

Candidates Are Saying—

John W. Thompson

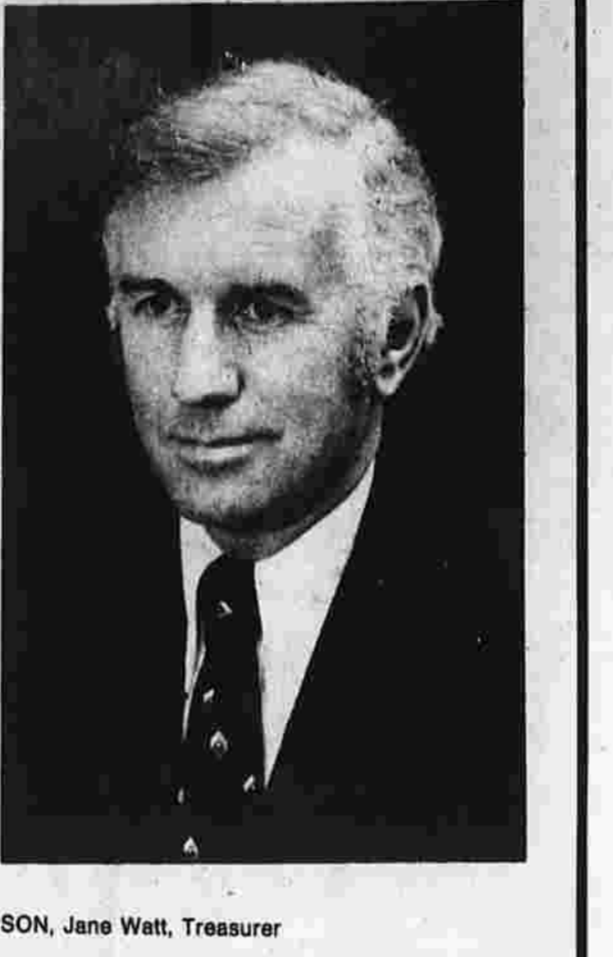

(Mayor Thompson is a Democratic candidate for the Manchester Board of Directors.)
The residents of our community have many needs for public transportation. Commuters, school children and non-drivers, particularly the elderly and handicapped persons, have special need of the buses.
The commuter bus service which I vigorously supported from its inception is off to a good start. I have proposed to the Department of Transportation that this service be expanded with a commuter parking lot in the south end of Manchester. This proposal is under consideration by the DOT.
I believe that transportation services can be integrated successfully at different times of the day. Commuters use the buses early in the morning and late in the afternoon, whereas school children follow the commuter in the morning and precede him in the afternoon. The Commission on Aging is investigating a "Dial-a-Ride" service to adapt to the special needs of the handicapped and the elderly. This system would operate out of central terminal which the person in need of ride could call 24 hours in advance. The terminal would coordinate trips for the following day. The service would use mini-buses and would be door-to-door.

This service has worked in many communities; in others it has been unsuccessful. I would recommend that the Commission on Aging evaluate it through a survey and initiate a trial run with a leased station wagon. If successful, it could be tied into an integrated transit program with commuter buses and school buses.
I envision an expansion of our senior citizen bus service that would bring senior citizens to all parts of Manchester for social, recreational and business purposes.

PAID FOR BY FRIENDS OF JACK THOMPSON, Jane Watt, Treasurer

Mr. and Mrs. K. Winther

Miss Lisa Ellen Ogden of Manchester and Roy K. Winther of Bolton exchanged wedding vows Aug. 31 at St. Bridget Church, Manchester.
The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Ogden of 137 Branford St. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell K. Winther of Keeney Dr., Bolton.
The Rev. William Kilien of St. Bridget Church officiated at the double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Barbara Murphy of Manchester was organist. Ralph Maccarone of Manchester was soloist.
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a silk organza gown over lace on bodice. Empire waist, long sleeves of lace, mandarin collar, with long train accented with lace. Her elbow-length veil was attached to a headpiece of lace and pearls. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and blue roses and baby's breath.
Mrs. Andrew Calve of Manchester was matron of honor. She wore a white and navy blue organza gown designed with long, white sheer sleeves and navy sash. Her bouquet was identical to that carried by the matron of honor. Her headpiece was a cluster of baby's breath.
Andrew Calve of Manchester was best man. Ushers were Mark Winther of Bolton, the bridegroom's brother; and Christopher Ogden of Manchester, the bride's brother, who was ring bearer.
A reception was held at the Manchester Country Club, after which the couple left on a motor trip through Northern New England. For traveling, Mrs. Winther wore a beige pantsuit with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple will reside at 355 Center Rd., Vernon.
Mrs. Winther is a 1973 graduate of Manchester High School. Mr. Winther, a 1963 graduate of Manchester High School, attended the University of Connecticut. He served in the Army in Vietnam. He is employed as a mechanic for Lynch Motors in Manchester.

Cox Fears New Prosecutor May Have Powers Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Archibald Cox has expressed concern that any new special prosecutor named by President Nixon might not have authority to look into campaign-finance violations, wiretapping and the ITT case.
Cox was scheduled to testify again today in the Judiciary Committee's inquiry into his firing. He was dismissed Oct. 20 for refusing to help efforts to obtain White House documents relating to his investigation.
Meanwhile, the Senate committee investigating the Watergate case planned to resume its hearings today with testimony from Bert Bernbach, who ran Sen. Edmund S. Muskie's 1972 campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination.
The committee also agreed to try to renew an agreement operating under Nixon's definition of Watergate would be without authority to investigate allegations that the Nixon administration improperly settled an antitrust suit against ITT; engaged in illegal wiretapping, and acted improperly in accepting campaign money from the dairy industry.
Cox told the committee Monday that he received, through then-Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson, numerous complaints from White House staff members about the breadth of his investigation.

which was put together at the last moment." Under the agreement, Stennis would have authenticated summaries of the tapes.
The White House agreed to submit to U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica a detailed analysis of the tapes for an item-by-item ruling on what portions will be withheld from a grand jury.
—In other developments: Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., in the panel's investigation of possible grounds for impeaching Nixon, would be allowed to subpoena witnesses and documents without full committee approval.
The story said Kleindienst had related the conversation to Watergate prosecutors.
Cox told the committee he had discussed that conversation with Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., and two of their aides. He said he had been assured neither was the source of the leak.
Cox called his breach of confidence "an error of carelessness" and apologized.
At the White House, a spokesman said Cox's testimony illustrates "the partisan attitude that characterized his activities in recent months."
Some time after the conversation with Kleindienst, Nixon withdrew his opposition to the appeal and the ITT case was settled out of court.
Although there have been assertions that the out-of-court settlement resulted from a promise of ITT aid to the Republican National Convention, Cox said he considers the agreement a good one for the government.
Cox repeated that he thinks the best method of naming his successor is to enact a bill leaving the choice to the full U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia.
A majority of senators have endorsed a bill allowing Sirica to name the prosecutor.
Cox agreed there are constitutional risks in this procedure, but said the risks are worth taking.
No matter how the prosecutor is selected, Cox said, he must have access to White House documents, which Nixon has been reluctant to grant.
And it is possible, Cox added, that naming a new prosecutor who is subject to firing by the President could be regarded as having no prospect at all.

The School Referendum Question—Bennet Alterations Major Cost Items

DOUG BEVINS (Herald Reporter)
SECOND IN A SERIES
The most expensive item in this year's proposed renovations-additions project at Manchester's Bennet Junior High School is alterations to the five buildings in the Bennet complex, but the estimated cost of alterations this year is about $700,000 less than the estimated cost last year.
This year's Bennet proposal, combined with a renovations-additions proposal for Illing Junior High School, will be decided by Manchester voters next Tuesday. The first question on the voting machines is for a $5.6 million appropriation for work at both junior high schools, and the proposal is essentially a scaled-down version of a $8.8 million referendum defeated by voters last year.
Of the $6 million proposed for the school projects this year, about $1,200,000 would be spent on alterations to the existing Bennet complex. Bennet now consists of the Main Building, Barnard Building, Franklin Building, Rec Building and Old Trade School (45 School St.).
In the 1972 referendum, it was estimated that $2,007,000 would be spent on alterations to the five buildings.
The remainder of the estimated $2,719,000 total to be spent at Bennet would go for construction of a new media center, a new gymnasium building ($883,500), site development ($37,000), repairs ($74,800), architectural and engineering fees ($198,000), furniture and equipment ($100,000), and contingency and other ($130,500).
The biggest cut in the Bennet alterations estimate was accomplished in the Rec Building — this year's alterations total $1,200,000 less than last year's $430,000 — because school officials determined that the Rec Building was the least essential to educational impact and the proposed costs had to be cut. School Superintendent James P. Kennedy says.
About a fifth of the alterations cost at Bennet — approximately $250,000 — would pay for the state-mandated fire safety code modernization work. The Town of Manchester must comply with the fire and safety codes, school administrators say, if the state is to reimburse the town for about $2.5 million of the total $5.6 million school project.
Some of the modernization to meet the state requirements are painting of interior walls with fire-rated finish; improvements to fire escapes, stairwells, and exit doors; and installation of elevators to accommodate handicapped people.

