

Tolland 8 Seniors Connecticut Scholars

VIVIAN KENNESON
 Correspondent
 Roy Nierenhoff, Tolland High School principal, has announced the designations of eight seniors as Connecticut Scholars. They are:
 Lisa Alderuccio, Garnet Ridge Dr.; Nancy Gebhardt, Anthony Rd.; Debra Hurley, Willie Circle; Michael Jossin, Hurlbert Rd.; Mary McLaughlin, Shenipit Rd.; Sharon Owen, Crystal Lake Rd.; Lori Seward, Mile Hill Rd.; and Deborah Slivinsky, Hunter Rd.

Designation as a Connecticut Scholar is a high honor. This year 2,500 young people throughout the state were selected based on a combined score which weighed academic performance, ability, and potential for academic success in college.

Scholarship Applications
 The Tolland Community Scholarship Association has announced that applications for scholarships are now available in the high school guidance office.

About Town
 The ways and means committee of Center Congregational Church will meet tonight at 7:30 at the church office.

Graduating seniors interested in any scholarship given by the association and any other community groups should obtain an application, complete it, and return by April 22. Questions about scholarships and applications should be directed to any counselor at the high school at 875-7777.

Cheney Tech Entrance Exams

Entrance examinations for eighth grade students planning a vocational education will be held March 26 and 27 at 12:30 p.m. at Howell Cheney Regional Vocational Technical School.
 The exams will be held in the cafeteria, the library and in designated classrooms. Leonard O. Johnson, guidance coordinator, will supervise the examinations and he will be assisted by faculty members. Only students with applications on file at Cheney Tech are permitted to take the exams. Students participating in exams will also be interviewed by the various trade instructors.
 Students are reminded to bring soft lead pencils with them.
 The examinations will conclude by 3:15 p.m. and it is expected private transportation will be available to students at that time.
 On March 26, students from public and parochial schools in Manchester, South Windsor, Bolton, Coventry and Rockville will be tested.
 On March 27, students from Ellington and Vernon will be tested.

Irish Republic Recognizes North Ireland

DUBLIN (UPI) - Premier Liam Cosgrave in an historic declaration said today the Irish Republic recognizes Northern Ireland as part of Britain.
 "The factual position of Northern Ireland is that it is within the United Kingdom and my government accepts this as a fact," Cosgrave said.
 Cosgrave's statement to a crowded parliament was the first time the government of the Irish Republic has formally recognized Northern Ireland as factually being a part of the United Kingdom.
 His statement still left intact the Republic's constitutional claim to sovereignty over the whole island which could only be changed by referendum.
 Cosgrave's statement climaxed three months of political wrangling among Dublin, London and Belfast over the status of Northern Ireland in which the whole continent of Protestant-Irishman Catholic power-sharing in the North was put in jeopardy.
 Cosgrave told a hushed House that the present status of Northern Ireland could only be changed by consent.
 "I solemnly reaffirm that the factual position of Northern Ireland within the United Kingdom cannot be changed except by a decision of the majority of the people of Northern Ireland," he said.
 The "status" question blew into a political crisis following the tripartite talks among government delegates from Dublin, London and Belfast at Sunningdale, England, last December.
 At that time Cosgrave issued a declaration that the "present status" of Northern Ireland could only be changed by consent but he did not specify what the status was.
 Militant Protestants in the North bitterly attacked the ruling coalition of Roman Catholics and Protestants led Reaffirm Jan. 15 Decision Directors Vote To Buy Case Mt.

By SOL R. COHEN
 For the second time in eight weeks, the Manchester Board of Directors has approved the acquisition of a 229.56 acre parcel on Case Mt.
 The latest action came in the early morning hours today near the end of a lengthy meeting which started at 8 p.m. Tuesday and included a public hearing which attracted about 25 speakers.
 She said she favored placing the proposal on the voting machines for a townwide advisory referendum, with the proposal to list all evident and hidden costs.
 The first time the board approved the acquisition was on Jan. 15. The vote was unanimous.
 The Jan. 15 action was declared invalid when a re-examination of the survey maps used for drafting the original ordinance revealed discrepancies in boundary lines. Newer maps were used for drafting the replacement ordinance.
 In explaining her "no" vote for the new ordinance, Mrs. Jackson said she isn't opposed to the purchase itself, but is opposed to the method of purchase.
 She said she is concerned the town, in the current fiscal year, might have other needs for its $167,000 share for the Case Mt. purchase, and is concerned the town might have more pressing needs for the $50,000 to be spent in the next fiscal year for a fence ($15,000) and gravel road ($35,000).
 She said she favored placing the proposal on the voting machines for a townwide advisory referendum, with the proposal to list all evident and hidden costs.
 Mrs. Jackson said she called the vote received from interested citizens ran 10 to 1 for placing the proposal for referendum.
 Vivian Ferguson said her call to run 2 to 1 for acquiring Case Mt. Robert Price said those who approached him showed that two thirds were in favor of the purchase.
 Mayor John Thompson said the calls to him were a 6 to 6 tie. He said the town charter provides for referenda on borrowing and for charter changes and that directors were elected by voters who trust their property to the town and are not to be taken for granted.
 The ordinance was adopted on the condition of a clear title and of acceptable easements for entry by Birch Mt. Rd. to the town's water tower.
 The 229.56 acres are being purchased for $631,622.50 from Wells C. Demmon, Robert C. Demmon, Dorothy Case Beach, the Tonica Springs Co. (the two Demmons and Mrs. Beach), and Mary A. Murphy (her parcel measures less than an acre).
 Of the $631,622.50 purchase price, the federal government has allocated $268,253 and the state already has delivered a check for $165,523.50 as its share.
 The town's $167,000 share consists of $96,048 from a balance in the Insurance Board Capital Improvement Reserve Fund (including money unspent in the Parker-Oakland Connector Account), and $70,952 from 1972-73 unappropriated surplus (the auditor's report will show a surplus of about $107,000 in 1972-73).
 The federal share will be received about 30 days after the town forwards a copy of the signed deed and a copy of a "paid in full" check. In the interim, the town will advance the $268,253, at an estimated loss in interest (the bank of about $2,500).
 The fence ($15,000) and the gravel road ($35,000) are conditions of the sale, with the understanding by the Demmons that they will be for vehicular traffic, except in an emergency, and that the $35,000 expenditure will include a gravel parking lot for about 30 cars.
 Weiss said he was told by federal officials there might be problems receiving the federal allocation unless the acquisition were approved this month.
 He said the area will remain open space land in perpetuity - a condition of the federal and state grants.
 During the public hearing which preceded the board action, 24 persons spoke (some spoke twice). A tally showed 12 were for adoption of the ordinance and acquisition, 10 were for a townwide referendum on the proposal (with most indicating they were against the purchase), and 2 who didn't go on record one way or the other, although their remarks seemed to indicate they were against the purchase.

Arab Oil Ministers Debate Embargo Against United States

TRIPOLI, Libya (UPI) - Arab oil ministers gathered today in the Libyan capital to decide whether to lay down their "oil weapon" and end a five-month embargo on fuel shipments to the United States.
 The Soviet Union urged the nine oil ministers, in an Arabic language broadcast beamed to the Middle East, to resist "American pressure" and maintain the fuel boycott.
 Egypt and Saudi Arabia were expected to press for at least some restoration of petroleum shipments to the United States because of Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's efforts to get Israel to pull out of occupied Arab territory.
 Egyptian sources said the Persian Gulf states - Kuwait, Bahrain, Abu Dhabi and Qatar - would go along with an easing of the boycott.
 Diplomatic sources said Libya and Algeria, however, were opposed to restoration of oil shipments, accusing the United States of still maintaining a pro-Israeli Middle East policy.
 Syria, which was to begin indirect negotiations on Golan Heights troop pullbacks in Washington next month, has yet to take a stand. Diplomatic sources said the Damascus position could be crucial to a final decision on the embargo.
 In Brussels, the United States, Japan, Canada, Norway and eight Common Market nations met in an attempt to coordinate energy policies among oil consumer nations.
 France boycotted the session, a follow-up to last month's Sanitary Refuse, attorney for the Tripoli conference reserved for comment by the public. He objected to the action taken by the board and asked it to reconsider. He said (See Page Eighteen)

Town Refuse Contract To Be Re-Advertised

By SOL R. COHEN
 A recommendation by Town Manager Robert Weiss concerning the collection of garbage and refuse was accepted Tuesday night by the Manchester Board of Directors. Consequently, it instructed him to advertise for new bids - for a four-year period to begin July 1.
 Bids opened Jan. 29 were on the alternatives of one-year and four-year contracts. Bids were received from Trash-Away, which holds the current contract, and Sanitary Refuse, which held the contract prior to July 1, 1971.
 Trash-Away was the apparent low bidder on the one-year contract and Sanitary Refuse on the four-year contract.
 Because Trash-Away's attorney challenged the Sanitary Refuse bid, on the basis it didn't follow the requirements in the bid specs, Weiss sought an opinion from one of the possible Republican presidential candidates for 1976, such as California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who visited Connecticut last Friday.
 "That is not one of the options," he said. "I would not work for one of the possible Republican presidential candidates for 1976, such as California Gov. Ronald Reagan, who visited Connecticut last Friday."
 "It's a case of everything you do, you do to get votes, not because it's right. It's easy to do the popular things even if it isn't right."
 "I have a family vote on the question - he has a wife and five children - went 4-3 in favor of running again, despite the hard road Republicans might face in November because of Watergate."
 "I've never run away from a fight in my life," he said. "In the last analysis you have to do what's best for your family."
 The governor also said that $35,000 a year job - "between crises."
 "Whenever there's been any hint of scandal in our administration, we've immediately investigated it and we've always come out clean," he said.
 But some candidates have allowed themselves to get "psyched out" by Watergate, he said, and make easy targets for Democratic opponents.

Directors Set Closed Session For Weiss Review

Thursday's review of Town Manager Robert Weiss' performance - closed to the public and press - the Manchester Board of Directors decided Tuesday night.
 The decision was by a 7 to 2 vote, with Republicans Carl Zinsser and Hilary Gallagher opposing "no" and pressing for an open session, at least for the press.
 When the board authorized the review (last month) it didn't specify whether it would be open or closed.
 The review stems from the procedure the town followed in January in acquiring the 110-acre Laurel Lake parcel from Wells C. Demmon and Robert C. Demmon. "It'll be hard to convince people it will be so," Gallagher claimed. "Going behind closed doors might border on charges of deceit. We're here to do the public's business and it should be a public session."
 Other remarks by Gallagher, referring obliquely on Watergate, produced a retort from Mayor John Thompson. "This is ludicrous," he said. "I can go along with your recommendations. An executive session follows normal procedure when we are discussing a town employee."
 Thompson charged, "Your review of the board usually (adjoins) Director Robert Price said he was concerned about the lengthy agenda and the importance of many of its items."
 "Rather than make hasty decisions," he said, "I would recommend another meeting this month."
 The suggestion was voted down and the meeting went on, and on, and on...

Oil Embargo End Won't End Pinch

United Press International
 Federal energy chief William E. Simon and Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., agreed today that removal of the Arab oil embargo against the United States would not mean an end to the fuel pinch on Americans.
 They said it would be helpful but not a panacea to the American people that this (the embargo-induced) was not embargo-induced, said Simon. "The energy problem is going to be solved by a combination of measures," he said.
 "We're continuing to manage the shortage in this country just as if the embargo were not going to end."
 Jackson, one of Congress' leading energy figures who is chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, said that after the embargo ends, "we're still going to be in a very tight demand-supply situation" on gasoline.
 "We were queuing up last summer and that was before the embargo," he said. "Even if there were no oil, we'd be in a bind."
 Simon and Jackson were interviewed jointly on the NBC-TV Today Show.
 World War II had its "longest day." The Manchester Board of Directors now has its "longest night."
 The board certainly didn't "streak" through its agenda Tuesday night. "Slagger" would be a better word. It didn't adjourn its meeting until 1:30 a.m. Wednesday after 6 1/2 hours, with only a 5- to 10-minute recess. Its regular meeting started at 8. However, during the hour from 7, it held a budget workshop on the 1974-75 fiscal year. The town fire department.

