

Assent In Soviet Union Assessed

EDITOR'S NOTE — Andrei D. Sakharov, a nuclear physicist, and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, the Russian novelist, are perhaps the best known dissenters in the Soviet Union today. Who are the others? What chance do they have in changing the Soviet system? What is the Kremlin doing about them? Following is the first of three articles on the Soviet civil rights movement.

Yuli Daniel and Andrei Sinyavsky were arrested for having written critically of the Soviet system. Their writings had found their way to the West. This was a benchmark case since the harsh sentences the two drew led to open protests. One protest group calling itself SMOG, the Russ acronym for "Word, Thought, Image, Depth," issued a manifesto and even staged a demonstration in December.

—April 1968: The chronicle of Current Events appeared. This underground, typewritten newspaper, circulated hand to hand in carbon copies, carried names, dates, places, prison terms, types of persecution and other information of interest to dissidents. It appeared regularly every two months until October 1972.

—August 1968: The Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia to strangle a Communist party liberalization brought a public protest demonstration in Moscow. In the words of the young poet Natalya Gorbanevskaya, soon to be imprisoned: "The KGB in civilian clothes fell upon us. Rushing up to us they shouted, 'These are all Jews. Beat the anti-Soviets.' Some were beaten, many arrested."

—November 1970: Sakharov, with two other physicists, formed the Human Rights Committee, later joined by many other eminent figures, including Solzhenitsyn as a "corresponding member."

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
The Kremlin today seems to be searching cautiously for a safe way to snuff out what remains of the Soviet civil rights movement; but while it has won some battles, it is far from winning the war.

It has moved deliberately, anxious to avoid arousing the sort of protest outcry that could endanger its quest for important economic concessions from the United States and the West.

This latest in a series of repression campaigns, launched almost two years ago, has wounded the movement severely, but it remains alive. The drive began when the Kremlin was building its current policy of peaceful coexistence.

It has silenced the underground press, the cement that has kept a frail rights movement together. However, the Kremlin ran head-on into a highly publicized challenge, a situation unique in the history of Communist power, when it turned its heaviest artillery on the outstanding figures of the rights movement.

Stubborn voices, like those of Andrei D. Sakharov, the nuclear physicist, and Alexander I. Solzhenitsyn, the Nobel Prize-winning novelist, refused to be silenced.

The Communist party couldn't remain aloof to this challenge. But these stalwarts were not ordinary men. It would not be as easy to deal with them as the way others had been dealt with: shipment to insane asylums, forced labor or exile. Their towering reputations made their voices too clearly heard.

The dissenters are scientists, writers, other intellectuals. In relation to the Soviet population of 240 million, they are just a handful.

Historically, Russians never have been a revolutionary people. In their vast land, change under the czars had to be forced by the very few who dared challenge absolute authority.

Today's dissenters have programs, dreams, ambitions, ideas—but little in the way of organization or cohesion. Their demands by Western standards would seem extraordinarily mild, nor are these accompanied by the violent clashes with authority so familiar in the West.

Many seeking change come from the ranks of survivors of Stalin's terrible concentration camps. After Stalin died in 1953, some had hope for a more open society, not through overthrow of the existing system but through liberalization.

Dissent had been impossible under Stalin's one-man dictatorship, but for a brief time of thaw under Nikita S. Khrushchev, some hopes were stirred.

These hopes became somewhat clouded in Khrushchev's later years even though as late as 1962 it had been possible for Solzhenitsyn to publish his "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," an account of the horrors of a Stalinist labor camp.

It remained to Khrushchev's successors under the leadership of Leonid I. Brezhnev, the Communist party chief, to stage a series of repression waves reminiscent of the Stalin era. The repression began in 1965 and culminated early in 1972 with the wave that is still in progress.

The Communist party's upper levels, grumbling about "unhealthy tendencies," seemed fearful that something akin to a political opposition might develop. Yet the more they suppressed, the more the opposition appeared to take definite shape.

Some milestones in the development of political opposition: —1962: The Phoenix group, a small band of young intellectuals, launched the forerunner of the underground press, "samizdat"—self-publication—press, typewritten script passed hand to hand.

—Early 1965: A political underground in Leningrad formed the "All Russian Social Christian Union" with charter members, professional people and intellectuals. The program called for a democratic system,

House Turns Down Agnew Request Grand Jury Begins Probe of Charges

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A special federal grand jury today began hearing evidence allegedly involving Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in a widespread tangle of political corruption.

It has, though, already indicted one Maryland official, N. Dale Anderson, who succeeded Agnew as Baltimore County executive when Agnew was elected governor in 1966. Anderson has pleaded innocent to 39 counts of bribery, extortion and conspiracy and has branded the charges a result of "coerced and perjured testimony."

Tax Money Helps Make Loans Cheaper Abroad

By JOSH FITZHUUGH AP Business Writer NEW YORK (AP)— While Americans have found it costly and sometimes impossible to borrow money recently, tax money has helped provide relatively cheap and easy loans for U.S. exporters and foreign companies seeking American goods.

Warren Glick, Eximbank's senior vice president for financing, said: "At the time we made the loan it was not clear the cotton market was that tight. We would take a much closer look if we considered the loan today."

Petty and Glick said the 6 per cent rate is necessary for "planning and consistency" and to remain competitive in world markets, where Germany, France and Japan finance exporters at 6 to 7 1/2 per cent.

"Although Eximbank sees its role as a lender of last resort, because its interest rate has been lower and its repayment terms longer than comparable commercial financing, borrowers tend to seek Eximbank financing as a first resort," the GAO said.

State School Enrollments Decline

By GARY LU... Alfred R. Villa, chief of the department's Bureau of Educational Management and Finance, told The Associated Press the figures were preliminary and that it would be several years before the department could assess the total effect of the declines.

One result will be less school construction, he said. Only 10 new schools are scheduled to open in Connecticut this year compared to 27 just four years ago.

One thing the enrollment trend probably won't affect is the amount of money needed for education, Villa said. He said 80 to 90 per cent of school budgets go for salaries and other fixed costs, which are expected to increase through inflation.

"I don't see any reasonable opportunity for saving money," he said.

Because of the declines, roughly 8,100 fewer teachers will be needed by 1980 but "normal turnover" from teachers retiring or leaving for other jobs will take care of that, Villa said.

An increase in Connecticut's birth rate, more in-migration from other states or a U.S. Supreme Court decision cutting back state support to non-public schools could reverse the present pattern, he added.

About 100,000 pupils, or 15 per cent of the state's school population, attend non-public schools, he said.

"Even a 5 per cent total increase would be a traumatic upsurge," he said.

The declining enrollments signal an end to the post-War II "baby boom" that caused Connecticut school populations to increase every year after 1946.

Tax Money Helps Make Loans Cheaper Abroad

By JOSH FITZGUGH AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - While Americans have found it costly and sometimes impossible to borrow money recently, their tax money has helped provide relatively cheap and easy loans for U.S. exporters and foreign companies seeking American goods.

Despite the Treasury borrowing, the bank's reliance on private borrowing may cause "a problem in funding the institution if the prime rate stays high much longer," Glick acknowledged. The Treasury dividend may be dropped, he said.

