New Teachers The board approved the appointment of two teachers in the school system.

Defensively Steve Soucy, Bob Pellerin and Philippe pursued their men well, as did end Tuller. Other standouts were Bill Holley, Larry Lozo, Ben Tantillo, Dale Martin, and Harold. In the backfield, Johnson, Jack Beck, and Mark Peck were instrumental in preventing the B team receptions.

Two resignations were accepted by the board. Mrs. Elizabeth Caine, Grade 1 teacher at Waddell School, will retire at the end of this school year after twenty years in the Manchester school system.

Must Keep Trying

Another attempt is being made to shape a more lasting peace in the Middle East.

Under pressure from the United States, Soviet Union, and through the United Nations Security Council, the major participants in the most recent outbreak of conflict have agreed to a cease-fire.

There have been cease-fires before and should this follow the pattern of the past, it merely means an opportunity for both sides to rearm and rebuild forces for another go-around.

However, one new element has been injected into the current cease-fire. It is the product of discussions between the United States and the Soviet Union with U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger playing a prominent role.

In the past the Soviet Union, with its desire to remain in the shadows, has not admitted any influence over the Arabs. The acceptance by Egypt of the cease-fire on the heels of Kosygin's visit ends forever the myth that the Soviet Union has no direct presence in the Middle East.

quick response of the United States to resupply Israel once the Russians began airlifts to Egypt and Syria reaffirmed our commitment in the Middle East also and with little or no objection from doves in Congress.

It would appear that perhaps this time, more than a prolonged truce or cease-fire might be in the offing. It would appear to be in the common national interest of the United States and Soviet Union that the almost three-decades of armed truce in the Middle East be defused.

It may take years, as the negotiations in Paris over South Vietnam took years, to work out the problems that confront any peace maker in the Middle East.

But if the United States and the Soviet Union can maintain a mutually of purpose toward that end, perhaps at last peace will come which, for the moment anyway, Arab and Jew will strive toward a co-existence instead of continuing down the path to mutual self-destruction.

Inside Report

Rowland Evans and Robert Novak
The Fire-Eaters vs. Ford

WASHINGTON — Behind the delays of approval of Rep. Gerald Ford as Vice President is a fantastic but deadly serious effort by fire-eating liberal Democratic Congressmen to block him indefinitely, impeach President Nixon and hand the presidency to Democratic Speaker Carl Albert.
That maximum goal is not likely to be achieved. Although they have pushed the House Democratic caucus well leftward, these highly ideological, highly partisan liberals still constitute a distinct minority. Nevertheless, they may well achieve their minimum goal of delaying Ford's approval until the outcome of Mr. Nixon's surrender of the surreptitious White House tape recording is known.
Thus, final action on Ford could be stalled until the next congressional session in January. Neither Speaker Albert nor most House Democrats want this. But the Speaker has proved consistent, didn't dare cite the larger detente this year because it would have involved President Nixon as well. Watergate, if nothing else, ruled that out.
But they still wanted to honor Kissinger, and snatched him in (with Le Duc Tho necessarily) at the side window of the Vietnam peace, rather than letting themselves to return the Arabs and the Israelis.
It may turn out that no peace is possible in the Middle East until each side is convinced, as happened with the Vietnamese war finally — that it is costlier and riskier to go on with the fighting than to make peace. Even then it will require creative negotiating skills to end the war. It is hard to think of anyone more likely to have them at that point than Kissinger, and we are lucky to have him where he is.
Kissinger and Le Duc Tho did play a historic role in ending the Vietnamese war, whatever the role their bosses played. They came to know each other, understand and like each other. I almost said trust each other but that would not be true. But they skirted mistrust. There can be, even between enemies — especially between enemies — paralyzing mistrust as well as paralyzing trust. The two negotiators moved away from paralyzing mistrust. Then their patient, endless, expatiating

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

You've read enough about the shortage of newspaper, the commodity on which your Herald is printed, and yet that is the number one problem facing this industry today.
The other day we received word from one of our suppliers that our tonnage requirements will be cut 15 per cent between now and Jan. 1. Some newspaper companies are on strike, the ones that are working, have agreed to take up the slack and provide paper on a limited basis to those newspapers that would normally be supplied by the companies on strike.
One newspaper company, with the workers wanting more money and outmoded equipment, has indicated it may shut down until spring.
There isn't much we can do about the situation except smile. It got us to thinking about the fellow who commented, "If we printed only the good news, there wouldn't be any newspaper shortage."

Our congratulations to the National Guard for the splendid efforts in constructing a Little League baseball field in Manchester.
Some six years ago, we wanted to construct a similar field in the West and the National Guard, in true good neighbor fashion, got the project under way.
In the middle of it, the state's congressional delegation was informed the Guard was taking work away from the Operating Engineers Union even though it was free. The work was halted, the Operating Engineers didn't take up the voluntary task, and to this day the field is at a stand still just as it was six years ago.
We are glad that didn't happen in Manchester and our salute to the Guard for a job well done.

Speaking of baseball, another World Series is history. Some of the games resembled something from an Abbott and Costello comedy. The World Series doesn't seem to be what it once was, neither from an fan interest or in the performance of the players on the field.
The current issue of the Connecticut Architect gives a salute to Arnold and Richard Lawrence of Manchester for their design of Harbour Village in Bradford.
Lawrence Associates was awarded the American Wood Council's "Design for Better Living" Citation for the Harbour Village project. The condominium was selected by the Council for "meeting high standards of excellence in community planning, architectural design, and creative wood use."

Now that Spiro Agnew has left public life, a number of journalists have been busy researching some of the speeches made during his tenure.
These remarks, made to students of a Baptist College in South Carolina last year, are worth repeating.
"Democracy is not perfect. But one of the things that surround the problem of the games they (the Democratic opponents) play is the inherent ability of the American people to see through some of the fluff that surrounds election year politics. They don't just look at what the candidates happen to be saying at the time he is running for office."
The ability to look through the fluff isn't always fool proof as the Agnew case shows.

Shortly after Gerald Ford's nomination as vice president, Congress seemed pretty unified that Ford's confirmation would move at full speed.
Now, however, all that seems to have changed. Ford is likely to undergo the most detailed examination ever given an appointee. If congressmen were to face the same examination, there would be considerably fewer members in Congress.
If you have purchased a new 1974 automobile, you are much aware of the new starter-seat belt systems that make it impossible to start your car until you are completely buckled.
The new seat belts limit your freedom, that's for sure. However, the new system was ordered onto new cars by the federal government as an interim device until air bags could be installed beginning with 1976 models. Air bags will increase the cost of the car about $200 and at the same time will probably give you less protection.
You might as well be thankful for the starter-seat belt system. Australia has a law that requires motorists to use seat belts or face $20 fines. It is reported the law has resulted in considerably less deaths and injuries from accidents. Perhaps, we aren't too far from such a law in this country.

While on the subject of automobiles, forecasters issued a communication the other day that a 10 per cent drop across the nation is expected in new car sales.
As is generally the case, some dealers will suffer the 10 per cent drop and take it as matter of course. Others, though, with aggressive salesmen and aggressive sales methods, may pick up the business that other dealers can be expected to lose.
Such logic is rejected by most Democratic Congressmen, perhaps two-thirds of Wednesday's caucus, who believe Drinan and friends are unimpeachable. They report last year's presidential election. But the House Judiciary Committee has become a redoubt for the fire-eaters with fully 10 of its 21 Democrats (including the ineffectual Father Drinan) considering themselves "young Turks." By demanding Ford's resignation, they intend to prevent final action this year.
The permissive Albert ordinarily might not prod the Judiciary Committee, but on this issue he is extremely sensitive to accusations of stalling Ford's approval so he can remain Mr. Nixon's constitutional successor. That ultimately may be what under the audacious scheme in the House to seize the presidency.

Today's Thought

Thanks to God the Father through His Son, in the Holy Spirit, who has had mercy on us because He has loved us so much. Even when we were dead by sin, He has restored us to life in Christ, so that we might be in Him new creatures and new images. Therefore, through this new participation in the life of Christ, now let us be born with Christ into the light and kingdom of God!

The committee hopes that enough interest will be created to formulate their plan.
A Christmas concert midway in December is being scheduled by the high school band and chorus who have made considerable headway since the beginning of the year.
The chorus has obtained a lot of new talent this year with overwhelming results.
Edward DiFranzo, music director, has submitted five names for the Connecticut All State Chorus.
They are Cindy Ponticelli, soprano; Amanda Giglio, Diana Forand, alto; and Robert Redden, Randall Fish, bass.
All five students have been busy practicing and will be required to audition at the University of Connecticut, Nov. 17.
DiFranzo has also submitted names to the Eastern Division Band and Chorus, auditions for which will be held in January.
The band and chorus have a public relations committee that has been working towards an exchange concert.
Committee members Robin Minchick, Margaret Landry and Linda Sambogna have sent letters to various schools Connecticut asking if their schools would be interested in such a concert.