Sen. Weicker Considering Meskill for Judgeship

HARTFORD (UPI) - Speculation was running high today on Gov. Thomas J. Meskill's career plans now that he has decided not to seek reelection.
 The Meriden Record said Meskill has accepted a post on the Federal Trade Commission, but an immediate denial came from the governor's camp.
 The Record quoted a reliable source that Meskill would complete his term before taking the Washington job. Meskill's news secretary, Terry Mariani, was quoted by the paper as saying the report was not true.
 Earlier, a report had circulated that Meskill might accept a post on the FCC, the Federal Communications Commission. That possibility was squelched when an FCC spokesman told United Press International Tuesday that he'd never even heard of Meskill.
 Meanwhile, Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn., said Meskill was being actively considered for appointment as a judge of the 2nd U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.
 Dick McGowan, Weicker's press secretary, told UPI Meskill is one of a "couple of people still under active consideration for the judgeship."
 Weicker, following Meskill's news conference Tuesday said Meskill's name has not yet been submitted by him to the Justice Department.
 He said he discussed the judgeship with Meskill over the phone. "We explored the thing," Weicker said. "But nothing has been finalized."
 Previous to Meskill's surprise announcement that he wouldn't run for reelection, Weicker had denied rumors will finish out the remaining nine months of his term.

Oil Embargo End Won't End Pinch

 Weicker had said he wasn't considering Meskill and Meskill hadn't asked him for the nomination.
 "I won't rule out any offer," Meskill said. "Nor have I ruled out other elective offices either."
 Later, Meskill told the New Britain Herald he had thought of running against Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn., this year.
 "Ribicoff is more vulnerable than most people think," he said.
 Meskill said the current political climate has made it more difficult to be a public official.
 "There is a cynicism - a general disbelief in anything you try to do," he said.
 "It's a case of everything you do, you do to get votes, not because it's right. It's easy to do the popular things even if it isn't right."
 Meskill said a family vote on the question - he has a wife and five children - went 4-3 in favor of running again, despite the hard road Republicans might face in November because of Watergate.
 "I've never run away from a fight in my life," he said. "In the last analysis you have to do what's best for your family."

 "Whenever there's been any hint of scandal in our administration, we've immediately investigated it and we've always come out clean," he said.

Once you've got it, never let it go.

It's an easy temptation to take your Income Tax refund and treat it like "windfall" money. But these days wouldn't it make a lot of sense to do something with it that will last much longer and give you a lot more benefits?
 We're talking about saving it... at CBT.
 Why CBT? Because you'll get more for your money.
 First of all, a savings account at CBT with a minimum balance of $300 gets you free personal checking worth more than $19.00 annually.* (By comparison, a regular savings account at a savings bank earns just a quarter of a per cent more interest... twenty five cents on every hundred dollars you have on deposit.)
 And at CBT you can do all your banking in one place. With the price of gas these days... if you can get it... that's worth more than that quarter.
 So give yourself a bit of security this year... and get the most you can for your money. Save at CBT, where your savings add up to more.
 On the Bottom Line.

CBT THE CONNECTICUT BANK AND TRUST COMPANY

Take It Easy

There is nothing more natural these days with the thoughts of spring than to get out and do something.

This urge has been called "cabin fever" and "spring fever" and we all are subject to it.

But when this "fever" hits you (if it hasn't already) fight it off if you plan to take a lark in your car.

Even though gas lines are shorter and there are promises of more gasoline for the state, the fact remains there is not going to be enough for everybody to do all the driving they please.

Federal and state energy officials agree on this if nothing else.

Despite the faltering of the allocation system, the conservation measures that the vast majority of the state's motorists voluntarily assumed during the winter enabled us to get through without too many undue hardships even though it was tough and go at times.

This same restraint will be needed in the months ahead.

Until our refinery capacity is increased and able to run at full capacity we will be faced with the need to self-restrain ourselves by driving less miles than we did last year.

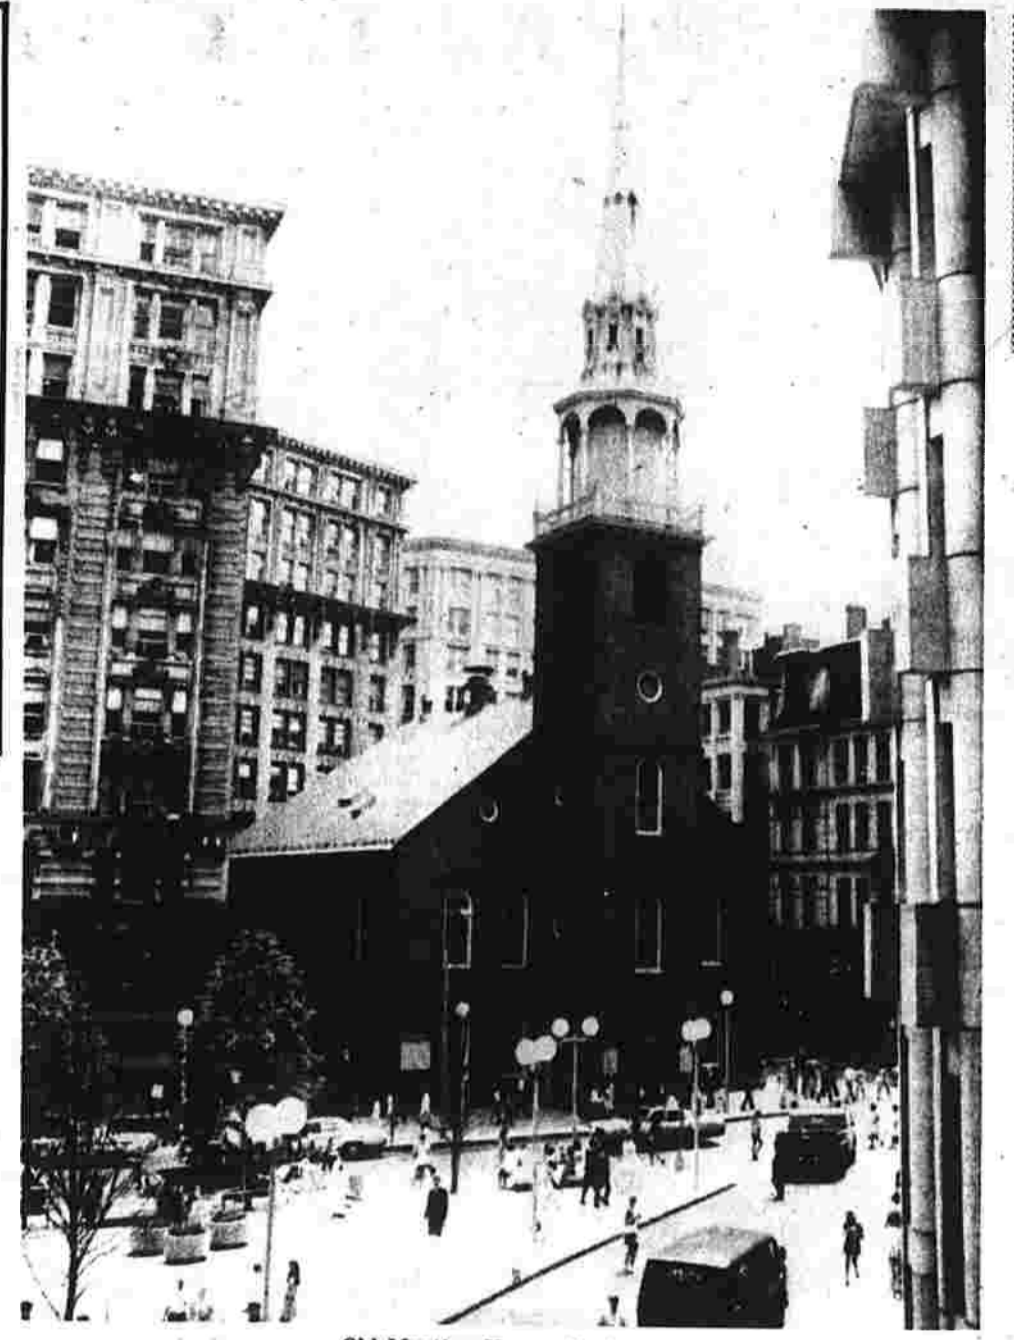

In the winter months, it was not too difficult to rationalize certain trips as being unnecessary but in spring and summer this is not as easy. We all want to get out of the confines of homes, apartments, and towns. We all want to make those energy-shortage postponed visits now that the weather is nicer. It won't be long until we will be taking vacations.

It all adds up to hard decisions. But if we all continue to conserve where we can, we can do some of these things because the gasoline supply will be adequate.

If we do not, the long lines will return and instead of having some opportunity to do some pleasure driving in the pleasant days ahead, we will be spending that time in the gas pump line.

Drive less, drive slower and plan your trips carefully.

If we all do this there is no reason why we can't overcome "cabin fever" without acquiring "fuel frustrations."

Old Meeting House, Boston.

Need Candidates Like Richardson, Ruckelshaus

WASHINGTON — Word came of the Republican defeat in the Cincinnati Congressional district just before the annual dinner of the Federal City Club broke up. Democrat Thomas A. Luken won a seat that had been lost by the GOP only three times in 82 years.

Willis D. Gradison Jr. is a prominent Republican, but he lost to a Democratic candidate who urged voters to "send a signal to Washington" that they were fed up with the Nixon administration.

As the GOP lost its third straight Congressional election, the setting at the Federal City Club seemed heavy with irony. The two honored guests and principal speakers were Elliott L. Richardson and William D. Ruckelshaus, who were forced to resign as attorney general and deputy attorney general when the President fired special prosecutor Archibald Cox.

It was hard not to persuade oneself that in the midst of the Watergate horror, what the GOP needed was candidates like Richardson and Ruckelshaus, both party regulars. They had divorced themselves from the administration on principle while proclaiming their continued loyalty to the Republican Party.

Obviously, Richard Nixon is a liability to the party's candidates. As in Cincinnati, the districts the GOP lost in Pennsylvania and Michigan were considered Republican strongholds. But none of the GOP candidates wanted or dared to run as loyal Republicans who had repudiated Nixon's leadership.

Second guessing is dicey, but the record suggests that either Richardson or Ruckelshaus could have won any of those three elections.

That poses a two-part dilemma for the GOP. One part probably will be solved in other campaigns by Republican candidates who publicly break with the Nixon administration. Self-survival, after all, is the first law of the political jungle. But what if 1974?

Neither will admit it, but Richardson and Ruckelshaus both have their eye on the White House. They are professional politicians, holding public office is their way of life.

If anything is certain as now, it is that one of them will challenge Gerald Ford for the Republican Presidential nomination.

As the incumbent vice president, Ford will campaign from a position of strength. He is clean of any connection with Watergate, a man whose personality and presence appeal to Middle America — where the votes are. But Ford also has a problem. He was Nixon's personal choice for the vice presidency, and accordingly will be pinned by many with the label of Nixon's man. He cannot denounce the President; that matter, he should not. When he accepted the job, he implicitly accepted the duty of defending his boss, and Ford is an honorable man.

Nevertheless, Ford would be unfaithful to his own ambition if he supported Nixon down the line. To do so would be to risk losing the votes of Republican moderates and liberals and the Democratic and Independent votes that Nixon needs for election.

There are still more Democrats than Republicans in this country. Nixon won re-election on his record, but also because some McGovern supporters alienated Middle America.

Similarly, as the three special Congressional elections have shown, voters who ordinarily would have elected Republicans were turned off by the scandals in the Nixon administration.

The party regulars who nominate Republican Presidential nominees do not lightly turn to liberals of the Richardson and Ruckelshaus stripe. They are more comfortable with a moderate-to-conservative Gerry Ford.

But Watergate and its attendant scandals will be on Page 1 for a long time, and so will the high cost of living and the energy crisis. It seems quite possible, the Nixon administration is still in trouble a year from now, an Elliott Richardson or a William Ruckelshaus would have a chance at Top Banana. They didn't just stand there, they did something about the scandals that enveloped Richard Nixon.

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

The Herald is planning a special edition, publication date June 29, entitled Profile '74.

Primarily, the edition will be an all-pictorial issue and will be divided into five sections.

One of the sections will be entitled, 150 plus 1, and will contain a few outstanding photos of Manchester's Sesquicentennial last year, in addition to a recap of the tornado and ice storm and photos of the many business changes that have taken place in the community.

The other sections will be entitled: Our Greatest Resource, Our Youth; Our Good Neighbors, a salute to neighboring communities; Fun and Play, maps and photos of recreation areas in Manchester and the state; and a section labeled Industry in which we will spotlight some of the firms, what they manufacture, and their principal markets.

