

G&S Workshop Plans Auditions

The Manchester Gilbert and Sullivan Workshop will hold auditions for the March production of "Showboat" this Wednesday and next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the choir room of South United Methodist Church. Singers should bring music of their own choice. Parts are available for all voice ranges. Anyone interested in singing in the chorus who has not appeared in previous G&S productions are asked to audition for voice placement.

The Workshop is in special need of black principals and chorus members. The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical will be presented March 1 and 2 and 7 and 8 at East Catholic High School auditorium. Proceeds, as in the past, will be donated to a local charity.

Rehearsals for the production will begin in January under the musical direction of William Tyler of Hebron. Jean Burns of Longwood, Mass., will be stage director. For further details, those interested may contact Mrs. Joan Niler, 205 Bell St., Glastonbury.

Roger Negro Earned Salary, Says Committee

The Committee to Re-Elect Roger Negro as Town Treasurer has released figures to back its claim that Negro, "by his aggressive approach of investing idle funds," not only earned his two-year salary of $10,000 ($5,000 a year) in only 20 months, but also earned an additional $5,333 for the taxpayers of Manchester.

"Upon taking office in November 1971," states the committee, "Town Treasurer Roger M. Negro started an immediate study of all town accounts, to determine if there was room for improvement in investing idle funds."
The committee points out that from November 1971 to July 1973, "the money earned on idle funds invested by Negro totaled $15,333, or $5,333 above his salary for the two years of his office."
"The committee concludes, 'This additional source of income would not have been earned by the town if Negro had not made a point of investigating improvements.'"

A Cold Winter

So far the Middle East war has had little effect in the Manchester area. True, the Jewish members of our community are actively engaged in raising funds for the United Jewish Appeal as an immediate form of assistance to Israel and undoubtedly are encouraging our representatives in Congress to step up military supplies to the Jewish state.
But for the non-Jewish community, the war is still remote. However, this may change and change soon.
The Arab nations, to forestall massive military aid from the United States, have made it clear they intend to cut off oil supplies to us if we become too committed. Already, the flow of Arab oil has lessened.
While the United States is not solely dependent upon Arab oil, many of our European allies are, and it would appear if the Arabs follow up with their threats we can be caught in the middle of what could be a cold, long winter in New England.
The allocation system announced earlier this month may already be obsolete for you cannot allocate what you do not have.
The United States, we think, will stand by Israel because in the long view it has no other alternative.
While it appears the Arab oil nations hold a pretty good hand. Israel has an ace in the hole, its air force. We feel the oil issue may be resolved militarily if the Arabs actually decide to use it as a weapon against Israel. It is not pleasant to contemplate, but we believe it is fully in the power of Israel to disrupt and destroy the oil delivery and refinery capacity of the Arab states and if the Arabs are wise they will be cautious.

The fact is that if the Arabs try to cut off oil supplies to Western Europe and the United States in an effort to isolate Israel, Israel will, as a matter of survival, be justified in hitting oil fields, refineries and pipelines on a massive scale.
Either way, it promises to be a cold winter for those needing oil. As we see it, the United States must continue efforts to achieve a cease-fire because no one, least of all the combatants, will gain from prolonging the war on the battlefields or attempting power plays based on an oil reserve which is a strong economic weapon but vulnerable to destruction militarily.
We feel the Arabs are aware of this stark possibility and if we remain firm, perhaps a cease-fire can be negotiated.
We think the Arab bluff should be called.

Rationalizing Corruption

If there is a common thread that weaves through the broad blanket of the practice of politics it is the ability to rationalize embarrassing or even immoral situations.
A key phrase which pops up like a red warning flag for rationalizers is that whatever is being criticized or questioned "is a common practice in blank-blank politics."
The rationale is that because someone else started the kick-back, bribery, extortion, the dirty tricks, or whatever you wish to call it, it will exist in the future. But two wrongs don't make a right.
Granted some of the more lively officials are underpaid, under political pressures and under many temptations, but the test of character despite monetary political advantages is not being one of the boys if the boys are crooked or willing to be crooked.
The fact individuals and firms vying for government contracts are generally viewed as fat cats when it comes to filling party coffers does not explain how this can be interpolated into "gits" to political individuals who can influence contract awarding.

This may be a "common practice" and, if so, it is a sorry commentary on each of us as citizens for tolerating it either through indifference or fear of our own.
We can discuss at length ethics but unless the people we entrust to public office have a basic ethic; ways and means to get around any statute or law will be found. And those that do will eventually be found out too.
Corruption in government is a human affliction and in the end it all boils down to a matter of trust.
First, those who practice politics must be wary of tempting "common practices" for as the Agnew case so clearly shows, the highest offices in the land are still open to almost anyone and the higher you go the more thorough your past is going to be checked.
Second, for those of us who vote men and women into positions of public trust, we must look beyond party labels and seek out as much as we can the ethical character of our candidates. The courts can punish the corrupt when found but only we can keep them out of office in the first place.

Count Your Treasures
Count your garden by the flowers,
Never by the leaves that fall.
Count your day by golden hours,

Count your nights by stars, not shadows,
Count your life by smiles, not tears,

Count your age by friends - not years.

Inside Report

Suicidal Arabs

WASHINGTON - Failure of the mightiest Arab attack against Israel in the whole, tragic 22-year history of the Arab-Israeli war virtually assures the historical event it was supposed to make impossible: Israeli occupation for years, perhaps decades, of the Arab lands captured in the six-day 1967 war.
With the logic of proof supplied in the past few days, Israel now can argue—and surely will insist—that a border along the Suez Canal, against Egypt, and another on the heights of Golan, against Syria, are absolutely essential if Israel is to live in relative security.
As one student of the Middle East put it to us: "This solidifies as nothing else could the Israeli intention to hold the Arab territories seized in 1967. Attempting to unravel hard facts from the sticky ball of twine which traces events in the days just before the Egyptian-Syrian attack is difficult, but one fact appears inescapable: The Israeli government of Golda Meir passed on voluminous private intelligence to the Nixon administration that Egypt and Syria were, in fact, building their attack forces to unprecedented size for the expected movement across the Suez Canal and on the Syrian Golan Heights.
Indeed, such intelligence must surely have been at hand here without any help from the Israelis. But the U.S. faced two unanswerable questions: first, could Egypt or Syria, par-

Andrew Tully
He's A Bore

WASHINGTON - It sounded like something out of the 1972 Presidential campaign, when the nuts on the fringes of George McGovern's campaign were selling pot, abortions and sympathy for creeps who burned down college buildings.
This time the speaker was Mark Wagner, a Chicago freelance writer and former husband of that poor Boston woman who was drenched with gasoline and set fatally afire by a mob of black youths. In the tradition of the ideologically chic, Wagner declared that his 24-year-old ex-wife was killed "by the system, a system that creates ghettos and racial hatred."
The kindest thing that can be said about Wagner is that he's a bore. In cold fact, Evelyn Renee Wagner was killed by youths who got their kicks out of burning a woman to death. The young men may have been poor and uneducated, but it is time we stopped blaming every social crime on the unhappy circumstances that this is an imperfect society.
Indeed, our society is closer to perfection than it was 50 years ago when schools were segregated, blacks were barred from certain jobs and lynching parties were frequent in certain sociological backwaters of the Republic. Yet when murder was done in those bad days, cartoonists philosophers did not suggest that the murderer was a pure political dissenter and should be given a free pass to Harvard. Whether the color of the murderer was black, the murderer was arrested, brought to trial and if convicted either executed or imprisoned for life.
There it is, should be unnecessary to note, much less crime in that dark age of America, and the reason was that the people put the criminal on trial, not the system.
In that era, of course, justice was closer to the dogma of the early Christian church, which held that man was inherently evil and must work out his own salvation. Even if one refused to subscribe to the theory of a Divinity and a hereafter, there

