UNICO Honors Dr. Marzialo

Dr. Nicholas Marzialo, right, was "roasted and toasted" Saturday night at Fiano's Restaurant, Bolton, when Manchester UNICO held its annual Spring Ball. Dr. Marzialo who last year retired as town health director, a post he held for 25 years, accepts a gift of luggage, given in appreciation by UNICO. From the left are Carmine Filloramo, whose "roast" of Dr. Marzialo put everyone (about 225 diners) in good humor; Raymond F. Damato, general chairman of the arrangements committee; and Bernie Giovino, president of UNICO. An unexpected "highlight" of the evening occurred about 7:20, when power was lost in Bolton and at Fiano's. First candles were lit, then some emergency power was provided, then that failed and candle-power again was provided, then someone brought a generator and emergency power again was provided until the regular power was restored.

Nixon Concentrating On Mid-East Reports

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon temporarily sets aside his battle against impeachment today to focus his attention on optimistic reports that Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger is on the verge of a breakthrough in the Syria-Israel impasse.

White House officials are hinting that an accord on troop engagement in the Golan Heights might come this week. They said despite the "heat of emotion" on Watergate, Nixon spent much of the weekend studying cables from Kissinger and would be "actively involved" in foreign policy the early part of this week.

Nixon spent a rare Sunday at the White House with members of his family, who gathered for Mother's Day.

On Saturday, his daughter Julie Eisenhower and her husband David held a news conference at which they said Nixon told them he would take his troubles "constitutionally down to the wire."

Aides said Nixon "felt good" over the warm reception he received Saturday at Oklahoma State University at Stillwater, where he vowed at an airport reception that he would "never give up" in his struggle to stay in the presidency.

But a reading of the Sunday public opinion polls spelled bad news for Nixon: The Louis Harris poll, taken after the censored Watergate transcripts were released, showed 49 percent of the American people want Nixon "impeached and removed from office."

The Roper organization poll showed 53 percent of the American people now favor impeachment.

Alexander M. Haig, White House chief of staff, was quoted in the Washington Post as saying, "He's not going to be pressured out of office. We just can't succumb to the firestorms of public opinion."

Vice President Gerald R. Ford said (in a local television interview) Sunday that he expected the House Judiciary Committee to vote for an impeachment resolution against Nixon, but he doubted there was a majority of votes in the House for impeachment.

Ford said he figured the House would oppose an impeachment resolution by "a 4-3 margin" but added that that figure could change, depending on events.

Sirica Slates Two Meetings On Tape Matters

WASHINGTON (UPI) — U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica called two closed meetings today concerning an 18½ minute gap on one Watergate tape and a White House petition to quash Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski's subpoena for more tapes.

White House lawyers, Watergate prosecutors and Charles S. Rhyne, a lawyer for President Nixon's secretary, Rose Mary Woods, went to Sirica's chambers late this morning to discuss "the production ... and disposition" of the final report of a group of experts who examined the tape with the gap.

The tape involved a meeting between Nixon and H. Haldeman, then his chief of staff, on June 20, 1972, three days after the Watergate break-in. Miss Woods testified that she might have caused a gap of four to five minutes accidentally while transcribing the tapes.

The panel of six tape experts appointed by the court, in a preliminary report last December, said the gap was caused by at least five and perhaps as many as nine separate erasures all done manually. The report strongly suggested the erasures were deliberate. A grand jury is investigating the erasure.

Impeachment Committee Resumes Work Tuesday

WASHINGTON (UPI) — While politicians continue to debate the merits of a presidential resignation, the House Judiciary Committee opens its first full week of impeachment hearings Tuesday, and the Senate is quietly preparing to "clear the decks."

The House panel, having begun hearing evidence against President Nixon last Thursday, may have another battle over subpoenas shaping up.

The committee, still demanding more White House tapes that Nixon has vowed will not be released, may back off from the strategy of subpoenaing a mass of tapes all at once. Instead, it may call for specific individual tape recordings.

Committee Chairman Peter W. Rodino has indicated the panel might abandon its sweeping request, forwarded April 19, for about 75 presidential tapes.

Nixon defied an earlier committee subpoena for 42 tapes, furnishing instead the edited transcripts that have provoked public controversy. The White House has since said repeatedly it will provide no more Watergate materials.