Teacher Workshop
There will be a workshop day for teachers at the K-8 levels Oct. 30 beginning at 1 p.m.
The purpose of the workshop is to introduce the new career orientation program into the K-8 system.
Career education curriculum will be distributed and explained to the teachers.
Principal speaker will be Robert Schreiber, former director of the Mid-Hudson Vocational Information Center in Beacon, N.Y.
Schreiber is presently an administrator in Poughkeepsie, N.Y., while keeping very active in career education. He is a nationally known authority in the field.
The planned workshop is an outgrowth of the vocational orientation committee.

Special News Program Planned For Deaf

BOSTON (AP) — A television news broadcast for the deaf using captions will be initiated by public television station WGBH-TV starting Dec. 3, the station has announced.
The station said it will record on videotape the regular ABC Evening News program at 6 p.m. each weekday, write captions for it and rebroadcast it at 11 p.m.
The station said a team of writers would use a computer to make sure the captions appear at the right time on the video tape.

words grouped into "thought units." The project was described as similar to a foreign-language film with English captions.
The station said it will offer the captioned broadcast to the Eastern Educational Television Network, which serves public television stations from Maine to Virginia.

The Nobel Peace Bombshell

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — It took some daring and some doing for the Nobel-Prize committee to give its peace-making award to a couple of fellows who work for some pretty tough bosses. Henry Kissinger works for Richard Nixon, whose Christmas bombings of Hanoi were scarcely a peaceful mode of arranging for a peace. And Le Duc Tho, who shares the award with him, works for the North Vietnamese Politburo, an array of hard-nosed communists who are anything but peaceful now in their continued fighting with South Vietnam and Cambodia.
No wonder the award fell like a bombshell among the intellectual Doves and the unforgiving anti-Kissinger faculty contingent here in the Cambridge area, at Harvard and MIT. I read the too quick telephone roundups of campus opinion which papers as politically diverse as the Harvard Crimson and the Boston Herald American ran, and they had mostly managed to reach the people who regard Mr. Nixon as Lucifer, and Kissinger as his only slightly less guilty messenger.
For them the dark satanic mills of the Nobel-Prize committee had ground out a murderer's mess.
The few voices on the other side sounded defensive. One critic even hoped and promised darkly that the Swedish people would rise in wrath against the wretched choosers for their denoted choice and consign them to the hell already peopled by the award winners.
The press photos of Kissinger, happily escorting his date to the theater on the evening after the news broke, were not calculated to appease the enraged ones.
The last word will belong neither to Kissinger nor to the enraged but to the historians, who will see the war's ending

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, October 24th, the 277th day of the year. There are 88 days left in the year.
Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1945, the Soviet Union became the 49th nation to ratify the United Nations charter, putting the charter into force.
On this date in 1802, James I was proclaimed king of England, Scotland, France and Ireland.
In 1795, Poland was partitioned between Prussia, Austria and Russia.
In 1861, the first telegrams were sent across the United States.
In 1929, prices collapsed on the New York Stock Exchange from an exercise of their own in linkage. I tip my hat to them.

Hebron Selectmen Describe Procedures For Ambulance Calls

ANNE EMT
Correspondent
Tel. 238-5971

Ambulance
The Board of Selectmen has announced procedures to be followed in connection with use of the Intercounty Ambulance for both emergency use and non-emergency use and for the cardiac ambulance and equipment.

Hebron does not have an ambulance of its own but pays membership into the Intercounty Ambulance Association for use of its ambulances.

For emergency use, residents should call the State Police Barracks in Colchester (537-2221).

Upon receipt of the call, the dispatcher at the barracks will call a Colchester driver who in turn will respond and take what action is necessary to make the patient comfortable and transport him to the appropriate hospital.

Non-Emergency
Residents requiring an ambulance for non-emergency reasons should contact one of the selectmen or their physician who will contact a qualified driver from Hebron to drive the ambulance and transfer the patient.

If no town official or doctor is available, residents should call the barracks directly and request the ambulance which will be dispatched.

If for some reason the driver who responds to an emergency call finds that the ambulance is not necessary or that the call is not an emergency call, he will use his own discretion as to what action to take.

Cardiac
With respect to calls relating to cardiac cases, the dispatch of an ambulance to emergency situations will be spontaneous to urgent calls.

The ambulance team will be prepared and institute treatment based on accepted therapy for a given emergency and the choice of a hospital will depend upon expediency as well as choice of family and physician.

In addition, in the case of apparent cardiac arrest, all effort will be made to have a qualified assistant or a professional nurse or doctor in attendance.

The ribbon received by the unit was for having reached its membership goal — 37, or two more than the goal. Membership chairman this year is Mrs. Lucille Holbrook.

Further information on the opening or cocktail party may be obtained from Mrs. Craig Rowley or Paul Blow.

Drivers
The association has stated that no one will operate an ambulance without an orientation session by the chief ambulance driver and approval by its president.

In addition, no emergency runs will be made except by approved drivers and if possible any driver making an ambulance run will be accompanied by a second person to attend to the patient.

In addition, in the case of apparent cardiac arrest, all effort will be made to have a qualified assistant or a professional nurse or doctor in attendance.

Legion
Unit 96 of the Jones-Kee-Batson Post was one of 20 out of 130 American Legion Auxiliary units to receive honor ribbons at the recent party at the Rocky Hill Veterans Home and Hospital.

The ribbon received by the unit was for having reached its membership goal — 37, or two more than the goal. Membership chairman this year is Mrs. Lucille Holbrook.

Further information on the opening or cocktail party may be obtained from Mrs. Craig Rowley or Paul Blow.

Democratic Opening
U.S. Rep. William Cotto will be among the dignitaries expected to attend the formal opening of Democratic Headquarters on Friday evening at 9 in the old creamery building on Rt. 85, Amston.

In conjunction with the opening, a fund-raising cocktail party will be held following the opening at 9 p.m.

There will be live music, dancing and hors d'oeuvres will be served. Tickets for the event are available from any Democratic Town Committee member.

The ribbon was accepted by Mrs. Geraldine Grant, president, from Mary Hindsley, Department senior vice president and membership chairman.

Unemployment Drop Noted
HARTFORD (AP) — The statistics showed that unemployed persons numbered 71,400 last month as compared to 78,700 or 8.5 per cent in August and 89,700 or 4.4 per cent in September, 1972.

Coventry Mrs. Morrone Criticizes GOP Stand on Schools

Frances Morrone, Democratic Board of Education candidate, reacting to GOP comments of last week pertinent to education, said, "As in the case of my Democratic running mates, I find most of what the Republicans have to say is unspecific, rhetorical and not based on facts."

"Their statements reflect a lack of knowledge not only about our overall directions but about operations at our schools as well."

"Tony Felice and I, Democratic candidates for Board of Education, have both taken the time to carefully study the questions confronting education in town and we each spent the entire day last Monday (Oct. 15) in our four schools gaining first-hand knowledge as to how our system works."

She added, "You won't hear the Democrats saying we don't have enough information to comment on a particular program."

"To say that administrators must be kept at a minimum as the GOP suggests is to ignore sound management principles, and to risk sky-rocketing costs because of inadequate administrative controls. We need a system that works economically and efficiently to give us the best returns on our tax dollars."

Mrs. Morrone also said, "It should also be noted that we presently have only one administrator in our system other than each building principal and the superintendent."

"For example," she said, "the reason that rechecking at the high school works as well as it obviously does is because we have the staff to properly manage it."

"Beside," she added, "the Republicans haven't offered any specifics in support of their claim that teaching positions have remained relatively stable."

"According to Mrs. Morrone, "If they check the record for the past four years they will find the increase in teachers has been better than four times that of administrators, although total numbers have been insignificant."

"Insofar as contact between board members and school of-

South Windsor

PZC Proposing Planned Development

MARGARET LACROIX (This is the first in a series of articles on Planned Unit Development, a new concept in planning.)

The Planning and Zoning Commission of South Windsor is pushing for a type of Planned Unit Development for the town, but it faces many problems. While the commission and the report of the Governor's Task Force on Housing support the idea, homebuilders and some residents have reservations.

The concept of Planned Unit Development (PUD) is a new one for New England. It began in the midwest where large tracts of land are more numerous. PUD is the direct result of population change.

Today there are more old, young and mobile people than ever before. More leisure time means more demand for recreation facilities. Land is being used up quickly and the price is skyrocketing. These factors have created new housing demands. There are demands that PUD can hopefully meet.

PUD is a mix of single-family units, townhouses, apartments and condominiums. The developments usually include recreation areas as well as land for open space.

The proposed regulations for South Windsor provide for the creation of a planned residential (PR) zone. The owner of a 100-acre-or-more tract land who wants to develop it in the PUD style must apply to the PZC for a zone change to a PR zone.

Current zoning regulations require only a description of the property being rezoned. Once the change has been granted, the owner can do anything he wants with the land as long as he is within the law.

When a developer applies for a PR zone change he must submit detailed and exact plans to the PZC. The plans must be professionally prepared and must conform to rigid rules.

If the plan is accepted, the town reserves the right to inspect the construction site at any time to see that the plans have not been changed.

The makeup of the development is also subject to rigid guidelines. There can be no more than five units per acre. At least 20% of the acreage of the PR zone must be devoted to open space and recreational use.

