LEXINGTON, Mass. (UPI) — George Gray, 26, of Lexington, a week ago Sunday proposed marriage to his girlfriend by hiring a plane to fly over her house.

Trailing behind the plane was a 175-foot banner with the message, "Mary — I love you. Will you marry me — George."

Mary Tolin, 19, also of Lexington, gave George her answer Monday evening. She write, and the very least we can do is try to answer. We're busy, but we're not insensitive."

Hundreds of Comments
Mrs. Hoffmann and her staff cater only to mail, wires or calls directed to the National Broadcasting Co. It amounts to hundreds of thousands of comments, many of which receive personal replies.

"People feel the network is a friend or a relative," she said. "Sometimes it makes them happy and sometimes it makes them sad."

Usually the most hectic period for Mrs. Hoffmann's office—Information Services—is when programs are canceled.

"A few years ago, more than 150,000 persons wrote us—most of them teen-agers—because NBC canceled 'The Monkees,' a rock music series. Another 126,000 complained when 'Star Trek' went off the air."

Mrs. Hoffmann also receives specific requests.
She wanted a Wedding Dress size 12. "One woman wanted to know where she could get a wedding dress used on a show. She said she was getting married and was desperate for the same dress. Please help me, she said, or my marriage will be ruined."

Mrs. Hoffmann and her staff have their regular writers. One calls himself the "Wizard of Idaho" and another is a Mrs. Springer from Texas who watches all three networks and writes reviews four or five times a week.

According to network research, the average writer is a woman who lives in a medium sized city in the Northeast who prides in NBC rather than criticizes it.

However, the network has its critics, especially sports fans. On one occasion NBC abruptly terminated a N.Y. Jets-Oakland Raiders football game for Heidi, a child who was watching. There were so many calls that NBC's switchboard glowed like a Christmas tree.

"There were about 4,000 complaints, but 3,173 mothers said they were delighted their children weren't disappointed. Daddy had had enough football."

Ervin Mail Mostly Favorable

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Sam Ervin, D-N.C., said Tuesday the Senate Watergate committee has received a million letters since its hearings last year and that more than 90 per cent of them praised the committee's work.

"I think the American system of government is working," Ervin, the committee's chairman, said in an interview.

Doubly Embarrassing
SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — It was doubly embarrassing for service station attendant Fred Solis Monday.

Solis told police that a robber entered his station, made him take his clothes off, took some $3,000 and then locked him in a back room.

Once the thief left, he said, he broke out of the room, grabbed a pair of coveralls, and ran out, calling for police.

Setback Winners
Speaking of action, it starts at the Center with last Friday. In the morning we had a certain number of large turnout for our kitchen social bingo, and after lunch we had another banner turnout for our setback games.

Ann Lehmann, 14; Elizabeth Come, 12; Grace Windsor, 12; Thomas Murphy and Esther Anderson, 12; Peter Frey, 12; Robert Corbin, 11; Catherine Capaccio, Wilford Messier, 11; Ann Ferras, Rose Valluzzi, 11; Felix Jesanis, Robert Schubert, Germaine Prechete, 11; Dennis Frechette, 11; Ann Demko, 11; Gladys Seelert, Samuel Demko, Samuel Schors, and Marge Hall, 11.

Monday rolled in and we're really busy with tickets for all our Big Week events, and mixed with this is finishing up our trips to Wildwood, N.J., Connecticut River Cruise, and the November Special. So you can see there's lots of confusion, but things will get better.

Early Monday morning rolled in rather cold and windy so 27 golfers showed up at Tallwood to play. Al Bolis scored a 45, John Gibson, 48, Albert Bourret, 49, and Hector Provost had a 50.

In the past we received many wonderful comments about the excellent work you folks do, and so we are counting on you to help us make a very full weekend display by bringing in your masterpieces.

A reminder to all who are going on our Connecticut River Boat Cruise. We will report at the Senior Center at 1:30 in the morning as our buses will leave around 8 o'clock. Guess you'll have to get up a little earlier that morning.

Tax Receipts Reach 97%
Tax receipts equalling 97.2 per cent of 12-month estimates have been reported as of April 30 to Manchester's General Fund. The town's fiscal year ends June 30.

At this time last year, tax receipts equaled 88.8 per cent of estimates. The apparent reason for the lesser showing this year is because of the $240,000 estimated to come in from taxes owed in prior years. Only $48,274 has been collected to date from that source.

Town Manager Robert Weiss explained last year that when the 1973-74 budget was adopted in May of last year, estimates were that a large chunk of tax revenue would remain outstanding when the 1972-73 fiscal year ended. However, most of the tax revenue came in — but the $240,000 estimated revenue from that source for 1973-74 had to stand.

As of April 30, a total of $12,219,813 was received for the General Fund — against an estimate of $12,568,721. Only $128,663 of current taxes is outstanding.

Revenue to other funds as of April 30 and comparisons with 12-month estimates are: Manchester, Town Fire District Fund, $1,149,154 collected, $1,176,719 estimated; Water Fund, $608,959 collected, $708,700 estimated; Sewer Fund, $548,397 collected, $647,847 estimated; Special Downtown Taxing District Fund, $52,477 collected, $56,200 estimated; Data Processing Fund, $198,707 collected, $217,682 estimated.

Medications of Little Help

To Sufferers of Sinusitis

By Al Rossiter Jr.
UPI Science Editor
WASHINGTON (UPI) — More than 20 million Americans suffer each year from the headache, toothache, sometimes earache and swelling around the eyes caused by inflammation of the sinuses.

They spend millions of dollars annually for medications that promise relief from the misery of sinusitis, as the condition is called.

A new government booklet on the ailment says there is no way all sinus disorders can be prevented any more than all colds or bacterial infections can be avoided. It says the best way to resist sinusitis is to get enough rest and exercise, eat a well-balanced diet and maintain a general resistance to infections.

Anything that causes a swelling in the nose, be it a viral or bacterial infection or an allergic reaction, can affect the sinuses. The National Institute of Allergy and Infectious Diseases, which prepared the booklet "Sinusitis," reasons the best way to check the ailment is to control or prevent the underlying causes.

Intensive Research
The Institute has intensive research underway aimed at curbing a variety of allergic disorders and the viruses which have been implicated in the common cold, which often precedes a sinus infection.

Sinusitis usually occurs in one or more of the sinus cavities located over the eyes, inside each cheekbone, just behind the bridge of the nose or in the upper region of the nose. Air and mucus trapped in an obstructed sinus may cause pressure on the sinus wall and the intense pain of a sinus attack.

Headache upon awakening in the morning is characteristic of a sinus problem, the booklet says. Pain when the forehead is touched may indicate inflammation of the sinuses over the eyes. Infection of the cheek sinuses can cause the upper jaw and teeth to ache.

Sinusitis often causes swelling of the eyelids and tissues around the eyes, pain between the eyes and tenderness when the sides of the nose are touched. Infected sinuses also can result in sore throats, neck pain and deep aching at the top of the head.

May Require Medication
Doctors treat the condition by draining nasal passages and controlling or eliminating the source of the inflammation. This may require medication to

Now The Selling Begins

The General Assembly has adjourned. With this being an election year we can be assured its achievements and shortcomings will be voiced to the electorate in the coming months.

We don't want to sound frivolous but the electorate might consider the campaign in the same light as when buying a new car.

When it comes to state government, for example, we would like a compact model that can be run economically and is reasonably comfortable.

We too would like a model that is dependable and is tailored to our needs.

But state government, like the new car, is rarely offered to us in a stripped-down basic model. There are those many options which add up on the price sticker.

And each of the options is offered because someone is willing to pay for them or feels the cost is justified for some reason. In time many options become standard equipment.

So it will be those options, which are no longer standard, that the political salesmen will attempt to sell for a governmental vehicle over the next two to four years.

