News for Senior Citizens

By Wally Fortin

Well with everyone and their grandmothers being away all this past week, Jane DePue just doesn't have too much to write about here as she canceled all planned activities here at the center.

The action at the center starts with Friday's activities. In the morning we had the bingo games as usual, and in the afternoon our setback games were in progress, and these are the lucky winners:

Monday morning 14 golf league members were out of Blackledge for some exercise. It had been raining and the course was very wet, but it didn't dampen their enthusiasm for the game, only their feet.

Russell Nettleton had a 45; Charles Tarpinian and Paul Hess had a 48; and James Gleason and Stephen Doy had a 49.

I want to remind all you bowling league members that your bowling banquet is this coming Tuesday evening, June 25, at Willie's Steak House on Center St., starting at 6:30 for the happy hour, and dinner is at 7:30 sharp.

Shuffleboard
This Thursday morning we will start playing shuffleboard. Our bus will pick up starting at 8:30 in the morning, and the action on the shuffleboard courts will continue during the morning starting at 9:30. So if you like the game, then plan on coming this Thursday, and who knows, maybe we can have a good turnout.

Police Chief Offers Tips On Discouraging Burglars

COVENTRY
Monica Shea

By observing these simple precautionary steps, you can reduce the possibility of a burglar selecting your dwelling as his target the next time you are away from home.

1. Close and lock all doors, including porch, basement and garage. Use pin tumbler locks on outside entrances and safety latches on the windows.

2. Connect a lamp to an automatic timer to turn lights in the home on an off each evening. Since noise is a deterrent control radio or TV to a timer.

3. Protect all doors and windows with an inexpensive, portable burglar alarm which sounds whenever someone attempts to break in.

4. Light up your porch and yard with outdoor lights to increase the likelihood that an attempted burglary would be seen. These lights can also be timer controlled if desired.

5. Be sure all screens are fastened from the inside.

6. Never leave valuables lying around; keep them in a safety deposit box.

7. Notify the police department that you will be leaving and how long you expect to be away.

8. Cancel all deliveries, such as milk, laundry, cleaning, etc. Also be sure to discontinue the newspaper or arrange to have it sent to your vacation address.

9. Have a neighbor, or your post office, hold all mail until your return.

A&P Settles Wage Dispute

HARTFORD (UPI) - Striking meatcutters at A&P supermarkets in western New England Friday voted overwhelmingly to end their two-week walkout and accept a new $52-a-week wage package and improved benefits.

Members of the Amalgamated Meat Cutters and Butchers Union, AFL-CIO, ratified the company offer after 678-195, during a meeting at the Hartford Hotel.

The company's 79 stores in Vermont, New Hampshire, western Massachusetts and Connecticut were expected to be fully staffed and reopened next week.

Robert Petronella, vice president of the international union, said the new wage package provided a $52 a week raise in three stages over one year for skilled classified workers.

Unclassified workers will get a $25 a week raise in two stages during the year, while hourly wage earners won a 55-cent-per-hour raise over one year.

Second prize winners were awarded safety flags.

The prizes were awarded on Bike Day at the Town Office Building by Lois Pawcett, president of the association.

First prize winners were awarded bicycles.

In the Grades 3 through 4 category, first prize went to Rebecca Underwood and second prize to Bonnie Barrow and Julie Kavatin.

In the Grades 1 and 2 category, first prize went to Kevin Crechmore and second prize to Roberta Edmonds and Jimmy Taylor.

Weicker Opposes Pro-Nixon Plank

HARTFORD (UPI) - Any attempt by the Republican state convention next month to include a statement of support for President Nixon will be "vigorously" opposed by Sen. Lowell P. Weicker, R-Conn.

But Weicker, an outspoken critic of the Nixon administration, said Friday he thought it would be "inappropriate" for the platform drafting committee to include any statement at all on the Watergate scandal.

The state's junior senator said individual candidates must speak to the Watergate issue themselves while campaigning for the fall elections.

Weicker, in Hartford to address the Republican State Platform Committee, said he personally stands by his past statements attacking the actions of the administration.

"They express feelings far more akin to our party's heritage than either silence or partitioned 'whispering in the dark,'" he said.

The Republican senator has said the GOP must separate itself from the "gross, illegal and unconstitutional acts of Watergate." Those involved in

Elderly Housing Project

Two possible sites for a 40-unit elderly housing project are to be viewed Tuesday evening by members of the Manchester Board of Directors, Housing Authority and Planning and Zoning Commission.

