

By MICHAEL O. WESTER LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI) — Thermoelectric fusion, which could fuel industrial power systems and possibly transportation systems, may be usable within 20 years, if the engine ring problems can be mastered.

Dr. Magne Kristiansen and Dr. Marion Hagler, electrical engineering professors at Texas Tech University, are heading a $39,300 National Science Foundation grant for experimental studies in radio frequency plasma heating.

A phrase like "RF plasma heating" may not do much to small talk, but it could be vital to the world's long-range energy supplies, said Kristiansen.

Kristiansen and Hagler agree that there is new confidence in controlled fusion as an economical, safe source of power.

Will Use Water "Most people believe the physics will work, but we still have uncertainty in regard to the engineering of the problem," Kristiansen said.

The prototype of a thermoelectric fusion power plant may be in operation by 1995, five years earlier than was predicted two years ago and 20 years after the first breeder reactor — which depends upon fusion for energy — is expected to be operable.

Hagler said fusion reactors use uranium for fuel, and there is a limit to the amount of raw fuel available because only about 7 per cent of the world's supply of uranium is of the right kind and can be used for this purpose.

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The FBI today sought Patricia Hearst as one of four rifle-toting women who held up a San Francisco bank Monday, shot two bystanders and escaped with more than $10,000.

Miss Hearst was identified in pictures taken by a hidden camera. Kidnaped 10 weeks ago by the Symbionese Liberation Army, Miss Hearst, in a tape-recorded message, renounced her parents and her former life 13 days ago and said she was joining forces with her captors.

Hartford Bridge Gets New Lights

Modernization of lighting on the Charter Oak Bridge connecting East Hartford with Hartford will get under way soon, according to the Connecticut Department of Transportation (DOT), which expects to realize substantial energy savings from the project.

Renovation of the bridge lighting system—including lights at the toll plaza and cloverleaf interchange in East Hartford—will be done under a $110,000 contract awarded by the DOT to L. G. DeFelle, Inc. of New Haven.

DOT electrical engineers say the new system will require 92,000 less kilowatt hours per year than the present amount of energy consumed.

DOT Commissioner Joseph Burns said the project will also improve highway safety.

Investment Group To Acquire Lydall

By DOUG BEVINS
Millard H. Pryor Jr., president and chief executive officer of Manchester's Lydall, Inc., has formed an investment group to acquire control of the company, according to a proxy statement prepared for the company's annual meeting today.

Pryor said he entered an agreement March 7 which allows him to gain control of Corpac Inc., a New York holding company which has effective control of Lydall.

In the proxy statement, Pryor said it is anticipated that after the purchase he and David W. Clark Jr., vice president and treasurer of Lydall, and their families would own more than 50 per cent of Corpac.

Pryor's agreement to buy Corpac stock was made with New Court Securities Corp. of New York, an investment banking firm which will continue to be represented on Lydall's board of directors.

Another announcement contained in Pryor's proxy statement is that Robert P. Fuller, chairman of Lydall, will relinquish his full-time position July 1.

Pryor said Fuller, who joined the company in 1951 as general manager and later became president and then chairman, has an agreement "whereby he will cease to be an officer and

Lydall Votes Dividend

Directors of Manchester's Lydall, Inc., citing increasingly strong cash flow and earnings—today re-established a policy of paying quarterly dividends on common stock at an annual rate of 20 cents.

A dividend of five cents a share was declared payable June 15 to shareholders of record May 31. Dividends of 37 1/2 cents per share and 20 cents per share were declared on Lydall's $1.50 and 80 cents preferred stock, respectively.

The company's board of directors took the dividend action after Lydall's annual meeting at Hartford this morning and after company President Millard H. Pryor Jr. reported "real progress being made on all fronts."

Pryor said first quarter earnings increased 71 per cent, sales of $7,100,000 were up 25 per cent. The earnings amounted to 24 cents a share.

Summarizing the company's 1973 results, Pryor said there was a complete turnaround in the company's financial status except in two areas:

Results were not as strong as they could have been, Pryor said, because of problems with the Universal Lubricating Systems Division, which was later sold, and results of the Colonial Fiber Division were not as high as usual due to increasing raw material costs.

Looking to the future, Pryor said Lydall intends to significantly increase its assets, sales, and earnings.

An acquisition program forecast last year was delayed by problems in Universal Lubricating Systems Division, but Pryor said today the company hopes to step up external development.

Questioned about expected profits in 1974, Pryor wouldn't specify a figure but he indicated he expects profits of more than $1 a share.

In the 1973 financial report, Pryor said Lydall's cash increased to more than $1.3 million by December. At the same time, long-term debt was reduced by $1 million and more than $1.3 million of machinery and other fixed assets were purchased.

Fuller introduced Eleanor Lydall Quinn, granddaughter of the company's co-founders.

She was among some 20 stockholders attending this morning's annual meeting, which lasted about half an hour.

Woman Parley Topic

Concern for the mature woman in the Manchester area will be the topic of a planning meeting Saturday at 10 a.m. of the Women's Caucus of Manchester Community College. Faculty and students will meet in the Faculty Education room on the Bidwell St. campus to plan for a one-day conference in the fall.

Any female member or representative of a local civic organization is invited to attend the planning session.

The purpose of the conference is to determine the needs of mature women—vocational, counseling, educational, and what the emotional and financial needs are for the woman who is attending school.

The result of the conference hopefully can match women with various services, said Mrs. Mary Ann Roy, a co-chairman of arrangements and history teacher at the college.

Anyone desiring further information may call Mrs. Roy at 646-4900, ext. 351, or Gail Frink, ext. 221.

3 District Firemen Join Town Department

By SOL R. COHEN
The Eighth District Fire Department is losing its full-time dispatcher and two of its top volunteer firefighters this week. As of next Monday, the three will be paid members of the Town Fire Department.

The three are Rick Skogland, Eighth District dispatcher for 3 1/2 years; John Bajoris, volunteer firefighter and a full-time employee of the district public works department (a job he will vacate); and Pete Saries, volunteer firefighter.

Actually, the Town Fire Department will start five rookie firefighters on the job beginning Monday. The other two are Kevin Connolly and Thomas Harwood.