Last year's Sesquicentennial issue was well received, in fact it was a sellout. We also felt that special editions, like the one we had last year and the one we are planning for this June, are of real service to a community.

United Press International is averaging nearly a photo per day of streakers. In case you aren't aware, that's the latest fad of running naked.

We don't like the role of censor but we will gladly play it as far as streaking photos in The Herald are concerned.

The photos are showing "bottoms" only and perhaps that could be compared to a circus: If you have seen one, you have seen them all.

We can't imagine, though, how UPI can be promptly on the streaking scene. We surmise they get a telephone call indicating the time and place of each streaking. Perhaps the same procedure that was followed in taking photos of anti-war demonstrators.

Actually, streaking isn't entirely new. It has been on some campuses for years under a variety of names.

In early April we will begin a column on Bicentennial activities leading up to our gala celebration in 1976. The column each month will contain a roundup of what the various communities east of the river are planning to celebrate the event.

The author is John Sibum of Hebron who is chairman of that community's Bicentennial Commission.

We will gladly lend all our efforts toward promoting the 200th anniversary of this great nation. We know of no finer public service.

You might find it surprising but people are apparently saving more money in these days of inflation.

A banker told us there has been an increase in new savings accounts and the savings picture is strong. It might be a safe assumption that people are saving instead of spending.

Wonder where your tax money is going?

Tax Foundation Inc. says that from the calendar year 1962 to 1972, average earnings of all federal civilian employees rose 88 per cent, compared to 66 per cent in private industry, and a rise of 38 per cent in the consumer price index.

And if you made $10,000 in 1966, you had federal income tax withheld of $1,015 and Social Security tax of $277. If you make $15,000 this year, you will pay federal income tax of $1,685 and Social Security tax of $772.

The result is that even though your salary may be up $5,000, you will actually experience a loss in purchasing power due to higher taxes and inflation. In the past eight years the dollar has lost nearly 45 per cent of its purchasing power.

The above figures are for a family of four.

Rep. Donald Genovese made a good point the other day when he stressed the importance of people getting involved in government, both at the state capitol and in Washington. He went on to state that nearly every piece of legislation affects some person in some fashion. Amen.

We don't know how many people wrote their congressional representatives following our editorial comment on a proposed pay raise for members of Congress but the important thing is that the salary increases were stopped.

Don't let any one tell you otherwise. Your personal letter to your elected representatives is a very effective tool.

About twice a week we get a request to refrain from publishing the name of a party who appears on the police blotter. Once the name is on the blotter, we don't pass any of them by. All we can do is sympathize with the party or parties involved. Therefore, friends and neighbors, do all you can to avoid getting on the police blotter in the first place.

We have been giving some thought to having our news carriers collect monthly from their subscribers instead of weekly as is the case now.

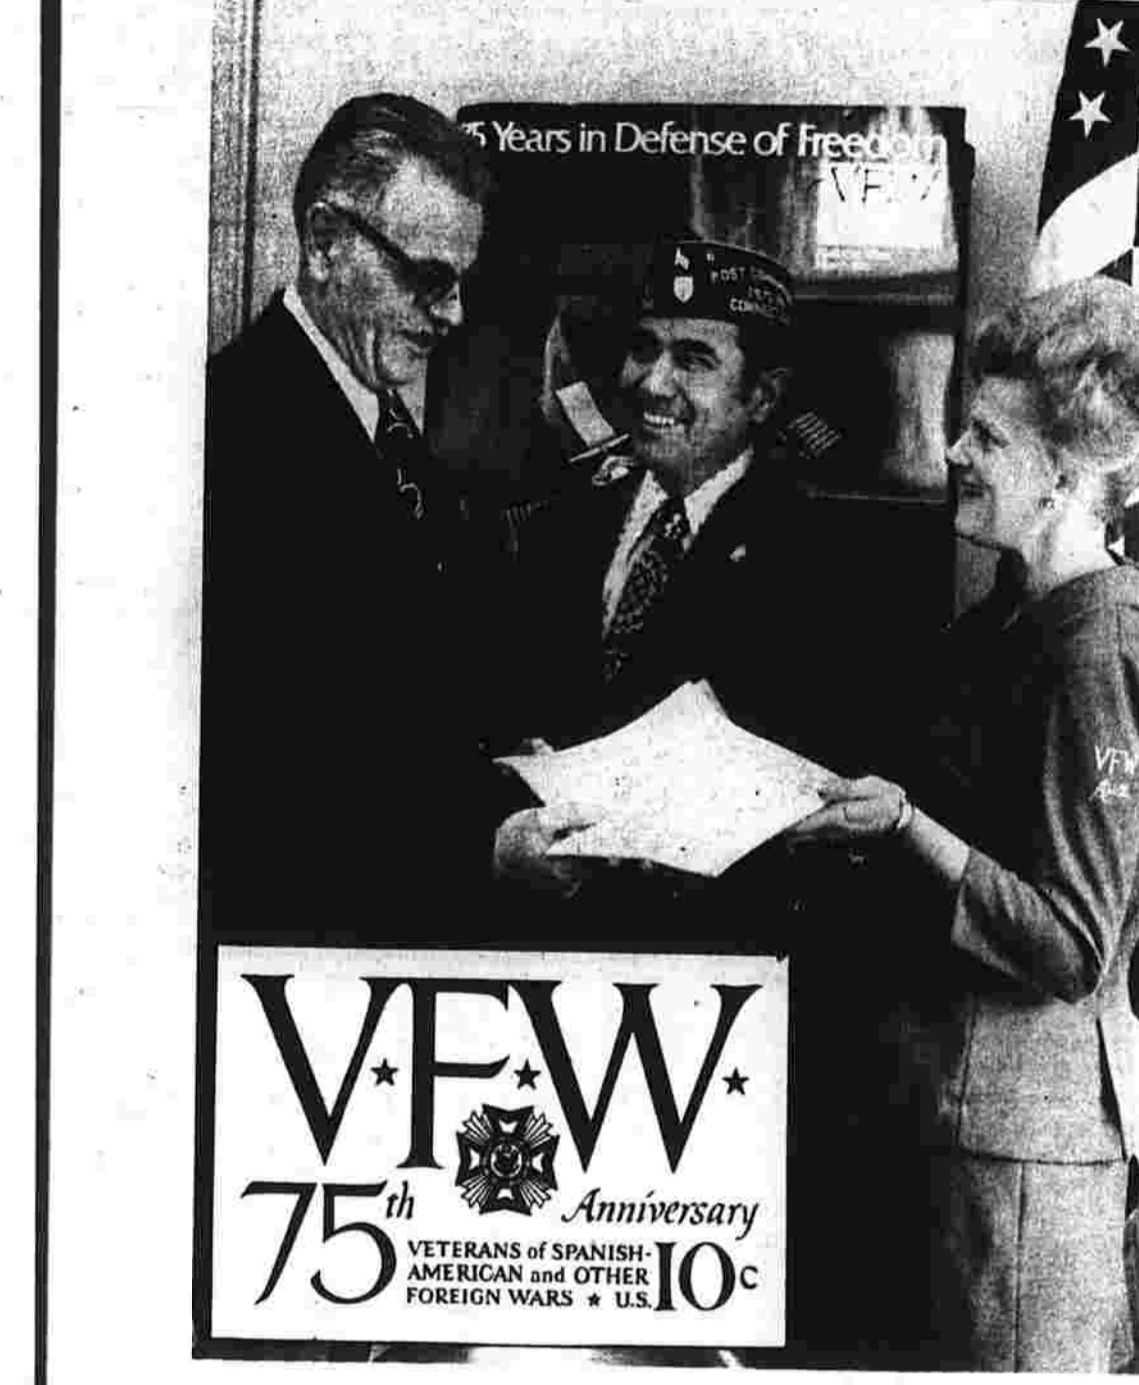

Our youth who carry papers are busy these days, with the responsibility of handling a route, school and possibly scouting activities, along with the many other clubs and projects that appeal to the young.

Many times a carrier will have to make several trips over his route to collect from his customers. Collecting is a big chore. A collection system, once a month, would ease the burden.

We would appreciate the thinking of any of our subscribers or from the parents of carriers. Just address your comments to me.

A Realtor told us the other day that the housing market is getting better and the sale of homes is perking again. As a national scale, we learn that more money is available for mortgages. In fact in some cases, lenders are seeking borrowers. Mortgage money is reportedly cheaper now than it was last fall. There are some predictions that it may go to 8 per cent or less by fall.

That should be good news for all of Manchester as housing is a key part of the total economy. An upturn in housing could help all business.

VFW Commemorative Stamp

John Bengston, officer in charge of the Post Office, (acting postmaster), sells the first sheet of commemorative stamps honoring the 75th anniversary of the VFW to Joseph Tamayo, commander of VFW Post 2046, and Mrs. Edward Stickney, president of the VFW Auxiliary. The 10-cent stamp, first in a long line of commemorative stamps to be issued by the Post Office, went on sale Tuesday. The stamp can be seen in the inset. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Defense Budget Shows Some Austerity Symptoms

By WARREN L. NELSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The defense budget presented to Congress in February seems to have some symptoms of austerity.

The budget package allots seed money to begin work on a smaller submarine and on a light-weight fighter for the Navy, contrasted with current development of Trident submarines that cost more than $1 billion each and the F14 Tomcat fighter which will cost almost $25 million apiece. Each is the most expensive in its field.

Congressional critics — and even men like Chairman John C. Stennis of the Senate Armed Services Committee who is often described as a Pentagon pawn — have castigated the services for "goldplating" weapons — adding on a lot of nonessential gear that quickly jacks prices up.

"Hi-Lo Mix" The Pentagon has toyed with Fewer Planes The hi-lo idea hasn't enjoyed universal acclaim among the men who operate the planes. What may be goldplating at Capitol Hill may be the finely honed edge to a pilot.

Packard, meanwhile, has returned to head his old firm, Hewlett-Packard, which manufactures the world's most expensive and technologically-packed pocket computer.

Is Impeachment Obsolete?

Henry Steele Commager, a noted historian, recently placed the Watergate affair and attendant calls for impeachment of President Nixon in a different perspective.

While terming impeachment a disaster if it failed to convict the President, the interesting aspect of his Seattle speech was his thesis that Nixon wasn't the crux of the issue.

"Whatever our immediate objective," he said, "our ultimate objective is not to remove and punish Mr. Nixon — history will take care of that — it is to vindicate our political system and our constitutional principles."

The question, he continued, is whether the American political habits and practices "we have built up for almost two centuries can function in the modern world?"

He said the American system worked in the 18th and 19th centuries because of the political maturity and sophistication of the American people and questioned whether today's Americans still have that maturity.

He thinks the vice presidency should be abolished and a modified form of parliamentary "no confidence" voting should be used to replace impeachment as the means to remove a president.

What makes his views so interesting to us is that as a historian he seems to be telling us either of two things can happen arising out of impeachment because of the more political than judicial nature of the proceeding.

If the Senate fails to convict, the President would go down in history as vindicated from his persecutors, the historian claims, and goes on to imply that the weakness of the impeach-

TIMELY QUOTES

- "I have no aversion to a news conference. I don't see any reasons why we can't have three or four a year and I'll consider that a commitment."
- "FBI Director Clarence M. Kelly announcing his agency will launch an "openness" campaign for news media and the public."
- "We send fewer people to prison for serious crimes and grant probation and parole more often and faster and at the same time, violent crime increases. We must remember that the first duty of any government is to protect its citizens."
- "California Attorney General Evelle Younger in response to newsmen's questions regarding penal reform."
- "Today we must surely be one of the most favored nations in the world. We have practically every commodity that the world wants."
- "South Africa's Finance Minister Nico Diederichs on his country's recent economic boom."

Today's Thought

Fear of failure can drive a person to cheat, lie, steal, or even to a complete paralysis of action. Knowingly or otherwise, we can place intolerable expectations on our children, our family, our associates, and especially on ourselves.

And yet when you've accomplished all these expectations, if you do, you just find new demands waiting for you. It's an endless accelerating conveyor belt: You have to move faster just to stay where you are.

Fear of failure is almost a collective disease in our society (but mediocrity is no blessing, either). We must act to make ourselves aware of your life. Listen to your breathing, feel your pulse.

The center of the universe is within you. To lose your self is the only real failure in life.

Bolton SSI Survey To Start

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-0375

A group of volunteers will begin a telephone survey of the entire town in a few days to try and locate persons eligible for the new U.S. Government Supplemental Security Income program.

Originally the volunteers expected to do a door-to-door survey.