On this date: In 1793, Queen Marie Antoinette of France was executed by guillotine.
In 1790, the Congress established the District of Columbia as the permanent seat of the U.S. government.
In 1815, Napoleon Bonaparte landed as an exile on the island of St. Helena.
In 1840, New Zealand became a British colony.
In 1940, the United States banned all shipments of steel and scrap iron to Japan.
In 1964, Labor party leader Harold Wilson became British Prime minister.
Ten years ago: President Tito of Yugoslavia arrived in the United States as an official guest of the government.
Five years ago: Astronauts Walter Schirra Jr., Donn Eisele and Ron Cunningham were circling the earth in the Apollo 7 spacecraft in a test for a flight to the moon.
One year ago: House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs of Louisiana and two other men were reported missing while flying a light plane along the south coast of Alaska.
Today's birthdays: Actress Angela Lansbury is 88. Former Israeli Premier David Ben-Gurion is 87.
Thought for today: It is better to be stupid like everyone than to be clever like no one.

BERRY'S WORLD

"Oh, hand, I say your plant is dying because you've talked to it too much."

The Candidates Are Saying-

Beverly R. Malone
Carla A. Zinser
Mr. Malone is a Republican candidate for the Manchester Board of Education. The people of Manchester have always displayed a great interest in their town government and education. At some point, the integrity between the Board of Education and the voters has been broken. I feel that, above all, this should be corrected. At least as a beginning, the public should be able to voice its opinion or ask a question of its board. Did you know that, at present, this is very hard to do? You must request to be on the agenda in advance of the meeting in order to speak about any subject on the agenda? This I would certainly like to see changed.
Our Manchester school system, many years ago, was one of the very best. We must return it to that standard. The old well known R's seem to have gone out of style in many school systems. Perhaps we could start by using a new set: Respect, Responsibility and Reliability.
If these were returned to the students, the classroom, the teachers and the school board, we would have a great foundation.

And all of this becomes more ironic when, back in 1971, the Democratic directors were campaigning on the slogan that they would be more responsive to the voters.
If all this shows anything, it points out the number one issue in this campaign, and that is the lack of leadership now on the Board of Directors.
If the Democratic directors think that the voters of Manchester are going to be fooled by Madison Ave. slogans, they are mistaken. I think that the time has come for the Democratic candidates to forget the slogans and come up with the facts.

Despite its new plum color and its jet age shape, that vacuum cleaner you're thinking about buying has only one old-fashioned job to do: pick up dirt. Finding one that can do the job dependably and well can be a problem.

When you go out to buy a vacuum cleaner, don't forget these basic questions: How well does the cleaner pick up granular material like sand or salt? How large is the dust bag? What is the cost of disposable bag replacement? Does the cleaner roll easily? Does it have a hand grip so that it can be carried? Is the on-off switch conveniently located? How much noise does the cleaner make when operated in a small room? What are the guarantees? Will servicing be convenient?

Versatility and maneuverability make the canister/tank (canister with a powered brush type vacuum cleaner the most desirable if you need a cleaner predominantly for general floor care and above-the-floor cleaning. This kind of cleaner is very good for surface litter and light, clinging dust. If this is the type you need, ask the sales questions before buying.

How well does the model clean the rug, the floor, above the floor? How many attachments are supplied? Are the tools made of durable material? Do the cleaning tools lock securely on the wand? Are the tools for bare floor and rug designed to swirl? What provision is made for tool carrying and storage? Is the hose flexible but durable? Are the wands made of strong material? Do they have any positive means of locking? Are all the connections tight? Is the housing stable, smooth and surrounded by resilient bumpers? Does the cleaner exhaust air in a way that will not scatter dust? Is the shape of the canister/tank suited to your particular needs? Does the cleaner have a motor inlet filter? The upright vacuum cleaner with its agitator action is generally recognized for its case of operation on carpeting and its rug cleaning efficiency. If you have many square feet of carpets and rugs, a good upright may be the cleaner you need to remove embedded gritty dirt which is the most destructive kind. Here are some questions to ask as you shop and compare.

Does the upright clean beneath the surface of the rug pile? Is the nozzle about 1 1/2 inches wide? If not, cleaning may be slow. Are the brushes thick? Do they extend to both ends of the agitator? Can the brushes be adjusted or replaced? Is the nozzle edged with resilient bumpers? Is there a tight connection between the dust bag and the nozzle? Is the cleaner stable, regardless of the handle position?

Double duty is the feature of a combination (canister with a powered brush) unit. The canister with attachments offers the powerful suction that is important for general floor care and above-the-floor cleaning, and the versatility that is unique to the canister. The powered nozzle-attachment with its separate motor-driven brushes agitates the rug and provides rug cleaning efficiency. Since the combination cleaner has the features of both the canister/tank type and the upright, ask the appropriate questions above if you plan to buy this type.

The combination unit usually is the most expensive of the three types of vacuum cleaners. When shopping check for comparable features on all three types, quality and convenience. For more information about vacuum cleaner selection and care, write Consumer Product Information, Pueblo, Colorado 80119, for their 60c booklet #2061.

We welcome suggestions and questions. Answers to questions of general interest will appear in this column. For consumer questions to: "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford, Conn. 06115, or call toll-free 800-842-2649.

Cheney Tech Gets New Car

The Howell-Cheney Technical School is benefiting from a flood.

In the case of 130 Buicks damaged in an August flash flood in Northern New Jersey, all of the new 1973 vehicles were donated to high schools, vocational schools, colleges and state correctional institutions for automotive mechanics instructional purposes.

The State of Connecticut received 16 cars, one of which was donated by General Motors and Buick to Howell-Cheney Technical School.

John DiFrancesco, New Departure-Hyatt Bearings Division plant manager at Bristol, in presenting the vehicle, said, "We are pleased to be able to help this school in its efforts to train students in the field of auto mechanics. Such contributions have been found to be of real value to educators in their shops, classrooms and laboratories in training qualified personnel to meet the needs of a growing automotive industry."

In 1972, GM made donations of automotive and appliance components and other equipment to 1,705 junior and senior high schools, technical institutions and colleges. Financial aid to education by GM last year totaled $8.6 million.

The council estimates that in every one cent increase in the price of gasoline costs the nation's motorists $1 billion. Charles Owens, head of the council's energy division, said he felt the original regulations forcing gasoline dealers to temporarily absorb some higher wholesale costs led to widespread confusion.

The council has argued that the increase in gasoline prices during the past year partly resulted from gasoline retailers taking advantage of the spring and summer gasoline shortage. Its price ceilings were designed to force retailers to give up some of these increases.

The automatic increase regulations take effect Nov. 1, will not allow increases for profit, and will prohibit increases of fractions of cents at all levels of the industry.

Charles Binsted, president of the National Congress of Petroleum Retailers, which represents many gasoline dealers, said the council's actions "will give dealers a great deal of the relief they needed."

The council also authorized retail price increases for heating oil and diesel fuel Monday, but an official said the council's energy division, said he felt the original regulations forcing gasoline dealers to temporarily absorb some higher wholesale costs led to widespread confusion.

It will be the second authorized price increase within a month for some dealers. Only those retailers receiving wholesale gasoline price increases since Sept. 28 — the date of the last council-approved price hike — can take advantage of the new retail price increase authorization.

The council also promised dealers the right to automatically increase prices after Nov. 1 to cover any future increases in wholesale gasoline costs. This automatic pass-through had been a major demand of retailers, a number of whom closed their stations to protest regulations they viewed as discriminatory.

