Tolland Graduation Rites Forced Indoors by Rain

Vivian Kenneson

Weather forced exercises indoors yesterday as 137 young adults graduated from Tolland High School, class of 1974.

The graduates, led by Junior Class Marshals Jeff Gallic and Jean Stefaniak, marched into the gymnasium in step to Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" played by the Tolland High School band, under the direction of Henry Kreske.

The young women wore traditional white gowns and caps and carried a single red rose, while the men wore blue caps and gowns. The bleachers and chairs were filled and several of the proud spectators lined the walls of the room to watch the proceedings.

The Rev. Donald G. Miller of the United Congregational Church of Tolland gave the invocation, and principal Roy A. Nierenhoff introduced the salutatorian and valedictorian.

Salutatorian Nancy Gebhardt spoke of the dangers of apathy in her address. She warned classmates that the apathetic person's dimensions shrink inwardly, and told them to "encourage others by taking a stand."

Nancy said that by doing nothing, apathy is created. "Become aware of situations around us, strive to change or right injustice...the time is now," she said. "Graduates of 1974 must take responsibilities upon ourselves."

Sharon Owen, valedictorian, spoke on the "value system." She encouraged classmates to learn to express themselves better by communication.

Speaking of her education, Sharon said it has shown her strength and weakness in ability. She cited a limitation on the variety of courses, sports and extra-curricula activities.

"Those who value themselves will find enrichment in and out of school. If one does not respect others, one cannot learn from them. If one only listens, each person has something to say. Teachers can learn from students by simply listening," Sharon said.

She warned against labeling and associating with certain groups, and said her high school education taught her to be open minded. "Education is life itself," Sharon concluded.

Presentation of special awards was conducted by Mrs. Eleanor Gowen, administrative assistant, and guidance counselors, Mrs. Barbara Palmer, Donald Serakowski and Paul Feeley.

Nixon Prepares for Trip To Brussels and Moscow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has a short visit with his old NATO allies this week and a longer one with his old enemies of the Soviet Union. The planned trip may show how much the diplomatic world has changed since the Atlantic Alliance was formed in 1949 as a warning to the Russians that Europe was protected by the U.S. nuclear umbrella against possible communist invasions. President Nixon goes to Brussels

Tuesday to sign a new version of the Atlantic Charter and meet with European leaders, who saw the NATO alliance under extreme tension during last year's Arab-Israeli conflict. Nixon then travels to Moscow for a summit meeting where he is expected to expand on spirit of detente.

Day At Yalta

The Russians had even planned for Nixon to spend a day at Yalta, site of the World War II meeting of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, Russian Premier Josef Stalin and England's Winston Churchill, at which agreements on eastern Europe were criticized by Nixon and other conservatives as a "sellout" of United States interests.

According to American sources in Moscow, the irony was not appreciated by White House advance men who changed the site as soon as they arrived last Thursday in order to prevent a dateline that carried memories of the Cold War and the possibility that Nixon's enemies could claim a new "sellout."

Nixon spent the weekend at his Camp David, Md. retreat, doing homework for the visit. He breaks away from foreign affairs for a few hours today to discuss inflation and other economic problems with his economic advisers.

The President is apparently leaving his Watergate defense in the hands of his lawyers. White House aides said Nixon has held only one hour-long session with his chief Watergate lawyer, James D. St. Clair, since his return from the Middle East.

"Secret Deal"

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger holds a news conference today to explain diplomatic plans for the trip. Questions are sure to touch on the national security wiretap investigation and a statement from Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., that a "secret deal" has already been made. The State Department denies the statement.

Soviet Premier Leonid I. Brezhnev will only say that he expects Nixon's third meeting since the two leaders began yearly discussions in 1972 to lead to "new, good, agreements" that would "make people happy." The White House cautioned against expectations of spectacular results and said the main wish was for further improvement of good will between the two nations.

Nixon's eight-day stay in the Soviet Union will begin Thursday.

Court Defers Action On Nixon Request

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today deferred a decision on President Nixon's request for disclosure of material that led a grand jury to name the President as an unindicted co-conspirator in the Watergate cover-up.

The court in a brief order said it will not rule until it has heard arguments on the request that Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski submit the grand jury evidence both to the White House and the high court itself.

The court has agreed to rule on the authority of the grand jury to name the President, and on whether the White House must produce tapes and records of 64 conversations between Nixon and his aides.

Arguments are scheduled July 8 on Jaworski's subpoena for the tapes.

Meantime presidential lawyer James D. St. Clair asked U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica, who will conduct the cover-up trial, for grand jury exhibits "and any and all other matters" related to the grand jury's action in naming the President. Grand jury records are normally secret.

When Sirica denied the request, St. Clair went directly to the Supreme Court, arguing "only this court, the President and his counsel will have access to this material."

St. Clair, who has been sitting in at the closed House Judiciary Committee impeachment hearings, told the Court that grand jury materials submitted to that body show the grand jury was acting outside its authority and on the basis of "totally insufficient evidence" in naming the President.

He said it may also be necessary for the court in its own deliberations "to make a factual analysis of the grand jury's action."

Urging the court to deny St. Clair's request, Jaworski said courts had always refused to determine whether a grand jury had enough evidence to charge someone with a crime.

He said that in any event, the only question before the court was the matter of the grand jury's authority to name the President an unindicted co-conspirator, not the evidence on which it relied.

Inflation Considered A 'Crisis Situation'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Treasury Secretary William E. Simon said today the nation's double-digit inflation rate would continue to be "unacceptably high" the rest of this year and that the administration is treating it as a "crisis situation."

At the same time, Simon said government experts believe there will be a reduction in the inflation rate when second-quarter economic statistics are compiled, and that the rate will go down later in the year.

The present inflation rate, running about 11 per cent according to latest cost-of-living figures, and a $3 billion budget cut as a means of controlling inflation were among subjects for discussion at a meeting President Nixon called this morning with Simon and other economic advisers.

$300 Billion Limit

Kenneth Rush, Nixon's newly named economic coordinator, said in an interview with the Washington Post today that the $3 billion budget cut on a $300 billion spending limit had been decided on for fiscal 1975 starting a week from today.

Prior to the White House meeting, Simon was interviewed on the NBC-TV Today Show.

"There is no instant cure to inflation — no instant economic cure," Simon said. "We have to get back on the right path of fundamentally sound fiscal and monetary policy to bring this back to an acceptable level."

Simon Concerned

He added, "We're very much treating this situation as a crisis situation and our forecasts have been that the inflation rate will begin to abate toward the end of this year, and gradually decline from the double-digit inflation we are experiencing at this time."

"When the second-quarter figures come in, I think you'll see a diminution in the rate of inflation, but this is not going to be done quickly, and at the end of this year, we are still going to have a most unacceptable rate of inflation as far as I am concerned."

