Water Company Allocation Approved

By SOL R. COHEN
Herald Reporter

Assured by Town Manager Robert Weiss the town will assume ownership of the Manchester Water Co. around Sept. 1, the Board of Directors Tuesday night approved a $30,000 allocation for expenses incurred by the company since June 10, the option date. The sum is for inventory and improvements made subsequent to an agreement to purchase. Payment for the subsequent expenses was agreed to by the two parties. The vote for the allocation was 8 to 0, with Matt Moriarty Jr. abstaining. He owns stock in the Manchester Water Co. Purchase of the water company was authorized last November, in a townwide referendum. The state Public Utilities Commission will conduct a public hearing Wednesday on the proposed sale. The hearing is a state requirement. Also Tuesday night, the board approved: A $50,000 appropriation for the school system's Vocational Educational Program, to be financed by a federal grant; A $14,000 appropriation for the police department's Highway Safety Patrol, to be financed by a state grant; A $3,950 claim settlement for Wilfred H. LaBelle, 29, of 94 Spruce St. LaBelle incurred injuries Feb. 8, 1971 in a fall at Pukin and E. Center Sts. He sued the town for $100,000. The settlement was recommended by Assistant Town Counsel Victor Moses. A $1,000 allocation for the town's share of the cost of a traffic signal at Spencer St. and Hilltown Rd. The vote was 8 to 0.

Sailors Catch Big White Shark

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sailors on an oil boat Wednesday harpooned a great white shark weighing 2,400 pounds, reportedly the largest of the monster predators ever captured. The shark, 15 feet 2 inches long, was caught after three hours of about 10 miles off the coast of Southern California just north of Los Angeles. It was the third capture of a large great white shark in Southern California waters in the past two weeks. Marineland, an aquatic amusement park, said it was negotiating with the boat's owner, the Lermer Oil Co., for rights to display the shark. Marineland said its biologists were told by the curator of the Los Angeles County Museum, Sheldon Applegate, that the shark was bigger than any of its species in the scientific record books. Ted Sharp, 26, of Long Beach, Calif., a crewman on the 40-foot boat Procola, harpooned the shark after it was spotted by the curator of the Los Angeles County Museum. Marineland said it hoped to have the shark on display within a week. See World, a similar park in San Diego, bought and put on display a 1,400-pound great white shark caught by the crew of a commercial fishing boat off Catalina Island last week. It is attracting large crowds. Producer Bill Sargent said Wednesday he will bring the musical "Ciao Rudy," now playing Rome with Marcello Mastroianni in the lead, to the United States early next year.

Manchester Evening Herald OPINION Family Reunion Day

We often hear people decrying the sad state of families today. If juvenile crime, moral laxity, drugs and divorce rates are the measure of family solidarity and parental leadership, the critics have a reason for concern.

Fortunately, someone is trying to do something about it by calling national attention to the family unit as the keystone of our whole society.

The observance of Family Reunion Day was first held eight years ago following a Family Reunion Day proclamation by President Johnson.

family. It is an occasion to telephone family members in other areas of the country. It is an opportunity to renew family ties and to review family history.

Families, historically, have been the basic unit of our society. It is the family which sets standards for youngsters — ideas such as honesty, integrity, self-reliance and religious faith are first learned in the family circle.

It follows that strong families are the keystone of a healthy nation. They determine the moral level for the conduct of life for both private and public action.

Strong families hold the key for reducing crime, lower divorce rates, control of drug abuse and violence and many of our other serious social ills.

Reaffirm your faith in the strength of the family on this unique holiday. Make Sunday, Aug. 10, your Family Reunion Day.

The second paragraph of the Declaration of Independence starts with these words: "We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal."

people who are created equal have a chance to see whether or not we as individuals or as a body politic are securing these rights for each other.

I, as an American, must review my duties, my responsibilities to my fellow citizens, and my obligations to all others.

And yet they are all equal because the sentence of the paragraph continues: "That they are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights."