EPA Approves Rigid Controls For 22 Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Environmental Protection Agency has approved transportation control plans, with restrictions ranging up to fuel rationing, for 22 metropolitan areas.

EPA administrator Russell E. Train called, the restrictions designed to meet 1977 clean-air deadlines, "unreasonable." He said he will ask Congress to give EPA authority to extend the deadline for areas in deep trouble.

Five areas in California and Denver, Colo., appeared to face the most severe restrictions. The agency issued the plans Monday under the prodding of a court order in a lawsuit brought by the Natural Resources Defense Council.

The restrictions include mandatory inspection of car pollution controls, downtown parking surcharges, modification of older vehicles and express lanes for car pools.

However, the agency said these measures would not be enough for the five California areas to meet the 1977 standards for clean air set by Congress.

To meet the standards, local governments in the areas would have to cut back drastically on the number of vehicles on the road, the agency said.

For instance, Los Angeles and San Francisco would have to virtually eliminate all vehicle traffic. Traffic in the San Joaquin Valley would be cut by 39 per cent, Sacramento by 59 per cent, San Diego by 51 per cent.

Portland, Ore.; Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.; Cincinnati; El Paso, and Las Cruces-Alamogordo, N.M.; San John V. Tunney, D-Calif., asked for a delay in the standards to avoid "economic paralysis."

With a delay, Tunney said, mass transit could be expanded and a new, low-pollution engine for cars might be developed.

The full-time secretary even a one-man business can afford!

TOTALPHONE has arrived! The astounding new computerized phone service that acts as your personal secretary in five amazing ways, works for about 2 1/2 a day (all day, all night, all 365 days a year), never takes a coffee break and never talks back!

The never-before Totalphone services: Call Forwarding Totalphone transfers your incoming calls to any number any time you want it to. So, when you sneak a few hours to go to the ball game your business calls will ring at home (or at Mom's) where someone who knows your business can take messages!

Call Waiting When you're already on the phone and someone else tries to reach you, Totalphone sounds two beeps. By putting the first call on "hold" you can answer the second and then switch back and forth — keeping two customers happy at the same time!

Speed Calling Totalphone will code the numbers (local or long distance) you call most frequently into just three digits each. So your contractor in Springfield who was eleven turns of the dial away is suddenly only a beep and a boop away!

Three-way Calling Totalphone lets you add a third party to your two-way conversations (when ever you want to) without operator assistance — a real time saver for business conferences!

Touch-Tone Phones Modern Touch-Tone (push-button) phones will replace your dial sets when you order Totalphone. Touch-Tone is faster and more accurate than dialing. It's more fun, too, because each button plays its own melodic note!

totalphone

Totalphone service is now available to Manchester area business customers whose numbers start with 643, 646, 647 and 649. Touch-Tone service remains available by itself without the other custom calling features of Totalphone. Stop in at the Phone Store, 52 East Center Street, Manchester, and try Totalphone and Touch-Tone. Or call us at 643-4101.

Gasoline Prices Increase Okayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Motorists will find higher gasoline prices at many gas stations today, the result of new price action by the Cost of Living Council.

The council Monday all but abandoned the rigid gasoline price ceilings that had drawn extensive complaints from gasoline retailers.

The council said about one-third of the nation's estimated 185,000 independent gasoline stations will be able to increase prices from one-tenth of a cent to 1/2 cents per gallon.

It will be the second authorized price increase within a month for some dealers.

Only those retailers receiving wholesale gasoline price increases since Sept. 28 — the date of the last council-approved price hike — can take advantage of the new retail price increase authorization.

The council also promised dealers the right to automatically increase prices after Nov. 1 to cover any future increases in wholesale gasoline costs. There are many variations on the treatment. Some women still use mustard plaster, others feel you should substitute orange juice for the tomato juice, others abandoned the hot flannel cloths for the heating pad.

My mother's sister advocated putting a teaspoon of baking soda into the tomato juice. There is more than one way to cure the common cold. But cure it you can!

Now our children don't always think that their mother knows best, but when it comes to curing a cold not one of them has ever questioned either me or my methods.

The other night I was setting off for my daughter's bedroom with my flannel cloths and medication to "doctor" her sniffles. As I passed my husband he raised his head from the newspaper and questioned me in a rather condescending voice, "Anyone give you a license for this?"

"You mean a license to practice medicine?" I asked flippily. "No," he said indicating my equipment with a grin, "witchcraft! I thought all that was settled at Salem!"

South Windsor LWV To Sponsor Candidates Night

BEVERLY DUKETT Correspondent
The South Windsor League of Women Voters will sponsor its annual Meet Your Candidates Night at the South Windsor High School auditorium on Thursday, Oct. 18 at 8 p.m.

This evening is presented for all residents of South Windsor so that they may hear both Republican and Democratic candidates speak on issues of concern.

The moderator will be Dexter Burnham, managing editor and general manager of Hartford Publications, Inc. He will introduce the party chairmen and the candidates. Each of the 12 Town Council candidates will speak for three minutes after which the audience may question the council candidates on subjects about which they spoke. Questions will then be directed to any candidates present on any subject.

The South Windsor High School Glee Club will open the evening with several recitations under the direction of Nicholas Lesbines. A social hour will follow in the cafeteria with refreshments being served. The candidates will be available at this time so that the residents will have an opportunity to meet them informally.

For further information, contact Virginia Graney, voter service chairman for the League of Women Voters, 644-2109.

Cub Scouts
Cub Scout Pack 888 of South Windsor held its registration and first pack meeting recently at St. Margaret Mary's Church. Forty boys and 18 adults have joined the pack for the coming year. Fund-raising kits were distributed to all the boys.

The following boys were awarded Olympic ribbons: Tony Mercure, Dana Mercure, Mike Flanagan, Ken Comeau, Steve Hintz, Mark Klowowski, Billy Montz, Steve Moais and Mark Reinhardt.

The next pack meeting which will be a Halloween Party, will be held Oct. 19 at 7 p.m.

Candidate Speaks
Republican Town Council candidate Joel C. Cohan, in his campaign for office, recently stated, "With a history of failure in communication with the people of South Windsor, typified by and resulting in rejected referenda and angry public meetings, the current Democratic administration has demonstrated its lack of leadership capacity."

In order to create an atmosphere of positive two-way communication, and to stimulate citizen participation in local government, Cohan proposed the initiation of town forum sessions to be held periodically in public buildings located in various areas of South Windsor. He stated, "These sessions would be public meetings open to all citizens and structured to encourage public comment and participation." He added that the "bringing of local government to the people through the town forum method and with involvement in those sessions by members of various public agencies will demonstrate the desire of local officials to be responsive to local opinion."

"If we can draw into active local government participation a wide variety of citizens,"

Illing Students Going to Opera
Tomorrow, 84 Illing Junior High School students will attend the Connecticut Opera Guild Young People's Opera matinee production of George Bizet's "Carmen."

Performance time is scheduled for 1 p.m. and ending at 3 p.m. Students will return to school at approximately 4 p.m. Students will be required to arrange their own transportation home.

Arrangements for the event were made by Ralph Maccarone and Mrs. Betty Lou Norden of the music staff.

Other staff members accompanying the group are Mrs. Lori King, Miss Maureen Hotie and George Evans.

Columbia Teacher-Candidates Concern to GOP

VIRGINIA CARLSON
Correspondent
Tel. 228-9224

Democratic candidates for the position of Columbia's town clerk and as members of a Board of Education discussed their backgrounds for these positions at last week's meeting of the Democratic Women's Club. However, at the recent meeting of the Republican town committee, Board of Education chairman, John Sullivan, expressed his concern over the fact that all the Democratic candidates for the school board are teachers, or former ones, "which would create a situation where teachers would be negotiating with teachers."