He said that what it needed to correct the nation's economic imbalance is to return to "the old time religion" of ailing spending with federal income — to return to "fundamentals for a substantial period of time."

Armed Teenagers Raid State Detention Center

BRIDGEPORT (UPI) — Four armed teenagers forced their way into a juvenile detention center run "like a daycamp" early Sunday and freed five of their friends.

Police later arrested two suspects. Their two accomplices and the young inmates were still at large early today.

A matron at the center, Jacqueline Ellis, was wounded in the stomach by one of the youths during the escape. She was reported in good condition at Park City Hospital.

Two Arraigned

Felix Garcia, 18, and Nelson Millet, 17, both of Bridgeport, were held on $100,000 each for arraignment in Superior Court on charges of attempted murder, escape and larceny.

Police said Millet was captured about a mile from the center in a residential neighborhood eight hours after the early morning escape. Garcia was taken into custody at a city housing project early Sunday afternoon.

Police said Millet, Garcia and the two other youths—all believe armed—entered the center about 1:15 a.m. and freed three boys and two girls. Their names were not released because of their ages.

A police spokesman said only one of female guard was stationed at the main door to check persons entering the center.

"Like A Day Camp"

"It's like a day camp," he said. Millet was awaiting already trial on charges stemming from a similar escape at the same center less than a year ago.

He was charged then with entering the detention center at gunpoint with Enrique Rodriguez, 17, also of Bridgeport, to rescue Rodriguez' 15-year-old girlfriend.

Nelson Millet and Garcia are two of the four youths from Bridgeport facing charges stemming from the May 19 theft of 24 handguns from the Nassif Arms store on Main St. as well as the theft of two cars in Manchester that same night. The other two are Louis Millet, 16, and Ruben Ramos, 16.

Garcia and the two Millets are charged with first-degree larceny and their cases were bound over to the next session of the Hartford County Superior Court. Ramos, out on bond, failed to appear in Circuit Court 12 last Thursday and a rearrest warrant has been issued with a $500 surety bond when he is found. Ramos is charged with third-degree larceny by possession.

Coast Guard Seeks Ways To Confine Oil Spill

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — The Coast Guard today directed Mississippi River traffic single file around a wrecked and leaking oil barge to prevent waves from slamming against the vessel and rupturing more of its tanks.

The barge, carrying 23,000 barrels of oil, plowed into the Huey P. Long Bridge two miles upriver from New Orleans Saturday. Oil slicks drifted as far as 30 miles downstream.

Cleanup crews tried to catch the pollution at the source, but officials left the barge wedged against the bridge to avoid another rupture in the six tanks aboard.

Officials said one tank was ruptured and another was believed leaking at the seams.

"Wave action from a passing vessel could come by and rupture another tank very easily," a Coast Guard spokesman said.

Oil Industry Expected To Win Tax Reprieve

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The oil industry's friends in Congress are likely to win a key round this week in their effort to save the oil depletion allowance.

And if the liberal-sponsored anti-depletion move fails on the Senate floor, so too will an effort to trim individual income tax payments.

The tax cut and the depletion repeal measures are part of a package proposed by Sens. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., Walter Mondale, D-Minn., and others who forced the pending debt ceiling bill to try to force their tax reform ideas through Congress quickly.

The debt bill, which would raise the ceiling on the national debt by $19.3 billion to $495 billion, is considered "veto proof" because it must become law by midnight Sunday or the government will no longer be able to pay its bills.

Veto Anyway

But the administration let it be known that President Nixon would veto the bill anyway if it came to his desk with tax cut attached.

Sen. James B. Allen, D-Ala., backed by oil state senators, then skillfully maneuvered the liberal measures toward defeat, first with a time-consuming filibuster and then by forcing a vote—set for Monday afternoon—on the liberal package as a whole, not on each separate part as the liberals wanted. Enough senators oppose at least one part of the bill to vote against the whole package.

Kennedy has vowed to offer each part of the package separately if the whole measure is defeated, but Allen or some other opponent could then resume the filibuster as time runs out on the debt bill.

The Kennedy package would cut individual taxes slightly by increasing the personal exemption from $750 to $825, with an optional $190 tax credit for low income taxpayers.

To make up the loss to the Treasury, the liberals would strengthen the minimum tax, end some business depreciation advantages and export incentives, and end the oil depletion allowance, which permits oil companies to deduct 22 per cent of oil and gas income, up to a maximum of 50 per cent of taxable income.

Oil Industry

While defeat of the Kennedy amendments will not end the effort to scrap the oil depletion allowance, the week of maneuvering has shown that oil-oriented legislators now stand a good chance of preventing any big tax increases for the oil industry.

Even the normally conservative House Ways and Means Committee approved an oil tax bill which would cost oil companies more than $12 billion over five years, including a phase-out of the oil depletion allowance. The committee was reacting to an obviously overwhelming anti-oil sentiment in the House.

But that bill is bogged down by Democratic fighting, partly because liberals successfully persuaded the Democratic caucus to order the Rules Committee to allow floor amendments that would have greatly strengthened the committee bill.

Radio Hams Conduct Field Day

Making radio contacts with other amateurs in the U.S. and the world from the Nike site at the top of North View Ski Slope are members of the Hartford Country Amateur Radio Association. Tim Simoes, left, and Don Sheldon are both from East Hartford. Warren Thurnauer of 24 Hillcrest Rd., the Civil Defense amateur radio advisor for Manchester, said the 24-hour event began at 2:30 p.m. Saturday and was over at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. The object is to make as many radio contacts using all available frequencies, both Morse code and voice, as possible in the 24 hours. Points are given the group by the sponsoring American Radio Relay League Inc. after all the records are gathered during the next couple of months, Thurnauer said. The award is the recognition given the top local groups. The Hartford group should have done well here in Manchester as they had excellent equipment all run on portable power for the full 24 hours.

To The Class of 1975

Graduation is an important milestone in the lives of each of us, whether we are the graduate, the teacher, the parent, or one of the citizens of the community.
It is a traditional high point and a big part of that tradition are the memories embodied in the event.
The diploma represents a level of intellectual achievement and opens the doors to additional opportunities. It is fitting then that we have a tradition which is marked with pomp and ceremony to tell the world these young people have met the standards for high school or college and have earned their diplomas.
This is a wonderful and beautiful tradition which all of us who have shared in it during the course of our lives, as students and parents, cherish with fond memories.

Unfortunately, there is another traditional aspect of graduation which may not evoke in the years to come the fond memories we like to associate with graduation rites.
Almost overshadowing the formal ceremonies, is the growing practice that seniors have an "inalienable right" to have a senior party, which has, sad to say, come to mean "raising hell."