The committee has three days of closed hearings scheduled this week. The hearings may be opened to the public next week with a decision pending on whether they will be televised.

On the other side of the Capitol, a random survey by UPI shows that many senators have been studying Senate rules of impeachment, seeking additional reading material from the Library of Congress and submitting procedural questions to staff members on the Rules Committee.

In addition, Democratic leader Mike Mansfield has met with committee chairmen and urged them to speed their legislative pace so that, in his words, the "decks will be clear" if a trial is held.

"We'll be prepared to face up to our duty," he said in an interview. Mansfield estimated that "if and when the issue comes to the Senate, it would take two

Storm Causes Power Outages

Heavy rain and high winds buffeted the Manchester area Sunday as a tornado and severe thunderstorm watch was noted by the National Weather Service at Windsor Locks.

About 80 homes in Bolton suffered electrical blackouts Sunday night when primary power lines snapped together, arced and blew a fuse, according to the Hartford Electric Light Co.

The power outage started at 9:04 p.m., HELCO said, and service was restored by 11 p.m.

A number of homes in the Cooper Hill St. area of Manchester lost telephone service Sunday night, the Southern New England Telephone Co. reported, but no major telephone failures were reported.

There was probably scattered, minor street flooding during the storm, according to the Town Highway Department, but there weren't any complaints from townspeople.

The Town Water Department measured weekend rainfall at eight-tenths of an inch.

Elsewhere in the area, a felled tree in Marlborough knocked out power for about a hundred homes Sunday night.

Sunday night's blackout was the second service disruption during the weekend: More than 3,000 customers in Manchester and Bolton were without power Saturday night due to a faulty underground cable near Manchester's Olcott St. substation, HELCO said.

The Saturday night outage started at 7:26 and most homes had service restored by 9:10, although a few homes were without electricity until about 9:30.

Boundaries of the Saturday night outage were north, the Vernon town line; south, Line St.; east, the Bolton-Coventry town line; and west, Olcott St.

Partly clearing this afternoon with increased winds. High in the mid 60s. Clearing tonight with lows in the mid 40s. Tuesday increasing cloudiness with high near 70.

Israeli-Syrian Accord Given 50-50 Chance

JERUSALEM (UPI) — Taunted by a chorus of protesting demonstrators, U.S. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held the first of two meetings with Israeli leaders today on bridging the negotiating gap with Syria over a military disengagement for the Golan Heights.

U.S. officials with Kissinger put chances of reaching an agreement at about 50-50, but in Washington White House officials said Kissinger was on the verge of a Middle East breakthrough and hinted a Syrian-Israeli troop separation accord might come this week. Israel was less optimistic.

Kissinger emerged from a one-hour session with Prime Minister Golda Meir and her team of key ministers to tell newsmen he had nothing to say until the Israeli cabinet met later in the day.

Striding into the meeting at Mrs. Meir's office, Kissinger glanced briefly in the direction of about 50 persons holding placards and chanting slogans 150 feet away in a parking lot. The protesters, mostly settlers in Jewish outposts on the Heights, called him "Killing" and other epithets.

When the meeting broke up, Information Minister Shimon Peres and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan walked over to the protesters and remonstrated with them to tone down their remarks about Kissinger.

"He doesn't deserve it," Peres said. "It's not polite."

Foreign Minister Abba Eban said the two sides broke off the talks to allow the cabinet to meet at noon.

Kissinger had shuttled to Damascus on Sunday for talks with President Hafez Assad and returned to Israel Sunday night for today's meetings — the 16th day of his current mission. He was expected to fly back to Damascus with the Israeli replies after the cabinet meeting.

The Israeli press was less optimistic than the Americans traveling with Kissinger. The newspaper Ha'aretz quoted senior Israeli officials as saying Syria had rejected the Israeli proposal for a disengagement line in the heights and demanded additional territory in the Quneitra region plus more villages along the 1967 cease-fire line.

"According to this estimate Kissinger would get an agreement only on a separation line and leave the rest of the aspects to continued negotiations in Geneva," Ha'aretz said.

Supreme Court Rules Mitchell Taps Illegal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled unanimously today that the Justice Department under former Attorney General John N. Mitchell consistently violated the law in its procedures for obtaining wiretap evidence.