Mrs. Nancy LeClair, Rt. 87, and Mill Lillian Hochberg of Lake Rd., candidates respectively for town clerk and the school board, are newcomers to the political arena.

Miss Hochberg is seeking a Democratic spot on the Board of Education to fill a vacancy for two years.

Miss Hochberg, a retired teacher, has a BS degree from Eastern Connecticut State College, an MA degree from the University of Connecticut, with majors in reading and administration and a state year professional diploma from UConn.

She said she feels she can make worthwhile contributions in helping to formulate educational policies which would help present and future needs and responsibilities of the children.

Miss Hochberg stated that she will show concern for taxpayers because she will work through state legislators for more state aid and grants to schools.

Mrs. LeClair, candidate for the post of town clerk, said she feels she is well qualified for the work involved. She said she feels the office is a service to all residents of the town. She added, "Many of the residents would like to see a more informative, responsive and open government in office."

Sullivan, Republican candidate for the school board, said all four Democratic candidates for the board are educators. Dr. Joseph Narotky is an associate professor at ECSC; Miss Hochberg is a retired teacher; Mrs. Judith Nelson is a former teacher and Ernest Botomley is vice principal in a Hartford school, Sullivan said.

Illing Students Sponsor Dance

Students at Illing Junior High School attended the school's first social event of the year on Oct. 14. A seventh and eighth grade dance featuring "The Marvelous Marbles" was sponsored by one of Illing's seventh grade units, team 7B. The dance, planned last year, was held to help support the extended educational activities program of the town.

A spokesman for the dance committee said that the dance was held on Oct. 14 at the home of Mrs. Kipper, the first day of the year's school holidays. Many Illing students were unable to attend because of their observance of this holiday. The date of the event involved availability of school facilities and band commitments. Every effort will be made in the future to accommodate all religious groups, according to the spokesman.

BRIDGE GETS ITS OWN COPS

ISTANBUL (AP)—A special independent police is to be formed to maintain security on the multimillion dollar Bosphorus Bridge, linking Europe and Asia, which is scheduled to be opened this fall, according to a police announcement.

The new squad will wear a special uniform featuring boots and a uniform in pea green, the announcement said.

Columbia Plane Lands on Lake, Selectmen Investigate

VIRGINIA CARLSON
(Herald Correspondent)

A small seaplane landed on Columbia Lake Friday about 10:30 a.m., picked up a male passenger, and then took off, according to Mrs. Pat Murphy who lives next to the town beach.

Mrs. Murphy said she went down to the beach and told the pilot that there is a town ordinance which prohibits planes from landing on the lake, except in an emergency.

Mrs. Murphy said the pilot told her that he was on "government business." She said the plane returned about 12:30 p.m., unloaded the passenger, and took off again about 3 p.m.

First selectman Howard Bates said, "The matter is under investigation but the knowledge we presently have indicates the passenger is a new resident who handles government business."

Bates said the pilot and the new resident (who was not named) were totally unaware of the ordinance concerning planes landing on the lake.

Bates said the entire situation is being discussed with those involved to determine the emergency status of the government business.

Bolton Mrs. Miller Attended National OWLS Confab

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent

State Representative Dorothy Miller of Bolton, recently attended the 36th convention of the national Order of Women Legislators (OWLS) held at Salt Lake City, Utah.

The theme of the convention was "Future Horizons for Women" and featured such noted speakers as Dr. George Odiorne, University of Utah; Dr. Dorothy Schimmelpfening, University of Utah, and Dr. Judianne Densen-Gerber, lawyer and psychiatrist who founded the Odyssey House drug treatment program.

Seminars were held on "Prison Reforms-Women," "Recognition of the Potential of Senior Citizens," "Equal Rights Amendment," "Consumer Credit," "Probate and Inheritance Taxes" and "Court Sentences—From the Victim's Viewpoint."

From these seminars arose many resolutions to work for the correction of problems in these areas.

A highlight of recent conventions has been the presentation of the Julia M. Emery Award to Mrs. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine.

Julia Emery, Connecticut, founded the national OWLS in 1938. Mrs. Emery served as a Connecticut legislator in the 1920's and founded the Connecticut OWLS in 1923.

It is interesting to note that Connecticut has the largest membership in the national order.

A formal presentation was made to Mrs. Smith today during a luncheon in Maine which Mrs. Miller attended.

Mrs. Miller was chosen to represent the New England region nominating committee for 1974 and was chosen by the committee as its chairman.

The 1974 convention will be held in Puerto Rico.

Helping Out is Good Training

It was one for the money and two for the show as bike riders and walkers got set to go on the bike-hike in South Windsor last Sunday. The hikers and riders were paid so much a mile by local businessmen and the proceeds will go to help retardards. Shown on bikes are members of the Oilers Midget Football team. To the left are the "Tot" cheerleaders and to the right, high school cheerleaders. It will not be known for about two weeks, how much money was raised. (Herald photo by O'Hara.)

The Candidates Are Saying —

James Roche
(Roche is Democratic candidate for Mayor of Vernon)

Planning and zoning is the most critical operation of local government. It not only affects the town's mill rate, it also determines the quality of our children's education. The free flow of traffic, and the safety and quietude of our neighborhoods.

Planning or zoning mistakes have lasting effects and eventually become a license to extend the error far beyond the original bounds.

We have all sadly watched the initiation of spot zoning along Rt. 83 which quickly mushroomed into a nightmare of traffic tieups and gaudy signs. More importantly, those apartment houses we see going up today inevitably will become the slum centers of tomorrow. It is mandatory, therefore, to choose a man of quality regardless of how he makes his living.

Fourth, our new administration is pledged to foster better inter-agency cooperation, which is absolutely necessary in order to make planning and zoning effective.

Fifth, all meetings will be open, well publicized, and properly recorded.

Sixth, we will strongly urge the new commission to adopt a new revised and meaningful town plan.

Seventh, adequate zoning and planning enforcement. This is a must.

Lastly, zoning and planning needs an administration of quality, one that not only understands these operations, but is committed to their proper functioning. Zoning and planning is not just for special interests, but for the benefit of all of the people, and not just an election time, but for the entire length of our administration."

Coventry Sewage Ordinance Accepted

The Town Council Monday accepted a proposed ordinance which would regulate installation of sewerage facilities and wells, and establish the procedures to improve sanitary housing in the town.

The ordinance was prepared by Lon Hultgren, deputy sanitarian, and will now be referred to the Planning and Zoning Commission for its recommendation.

When asked why this ordinance was needed, Hultgren stated that presently the town comes under the state code and to have the code enforced, this ordinance would give the town the power to move against any violators without seeking state assistance.

The council also received a food service sanitation ordinance from the deputy sanitarian, and both proposed laws will be the subject of a public hearing Nov. 5 before the town council. This ordinance would govern the sale of food and the operation of food service establishments.

Hultgren also reported on the status of the pollution abatement order. He said 88 orders had been issued since he was employed by the town in October 1971, and of these 54 have been satisfactorily repaired and 54 are still outstanding. Of the outstanding ones, 40 are in the lake area.

After a reinspection of the property, Hultgren will meet with the Board of Health and the town attorney to discuss enforcement.

The council appointed Elizabeth Rychling the acting chief administrator until the new administrator arrives from Illinois. She has also been appointed project engineer for the bridge construction and will receive $39,000 for the job.

The council turned down a request by the Board of Education for $4,500 for the reconstruction of the driveway at the Capt. Nathan Hale School. This item will be included in the budget for next year.