We need not dwell on the sorry episodes that have marred such parties in recent years. But in the wake of the over-reactions of a few, at such sanctioned and non-sanctioned events, it is increasingly difficult to have a senior party any more that leaves

1,100 Missing in Action

Before the books are closed on the Vietnam war, we must remember there are still 1,100 missing Americans to be accounted for. And the uncertainty of over 1,100 American families is still to be assuaged.

For months, a four-nation joint military team has had the task of searching for the missing. This effort has now broken down. The Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese do not even attend the meetings, claiming that the South Vietnamese government has cut off the Viet Cong delegation's telephone lines, press conferences, and liaison flights. Once these privileges are returned, say the Viet Cong, they will return to the talks.
Since March, four American dead have been positively identified. They were discovered after radio and television announcements, leaflets and posters were launched in South Vietnam, urging citizens to find downed aircraft and their remains and to report them.

There are 160 American military men who make up the search teams. Most of them are involved in training, parachute-jumping in Japan, and scuba-diving off Okinawa. The purpose is to prepare them for virtually any kind of entry the Communists only pleasant memories of graduation.

Instead there is the stigma of vandalism, hassles with the police, and too often the tragedy of death and/or injury in an automobile accident.
Traditions are what we make them. Memories too are largely our own creation, be they good or bad.
So instead of speaking to the Class of 74, which has had its fling and now must live with the memories of it be they good or bad, we would hope that the Classes of 1975 would start thinking now about their graduation parties and how they might make them an occasion for creating memories to be treasured with pride rather than ones that leave a bitter taste in the community.
Graduation is an important event and should be celebrated.
The test of maturity is how the event is celebrated. In the past, the evidence hasn't been encouraging. The Class of 1975 can change it. For if the change is to come it will have to come from them. If the change does not come, we fear graduations and all the attendant events which have been traditional will suffer.
Instead of being a joyous and memorable occasion at the moment and for years to come, they will become a repressive and stilted ordeal.
Not because the community, parents or most of the students want it that way, but because a few irresponsible "graduates" confuse excess with pleasure.

Girls Tried To Make Manchester Proud

To the editor:
In reference to Len Auster's column in the June 13 Manchester Herald about a group of female athletes picking the Elks Club, and some school officials of Manchester High School (MHS) being thoroughly embarrassed, I would like to make a few comments in the behalf of all the peaceful protesters, of whom I was one.
During the past three years I have participated in the female athletic program at MHS. I have learned to be proud of my team because when we won or lost a game, we have established an admirable reputation of good sportsmanship, and fair play. I have heard our teams complimented by competing school coaches and players on the distinguished and honorable way we conduct ourselves before, during, and after our games (I might add, our fine coaches helped instill this characteristic in us).
This year our girls' varsity basketball, softball, and tennis teams qualified for the C.I.A.C. tournament. A girls' team must win 51 per cent or better, as compared to 50 per cent or better for a boys' team to qualify. This is the first year the MHS girls were on the inter-scholastic basis in the softball program; we finished 2nd in the C.I.L. with a 7-3 record (same place as our fine MHS boys baseball team this year). The girls' tennis team ended their 2nd year in the C.I.L. with a record, and sent a doubles team to the states. The girls' volleyball team finished 4th in the regionals. The field hockey team ended with a 4-7 record, it was not a winning season, but this was a great improvement over last year's team, of no wins, and one tie. The girls' track team had girls breaking and setting new school records and sent six girls to the states. These statistics, girl athletes of MHS, can be proud of, so can school officials and the town. When we protested on June 11 it was because we believed we accomplished something that our parents, teachers, administrators, and ourselves can take pride in, we didn't set out to embarrass anyone.
As for why school officials have reason to be embarrassed, how about a member of one of the boys in a MHS summer sports team indecently exposing himself on a school bus on the way home from a match, or another member of a MHS winter boys' sports team streaking through the halls of our school? How do I know? From an eye witness. By the way, one of these boys was very rude to our group of picketers on June 11. I know, I was there. Never has a girl athlete done anything as thoroughly embarrassing to MHS as these acts of indecent exposures.
Another point I'd like to make at this time is: This campaign of picketers was not a planned attack on the Elks. It just happened to be the place that the letter winner banquet was held. We recognize this organization has done many fine projects for MHS students throughout the years.
I hope by writing this letter I have shown to the people concerned that we were not a bunch of unruly, unreasonable females picketing "just to get our pictures in the paper" but concerned citizens exercising our constitutional right to peacefully assemble to express our grievances. If this emotion should find probable cause to impeach a President. If they lose the public's confidence, forget it. The plain citizen will not buy any merchandise that has the smell of a partisan hatchet job.
That the spot on which Peter Rodino was being squirming, as

Opposed To DevCo

To the editor:
I would like to comment on a letter from Roberta Bynes which you recently published. There are two interesting points in the letter which distress me.
1. Mrs. Bynes asks, "By what right does the Town of Coventry designate the use of private land?" In this case the land on which Process-DevCo proposes to build a new city.
By the same token, Mrs. Bynes, by what "right" did the Town of Coventry have to recently make a decision affecting you personally? That is, whether or not your husband should have permission to open a dental office on his private property. One small request, but a great deal of time, study, and deliberation by our hard working PZC went into that decision allowing Dr. Bynes to open an office in the zone where he lives.
2. The last part of the last paragraph in Mrs. Bynes' letter says it all. No, we do not want "the land polluted, ravaged or destroyed." Ours or theirs? That is exactly why so many people like myself are so profoundly opposed to Process-DevCo and the plans they have for the land.
Mrs. Antonio D'Ambrosio Lewis Hill Rd. Coventry

Much Deserved Retirement

To the editor:
How many times when you eat out do you give thought to the person who prepared your food? As a waitress at the Manchester Country Club, I've had many folks comment, "Give my compliments to the chef." Then I would say, "the chef is a lady."
It's Mrs. Theresa Saunders of Coventry and after 20 years at the club she will soon start a much deserved retirement. Theresa and her husband will be moving to Largo, Fla.
Besides being an excellent cook, Theresa has the human qualities that gain respect and love from her fellow workers. She has endeared herself to us all and we will not soon forget her.
We wish joy and happiness to Theresa and her husband in their new way of life. Cooking for two will be a "breeze" (much needed in Florida) and if Theresa gets lonesome for Manchester she can always "whip up" some club sandwiches.