The buildings must not be over 35 feet high. None of the multi-family units can have more than three bedrooms, and a minimum of 10% can have three bedrooms. Fifty per cent of the units may have two bedrooms and all must have at least two rooms exclusive of a bathroom.

Such tight control over land use is probably the main bone of contention involved in acceptance of PUD in South Windsor. The pros and cons of this issue will be discussed in an article tomorrow.

Bolton

Committee Favors Single Planning Unit

DONNA HOLLAND Correspondent 646-0375

At its last meeting the charter commission discussed the feasibility of combining the planning and zoning commissions.

After discussion a vote was taken to see how the majority of members felt. From the vote the commission will recommend to the town at a future meeting that the two commissions, planning and zoning, be combined with all members elected.

It will be recommended that the combined board have nine members and three alternates. The charter commission will also recommend that the public building commission be a permanent board with seven members.

The charter commission will also suggest that the board of finance be given an increased amount in appropriation that they can approve without going to a town meeting.

If the requested appropriation exceeds the set amount they suggest it go to referendum (machine vote), not a town meeting.

The question of whether or not the charter commission is a legal commission is in the hands of town counsel. A decision from him is being awaited. Meanwhile the commission is still meeting and continuing its work.

Girls' Cross Country This year, for the first time, Bolton has a girls' cross country team at the high school.

Recently the team participated in a tri-track meet in East Hampton against East Hampton High School and Morgan High School.

In cross country meets any number may run. The score is figured by the first five team members in the team with the lowest total score is the winner.

Mrs. Susan Smith is the girls' cross country coach. She is assisted by student coach Robert McCurry.

The Bolton girls won against East Hampton 18 to 43 and against Morgan 25 to 30.

Bolton girls that ran and their places are: Janice Groves, 1; Carrie Doonan, 2; Sue Manning, 4; MaryJane Litvinskas, 5; Louise Paggiolo, 6; Michele Tarcomb, 8; Larry Paggiolo, 10; Laurie Davis, 11; Ann Bates, 12 and Carol Stevenson, 13.

Re-Elected Robert Murdoch was re-elected president of the Bolton Scholarship Fund Inc. at its annual meeting.

The organization is required to have an election of officers every two years.

Mrs. Maude Carpenter was re-elected vice president. Mrs. Nancy Lambert, was elected secretary and Mrs. Anne Manning, treasurer. The board of directors is made up of 15 members. Besides the four officers the high school principal, a member of the guidance department, a teacher from the high school, center school and elementary school, a person to represent the selection, the PTO, and the school board, a member of the clergy and two members at large elected by the organizations members make up the board of directors.

At its last meeting fund-raising procedures were discussed. Facts and figures on fund raising will be presented at the organizations next meeting Nov. 27.

Invited To Classroom In connection with American Education Week, Mrs. Thelma Friedman, Grade 2 teacher, invited the parents of her students to visit the classroom and observe what the children are doing in reading.

Parents have been invited to visit Thursday from 9:10 until 10:35 a.m.

Schools Regain Playground Gear

Playground equipment has been installed at all of the Vernon elementary schools except two and they are expected to be completed this week.

Superintendent Dr. Raymond Ramsdell told the Board of Education Monday night. The town had been without such equipment at its schools for several years. It was all removed after a child was hurt at one of the schools. However, the various PTO groups pushed for the reinstallation and the board appropriated $10,000 in its budget to buy the equipment.

This is an allotment of about $1,300 for each school. The two schools yet to be completed are Vernon Elementary and East School. In a survey made of schools in other towns, the board found the most popular equipment to be swings, slides and climbers. Some of the schools are restricted in their equipment due to the physical limitations of the playground areas.

Besides the usual swings, slides and climbers, some of the other equipment includes volleyball nets, tetherball and tunnel ball. Some of the schools have selected just part of their order as the principals have been unable to decide on what types of equipment they wish.

Andover

Tax Due

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 228-3971

Taxes Mrs. Cynthia Clark, tax collector, reminds residents that the second quarter of taxes on the Oct. 1, 1972 Grand List are due and payable during this month.

Mrs. Clark will be in the Town Office Building Monday evenings from 7 to 9 and Friday mornings from 9 to 12. Additional hours will be announced. Payments may also be mailed to the Town Office Building, School Rd.

On July 1, 1973, a new law went into effect regarding a minimum interest fee of $2 on delinquent.

However, Mrs. Clark stated that on Oct. 1, 1973, another law went into effect relative to interest on delinquent taxes.

This law states that if one (quarter) installment becomes delinquent, and the interest is paid, providing the next installment is on time, no interest will be charged. This does not affect accounts that were delinquent on Oct. 1, 1973.

Rogers Delegates Visit Manchester

Delegates from Asia, Europe and North America are attending the Rogers Corporation's "International Conference on RX" plastic molding materials which opens today in Manchester.

Japanese, British, Belgian and American representatives will explore in depth the intricacies of molding high tolerance thermoplastic components for automotive, aerospace and other sophisticated applications.

The visitors from Rogers' subsidiary and associate companies overseas will also have an opportunity to observe the corporation's Research and Development facility at Rogers, Conn., when the International Conference moves to that site later in the week.

Richardson Uncertain About Future

WASHINGTON (AP) - Former Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson said Tuesday he has not given any thought to the idea of returning to his home state of Massachusetts and running for public office.

In a news conference at the Justice Department, Richardson said he "really hadn't thought about anything except sitting down to compose my thoughts and putting some of them down on paper."

Richardson, who resigned from President Nixon's Cabinet Saturday rather than fire Watergate special prosecutor Archibald Cox, also said he had not been offered any future role in the administration.

House Seeks To Increase GI Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) - The House is working on a bill to increase GI benefits 13.8 per cent, an amount the Veterans Administration claims is unnecessary despite two studies that say current payments are inadequate.

A House veterans' affairs subcommittee has sent the measure on a voice vote to the full committee.

The bill would increase monthly payments to a single ex-GI from $225 to $250 and make proportional increases to others that would cost $555 million the first fiscal year.

The bill would provide for automatic cost-of-living increases, extend the time limit for receiving benefits from eight to 10 years and reduce disability levels for vocational benefits from 40 per cent to 10 per cent, the level used for World War II and Korean vets.

Rep. Henry Helstoski, D-N.J., the subcommittee chairman, said attempts may be made to pare the increase to 8 per cent in the full committee. Helstoski's subcommittee, which is considered more liberal than the full committee, narrowly failed to agree on a 20 per cent increase but cut the figure down to help get it through committee.

Two independent studies made by Educational Testing Service of Princeton, N.J., and a committee sponsored by the U.S. Conference of Mayors support claims that benefits are inadequate.

The ETS study, prepared for the Veterans Administration under congressional mandate, concluded that veterans are worse off under the GI Bill than they were after World War II.

The VA, which administers the GI Bill, promptly dissented from researchers' conclusions and said no increase was necessary.

A veterans opportunity committee sponsored by the mayors group shared the finding that World War II veterans were better off and recommended sweeping changes.

Although the VA has asserted that benefits are adequate, House committee staff members said agency officials have indicated privately they will not oppose an eight per cent increase.

experience, he feels he can help govern Manchester as a large business would be operated. He urged better lines of communication between the Board of Directors, the Board of Education, and the people.

Mrs. Vivian Ferguson, Republican - She stressed responsiveness, credibility and accountability as the key issues in the campaign and said the Republican candidates are best suited to put them into action.

She said responsiveness is more than just listening to the people, that it's doing something about it. Accountability, she said, is to stand up and be counted and to go back to the values of our forefathers and start living them again.

Anthony Pietrantonio, Democrat - He said he has no axe to grind - that the Republicans and Democrats on the board are all fine people.

In the past two years, he said, it was the majority Democratic party that was the most responsive to the people in listening to them and gave them what they wanted. He said the people will continue to get value, if the Democrats are returned to office.

Hillery Gallagher, Republican - This was the shortest speech. He said everyone has his or her own way of serving the community in some way and that entering politics is his.

He questioned the accuracy of the copy picture and figures he says the Democrats are painting.

Robert Price, Democrat - He said the Democratic majority has displayed an alert business approach to town government and that he is responsive to the wishes of the people.

Because he is a new candidate, he gave a resume of his background. He pledged, if elected, to work with the other members of the board to give the people of Manchester the most for their tax dollar.

Raymond Karpe, Republican - He, too, gave a resume of his background. He said that with the extra costs all people will be experiencing, it's important to improve Manchester's budget procedures, with the profits returned to the people.

He said that with his business

Town Treasurer

Roger Negro, Democrat - Listed the interest earned by the town because of the many new ways he found to invest the funds and showed how $20,000 in unexpected earnings was double his $10,000 salary for the two years he's been in office.

He asked to be returned to office, so that he might continue to earn maximum money for the town.

Samuel Maltempo, Republican - He cited his years as a policeman and as president of the Police Union, including his participation in contract and pension talks, and said, now that he is retired from the police force, he would like to continue his service to the people of Manchester.

Paul Willhide, Republican - He said he is running for office because he feels he should return, in kind, what he has received from the Town of Manchester.

He said people problems are growing in the country and in Manchester and that, with his experience in business and other areas, he is certain he can make a contribution toward solving them. He said the town has been good to him.