United States Pushing Mideast Peace Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger will visit Cairo and other Mideast capitals next week as the United States tries to promote peace negotiations between Israel and its Arab foes, officials said.
The trip, formally announced today, is considered a prelude to talks between Israel and the Arab states late this year or in early 1974.
Kissinger will stop in Jidda and Amman to confer with Saudi and Jordanian leaders, and possibly also in Rabat, Morocco. Then, after a stop in Pakistan, he will fly to Peiping, China, to be met by Chinese officials.
The White House had planned to announce Kissinger's trip following a meeting today with President Nixon and Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meir.
The secret was spilled Tuesday night while the President, Kissinger and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin were meeting at Camp David, Md.
As the diplomatic pace quickened, Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel was granted an appointment with Nixon at the White House on Thursday.
She asked to see the President amid indications that the United States was pressing Israel to yield Egyptian territory on the west bank of the Suez Canal seized between two U.N. cease-fire calls last week.
The fact that Kissinger's trip to Cairo had already been planned was taken as evidence that Washington has already decided on at least the broad outline of its diplomatic course.
Both the United States and the Soviet Union have pledged to use their "good offices" to expedite negotiations between Israel and Arab neighbors.
Washington clearly is playing the dominant role, while the Soviet Union is to bring the two sides together under one roof, bargaining through a U.S. intermediary or directly across the table from each other.
States is expected to share in the knowledge acquired by Israeli technicians who are examining the antirainfall weapon.

Push For Ford WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional leaders are pushing for early approval of Rep. Gerald R. Capitol Hill sources reported that the Democratic leadership feels the 1972 presidential election results dictate that a Republican be next in line for the White House if a serious impeachment move develops.
EPA Given Deadline WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals had ordered the Environmental Protection Agency to reach a decision within 30 days on its proposal for a gradual reduction of lead in gasoline. Then EPA Administrator William D. Ruckelshaus had proposed a one-year delay in adopting the program, prompting the court challenge by the Natural Resources Defense Council and a dozen other groups last January.

Vandalism No Longer Just A Halloween Event

By The Associated Press
Halloween 1973 is like all previous nights-of-spooks. Connecticut's neighborhoods will be full of make-believe ghosts, goblins, and real vandals.
But vandalism is not limited to one night a year. According to University of Connecticut social criminology Professor Colt Denfeld, vandalism on Halloween seems to be an American tradition, but it has increased over the years while vandalism the rest of the year has decreased.
An Associated Press Connecticut survey reveals that vandals cause millions of dollars damage annually, striking the public and private sector alike but aimed mainly at institutions of authority and the establishment.
Schools increasingly have become targets for vandals, said Denfeld.
"It's probably an act of boredom but also an act of rebellion, or protest against the school," he added.
A state Board of Education survey for the 1971-72 academic year blamed vandals for over $2 million damage to windows, doors, walls, bathrooms and equipment. Authorities agree that the problem has increased.
Officials in Waterbury, where a special vandalism commission has been set up, said damage totals $250,000 annually, including vandalism to schools and industrial buildings.
A spokesman for the Southern New England Telephone Co. (SNETCO) said vandalism to coin telephones had increased from $23,000 for January through September last year to $31,000 for the first nine months this year.
The totals include loss of revenue as well as equipment. The spokesman explained. Coin telephones had increased from $23,000 for January through September last year to $31,000 for the first nine months this year.

Historical Society Hears Music Of Other Eras

The concertina, German zither, and ukulele may be poor competition for the electric guitar of rock, country, and Western singers. Nevertheless, for more than an hour Sunday at Illing Junior High School, Wesley B. Reed of North Woodstock revealed to a Manchester Historical Society audience some of the history and mechanics of older reed and string instruments. He also played several of the dozen instruments that he displayed from his collection of 265 pieces.

In the annual meeting preceding his program, the following officers were re-elected for 1973-74: Christie McCormick, president; Wells Deminton, vice president; Miss Jeanne Low, recording secretary; and Mrs. Robert Pratt, treasurer. Mrs. George Walker was elected corresponding secretary.

Executive committee members are Edson M. Bailey, Arthur H. Hilling, Miss Catherine Putnam, and Mrs. Ernest Shepherd.

Christie McCormick

Reed played several types of backgrounds to the melody. The words zither and guitar, he commented, came down through different etymological routes from the Greek word "kithara," a type of lyre.

One of the most unusual of the later string instruments that Reed played was the ukulele. This, he said, was invented to capitalize on the introduction to this country of the ukulele in the 1920's. Resembling an elongated ukulele, it has strings running its length and croquet-like hoops on each side. The melody is played by bowing the strings between the hoops, while the chordal accompaniment is filled in by the other hand at the instrument's base.

Reed concluded the afternoon program by singing four music hall ballads, with Autobury accompaniment. After a brief rehearsal, the audience joined in on "Sweet Adeline," "My Mother Was a Lady," "Don't Go In the Lions' Cage Tonight," and "She's More to Be Pitied Than Censured."

First Division Has Two Women, One Gown

By Hubert J. Erb
Associated Press Writer
ANSBACH, Germany (AP)—The U.S. 1st Infantry Division brought 11,000 men, two women and one evening gown to West Germany for field training exercises.

The evening gown belongs to Lt. Gene Thornton, 23, of Middletown, Del., a 5-foot-8, 117-pound member of the Women's Army Corps.

"I brought the gown along in my footlocker, just in case," she said.

"My real name is Eugenia, for my father, Eugene. I am the first ever in my family to go overseas, except for a couple of distant cousins in World War II. They did not come back."

She said the nickname "Gene" helps when she signs Army correspondence.

"The people who get the letters think I am a man and it gets better results," she said.

Women's lib is not attractive to Lt. Thornton or to the other 1st Division WAC who came here wearing combat gear and a fatigue uniform.

"I want nothing to do with women's lib. I am not a women's liber," said Pfc. Connie Kalvick, 19, 5-2 and about 130 pounds, is from Minot, N.D.

Both she and Lt. Thornton have been in the Army since the beginning of this year. Pfc. Kalvick will serve for two years and the lieutenant for three years.

Lt. Thornton was commissioned a second lieutenant after being graduated from Washington College in Delaware in 1972, a drama major in liberal arts.

Her father is a banker and her mother a teacher.

She joined the Army, she said in an interview, because, "I didn't think there was much happening at home."

The airlift that brought the two women to Germany came from Ft. Riley, Kan., home station for the 1st Division. A reverse airlift takes them home in November.

"I don't think I am ready to stay over here yet for a tour," the lieutenant said. "I prefer to be closer to home at this point."

Would she recommend that other women join the Army?

"It would depend on the person," she replied. "I really enjoy what I am doing. The Army taught me to keep house, to type.

"I think all young people should spend some time in service, military or otherwise, to help out on all the things we have to do back home, with the Indians, on floods, and other things."

"I hate wars. I would not want to go to one. Pretending like here is okay. But not the real thing."

She says reaction from the troops at her unexpected appearance has been interesting. "The first day I went into the field, I walked down this road and an armored personnel carrier came along. A GI spotted me, held out his arms wide, and yelled, 'I love you.'"

Reed, who is an optical physicist by vocation, said that his interest in musical instruments of other eras was aroused 30 years ago when he purchased a roller organ for $1.50 at an auction in Berlin, Mass. This and other types of roller organs provide music of a sort, Reed explained, by means of a hand-operated crank that propels a punched card through the machine, forcing air through the holes, on the general idea of the later player piano roll.

On the original roller organ obtained in pursuit of his avocation, Reed played "The Sidewalks of New York" by means of a card he had made. He went on to illustrate the use of several other similar instruments. These included one that employs metal pins, or fingers, to force air through the card holes; another that is operated by pushing bellows to furnish air pressure; and a third, the rocking melodeon or elbow organ, which originated in the 1820's.

Roller organs, Reed said, were an outgrowth of parlor organs, which, in turn, grew out of the melodeon. All these instruments, he added, led to a parlor version of the barrel organ. The concertina that followed had a shriller reed quality.

Turning from instruments that function on air pressure, Reed, who is an optical physicist by vocation, said that his interest in musical instruments of other eras was aroused 30 years ago when he purchased a roller organ for $1.50 at an auction in Berlin, Mass. This and other types of roller organs provide music of a sort, Reed explained, by means of a hand-operated crank that propels a punched card through the machine, forcing air through the holes, on the general idea of the later player piano roll.