Today's Thought

In all of the predicaments in which we find ourselves, in the tensions and turmoil of contemporary society, in which it often appears that we are slowly, deliberately pressing on toward insanity — other-directed, alienated, dissipated, frustrated — still we turn to religion for help. We expect religion to save us. In some way it should bring us guidance, comfort, reassurance and hope.
You and I, trust, do not turn to our religion for some magic formula, some sacred potion, some holy dispensation to at once alleviate the pain of existence and, at the same time, give us the wisdom to act at all times wisely and well. But if no instant relief, what can it do for us? What can it hope to do? What is its responsibility?
I would suggest that the first responsibility of the great religions has been to hold before their believers the examples of faith: Gautama Buddha, Confucius, Lao-Tse, Moses, Socrates, Jesus, Francis. There comes from the knowledge of the spiritual heroes of mankind a boundless confidence and reassurance.
In these next five days, therefore, I shall present to you what I believe to be the five essential and elemental qualities of deeply religious or spiritual persons.

Rodino On the Spot

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Off his track record, Rep. Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., can be trusted to do everything possible to ensure public confidence in the impeachment proceedings of the House Judiciary Committee. But Rodino is on the spot.
Certain Democratic members of the committee — who specialize in florid utterances on the immorality of the Nixon administration — have made a small career of leaking secret evidence in the impeachment proceedings of the House Judiciary Committee. But Rodino is on the spot.
I hope he's right. The country has suffered enough. It doesn't need a scandal within the Judiciary Committee that could make the impeachment process a sick farce. But Rodino had better watch it. He's burdened with some wild men on the committee: Democratic Reps. John Conyers of Michigan, Joseph Eilberg of Pennsylvania, Jerome Waldie of California and Robert F. Drinan of Massachusetts.
Rodino will lose control of the committee if he loses control of these wild men because their activities could give the committee the taint of having prejudged Richard Nixon.
Aside from the ethics involved, what some committee members seem to have forgotten is that the Judiciary Committee serves as an investigative arm of the "grand jury" which is the White House.
Whether the fine print says so or not, the committee is bound to conduct its investigation in secret. Rodino has denounced the evidence. Yet the leaks have ranged from member's recollections of what they have heard or read to three instances in which copies of documents were given to reporters.
Rodino has denounced the leaks. That's not quite good enough, sir. What you should do is denounce by name the committee members who did the leaking. They should be publicly reprimanded and subjected to party discipline. Where's the rule that says a member of Congress is immune from arraignment for contempt of Congress?
Dean Burch has called the leaks "the old Joe McCarthy tactics of 20 years ago." He's right, and he might have added that those doing the leaking take a holier-than-thou attitude toward McCarthyism in public. At any rate, it might further the commonweal if Burch's criticism reminded Rodino that Joe McCarthy was censured by the Senate.

Weekend Accidents Claim Five Lives

United Press International
At least five persons perished in accidents this past weekend in Connecticut, three of them on the highway and two in drownings.
Dead in separate drowning accidents are Andrew M. Casale, 62, of Salisbury and Louis Olivero, 25, of Terryville. Victims of auto crashes are Amanda Perks, 26, of Greenwich, and Mr. and Mrs. Zaki Gabriel of New York City. Hure Mungin, 49, of the Bronx, N.Y., faced arraignment today on a charge of negligent homicide in the Perks accident. Six other persons were injured in the accident.
Police said Miss Perks was killed Sunday when the car she was driving north on Interstate 91 was hit head on by Mungin's car while Mungin made a U-turn from the southbound lane in Middletown.
Mungin was ordered held in lieu of $2,500 bond at the Hartford Correctional Center pending arraignment in Middletown Circuit Court.
Two passengers in the Mungin vehicle were treated and released at War Memorial Hospital in Meriden and three passengers in the Perks car were admitted and later transferred to Greenwich Hospital suffering minor injuries.
Another passenger in the Perks car was treated and released.
Cassale drowned in the Housatonic River Sunday, authorities said, where he was believed to have gone fishing. His body was found 1200 feet downstream from the Falls Village Hydroelectric plant.
Olivero drowned Saturday while boating with his brother and a companion on Bantam Lake. His body was found by police divers Sunday. Police said their boat captain, the Gabriels had followed a two-car head-on collision Friday night on Rt. 44 in Pomfret.

CCAG Plans Assembly Profiles

AARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Citizens Action Group CCAG has launched its second "General Assembly Project," a political profile of state representatives and senators seeking re-election.
Marc M. Caplan, director of the consumer-oriented organization, said Sunday plans call for release of the legislators' profiles to print and broadcast media and interested groups by September.
"This way citizens will have the facts they need in an election year to judge their representatives in Connecticut," Caplan said.
CCAG is working on the project with the Connecticut Citizen Research Group, a sister organization. Both groups are affiliated with consumer advocate Ralph Nader.
Each profile will be compiled after examination of the legislator's voting record, a personal interview, and talks with community leaders, business, labor, environmental, consumer and human rights groups, Caplan said.

"Air Mail" Anniversary Message

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gracyalny of 421 Spring St. admire a very special anniversary card which was delivered "air mail" on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary Saturday, as their daughter Anne-Louise, 18, looks on. John Segal, a prachutist, at right, "dropped" into the couple's backyard to hand deliver a message of congratulations from Gracyalny's co-workers at WFSB in Hartford, where he is employed as a broadcast engineer. The couple was married June 25, 1949 in St. Mary of the Bay Church, Warren, R.I. Mrs. Gracyalny is head of the math department at Benet Junior High School. The couple has two other children, John 22, and Mary 20. Some 140 friends and relatives joined in the festivities. A 25th anniversary Mass was celebrated at St. James Church. (Herald photo by Dunn)

Some of the new ideas being considered include an opportunity for 4-H clubs to operate games-of-skill booths to enable the clubs to earn money for their own treasuries as well as for the fair association.

Other additions being planned to the program will include a 4-H exhibition, an opportunity for 4-H members to demonstrate what they have learned in their 4-H projects, a livestock judging contest and the addition of an "old timers" showmanship class in the livestock show.

A hiking and camping weekend is tentatively scheduled for mid-August for Tolland County 4-H'ers. Included in the outing will be a bike trip to a campsite, camping overnight, and a return bike trip home.

Specific plans will be made in July and early August. In addition to the planning meetings there will be some short camping workshops for those who want to attend.

Any teen who would like to help plan or go on the outing should contact Fred Dorfman, program supervisor, at the Tolland County 4-H Office, Rt. 30, Vernon. Telephone 875-3331.

Pupils Hear Talk On Growing Nuts

Nancy Drinkuth, Correspondent, T-228-3970

Pupils in Mrs. Man'Warren's 4th grade at the Hebron Elementary School were visited recently by Stanley Kohanski, member of the Connecticut Nut Growers Association and the National Nut Growers Association.

Kohanski is retired and works at his hobby raising chestnut, black walnut and carpathian tree seedlings. He gives the seedlings away with complete instructions for planting, and each year over 600 scout students and adults received the free seedlings.

