A TIMELY FIND

The clock worked perfectly as soon as the pendulum was set in motion.

Police Report

MANCHESTER
No charges were lodged against two men apprehended Tuesday while they were discharging firearms in the wooded, southeast corner of Manchester, police reported.

Police, summoned to the Coop Sawmill Rd.-Birch Mt. Rd. area at midday on report of shots being fired, found two men with shotguns near an abandoned house on Coop Sawmill Rd.

The men and weapons were taken to police headquarters, and after it was determined that the men had no police records and no damage was done in the heavily wooded area, they were released.

The men told police they thought they were in the Town of Bolton, not Manchester. Manchester town ordinance prohibits discharging of firearms.

Jessie Ellzey, 28, of Hartford, Court date is Sept. 24.

The arrests were made in connection with the investigation of an incident on Skinner Rd., Vernon. Both men are scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Rockville, Oct. 2.

Robert F. Carr, 28, Vernon Garden Apts., Vernon, was charged with failure to stop for a flashing red light. Police said the incident involved a school bus.

Repoli Elected CofC President

William Repoli was elected president of the Rockville Area Chamber of Commerce at the noon meeting Tuesday and John Pozzato was elected vice president. Retiring president is Miss Evelyn Parizek, the first woman to hold the office.

Larry Halpern was elected treasurer and Leon Chores, secretary. The two appointed directors for one term were Bernie Cantor and Richard Dimock. The directors elected by the entire chamber membership were: William Moquin, Halpern, Martin Burke, John Carter, Henry Chenette and Howard Wolfanger.

Cantor and Dimock were elected by the board members to bring the total to 21 directors. The six elected members replaced six of eight directors whose terms end as of Oct. 1.

Immediately after being elected president Repoli appointed his committee chairmen for the coming term. Janet Burns was appointed to the beautification committee; Steve Diana, public relations; William Kellum, solicitations; John Carter, student-work; Moquin, retail; Pozzato, economic development; John McGee, membership; Walter Berry, retired persons; Alan Schwedel, regional affairs; Wilton Lisk, entertainers; and Robert Tedoldi, insurance.

Bernard Crowl, executive director of the chamber, said that Vernon will be the site of the state lottery drawing May 16, 1974. In whatever town the lottery is held, arrangements have to be made so it can be held under cover. The chamber made arrangements with the Suburban Women's Club to use the tent it will be using for its annual Clown Town event.

steps every family can take to avoid this type of tragedy. He said a "chiel" should be appointed in every home, that is a person responsible in the event of a fire.

He said every family should plan how all members should exit from every room in their home. He also cautioned that doors not be opened when there is a fire because every door has about 15 minutes of burning time. He said a fireman can tell where a fire is by checking a door but doors should not be opened.

He suggested that every home have some type of fire alarm signal, even a 10-cent whistle given each member of the family to signal the alarm that there is a fire in the house and that each family member should go to the emergency exit in the room they are in.

Kelly also said that each family should have a designated meeting place set up where they will meet in case of an emergency so it will be known if all members of the household are out safely in the case of a fire.

Kelly and Willard also demonstrated an escape ladder which can be made for $11 or less and can be dropped in any window to allow occupants of upstairs rooms a means of escape.

Operation EDITH is sponsored by the Fire Marshals of America and locally by both the Rockville and Vernon Fire Departments.

Easy To Go Too Far

Federal investigative agencies, already under a cloud because of actions violating constitutional guarantees of the people, have been cast in a further bad light by information that the FBI had engaged in burglaries and other illegal acts in the years from 1956 through 1966.

FBI sources acknowledge the act, justifying them on the grounds of national security. Many of them were supposed to have been burglaries of foreign powers embassies, with the practice having begun prior to World War II under President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Former FBI officials also said that illegal type activities were pursued by the bureau in its attempts to gather evidence against organized crime.
We have no quarrel with the FBI or other government agencies taking whatever steps may be needed to gather information vital to the defense of the country, or for that matter to protect the people against criminals. However, there is a very real danger that practitioners of these acts tend to ignore the line and overstep themselves.

There is mounting evidence, that, in addition to the FBI, other federal agencies have gone too far in attempts to gain evidence for arrest or criminal prosecutions.
Twelve narcotic agents have been indicted by a federal grand jury in Illinois for forcibly entering homes and using threats and violence in attempt to gather evidence of drug violations.

In the incidents, agents entered homes and assaulted residents, threatening death in one case to innocent handcuffed man. The agents were dressed in hippy garb and gave no identification, nor, importantly, did they have search warrants.

In another recent court ruling agents of the Immigration Service and Border Patrol have been told that they cannot stop automobiles, while cruising at random, on roads adjacent to the Mexican border, without a search warrant issued for probable cause.

Illegal alien checks can be made at border crossing points or other regularly designated check points. The courts, in effect, have given a man's automobile the same protection which his home enjoys.

Practically all of these actions have been a violation of Article IV of the Bill of Rights, which reads:
"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable search and seizure shall not be violated and no warrant shall issue, but upon probable cause..."

Law enforcement officers too often forget that they, too, are bound by laws. And an illegal means does not justify a legal end. This, certainly, was the thinking in the burglary of the office of Ellsberg psychiatrist.

We respect the problems of law enforcement people in striving to perform their assigned tasks. And we realize how frustrating it often must be to know or strongly suspect criminal activity and not be able to gather needed evidence.
However, nothing is gained if the people lose an inalienable right through misguided zeal.

Great Task Ahead

Probably the most difficult task for Dr. Kissinger as Secretary of State will be attaining an accord with the Congress and overcoming the deep divisions resulting from the Indo-China war which resulted in Congress pulling the rug from under the President by blocking further Viet targets in Cambodia.

He gives promise of less secrecy in diplomacy and an attempt to create a strong bi-partisan backing for American attempts to work for a peaceful world. At the same time all must acknowledge that some secrecy is needed in delicate dealings with foreign powers, such as the Vietnamese and China negotiations.

We reject with complete disdain the assertions of some Arab nationalists that Dr. Kissinger will be ineffective in the Middle East because of his Jewish ancestry. This is complete bigotry of the worst sort.

In that area he will have the help of veteran Joe Cisco who is most knowledgeable.

He has formidable tasks, but in view of past achievements has the capacity to accomplish them.