Hope For Peace

The cease-fire in the Middle East is apparently taking hold although a few violations continue to be reported.

The actual conflict has, for the moment, been stilled and with it an increased hope that perhaps some tentative or detente in this crucible of trouble may be worked out.

There has been some concern that the super powers are trying to impose a settlement on the Middle East.

After 25 years of repeated failures of the Arab states and the Israelis to come to terms, perhaps a super power solution as the only real alternative the world has at this time.

severe test for any peacemaker or would-be peacemaker in the Mideast. Any while the signs now appear more favorable than they have for many decades, we must not become too optimistic or let our guard down.

We must work, hope and pray, that a peaceful solution to the Middle East conflict can be achieved in the weeks, months, and possibly years ahead.

At the same time, the lesson of near-confrontation with Russia over its attempt to unilaterally "police" a cease-fire, is clear to all who wish to study it.

Whatever detente we may now enjoy with the Soviet Union is based upon our power and willingness to use that power in our own national interest when the need arises and to do so quickly and firmly.

We think Russia has got the message and that is why the Arab nations and Israel are now getting messages too; messages that say "the United States and Russia do not want a military solution in the Middle East so let's get on with the negotiations."

After the losses suffered by both sides in the recent battles, time has to be on the side of peace.

It can be assumed that if the United States and Russia arrive at some arrangement which severely restricts the arms race in the Middle East and if both give, not only financial but moral support to United Nations efforts to maintain the cease-fire until a more permanent peace treaty can be hammered out, the odds favor peace.

For the first time in more than 25 years the signs of an accommodation by both sides is evident.

The bitterness of the issues that are the roots of the conflicts will be a

Today in History

By The Associated Press
Today is Wednesday, Oct. 31, the 30th day of 1973. There are 61 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:
On this date in 1817, Martin Luther nailed his 95 theses against the abuses of the practice of indulgences on the chapel door at Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany.

Also, on this date:
In 1674, Dutch forces evacuated New York City.
In 1764, a royal charter was granted to King's College in New York City. It was the beginning of Columbia University.
In 1864, Nevada was admitted to the Union as the 36th state.
In 1931, the U.S. Treasury announced the financial condition of the nation was so grave that more than 500 banks had closed their doors.
In 1959, Britain's Princess Margaret announced in a radio broadcast that she had decided not to marry Group Capt. Peter Townsend.
In 1959, an ex-Marine from Texas, Les Harvey Oswald, told newsmen in Moscow he would never return to the United States. He did, and later made tragic history in Dallas.
Ten years ago... a gas explosion ripped through the Indiana State Fair grounds, killing 66 spectators and injuring 340.
Five years ago... President Johnson ordered a halt to all American air, naval and artillery bombardment of North Vietnam, saying that broadened peace talks would begin in Paris.

One year ago... President Salvador Allende's Cabinet resigned after three weeks of strikes which crippled Chile's economy.
Today's birthdays: Nationalist Chiang Kai-shek, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

Thought for today: Remember always that all of us are descended from immigrants. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

is 87 years old. Actress Barbara Bel Geddes is 51.

Jack has given their untiringly of his best efforts to our town and its citizens and we have seen the many benefits of his honesty, inspiring leadership and dedication. The countless hours that Jack and his charming wife, Betty, have given to our town may not be noticed or appreciated by all the voters but the results speak for their efforts.

Keep Manchester a fine town to live in and raise our families.

Vote For Mom

To the editor:
My mother, Vivian Ferguson, works very hard and likes to help people. I have never seen her refuse a telephone call when someone needs help. She is always researching town problems and tries to do the best job she can. I hope the people of Manchester will vote for my mother, Vivian Ferguson. I would, if I was of age, but I am only 18.

Sincerely,
Thomas H. Ferguson

Vernon Police May Use 3-Wheel Cycle

In addition to the regular motorcycle that the Vernon Police Department recently acquired, the department may also have a three-wheel cycle to be used as a preventive patrol unit.

Mayor Frank McCoy said today that he and Police Chief Edmund Dwyer have filed with the Connecticut Planning Committee on Criminal Administration a request for a grant from the state, for the purchase of the vehicle.

The mayor and the chief have been working with Val Laban, a police planner for the Capitol Region Council of Governments (CRCOG), for the past three months, preparing the application which presents a comprehensive analysis of the crime rate in Vernon and in the area to be patrolled with the cycle.

Support Fund

To the editor:
I am writing on behalf of Child and Family Services of Connecticut, Inc. to thank the people of Manchester for their past support of the United Fund and to urge them to contribute generously to the drive now being conducted.

Child and Family Services of Connecticut, Inc., a non-profit, voluntary, non-sectarian, private agency with offices located at 110 Main Street in Manchester, is one of the agencies that benefit from this drive. The services offered by this agency and available to any Manchester resident include family counseling, foster care, adoption services, family day care, and aid to unwed mothers and emotionally disturbed children.

The agency receives its support from many sources. Individuals and parents who are able to pay are charged a fee according to their income and family size. Each year through special fund-raising events the Manchester Auxiliary assists the agency to realize its financial budget. However, an immeasurable help is the financial support received through the United Fund allocation to Child and Family Services.

Don't pass up this opportunity to help a child or family in your community. Please give to the United Fund.

The People's Choice

To the editor:
If the voters in Manchester go to the polls Nov. 6 and vote for the candidate who is best qualified, Roger Negro would again be the people's choice.

Roger is seeking re-election to the office of town treasurer and his past record of performance is proof of his ability to do the job and do it well. He has shown the people of Manchester that he is more than just aware of what the duties of the treasurer are.

Once he was elected to office, Roger was not satisfied to be doing only what had "always" been done and in seeking ways to improve the methods of his office, he has brought an importance to this position that it has not had in the past. During his first term of office, Roger was able to effect many changes in the handling of money which resulted in direct benefits to the town of Manchester.

Roger is seeking re-election to the office of town treasurer and his past record of performance is proof of his ability to do the job and do it well. He has shown the people of Manchester that he is more than just aware of what the duties of the treasurer are.

Vote Jackson

To the editor:
I endorse Phyllis Jackson for re-election to the Board of Directors because I know she is well qualified for the job. She has given to be a capable individual, conscientious, intelligent and sensitive to the needs of all the people, young and old.

In her short time on the Board of Directors she has shown to all that she is a hard worker. If re-elected I know she will continue to direct her efforts to the best interest of the people of Manchester.

She is a member of the State Board of Directors of Connecticut, Federation of Democratic Women, and a member of the Board of Directors of MISCAC, also was president for Democratic Women's Club of Manchester, Ladies of St. James, Keeney St. PTA, secretary of Manchester Charter Revision Committee and PTA Council.

For years she has worked devotedly in the community.

Support Karpe

To the editor:
Raymond J. Karpe, a candidate for the Board of Directors, deserves the support of all voters, regardless of party affiliation, Election Day, Nov. 6. He possesses the leadership abilities needed on the board.

I have observed his actions in a business environment for many years and I have seen him quickly and rationally analyze problems and make decisions promptly, objectively, and fairly. He is extremely well qualified in the area of finance, responsibility and will ensure the activities of the town are conducted in a cost effective manner.

I am sure if the people of Manchester support Raymond J. Karpe, he will prove to be a dedicated public servant.

Need Zinsser

To the editor:
With the approach of another fall, we again welcome the advent of one of our greatest rights as citizens of a democracy, the right to elect our own leadership. In the coming years, Manchester's needs are many and we need leaders with ability, with foresight, and with the courage to shoulder the load of leadership. We need men like Carl Zinsser on the Board of Directors.

Vote Hashim

To the editor:
I am very pleased that the voters of Manchester will have the opportunity to cast a vote for a "candidate extraordinaire" for the Board of Education. Her name is Elinor Hashim.

Elinor is a highly intelligent young lady with a sincere dedication to maintaining the highest ideals in education that can be achieved. She has a BA in Political Science from the University of Vermont and a Master's Degree in Library Science from Southern Connecticut State College. A resident of Manchester for many years, she is well acquainted with the educational system of the town and has a sincere interest in its functioning.

I urge all voters, in the interest of good education, to cast their vote for Elinor Hashim for the Board of Education.

Mrs. Jeanette C. Bartlett

Re-Elect Thompson

To the editor:
Under normal circumstances, most professional people usually find neither the time or inclination to express their political preferences publicly. But, since we are not living in normal times, I must speak up now.

Daily we are shocked by news of national figures whose actions make us wonder if they have lost their senses as well as their moral convictions. Daily we are stunned by one mindboggling international crisis after another. Because of this, I am convinced that the voters of Manchester may be diverted from giving proper attention to the local election.

During the past two years, Manchester has been extremely fortunate to have a man of the caliber of Jack Thompson as its mayor.