He told the students in Hebron that he grows several kinds of walnut and chestnut trees from seedlings taken from the money place—the cute little red bank building opposite Cumberland Farms in Hebron Center. Open daily 10:30 - 8:00; Thurs. nights 'til 10:00, 228-9471.

Parochial School Planned

Rev. Gurgel said the parish intends to seek state recognition after the first year of operation, and the standards of the school "will exceed those of the state."

Rev. Gurgel said 15 students have registered for the school in 1975 and they live in South Windsor, Manchester and Eastfield.

The purpose of the new school, said Rev. Gurgel, is to give students, academics "using a Christian approach."

"We feel regular education is doing fine in the academic areas, but regular education does not have an appointed goal to direct students," said Rev. Gurgel.

"We feel that where our Christian approach gives a child a sense of direction in using academics," he said.

Town Gets Another Grant For Memorial Building Job

VERNON

The Town of Vernon will receive an additional grant of $90,000 for renovation of the Memorial Building on Park Place. This will bring the total amount available for the project to $505,000.

Bids have gone out twice but both times came in much higher than the original amount available. The original grant from the Economic Development Administration was for $300,000 and the town gave $75,000 as its share.

Recently the Town Council voted to put in another $40,000 of town money if the EDA came fourth with the additional $90,000. Mayor Frank McCoy was informed in a telephone call from the Philadelphia office of EDA that the additional money will be forthcoming. He said as soon as he receives written confirmation the renovation program will get underway.

End the SHAME and TEARS OF BED WETTING

PACIFIC INTERNATIONAL HAS ENDED BEDWETTING FOR HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS IN THE PAST TWENTY YEARS

When children discover that a playmate wets his bed, the result can be merciless teasing and serious psychological problems.

The entire family can be effected. The cost and worry of taking care of a bedwetting child can cause friction and irritability among carers.

It is quite possible that your child will eventually outgrow bedwetting, but what happens until that time comes? Medical authorities have stated that a bedwetting child feels that he is a disgrace to his family. Statistics prove that a bedwetting child achieves below average ability in school. And the child is embarrassed and ashamed.

But, now, bedwetting when not caused by organic defect or disease, can be ended. Safely, permanently.

Our method is endorsed by many doctors. We treat your statements in our 16 page brochure, "Is There A Solution?" Also read what other people say who have had the same problem. Send this coupon for your free copy. No cost or obligation.

Read Yourself To Health

The Heart Association of Greater Hartford has set out to show Manchester, Tolland, Bolton, South Windsor, and Vernon residents that foods that taste good can also be good for you.

Complimentary copies of "The American Heart Cookbook" were sent to public libraries in each of these towns: Manchester Memorial and Rockville General Hospitals; Home Economics Department heads in all area high schools; Sykes Memorial Junior High and Vernon Center Middle School. Also receiving copies were the Manchester Public Health Nursing Association, Rockville Public Health Nursing Association, the Public Health Nursing Association of South Windsor, members of the Connecticut Dietetic Association living in these towns and consultant dietitians in area nursing homes.

The Heart Association Cookbook "is dedicated to the pleasure of eating well while eating right" according to the flyer. Recipes especially accent meals with a low cholesterol content.

Some 13,680 residents in the Manchester area suffer from some form of heart or blood vessel disease.

The cookbook can be preventive medicine that taste good. Among the exotic recipes are Beef Bourguignon, Cold Salmon Mousse (a special summer meal treat) Chicken Jambalaya and Lime Chiffon Pie. Also included are helpful cooking and shopping tips as well as a fast cholesterol chart. So get down to your local library and read yourself to health.

Cholesterol is a factor to heart disease. It is a waxy material which can be deposited on the artery wall.

This heavy build-up of cholesterol is called atherosclerosis, a factor which sets the stage for heart attack and stroke.

Last year 354 residents in these five towns died from cardiovascular (heart) disease according to statistics by the Connecticut Department of Health. This accounted for about 50 per cent of the deaths.

Woman's View

By GAY PAULEY UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK (UPI) — Ken Scott is a Midwesterner who introduced hot cornbread, cherry cobbler, apple brown betty and brownies to Italians.

He is the native of Ft. Wayne, Ind., who started as an artist and designed his way into a one-man business empire embracing fabric and ready-to-wear clothing and accessories for women and men. He has also been a shop owner, designer and manufacturer of home furnishings, restaurant operator and real estate man.

From his many years in fashion, he qualifies too as a forecaster. "Everything is changing," he said. "The house is becoming more important than what we put on our backs."

"Haute couture's been dying for several years. No more of those millions of yards of chiffon. Who's going to take care of all that? Services are gone."

"I think we're just beginning to feel the influence of what I call informal elegance," he said. "Clothes will have to encompass the whole scene."

Ft. Wayne to Milan Scott, whose business base for the last 18 years has been Milan, Italy, was in New York last week for the opening of his wholesale collection of clothes for resort and holiday.

In an interview, he traced his route from Ft. Wayne to Milan with a lot of other travel in between. "I'll go anywhere at the drop of a hat," and to his fashion trademark of the clear, sharp colors of floral prints.

"I'd rather have been a florist than anything else," said Scott. "I've always liked brilliant colors. I painted in Guatemala for a year and I think that influenced me most. The colors I saw stuck in my mind."

To this day, although he designs geometrics and other patterns, the flowered fabrics are his favorites.

Floral Prints "I suppose I've painted roses 50 million times," he said. "Women always come back to floral print. We keep track of our yardage each year ... the biggest usually is in the flowers."

Scott, a tall, sandy-haired man of 50 or so years, is one of several Indiana natives who made big names for themselves in fashion — Bill Blass and the late Norman Norell among them.

Scott studied art and illustration at the Parsons School of Design and the New School in New York and with the painter, Moses Sawyer, who had a New York studio.

As did many other artists, he decided to try Paris and Rome and ultimately bought an old farmhouse in Eze Village, in the south of France. Again the setting was flowers; southern France is the garden that supplies florists for most of Western Europe, he said. He also owns a house in Milan and recently acquired one in Cuernavaca, Mexico.

Once when he was broke, an Italian friend suggested that he do some fabric design. The results were a hit and it was not long until Scott was making good money with fabrics for Dior and other Paris couture houses.

When he decided to go into business for himself, he elected Milan "because it's the center of Italy's textile industry."

Inevitably he branched from fabric design to creating clothes and coordinated accessories.

Today, there is the factory which employs 200 people, there are the shops which sell his fashions and fabrics for the home including linens, his wholesale collections, coming soon his tie designs, and also in operation two restaurants in Milan.

Scott said he went into the restaurant business probably because his mother was an excellent cook who taught him. The restaurants offer an international cuisine including American classics as cornbread, herb bread, cherry cobbler, apple brown betty, lemon meringue pie, devil's food cake and brownies.

