specialized in textiles.

"But I learned to be a do-it-yourselfer watching my father enjoy his hobby of remodeling—even though I am very highly mechanical, I guess."

As a child in Rochester, N.Y., she was always on hand, she says, when her stockbroker father called "wrench...pliers...elbows" as he repaired plumbing, and she was always the one who could locate hammer, saw and slide rule in an emergency.

something that should make her the envy of every woman—the not only designed her own kitchen, but she built it just the way she wants it.

"I really hadn't liked the kitchen arrangement anyway and after a fondue fire that destroyed some cabinets, I had the opportunity to rebuild it... the way I want it. There were few things I couldn't change, but for the most part, it is great."

In addition to building new cupboards, with sliding shelves, cabinets and a corner storage area, she installed tile on the wall behind the range.

The do-it-yourself acumen learned at her father's side has paid off. She sawed out seven feet of the side of her house and put in a large bay window using two existing windows and building the two side bay windows, crowning it inside with fluorescent lighting which she built into the cornice above the bay.

And she didn't much like the red brick fireplace that came with the house. Ripping off the mantel, she built the brick up to the ceiling and put ceiling-height bookcases on either side of it. The architectural trim that tops the bookcases was made on her saber saw.

THE FAMILY LAWYER
 Truth In Insurance

Filling out an application for life insurance, Edwards came to a question about his health.

After Edwards died, his family put in a claim for the insurance. But the company refused to pay off, charging that he had not told the whole truth in his application. And in a court test, the judge agreed with the company that the policy was null and void. The family didn't collect a cent.

Plaintiff, that was a harsh decision. But it was handed down almost a century ago. It is hard to imagine a court today throwing out a family's life insurance on such flimsy grounds.

Morever, most life insurance policies now include an "incontestability clause" to further protect the beneficiaries. Under this clause, the insurance company has only a limited period—usually, two years—to quarrel with answers in the application. After that time the validity of the policy is beyond challenge.

Still, even the incontestability clause won't help if the fraud is extreme. One man, sickly himself, sent a healthy friend to take his insurance examination for him. This fraud, discovered after the man's death, was held so basic that not even the incontestability clause could save the policy.

Stamps In The News
 AP Newfeatures By SYD KROENIG

Two new U.S. stamps — one in the American Arts Series and the other in the Bicentennial of the Revolution Series — are ready for issuance.

An 8-center honoring artist Henry Ossawa Tanner will be released Sept. 10 in his birthplace, Pittsburgh, Pa. Tanner (1859-1937) was a prominent black painter who spent most of his career in France. Much of his art is based on biblical themes.

The design combines a portrait of Tanner, in montage, with an artist's palette which contains a rainbow. Tanner's portrait is based on a painting made in 1902 by Thomas Eakins, under whom he had studied at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts.

Other stamps in the American Arts Series issued this year include tributes to composer George Gershwin, novelist Willa Cather and poet Robinson Jeffers.

Collectors desiring first day cancellations should send their requests to "Tanner Stamp, Postmaster, Pittsburgh, Pa. 15219." Enclose the proper remittance (8 cents in money order or certified check, no cash). It should be postmarked no later than Sept. 10.

The fourth postage stamp in the series, "The Rise of the Spirit of Independence," hails the Bicentennial of the American Revolution. This adhesive shows a drummer summoning troops into action and is an 8-center.

Today's Home Economist Has Toughest Job In The World

By JOHN GUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the toughest jobs in the world has become that of the home economist, who once could peruse the plentiful food lists and quickly devise tasty, wholesome and low-cost meals for budget-minded mothers.

Almost every housewife learned the techniques. You shopped around for the boys, you purchased the poorer cuts of meats, used day-old bread, mixed up the leftovers instead of throwing them out or feeding them to the pets.

When beef got expensive, you bought chicken or pork; and when that got too expensive, you used eggs instead.

This was very much the American way, if not by choice then by the necessity of survival in an economy that was reduced by depression or made lean by war.

It can hardly be done any more. There are few bargains except for brief periods during harvest time in some areas. Imagination and ingenuity, the home economist, have reached their limits.

Nobody knows when prices are likely to level off. Even government authorities admit inability to foresee the future. One promising forecast after another has left most people economic agonies.

The most reliable indicator of future retail conditions is probably the index of prices received by farmers. It isn't encouraging: The index is more than 60 per cent higher than a year ago.

Moreover, the direction is up. In the month ended Aug. 15, the index rose 20 per cent, and that means the most optimistic hopes for the following month still will leave it rising swiftly.

In just one month, wheat rose nearly $2 a bushel, from $2.47 in July to $4.45 in August. A year ago, when inflation already was bad, wheat sold for $1.51 a bushel.

A hundred pounds of beef brought the cattle-raiser $35.60 a year ago. In July, the price was $10.60 higher at $44.20. But in just one month, it rose another $7.50 to $51.70.

How about chicken? Try it. In August 1972, broilers brought the chicken-raiser less than 15 cents a pound. In July, it brought more than 26 cents; in August, nearly 38 cents.

Eggs? They brought the farmer just 30 cents a dozen in August 1972. In July, they brought more than 51 cents; last month, 69 cents.