The major option facing us, of course, is the chauffeur. Right now both of the Big Two parties are narrowing down their choices to the one each thinks the majority of people will trust enough to "leave the driving to us."

Other options facing us will be styling choices. There is expected to be little change in the Conservative V-6 model which was introduced about three years ago. Its makers are expected to boost its mileage to which they attribute surplus in the state's bank account.

Seeking Protection Against Terrorists

The growth of kidnaping for ransom and even murder has increased the need and desire for protection against terrorists. Executives from 150 major corporations recently spent more than $200 each to attend a two-day closed conference in the hope of learning how to protect themselves and their companies from terrorists in foreign countries.

Lecturers included the State Department's coordinator for combating terrorism, the government's airport security organizer, a retired major general of British Army Intelligence, an FBI agent, and an insurance broker from Lloyd's of London.

Terrorist group members are mostly recent university graduates with upper middle class backgrounds, it was pointed out. They are using phone threats, bombings, assassination and kidnaping to drive out Americans and foreign investors and bring about the desired revolution.

The Lloyd's man said that kidnaping and ransom insurance had increased tremendously. The best advice to corporations is to develop the best relations with the people of the host country and make them aware of the problems.

BERRY'S WORLD

"How can we be SURE that Adam wasn't created from EVE's rib?"

Hi Neighbor

Burl Lyons, Publisher

Over lunch, a fellow commented: The guy who invented the necktie should have been hung with one.

That's a bit drastic but we would like to sound off that the fellow who goes without a tie during the summer months should be considered fashionably dressed.

Once again, we would like to suggest to Mayor Jack Thompson that he proclaim the open-collar season for all men from June 1 through Labor Day at least.

After all, it is in keeping with our energy problem. The federal government has suggested that air conditioning in offices not be activated until the temperature inside reaches 82. If we adhere to the recommendation it could be a long, hot summer. Chances are we will pay about as much attention to it, though, as we do to the 55-mile-per-hour speed limit.

We had a visiting publisher from Mexico tour our electric production facility.

While we have an energy problem, it in no way compares with the one in Mexico. Due to power fluctuations, outages, the visiting publisher told us that an auxiliary power system is a must and will be a big expense item for him in the installation of electric type setting equipment.

For what it is worth we would like to make one suggestion to the Hartford Electric Light Co. which could be a valuable public relations tool.

We would like to see the company have available four or five stand-by telephone operators during a power outage who could at least inform their customers on the extent of the outage. One shouldn't have to call the police department to secure that information.

Nothing is more frustrating, in a lights out situation, than to keep dialing the electric company and get a busy signal. Just a sympathetic voice would go a long way toward easing the situation for many a customer.

Energy crisis here? A new deep coal mine, to be developed over the next three years at Beckley, W. Va., will furnish one million tons of coal a year for the next 35 years for the largest steel company in France.

One can't help but be astounded at the amount and extent of steel-making coal that will leave this country.

In the mail we received an invitation to contribute to a national foundation and the appeal literature contained a new minted penny.

We think the literature would have been just as appealing without the penny. Sure, it is only a penny, but if 50,000 letters were mailed it means that amount of money could be saved for the foundation.

With the high cost of paper, printing, and addressing the letters, one can't help but wonder just what percentage of a contribution is going into research, education and training.

Connecticut citizens can take pride in the fact that we are members of an exclusive club.

According to the Planning Commission, we are one of 23 states which collected more than $1 billion in taxes last year and those states account for 83 per cent of all state taxes collected.

Connecticut's collection was $1.1 billion. New York led the list, of course, with $8.2 billion followed by California with $7.3 billion.

Connecticut collected more than $600 per resident in state-local taxes.

The judge in the Mitchell-Sjurs trial was shocked the other day to learn that two jurors found they were out of jobs after they had served two-and-a-half months.

The employers apparently aren't aware they can be held for contempt of court and held liable for damages.

The grapevine in Washington is that there will be no push for the Kennedy-Mills national health insurance plan this year. The thinking is that there will be a more liberal Congress in 1975; in fact, some believe it will be the most liberal Congress since the days of the New Deal.

We hope the Planning and Zoning Commission takes a hard look at the proposed regulations concerning recreational vehicles and animals.

We happen to like suburban living, and that includes animals, and we want Manchester to be more than a bedroom community for Hartford.

"We suppose the easiest thing to do is to adopt regulations; the most difficult job is trying to enforce them.

Certainly, there are cases where animals are a nuisance, but there must be regulations on the books now for dealing with those situations.

We surmise that one of the most difficult enforcement jobs will be enforcing the new state law, which takes effect July 1, prohibiting smoking in public buildings if a sign saying so is posted.

Probably as effective as the new law will be, is the sign made famous by Bill Sleith: Thank you for not smoking.

Our salute to those serving in the armed forces on their day this Saturday. We can also be grateful that in 1974 no American boys are dying on foreign soil.

Actually, there is no finer career for a young man or woman than serving his country. And today the benefits are frequently above and beyond those of private industry.

We have had a lot of visitors through The Herald this month and are pretty solidly booked for the remainder of the month. Therefore, if any school or scout groups are interested in a tour, we are going to have to shoot for June. Tribute is certainly due the den mothers and the teachers who have brought groups through The Herald. The children are well mannered and well behaved.

State Still Highballing Mass Transit On Commuter

By ROBERT LAMBERT

HARTFORD (UPI) — Although commuters in Connecticut's mass transportation program was sidetracked by the legislature, the state has been highballing a program to get commuters off the highway.

The state Department of Transportation estimates that 7,500 automobiles, which lined up bumper-to-bumper, would stretch 23 miles, have been taken off the highways at rush hour.

Senate Majority Leader Lewis B. Rome, R-Bloomfield, says there is a possibility the question of an expanded program could be taken up at a special session of the legislature.

But a long standing dispute over the extent of state subsidies is what derailed the proposal in the session which ended earlier this month.

A special session could be called in conjunction with the so-called "trailer session" at which the lawmakers reconvene on Thursday.

Thomas J. Meskell's veto of their bills, Romanos, agrees on Bill 1.

"A special session is dependent on whether the House can agree either on a bill sent by the Senate or some modification of it," Rome said.

Democrats in the House refused to agree to a suspension of the rules so that a Senate-approved transportation bill could be brought up before the final gavel, Rome said.

Rome said he would support a subsidy program under which local communities would put up as little as one third of the operating expenses.

But the Republican leader said he is opposed to the so-called "New Haven Plan" which would have provided for 100 per cent state subsidies of minimum service levels.

The plan would have allowed communities to maintain a minimum level of service without contributing to any of the cost.

Rome believes that local communities should bear some of the responsibility for mass transportation costs.

New York State funds to purchase 144 new commuter cars and modernize the roadbed and stations of the New Haven line.

Connecticut has leased the rail lines from the Penn Central and is providing funds to pick up the operating deficit, now running about $5 million to $8 million a year.

The state is providing $3 million in operating subsidies for bus service in more than a dozen transit districts which include the state's major cities.

Eight state-sponsored express bus runs are carrying an estimated 16,000 commuters each week, said a transportation department spokesman.

Free Parking. Free parking in the suburbs plus a $17 a month commuter ticket have been provided as incentive.

Carpoolers also are getting encouragement from the department. Low cost toll tickets are sold to drivers who carry a minimum of three persons in their cars.

A total of 52 commuter parking lots are being built at strategic locations so that motorists may consolidate their commutes.

The state Department of Transportation has helped 30 business firms set up carpools for 70,000 employees and cooperated with local communities in carpool drives.

Meskill believes that local government must bear the burden of mass transportation if it is to be successful.

"It was a bad bill and did not provide for local accountability," Meskill said.

Couple Accused Of Jewel Robbery

CHESHIRE (UPI) — A Hartford area couple was to appear in court today on charges stemming from a jewelry store robbery and a 20-mile chase by police officers said it was the first increase sought in 16 years.