Eighth District Fire Chief Granville Lingard, with the approval of the district board, has reported also that 19 volunteers attended a firefighters school in Williamantic.

Lingard and the directors praised Skogland Monday night, when he appeared before them. Skogland expressed his appreciation for the line treatment he received and the pleasant relationship he had experienced and said his department was "to take advantage of an opportunity for a career in firefighting and to plan for a future."

Lingard reported the district firefighters answered 41 alarms in March — 2 structures, 2 motor vehicles, 3 electrical, 2 dumpsters, 2 oil burners, 2

In the spring a young man's fancy turns to thoughts of... but most homemakers must concentrate on spring cleaning and redecorating.

While this task usually falls to the lady of the house, we read recently about a man who turned the tables and made it a family affair.

Now all mothers know children and housework are not usually compatible, but this mother came up with a rather unique idea - she let her teen and pre-teens plan their own home.

Turning the basement of their Victorian home over to the three children, she encouraged them to divide the spaces as they saw fit and decorate their own home within a home as they wished.

The results were a creative decor, a new insight into the children's personalities and an allocation of rights and responsibilities tailored to everyone's liking.

After setting up some guidelines as to privacy and moderate cost, the basement was divided into three rooms for three children, a 16-year-old daughter, and two boys, 9 and 11.

The children decided to partition the area into three separate bedrooms plus a for "kids-only" living room.

The "living room" is shared by all and the children's project was considered quite a success.

Incidentally, reports are the children had given thought to installing a mini-kitchen but the wondrous odors of mother's cooking drifting down to their private "apartment" dispelled that idea.

Fashions For Strakers
For years fashionable men and women have sought for their names included on the "Best Dressed" list.

Noted designers would attire equally notable personalities all vying for inclusion on the coveted list.

But something new may be added - or should we say subtracted? It's just possible there may soon be a "Best Undressed" list for fashionable strakers.

The Men's Fashion Association of America apparently believes that if one cares to streak, he should do so fashionably. So, with that thought in mind, the MFAA published "The Strakers Manual" which was distributed to college fraternities and college newspaper in which the proper attire for streaking is described.

Now the MFAA, always mindful of new fashion trends, contends that strakers should go it with a little savoir-vivre. They say clothes make the man, so what better way to streak than with a colorful polka-dot tie in a four-hand.

Then again, depending on where one is streaking, the location might lend itself more to a conservative cap, subdued tie, and polished shoes replacing the old tattered sneakers.

If a particular streaker prefers to ride rather than run, a jaunty cap, perhaps a shoulder bag for his keys and coin, and a pair of chic sunglasses, could turn the head of any viewer of this fashionable rider.

Just goes to show - American designers certainly meet the challenge of a changing world. After all, whose going to give a streaker a second glance if he's not putting his best foot forward?

A Whistle-STOP Community
A whistle-stop was originally a small town where a train stopped only upon signal to which the engineer would respond by tooting his whistle.

But in many towns across the nation, it has become a program of crime prevention and neighbor helping neighbor. The program called "Whistle-STOP" means just that. Neighbors carry whistles to summon aid when they see a crime being committed or a person in trouble. This then alerts others to summon the police if the situation demands it.

It's a program of getting involved, showing concern for the well-being of others, and has worked out very successfully in many towns.

For further information, write to Whistle-STOP Community Services, Edgewater Community Council, 8609 N. Broadway, Chicago, Ill.

You Just Can't Win
The comments of a lottery winner last week brought a chuckle so we thought we'd pass it along. A 70-year-old man on winning the $15,000 said, "Money. You work all your life to get it. If you get it and keep it they call you a miser. If you spend it they call you a spendthrift. If you don't have it they call you a bum."

St. Margaret's Circle, Columbus; Neda Kubicka, state regent of Daughters of Isabella, will celebrate its golden anniversary April 21 at Piano's Restaurant.

Anna LaGace, banquet chairman, will serve as toastmaster. Agnes Duction, regent of St. Margaret's Circle, will give the welcome. The history of the group will be related by Irene Berg.

Participating in the program will be the Rt. Rev. Edward J. Reardon, pastor of St. James Church; Rev. Edward S. Pepin, pastor of the Church of the Assumption; Mayor John Thompson; J.A. Grzynkowski,

Police Report

MANCHESTER - Christopher Page, 16, of 164 Center St. was arrested on a Circuit Court 12 warrant Monday and charged with third-degree burglary and third-degree larceny.

Page is being held in the Superior Court Correctional Center for court appearance April 18.

In other police activity: John Mazurek, Jr., 27, of 13 Union St. was charged with evading responsibility early this morning in connection with a burglary at Porter and Autumn Sts.

He was released on a $100 non-surety bond for court appearance April 22.

Earl Adams, 29, of East Hartford was arrested on a Circuit Court 12 warrant charging him with issuing a bad check and third-degree larceny.

He was released on a written promise to appear April 22.

An unknown male posing as a friend's cousin made off with $200 and miscellaneous personal property belonging to William Salmoraghi of 49 Birch St. over the weekend.

Condi told the ZBA Monday night that the 1969 building permit carried with it a stipulation that the altered basement of the house couldn't be used as a separate apartment nor could any of it be used as living quarters because it didn't meet building code requirements.

The 1969 building permit application, Condi showed, included plans for renovation to the town's building department.

ZBA member Rudolph Piero, moving to deny the variance, said it appeared the 1969 owner of the property misrepresented the renovation work to the building department.

The building permit application was filed by builder Linder Carlson for Raymond McCarthy, who then owned the house.

ZBA members, voting to deny the variance, reasoned that the neighborhood now consists primarily of single-family homes, and the area should remain that way.

Students Shout Down Shockley

NEW HAVEN (UPI) - Boisterous Yale University students shouted down the controversial Dr. William B. Shockley Monday night when he tried to speak on his belief that whites are genetically brainer than blacks.

About a third of the 300 students gathered for the debate between Shockley and conservative publisher William Rusher began heckling and calling as soon as the pair appeared on stage.

The students chanted "Go Home Racist" and held up signs one reading: "Is there a Nobel Prize for Genocide?"

Shockley later used the same medium to ask if there was a Nobel prize for the protesters in the audience.