John Tani, Democrat - He said the unanimity of purpose displayed by the board members of both parties in his two years as a director is what impresses him the most - with more unanimous actions than any previous board.

He said his goal always has been to provide the best learning atmosphere for all children and, if elected, he will not lose sight of that goal. He said he is proud of the citizen participation and student representation on the board.

Miss Elinor Hasbim, Republican - She said her main concern is that all children in Manchester schools be provided with the best possible teaching methods and facilities.

She said she is concerned with proper education for the disabled, the mentally retarded, the problem child, the emotionally disturbed. She said she senses there are many children that need special help and that she fears many of them are not getting it.

Mrs. Carolyn Becker, Democrat - She said many citizens don't know they are welcome at school board meetings, and recommended better communication between the board and the public and the teachers. She recommended placing a non-voting teacher on the school board.

She said, speaking as a taxpayer, mother and former teacher, her real love is education and that she feels the present culture, generally, isn't offering the youngsters the education they need to become responsible adults.

Frank Livingston, Republican - He said his two goals are accountability to the taxpayers by the Board of Education and full use of school facilities by Manchester citizens.

He charged the existing Democratic administration similar to an iceberg - only the tip is shown to the voters, the rest remains unseen under the water. He said he is for full-funding of Manchester's pension fund.

Paul Greenberg, Democrat - He said the majority party has done an outstanding job and his experience in business and other areas, he is certain he can make a contribution toward solving them. He said the town has been good to him.

John Tani, Democrat - He said the unanimity of purpose displayed by the board members of both parties in his two years as a director is what impresses him the most - with more unanimous actions than any previous board.

He said his goal always has been to provide the best learning atmosphere for all children and, if elected, he will not lose sight of that goal. He said he is proud of the citizen participation and student representation on the board.

Area Police

TOLLAND

Robert M. Bell, 48, of 1 West St., Rockville, was charged yesterday by State Police with harassment in connection with the investigation of a complaint made by Ronald Pickett of Ansonia Rd., Tolland.

The alleged harassing call was made in August, police said. They declined to comment further on the matter. Pickett is the father of Janet Pickett, 7, who disappeared from the area of her home last August and her whereabouts are still unknown. Bell is scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, Oct. 29.

SOUTH WINDSOR

South Windsor Police are investigating a holdup that occurred at Gasland Service Station, Sullivan Ave., Tuesday night.

Police said the attendant, Clifford A. Hemmeler, 18, of Enfield, said a car drove into the station about 9:30. Hemmeler went out and the driver of the car showed a hand gun and demanded he be given the cash.

Police said the attendant turned over about $190 to the pair and they drove off. The attendant said the pair of students, because the schools alone can't accomplish all objectives and need shared responsibilities with the home.

Responsibilities to the students within the schools - to help them grasp what's given them in the classroom and to place it in the right perspective for each individual.

Earl Odum, Republican - He said his personal philosophy is that the fundamental function of a school board is to attract and keep good teachers and that, more so even than an educational plant, it is the very essence of a good educational system.

He said he is running for the school board because what it does in the next 14 years will involve him personally since his three-year-old will be in the school system to 1987. He urged passage of the school bond question.

Odum was the last speaker. The "table-hopping" followed.

VERNON

June 1. Pirainen and Robert T. Pirainen, 43, both of 40 Pleasant St., Rockville, were arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Circuit Court 12 charging them with fraud in obtaining state aid and second-degree larceny.

Mrs. Pirainen was released on a $1,000 non-surety bond and her husband was released on a $2,000 surety bond. Both are scheduled to appear in Circuit Court 12, Rockville, Nov. 20.

Truce Remains Precarious

The Associated Press

The Israeli military command charged that the Egyptians launched a strong air and armored attack on the Suez front today even as U.N. truce observers headed for the battle lines to enforce the second attempt at a Middle East cease-fire.

The Egyptian counteroffensive was mounted to save Cairo's forces on the eastern bank of the Suez Canal from encirclement by Israeli tanks and troops doubling back from their penetration into Egypt west of the waterway, Tel Aviv claimed.

The reported fighting came only a few hours after Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan announced the new cease-fire was in effect and seemed to be "working properly."

There was no immediate word from Cairo. But the Israeli claims of renewed combat appeared to jeopardize the already precarious truce, reiterated by the U.N. Security Council on Tuesday night after its first cease-fire collapsed in furious fighting.

Tolland Democrats Rebut

A rebuttal to the GOP campaign platform has been issued by Democratic Headquarters.

It states: "We, the Tolland Democratic Candidates, after reviewing the Republican platform and talking with over 150 families this past weekend, draw the following conclusions about the Republican pledges. The pledges are suffering from a very serious case of the 'blahs' that is further complicated by 'malnutrition'."

Their pledges are full of empty phrases such as 'to promote' and 'to improve' but lack the 'how's' and 'how much.' This is how we see their platform:

Coordinate various boards and commissions towards better efficiency - "The four Republican Board of Selectmen candidates, Joslin, Luce and Dumont are presently involved in a lack of coordination between the Republican controlled Board of Finance, Republican controlled Board of Selectmen, and Republican controlled School Building Committee. Do the three Board of Selectmen candidates really care about coordination?"

Promote an orderly transition - "Democrats have for the last several months shown an active leadership role in promoting the smooth transition of government created by the new charter. If the Democrats who initiated the organization of the Governmental Transition Committee. Only two Republicans showed enough interest to attend more than one meeting. Stuart Joslin, Board of Finance chairman and Republican candidate for Board of Selectmen, is on record as being opposed to the formation and funding of this committee. It is through the efforts of this committee that the groundwork has been laid for a smooth transition. If the Republicans cared about smooth transition why have they waited until election time to start participating?"

Conversation - "If the Republicans cared about Conservation why has the Republican controlled Board of Selectmen waited until election time to fill the two vacancies that have existed on the Conservation Commission for almost a year?"

Environmental sanitation control - "What does environmental sanitation control mean - the continued use of a dump that has been recommended for closure by the state? If the Republican leadership cared in the last two years they would have taken positive action to acquire a new 'environmental sanitation area!'"

Education - "We care, as the Republicans do, in providing quality education at a cost taxpayers can afford."

Improve recreational facilities for youth, senior citizens, and cultural activities - "Democrats have consistently cared about the youth, senior citizens, and cultural activities in Tolland as evidenced by the predominant Democratic participation in the various town clubs and organizations serving these areas!"

Improve fire, police, health and safety programs - "In the State Loses Round In Gasoline Case

HARTFORD (AP) — U.S. District Judge T. Emmet Clarke Tuesday denied Connecticut's request for a temporary restraining order to prevent four oil companies from raising wholesale gasoline prices beyond their Sept. 23 level.

The state Attorney General's office filed the request on behalf of the new Petroleum Products Control Commission against the Getty Oil Co., Mobil Oil Corp., Exxon Corp. and Shell Oil Co.

The commission contends that all four companies have ignored a 1973 state law which gives authority to approve all wholesale price increases. Each company, in turn, has filed suit challenging the law's constitutionality.

A three-judge federal panel has been chosen to hear the suits simultaneously. No date for the hearing has been set.

When the panel convenes its first job will be to rule on a request by Shell for a preliminary injunction to stop the commission from enforcing the law until the case is decided.

In denying the motion Clarke said the state failed to show that it would suffer irreparable harm as a result of its action or that present hardships were warranted the temporary relief.

He noted that if the commission ultimately was declared constitutional it could order the companies to roll back any increases it deems unwarranted. By contrast, he said, granting a temporary order could cause the companies irreparable harm in the event they ultimately triumphed. Such an order would make it difficult, if not impossible, for the companies to regain lost revenue at a later date, he said.

Clarke said this hardship would be eliminated if the state were willing to put up a bond assuring that it would reimburse the companies for any revenues lost. The state was unwilling to make such a guarantee.

$1,000 For Fetal Heart Monitor

Edward M. Kenney, administrator of Manchester Memorial Hospital, center, receives a check for $1,000 from John Pappa, right, toward the purchase of a fetal heart monitor in the obstetrics unit at MMH. Charles Burr, left, and Edgar Clarke look on approvingly. Pappa was chairman of a recent Jaycee sponsored Antique Auto Show and Flea Market which raised funds for the machine. Burr is an honorary hospital trustee, and co-owner with Edgar Clarke of the Antique Auto Museum where the event was held. The special machine is the most modern of its type used to monitor fetal heart beats and help detect any abnormalities which may exist and, in turn, provide the physician with sufficient warning to take steps to prevent what might otherwise be a fatal condition. State Solons Approve Tape Decisions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Members of Connecticut's Congressional delegation approved Tuesday of President Nixon's decision to release the Watergate tapes to U.S. District Judge John Sirica but expressed some reservations.

Sens. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., a Republican member of the Senate Watergate Committee, and Abraham A. Ribicoff, a Democrat, said they were pleased with the decision.

Weicker said he favored the immediate reinstatement of former Atty. Gen. Elliot Richardson, former Deputy Atty. Gen. William Ruckelshaus and former special prosecutor Archibald Cox. Richardson resigned and Ruckelshaus was fired Saturday night when they refused Nixon's orders to fire Cox, who was dismissed by Acting Atty. Gen. Robert Bork.