Dr. Peter Beter, a former counsel for Eximbank and author of a new book, "The Conspiracy Against the Dollar," said the low interest rate and "bad loans made at the insistence of President Nixon and adviser Henry Kissinger" have caused bank directors to dip into reserves.

"They have absolutely plundered the bank," Beter said, noting that both Eximbank chairman Henry Kearns and executive vice president Don Boswick have resigned recently.

Glick said both men are leaving for personal reasons. U.S. exporters, in concert with American banks and investment houses, arrange most Eximbank loans for foreign buyers. The usual practice is to credit a commercial bank, which in turn pays the exporter and is reimbursed by Eximbank. Eventually the borrower repays Eximbank in dollars.

Devaluations of the dollar have made loans easier to repay, Glick concedes, thereby further reducing the real interest. Officials agree another result of the subsidized loans is increased inflation.

"Export financing is inflationary," said Petty. "But one must remember that the purpose is to stimulate U.S. exports."

Hillary Gallagher (Republican Candidate for Director) "The bridge on Olcott St. washed out in June, and in my opinion that street has been closed for far too long. With classes now underway at the community college, many students, particularly those coming off of I-98, must find an alternate route through the residential neighborhoods in the area, where there are stop signs every few blocks, making their trip to school considerably longer."

Town Man Held On Drug Charges

A 19-year-old Manchester man is being held in jail on several drug charges relating to alleged marijuana sales, Manchester Police reported today.

The man, James H. Blain of 43 Cyle Rd., was taken into custody Tuesday night on charges of illegal sale and possession of cannabis-type substance. Manchester Police said those charges stem from an alleged sale of two pounds of suspected marijuana to an undercover agent of the Capitol Region Crime Squad. Police estimated that two pounds of marijuana is worth about $400 "on the street."

After Blain's arrest by Manchester Police, East Hartford Police — armed with a Hartford County Superior Court bench warrant — charged him with four counts each of sale and possession of cannabis-type substance. The arrest by warrant occurred Wednesday.

Blain is being held at the Connecticut Correctional Center at Hartford in lieu of bonds totaling $12,500. Bond on the Manchester charges was set at $2,500, and bond on charges lodged via the bench warrant was set at $10,000.

In other Manchester Police case reports: —Jeffrey A. Carrara, 20, of 543 Vernon St., was charged Wednesday afternoon with operating unregistered motor vehicle and operating motorcycle without a license. Court date is Oct. 1.

—Helen A. Bodino, 17, of 1111 Main St., was charged Wednesday afternoon with third-degree larceny (shoplifting) at King's Department Store, Manchester Parkade. Court date is Oct. 15.

—Personal possessions valued at about $200 were taken in a house break at the 470 Adams St. home of Hans Bertram Wednesday afternoon, police said. The stolen goods included watches, rings, and cash.

A gallon of milk and an undetermined amount of cash were taken in a Wednesday night break into Town House Plaza, 314 Main St., police reported. The break occurred sometime after 11 p.m.

—William M. Kenyon, branch manager of the North Manchester office of the Hartford National Bank and Trust Co., has been appointed chairman of the United Way, 6 Citizens' advisory committee which studied the proposal and made recommendations.

While none of the town committee members opposed the plan, several expressed reservations about the way officials have sought in the past to convince voters that it should be approved.

But Michalak said that for 30 years the Board of Education has been "legally blackmailed" taxpayers by saying that if it is not in the budget and the facilities it cannot do the job of educating the children.

"He put it the way the citizens want to hear it," Michalak said of a presentation that had been made earlier by Kennedy.

In his remarks, Kennedy stressed the facilities that would be provided in the plan and the programs that would be made possible by the facilities.

For Bennett he listed a gym to replace the one at the East Side Rec which he described as inadequate, a library to replace one which is too small, and a media center, as well as shop and music facilities.

At filing, he said, the addition would house ninth graders now in Manchester High School and permit the high school to develop a graphic arts program which would continue the ones now in the junior high schools, and to provide needed space for the growing work study program (COEP).

Both Kennedy and Susag stressed, in response to questions about school population decline, that none of the work contemplated was based on the assumption that more students would be served. They said the project was developed primarily to relieve existing overcrowding at the secondary level.

Both insisted that population projections are always inexact. They said that under present projections the overcrowding would be relieved if no building took place, but that it would not happen for 15 years.

Several in the audience asked why the Iling and Bennett projects are joined on the voting machines in the Nov. 6 election instead of being presented separately.

Several of those involved in planning the project replied to the effect that it involved a single problem — crowding at the secondary level — separated into two locations.

'Tony' Boyle's Condition Critical

WASHINGTON (AP) — Deposed union leader W. A. "Tony" Boyle remained in critical condition today after developing a "rapid, irregular heartbeat," according to spokesmen at George Washington University Hospital.

Boyle, 71, former president of the United Mine Workers Union, was hospitalized Monday night and doctors later said he had apparently attempted suicide by taking barbiturates.

His condition had improved slightly Wednesday and he was taken off a respirator and kidney machine. A hospital spokesman said he was "stuporous" but did respond somewhat to loud noises.

Boyle is facing murder charges in the 1969 slayings of the United Fund drive in Yablonksi and Yablonksi's wife and daughter.

He had been scheduled for a hearing in the case Tuesday, but that was later postponed. In addition to the murder charge, he is also charged with conspiracy in the case.

Kenyon is a graduate of Nichols College of Business Administration. He is a member of the Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce, and a member of the Connecticut Army National Guard.

There are 13 services in Manchester which directly benefit from the United Way, which has been the major community fund raising campaign in Greater Hartford. The United Way concept is the most economical and efficient way to help these agencies.

Of the 70 services in the Greater Hartford area, one out of every three persons utilizes the services during a year.

Chairman Kenyon says, "Nothing can be done alone. It all has to be done together." Kenyon and his wife, Judith, live in Granby.

GOP Delays Vote On School Plan

The executive committee of the Republican Town Committee took no stand Wednesday night on the town proposal for an addition to the Iling Junior High School and alterations to the Bennett Junior High School complex.

The group decided to bring the matter up again at a mid-October meeting of the GOP Town Committee after its members have had more time to study the issues.

The executive committee took up the question after the full committee, with about 60 attending, heard arguments in favor of the $5.8 million dollar plan. The speakers were Phillip Susag, a member of the Board of Education; James Kennedy, superintendent of schools; Charles Crocini, co-chairman of a citizens' advisory committee which studied the proposal and made recommendations.

While none of the town committee members opposed the plan, several expressed reservations about the way officials have sought in the past to convince voters that it should be approved.

But Michalak said that for 30 years the Board of Education has been "legally blackmailed" taxpayers by saying that if it is not in the budget and the facilities it cannot do the job of educating the children.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB
TEA HAS HALF AS MUCH
Coffee, tea have caffeine

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.
Dear Dr. Lamb — I am particularly interested in your remarks regarding caffeine in relation to coffee. You do not mention tea, and I am wondering if there is not as much, or even more, caffeine in tea as there is in coffee.

My mother and father were English and both heavy tea drinkers and lived to over 80. What does this signify, if anything?