One youth, who identified himself as a Vietnam veteran, stood up and told the crowd: "I have as much respect for you as I have for him."

Shockley and Rusher finally left the stage after enduring about one hour of the shouting.

During the heckling, Yale Secretary Henry Chancy told the students they would be suspended if they continued to shout.

For Shockley, it was the last broadcast from the capital of neighboring Niger since its independence from France in 1960.

Niger Quiet - COTONOU, Dahomey (UPI) - A Radio Niamey in a broadcast from the capital of neighboring Niger said the West African nation was quiet following a bloodless coup by the army Monday.

The new military rulers are maintaining a curfew and reported the uranium-rich West African nation "well in hand" today.

The army toppled the government of President Hamani Diori, who has ruled Niger since its independence from France in 1960.

Manchester's Dave Bidwell Uses One Arm Tactics Hurling Fine Seven-Hitter in Route-Going Performance

Versatile Performer

Pretty Jean McAdam, who annexed the Women's Division crown in the recent Tom Ducky Bowling Tournament at the Holiday Lanes is a versatile athlete. Last summer the Pratt and Whitney secretary helped Gorman's Sports Shop annex the Connecticut Amateur Softball Association and win a trip to the National Tournament in Chattanooga, Tenn.

Rich Bedard, former Amherst college athlete, is the new varsity baseball coach at American International College in Springfield this spring. Moe Mohardt is now in his eighth season as varsity baseball coach at Gilbert High in Winsted. The former Manchester High diamond star made it all the way to the major leagues with the Chicago Cubs.

When the Cubs decided to move Eddie Banks from shortstop to first base he never had a second shot at the big show. Waterbury's Terry Taita, now in his second season as National League umpire, is part of the four-man crew captained by Tom Gorman, the fine off-season story teller. Steve Blass, currently struggling to regain his pitching effectiveness with Pittsburgh, gave up five home runs to Hank Aaron. Blass is currently working out at the Pirates' spring camp in Bradenton, Fla., in hopes the warmer weather will help cure his arm miseries.

Two current members of Manchester's Board of Directors were part of a successful racing team several years ago. Matt Moriarty Jr. supplied the car, known as Big Red, and Bob Price was the driver. Moriarty, in his second season as driver, won the 1970 race. The car and driver combined to win national laurels in 1967.

Attractive Doubleheader - Attractive doubleheader for American League baseball fans is set Sunday, Aug. 4 at Shea Stadium when the New York Yankees entertain the Boston Red Sox. The latter has no scheduled twinnings at Fenway this season. Only makeup games will be part of either day-night or single admission doubleheaders. Lousy weather has resulted in sub-par attendance for Boston's first home stand at Fenway park this season, which is understandable. Race car driver Bob Allison's five-man crew set a new record by changing the two right side tires while adding 14 gallons of gasoline from two separate fuel cans in 19.28 seconds.

The feat was worth $1,000 to the men behind the scene. Jack Holik has won the starting catching job with Trinity College's baseball team this spring. Trin nearly had an all-Manchester battery until Jim Balesano decided not to return to school. The pair starred at Manchester High before entering the college ranks. Bob Steele, popular WTRC radio personality, will emcee Sunday night's Connecticut Boxing Guild Dinner at Valle's Honored guest will be Frankie O'Brien of Manchester. Sam Maltempo is handling local ticket sales. He's also general chairman. How the time flies. Dick McLaughlin is now in his 14th major league season. He first hit in Detroit. The Red Sox have used the versatile infielder at two different positions to date. Jim Colla, former Manchester High grinder, is among the varsity candidates with the UConn football team this spring. Andy Baylock, freshman mentor, reported last fall against the New Hampshire frosh, the UConnns were down to a minimum number of players when Colla suffered a serious gash on his nose. With no liner to spare, Colla went out, got patched up and returned to play his usual fine game. Colla was named the top lineman with Manchester High in 1972.

Conard High Second Victim Of Tribe This Season, 8-2

By Len Auster - Lending 3-2 going into its half of the sixth inning, the Manchester High baseball team erupted for five runs to secure an 8-2 win over Conard High of West Hartford yesterday at Kelley Field. It was the second triumph in as many outings for Coach Harold Parks' Indians.

Hitting stars for the Silk Towners were Rich Nicola and Bruce Peck, who drove in three runs apiece, and shortstop Ray Sullivan who had two RBIs.

Senior rightshander Dave Bidwell went the distance scattering seven hits to nail down the victory. He struck out six and walked just one in allowing one earned run. Chiefstain shortstop Bobby Quinn's roundtripper to the outfield, Nicola punched a double in the bottom of the second. Dennis Quinn was hit by a Tim Kelly pitch followed by a walk to left-fielder Bob Odell. Both runners advanced on a John Koepsel sacrifice. Junior second baseman Nicola sent across the first run with an infield hit. Sullivan slipped a single to left driving in Odell and Nicola crossed the plate on a perfectly executed hit-and-run play.

Sullivan broke for second, the shortstop went over to cover, and Peck drilled an RBI single through the vacated hole.

The Indians led the verdict the sixth inning, but advantage of starting hurler Kelly's wildness. Tim Theobald led off by hitting on an error and Odell crossed the plate on passes loading the sacks. With Conard playing its infield in, Nicola punched a single just over third baseman Seth Maxwell's head driving in two Sullivan's sharp single to right chased home the third run and Kelly in the process. Peck greeted reliever Dave Hunt with a line drive double to right-center bringing home the final Tribe runs.

New 2-0 in the CCIL and overall, Manchester enters league for Maloney High of Meriden Wednesday at 3:30. Senior rightshander Charlie McCurry, who recorded the season opening win over Penney, gets the starting nod on the mound.

Highly recruited East Catholic basketball star Joe Whelton has signed a letter of intent to attend the University of Connecticut in the fall. The two-time All-State basketball whiz and his coach Stan Ogronik made the announcement. A press conference will be held Wednesday at the high school formally announcing the flashy guard's decision.

Whelton had narrowed the field to two, UConn and Fairfield University, after originally receiving inquiries from over 200 colleges and universities.