Supreme Court Review

Congressional Quarterly WASHINGTON — One might conclude from reviewing its recent decisions that Richard Nixon had been successful in reshaping the Supreme Court so that it interpreted the law but did not try to rewrite it.

"It is not for us to invade the legislature's province," wrote Justice Byron R. White in a decision limiting the power of federal judges. "Our role is to interpret statutory language, not to revise it," concluded Justices Potter Stewart and Thurgood Marshall in another case.

But like most presidential efforts to remold the court, this one has had unexpected consequences.

Although the court is clearly less activist than during the 1960s, it does not hesitate to wield its power within the confines of its newly defined role. By applying the same literal eye to the guarantees of the Constitution and the language of the laws, the justices found themselves as often on the side of the underdog as on the side of big government or big business.

Four Justices During its 1974-75 term, four of the court's members spoke out for the majority most often on matters of significance. They were White and Stewart, the most conservative of the justices remaining from the days of the Warren Court, plus Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Lewis F. Powell Jr.

The difficulty in labeling the present court as liberal or conservative is illustrated by some of their major opinions during the term.

The Pragmatist White's approach to cases was often a literal one, which tended to narrow the impact of the resulting decision. One example was the court's long-awaited impoundment ruling. Basing it closely on the 1972 water pollution law at issue, White concluded for the court that in that law Congress left the President no leeway to refuse to spend the funds it allocated. The issue of impoundment of other funds was left unresolved.

ELDER WITT

Later, White spoke for the court to limit the discretion of federal judges — and the flow of public interest lawsuits. At issue was an award of attorneys' fees to the environmentalists who had challenged the Alaska pipeline, an award assessed against the consortium building the pipeline. White held that unless Congress specifically authorized such awards judges could not make them. This ruling halted a trend toward an increasing number of awards in such cases.

But this literalism was tempered by an awareness that the law changes with changing times. In a ruling hailed by women's groups, White reversed a 1961 decision based on the theory that a woman's place is strictly in the home, and not — for example — on a jury.

"If it ever were the case that women were unqualified to sit on juries," he wrote, "that time has long since passed."

A similar consciousness characterized the rulings which White wrote for the court to establish the rights of students both to challenge charges against them which might result in suspension and to sue school officials for violating their constitutional rights.

The Individual Concern for the impact of the law on the individual was reflected in three of Stewart's most important opinions during the term. Spelling out the right of non-dangerous mental patients to their freedom, he was definite: "A finding of 'mental illness' alone cannot justify a state's locking a person up against his will and keeping him indefinitely in simple custodial confinement."

With similar reasoning, he spoke for the court when it held that a person had a constitutional right to act as his own lawyer.

Nonlawyers Who Lay Down the Law

FAIRCHANCE, Pa. — As the only judge in town, James Hare says he scrupulously tries to administer justice according to the dictates of the community name.

And his record indicates success. In 15 years as Justice of the Peace he has never had a threat on the beam, never been accused of corruption, and has rendered only three verdicts overturned by higher courts. Still, he has critics. "Judge," they tell him as they are being led off to the slammer, "I thought the name of this place was Fairchance."

In addition to those under 90 days in jail, Jim Hare has more impassioned detractors. He is one of thousands of non-lawyer judges in America who are coming into increasing condemnation by forces opposed to layman justice. Worried about the capacity of nonlawyers to pass correct judgments on complex legal matters, civil rights have brought law suits to challenge the constitutional correctness of nonlawyer judges. In some states citizens are preparing to vote on the issue.

Pennsylvania has not yet reached the lawsuit or ballot level of protest. Those tests currently are confined to four states in the South and New York. But the issue and when it made back pay awards virtually mandatory in job discrimination suits. In the latter case, Stewart flatly rejected one of employers' chief defenses against charges of discrimination — the argument that they acted in "good faith."

"A worker's injury is no less real," commented Stewart, "simply because his employer did not inflict it in bad faith."