The company said it wanted the hike to raise an additional $2.2 million to cover the "sharply increased costs of providing service and to meet the demands of telephone growth in this area."

Under the proposed rate increase, individual home service would rise to $8.45 from the present $5.30. Residential message rate service at $6.30 would be offered for the first time, the company said.

The company reported the business rate rate would rise to $23.42 from the present $15.25.

Southington police later spotted a car on route 10 that matched the description of the getaway car and gave chase.

The suspects picked up more pursuers as they sped through other towns and then entered the Eastbound lanes of I-94, at the time congested with rush-hour traffic.

Neal was treated for a minor leg injury but police reported no other injuries.

Police said the couple had made off with about $50,000 in jewelry taken from Fowler's Jewelry store after they tied up the owner, Burl Fowler, and an unidentified clerk.

The high-speed chase came to an end in the West Hartford section of I-94 when the suspect's car rammed one of two state police cruisers that were boxing it in.

State's Community Colleges Need Permanent Facilities

HARTFORD (UPI)—The old factory buildings and abandoned churches, schools and trailers that currently house many state community college facilities must be replaced with permanent campuses.

That testimony was delivered Tuesday by trustees of the 12 community colleges and state higher education commissioners before the legislative Program Review Committee.

Dorothy C. McNulty, secretary of the board, said although community colleges have grown rapidly in providing two-year post-secondary education to state residents, the schools' operations have been hampered by inadequate facilities.

"For years, the colleges have been forced to operate out of a variety of leased facilities including old factory buildings, abandoned schools, churches, portable buildings, trailers, converted houses and a shopping center," she said.

"At times colleges have had to use facilities at as many as six different locations concurrently," Mrs. McNulty testified.

The Commission on Higher Education also said highest priority for colleges is obtaining better facilities.

Donald H. McGannon, commission chairman, said the problem of facilities arose when the colleges started "immediately" after authorization in 1965 without waiting for new facilities. He said the colleges will need a 9 per cent increase above inflation boosts for the next five years to place Connecticut in the 75th percentile among the 17 states with the highest per capita income.

Dr. Searle F. Charles, executive director of the Connecticut Community Colleges, said efforts to purchase facilities for the colleges have been hampered by a general negative attitude to the board of trustees' decisions.

He said involved in such decisions are other agencies: the Commission for Higher Education, the Department of Public Works, Finance and Control, the state Bonding Commission and the governor's office.

School Year To End June 17

JUDY KUEHNEL
Correspondent
644-1364

The South Windsor Board of Education Tuesday night approved a recommendation by School Superintendent Robert Goldman that February vacation be cut, in order to have students released from school by June 17, 1974.

Dr. Goldman recommended a series of changes in the school calendar that would not shorten the length of the school year but would rearrange it in order to release students from classes earlier than June 28, which is the day they are to be released this year.

Due to the December ice storm and other storm conditions, South Windsor students will be getting out of classes later this year than in any other year.

Among Dr. Goldman's recommendations are: Orientation for teachers be one day only, rather than two. The traditional February week vacation begin on Lincoln's Birthday and run through Washington's Birthday, cutting two school days from the usual calendar.

Under this recommendation, students would get out of class Feb. 12, a normal holiday, and return Feb. 18.

Wednesday Feb. 12, 1975 is Lincoln's Birthday, and Feb. 17, a Monday, is Washington's Birthday. Both days are usually school holidays, so in effect students will only be given Thursday and Friday of that week off in order to trim at least two school days from the end of the year.

Dr. Goldman set the number of snow days at the end of the year to three and said additional days will be taken from the April vacation if needed.

The last two days of the school year will be half-days if the town has no snow days.

The effects of the change in calendar are simply that students, still attending 180 legal school days, will be able to begin vacationing earlier by sacrificing a few mid-year school and half days.

School officials said the move was merited because students find it harder to learn when warmer weather comes, and because parents like to have children released from school early, in order to begin family vacation earlier.

Windsor Flood Work To Be Studied

JUDY KUEHNEL
Correspondent
644-1364

The similarities in the flooding problems of Windsor's Decker Brook and South Windsor's Avery Brook will come under study by the South Windsor Town Council May 22 in Windsor.

Councilmen will take a "field trip" to Windsor where the hydrologist firm of Griswold and Fuss has done extensive channelization work on Decker Brook.

South Windsor also has hired this firm to study Avery Brook and its flooding problems.

Griswold and Fuss has suggested local councilmen visit Windsor to view the work done on Decker Brook. It recommends similar measures be taken for Avery Brook.

Mayor Robert Smith said that once the council has witnessed the Windsor work, and has met with Griswold and Fuss, he would like to invite residents from the Avery Brook subdivision to visit Windsor and see what might be done to Avery Brook here.

The mayor said South Windsor is awaiting a $300,000 grant from the Department of Environmental Protection which will be combined with $70,000 already in town coffers, earmarked for improvements to Avery Brook.

The mayor said he has been in contact with the Army Corps of Engineers, seeking whatever help it might be to the town through its expertise. He expects to receive a reply sometime in the next few weeks.

Last week a group of residents appeared before the Town Council with complaints about the flooding of Avery Brook, a stream that, over the last few years, has caused extensive erosion and damage to town and personal property during heavy rains and winter thaws.

Smith went to Avery Brook following the council meeting and this week called the erosion problem "a terrible one."

Griswold and Fuss is recommending extensive channelization through Avery Brook by digging the brook four to five feet deep and putting concrete along the banks.

Officials could not say when they expect work to be done to the brook, but there is some indication it may begin before the end of the year.

Meanwhile, town crews will spend the next three or four Saturdays digging out culverts and the stream itself.

Prep Schools Face Changes

By MARK MILLER
SUFFIELD (UPI) — The prep school, long a sturdy oak in New England's academic grove, is being shaken by rising economic pressures and changing times.

Uncertainty and unease coexisted with a fighting college-spirit as 180 members of the Connecticut Association of Independent Schools faced their president, Edwin C. Douglas, at a spring meeting.

"We are — for the moment, at least — financially sound," Douglas said.

Douglas was not touting a financial prospect for independent education in the state over the next decade, or even the next year, however. He was referring only to the organization, now in its 25th year.

Boarding schools, private day schools and Catholic parochial schools started the last quarter-century as thriving and growing institutions.

The Connecticut countryside, like that of neighboring Massachusetts, still rebounds with the names of prestigious academies which traditionally funneled their graduates into the best colleges.

But the old school tie has some new stripes.

Hotchkiss, to the initial annoyance of some older alumni, went coeducational. Choate merged with Rosemary Hall. Kent has a "coordinate" girls school. And Suffield will admit 80 girls next fall.

Suffield Academy was the rallying point for administrators and faculty of most of these and other boarding schools in a coalition for security and survival with locally oriented day and parochial schools.

Members met in the ample lounge of the Sherman Perry Memorial gymnasium, reminiscing on times past and perhaps wondering how much time was left for their schools.

While they can afford the steep tuition, their capital and endowment gifts have correspondingly shrunk.

Upper-middle and middle-income families formerly accustomed to sending their children "away" to school are now looking with increasing favor on certain well-rated high schools, more college-oriented than a generation ago.

And their children, faced with a loss of freedom and the family car, aren't as compliant in being shipped away.

So the Suffield meeting focused on some ways to meet the challenge. Administrative frugality and professional fund-raising take on increased significance.

John R. Winter, Suffield Academy business manager, held an audience spellbound with an account of his financial gymnastics in keeping the school fiscally fit.

Hebron Residents Question House Construction

NANCY DRINKUTH
Correspondent
228-3970

About 25 residents attended the Tuesday night meeting of the Planning and Zoning Commission, most of them part of an organized group protesting what they considered to be improper building activity in the Hebron Hills subdivision.

Sandra Baker, first speaker for the group, read a letter addressed to PZC Chairman Sal Mastandrea.