Dear Reader— The age span five your parents indicates that there's a lot more to longevity than drinking tea, and it begins with inherited factors. Don't count, however, on heredity determining one's lifespan, because there are so many other factors, such as those that contribute to fatty deposits in the arteries (atherosclerosis), common in our society today that the heredity factors play little, if any role in group statistics on longevity.

Tea certainly does contain caffeine, and the caffeine in tea behaves exactly like caffeine from any other source, including that of coffee. The only difference, and this has to be a generalization, is the way in which coffee and tea are brewed. It is commonly said that a cup of tea has about half as much caffeine in it as a cup of coffee. This means if you're used to drinking five cups of coffee a day to get the same amount of caffeine from tea drinking, you'd have to drink 10 cups of tea. Of course, this depends on how strong you brew your tea, and how strong or weak you brew your coffee.

Incidentally, the tea leaves originally contain much more caffeine than does the coffee bean. It's the way in which it's brewed and processed that makes the final difference. It's important to remember that when you talk about habits or specific findings, such as coffee drinking, tea drinking, alcohol drinking, smoking, physical activity or diet, that in each instance each one of these is only one of many factors that influence what happens to your health and longevity.

There are individuals who have greater resistance to disease than others. Just as some people are susceptible to colds and others are not, it requires careful statistical

The Rev. John Kozon, pastor of St. Columba's Church, has been transferred to St. Mary of Czestochowa Church, Middletown. It was announced by Bishop Vincent Hines of Norwich.

Fr. Kozon has served as pastor here since September 1971. Succeeding him will be The Rev. Edward Davis of St. Edward's Church, Stafford Springs.

Fr. Kozon, a native of Wynon, Pa., was ordained in 1949 at St. Joseph's Cathedral, Hartford. He served as assistant pastor at St. Andrew's Church, Colchester; Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church, New London and St. Joseph's Church, Rockyville, where he was also the administrator.

St. Mary's grammar school will be in his new parish. Fr. Davis was ordained in Boston in 1949. His parish work included churches in Massachusetts and Rhode Island. He also taught in Catholic high schools in Detroit before coming to Connecticut in 1966. He first served as an assistant pastor at St. Edward's Church in Stafford Springs and then at St. Patrick's Cathedral in Norwich. He returned to St. Edward's as assistant pastor in June last year.

He will begin his duties Oct. 2.

analysis of groups of individuals to really gain an impression of what the difference environmental factors in life styles and habits do in terms of increasing the likelihood and risk of health problems.

If you were to take a group of individuals who were overweight and had high cholesterol levels, you would find that they have a much higher rate of heart and vascular disease than a comparable group of individuals who are of normal weight and had low cholesterol levels; but this does not mean that you could tell each and every individual in the overweight group, for example, that he was going to have a heart attack, nor could you tell everyone in the thin group with low cholesterol levels that they were not going to have one. All you can do is express the increased or decreased likelihood, as the case may be.

A half-time WEP was approved by the Board of Education contingent upon state funding. Although surrounding communities have a similar program the concept is new to Bolton.

GAO Lists Cost Overruns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's interstate highway system and 19 other non-military government projects have cost taxpayers $3 billion over original estimates, General Accounting Office figures show.

Interstate highways accounted for $2 billion of the cost overruns found by GAO auditors in a study of 20 civilian projects requested by Rep. William L. Dickinson, R-Ala. The remaining $1 billion includes overruns on the Apollo moon-landing program, rapid transit systems in San Francisco and Washington, D.C., a dam in Idaho and three buildings in Washington.

The results, said Dickinson, "point out rather vividly that cost overruns are not the exclusive property of the Department of Defense but cover the whole spectrum of government contracts."

The interstate highway system was originally projected to cost $1 billion but the GAO said it is costing $69.9 billion instead.

These other overruns were included on the list inserted by Dickinson in the Congressional Record this week:

—Moon-landing module, $916 million. Overruns in two other space programs — the Viking mission and the Saturn workshop projects — totaled $800 million.

—San Francisco's Bay Area Rapid Transit system and the Washington, D.C. Metro subway system, $500 million each.

—Dworshak Dam in Idaho, $225 million; the World Trade Center, $300 million; the Seacaus, N.J., bulk mail distributing plant, $51 million.

—Washington's Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, $41 million; the new FBI building, $45 million; the Department of Labor Building, $46 million.

An outline of how the program will operate, within the school system will also be presented with a question and answer period following.

Fisk notes it is most important for parents to attend this meeting so he will be able to report on community reaction to the Board of Education so they may make the right decision to approve, disapprove or modify the Family Life proposal.

John Fisk, chairman of the Family Life Study Committee, invites all parents of Bolton students to attend a Family Life curriculum in the school Oct. 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room of Bolton Elementary School.

With the approval of the Board of Education the committee has spent two years studying the feasibility of developing and implementing a Family Life Curriculum for Bolton schools.

To date several curriculum units have been developed with the school board approving the concept of Family Life education and provisionally approving the units submitted to them by the committee.

When the school board has knowledge of the feelings of the community as to the implementation of Family Life curriculum in the schools it will act accordingly.

At the Oct. 15 meeting the three areas developed to date will be reviewed. They include: Physical Growth and Development, Grades K-12; Communicable Diseases, Grades 7-12 and Mental Health, Grades K-4.

President Andrew Johnson who was saved from impeachment conviction by only one vote, failed to win the Democratic nomination for president in 1860. He was also denied election as U.S. Senator in 1869 and to the House of Representatives in 1872. However, he was elected to the Senate in 1874 and died a few months later.

Bob & Carol & Ted, Etc. Awful? Awful & Awful

BY JAY SHARBUIT
AP Television Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — There's no use hedging. ABC's new "Bob & Carol & Ted & Alice" is awful & awful & awful & awful. NBC's new "Faraday and Company" isn't much better, although it is an hour longer. The two television networks brought out both series Wednesday night. The move was not in the interest of public necessity.

"Bob & Carol" is based on a racy movie of the same name. I never saw the movie, but it was billed as a comedy about modern morality and/or wifeswapping.

The TV version deletes the trading game, at least in the opening show, which does little more than introduce the series' regulars.

Bob (Bob Ulrich) and Carol

(Anne Archer) are a mod couple with an "open" marriage. Ted (David Spielberg) and Alice (Anita Gillette) are an older, squarer couple whose marital motto is semper fidelis.

As the curtain rises, Ted is at Bob & Carol's house and he is worried about his secretary, whom he thinks is in love with him. It all started at an office Christmas party, when she kissed him.

No subsequent hanky-panky occurred, but Ted is alarmed that such may soon happen. Says he, "I can't change those things about me that turn her on."

He tells all to his wife of 15 years. She giggles. Then he fires the secretary. Then Alice and Carol say he's wrong to do that. So he rehires the secretary. Then Alice gets mad at him. Then they make up.

NBC's "Faraday and Company" stars Dan Dailey as a geriatric gumshoe and James Naughton as his 27-year-old illegitimate son. The opening show also featured lame plotting and limp dialogue.

Dailey, it seems, had spent the last 23 years in a banana republic jail in the Caribbean. He was probing the murder of his private eye partner in said republic when jailed by a corrupt government official.

The partner was trying to find out who stole $3 million worth of securities from a Los Angeles firm at the time of death.

