Trip To Pave Way For Nixon Visit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger flies on another mission to Moscow at midnight tonight to prepare the way for what may be a difficult June visit by President Nixon.

Given Practical Demonstration
Alexander Lepak, first percussionist with the Hartford Symphony Orchestra, shows Gary Coffin, Mary Toland and Mary Sinnamon the proper way to hold a tympani drum stick during a percussion concert demonstration at Iling Junior High School.

Nixon then flew by helicopter to his Camp David mountain retreat. Some administration officials have expressed concern that despite the professed policy of détente between the two superpowers, a new arms race may be brewing between the Soviet Union and the United States.

The increased spending proposals were approved Friday by the appropriations committee. They include cost-of-living raises for the state's 372,000 public employees, increased per pupil grants for public schools, more money for state and community colleges and increased welfare benefits.

Cold Wave Hits Much of Nation

United Press International
An unseasonable cold wave chilled much of the nation today and snow fell in the Upper Great Lakes region, the Central Plains and the Northern Rockies.

Temperatures plunged to below zero in some of the snow areas. Below freezing weather was reported as far south as the Texas Panhandle.

Only southern Florida and the far West were a little warm for the time of year.

High winds hit Chicago and shook loose a lightning rod on the Water Tower, a 154-foot high structure which is notable for surviving the 1971 Chicago fire. Police closed off North Michigan Avenue to make repairs.

Snow and snow flurries were forecast for most of the Great Lakes region, Illinois and the northern Ohio Valley into the Central Appalachians and the Central Rockies.

Snow piled up to three inches at Muskegon early today, Denver, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo. had two inches.

Temperatures ranged from 18 below at International Falls in northern Minnesota to 76 at Miami.

Stolen Car Driven Over Wrong Route

A stolen motor vehicle was spotted by its owner Friday as she made out her report at police headquarters and was recovered shortly thereafter.

Joseph A. Healy Jr., 16, of Colchester, was charged with evading responsibility, operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended, carrying weapons in a motor vehicle, and taking a motor vehicle without the owner's permission. He is being held in lieu of a $1,000 bond for appearance in Circuit Court 12 April 18.

John Duval, the owner of the car, looked out the window at police headquarters and charged, "There goes my car."

Patrolman Raynoe Baunberg chased the automobile, and stopped it at E. Middle Pike and Woodbridge St. Healy jumped from the car while it was still moving, but was apprehended after a short chase.

The stolen car rolled into a ditch at a traffic light causing minor damage to both vehicles, police said.