Fish? In season, perhaps. But vacationers returning from shore areas found prices rebelliously high, even at dockside.

What's the explanation? The world's population is growing. Underdeveloped countries are trying to improve their diets. Developed countries are adding more proteins to their recipes. And for years Americans got bargains in food, often at the expense of the farmer.

As important as any of these is still another reason: near-sightedness on the part of government officials. Their public statements demonstrate that until recently they really didn't understand what was going on.

Automen Conduct Summits

By MARTIN HIRSCHMAN
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — The fate of this year's auto industry negotiations could be determined in large part by a group of powerful corporate executives meeting far from the public eye.

Widely presumed to exist in past contract years, the formal meetings between board chairman, presidents and other officers of the Big Three automakers were acknowledged this year for the first time.

When they sit down at the same table, as they have done at least twice in 1973, the executives bring to the room a combination of industrial might that produced over $60 billion in products last year — roughly equal to the gross national product of Africa.

In addition to these so-called "summit" meetings, top negotiators for General Motors, Ford and Chrysler say they are in contact about three or four times a week, mostly by telephone.

"They'd be fools if they weren't," said one company spokesman of the "foothill" meetings via telephone.

Speculation about both types of contacts among the automakers long has drawn complaints from the United Auto Workers that the firms were taking a "lock-step" approach to the triennial bargaining rounds.

This year, however, UAW hasn't made that much of the makers' new admission, except for a few scattered complaints that Chrysler, the union's target firm, may be getting some pressure from her big sister firms to hold out for a less settlement.

Although secrecy has surrounded them until this year, the meetings are legal. They are similar to consultations among vice presidents of the different divisions of the UAW, which represents over 700,000 workers at the three firms.

"The meetings are really held for an exchange of information vis-a-vis the talks with the various companies and where the whole negotiation process seems to be going," says Chrysler Chairman Lynn Townsend.

"Really, that's what they are," he added. "They're an exchange of information between the three companies."

Townsend, whose firm faces a strike if there is no agreement by Sept. 14, says he sees nothing conspiratorial in the interfirm contacts.

"I've heard that term 'lockstep approach,' but I've also attended all of the summit meetings, and certainly it's very difficult to see in the negotiating process a 'lock-step' approach by the three companies," he said. "We always end up with one company negotiating a contract, don't we?"

Historian Gregorio Batista found a substitute for the gunnery team no longer manufactured by arms companies: the springs from retractable ballpoint pens.

The spring primer pierces an ingited wooden match into the powder to fire the cannon.

Historians say that the artillery was so loud at the battle of Stones River on New Year's Day 1862 that Confederate soldiers stuffed their ears with cotton left in the field from harvest time.

Lincoln Center Concerns Church
Town Manager Robert Weiss said Tuesday night he and the Board of Directors are being asked by the Center Congregational Church to keep informed of town plans for uses of the former Lincoln School, renamed Lincoln Center.

He said church officials, in letters to him and the board, have expressed concern over the effects Lincoln Center will have on the church grounds and the church itself.

Weiss told the directors the first floor of the building will be used for the Sheltered Workshop and that improvements there are almost completed.

Weiss offered a suggestion not made before — to utilize part of the second floor for a Hearing Room for the Board of Directors. He said it could be twice the size of the present one.

South Windsor
The Ellsworth School in South Windsor will be considered in the secondary school category as far as the school lunch program is concerned.

Herbert T. Rylander, food service director for the school system, said there had been discussions concerning the status of the school and its lunch program. He said Ellsworth is considered to be a secondary school this year and lunches will be 55 cents.

The elementary school children will be paying 25 cents for hot lunches. Adult lunches will be 75 cents and milk for children will be 15 cents a carton and for adults, 15 cents a carton.

The South Windsor Schools will open tomorrow for the 1973-1974 school year.

Injuries Fatal To Yale Grad
GUILFORD (AP) — Karl R. Etherington, 26, a Yale University divinity school graduate, died Monday from injuries suffered in an Aug. 26 bicycle accident.

Police said Etherington was riding his bike on Long Hill Road in Guilford when it went out of control and he was thrown to the ground.

He died at Yale-New Haven Hospital.

He was to be ordained into the ministry Sept. 23 in Mt. Vernon, Wash. United Presbyterian Church and had accepted a call in Watertown, Pa.

Funeral services were scheduled Thursday in Mt. Vernon.

Explosion Blasts Plane's Galley

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — An explosion ripped through the galley of an Air Vietnam jetliner with 48 passengers aboard today. An American passenger who said he was an explosives expert said the explosion apparently was caused by a bomb concealed in a food compartment.

Two passengers and a stewardess were injured, but the Boeing 727 jet returned to Bangkok and made a safe landing. The explosion occurred 15 minutes after the plane took off from the Thai capital for Saigon.

"We're all very lucky the blast blew the way it did," said the American passenger. "Had it gone the other way and broken the outer shell of the aircraft, we all would have been dead by now."

Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neild, a passenger on the flight, was sitting next to the galley and reported that the blast seemed too violent to be a kitchen accident.

Passengers in the forward compartment, which fell most of the blast, screamed in momentary panic. The galley area filled with smoke, and crewmen rushed to the spot with fire extinguishers but there was no blaze.