The 9 to 0 decision probably kills narcotics and gambling prosecutions involving hundreds of persons which have been pending in various courts awaiting a ruling on whether the evidence can be used.

The department had argued that at worst it had committed only "harmless error" which had not endangered anyone's privacy.

Justice Byron R. White wrote opinions in two highly complex cases on the department's handling of wiretaps. In one challenged area he held that the department was wrong. In the other the department was upheld by a 5-4 vote.

The decision hinged on an interpretation of the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1968, which contains very specific provisions for applying to a trial judge for a wiretap order.

The statute requires authorization by the U.S. attorney general himself or a "specially designated" assistant attorney general. Many of Mitchell's authorizations were signed by his executive assistant, Sol Lindenbaum.

A second issue focused on what has become known as "Will Wilson letters" — wiretap permissions to U.S. attorneys in the field which former Assistant Attorney General Will Wilson was obliged under law to sign. Instead they were signed by deputies.

The department won on the second issue.

The challenged practices, which were carried on in 1969 and 1970, have been discontinued.

National Truck Strike Off to a Slow Start

United Press International State police reported there were few signs that a truckers strike called for today by Overdrive magazine had taken hold in Pennsylvania. Similar reports came from most other sections of the country.

Police said that in Pennsylvania, key state in the truckers strike that seriously disrupted trucking throughout the nation in February, drivers appeared to have assumed a "wait and see" posture in connection with the strike call.

Editor Michael Parkhurst of Overdrive, an independent truckers' publication, issued the strike call Sunday night and predicted that more than 90,000 drivers would start a nationwide walkout at midnight.

But except in Utah, where drivers voted to keep their rigs off the roads after midnight, there was no evidence that the truckers were paying any heed to Parkhurst.

A Pennsylvania State Police patrol car was struck by rifle fire on the Pennsylvania Turnpike early today about one hour after the scheduled start of the walkout. It was not known whether the incident had any connection with the trucking situation.

Air hoses were severed on about six trucks parked at the Blue Ridge truck stop on U.S. 119 north of Connellysville, Pa., and rocks were thrown at the windshields of trucks moving on U.S. 40 and State Route 51. There were no injuries and no arrests, police said.

Drivers in other parts of the country were said to be awaiting the action of Pennsylvania drivers before taking any action. And the absence of strike activity in the Keystone

Crash Claims Woman's Life

A head-on, two-car accident on Rt. 6 in Columbia about 9 a.m. this morning, claimed the life of Claudia F. Belanger, 85, of Steele Rd., West Hartford. State Police said details of the accident are incomplete. Three other persons were injured but names were not available at press time. The accident is still under investigation.

Roadside Stand Robbed Again

Armed Robbery
Two black men, one armed with a knife, robbed the Red & White Stand at 200 W. Center St. of $71 in cash and an unknown amount of cigarettes Saturday night at 9:10, police said.

Michael Patrick reported to police the men grabbed him from behind and pulled him over to the cash register. After they had the money and cigarettes, they forced him to the floor. Patrick, the store's owner, said he did not see a getaway vehicle.

The same store was held up exactly two weeks earlier, police said. The robbers then were also two black males and they took $1,100 in cash and several cartons of cigarettes at about 10:30 p.m. from Patrick, police said.

Two Breaks
Manchester police also reported two breaks Saturday night.

Sometime between 10 p.m. Saturday and 7:20 a.m. Sunday, someone broke into the Highland Park Market and stole more than $2,500 in cash and change from the safe, police said.

Entry was gained by prying open a metal door that leads to a stairway on the north side of the building in its rear. Once inside, entry to the store itself was gained from the second floor by climbing down a chain hoist that hangs through a false ceiling.

Then, the persons or person went to the safe in the front of the store and ripped open the rear of the safe, police said.

While inside, the person or persons ate watermelon, honey dew melons, and drank soda.

The second break was discovered by police on patrol in the Parkade at Flair Home Furnishings at about 5 a.m. Sunday. Police said a large rock was used to smash a plate glass window in the front of the store. Once inside, two lamps were broken and three office rooms ransacked.

About $350 in cash and over $1,000 in checks was taken, police said.