Dailey is unexpectedly set free when the republic is torn by revolution and a near-miss from a bomb that blows a hole in the prison wall.

He decamps, dirty and bearded, to the nearest U.S. Embassy.

If You Have A Form To Fill Out Do It Before You Read This

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The world may be destroyed again by flood. The world may be consumed to a cinder by a vast atomic fireball.

But some astute students of our planet see a fate possibly even more imminent: the human race may simply be nullified by increasing tidal waves of government forms.

Filling out forms has within the last half century become perhaps the major nuisance of civilization. It is such an essential part of modern life it remains surprising that no college gives an advanced course in how to do it.

You can take courses in the history of early Roman landforms, drive a car or keep a dog within the limits of most cities. But if he gets caught, he will find his adventures in filling out government forms are only beginning.

HARTFORD (AP) — Connecticut Labor Commissioner Jack A. Fusari challenged delegates to the State Labor Council's annual convention Wednesday to come to his department and see where they are wrong about Connecticut's unemployment picture.

"Never has unemployment reached the 16,000 figure supposedly computed by the council, not even in the depression years of 1929 and the 1930's," he said as he addressed the convention on its final day.

"The highest unemployment rate in Connecticut was the peak year of 1971 when it was officially estimated... at 148,000," he said, adding that the figure has been dropping ever since.

"Forty-nine other states use the same system to estimate unemployment," Fusari said. Earlier this week, Council President John J. Driscoll said Connecticut had more than 180,000 people unemployed last June compared to the department's official estimate of 90,000.

Fusari told the delegates his department was about to launch a statewide survey to determine what happens to people after they exhaust their unemployment benefits. He said it would be the first such survey since 1958.

Fusari also said he didn't know why the council opposed the department's takeover this year of occupational health and safety inspections from the federal government.

He said the department had 37 full-time inspectors compared to the six the federal government had for all of Connecticut and part of Massachusetts. He added that his preliminary budget for 1974-75 included a request for additional inspectors, who will be paid with funds provided under the federal Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Fusari said that the federal government conducted only 73-140 inspections in the country from March 1971 through July 1972. During the same period the department's Factory Inspection Division made 81,408 inspections in Connecticut, he added.

Meanwhile, Justin Ostro, president of the Greater Hartford Labor Council, defeated Dominic J. Babilato of New Britain, an official of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, in an election for executive vice-president of the council. The official vote was 47,999 for Ostro to 43,765 for Babilato.

These forms beset us at every step throughout our existence. In fact, there are only two major events in our lives at which we don't have to fill out a government form — birth and death. On these occasions the paperwork is done for us by grudging doctors, whose signatures testify on the appropriate documents that we are legally alive or legally dead.

A smart child can also usually cozen relatives or family friends to sign his baptismal certificate, but after that he is pretty much on his own. Pen in hand, he spends the rest of his days filling out forms.

You have to fill out a form to pay taxes.

You have to fill out a form to open a business.

You have to fill out a form to buy a house or a car.

You have to fill out a form to build an addition to your house.

You have to fill out another form if you want to burn down your barn legally.

You have to fill out a form to get a wedding certificate.

You have to fill out a form to get a divorce.

can rob a bank or steal an automobile. But if he gets caught, he will find his adventures in filling out government forms are only beginning.

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A caterpillar which rarely harms much foliage in Connecticut has defoliated 19,431 acres of woodland in eastern Connecticut, a state entomologist reports.

A recent aerial survey by the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station revealed the effects of the red-humped oakworm in eight towns near the Rhode Island state line, according to entomologist John Anderson.

The hardest-hit towns are Sterling with 8,379 acres defoliated and Killingly with 6,045 acres affected.

About half of the foliage has been eaten on many of the trees and feeding is expected to continue for at least another week, Anderson said.

The only record of other widespread defoliation by the red-humped oakworm was in 1940, when no more than 10 acres in Bloomfield were stripped.

The worm, which actually has orange coloring on its head and a hump near its rear end, can reach 1 1/2 inches in length. The body is white with thick yellow and fine black lines. The adult moths lay eggs on the underside of leaves in early July. Caterpillars hatch in mid-July and feed in groups until they stop eating in early October.

Anderson said late-season defoliation seldom has lasting effects on trees. But because the gypsy moth has defoliated some of the same trees this year, some of them may be harmed.

Other towns affected, with the areas of defoliation, are Plainfield, 975 acres; Putnam, 897; Voluntown, 792; Brooklyn, 351; Pomfret 156; and Thompson, 117.

Ribicoff Backs Trident

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Trident submarine program is vital to the future of this country and to world peace," Sen. Abraham Ribicoff told the Senate Wednesday in a speech urging full funding for the project.

The Connecticut Democrat said the Trident was needed to update and reinforce the Polaris-Posidon submarine system, which was developed in the 1950s and would not provide a sufficient deterrent against nuclear attack in the 1980s.

"The Soviets are already building their equivalent of our Trident submarines and missiles, and a number of them are already in the water," Ribicoff said.

Ribicoff said the Trident, which would carry 24 missiles with a range of 4,000 miles, would have better protection against enemy attack than present submarines enjoy.

Approval of the Trident program will provide the country with the bargaining power necessary for the second round of the SALT talks, he said.

"At a time when we are unsure of Soviet intentions, the Congress must ensure the credibility of our overall defense posture and of our nuclear deterrent," he said.

Deshaies-Dewson

Miss Barbara Ann Dewson of Coventry and Raymond J. Deshaies of Willimantic were united in marriage Sept. 8 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Dewson of Koolwood Dr., Coventry. Mr. Deshaies is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Deshaies of Willimantic.

The Rev. Douglas Theuner of St. Paul's Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of silk organza with venise and Aleon lace trim and designed with Empire lines, mandarin collar, Bishop sleeves, all encrusted with seed pearls and iridescents. A Camelot headpiece held her chapel-length mantilla of silk illusion and she carried a bouquet of white roses, blue delphinium, and baby's breath.

Mrs. Joan Vaconello of East Hartford was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a cotton voile gown designed with a natural waist, high neckline, long tapered sleeves and semi A-line skirt, accented with venise lace. She wore a white picture hat and carried white daisies, yellow roses and baby's breath.

Bridesmaids were Miss Wanda Rodriguez of Bridgeport and Miss Sharon Greene of Columbia, the bride's cousin. They wore gowns designed similar to that worn by the honor attendant except in blue. They carried pink roses, white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Karen Mills of Massachusetts and her groom matched that worn by the honor attendant except it was in green. She wore a green boy hostess and carried a basket of yellow daisies, pink carnations.

Andre Archambault of Willimantic was best man. Ushers were Kenneth Adams and Robert Nye, both of Willimantic.

A reception was held at the Garden Grove in Manchester, after which the couple left on a trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania. For traveling Mrs. Deshaies wore a two-piece pink pantsuit and a pink rose corsage. The couple will reside on Sycamore Lane in Manchester.

Bike Hike To Benefit Retarded

BEVERLY DUKETT Correspondent

South Windsor schools, churches, clubs and organizations are jointly sponsoring a Bike-Hike for the retarded to raise funds for the mentally retarded of Connecticut. The campaign, part of the National "Bike-Hike for the Retarded," is an effort to draw attention to the needs of the mentally retarded and to raise money for programs of the Connecticut Association of Retarded Children.