The following basic questions will be asked:

Is there anyone living in the house who is age 65 or over or anyone of any age who is blind or disabled?

If you are working, is your income more than $365 per month?

Did you receive more than $165, or $230 including spouse, from a pension and or Social Security last month?

If persons appear eligible for the new program their names will be given to the Willimantic Social Security office and a representative from there will be in touch with them.

The volunteers will also be assisting with getting correct names and addresses for a townwide directory.

The phone survey is expected to take about a month. Anyone who has not been contacted by April 15 is asked to call either July Miner, 643-7131, or Donna Holland, 646-0375. Mrs. Miner and Mrs. Holland are co-chairmen of the volunteer phone survey.

Poll Unfavorable To Pres. Nixon

About 84% of persons polled Saturday reportedly responded unfavorably to the President. The poll was conducted by the Manchester Committee for Peace and Justice in cooperation with the Connecticut Citizens for the Impeachment of Nixon between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. at the Manchester Parkade and the K-Mart Shopping Plaza.

A total of 337 persons said that they believed Nixon took part in the Watergate cover-up. Of those questioned, 47 said they thought he did not take part in the cover-up.

Asked if Nixon should be impeached, 217 said yes, 85 said he should resign, 53 thought he should remain in office, and 25 said he should either resign or be impeached.

The results were sent to the Connecticut Citizen's Action Group in Hartford to be combined with results from other towns.

Decision by Meskill 'Disappoints' Babbidge

Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Homer Babbidge said Tuesday that he, as a candidate, is "disappointed" Gov. Thomas J. Meskill isn't seeking re-election "because it's going to make it harder to be without that symbol of 'bad government' to run against."

Dr. Babbidge, speaking to students at Manchester Community College, said the public interest and education were well served by Meskill's decision not to run again.

"We have probably made more progress in the last 24 hours than in the last three years," Dr. Babbidge said.

"The voice and will of the people of the state were heard without the benefit of an election," he said.

Dr. Babbidge, calling for a "thorough housecleaning" in Hartford, warned students that it's not enough to lose the bad symbol, but "we have to get rid of the whole operation."

Other comments by Dr. Babbidge made during his visit to Manchester Tuesday:

- He stressed his support for the regional community college system, called for repeal of tuition at the colleges and suggested a 50 per cent return in the form of financial aid for all tuitions collected by the state.
- He called for adoption of a 14-year system of public education in Connecticut which would provide for expanded educational and vocational opportunities.
- He said the gasoline shortage and energy crisis were two separate problems. He saw the gasoline shortage as a problem of allocation and said he'd support national rationing if necessary. The energy crisis, he said, will require self-restraint and a nationwide effort.
- He supported state responsibility for maintenance of a mass transportation system but he didn't necessarily speak for a public system. Public initiative and state subsidy is what's needed, Dr. Babbidge said.

Fuel Cost Limitations Under Study

HARTFORD (UPI) — A restriction on the way public utility companies pass along fuel adjustment costs to consumers has been recommended by Rep. Marilyn Pearson, R-Stratford.

The Public Utilities Commission should be required to investigate when a fuel cost adjustment charge is one-fifth or more of the total charge of the energy or service, Mrs. Pearson said Tuesday.

She also suggested that the governor or a legislative committee also be empowered to petition for an investigation.

If the commission finds any fuel cost adjustment clause or rate schedule unreasonable, it should be able to make alterations and request the utility company to refund overcharges to customers, Mrs. Pearson said.

The commission should also annually investigate fuel cost adjustment charges, she said.

Mrs. Pearson last year sponsored a bill to prohibit utility companies from charging customers a fuel adjustment fee. This year, she sponsored a resolution to allow ratepayers to deduct fuel cost adjustment charges on their federal income tax forms.

Quirks in the News

Double Jackpot
LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — Frank Rosen of Chicago drew a royal flush while playing seven card stud at the Sahara Hotel Casino Tuesday night, but he wasn't the only one. A fellow player, Joe Esposito of Las Vegas, drew a royal flush in clubs.

Mathematicians and gamblers who study such things say the odds of being dealt a royal flush in a poker game are 649,740-to-1—but there are no figures on the odds of two players in the same game both drawing a royal flush.

Both probably wished they had been in it for higher stakes. This was a 10-cents-a-bet table, and there was only $28 in the pot. They split it.

By BETTY RYDER milady will be more colorful and feminine. Satin and lace trim turn any woman's head to catch an admiring eye...

Both men and women will find fabrics to fit any mood and occasion in designs that will assure them of the importance of "stepping out" fashionably.

Attending from the Manchester League will be Mrs. Mark Kravitz, Mrs. Walter Schardl, Mrs. Frederick Burr, Mrs. John Knowlton, Mrs. Paul Intagliata, and Mrs. Rockwell Potter.

Such lush fabrics as Qiana and Dacron VIII give the illusion of silk. Others have the look and "hand" of wool but are instead blends of several fabrics. One such fabric gives the outward appearance of a fine shawl but is in fact a fine denim presented in an unusual manner.

Color predictions for fall 1974 are rich and vibrant. Categorized under "The Good Earth" they include tobacco, vicuna, redwood, golden fox, berry, and loden - all influenced by forest hues.

The grain neutrals such as winter white, ivory and ecru, all matched or mixed to suit the wearer.

Prints and patterns, for both women and men, bring a bright new look to the fashion scene. Men's shirts are seen in floral prints or geometrics. Some a little more "quiet" than their predecessors. A look of total refinement emerges.

In lingerie or daywear, the soft, silky, drape of Qiana knitted by Klopman recaptures the delicate fragility of the East in this mandarin collared evening dress. Designed by Charles Piccolo for Paul Stanley it's washable and packable.

Walkie-Talkie Kidnapers Captured LOS ANGELES (UPI) - The youths kidnaped in a walkie-talkie recently and held it for ransom.

The radio, worth about $80, was stolen from a catering truck, police said. The thieves used the radio to contact the catering firm's dispatcher, offering to return it for $30.

The dispatcher bargained them down to $20, and a "meet" was set up to exchange ransom and radio.

It was not until after the money had changed hands that the "catering truck driver" flashed his badge, identified himself as a policeman and arrested a man and two boys on charges of burglary from a vehicle.

Expensive Mistake ROME (UPI) - A small mistake cost an unnamed Roman $144,002, soccer pool officials report.

The Roman was one of three Italians originally listed as correctly predicting the outcome of Sunday's 13 games. A second check showed, however, that one forecast in the third section of his coupon - the only one that has legal value - did not tally with that in the second section, used for the first check.

As a result, officials said, the unidentified Roman won only $3,928 instead of $147,980.

Army Extends Cash Bonus

The U.S. Army is extending its $2,500 cash enlistment bonus indefinitely, according to Sgt. Nolan, local Army representative.

The cash bonus is offered to young men who enlist for four years in artillery, armor or infantry. To qualify, they must be high school graduates and meet normal Army mental and physical standards.

The bonus is available both to young men without previous service and to former servicemen who have served fewer than three years and have been out of the service at least three months.

Applicants receive the bonus as soon as they complete both basic combat training and advanced individual training. Complete information about the Army's bonus enlistment option is available from Sgt. Nolan, 555 Main St., Manchester or call 646-3089.

OFFERING an alternative to nationalizing oil reserves on public lands, Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III, D-Ill., has suggested government form its own corporation which could help regulate private firms by competing with them for energy reserves.

Woes Pile Up For Willy Brandt

By Phil Newsom
UPI Foreign News
Woes are piling up on West German Chancellor Willy Brandt.

Since West Germany's is one of the strongest governments in Europe and he and his Social Democrats do not face general elections before 1976, many another leader, including President Nixon, might well envy his position.

Artist Battles Censors

By Michael Moriarty
RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — David Silvette laces his legal briefs with cartoons that include such captions as "Look judge, I'll draw you a picture" or "Tweedledee and Tweedledee" or "Alice in Wonderland at the attorney general's office."

Weak or caretaker governments exist in Italy, France and Britain which, along with West Germany, make up the largest members of the nine-member European Common Market.

West German economic and industrial strength give her a chance to survive with the least damage of all a common malaise—the Arab oil embargo and its effect upon the industrial world's economic and political structure.

The energy crisis led to the fall of Edward Heath's Conservative government in Britain and was a primary factor in the fall of Premier Mariano Rumor's government in Italy.

In relations between the Atlantic Allies, it led to what amounts almost to an open break between freedom of expression and bureaucratic censorship.

The wily, gray-haired artist, acting as his own attorney, has already won a ruling from a state court that the commission cannot force him to alter works he planned to donate to the state.

Silvette, who says he has "painted practically every important person in the state in the last 40 years," said "God himself told me to change a picture, I would question his right to do it."

And in France itself, it has led to mounting uncertainty which includes fears of mounting inflation, tough oil economy measures, increased unemployment and a general dissatisfaction with government.

In the swirling cross-currents of the energy crisis and U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger's related efforts to bring peace to the Middle East, West Germany emerges both as a key and a disappointment.

The key is West Germany's economic strength and its potential for leadership inside the Common Market.

Mood of Depression
The disappointment in United States eyes is its failure to seize that leadership to press for what Brandt and other West German leaders profess to favor, a Europe closely aligned with the United States.

At home, Brandt has been described as a man in a mood of depression.

Opinion polls show his party in a major decline in public favor as against the Christian Democrats, his chief opposition. The Social Democrats suffered a heavy blow in recent Hamburg elections and were assured their control of city government only through gains registered by Brandt's coalition partners, the Free Democrats.

A factor was believed to have been disenchantment of conservative German voters with the strong leftist trend among youth members of the Brandt party.

Rural Society
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Dr. Peter C. Goldman says if the United States is willing to change current living patterns, it has all the necessary resources it needs for several centuries. Testifying before a House subcommittee, the Stamford, Conn., scientist directs the "New Rural Society," suggested a new national living pattern for a more balanced population spread. One thing he suggested was more imaginative application of existing communications technology.

"I'm a darn rebel. It's in our blood down here."

Coast Guard Tabulates Oil Spills

NEW YORK (UPI) — The U.S. Coast Guard says more than 12,000 gallons of oil were spilled into Connecticut waterways during the last half of 1973.

The Coast Guard has reported there were 110 separate spills occurring on Long Island Sound from Greenwich to Stonington and on the Connecticut River up as far as Hartford.

Commander Ernest Biszozero, chief of the Third District's Marine Environmental Protection office, said most of the Connecticut spills were small, 5,000 gallons or less.

"But it's the little ones that keep us hopping day to day," Biszozero said.

New Haven recorded the largest amount of oil spilled, 6,470 gallons while New London had the largest number of individual spills during the six month period — 33, he said.

Stamford recorded 2,015 gallons spilled, Norwalk 1,085 and Hamden 1,000, he said.

Officer Friendly Busy Teaching Students Fourth R

By ERLINDA VILLAMOR
HARTFORD (UPI) — Officer Alex Cerasoli is teaching the fourth R in Hartford public schools — respect. Cerasoli, a traffic policeman for eight years, had little time to get lonely in his job but he thought that a policeman ought to be making more friends in the community he serves.

And he found one place to make friends is in the schools. "I used to ask kids what they thought a policeman's job was and I couldn't take their answers — 'arrest people,' or 'jail people,'" the 22-year veteran of the department said. "To many youngsters, policemen are not human," he said. "They are, as they say it, pigs."

Under a program he helped initiate in January, Cerasoli and two fellow officers, Hector Marrero and Carl Henderson, are working full time with school children to break down the barrier between cop and community. They are pointing their new beat in 34 public and parochial schools in the city.

In the classroom, the men in blue become "Officer Friendly."

Abortion Rule Officially In Effect

HARTFORD (UPI) — New state regulations on abortions were officially adopted Tuesday more than a year after the U.S. Supreme Court decision striking down long-standing prohibitions.

The regulations, to be administered by the Department of Health, allow abortion without restriction during the first three months of pregnancy, but allow the operation to be performed only to preserve the life or health of the mother during the last three months of pregnancy.

Any abortion performed during the middle three months must be done in a licensed hospital with a department of obstetrics and gynecology. All abortions must be performed by licensed physicians.

The regulations permit any person to refuse to participate in any phase of an abortion on grounds of judgment or philosophical, religious or moral beliefs.

The regulations provide for keeping of confidential records by the health commissioner for two years after an abortion is performed. The name of the mother will not be included in the confidential reports, although the physician's name will be required.