Veterans Day To Be Nov. 11 In Bay State

BOSTON (UPI)—Gov. Francis W. Sargent announced Friday he had signed into law legislation returning state celebration of Veterans Day to November 11, the date of the armistice agreement ending World War I.

The law takes effect in 1975. An amendment was struck in the Senate which would have made the change effective only if the federal government reverted back to the Nov. 11 celebration.

Anti-Busing Proposal Debate To Begin On Wednesday

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress will probably mark the 20th anniversary of the Supreme Court decision outlawing racial segregation in the country's schools by debating anti-busing legislation.

On May 17, 1954, Chief Justice Earl Warren read the historic decision that "separate educational facilities are inherently unequal."

President Nixon has said he would support the House's bill, but declined to identify himself on the bill.

Watergate Transcripts Leave GOP Divided

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Watergate transcripts have left Republican leaders deeply divided over the future of President Nixon and of the party itself.

There are those who say Nixon is innocent of any wrongdoing, who want him to resign or be impeached and those who remain silent.

Tax Law Loopholes Criticized

HARTFORD (UPI)—The Connecticut Citizen Action Group today criticized a new tax law as providing an unelected loophole in the name of environmental preservation.

The report said the law, which reduces property taxes on farm, forest and open space lands, the law used by many people who don't need the financial relief it provides.

At the same time, the report says, the law fails to promote its stated goal, which is to preserve such lands from development.

Search Swamp For Two Bodies

LEDYARD (UPI)—State police today continued to search a swampy area where two Rhode Island persons, slain in 1970, are believed to be buried.

A state police spokesman said a suspect is being held in Rhode Island in connection with the deaths but declined to identify the suspect and the persons believed buried in the two-acre site of Shewell Road.

Foot Health Week

PLATFORM SHOES A BAD SCENE
"Sole Shoes"—the new thick platform shoes which are lifting Americans to new heights—may be the current fashion rage, but they can accentuate the negative when it comes to foot health, say podiatrists here during Foot Health Week, May 9-15.
Talking about the new shoe styles, Dr. Harvey Lederman, president of the Hartford County Podiatry Association, said that potential foot problems, in the form of inherited weaknesses or past injuries, can easily be aggravated by platform shoes and eventually bring on a painful condition.
"Whether a person should wear the new shoes or not has to be considered individually," he said. "Flat, wide-toe, from any damaging effect platform shoes may have on the feet, the risk of accidents is higher for anyone wearing them."
Poor posture, aching feet and legs, and corns and calluses can be brought on by platforms, and, D. Lederman reported, fractures and torn ligaments are other platform-related problems.
For those who want to remain in style regardless of the risks, Dr. Lederman suggests that people remain aware that such shoes decrease mobility, balance and speed, and these should be compensated for.
"Walk one foot at a time," he said, "and judge each movement with your heels in mind and allow for the thicker toe at each step and curb."
He also advises that platform wearers keep an extra pair of driving shoes in their cars. "It's dangerous to drive in platforms," he said. "Your heel may get caught under the accelerator pedal and cause you to lose control of the car."

25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ogren of 35 Vernon St. observed their 25th wedding anniversary at an open house surprise party May 5 at their home.
Mrs. Ogren, the former Anna Mae Patch, is employed as a part-time teller at the Savings Bank of Manchester. Her husband is employed at Burroughs Corp. in Hartford. They are members of Trinity Covenant Church in Manchester.
Hosting the party were the couple's children and Mrs. Melvin Patch of Enfield, a sister-in-law. Mrs. Maurice Jodoin of 40 Green Rd. made the anniversary cake and Mrs. Eugene Cowing of 111 Harlan St. decorated it.
About 100 friends and relatives attended including Mr. Ogren's sister Maja Nordin from Sweden whom he had not seen for 12 years. Mrs. Walter Landell of New Hartford and Roger Ogren of Wetherfield, Mr. Ogren's niece and nephew, arranged the surprise meeting.
The Ogrens were married May 7, 1949 in Covenant Congregational Church with the Rev. Carl G. Lagn officiating.