Volunteer walkers and riders will try to cover all or part of a 12 mile route beginning and ending at South Windsor High School. Maps will be provided to participants and checkpoints will be set up at intervals along the route to accurately clock miles walked or ridden. Several rest stops will be available.

The Bike-Hike will take place on Sunday, Oct. 4 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. with a wrap-up at South Windsor High School from 5 to 6 p.m. The rain date is Oct. 21.

Individual or business sponsors are needed to pledge a dime, a dollar, or whatever they choose to back hikers and bikers on their trip. People of all ages are urged to join. Children under the age of nine must be accompanied by an adult. Family groups are urged to participate.

Pledge forms may be obtained from all schools or from Pat Smith, 644-8338. Additional information cards are available from Marilyn Fugliese at 644-8664.

President Nixon Signs Compromise Vo-Rehab Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed today a bill that he says is good news for Americans "who have wanted the Congress and the administration to stop butting heads and start pulling together for the public good."

Nixon had twice before vetoed rehabilitation bills he termed fiscally irresponsible. In a statement issued in connection with a formal signing ceremony in the Oval Office, with a large congressional delegation invited as witnesses, Nixon said he was happy to put his signature on latest measure.

While praising the compromise legislation, Nixon said it was perhaps symbolic that it was the first piece of social legislation he has had an opportunity to sign since submitting a special State of the Union message to Congress earlier this month urging what he termed "a fresh start on our long legislative agenda."

Teachers Reinstated

WALLINGFORD (AP) — The board of education has reinstated eight elementary school teachers to the financially troubled school system.

The board's action has prompted the Wallingford Education Association to drop court action against the town. The suit was based on current assignments to current teachers because of the firings.

Mayor Joseph Carini, who brought the budget pressure on the board that resulted in the firings, said he was "about to announce that there was now money available within the school board budget which would allow the reinstatement of the eight teachers."

Milk Price To Go Up In October

NEWINGTON (AP) — Consumers will have to pay two cents per quart more for milk in October, a farmers' cooperative agency said Tuesday.

Harold Holmbohn, general manager of Yankee Milk Inc., said the price increase would take effect despite "refusal of government agencies to take emergency action to increase federal orders prices in the northeast."

Neighbor's Kitchen

From Your By Vivian F. Ferguson

A few weeks ago, I received a lovely letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Cone. She asked me if I had a recipe for Summer Squash Pie.

I telephoned Mrs. Cone to see if she meant what she said. I knew that many cooks use butternut squash in making pie. "No," she told me, "I had seen a recipe in perhaps the Yankee magazine but failed to copy it down."

Having found a copy of the 199 of the Yankee Cook Book, in the old book store at the Center, I gave her the following recipe and asked her to call me if she made it.

Yellow Squash Pie 1 1/2 cups cooked squash, put through a colander 1/4 cup flour 1 1/2 cups milk, "more or less" 2 egg yolks, beaten 1 tablespoon molasses sugar to taste ginger and nutmeg to taste Last, add beaten whites of the 2 eggs and beat in well. Bake in lower crust only.

The book stated that, while this recipe came from Maine, it more properly belonged to the South. An enterprising lady, Mrs. Cone devised her own recipe which I have tasted. It is unusual, not too sweet though you can add more sugar if you like. For Thanksgiving, she will try whipped cream on top.

Elizabeth Cone's Summer Squash Pie 1 1/2 cups cooked summer squash 1/2 cup flour 1/2 cup sugar 1 tablespoon molasses 1 1/2 cups milk 1/2 teaspoon ginger 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon 2 eggs

Cook squash day before, drain well in colander in large bowl, mash well, drain off water as it comes. Next day, add flour, sugar, spices, mix well, add beaten egg yolks and milk. Fold in egg whites which have been stiffly beaten. Bake in one pie shell at 450 for 10 minutes, then at 350 for about one hour or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

Mrs. Cone came to Manchester from Scotland in 1910. Her father had come here three years before that. He thought Manchester a marvelous place for a young woman. When young Elizabeth arrived, she was in a state of shock.

"He never told me I was coming to the country. After coming from the city of Glasgow, you can imagine how I felt when there were no street lights at night. There were old-fashioned oil lamps and the out-houses—I never could get used to that."

Mrs. Cone well remembers her cousin, Annie Leggett, calling to invite her to go walking upstreet. "First of all, I had never heard that expression 'upstreet' before. We walked awhile and I said to Annie, 'When do we get upstreet?' Annie turned to me and said 'Well, we've passed it.' I couldn't believe those few dinky stores..."

Oddly enough, Elizabeth's father would return to Scotland where his talents as a ship-builder could be put to good use. His daughter, would weather all the changes in her life, meet Everett Cone, marry, and establish strong ties in her adopted country.

She would have three sons, two of them would marry Manchester girls. Everett wed Elsie Demko; George married Frances Gurski; Wilson, a bachelor, lives with his mother at 28 View St. There are six grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Mrs. Cone, now a widow, is active with the Senior Citizens of Manchester, received an award for her contributions to the organization earlier this year. She is a member of North Methodist Church and the Daughters of Scotia Lodge of Hartford.

From her Scotch ancestry comes a recipe for Albert cake. Mrs. Cone doesn't know who Albert is. I find no reference in any of my material on Scotland. Write me if you have any clues or information.

Scotch Albert Cake Line a deep pudding dish with pie crust sides and bottom. Cover bottom generously with currents (jam can be used). Pour over all your favorite layer cake recipe (enough for a two-layer cake). Bake one hour at 350. When cool, frost with a plain icing, either white or colored pink.

Kovolski-Crouse

Emanuel Lutheran Church, Manchester was the site Sept. 14 of the marriage of Miss Jeanne Clare Crouse of Manchester and Michael Peter Kovolski of West Hartford.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray S. Crouse of 456 Adams St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kovolski of West Hartford.

The Rev. Roger Rovig of West Hartford and the Rev. Ronald Fournier of Emanuel Lutheran Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Richard Matteson of Manchester was organist and Ronald Ericson, also of Manchester, was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory floor-length gown of silk crepe, trimmed at Empire waist with Aleon lace and lavender ribbons, and designed with long puffed sleeves, high neckline. Her ivory chapel-length mantilla was edged in re-embroidered Aleon lace. She carried a cascade of yellow roses and white baby's breath.

Mrs. James Soltman of Manchester was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Robert Bosworth of Amherst, Mass. and Miss Leslie Levin of Scarsdale, N.Y.

They wore polyester crepe gowns of lavender with pink floral print, designed with Empire waist, long sleeves, square neck and matching Dior bow. They carried old-fashioned bouquets of lavender, white daisies with purple streamers. John Stewart of West Hartford was best man. Ushers were John Kovolski Jr. of West Hartford, James Kovolski of West Hartford and William Kovolski of Philadelphia, Pa., all brothers of the bridegroom; and James Soltman of Manchester.

A reception was held at Willie's Steak House, Manchester. After a wedding trip to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands, the couple will reside in Canton.

Mrs. Kovolski is presently a graduate student in art education at Central Connecticut State College. Mr. Kovolski is presently attending Tunxis Community College.