The letter said in part: "As citizens of Hebron we have a concern about the subdivision plan known as Hebron Hills. This subdivision is being presented by Mr. Murray Ostrager for property owned by Nettie Goldston on Jones St. and Hadley Rd. This subdivision was originally discussed and voted on at a Planning and Zoning Commission public hearing held on May 11, 1971.

"According to minutes of this meeting lots 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 34, 35, 36, 37, 38, 39, 40, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45, 46, 47, 48, 49, 50, 51, 52, 53, 54, 55, 56, 57, 58, 59, 60, 61, 62, 63, 64, 65, 66, 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 74, 75, 76, 77, 78, 79, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 93, 94, 95, 96, 97, 98, 99, 100 were approved as building lots. Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 10, 11, 12 and 13 were not approved; however, they also expressed a concern for the future of the town's zoning process.

"They requested that the PZC place a stop work order at all building sites until they could review the subdivision plan. Mastandrea told the group that perhaps there has been a breakdown in communications between the commission and the building inspector and said that since 1971 steps had been taken to tighten their own procedures. In the past it has been:

1. Immediate action should be zoning agent saw that necessary changes had been made at a building site a permit could be issued without further review by the PZC. Now if a lot is not approved for building any changes to make it buildable must be presented before the commission.

A lengthy discussion followed. Mr. Ostrager was present and called the attention of the State Health Department official "a witch hunt."

Finally, cutting off debate, Mastandrea told the group that the matter would be taken up in executive session and a copy of the minutes of the meeting would be mailed to one member of the group.

In executive session the following unanimous action was taken by the PZC: 1. To advise Mr. Keeffe (the building official) that any permits issued with respect to lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 6, 10, 11, 12 and 13 be subject to full compliance with conditions outlined in the letter from the state engineer in 1971 and in accordance with the recommended conditions in the State Health Department letter of May 13, 1972.

2. With respect to permits already issued (lots 10 and 12), construction or issuance of certificate of occupancy must be conditioned on full compliance with the recommendations.
3. Immediate action should be taken to make lots 10 and 12 comply with the recommendations set forth in the State Health Department letter.

4. The building inspector was asked to monitor the lots periodically to be certain that no sanitation problems have occurred.

Other Business

The PZC received a request from Don Robinson of Rt. 65 for a hearing concerning use of his land for a building project. The PZC will contact Robinson and try to set up a time for this meeting which will not be open to the public. The town council will attend.

A date for the public hearing to discuss the new wetlands regulations will be set at the next meeting.

The horse problem on Daly Rd. will also be discussed again at the next meeting of the PZC.

Amston Lake

A building permit had been recently denied the owner of lot 8, Amston Lake, because the request had been for a summer home and the lot is partially in the RI zone. The PZC voted to honor the stricter zoning.

The owner has presented a proposal which includes dedicating the RI portion of the property to someone else and having then a conforming lot completely in the summer, or Amston Lake zone. The PZC will consider the proposal at the next meeting.

Building Report

The following building permits were issued in April: A single family dwelling, Caron Brothers Inc., $22,000, additions and repairs $18,000, other, 1 fireplace, $850, 1 garage, 1 breezeway, $3,500 and 1 two-car garage, $3,000.

Senior Citizens

Middlemen Widening Profits on Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Consumers won't get the full benefit of this year's declines in farm prices because processors and supermarkets are widening their margins, Agriculture Department economists predicted today.

Experts writing in a new "Marketing and Transportation Situation" summary reported a recent department forecast that increases in retail food prices "may slow considerably" in the next few months and there may even be a modest decline in grocery bills late in the year if farm prices drop as expected.

The report said farm prices, which have already dropped sharply after rising to new records early in the year, probably will fall further later in 1974 because production is up and forecasters are predicting an easing in both foreign and domestic demand. But it added:

"Not all of these decreases

Job Bank Set Up For Young People

VIVIAN KENNESON
Correspondent

A Junior Job Bank has been established through the efforts of the high school Parent Volunteers.

Parent volunteers will hold applications and try to match them up with available jobs as they are called. Some of the tasks the students are willing and able to perform include: all kinds of cleaning, yard work, small repairs, baby-sitting, clerical work.

Any resident between the ages of 13 to 18 may fill out an application for a job. High school and middle school students may pick up applications from the school office.

People in Tolland or surrounding areas are asked to call Mrs. Theresa Henderson, 872-6637 or Mrs. Mary Drega, 875-6969, if they have any kind of work that young people may do. Other Parent Volunteer coordinators are Mrs. Barbara Conley, 875-6100, Mrs. Donna King, 875-1086, and Mrs. Sue Hallwood, 875-3149.

Fire Training

On Sunday officers of the Tolland Fire Department assisted in conducting a day-long rescue drill in the extrication of victims of a vehicular accident held at the Willimantic Fire Training grounds.

The course, which was open to members of various fire departments in Eastern Connecticut, was sponsored by the State of Connecticut and conducted by the Connecticut Fire Department's Instructors Association.

The Tolland men assisting in this drill, which included the demonstration of the Tolland Fire Department's Hurst Tool for extrication, were: Assistant Chief Robert Clough, Capt. Bruce Cropper, Engineer Robert Romanick and firefighter Michael Romanick.

Revenue sharing is based on three data elements: Population, per capita income and adjusted taxes.

As Bolton's population and per capita income remained fairly constant they did not change the town's revenue sharing allocation.

However, by reducing its adjusted taxes 35 per cent Bolton received its revenue sharing allocation by 35 per cent.

The interrelationship between net expenditures, total tax effort and total school effort apparently is - keep the total expenditures and tax effort high and keep school expenditures down.

Bolton did just the opposite - its tax effort went down (94.83) and its total portion of tax effort allocable to schools went up ($88,418).

The five-year revenue sharing program (Jan. 1, 1972-Dec. 31, 1976) consists of seven entitlement periods: 3 six-month periods, 3 twelve-month periods and 1 six-month period.

Bolton will receive a total of $60,186 for the fourth period. Its actual entitled amount is $40,040. The $20,146 difference is an adjustment to what Bolton was given for the first three periods.

The total amount Bolton has received so far from the revenue sharing program is $120,707. Bolton will receive $15,047 for the final quarter of the fourth entitlement period and $16,164 for the fifth entitlement period making the total collected $161,912.

The amount Bolton will receive for the sixth and seventh entitlement periods is unknown at this time.

Bolton residents at a Town Meeting in February approved construction of a new town library for not more than $271,000 using revenue sharing funds.

of Consumer Concern

Automobile insurance is an item included in the annual budget of Connecticut car owners. Although the protection afforded by minimum insurance is generally uniform, the cost varies.

State Insurance Commissioner Thomas White lists facts you should know when considering purchase of car insurance.

Insurance Required

Every Connecticut car owner must purchase and keep in force certain minimum insurance coverage. This is a legal requirement for the protection of people who might be injured (or cause injury to others) in an automobile accident. The penalty for violation of this law can include loss of your driver's license, a fine and a jail sentence.

You can obtain a free pamphlet approved by the Connecticut Insurance Department explaining this minimum coverage (in English and Spanish) from the Insurance Association of Connecticut, 60 Washington St., Hartford, Conn. 06106.

Cost

Although the protection afforded by this minimum insurance is uniform, the cost is not. For example, at the present time, the cost of this insurance package for a 17-year old unmarried male car owner who lives in Hartford, does not use his car to drive to work, and has an accident-free record can be over $560 or under $370 depending upon the company he selects.

The cost of this minimum required insurance (and any additional coverage you may select) is based on a number of variables which include the age, sex, and marital status of the owner and operator and the use and garage location of the car. Companies may also take into consideration the driving record of the insured and may offer certain discounts, such as multi-car credit, and young operators only, driver training and "good student" discounts.

The company which offers you the best price at age 17 may not offer you the best price at age 25, so it pays to review your choice of company from time to time. In making your review, it is well to keep the above variables in mind to determine what company is best for you to choose. Be certain that when you compare prices, you are comparing equivalent coverages.