But in other opinions, a deference to congressional intent and constitutional language overrode this concern for the impact which a particular ruling might have on the individual. Stewart did not hesitate to uphold congressional policy favoring women Naval officers over men, or to strike down a state law which would have provided remedial and supplemental services to students in nonpublic schools.

Careful Conservative The importance of preserving "the proper — and properly limited — role of the courts in a democratic society" was the basis for one of the court's most controversial rulings during the term, written by Powell.

A divided court dismissed a case challenging a town's zoning ordinance as unfairly exclusionary. The five-man majority for whom Powell wrote the decision found that the plaintiffs had not argued convincingly enough that they actually were affected by the ordinance. Without such a showing, wrote Powell, federal courts would overstep their authority if they got involved.

Yet Powell was not timid in majority exercise of authority by other segments of government. He was emphatic in majority opinions extending the protection of the Fourth Amendment against unreasonable

ALMANAC

By United Press International Today is Thursday, Aug. 7, the 219th day of 1975 with 146 to follow. The moon is new.

The morning stars are Mars, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening stars are Mercury and Venus.

Those born on this date are under the sign of Leo.

Black American leader Ralph Bunche was born Aug. 7, 1904.

On this day in history: In 1942, U.S. Marines launched America's first offensive in World War II by landing on Guadalcanal in the Pacific.

For his own part, Hare says the only bribes he gets are nonconspiratorial and after the fact — bottles of whiskey or slices of watermelon left at his door by anonymous defendants happy with their verdicts. Other than that the judge receives $12,000 annual salary, a secretary and a small office in the basement of the Fairchance dental clinic. "You don't get rich," he says, thereby offering his chief defense to those who would have lawyers on every bench.

"I'm in my office every day, five days a week waiting for cases. Every four or five weeks I go on 24-hour call. What I'm saying is that I'm as dedicated to justice as any man can be. But where are you going to find lawyers willing to spend as much time on this job? They make — what, $15-$25-$30,000 a year? — so they're not about to give their all for the pleasure of coming down here and bearing some drunk plead 'I don't know' to running a red light."

By and large Hare's decisions are not momentous in nature. While there are some nonlawyers in America who sit in judgment of serious criminal cases (a few nonlawyers serve on state supreme courts, for example), Hare's responsibilities are minimal. As a J.P., he is more modernly called District Justice, Hare hears "all those little damn cases nobody else wants," traffic violations, minor family disputes, zoning violations.

Nevertheless, he adds, "We do have power here, almost unlimited power in some cases. We can dismiss actions, we can stop proceedings from getting more serious. No doubt about it, if a guy wanted to be corrupt in this job, he could. Whether he's a lawyer or nonlawyer, I might add."

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Aug. 7 — Authorities deemed James Christie "an enemy of America." He was ordered to deposit 100 pounds sterling to be spent as his "proportion of all charges and expenses incurred, for the defense of America during the present contest with Great Britain."

The Separatist Defiance to the powers of Congress and the President characterized two of the Chief Justice's major opinions during the term.

In determining the legitimacy of a congressional act we do not look to the motives alleged to have prompted it," he wrote, upholding the power of a congressional committee to subpoena information, including bank records.

Declining to place any restrictions on the President's power of pardon, Burger was similarly adamant. This power "cannot be modified, abridged or diminished by the Congress," he wrote.

Burger, chosen as chief justice for his "hard line" on matters of criminal law, chose to apply the law strictly to what collar crime during the term. Upholding the conviction of a supermarket executive for violations of federal food and drug law, Burger rejected the executive's claim that he should not be convicted without evidence that he actually knew of the conditions which were the basis of the charge.

It was sufficient, wrote Burger, that the executive had the authority to prevent the violation. This was a stiff standard, he conceded, but "no more stringent than the public had a right to expect."

And looking to congressional intent in the antitrust laws, Burger wrote the opinion stripping from the legal profession its immunity to antitrust charges. Finding its minimum fee schedules no more than price-fixing, Burger held that they were clearly a violation of the law.

