Chicken vs. Egg

Vice President Agnew has taken a bold stand in his announcement that he will not resign his office, even if he is indicted by a federal grand jury convened in Baltimore to weigh charges against him.

First of all, however, it should be remembered that indictment is not a conclusion of guilt. It is a decision that sufficient evidence exists against a defendant to make trial proper Guilt of the offenses charged is arrived at only by trial. Hence, the Vice President should be accorded the legal presumption of innocence until such time as a trial is held.

It is evident, however, that Agnew is accepting a view of his invulnerability from trial and indictment, from his lawyers, which is based upon a presently undefined interpretation of the Constitution. Article 3, paragraph 7 of the Constitution deals with the case at hand in the following language "Judgment in cases of impeachment shall not extend further than removal from office and, disqualification to hold and enjoy an office of honor, trust or profit under the United State; but the party convicted shall, nevertheless, be liable and subject to indictment, trial, judgment and punishment, according to law."

Mr. Agnew is undoubtedly basing his defense on the premise that impeachment must precede indictment and subsequent legal steps. This is the matter in dispute which will probably reach the Supreme Court.

There are, however, constitutional lawyers who argue that the language did not define a sequence of events buy merely specified, that in cases of impeachment, a defendant would not be able to use a plea of double jeopardy to forestall the application of other legal processes.

Because of the impreciseness of the Constitution there are many legal facets of the Agnew case which are in Three previous vice presidents were involved in scandals or charges, but none of their cases precisely fit the present one. They were John C. Calhoun, Schyler Colfax and Aaron Calhoun appealed his charge to the House - as Agnew did unsuccessfully - and was found without blame Colfax under went impeachment proceedings but the House did not bring him to trial because the alleged offense had taken place prior to his ascendancy to the vice presidency. This is also true in the case of Agnew.

Burr was indicted in criminal proceeding for killing Alexander Hamilton in a duel but was never convicted. His later disgrace came from other charges.

Another facet in the Agnew charges is that the statute of limitations on them - five years - runs out this winter. Hence, if he is not indicted and brought to trial prosecution will be outlawed.

This is the knotty problem of law which it seems the Supreme Court will have to decide in its current session. It will define the meaning of the applicable section of the Constitution. It is extremely regrettable that on the eve of the 200th anniversary of the nation such interpretation and definition has become necessary.

TOTALPHONE! The incredible new computerized phone service that acts as your personal home secretary, works for only about 13¢ a day (24 hours a day, every day) and never takes a coffee break!

Five Extraordinary Totalphone Features:

Call Forwarding Totalphone transfers your incoming calls to any number any time you want it to! So when you're at the Smiths' for the evening and your brother calls to say he's the new dad of a 10-pound boy - his call will ring at the Smiths'!

Call Waiting When you're already on the phone and someone else is trying to reach you, Totalphone sounds two beeps. By putting the first call on "hold" you can answer the second. So the kids can talk and Dad won't worry about missing the important call he expects.

Speed Calling With Totalphone, Mom in California who was eleven turns around the dial away is suddenly only a beep and a boop away! Totalphone codes your frequently called local or long distance and emergency numbers so you can reach them as fast as you can push two buttons!

Three-way Calling Totalphone lets you add a third party to your two-way conversation whenever you want to! So when you're talking with your sister across town, you can add Mom in New York and all talk together (without operator assistance)!

Touch-Tone Phones Totalphone service replaces dial phones with modern Touch-Tone (push-button) phones. Touch-Tone is faster and more accurate than dialing. It's more fun, too, because each button plays a melodic note! Wall or desk Touch-Tone Totalphone gives you 11 decorator colors to choose from at no extra charge!

Totalphone service is available to Manchester area customers whose telephone numbers start with 648. Touch-Tone service remains available by itself without the other custom calling features of Totalphone. Stop in at the Phone Store, 52 East Center Street, Manchester, and try Totalphone and Touch-Tone. Or call us at 643-4101.

THE FACTS ABOUT MILK PRICES...

Higher food prices are of concern to everyone . . . both to you and the dairy farmer. Spiraling costs of feed fuel, labor, transportation, taxes, and other items necessary to produce milk on the farm, have finally compelled dairy farmers to increase the price of milk. Dairymen held the lineas long as possible, now they have to pass along their cost increases or go out of business. So milk prices are up. The alternative could be a severe shortage of milk in the market.

INFLATION IS TAKING ITS TOLL!

MILK IS ONE OF THE NATION'S MOST NEARLY PERFECT FOODS

MILK IS A BEST FOOD BUY

The dairy farmer, through the years, has developed efficient new methods to produce milk. This means in the past 20 years, per-cow milk production has risen 71% and so milk prices remain relatively low, because of production gains and new efficiency-even though dairy farm family costs continue to rise sharply.

You pay more for almost everything but milk continues as a bargain. And milk brings you the most nutritional elements available in one single food.

Fans' Message Delivered to Reds and Pete Rose Manager Sparky Anderson, Roger Nelson, Rose Leave Field

Bud Harrelson Lost Fight But Mets Won Game

NEW YORK (AP) - "Maybe I did lose the fight," Bud Harrelson said in a subdued voice, "But we won the ball game. That's what really counts." There was an ugly three-inch scrape over the left eye of the New York Mets' shortstop but little bitterness left in his heart as the game, and Cincinnati was batting. There was one out. Rose

National League playoffs and a possible second confrontation with the Reds' fiery left fielder, Pete Rose. "I don't think this animosity is going to carry over to the rest of the series," Harrelson added after he had regained his composure from the altercation at second base in Monday's third game which triggered one of baseball's wildest brawls. "I don't hold any hard feelings. Rose is an aggressive ofessional. I am an aggressive professional. As long as he didn't do it out of spite, I've got no kicks." Rose, the National League's batting champion, insisted his role n the melee was not ignited by spite. "I slide hard but I don't play dirty baseball," he said. "I don't think anything would have happened if somebody hadn't hit me while Harrelson and I were down."

