Dr. Robert MacKenzie, Retired Pastor, Dies

The Rev. Dr. Robert W.E. MacKenzie, 87, of West Swazey, N.H., died Thursday night at Manchester Memorial Hospital. He was the father of Mrs. Russell Paulrick of Manchester and Dr. Kenneth L. MacKenzie of Berlin, superintendent of Tolland schools.

The Rev. Dr. MacKenzie was a Methodist minister and had served pastorates in Vermont, New Hampshire and Massachusetts. He had been in Manchester visiting his daughter for about a week before he died.

Other survivors are another son, a brother, a sister, 11 grandchildren and a great-grandson.

Funeral services will be Sunday at 2 p.m. at the West Swazey (N.H.) Community Church. Burial will be in Pine Hill Cemetery, West Bridgewater, Mass.

The Fletcher Funeral Home, 33 Marlboro St., Keene, N.H., is in charge of arrangements. The Holmes Funeral Home, 400 Main St., is in charge of local arrangements.

The family suggests that any memorial contributions may be made to the West Swazey Community Church use as a charity of the donor's choice.

Democratic Leaders Discuss Potential Agnew Successors

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders have flatly rejected any possibility of naming Rep. Bob Connally as a replacement for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew should he resign, authoritative sources said today.

A contingent of Democratic House members met in the office of Speaker Carl Albert of Oklahoma on Thursday to discuss privately what actions they might take should Agnew step down as a result of a graft investigation in Maryland which involves him.

Among the names which House sources said the Democrats found acceptable as Vice President replacements were Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., former Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., the House minority leader.

The Junior Room of Whittier Memorial Library will present a film "Donuts" Saturday at 11 a.m. in the downstairs Democratic room. The event is open to all those interested. There is no admission charge.

Miss World USA From Indiana

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Marj Wallace, a 19-year-old blonde from Indianapolis, Ind., was crowned Miss World-USA by convention Bob Hope.

Miss Wallace steered away from controversial issues after a panel of judges selected her from a group of 50 contestants to be the American representative in the Nov. 23 Miss World contest in London.

"Do I have to answer these questions?" the model and former swimming champion asked paganist officials when the newsmen pressed her for comment on such topics as legalized marijuana.

"I'm a middle of the roader," she said after her coronation. She told newsmen that as far as women's liberation goes, "I agree with some and I disagree with some."

Harlow Quits Bus Position

Mortimer Harlow submitted his resignation, effective today, as supervisor dispatcher for Eastern Bus Lines, school bus contractor for the Town of Bolton.

According to the terms of the contract, between the Board of Education and Eastern Bus Lines, the dispatcher generally oversees and is responsible for Eastern's performance.

Harlow said personal reasons were the reason for his resignation.

State Labor Council Meet Begins Monday

HARTFORD (AP) — Big names and big legislative proposals are on the agenda for the 10th constitutional convention of the Connecticut State Labor Council which opens Monday. Some 600 delegates from AFL-CIO unions across Connecticut are expected to attend the three days of sessions at the Hartford Hilton.

"This would close the loopholes by which the wealthy and many corporations escape almost $30 billion of federal taxes."

U.S. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., and Lt. Gov. Peter Cushman were scheduled to be opening-day speakers at the opening ceremony. The speaker will be John J. Driscoll of Bridgeport, president of the state AFL-CIO council since 1961.

Driscoll said he planned to talk to the delegates on "crises now facing workers as the result of the Nixon economic program."

On the state level, "high unemployment is still the state's number one problem...it is almost twice as high as the official figure estimate made by the state Labor Department," he said.

A labor council spokesman said delegates will be asked to vote on several resolutions "vital to the interests of Connecticut wage earners."

One resolution expected to come up Monday calls for congressional passage of the American Trade Reform Act of 1973, the spokesman said.

"This key bill, known as the Burke-Hartke bill, would prevent further loss of American jobs to foreign imports subsidized by the U.S. taxpayer," he explained.

Another federally-oriented resolution facing the delegates supports a "drastic reform of the federal income tax system."

$650,000 For Housing For Elderly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has rejected a proposal to give Congress authority to limit the number of American troops assigned to foreign countries in peacetime. The amendment by Sen. Harold D. Hughes, D-Iowa, was defeated 62 to 22 Friday after opponents said it would restrict the ability of U.S. forces to respond to a crisis. The action came during debate on the $20.4-billion defense procurement authorization bill.