"It was a very difficult decision to make," Whelton stated. "I was very much aware of the fact that UConn has a good basketball school which appears to be on the rise and it looks like it has a good School of Business Administration. What I previously indicated that these two factors would weigh heavily in his determination to attend the school."

The 5-11 guard, dubbed the passer because of his ability to thread a needle every single East assist. This past season he dished out a record 184 New Jersey and assists, eight per game, to bring his career total to 503. He holds the single game mark, 14, established in the 1972-73 campaign. Besides his exceptional ability to deliver the basketball, Whelton also has an excellent outside shooting touch along with the ability to drive the lane. Against Waterford High this season, Whelton pumped in 43 points to set a new single game school scoring mark, eclipsing the 41-point plateau established in 1965 by Ray LaGace. Averaging a school record 22.4 points per outing this year, Whelton led the Ogronik-coached Eagles to a 17-6 ledger and a quarter-final berth in the Class A State Basketball Tournament. He concluded his scholastic career with 1,153 points, second on the all-time East list behind Tim Kearns' 1,172 markers.

Whelton conceivably could start as a freshman at the state university, filling the vacant guard slot of graduating Jimmy Foster. He was considered the No. 1 scholastic backcourtman in New England. New York, Massachusetts this year by several college mentors, including his new coach, Dee Rowe.

Marathon Champion Thankful

BOSTON (UPI) - Neil Cusack can be thankful for a lot of things. He was aided by a strong tailwind (25 miles per hour), the famed Heartbreak Hill and his own endurance.

But he's just thankful that the 78th Boston Marathon is over and he's home in Manchester.

Cusack, a 22-year-old senior from East Tennessee State, finished the marathon Monday in 2:15:39, the second-best all-time time and third-best overall time in the race's history.

And with the win, Cusack boosted himself into the European National Championships, an event which required a good showing in the marathon. He had won the second-best all-time time in the marathon last year but he had lost his title to a runner from the United States.

"I've had a lot of indoor races (in the last year)," he said, "but I didn't know if I had enough training."

The turning point of this, and many other marathons was Heartbreak Hill, a series of four hills and Kopsel drove through Avenue in Newton. Here, Tom Fleming, who eventually finished second for the second time in his career, tired and developed muscle cramps, causing him to pause several times.

"I didn't even notice," said Cusack, oblivious to everything except his own race. "I never looked back and I wasn't aware of who was second. I never even thought I had won until I saw the finish line banner."

After the race, Cusack was running close to the leader, Jon Anderson of Eugene Ore., when he crumpled on the hill and fell to second.

Cusack, while admitting that the hill was a tough stretch, looked ahead as he passed the most torturous portion of the route. In fact, when the race was over, he was able to face hordes of reporters and cameramen in a relatively calm manner.

"Don't let my appearance fool you," he said. "I'm more tired than I've ever been in my entire life. I'm probably so tired that I don't even eat like I'm tired. Thank God it's over."

The slim, brown-haired, 138-pounder who had mapped out his strategy when preparing for the race.

Adulthood drove in two runs and struck out eight in a stint on the hill. Joe McLaughlin went the distance for Coventry and took the loss. The homesteading Terriers rode the arm and had of winning but Dave Andriettes to victory.

Slim Irishman Cops Marathon

BOSTON (UPI) - Mastery of the Boston Marathon has returned to Europe with a machine-like performance by a young Irish runner who could figure prominently in international track.

Neil Cusack, a slim, brown-haired Limerick native who attends East Tennessee State College, took a commanding lead Monday early in the 26-mile 385-yard race, and maintained it with the aid of a slight tail wind and despite a brutal stretch of pavement known as Heartbreak Hill to win in the near-record time of 2:15:39.

It was the third-fastest time ever recorded in the 87-year history of the international event, three minutes and nine seconds off the record set by England's Ron Hill in 1970. The only other runner to better Cusack's time was Eamon O'Reilly, an American, who finished second to Hill in 1970.

Heartbreak Hill, a stretch of tarmac to hundreds of good runners, was too much for Cusack's only serious rival, Tom Fleming of the New York Athletic Club, who finished second in 2:14:25.

"I never even thought of time, strategy or

Keyed Up Coleman Stops Sox

BOSTON (UPI) — Joe Coleman was keyed up and Reggie Cleveland was nervous before their pitching assignments at Fenway Park Monday.

Cleveland also managed a three-hitter, but one of the hits was a home run by Norm Cash into the right field bleachers in the fifth inning.

Coleman said he lacked control in the early innings but then settled down.

Coleman walked five batters and hit Bernie Carbo twice. His only jam came in the seventh inning with runners on first and third following one out singles by Doug Griffin and Mario Guerrero, but he got Tommy Harper to hit into a double play.

Coleman threw a two-hitter at the New York Yankees in Detroit four days earlier and won, 4-1.

Cleveland threw only 96 pitches and did not walk a batter, but he lost because he made a fast ball too good to catch.

"The ball started out inside, but it tailed in over the plate, right where he likes it," Cleveland said.

"You don't lose many games when the pitcher throws a three-hitter," Red Sox manager Darrell Johnson said.

The Red Sox left Boston Monday night for a three-game series with the New York Yankees starting this afternoon.

Luis Tiant, 0-4, was scheduled to face Mel Stottlemyre, 1-1, in Boston's first visit to Shea Stadium. The Yankees will be using the home of the National League Mets for the next two years while Yankee Stadium is renovated.

Bill Lee and Rick Wise will be Boston's pitchers in the second and third games of the series before the Red Sox return to Fenway Park to open a five-game home stand against Cleveland and Kansas City.

Clyde Wright Flashes In Brewers' Uniform

NEW YORK (UPI) — Clyde Wright's downfall last season may turn out to be a windfall for the Milwaukee Brewers.

Wright, a 31-year-old lefthander who won 22 games for California in 1970, slumped to a dismal 11-19 record last year with the Angels and was put on the trading block this past winter where he was promptly picked up by the Brewers for catcher Ellie Rodriguez.

It was a deal the Brewers couldn't refuse and one they're hoping will make them contenders in the American League East Division this year. They figure last season was just one of those crazy things that sometimes happens to a pitcher. Clyde Wright, a loser? No way.