Oxygen masks dropped down automatically from a rack above the seats.

The explosion left the galley a tangle of twisted metal and sprayed food through the cabin.

Norwalk Teachers Accept Pact

NORWALK (AP) — Public school teachers took up positions at their blackboards today after voting to accept an $11,716,000 contract with the Board of Education.

The vote for the one-year contract was 372-274.

School had been delayed one day because negotiations still were unsettled Tuesday.

After an all night bargaining session, the teachers met at 7:30 a.m. and voted to begin school. Classes had been delayed 1 1/2 hours and the administration had gathered substitutes, teacher candidates and administrative personnel; in case the teachers rejected the offer.

Details of the salary increase remained to be worked out by negotiations.

A demand by the union, the Norwalk Teachers Association, for better dental coverage, was rejected. But the board agreed to maintain class ratios at 25.7 pupils to one teacher in elementary schools and 21.1 to one in secondary schools.

The union and the school board also prepared to begin negotiations on next year's contract Oct. 15.

Boy Killed In Fall From Vehicle
BURLINGTON (AP) — James McMahon, 15, of Burlington was dead on arrival Tuesday from injuries suffered when he fell from a moving Jeep the day before.

The boy was treated and released from the hospital Monday night. But returned by ambulance Tuesday morning.

An autopsy was ordered.

Police said McMahon was spending more time away from home. At 6:09 a.m. EDT, he was driving a 1968 Jeep when he crashed into a tree.

But he was found only two miles from home.

The 41-year-old Navy captain is in the 40th day aboard the Skylab station and has another 19 to go.

Boy Sets Record
SPACE CENTER HOUSTON (AP) — Skylab commander Alan L. Bean is the new holder of the record for spending more time away from planet Earth than any other man. At 6:09 a.m. EDT, he surpassed the previous record of 49 days, 3 hours, 37 minutes set by astronaut Charles Conrad Jr. Conrad took four space missions to set his mark.

But Bean has flown only two missions. The 41-year-old Navy captain is in the 40th day aboard the Skylab station and has another 19 to go.

Hebron Fair Will Open Four-Day Run Thursday

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 228-3971

It's fair time again and Hebron Lions Club members are preparing the fairgrounds on Rt. 85 for the annual "Big H" Hebron Harvest Fair, which this year will run for four days, starting Thursday.

Last year's fair attracted over 20,000 people, and in anticipation of much larger crowds, an enlarged fairgrounds (approximately 35 acres) has been cleared with almost four acres for parking alone.

All booth and space rentals for the fair have been filled. Last year there were 82 booths and 8 spaces rented. This year there will be 74 booths and 15 spaces rented.

The food offered ranges from soup to nuts, i.e. clam chowder and penicillin.

The amusement concession has expanded and will feature more rides, and various community organizations are bringing in a greater variety of games, such as a "dunking booth" under the sponsorship of the Hebron Volunteer Fire Department.

Starting with the opening at 6 p.m. Thursday, the list of special events is considerable—some repeats from previous years and some new events to the Connecticut area.

The fair will feature a Connecticut Farm Tractor Pull at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

This event will include three classes — 5,000 pounds, 7,000 pounds, and 9,000 pounds—with trophies for first place and third. All top three winners in each class will also receive cash awards.

Also on tap for Thursday

Also new to the fair is a "Petting Curcio" where children may feed and pet all types of small animals, circus wonders displaying many wild animals, the world's largest horse (19 hands), Adolph Hitler's private automobile, elephant rides, camel rides and pony rides.

All types of arts and crafts, vegetables, fruits and baked goods will be on display with a Superintendent's Trophy being presented for the most outstanding.

There will also be competitive events such as watermelon eating, pie eating, nail driving, cake baking, photo and many other contests such as the Junior Olympics and games.

On the new stage the Lions will present the Miss Hebron Harvest Fair beauty contest; Kenay Roberts, country western recording star; Paul Cox and the Klansmen; a square dancing group picking partners from the audience; the James Game, an all-evening rock show; the Rham High School Jazz Band; the Senior Citizens Band and Show; the Podium Players; and a folk-singing group, Robert Michael and Jukido Universal Productions will also be featured on stage.

Friday

The fair will open at 6 Friday evening. Events scheduled are the horse pull, the Rham High School Jazz Band and square dancing for all.

The horse pull will feature two classes — one for 3,100 pounds and under and the other for 3,100 pounds and over. There will be six cash prizes and ribbons for each class.

Saturday

The judging of livestock and exhibits, as well as the horse show, will open the fair at 10 a.m. on Saturday.

This will be followed by the Little Olympics for children 6 to 12 at 10:30; nail driving, watermelon and pie eating contests at 2 p.m.; the jukido demonstration at 3 p.m.; the Senior Citizens Band at 5 p.m.; the pony pull at 6 p.m.; the Klansmen at 7 p.m.

The pony pull, which has always been a special event for residents in this area, will feature two classes — teams under 46 inches and teams under 50 inches.

Sunday

Sunday the fair will open at 10 a.m. at 11 there will be livestock demonstrations and at noon the open pull with three classes — under 2,800 pounds, under 3,200 pounds, and over 3,200 pounds.