The sites are property on Brainerd Pl., next to The Herald, and on Lodge Dr. near the west entrance to Center Springs Park.

For certain, there are good and bad points about both proposed sites. However, we hope town officials don't overlook one other important factor in site selection, parking.

While the elderly generally depend on other methods of transportation than the automobile, they can expect visits by friends and relatives who will need parking facilities.

Parking, and the lack of it, is perhaps the major problem facing downtown Manchester. A housing project with too few parking stalls would further compound the problem.

We hope town officials will keep parking high on their priority list during their inspection of the proposed sites.

Important Sea Confab

An important conference is under way in Caracas, Venezuela, which seeks to draft new sea laws reconciling individual national claims to resources, control of pollution, and guaranteed freedom of navigation.

There are 151 nations taking part in the 10-week meeting.

Out of it will come, hopefully, possible solutions of differences which have been increasing among the maritime nations in recent years.

The major issue includes determining the extent of national control over coastal waters which has been a bone of contention for years. Some nations have impounded other nations' fishing boats when they came within self-proclaimed territorial waters, some of them 200 miles from shore. The United States advocates a 12-mile limit and nations like Peru and China want 200 miles. The issue will not be easily resolved for fishery resources are big economic stakes for all the nations in these days of increasing food needs.

In the backdrop of the coastal nation dispute is the growing demand of inland nations which seeks to define an international sea beyond the state claims. It would be managed by an international agency with the benefits from exploitation to be distributed among all nations. These nations think a 40-mile territorial limit is reasonable.

The upshot of the whole conference is that the problems are of such magnitude that it will probably define rather than solve the issues.

The meeting is historic since it does focus for the first time in history a world-wide effort by the nations to work out an equitable approach to sharing the oceans and their bounty.

The Caracas conference recognizes the seven seas belong to one world and that world must resolve ways and means to conserve them for the benefit of mankind today and for time to come.

Impeachment Panel Gifts

Some time ago it was revealed that members of the House Judiciary Committee and other congressmen had received a series of AFL-CIO gifts to help their re-election this fall. Peter Rodino Jr., chairman of the Committee, had himself received a huge amount from the labor organization, known to be avid for Richard Nixon's removal from office.

Now it has been disclosed that at least 18 members of the committee accepted political donations, ranging from $100 to $11,000, from the same dairy farm cooperatives the panel is investigating as part of the impeachment inquiry.

Two members of the panel, Charles B. Rangel, Democrat of Manhattan, and Tom Railsback, Republican of Illinois, decided to return the money, after being questioned by reporters. Rangel returned $100 to Associated Milk Products Inc., saying it would be improper for him to accept it. Railsback is returning $500 to the same group because he wants to be free of any conflict of interest.

The others, including Peter Rodino Jr., Democrat of New Jersey, who got $4,100, said they saw no conflict. Among the remainder, William L. Hungate, Missouri Democrat, who received $2,200, was among sponsors of legislation to raise the federal support price of milk in 1971. So were Robert W. Kastenmeier, Wisconsin Democrat, who received $2,650; and Walter Flowers, Alabama Democrat, who received $1,000.

Ten additional members received money from the dairymen.

According to public records, members of the House Judiciary Committee received a total of $32,150 after April 7, 1972. Records of congressional donations before that date are no longer available for public inspection. Of this total, $24,050 went to nine Democrats, and $8,100 to seven Republicans.

The House Judiciary is scheduled to begin soon an inquiry into the milk fund donations to the Nixon campaign. Can this be called an impartial investigation? Or is the pot calling the kettle black?

Taking History By Storm

NEW YORK — Trying for an assessment of the total Nixon tour through the Middle East, I've come up with two conclusions — one encouraging, the other depressing. It is true that the trip — like Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's which preceded it — marks a new era in American influence with the Arabs. But it is also true that the only hard news the whole trip yielded was deeply discouraging — the grant of an atomic reactor and fuel supply to Egypt.

The first achievement — a detente with the Arabs — cannot be denied. But the heavy price that America, and especially Israel, may have to pay for it cannot be brushed aside and is not sweetened by sweet talk.

The only hope for Middle East peace lies in the development of a climate of trust. But how can we expect the Israelis to develop trust when they see one of their chief reliances whittled away? I speak, of course, of their technological superiority to the Egyptians, which has now been considerably narrowed by the American act.