"I tried to introduce chili," said Scott, "but it didn't go over. I taught two Italian women to make the American dishes. I never go back to Milan without a whole batch of cookbooks."

Teen-Age Boys Nabbed After Break Into Club

MANCHESTER
Three teen-age boys broke into the Army & Navy Club at 1060 Main St. early this morning and stole 35 quarts of liquor.

Most of the stolen goods are still missing. Trojillo was to appear in Circuit Court 12 today in Manchester.

Two have been referred to juvenile authorities. The third, Rafael Trojillo, 16, of 70 Chestnut St., charged with third-degree burglary and third-degree larceny in connection with the break and second-degree larceny in connection with the theft of a motor vehicle.

About 4:05 a.m., strange noises were reported in the area of St. Mary's Church. Police searched the area finding two teen-age boys.

They were questioned, searched and sent home, police said.

A short while later, a patrolman noticed an open door at the club. After an investigation by the Detective Bureau, the three youths were picked up.

Thomas R. Mahoney, 23, of 76 Walnut St. was arrested Saturday on a Circuit Court 12 warrant charging him with operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor, reckless driving, and failure to obey a stop sign.

A total of $870 in cash, jewelry and a color TV were reported missing from the home of Robert Sattin of 77A Downey Dr. after a break sometime between 7 p.m. and midnight Friday.

Vandalism broke 15 windows and ripped three screens at the Bentley School on Hollister St. Police discovered the damage Sunday morning.

Francis Gaghan, 33, of 80 E. Center St. was charged Sunday night with driving while license suspended and driving a motor vehicle while the registration is suspended.

A man reportedly drove a car directly at George Bonetti, manager of Shoe Town in the Path Mark Shopping Plaza, Friday at 8 p.m. with the apparent intent to hit him.

Bonetti leaped out of the way each time, the second time he was hit on the face with the car's radio antenna. Police are investigating.

Wise Impressive as Red Sox Blank Indians

BOSTON (UPI) — Rick Wise, who has been troubled with the first arm trouble of his career, felt he had something to make up for and he went a long way toward doing it.

Wise, pitching for the first time in almost a month after breaking his finger in a freak home accident, went five innings and combined with Dick Darg in shutting out the Cleveland Indians, 8-0, Sunday.

Wise, who is 26, was the kind of ball club where everybody's picking each other up. I haven't felt like I've been contributing," said Wise, whose arm troubles began in spring training.

The 6-2, 200-pounder, who was acquired from the St. Louis Cardinals in an off season trade, was hampered by tender muscles in his pitching shoulder and neck early in the season.

Wise's wife accidentally closed a door on his finger, putting him on the disabled list. Manager Darrell Johnson was pleased with Wise's performance.

"The most amazing thing was his control. That's usually the first thing that goes on a pitcher," said Johnson, whose team took two to a row from the Indians after getting smacked 11-0 in the first game of a doubleheader Saturday.

"He was putting them out and in real well. He pitched better than I expected," said Johnson.

"I didn't feel too good. I was stiffening up liming by ining and I was getting weaker and weaker. We talked about it before the game and I was only going to go five innings any way," said Wise, who will be on the mound again Friday when the Red Sox visit Cleveland for a return series.

"I'm encouraged to be on the mound. But I don't like pitching this way. It's not me. I've been averaging about 20 innings a year and I'm not used to sitting around," he said.

Johnson said Roger Moret, who has spent most of his time in the bullpen this season, will join the team's starting rotation.

"Moret is going to be in our starting rotation," said Johnson. "But I'm not going to say what day, it will depend."

Moret pitched four innings of scoreless ball in the Red Sox 8-3 win in the nightcap Saturday, striking out two.

Moret will pitch against Kevin Kobl, 3-6 Wednesday in the last of a three game series with the Milwaukee Brewers. Luis Tiant, 9-6, was scheduled to take on Jim Colburn, 3-1 tonight in the opening game of the series. Bill Lee, 1-1 goes against Ed Sprague, 3-1, Tuesday.

May and McDaniel Make Most of Chance

NEW YORK (UPI) — Rudy May and Lindy McDaniel, two pitchers given an opportunity because of the misfortunes of others, believe in making the most of a big chance.

May, a 26-year-old left-hander who has had only one winning season in five years in the major leagues, made his debut with the New York Yankees Sunday because of an injury to Mel Stottlemyre and responded with a four-hit-inning pitching his new club to a 4-1 triumph over the Detroit Tigers.

The 38-year-old McDaniel, acquired in the off-season by Kansas City from the Yankees, made a rare starting appearance because Nelson Briles still is not ready to return to the starting rotation and responded with a three-hitter in leading the Royals to a 4-1 victory over the Oakland A's.

May, acquired from the California Angels on June 15, had been used primarily in relief by California manager Bobby Valentine and it was somewhat surprising that he had enough stamina to complete the game which was delayed one hour at the start and hampered by a steady rain throughout.

The rain was so bad, in fact, that the second game of the scheduled doubleheader was postponed.

May, though, attributed his success to just putting on the Yankee uniform.

"When things are happening to me, they play on me psychologically," he said. "He (Winkles) just didn't have any confidence in me and so I lost it in myself. I hadn't been pitching well. I feel fine and there's nothing wrong with my arm so it must be in my head."

"There's no way I'm going to be throwing the ball as badly here as I was in California. I feel great being here in New York and this was a big game for me. I have to prove it to myself and the ballclub. I want to show (manager Bill) Virdon I can pitch. I know I can pitch in the major leagues and I want to. This is a helluva ballclub and I think they got a chance to win."

May's performance earned him a place in the starting rotation at least until Stottlemyre returns to action, which may not be for quite some time. The Yankees have sent their ace right-hander to California to confer with noted orthopedist, Dr. Robert Kerlan. Stottlemyre has a tendon problem in his right shoulder.

McDaniel, who has been primarily a relief pitcher in his 20-year career, also may have earned himself a starting berth because of his fine effort, and that suits Lindy just fine.

"I would rather be a starter than a reliever because there is not as much pressure on you," said McDaniel. "You get more of a chance to find yourself, more time to prepare. But because of my age it would take a lot of courage on the part of any manager to put me in the regular rotation."

Royals' manager Jack McKeon may decide to keep McDaniel as his fifth starter, at least until Briles is fully recovered. Briles, who has been out of most of the season with knee problems, is due back this week and will be given a starting assignment against Oakland. If he works out, McDaniel will go back to the bullpen as the long man.

In other American League games, Boston blanked Cleveland 8-0, Milwaukee routed Baltimore 4-1, California topped Texas 10-2 and Chicago defeated Minnesota 2-1, their last 4-3.