Other Editor's Say Truth And Consequences

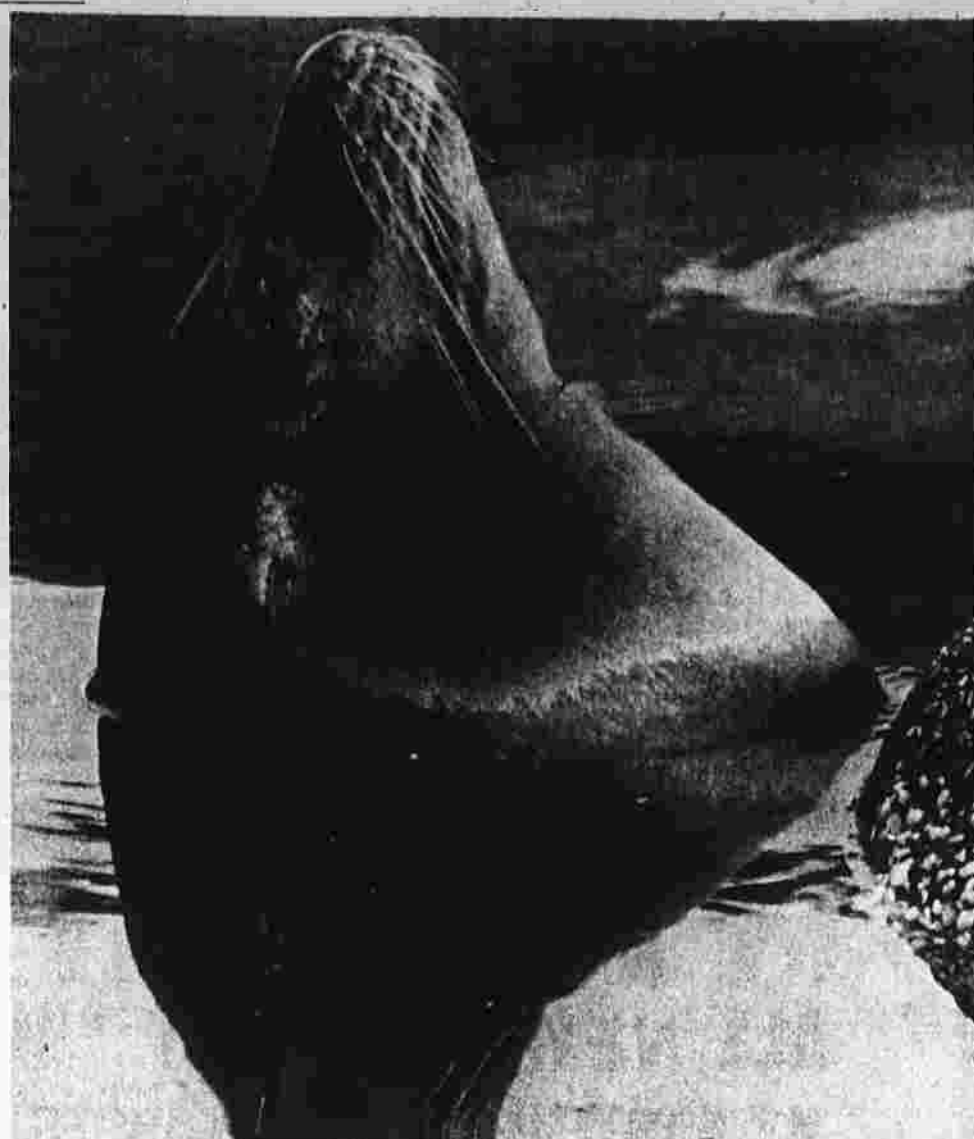

The yearning to breathe free still exists, and produces martyrs like historian Pyotr Yakir and economist Viktor Krasin even within the USSR. Those dissidents were given three years in jail, plus another three in slave labor camps, a few days ago for daring to speak against Soviet tyranny.

This Trans-Siberian railroading was carried out in the crude, kangaroo-court fashion favored by the past master of mass murder, Josef Stalin.

The same terror apparatus is being cranked up for the persecution of two other Russian dissenters, physicist Andrei Sakharov and writer Alexander Solzhenitsyn.

Despite occasional smiles and good will gestures, Russia's leaders are, as ever, committed to heartless repression at home and expansion of their domain abroad.

Not for a moment can we afford to relax our guard or cease our efforts to combat this dreadful evil. — New York Daily News

Andrew Tully
Battle of the Veto

WASHINGTON — Well, Congress is back in town making the rafters ring with oratory about everything from detente with the Soviet Union to the need for more creek-dredgings across the land, but the big story is The Battle of the Veto.

The Democrats control both Senate and House — the latter by an overwhelming majority — and some of them are talking bravely about a new campaign to override President Nixon's numerous vetoes. The facts of political life, however, suggest that the issue is not likely to worry Nixon into his grave. It takes a two-thirds vote by both houses to override a presidential veto.

With the Democrats running the show on Capitol Hill they would seem to be in a strong position to work their will on legislation rejected by the White House. But — stop. Although the Democrats outnumber the Republicans, 240 to 192 in the House, they still don't have enough votes to override a veto on a straight party-line tally. Moreover, a number of the more conservative Democrats tend to side with Nixon on most issues, which further paralyzes the party's power.

The conclusion therefore seems inescapable that the Democrats seldom if ever will come up with the necessary 2/3 votes in the House to put Nixon in his place. Even if every Democrat votes to override, which is most unlikely, the opposition still has to find another 49 anti-veto votes somewhere. Democratic leaders admit this probably comes under the heading of Mission Impossible. So unless the impasse is to continue and government come to a grinding halt, both Congress and the White House must pay heed to House Majority Leader Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass. Tip O'Neill is not to be confused with the moderates in both parties who constantly practice the art of the possible by compromise. He is one of the most partisan of politicians, a man who sometimes makes a "radical" plot by Sam Ervin, Prosecutor Archie Cox & C. to destroy not only Richard Nixon but the Republican party. If Congress and the White House are to work together with any measure of harmony, Democratic leaders and the President must find some way to defang these manic obstructionists. Otherwise, the people will call down a plague on both houses.

Accordly, O'Neill returned to Washington with a plea that Congress and Nixon work together rather than continue a war whose casualties are vital legislation. "We've got to get an accommodation on the bills before Congress," said O'Neill. "The President lacks the votes to get his legislation passed and we don't have the votes to override his vetoes." It sounds reasonable, because it is. Democratic leaders will be working closely with Melvin Laird, former Defense Secretary and now a Nixon counselor, and as a former member of Congress Laird has considerable goodwill and credibility on the Hill. Laird may be the only Nixon staffer who understands that a frustrated majority in Congress can so get out of hand as to embark on a campaign of obstructing even the acceptable legislation of an opposition President, just for the perverse pleasure it offers.

However, there is one obstacle to the creation of a real atmosphere of compromise between Congress and the President. That is the professional Nixon haters among the Democrats and the professional Democrat haters in the Nixon administration — a group which not always excludes the President himself. The attitude of the haters has become almost psychopathic during the past several months of the Watergate investigation. The Nixon haters see him as an out-and-out crook who should be impeached; the Democrat haters on the Nixon team see a "radical" plot by Sam Ervin, Prosecutor Archie Cox & C. to destroy not only Richard Nixon but the Republican party. If Congress and the White House are to work together with any measure of harmony, Democratic leaders and the President must find some way to defang these manic obstructionists. Otherwise, the people will call down a plague on both houses.

Today's Thought
Experienced management is an important part of our lives. While on vacation I saw a sign on a building which read "under new management," but the building was closed and the grounds were over-run with weeds. Apparently the new management was no better than the former management. When one puts up a sign reading "Under New Management" we are to presume that whatever mistakes or failures there were under the old management, someone new is going to be different. It is implied not "Come in and try us, you'll like our service, our policies and our management." Isn't it delightful whenever this is true. One of the delightful things about the universe is that it does not need new management. We on earth regularly see one management replace another, and allow one to replace another because it points up the previous one's errors.

The universe has no such need. The sun sets in its place day after day as we orbit around it, and the moon and the stars remain in their destined places. The seasons change and the night falls bringing us rest day after day.
I like God's management. It is experienced management and He manages ever so much better than we. We can choose no better course than the experienced management of our own lives. Study and ponder the teachings of Jesus in the New Testaments and you'll find that His management is experienced. He's not only been in business for a long while but He's going to be in business for a long while to come.
Let your life follow Jesus Christ and you'll never need to change and go under new management. The Bible says, "He is the same yesterday, today and forever," and experienced was Jesus with living that He said "He who follows me shall not walk in darkness but have the light of life."

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

We are pleased to report the Manchester Jaycees have expressed an interest in adopting a program toward halting vandalism to our schools and other public property. While back we devoted a portion of this column to Manchester vandalism and a call for action. Our thanks to those who telephoned or stopped by with suggestions.
Rick Gowen of the Youth Commission has compiled a lot of ideas and suggestions toward halting vandalism such as youth patrols which are functioning well in some communities. On the surface, it seems youth would be more effective than adults in a preventive program.
The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce has also expressed interest in keeping with the chamber's program of work as adopted earlier in which one of the goals is to seek solution to our problems in crime including vandalism, shoplifting and drug abuse.
Perhaps the Jaycees and the Chamber, working together, can adopt a program to seriously lessen vandalism. We will probably never halt it completely but we think combined efforts could result in a sharp decrease. The community should indeed be grateful for their interest.