True, the Americans are giving Israel the same reactor. But the Israelis already possessed most of the knowledge and capacity it embodied. In meeting Egypt's need, the United States had to travel nine-tenths of the way; in meeting Israel's, one-tenth. This is scarcely equality of treatment, nor is it the behavior to expect from a firm and strong ally.

Today's Thought

Sabbath
I raise my eyes to greet this day
From out the hills a misty spray
Sparkling cool — refreshes dawn
In fiery flame — new day is born.
Soon disappears the smoky haze
Spire and roof now seem ablaze
And many windows shine with gold —
I see the SABBATH HOUR unfold
A wealth of beauty in a prayer —
In one great call bells everywhere
Ring out with joy to God on high

Girls Program Lacking

Dear editor:
The girls sports program at Manchester High School is sadly lacking. Our funds are way lower than the boys athletic program. We receive almost no recognition of any kind for our achievements. The equipment is poor, and our coaches get paid far less than boys' coaches. In short, the girls athletic program is there to keep the girls participating in the high school sports program quiet.

It was printed that the lettermen's banquet was for anyone who had won letters. So why weren't the girls included in the planning from the beginning? Don't we deserve the same recognition for the achievements we have made just as the boys do?

Girls' sports has grown in recent years. We have added new teams. Last year the field hockey team had both varsity and a junior varsity team. But though the team grew, the field remained the same. While the Board of Education paid $1,000 for the renovation of the football field, the girls field hockey team had to play on a field so bumpy that knocking a ball down was a tricky maneuver. They also could not have a full corner, a penalty in field hockey, because of the cement that covers part of the field.

This spring the girls softball team choose to play at liling because the field at the high school is so unfitting for softball, the very same field that is used for field hockey.

Also this spring our girls track team was almost disqualified for the state meet because we did not have uniforms but the track team is the only one who doesn't. This year the girls varsity basketball team got new uniforms, and their old ones were handed down to junior varsity basketball and the softball teams. The old J.V. basketball uniforms were given to junior varsity field hockey and volleyball team. The girls softball team also uses old boys basketball uniform jackets. I can tell you from personal experience that it's pretty deflating to go to another school, like Windham in Willimantic, who just started their track team officially this year and find them all in full uniform and sweats when only a minority of our team had even partial uniforms.

The girls at Manchester High School work very hard at their sports, just as hard if not harder, than the boys. But we receive about half or less as much recognition for the community and the Herald. We have many girls who are very talented in sports but their names are not even known. This is not the 19th century. Girls have as much right to participate in sports as boys. And just because it is not as publicized or as readily accepted as the boys program, doesn't mean we shouldn't get the same recognition for the same achievements, such as earning a letter.

Why Not Get On With the Good Work?

Dear editor:
The editorial comment in the June 18th Herald regarding the public health dispute mentioned the fact that this service is supported by the taxpayers and funds from the United Way. However, it was not mentioned, nor have I seen it mentioned in any of the letters I have read, that no payment whatsoever were being put on the board to reconsider its acceptance of Mrs. Bates' resignation. Since she did resign and since the board did accept her resignation, why not simply hire someone to take her place and get on with the good work?

Support

Dear editor:
We can appreciate the hard work, the dedication, and the total commitment of our friends at Manchester High who are taking part in the sport of their choice and their particular talent.

We are no strangers to long hours of practice. Our own sport is very demanding and we are required to work out 11 months of the year. Female athletes are finally being recognized. But how much dedication and how much sacrifice will it take before we are able to gain equal recognition with male athletes?

Girls, we support you. We salute you. We hope your peaceful protest will not be overlooked.

Post Poppy Chairman Edward Slickney,
Auxiliary Poppy Chairman Mary Tamayo

Thanks

The Anderson-Shea VFW Post and Auxiliary wish to thank the citizens of the Town of Manchester, and all its members, for their outstanding support on our recent Buddy Poppy campaign. Also the editor of The Herald for the great job done on the publicity prior to the drive. Our sincere thanks to each and everyone that helped make this drive successful.

Wings Of Evening

I like this story about "looking again" at the too familiar. It concerns a man who wanted to sell his house.

The real estate agent came, appraised it, and wrote up a tentative description for the newspaper advertisement. The next day he read the final draft to the owner over the telephone. The owner listened attentively, then said "Read it again, please." Once more he heard the alluring words of the agent's description. There was a long pause, then he remarked: "Take it off the market. That is the kind of house I have wanted all my life!" He had looked again at the too familiar and saw it with new appreciation.