Blow To U.S.
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is expected to receive soon a major hemispheric blow when a special committee of the Organization of American States ends the trade and diplomatic embargo of Cuba, the United States strongly favors continuing the nine-year-old embargo, but an unofficial tally shows 12 Latin American countries opposed to the U.S. position. Virtually all countries supporting the United States are military dictatorships or under heavy military influence.

Keep Price Lid
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council has refused to permit the first of the 1974 model autos going on sale today to list an increase in price. But automakers who have requested price hikes are expected later to receive permission to raise prices. A spokesman for American Motors indicated the firm, offering its new models for sale today, had expected to be given permission to raise prices an average of 81 per cent.

Cuts Puffery
WASHINGTON (AP) — Caspar W. Weinberger, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, has ordered a 77 per cent reduction in the department's public affairs staff in an attack on what he called government puffery. Weinberger said HEW's public affairs operations cost $175 million a year despite the fact only two newsmen cover the department full time. The secretary also ordered elimination of 275 publications.

East Hartford Fire Destroys Auto Firm

EAST HARTFORD (AP)—Firefighters stayed at the scene of a smoky, three-alarm blaze until the early morning hours today as flames seriously damaged a two-story auto dealership building valued at $400,000.

One fireman was taken to St. Francis Hospital in Hartford for smoke inhalation. No other injuries were reported. The structure was unoccupied when the fire broke out about 10 p.m.

Thomas Para, president of the Hart-Twin Volvo dealership on Burnside Avenue, told a reporter the building's value but said he could not estimate the value of the cars inside, including three personal Rolls Royces.

He said the parts department where the fire started contained some $100,000 worth of inventory.

Eyewitnesses said flames leaped as high as 25 feet above the roof of the 20,000-square-foot structure. Fire officials said smoke caused heavy damage to most of the building.

Mr. Steak Seeks Liquor License

A request to allow the sale of alcoholic beverages at the Mr. Steak restaurant, 24 Center St., has been made by Sir Loin, Inc., the restaurant's parent firm.

A public hearing on the variance request has been scheduled for the Zoning Board of Appeals meeting, to be held Sept. 17 at 7 p.m. in the hearing room of the Municipal Building.

The request asks for a variance in zoning regulations which require that liquor outlets be at least 1,000 feet apart. Mr. Steak is located within 1,000 feet of the Blue Moon restaurant, Walnut St.

The ZBA will also hear a request by Coleman Brothers, which presented the amusement show at the Manchester Shopping Park during the town's Sesquicentennial Week celebrations, for a variance to allow it to hold a similar show at the Parkade, near King's department store.

The show would feature several amusement rides.

The St. Rose Church Corp. has requested a variance to allow the sale of beer at a one-day church affair at East Catholic High School, New State Rd., Oct. 19.

Two unrelated variance requests, asking permission to display and sell farm produce in open stalls on Tolland Tpk., will also be heard.

The requests, made by Earl A. Reichle and Alex Yakutis, concern land on the south side.

Board Waives Fuel Oil Bids

The Board of Directors Tuesday night waived bids for Manchester's No. 2 fuel oil needs for 1973-74 — thus clearing the way for a negotiated contract with the W. C. Mason Co. of Glastonbury.

The Board of Education had waived bids at its Aug. 27 meeting.

On Aug. 5, bids for 231,500 gallons of No. 2 oil were scheduled for review by Raymond Demers, business manager for the schools.

However, no bids were received. The W. C. Mason Co., which holds the contract for the 1972-73 year ending Oct. 15, indicated it would be amenable to a negotiated contract.

Town Manager Robert Weiss said Tuesday night a satisfactory contract has been negotiated by Maurice Pass, the town's purchasing agent.

Weiss said the contract is on a cost-plus formula, using the New Haven tank-car price as a base.

Lacks Authority

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission has ruled it does not have the authority to regulate production or transportation of synthetic gas made from coal unless it is mixed with natural gas or sold in interstate commerce. The synthetic gas is being proposed as a supplement to natural gas, which is in short supply in some areas.

Manchester Hospital Notes

Discharged Tuesday: Agnes I. Goss, East Hartford; Cataldo C. Desario, Hartford; Joseph B. Grenier, 79 Deepwood Dr.; Raymond C. Daly, Glastonbury; Malenna J. Cox, Hartford; Marie S. Gove, Watrous Rd.; Bradford C. Kargl, 185 Ferguson Rd.; AnnMarie B. Gamache, 1 Daly Rd., Hebron.

Lela Tybur is requesting an extension of permission to conduct a nursery school 113 Prospect St. in an area zoned Residence Zone AA.

Alice Lamenza is requesting permission to run a similar operation at 19 Jean Rd., an area also zoned Residence Zone AA.

William D. MacGillivray is requesting permission to erect an addition to a dwelling at 51 Avondale Rd. to extend eight feet from the east side line. This property is zoned Residence Zone AA.

Harold Melendy is requesting a variance to allow the construction of an attached garage at 130 Broad St. six feet from the north side line. This property is also zoned Residence Zone AA.