Ball Field Funds Backed But Sent to Town Meeting

ANDOVER Donna Holland 646-0375

The Board of Finance is sending the issue of funds for a ball field off to Long Hill Rd. to a Town Meeting.

Wednesday night it approved recommending to the Town Meeting that $500 be allocated for detail plans for the field.

Recreation Commission members present were disappointed they had hoped the finance board would allocate the funds Wednesday night.

David Yeomans, first selectman, said a Town Meeting probably would not be called until October unless there was a petition for one. 21 signatures on a petition could force selectmen to call a meeting.

The funds are needed for the second phase of an engineering study that would show an overall plan for the complete development of property on Long Hill Rd. The proposed use is as a recreation field.

The first phase of the project was recently completed by Stanley Szeszowski and Associates of Rockville. It was a topographical survey of the area. The second phase could be completed in three weeks.

The finance board requested a complete breakdown of both phases of the project.

Julie Haveril, commission member, said she submitted the when the initial request for funds was made in June. It couldn't be found.

Valdis Vinkels, finance board member, said he supported the appropriation because it would allow the finance board argue the recreation commission didn't have plans.

He asked, "How they were supposed to get plans without money?"

The first vote to immediately appropriate the necessary funds was defeated 3 to 3 with Vinkels and Charles Phillips supporting it and John Yeomans, Robert Little and Richard Robinson opposing.

A second vote to recommend the appropriation at a Town Meeting was approved 3 to 3 with Hohlmann and Little opposing.

Susan Losee, commission member, said, "Congratulations fellas, now no one can play on the field until the spring of 1977."

Summarizing the situation for the people of Andover, Mrs. Losee said, "In February of each year all boards and commissions must present a budget to the finance board. The recreation commission requested $250 because it didn't know the town owned the Long Hill Rd. property.

"The deed hadn't been filed. When it was, the commission requested $1,400 of which $400 was for preliminary engineering work, $600 for completion of plans and $400 for site clearing."

"The commission also requested their request be brought to the annual budget meeting in May."

"If the town so approved the commission wanted the funds before the close of the 1974-1975 fiscal year because it forecast the time element."

"If the commission had received the money the proposed field would have been completed this month."

"Our request was denied. Late in May we asked to meet with the finance board but John Yeomans said we must make the request through the selectmen who, in turn, would request the board to meet."

"That was done and in June David Yeomans told the recreation commission it could meet with the finance board."

"We requested $1,400 from surplus but the finance board said no. It said we could have $500 from the 1975-1976 contingency fund to do preliminary work."

"We were told to come back with our plan and appeal for the remainder of the money."

"That brings us to tonight. Even if we petitioned for a special Town Meeting it would be next spring before construction could begin."

"We've gone to the finance board three times since March and every time they've prevented us from making any progress to the extent that it will be impossible to play on the field until the spring of 1977."

"If the finance board had done as we originally requested, with the backing of townpeople, we could have gone touring ahead and now it would have been completed by now."

"I'm in my office every day, five days a week waiting for cases. Every four or five weeks I go on 24-hour call. What I'm saying is that I'm as dedicated to justice as any man can be. But where are you going to find lawyers willing to spend as much time on this job? They make — what, $15-$25-$30,000 a year? — so they're not about to give their all for the pleasure of coming down here and bearing some drunk plead 'I don't know' to running a red light."

Computer Will Select Jurors

VERNON Starting this fall, a pilot jury selection program will be instituted for the Toland County Superior Court. The program will select jurors via computer.

Jurors are now selected manually. The pilot program will be accomplished through funding under a $40,000 Federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA) grant.

When the new court year starts in September, the computer will select the panels and send out summonses to the prospective jurors.

Thomas Hickey, state jury administrator, said the new process will not only eliminate some of the manual work in the selection process but will also help to maintain a ready jury pool, assure a good cross-section of jurors, and perhaps decrease the number of jurists which must be summoned by the courts.