"This is a big step forward for the President, but Messrs. Richardson, Ruckelshaus and Cox are great Americans as the response of the people showed and we can't forget these men," Weicker said.

Ribicoff said "I am pleased that the President has recognized that the law of the land is supreme. I hope he continues to cooperate with the courts and the Congress in a mutual effort to bring out all the facts surrounding Watergate."

Members of the state's House delegation from both parties expressed favor with the decision to release the tapes, but said more remains to be done regarding the Watergate investigation.

"This is a good first step for the President, but he still has a long way to go," Rep. Stewart B. McKinney, a Republican, said. "There are other documents to be considered and it's possible that Congress may still insist on an independent prosecutor." He also said it appeared that the White House did not anticipate the Congressional and public opposition to the firing of Cox.

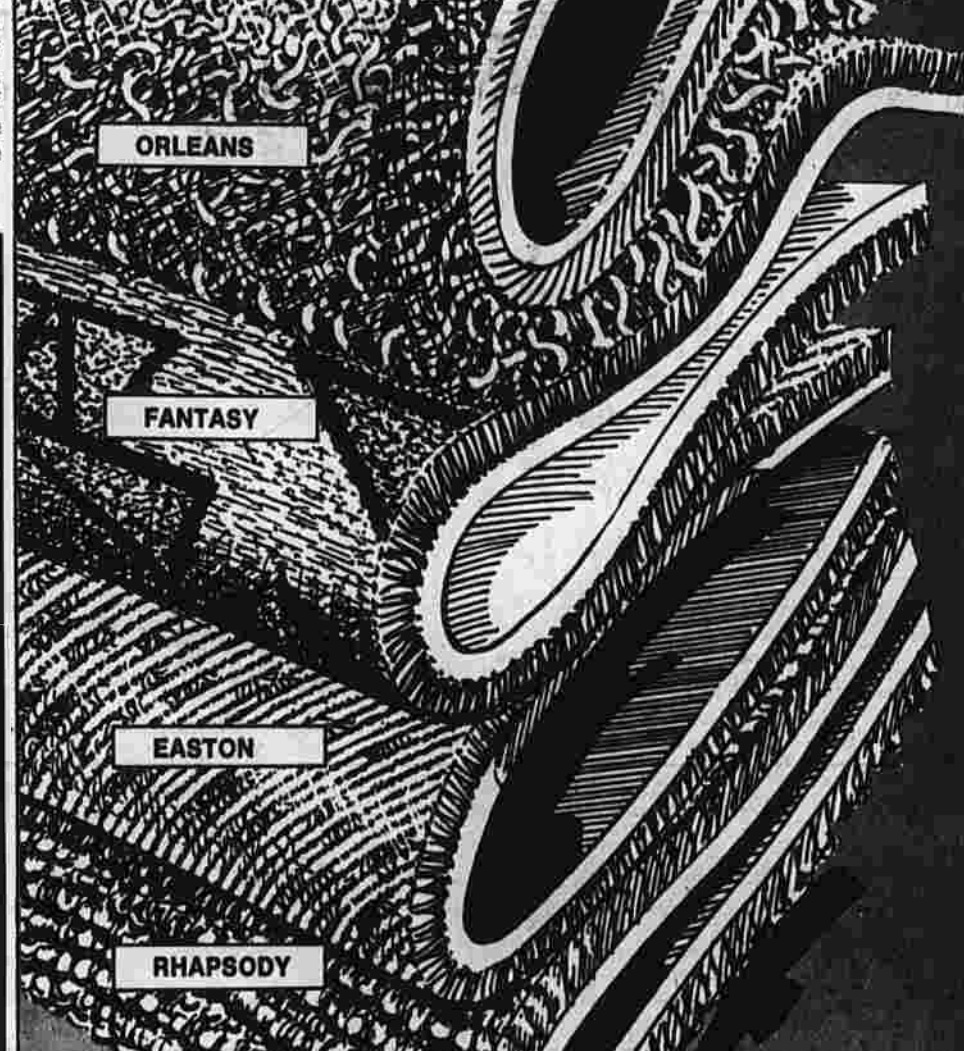

Republican Rep. Ronald A. Sarasin said he was pleased with Nixon's decision, but regretted "the unfortunate circumstances that precipitated the present crisis."

Rep. Ella T. Grasso, a Democrat, said "the indignation and anger of the people has at last persuaded the President to obey the decree of the court." She called his decision "a victory for the people who were aroused and determined

Chamber Backs School Issues

The Greater Manchester Chamber of Commerce has endorsed the proposed $5.6 million bond issue for renovations and additions at Bennett and Hilling Junior High Schools.

Richard G. Clark, executive vice president of the chamber, said the chamber feels the capital improvements produced by a "yes" vote in the Nov. 6 referendum "will not only make needed physical improvements to the school system in town, but will also improve the quality of education for Manchester's children, and quality of life in Manchester."

The proposed $5.6 million project is the first question on the Nov. 6 voting machines.

Clark said the chamber decided to support a "yes" vote on the schools question after the chamber's educational steering committee concluded that passage of the item "will not significantly increase taxes because old school bonds are due to be retired."

The chamber has also considered that state grants will reimburse the town about $2.5 million of the renovations' additional cost at the two junior high schools, Clark said. Thus the net cost to Manchester is only $3,100,000, he added.

In addition, Clark said, the chamber feels that approval of the project will provide needed space for the ninth grade at Hilling Junior High School, will reduce overcrowding at Manchester High School, and modernize "serious deficiencies" at Bennett.

The $5.6 million proposal is essentially a scaled-down version of a $8.8 million referendum additions referendum defeated by Manchester voters last year. The 1972 referendum was defeated by 470 votes, more than 18,000 were cast.

Several organizations, including town committees of both political parties, have already endorsed this year's referendum.

MANCHESTER PUBLIC SAFETY COMMITTEE

EYESIGHT
Look around you. What do you see? Green grass, leafy trees, multicolor flowers, and a glorious sunset. The sandy beach curling ocean waves, and bright-colored sails. Your family and friends, their smiling faces and laughing eyes.

How would you feel if you could no longer see these things? Seeing is a wonderful experience that you would really miss.

Twenty-three people out of 100 have defective sight by the time they are 20 years old. At 40 there are 48 people out of 100 who have defective sight. By age 70 there are 95 out of 100 people who have faulty vision. About 400 Americans go blind every week. Much of this loss is unnecessary. To keep the priceless gift of sight, you have to protect your eyes.

It's important to have your eyes checked at least once every two years. Eyestrain or eye disease can creep up on you and ruin your vision. Ophthalmologists or optometrists can correct your vision and correct eye defects before they become serious.

The right corrective glasses or contact lenses will take care of most common eye defects. If you have glasses, wear them; otherwise, you can further weaken your sight and cause eyestrain. Eyestrain can result in headaches, nausea, fatigue, and tears.

Light is important to your sight. In reading or close work, have the light come over your shoulder. Have good lighting in the background, as well as good light on what you're looking at. But don't read in direct sunlight.

When you're watching television, keep the whole room well enough lighted to avoid strong contrast with the light screen. This will help reduce eyestrain.

Reading in bed is OK provided you sit up and use a good light.

During long periods of eyestrain (reading, sewing, watching television, etc.), rest your eyes now and then by closing them or looking around the room. Constant staring is a strain on your eyes. When you catch yourself straining to see something, stop and relax. Give your eyes a break.

and who have demanded that our government proceed as a government of law and not men."

Democratic Rep. William R. Cotler also said Nixon had bowed to public pressure. He said he hoped the President would re-appoint Cox and give him "full assurance of cooperation."

Rep. Robert Giammo, a Democrat, said he did not believe this action in any way reduces the need for Congress to investigate the wisdom and necessity of impeachment." He said Nixon had broken his promise of a full and impartial investigation of his administration's Watergate-related activities.

State Atty. Gen. Robert Killian said he thought Nixon had misread the mood of the country when he had Cox fired.

He said Nixon's decision to release the tapes is an attempt to regain "some element of leadership essential if America is going to be able to pull itself out of what has been a horrible experience over a period of the past year or more."

Three Are Caught In Grocery Break

A break and entry into Pete's Grocery, 464 E. Center St., early this morning resulted in the arrests of Jose Acosta, 31, Teresa Veale, 18, and Iris China Garcia, 19, all of Hartford, Manchester Police reported.

Entry, police said, was gained by using a tire iron to force open the store's east wall side window.

Denture Search Under Way

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) - A search is under way for half of a denture once worn by George Washington.

Dr. Reider F. Sogomas of the University of California at Los Angeles said Tuesday he is looking for the lower right half of Washington's third set of dentures, the left half of which is now at the University of London Medical College Hospital in England.

He said he believes the portion he seeks might be in South America.

Sogomas said the dentures were originally inherited by relatives of the first dean of the first dental school of the United States in Baltimore.

Wesley B. Reed

Wesley B. Reed is the theme of the first Manchester Historical Society program this year. The musical, 'Music from the Attic', will perform Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Hill Junior High School auditorium.

The program is open to the public. The annual meeting, which will include the election of 1973-74 officers, and a short business meeting will precede Reed's appearance.