So far, in two starts as a Brewer, Wright has justified his new club's faith in him. He boosted his record to 2-0 Monday night when he four-hit the Baltimore Orioles in a 6-1 triumph.

"You've got to learn and I have learned that on certain days the good hitters are going to send you to the well. But tonight it was my turn. I had good everything. Good speed, good command," said Wright, who pitched his third ball over the last seven innings.

"With this club if you hang around five or six innings you'll get some runs. I have no hard feelings toward being traded. They (the Angels) needed a catcher who could catch, hit and throw someone out. I won't deny that someday I would like to go back there. That's where my home is, my friends are and my opportunities are.

Meanwhile, I'd like to pitch six or seven years in Milwaukee."

Del Crandall, manager of the Brewers, wishes he had a few more pitchers like Wright.

"He's the left-handed pitcher we wanted from the start," said Crandall. "He's a winner. Luckily for us, he slumped last year and was able to get him."

The Brewers made Wright's task easier by getting him five runs in the second inning off Mike Cuellar. Four singles plus a walk and a throwing error by Cuellar accounted for the runs.

In other American League games, Detroit edged Boston 1-0, California whipped Minnesota 8-1 and Oakland nipped Chicago 4-3 in 11 innings.

Angels 8, Twins 1
Bill Singer tossed a five-hitter and Joe Lahoud batted in two runs with a homer and a single to spark the Angels over the Twins. Singer struck out seven in notching his second win. The Twins committed five errors in the game.

A's 4, White Sox 3
Gene Tenace singled home John Donaldson with two out in the 13th to give the A's their victory. Donaldson, a late inning replacement at third for Sal Bando, opened the inning with a checked swing single and moved to second one out later on an infield out. Tenace then singled.

Ray Fosse had a two-run homer for the A's while Dick Allen had a solo blast for Chicago, which has now lost seven of its eight games.

Masterful Three-Hit Effort Tossed By Larry Dierker

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reports that Larry Dierker's baseball career was at an end appear to have been a bit premature.

Dierker, who at the age of 22 won 20 games for the Houston Astros, won his second game of the season Monday night with a masterful three-hitter as the Astros downed the San Francisco Giants 3-1.

Dierker walked only three and struck out eight in pitching his first complete game in two seasons.

Dierker, who seemed destined for greatness when he signed his first major league contract at 17, pitched only 27 innings last season. He appeared in only 14 games and compiled a 1-1 record after spending most of the season on the disabled list suffering from a variety of arm ailments.

Dierker's problems weren't only physical. In addition to undergoing surgery for repair of a tendon in his pitching hand, Dierker went through the trauma of a staggering 1963 settlement as well as being involved in an accidental death in Florida prior to last season.

"People were saying last season 'he's finished,' he's said, "and I felt like I had pretty good stuff tonight. My arm feels better this season than it has in two or three years."

So at the age of 22 — the age most pitchers are in their prime — and in his 10th major league season, Larry Dierker is attempting a comeback. "I don't want to be the main man," he said. "I don't want to put pressure on myself. We've got a helluva ballclub here and every single guy on this staff can win. I'd rather be one of the five and do what I can."

Dierker's only rough inning was the first when leadoff hitter Bobby Bonds singled, Chris Speier was hit by a pitch and, after a double play, Gary Matthews singled home Bonds.

Lee May and Ollie Brown provided all the offensive support Dierker needed with solo homers.

In the only other National League game, Atlanta blanked San Diego 6-0 and Philadelphia edged St. Louis 3-2.

Brewers 6, Padres 0
Phil Niekro allowed the Padres only four hits and struck out a career high 13 while pitching the Braves over San Diego.

Niekro, relying almost exclusively on his knuckleball, walked three while posting his third win.

The Padres mounted two rallies against him in the seventh and eighth innings when they put two runners on but each time he struck out the side.

Phillies 3, Cards 2
Del Unser singled home the decisive runs as the Phillies scored twice in the eighth to offset Reggie Smith's first two NL homers and defeat the Cardinals for their fourth straight victory.

A walk to Dave Cash and a single by Larry Bowa preceded Unser's single in the eighth and both runners scored on the play when second baseman Ted Sizemore held the ball in short right field.

Tronsky Pin Open Won By Frechette

One grand richer after rolling a 10-game score of 1,511, Dick Frechette of Seekonk, Mass., walked out of the Holiday Lanes last Saturday with the Nick Tronsky title to his credit.

The Bay Stater averaged 150.1 in pacting a field of 182 in the 31st annual event. Frechette's game scores were 129-159-132-140-150-181-131-172-150. The triumph was worth $1,000 in cash.

Runner-up was Steve Drotar of Orange with a 1,470 total. He received $500. Don Lapardo of Torrington was third and John Mammone of Stamford fourth with 1,452 and 1,451 totals. The first local finisher was George Cochran in seventh place. He rolled 1,443 and won $70. Other local men in the money were Ray Andreotta, 11th, and George Polletier, 22nd. The latter was the defending champion. He rolled bowled 1,381 and won $25. Andreotta had a 1,414 total and won $50. There were two 200 or better games. Mike Piersanti of New Haven and Tony Barber of Danielson each turned in 201 efforts.

Among the bowlers with averages under 124, Burt Claugsy of Manchester rolled 1,319 and won $25. The entry fee was $25.

Brand New Ball Game For Rangers, Montreal

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Chicago Black Hawks can put an end to the Stanley Cup plans of the upstart Los Angeles Kings tonight, but for the Montreal Canadiens and New York Rangers it's a brand new ball game.

After failing in its attempt to complete a four-game sweep of the Kings, Chicago returns home tonight with a comfortable 3-1 lead in the best-of-seven quarterfinal series. The Hawks, who used rookie Tony Veier in goal on Sunday to Tony Esposito for the fifth game.

Esposito has shut out Los Angeles four times in nine games this season. The Montreal-New York series is deadlocked at two nights.

Neither Reay nor Los Angeles Coach Bob Pulford expected an easy game. Reay pointed out that all three games his club won in the series were close and he hated the Kings a "tough hockey team." Pulford said all his team needed was a few breaks "to win and send the series back to California for a sixth game."