Presently the names of prospective jurors are taken from voter registration rolls of the 11 Toland County towns, then sent to the court clerk's office where they are manually gone over and questionnaires prepared.

Of the names submitted from the towns, the list is narrowed to 1,600 and the prospective jurors are selected by pulling names out of a box.

Under the proposed program, the computer will take the names submitted by the towns, send out questionnaires, and when they are returned will optically scan the responses. These will then be divided into qualified, unqualified and exempt status. The jury commission will then prepare the final list to be fed into the computer for use during the year.

Presently jury selection forms and procedures vary in the different counties in the state. If the Toland County pilot program proves successful, it will be expanded into other county courts to standardize the system.

Ball Field Funds Backed But Sent to Town Meeting

ANDOVER Donna Holland 646-0375

The Board of Finance is sending the issue of funds for a ball field off to Long Hill Rd. to a Town Meeting.

Wednesday night it approved recommending to the Town Meeting that $500 be allocated for detail plans for the field.

Recreation Commission members present were disappointed they had hoped the finance board would allocate the funds Wednesday night.

David Yeomans, first selectman, said a Town Meeting probably would not be called until October unless there was a petition for one. 21 signatures on a petition could force selectmen to call a meeting.

The funds are needed for the second phase of an engineering study that would show an overall plan for the complete development of property on Long Hill Rd. The proposed use is as a recreation field.

The first phase of the project was recently completed by Stanley Szeszowski and Associates of Rockville. It was a topographical survey of the area. The second phase could be completed in three weeks.

The finance board requested a complete breakdown of both phases of the project.

Julie Haveril, commission member, said she submitted the when the initial request for funds was made in June. It couldn't be found.

Valdis Vinkels, finance board member, said he supported the appropriation because it would allow the finance board argue the recreation commission didn't have plans.

He asked, "How they were supposed to get plans without money?"

The first vote to immediately appropriate the necessary funds was defeated 3 to 3 with Vinkels and Charles Phillips supporting it and John Yeomans, Robert Little and Richard Robinson opposing.

A second vote to recommend the appropriation at a Town Meeting was approved 3 to 3 with Hohlmann and Little opposing.

Susan Losee, commission member, said, "Congratulations fellas, now no one can play on the field until the spring of 1977."

Summarizing the situation for the people of Andover, Mrs. Losee said, "In February of each year all boards and commissions must present a budget to the finance board. The recreation commission requested $250 because it didn't know the town owned the Long Hill Rd. property.

"The deed hadn't been filed. When it was, the commission requested $1,400 of which $400 was for preliminary engineering work, $600 for completion of plans and $400 for site clearing."

"The commission also requested their request be brought to the annual budget meeting in May."

"If the town so approved the commission wanted the funds before the close of the 1974-1975 fiscal year because it forecast the time element."

"If the commission had received the money the proposed field would have been completed this month."

"Our request was denied. Late in May we asked to meet with the finance board but John Yeomans said we must make the request through the selectmen who, in turn, would request the board to meet."

"That brings us to tonight. Even if we petitioned for a special Town Meeting it would be next spring before construction could begin."

"We've gone to the finance board three times since March and every time they've prevented us from making any progress to the extent that it will be impossible to play on the field until the spring of 1977."

"If the finance board had done as we originally requested, with the backing of townpeople, we could have gone touring ahead and now it would have been completed by now."

State Approves Plans For East School Work

VERNON
The Vernon Board of Education has given approval to a phased renovation program at the East School building which houses the system's administrative offices.

The school system's administrative and business offices are located on the first floor of the building and department supervisors are located on the second floor.

Future phases of the program will include rearranging office space, installation of air conditioners, and new lighting facilities.

Dr. Ramsdell said much of the work can be done by the school maintenance crew. The estimated cost of the entire project is $150,000.

A more extensive renovation plan, originally considered, would have cost some $600,000.

Langer told Dr. Ramsdell that he thinks about 85 to 90 percent of the project will be reimbursable by the state.