LEGAL NOTICE

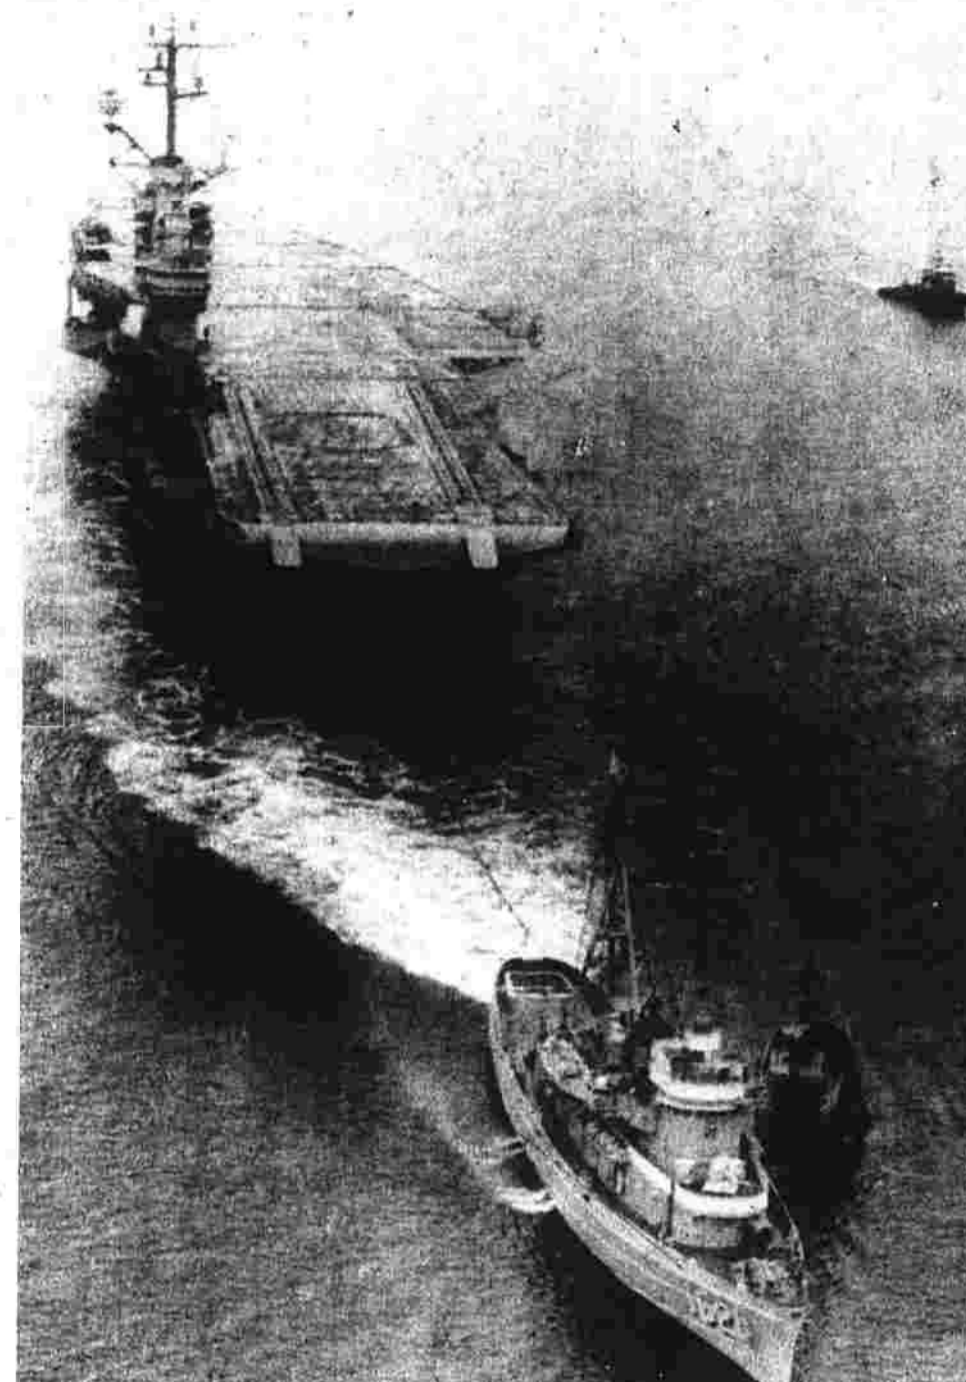

Notice is hereby given of the certification of party-endorsed candidates on the slate of the Republican Party for the 3rd Senatorial District in the town of East Hartford and portion of the Town of Manchester, for election as district delegates to the State Convention of said Party. A list of the persons so endorsed as candidates is on file in my office, being the office of the Town Clerk, 41 Center Street, Manchester, and copies thereof are available for public distribution.

Notice is also hereby given that a primary will be held in said senatorial district on April 18, 1974, if a slate of candidates for such convention is filed in accordance with Section 9-408 or Section 9-407 of the General Statutes, as the case may be.

Forms for petitions for filing such candidates for district delegates by or on behalf of a slate of enrolled Republican Party members of other than party-endorsed candidates may be obtained from the Republican Registrar of Voters of any town in the district. Instructions for filing such a slate of candidates are contained in Part I, Instruction Page, of the petition form, copies of which are available in said Registrars' offices. Prior to obtaining the petition form, the consent of each candidate to be proposed therein plus a deposit of $15 for each such candidate must be filed with said Registrar. A petition for an opposing slate containing the required number of signatures of enrolled Republican Party members in the town or district or part of a town which is a component part of a senatorial district composed of parts of two towns, or a town or towns and a part or parts of another town or towns), as the case may be, must be filed with the Republican Registrar of Voters in the town in which said petition has been circulated not later than 4 p.m. on March 22, 1974, being the 21st day preceding the day of the primary.

Dated at Manchester, Connecticut, this 20th day of March, 1974.

Vernon McCoy Recommends $4.5 General Budget

BARBARA RICHMOND
Vernon Mayor Frank McCoy is recommending a general government budget totaling $4,564,282 for action of the Town Council. The figure reflects an increase of $400,000 over the current budget, and coupled with the proposed education budget totals $12,571,344.

In his budget message Mayor McCoy explained there was an increase of some $6.5 million in the town's Grand List of Oct. 1, 1973 or about 4.5 percent on the 1972 list.

He said the increase will generate about $500,000 in additional tax revenues or the equivalent of 4.3 mills in tax dollars.