Meanwhile, two New York City high schools have installed a new alarm system to deal with intruders, disturbances and accidents while school is in session.
In the Elks magazine we read that with the system, teachers are able to call for help soundlessly and usually without the knowledge of intruders by pressing the button on a small ultra-sound transmitter which looks like a fountain pen and is carried in their pocket or purse.
Let's hope we don't see the time when we need such a device in Manchester.

What about the economy?
The New Englander magazine says that unemployment in Maine of 6.7 per cent and in Massachusetts of 6.9 per cent is above the national average of 6.2 per cent.
It was pointed out that the problem is the inability of the economy to generate enough new employment to take care of increasing numbers of persons seeking work.
Also noted is a sharp regional decline in residential and non-building construction, (roads, sewage systems, power stations.)

A former short-term resident doesn't have any praise for Manchester's hospitality.
He writes: "You call this town, 'A city of village charm,' well, where is it? Just four months ago I moved to this town in all good faith because of my recent store transfer. So I packed and left my home and family and moved to Manchester. To my dismay, I have never lived in a city where people are so unfriendly to the stranger." "Not one word of friendliness or a line hello was said. I was living in a town where people thought they were kings and queens of God's Manchester. I would really like to know how long it takes to make friends, maybe 10 to 13 years."

Well, in closing, I am returning happily to my home but as long as I live I will never forget this town or its people. So I hope when people read this maybe they will think about that fairy tale saying "A city of village charm."
We are publishing his letter because we have heard the complaint about Manchester's lack of hospitality from others. And yet we think he misjudged our people on the basis that this writer in the short span of nearly two years hasn't found the people unfriendly at all.
And we grew up in a town in the Far West which had the claim that after you lived here 20 years or longer perhaps we will get around to accepting you.
Communities aren't much different from coast to coast. The sad commentary is that no matter where you live people simply aren't as neighborly as they used to be several years ago. At the same time though, last week's tornado clearly demonstrated how people can react with open arms whenever they are needed or a tragedy strikes.

You think you are in debt?
It has been estimated that interest on the federal debt alone will cost the government more than $50,000 a minute, 60 minutes an hour, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.
The debt is expected to approach a half trillion dollars by next June 30, however much money that is, and the interest alone will cost the government an estimated $28.9 billion this year.

We are happy to see our Herald people get involved in the community in the form of civic clubs or community projects. Our chief photographer, Sylvian (Sinch) O'Leary, is teaching a photography course at Manchester Community College this semester on a part-time basis.
Thanks to Bob Fuller of Lydall, Inc., we had a pleasurable boat ride on the Ursula Major though the water at times was a bit choppy.
Lydall is feeling the paper shortage in a bit different fashion than most, the high cost of scrap paper.
En route to the boat at Mystic we learned a bit more about the banking business and the trials and tribulations facing it thanks to Everett Livesey, our driver, and Ed Parker.

In the Reader's Digest we learn of a Kansas editor who failed to publish obituary notices of people who, while living, failed to subscribe to his newspaper. His reasoning: "People who do not take their home paper are dead anyway, and their passing has no news value."

Libby also reported that the music teacher, Mrs. Jacquelyn Eagles, has scheduled a meeting for Sept. 19 for those parents having children who might want to participate in an after school band program.
At this meeting, the Rham High School Jazz Band will perform to demonstrate the use of musical instruments and a representative from a band instrument company will be on hand to explain to parents how instruments can be purchased.
All money in connection with the program will be paid to the PTA which in turn will reimburse the music teacher.
Libby also reported that work on the teaching field, as required by the State Health Department, has been completed with the exception of grading in the area.
With respect to the behavior modification program, Libby reported that David Calchera, who has been hired for this position, will be at the school every Thursday.

In order to familiarize the staff with the elements of behavior modification, Calchera will meet twice this month with the staff and introduce the concepts of the program.
Calchera's procedure will then be to select 4 or 5 teachers for five-week sessions throughout the year giving the teachers the opportunity to utilize any problems in their own classrooms.
According to Libby, Calchera will also be available on a consultation basis each week, to work with parents if the need arises, to work with individual students and to do psychological testing.

The board authorized the administration to switch school insurance to the Reliance Insurance Co. due to a better rate for the same coverage. Cost for the program will be the same as last year rather than an increase of $1 per student if the board stayed with the same company.
OH
The board received notification from Dahl Oil Co. of a .0019 cent per gallon increase, effective Aug. 1. With the increase, the cost to the board is now 1784 per gallon.

Training Center
The board voted to send a letter of intent to the Manchester Board of Education to participate in a proposed regional occupational training center for youngsters, 14 to 21, who are educable mentally retarded or have learning disabilities.
The letter of intent does not obligate the board financially unless a student is sent on a tuition basis once the center is constructed.
However, it does assist the Manchester board in obtaining state and federal funds to a higher degree.

Long Agenda Keeps Board Late

FLOYD LARSON
(Herald Reporter)

A lengthy agenda Tuesday night forced the Manchester Board of Directors to suspend its 11 p.m. adjournment rule to complete items before it.

Prior to taking up business on the formal agenda, the board approved two suggestions by Director Vivian Ferguson.

One would call the school use committee into special session to discuss the effects of roller skating on gyms at Verplank and Buckley schools and on maintenance costs. The other instructs the town manager to request the building inspector to determine whether structures in Manchester damaged in last week's tornado were built to code standards and if new structures under construction are meeting adequate standards to withstand wind damage.

Mayor John Thompson announced a public hearing would be conducted to get citizens viewpoints on any development proposed for the Hartman Tobacco Co. property, and expressed the hope the developer would make every effort to completely inform the public of its plans prior to such a hearing.

The matter of the new sewer charges was discussed and the mayor explained the new fee (100 per cent of the water charge) had been publicized in the town budget and discussed at public hearings on the budget; however, on the advice of David Barry, town counsel, the mayor suggested and the board agreed to handle the matter as a separate item by advertising a new hearing three times and then after hearing the public make a decision. In the meantime, overcharges will be credited to the sewer users.

Mayor Thompson explained the board thought the action taken at budget time was legal and proper and is resubmitting the issue in order to assure the public it had no intention of acting without informing the people. He said that for several years operation costs of the sewer system has equaled or exceeded water system operations making the increase in rate necessary.

The board accepted a petition and heard several citizens explain the run-off problems on Henry and N. Elm Sts. They were assured the matter will be placed on the October agenda.

The board unanimously approved the appointment of Mrs. Ada Sullivan, 89 Finley St., to the Manchester Housing Authority to succeed the late Mrs. Kathleen Ponticelli. Mrs. Sullivan is a member of the Connecticut Federation of Democratic Women, Gibbons Assembly of the Catholic Ladies of Columbus Democratic Club of Manchester, active in civic and charitable work, vice president of a local advertising specialty agency bearing her name and a member of the Advertising Specialty Institute of Philadelphia and Specialty Advertising Association International.

A letter of appreciation for Mrs. Ponticelli's long service to the community and the authority to her husband was approved.

Storm Dismissal From Schools Deemed Error

Once the Vernon school children are in school for the day they will be kept there for the entire day, Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, told the Board of Education Monday night.

Dr. Ramsdell told the board he had received several complaints from parents who were upset because the children were released from school early last Thursday when tornado warnings were out.

That day was the first day of school for Vernon students after summer vacation, and they were to attend a full day. However, shortly before noon the Talcottville section of town was hit by the tornado, and warnings went out that the storm would return.

Dr. Ramsdell elected to close schools and get the children home at noon, but because some streets were closed off, due to fallen trees and wires, some of the children did not get home until late in the afternoon. Parents of children who did get home early complained because they (the parents) were not home when the children got there because they assumed they were in school.

Even though the opening day got off to a poor start, Dr. Ramsdell said he visited the schools Monday and found them to be operating as if they had been in session for weeks.

The superintendent credited the two-day teacher orientation for the orderly way things were handled.

He said there are quite a few bus problems and he asks parents to be patient as he hopes things will be ironed out by the end of this week.