Bolton Family Curriculum Draws Comment

DONNA HOLLAND

Tel. 646-0375

About 100 residents attended a presentation yesterday on the proposed new family life curriculum for Bolton students.

Mrs. Virginia Butterfield strongly opposed the program saying "as usual the school administration is putting parents in the realm of being idiots."

Mrs. Butterfield also brought out that the modesty factor should be considered.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCurray said the town should not be catering to parents that were not doing their job. They felt the program would be stimulating children, not educating them.

Mrs. Margaret Caffro said a family life program should be given to adults in the community.

She was in favor of a student life program, feeling the proposed one was better than nothing.

The Rev. Robert Cronin, St. Maurice Church, said that by choice he became a member of the physical growth and development committee as it was such a sensitive issue. He voiced his approval.

Dr. and Mrs. William Clark voiced their complete approval of the program finding it very educational.

A mother whose children did not participate in a program on venereal disease last year said she felt it would be more appropriate to begin the proposed kindergarten section in high school.

Sheridan received the most applause.

Mrs. Virginia Butterfield strongly opposed the program saying "as usual the school administration is putting parents in the realm of being idiots."

Although committee members had emphatically said any questions relating to moral judgement would be referred to the home, Ahearn said that teachers would not be able to ignore the morality factor.

The final curriculum presentation on communicable disease received little discussion.

Parents were asked to fill in questionnaires showing their approval, neutrality or disapproval of the proposed curriculum and whether teachers or specialists should present them.

Dr. Alton said that the school board would welcome parents attending any board meetings to voice their opinions. Twenty-four hour notices must be given by anyone planning on speaking.

The next meeting of the Board of Education will be Nov. 8 at 8 p.m. in the Bolton Center School Library.

Mrs. Oscar Placco, committee member, noted that sex was a minute part of the entire proposed curriculum.

Community Colleges Congress Chooses Voter for Presidency

Robert C. Vater, assistant professor of music at Manchester Community College, was elected recently as president of the newly formed Congress of Connecticut Community Colleges.

Other MCC staff members elected to posts were: Saranne Quish, recording secretary; and Karl Hagg Jr., business manager, auditor.

The group was created to establish a working relationship between members and the Board of Trustees of Regional Community Colleges.

Membership, Vater reports, is nearly 80 out of the possible 750 in the state's 12 colleges.

He said the congress is the outgrowth of "dissatisfaction among faculty and administrators over inequitable compensation for work performed and inadequate autonomy in decision-making about academic standards, class size and other subjects of professional concern."

Other officers named were: Margaret Brown of Norwalk Community College, first vice president; Kay Bergin of Mattituck, second vice president; Martha Fine of Housatonic, recording secretary; Gene Tito, South Central, treasurer.

Committee chairmen appointed by Vater are: Madge Manfred of Mohegan, editorial; Raymond Caciatore of Mattituck, salary; Ada Lambert of Norwalk, personnel policies; Raymond Marafino of Greater Hartford, legislative; John Makrogianis of Middletown, special functions; and Bernard Knab of Greater Hartford, publicity.

Dr. Herbert Bandes, director of administration at MCC, was appointed to represent the congress on the Greater Hartford Community College Site Acquisition Committee.

Hospital To Decide Sale Price for Camp

Vernon

The trustees of Newington Children's Hospital will meet later this month with the hospital's property committee to discuss the selling price of Camp Newhoca, located on Bolton Lake in Vernon and Vernon has had its option extended to Nov. 15.

The Town Council was told last night that the camp will not be sold to anyone else until Vernon has had a chance to purchase it if it wishes.

At its meeting on Oct. 1, the council gave Mayor Frank McCoy permission to discuss with the trustees, the possibility of buying the camp which has been used by the hospital for a summer camp for disabled children.

The Recreation Commission and the Conservation Commission both urged the town to purchase the camp, noting land conservation is not easily attainable.

The trustees had asked for $175,000 for the 10.3-acre site which has on it some 29 collateral repairs, grounds maintenance, mowing, refuse and such; and $500 for recreation program costs.

Borden explained that the recreation program costs are tentatively planned to cover costs of bus transportation, supervision, picnic tables, fireplaces and such for senior citizen day trips and outings.

In addition it would include youth activities such as hiking, fishing and swimming. Borden said private groups, such as Boy and Girl Scouts, YMCA, Little League and others, might also use the camp.

The option the town has with the hospital trustees is just a gentlemen's agreement which originally ran to Oct. 6 but because of the delay in the resumption of activities at the center should come, to some extent, as a result of some motivation on the part of the town.

Berger said such motivation came forth last Thursday when a meeting was held with officers of the junior class and the president of the senior class at Rockville High School.

Teen Center May Reopen

Vernon

BARBARA RICHMOND (Herald Reporter)

The Vernon Teen Center which has been inactive for some time may open again soon. With the impetus coming from the teens themselves, the Town Council approved an amount not to exceed $1,000 to correct fire hazard problems at the center.

The center is located on Rt. 30 in a large building owned by the town. Several years ago a group of high school students urged the council to let them use the building for a teen center and the council agreed.

Over the years the center has been open and on. There were many problems with supervision and finally the fire marshal ordered several repairs to the building and it has been closed as a teen center for more than a year.

The center is under the jurisdiction of the Recreation Commission. Donald Berger, director of recreation, said the commission felt that any resumption of activities at the center should come, to some extent, as a result of some motivation on the part of the teens themselves.

Berger said such motivation came forth last Thursday when a meeting was held with officers of the junior class and the president of the senior class at Rockville High School.

GOP Candidates Favor School Smoking Area

During a weekend press conference Republican candidates for the Board of Education, Richard Ashley and Dawn Potterton, stated that under a suitable arrangement they would be in favor of a smoking area for students at Coventry High School.

Miss Potterton stated that when she was a student at the high school she hated to see the smoking students not to have a smoking area. She didn't feel that a smoking area would encourage students to smoke.

When Miss Potterton was asked if she felt she had the maturity and the time to handle the position she stated that if she didn't she wouldn't be running for the office.

When Ashley was asked how he would label himself, liberal, conservative, etc., he stated he didn't know how he would label himself.

Ice Rink Offer Called Unclear

BARBARA RICHMOND (Herald Reporter)

An offer made by Vernon businessman Thomas Carruthers to purchase land in the Industrial Park, was a counter-proposal to the offer made by the Town Council and the council did not buy it last night.

Carruthers wants the 10-acre site in the park to build an indoor ice facility. He originally offered to pay $2,000 an acre and David Webster, a local builder, offered to buy $3,500 for the same land.

At a special meeting of the council Oct. 3, a proposal was approved, and made to Carruthers, that he could buy the land for $3,000 an acre with a restrictive 30-year covenant that the land not be used for other than recreational purposes.

In a letter sent to Director of Administration Richard Borden, Carruthers said he would sign an option to buy the 10-acre site. He added he would allow the town a period of 30-60 days to determine if the Webster offer is more beneficial to the town, and if it feels it is he would "release it from the option," and the town could withdraw its agreement with him.

Town Attorney Abbott Schwebel did not interpret this as being acceptance of the town's offer but rather a counter-proposal. Nothing has been signed by the town or Carruthers and no money has been exchanged.

At a press conference on Oct. 5, Carruthers said he would accept the council's offer and adhere to all of the stipulations it carried. He said, however, he would ask the new council to be elected Nov. 6 to reconsider the restrictive covenants even though he is bound to the original agreement.

Carruthers explained it would be impossible to get financing for the construction if bound by the 30-year use provision.

With the council members completely confused about options, offers and counter-offers, Schwebel took time to conduct a brief class in "offer and acceptance."