Reed's hobby of collecting musical instruments began when he found a parlor organ that needed repairing. Being both mechanical and musical, he decided to restore it. This led to a search for other instruments, including Antiquary. His songs, accompanied by various antique instruments, are representative of those sung when the instrument was at the height of its popularity.

Reed also introduces an instrument he invented, the Dulcy Harp, using several different models to accompany folk songs.

'Music from Attic' Theme For Historical Society

'Music from the Attic' is the theme of the first Manchester Historical Society program this year. The musical, 'Music from the Attic', will perform Sunday at 2 p.m. in the Hill Junior High School auditorium.

The program is open to the public. The annual meeting, which will include the election of 1973-74 officers, and a short business meeting will precede Reed's appearance.

Reed's hobby of collecting musical instruments began when he found a parlor organ that needed repairing. Being both mechanical and musical, he decided to restore it. This led to a search for other instruments, including Antiquary. His songs, accompanied by various antique instruments, are representative of those sung when the instrument was at the height of its popularity.

When demonstrating the ultimate in zithers, the Autaharp, he sings Gay Nineties ballads in a mellow bass voice.

'Circuit Breaker' Bill Explained by Genovesi

State Rep. Donald Genovesi says he is receiving many questions from senior citizens concerning the so-called "Circuit Breaker" bill passed by the 1973 General Assembly.

The maximum amount of credit that can be paid is $500 for those in the lowest income bracket. A renter would be entitled to relief in the form of a cash payment from the state, to the extent that 20 per cent of his annual rent, including utilities, exceeds five per cent of his income.

Genovesi said persons with questions concerning how the bill would affect them can receive detailed information from the State Tax Department, Hartford.

Batting Champs Lead All-Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — Batting champions Pete Rose and Rod Carew, primarily singles hitters, and sluggers Willie Stargell and Reggie Jackson, leaders in home runs and runs batted in, were named today to the 1973 Major League All-Star team announced by The Associated Press.

National League dominated the voting, winning seven of 10 places on the squad selected by sports writers and broadcasters, but the NL champion New York Mets failed to land a player.

In the balloting based on regular-season performance only, Rose, the National League batting champion for the third time with a .338 average, was the top vote collector.

The hustling Cincinnati Reds' outfielder received 251 votes, 20 more than runner-up Stargell.

Stargell, the husky Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder-first baseman who led the NL in home runs with 44 and in RBI with 119, accumulated 231 votes.

Jackson, the pacesetter of the American League and World Series champion Oakland A's, was the other outfielder berth on the All-Star team with 200 votes. He won the AL home run title with 32 and the RBI championship with 117.

Carew, the Minnesota Twin's slick second baseman, led the infielders with 136 votes. Joining him in the infield were first baseman Tony Perez of the Cincinnati Reds, shortstop Chris Speier of the San Francisco Giants and third baseman Darrell Evans of the Atlanta Braves.

Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's irreplaceable catcher, was the only player from the 1972 team.

Ron Bryant of the San Francisco Giants, the only National League pitcher with at least 20 victories — he had 24 — was chosen as the All-Star left-handed hurler, and fireballing Nolan Ryan of the California Angels, who set a major league strikeout record with 383, was picked as the top right-handed pitcher.

Hank Aaron, Atlanta's 39-year-old slugger who hit 40 homers for a career total of 713, only one short of Babe Ruth's all-time record, wound up fifth among the outfielders with 124 votes. San Francisco's Bobby Bonds was fourth with 157 votes.

The 31-year-old Rose, NL batting champion in 1969 and 1968 with averages of .335 and .348, respectively, won the title this year by rapping out a major league-leading total of 230 hits, including 181 singles.

Carew, also winner of AL batting crowns in 1969 with a .332 mark and 1972 at .318, captured his third title with a .350 average, highest in the majors. He was the only American League player to collect at least 200 hits, finishing with 203, including 156 singles.

He set Atlanta's Dave Johnson for the second base spot by 29 votes. Johnson, in setting a major league record for second basemen with 43 homers, received 107 votes.

The closest vote was for right-handed pitcher, Ryan, with a 21-18 record in addition to his 230 wins and 3,500 strikeouts. He led the NL in strikeouts with 382, pulled 106 votes in beating National League strikeout leader Tom Seaver of the Mets.

Seaver garnered 86 votes, highest among the NL candidates. Jim Palmer, Baltimore's 22-game winner, finished third with 71 votes, and Jim "Catfish" Hunter, a 21-game winner with Oakland, was fourth with 63.

Bryant received 88 votes in outpacing three other 20-game winners — Vida Blue and Ken Holtzman of Oakland and Wilbur Wood of the Chicago White Sox — to win top honors for lefthanded pitchers.

Bench, a 253 hitter with 25 homers and 104 RBI for Cincinnati's NL West Division champions, was a landslide winner as catcher. He got 184 votes, easily outdistancing Thurman Munson of the New York Yankees, runner-up with 57 votes.

Perez, fourth in batting in the National League with a .314 average in addition to hitting 27 homers and driving in 101 runs, received 90 votes for first base. John Mayberry of the Kansas City Royals finished second with 64 votes.

Evans, a surprising third in the National League with a career high of 4 homers plus a 280 batting average and 104 runs batted in, was tabbed the best third baseman on 119 ballots. Oakland's Sal Bando was next with 87 votes.

McAuliffe To Sox In Trade

BOSTON (AP) — Veteran infielder Dick McAuliffe has been picked up by the Boston Red Sox in a straight player-for-player deal that sent outfielder Ben Oglivie to the Detroit Tigers.

McAuliffe, 34, a righty who bats lefthanded, was primarily a second baseman during his 14 years with the Tigers, but he also saw action at third and shortstop.

He ranks among the top 10 players in "Tiger" history in games played, times at bat, runs, triples, home runs, total bases and extra base hits. Last season he hit .274 in 108 games, with 12 homers and 47 RBI.

Oglivie, in his second full season with Boston, hit .218 in 58 games.

Evans, a surprising third in the National League with a career high of 4 homers plus a 280 batting average and 104 runs batted in, was tabbed the best third baseman on 119 ballots. Oakland's Sal Bando was next with 87 votes.

High Jayvee Gridders Bow

Dominating action seems to be a handicap to the Manchester Junior Varsity football team as it dropped for the second week in a row a heart-breaking verdict, this time 14-12 to Windham on the last play of Monday's game.

The locals dominated the first half and led 12-0 at halftime. The second half saw more of the same, but Windham, after taking over on downs at 10 minutes, 10 attempted, a desperation pass as the gun sounded, and it worked to give them the decision.

The locals two touchdowns were scored by quarterback Bill Wilson and Mark Roach, the latter on an aerial from Wilson in the first quarter.

Manchester ground out 200 yards late Wilson was having a fine afternoon, completing 11 passes, seven of his favorite target, Roach.

Defensively, the Manchester platoon sacked the Whippet signal-caller eight times and intercepted two passes, those by Jim Berezinski and Mike Silver. But, this fine work went for naught as Windham pulled it out on last second hurried.

The Manchester JV's next game is Monday at East Hartford to take on their Pennsy High counterparts.

Berra Satisfied With New Pact

HAWORTH, N.J. (AP) — Yogi Berra, dressed like Jack Nicklaus but hitting the golf ball very much unlike the pro golfer, reflected for a moment on his new contract to manage the New York Yankees.

"They were very good to me," said Berra, who agreed Tuesday to spend his next three summers at Shea Stadium. "I'd asked if I could have it and they said, 'fine.'"

Then Yogi went out for 18 holes of golf. He did better at the negotiation table than he did on the White Bosphorus Golf and Country Club course. "I am playing lousy golf," the manager confessed.

Berra rounded the course in a snazzy outfit that included two red and white golf shoes. He looked happy, with his contract, if not his golf.

Securely was an important part of the new agreement which included a substantial raise, probably to $75,000. More than once, Berra heard the woves at his door when the Mets were dragging along in last place during what seemed to be an endless summer.

The announcement was made two days after the Mets lost the seventh game of the World Series to the Oakland A's. That was seven games farther than anybody Berra included, expected there was a point during the season when the World Series was the last thing on his mind.

"I didn't think we had a chance in July and August," said Berra. "I'll admit that."

Berra had company then, with the Mets playing simply bad. That was when talk about firing the manager was loudest. Then, when some of his injured players returned, the team started to mesh and Berra's job no longer became in jeopardy.

"I could have signed earlier," he said, "but I said, 'let's wait until the season is over.'"

The Mets didn't wait long.

The last time Berra managed a team into the Series was in 1964 when the New York Yankees lost to St. Louis. The year after that, he was fired.

Now the Yankees will share Shea Stadium with Yogi's Mets and rumors persist that their manager will be Dick Williams, who resigned at Oakland after beating Berra in the Series. It is, obviously, a small world.

Great Game Forecast

By Earl Yost

"It should be a great football game," Connecticut Coach Larry Nivaxia noted in regard to Saturday's Yankee Conference Homecoming at Storrs against arch-rival Massachusetts.

The matchup will feature seven of the eight individual finds in the conference which finds UConn at the top of the pack with a perfect 3-0 record.