Bucs Win, Mets Lose

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets' precarious perch atop the National League East wobbled when they lost to Montreal, yet the team is extending confidence reserved for clubs who have all but clinched a division pennant.

"Hell, we're still in it, ain't we?" Mets' manager Yogi Berra said Wednesday night after New York lost 8-5 to Montreal and had their NL East lead over Pittsburgh whittled to one-half game. The Pirates overwhelmed the Philadelphia Phillies 13-2.

"Pittsburgh has to play tomorrow night and they might lose," Berra said.

But doesn't the slim lead worry the Mets?

"I don't think we've had any desperate feelings in a week," Mets' reliever Tom McGraw said.

Bob Bailey's two-run homer in the seventh snapped a 5-5 tie after the Mets had tied it in the fifth on Jerry Grote's run-scoring single.

The Expos, who are tied with Chicago 1/2 game out in fourth place in the NL East, jumped on Mets' starter Tom Seaver for a 4-0 lead in the first inning in other National League games. San Diego beat Cincinnati 5-1. St. Louis edged the Cubs 1-0. Houston blanked San Francisco 5-0 and Los Angeles beat Atlanta 9-8.

Richie Hebner, Gene Clines and Dal Maxvill combined to drive in 10 runs for the Pirates and then turned their attention on the peevish division race.

"That means we're all even in the loss column, so the Mets aren't in a position anymore to clinch it by winning the rest of the week," Maxvill said after learning about New York's defeat. "The Mets have been hot and hopefully they'll cool off."

The Pirates play Philadelphia again tonight and then have three games with Montreal over the weekend. The Mets close out their season this weekend at Chicago with a four-game series.

Royals, Brewers, Holland, Break Elite 20-Win Club

NEW YORK (AP) — We shall overcome. And Kansas City, Milwaukee and Holland certainly have.

Before Wednesday's action, the "20-victory club" was an elite, exclusive establishment that discriminated against pitchers from Kansas City, Milwaukee and Holland.

Not any more.

Previously, no arm from the Milwaukee Brewers, the Kansas City Royals or Holland had ever set foot in that famous 20's club.

Not any more.

Kansas City's Paul Splittorff, Milwaukee's Jim Colborn and Bert Blyleven, born in Holland and now playing for the Minnesota Twins, all staged their own pitch-in Wednesday night and demonstrated that given the chance, anybody with 19 victories over 20 games, "It's a pitcher's dream. I'm glad it happened to me," said Blyleven, the Twins' right-hander, born in Zeist, Holland, who one-hit the Oakland A's and beat them 4-1 for victory No. 20.

"I wanted to do it here because my folks were here," said Paul Splittorff, whose parents are from suburban Chicago, after he beat the White Sox 6-0 for victory No. 20.

"I really wanted this victory," said Jim Colborn after posting victory No. 20 by beating the New York Yankees 5-2. "But I'm not so much happy for me but for the whole team."

In the American League's less inspirational action, Cleveland edged Boston 1-0; California edged Texas 5-4 and Baltimore blanked Detroit 4-0.

Angie S. Rangers 4.

Bob Oliver's two-out single scored Dave Chalk with the winning run in the ninth inning, lifting the California Angels to a 5-4 victory over the Texas Rangers.

The Detroit Tigers for their sixth straight victory, Paul Blair drove in two runs with a triple and a single.

Indiana 1, Red Sox 0.

John Ellis belted a second-inning homer, his 14th, to back the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians to a 1-0 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The Dry Side of Sports

The Final Word

To the readers who have followed this writer's stories, features and columns for the past five years, I would like to thank you for your faithful support.

Friday, I will end my career as a sports writer for The Herald. In this span of time as much interesting and exciting incidents have taken place. To list them would be difficult but the memories will always be clear in my mind.

The guidance from my father who has been an outstanding teacher, and the fine cooperation from the athletic directors, coaches and players, made the job enjoyable.

One fine aspect of the job was the change of season in athletics. Fall would bring football. If the club stumbled through a long season, basketball would bolster the morale. Spring brought baseball and usually a good and interesting campaign.

Other sports — golf, soccer, cross-country and softball occupied many interesting hours. Auto racing to some extent, but others enjoyed the fast-moving sport of horse racing, but others enjoyed the fast-moving sport of horse racing, but others enjoyed the fast-moving sport of horse racing.

ABA Hooks Big Catch

CHULA VISTA, Calif. (AP) — Will Chamberlain, who changed the National Basketball Association rule book and rewrote the record book in 14 turbulent years, has joined the NBA again by jumping to the rival American Basketball Association.

The 7-foot-1 center quit the Los Angeles Lakers Wednesday and signed a three-year contract as player-coach of the San Diego Conquistadors for a reported $600,000 a year.

The Lakers promptly challenged his status as a player and threatened legal action. But in uniform or out, Chamberlain, 37, is the biggest catch for the upstart ABA in its war with the established NBA.

"I've been assured of a good, very long future in San Diego," Chamberlain told a news conference. "This job should be the biggest challenge of my life, and I hope to help San Diego become the world's best basketball team."

Club owner Leonard Bloom said the ABA will repay part of Chamberlain's salary by forgiving some future debts.

Will's major accomplishments since joining the old Philadelphia Warriors in 1959 include career records in points and rebounds, plus two more marks that appear unapproachable: a 50.4-point average and a 100-point game, both in the 1961-62 season.

But Will was admittedly uneasy about his new role. "I've always had an apprehension with coaching," he said.

"I hope my alleged run-ins with coaches will help me avoid some of the pitfalls. One thing I don't like is coaches who talk about handling players. My thinking is, you don't try to handle basketball players. You handle horses and animals. You handle people who are not basketball players."

Chamberlain joins a one-year-old team that finished fourth in the ABA West last season under K.C. Jones, now coach of the Capital Bullets.

Coaches' Corner

By John LaFontana

Last Saturday at Bristol, what appeared to be a rather lunkhead game between East Catholic and St. Paul was actually pretty exciting from a coaching standpoint. It looked lack-luster simply because there was not much scoring, and that is what the fans like to see. We knew that St. Paul's did not have to make excuses for losing to St. Paul's a team which we consider one of the best coached teams we meet every year. It is this type of team that keeps plugging away at you, doing all the right things until you make a mistake and then they capitalize on it. We have been making key mistakes in the last two games but they were mistakes that we expected since we started with such an inexperienced team. We felt that we were in for a long haul and that we had to be prepared for our offensive play. We had several chances to score and actually had people in the end zone with the ball in their hands before it fell incomplete. We also had the ball a number of times. If they keep it too long there is no way they can score. They just keep banging away with that wishbone running game until they back you up to the goal line.

To sum up, it was a very tough afternoon against St. Paul's and it will be tougher physically and mentally against Northwest Saturday.

Michigan State faces UCLA, Michigan, Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana in home football games at East Lansing this fall.

Today Aaron's HR Deadline

ATLANTA (AP) — "If I don't hit one tomorrow (Thursday), you guys can go home," Hank Aaron tells a throng of writers tracking his chase of Babe Ruth's all-time home run record.

Aaron, still two homers shy of the immortal Ruth's 714 total, said his chances "look a little dim right now. It all depends on what happens in the next ball game."