One of the major problems in the area of busing is at the high school which went on double

Elk Hills Oil Could Be Tapped In 60 Days

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Elk Hills naval oil reserve that President Nixon wants to tap to alleviate the energy crisis is virtually a ghost field.

But oil sources say it could be in production within 60 days after a go-ahead signal. The 70-square-mile reserve, located 10 miles north of Taft in the San Joaquin Valley, is considered the largest inland accumulation of oil in California and is among the five largest known U.S. oil reservoirs.

It was established in 1912 by President William Howard Taft to be used only in time of war. Nixon told Congress on Monday that production from the 1.2-billion-barrel pool beneath the Central California desert is needed to ward off a heating oil shortage on the West Coast next winter.

He said his representatives "will seek the necessary consultations with members of Congress in order to increase production of oil from Elk Hills."

During World War II, 27

million barrels of oil were produced at Elk Hills. Capt. George P. Dowd, commander of Elk Hills, said the reserve's 1,032 existing wells have been kept near-operational and could be producing 100,000 barrels a day within 60 days.

Only 2,500 barrels of oil a day are now being pumped to maintain underground pressure and keep equipment in working order.

Of that amount, 80 per cent is reserved by the Navy. Standard Oil of California, which holds a lease on a portion of the reserve, gets the other 20 per cent for running the facility for the government. Standard has 78 men working at the reserve. The Navy has between 20 and 30 men there.

"Out of sight, Out of mind"

Don't forget your furnace and air conditioner filters just because you don't see them every day. If they're dirty, they waste fuel energy and money. Today that's doubly serious, because the cost of living is rising and because America's domestic energy supplies are falling far behind demand. Change your filters at least once each heating season, again each cooling season if you have a central air system. And send today for a free copy of "A Consumer's Guide to Efficient Energy Use in the Home." It's packed with ideas that can save the nation's energy and your money.

The Honeymoon Will Have To Wait A Bit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jimmy Lee and Jacqueline Peck are now husband and wife, and they're off for Army basic training at separate camps. But the military says better days are ahead for the couple.

Municipal Court Judge Ronald Swearingner, an Air Force Reserve officer, married the two at an Army recruiting station Monday — and then signed both up for service with Uncle Sam.

"The recruiter kinda thought of it, and I kinda went along," said Lee, a 20-year-old with dark shoulder-length hair and a brush mustache. "I guess it's a pretty big occasion in my life."

Lee enlisted for four years as an infantryman. His wife, 19, enlisted for three years as a telephone operator. The two have known each other since high school days in suburban Alhambra.

The ceremony took place at the Armed Forces building in a small conference room crowded with newsmen and Army information specialists. Two recruiting sergeants were best man and maid of honor.

"I used to want a formal wedding," said Jackie. "But if you're married, you're married."

Lee will take 16 weeks of basic and advanced training at Ft. Ord, Calif., while Jackie's initial assignment will be to Ft. McClellan, Ala. After that, the Army promised, they both will be assigned to duty at Ft. Lewis, Mo.

Army spokesmen said a growing number of young marrieds are enlisting together in the armed forces, although statistics were unavailable.

Swearingner said it was his first such ceremony, but he said enlistment of married couples "seems to be very much a trend."

"They get the base of their choice, and they can combine their incomes. It works like a charm," he said.

Mandatory Fuel Oil Allocations Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., has called for establishment of a mandatory oil allocation program which "will assure sufficient oil at lower prices for homeowners in the Northeast states."

Pastore announced that families in Rhode Island and through the Northeast face the very real threat of freezing this winter "if the federal allocation program falls short of the area's needs."

Federal rules "now provide for a mandatory allocation of gas to domestic homeowners," Pastore said, and this means homeowners who heat by gas get a "priority allocation."

"The same humanitarian logic should apply to families who heat their homes with oil," Pastore said.

Credit Squeeze Told To House Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two-week hearing on the credit squeeze. Savings and loan associations say the Federal Reserve Board has cost them thousands of customers this summer and dried up the market for housing mortgages.

With interest rates at their highest mark in history, the Federal Reserve was the prime target of the savings and loan associations, mutual savings banks, small businessmen and homebuilders as the House Banking Committee opened a

Since the savings and loan industry provides more than half the mortgage money in this country, this has further depleted the financing available for housing loans.

Spokesmen for the homebuilders said the loan market is so tight they anticipate new housing starts may not exceed 1.5 million to 1.6 million units, about three-fifths of the goal for this year.

Drug Lists
Termed Inadequate
HARTFORD (AP) - Proposed regulations in the posting of prescription drug prices don't go far enough in helping consumers compare costs, a spokesman for the Connecticut Citizen Research Group (CCRG) said at a public hearing Tuesday.

The regulations by the Connecticut Pharmacy Commission would allow druggists to post the prices of their 100 most frequently dispensed drugs.

Marc Caplan, director of CCRG's New Haven office, called for greater uniformity in the prices posted.

If each store chooses the items it posts, along with the dosage and quantities, there will be variations among stores and confusion among consumers, Caplan said.

He also urged the commission to allow druggists to reproduce their price information on sheets that consumers could take with them in order to compare the prices at different stores.

GOP Wins
KILLINGLY (AP) - Republican First Selectman John T. Savage of Eastford Tuesday won a special election for the state representative's seat from the 8th Assembly District.

Savage collected 1,892 votes in the seven-town district while Democrat James O'Connor of Killingly had 1,770 votes.

Savage won in six towns, with O'Connor victorious only in his home town.

South Windsor Schools Opened With 5,150 Roster

BEVERLY DUKETT Correspondent

Dr. Robert Goldman, superintendent of schools, told the Board of Education Tuesday that schools "opened smoothly with a total enrollment of 5,150 students, 59 students coming from apartments."

William Perry, assistant superintendent, said that 37 new teachers were hired, four administrators and new superintendents of schools for the 1973-74 school year.

Ten teaching positions were new and 27 were replacements.

The board approved a reorganization chart for the office of the superintendent and the high school administration.

Included in the reorganization of the superintendent's office is the reporting of the director of pupil services and the business manager, in addition to the assistant superintendent, directly to the superintendent.

Included in the high school reorganization is the reporting of the department chairmen and guidance counselors, in addition to the associate principal, directly to the principal so that the principal is kept aware of curriculum and instructional development in the school.

Dr. Goldman presented to the board for its approval, suggested changes in rules of order and policy. One change several members of the board questioned regarding the institution of pilot programs in schools.

Under the present policy teachers must submit their pilot programs to the board for approval. Perry pointed out that many teachers can not be tied down so greatly by the amount of paper work involved in submitting their proposed pilot programs to the board for approval.

The board then voted that an experienced person in curriculum and administration, such as the assistant superintendent and principals, should be called on to approve pilot programs and the board would approve final implementation of a program. The board then approved the revised rules of order.

The school lunch report for 1972-73 showed a total income of $283,711.88 and total expenses of $283,276.47 with a net profit of $435.41 in the school lunch account to be utilized toward the operation of this year's program.

Dr. Goldman requested the board's permission to enter into the bid of the town of South Windsor for the purchase of microfilm equipment. He indicated that records of former South Windsor students, teacher records and financial records are presently located in three areas which are not convenient.

Mr. Post Dies
WASHINGTON (AP) - Marjorie Merivale Post, well-known hostess and philanthropist and one of the world's richest women, died today at her home. She was 86.

Mrs. Post, known for the lavish opulence in which she lived, inherited her wealth from her father, who founded the Postum Cereal Co., parent of the General Foods Corp.

She was the mother of actress Dina Merrill.

Police Pursue Loose Moose
METHUEN, Mass. (AP) - A 1,000-pound moose was surrounded by police officers in a field today after the animal started motorists and children on their way to school.

Officers said they did not know where the moose came from. The animal did not attempt to escape, but an official of Boston's Franklin Park Zoo was sent with a tranquilizer to calm the moose.