Unions Assessed Damages

EAST HARTFORD (AP)—A state referee has ordered three labor unions to pay the United Aircraft Corp. (UAC) over $1 million in damages stemming from a 1960 strike at the corporation's Pratt & Whitney and Hamilton Standard divisions.

The award of $1,424,000 was part of the corporation's $6,453,869 loss during the job action which included "the involuntary absence of employees because of fear and coercion," referee Joseph E. Klau said.

His decision handed down Tuesday said that UAC films of the strike "show extreme acts of violence on the part of the union members at various gates of the plants...making ingress and egress at the breaking hours of the shifts extremely hazardous, either walking or in cars."

The decision was against the International Association of Machinists, its district lodge 91 and its aircraft lodge 1746.

Life Has Golden Moments If You Look For 'Em

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Things that make life worth living: Standing under waterfalls — and staying out of pitfalls.

Walking a dog and making friends with a pretty girl who is out walking a dog, too — and hoping to meet a nice guy just like you.

Successfully lassoing at age 12 a neighbor's cat after 20 dog successful tries, and then having to climb up a ladder to retrieve both the cat and the lasso from a tree.

Eating a breakfast of bacon and eggs over a mountain campfire.

The music of Mozart, the prose of Lafcadio Hearn, the lyrics of Francis Thompson.

The ebbing of pain from a torn knee scab.

Scoring the winning touchdown in a sandlot scrub football game under the admiring gaze of the only red-haired girl in the world.

Turning down an invitation to join a class in karate for overweight men over 40.

A trip to a far and picturesque country so far behind the times that a dollar bill there is a thing of value.

Cleaning a freshly caught fish and finding in it someone's lost wedding ring. How did it happen? What is the story behind it?

Going to 11 a.m. Sunday church services and knowing the pastor will cut short his usual long sermon against sin, because he has a golfing date with you at the country club for 12:15 p.m. sharp.

Wrapping up a Christmas present which you are sure is exactly what the person you are sending it to really wants most of all.

The sound of an old-fashioned steam locomotive hooting through the hills like an obedient dragon on a mission of good will.

Making candy in the kitchen with an old lady who brags that as a girl she made the best fudge in the county.

Listening to a grandfather clock chime midnight in an old house where you are alone and just reading the climax of a good ghost story.

The durable thread of love in a long and cheer-filled marriage.

For these and other benefits of breath and being, our thanks, Amen.

Westerner Now Owns Three Money-Making Railroads

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Willis Kyle says he always longed to "fool around" with trains. He has seen his dream come true in the ownership of three short line railroads.

"You make a profit on a short line the same way you do if you run Santa Fe or Southern Pacific," said Kyle, who also is president of a wholesale steel firm. "You have to go out and get customers."

"I always wanted to fool around with trains," he said in an interview. "One day, back in 1956, I happened to discover quite by accident that the Bank of California was accepting bids for the Yreka Western Railroad Co."

His $141,000 bid for the northern California line, which another firm wanted for scrap metal, was successful. One of his first moves after getting the Yreka Western was to extend its track one-half mile to a total of 11 miles, a short distance but enough to serve the mill of a lumber company signed on as a customer.

In 1970, Georgia-Pacific Corp. sold him its 38-mile Oregon Pacific & Eastern Railway Co. because the firm had depleted the timber in the line's area. Kyle then formed a joint ownership agreement with Bohemia Lumber Co. He has common shares and Bohemia has the preferred shares and a way of getting its logs to the mill.

Kyle's third short line was acquired this year, and it features passenger business. He went to Hawaii and bought the Lahaina Kaanapali & Amoen.

Automobile owners in this Lacashire community are being haunted by a phantom traffic warden who slaps bogus parking tickets on their cars at night, threatening prosecution. He signs them, "Kelly, Resident's Association Chairman," but the association has never heard of him.

"There's a lot of good people out there," Levy added.

On one occasion, "I learned the polka and partied until 4 a.m.," he said.

Some people thought he was "some sort of radical" when he explained his flight plan, Levy said. But on many of the 60 landings he made, people invited him into their homes.

He has added passenger service to the Oregon Railroad so tourists could view the area's natural beauty. And movie production companies have used his Oregon Railroad in five major films.

'Peace' Flight

MIAMI (AP)—Jack Levy Jr. says he wanted to spend the summer spreading peace around middle America. So Levy, 22, took off in a 1947 airplane on a five-week trip.

The Miami youth, who said he learned to fly before he learned to drive, wrote the word "peace" on a map of the United States. He said he flew his yellow airplane wherever the 13,000-mile-long word took him.

Some people thought he was "some sort of radical" when he explained his flight plan, Levy said. But on many of the 60 landings he made, people invited him into their homes.

Some people thought he was "some sort of radical" when he explained his flight plan, Levy said. But on many of the 60 landings he made, people invited him into their homes.