Although this increase in tax revenue will not be sufficient to balance the proposed increases in expenditures, the mayor noted that the proposed budget is due to rising costs and necessary wage adjustments, the mayor noted.

The interest payments on ongoing Capital Improvements, including sewer installations, a new fire house, and the Rockville High School addition, increased some $150,000 over interest payments in the current budget. This figure in the proposed budget totals $334,500.

However, a substantial portion of this interest will be recovered by the town when assessments are levied on the sewer projects.

The annual town meeting last year approved the budget in less than 15 minutes and at the council meeting immediately following, the council set the mill rate at 49.5 which was 1.5 mills lower than the current rate. Richard Borden, who was director of administration at that time, advised against such a move.

Borden advised that the mill rate should be set at 50.5 mills based on a 98 per cent tax collection. However the council based the rate on a 100 per cent tax collection and went with the lower rate.

The budget filed Friday afternoon, was in conformance with the town charter. It contains estimates of expenditures and estimates of revenues for all departments of the town. Complete department budgets will be presented to the Town Council for its deliberations.

The proposed budget calls for an amount of $8,286,192 to be raised by taxation. Miscellaneous revenues (estimated) total $4,291,152. No figure has been estimated as to surplus from either budget. This figure is usually held up until the last possible minute.

A great portion of the revenue funds are received in connection with special education or education in general. The estimated amount the town will receive in ADM Grants from the state is $1,597,583. This is an increase of $7,546 over the current amount.

Aid to special education totals $369,220, $24,145 over the current figure.

The budget figures do not show any significant rise in any one department and show decreases in some. The police budget increased from $628,888 to a proposed $680,561.

The public works budget is divided into seven separate sections. The largest increase shows in culverts and storm sewers with an increase of $40,000 to bring the amount to $59,000. The proposed budget totals $334,500.

The Board of Education's budget committee has chopped $130,872 from the budget of $8,138,294 recommended by Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools. It will go to the full Board of Education Monday night for its action.

Dr. Ramsdell said he reduced the requests of principals and department heads, presented to him, by some $250,000.

The council also has to act on the education budget before it is presented to the annual town meeting which will be held in May. Prior to that meeting the council will conduct one or more public hearings.

Hebron Fire Razes Hay-Filled Barn

NANCY DRINKUTH
Correspondent
228-3970

At 5:15 p.m. yesterday Co. 3 of the Hebron Volunteer Fire Department was called to a large barn fire across the street from the firehouse on Rt. 86 (North St.). The barn, which was full of hay, was the property of Foothills Farm. The structure was totally destroyed.

Eye witnesses said that three loud explosions preceded the flames. At one point the fire completely covered the road as it raged out of control. Late afternoon traffic to and from Manchester had to be detoured around the fire area.

The three Hebron fire companies responded. They were aided by Bolton and Andover. Some of the water for the fire fighting effort was pumped nearby Rob-Ann Pond.

The loss is a heavy one not only because of the large quantity of hay destroyed in the fire but also because of the lovely old lumber in the barn itself. Some of the chestnut timbers, which were saved at the sawmill now at Sturbridge Village, were 36 feet long. There was no electricity in the 100-year-old building.

Nixon Villa Controversy Erupts With New Report

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The White House is feuding again with reporters, this time over a secret Congressional report that is said to charge that $17 million in federal funds was spent on President Nixon's villas in California and Florida.

"It's just not true," White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler declared Friday. "The entire thing is irresponsible and unjust and it's time that this erroneous, false and misleading information about the President of the United States was stopped."

Ziegler referred to news reports on a supposedly secret House committee study that showed more than $17 million has been spent over the past five years on improvements, comforts, salaries and support facilities and for maintaining security at Nixon's homes in San Clemente, Calif., and Key Biscayne, Fla. This is about $7 million more than previous estimates.

The report, issued by the House Government Affairs subcommittee after a months-long study, is said to be bluntly critical of the spending, calling much of it "gold plating."

The contents of the study, which were supposed to have been kept secret, were leaked to The Washington Post and stories on it were carried by the New York Times and other newspapers and wire services.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., chairman of the subcommittee, termed the report "fair and objective." He declined to say if it contained information that might be used against the President if he is impeached.

An angry Ziegler told White House reporters: "A partisan Democrat (Brooks) released a figure of $17 million and the media absorbs it like a sponge and reports it as being spent on the President's homes."

"These are not expenditures on the President's private homes; they are five-year costs for communications, office equipment, salaries and support costs."

Ziegler, recalling an audit conducted last year by the General Accounting Office, said no more than $200,000, "or something close to that," in federal funds had been spent on Nixon's homes.