Jack has given their untiringly of his best efforts to our town and its citizens and we have seen the many benefits of his honesty, inspiring leadership and dedication. The countless hours that Jack and his charming wife, Betty, have given to our town may not be noticed or appreciated by all the voters but the results speak for their efforts.

Finance Board Delays Move To Conform To OSHA Rules

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-0375

The Board of Finance has voted to do nothing concerning the selection of a new fire department until a law is passed.

As the law stands now, the town is not in violation. Although it is not known when the law will be passed or how much time will be given to comply with the regulations, the selectmen said they wished to stay on top of the situation.

First Selectman Richard Morra was present at the finance board's meeting explaining about OSHA said the finance board feels that it might be a long time before the law is passed; that the present suggested regulations might change before the law is passed; and that enough time will be given to comply when the law is passed.

The board of finance will notify the Board of Education that no volunteers were received to act as liaison between the boards.

The school board had requested a liaison member to attend budget committee meetings.

The finance board felt because of the time required the liaison member should be a volunteer.

Second in Muster
In the Tolland County volunteer fire department muster held over the weekend in Willington Hills the Bolton Volunteer Fire Department placed second overall.

Fourteen volunteer firemen participated in the muster, winning a total of seven trophies.

The men placed first in the pole climb, midnight alarm and hand draw and third in the tug of war and bucket brigade.

See Slides of Israel
Bolton High School modern society viewed slides of Israel recently.

The slides were taken by home economics teacher Mrs. Irene Tabatsky during a two week circle tour in August.

The tour covered the area as far south as Bursheba and as far north as Kunstra in the Golan Heights.

Her pictures showed life in both the city and kibbutz, historical sites and religious shrines of all faiths.

Jeffrey Heintz, guidance counselor, recently attended the 27th annual New England personnel and guidance conference in Hyannis, Mass.

Heintz attended the following workshops during the conference: outreach counseling for alienated youth which dealt with aspects of prevention and rehabilitation for youthful legal offenders; roles of elementary school counselors which discussed various roles a counselor can play and stressed providing prescriptions for children who are having problems; a session with other counselors to discuss ways of handling problems that develop in most schools.

Heintz was able to review recently published material in the fields of guidance and career education.

Featured speakers at the conference were Congresswoman Shirley Chisholm, who spoke on federal funding in education; Dr. Myron Eloy, executive director church society for college work, who spoke on cultural changes in our society and R. David Viscio, psychiatrist, who spoke in on identifying children who need help.

Heintz felt the most valuable part of the conference was the opportunity to meet with other counselors and educators. He had a chance to learn how other systems set up various programs including learning disabilities and elementary guidance department systems.

Heintz attended the following workshops during the conference: outreach counseling for alienated youth which dealt with aspects of prevention and rehabilitation for youthful legal offenders; roles of elementary school counselors which discussed various roles a counselor can play and stressed providing prescriptions for children who are having problems; a session with other counselors to discuss ways of handling problems that develop in most schools.

Heintz was able to review recently published material in the fields of guidance and career education.

Boyle Says Muggers' Homes Are Safest

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions:
A mugger is safer at home than you are, because muggers do more to protect their own apartments from robbery than the average citizen does. Since that is where they may first attack the loot from their crimes, they often keep watch dogs and install the best security locks on their doors.

When it comes to biography, most of us would rather read a good book about a bad man than a bad book about a good man.

Three out of five Americans no longer know that if you try to milk a cow from the wrong side it will try to kick you.

I instantly like any wife if I see her publicly thumb her nose at her husband behind his back when he makes a pompous remark.

I instantly dislike any woman who says she dislikes men who wear ties because she thinks they make them look silly. If all men disliked all women who sometimes wear things that make them look silly, the United States would be a nation of misogynists.

Thanks to modern advertising, it is counted a greater sin in America to have had breath than bad manners.

It is far easier to write to the White House and get a reply—try it and see—than it is to get an answer from a guy you've written asking him to pay up on a five-year-old $10 debt.

One of the things that puzzles me most about women is how so many of them can go through a whole long lifetime and never spill ketchup on a new white dress.

Inflations come and go, but some traditional prices stay the same. Bootblacks at long last managed to break the two-bit barrier for their services, but hatcheck girls and washroom attendants still complain that most of their clientele still leave only a quarter. Blind beggars and street panhandlers, too, gripe that few bystanders toss them more than a dime or 25-cent piece. Moonlighting might solve the problem, but most panhandlers are too true to the principles of their craft to do that.

One of the things I'd like to see but never have—a load sitting on a toadstool.

"Faith Alive" Weekend To Begin On Thursday

St. Mary's Episcopal Church will have a "Faith Alive" weekend starting with a 24-hour vigil Thursday noon at the church.

The weekend is designed to help church members and their friends gain new insights and understandings and to give direction and purpose to their lives.

There will be 38 laymen, including men, women, teenagers and college students coming from various places, some as far away as Virginia, to lead discussions and share in the weekend. The visitors will begin arriving on Friday afternoon.

The program for the weekend will include a potluck Friday at 6:30 p.m., hosted by the 50-50 Club of the church. After dinner, there will be group discussions.

Saturday morning there will be coffee meetings in neighborhood homes, and a salad luncheon will be served at 12:30 p.m. at the church. After lunch, there will be group discussions of problems related to business, the home, children, old age, and others. Baby-sitting will be available. A catered turkey dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. Saturday in the Parish Hall and at 8 p.m. there will be another round of small discussion groups.

The visitors will share in the 7:30, 9 and 11:15 a.m. Sunday worship services at the church. Reservations for any of these events may be made by calling the church office, 66-4833.

Mrs. Elmer Odell and Mrs. Edwin Platt are co-chairmen for the weekend.

Anyone Want A Million Bottle Caps?

LANDSDALE, Pa. (AP) — How much is a million? Nathan Fry, 16, says it's "bigger than a bread box." Steven Boone, 9, believes it's "more than a big box." Jay Harrison, 9, considers it a "pretty lot, more than 9,000." Randy Darrow, 8, explains a million is actually "more than a lot, and a lot is too much." While 9-year-old Nadia Clarn calls it like it is: "A million is a million."

These kids should know. For the past 18 months they have been collecting bottle caps trying to get one million together to find out exactly how much a million is. The 72 pupils at the Oak Park Elementary School started the project in second grade while studying small numbers. Their teacher, Linda Potzinger, says "when we were studying second and third place numbers, we just went on. They were interested in a million, so I thought we would start collecting the bottle caps." So far the pupils have amassed more than 400,000. They figure that if they keep the pace they will reach the million before they finish the sixth grade. There is, of course, the problem of where to put 400,000 bottle caps. Right now, the school is storing them in a small room, but space is running out. Even though the pupils are a long way from their goal, they eventually must face the problem of what to do with the bottle caps. Anybody interested?

Meteorite Hite Garage

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP) — A meteorite, nearly six inches long and four inches wide, fell through the roof of Jack Stevens' garage. Stevens thought it was just a rock and was about to throw it out when sheriff's officers persuaded him to call experts. Scientists from the American Meteorite Laboratory in Denver confirmed that the rock was a meteorite. Part of the meteorite will be sent to the Smithsonian Institution in Washington and other pieces will be given to the United States Geological Survey.

When rolling cereals, crackers, or dry bread, keep crumbs from scattering by placing them inside a paper bag. Close bag and fasten with a rubber band. Roll the outside of the bag with a rolling pin. This gives you fine, dry crumbs.

To make a quick repair on zipper snaps that won't stay closed on children's clothes, lay the snaps on a hard surface and tap it lightly a few times with a hammer. This flattens the head so it will snap shut again.

Business Bodies

Jack Haggopian of Ellington, owner-manager of L&M Equipment Corp. at Rt. 83, Vernon, displays Ski-Doo snowmobile carried by the firm. L&M sells snowblowers and snowmobiles in winter months, and turns to lawnmowers and chain saws as the main items in warmer months. Grand opening ceremonies for L&M are scheduled Saturday. (Herald photo by Bevins)

L&M Equipment Grand Opening Set Saturday

L&M Equipment Corp. at Rt. 83, Vernon, has scheduled grand opening ceremonies Saturday with exhibition of snowmobile riding, chain saw cutting, and a $2,000 giveaway of swimming pool equipment. The firm, recently purchased by Jack Haggopian of Ellington, features chain saws and lawnmowers in summer and snowblowers and snowmobiles in winter. Swimming pool equipment valued at $2,000 — carried by former owners of L&M — will be given away in drawings Saturday. L&M services all equipment it sells, and maintains a $40,000 parts inventory at all times. Three full-time service men have been thoroughly trained in repairs of all types of small engines. The company also offers a winter snowplowing service, on a contract basis, for commercial interests and homeowners.