The animal was first spotted by Fred Anton of Lawrence, who saw it amble down a residential street, then turn into a driveway.

The moose then walked over a small hill and crossed into Methuen, where it was captured about three-fourths of a mile from where it was first spotted.

The animal's weight was estimated by a game warden. Officers said a small traffic jam developed near the field where the animal was cornered.

pleated fireproof, and that it would be very beneficial to microfilm these records. In entering in on the town's bid the Board of Education would save money on the original purchase of equipment.

A report from Allan D. Thomas, chairman of the Manchester Board of Education, asked for South Windsor's participation in the proposed Regional Occupational Training Center for Mentally Retarded in Manchester. This center is planned for the mentally retarded who also might have physical handicaps and would train the students so that when they graduate they would be completely employable.

The board agreed that South Windsor would participate in the proposed program.

It was reported that the lowest bid for the Pleasant Valley School playground project was given by Jack R. Hunter, Inc., for $41,885 and would be submitted to the Town Council.

Mrs. Marjory Hutensky was seated as a new board member at Tuesday's meeting. She suggested that at the next meeting the board discuss the possibility of a school bicycle safety program.

Staff appointments approved by the board were: Mrs. Jacalyn Anderson of Vernon, half-time speech and language consultant, Mrs. Anderson received her BS degree from Iowa State University last February. The position, Deakin explained, existed in the 1972-1973 school budget, but it was not filled until this year. Salary, $8,035, prorated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bogess of Manchester, a four-fifths time Head Start teacher. She received a BS degree from the University of Alabama in 1972. Salary, $8,035, prorated.

Steven Fish of Manchester, half-time instructor at the Environmental Education Center. Fish, who received his BS degree from the University of Connecticut this year, will be filling a new position.

Albert J. Robinson (center) has been a volunteer fireman of Hose Co. 1 of the Town Fire Department since 1925, back into the days when it was the South Manchester Fire Department. For more than 30 years he was a "bunker," a volunteer who slept nights at the firehouse and was on call for night fires. For 35 1/2 years he was secretary of Hose Co. 1, and now he has retired from that post. On the left is his successor as secretary, Larry Probst; at right is John Martin, captain of the company. Robinson holds a gold fireman's card and a check for $100, the gifts presented him at a dinner-meeting of the company last week. (Herald photo by Gentiliomo) that a regular - perhaps quarterly - meeting between the town manager and the directors be arranged along a workshop motif to improve the lines of communications on the town finances between the town and the manager.

The mayor's statement seemed to imply the problem was not so much the matter of the funds' existence and the fact it was ultimately allocated to cover the renovation of Purnell Pl., but that the town manager had overstepped his bounds in not informing the board of this cushion of funds and then later disclosing its availability when the Purnell project came before the board.

48 Project Students Attend Town Schools

The 1973-1974 Project Concern student enrollment in Manchester public schools totals 48, according to Wilson E. Deakin Jr., Manchester's assistant superintendent of schools for administration.

The figure is the same as last year, Deakin told the Board of Education Monday night.

The City of Hartford pays full tuition and transportation costs, Deakin mentioned, and also supplies Manchester with two teacher aides.

"We only house these youngsters where we have the room," Deakin explained, offering a breakdown of the number of Project Concern children in Manchester schools.

Bolton Town Seeks Lakefront Site

DONNA HOLLAND Correspondent 646-0375

The first phase of an effort to get federal funds to help pay for the proposed town acquisition of the E.J. Holl estate property at Bolton Lake has been completed, according to Conservation Commission Chairman Stanley Bates.

Bates said the commission has filled out 15 application forms and returned them to the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation at Washington.

The commission is waiting to hear whether the town is eligible for funds to purchase the property, consisting of 27.82 acres, with 1,082 feet of lake frontage.

The commission is also awaiting the approval of the property, a move authorized by the selectmen in July.

Acquisition of the property, on sale by the executors of the estate, the Hartford National Bank, has the backing of the Conservation Commission, selectmen, town board and commissions, town plan by Brown, Donald and Donald and the Capitol Region Planning Agency Open Space Plan.

The purchase must still win approval at a town meeting that will be scheduled soon. If approved, the town will be ready to apply for federal funds of 50 per cent of the purchase price.

No state funds are used, a differential rate that would be favorable to Bolton residents, can be charged non-residents.

At present Bolton owns 159 acres of open space land: 80 acres at Bolton High School, 18 acres at Bolton Elementary School, 3 acres at Bolton Center and 80 acres at Herrick Memorial Park, land donated by Mrs. Edson Herrick.

Public property on Bolton Lake was designated as the primary open space goal of the conservation commission in its open space plan of 1968.

The plan notes that Bolton is a town of large lots, so many outdoor recreation activities take place at home; cookouts, lawn mowers and even swimming pools and tennis courts if homeowners can afford them.

Bolton does need, according to the plan, areas large enough for organized picnics, organized sports, sports requiring special facilities: swimming, hiking, camping and woodcraft.

Of immediate concern is the need for a swimming area, as no public swimming is available in spite of several lakes and ponds in town.

MOTORCYCLE GRANDMA

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) Mrs. Betty Engle, a 110-pound grandmother, took instructions on motorcycle riding recently and called her first ride "fascinating and fun."

Mrs. Engle, a radio station bookkeeper, said her son, John, refused to believe his mother had ridden a motorcycle, since she had objected to the "danger" when he bought one.

"I can see now why young people like bikes," Mrs. Engle said. "Now I'm thinking about getting John's out of the garage."

Stanley Bates, chairman of the Conservation Commission, studies the lakefront land Bolton hopes to buy from the estate of E. J. Holl. The commission is seeking federal funds to pay half the cost of the purchase. (Herald photo by Holland)

UAC-Signal Merger Called Off

EAST HARTFORD (AP)—A proposed merger of the United Aircraft Corp. (UAC) and the Signal Companies Inc. was called off Tuesday, mainly because of Signal's discovery of a rich oil field in the North Sea, the two companies said.

The proposed $750 million merger had been announced in principle July 9 by the directors.

After the merger announcement, Signal confirmed that it had discovered a major oil well during exploration off the British Isles. The well is capable of producing 100,000 barrels of oil per day, Signal officials said.

Because of the oil shortage, the value of new known reserves created "unexpected complications," according to the joint statement by Harry J. Gray, UAC president and Forrest N. Shumway, president of Signal.

UAC, with 1972 sales of $2.02 billion, had earnings of $50 million. It is a major manufacturer of jet engines, helicopters and spacecraft equipment.

Signal, of Beverly Hills, Calif., reported sales of $1.45 billion and earnings of $40 million in 1972. Signal's major subsidiaries are Mack Trucks of Allentown, Pa., Signal Oil and Gas Co. of Houston and the Garrett Corp. of Los Angeles.

Town Meets On Oct. 1

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
Tel. 646-0375

Bolton's annual town meeting is scheduled for Oct. 1. The annual meeting is held the first Monday in October for the purpose of the reading of the annual reports by town boards and commissions.

It is hoped that several other items will be ready for residents' approval at the meeting. Those items include: construction of a new town library; purchase of the Maxwell property; approval of ordinances for use of town property; joining the CRPA/CROCG and acceptance of three roads in the Brookdale Estates.

Engineering Fees
A request from Douglas Cheney, chairman of the Public Building Commission, for $1,300 to be used for engineering fees for the proposed new town library has been approved by the selectmen with the stipulation that only money needed for the library be used. No money towards the Maxwell property is to be used until purchase of the property is approved at a town meeting.

The selectmen recommended purchase of property, both house and land, if the intent to build a library is approved.

An appraisal for the Maxwell property was received from Barry Real Estate Appraiser and Consultant of Manchester. The $1,300 was requested as the architect has required certain data that had not been anticipated.

Light Requested
A letter was received from Atty. Harold Laws, a Bolton Shopping Plaza merchant by the selectmen concerning traffic hazards in the area.