"Parents have a lot to do with children's attitude toward policemen," he says. "If we can educate them, we would be more effective."

Cerasoli, a high school dropout, obtained his high school diploma at the age of 34. He attended New Haven College and took courses in child psychology at Manchester Community College.

He says it's too early to assess the result of the Officer Friendly program.

"These kids would be in college before we see any real improvement in police-community relationship," he says.

Cerasoli, however, says he hopes vandalism in school could be reduced as a result of the course.

"I think it's already a success. Children, when asked about a policeman's job no longer just say 'arrest people.' They also say they help people," Cerasoli says.

Board Favors Changes In Family Life Course

JUDY KUEHNEL Correspondent 644-1364 For the third time a month the South Windsor Board of Education has heavily discussed the controversial Family Life Program...

children, preparing for life situations and sex education. One resident, Mrs. Cathy Costa, cited examples in which pornographic magazines, located in various stores throughout the town were easily within the reach and view of minors.

The officers for the 1974-75 fiscal year. The nominating committee, consisting of Dexter Burnham, Paul Longchamps, Alyce Greene, Edward Sieben and Joseph Segal, has proposed the following slate of directors to be voted upon:

For the most part the board, which met Tuesday night in the South Windsor High School library, seems in agreement that the course should and will be modified before implementation of it can occur next school year.

Mrs. Costa felt the board, as well as town officials and residents, should concentrate their efforts in combating these situations, thus enabling them to have the opportunity to grow up with healthy views toward sex.

Malcolm Anderson, Walter Anderson, William Barcomb, John Boritwich, Raymond Boulet, Dexter Burnham, Harold Cummings, Lewis Dube, Robert Froelke, Cleo Glidden, Alyce Greene, Edward Havens, Paul Longchamps.

Discussion of the program was sparked by Republican William Neal, one of the leading opponents of the curriculum. Neal had asked that board reaction to the recent panel discussion on the course be included in last night's meeting.

Recently, Mrs. Cle Decker, chairman of the board, called it unlikely that the Family Life course would be available to students by next fall.

Also, Walter Mealy, James Morelweitz, Theodore Pastva, Edward Sieben, Peter Sydorak and Earl Wallace Jr. In accordance with the bylaws, nominations will be accepted from the floor.

In giving his own reaction to the panel discussion held two weeks ago, Neal concluded that the program should be offered as an optional one, granting those families who wish to have their children kept from the course the opportunity to do so.

Art Auction A fund-raising art auction sponsored by the Tobaco Valley Chapter of O.R.T. will be held at the YMCA, 70 Main St., East Hartford, Saturday.

Featured will be lithographs, etchings, woodcuts, oils, watercolors and sculpture. Among the artists represented in the collection are: Chagall, Picasso, Miró, Braque, Dalí, Buffet, Renoir, Cezanne, Manet, Matisse, Jans, Lautrec, Schreierman, Friedlander, Jan deButh and many more.

The course basically prepares students for different life situations, such as prejudices, family matters, sex education, grooming, etc.

The items for auction are from the Food Gallery and will be open for viewing from 7:30 to 9 p.m. during a champagne hour. Auction time is 9 p.m. Admission is free.

The controversy that erupted over the course at the board's prior discussion of the Family Life Program was absent last night. Instead both school officials and residents sided particularly on the course as well as objections to society's outlook on raising the business meeting to elect

South Windsor PZC Moves to Speed Paving of New Roads

By MARGARET LaCROIX The South Windsor Planning and Zoning Commission made another attempt to tighten up its zoning regulations. Tuesday night it held a public hearing to discuss a proposed revision of the subdivision regulations.

The change deals with certificates of occupancy. The new regulation states that before a certificate of occupancy can be issued a developer must complete all roads in the subdivision to the satisfaction of the town engineer.

The commission also heard testimony on the application of Industronics, Inc. of Sullivan Ave. for a zone change. The property is now zoned general commercial and the firm is seeking to have it changed to industrial. The change would allow the company to expand its present facilities.

Thomas Butler, a company vice president, explained to the commission that expansion is needed for a warehouse. Equipment that is now stored outside or in rented areas around town could then be housed under one roof.

A technical change must also be made to the sanitary sewer plans section of the town zoning

Harkins Notes Shortage In Rev-Share Receipts

VIVIAN KENNEDY Correspondent Tel. 875-4704 John Harkins, town manager, in a report to the Board of Selectmen Tuesday night noted a revenue sharing shortage of $23,000.

Tolland received $173,400 in revenue sharing since Dec. 1972 and an estimated $19,611 is expected next month for an estimated grand total through the end of this fiscal year of $193,011.

Expenditures incurred and proposed include a Cat wheel loader ($27,992), used bulldozer and payload ($12,495), plumbing and heating for the new garage ($3,291), dump truck and plow ($12,021), fire pump truck ($80,000), fire department ($30,000), and principal on education administration building ($15,000).

Harkins said in his report that $28,000 shown received during the previous fiscal year actually was not found. "In effect, $220,000 was to have been received by year end yet our projections indicate only $197,000 will be available. This result in a revenue shortage of the sum of $23,000."

Harkins said by deferring expenditures for necessary capital items, a significant portion of the amount can be made up, with the balance made up in the overall budget.

Board to Meet The Board of Education will meet tonight at 7:30 at the School Administration Building. The board is expected to make a decision on whether to state curbing the Green. The Board of Selectmen is the town Traffic Authority, and would make the final decision.

Gypsy Moth Harkins told the board that a meeting will be held Thursday with the state entomologist to review the gypsy moth infestation report, recently compiled by the state.

This information, together with a map of heavily infested areas, will be available for public review later this week. Town vehicles, except for fire trucks, have switched from high test to regular gasoline in an attempt to save money.

Curbing For Green John Harkins, town manager, reported meeting with representatives of the State Department of Transportation regarding the use of no parking signs and curbing on the Green.

After much discussion, Stewart Joslin suggested the public be invited to comment on the "no parking" which would be effective on both sides of the Green from Rt. 74 to Old Post Rd.

Selectman Charles Luce recommended the ban not be put into effect until alternate parking is provided, citing need especially for the library, school administration building, and the church. Selectman Ted Palmer suggested the parking ban be put on the Green side only.

The investigation was brought about after the conservation committee of The Tolland Junior Woman's Club complained about the encroachment on the Green.

Harkins will meet with the regional engineer on Thursday to discuss the possibility of the

Flyers' Tilt Hopes Bright As Sabres Near Elimination

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Philadelphia Flyers moved a step closer to a division title Tuesday night while the Buffalo Sabres moved closer to elimination.

Philadelphia took a nine-point lead over Chicago in the race for the National Hockey League West title by beating the New York Islanders 2-1, Buffalo, chasing Toronto for the fourth and final playoff spot in the East, lost a chance to pick up ground when it lost to Boston 4-0.

St. Louis edged Toronto 2-1 and Detroit nipped Vancouver 2-1 in the only other NHL action.

Flyers 2, Islanders 1
Bill Barber's 25th goal at 8:02 mark of the second period gave Philadelphia its sixth consecutive victory, a club record. Simon Nolet opened the scoring for Philadelphia in the third minute of the second period and New York tied the score at 7:06 of the same period on Ralph Stewart's goal.

The Flyers' Dave Schultz, the league leader in penalty minutes, was in two fights on the ice and also became involved in an altercation with fans near the Philadelphia penalty box. Special police quickly intervened.

Tight WHA Races Near Home Stretch

NEW YORK (UPI) — Edmonton and Chicago picked up valuable ground in their bids for World Hockey Association playoff berths Tuesday night while Houston solidified its grip atop the West Division.

Edmonton, sparked by Brian McKenzie's two goals, crushed the Los Angeles Sharks 8-1 while Chicago got two goals from Ralph Backstrom in a 5-3 triumph over New England and Houston edged West Division runner-up Minnesota 3-2.

Training Camp Roundup

Yankee Bats Explode, Lyle Still a Holdout

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Yankees and the Pittsburgh Pirates will tell you today that the batters are starting to catch up to the pitchers.

The Yankee batsmen, no-hit on Monday by the Atlanta Braves, rebounded Tuesday with nine hits and nine runs in blanking the Kansas City Royals 9-0. The Pirates, meanwhile, who've scored only four runs in three games this spring, also erupted for nine runs — including three homers — while downing the Chicago White Sox 9-5.

The Yankees did their scoring in bunches, getting a pair in the first on Ron Blomberg's two-run single and another five in the fifth that was featured by newcomer Lou Piniella's two-run double that put the game out of reach. A quartet of Sam McDowell, Bob Polinsky, Ken Wright and Tom Buskey checked the Royals on four hits for the Yanks.

One pitcher who has yet to be as effective as he'd like is Sparky Lyle. Lyle, the Yankee's ace relief pitcher, continued his prolonged holdout, refusing to report to the club's training quarters until they up his salary over the $75,000 mark.

Track Star Questions Olympic Bid by Moscow

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — "I don't think Moscow should have the 1980 Olympics unless the Russians completely change their attitude," Martha Watson, who scored a double in the recent USA-USSR duet meet in the Russian capital said Tuesday.

"I don't know if it is because they just don't like Americans," Miss Watson told the Southern California track and field writers. "They took away our passports and didn't return them to us until it was time for us to leave Moscow."

"Although I had been to Russia before, I had an uncomfortable feeling most of the time I was in Moscow because of their system and check points and the way they scrutinized people."

Miss Watson, the star of the American women's team, won the 60 meter dash in the world record equaling time of 7.1 and the long jump at 20-8.

The Long Beach trackster who will be 28 in August, said she turned in her best performance last summer. She ran the 100 meters in 11.3, the 100 yards in 10.4 and leaped 217 in the long jump.

Bob Seagren, a pole vaulter with the professional International Track Association, said he didn't enter the right events in the Superstar competition. After winning in 1972 and 1973, he finished second to Kyle Rote this year.

"Next year, I will compete in bowling and bicycling instead of tennis and badminton," he said.

Seagren said he is in excellent shape and will be ready for his dual with Steve Smith in the next ITA meet March 22 in Oklahoma City. They will renew their rivalry at the Sports Arena here April 13.

"Our running in our meet last week against Arizona and San Diego State was the poorest in several years," said UCLA coach Jim Bush. "However, I was pleased with the performance of our field event men, particularly jumper triple jumper Clarence Taylor who did 53-11/4 and freshman long jumper Jerry Herndon who did 25-7/4."

Bush predicted that the triple jump will be one of the best events in UCLA's triangular meet against San Jose State and Cal State Long Beach Sunday at Drake Stadium.

Taylor will be competing against Long Beach's Dave Tucker, who has a lifetime best of 54-1, and San Jose's Ron Livers, who leaped 51-7/4.

Don Baird, 22, of Australia, who won the pole vault at 17-5/4 in the British Commonwealth Games at New Zealand, says he plans to enroll at Cal State Long Beach in September.

Only Move is Upward For East Grapplers

Going with a young team most of the way, Coach Santos Corpus' East Catholic wrestling team had a very disappointing season. The Eagle grapplers won just one out of 13 dual meets, that victory over Weaver High, 29-27. Included in the losses were setbacks to cross-town rival Manchester High, 40-16, and a crushing defeat to wrestling powerhouse Ledyard High, 51-5.

Top Eagle matman was junior 122-pounder Steve Turجون. He compiled an 8-41 mark during the dual season and won the eighth district Wrestling Sectional Tournament title. Other top grapplers for East were senior Co-Captains Jim Hesketh and Ray Gault.

Junior Bill Leahy, who battled in the 167-pound class, came on strong at the end of the schedule and should be looked to for scoring next campaign. It wasn't a successful campaign, but a learning one for Corpus and his matmen.

Mets' Hurling Job Only Open to Two

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UPI) — Hank Webb, the starter in the New York Mets' 3-1 loss to Boston Tuesday, may have lost more than a ballgame.

Webb, who was given the decision, is fighting to earn a spot on the Mets' pitching staff, and the 24-year-old right-hander faces stiff competition for the two available spots the club appears to have. Eight veteran pitchers are returning from the 1973 National League champions, and Craig Swan and Bob Apodaca are the front-runners for those niches.

Veteran hurler Ray Sadock, who relieved Webb in the fourth inning, was also the recipient of several Red Sox line drives —

Manchester Community College Baseball Team

Lack of Depth Hurt Manchester Tankmen

Compiling an unimpressive 1973-74 record of 4-9 in dual meet competition was the Manchester High swimming team.