Other Factors

Price should not be the sole factor to consider when buying car insurance. If there are factors in addition to price which include: (1) The quality of advice and service you will receive from the company or the agent with whom you deal. (2) The willingness of the company to renew your insurance following an accident. (3) The company's schedule (if it has factors for premium increases due to traffic convictions and accident involvement.

We welcome suggestions and questions. Answers to questions of general interest will appear in this column. Address your questions to: "Of Consumer Concern," Department of Consumer Protection, State Office Building, Hartford, Conn. 06115, or dial 1-800-942-2640 - toll-free.

Democrats Select Walsh For Loyzim's PZC Post

MONICA SHEA
Correspondent
742-9495

The Democratic Town Committee Tuesday night voted to recommend Tony Walsh to the Town Council to fill the vacancy on the Planning and Zoning Commission caused by the death of Steve Loyzim.

In other actions the committee—

1. Filled other vacancies caused by Loyzim's death.

2. Heard two candidates seeking endorsement.

3. Endorsed David Barry, seeking nomination from the 4th Senatorial District.

The nominating committee interviewed five persons for the PZC position: Walsh, Roslyn Kornfield, currently alternates to the commission David Roach, Dan Manly and Larry Beecher.

The committee recommended Walsh. Manly was nominated from the floor.

The vote was 24 for Walsh and 5 for Manly.

Other vacancies caused by the death of Loyzim were also filled. Sandra Marrotte was elected to the Town Committee and James Curry was elected a delegate to the state convention.

Mrs. Marrotte was appointed as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Bennet heard Doug Bennet, a candidate for the nomination for the 2nd Congressional District, addressed the committee last night.

Bennet said, "Democratic candidates have to address themselves to make some basic commitments to the American people. We have to control inflation, break up conglomerates, provide a health care plan, and in the field of education, there is an urgent need in higher education to help kids whose parents are in the middle income bracket to get loans."

Bennet said, "The northeastern part of Connecticut is an unspoiled center of a vast industrial area. You don't have to have a vast new community 'plunked down in the middle of it.'"

Bennet said that his experience as an administrative assistant to Sen. Abe Ribicoff is a valuable asset. He said, "What you will get is a congressman who doesn't need on the job training."

Bennet said, "Northeastern Connecticut needs jobs and industry without polluting the environment."

He wants to see I-84 completed to Willimantic and, if it is needed to improve the economic conditions of Eastern Connecticut, then perhaps it should be completed to the Rhode Island border.

He is against the construction of the jetport because the damages to the environment were not worth the building of it.

Bennet said, "To nationalize the oil companies would be a mistake, but they should be divested of all their retail outlets and the control of shipping and oil pipelines."

Bennet has a Ph.D. from Wesleyan, was the former chief aid to Sen. Tom Eagleton, besides being the administrative assistant to Ribicoff.

Bennet said the Ribicoff has remained neutral and has not come out in favor of any of the candidates running for the second congressional district.

Nick Pawluk, who is running for the nomination for sheriff of Tolland County, also addressed the committee last night.

Pawluk said he had been active in politics for 20 years and had been the tax assessor for Rockville, alderman and sheriff of the town and constable of the town of Vernon. He also has been active in the Tolland County Democratic Association and a former Tolland County sheriff.

Pawluk said that if he was nominated and elected he would make the sheriff's position a full-time job.

In other business last night the committee formed a subcommittee to look into a suitable memorial for Steve Loyzim.

The Young Dems will be featuring a "Dunk the Democrat" booth at the annual Policeman's Carnival this year.

Grasso Reception

An Evening With Ella will be held on Sunday at the Manchester Armory on 320 Main St. in Manchester for all Democrats and other Grasso supporters from the communities east of the Connecticut River.

The evening will begin at 6 p.m. with a reception for Ella Grasso.

Tickets for the Evening With Ella are available in Coventry from Rose Fowler, and Mary Forst, Seagraves Rd.

Rockville Hospital Adopts New Symbol

In a report on activities for 1973 it is revealed that the hospital operated at a loss of $3,654 with $3,903,257 received for patient care and the cost of that care totaling $3,907,011.

The operating loss was offset by gifts and endowments.

During the year 446 babies were delivered. Patient days totaled 25,283; physical therapy patients, 1,177; respiratory therapy hours, 30,550; emergency visits, 15,331; home care patients, 176.

Admissions, 4,425; average census, 69; meals served, 73,559; operations, 2,318; x-ray units, 69,888; and laboratory units, 2,850,067.

There are 45 persons on the medical staff and the hospital has a total of 267 employees.

The hospital is observing "National Hospital Week," this week and has several displays in its corridors. The theme of the week is, "Get To Know Us Before You Need Us."

Four out of five farm acres owned by corporations in the United States are in the 11 mountain and Pacific states, Texas or Florida.

Cronk said it is expected that the new symbol will be included on all hospital literature and stationery as well as on identification signs.

He said the switch-over to the new identification program will occur gradually as existing stocks of these materials run low. Brochures of the hospital's new development department already carry the new symbol.

The bed capacity at the hospital, with its several new additions, now totals 105.

Center Congregational Church of Manchester was the scene May 11 of the marriage of Janice Louise Johansson and Robert F. Cochran, both of Manchester.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Johansson of 7 Hillcrest Rd. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Cochran of 337 W. Center St. and George H. Cochran also of Manchester.

The Rev. Winthrop Nelson of Center Congregational Church and the Rev. Paul Trigue of Assumption Church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, chrysanthemums and snapdragons. Walter Gryby of Manchester was organist. Linda Johansson of Manchester, the bride's sister, was soloist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white organza designed with high neckline, modified Empire bodice, long full sleeves cuffed at wrists and accented with ruffles. Bands of lace and a row of buttons accented the bodice with satin ribbon at waistline. Her skirt edged with lace terminated into a full chapel-length train. Bridesmaids were Miss Tracy Wade of Southington, the bride's cousin; and Miss Mary Ellen Cochran of Manchester, the bridegroom's sister. Their gowns were similar to that worn by the honor attendant except styled with fitted bodice, A-line skirt, square neckline, baby doll sleeves and moss green streamers. Their flowers were the same except trimmed with moss green ribbons.

Woman's View

By Gay Pauley
UPI Women's Editor
NEW YORK (UPI) — Mindy Fliegelman, 28, is on her way to becoming a cantor, a rare career among women. So far as she knows, there are only two other women cantors in the nation.

What makes Miss Fliegelman even more unusual is that she is blind.

She knows that she's one of the pioneers in a field where for centuries men have chanted and sung the liturgical music of the Hebrew faith. "But I don't identify myself with women's liberation per se," she told me. "I'm just a woman in a different field."

Neither does she make a to-do about her blindness. She has her own apartment in Manhattan, gets around with the traditional cane, is getting a seeing eye dog this summer, and is popular with the young men.

Premature Birth
Blindness resulted from premature birth — she arrived two and one-half months early — and a hospital staff putting her in an over-oxygenized incubator.

"The incubator's oxygen burned the retina," she said. "I'm told that similar improper mixtures caused blindness to teach in thousands of babies at about that time."

"I've never thought of myself as a blind person. I'm a person who's blind. I don't like to see us put off in groups."

Miss Fliegelman never was as any other child and I'm really grateful. I grew up knowing how to roll an egg and sweep a floor. Many blind children don't get that atmosphere at home," she said.

She was born in Miami and attended public schools where a Braille teacher is required on the staff in the case of blind children. "I learned typing in the third and fourth grades. It certainly made school work easier the whole way."

Honor Graduate
She went on to become an honor graduate in music at

Florida State University, Tallahassee, and seemed headed for a teaching career when she decided, "Music teachers just aren't going to be in much demand."

"It is time for a change, time for responsibility. A year and a half ago I headed for New York."