There was some dispute among the Rangers and Canadiens about the value of home ice for their series, which now amounts to a best-of-three with Montreal getting the extra home game.

"We know we have to win one in Montreal," said Ted Irvine of the Rangers. "But we won our first game there and we're confident we can do it again. If we can play our style of hockey and stay relaxed, we can do it."

Bruce MacGregor, who scored the winning goal Sunday in the first game, means nothing at all. You saw what happened to us Saturday night (when the Rangers lost at home, 4-2)."

"Our guys just about deserted him after we fell behind," Reay said. "Almost all the Kings' goals were gifts."

Asked why a formal draft of NBA players is necessary since any team could have approached an NBA player at any time previously, Stora said "there's a tendency to become lazy or spread your efforts too thin when you don't narrow your choices down. Now each team will have five players to think about and approach and maybe we'll get some better results."

Russell and Seattle's Mahdi Abdul-Rahman (Walt Hazzard) are two of the few NBA players who've played out their options this year and Maravich is reportedly dissatisfied with the Atlanta Hawks, and vice-versa.

Nets and Stars Vision Sweep

NEW YORK (UPI) — The New York Nets and Utah Stars have visions of a playoff sweep in their minds when Kentucky and Indiana are in desperate need of victories as both ABA division playoff sites switch to the underdogs' court Wednesday night.

Both the Nets and Stars, regular season champions in the East and West, moved ahead 2-0 in their division finals battle Monday night with victories.

New York, combining a harrassing, sagging defense with a free-wheeling offense, convincingly whipped Kentucky for the second straight game. The Nets were "damn near perfect," according to Coach Erving, managed by Julius Erving, managed the way under Ladner's pressure.

Erving followed up his 35-point performance in the first game with 27 points but they were even better Monday night when they handcuffed Kentucky's two top guns, Dan Issel and Artis Gilmore, to win 99-80.

Reserve forward Wendell Ladner, a mid-season acquisition from Kentucky, stole the show and stood the crowd of 13,726 on its feet with a tremendous all-around game, his best of the year for New York.

Ladner tallied 15 points and had 14 rebounds, five assists and five steals in 29 minutes while nearly shutting out Issel. Issel, who scored six points in the first quarter while being guarded by Julius Erving, managed only three rest of the way under Ladner's pressure.

Utah hit its last six points on free throws to beat Indiana 106-102 and the Pacers, who appeared to be ending and I was disappointed. These are the most important games of the year and we're lying down and taking a beating."

The third game will be in Louisville Wednesday night and the fourth in Lexington Saturday.

Utah hit its last six points on free throws to beat Indiana 106-102 and the Pacers, who appeared to be ending and I was disappointed. These are the most important games of the year and we're lying down and taking a beating."

Indiana's reserve guards, Billy Keller and Kevin Joyce, rallied the Pacers after they had trailed 82-70 going into the fourth quarter. Keller hit a pair of three-pointers and Joyce sank two layups after a couple of steals as Indiana came within three points 102-99 with a half minute left.

But Jimmy Jones and Zelmo Beatty each sank a pair of free throws to keep the Stars ahead.

George McGinnis of Indiana led all scorers with 30 points. Mel Daniels had 18 and Joyce 13 for the Pacers. Willie Wise and Jones each had 18 for Utah.

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Boston Celtics are afraid history will repeat itself tonight. The New York Knicks hope they're right.

Last year, Boston romped over the Knicks in the opening game of their NBA Eastern Conference playoff finals and the know-it-alls predicted a Celtic sweep in four. New York came back to win the second encounter by as big a margin and went on to win the series in seven.

"Sunday's game was only one win," said Boston center Dave Cowens. "We need three more and I don't think any team can win this easy."

Cowens picked up five personals in the first three quarters and was benched the rest of the way in Boston's 113-88 massacre. He discovered that John Gianelli was a vastly improved center, someone who could prove tough to handle the rest of the series.

"I had to adjust my style against the Knicks, stay low, help on the switches and pick up the guy driving the lane," Cowens says. "In the Buffalo series, all I had to worry about was playing individual defense against Bob McAdoo. Now I have to concentrate on team defense.

New York appears tired after the strenuous seven-game set against Capital. Walt Frazier wasn't as sharp, hitting 6 of 16 in a 16-point game. Earl Monroe, who gave the Knicks fits with his weaving one-on-one bouts and outside shooting, contributed only six points.

"When you're not hitting, it makes you feel tired," Frazier said, "but what can you do when we hit only 34 of 103 shots. Our defense wasn't that bad."

"Last year was a little more humiliating. They just ran by us. On Sunday, we had better spirit, but didn't shoot as well. If we can follow the same pattern as last year, that would be perfect. I think we'll have to go seven games again to win it."

The Knicks showed a shooting eye that would have qualified most people for glasses. Bill Bradley went 2 for 11. Dave DeBusschere, appearing tired after his tough assignment on burly West, missed in the Bulls' series, was 6 for 15 and Henry Bibby, usually deadly from way out, was 2 for 10. Boston shot better than 50 per cent.

New York coach Red Holzman isn't very happy with the instant replay of the 1973 opening game loss. He would feel much better if he knew Cowens and the other Celtics were thinking of last season's 129-96 second game loss in New York and it would somehow affect their play.

John Havlicek remembers.

Tolland District Health Study Report

VIVIAN KENNESON
Correspondent
The Tolland Health District Study Committee, appointed by the Board of Selectmen in January, presented its final report to that board after ten weeks of meetings.

Richard Lander, chairman; Lorraine Manning, secretary; and members Corinne Bock, Philip Nangle, Kenneth Smith, Stuart Tinkham and Helen Went were complimented by the selectmen on the quality of the detailed study submitted.

In order to do justice to the amount of research and the importance of the subject, the contents will be reported in a five-part series this week.

Summary
Public health services made available to the residents of a community are important and the committee's primary essential. With continued population increases, Tolland's public health needs continue to grow.

Improved technology, restructuring of local health departments, and significant strides in public health knowledge have increased a town's capability to provide the public with health services it desires and to which it is entitled. These services can be provided for in a number of ways and to various extents, at varying costs to the taxpayers.