Recently two accidents involving autos exiting from the shopping plaza due to drivers leaving the four-lane highway, going under the underpass and suddenly coming into a congested area with two-way traffic was reported.

Laws suggested to the merchants at the location that they present a petition to the highway department for either a trip light or caution signals permanently installed to slow down traffic in the area.

First Selectman Richard Morra informed Laws by letter that the owner of the shopping plaza had previously declined to pay for the installation of a traffic light at the entrance.

Plans now indicate that if 14-16 is constructed, the shopping plaza will be eliminated. Therefore the town does not want to spend large sums of money for a traffic light.

Representatives of the State Highway Department have discussed the hazardous condition in the Natch area and have promised to do something to alleviate the problems.

Ice Palace
State Representative Dorothy Miller received a request from Dale Martin, president of the Vernon Youth Hockey Association, to co-ordinate her efforts with the State Department of Transportation for a traffic control light (no blinker) to be placed in the area of access to the Bolton Ice Palace on Top River Rd. (Rt. 6).

As many youths will be using the Ice Palace there is much concern of the potential traffic control problem. It was suggested that a walk light also be included as Munson's Candy Kitchen is directly across from the Ice Palace and many young boys and girls will probably be patronizing the store.

Bumbry's Bat Lifts Orioles into 5 1/2 Game Lead

BALTIMORE (AP) — After serving 11 months in Vietnam as a platoon leader, Al Bumbry moved quickly through the Baltimore Orioles' farm system and reached the major leagues.

The speed of Bumbry's climb to the top only typifies the way the 26-year-old outfielder plays.

It's not surprising that the organist in Memorial Stadium introduces Bumbry with a few bars of "The Flight of the Bumble Bee," or that the churning legs of the 5-foot-8 speedster are in fits and starts.

Bumbry, who can run to first base in 3.1 seconds, had two infield "leg hits," a ground rule double which bounced over the center field fence, and a triple down the right field foul line as Baltimore whipped Boston 8-3 Tuesday night.

That extended Bumbry's hot streak to 15 hits in his last 21 at bats, and raised his average since Aug. 21 to an even .500, with 29 hits in 58 trips.

After being platooning virtually all season, the left-handed batter won't have enough at bats to qualify for the American League batting crown, and he's not concerned about Rookie of the Year honors.

"I can't make $20,000 by being Rookie of the Year," Bumbry said after Tuesday's victory increasing Baltimore's lead over Boston to 5 1/2 games in the Eastern Division. "But I can make $20,000 if we get into the World Series."

Bumbry said the only time he thinks about rookie honors, anyway, is when a member of the news media brings it up. What's more, his chief competition may come from his own teammate, Rich Coggins.

With two hits Tuesday, Coggins raised his average to .317. At bat 77 more times than Bumbry, Coggins holds a 31-29 edge in runs batted in, while Bumbry leads in homers, 7-5, and runs, 62-55.

"We never discuss the rookie stuff," Bumbry said. "We both have the same objective—to contribute to the team."

In the third inning Tuesday, Bumbry singled with one out and was forced by Coggins before the Orioles rallied for five runs off Boston pitcher Pat Patten, 12-14.

A ground rule double by Tommy Davis and a walk loaded the bases. Don Baylor singled off third baseman Danny Cater's glove for two runs, and Brooks Robinson followed with a three-run homer.

In the next inning, Bumbry's triple sent another run across and then he latched on to a single by Coggins.

The inability of Cater to grab the two-out grounder by Baylor contrasted sharply with the four Baltimore double plays in the first five innings which helped winner Dave McNally, 16-14, check Boston thrice.

Manager Eddie Koekoer described it as "a tough check," and skipper Earl Weaver of the Orioles conceded that "not many third basemen would have caught the ball."

Phils Club to Beat In National's East

NEW YORK (AP) — It now turns out that the team to beat in the National League East is the Philadelphia Phillies.

Well, they may not win it, but they'll have a lot to say about who does.

The last-place Phillies, who have played the role of "spoiler" lately, did it again Tuesday night with a 6-1 victory over the New York Mets.

"There is no sense playing 162 games and finishing last," said Philadelphia's Greg Luzinski, who hit two home runs against the Mets. "We have a chance to get as high as second place and until we're out of it, first place is still available."

"The thing is to catch the people we're playing. They're ahead of us. You have to get before you think of first."

The Phillies will have ample opportunity to help settle the thing. They've got six games left with front-running St. Louis, four with second-place Pittsburgh, four against first-place Chicago and two with the fifth-place Mets.

The race became even tighter, if that's possible, after what happened Tuesday.

The Montreal Expos beat St. Louis 4-1 and the Cubs beat the Pirates 2-0. The results left the Pirates a half-game behind the Cardinals while Montreal was 1 1/2 games behind, Chicago 2 1/2 and New York 3 1/2.

In the other National League games, the Cincinnati Reds dropped the Los Angeles Dodgers 6-3, the Atlanta Braves ripped the San Francisco Giants 6-5 in 11 innings.

Situation Critical Now for Red Sox

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Red Sox were reported in critical condition and resting uncomfortably in the intensive care unit following a collision of sorts Tuesday night that left team brass wondering if the season was a total loss.

The Red Sox collided with the Baltimore Orioles, who have a 2 1/2 game lead in the American League East and a seven game advantage in the long column.

"It's not impossible, but it's critical," said Boston manager Eddie Koekoer on the short end of an 8-3 decision. "We're in the intensive care unit, and we've had to be here for a while."

"If we had won it would have created a little more pressure on them," Koekoer said, doing a bit of figuring in his head. "Now they can play .500 ball, and they are doing it in this series, and wind up in good shape."

Baltimore manager Earl Weaver was also doing some figuring. "We can lose seven and still be tied. With our lead, every win we get now is a big one. They're to the point where they can't lose too many."

Statistically speaking, if the Orioles play .500 ball in their remaining 20 games, Boston would have to win 14 out of 17 just to tie. And you don't have to be Jimmy the Greek to figure those odds.

Contrasting Ryan Outduels Wood

NEW YORK (AP) — This might set back children's stories 20 years, but the hare finally beat the tortoise. When Aesop wrote his piece about slow and steady winning the race, he didn't account for Nolan Ryan.

It was Ryan, the flamethrower, against Wood, the tame thrower, in a classic struggle Tuesday night.

And in a morale booster for the overdog, Ryan hit the home run that gave him his first two games under new manager Martin, returned to a more recognizable pattern by dropping his second straight, 6-3 to the Minnesota Twins.

Elsewhere in the American League, Minnesota beat Texas 6-3; Cleveland defeated New York 7-3; Baltimore belted Boston 8-3; Detroit topped Milwaukee 4-2 in 10 innings and Oakland trimmed Kansas City 3-1.

Both the fireballing Ryan and the knuckleballing Wood are zeroing in on records as 1973 wraps up its season.

Ryan's 12 strikeouts Tuesday night raised his season total to 338, 44 shy of Sandy Koufax's major league mark and just 11 short of Ruth Waddell's American League record of 349.

Wood is less interested in records than Ryan. With the defeat, forced on him by third baseman Brian Downing's three errors which led to all three unearned runs, Wood's record dropped to 19-25.

One more loss and the portly left-hander will be seeing 20-20, not a pleasant sight. The last pitcher to see a pair of ambulances was Walter Johnson, pitching for the old Washington Senators in 1925.

Perry Just Too Much Using Regular Pitches

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland pitcher Gaylord Perry, who has been accused of throwing the illegal spitball, defeated the Yankees 7-3 Tuesday night at Yankee Stadium.

"He was better than any time I can remember we faced him," said Bloomberg.

Bouton Out of Work

NEW YORK (AP) — "I guess I lost my fastball or something," says sportscaster Jim Bouton.

The former New York Yankees pitcher told television viewers Tuesday night he has been dropped from WABC-TV's Eyewitness News team.