Bank President Charles Pressler said the new savings certificates — requiring a minimum deposit of $1,000 — will have an annual yield of 7.9 per cent, as a result of continuous compounding of interest. The new rate becomes effective Nov. 1.

RETIREMENT
William L. Luettgens of 44 Harvard Rd., Manchester, has retired after 38 years with G. Fox & Co., Hartford.

OPENS BRANCH
Capital Temporaries, an independent temporary personnel service, has opened a branch office in Manchester at 83 E. Center St. The Manchester branch, managed by Mrs. Ruth Bemis of Old Post Rd., Tolland, is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Dean Zessou, president of the Hartford-based firm, said the new branch was opened to make it easier for Manchester area women to register for temporary jobs. He said the temporary employment service offers housewives with office skills to supplement the family income while enabling them flexibility of work hours. Zessou said there is a particularly urgent need for competent office help to fill a variety of jobs ranging from file clerks to executive secretaries.

HIGHER RATES
The Savings Bank of Rockville has introduced four- to five-year savings certificates at a higher rate of 7 1/2 per cent per year. The new rate is the maximum interest savings banks can pay because of recent Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. action.

William L. Luettgens
Luettgens joined G. Fox in 1955 as delivery superintendent and shortly after was named assistant general operations manager. In June 1969 he became vice president and general operations manager, and in February 1970 he was named vice president and personnel director. He was recently honored as "Man of the Year" by the company's Toastmasters Club. A Manchester native, Luettgens has been active in the American Red Cross, the United Appeal, and the Little Theatre of Manchester. He and his wife, Dorothy, have one daughter.

Democrats To Parade Saturday

Nick Jackson and Walt Siron are co-chairmen of a parade scheduled for Saturday by Manchester Democrats. Estimated to last about two and a half hours, the parade will originate at Wadwell School on Broad St., will proceed along the town's main arteries, and will finish at Democratic headquarters, also on Broad St. All Democrats have been invited to participate. The parade will begin at 1 p.m. and those participating are asked to assemble at the Wadwell School grounds at 11:30. In addition to a caravan of automobiles and open trucks, candidate and party signs will be used the length of the parade. Those seeking information on joining the line of march may call Democratic headquarters, at 446-827.

FOCIS Meet Set For Monday

The Family Oriented Childbirth Information Society (FOCIS) will have a membership meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in conference rooms A and B at Manchester Memorial Hospital. Membership to FOCIS is open to anyone interested in promoting education in childbirth. The goal of FOCIS is to assist parents in dealing with the complexities of pregnancy, childbirth, post-partum care and newborn care. Those desiring more information may call Mr. or Mrs. Joseph Simao, 649-8302.

Bolton Club To Conduct Candy For Hospital
DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-0375
Bolton Junior Woman's Club state projects committee will be collecting candy to give to the children at the Connecticut Valley Hospital. Any resident having candy left over tonight or any resident whose children want to give some of their candy to the hospital patients is asked to either bring it to the home of Mrs. Richard Noren, South Rd. or Mrs. Jerald Hassett, Laurwood Dr. or to call either for a pickup. The committee members are also collecting items for the children at the hospital. They are looking for clothing for children ages 8-16, records, workable portable radios or phonographs, comic books, jewelry, model planes and other similar items. Items may be left at either Mrs. Noren's or Mrs. Hassett's home or residents may call either for pickup. Both collections will end Nov. 10.

Newcomers Encouraged To Volunteer Services

BEVERLY DUKETT
Correspondent
Volunteer Opportunities Unlimited has sent letters to newcomers in South Windsor encouraging them to participate in local volunteer work and highlighting the needs of the South Windsor FISH (Friends in Service Here).

These letters are part of a continuing effort to challenge and involve people who might find it difficult to locate appropriate volunteer jobs. Volunteer Opportunities considers teenagers, senior citizens, the handicapped, and newcomers as being those who might need help in locating a rewarding outlet for extra time. FISH is made up of people who are willing to act as a "friend and neighbor to someone in need. Usually that need is for transportation to a doctor or food store. Often the caller is elderly or handicapped. Volunteers serve for one specific day each month or may be placed on an extra list to be called in an emergency situation from time to time. At the moment South Windsor FISH has need of both drivers and telephone people.

June Cottle, a member of the Volunteer Opportunities committee, noted, "We felt that FISH was an excellent organization to recommend to newcomers. Serving through FISH would certainly help a newcomer get a feel for the town and its needs."

In addition to FISH, various South Windsor schools need reading aides, clerks and people to help prepare displays. The Indian Valley YMCA, town recreation department and both boy and girl scouts are always looking for volunteers who are trained or talented in specific areas or who are willing to work along with young people.

There are many men and women at the South Windsor Convalescent Home who would enjoy an occasional visitor, a conversation, or a game of checkers. If the volunteer's preference is for a relaxed and informal situation, Mrs. Cottle adds, "There are many opportunities in town. We would appreciate representatives of town agencies, organizations, and even individuals, calling to tell us of needs they have or know about so that we can add them to our list."

Volunteers and those reporting volunteer needs can call the Community Service Council, 644-2509, or Mrs. Rus Dunbar, 89 Greenfield Dr., 644-1822.

was fantastic," he says. "Israelis of all ages were arguing, clamoring and even fighting to get passage to their homeland — to help it in whatever way they could. They had no idea what they'd do when they got there, but it didn't matter. They knew that's where they belonged and that's where they were going."

Jacobs and his wife spent 10 days in Jerusalem and two in Tel Aviv. He says he experienced two air raid alerts, but there were no planes. He tells of a report in the English-language Jerusalem Post, unconfirmed, which told of a missile fired at Tel Aviv but shot down by Israeli planes miles short of its target.

"Although there was no fighting in Israel or close by, we knew there was a war," he says. "Buses, cabs and trains were all off schedule and many businesses and stores were closed — with men up to age 55 called up to war. And, mid-level and young men in uniform were everywhere — all carrying sub-machine guns or rifles."

He said the tourists to Israel dwindled to a trickle and that even those who were there left hurriedly for their homes. He said even the famous King David Hotel was only 10 per cent occupied.

Jacobs was impressed that "in all of Israel and even in the occupied territories, there wasn't one Arab incident in the entire time we were there. There was complete and unbelievable quiet among the Arabs living in Israeli-held lands. In fact, many Israeli Arabs gave money and blood to the Israeli war effort. In addition, the Alameya Brigade, which joins Israel and Jordan, was open the whole time — with traffic, trade and people crossing it unhindered."

Jacobs said there never was any doubt among Israelis about the successful outcome of the war. The real concern, he said, was the Russian involvement and the many casualties — much more than in 1967.

He said the Israelis acknowledge that the Egyptians fought much better in this war than in the 1967 War, but they insist the human-wave, mass-attacks by the Arabs was a tactic used by Russian troops in other wars. He said no one can prove for certain the Russians were actually on hand, directing the maneuvers, but that there are many telltale signs pointing to that conclusion.

For example, installing a better lock to keep vandals out just means that it'll be more expensive to replace the lock when it's broken, he says. Increased technology brings increased challenge, he said.

Aluminum Recycling Growing Rapidly

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Aluminum recycling programs are "growing by leaps and bounds" and may make the metal one of the cheapest to use, Reynolds Metals Co. officials say.

Richard N. Bolling, manager of Reynolds' recycling division, said that his company's recycling activity now produces as much aluminum as if the company had built a new poller, a row of electrolytic cells used in the production of the metal.

Speaking at a meeting on aluminum recycling, he said the process costs but a fraction of a penny and uses only 5 per cent of the power required to produce an equal amount of primary aluminum.

27,268 Eligible To Vote In Manchester

SOL R. COHEN

Herald Reporter — A total of 27,268 voters are eligible to vote in next Tuesday's Manchester election, with the Democrats enjoying a 1,686 lead over the Republicans and a 2,953 lead over the unaffiliated, report Registrars of Voters Herbert Stevenson, Dem., and Fred Peck, Rep.

At this time last year, just prior to the state and Congressional elections, Manchester had almost 1,000 more voters — 28,252. Local officials credit the drop to apathy toward the municipal election.

A special 9 a.m. to noon voter-making session Nov. 5 will change this year's total slightly. The session is only for those persons who turned 18 or became U.S. citizens since Oct. 13. Those made voters Nov. 5 will be eligible to vote the next day. The session will be in the town clerk's office in the Municipal Building.

Of Manchester's 27,268 voters, 10,839 are Democrats, 8,943 are Republicans and 7,486 are unaffiliated. It is the unaffiliated who hold the key to the election.