The 39-year-old Atlanta Braves' star has only three games remaining this season, against the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight and against the Houston Astros Saturday night and Sunday.

Writers from two dozen cities, Japan and Mexico arrived in Atlanta for the start of a three-game series against the Dodgers, who swept the first two games 5-1 and 9-8 as Aaron failed to homer.

"I saw enough good pitches I should have hit tonight," Aaron said following Wednesday's game.

"I like to play nine innings and get the hell out," he said. "Besides, the Dodgers have been beating us a while."

Managers in Spotlight

NEW YORK (AP) — The Montreal Expos have had only one manager since joining the National League in 1969 and they have no plans to make a change.

The Expos expressed confidence in manager Mauch Wednesday, extending his contract through 1978. Mauch has 13 1/2 years of managerial experience—some 2,132 games—and that puts him third among active managers in length of service.

Montreal's manager Walter Alton and Houston's Leo Durocher.

"He's just the guy to entrust our players to, to bring the club in 1972 after several years as baseball coach at Arizona State."

San Diego skipper Don Zimmer hasn't heard anything from the Padres but he's expecting the 67-year-old manager gets fired.

The Astros, retired pennant contenders early in the season, have slumped into fourth place in the West. Coach Preston Gomez is considered most likely to succeed Durocher if the 67-year-old manager gets fired.

OJ Outdistance Rushers

NEW YORK (AP) — O.J. Simpson continued to watch last weekend's National Football League games from an easy chair and he still wouldn't have had to worry about anybody surpassing him in rushing.

Of course, he didn't. He was out there as usual with the rest of his Buffalo teammates, rushing against San Diego. The problem was, the Chargers were ready for him. They "limbered" him to 103 yards, far under his fantastic opening-game record 250. And without his thunderous running, the Bills led 24-7.

Even without those 103 yards, though, Simpson still would lead the league's ground-gainers. He now has 383 yards and his closest challenger is Essex Johnson of Cincinnati, the American Conference runner-up with 221 yards.

Ron Johnson of the New York Giants, the National Conference leader, is third overall with 208 and Dallas' Calvin Hill, fourth in the league, is second in the NFC with 201.

Operate Out of Holyoke
Four Local Men Own ACFL Club
 By Earl Yost
 Four Manchester businessmen - and one from Coventry - are the owners of the Holyoke franchise in the Atlantic Coast Football Conference which plays under the colors of the Western Massachusetts Pioneers.
 The local quartet consists of Loren Andros, John DeQuattro, Sam Crispino and Jack Hunter, plus John Wile of Coventry. Andros owns Andy's Food Town in Glastonbury, DeQuattro, Dr. Q's in West Hartford, Crispino runs Supreme Foods and Hunter operates his own construction business. Wile owns an auto dealership in Willimantic bearing his name.
 The Pioneers, who started slowly, gave the heavy favored Hartford Knights a battle right down to the wire last night in their latest effort before losing 17-13.
 Serving in three capacities as president, general manager and coach is Fred Walker. The latter guided the Knights to several league titles before moving to the Canadian League. This is his first year with the Pioneers.
 Home games are played at MacKenzie Stadium with 4,000 payees needed to break even. Clubs in the ACFL keep all proceeds from home games. There are no road guarantees. The Pioneers are winless in four starts but a club

High Beef Prices Increase Costs Of Manufacturing Auto Tires

NEW HAVEN (AP) - High beef prices are increasing the cost of manufacturing tires, according to a spokesman for the Armstrong Rubber Co. The connection between beef and tires has nothing to do with the quality of some steaks. It involves a beef product used in making tires. The supply of tallow, a fatty substance obtained from slaughtered cattle, is used to make stearic acid. The acid plays an important part in the rubber-curing process, he said. The decline in cattle...

Bicentennial Freedom Train Plan Proposed

By LEW HEAD
Associated Press Writer
BERNARDVILLE, N.J. (AP) — Ross E. Rowland fires up like a steam locomotive when talking about his plan to celebrate America's 200th birthday.

His purpose is to bring this country's history to its people on a 25-car museum train.

Rowland, 33, has taken a three-year leave of absence from his six-figure job as an official of a Wall Street commodities concern to head the nonprofit American Freedom Train Foundation.

The foundation was approved as nonprofit last year by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and this June by the Internal Revenue Service.

It's out to raise $20 million from all sources, including pennies from American school children, for "a fair on wheels" that Rowland believes is "so much better an idea than cities fighting to be the bicentennial city."

"We'll take the bicentennial to the American people," he says.

Railroad buff Rowland entertains no doubt that the project will get on the track. If it does, he'll be at the throttle of a steam locomotive in St. Augustine, Fla., on April 1, 1975.

The train will leave America's oldest city that day for a criss-cross, 15-month, 30,000-mile journey through all 48 of the contiguous states.

According to Rowland, the train will be a museum presenting the country's history "good and bad" since the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776. It will utilize exhibits, slide movies, music and "all the modern techniques" of gyms, wallboard, used on interior building walls.

Clerical Cabbie

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — "I haven't been back on the streets in a long while," said the 31-year-old driver. "And it does a lot of good to get back. It clears your head up."

The cabbie was the Rev. James Groppi, Roman Catholic priest and civil rights activist.

He had just started his new job as a taxi driver in Milwaukee and said that he made almost $20 his first day.

"Everybody ought to take off some time and get where it really is," said Groppi. "It clears up a lot of that elitism that many people, especially professional and other middle-class types, have."

Groppi said his main reason for taking the job was financial. He needs the money to continue his studies at the Catholic College of Law in Washington, D.C. Tuition at the school is about $3,000 a year.

Groppi's personal assets, as disclosed in a court suit involving a 1969 civil rights demonstration, total more than $75,000. But he has said he planned to use the money to found and support a storefront church.

Arab Terrorists Take Hostages Off Of Train

VIENNA (AP) — Two Arab terrorists armed with sub-machine guns commandeered a train with 37 Soviet Jews at the Austrian-Czechoslovak border today, officials said.

One police account said the Arabs shot and killed one man and injured two, but the state security police said no one was killed, and only one person was injured.

The Arabs then took five Soviet Jews hostage, along with a woman and a child of unknown nationality and an Austrian customs official. They forced the five Jews and the customs official into one of the railway's station wagons and sped off to the Vienna Airport.

The woman and child managed to escape in the confusion, police said.

The station wagon was parked near a Spanish airliner at the airport and police were negotiating with the Arabs.

The train originated in the Soviet Union and was to be attached to a train en route from Bratislava, Czechoslovakia, to Vienna. In Vienna, the Jews were to be transferred to the Schona processing center prior to their emigration to Israel.

The train was seized at Marchegg, 28 miles east of Vienna.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli officials canceled their Jewish new year holiday to follow the events in Vienna.

Foreign Office and other executives said no official report of the seizure had yet reached Jerusalem, where government offices were closed for the three-day Rosh Hashana holiday.

The attack came just two days after Israel managed to rush in 1,000 new Soviet Jewish emigrants by airlift from Vienna in time to celebrate the holiday in the Jewish state.

Russian Jews have been arriving in Israel at the rate of 2,850 a month, over protests from Arab countries that Moscow was helping the Jewish state by sending manpower to Israel.