He said the town made an offer to Carruthers which was to expire Oct. 8. On Oct. 9 Carruthers made a counter-offer that he would take an option to buy the land. "We didn't offer an option," Schwebel said.

It was based on this explanation, that no option was involved, that the council passed the motion, made by Donald Sadrozinski, that the matter be put back in the hands of the Economic Development Commission (EDC) and that EDC

Vernon Town To Explore Ways To Improve Snipsic St. Plans to improve the drainage situation on Snipsic St., Rockville, were outlined by Town Engineer Leonard Sczesny for the Town Council Monday night and the council voted to wait one month to get further information from the Public Works Department. If the street is completely realigned and new drains put in that would carry excess water under E. Main St. and into Paper Mill Pond, the cost would run about $100,000 at today's prices, Sczesny explained. Although the project would involve only about 2,000 feet, the engineer said the high cost is due to the fact the area is all rocks. He said he felt most of the drainage problems could be solved by just putting in curbing and new storm drains. This would cost about $60,000, he said. It would not include realigning the street. A few residents of the area were allowed to speak at the meeting and they explained that the problem was not only with the drainage but with the traffic situation. One resident suggested that the town install three or four more storm drains immediately, and also to have some sort of control over the traffic on the road. It was noted that Snipsic St. is used as a shortcut to go to and from Ellington and to other areas. It was felt the town should realign the road and make it wider. While the council passed the motion to wait a month for further information, Mayor Frank McCoy explained this action would not negate the possibility of the town doing some improvement work on its own. Councilman Thomas Wolff suggested that the town might inquire of the State Highway

Honors Due Pete, Tom

Two of the best known men ever to teach and coach sports at Manchester High, Charles "Pete" Wiggen and Tom Kelley will be spotlighted Saturday afternoon at Memorial Field during half-time of the Manchester High-Maloney High football game.

The retired teacher-coaches will be honored with the track being named after Wiggen and the baseball diamond to carry Kelley's name. With Kelley and Wiggen due to be honored it will mark the second and third time a former teacher-coach was saluted. The basketball floor at the school was christened the Clarke Arena several years ago in honor of Will Clarke. Thus, the names of the "big three" among the coaches, with more than 100 years of service to the school and community, will live forever.

Fortunately, both Wiggen and Kelley are still with us and will be part of the brief ceremonies being arranged by Dave Wiggin, Manchester High director of athletics. It would be nice to see familiar faces in the crowd to the two honored guests. In addition to the dedication program, the newly-sodded football field will be used for the first time. Also, the occasion will mark the home debut of Manchester High's football team and also the home debut of Larry Olsen as head coach.

Augie's Swan Call

Whether Augie Donatelli, dean of the National League umpires, will admit it or not, he blew the call in the second game of the World Series in Oakland when he ruled catcher Ray Fosse of the A's tagged Dan Harrelson of the Mets at home plate.

Three different camera angles proved Donatelli was wrong in making his decision which prolonged the game from nine to 12 innings and kept millions glued to their teevee sets until nearly 9 o'clock. How Donatelli ever got in the position to make the call on Harrelson is a mystery. An umpire should never get flat on his stomach and look like a fish swimming. He was in the worst possible spot and he guessed - and guessed wrong.

"I'd hate to think what would have happened in Shea Stadium if Donatelli blew the call like he did in Oakland. Heaven forbid!

Donatelli, who has a flair for the dramatics, is the same fellow who pleaded his retirement case and National League President Club Feeney agreed to go along with the arbiter another year. Donatelli is an excellent ball and strike umpire, but his swan dive left much to be desired. It's a good thing the Mets rallied to win or Donatelli would have been on the spot for the rest of the World Series.

New England Crown Goal of Club Darters

Host for the first New England Darts Championship on Saturday afternoon will be the British-American Club of Manchester. Competing will be the BA Club, 1973 Connecticut champion, and Red Barrel Pub of Newburyport, Mass., the Massachusetts champs. Play starts at 3.

In each match, each player plays a best of three set with a 100-point game. The players compete in "301", a game where they start with 301 points and go down to zero, starting and finishing with a shot into the narrow double ring.

The first team to win five of the nine matches will be declared the overall winner. The public is invited. The BA Club Stewart Highlanders bagpipe band will provide entertainment.

Once they get going, the Whalers scored all their markers in a six-minute span. Two of the goals were scored on power plays - a rebound by Tom Williams and Larry Pleau's second of the night.

A's Mad at Charley O.

NEW YORK (AP) — Mad at Charley O. Finley and concerned about Tom Seaver, the Oakland A's met the New York Mets tonight in the third game of the 1973 World Series.

The controversial Oakland owner and the celebrated New York pitcher were two problems as the A's attempted to break the 1-1 deadlock in this best-of-seven-game classic.

Almost always in some kind of hot water, Finley had most of the A's boiling today with his latest affair—the "firing" of second baseman Mike Andrews.

An announcement from the A's front office stated simply that Andrews was knocked off the roster because of a "shoulder ailment."

However, the A's, almost to a man, believed the eccentric Oakland owner literally fired Andrews for making two costly errors in Sunday's 10-7 loss to the Mets.

The uncomfortable situation has the A's on the brink of a wholesale revolution, says outfielder Reggie Jackson, the team's player representative.

"There could be a possibility of refusing to play," says an outspoken Jackson. "There are a bunch of guys on this team who are close to that point."

However, Jackson tempered that bold statement after thinking about it for a while. "We have to decide whether it's worth it," said the slugger.

"After all, we have an obligation to the fans. We owe them a good performance. If we let things like this bother our play, then we wouldn't be professionals." He stressed, though, that practically the whole team was disenchanted with some of the stunts pulled by the Oakland owner.

"Believe me, there are going to be a lot of holdouts in spring training next year," said Jackson. "Some players are going to hold out just for spite."

To further dramatize the bizarre situation some of the A's went through a lazy practice Monday at Shea Stadium wearing adhesive No. "178" on their uniform sleeves.

"It was in memory of Mike Andrews," said third baseman Sal Bando, half-joking but obviously upset with the new Finley twist.

The mental problems were coupled with the very real physical problem of hitting Seaver's pitches. The ace of the New York staff will be opposed by Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter in a duel of right-handers.

Along with Finley, Seaver also was on Jackson's mind as he readied himself for the confrontation with the National League champion.

"They got a guy going for first place," said Jackson. "They got a guy going for first place."

Dolphins Win Again

Miami running back Mercury Morris tries an end run but is stopped by Bob Babich (60) of the Cleveland Browns in first period action. Morris wasn't held for long as he ripped off a 70 yarder which helped set up one score as the Dolphins went on to a 17-9 triumph.

Local Team Drops Verdict

Yesterday at Mt. Nebo, Manchester JV's lost a close decision to Windham 12-6. The Manchester team dominated action but could manage only a 6-6 deadlock at halftime.

Following 11th-ranked Nebraska were Arizona State, UCLA, Houston, Miami of Florida, Colorado, Tulane, Kansas, Arizona, and Miami of Ohio.

Manchester quarterback Kit Datson had a good game scoring his team's only touchdown. Having another good day was Jason Dodge who romped 60 yards on one play before being stopped.

Defensively, the charge was sparked by an interception by Scott Garman and solid play throughout the game was turned in by Guy Bezzini, Dodge, and Bob Hawkes.

Browns' Latest Victim

Dolphins Grab 17-9 Win

CLEVELAND (AP) — "There were no fancy plays, just head on head," said Cleveland Browns middle linebacker Bob Babich. "In a game like that something had to break, and unfortunately it broke against us."