Brewers 9, Orioles 4
Darrell Porter hit a grand slam homer and Don Money added a solo shot to power the Brewers over the Orioles. Clyde Wright went 8-13 innings despite allowing 14 hits to get his first win since May 25. Dave McNally was shelved for 10 hits and seven runs in 1-3 innings and took his sixth loss.

Angels 10, Rangers 4
Stan Bahnsen tossed a four-hitter and pitched the White Sox to victory in the opener. Carlos May, who had three hits on a wild pitch by loser Joe Decker. Minnesota tied the score in the eighth on Bob Darwin's three-run homer in the sixth then won the game in the seventh on a triple by Danny Thompson and a single by Steve Brye.

Relief Ace Cops All Three Games

Marshall Winner In Weekend Sweep

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mike Marshall, who sometimes talks in riddles, says he can keep pitching at his current pace and the bad news comes through loud and clear for the Los Angeles Dodgers' rivals.

The 31-year-old reliever completed perhaps the most sensational weekend of his career Sunday when he was the winning pitcher in the Dodgers' series-sweeping 4-3 victory over the San Francisco Giants.

The winning pitching in all three weekend triumphs over the Giants, during which he pitched seven shutout innings, Marshall has relieved in 45 of the Dodgers' 79 games and has a 7-3 record to go with a 2.28 earned run average. At the moment he is a strong candidate for the National League's Cy Young Award and Most Valuable Player Award — provided his arm doesn't fall off by August 1, of course.

"There's no chance of that," says Marshall, who says kinesiology is the reason for the effectiveness of his screwball. "I've never had a sore arm and I never will have one. The secret is training and the secret to training is specificity."

No wonder rival hitters can't handle his pitching; they can't even understand what he's talking about. The secret is training and the secret to training is specificity."

Roger Nelson went seven innings and won his fourth game with relief help from Clay Carroll. The Reds won the second game when Tony Perez led off the 12th inning with his 12th homer, giving reliever Pedro Borbon his sixth win.

Cubs 7, Pirates 3
Bill Madlock, who doubled home the tying run in the sixth inning, triggered a four-run eighth-inning outburst with a single as the Cubs' Bill Bonham scored his fifth triumph. The Cubs scored five unearned runs with the help of errors by Frank Taveras and Rene Stengels and death reliever Dave Giusti hit third setback.

Newcombe Favored In Wimbledon Play

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI) — Even some of the opposition conceded top seeded John Newcombe would probably win the men's singles of the $23,400 Wimbledon Tennis Championships opening today and the handsomely seeded Jimmy Connors of Belleville, Ill., and fourth-seeded Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., will be ready.

Nastase is 4-1 in the betting, Smith 9-2. Borg 7-1 and Connors 14-1. Smith moved up sharply when he won the $16,800 first prize in the John Player Tournament Saturday and reported that, although tired, he was optimistic.

In opening matches in pursuit of the $24,000 first prize, Newcombe meets Georges Goven of France, Nastase plays Jiri Hrebec of Czechoslovakia, Borg opposes Graham Stihlwall of Britain, Smith battles Grover Reid of Greenville, S.C., and Connors faces Ove Bengtsson of Sweden. Smith and Connors are co-ranked number one in the United States.

Camp Opens for 11th Year

By SOL R. COHEN
It was exactly 10 years ago this week when Manchester's Camp Kennedy opened on a hopeful note, with nobody sure it would last out the season — let alone open again the following year.

Today, about 600 campers and 300 volunteer counselors later, it opened for its 11th consecutive year. Town officials are confident it will open again next year, and the year after, and the year after that, for as long as there are dedicated teenage volunteers and as long as there are mentally retarded youngsters who need a summer in the outdoors.

The camp's motto 10 years ago was, "Service is the Price You Pay for Space Upon This Earth." It's still its motto.

The camp opened today with about 30 campers and 40 volunteers in attendance. It will operate for three sessions of two weeks each — closing Aug.

About Town

Roger Ouellette of 25 Willard Rd. recently was re-elected for his second term as president of the Catholic Graduate Club of the Greater Hartford and was honored at a formal reception at the Carleton Room of Hotel Seneca, Hartford. He is a special education teacher in the Vernon school system.

NO OTHER WAGON HAS ALL THIS, OR IS LIKELY TO. NOT FOR YEARS.

Volkswagen calls it the perfect station wagon for its time. Dasher is powerful and gets about 25 miles to the gallon. It's small enough to be a cinch to park, but big enough to come with 5 doors and a special rear suspension for taking heavy loads. Along with a low loading platform so no muscle is required for loading groceries, bicycles, etc. Dasher has front-wheel drive that does some nifty road-holding, wet roads and dry. And it needs maintenance only once in 10,000 miles. If the Dasher wagon sounds ahead of its time, you're right. It is. But it's at your nearest Volkswagen dealer now.

Rham High School Bomb Damage

Troopers of the Colchester Barracks of the State Police Emergency Service Division (Bomb Squad) search for clues in hallway of Rham High School where an explosive device went off in the ceiling early today. The device was timed and another device was found and disarmed. One student, Kevin Dunn, 17, of Hebron, was injured but was released after treatment at a hospital. (Herald photo by Pinto)

Explosive Device Bursts At Rham High School

Without warning of any kind, an explosive device went off in the corridor of Rham High School in Hebron at about 9:45 a.m. injuring one student.

Kevin Dunn, 17, of Hebron was taken to Windham Memorial Hospital in Williamstown where he was treated and released.

There were about 300 students in the building at the time and all were evacuated and sent home. Hebron volunteer firemen were called to assist State Police and school officials this morning in searching the large building which is off Rt. 85 near Rt. 66 in the center of Hebron.

A second "dangerous device" was found and rendered harmless by the State Police special bomb squad with their special equipment called to the scene.

Nixon Seeks End To War Danger

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon headed today for his third Summit meeting in a little over two years with Soviet leaders, expressing hope his new "journey for peace" would help avoid a runaway arms race and a danger of world war.

Nixon flew first to Brussels for meetings with some of the top leaders of NATO countries — with the aim of giving "new purpose and direction" to the alliance — before going to Moscow Thursday.

In a brief departure ceremony at Andrews Air Force Base, just outside Washington, Nixon said that "as we take off on another journey for peace," his aim at the Moscow Summit was threefold:

Three Aims

— "First, we expect to strengthen the relations between the two of the strongest nations in the world.

— "Second, we hope to develop areas of cooperation to displace confrontation in other critical areas of the world that might be those places where conflict could develop between the two great powers.

— "And third, we hope to make more progress on a goal that we began to achieve and move forward toward in 1972 of limiting both the burden and also the threat of nuclear arms over our two nations and over the world generally."