The natators started slowly and were hurt immeasurably by the December ice storm which cut into their practice time. Another shortcoming during the campaign was the lack of depth.

Coach Dick Sollanek's tankmen took many first places during the season, but the legs of fourth and fifth place to opposition swimmers cost victory in more than one meet.

"We should be pretty good next year. We have a lot of good kids back. But the lack of depth will be a problem again," Sollanek commented.

Lost via the graduation route will be performers like Jay Murphy and Glen Saums. Murphy set and broke the school mark five times in the 100-yard breaststroke during the course of the season. In the CCHL Championships, Murphy set a new league mark in the trials, being timed in 1:07.6 in his specialty.

Saums was a member of the record-breaking 200-yard medley relay team, swimming the backstroke leg. Saums also won many first places in dual meet competition in his 100-yard backstroke specialty. The loss of these two tankmen will hurt Manchester.

Returning for the 1974-75 campaign will be such operatives as freestyler John Mrosek, medalist Pete Naktens; backstroker Ron Ricketts; and freestyler Ed Adams. Sophomores Bill Bouley and Bob Butler also will be looked to to win points.

The need for a diver and added depth will be Sollanek's greatest concern for next year. Added strength may be obtained from Rec Dept. swimmers, who have shown up well in AAU competition. Another tankman that latter group, a young maiden or two may drop in poolside to lend assistance.

"I wasn't disappointed with this team at all. I couldn't complain if I had a team like this every year," Sollanek concluded.

Youth Hockey

The Manchester Youth Hockey Association Senior A team plays Saturday night at 8:30 against the Xavier High school and Sunday the club faces Simsbury at 9:15. Both contests are slated for the Bolton Ice Palace, which is on Rte. 6 across from Munson's Candy Kitchen. Admission is free.

DES MOINES, Iowa, (UPI) — Drake University officials announced Tuesday that varsity baseball will be discontinued at the end of the current school year and that programs in tennis and golf would be reduced.

Philadelphia Has WFL Club But Bells Remain Homeless

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — A successful professional team needs an owner, a coach, a name and players. However, the most important thing is a place to play.

That is what the Philadelphia Bell of the World Football League is without.

WFL Commissioner Gary Davidson came here Tuesday and introduced City Councilman Jack Kelly, a contractor and former president of the AAU, as the team's owner and president and Ron Waller as its head coach and general manager. Kelly immediately named Waller as coach.

At one thing stands in his way: fifth-ranked Ron Lyle.

"I've been promoted a fight with Allie I beat Lyle and the George Foreman-Allie fight through," Bonavena said Tuesday as he prepared for the March 19 12-round showdown with Lyle in Denver. "That should be no problem," he added in broken English. "I think Ron Lyle better be careful of else. I'm not sure how long it is going to last, depends on how long I want to work."

Lyle, the ex-con who took the heavyweight boxing world by storm two years ago, wasn't as confident of Bonavena's abilities.

"I just hope one thing," Lyle told Bonavena. "That is that you show up. I want you in the ring so don't forget to be there. The fight starts at 8 o'clock so let's make sure they don't lock you in your hotel room."

three or four times," Kelly said and he has "enough backing at this time to make plans to play this season."

He said his team hopes to play at the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field, which seats 60,000.

"I've talked to Penn's athletic director, Fred Shabel, said Penn had to make a decision by April 1.

Waller, last season's interim coach of the San Diego Chargers of the NFL, is a former halfback with the Los Angeles Rams. Kelly, a former Olympic rower, is the brother of Princess Grace of Monaco.

South Catholic Cagers Gain Class A Finals

WILLIMANTIC (UPI) — South Catholic High School of Hartford defeated New London Tuesday 64-49 to advance to the finals of the Class A state basketball championship.

The finals will be played Friday at 9 p.m. at the New Haven Coliseum against Naugatuck High School, ranked 19th in the state at the start of the tourney.

For New London, it was their first loss in 19 games. Center John Delagrange led all scorers with 22 points but only one other teammate managed to hit in double figures.

Randy Lavigne and Ted Mauro spent the offense for South Catholic with 16 points each. Bill Eller had 12 and Mark Borofsky scored 10.

South led the game away in the third period with deadly accurate shooting and a passing attack that wore down the clock.

Petrocelli Ready, Center Job Open

WINTER HAVEN, Fla. (UPI) — Don't count Rico Petrocelli among those wondering whether his arm has recovered completely from last year's surgery for removal of calcium deposits causing pain in his elbow.

"I'm not worried, even though I have a bad ache occasionally," the veteran third baseman said Tuesday while getting a one-day rest before returning to the lineup against the Minnesota Twins at Orlando today.

Petrocelli said he has experienced the ache "off and on," depending on how much strain he has put on the elbow while making a throw.

Rookie third baseman Frank Yawkey played against the New York Mets in a 3-1 Red Sox victory at St. Petersburg and then packed for a rush trip to his home in Ponca, P.R., after learning that his father has to undergo an operation for a brain tumor.

The Red Sox win over the Mets was sparked by right fielder Dwight Evans and left fielder Jim Rice, who had three hits each.

Driving in the runs were Vic Correll, Mario Guerrero and Dick McAuliffe.

Evans was also outstanding defensively with a catch against the fence after a long run and a later throw to the plate that nipped Bud Houser.

Juan Beniquez made an excellent catch in center field and scored the third run on McAuliffe's double after hitting a ground rule double of his own to left center in the fifth inning.

Boniquez is playing the outfield and hitting so well that manager Darrell Johnson is wondering if he might have to platoon Juan in center with Rick Miller.

"If Juan shows me that platooning him with Miller is best, that's what we'll do," Johnson said.

Fairfield Bound

HARTFORD (UPI) — Steve Balkun, a foot 4 inch center voted to the Hartford County conference all-star team this year was to announce today that he will attend Fairfield University this fall.

Balkun scored more than 1,000 points and gathered more than 800 rebounds in his scholastic career at Northwest Catholic high school of West Hartford.

The 220 pounder has been contacted by a number of big-time college basketball teams.

He was to hold a news conference at 10 a.m. this morning.

Arriving at Home

Giants' Gary Mathews arrives safely home as a catcher Ray Fosse waits for the late throw. The run didn't help as the A's won the exhibition tilt, 8-5.

Driving in the runs were Vic Correll, Mario Guerrero and Dick McAuliffe.

Evans was also outstanding defensively with a catch against the fence after a long run and a later throw to the plate that nipped Bud Houser.

Juan Beniquez made an excellent catch in center field and scored the third run on McAuliffe's double after hitting a ground rule double of his own to left center in the fifth inning.

Boniquez is playing the outfield and hitting so well that manager Darrell Johnson is wondering if he might have to platoon Juan in center with Rick Miller.

"If Juan shows me that platooning him with Miller is best, that's what we'll do," Johnson said.

Social Security

Q. When should a person file for disability benefits? Someone told me I had to wait five months after I became disabled to file.

A. You should file for disability benefits as soon after you become disabled as possible. Disability benefits are not paid for the first five months of your disability but this does not mean you should wait five months before filing.

Q. My son-in-law and daughter were killed in an automobile accident nearly five years ago. Since then I have fully supported my grand-daughter, who is 11 years old now. I'm retiring in June, and I'll start getting social security checks. Can my granddaughter get monthly checks too?

A. Since your granddaughter is dependent on you she may be able to get checks based on your record. When you apply for benefits you should also apply for payments for her.

Q. I'm a waitress for a restaurant and catering business. When a group rents our banquet room they pay a service charge which is divided among all the waitresses and kitchen help. Do I report these earnings as tips?

A. No. Your share of this service charge is not a tip; it is considered wages paid by your employer.

Q. Since I got married last month, I heard that I need to change my name on my social security card. Is this correct?

A. Yes. You should contact the Social Security office for a change of name card. You will continue to use your present Social Security number.

Q. Can the hospital part of Medicare pay anything toward the cost of my care in a Christian Service sanatorium?

A. Yes. It can cover certain hospital and extended care services furnished to inpatients of a sanatorium operated, or listed and certified by the First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston.

Have a question about Social Security and its retirement, survivors disability or Medicare benefits? Write to Social Security Questions and Answers, Social Security Office, 677 Main St., East Hartford, Conn. 06108.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Cruelty Behind Bars

Block Thirteen in a certain state prison was known as the "hell hole." Inmates were kept—sometimes for years—in dark, 6' x 9' cells. Once a day they were allowed outside for 15 minutes, during which time they had to bathe, wash their clothes, and exercise.

But when these conditions were called to the attention of a federal judge, he ordered changes made at once. He said the situation was a form of "cruel and unusual punishment," forbidden by the United States Constitution.

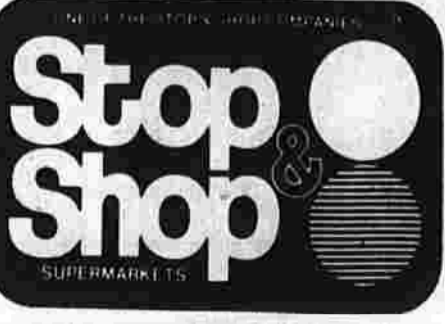

Traditionally, courts have maintained a "hands-off" policy toward the administration of our prisons. They have felt that conditions behind bars were generally outside of their jurisdiction.

But in recent years, that attitude has been changing. Repeatedly, prisoners have won cases based on the "cruel and unusual punishment" clause of the Constitution.

A broad spectrum of complaints has come under closer judicial scrutiny—corporal punishment, forced labor, restrictions on mail, restrictions on visitors, inadequate food, faulty sanitation, insufficient medical supplies or personnel.

Cases are still won, however, of getting too deeply involved in the day-to-day problems of running a penal institution. Thus, one prisoner failed to establish "cruel and unusual" punishment merely because he had been deprived of the right to wear his civilian shoes. And in another case, a court found no constitutional problem when a prisoner's long hair was cut to standard length.

The court said: "A man in jail is not a free man. His right to wear long hair is outweighed by the interests of the state in maintaining sanitary conditions and discipline. The Eighth Amendment expresses the revulsion of civilized man against barbarous acts. The prohibition of long hair is not barbarous."

Cement Industry Shortage Problem Hard to Solve

By LEROY POPE
UPI Business Writer
NEW YORK (UPI) — One of the most difficult shortages to solve in the world today is that of cement. The problem is so tough that cement companies are diversifying into other businesses because they see no prospect of producing more cement rapidly. Despite this, the world is crying for cement and new uses for it are being discovered all the time. Since the industry was hit hard by over capacity as recently as the mid-1960s, the present situation seems somewhat strange. According to President John R. Kringle of Lone Star Industries, Inc., a cement company that already has diversified, the situation is both strange and unique. It's unique because, for practical purposes, there can be no such thing as a national cement market. Cement simply is too heavy to ship long distances unless imports are essential and at present the import supply has dried up. "SA," said Kringle, "each plant is a island of supply in a relatively small pond of demand." There are 60 regional cement producing markets in the United States alone. Ironically, in some of these markets cement is plentiful while over-all the supply is

'New Town' Bill Backed, Some Changes Suggested

By ALEX GIRELLI

Several persons testified Tuesday in favor of the principle of a proposed state law which would make plans for "new towns" subject to popular referendum if citizens petition for one.

The only opposition came in a letter from the Willington Planning and Zoning Commission which argued that the law might permit the electorate to establish zoning contrary to the plan of a zoning authority.

Most of those who spoke on committee bill 234, at a hearing in the Capitol by the General Assembly's general law committee.

Richard Dowd, director of planning and research for the Department of Environmental Protection, suggested modifications in the proposal which would have it apply to "new towns" whether or not they involve federal funding.

Harford Process, DevCo, which is planning a "new town" in Coventry, has said it does not intend to apply for federal new town community funding to which the bill as presently proposed is linked.

The speakers also generally agreed that the provisions should apply to new planned communities involving areas as small as 500 acres. As it stands, the proposal covers communities which involve 20 per cent of the undeveloped land in a municipality.

Suggestions for changes came from Steve Lozynn, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission of Coventry; Frank Conolly, planner for Coventry; Richard Dowd, director of planning and research for the Department of Environmental Protection; Richard Bresault, a member of the Coventry Town Council.

Their suggestions won support from Donald Kingsley of Coventry, co-chairman of the Connecticut Citizens for the Town and Country; and from Albert Bradley, a former Coventry town planner.

Mrs. Virginia Diehl, of the Committee for the Preservation of Coventry, spoke in favor of the bill.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Jesse Brainard of the 53rd Assembly District, a resident of Coventry.