Agency Favors Grant Be Given Manchester

DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter)

The state Department of Community Affairs (DCA) has recommended that the Town of Manchester be granted an additional housing for the elderly.

Town officials learned today in a special meeting at the Municipal Building with DCA representatives, that DCA Commissioner Ruben Figueroa has recommended that the state Bonding Commission approve the proposed $640,000 grant.

The $640,000 grant, if approved by the bonding commission — scheduled to meet next week — would provide for construction of 40 units of elderly housing.

"News of the potential state grant is the best news from the local housing field for some time," Mayor John Thompson and A. Paul Berte, Manchester Housing Authority (MHA) member, said in a joint statement Friday. "The 40 units that might be built under this program will significantly relieve the housing need," they said.

The MHA has on file applications from more than 125 elderly persons seeking housing. The MHA runs two elderly housing projects — Westfall Gardens at W. Center St. and Mayfair Gardens at Depot Square.

Those two projects were constructed with federal aid, but when sources of federal grants "dried up," the MHA applied to DCA for assistance, according to Berte, who has served as MHA chairman for the last year.

Three years ago, Berte explained, the local authority applied to the DCA for funds for 65 housing units, and one year ago the application request was increased to 100 units.

"This (the proposed $640,000 grant) is the state's response," Berte said, "and we're very excited about it."

Mayor Thompson, explaining the steps which must be taken to receive the grant, said the Board of Directors will be asked, at its special meeting next Tuesday, to approve a "letter of interest" to prove the town's interest in the housing grant. The MHA must also submit a similar "letter of interest."

It is expected that the $640,000 would cover all the costs of additional elderly housing, but Berte admitted the MHA "doesn't have a handle on the costs at this point."

The Town of Manchester would be required to "front" an estimated $50,000 for the project — for architectural review, site location, surveys, etc. — which would later be reimbursed.

Mayor Thompson said a public hearing will be necessary before there is any final commitment from the town or the MHA. It is likely that the public hearing could be conducted in October or early November, he said.

Berte said, "There are real possibilities of land being available downtown." Berte said, noting that the housing, if located downtown, would give elderly persons easy access to shopping areas and the Senior Citizens Center.

Mayor Thompson said it would be wonderful to have elderly housing downtown. "It would be a 'great location,'" he said. The final selection of the site, however, is up to the MHA and to "what the dollars dictate," the mayor added.

Friday's meeting at the Municipal Building was attended by P.J. Delahanty and David Deakin of the DCA's Bureau of Housing. Mayor Thompson and Assistant Town Manager John Harkins represented the town, and Berte and MHA Counsel Dominick Squitiro represented the MHA.

Bradley International May Be Added To System

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Board announced today the start of an investigation that could overhaul the trans-Atlantic air transportation system and connect 16 new U.S. cities with Europe by direct flight.

Only 11 metropolitan areas now have direct passenger service routes across the Atlantic although Cleveland has direct trans-Atlantic cargo service.

Announcement of the hearings was made by CAB Chairman Robert D. Timm during dedication ceremonies of a new international airport in Dallas-Fort Worth, Tex. The announcement also was released in Washington.

The investigation could bring new cargo carrying authority for chartered airlines and some changes in the route authority of airlines now flying the Atlantic.

Residents of those cities who wish to journey to Europe now must take domestic flights to one of the cities with trans-Atlantic authority and change planes there. In some cases the plane they boarded in their home town would take them directly to Europe, although it might stop in other cities before crossing the Atlantic.

The CAB also said Miami would be considered for new passenger services. Miami already has trans-Atlantic flights through National Airlines.

The board said it decided to investigate the trans-Atlantic route structure because of "increased congestion at many of the East Coast gateways and the continued increase in trans-Atlantic traffic."

It said it was limiting the number of cities to be considered to 16 in order to keep cases to manageable proportions.

Metropolitan areas which currently are served by trans-Atlantic routes are Baltimore-Washington, D.C., Miami, Boston, Chicago, Detroit, Los Angeles, New York, Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., San Francisco and Seattle. San Juan, Puerto Rico, also has a trans-Atlantic route.