DISTRICT	DEMOCRAT	REPUBLICAN	UNAFFILIATED	TOTAL

2	1,361	1,141	989	3,491
3	661	560	482	1,703
4	890	996	679	2,565
5	1,136	1,207	790	3,133
6	1,249	923	721	2,893
7	983	764	660	2,407

9	712	696	702	2,110
10	914	866	696	2,476
TOTAL	10,639	8,943	7,686	27,268

The Board of Directors has been Democratically-controlled since November 1971. Prior to then, Republicans had been in control since November 1966.

The greatest number of voters is in Voting District 8, the Verplanck School on Olcott St. — 3,643; and the next greatest is in Voting District 2, the Robertson School on N. School St. — 3,491.

Incidentally, the registrars reminded those who vote at the Verplanck School to ignore the "No Through Traffic" sign placed at Adams St. and Olcott St. They said Olcott St. is passable to the Verplanck School and that the sign refers only to the Olcott St. Bridge, further to the west and under repair.

The smallest number of voters is in Voting District 3, the Northfield Green Community Center, Ambassador Dr. — 1,703; and the next smallest is in Voting District 9, the Keeney St. School — 2,196.

The Democrats have about 39 percent of the voters, the Republicans 33 per cent and the unaffiliated 28 per cent.

The Democrats lead the Republicans in 8 of the 10 voting districts. The Democrats only lead in Voting District 1, the Martin School, Verplanck Rd., and Voting District 5, the Buckley School, Vernon St.

The Democrats lead the unaffiliated in all 10 voting districts. The Republicans lead them in 7. In Voting District 1, the Buckland School; Voting District 8, Verplanck School; and Voting District 8, Keeney St. School; the unaffiliated outlead the Republicans.

The chief moderator for Tuesday's election is John Fletcher Jr. He will make his headquarters in the registrars' office in the basement of the Municipal Building. Fletcher is a Republican, as are the moderators in all 10 voting districts. The two parties alternate on naming the moderators. The Democrats had their turn March 13, at a townwide referendum.

Voters may cast ballots for only six of the town directors to be elected, for a town clerk, a town treasurer, only two of the three selectmen to be elected, only four of the seven constables, and only four of the seven school board members. The reason is that the state's Home Rule Act provides for minority representation on municipal boards and agencies.

concerning a $5.6 million bond issue for filling and Bennett improvements and additions, and No. 2 through 13 concerning proposed charter changes. (See page 18)

The polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 8 p.m. Schools will be closed by state law, there will be no sale of alcoholic beverages during the hours the polls will be open.

Bannet Junior High School Site Plan

The site plan for additions to and renovations of Bannet Junior High School, prepared by Mankey Associates of Manchester, shows the proposed gymnasium-media center building connected to the Franklin and Barnard Buildings by second-floor corridors. Total floor space of the new building would be just under 27,000 square feet.

Bennet Alterations

(Continued from Page One) gymnasium building proposed for the Bennet complex is envisioned as a two-story structure off Wells St., connected to the Barnard and Franklin Buildings by second-floor corridors. The proposed two-level media center would replace the existing Bennet school library, which is about one-fourth the size recommended by the state for a student population of nearly 1,300 students at the school. The proposed new gymnasium would be supplemented by existing gym space and a swimming pool in the Rec Building.

Northeast Rail Bill Gets Labor Protection Proviso

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Commerce Committee Tuesday overrode administration objections and added a $250 million labor protection package to legislation designed to salvage the bankrupt Northeast railroads. The existing Bennet art and woodworking areas are far below the state's recommended size for large school population, school administrators say. They also point out that Bennet doesn't have any existing facilities for band or choral work. The major change in the new building proposed at Bennet this year, as opposed to the 1972 proposal, is that the building's size and shape has been altered so it doesn't extend into Wells St. The 61,000-square foot addition proposed last year would have closed Wells St. to through traffic. School administrators say the Bennet complex — although it was built from 1904 to 1915 — is structurally sound and with the renovations and additions "can house an up-to-date junior high school program and give the town many years of continued service at a very reasonable price."

Rham — Miss Williams Get DAR Award

ANNE EMT Correspondent Tel. 228-3971 Miss Robin Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams of Aspinall Dr., Andover, has been selected by the senior class and faculty at Rham High School as this year's recipient of the American Revolution 1974 Good Citizenship Award. She has been a member of the student council for four years, serving as treasurer in her junior year, and was president of her sophomore and junior class and vice-president of her freshman class. Her activities include four years as a cheerleader, two of them as varsity and this year as captain, and a member of the girls basketball team in her sophomore and junior years. The students were provided with the unexpected pleasure of meeting Skyah 1-astronauts Charles "Pete" Conrad, Paul Weitz and Dr. Joseph P. Kerwin as well as hearing from Gov. Thomas Meskill and Hartford Mayor George Athanasiou. The girls were chosen to represent Hungary and together with other area schools represented the Eastern European block. Issues discussed at the assembly included the Mid-East crisis, joint research of the oceans, a nuclear test ban and apartheid (racial discrimination) in South Africa. Pam Mills, Cheryl Lyman and Nancy Persing, seniors at Rham, last Wednesday attended a mock United Nations assembly at the State Capitol. The girls were chosen to represent Hungary and together with other area schools represented the Eastern European block. Issues discussed at the assembly included the Mid-East crisis, joint research of the oceans, a nuclear test ban and apartheid (racial discrimination) in South Africa. Typical French and Spanish food will be on sale during and after the race, and all are invited to cheer on their favorite club.

Charter Questions Before Voters

When Manchester voters go to the polls Tuesday, they will be faced with 13 referendum questions — the first on a proposed $5.6 million appropriation for additions and improvements to Bannet and Illing Junior High Schools. Because of the lack of sufficient space on the voting machines, the language of the 13 questions is minimal and limited. Below are the 13 questions and the exact language for each, as they will appear on the machines. Following each question is The Herald's explanation. Question 1 — For an appropriation of $5,600,000 for additions and renovations of Bannet and Illing Junior High Schools. Of the $5.6 million total, $2,713,000 for Bannet and $2,887,000 for Illing. Question 2 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter II, Sec. 7(B), Chapter V, Secs. 15, 16, 17 and 18, and Chapter VI, Sec. 1 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester by adding thereto Secs. 15(A) and 15(B)? (Merit system and classified service.) To provide a merit system for town employees, with the concept to adhere to existing personnel rules. Question 3 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter III, Secs. 4 and 5 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Board of Directors' pay raise.) To double the yearly pay of the Board of Directors — to $1,500 for the mayor, $1,200 for the board secretary, and $1,000 for each of the other seven directors. Question 4 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter III, Secs. 4 and 5 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Vice chairman of Board of Directors.) To provide for the election by the Board of Directors of a vice chairman and to designate him or her the deputy mayor — a procedure now followed but not mandatory in the charter. Question 5 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter II, Sec. 7(B), Chapter V, Secs. 15, 16, 17 and 18, and Chapter VI, Sec. 1 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Department of Finance.) To create a department of finance and to consolidate all fiscal operations under a director of finance, who would be the town controller. Question 6 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter V, Sec. 22 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Competitive bidding.) To raise to $2,500 the ceiling for town purchases without competitive bidding. The ceiling now is $1,000, with a provision existing for waiver of bids. Question 7 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter V, Sec. 22 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Director of Department of Social Services.) To change the designation, Welfare Department, to Manchester? (Director of Department of Social Services.) Question 10 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter XI, Sec. 4 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Building Inspector and zoning enforcement officers.) To delete the mandatory requirement that the chief building inspector be the town's zoning enforcement officer, but to leave intact the requirement that the zoning enforcement officer be someone from the building inspector's office. Question 11 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed repealer and amendments to Chapter XII, Secs. 2, 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Water and sewer.) To make deletions and changes in those charter sections which refer to sewer rates, assessments and rules, so they may conform to state statutes, which supersede the town charter. Question 12 — Shall the Town of Manchester enact the proposed amendments to Chapter XIII, Secs. 1 and 2 of the Charter for the Town of Manchester? (Director of Department of Social Services.) To place the water and sewer departments under the jurisdiction of the director of public works and to designate him superintendent of the departments.