It helps to look again. Often it helps more if we can "look again" through someone else's eyes. In my active years as a minister in Center Church I was occasionally called into a family situation for counseling. If the trouble centered in a young person, it was my privilege and task to share with the parents my understanding of their child. They were very often surprised to hear how high was my regard for the one in question.

One father who was complaining bitterly about his son could hardly believe it when I told him of the wonderful job the young man was doing in our church school. Often the eyes of another help us to truer conception of the familiar - even when the familiar is one's own family. I recall with gratitude what a public school teacher once told me about one of my own children which helped me understand and appreciate.

If taking a second look at a person through someone else's eyes aids us, how much greater the help when that "someone else" is Jesus. He had the ability to look through outward appearances to the heart. To try to see people as He did, one must read the Gospel accounts and notice that He treated each person as an individual of worth. He saw possibilities to which others were blind. For there were no pros and cons in His relationships. He accepted outcast and sinners without bowing to the conventions of the day or the letter of the law.

For example, read again the moving story of "the woman taken in adultery." (John 8:1-11). It is in the regard that the King James version but if you read the Revised Standard you will find this confrontation in a footnote. (This is because Bible scholars have found that this incident is missing from many of the ancient manuscripts of the Gospel.)

Here we see scribbles and Pharisaees confronting Jesus with a woman caught "in the very act" of adultery. They hope to have some charge to bring against Him, which they will have if He tells them to break the law of Moses, the law that adultery be punished by death. Death by stoning was a common practice. Note that the man involved in the act is not being condemned through Deuteronomy 22:22 states "both of them shall die."

Jesus surely notices this and also knows why His opinion is sought. He does not answer at once but writes with His finger on the ground. No one knows what Jesus wrote but an imaginative movie some years ago portrayed Him forming such words as "Jesus, murderer, adulterer." Then He says, "Let him who is without sin among you be the first to throw a stone at her."

The men leave, one by one, beginning with the eldest, until Jesus is left alone with the woman. He says to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" - Neither do condemn you; go and do not sin again."

Looking at the men through the eyes of Jesus we see hypocrites who do not acknowledge themselves to be sinners. Looking at the woman we see a sinner, but a forgiven one with the chance of a new life before her. In the light of this story - take a second look at the familiar, at yourself as well as others. What do you see, a hypocrite, or a forgiven sinner?

Love is not jealous or conceited, or proud; Love is not ill-humored, or selfish, or irritable; Love does not keep a record of wrongs; Love is not happy with evil, but is happy with the truth. Love never gives up.

Its faith, hope, and patience never fail."

The poem for the week was written in collaboration with the Sacred Dance Group of Center Church and has been interpreted by them in many services.

There is no one in the whole world exactly like me. There will never be another person just like you. You are special.

Try to understand what I say and do. I will try to understand you. But don't expect to understand me fully, I am much too complicated.

I don't even understand myself. I do things I don't mean to do. I say things I wish I hadn't said. I have hostilities I can't explain.

I wonder about myself - I wonder! I have strength that I have not yet used. I have abilities that I have not yet discovered. I have so much still to express.

I want to walk with strength. Often I am stronger when I walk with you. Sometimes I am stronger when I walk by myself. I will not always go your way.

I want to express myself. Often you help me to release what is within me. Sometimes I have to be left alone. I will not always do things your way.

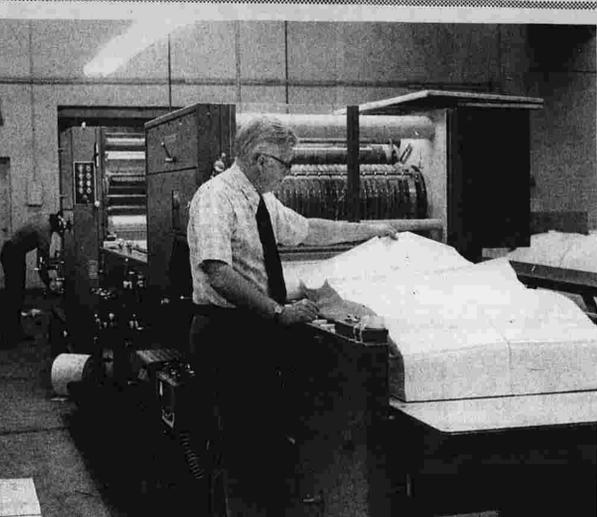

I need freedom to be truly myself. Respect me as a person. I need understanding love to grow. I need to be part of a community.