50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Francis C. Lambert of Andover were honored at a 50th wedding anniversary party April 28 hosted by their children. The couple was married April 29, 1924 in the Church of Perpetual Help, Holyoke, Mass. They have resided in Andover for 21 years. The couple's three children are, Mrs. Claudette Weingart

Andover; Mrs. Ruth Loomis of Haydenville, Mass.; and Clarence Lambert of Harmony, Maine. The Lambers have nine grandchildren.
Mrs. Lambert, the former Germaine Bonin, was a cook at the Andover Elementary School before her retirement. Mr. Lambert has been retired with a disability for many years.

Woman's View

By Gay Pauley
LPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — The protocol and the precision schedule outlined for the U.S. visit of Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon boggle the imagination.
When I received a copy of the minute-by-minute schedule for the eight-day stay, an invitation to a reception, and finally the ground rules for behavior in the presence of royalty, I felt rather like a child admonished by an old-fashioned parent — "Children should speak only when spoken to."
So what happened? The British princess and her once commoner husband of 14 years skipped all the protocol jazz, at least at the reception in the Waldorf Astoria hotel, where they stayed during the New York phase of the trip. They became simply guests of honor, chatting and sipping cocktails with the rest of us.
No receiving line, as is usual with a royal reception. No courtesies. Just the couple mingling and making sure they met everyone. Small talk.
But this is the way the British Information Services told us 50 to 60 guests how to act.
"Normal protocol with the Royal Family demands that those present speak to the Royal couple only when they have been addressed by them first."
"Princess Margaret is normally addressed as 'Your Royal Highness'; Lord Snowdon simply as 'Sir'.
"It is Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon's wish that they will move from group to group ... and will try to speak to all those present. They hope to keep the whole proceedings on an informal and social basis."

Security Men
And that the couple did. Except for the battery of U.S. and British security men, it could have been any small reception anywhere.
The rule, "Speak to the Royal couple" only when they'd spoken first lasted about two minutes after their arrival. I think the only rule most of us remembered was to call Margaret "Your Royal Highness."
Question: "YRH, who designed your dress; (a floor length lemon chiffon, long sleeved, high necked and accented pleated all the way. No tulle on the short dark hair showing streaks of gray.)"
Answer, after a pause: "Now that you ask, I've forgotten."
Question: "Did you have a winning horse in the Derby?"
Answer: "I never bet."
Question: "YRH, is that ice water with a dash of lime you're drinking?"
Answer: "Shorter certainly is not. It's a gin and tonic" (Lord Snowdon also sipped from a shorter drink and a guest later took the glass Margaret had used as a souvenir).
Before the Princess and Snowdon left New York for Minneapolis and Winnipeg, they called on Margaret's aunt, the Duchess of Windsor, widow of former King Edward VIII.
The duchess currently is at the Waldorf Towers, the same hotel where the royal couple stayed during the New York visit. A spokesman for British Information Services said the visit occurred Tuesday evening "for about 15 minutes," just before the couple continued on to the Metropolitan Opera House for the Royal Ballet.

The engagement of Miss Linda Deborah Beth Snyder of Manchester to Richard Edward Greenspan of Evergreen Park, Ill., has been announced by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Snyder of Manchester.
Mr. Greenspan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Greenspan of Evergreen Park, Ill.
The bride-elect attended Lassell Junior College and graduated magna cum laude from the University of Connecticut School of Education in 1972. While at UConn, she was a member of Phi Lambda Theta, educational honor society; a member of the Mortar Board, senior women's honor society; and chairman of the Fine Arts Committee. She recently entered into "Who's Who in Virginia" and "Outstanding American Teachers." She is employed as an elementary school teacher by Fairfax County (Va.) public Schools.
Her fiancé, a 1970 graduate of Carleton College, studied at the University of Freiburg, Freiburg, Germany, and is a graduate of Georgetown University Law Center, where he was editor of the American Criminal Law Review. He is an attorney and consumer lobbyist for Ralph Nader's Congress Watch.
The couple plan an August wedding.