Among suggestions made by Lozynn, a former legislator, was one that if the referendum is binding on the planning authority, it should be made clear that there is no judicial appeal from the referendum and at least half the electorate should cast ballots. If, however, the referendum is advisory, the decision could be made instead for an advisory referendum on any controversial questions to guide the planning authority.

Conolly suggested an approach patterned after the race track legislation in force. It would have the plan subject to review by the Planning and Zoning Commission and by a state agency which would be guided by state policies and by a local referendum. A negative decision by the PZC, or a unanimous vote, or the state agency would defeat the proposal.

Dowd, for the Department of Environmental Protection, suggested the law be made to apply to planned communities even when the developers do not apply for federal new town community funds, to developments and to certain other developments with heavy impact.

Bradley argued that present procedures place heavy pressure on elected officials who are forced to restrict their comment because of the possibility of judicial review and on citizens who will be affected by the plans. He said that townspeople must ultimately approve the bond issues for improvements made necessary by the development. What happens, he asked, if they reject such issues?

Bresault contrasted the authority of the Town Council with that of the PZC. He said the council's authority is limited and subject to review and override. The PZC, he said, can make decisions by three votes that have a great impact on the community.

Kingsley, in supporting the bill, with suggested amendments, called the plans for a "new town" in Coventry "fiscally irresponsible."

Mrs. Diehl said plans for a new community could "hit any pocket of undeveloped area which lies within the framework of a metropolitan district and any legislators from such vulnerable areas would be wise to support this bill."

After offering testimony in favor of the principle of a bill which would regulate "new town" developments, four speakers look over a description of some suggested changes in the bill. They are, from left, Frank Conolly, Coventry town planner; Donald Kingsley, chairman of the Committee for the Preservation of Coventry; and Stephen Lozynn, chairman of the Coventry Planning and Zoning Commission. The bill was the subject of a hearing before the legislature's general law committee.

Concerned Citizens of Tolland County; Mrs. Virginia Diehl, of the Committee for the Preservation of Coventry; and Stephen Lozynn, chairman of the Coventry Planning and Zoning Commission. The bill was the subject of a hearing before the legislature's general law committee.

"If a protest is filed at such hearing (the hearing held by the PZC) I, against a change requested in connection with a new community development program which is intended to result in a newly built community or a major addition to an existing community and which is eligible, or meets the eligibility standards, for federal assistance set forth in Section 413 of Title 42 of the United States Code Annotated, or against a change which affects more than fifteen per cent of all undeveloped land areas of the municipality zoned for residential purposes or zoned or classified as farm, forest or open space land under Sections 12-107a to 12-107e, inclusive, and 2, is signed by not less than twenty per cent of the electors of the municipality, such change shall not be adopted unless approved by an affirmative vote of a majority of the electors of such municipality at a special election called for that purpose."

The Town of Coventry contains 23,800 acres of land of which approximately 75 per cent is undeveloped. The bill, as proposed, would be eligible under the 15 per cent requirement, 15 per cent of 17,850 acres is 2,677 acres so that any proposal involving less than 2,677 acres would not be eligible for referendum.

"A proposal, currently pending before my commission involves a new town proposal on 1,600 acres with a projected population of 20,000 people. Our present population is 8,500. Under the criteria in the bill, this new city proposal for 1,600 acres would not qualify for a referendum. It is my considered judgment that it would be more realistic to specify as criteria a fixed percentage, say 2 per cent of the total area of the town or 5 acres, whichever is less, or some other reasonable and clearly defined criteria, such as a major impact if that can be precisely defined."

"Finally, according to the proposed bill, the referendum must be held before the commission makes its decision. The result of such referendum must be indicated in the decision of the Commission and is binding on the Commission. This is fine, but in the absence of any provision in the bill exempting the decision from the appeals procedure outlined in Section 8-5, it is my considered judgment that it would be more realistic to specify as criteria a fixed percentage, say 2 per cent of the total area of the town or 5 acres, whichever is less, or some other reasonable and clearly defined criteria, such as a major impact if that can be precisely defined."

"Any development, be it residential or commercial, must be carefully controlled and the people must, ultimately, be able to vote and thereby decide their own future. We feel, therefore, that passage of this bill is vital and constitutes a step in the right direction."

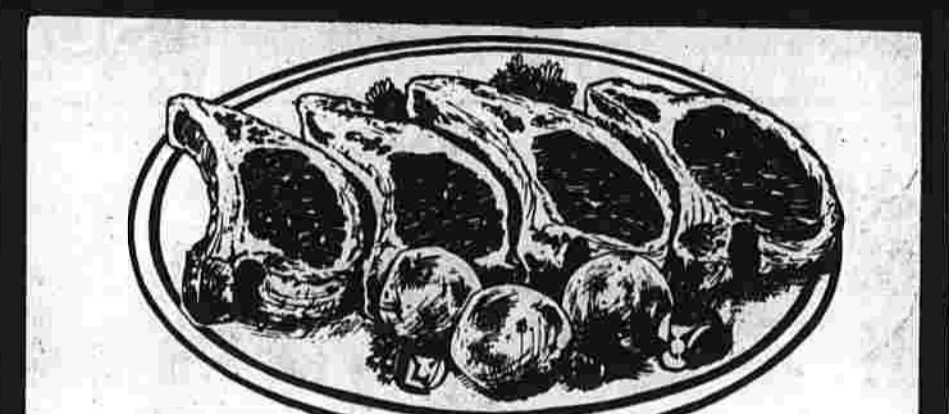

Steve Lozynn "While this bill would limit and modify the statutory authority of the Planning and Zoning Commissions in certain cases, the principle and concept are sound. Indeed, legislation from such vulnerable areas would be wise to support this bill."

Following is the text of the main portion of the proposed bill as it is now before the committee:

"The bill before us contains one excellent feature. It requires a petition signed by 20 per cent of the electors of a community, which will discourage frivolous attempts by a handful of people to petition for a new community development program which is intended to result in a newly built community or a major addition to an existing community and which is eligible, or meets the eligibility standards, for federal assistance set forth in Section 413 of Title 42 of the United States Code Annotated, or against a change which affects more than fifteen per cent of all undeveloped land areas of a town.

"Under the first criterion, any development which is not intended to apply for federal assistance, could deliberately plan a new community that would skirt the requisite standards to avoid a referendum. Under the second criterion, the 15 per cent figure is, in my opinion, far too high, is unrealistic and would be most difficult to establish without a formal survey of all eligible land. The Town of Coventry contains 23,800 acres of land of which approximately 75 per cent is undeveloped. The bill, as proposed, would be eligible under the 15 per cent requirement, 15 per cent of 17,850 acres is 2,677 acres so that any proposal involving less than 2,677 acres would not be eligible for referendum."

New Hampshire Firm Offers Toy-Testing Services

By BRENDA W. ROTZOLL NASHUA, N.H. (UPI) — Some of the most dangerous things parents buy for their children are toys. Arthur Ferlan and his associates hope to change that by testing toys to find and eliminate hazards — or at least issue warnings about them.

"Kids have been killing and maiming themselves for a long time," Ferlan said. "Parents have been very prone to feel the manufacturer would take special precautions since a baby or child is involved. There is an implicit faith on the part of the average American in products produced for children. This is a misconception, of course."

"Bicycles are one of the most dangerous toys. Many accidents occur if the brakes are faulty, particularly hand brakes," he said. "Toys that can kill are safety pins, bobby pins that kids take out of a doll's hair and swallow. Eyes pop out of dolls a lot of times. Children will swallow them and choke to death."

"Many children have burned to death because of fabrics or toys that have burned," Ferlan said. He cautioned that polyurethane — artificial foam rubber — is highly inflammable.

He and a few other friends in engineering formed Product Safety Laboratories, Inc., when they were thrown out of work at the local Sanders Corp., New Hampshire's largest private employer, during the window of aerospace programs.

MANCHESTER

By MICHAEL J. CONLON WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite public warnings from the government, there is growing evidence that hundreds of Americans are still being victimized by Scotch whisky investment racket.

Part of the problem is that people who bought warehouse stocks of whisky, stored in the British Isles, three or four years ago are only now finding out that the promised profits of up to 100 per cent on the mature booze are not materializing.

A reader in Englewood, Colo., wrote recently that he bought 5,000 gallons of an eight-year-old Scotch in 1971 at $5.35 per gallon — paying out $26,750. The whisky will be nine years old this May 1, he adds, and "the best offer I have been able to get is $3.94 per gallon, plus the wood."

"If I sell now," he adds, "I will lose about $6,500 plus storage and insurance... I will appreciate any tip you have to offer to a small investor trying to make a buck with my limited savings. I am 69 years old."

The New York investment firm which sold him the deal has since disappeared. We asked the Securities and Exchange Commission what this man could do. They said his only recourse now is to take the matter to court.

Whether that route would get back the original investment, considering legal fees, is problematical. The SEC says that one suit to stop a firm from doing business in this country has been settled. Several others the agency has initiated are still in court.

One SEC official said thousands of Americans have invested in Scotch whisky during the past three or four years, and the government can't get the victims' money.

The SEC says it cannot estimate which of the many brokers in the business are legitimate, and the buyer's best bet is a careful check beforehand.

Here's a tax time tip: Your federal income tax return should list a toll-free telephone number, or free advice from the Internal Revenue Service. The IRS expects to answer most inquiries by telephone this year rather than through impersonal visits to their various offices.

If you would like someone to government help, check to see if there's a free tax clinic in your neighborhood. The Vermont Department of Justice, 1609 Connecticut Ave., N.W., Washington, D. C. 20009 can tell you.

If you have a complaint or want to share a tip please write to Buyers' Billboard, care of United Press International, 315 National Press Building, Washington, D.C. 20045.

Novice 'Mountie' Gets Man

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI) — It was a wild chase, but Sheriff's Cpl. Walter Mott finally got his man.

Mott observed a burglary suspect riding a horse in a farm area outside Sacramento. He jumped from his patrol car and chased the rider on foot, but he was no match and soon was left far behind.

Mott fired a shot in the air, causing the frightened horse to throw the suspect, who then looked off on foot. The deputy then climbed aboard the horse and chased the suspect for only about 50 yards.

"I have been on a horse once before in my life and after 50 yards the horse went one way and I went the other," Mott said.

Returning the chase on foot, Mott finally caught the suspect, identified as Leslie C. Wright, 23, an unemployed laborer, who was held on warrants charging he stole $5,000 in a series of burglaries.

Red House Circus Rehearses

By JIM MCCREGOR
PHILIPS, Maine (UPI) — The citizens of this central Maine town do not get alarmed when they hear the sound of a krumphorn, psaltery or kortholt coming from a big red farmhouse.

They know it is the Red House Circus rehearsing for one of its concerts with the renaissance musical instruments. In addition to the krumphorn, psaltery and kortholt, the 11-member group also has the more familiar violin, harp, lute, guitar and recorder.

Five years ago the members of the group left careers in New York City and other metropolitan areas to settle in Philips. The members, along with their wives and children, live in a commune centered around the red farmhouse.

"They give concerts in Maine and neighboring states. Dress in medieval costumes which they have woven themselves, the performers sing, dance and play the ancient instruments. The songs include 15th-Century carols, the love songs of King Henry VIII, rounds and country dances, with the audience usually joining in the singing and dancing."

"We all knew each other in New York," said Eric Leber, a 45-year-old musician who left a teaching job to move with the group to Maine. "We decided to move out for all the usual reasons like pollution and congestion. We found this place in Maine and decided to settle here."

Leber said the group adopted the name of Red House Circus because of the house they found and because there is such a variety in their program.

"It's the idea of variety, something other than a straight concert," he said. "It's a beautiful thing for people to sing, dance and play together. We feel that audiences are people with whom to celebrate."

Leber said the circus prefers to do concerts in Maine but will accept engagements in neighboring states. "We like Maine people and like the idea of bringing live music to Maine and we believe they really appreciate it."

He said the group was well received by the people of Philips. The troupe helped things along by staging several concerts for the townspeople in a church.

"Outwardly, they don't react the way a college group does, but they applaud warmly and make it a point to come by after the performance and tell you they liked it," said Leber. "It's been a very, very warm experience. I don't think any of us have any desire to return to the city."

Democrats Vote Censure of Andrews

MONICA SHEA Correspondent Tel. 742-9495

The Democratic Town Committee at its meeting last night voted to censure Bryant Andrews, chairman of the Windham Regional Planning Agency, for his remarks issued in a proposed policy statement.