Police Report Four Men Hold Up Howard Johnson

MANCHESTER An armed robbery and three breaks are now under investigation by Manchester detectives, Manchester Police reported. The Howard Johnson Restaurant on Tolland Tpk. was held up last night by four black male youths wearing ski masks just after closing. The youths, all carrying rifles, forced Edward Motta, the assistant manager, to open the top safe. Unsuccessful in opening the bottom safe, the youths tied up Motta and left him in the men's room. Motta freed himself after he was sure they had gone and called police. The amount taken is uncertain until an accounting is taken by the manager, Ken Twombly. Sometime late Tuesday night around midnight, the Coin-Operated Car Wash and Krause Florida, both of Hartford Rd., were reportedly broken into by the same youth. Police said that only $10 in coin was taken from the car wash while nothing was taken from Krause where the cash register was empty. Apartment building number 118 of the Oakland Manor Apts. complex was entered sometime between Oct. 26 and Oct. 29 with the loss of indoor-outdoor carpeting valued at $400, police said. It was also reported that a plate glass window was smashed by a rock, its value being $400.00. Detectives said they do not believe these breaks and others Monday night are associated. In other Manchester Police cases: A fire of suspicious origin was reported Tuesday night by the Sanitas Security guard on duty. The fire, police said, reportedly broke out in the shipping room office of Cheney Mills on Elm St. Cause of the fire is still under investigation. Stanley Robertson, 46, of 202 Oak Grove St., was charged Tuesday with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, second degree assault on a police officer, and resisting arrest. Robertson was released Wednesday morning on a $100 surety bond and is to appear in Circuit Court 12, Manchester, Nov. 19. —Thomas Happney, 30, of 225 School St., was issued a summons Tuesday for evading responsibility and a written warning for defective tires after the car he was driving sideswiped another on Center St. Court date is Nov. 19. —Raymond Germond, 16, of 161 Brookfield St., was picked up Tuesday on a Circuit Court 12 warrant charged with injury or risk of injury to a minor. Germond was released on his written promise to appear in court, Nov. 19. NOVEL EXERCISE GORHAM, Maine (AP) — Charles Dolloff trots out to his mailbox outside his house every day on a pair of homemade stilts. A retired sawmill operator and wartime price fighter, Dolloff took up stilt walking when he lived in the woods and the mud made it difficult to get to the main road. "Stilt walking is a wonderful way to exercise the whole body," he says.

Eileen Dalton, general refreshments; Mrs. Dee Kurovski and Mrs. Frances Priskwald, aprons; Mrs. Millie Kos and Mrs. Shirley Richter, finance.

Social Security

Q. My husband and I were divorced after 32 years of marriage. I never remarried. My ex-husband died a few months ago. Now that I am 65 can I collect Social Security on his work record?

A. Yes. Since you were married to your former husband for at least 20 years, you can get social security payments on his work record. Before January 1973, a divorced woman also had to show that her former husband was dependent on her at the time of her support, but a recent change in the law ended this requirement.

Q. I would like to file for divorced wife's benefits. Would you please tell me what proofs I will need to bring with me when I file my application.

A. You will need your marriage certificate, divorce papers, proof of your age and your ex-husband's Social Security number.

Q. My husband divorced me after 25 years of marriage and remarried. Now I understand he has retired and he and his wife are receiving Social Security benefits. Does this prevent me from filing for divorced wife's benefits when I am 67?

A. No. The fact that your ex-husband's wife is receiving benefits has no bearing on your eligibility.

Q. My application for divorced widow's benefits was denied 3 years ago because I could not furnish any proof that my ex-husband furnished any support and I was not granted any alimony. Has there been any changes in the support requirement?

A. Yes. The 1972 Amendments removed all support requirements. The only requirement now is that you were married at least 20 years.

Q. My first husband and I were married 22 years before we were divorced. I later remarried and my second husband died recently. Is it true that I can file for benefits on my first husband's account if it would mean higher benefit for me?

A. Yes. Providing, of course your ex-husband is either deceased or retiring benefits himself.

Have a question about Social Security and its retirement, survivors' disability or Medicare benefits? Write to Questions? Answers, Social Security office, 657 Main St., East Hartford, Ct. 06108.

New Schedule For Visitors

Effective Nov. 5, patients at Saint Francis Hospital will receive their visitors from 7 to 8 p.m., rather than on the present schedule of 11 a.m.-4 p.m. The change was announced by Sister Francis Marie, administrator.

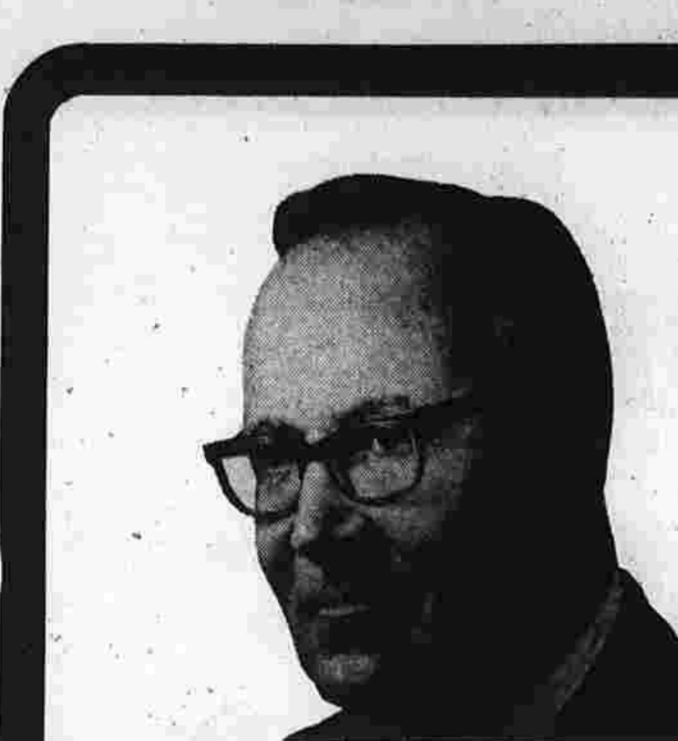

Two visitors at a time may visit a patient.

Certain exceptions to the 3 p.m.-8 p.m. ruling, have been established, among them: In pediatrics, parents may remain with the child for as long as desired. All other visitors: 3 p.m.-8 p.m.

In Maternity, husbands may visit from 11 a.m.-8 p.m. All others: 3 p.m.-8 p.m.

On the Critical Care Floor, the policy presently in force will remain, i.e., two members of the immediate family may visit for 5 minutes of every hour.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Banana Peels And The Law

So many people are injured by stepping on banana peels and other slippery substances that lawyers talk about "slip-and-fall" as a separate branch of law. And special rules are invoked to determine questions of legal liability. It is a typical case:

A housewife, shopping at the market, skidded on a banana peel, fell, and sustained a broken arm. When she filed suit for damages, the management argued that the peel had probably been dropped by a careless customer—not by an employee of the market.

But the woman pointed out that the peel had been lying in plain sight of four check-out clerks—and that two other employees had walked right past it shortly before her accident. This was poor maintenance, said the court, upholding the woman's claim.

Generally speaking, the management of a store is liable for a slip-and-fall accident if it knew—or should have known—about the hazardous condition. This may call for a kind of detective work in figuring out how long the slippery material had been lying on the floor.

For example, liability in one case was based largely on the fact that the ice cream on which a man slipped had pretty much melted. In another, that a lettuce leaf was "old, dirty, and mashed" when stepped on. In another, that a fallen piece of candy had had marks in it.

These telltale clues helped to prove that the object lay long enough on the floor long enough to have been observed and cleared away, if store employees had been on their toes.

On the other hand, the management may be able to pin a negligence label on the victim himself for not having been more alert.

Furthermore, a store cannot be held liable merely because the accident happened on its premises. Thus, a man who slipped on a pencil found himself unable to win damages from the market where it happened.

The court said there was simply no way to discover who had dropped the pencil so long as it had lain there. Placing blame on market employees, said the court, would be a "mere guess."

No other supermarket in America... not one... has the meat preparation facilities to offer beef as naturally tender, juicy and full of flavor as Stop & Shop's "Quality-Protected" beef... better tasting beef. If they want to, other supermarkets can match Stop & Shop's prices on what they call simulacra of beef. But until they match our facilities, they can't match the quality of our beef, whether they want to or not. So when other supermarkets may be able to say about their beef what Stop & Shop can say today, why wait until some day?

The Candidates Are Saying—

Paul B. Greenberg

(Greenberg is a Democratic candidate for the Manchester Board of Education.)

In recent years the Manchester school system has greatly expanded its special education curriculum. Significant improvements have been made in areas of learning disabilities and in programs for the mentally retarded. One area of special education that has not yet received much attention in Manchester is an education program for the gifted student. A gifted student would be defined as a student who is exceptional academically or who has exceptional talent in a given field such as music or art.

Although some planning is now taking place, I would like to see more emphasis on this type of program. A comprehensive program which would meet the special needs of the gifted student which would be coordinated from elementary school through high school would be one of the curriculum improvements on which I would place a high priority.

Paul E. Willhide

(Willhide is a Republican candidate for the Manchester Board of Directors.)

It is so easy to say "lower the barrier and maybe the problem will go away." It appears that is what the Democrats have chosen to do about competitive bidding. In voting to raise the minimum level of town purchases which must go to bid from $1,000 to $5,000, the Democrats have increased the area of controversy and temptation.