Kissinger Takes Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger takes over today as secretary of state, launching a promised era of "new consensus" in foreign policy. Kissinger was confirmed by the Senate Friday on a 97-7 vote. He was to be sworn in as William P. Rogers' successor by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger in the East Room of the White House.

Grave Questions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., says there are "grave questions" as to the propriety of President Nixon choosing his own successor under present circumstances if Vice President Spiro T. Agnew should resign. Kennedy said that, if Agnew quit, Congress should delay confirming a successor until the controversy over the White House tapes Nixon has refused to give up were resolved. Kennedy issued his statement after disclosure of another meeting between Nixon and Agnew.

Agnew Reported Plea Bargaining

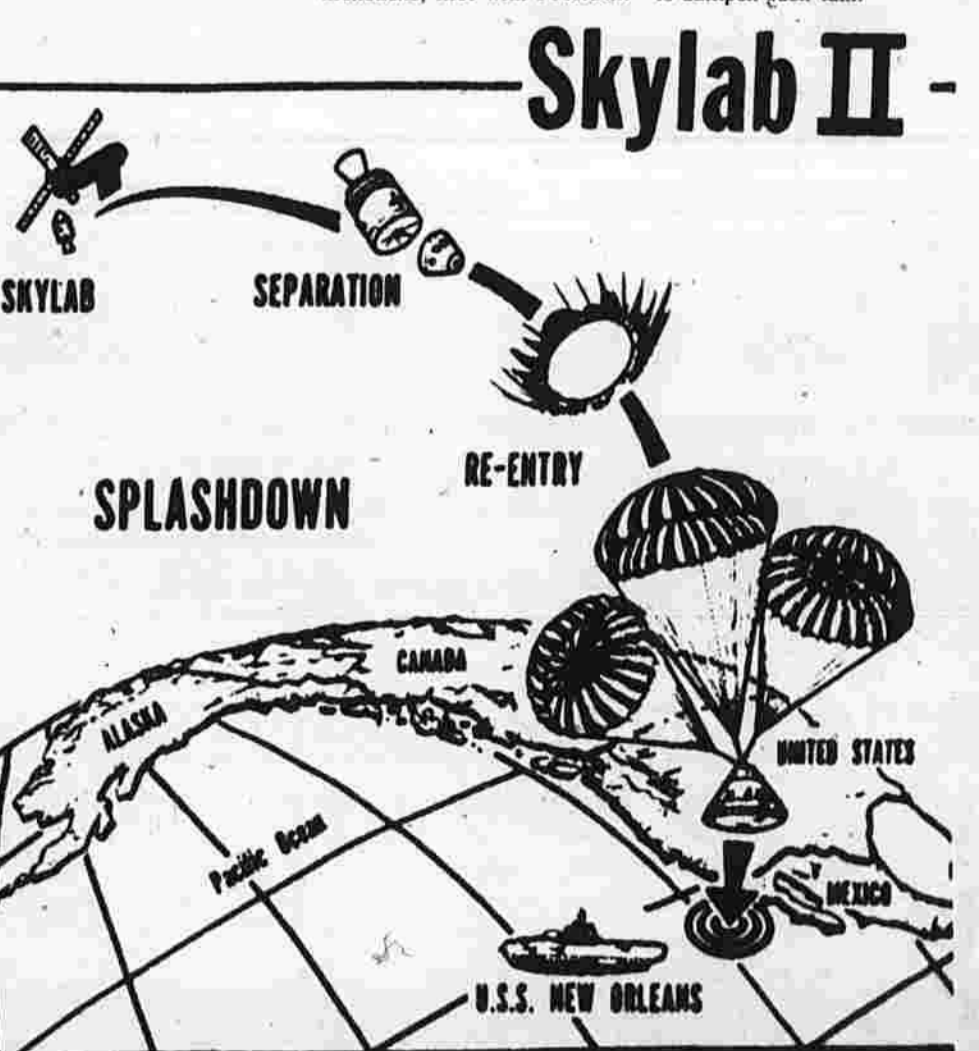

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post quotes a congressional source as saying that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew "is engaged in plea bargaining" — that Agnew's resignation is part of the plea.

The newspaper reported in today's edition that it had been told by informed sources that Agnew's lawyers and Justice Department officials are discussing the possibility of his resigning and pleading guilty to a relatively minor offense. Neither the White House, the party structure or the vice president might be letting some of this discouragement show.