Where, accepted and accepting, Forgiven and forgiving, I can fulfill my special task of Being. In a climate of freedom and of love.

God created each of us. He reveals His love for us. His Spirit binds us together. Every person is precious in His sight.

Suggestion Department: Much ink has been used in the past two weeks, by both sides locally, in the male versus female dispute regarding young athletes. Females want equal rights. Why not have one team, in all sports at Manchester High as an example, and select the best players whether it be baseball, football, basketball, golf, tennis, etc? That way no one would be discriminated against and it would be equal for all.

Rebuilt Henderson Paces W Sox With Best Outing of Campaign

NEW YORK (UPI) — They're beginning to call Ken Henderson the "Six-Million Dollar Man." Like the character in the television series of that name, Henderson has been transformed through an operation into a better player than he was before an accident almost ruined his career.

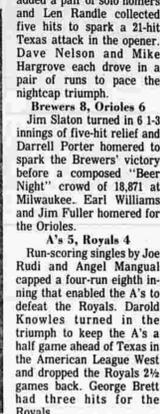

Teammates Collision Ends in Two-Base Error

caused the 28-year-old centerfielder to perform some pretty super feats this season for the Chicago White Sox. Henderson's career almost ended last summer when he was involved in a collision at home plate with Cleveland's Dave Duncan, resulting in a badly damaged right knee. He was on the disabled list for most of the remainder of the season and finally underwent surgery last fall.

11-7 victory over the Minnesota Twins. In other AL games, Texas swept a doubleheader from California, 12-3 and 6-2; Milwaukee edged Baltimore, 8-4; Detroit nipped New York, 3-2; Oakland downed Kansas City, 5-4. Cleveland at Boston was rained out.

Run-scoring singles by Joe Rudi and Angel Mangual capped a four-run eighth inning that enabled the A's to defeat the Royals. Darold Knowles turned in the triumph to keep the A's a half game ahead of Texas in the American League West and dropped the Royals 2 1/2 games back. George Brett had three hits for the Royals.

Perry Tandem Opposes Rox

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox, flying high on an airtight three-and-a-half game cushion atop the American League's East Division, will have to look out for two of the league's biggest guns today in a doubleheader with the Cleveland Indians.

Wildcats Host Boston Astros

The Connecticut Wildcats are hoping for a repeat of the 10,000 fans that came out to see last year's American Soccer League match with the Boston Astros. This year's game will be played tonight at Dillon Stadium.

Groman Ice Kings Seek Playoff Title

Thoughts APLENTY by Len Auster

No Boundaries Exist A true commentary on today's sports world is that seasons have no boundaries. A high school basketball player can't play just during the season (December to February) and expect to keep up with those who play and practice during the summer months.

Long Practice Hours

The summer is leisure time and time to get away from it all. But today's athletes don't take this avenue. They approach it as a time to sharpen skills — to give them the advantage over future opponents.

Aaron's Double Did It

The game credited Morton with his ninth win in 15 decisions, while House gained credit for his sixth save this year and lowered his ERA to 1.64.

McGee Happy Golfer, Shares Classic Lead

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Jerry McGee, who wasn't even supposed to be in the American Golf Classic, had a share of the second-round lead with Ray Floyd today.

Diamond Action

During this past season, Manchester High shortstop Ray Sullivan had early problems with ground balls. He made errors.

Williams Ties Mark In AAU Track Meet

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Steve Williams felt he had something to prove and he did. The fluid-striding San Diego State sophomore beat Don Quarrie, Reggie Jones and Ivory Crockett Friday, tying a world record in the process.

Car in Fatal Crash May Have Been Stolen

Paul M. Landolina, 20, of 130 Ralph Rd. may have been driving a stolen car from the scene of a hit-and-run accident on S. Main St. Thursday after 9:30 p.m. when he drove the car at high speed headon into another car on Spring St. causing the death of one of its passengers and serious injuries to three others as well as to himself.

The car, a 1965 Pontiac Tempest, was parked Thursday evening near the home of its owner, Margaret Newman of 829 Main St. At 9:42 p.m., a two-car crash was reported on S. Main St.