Babich's comment came moments after the Miami Dolphins handed the Browns their second defeat of the season, 17-9, in a National Football League game Monday night.

"Mercury (Morris) run and (Mike) Kolen's interception were the big plays," said Coach Don Shula said.

With the Browns ahead 6-3, Morris broke away for a 70-yard gallop in the third period and put the ball on the Cleveland nine-yard line. Three plays later Larry Conka went in from two and put the Dolphins ahead for good.

"He (the Browns' Clarence Scott) walked up to me," Morris said. "It should have been a touchdown. I didn't know how close he was or I would have stiff-armed him."

Browns linebacker Charlie Hall said, "We had him (Morris) cornered and he caught our pursuit going the wrong way. It was a sweep to the left, he stopped, planted his feet and cut back. He has the speed to turn it on."

Babich intercepted quarterback Mike Phipps' pass and returned it 29 yards, giving the Dolphins first and ten on the Browns' 19 with 6:41 left on the clock.

"He (the Browns' Clarence Scott) walked up to me," Morris said. "It should have been a touchdown. I didn't know how close he was or I would have stiff-armed him."

"I don't really know why we can't get into the end zone," Phipps said. "I'll have to take the blame for some bad play calling. I guess that's where my lack of experience comes in."

The contest was on national television, and for the first time in the Browns' history local TV was not blacked out. Lifting of the blackout definitely affected attendance.

The Browns announced they had sold all 79,282 seats in the Stadium last Tuesday, but only 72,070 showed up for the game on a clear crisp evening.

The loss puts the Browns in a tie for second place in the American Football Conference's Central Division with the Cincinnati Bengals. Both teams are 3-2.

Oilers Bill Peterson, Gillman Named New Coach

HOUSTON (AP) — Bill Peterson will be the Oilers' new coach. Gillman was named as his assistant.

Peterson's dismissal was obvious—his 1-18 record, but declined to go into specifics.

"We're in a winning business," the square-jawed Oilers boss said. "There is no excuse for failure in our business."

The resounding thud came Monday when Gillman fired Peterson as head coach and took the job himself with the Oilers bogged down in a 16-game losing streak.

Peterson, who led the Oilers to only one victory in 19 games as head coach, knew his time had come when asked to meet with Gillman and Oilers owner K.S. "Bud" Adams Monday morning.

"I want to stay in coaching of some kind," the disappointed Peterson said. "I like coaching."

Heralding Politics

By Sol R. Cohen

It is ironic that Spiro Agnew, the man who, more than anyone else in the Nixon administration, backed the "law and order" campaign against "effete snobs" and "the unruly mob," should be caught in a web of wranglings dating back to pre-1968 GOP Convention days.

Spiro Agnew, head coach of the Rams, following the game.

Agnew's denials are empty ones, reaching out only for the sympathy of those who do not wish to believe in only because what we did wrong has been done also by others?

Agnew is a member of the Norwalk Planning and Zoning Commission and was its chairman for two terms. Of further interest to Manchester politics is the fact that Joseph Tamsky, former town planner here, is now town planner in Norwalk.

Conserve Gas, 8th District Tells Drivers

The 8th District board of directors, in an effort to conserve gasoline, has requested all those who drive district vehicles, including fire trucks, to cooperate to the fullest.

District President William Hankinson said one of the best ways to save gasoline is to shut off motors whenever possible and not to keep them idling, "unless absolutely necessary."

The district order is similar to one issued last week to drivers of Town of Manchester vehicles.

The district board Monday night commended those members of its fire department who participated in the Oct. 1-6 Fire Prevention Week.

Fierce Tank Battles Reported Along Suez

By The Associated Press

Egyptian and Israeli tanks battled fiercely along the eastern side of the Suez Canal today as Israeli jets pounded Egyptian missile batteries on the western bank, Israel said. Syria said the Israeli warplanes also attacked Latakia and Tartus, Syrian ports on the Mediterranean where Soviet supplies are reported arriving by sea to replenish the Arab war machine. Three Israeli jets were shot down in Damascus, it claimed, but it gave no information on damage to the ports.

An Israeli commando force reported operating west of the canal in Egypt apparently pursued its mission of hit-and-run strikes against Egyptian installations in the rear. "If they were back, we would have announced it," said a military spokesman in Tel Aviv.

Syria said its armored forces renewed their counteroffensive against Israeli tanks that have driven into Syria along a 20-mile zig-zag front and have advanced toward Damascus along a hilly roadway to within about 20 miles of the Syrian capital.

"Fighting is raging with tanks," said a communication broadcast by Damascus radio. Both sides had reported a big tank battle on the Syrian front Tuesday, with Israel claiming 105 Syrian and Iraqi tanks were knocked out and Syria claiming 80 Israeli tanks were destroyed.

Egypt said its troops fought a "vicious battle" on the Sinai front Tuesday, beating back a westward push by Israeli tanks. The Tel Aviv command called today's Sinai tank battles "large-scale" and said fighting was raging along the central sector of the 105-mile-long waterway, which Egypt retrenched on Oct. 6 for the first time since Israel seized the Sinai peninsula in the 1967 conflict.

Republicans Endorse School Bond Issue

SOL R. COHEN Herald Reporter

The Manchester Republican Town Committee Tuesday endorsed the proposed $5.6 million bond issue for improvements to Hill and Bennett Junior High Schools and adopted a nine-point platform which stresses accountability as the key issue in the election campaign.

The proposed bond issue will be the No. 1 referendum question on the Nov. 6 voting machines. Of the $5.6 million total, $2,881,000 would be for Hill and $2,719,000 for Bennett.

The vote to endorse was a 10-0 vote. The motion was carried by Robert Spillane, who terms on the school board expires next month. Mrs. Harriet Hallett urged endorsement on the basis that the Republicans could be credited with taking the school issue out of politics.

The Democratic Town Committee is meeting tonight and indications are it, too, will endorse the proposal. The two town committees are splitting the cost of a circular which explains the referendum question.

The platform, adopted by a unanimous voice vote, as was the school proposal, charges "the Board of Directors has abdicated authority and responsibility to the administration (the town manager)," and pledges "to insure that charter-given powers remain in the hands of elected officials."

It recommends, "in the best interests of the town and its taxpayers," that the town manager be hired "by contract, for a finite period of time."

Town managers in Manchester haven't had contracts and have had open periods of employment.

The platform recommends the establishment of an Office of Energy Policy, with its first goal a 10 per cent reduction in energy consumption by the town.

Said GOP chairman A. Paul Berte, "I am sure that our platform, plank after plank, and the issues, one after another, will carry our party to victory on Nov. 6 — provided we bring them to the attention of the voters and provided we point out to them the lack of accountability by the Democrats."

Spillane, chairman of the campaign committee, introduced the GOP candidates. Each spoke briefly on the school proposal, and several stressed the importance of instructing the voters on "ticket splitting."

Speaking briefly were Board of Directors candidates Vivian Ferguson, Carl Zisser, Hilary Callagher, Charles Crociani and Raymond Karpe; and Board of Education candidates Beverly Malone, Elinor Hashim and Frank Livingston.

Mrs. Ferguson said she finds that people are becoming increasingly interested in the Republican candidates and that the GOP team "is coming on strong." She said she is getting inquiries about ticket splitting.

Zisser said he believes "the other side is overconfident," and predicted, "We may have a surprise in store for them." He said he is extremely confident the Republicans can give voters a chance "to take the whole thing in November."

Callagher charged the Democrats with complacency and criticized them for not responding to the issues. He said he notices things are being done "now" only because we've complained about them.