The speculation that Agnew might resign has generated fresh discussion of presidential succession, despite attempts by his office and the White House to dampen such talk.

Anti-Reform Fails

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-reform moves failed to get off the ground as the Democratic party's Commission on Delegate Selection and Party Structure opened a two-day meeting Friday. The commission voted down efforts to undercut its guideline drafting committee. A move to double the body's membership was withdrawn in the face of overwhelming odds.

ABA Leader Says President Not Above The Law

By The Associated Press

The president of the American Bar Association says President Nixon should be impeached if the Supreme Court orders him to release Watergate tapes and he refuses to do so.

"The President is not above the law," Chesterfield Smith, Florida attorney, said at a local news conference in Boston.

The judge also ruled that the fair trial defendant's legal standing to sue. The judge's attorney, John S. Botony, indicated he will appeal.

In another Washington courtroom, Chief U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica ordered five of the original Watergate defendants to file affidavits supporting their pleas of guilty.

E. Howard Hunt, Frank Sturgis, Bernard L. Barker, Eugenio R. Martinez were ordered to file the affidavits next Wednesday. They pleaded guilty in January to breaking into Democratic National Headquarters on June 17, 1972.

Smith said the suit would violate a constitutional protection granted members of Congress. The Watergate committee had argued that the Constitution protects senators.

TV Herald Format Changed

With today's issue of The Manchester Evening Herald, readers will notice the former four-page TV Herald section listing television programs and carrying news and features about upcoming television programs has been changed.

This action has been taken with regret but is a necessity in order to conserve newspaper supplies.

In the interim, until newspaper again becomes more plentiful, the television listings will be carried for the week in Saturday's edition in an abbreviated form. This week it appears on page six. The daily listing programs, normally carried on page two each night, will continue.

The Business Review page, normally printed today will be published Monday, again because of space limitations imposed by the newspaper shortage.

We hope our readers will continue to be with us when we are forced to make changes to conserve newspaper.

Intellectual Suppression

Dictatorships live in great fear of intellectual dissent. They thrive only in an atmosphere of slavish unanimity of thought and conformity with the ideas laid down from above. Russia is giving the world new and overpowering indications that it is the same Communist dictatorship which it has always been.

Both had been sentenced in Russian courts because they had written of the sentencing of dissidents to mental hospitals and had urged greater freedom on the Soviet Union.

We cannot be dismayed by the jovial attitude of a Leonid Brezhnev, who almost acts the buffoon on his visits to the United States. Russia is still the same as it was under Lenin, and Stalin. While there are no great purges, nor repetition of the infamous starvation of the Ukraine, Russia is making war, in cold blooded fashion, on those who dissent or criticize the state.

While they had previously recanted at their trials, they were still paraded before a press corps to make their retractions seem authentic.

Alexander Solzhenitsyn, controversial Russian author of works suppressed in that country, has charged the Russian secret police with the death of a friend of his.

Released by the police she returned to her home and to deep remorse over the betrayal of Solzhenitsyn hanged herself.

Professor Andrei Sakharov, Russian physicist has charged that "mind-bending drugs are used in the Soviet to influence the minds of Russian dissidents who, in lieu of prison, are sent to Red hospitals on the pretext that they are insane."

Evidently if they are of sound mind at the time of their commitment they soon become demented through the medicinal use of drugs. The aim seems to be to destroy a mind which does not agree with them and is of sufficient repute to sway the people.

In spite of a state inspired campaign to discredit him, Sakharov has charged that Russian psychiatrists methodically use drugs to induce mental imbalance. He dares the authorities to send the "sick" patients to western hospitals for treatment so that their illness may be verified or disproved.

In another instance two Soviet intellectuals, Pyotr Yakir, a historian and Viktor Krasin, an economist, were paraded between western

The Russian "police State" actions have caused a revolution in the United States. American scientists have warned in a lengthy and strongly worded cable that they will refuse to cooperate with Russian scientists in the future if the harassment of Sakharov continues.

House Ways and Means Committee Chairman Wilbur Mills has told Russia he will not support favorable trade agreements while the suppression of intellectuals continues.

Perhaps, these are steps that will influence Russia. Perhaps not. The events will remind us that the Soviet began as a dictatorial Communist state and so it remains today. The cheerful department of Red dignitaries visiting abroad is by no means indicative of liberalization of freedom within.