New Debate Erupts On Nuclear Pact

WASHINGTON (UPI) — As President Nixon headed for Moscow summit talks to seek more progress on nuclear arms control, a sudden debate flared at home concerning "rather startling" information that the May 28, 1972, U.S.-Soviet agreement limiting offensive missiles had been secretly reinterpreted to give the Russians more missiles and the United States less — without telling Congress.

On Monday, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger held a 70-minute news conference mostly devoted to Jackson's charges, which Kissinger called "false in every detail."

He said he said that a secret agreement allowed the Russians to replace 70 missiles above his elderly, disempowered G-class submarines, which he said would allow them a total of 1,020 submarine-launched missiles instead of the 550 publicly announced on President Nixon's last visit to Moscow in 1972.

Jackson at one point declared he would publicly release classified information today to prove his allegations. But later he said he would not release any information until he had more hearings on the subject until Nixon and Kissinger, who is accompanying him on the trip, get back to town, in order not to disrupt the new Moscow summit.

Representatives of the Soviet and Belgian embassies saw Nixon off at Andrews Air Force Base, Md., just outside Washington, as he, his wife and a high-level delegation led by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger left for Brussels. He goes on to Moscow Thursday.

Sea Law Action Hinges On Procedural Decision

CARACAS (UPI) — Delegates to an international conference on maritime law are on the verge of settling the procedural dispute that has so far blocked significant action, the head of the Australian delegation said today.

"We're getting quite close to a solution on the voting issue," Australian delegation leader R.L. Harry said. "We could arrive at a solution by noon time."

The 16-week session of the third United Nations law of the sea conference, which opened last Thursday, has been unable to start drafting the new international code for the oceans because of a dispute about how voting should be carried out.

Adler Awarded Illing, Bennet School Projects

Manchester contracts will be awarded Ray Adler Inc. of Ridgefield for renovations and additions to Bennet and Illing Junior High Schools.

Town Manager Robert Weiss said today he is accepting the recommendations of the Town Building Committee (TBC) and will set a time and place for signing the contracts.

The Ridgefield company was low bidder June 10 for the Bennet work and low bidder June 18 for the Illing work. Its base price is $2,215,310 for Bennet and $2,465,000 for Illing. Three contractors submitted bids for Bennet and nine for Illing.

TBC chairman Paul Phillips said his agency is reviewing the several alternate bids accompanying the base bids and will have recommendations in about 45 days.

In a townwide referendum last November, Manchester voters approved a $5.8 million bond issue for the renovations and additions — $2,719,000 for Bennet and $2,881,000 for Illing.

Phillips said the Adler bids are favorable and leave room for architects' fees and contingencies.

Florida Law Affecting Press Ruled Invalid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court today unanimously struck down a Florida law granting political candidates the right to free reply space in newspapers in which they are criticized.

Mississippi is the only other state with such a law but it was believed other states might enact one if Florida's had been found valid. Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has suggested Congress consider a federal right-to-reply law. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, writing for the Court, said "Compelling editors or publishers to publish that which 'reason tells them should not be published' is what is at issue in this case."

Killers of U.S. Diplomats Given Virtual Freedom

CAIRO (UPI) — Eight Palestinian guerrillas whose life sentences for murdering two American diplomats and a Belgian envoy were commuted to virtual freedom arrived in Cairo early today, the semiofficial Middle East News Agency said.

Sudanese President Jaafar Numeiry commuted a court decision Monday and ordered the eight Black September guerrillas from the Sudan to the custody of the Palestine Liberation Organization.

Virtually freed

The Middle East News Agency said the terrorists arrived "at an early hour" aboard a special plane. Arab diplomatic sources said the commandos were in effect given freedom by Numeiry's decision and were probably handed over to PLO officials in Cairo.

The guerrillas were tried for killing the three diplomats during a siege at the Saudi Arabian embassy in March, 1973. The attack and trial caused a major controversy in the Arab world.

Police, Soldiers Nab IRA Suspects

BELFAST (UPI) — Police and soldiers raided dozens of homes in West Belfast early today and arrested about 50 Irish Republican Army suspects, security sources said.

Some of those picked up in the sweeps in Andersonstown, Falls Road and the Turf Lodge districts were women, they said.

The senior class graduation ceremonies were launched in response to an accumulation of intelligence reports.

An IRA Provisional spokesman warned of new bombing attacks and a previously unknown extremist Protestant group threatened bomb-for-bomb retaliation in the Irish Republic.

MHA to Inspect Sites For Housing Project

The Manchester Housing Authority, the Board of Directors and all other agencies interested in finding a site for 40 units of housing for the elderly will assemble at 7 tonight on Brainard Rd.

They will view a 0.75 acre parcel owned by Alexander Jarvis and then will move on to Center Springs Park, to view a town-owned parcel near Lodge Dr., where an old parking lot stood.

Top Choices

The two parcels are the top choices for the 40 units.

Following the inspections, the directors will conduct a meeting with the Planning and Zoning Commission — in the Municipal Building Hearing Room. The session is for reviewing the problems of the Sewage Treatment Plant and the solutions being advanced.

Squire Village Request

A third item to be discussed tonight concerns a request Town Manager Robert Weiss has received from the residents of the Squire Village complex on Spencer St.

The request is for a summer recreation program for the estimated 400 children of the Squire Village — to be similar to town programs in the playgrounds. The complex has its own facilities for whatever program is provided.

Walk-A-Thon Prize Winners

Winners in the United Cerebral Palsy Walk-A-Thon held June 5 receive their prizes from Edward Prenaeta, program director of the walk, as he hands a stereo component set to Terri Johnston, the participant who brought in the most money. Miss Johnston, a student at Manchester High School, raised $568 of the total $28,000 pledged. Warren Zaccaro of East Catholic High School and Cheryl Wilhelm of Illing Junior High School, each won a ten-speed bicycle. The bike winners were selected in a drawing in which all Walk-A-Thon participants were eligible.

District Has Many Candidates

The Fourth Senatorial District has eight towns — and five of them have a candidate for the Democratic State Central Committee.

Manchester delegates to the July 19-20 Democratic State Convention are from Windsor, hometown John Sullivan, a Hartford County deputy sheriff, for state central committee.

Other candidates for that post are James Testa of East Windsor, the incumbent, and Alvah Phillips, chairman of the Coventry town committee.

Testa was state central committee member from the Third Senatorial District before redistricting. He automatically became Fourth District committee member when East Windsor was placed in that district.

The candidates for state central committee are Myrtle Odum of South Windsor, the incumbent, and Estelle Flanagan of Glastonbury, who was defeated in 1972 in a try for state senator. Mrs. Odum represented the Third District before redistricting placed her town in the Fourth District.

The other three towns of the eight-town Fourth District are Bolton, Andover and Hebron.