"Buy ours... I've checked them out."

All day long, I stand here at the checkout counter, adding up food bills.

So I know buying Stop & Shop's own brands can save a lot of money. (If you've never bought our brands before, and you switch, you could save upwards of $225 a year, according to Money magazine.)

But when I'm not at the checkout counter, I'm home, fixing dinner. So I know something else. Stop and Shop brands are as good as the best-selling national brand. We sell both.

I know that because I can see it, and I can taste it.

And because the people who are in charge of Stop & Shop brands tell me.

So my advice is, buy the brands I back: Stop & Shop's own brands.

David Says: "Now, It's Hard to Be Lonely"

"GREAT" is the word coach Norm Sloan of North Carolina State University uses the most when talking about the All-American basketball player, guard David Thompson.

"I have never known such a great competitor to have such a generous, fine and sweet nature. He has great feelings for his family, friends and the team. He's the greatest athlete I've ever known. His greatest fans are his teammates."

In the 1972-73 season, David scored an average of 24.7 points each game. He led the United States team to victory over Russia in the 1973 World University Games.

He is famous for many things, but especially for being able to jump as high as 42 inches from a standing-still position. Children often ask him if he can touch the top of the backboard. "That's my secret," he answers with a smile.

He feels that the secret to success is "hard work, determination and a positive attitude."

Asked what success means to him, he said, "Now, it's hard to be lonely." David is a pretty popular fellow, on and off the court.

David started playing basketball when he was seven years old. He loved to play so much that the family would turn on the car lights so he could see to play at night in his backyard.

His ambition is to play pro basketball. When his pro career is over, he would like to go into social work. He's majoring in sociology now.

Asked how he felt before each game, he said, "I'm very excited and I still get nervous. It's a thrill to come out and do my best."

During the season he goes to classes in the morning and practices in the afternoon. He studies after supper and is in bed by 11:30. After the basketball season, he plays just about every afternoon just for fun.

In his spare time he enjoys reading and listening to rock and soul music.

David is the youngest of 11 children. He is a 20-year-old junior from Shelby, North Carolina.

Norm Sloan, coach of the North Carolina State team is one of the best college basketball coaches in the country. The 47 year old Sloan played for State when he was in college.

We got David's autograph for you!

Entertainment: Sonny and Cher

In 1965, after Sonny and Cher Bono were married, they began singing together and borrowed $168 to make their first record. On their third try, they made it to the top with a song Sonny wrote called "I Got You Babe." They have been in movies and now have a comedy-variety show on television. They live in Bel Air, California, with their small daughter, Chastity.

Color by Number:

It's a special treat for the Little League basketball player on the right to meet the tallest and one of the shortest players in college basketball. Monte Towe, at five-feet, seven-inches, looks very short when standing next to the seven-foot, four-inch Tommy Burleson. But, most people do!

The Tallest Basketball Player

If you lined up all the college and pro basketball players in the country today, the tallest would be All-American guard, Tommy Burleson of North Carolina State University.

Tommy likes being seven feet, four inches tall. "It makes it easier for people to recognize me since I stand out in a crowd," says Tommy.

There are disadvantages, too. He can't drive certain compact cars. Most of his clothes have to be specially made. He has to remember to duck when going through most doors. He sleeps on a specially made bed that's eight feet long.

The 22-year-old senior from Newland, North Carolina, scored an average of 17.9 points per game during the 1972-73 season.