She found a job with the Jewish Braille Institute of America, Inc., where she taught and worked in the library, free for the blind, also and offers books in large type and on tapes.

Each month, she said, the institute has a cultural evening for the blind. One evening, a regular vocalist could appear and Miss Fliegelman offered to pinch hit. A lyric soprano, she had done a lot of singing with various chorals groups through high school and college.

The next day, Dr. Jacob Freid executive director, and his associate, Gerald M. Kass, asked her to lunch. The upshot of the luncheon discussion was that they could arrange a scholarship if she wished to study needed if she wished to become a cantor. It would lead to a bachelor's degree in sacred music, certification to teach in New York, and ordination for the national ministry (but not to become a rabbi).

Miss Fliegelman is finishing her first year at Hebrew University College of Sacred Music, studying the Hebrew language, Jewish history and music. She is active also with the Lighthouse Singers and the Lighthouse Open Workshop.

And she's auditioning for a job as a student cantor.

There are five other girls in her classes, but she's the only blind student, she said.

"This is big breakthrough for the whole country," said the pretty brunette. "It may be difficult for some congregations to accept a woman. You must remember that the Jewish people use to segregate their women at temple worship."

St. Bernard Ends Win Streak Of Eagles With 4-1 Decision

By Dick Ledbetter

Coming to an end yesterday in Montville was East Catholic's four-game winning streak as Hartford County Conference leader St. Bernard ended the Eagles, 4-1. The loss all but eliminated East from a shot at the baseball crown in the HCC, now 4-3 in the circuit and 8-3 overall. The Saints are 12-3 overall and 7-1 in the conference.

Bernie Mahoney won his seventh decision against no losses as he outdueled East's ace Ron Semiao Mahoney allowed just five hits and pitched very effectively when the situation dictated. Semiao also hurled well but St. Bernard was able to bring home the runs when opportunity knocked.

The only run the Saints really needed scored in the second frame. With one out, Tom Massard hit a wind-up double to left which eluded Mark McMahon's leg. Terry Quinn followed with an opposite field double to almost the same spot with Massard scoring on the play.

Two more runs scored in the fourth on another double by Massard, a single by Dan Kearns and two East miscues. East tallied its lone run in the sixth. Tom Miles drew a lead off walk, took second on McMahon's single to center and scored as Mahoney walked two straight batters with two out.

The Eagles had two base runners in the final frame but Mahoney fanned Ron Soucier to end the threat and the contest as well.

Quinn followed with an opposite field double to almost the same spot with Massard scoring on the play.

Sixth Triumph By Expo Pitcher

NEW YORK (UPI) - The Montreal Expos think they made a mistake when they rated pitcher Steve Rogers "a second Tom Seaver."

It was a great compliment when he made it late last year inasmuch as Rogers was just a guy who had a 10-5 record and 1.54 earned run average after being brought up from the minors in mid-July last season.

Now, with Seaver, two-time Cy Young award winner, playing the Hamlet of Flushing Meadow Park with a 14-mark, the Expos are more inclined to think of Rogers as a "First Steve Rogers."

Familiar Face, New Uniform

Ralph Houk returned to New York last night for the first time in a baseball uniform other than the New York Yankees. Houk brought his Detroit Tigers to Shea Stadium. He was with the Yankee organization 34 years.

Illing Bows Against Penney Registering five runs hit with the first inning with Bill Penney extending his hitting streak to five straight. Butch Kinney and Kevin Hanlon had the other hits for the losers, who are now 3-3.

Houk, who was greeted by a chorus of boos from the fans when he appeared on the field in the fourth inning to argue an out call at home, said his return bore no special significance for him.

CLEVELAND (UPI) - Gaylord Perry continued his mastery of the Boston Red Sox Tuesday night and the Cleveland Indians moved into sole possession of second place in the Eastern Division of the American League.

40,000 Turn Out To Honor Celtics

DID YOU KNOW THAT FOR AS LITTLE AS $100 YOU CAN SEE EVERY 1975 WHALERS GAME IN HARTFORD?

BOSTON (UPI)—The Boston Celtics have found out that attaining greatness is more appreciated than maintaining it.

The 1973-74 version of pro basketball's most consistent champion was feted Tuesday by 30,000-40,000 shrieking fans who jammed the downtown route of a noon motorcade then sealed off City Hall Plaza during ceremonies a short time later.

This was the 12th time Boston had won the NBA championship. But the other 11 titles came in a 13-year stretch and followed in succession as Bill Russell dominated the Celtics and the sport. The Celtics were expected to win and almost always did.

Oh, there were several minor celebrations in those days, a motorcade or two but no halloo.

Russell retired after pulling the Celtics from a fourth-place regular season finish to the 11th title in the spring of 1969.

Tom Heinsohn, who played on eight championships in nine seasons, took over and, in his first four seasons, brought the Celtics to the Eastern Conference finals twice.

But this year, the new Celtics came all the way back, led by the win with the old—Captain John Havlicek.

"This was the sweetest title of them all," said the 34-year-old Havlicek who was the champion MVP in the playoffs.

And the fans who took the old Celtics for granted, basked in the sweetness of Championship No. 12. They ran alongside the motorcade, showered confetti from windows and rooftops, squished their bodies into small spaces to catch sight of their heroes and belated, "We're No. 1" at the close of the ceremonies.

The celebration began Sunday night at

Indians Seven-Meet Skein On Track Shattered by Platt

Having its seven meet winning streak snapped yesterday in Meriden was the Manchester High track team, succumbing to Platt High, 84-61. The Indians are now 9-7 overall and 4-4 in the CCIL.

The depth of the Platt runners proved decisive as many seconds and thirds went to the hosts. Platt won 10 of the 17 events contested including both relay events.

Manchester closes out its dual meet season Friday against Wethersfield High at the Eagles' track.

Yanks Purchase Jim Ray Hart

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Yankees purchased veteran Jim Ray Hart Tuesday from their Syracuse farm club in the International League, where he had a .286 batting average.

Hart, 32, batted .254 in 114 games with the Yankees in 1973, used primarily as a designated hitter. He had 13 homers and drove in 92 runs. On the Yankees roster, Hart will replace Mike Hegan, sold Monday to the Milwaukee Brewers.

Fred Shero Has Story To Relate to His Club

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Fred Shero has a story to tell his team today. It is guaranteed to leave them crying.

What Shero plans to tell his men is about the last time he was on a team that came within a single game of winning the Stanley Cup. As you can probably gather, it has a sad ending.

Shero, the Philadelphia coach, was reminded of his previous predicament Tuesday night after the Flyers beat the Boston Bruins 4-2 to take an impressive 3-1 advantage in the best-of-seven Stanley Cup final. If the Flyers can win again at Boston Thursday night, they will become the first expansion team ever to capture the NHL Championship.

But before they do, they'll have to hear this story.

"I was with the Rangers in 1950 when we had a 3-1 advantage (it was actually 3-2) over Detroit and led by two goals in the last two games," Shero related. "We wound up losing the whole thing. That was the last time I was in the finals. I'm lucky, though, because I'm getting a second chance. Most other guys get only one."

"We were close then and it got away. I want these guys to know what can happen."

The Flyers put themselves on the brink of a major upset by exploding for rapid goals by Bill Barber and Andre Dupont in the closing minutes of Tuesday's game. The contest had been tied since 11:24 of the first period before Barber broke through with a high drive with only 5:35 left in regulation. Dupont's goal, coming 2:15 later, was the crusher.

Barber's winning goal, which snapped the longest scoring slump of his career, came as the result of odd circumstances. First, he was filling in for the injured Gary Dornhoefer on a line with Rick MacLeish and Ross Lonsberry, and he was far out of position at the time.

"I don't know what I was doing there," he answered when asked why he had skated to the left side. Then he proceeded to explain.