The Laird Caper

WASHINGTON — Domestic counselor Melvin R. Laird's suggestion that President Nixon might yet propose a tax increase has become a hot topic as he defies reality both at the Treasury and on Capitol Hill. As viewed both on Capitol Hill and in the administration, Laird's main purpose was to cool the feverish Nixon and chairmen of the Federal Reserve Board, and at the same time promote his own concept of "open government."

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The unobtrusive arrival here of a ghostwriter commissioned by Doubleday and Co. to write the definitive autobiography of Gov. George Wallace for pre-1976 publication is the latest in that Wallace's confinement to a wheelchair may be no greater political hazard than it was to Franklin D. Roosevelt.

That was late one evening last week, following a two-hour meeting of the 1973 primary commission presided over by the governor. As we left at 7 p.m., Wallace's legislative leaders in his office for another hour's conference.

When we last visited a fatigued and pain-ridden Wallace a year ago, he could not stop reminiscing about his phenomenal 1972 primary victories, particularly his sweeping presidential campaign in 1976, with the Democratic party's vice presidential nomination the real goal, cannot be dismissed as nonsense.

The Bible Speaks

The Christian message of justification by grace truly is revolutionary in religious thought. For millennia prior to Jesus, theologians and philosophers were wedded to the idea that men could elevate themselves by their own good works — a notion that has never been eradicated.

Today's Thought

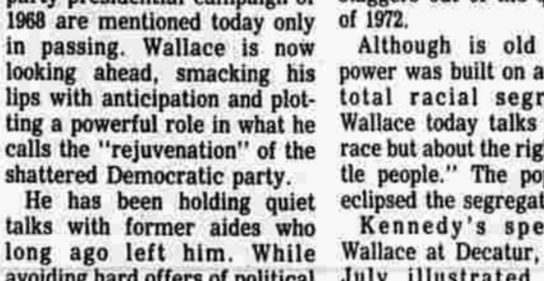

To be religious can be to feel that we are caught up in the workings of a glorious destiny — to feel that in the moment, under the stars, caught outside as the air chimes with the waltz of a glorious destiny.

The Christian message of justification by grace truly is revolutionary in religious thought. For millennia prior to Jesus, theologians and philosophers were wedded to the idea that men could elevate themselves by their own good works — a notion that has never been eradicated.

All who attain the age of responsible choice become sinners. Rom. 3:23. Sin, missing the mark, separates them from God, Isa. 59:13, constituting spiritual death. Eph. 2:1. None is capable of extricating himself from his moral, and except for divine grace, the separation would be complete and irrevocable.

"For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves, it is the gift of God." (Eph. 4:16) If we could be eternally redeemed by his own righteousness, then deity's incarnation and Jesus' death were in vain.

NFL Runners on Move

Tom Landry After 100th Pro Victory

Now It Can Be Told... Bobby Riggs was finally ousted, and in full view of thousands, thanks to television. Riggs looked, and played, like a retired senior citizen in losing to Billie Jean King in the Battle of the Sexes Thursday night in the Houston Astrodome.

NEW YORK (AP) — You remember 1972... the National Football League's Year of the Runner. Well, say hello to 1973 and what looks like an instant replay for those guys who lug the ball through the line.

Riggs looked like he ran out of gas in the first set, Billie Jean's cross-court volleys had the vitamin-eating veteran hopping around like a scared rabbit.

And Dallas Coach Tom Landry will have that same number in mind, but he'll be shooting for career coaching victory No. 100 when he sends the Cowboys against New Orleans in Monday night's nationally televised game.

The previous top crowd for a tennis match was 26,000 in Sydney, Australia for a meeting in 1954 between Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas. The Houston fiasco was witnessed by more than 40,000 payees, plus the usual large number of free loaders for such a type attraction, many of whom served as window dressing.

Landry got No. 99 last week when the Cowboys just managed to beat Chicago 20-17. Miami's defending Super Bowl champions also are after a record. The Dolphins have won 18 consecutive regular season games, tying the NFL record set by the Chicago Bears in 1933-34 and matched by the Bears in 1941-42.