Berra, son of the Mets manager, gained 231 votes in the upset loss to Rhode Island. "If you have a clutch play, we give the ball to Berra," MacPherson said. "I told the Boston guys (writers) to take a good look at him, he's really something. Pennington has unlimited talent, too."

Nivaxia, who would like nothing better than to win the '73 in his first year, admitted he "loves to see competition like this. I'll guarantee they'll be ready, and we will be, too."

Saturday's winner would be a big favorite to go on and win the crown.

The ticket sale has been brisk and the season's best crowd is expected for the 1:30 kickoff.

Restricted Use For Grid Field

Rules and regulations for the use of the football field at Memorial Field were issued at Monday night's meeting of the Board of Education.

The primary use of the football field will be for varsity and jayvee football and soccer games. The filling football team may also use the field until it has its own play area.

The field will also be available for overflow physical education classes when no other space is available.

Activities such as golf, softball, shot putting, javelin throwing and discus will not be allowed.

The field will be restricted to public school activities.

Pickup football games will not be tolerated. Dr. James Kennedy, superintendent said. Police have been asked to help patrol the area.

New A.L. President Speaks Out

CHICAGO (AP) — Lee MacPhail, a baseball man who prefers interleague play and a shorter season, has been named president of the American League, succeeding Joe Cronin, who has been the league president since 1959, will step down Jan. 1, 1974, and become chairman of the board.

Cronin, 67, will preside over league meetings in Houston in December.

MacPhail, 55, said Tuesday after being named to the post that he would spend the next two months winding up his duties as general manager of the New York Yankees.

MacPhail is the son of Larry MacPhail who introduced the major leagues to night baseball and owned the Cincinnati Reds, New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers.

MacPhail said he didn't contemplate any immediate changes. However, he said he is opposed to three leagues but favors interleague play and a shorter season to be cut at the end in order to move up the playoffs and the World Series.

MacPhail said "I hate to change from being active or leaving the New York Yankees. I spent one year in the commissioner's office and I don't like being neutral."

"But neither did I want to miss this opportunity," said MacPhail, who added that

Three-Year Contract

A's Owner To Block Williams

CHICAGO (AP) — Oakland A's owner Charlie Finley will hold Manager Dick Williams to his contract which has two years to run, the Chicago Sun-Times reported today.

Williams announced his resignation Sunday following the A's victory in the seventh and final game in the 1973 World Series. It was speculated that Williams would take a similar position with the New York Yankees.

According to the Sun-Times, Finley was approached by George Steinbrenner, the new A's owner, who offered him a meeting of American League owners in Chicago.

Steinbrenner reportedly asked Finley for permission to contact Williams, to which Finley replied "Nothing doing, saying I intend to hold Williams to his contract."

Finley told Steinbrenner that if the Yankees talk to Williams he will charge them with tampering, the Sun-Times said. Steinbrenner reportedly promised he would not contact Williams.

Politics Enter Scene

It's amusing to read where credit for some of the major improvements in the parks and recreation program in Manchester is being claimed by politicians during this election year. Two 'Best' Want Out Oakland's two best all around players, among the non-pitchers, Sal Bando and Reggie Jackson want out of Charlie Finley's organization. Bando, the team captain, openly admits he's disenchanted with the way the club owner operates. There is no owner in baseball history who is as controversial as Finley, Jackson said he would welcome a chance to play in New York for the Yankees — and so would a number of other A's players.

Comparison Notes: When the Mets played against Cincinnati in the playoffs for the right to play in the World Series, sunny, cool weather prevailed each of the three days. It's interesting to note the change in concession sales as compared to the night series games played in bitter cold weather. Hot dog sales jumped from $1,000 to $6,000 from day to night games and the sale of hot drinks rose from 7,000 for day starts to over 60,000 for night games. Approximately 28,000 ice cream cups were sold at 4 of the playoff dates and less than 1,000 at night and beer sales were up at night from 40,000 to 48,000.

Coventry Girls Win By Point

With its fifth runner finishing in 10th position, the Coventry High girls' cross country team just barely squeezed by last week's runner-up, High of West Hartford, in a meet held over the 1.5-mile Coventry course yesterday.

Breaking the tape in first place was Coventry's Anne Aronson, who covered the distance in 10:08. In close pursuit was Manchester's Barbara Crowley, with teammate Cindy Shanley taking fourth place. The setback dropped the girls' record to 3-5 this season, with its next race scheduled Tuesday at home with Norwich Free Academy.

Bolton Booters Shut Out Cheney

With two scores in the second quarter and one in the last 15 minutes, the Bolton High soccer team sent Cheney Tech down to a 3-0 defeat yesterday.

Indian Gridders Eye Win Season

Bouncing back with a vengeance, routing Maloney High 28-15 weekend, the Manchester High football team seeks its second straight win Saturday against CCLIF Ege Penney High in East Hartford.

Coach Larry Olsen's contingent was sky-high for Maloney and its play reflected this. Hopefully, his team will be as well prepared for Coach Ted Kourek's Black Knights. Penney is 1-3-2 thus far in league competition, having played the top three teams in the standings already.

"Don't be fooled by their record. Penney's defense will probably give us more trouble than anyone else we'll face," Olsen declared. The Black Knights use a five or six-man defensive front which is constantly flip-flopping, "making it awfully difficult to carry out blocking assignments."

Key defensive personnel for Kourek are linebackers Andy Zorn and Steve Naras along with tackle Bud Bissonette. Offensively,

Coaches' Corner

By Larry Olsen
MANCHESTER HIGH

After a game like we played on Saturday (29-0) against Maloney, I just can't say enough about our boys. We were extremely proud of the way that everyone performed, particularly in light of the heavy obstacle that they had to throw off their shoulders from last week to concentrate on this game.

They did what we wanted them to do, that is, they proved to themselves that they can bounce back and they can be a winner. This, to me, was the most satisfying part of the game. We received outstanding performance from almost everyone on the field and every player on the squad was able to contribute to this victory.

Offensively, we enjoyed by far our best game with our first 400-plus yardage game, 351 of which came via the ground game. The blocking of Rob Roy, Dallas Dodge and Rich Nicholas was opening holes for us on one side of the line while Steve Georgetti, Jim Michalk and Ken Nordstrom could be counted on every time we ran left. Our backs can certainly applaud the efforts of these blocks and the downfield blocking of Dave Hunt, for they covered many more yards than that new green sod that they have seen in some time. Jack Maloney had a great day of running, averaging over 10 yards per carry in 16 attempts, while our reliable workhorse fullback Scott Odell continued with his five yards a clip in the track which will carry the name of Pete Wigen and the baseball field will be known as Kelley Diamond in honor of Tom Kelley.

The basketball surface at Manchester High was christened the Clarke Arena on Dec. 21, 1965 in recognition of Will Clarke's long tenure as varsity basketball coach. All three men, Wigen, Kelley and Clarke are now in retirement.

There is much satisfaction in many quarters that all three men are still around to know that their names are forever at the school where they served for more than 100 years as teachers and coaches.

Woykovsky Leads Harriers to Win

With Larry Woykovsky leading the way, the Manchester Community College cross-country team easily defeated the University of Hartford harriers 22-35 in a meet at Keney Park in Hartford yesterday. The win extended MCC's record to 5-2.

Woykovsky easily outdistanced the field and strode across the finish line first for the fifth time this season. The Cougar captain took the early lead and maintained his demanding pace to finish the five-mile course in 25:29.

Senior halfback Paul Bogar makes the ground game go. The Knights alternate quarterbacks on each play bringing the play in from the bench. Rich Linden and Jim Bottaro split the signal-calling duties.

Manchester, now 2-2-1 in CCLIF warfare, enters Saturday's battle with one questionable performer, back John Kunz, who has a badly bruised high. Steve Melia suffered a slight ankle sprain against Maloney but is expected to be at his linebacking slot.

Senior Mike Coughlin will once again only center on punts and conversion attempts, being able to run straight ahead but not cut on a nagging bad ankle.

The Indians' offense is generated by field general Rick Milka, halfback Jack Maloney and fullback Scott Odell. Maloney had a tremendous day against his namesake, rushing for 182 yards and scoring nine points.

Last week, Manchester successfully re-established a long dormant ground attack. This week, Olsen said his play will definitely have to throw more, "to counteract a very stingy ground defense Penney puts up." Milka had a fine afternoon passing wise against the Meriden team, connecting on nearly 90 per cent of his attempts. His favorite target was wide receiver Bob Hoy, who hauled in four aerials for 80 yards. Milka can also target hisses towards David Hunt, who has a fine pair of hands.

The defensive charge is spearheaded by tackle Ken Irish and Dallas Dodge along with end Jim Michalk. They kept constant pressure on the Maloney quarterback and Olsen hopes for a similar performance against the Black Knight duo.