A car driven south by Edith D. Gaskell, 40, of 22 Montauk Dr., Vernon was signaling a left turn onto I-84 when it stopped to wait for oncoming cars. The car was struck in the rear by the Pontiac which bounced off and struck the Gaskell car a second time. The Pontiac then left the scene at a high rate of speed heading south on S. Main St. Patrolman Phillip Robertson is investigating this crash.

Minutes later the Pontiac driven by Landolina heading east on Spring St. near Timrod Rd. crossed to the left side of the road and struck the car driven by Roy C. Garey, 22, of 42 Seaman Circle who was heading west.

Garey's passenger, Steve Dunfield, 19, of 59 Harlan St., was rushed by ambulance to Manchester Memorial Hospital where he died soon after.

Landolina was also taken by ambulance and is still in serious condition at the hospital this morning in the intensive care unit.

Dunfield's brother, Matthew, 21, also a passenger in the Garey car, received multiple internal injuries but was reported in satisfactory condition at the hospital this morning.

Timothy Donahue, 21, of 26 Walnut St., the owner of the 1970 car driven by Garey, sustained severe body cuts but is listed in satisfactory condition this morning.

Garey received body cuts and other injuries and also is in satisfactory condition this morning. All three men are capable of receiving visitors now.

Two ambulances were needed in transporting the five victims. A rescue truck from the fire department was called in to help untangle their bodies from the wreckage and firemen assisted ambulance attendants.

Lt. Richard Sartor was in charge of the whole rescue operation and police work. Patrolman Richard Rand is still investigating.

Dr. Charles F. Stroebel III

Bolton High Commencement

Road to the Twenty-first Century."

Evalyn said our country is a beautiful place to live, but like everywhere, we do have our problems. She cited the energy crisis, governmental disorder, social upheaval, inflation and apathy as some of the problems facing us today.

She said the nation will work only as well as the people. All the people must work in harmony with one another to find the solutions necessary to make the problems disappear.

She told the graduates, as young adults entering the adult world, they were committed to do their fair share.

Miss Assard said, "We as the young people of today have had the benefit of a good education and understanding of the world and are fully capable of doing whatever is necessary of us to improve our nation and the world to a state of greater harmony among all people, and vastly important, congruity with the earth itself."

She said it is up to each and every one of us to do our part, no matter how small, to bring the solutions to view.

Assume your responsibilities and get rid of the rising apathy in our society today she told the graduates.

Robert Redden's talk was entitled "On Adjustment and Self Respect."

Redden said for a long time man has searched for the perfect world, a world in which no man has reason to complain.

Technical advances and social reforms have shown it is an impossible task to please all men in the same way. The only alternative to attain a world without complaint is for each man to stop complaining, said Redden.

Complaint is a method of using an external element as a scapegoat for man's being too lazy and unwilling to work at a complete strengthening of himself.

Complaint is deceitful and any man who would deceive himself has little self-respect, he said. In order to achieve self-respect, he must channel our energy away from complaint toward an effort to reduce the weaknesses which lead to it.

Redden said, "We are about to be ushered into a more adult world. Let us not make the mistake of expecting or even wanting the world to change for us, for certainly none of us can think himself, in honesty, to be the perfection of decision making."

He said if we as individuals attempt to know ourselves, our strengths and our weaknesses and add to the strengths through study, physical exercise and healthy social intercourse and detract from the weaknesses; if we attempt to know our relationship with the world and to become prepared for the changes, if we seek out the things which we have found ourselves to love and attempt to love all things without abusing the things which we cannot love, then we will have dispelled deceit and will be in a position to love and respect ourselves and the people and things with which we have learned to involve ourselves.

The Bolton High School Chorus under the direction of senior class member Cynthia Ponticelli sang "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Members of the senior class joined the chorus in singing. Diane Forand was accompanist.

Scholarships and awards totaling $3,400 were presented by Robert Murdock, president of the Bolton Scholarship Fund, Inc.

Murdock explained the purpose of the organization, noting among its many contributors are many local civic groups, businessmen and private citizens.

Those awarded scholarships from the Bolton Scholarship Fund were Douglas Fish, Joel Fontanella, Diane Forand, Noreen Giglio, Janet Gordon, Heather Longstreth, Donna Maus, Michelle Myette, Cynthia Ponticelli, Wayne Post, Robert Redden, Karen Schiavetti and Linda Tomaszewski.