"To those of you who send me crank letters, let me just say you won't have Jim Bouton to rely on anymore," he said. Bouton also had a public farewell to his television colleagues.

The WABC-TV management had informed Bouton two weeks ago that his three-year contract would not be renewed.

"My own feeling is that I was too outspoken for them," Bouton said after the news program.

Short Putts from the Green

Although never experiencing a hole-in-one in a few years recently when he completed 18 holes at the Manchester Country Club while needing only 21 putts in fashioning a fine 82 score, Mary Ganguwere and Rory Simon witnessed the fine exhibition of putting... Dale Valey, who has served one half of his 20 years on the Manchester Open Golf Tournament Committee as its chairman, has announced he has played well in his place.

"I had the very best pressure I could have had, and yet it did no good," said Morton, who completed 67.3 per cent of his passes with three going for touchdowns. Staubach connected on 62.3 per cent, finishing scoring passes.

"I think it's time to go somewhere else," Morton said. "I will do the best I can while I'm at Dallas, but I know I'm a winner. I can win."

Morton Wants Out

NEW YORK (AP) — Quarterback Craig Morton, disappointed, subdued and the memory of a sold press conference, said he was fresh in his mind, was hoping to be traded by the Dallas Cowboys after Roger Staubach was tabbed for the starting signal-calling spot.

Dallas Coach Tom Landry, ending weeks of speculation as Staubach and Morton alternated at quarterback during the exhibition season, Tuesday named the scrambling Staubach as his No. 1 quarterback.

"Craig probably would like to be traded to another club which I think is understandable," Landry said. "It was a tough decision. Not many teams are blessed with two good quarterbacks."

Landry said he told the two of his decision Sunday.

The reaction was just as you'd expect. I don't expect players to compete for something they want badly and not be disappointed. I won't go into the merits of why. I had make the choice."

Morton had conducted a spirited competition with return because Morton had played well in his place.

"I had the very best pressure I could have had, and yet it did no good," said Morton, who completed 67.3 per cent of his passes with three going for touchdowns. Staubach connected on 62.3 per cent, finishing scoring passes.

"I think it's time to go somewhere else," Morton said. "I will do the best I can while I'm at Dallas, but I know I'm a winner. I can win."

Proceeds to Hospital Fund Net Instruction Week Slated by Local Jaycees

The Manchester Jaycees today announced plans to sponsor a week of tennis instruction classes for beginning players who want to join the net in the rapidly growing sport.

Peter Vieira, a Jaycee member, will be in charge of the classes. The classes will be held at the Manchester Racquet Club on W. Center St., which has donated the use of its facilities. One-hour sessions are scheduled each afternoon at 1 and 2 for the ladies and each evening at 7 for children and 8 for men.

The cost of a session is $2 per person with proceeds going to the Manchester Memorial Hospital to help pay for new fetal heart computer. Players participating are to wear tennis shoes and bring their own racket. Balls will be supplied by the club. Instruction will be given by three of Connecticut's outstanding tennis professionals, Stan Gibson, Peter Vieira, and Ted Morrison.

Players will also have a chance to inspect, at first hand, the new racquet club with its wide-spread courts, resilient cushioned surface, no-glare lighting and whirlpool baths.

People interested in signing up are urged to call the Racquet Club at 646-8800 or contact any member of the Jaycees at their first opportunity for ticket information. Tickets are limited since only 8 to 10 persons can be accommodated at each of the 32 planned sessions.

Ethnic Education Planned by School

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 222-3971

Ralph S. Sacuzzo, principal of the Gilead Hill School, has received the support of the Board of Education, with the exception of one member, Charles Barraso, to develop a program for sixth graders aimed at the elimination of racial prejudice through an appreciation of the contributions of various ethnic groups to the American way of life.

In presenting the proposed program at the board's last meeting, Sacuzzo said he felt the Gilead Hill students were leading an extremely sheltered life when it comes to an understanding of people whose cultural or ethnic backgrounds are different from their own. He stated that because of the mobility of populations today, and because of the proximity of people to one another due to advances in communications, it is essential that students learn to understand and appreciate differences in people and to judge these people on the basis of their own experiences and not on the prejudicial judgments of others.

Proposed Plans Proposed plans call for the development of an ethnic appreciation program for sixth grade students whereby they have contact with people of various ethnic backgrounds. Through exposure of this type, it is felt the students would gain some understanding and appreciation of these ethnic groups.

Underlying the entire program would be an effort by the faculty to help the students understand the harmful effects of prejudice and to put the differences among people into proper perspective.

Phases As outlined to the board by Sacuzzo, there will be five phases to the program. Phase I would have each sixth grade class, as part of their social studies program, being responsible for making an in-depth study of at least two ethnic groups of their choice. Particular emphasis would be made on the cultural impact these groups have had on the American way of life.

Under Phase II, each class, through their representative on a planning committee, would be responsible for arranging for speakers to represent their chosen ethnic groups to speak at an auditorium program for the combined sixth grade classes.

The third phase would have each participating class being responsible for putting on a program which would portray cultural or other contributions of their chosen ethnic groups to our way of life.

Phase IV would cover field trips for small groups of selected students and Phase V would be an essay contest based on the need to eliminate racial prejudice.

Planning A committee composed of six sixth grade teachers, one parent and four sixth grade students, one from each class, plus the principal, would be responsible for putting on the field trips and would oversee the operation of the program.

Church School Stars' Sunday

VIVIAN KENNISON Correspondent Tel. 875-4704

The United Congregational Church of Tolland will begin its church school year Sunday at 9:30 and 11 a.m. There will be classes for three-year-olds through Grade 6 at both sessions. At 11 there will be a seminar for senior high students. Parents will be receiving registration forms in the mail. These should be filled out and returned on the first day.

There will be someone available at the doors of the Religious Education building to take the registrations and direct children to their classes. Extra registration forms will be available for those who need them. The unifying theme for the church school this semester will be "Living as a Christian," seeking to help children learn what it means to live as Christians.

Pavement Plato's Platitudinous Platitudes

The Poor Man's Philosopher: Farewell to the Feminine Mystique.

By HAL BOYLE NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments by a Pavement Plato's Platitudinous Platitudes

Whatever happened to the feminine mystique? It has become as much a casualty of the 20th century as spat, the whalebone corset, or the nickel fairy of beer. The ordinary man never knew exactly what the feminine mystique was except that it was the intangible thing that made a woman a woman — and therefore a thing apart from man and his crude world.

It was the feminine mystique that led women to dress, think and act differently. They were expected to be more fragile, daintier and much nicer than men.

It was their feminine mystique that led women to be aloof and withdrawn and mysterious, and able to wield more power with silence and disapproval than by shouting their objections and demands. It was their feminine mystique that enabled women to convince men that sex was more a sacred experience than a physical pleasure.

Yes, almost since time began the feminine mystique has been woman's mightiest weapon in the endless war between the sexes. But alas, she has rapidly lost that weapon in recent years as she chose to descend from her Olympus to slug it out in the mire too-toe with man in a campaign for equal rights.

In this dubious campaign she has sought to imitate man's manners, morals, dress, value standards and even his vocabulary. A casual conversation between two teen-age girls today contains language that a truckdriver would hesitate to say out loud in a traffic jam in 103-degree weather.

If a man acts like an ape, he becomes apellike. And if a woman acts like a man, there can be but one result: she inevitably becomes manlike.

While there is nothing wrong with being a man, there is a lot wrong in being a manlike woman. She is flouting her own nature, violating the harmony of her own nature. She is being a traitor to her own sex, and it becomes absurd to speak of her feminine mystique. She has thrown away that precious birthright.

She has no special mystery. She has no special intuition. She is just another creature in the herd, another anonymous being in harness. There is nothing to set her apart, no reason for man to give her gallant deference, no reason for him to refrain from preying on her weakness to the utmost. She is just a pseudo-woman trying to be one of the boys.