Renovations Near Complete

Workers install a new valve in the Cooper Hill Treatment Plant as work progresses at a satisfactory rate on the $715,000 renovation and addition project. Jay Giles, Manchester director of public works, estimated the renovated plant will be in operation by the end of this month. An Open House is planned later in conjunction with "Better Water for Manchester Week." (Herald photo by Ofara)

MPOA Opposes Cheney Hall Purchase

Opposition to the plans for purchasing Cheney Hall as town board's consideration was to allocate $50,000 a year for three or four successive years toward the estimated $500,000 cost for acquiring and renovating the hall on Hartford Rd. The MPOA board says it feels the price is way out of proportion, in spite of its historical value, and other needs of Manchester must have priority. Decision of the taxpayers by referendum is recommended by the MPOA board. The board also recommends that the purchase of Cheney Hall be done by subscription. The board also voted that bicycle safety on all Manchester roadways be promoted by the town Board of Directors by enforcing all applicable vehicular laws, and that there should be a bicycle safety program carried out in the town through bicycle safety education taught in the schools. The MPOA plans to have a public meeting in October for discussion of important issues facing the taxpayers. Town officials have been invited to present the issues and answer questions.

Blue Law Warrants Issued

MYSTIC (AP) - Warrants have been signed for the arrest of three store owners at a shopping center on charges they violated the state blue law, which allows only certain items to be sold on Sunday. Chief Circuit Court Prosecutor Harold B. Dean signed the warrants Tuesday. If convicted, the owners face a $200 fine for employing persons on Sunday and $50 for selling restricted merchandise. Dean said the current warrants are for alleged violations Aug. 28. He added that last Sunday more than 10 stores were illegally open.

Board Delays Decision On Bazaars, Golf Fees

SOL R. COHEN (Herald Reporter) Following short public hearings Tuesday night on one proposed ordinance and amendments to another, the Manchester Board of Directors took all arguments under consideration and will take possible action Sept. 11. The proposed ordinance would permit bazaars and raffles in Manchester. The organizations now circumsvent the law with the bazaars they are conducting? Assistant Town Counsel William Bronell said the ordinance follows the provision of a state statute governing bazaars and raffles. He said it guards against participation by quasi-organizations, by requiring that the sponsoring organization must be a bona fide one—in existence at least three years. Bronell said the operation and promotion of bazaars and raffles would be only by the organization applying for and receiving a license. Any deviation, he said, would mean revocation of the license for a period of three years. Says Costa Rise, William Oleksinski, president of the Manchester Country Club, said the requested hike in greens fees is for the added costs in operating the golf course. He said, because of a great upsurge among members over unsatisfactory conditions, the club spent $22,000 this year on improvements and anticipates $25,000 more will be spent next year—the latter for an addition to the pro shop, to store golf carts. Of the $22,000 spent this year, he said, $22,000 went for renovating the clubhouse and the rest for greens equipment and improvements. He said the greens superintendent was let go and another hired at a higher salary. Oleksinski drew a laugh when he said part of the renovations to the clubhouse was for an air-conditioner that had broken down. "Like the one here," he was referring to the Hearing Room air-conditioner, which was ineffective at the board's last two meetings and although it could be heard rumbling Tuesday night, couldn't bring the temperature below 88 degrees. Oleksinski said the country club's 1973 income from greens fees is up 10 per cent over 1972, but is insufficient to provide for all needed improvements. He said the club's Board of Governors had to turn down "with regret" a request for reduced greens fees for senior citizens, because play is so great. He said the club runs many special programs now and that the playing hours are almost always filled.

Umpire Ed Vargo Listens Patiently As Pirate Manager Bill Virdon Speaks His Peace

Houk Disappointed In Yanks' Showing

DETROIT (AP) — Ralph Houk hasn't conceded the American League East title but the New York Yankee manager does say, "I'm disappointed we didn't give it a better run." Even though division leader Baltimore lost to Boston 2-1 Tuesday night, there is almost no hope for the Yankees, who were edged by the Detroit Tigers, also 2-1, to remain 11 games out of first with just three weeks left.

Ump Says Safe, Other Out

Rhubarb Develops Over Call

NEW YORK (AP) — "He's out," said Bill Virdon of the Pittsburgh Pirates. "He's safe," said Red Schoendienst of the St. Louis Cardinals. "He's out," said umpire Eddie Vargo. "He's safe," said umpire Bruce Froemming. Not only were the managers unable to agree but it also took two umpires to figure out what happened in a key play of the Cardinals' 4-2 victory Tuesday night.

Tiant Feels Luck Finally Changed

BOSTON (AP) — Luis Tiant, Boston's veteran righthander, feels that his luck may have changed, and the Red Sox couldn't think of a better time. "Lately, I don't get many breaks, but maybe now everything will be okay," Tiant said after collecting his 18th victory on Ben Oglivie's 12th inning homer Tuesday night in a 2-1 decision over the Baltimore Orioles.

White Sox Explode With Football-Like Score

NEW YORK (AP) — In playing baseball, the White Sox ran up a football-like 14-0 victory over the Chicago White Sox scores. Carlos May, contributing a two-run homer and Jim Kaat, scoring on consecutive singles by Jim Northrup, Willie Horton and Gates Brown.

Sweet Swinging Oglivie Connects

BOSTON (AP) — For two years everyone in baseball has called Ben Oglivie of the Boston Red Sox swings a sweet bat, possesses a strong arm and has better than average speed. However, the 24-year-old outfielder from Panama via New York's Bronx has spent most of the last two seasons on the bench.

Palmer Lured the Crowds

This was Palmer's first appearance in the GHO in several years and his friendship with Davis was the reason.