Vernon School Board Will Meet Tonight

The Vernon Board of Education will meet tonight at 7:30 in the cafeteria of the Skyles School, Park St., Rockville.
Albert Kerkin, assistant superintendent of schools, will report on the proposed editorial program for Spanish-speaking students.
The school system does not, at the present, have a large number of students whose native language is Spanish, but school officials say the number is increasing and steps are being taken to meet the needs of this group. At present, some of the students in the Rockville High School Spanish classes are assisting.
Dr. Raymond Ramsdell, superintendent of schools, will report on the fire that caused extensive damage at the Vo-ag Building at the high school a few weeks ago.
The Town Council last Monday authorized the superintendent to apply for state funds to pay for the necessary repairs. The repairs have almost been completed.
The board will also be asked to act on the resignation of Mildred McKnight as Grade 2 teacher at the Skinner Rd. School and a request for a leave of absence by Cheryl Mackintosh, Grade 6 language teacher at Skyles School.
Assistant Superintendent Robert Linstone will report on reading grants received by the school system.
At the start of the meeting citizens will be invited to speak during the "Citizens' Forum."

Bolton School Board To Pay $37 Per Day Per Bus or an increase of $1.35 per bus per day retroactive to Jan. 1.

The situation was reviewed by the school board transportation committee.
Marilyn Breslow, committee member, said the increase would continue only until the end of the present school year (June).
A second request by EBL to have either the school board or the town absorb the cost of vandalism was flatly denied by the board as its contract states it should be absorbed by the bus contractor.
The board took no action on Eastern's request to have seat assignments given to all Bolton students riding its buses.
As new rules and regulations concerning bus behavior recently went into effect, board members felt they should be given a chance to operate to see if they are workable.
A fourth request by Negro, questioning use of the school buses during the summer, was turned over to the transportation committee.
Committee members said they would be happy to meet with him to discuss the situation further.

The entire bus situation will be reviewed by the school board in September.
Meet Tuesday
The Women of St. George will meet Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. to plan for their fall activities.
The St. Maurice Council Knights of Columbus will meet Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the church basement.
Farm League
In a recent farm League game, the Mets were leading 11 to 8 when Patrick Neath hit a grand slam home run giving a 12 to 11 victory to the Red Sox.
Winning pitcher Edward An-saldi also hit two home runs, one of which was a grand slammer. Richard Smith hit a home run for the Red Sox.
Mets pitcher Randall Thorn-ton hit a grand slam in the first inning.
Weekly Fire Report
The Bolton Volunteer Fire Department responded to the following calls last week:
Monday, mutual aid to Ver-non; Friday, accident on Bolton Center Rd., victim taken to Hartford Hospital by Andover Ambulance Service; Saturday, 14 volunteers stood by at the firehouse during the power outage.

Columbia Schroder Wants Student Files Open to Parents

MARCH. Paul Schur, principal, recommends that and cold running water in all toilet facilities. This will require some extensive plumbing revisions in the old wing, according to Edmondson. It was pointed out that soap and paper towel dispensers were needed. However, they were on order at the time of the inspection, Edmondson said.
The board went on record as being in favor of increased administrative duty at Windham High School but added this does not mean they favor the entire reallocation proposal.
A drainage problem in the area of the primary playground could be a serious potential health hazard, it was stated at the meeting.
It was suggested a trench be made to get the water flow away from the septic field and push it to the lower end of the field. A ditch may solve the problem of having the water seep up through the drainage area, otherwise it will be a costly operation to resolve the problem, according to vice principal, Joseph Markoff.
It was pointed out water from the parking area at Yomans Hall flows to the problem area.
Teachers Named
The Columbia Teachers Association has elected the following officers to be in-duced in June; Gail Gagnon, president; Jan Wilcox, vice president; Maureen Link, secretary; Vicki Wallace, treasurer.

Schroder Wants Student Files Open to Parents

March. Paul Schur, principal, recommends that and cold running water in all toilet facilities. This will require some extensive plumbing revisions in the old wing, according to Edmondson. It was pointed out that soap and paper towel dispensers were needed. However, they were on order at the time of the inspection, Edmondson said.
The board went on record as being in favor of increased administrative duty at Windham High School but added this does not mean they favor the entire reallocation proposal.
A drainage problem in the area of the primary playground could be a serious potential health hazard, it was stated at the meeting.
It was suggested a trench be made to get the water flow away from the septic field and push it to the lower end of the field. A ditch may solve the problem of having the water seep up through the drainage area, otherwise it will be a costly operation to resolve the problem, according to vice principal, Joseph Markoff.
It was pointed out water from the parking area at Yomans Hall flows to the problem area.