"The puck was just lying there and I saw I had a good chance to go in. It doesn't matter if you're the right wing, center or left wing, at that stage of the game you try to take advantage of everything. When I got to it, the puck was lying dead near the blue line. I looked up and saw I was alone. I wasn't aiming for the corner. I was just trying to hit the net."

Flyers' Dave Schultz Stopped by Officials Rugged Defenseman Was After Boston's Andre Savard

It was Barber's first goal in 10 games, and everyone knew it was the winner. Even Boston Coach Bep Gulinio, who said, "The third goal was going to be the winner. They were through if we got it. The fourth meant nothing."

For the first time in this series, Philadelphia got the scoreboard first. Rick MacLeish scored during a power play with the game only 4:40 old and Dave Schultz followed 59 seconds later on a solo rush to give the Flyers a 2-0 lead.

But Boston's dormant power play, which had provided only one goal in 18 previous power situations this series, got the Bruins back into the game. Phil Esposito, who had been benched for most of the third period before Barber broke through with a high drive with only 5:35 left in regulation. Dupont's goal, coming 2:15 later, was the crusher.

Blass Gains First Win

NEW YORK (UPI)—Steve Blass is beginning to remove the doubt the Pittsburgh Pirates had about his pitching control.

Blass, the former ace of the Pittsburgh staff, Tuesday night pitched his best game since being sent to the minors by the Pirates earlier this season. Blass struck out three batters and scattered eight hits as he led the Charleston Charlies to a 7-6 win over the Richmond Braves. Blass came within one

Tough Year

NEW HAVEN (UPI)—Yale University athletes were apparently overpreoccupied with these dreary spring and summer seasons in seven sports and managed winning seasons in only two.

Dillon's came from behind to nip Police & Fire last night with a last inning rally. Stanowski and Gole added two hits. Lappen and Frank LaTeano on the mound. Wayne Webb and Phil Valente in the field and Phil Duffy at the plate.

Ellington High Downs Tolland

Behind the two-hit pitching of Mike McMahon, Ellington High topped Tolland, 5-0, in a North Central Conference baseball clash yesterday at the Knights' field.

McMahon struck out seven as Ellington boosted its record to 7-4 for the season.

Elsewhere in the area, RHAM, Coventry and Bolton all lost Charter Oak Conference clashes. RHAM had its five-game winning streak stopped by Bacon Academy, 10-0, in Hebron. Ed Gardner had a three-run homer for the Schems, who now are 7-5 for the season.

Portland High exploded for eight runs in the first three innings of its first three games. Coventry fell to 4-9 with the setback. Bolton was on the short end of a 12-2 score to Rocky Hill at the Terriers' field. Paul Groves had two hits and an RBI for the Bulldogs, who are now 1-11 for the campaign.

Girls Set New Records As MHS Win on Track

Setting four new school records in the process, boys' Manchester High girls' track team whipped East Hartford High, 50-29, yesterday at Wigwag Track. The victory topped the maidens record to 2-5.

Val Poulin for the fourth consecutive meet broke her own record in the mile run with a clocking of 6:02.8, lowering her previous best by more than three seconds. Jackie Gosz broke her own record in the high jump with a leap of 4'10", four inches better than the previous standard. Also establishing new records were the 40-yard relay and 800-yard medley relay teams.

Co-Captain Darcy Walter won three events, the 100, 200 and the javelin and anchored the record-breaking 440-yard relay quartet. Mary Foran won the long jump and placed second in the 100 and 200. Manchester won 12 of the 13 events contested, including sweeps in four events.

Manchester will participate in State Regionals Saturday at Hall High in West Hartford.

Results: 80-yd hurdles: 1. Walker (M), 2. DeVerges (E), 3. DeLorenzo (E) 14.4.

Sign Murdock

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Fire of the World Football League announced the signing Tuesday of Guy Murdock, a 6-foot-2, 245-pound center from the University of Michigan who played the past two seasons with the Houston Oilers.

Murdock, of Barrington, Ill., was the 16th draft choice of the NFL Oilers in 1972 and was selected on the NFL's All-Rookie team that year.

He comes to the World Football League after losing his starting job in 1973 to Bill Curry, whom the Oilers obtained from Baltimore.

Bus Rule Changed

DONNA HOLLAND
Correspondent
646-0375

Due to recent experiences involving student misbehavior on the high school buses which placed the safety of all students on two of the high school buses in jeopardy it became necessary for school administrators to revise regulations on student misconduct on high school buses.

Guidelines concerning student behavior on school buses were sent to all parents of school children early in April. At the elementary level the guidelines appear to be working out reasonably well.

However, regulations for the high school students have had to be revised.

Effective immediately any serious student misconduct will result in the immediate suspension of a student's bus privileges up to a maximum of ten days.

A second offense can result in a longer suspension according to the principal's judgment.

A third incident will result in a review of the case by the administrator's council.

The review could result in suspension of bus privileges for the remainder of the school year.

Due to Eastern Bus Lines, Inc. reportedly having to replace 20 seats covering this year at a cost of $1,344, any malicious damage to a bus will result in an immediate 30-day suspension of bus privileges and return to full payment for damages.

Raymond Allen, superintendent, said he's not about to "fool around with the safety of students and drivers because of a few kids fooling around."

He said they will get the message soon that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

Allen noted that high school students are old enough to know what's expected of them.

Exiting from the secretary of the treasury post was George P. Schultz who disclosed that he had attempted to resign over a year ago when President Nixon ordered a renewal of price freezes. But Schultz said Nixon talked him into remaining until government controls were lifted.

Lighter Side Make Moths Fighters; Not Lovers

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — Environmentalists are warning that the impact of pesticides has stimulated a search for alternative ways of doing in insects. Toward that end, a recent news release from the National Geographic Society may prove significant.

"The males of some species of moths and butterflies gather in swarms around mist paddles to sip water," the Geographic reports.

"After spending several days in such a 'drinking society,' the males often fly off to look for mates."

Does that remind you of anyone you know? Uncle Harry, for instance? I mean, here we have a behavior pattern that appears ideally suited to pest control.

Must be Many Others
Logic tells us there must be many other Uncle Harrys in the insect world besides moths and butterflies. Perhaps flies, mosquitoes, hornworms, boll weevils and some of the other more destructive or bothersome varieties.

Now that they know what to look for, entomologists can quickly determine which insects form male drinking groups that wind up "chasing skirts," so to speak.

Then it is simply a matter of using that information against them. Do you see the potential modus operandi?

If their behavior pattern can be disrupted, mating will be impeded and reproduction will decline. Thus achieving in the long run what DDT once accomplished.

Either...Or
Either the maddy water acts as a sort of aphrodisiac, or it causes male moths and butterflies to lose their inhibitions. I suspect the latter.

Chances are those moths and butterflies you see bellying up to a mudhole are too shy to seek feminine companionship under normal conditions.

But after a few sips with the boys, they are boasting about their conquests and pretty soon they work up enough Dutch courage to make a pass at some female.

If I am on the right track here, the trick will be to change insects from Uncle Harrys to Uncle Clyde.

Uncle Clyde, of course, can't spend even as much as an hour in a "drinking society" without getting into a fight. After which he is in no condition to make love.

We need something to affect insects that way. Rather than flying off to look for mates, they would begin claiming "I can lick any moth in this mud puddle."

Any good chemist should be able to devise such a formula. Just spray on muddy water and it starts a butterfly brawl.

Collins Disputes Job Statement By Mrs. Grasso

HARTFORD (UPI) - Democrats and Republicans are pointing the finger of blame at each other for a decline in jobs in Connecticut in recent years.

House Speaker Francis J. Collins, R-Brookfield, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, Tuesday disputed a statement by Rep. Ella T. Grasso, D-Conn., that the decline that started in 1967 was the fault of Republicans.

"It was a combination of business disenchantment with the Democrat state administration between 1967 and 1971 and the failure of Mrs. Grasso's Democrat-controlled Congress to act to ward off a recession that caused the job decline," Collins said.