It was the biggest air battle in the Middle East since the 1967 war. The military command said one Syrian pilot also bailed out into the Mediterranean after his Soviet-built jet was hit, but was picked up by an Israeli rescue helicopter. The Israeli command made no mention of raiding ground targets inside Syria, as reported earlier in Beirut. The air action appeared to have been confined to the dogfight swirling from the Syrian ceasefire line out over the sea.

The Israelis said the air battle was a chance encounter with Syrian warplanes that scrambled into the air to intercept an Israeli reconnaissance patrol along the Syrian border.

Earlier reports from Beirut said Israeli authorities notified Beirut airport that Israeli military planes were staging an air attack somewhere in Syria, and that Syrian air force had been closed to all aircraft.

Informants in Beirut said the Beirut airport was closed to all commercial traffic along with the Damascus airport.

Beirut airport sources said they understood Israeli planes were raiding at or near Tartous, Syria's second largest port city on the Mediterranean. Tartous is about 70 miles north of Beirut.

Israeli and Syrian warplanes last clashed Jan. 8 when the Israeli command claimed its pilots shot down six Syrian MIG 21s — part of the arms shipments to Damascus from the Soviet Union.

Today's battle brought to 59 the number of Syrian planes downed by Israel since the 1967 six-day war. Israeli military figures show, Israel has lost four to the Syrians, including the one in today's operation.

During the 1967 war, Israel wiped out more than 400 Arab planes in a single day, but most of them were caught on the ground by rocket fire and bombs before they could take off.

Israelis Down 13 Syrian Jets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli air force jets shot down 13 Syrian MIG21 fighters in a dogfight today over the Mediterranean, the military command reported. One Israeli plane was hit but the pilot was rescued from the sea unharmed.

Agnew Jury Meets Under Tight Cloak

By LEE LINDER Associated Press Writer

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The special grand jury probing alleged political corruption in Maryland resumed work today under conditions of unprecedented secrecy. Federal court house corridors leading to the grand jury room were sealed off by U.S. marshals with walkie-talkies who refused to allow newsmen within sight of the grand jury room or a nearby elevator.

"No public trials and no public hearings are in this area and it is closed to the public on the orders of the United States attorney," one assistant U.S. attorney told a newsmen. The grand jury is investigating allegations of kickbacks and conspiracy which may involve Vice President Spiro T. Agnew.

U.S. Atty. George Beall refused to comment earlier in the day on the grand jury plans for today, but courthouse sources indicated one or more indictments, probably of local officials, might be forthcoming.

Asked why the strict secrecy provisions, never before undertaken during this investigation, Beall replied: "By tradition and statute, grand jury proceedings are secret. Certain steps have been taken to preserve that privacy. Even witnesses going before the grand jury are part of the privacy and we intend to have it."

Within the area cordoned off by the marshals was an elevator by which witnesses appearing before the grand jury could come and go out of sight of reporters. Beall heads the multi-pronged investigation centering on kickbacks by consulting engineers and architects for the award of sewer, water, road and building construction contracts. Already indicted is N. Dale Anderson, chief executive of Baltimore County, who succeeded Agnew in that post when Agnew became governor last December and generally has met once a week since January.

It has yet to receive information on the Agnew phase of the corruption probe, which was (See Page Twenty-Two)

Junta In Chile Picks President

BULLETIN SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — The military junta formed into a working government today headed by a 55-year-old army general. It promptly broke diplomatic relations with Cuba and announced that it is lifting a state of siege for 6 1/2 hours to permit civilians to leave their homes to obtain food and other provisions.

Newsmen downtown, unable to leave their offices and hotels because of an around-the-clock curfew, reported hearing 20 to 30 sustained gunshots during the night and this morning. The curfew was to have been (See Page Twenty-Two)

Purnell Work Starts Next Week

Improvement of the Purnell Pl parking area will begin next week, John Harkins, assistant town manager, told the Mayor's Downtown Action Committee this morning.

General Paving, Rocky Hill, has the contract. The first part of the work will be devoted to storm drainage. Harkins commented that demolition of the town structure at 31-33 Oak St. will also get under way next week.

Town Manager Robert Weiss said HELCO estimated the cost of placing underground services to Purnell Pl. at $40,000 and since the town cannot meet that cost the service won't be underground.

Harkins said he would take another look, however, at the possibility of underground service for pole lighting only. The committee received a 12-page report on Manchester's parking areas from Dennis Brown, consultant. His conclusion in the report is as follows: "The town, through its Parking Authority, should insure the availability of parking in order to support and retain its commercial center. This availability will require either a long term lease or additional acquisition of land for parking, or some combination of these. A decision as to the methods of securing long term parking availability must be made by the town in light of the cost and benefits it will receive. The goal, however, is for stability in land use for parking in support of the Central Business District. Long term leasing seems, at this time, to be the best alternative."

Define Warranties

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent to the House a bill intended to make consumer warranties more meaningful for consumers. Will Destroy Opium WASHINGTON (AP) — Burmese rebels reportedly have offered, through Rep. Lester L. More Benefits Sought For Viet Veterans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Asserting that Vietnam-era veterans were worse than their fathers, an independent committee urged today that GI Bill educational benefits be increased substantially.

A gap between post-World War II and current benefits "serves to reinforce the belief of today's veteran that he fought an unpopular war and must deal with public sympathy about his father and the U.S. Conference of Mayors. Its 39-page report was based on an eight-month study of veterans' problems, including public hearings at Newark, N.J., Cleveland and Seattle.

The committee found that "Many veterans simply cannot afford to use the G. I. Bill."

It also concluded that: — Public reaction to the Vietnam war has been a severe obstacle for GI's trying to adjust to civilian life. — Those who help most are not getting it from the G. I. Bill.

The World War II veterans had more benefits and greater public acceptance. The committee recommended that the federal government add to the basic payment of $20 a month for single veterans a voucher to pay 80 per cent of his tuition and fees.

The committee did not estimate the cost of its proposals but noted that the G. I. Bill will cost $2.5 billion this year.

Potter Says Town Should Control Its Wetlands

Members of Manchester's Advisory Committee on Environmental Impact, meeting Wednesday night for the first time since they were organized in June, apparently agreed that Manchester should have its own agency regulating the state's Inland Wetlands and Water Courses Act.

Town Planner J. Eric Potter, acting chairman of the advisory committee, has modified his opinion of local wetlands regulation — He said Wednesday night "we'd be ignoring our responsibility if we didn't take this on."

Earlier in 1972, Potter had favored state control of wetlands.

And advisory committee member Mrs. Theresa Parla, while still urging that Manchester regulate its own wetlands, admitted that the town's conservation commission — of which she is chairman — isn't prepared to be the regulating agency.

But even though the wetlands act was approved by the state's General Assembly in 1972, the local conservation commission asked for the power to implement the act in Manchester.

The Inland Wetlands and Water Courses Act, is essentially a piece of enabling legislation allowing strict control and protection of wetlands and water courses. Wetlands, as defined in model regulations prepared by the state's Department of Environmental Protection, consist of land with soil types such as poorly drained, very poorly drained, alluvial, and flood plain.

The soil designations are based on data from the National Cooperative Soils Survey of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. (See Page Twenty-Two)

Washington (AP) — If the court battle over access to the White House Watergate tapes is not resolved by mid-November, special prosecutor Archibald Cox may ask Congress to extend the term of the federal grand jury investigating the break-in and cover-up.

A spokesman for the special prosecutor acknowledged that an act of Congress extending the grand jury term beyond Dec. 5, is one of two alternatives now under consideration. The other would be resubmitting the evidence to a new grand jury.

Cox asked the Court of Appeals to change Sirica's order to permit the prosecutor to listen to the tapes along with the judge to point out the parts essential to the Watergate investigation.

And members of the seven-judge panel that heard the Appeals Court argument on Tuesday also questioned exactly how Sirica's decision would be implemented. Lawyers for Sirica invited the Appeals Court to add whatever guidelines they saw fit.