Competitive bidding assures the town of the best price. This level should not be raised. We must not be taken by the complaint that the system is too cumbersome — the system should be streamlined to accommodate quick efficient processing of competitive bidding under the existing ground rules.

This is a routine problem which should be solved by good administration without having to bring the matter to thousands of voters. That's what we pay our administrators for.

Vote "No" on Question 6.

Stamps in The News
By SYD KRONISH

What better locale for a Christmas stamp than Christmas Island!

Yes, the little island in the Indian Ocean has issued two new stamps of identical design for the holiday depicting a stylized Virgin and Child gazing on an outlined map of Christmas Island surrounded by water. The words "peace on earth to men of good will" appear at the right margin. A white dove of peace flies above the island discovered in 1915.

Another island group, the Cypriots, also has released a set of new stamps to help celebrate Christmas.

The 3 cent, 9 cent and 15 cent show the "Nativity" from the Stora Book of Hours of Flemish origin. The 5 cent, 12 cent and 25 cent bear illustrations of "The Adoration of the Magi" based on the painting now in the British Museum.

Many nations, including the U.S., have issued Christmas stamps this year. The number of countries and stamps commemorating this occasion has increased tremendously in recent years.

The U.S. Postal Service is now engaged in an accelerated program to help the hobby of stamp collecting.

Here are some of the new things being done: a program for school children to make the stamp a teaching aid in the classroom, the placement of philatelic displays in 10,000 post office lobbies beginning in November, the marketing of a 1973 Mint Set Pack of stamps containing all the commemorative and memorial issues of this year, the introduction of Stamp Collector Starter Kits and Topical Starter Kits.

Some of these programs will be implemented immediately and others will take effect in the near future. As soon as we receive exact details of the starter sets and school programs we will pass it on to the readers.

Israel has issued a new stamp honoring the 50th anniversary of its Institute of Technology, sometimes called the Technion. It is the oldest institution of higher learning in that country.

The new stamp features a torch of learning and a gear wheel, according to the Israel Philatelic Agency in America.

Also issued by Israel were two stamps in its Landscapes Series. One value shows Tel Dan, a nature reserve, and the other stamp depicts the palm-studded Plain of Zebulun near Akko.

Collectors of United Nations stamps will be interested to know that the U.N. Postal Administration's tentative releases for 1974 include adhesives honoring the International Labor Organization, Universal Postal Union Centenary, Brazilian Peace Murals, World Population Year and the Law of the Sea.

Australia's latest set of four stamps illustrate architecture of the continent "down under." One stamp shows the Sydney Opera House. Another depicts the outline of St. James Church. A third shows a view of Buchanan's Hotel, chosen for its splendid cast-iron balconies. The final stamp in this set features Como House in Melbourne, an example of early Victorian architecture in Australia.

DID YOU KNOW THAT... 6 per cent of all U.S. households have one or more U.S. stamp collectors... 18 per cent of all collectors in this country are under 15 years of age while 25 per cent are over 55... Russia issued a stamp last August that had a tab attached containing letters in Russian and English. The stamp was dedicated to "Peace... National Stamp Collecting Week is Nov. 18.

Oppose Impeachment
PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — The Gallup Poll says 65 per cent of those questioned in a random telephone survey immediately after President Nixon's news conference last Friday felt Nixon should not be impeached or forced to leave the presidency. Gallup said 38 per cent said he should and 17 per cent had no opinion. The pollster also said Tuesday that 68 per cent of the 628 persons questioned felt it would not be in the best interest of the country for Nixon to resign, while 26 per cent said it would and 10 per cent had no opinion. Gallup said 32 per cent had not very much confidence in the Nixon administration and 23 per cent had none at all.

The school is looking for clothing, toys, educational items, dolls in costume and books from various countries as well as such things like rocks, shells and seashore things, Indian artifacts and insect collections.

S.A. Classes Held During Day

A headline in Friday's Herald gave the impression that night adult education classes are being held in the Salvation Army Citadel on Main St. Actually, the classes are during the day as the article explained.

About 20 men and women of all ages over 16 attend daily free classes in English, science, mathematics and social studies. The adult basic education classes are part of a federally funded general program which has been going on about five years. A high school equivalency program is offered this year for the first time.

Registration is continuous during the regular school year for the classes which are held daily except Friday, from 9 to 11 a.m.

Anyone interested may visit the Citadel any day during class time for information, or contact Joel Chaison at Manchester High School Tuesday or Thursday from 8:30 to 9:30 p.m., telephone 646-4088.

PZC Okays Zone For Apartments

VIVIAN KENNESON
Correspondent
Tel. 875-4704

The Tolland Planning and Zoning Commission Monday approved a zone change, for 13.9 acres off Rt. 195 and Rhodes Rd., to multiple dwelling, making way for a 96-unit apartment complex.

The zone change hearing for the "Quaker Knoll Village," held Sept. 4, brought vigorous opposition to the plans from Tolland Volunteer Fire Department Chief Ronald Littell, and Folke Erickson of Tolland Concerned Citizens.

Littell said if the town continues to allow traffic to increase in the area of the Rhodes Rd. firehouse, it would have to be moved. The entrance to the apartment complex is located next to the firehouse.

Littell also noted some of the buildings have three levels from the rear, which the fire department cannot reach with its present equipment.

Preliminary plans for the apartment complex show a 96-unit complex with 68 one-bedroom and 28 two-bedroom apartments in three basic colonial styles. Armand Gagne, owner of the property, will now have to present final plans to the PZC for its approval.

Square Dance

The Tollanders Square Dance Club will have a "Good Neighbor Night" Friday at 8 at Sweeney School in Willimantic with the Windham Whirlers.

Russ Peterson and Ed Senay will call squares and the Whites will cue rounds. All club level dancers are welcomed.

Defends Action

Tolland Republican Town chairman Russell Stevenson has defended the Board of Selectmen naming of Barbara Dumont as interim treasurer.

In response to Democratic charges, Stevenson said if they had done their homework, they would have realized that the appointment is only interim according to Section 8-5 of the new town charter.

That section states any person who has not held a position in the classified service for at least one year shall be required to take an examination for that position prior to appointment by the town manager.

Stevenson said Mrs. Dumont was eminently qualified for the post.

Democratic Social

On Sunday, between 1 and 6 p.m., hot dogs, coke, and beer will be served at Democratic Headquarters in the Colonial Square Plaza on Rt. 30.

Democratic candidates will be on hand for the event.

On election day, Tuesday, the Democratic Campaign Committee will provide babysitting and rides to the polls.

For Board of Directors HILLERY J. GALLAGHER

"The Democrats on the Board of Directors are attempting to get everything straightened out by election day, and counting on people forgetting how slow they have been to deal with problems such as the Olcott St. Bridge. Manchester deserves better."

Tolland County Democratic Group Asks Nixon Quit

A resolution urging President Nixon to resign or face impeachment, was passed unanimously by the Tolland County Democratic Association at its meeting held in Ellington.

Aloysius J. Ahearn, of Bolton, president of the association, told the meeting, "Millions of Americans have fought to preserve the Constitution of this republic. To allow the President to emasculate the democratic process would be a betrayal of their struggles and sacrifices."

The resolution passed read: "Nixon is the leader of an administration that has engaged in burglary, conspiracy, illegal wiretapping, bribery, extortion, and character assassination."

"Nixon's blatant, hypocritical attempts to shift the blame to subordinates has been dissolved by his recent shocking dismissal of the special prosecutor and the impounding of his records. "No man is above the law, particularly the President who took an oath to uphold it. Nixon has betrayed the American people. For the good of America, he should resign or be impeached."

Ahearn told the association members, "The argument that the country will be irretrievably weakened by Nixon's resignation or impeachment is ridiculous. On the contrary, the country would be strengthened."

"Three more years of Nixon would put 200 million Americans at the mercy of an erratic, desperate man who could plunge the world into a nuclear holocaust by the pressing of a button. We cannot let that happen," Ahearn said.

The next meeting of the association, in November, will have as guest speaker, John Bailey, state chairman of the Democratic party.

Second prize winner Mrs. Pat Andriano picked up $250.12 worth of goods in seven minutes.

Charter Discussed, Candidate Says

Last week, The Herald reported that not one of the 22 Manchester candidates at the Oct. 23 "Meet the Candidates Night" was overheard saying anything about the 12 proposed charter changes to be considered Nov. 6.

The Herald emphasized the word, "overheard," since its reporter heard nothing about the charter changes in the opening statements by the 22 candidates. On the other hand, he was unable to follow the 22 candidates as they "table-hopped" from group to group.

Mrs. Vivian Ferguson, Republican candidate for the Board of Directors, reports she discussed the charter questions with many people as she went from group to group. She reports also, "I saw no reticence on the part of any present director or any new candidate to talk about the charter revision questions."