It was a play at second base ending the top half of the fifth inning that set off the melee. The fight was a dilly. But, like most baseball melees, the damage was slight. The Mets were leading 9-2, the final score of looked to the fourth game against Cincinnati today in the was on first after a single. Joe Morgan, the Reds' second baseman, hit a ball sharply down the first base line. John Milner, the Mets' first baseman, fielded the ball and threw to second, where Harrelson was covering, to get the lead runner, Rose. Harrelson shot the ball back to Milner for the dou-

As Harrelson released the ball, Rose slid into the base with feet flying. The two went down together. As they arose, Harrelson said Rose bumped him with his elbow. "I said something to Rose - I don't know exactly what - and he said something back at me," Harrelson explained. The two started pushing each other around. In the flick of an eyelash, players poured out of both dugouts. From the Mets' bullpen came nine men, relief pitchers and catchers, like a football team going down under a punt. Soon fists were flying. Rose and Harrelson were on the ground.

Wayne Garrett, the Mets' third baseman who had jumped into the Rose-Harrelson fistfight at the outset, was flailing away. Buzz Capra of the Mets and big Pedro Borbon of the Reds, both relief pitchers, were throwing haymakers at each other.

While the players grappled and others sought to pull them apart, the crowd of 53,967 watched with mixed awe and delight. Theirs was an added dividend — a baseball game with a lively Helmets and baseball caps - red for Cincinnati and blue for the Mets - were strewn all over the infield, like remnants of a battle

"I was standing there watching and trying to break things up," said Capra, "and then - pow! - somebody belted me one. I ooked around and there was Borbon at my elbow. . "I thought he did it and I let him have one. Pretty soon both of is were swinging at each other."

Borbon was one of the most incensed of the Reds. He swung wildly at anybody within reach and had to be restrained as he was led back to the bench after the situation had cooled. He inadvertently put on a Mets' blue cap by mistake. When a teammate mentioned it to him he took it off and ripped it with his When the brawl was put down and play was resumed, fans in the left field section began tossing bottles, beer cans and garbage

onto the field. A whiskey bottle barely missed Rose, the target of With two outs in the fifth inning and the count 3-1 on the Mets' Felix Millan, Rose angrily left his post and walked toward the dugout. Sparky Anderson, the Cincinnati manager, summoned his entire team from the field and shepherded them into the dressing

For a few anxious minutes, it appeared the game might not be continued - possibly forfeited to the Reds under rules which make every team responsible for its fans' conduct. At the suggestion of Charles "Chub" Feeney, the National League president, Manager Yogi Berra and four of his most popular stars - Willie Mays, Rusty Staub, Cleon Jones and Tom Seaver - walked to the left field area and made a personal appeal

"Look at the scoreboard," Mays said to the crowd. "We're

The heat of battle still smoldered in the stands, and some fans got into the act. When Rose walked out to his left field position in the bottom of the fifth inning, he was showered with debris-beer cans, soda bottles, flashlight batteries, a whiskey bottle and other Manager Sparky Anderson of the Reds didn't like the scene, so

Redskins Scored Late to Triumph

WASHINGTON (AP) - Ken Houston says he figured the Dallas Cowboys would be trying to pass to their running back Walt Garrison on fourth down and only seconds left, so the Washington Redskins' safety knew it was his job to stop him.

"I was looking for that play because our rush had been so good," said Houston after the Redskins defeated the Cowboys 14-7 in nationally televised National Football League game Monday night. "They had been trying to hit the left flare. I saw him (Dallas quarterback Craig Morton) pump once and I stepped up and was going to hit him. "As strong as he is, if he had got his feet on the ground, he would have gone on in. I just caught him before he was able to plant his feet and drove him back," said

Houston stopped Garrison at the oneyard line to preserve the Washington vic-

The Redskins, shut out until the last four minutes, scored two quick touchdowns on a one-yard pass from Sonny Jurgensen to Charley Taylor and a Brig Owens' 26-yard return of an intercepted pass. Despite the pandemonium that broke out after the Owens' touchdown, which came with 2:33 left, the Cowboys recovered a fumbled punt on the Redskins 31 with less than two minutes remaining. Morton moved the ball to the Redskins' four with 38 seconds left but was unsuccessful on his first three passes until he completed the fourth down aerial to Garrison on the one with 16 seconds Redskins' Coach George Allen, who had

College Football Poll Ohio State No. 1 For Second Week

NEW YORK (AP) - Ohio State and its six closest pursuers held onto their positions today in The Associated Press college football ratings while Tulane, Kansas and Miami of Ohio joined the Top Twenty for the first time this

In their second week since replacing Southern California as the

No. 1 ranked team in the country, the Ohio State Buckeyes trounced Washington State 27-3 and received 41 first-place votes and 1.150 points from the 61 sports writers and broadcasters who participated in this week's AP poll.

Nebraska crushed Minnesota 48-7 and got nine first-place votes and 1,032 points. The Cornhuskers thus narrowed last week's margin, which had Ohio State on top 1,118-897. Alabama remained third with six first-place ballots and 876

points by defeating Georgia 2814, while Southern Cal turned back

Oregon State 21-7 and held onto fourth with one top vote and 782

Michigan, No. 5, received one No. 1 vote and 697 points for a 24-0 win over Oregon. Oklahoma didn't receive any firstplace votes but stayed in sixth place with 632 points after downing Miami of The other three first-place votes went to Penn State, which beat Air Force 19-9 and earned 620 points. Tennessee climbed from ninth to eighth by nipping Kansas 28-