Palmer Lured the Crowds

Running a close second behind Palmer in crowd appeal had to be Lee Trevino and almost lost was Billy Casper, who not only managed to walk off with the top prize of $40,000 but also a course record in doing it. Casper does not have the personality of a magnet like a Palmer or Trevino but he has no trouble getting the ball into the cup and leading the way to the payoff window.

"Out of sight, Out of mind"

Don't forget your furnace and air conditioner filters just because you don't see them every day. If they're dirty, they waste fuel energy and money. Today that's doubly serious, because the cost of living is rising and because America's domestic energy supplies are falling far behind demand.

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) - First it was women's lib and now it's braless tennis.

"You've come a long way, baby," is more than a sign on the white shirts worn by the girls who play the Virginia Slims circuit.

"I frequently play without a bra - why not?" said Julie Heldman, formerly of the U.S. Open, who now plays the Virginia Slims circuit.

Partners opens with two trump, and the next player still has the ace of hearts to keep control of the hand. He can later try the spade finesse and will thus make his slam contract if either of the queens produces a trick.

It is wrong to try the spade finesse first. If it loses and a spade is returned to force out the ace, South will not be able to try for the queen of hearts.

What do you say? Answer: Pass. The opening bid of two trump is invitational, but not forcing. With this ghastly hand you should accept no invitations.

New England Field Archery Pro Champion

Nineteen-year-old Mark Hall, of Andover, captured the 1973 New England Field Archery Professional Championship Labor Day weekend in Ludlow, Mass. A five-time amateur champ, Hall made his debut as a pro with a winning one in a field of 300. Hall's three-day scores were 530, 534 and 534 out of possible 560 totals. Hall is on the staff of his father's Hall Arrows Lanes in Manchester.

Margaret Court Eager To Erase Black Marks

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) - Margaret Court, the first player to make it into the semifinals of the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, is eager to erase two black marks on her record - Bobby Riggs and Chris Evert.

"I win here, I'd have another go at him," said Mrs. Court of Riggs, the 55-year-old hustler who humiliated her in an exhibition match on Mother's Day.

"I couldn't care less about the money, but I did know what to expect from him this time."

Mrs. Court, who downed Virginia Wade of England 7-6 in an quarter-final Tuesday, will face the winner of the match between Rosemary Casals and Miss Evert.

It was Miss Evert, the teenager from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., who dashed the 31-year-old Australian's chances of winning her second Grand Slam.

Mrs. Court, who had won the Australian and French Opens, didn't get to the final at Wimbledon. Miss Evert beat her 6-1, 1-6, 6-1 in a semifinal.

"I'm keen to win here," the second-seeded Australian said after beating the seventh-seeded Miss Wade in two tie-breakers.

"It was one of the best matches she's ever played against me," said Mrs. Court of Miss Wade's performance. "She had her chances when she broke me, but I sort of stuck in there and it paid off."

"I'm playing well and moving well."

In the only other match between seeded players Tuesday, Stan Smith, No. 1, rallied for a 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4 triumph over Tom Gorman, the No. 13 seed from Seattle.

Jan Kodes, the No. 6 seed from Czechoslovakia, defeated John Alexander of Australia 7-6, 7-5, 6-4; Nikk Pilke, the No. 15 seed from Yugoslavia, downed Bjorn Borg, the teenage star from Sweden, 6-4, 6-7, 6-3, 6-4; and Omy Parun of New Zealand beat Ross Case of Australia 6-4, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4.

First It Was Women's Lib, Now It's Braless Tennis

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) - First it was women's lib and now it's braless tennis.

"You've come a long way, baby," is more than a sign on the white shirts worn by the girls who play the Virginia Slims circuit.

"I frequently play without a bra - why not?" said Julie Heldman, formerly of the U.S. Open, who now plays the Virginia Slims circuit.

Partners opens with two trump, and the next player still has the ace of hearts to keep control of the hand. He can later try the spade finesse and will thus make his slam contract if either of the queens produces a trick.

It is wrong to try the spade finesse first. If it loses and a spade is returned to force out the ace, South will not be able to try for the queen of hearts.

What do you say? Answer: Pass. The opening bid of two trump is invitational, but not forcing. With this ghastly hand you should accept no invitations.

Ingrid said European players go braless for comfort and think nothing about it.

"It's only in this country where we run into these Puritan ideas," she said.

Tennis Tournays Start on Weekend

New champions will be crowned in both the Men's and Women's Town Singles Tennis Tournaments sponsored by the Recreation Department. Play starts this weekend at four sites.

Defending men's king, Jack Redmond, no longer qualifies as he resides out of town and Gloria Darling, women's champ, has been declared ineligible, being a professional. Mel Siebold, Rec Director said, "Only local residents, non-pros, are eligible."

Men's Singles, Women's Singles and Men's Masters (45 and over) are scheduled Saturday.

All preliminary play will take place Saturday with the final set for Sunday afternoon starting at 12 noon.

Each player must supply a can of new heavy duty USLITA approved balls. The winner will receive the unused can of balls.

The Men's Singles Division has attracted 34 entries and its similar names as Phil Hyde and Martin Duke missing, which means it will be wide-open affair.