In light of the changes that have and will take place in town, as well as recent legislation passed by the state legislature, a committee was formed to study the possible benefits to Tolland in joining a health district with neighboring towns.

Goals
The committee's primary goal was to study the public health needs of Tolland, the town's resources, and the available state and federal assistance. Upon completion of this goal, it was to recommend to the Board of Selectmen whether the town should become a member of a health district.

A secondary goal was to cite those characteristics of a Health District deemed necessary should Tolland join such a district. Finally, if a health district were not recommended, it was the intent of the committee to recommend other alternatives to fulfill the public health needs of the community.

The committee also set a goal to recommend interim means for providing public health care if a health district was recommended, but could not be accomplished in the immediate future.

During the committee's existence it considered the public health needs of the town and came up with recommendations for an approach which the town should follow to best provide the necessary and desired services. Considerations were given to administrative services, environmental services, and nursing services.

To fulfill desired public health needs, the approaches studies were: A public health district; a Tolland Department of Health with a full-time director of health; a Tolland Health Department with a part-time director of health; contracting services, including a health director, from another town; contracting services, including a health director, from a nearby hospital.

Based on these discussions and interviews with several public health professionals, as well as anticipated costs of each approach when possible, the committee formulated its recommendations.

Recommendations
It is the recommendation of the Tolland Health District Study Committee that the town participate in a Public Health District to satisfy the necessary and desired health services of Tolland, and that the Board of Selectmen take the necessary action to join an existing or proposed public health district, or participate in the formation of a new public health district.

In the interim period before Tolland can become part of a district, it is recommended that the town provide for its public health care through one of the following, in order of the committee's preference: Tolland Health Department with full-time director; Tolland Health Department with a part-time director; or contracted services of a part-time director.

Public Health Council
It is the committee's recommendation that the town form a public health council to investigate fully the three recommended interim alternatives and recommend a detailed choice to the selectmen, begin detailed investigation into joining a public health district; and become a permanent, advisory body for the town in the area of public health.

The next part of this series taken from the report of the Tolland Health District Study Committee will look into public health services presently available to the town.

Mideast Crisis May Escalate

Truck Demolished in Collision

United Press International
The Arab press said today the Soviet Union was prepared to intervene directly to halt Israeli military activity on the Syrian front, where an all-night battle raged for control of strategic Mount Hermon and spread to the surrounding area.

The warning, reported by the influential Beirut newspaper Al Anwar, followed the return of Syrian President Hafez Assad to Damascus Tuesday from a five-day official visit to the Soviet Union and talks with Kremlin leaders.

Al Anwar, quoting diplomatic sources, said the Soviets considered Israel's current military operations on the Syrian front a part of the Jewish state's expansionist policy.

"The Soviet Union is ready to go as far as to interfere directly to deter Israel," the newspaper quoted the sources as saying.

On the northern Golan Heights, Syria and Israel reported an all-night battle for control of the snow-capped slopes of Mt. Hermon, the 37th consecutive day of fighting on the heights.

Israel reported one of its soldiers wounded and its forces fought off a Syrian helicopter and a patrol, a military source said. One Israeli soldier was reported killed Tuesday.

A military communique broadcast by Damascus radio at 9:30 a.m. said "Clashes on Mt. Hermon continued throughout the night and this morning spread to other sectors of the front."

Meanwhile, Egypt and Syria adopted tough Middle East negotiating positions today, and Israel accused the Arabs of complicating diplomatic efforts to end the increasingly explosive war of attrition along the Golan Heights.

Egyptian President Anwar

Sadat insisted on Israel giving up "every inch" of occupied Arab lands under an over-all Middle East peace plan.

Syrian President Hafez Assad said any agreement to separate the opposing armies along the Golan Heights must be "a step on the road to a radical and universal general settlement."

In Tel Aviv, Israeli sources said Syria has rejected a Sinai-style U.N. buffer zone on the Golan Heights, complicating negotiations for troop disengagement with Israel.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram quoted Sadat as saying the Egyptian leader told Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger of the Arabs' "tough negotiating demands."

"We have made it a condition with Kissinger that in order to accept peace, every inch of the occupied lands should be restored," Sadat was reported to have told a group of Egyptian students.

Nixon Nominates Simon As Treasury Secretary

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon today nominated William E. Simon to succeed George P. Shultz as Treasury secretary.

Simon, 66, a former Wall Street investment banker who now is federal energy chief, will be replaced as head of the Federal Energy Office by deputy John C. Sawhill.

Shultz, who announced March 14 that he would resign in May, is the last remaining member of the original 1969 Nixon cabinet. He originally was labor secretary. He became the first director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) in 1970 and moved to the Treasury post in 1972.

Simon hurried back to Washington from an appearance this morning at a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

In the speech, he reiterated his frequent warning to Americans that unless they practice energy conservation, there will be future shortages—and long lines at gasoline stations.

Simon was Shultz's personal choice to replace him as head of the Treasury. While concentrating on the nation's energy crisis, Simon retained the job of Treasury undersecretary.

It was at Shultz's insistence that Simon gave up a partnership in the prestigious Wall Street firm of Salomon Brothers in 1973 to join the Treasury as No. 2 man.

Sawhill, 37, is a former college professor and associate director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB).

SAVINGS BANK OF MANCHESTER

Connecticut's Largest Savings Bank East of the River

Nine Offices Serving MANCHESTER • EAST HARTFORD • SOUTH WINDSOR • BOLTON

Sand and frozen fish spilled onto the Wilbur Cross Highway at East Hartford Tuesday afternoon when two westbound trucks collided, blocking traffic for several hours. The Ball Co. dump truck (center), driven by Ralph Fucci, 50, of Bristol, struck the rear of a tractor-trailer (left), operated by Harold S. Lawbaugh, 62, of Dubuque, Iowa, as it slowed in traffic, State Police said.

Fucci escaped his burning cab just in time, police said, and East Hartford and Manchester firemen responded quickly to douse the flames which had begun to devour the frozen fish in Lawbaugh's trailer. Fucci, charged with following too closely, is to appear in Circuit Court 12 May 6. (Herald photo by Bevins)

Revised Police Retirement Plan Adopted by Directors

By SOL R. COHEN
Thanks to amendments to the town pension plan approved Tuesday night by the Board of Directors, Manchester policemen will be able to retire at age 55, as of July 1, 1975, and at age 50, as of July 1, 1976 provided they have 25 year's service. Retirement for them now is at age 55, also after 25 year's service.