Thirty-two thousand new settlers have arrived from the Soviet Union in the past year.

The last attack by Arab terrorists against an Israeli target in Europe was the gunning down of 48 persons waiting for a New York flight at Athens Airport Aug. 5. Two terrorists arrested by Greek police said they thought the passengers were en route to Israel.

Five of the victims died. Four of them were Americans.

Jews leaving the Soviet Union for Israel — after paying $1,000 to renounce their citizenship and obtain an exit visa — make the $2,400 cost of a trip from Moscow to Vienna either by air or train.

The emigrants are processed by Jewish Agency officials at the 800-year-old Naparbut Castle of Schemoa outside Vienna. After anything from 24 hours to several weeks in Austria, the newcomers are flown to the Jewish state in Israeli El Al airplanes.

McKeon Family Wins $10,000 Acorn Drawing

The James R. McKeon family of 30 Bigelow St. is $10,000 richer today and adjusting to their windfall very well.

Mrs. Rose McKeon, accompanied by her daughter Mary who is a senior at Manchester High School, were on hand Thursday when her lucky number was drawn in Waterbury.

"I couldn't believe it," Mrs. McKeon said, "and we (Mrs. McKeon and the two other $10,000 winners) thought they still had to draw a second time to determine the winners."

Still in a state of mild confusion as to what they will do with the money, Mrs. McKeon said, "I look around the house and think I'll have this upholstered, or, no, maybe I'll buy something for this corner, but it's too soon to know. We can, of course, use some for our daughter's college."

The McKeons have three daughters, two married, and Mrs. McKeon had usually purchase three or four tickets a week.

Mr. McKeon had not heard the good news until his wife arrived about noon on Thursday at her lucky number was drawn in Waterbury.

"I hardly ever visit him at work, but when he saw me, he just beamed. Who knows, I could have been telling him I smashed up the car."

September has proved a lucky month for the McKeons. Mrs. McKeon won $400 in the Little Acorn contest last September.

This month brought another win. Mrs. McKeon explained, "In the Little Acorn drawing, the first $400 win is deducted, so actually this time I received $9,600, or $10,000 in all."

Contract Inked For New Bridge On Olcott St.

Manchester town officials this morning signed a contract with the Amnall Construction Co. of Manchester for a new $100,000 bridge over the Hop Brook on Olcott St.

Fate In House Uncertain Senate Votes To Reduce Overseas Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted for a 22 per cent reduction in U.S. land-based troops overseas, despite objections that such a cut would weaken the United States in negotiations with the Soviet Union.

The 48-36 vote Thursday night was the third this week on reducing the American force overseas. On Wednesday a 40 per cent cutback was adopted tentatively only to be overturned on a subsequent vote.

Republican Sen. John G. Tower of Texas and Strom Thurmond of South Carolina argued that a reduction would make it difficult for President Nixon to negotiate for troop cuts by both the United States and the Soviet Union.

But Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., chief sponsor of the compromise cutback, said the amendment would allow the President to decide where to make withdrawals — not that most could come from Asia and the Pacific without disturbing the NATO force in Europe.

The amendment, which now must go to the House where

Male, Female Help Wanted Ads Banned

WATERBURY (AP) — An order by 25 Connecticut newspapers to stop advertising jobs under separate male and female columns, has been upheld by Common Pleas Court Judge John J. Casale.

The decision, dated Thursday but announced today, upholds a complaint filed last year ago by the National Organization for Women (NOW).

NOW maintained that separate help wanted columns tend to discourage women from applying for more lucrative jobs in the male columns.

The newspapers called the separate columns a convenience and said there was no evidence that any individual had been discriminated against by the separate advertisements.

But a tribunal of the state Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities said it saw "no valid distinction" between columns headed "help wanted male" and those headed "help wanted black" or "help wanted Catholic."

Consent for the newspaper said no decision had been made on an appeal to the state Supreme Court.

Town Lovers Boom — On Building

This Town of Manchester-owned building at 31-33 Oak St., adjacent to the Purnell Parking Lot, was razed Thursday to make room for additional downtown parking. Mitchell Trucking Inc. of South Windsor did the demolition job on the substandard structure for $8,500. Assistant Town Manager John Harkins said the structure, which had been vacant for some time, couldn't be rented because "it was in such bad shape." The town purchased it several years ago, Harkins said. (Herald photos by Bevins)

Federal Building Bombed

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A bomb exploded outside a federal office building here early today, damaging a basement storage room and sending flames two stories high, police said.

They said another device, which appeared to be a bomb, was dismantled.

Police originally said there had been three bombs, two of which exploded. They said they only found one exploded bomb despite reports of two explosions being heard.

Police Sgt. Clyde Blount said firemen and police received an anonymous telephone call through a long-distance operator shortly before the explosion at 1:25 a.m. They said the caller made no demands or threats.

Blount said the explosive device was believed to be a pipe bomb and apparently was placed on the window sill side the storage room. He said officers and fire equipment did not arrive until after the explosion.

The blast shattered a large window and caused extensive damage to the room, said fire inspector James Mahoney. He said the damage was confined to the small room and no one was injured.

Blast Rips ITT New York Offices

NEW YORK (AP) — A powerful explosion ripped through offices early today of the International Telephone and Telegraph Corp. in a midtown Manhattan skyscraper.

Authorities said no one was injured and no fire resulted from the blast on the ninth floor of the 41-story ITT American Building.

Meanwhile, in Rome early today, a small bomb exploded at the office of ITT Standard S.A., the Italian subsidiary of the American conglomerate. The blast slightly damaged two doors. Police said unidentified persons had climbed over an iron fence surrounding the building on the northern edge of Rome.

The New York blast in New York is near the giant telecommunications corporation's world headquarters on Park Avenue, at the home of Frank Sinatra. The rest was scheduled to be interrupted only by a speech Saturday to a Republican women's group.

"It was a tremendous blast because you got the vibration all the way down here," said a security guard who was in the lobby of the building at the time of the explosion.

The New York Post reported receiving a telephone call shortly after the blast in which a young male caller said: "We're going to attack ITT."

According to a First edition, the caller did not identify himself but said he was from the "Weather Underground."

Police gave no immediate assessment of damage in the blast. ITT officers occupy the second through 11th floors of the concrete-and-glass building.

Agnew's Lawyers Seeks Ways To Halt Jury Probe

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Attorneys for Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and the Justice Department have scheduled a meeting this afternoon with federal Judge Walter E. Hoffman to discuss a request for an injunction to stop the grand jury investigation of the vice president.

A spokesman for Hoffman's office said one or more of Agnew's attorneys and Justice Department lawyers would meet with the judge in his chambers in the Norfolk federal building at 3 p.m.

The spokesman said the lawyers probably would be attempting to arrange a schedule for the filing of the request for an injunction and a time when Hoffman can hear arguments on the motion.

While the lawyers worked, Agnew left Washington with his family for a weekend of vacation in Palm Springs, Calif., at the home of Frank Sinatra. The rest was scheduled to be interrupted only by a speech Saturday to a Republican women's group.

"It was a tremendous blast because you got the vibration all the way down here," said a security guard who was in the lobby of the building at the time of the explosion.