Notes Off the Tack

Up and around and overseeing the 22-team Charter Oak Midget Football Conference this season is Manchester's Bill Skoneski. The former standout end with local teams has been active with the youngsters for years.

Meanwhile, half of Sunday's 12 games will be available to home fans on local television because they were sold out 72 hours before kickoff. That compares to nine of 12 games sold out and shown on home TV last week.

College Football Roundup

Miami Stuns Texas

MIAMI (AP) — Coy Hall, a brash backup quarterback from the University of Miami's 6-6 record football team of 1972, proved to be a brash prophet Friday night when the Hurricanes flattened the University of Texas 20-15.

"I expected it," exclaimed Hall, who combined with alternating quarterback Kary Baker to complete 12 of 18 passes for 118 yards.

The success of Hall and Baker to complete their first four down passes for first downs set up all three touchdowns runs by Miami fullback Woody Thompson. He scored twice from the one and once from the eight.

Israel Celebrates Its 25th Birthday

It has been said that the Israelis built their country with a plow in one hand and a gun in the other. Israel declared itself an independent nation in 1948, 25 years ago. Its founding was the result of a long struggle for what was called the 'Jewish National Home.' Zionists wanted to set up a national homeland for the Jews.

The Bedouins are shepherds. Many live today much like their ancestors did back in the days of the Bible. They live in the desert raising sheep, camels and goats.

All unmarried girls of the age of 15 or older must serve in the armed forces. The Arab-Israeli conflict is an important part of everyday life in Israel.

When the State of Israel was founded in 1948, it was an agricultural, underdeveloped country where most of the manufactured products were made for local sale. Today, the country has many new factories that produce goods for export to other countries.

The Israelis have made great progress in turning dry desert land into cropland. By using advanced methods of farming, they have tripled the amount of cropland. Jews from all over the world have contributed money to help make many of these improvements possible.

According to Prime Minister Golda Meir, the country has been concerned with four main efforts: to defend itself and survive as a nation; to become a homeland for Jews from all over the world; to develop a society that preserves the ancient Jewish values, and to develop resources to give the people a better quality of life.

Israel has come a long way in 25 years. It is hoped that the future will bring peace to the troubled area.

Golda Meir—Israel's Prime Minister

Golda Meir was born in Russia on May 3, 1898. Her father was a carpenter. The family came to America in 1906 and settled in Milwaukee. She later became a teacher. She married Morris Meir and they sailed for Palestine in 1921. She played a big part in Israel's fight for independence. After Israel was established, she served as her country's first Minister to Soviet Russia. She later became Israel's first Minister of Labor. In 1969, she became Prime Minister. She is a mother and has several grandchildren.

Would you like to live on a kibbutz?

A kibbutz is a type of community in Israel where everything is owned by the members who live there. Cows, orchards, farm machinery, houses and everything else is jointly owned. You cannot just go and live on a kibbutz. You have to be asked to become a member. All members must work. They do not get salaries, but receive a place to live, clothing, medical attention and schooling for their children. There is one dining room where everybody eats. Children do not live in the same houses with their parents. They live in their own part of the kibbutz. They spend the Sabbath and a few hours every day with their parents. As the children grow up, they begin to do more and more work around the kibbutz. Free education is offered to all children from the ages of five to 15. There are religious and nonreligious schools. Arab children can go to nonreligious Jewish schools or they can go to their own schools. Parents make the choice. Arabs and Jews alike must pay low tuition fees to go to high school.

Super Sport: Johnny Miller

Johnny Miller just a midget, but he played golf like one in the 1973 U.S. Open. His 63 on the last day of the tournament was regarded by some experts as the greatest round of golf ever played. Naturally, Johnny won the tournament and $65,000. It was his first major championship in four years as a professional. Johnny is a lean, blonde-haired, 26-year old who always attracts a large gallery of female fans. Miller grew up in California and earned money as a caddy. Later, he became one of the best-known golfers around. Now he's one of the brightest young stars on the pro tour.

Ribicoff Criticizes Drug Effort

HARTFORD (AP) - U.S. Sen. Abraham Ribicoff said today the federal government has been so concerned with stopping heroin traffic that it has failed to combat even more widespread abuse of other drugs.

Ribicoff's comments came in a morning news conference following the release of a Senate subcommittee report on the results of a nine-month study of federal drug control efforts. Ribicoff is chairman of the subcommittee.