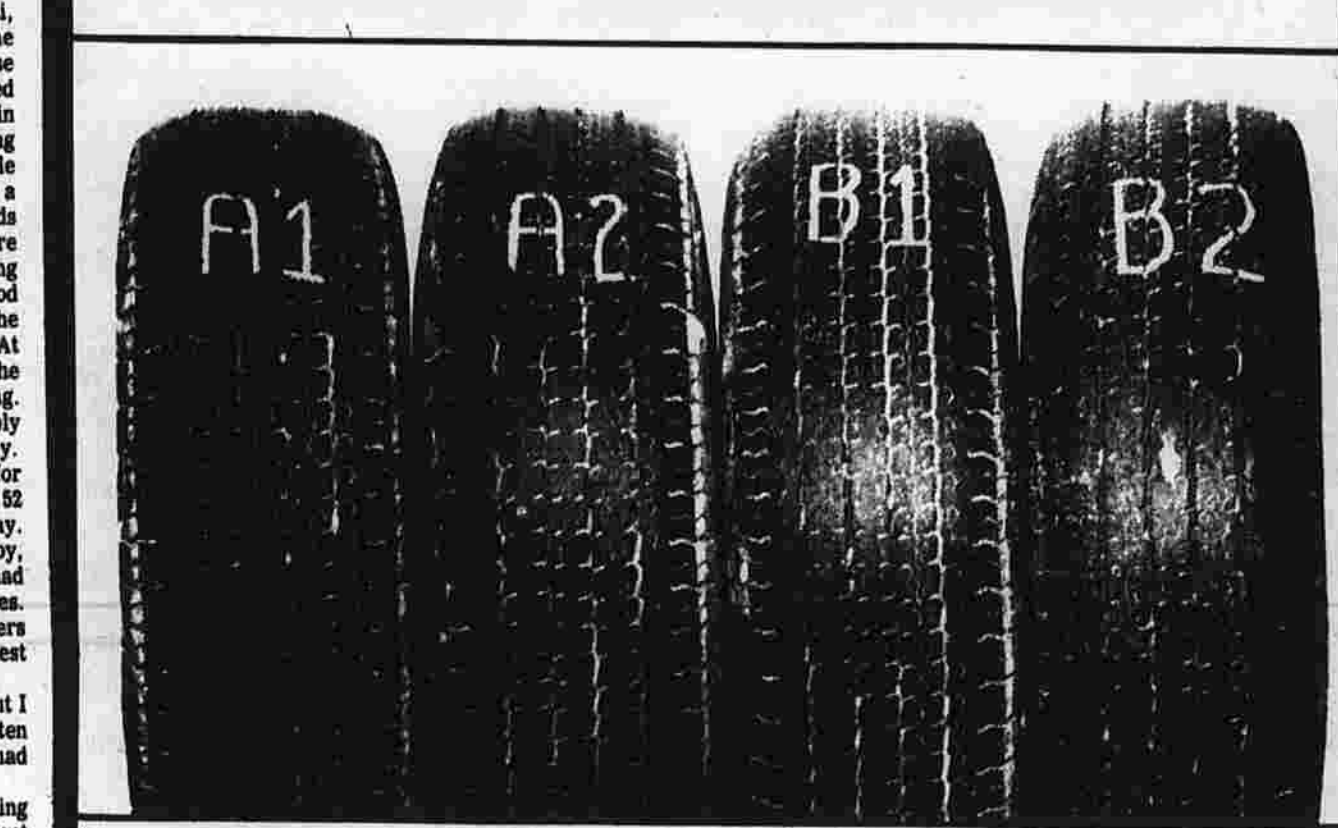

With four games left on the schedule, Olsen, in his rookie year at the helm, can better last year's 6-3 performance. His goal, however, will not be an easy one to attain. "The remaining games should be dog-fights. I foresee none of them to be runways in either direction. They all should go down to the wire," Olsen cautioned.

What's been most satisfying to the first year mentor is that the team's attitude has been great throughout despite a 20-50 season thus far. With the possibility of bettering last year's standard, Olsen feels this fall could still turn out very nicely. The pieces could begin to fall into place with a win over Penney.

MANCHESTER TIRE INC.

HAS A NEW LINE BRIDGESTONE TIRES

All radials look alike new.

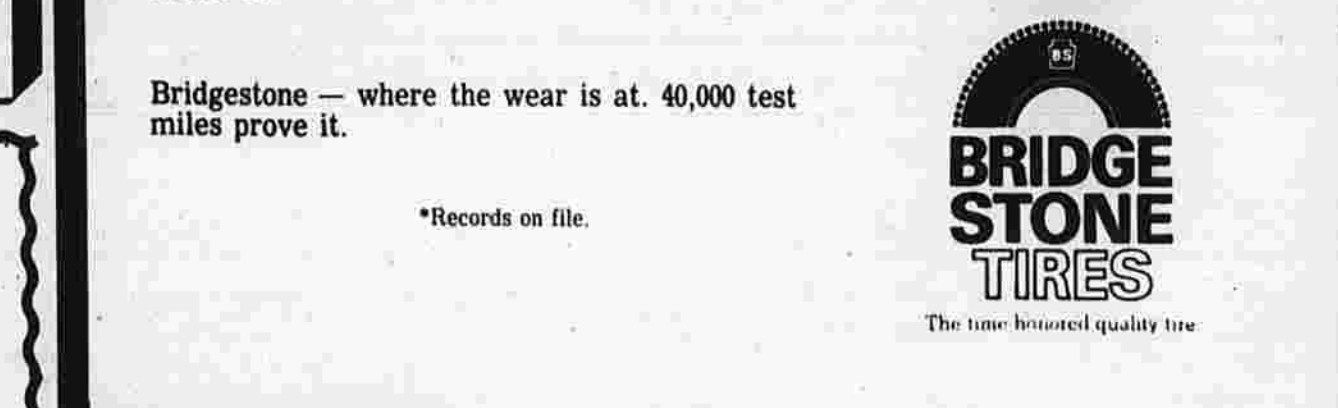

58% original tread 50% original tread 50% original tread 47% original tread

Here's what Bridgestones look like after 40,000 miles.

We hired an independent testing laboratory to test four Bridgestone RD-170V Wide 70 steel belt radials. They used a Ford station wagon and ran the tires under controlled conditions for 40,000 miles. Tread was checked every 4,000 miles, tires rotated every 2,000. Inflation was maintained at 26 lbs. Supporting 1580 pounds of wagon each, the tires survived your kind of driving. In fact, an average of 5/32" or one-half of the original 10/32" tread depth still remained!

For extra puncture protection you can count on three steel belts rather than the usual two. Additional fabric plies permit flexing without sawing and grinding. You get long-run security and comfort 40,000 miles of it. The Bridgestone RD-170V is available in wide tread sizes ER70SR-14 through JR70SR-15 and in metric sizes 155SR-12 through 225SR-15.

Bridgestone — where the wear is at 40,000 test miles prove it.

BUY NOW...Here's Why!

1. If trends of the past years continue, you can expect a home will cost 10% more next year than this year. That $30,000 home now becomes $33,000. Present bank mortgage rates vary but start at 8 1/2%, and up. By waiting for banks to reduce their rate by 1% on a $33,000 mortgage would be $22.94 a month or $275.28 a year cheaper. This is a far cry from the 10% increase in value. Whether your mortgage needs are high or lower now is a good time to BUY a home.
2. Your down payment must be proportionately higher.
3. Tax and interest payments are tax deductible.
4. A home appreciates - it does not depreciate. Equity will be built up.
5. There is no guarantee when or if mortgage rates will drop.
6. Many banks have lowered rates of interest in the recent past. While a rate can be renegotiated, the amount you borrow cannot.

BUY NOW...Here's Why!

1. If trends of the past years continue, you can expect a home will cost 10% more next year than this year. That $30,000 home now becomes $33,000. Present bank mortgage rates vary but start at 8 1/2%, and up. By waiting for banks to reduce their rate by 1% on a $33,000 mortgage would be $22.94 a month or $275.28 a year cheaper. This is a far cry from the 10% increase in value. Whether your mortgage needs are high or lower now is a good time to BUY a home.
2. Your down payment must be proportionately higher.
3. Tax and interest payments are tax deductible.
4. A home appreciates - it does not depreciate. Equity will be built up.
5. There is no guarantee when or if mortgage rates will drop.
6. Many banks have lowered rates of interest in the recent past. While a rate can be renegotiated, the amount you borrow cannot.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon today ordered a worldwide alert of U.S. military forces "for prudent, precautionary reasons" amid reports of possible unilateral intervention by the Soviet Union in the Middle East.

The White House also described the alert as precautionary. A senior Democratic senator said the alert responded to what he called a "brutal Soviet warning that the alert order was issued. Russian forces would act to enforce a Middle East cease-fire if the United States failed to join a peacekeeping force."

Washington (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, addressing the news crisis over the Middle East, said today the United States and the Soviet Union have "a special duty" to make sure that their confrontations are kept within limits that do not threaten nuclear war.

Thanks to You, It's Working

Gene Robbins and Judy Sullivan, clients of the Manchester Sheltered Workshop, are cleaning the windows at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John McElrae, 384 Porter St. This is one of the many tasks that the Workshop clients perform as a service to the public, including senior citizens. On a regular wage basis, they can rake leaves, help clean basements and do odd jobs that are helpful to any household. The United Way helps make it possible to train the mentally retarded to do tasks that are a service to society which, in turn, builds self pride in the Workshop clients.