The Big Little Guy

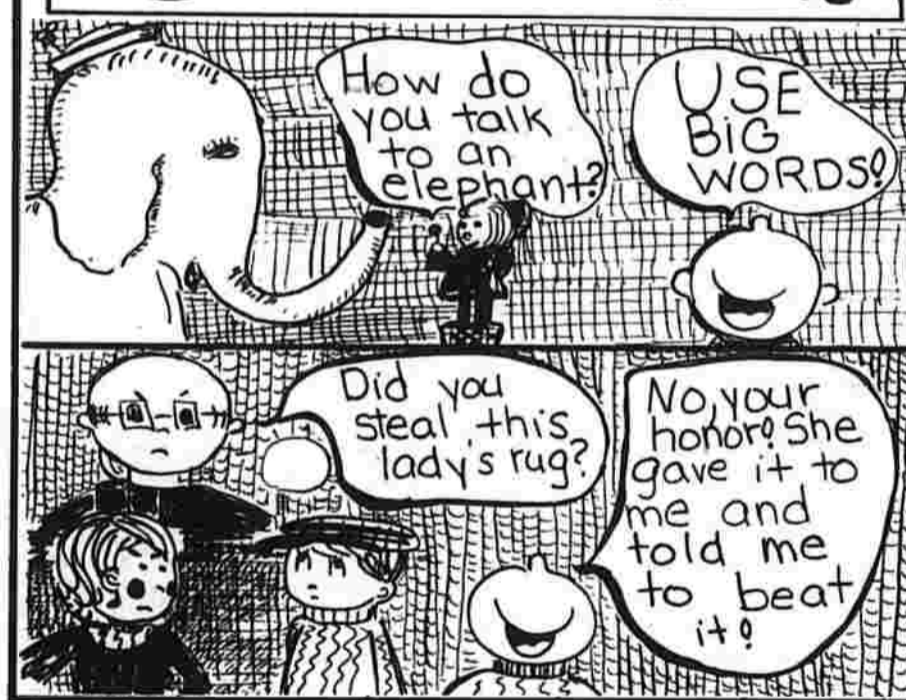

At five-feet, seven-inches, Monte Towe has proven that there is a place in major college basketball for the little guy. He is the floor leader for the North Carolina State University team. The junior guard from Converse, Indiana, barks out orders, and stars like Dave Thompson and Tommy Burleson listen. He's very good at dribbling and handling the ball. He averaged 10 points per game in the 1972-73 season. He led the team in assists.

Super Sport: Bill Walton

Bill Walton, UCLA's six-foot, 11-inch center, is one of the greatest college basketball players of all time. He is a tremendous scorer, rebounder, and defensive player. In one game his junior year, Bill made 21 of 22 shots from the floor and scored 44 points. Twice he was named "Collegiate Player of the Year." He has done all this in spite of two bad knees. Walton, who grew up in La Mesa, California, has been associated with some long winning streaks. In high school, he played in 49 straight winning games, and in his first three years at UCLA, the Bruins won more than 80 straight. Bill is a well-rounded person. He is majoring in history and enjoys riding a bicycle.

Animal of the Week:

The Pygmy Hippopotamus

See the baby pygmy hippo. His mother takes him to the water as soon as he is born. There are not many pygmy hippos left. Only 300 live in the wild and around 128 live in zoos. The pygmy grows to be about two and a half feet tall and weighs from 400 to 600 pounds. It can run very fast on land.

How to make placemats

You'll need:

- heavy cotton material such as Indianhead
- embroidery thread
- scissors

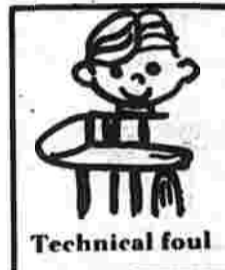

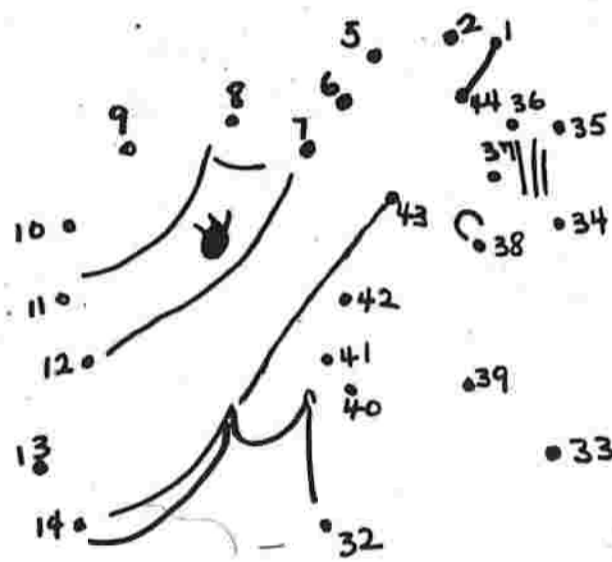

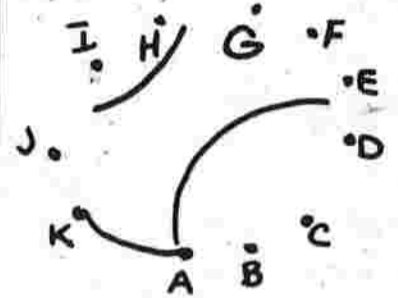

What to do:

- Cut out place mats size 12x18 inches. (You can usually get six mats from a yard of material)
- Sew a running stitch about 1/2 inch from the edge all around each mat.
- Fringe the edges by pulling the threads.
- Using the running stitch, you can make a design.

The running stitch is a short stitch made by running the needle in and out.