Steve Loyzim, chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission, moved that Andrews be censured and that the town committee ask for an apology for the "insult to the town of Coventry."

Dan Manley, Coventry's representative to the agency, gave the town committee a rundown of the meeting and the actions taken by the agency.

John Tweedy, a member of the town committee, said that it wasn't the committee's intent to tar and feather Andrews, but just to censure him for his remarks about the government of Coventry in his proposed policy statement.

At Cirilli, a member of the Town Council, said that if he went around asking apologies for insults either deserved or undeserved he would spend half his time asking apologies.

The vote was 13 for censuring, 5 opposed and 4 abstentions.

Expenditures Carilli gave the committee a breakdown of possible overexpenditure in various budgets. He said that this overexpenditure would make certain boards and commissions in violation of the town charter as the charter requires that these boards and commissions which have to make overexpenditures apply to the council and get approval of the council funds could be transferred to these accounts to make up the difference.

Loyzim said financial control by the town government is loose. He said the time has come to say, no, and that areas are not being watched as closely as they could be.

Dave Barry, who is seeking the nomination for the Fourth Senatorial District, spoke to the town committee and the actions taken by the agency.

He said that the last four years under Gov. Thomas Meskill have been bad, and that the Meskill stamp is on the legislature and that no Republican can run away from that.

Barry said that if he is the nominee he would talk to any organization who will have any money.

When asked how he would vote if the question of impeaching Nixon was his to answer, Barry said that with the information now available he would vote for impeachment.

When questioned about the completion of I-84, Barry said that he didn't think the practical road to mass transit is to lay more concrete.

William O'Neill, campaign manager for Ella Grasso, said that Mrs. Grasso was an unbelievable vote getter who even without the Nixon landslide in the last election.

He said Mrs. Grasso is the person the party could unite and rally around because she is not considered either a liberal or conservative but a middle-of-the-road candidate.

Elections for the town committee for the next four years were held and the chairman, Al Phillips, was re-elected. Vice chairman Rita Zuzel was also re-elected. Secretary will be Jan Hietala. The treasurer, Ruth Benoit, was re-elected.

SOUTH WINDSOR South Windsor firemen battled a six-acre brush fire this morning that started behind the CL&P station on Barbara Hill Rd. and spread to sections of Miller Rd. and Foster St. before it was brought under control 45 minutes later at 10:47 a.m.

There was some concern about surrounding structures but the fire was brought under control before it could spread to the woods or nearby buildings.

Four fire trucks were called to the scene and Explorer Scouts from South Windsor High School were asked for assistance.

Coventry Town Sculpture Sought

MONICA SHEA Correspondent Tel. 742-9495

The Coventry Beautification Committee, a non-profit, non-governmental organization of residents interested in promoting and enhancing the aesthetic culture and historical assets of the community, recently learned of a grant program sponsored by the Connecticut Commission on the Arts.

This program was established to provide annual grants to encourage and support arts activities throughout the state. The Beautification Committee felt that a fitting and worthwhile project was to seek to commission a sculpture to be placed out-of-doors on public property.

In pursuit of this goal, the committee sent notices to local artists who might be interested in submitting designs and sculpturing the work. Although the committee would like to have the sculpture done by a local artist, all entries will be accepted and given consideration.

All meetings are open to the public and interested citizens are urged to attend.

Board Thanked In a recent letter to the Board of Education, the Committee for the Preservation of Coventry thanked the board and in particular its chairman, Robert Walsh, for conducting a visual inventory of the school system Monday.

This was done in conjunction with members of the DeVCo's Advisory Committee. CPC members Virginia Diehl, Pat Hughes and Judy Wallace were most impressed not only with the great variety of teaching materials available, but also with the cleanliness, spaciousness and general layout of the buildings.

Adult education was being conducted in two of the schools and committee member Pat Hughes commented, "for a small community Coventry certainly offers much in the educational field to both youngsters and adults."

Coventry Walsh Protests Quick Hearing

MONICA SHEA Correspondent Tel. 742-9495

Robert "Skip" Walsh, a founder of the Committee for the Preservation of Coventry and chairman of the Board of Education, addressed a letter of protest to the hearing chairman of the Connecticut Legislature's General Law Committee today.

Walsh who had planned to testify in favor of Bill 234 that would provide local citizens with the right to referendum on "new city" proposals was about 45 minutes late for the legislative hearing.

"I was certainly surprised to learn that it was already over," said Walsh "especially since I personally knew six of the people who testified. They must have been rushed." In his letter Walsh told Committee Chairman Howard Newman, "It is my understanding that you urged people to summarize, pressed for no repetition, and did not leave my friends and neighbors with a sense of your concern over their issues at stake."

He urged the committee to "pay more than lip-service to democratic principles and public opinion and begin encouraging public participation in our democratic institutions."

Walsh claimed that the brief period provided by the hearing "make the gap between people and elected officials just a little bit wider."

Turning his attention to the committee members, Walsh said he "wholeheartedly endorsed the bill's intent to allow local committees to determine development destinies."

"It is unfortunate that the proposal was so poorly constructed and written that it failed to attend to the one question of this nature presently confronting Connecticut: Town: Coventry," he said.

Walsh noted that he could not "explain how the bill could be introduced by Coventry's representative to the General Assembly and yet exclude Coventry."

He urges that the legislature be asked to include recommendations by Councilman Richard Breault for extending coverage to the Coventry situation.

Youth Plans To Sail Atlantic

By KENNETH FRANKLING

WICKFORD, R. I. (UPI) — Bob Gainer's career goal is becoming a naval architect, one who designs and builds boats.

But 1974 brings a more immediate challenge. Gainer intends this summer to become, at age 20, the youngest person to seriously challenge the Atlantic in a single-handed ocean crossing.

Gainer, of East Greenwich, R.I., plans to make the trip in a 22-foot fiberglass Sea Sprite called Hitchhiker to be launched from Wickford Cove on April 6.

"My original idea dates back to early youth," he said. "I've got notes and plans on the trip that date from at least 10 years ago."

Hitchhiker's hull and deck work are finished and Gainer is bolting down hardware and building the mast himself. He saved for three years to finance the project, getting discounts and other help from interested manufacturers.

Gainer's timetable calls for casting off June 19. He expects to reach Falmouth, England 35-45 days later.

"I'm pretty much going to take the same route (the later) that Robert Manry used for Tinkebell eight years ago," he said. The route, for the most part, will keep Gainer about 100 miles south of the New York-London shipping lane.

"I expect to have the same kind of weather Manry did, with 20-foot waves and 60-knot winds at least once during the trip, but my boat won't be thrown around the way his was," says Gainer. "It's at least four times heavier."

Gainer said his family in Hillsdale, N.J. wasn't overly enthusiastic when he announced the quest three years ago. "But they finally gave up and realized I was going to do it. So I have their blessing in a way. My dad has helped in outfitting the boat with parts and my mom keeps coming up with ideas."

The young adventurer is no stranger to Atlantic sailing. He made a solo trip to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia three years ago in a Sea Sprite day-sailer boat the same size but lacking a cabin. He describes it as a "two month leisure trip."

Gainer said he is not worried about the mechanics or possible physical peril on the voyage.

"My only worry is that I'll be asleep when I arrive in England and miss seeing the land as it comes over the horizon. It would be disappointing after 60 days to wake up and all of a sudden the coast is there."

"It's supposed to be a highlight on the trip to first see birds, then clouds, then grey mist and then England. I think it would be disappointing to miss."

If all goes well, he plans to stay with relatives of American friends after his arrival, leaving the following spring on a voyage home via the Azores and Bermuda.

Gainer says he would like to get a temporary job during his stay in England.

"Being what?" "Teaching sailing."

About Town

Contests Could Liven Meeting of Democrats

Al-Anon family groups will meet tonight at 8 at the Second Congregational Church parish house, 385 N. Main St.; Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club, 102 Norman St.; and Friday at 10 a.m. at the South United Methodist Church campus. Alateen for the 12- to 20-year-old children of problem drinkers will meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Pathfinders Club. The family groups are open to friends and relatives living with problem drinkers.

Britannia Chapter, Daughters of the British Empire, will meet Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at the home of Mrs. Norbert Coyne, 35 Farnham Dr., East Hartford.

A Lenten Vesper Service will be held tonight at 7:30 at Concordia Lutheran Church.

Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church Sunday School staff will meet tonight at 8:15 at the church.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, will have a testimony meeting tonight at 8 at the church. The meeting is open to the public.

Records Reveal Births Decline

Manchester births — on the decline for the past several years — dropped again in 1973, vital statistics released by the town clerk's office indicate.

A total of 1,445 Manchester births were recorded last year, compared to 1,513 in 1972 and 1,820 in 1971.

Marriages and deaths, on the other hand, both were up in 1973.

A total of 688 local marriages were recorded last year, compared to 606 in 1972 (an unexplainable drop from the year before) and 679 in 1971.

And, a total of 652 Manchester deaths were recorded last year, compared to 638 in 1972 and 593 in 1971.

Contests for vice chairman and secretary are expected to liven up proceedings tonight when the Manchester Democratic Town Committee meets to organize and elect officers for 1974-76. Its meeting will be at 8 at the Highland Park School, Porter St. Ted Cummings, who has been town chairman for the past 13 years, is expected to be re-elected without opposition, as is Paul Phillips to the post of treasurer.

The contest for vice chairman is between Dorothy Brindamour, who holds the post now, and Mary LeDuc, presently secretary.

The names of the candidates for secretary have not surfaced, prior to the meeting. It is possible the contest may be between a man and a woman.

Proposed Day Care Rule Opposed

HARTFORD (UPI) — Directors of state-funded day care centers have come out against a rule that would force them to take 70 per cent of their children from the ranks of the disadvantaged.

In a letter to the state Department of Community Affairs, which subsidizes the centers, the directors claimed the rule will squeeze out the children of the working middle class.

DCA has delayed implementation of the guideline because of opposition by community groups.

A meeting between DCA and the day care center directors has been scheduled for March 27 in Meriden.

To be a good politician, you have to have a lot of political know-who.

Women's libbers already enjoy the freedom of screech.

Wheat Land Brings Mint For Hospitals

COLBY, Kan. (UPI) — The auctioneer waved his cane like a magic wand as the crowd of prosperous farmers, ranchers and land investors wavered about, pushing up a $287,000 bid.

"Can you afford not to bid today?" Don Legere called out. "The good Lord hasn't shown us where he's making any more land. Don't let a few measly dollars stand in your way."

The auctioneer rapped his cane on the table and several men decided at once that they could indeed not afford not to bid.

The bids climbed $1,000 a time until John Johnson of nearby Grinnell, Kan., wrote a check for $295,000, paying more than $614 an acre for choice wheat land on the plains of northwestern Kansas 14 miles east of Colby.

The bidders had flown in from all over the country to this town of 5,000 to divide up the 4,240 acres in the estate of George M. Robb, an industrious and thrifty bachelor who left no heirs at his death in 1956 but one of the most valuable and well known estates in Kansas.

When the sale last weekend was over, checks totaling $1,509,000 were on the auctioneer's table, with every dollar going to seven small northwestern Kansas hospitals, as Robb had willed.

"He made his money in this area and he wanted to leave it in this area," explained the estate's trustee, Leon Roulier.

"We didn't have a lot of charities around here at the time he made his will, and it was sort of a logical thing. "He had a warm spot in his heart for hospitals."

The $1.5 million sale underscored inflation in spiraling land values. At Robb's death 18 years ago the estate was appraised at $33,000, and only a month ago was valued at just over $1 million. He had paid as little as $11 an acre while putting together the vast holdings in the 1920s, '30s and '40s.

DUTCH HEX SIGNS

YOUR GIFT GALLERY is your SHOP EAST OF THE RIVER for those colorful legendary Penn. Dutch Hex signs. These Hex signs were a part of the legend and superstitions of the early Penn. Dutch Settlers. They painted them on their large soaring barns, dower chests, birth and marriage certificates. At YOUR GIFT GALLERY, you will find a collection of 27 originally designed Hex signs in popular sizes. They can be used as a conversation note of the gable of your Roof, Garage, Tool Shed or Bar. They will pretty-up your den, children's room, playroom and kitchen walls...cabinet doors or just about anywhere you wish to put them. See them today at YOUR GIFT GALLERY — Always Available Free gift Wrapping — Free Delivery in Manchester Area