"For Mrs. Grasso to blame the Republicans for a decline in jobs in the state is like germs complaining about disease," said Collins, a candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Collins said Mrs. Grasso, a front-runner in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, had said that one out of every five jobs that existed in Connecticut in 1967 had disappeared by 1972.

"The fact is Connecticut's economic climate is healthier today than it has been at any time since the last Democrat administration led off," he said.

He said the economic policies of Gov. Thomas J. Meskill and the Republican - controlled state legislature placed the state back on the road to improved economy.

Discharged Tuesday: John Willey, East Hartford; Mary Lathrop, 42 Franklin St.; Elaine Bugbee, Mt. Spring Rd.; Rockville; Adele Riedel, 65 Deswood Dr.; Vernon; Ann Chambers, 28 Maple St.; Dorothy Kendall, 371 Oak St.; Robert Rodons, Stafford Manchester, Connecticut; East Hartford; Robert Silvia, Enfield.

Also, Jose Esponda, 291 Carriage Dr., South Windsor; Timothy Berghuis, 100 Benedict Cerrigione, East Hartford; Rita LeBlanc, 20 Cook Dr., Bolton; Gall Schor, Mansfield Center; Deborah Peck, 15 Ash St.; Anita Zeigler, 85 Tolland Rd., Bolton; Glen Steele, Center Rd., Andover; Henry Michael, 65 Wadsworth St.; John Flaherty, 121 Hemlock St., Bolton.

Also, James Beaudreau, 7 Main Street, Manchester, Connecticut, and at the F.W. Dodge Corporation, Professional Park, Farmington, Connecticut.

Each bidder shall submit with his bid a bid bond in an amount equal to 10% of the bid price.

Each bidder shall also present evidence of ability to procure and pay for performance and labor and materials bonds in the amount of 100% of the contract price.

No bid shall be withdrawn for a period of forty-five (45) days subsequent to the opening of the bids without the consent of the Owner.

One Way Or Another
NEW YORK (UPI) - If city lawmakers won't do the job, leave it to the sheep and goats. The Bayside Hills Civic Association, angry over the city's failure to cut the grass on the 56th and 58th Avenue malls in the Queens area of New York, Tuesday threatened to bring in sheep and goats to do the job.

"Unless the grass is cut on our malls within seven days," association President Albert J. Fallon wrote Mayor Abraham Beame, "we shall find it necessary to hire, lease or buy some sheep and goats to graze on these unkempt and uncared malls."

Fallon said retired citizens would be used as shepherds.

Secret Service, GSA Criticized in Report

WASHINGTON (UPI) - A House committee gave overwhelming approval today to a report criticizing the Secret Service and the General Services Administration (GSA) for spending $17.1 million on private residences owned or used by President Nixon.

The report covered spending of public funds on Nixon's estates at San Clemente, Calif., and Key Biscayne, Fla., as well as a residence used by his daughter Julie in Maryland and one he uses in the Bahamas, owned by his friend Robert Abplanalp.

The report included a recommendation that government expenditures be limited only to the private residence of a president-elect. The report was not made public immediately but the contents were outlined at the committee meeting by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., chairman of the Government Services subcommittee which conducted the study.

The original subcommittee version of the bill was critical of the administration for ordering many of the improvements, but the full committee placed the blame instead on the Secret Service and the GSA.

Brooks said the GSA spent considerable money for items not required by the Secret Service for security. "Just one example is that the taxpayers paid for a boundary survey of the San Clemente property ordered by the President's personal lawyers," Brooks said.

Vernon Mrs. Alice Edwards Named Senior Citizen of Year

BARBARA RICHMOND

Mrs. Alice Edwards of Rockville heard an instant replay of her life Tuesday night as she was named Vernon's "Senior Citizen of the Year." The announcement was made by Donald Berger, director of recreation and senior citizen activities.

In turn, the overwhelmed Mrs. Edwards, cited Berger for his work with all of the people of Vernon from the very young to the senior citizens.

Mrs. Edwards was born in Manchester and attended Manchester schools, moving to Rockville shortly after being married. "Alice Edwards' life has been characterized by hard work. While her four children were rather small, Alice's husband became incapacitated and Alice was given the responsibility of bread winner for her family, in addition to her other duties," Berger said.

He said her early work experience was as a practical nurse and doing household chores and her compassion for others was evident at this early age. This compassion, plus the need to supplement her income, led her to run a private convalescent home at one time.

Her first real paying job was as an inspector in the now defunct Minterburn Mill in Rockville. She held this position for about 10 years and when the mill closed she went to work as a cashier at the First National Store and later at a Hartford Department store.

Following that, and until her retirement in 1968, she worked in the office of Nelson Freightways in Rockville.

Mrs. Alice Edwards

and makes Christmas gifts for them. She is chaplain of the Burpee Women's Relief Corps and one of the organization's hardest workers, Berger said. He said, in addition to all of these activities, Mrs. Edwards also maintains a schedule of senior citizen activities equal in scope.

She is secretary of the Golden Age Club, is an officer of the Grove St. Social Club and the Franklin Park Social Club; runs weekly bingo games for the residents of the Grove St. housing project for the elderly; frequently provides refreshments for these activities; and gifts at Christmas.

Berger said, "She is a fighter for a cause and when a spokesman was needed to present arguments for a community room at the Grove St. project, Alice was in the forefront of that movement."

She is also treasurer for the Women's Relief Corps and for many years has been active in the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP).

Berger also cited Mrs. Edwards' sense of humor, explaining, "You'll find her as part of the entertainment at most of our affairs."

"She maintains close ties with her family and is most proud of her eight grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren," Berger said.

"We're here this evening to honor you, Alice, for your interest and dedication to the cause of the senior citizens, for your genuine warmth and concern for your fellow man, and for your compassion for the needs of others," Berger said.

Now, Berger said, she spends a great deal of time in volunteer work for several organizations. She spends many hours each week sewing at the Union Congregational Church on items that go to Rockville General Hospital.

She also spent many hours working as a volunteer in the Hospital Auxiliary Gift Shop and as a receptionist at the hospital.

In addition she knits regularly for the people at Mansfield

Fire Calls

Manchester, Eighth District Fire Department reported the following call for Tuesday:

• 5:27 p.m. — grass fire at 347 W. Middle Tpke.

Manchester, Town Fire Department reported the following calls for Tuesday:

• 3:49 p.m. — grass fire at Little and Essex Sts.

• 9:40 p.m. — grass fire at rear of Nichols-Manchester Tire, 299 Broad St.

• 10:16 p.m. — gas washdown in front of King's Department Store in the Parkade.

Government Study Unit Dissolved

Manchester's Blue Ribbon government-study committee, appointed last August to study the various forms of government available to the town, made its final report to the Board of Directors Tuesday night — recommending that the existing council-manager form of government, because it is best for Manchester, be retained.

The report had been in the hands of the directors since last month. Tuesday night, 10 of the committee's 15 members appeared before the board and heard its chairman, Roger McDermott, announce that its work was ended. Mayor John Thompson commended the committee and dissolved it.

The Blue Ribbon committee stemmed from a 1,464-signature petition presented the directors last spring — requesting an advisory referendum on the type of government the voters consider best for Manchester. The petition was presented by the Manchester Property Owners Association and was received by the directors the same night they accepted the report of the 1972-73 Charter Revision Commission.

The commission had rejected an MPOA proposal for a change to a strong-mayor form of government. It recommended the existing council-manager government be retained.

The directors didn't authorize the advisory referendum requested by the MPOA. The Blue Ribbon government-study committee was named instead. Tuesday night, after McDermott had commended all 15 committee members for their work the nine months the committee was in existence, Director Carl Zinsler asked him to predict what the outcome of an advisory referendum might have been.

"It would have been 3 to 1 in favor of the council-manager form of government," McDermott replied without hesitation.