Crociani said he agrees that the issues are not being answered. "If my past three weeks of campaigning is any indication, we have a good shot at winning," he predicted there will be a lot of ticket splitting.

Malone suggested educating the voters on ticket-splitting. "If everyone votes for us who said they will," said Mrs. Malone, "we all could become president. I'm sure most of them will keep their word."

Hashim limited her remarks to the school bond proposal. "I hope we don't have local apathy on the school issue," she said. "We need the support of the voters."

Livingston said, "If the Democrats don't answer our questions pretty fast, the voters will recognize the situation and will vote for us."

GOP Registrar of Voters Fred Peck said a training film Oct. 9 and again Nov. 6 over Public Television Station 24 will include instructions on ticket-splitting. He urged the public to watch the programs.

Joseph Swenson, chairman of the campaign finance committee, said he has received contributions to date, with receipts (including about $1,500 from a September fund-raising dinner) and predicted, "We may have a surprise in store for them."

Warren B. Duckett Jr., state attorney for the county, said Tuesday he instructed the jurors to give him their independent views next Tuesday. He said he gave them no recommendation.

Duckett said federal prosecutors in Baltimore have provided him with a copy of their 40-page summary of evidence against Agnew that includes allegations of kickbacks to Agnew from contractors while he was governor. Duckett said he's not sure they will give him anything more even after their prosecutions are complete.

The prosecutor said there are four major considerations he is weighing in making his decision to investigate Agnew: the national interest, the expenses involved, getting evidence and getting a fair trial. He did not specify the type of charges he was considering.

He said he will call the state's attorneys in Baltimore City and County today to determine if they can cooperate in any possible investigation of Agnew.

Magee's case is set down for trial at West Haven, before Judge Burton Jacobson, with three other obscenity cases stemming from the Nov. 1, 1972, statewide crackdown.

Judge Jacobson Tuesday heard the case of James Welch of New London, charged with three counts of promoting obscenity, and reserved decision in the case until all the obscenity trials have been completed.

Prosecutor Guy Wolf presented testimony of two state police officers in the New London case Tuesday, and it is expected that the state's case will be similar in the other obscenity trials. Atty. Leonard Kamaras of Providence, R.I., represents all four defendants coming to trial at West Haven.

The four cases — one each from Manchester, New London, Norwich, and Groton — are being heard at West Haven because Judge Jacobson, specially assigned to hear the cases, is now sitting in Circuit Court 8.

State May Take Over Agnew Case

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The prosecutor of Anne Arundel County, Md., has asked county grand jury members to consider investigating former Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's activities as governor.

Warren B. Duckett Jr., state attorney for the county, said Tuesday he instructed the jurors to give him their independent views next Tuesday. He said he gave them no recommendation.

Judge Jacobson Tuesday heard the case of James Welch of New London, charged with three counts of promoting obscenity, and reserved decision in the case until all the obscenity trials have been completed.

Prosecutor Guy Wolf presented testimony of two state police officers in the New London case Tuesday, and it is expected that the state's case will be similar in the other obscenity trials. Atty. Leonard Kamaras of Providence, R.I., represents all four defendants coming to trial at West Haven.

The four cases — one each from Manchester, New London, Norwich, and Groton — are being heard at West Haven because Judge Jacobson, specially assigned to hear the cases, is now sitting in Circuit Court 8.

Magee's case is set down for trial at West Haven, before Judge Burton Jacobson, with three other obscenity cases stemming from the Nov. 1, 1972, statewide crackdown.

Agency Suspends Hospital Care Rate Increases

HARTFORD (AP)—The commission on hospitals and health care Tuesday suspended rate increases at 25 private Connecticut hospitals.

Charles Momen, director of the Yale-New Haven Hospital and a commission member, said the action set the stage for a legal battle over the commission's power.

"The only thing that can happen (as a result of the action) is a deterioration in services," Momen said. He alone voted against the suspensions.

The commission, which came into being July 1, but didn't acquire full power until this month, suspended all increases greater than 6 per cent. Those less than 6 per cent were allowed to remain.

The commission had obtained Gov. Thomas J. Meskill's opinion saying it had the power to suspend all increases on or before Oct. 1, pending review.

John A. Doyle, the commission's executive director, promised to schedule hearings on the affected rate hikers Oct. 9 and again Nov. 6 over Public Television Station 24 will include instructions on ticket-splitting. He urged the public to watch the programs.

Joseph Swenson, chairman of the campaign finance committee, said he has received contributions to date, with receipts (including about $1,500 from a September fund-raising dinner) and predicted, "We may have a surprise in store for them."

He said he is extremely confident the Republicans can give voters a chance "to take the whole thing in November."

Callagher charged the Democrats with complacency and criticized them for not responding to the issues. He said he notices things are being done "now" only because we've complained about them.

Crociani said he agrees that the issues are not being answered. "If my past three weeks of campaigning is any indication, we have a good shot at winning," he predicted there will be a lot of ticket splitting.

Malone suggested educating the voters on ticket-splitting. "If everyone votes for us who said they will," said Mrs. Malone, "we all could become president. I'm sure most of them will keep their word."

Hashim limited her remarks to the school bond proposal. "I hope we don't have local apathy on the school issue," she said. "We need the support of the voters."

Livingston said, "If the Democrats don't answer our questions pretty fast, the voters will recognize the situation and will vote for us."

Obscenity Trial Set For Monday

DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter)

WEST HAVEN — The case of James Welch of New London, charged with three counts of promoting obscenity, was set for trial next Monday after a similar obscenity case was heard in Circuit Court 8 Tuesday.

Magee, 31, was formerly manager of the Manchester Book Shop at 739 Main St. He was arrested a year ago in a statewide crackdown on alleged pornography dealers.

Magee's case is set down for trial at West Haven, before Judge Burton Jacobson, with three other obscenity cases stemming from the Nov. 1, 1972, statewide crackdown.

Area Hospitals Give Views On State Action

Administrators at Manchester Memorial Hospital and Rockville General Hospital today voice opinions about hospital rate increases voided Tuesday afternoon by the new Commission on Hospitals and Health Care.

The commission voted to approve all rate increases since March 1 that have been under six per cent but rescinded those of more than six per cent.

Public hearings will be held on those hikes over six per cent and the commission said it will, at that time, judge their "reasonableness."

Edward M. Kenney, administrator of Manchester Memorial Hospital said, "The commission used discriminatory powers, apparently, from an opinion out of the Attorney General's office, in suspending price increases which is going to create hardship among the state hospitals, including Manchester Memorial Hospital. Our only recourse at this time is through relief at the public hearings."

The only increases allowed Manchester Memorial Hospital were for room and board. The rate for room and board revenue hike of 4.7 per cent was under the 6 per cent the government had suspended.

In explaining the rate increase situation, Kenney said, "The only increases allowed Manchester Memorial Hospital were for room and board and the request for increases in the special services area were suspended. This is a critical area where costs to the hospital have increased significantly."

"With no source of funds to turn to to absorb the costs, the alternatives will impose severe financial hardship on the hospital. Our request was for a 4.8 per cent overall increase which is well below the 6 per cent federal guidelines," Kenney said.

To do this, Kenney explained some price increases were held to slightly more than a two per cent rise, but in the special services areas — operating room, Memorial Hospital said, "It was necessary to increase prices slightly more than six per cent to recover the hospital's cost increases."

"However," said Kenney, "we were able to balance the overall price increase to 4.8 per cent. In spite of this, we still find opposition to our efforts."

Gov. Thomas Meskill released a statement congratulating the commission before the actual vote. Kenney's reaction to Gov. Meskill's move was that "there were no political motivations involved and little regard for the hard facts the hospitals are facing in the rising costs they cannot absorb."