A proposal with three cost figures will be presented to the Board of Education at its Aug. 18 meeting. After its approval, the proposal will go to the Town Council for consideration of how the project will be funded.

1976 Sweeps Game
CONCORD, N.H. (UPI) — Gov. Meldrim Thomson and the Executive Council Wednesday approved $220,000 for a new 1976 Bicentennial sweepstakes game.

Sewer Issue Delayed

COVENTRY
Munisia Shea, 742-9495

The Town Council has tabled action on securing a facilities plan from town engineers Grunwald and Fuss for the installation of sewers in the lake area.

The matter was tabled because two of the councilmen, Jesse Brainard and Henry Grabowski, did not attend the meeting Monday and two other councilmen, Robert Keller and William Schmidt, thought it was unfair to act on the motion without all councilmen present.

The facilities plan is the first step toward the grant application for federal funding for the proposed sewer.

It had been the council's intention to have the referendum sometime in October and it is doubtful that the timetable can be held because of the tabling action.

Walter Fuss told the council that the town will be responsible for a three-step program for the grant application.

Pathmark Closes Local Store

Pathmark Supermarket at 214 Spencer St. locked its doors at 6 p.m. Wednesday to close the local supermarket, and plans are being made to vacate the three-year-old outlet.

Store Manager Stephen Radcliff said orders to close the store came from headquarters of Supermarkets General Corp. of Woodbridge, N.J., which operates about 100 Pathmark stores in six states.

Closed at the same time Wednesday was the Pathmark outlet in Chicopee, Mass. Radcliff said today he couldn't explain the reasons for closing the store. "I'm not at liberty to say," he said.

The grocery store closing doesn't affect other Pathmark operations in Manchester, Radcliff said. Pathmark's liquor store, pharmacy, and gasoline station—all in the same Spencer St. complex—remained open today.

Radcliff said the termination of local business affects about 40 employees. All of the employees will be given the opportunity to relocate to another Pathmark store.

Radcliff said it will take several weeks to vacate the Spencer St. store because of its size and large inventory.

Tracy, 13, and Mary, 17, will compete with 3,000 athletes who have also qualified through participation in state Special Olympics.

The East Hartford participants will be entered in track and field events. Other events scheduled are gymnastics, swimming, team sports, and wheel chair activities.

College for Sale
WAKEFIELD, R.I. (UPI) — The Sisters of the Cross and Passion have set a $2.5 million price for sale of Mount St. Joseph College, which closed in June because of financial difficulties.

The women's college site is one of the largest real estate offerings in the history of the beach and resort area. The 150-acre campus includes a multi-purpose building which served as a dormitory, classroom and office facility.

conducted by collegiate and professional athletes. A victory dinner and dance to be attended by celebrities from television, the movies, and sports world will be the highlight of the special social activities planned for the children. Other special activities will include religious ceremonies, an exploration day, a carnival and a parade.

The organizer and sponsor of Special Olympics, nationally, is the Joseph P. Kennedy Jr. Foundation. Usually a member of the Kennedy family is on hand to greet the children who participate in the Special Olympics.

East Hartford's athletes were sponsored this year by Connecticut Special Olympics, Inc. and the Yankee Boat Racing Association. This association has recently held races off the town's boat landing with all proceeds going to the Special Olympics fund.

FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR'S KITCHEN

By VIVIAN FERGUSON

Is there anything more refreshing than a piece of ice-cold watermelon on a scorching day? The sweet luscious taste of this summer delight has refreshed man from prehistoric times. It has also been most important source of water to certain natives of Africa during the dry periods. The National Geographic Society, in a report dated January 1924, states that a Maj. Edward Keith-Roach depended entirely upon watermelons for his water supply for as long as six weeks.

Watermelon was recorded in ancient Arabic, Sanskrit, Spanish, Berber and Sardinian. It was grown throughout the Mediterranean, India and Egypt. At one time, it was thought to be of Asiatic origin but no one could ever find it growing wild in Asia or anywhere else for that matter.