Women's Singles attracted nine entries, the same number of mixed doubles with 10 Women's Doubles entries, 21 in Mixed Doubles and seven in Men's Doubles.

In the event of rain Saturday, all matches will be played the following day with the finals to be set at a later date.

Matches are scheduled at Memorial Field, West Side Oval, Charter Oak Park and Robertson Park.

Men's Singles pairings: Women's Singles - Charter Oak - 8:30 a.m. Julia Britnell vs. Joan White, Sue Hodge vs. Fran Nukis; 11:30 Kathy Wynn vs. wine winner of Britnell-White match.

Men's Masters - West Side - 9 a.m. Joe Lombardo vs. Dave Saunders, Fran Leary vs. Saul Roman; 10:30 Garvey Fox vs. Paul Grobert.

Men's Singles - Memorial Field 8 a.m. Mike White vs. Tom McDonald; Steve Hirschfield vs. Art McGovern, Mark Brainer vs. Bob Pricer, Ken Boud vs. Don Brocchini, Dave Jacobs vs. George Boer, Marah Warren vs. Brad Whentley, Ed LeMay vs. Paul Barin, Pete Aucun vs. Seymour Kaplan.

Unusual Female Roomie

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) - Tom Osborne, a tight end on the University of Toledo football team, may be the only player on the team with a female roommate.

He also may be the only college football player in the nation whose female roommate is a snake.

This unusual liaison tends to restrict the Osborne hospitality, a bit, too.

Osborne's roommate is a pet boa constrictor he named Herbie, even though Herbie is a female.

Herbie is only 42 inches long right now, but eventually she will be nine feet long and weigh 150 pounds as a man's forearm.

"She sleeps most of the time, and she's never bitten anyone," said the Bluffton, Ohio youth, "but I guess most people still are afraid of her because she's a snake."

"Then, the maid who cleans our dorm rooms, wouldn't even come in my room for a whole year after I had Herbie. Now she comes in and asks me how the snake is and if he's been eating good. She sort of grows on people."

That last statement may be the exact reason few persons come around to see the female roommate.

Osborne has another, more normal roommate, his twin brother Mike, also a Toledo varsity football letterman.

Until now, Osborne's normal roomie Herbie's diet has consisted of mice. Herbie ate about two mice a week, said Osborne. "Then she settled into the pattern most snakes have of eating about once every two weeks. She used to eat 10 mice at a time, or about 20 a month."

But, Herbie's appetite has grown. This summer her diet would be rat.

"My mother has tolerated a lot of weird hobbies of mine," said Osborne, but at this point he has to begin raising the rats himself in his dormitory room.

The hard shell of the lobster does not increase in size as the animal grows but is cast off and replaced. Osborne said he has a new one acquired periodically.

Chones Deal To Cougars

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (AP) - The New York Nets of the American Basketball Association traded former Marquette All-American center Jim Chones to the Carolina Cougars for a high 1974 draft choice and cash Tuesday.

Chones averaged 11.3 points and 7.2 rebounds for the Nets last season, his first in the pros. In National Basketball Association developments, veteran guard Dick Barnette of the New York Knicks retired after 13 seasons as a pro, and the Capitol Bulls sent forward John Tresvant to the Chicago Bulls for future considerations.

Swimmers Top Medal Count

BELGRADE (AP) - Sprinters Shirley Babashoff and Keena Rothhammer led the United States bid today to remain ahead in the medal race at the World Swimming Championships.

The United States led in first place in the medal count despite the world shattering triumph of the East German team on Tuesday.

Miss Babashoff, a 16-year-old high school student at Fountain Valley, Calif., and Miss Rothhammer, from Santa Clara, Calif., have the best times of the year in the women's 200-meter freestyle one of the events in which the Americans hold an edge over the Germans.

Miss Babashoff won the U.S. Trials at Louisville, Ky. in 2:04.4, with Miss Rothhammer second in 2:06.1. East German many's 14-year-old star, Kornelia Endre, holder of two world records, is third best with 2:05.6.

The East German girls have entered world record-holder Ulrike Richter in the 100-meter backstroke and Renate Vogel in the 100-meter breaststroke. Miss Richter topped a tremendous showing by the East Germans Tuesday, leading off the 400-meter medley relay with a world-record performance of 1:54.99 which sparked a world-record effort of 3:16.84.

The United States led the medal race with five golds to four for the East Germans, who had won three of the five swimming races.

The Americans have dominated the synchronized swimming or water ballet, with performance of the Santa Clara Aquamats. They swept three titles, with Terry Anderson winning the solo, teaming with Gail Johnson to take the duet, and then both helping to win the team competition.

Pro Woman Golfers Seek Commissioner

DALLAS (AP) - Carol Mann, president of the Ladies Professional Golf Association, said Tuesday the organization is looking for a commissioner.

"We are not going to rush into it," said Mann, who succeeded Cynthia Sullivan as commissioner last year. "We have no person in mind. We want someone to be in position to carry a big stick."

Miss Mann emphasized Bud Erickson will continue as LPGA executive director. A commissioner, LPGA board members believe, will enable the association to penalize, suspend and fine members who violate rules and regulations.

Morning Bowling League For Women at Y Center