The amendments are part of the contract negotiated between Town Manager Robert Weiss (as the town's agent) and the Council of Police Unions No. 15, AFL-CIO.

The agreement requires mandatory annual physicals after age 50 and annual permission for policemen to continue employment after age 55, with mandatory retirement at age 60.

The amendments provide also for an increase in disability benefits, as of July 1, 1975, as follows:

- Eliminate the present $5,000 limit on maximum disability benefits and substitute limits to 50 per cent of yearly pay.
- Reduce the requirements for non-service connected disability from the present 15 years to 5 years of service.

The board's vote approving the amendments was 5 to 2, with Republican Vivian Ferguson and Democrat Phyllis Jackson voting "no." John Tam, a Democrat, was out of town Tuesday.

The motion to approve was made April 9 by Carl Zinsner and was seconded by Hilary Gallagher, both Republicans. They then agreed to table the proposal until April 16, at the request of Mrs. Ferguson. She requested another tabling action Tuesday night—until April 23. Only Mrs. Jackson backed her and the vote on the Zinsner motion followed.

Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Jackson said time was needed to hear the opinions of the Pension Board chairman and the pension plan's actuary. They said they are concerned about the costs involved by the changes and about the possibility of other town unions requesting the same benefits.

Storm-Drainage Project Tabled for More Study

By SOL R. COHEN
The status of proposed storm-drainage improvements in the N. Elm-Henry-Tanner St. area has changed again and is exactly where it was two weeks ago—tabled—pending further studies of the entire situation and pending, also, a meeting between town officials and White St. property owners.

The Board of Directors Tuesday night rescinded its action of April 9, when it had approved a $55,000 allocation for the work and had instructed Town Manager Robert Weiss and Public Works Director Jay Giles to award the contract and proceed with the project.

Its April 9 action followed assurances by Giles that the project wouldn't aggravate flooding conditions on White St., as claimed by property owners there. Giles said, also, the White St. problem could be met with property owners on Green Rd. and, possibly, N. Elm St., and by cleaning and dredging parts of White Brook.

He said he and Town Engineer Walter Senkow had toured the area April 9 with two of the White St. property owners. He conceded that two property owners who were unable to join the tour (the two who had raised the most objections to the N. Elm-Tanner-Henry Sts. project) probably would disagree with his assurances to the directors.

He was right. The two did disagree and they appeared before the directors Tuesday night to say so.

After listening to Sidney Shepoff and Frank Iuliano and after being told by Giles his report of April 9 still is valid, the board voted unanimously to rescind its April 9 action and to table action on the proposed installation.

Weiss and Giles are instructed to study the drainage conditions in the area for all possible alternative solutions and, during those studies, to meet with property owners in the area (including White St.).

The board indicated it will follow one of two paths: To take action on the proposal before it adopts the 1974-75 General Fund budget, or to delay the project and include it in townwide storm-drainage problems to be listed in a $1.2 million referendum proposed for November.

Mayor John Thompson commented, "Information on storm-drainage problems has been coming to us piecemeal. We have been correcting them the same way—sometimes by creating a worse situation, when we think we are solving one."

Democrat Wins Michigan Election

SAGINAW, Mich. (UPI)—J. Bob Traxler, who Tuesday night scored a solid victory in a congressional district that has not gone Democratic since the depression, said President Nixon was an "albatross" around the neck of the Republican party.

Traxler, a state representative for 13 years, defeated Republican opponent James M. Sparling Jr., a one-time Nixon aide in the Eighth Congressional District in Michigan's thumb area, by 58,153 votes to 55,118 for Sparling with 292 of 301 precincts reporting.

"Nixon," Traxler said, "is a Republican problem and not a Democratic one."

The 42-year-old Traxler, who has represented the area since 1962 at the state level, said it was a "mistake" for Nixon to campaign last week on behalf of Sparling.

"I was a Republican. I would not want the Nixon albatross around my neck in November," he said in a victory statement after Sparling conceded the race. "The GOP" are going to have problems this November."

The special election was called after Rep. James Harvey resigned earlier to take a federal judgeship.

The Democratic victory was the fourth in five special Congressional elections this year and was the last major election before November.

Nixon personally intervened in the election last week when he toured along a 57-mile route in the mostly rural seven-county area.

Traxler scored heavily in his own home Bay County and in industrialized Saginaw but he also ran unexpectedly strong in the rural areas of the counties near Lake Huron on Michigan's Eastern Shore.

Traxler had hit Watergate hard during his campaign and as the vote count proceeded, Democratic party workers attending a celebration chanted, "Impeach, impeach, impeach."

Traxler said his victory came from a new populist movement in the country.

He said he did "still support legislation of this type as a general concept in that it is clearly beneficial to the consumer." He added, however, "I do not feel it would be appropriate for me to take a hard and fast position prior to seeing the final bill as drafted."

Prescription Drug Advertising Bill Nears Assembly Showdown

HARTFORD (UPI)—Whether or not the legislature passes a bill to end the ban on advertising prescription drug prices, proponents of the bill are sure of one thing: If their battle is not won sooner in the General Assembly, it will be won later in court.

House action was expected on the bill Tuesday, but debate on other matters shunted it aside.

While Meskill supports the bill cautiously, Gov. Malcolm Wilson of New York made a similar bill one of the three consumer items he boosted in an address to legislators in Albany earlier this year.

Webber said the concept is backed also by the federal Cost of Living Council, Virginia H. Knauer, President Nixon's special assistant for consumer affairs, and Barbara B. Dunn, Connecticut consumer protection commissioner.

Undaunted by court precedent and consumer professionals, Page continues his opposition to the measure, calling it "a discount store bill." His allusion refers to the predictions of small druggists that it will foster the decline of the neighborhood drug store and promote a market in which only large discount drug outlets can survive.

The lobbyists who represent newspaper interests also spoke in favor of repeal of the advertising ban, emphasizing First Amendment rights and downplaying the revenue which would result for their clients.