Actually, this melon went to middle Asia from North Africa. It took David Livingston, the missionary-explorer, to find it in the wild in central Africa. Truly wild, it grew in large tracts.

Our early New Englanders brought the watermelon to America about 1629. The Indians look to it readily. Watermelon in America is primarily a dessert or a refreshing snack. Occasionally, we still find people who make watermelon rind pickle. The people of southern Russia make beer from watermelon juice. Watermelon seeds can be roasted and eaten plain or salted. I have read that Orientals also preserve watermelon by salting or brining large pieces or halves in barrels.

Selecting a ripe melon seems to be a problem for most people. Admittedly, this is not an easy task but there are a few guidelines. First, choose a melon that is uniform in size rather than one that is larger at one end than the other. This applies whether it is round or long.

The rind should be firm and free of decay spots. The underside should have a slightly yellow color as opposed to whiteness.

Most people buy halves or quarters. This is much easier to choose. Look for good, bright color on bruises and dark brown or black seeds. You don't want white seeds although there is at least one variety of watermelon that has white seeds exclusively though it is not common.

Watermelon mixes well with most other fruits. If I find that the novelty has worn out with my family and I have a good piece left in the refrigerator, I'll make watermelon balls. You can combine with cantaloupe balls. This is delicious. The hull of the watermelon makes a good serving bowl either filled with fruit or as a punch bowl. As a fruit bowl, cut the melon lengthwise 1/2 to 3/4 way down. You can cut a thin slice off the bottom so it will stand well. Put the melon balls into a large bowl and mix with as many fresh fruits you can find such as seedless grapes, whole strawberries, blueberries. Add some fresh orange segments or canned Mandarin oranges. Taste for sugar, add some lemon juice and a nice, fruity white wine. Allow fruit to marinate in the bowl until just before guests arrive.

Put the fruit into the watermelon hull having cut the edge to make a sawtooth design. This is very easy if you have a sharp knife. Top with fresh mint leaves. For a special occasion, decorate with tiny paper parasols, lemon wedges and maraschino cherries. Nice for a host. With the bicentennial coming up, you could use little

DEAR ABBY: I was invited to a house party last Saturday given by a young woman who works with me. (I'm a 23-year-old divorcee.)

A rather good-looking guy introduced himself and said, "Another fellow and I have a $20 bet on. He says you're wearing falsies, and I say you're not. If you prove it to me, the $20 is yours."

It so happens that I am 38-39-34, and I don't need falsies, so I said, "You win." Then I took him into the bedroom, unbuttoned my blouse just far enough to prove it and gave him a quick look.

He collected the $20 from his friend and gave it to me. I told him I was going to put it in the poor box at church the next morning, which is exactly what I did.

On Monday it was all over the office that I had done a strip-tease dance at the party!

Abby, I swear, I'm telling it like it was. Do you think what I did was so terrible? It was for a good cause.

MISS JUDGED

DEAR MISS: Face it, dear. You sold a quick peek for $20—a foolish gambit for a young woman who values her reputation.

DEAR ABBY: When does a mother say no? I am 77, have worked in factories for 44 years and have raised three sons alone after an early divorce. Two of my boys are fine. The youngest is my problem.

Mel, now 50, was in the Navy and graduated from college under the G. I. bill, but his big dream was getting into show business. (He is a good musician but not good enough to work the big time, which is all he will settle for.)

I have lost track of all the money Mel has cost me. It seems like all I do is draw money out of the bank for him. My income is only $260 a month, and I am eating up my nest egg.

My other sons tell me I am a fool and that Mel can work if he wants to. (They have both sent him money but gave up.) Mel can sell, but he hates to get up in the morning and work a regular routine. He still thinks he can make it in show business.

How can a mother refuse her son? I love him so much. He never married. What am I to do?

MOTHER LOVE

DEAR MOTHER: Don't send Mel another penny! He probably never stuck with a job because he knew he didn't have to—Mother would support him. Tell him that you are all tugged out.