Others awarded scholarships were Donna Maus, Bolton High School Student Council; Wayne Post, Kenney Hutchinson Memorial Award; Beverly Potter, Rockville Public Health Nursing Association; Robert Redden, Bolton High School Student Council; Linda Tomaszewski, Philip C. Ligouri Chapter of the National Honor Society; Candis Ursin, Manchester Rotary Club.

On behalf of the Republican Town Committee, its chairman Robert Morra presented a citizenship award to William Brian Grisel.

Mary Jean Litvinkas received the citizenship award presented on behalf of the Democratic Town Committee by its chairman John Mahon.

Recipients of the Parent Teacher Organization award was Douglas Fish and of the Bolton Insurance Advisory Award were Joel Fontanella and Cynthia Ponticelli.

The Bolton Scholarships Fund, Inc. also made four awards to post graduates of Bolton High School who are presently enrolled in colleges and universities. Recipients of these awards are Rosemary Carpenter, John Rys, Lori Meloche and Susan Tomaszewski.

The charge to the candidates was delivered by Dr. Charles F. Stroebel, III, who is the director of the Gengras Laboratories for experimental psychophysiology at the Institute of Living in Hartford.

Dr. Strobel said although Bolton High School is the smallest in Connecticut it emphasizes quality over quantity.

He said at the recent arts festival in Hartford the entries from Bolton students were far superior to those of students from other schools.

He noted the graduation was a milestone for parents, teachers and the students themselves.

He told the students that the commencement marked their entrance of admission into the adult world. It represents a beginning for all of you, a chance to emerge to your fullest potential he said.

He charged the students to use their capacities to their fullest extent because among those graduating no one yet knew what would happen to them.

Following the charge, diplomas were presented by Raymond Allen Jr., superintendent of schools, and Maneggia.

When the graduates turned to face the audience the hundreds of friends and family members gave a standing ovation.

The benediction was by the Rev. Robert Cronin of St. Maurice Roman Catholic Church.

The graduates marched out in a solemn recessional and headed for the many family parties which were scattered throughout town.

Music during the program which included numbers by the high school band and chorus was under the direction of school music director Edward DiFronzo.

Junior ushers for last night's program were Susan Manning, Linda Sambogna, Daniel Buckson, Robert Giglio and William Stern.

Books Reviews: Books about Washington

"Going Places with Children, Where to Go and What to Do in Washington," edited by Elizabeth Post Mirel, drawings by Raya Bodnarchuk, published by Green Acres School, 155 pages, $2.50.

A good book for parents and teachers to read that will help them in planning your trip so it will be more enjoyable. Older children can read it. Order it by writing: Green Acres School, 11701 Danville Drive, Rockville, Maryland, 20852.

"Our Nation's Capital Coloring Book," James V. Murfin, Editor, Donald Sparkman, Jr., Artists, published by U. S. Capitol Historical Society, 112 pages, $1.

This is a coloring book that any child would enjoy and teachers would find useful. It has 52 subjects for coloring and valuable information. You can buy it at the book store in the Capitol building or you can write the U. S. Capitol Historical Society, 200 Maryland Avenue, Washington, D.C., 20515.

Other Places Children Like

In Town

The National Zoo is a favorite. Get there early to see the pandas. A good introduction is the 50 cents train ride. Come prepared to walk. Open 9 a.m. to around 6:30 p.m.

The Wax Museum—Children like seeing the wax figures from "Great Moments in American History." Charge: Adults, $1.50, children, 85 cents. Open 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily.

The Ford Theater is where Lincoln was shot. There is a museum in the basement. Visit the Peterson House across the street to see where he died. Open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Out of Town

Arlington Cemetery is the sight of Kennedy's grave; the eternal flame, the changing of the guard; and Arlington House, the home of Robert E. Lee. Tour-mobility service from the Mall is available. Open 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mount Vernon is about 16 miles outside of Washington. Drive, take a bus or boat trip down the Potomac from Washington. See the mansion, the grave and out houses. Charge: $1.50 for adults, 50¢ for children. Open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Hints for Washington Tourists

Since the cafeterias around the Mall are crowded, it's a good idea to pack a lunch.

Write and make your reservations before you get to the city.

Parking spaces are limited and many streets are being torn up while the subway is being built. Take a taxi or bus from the hotel.

Rush hour starts around 4:30 in the afternoon and is over around 6:00. Try to get back to your hotel before or after that time.