Not everyone can do what he wants to do for a living, in which case he does what he CAN. At 50, it's time Mel becomes a man and grows up.

DEAR ABBY: I read the letter written by the lady who was told off when she mistook a little boy for a "nice little girl" in the supermarket.

When I was a kid, I remember going to the carnival, and for $24, a man would guess your weight. Now for another $24, he'll guess your sex.

Clifford Sets Mark

Despite an occasional heavy downpour, Williams College cross country team's captain-elect Bob Clifford set a course record last night in the fourth of a series of cross country races at the MCC campus.

Clifford outdistanced Eastern Connecticut State College runner Steve Gates, last week's winner, to break the tape with a time of 20:18, snapping the old standard by 15 seconds.

Jeff Geary finished a strong fourth in the College Division.

Second Place Spot Tops for DeNicolo

By LEN AUSTER
Herald Sports Writer

Second doesn't always mean second.

Manchester Country Club assistant golf pro Ralph DeNicolo came in second in 19-year-old amateur Jim Becker in Monday and Tuesday's 54-hole Connecticut Open at Ellington Ridge Country Club but that didn't prevent him from sharing top prize money.

DeNicolo fired a one-under-par total of 215 for the 94 holes, the same score carded by Mike Krak of Wee Burn, to take home a prize of $1,000 for being best among the professionals.

Becker, a junior at the University of Georgia, was first overall with a 208 total and won $200 in merchandise.

"I was happy with the way I played but it could have been better," DeNicolo said. "His score (Becker) was kind of low. I didn't think the course was playing that easy. We were playing the long course."

"I was five under after 10 holes of the second round but I was still back by five shots."

In Monday's round, DeNicolo carded a one-under par 71, which left him six shots behind Becker who set an Ellington Ridge course record with a 65, seven-under par.

Manchester professional came

back with a 75 in Tuesday's morning round and closed with a fine three-under-par 69.

"I've played in the Open about six or seven years and this was the best I've ever done," DeNicolo said.

Who said finishing second can't be a pleasurable event.

DeNicolo holds the Manchester Country Club course record with a seven-under-par 65. He set it July 3, seven-under par, in the Manchester professional came

Royals Making Move

NEW YORK (UPI) — Forget, at least for a moment, about the Baltimore Orioles' chances of catching the Boston Red Sox in the American League East.

It's the Kansas City Royals who are going like gangbusters after the three-time world champion Oakland A's in the AL West.

Since Whitley Herzog took over as manager, the Royals have won 11 of 14 games for a .786 pace and have cut the A's lead to 4½ games as opposed to their imposing 11-game margin.

The Royals kept rolling with a 4-3 victory over the Minnesota Twins Wednesday night while

Ole and on Wednesday, Yogi Berra, the man who coined that phrase to ward off his fired as manager, was out of it; Berra, who was thrust into the Mets managerial role in April of 1973 with the death of Bill Hodges, was replaced by one of his assistant coaches, Roy McMillan, a long-time laborer in the Met system whom the front office thought "deserved a chance."

Kuhn Seeks Out Baseball Owners

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Bowie Kuhn was almost dismissed as baseball's commissioner last month on his look the time Wednesday. But Kuhn flew to Arlington for a day-long meeting with Texas Rangers owner Brad Corbett and after the session the commissioner said he would have more talks with other club owners.

"Our conversations were darned constructive. In my judgment," said Kuhn. "Maybe communication with the clubs should have been higher on my priority list in the past."

It was Corbett who sided with Oakland's Charlie Finley and Baltimore's Jerry Hoffberger last month in their bid to have Kuhn removed.

But before a final vote was taken at the Milwaukee meeting, the New York Yankees and the Rangers reversed their stand, and Kuhn was given a new seven-year term.

"Bowie showed me a lot of class," said Corbett. "He tracked me down in New York and told me he wanted to come down and hear my side of the story."

"What we did in Milwaukee was healthy because it brought about this discussion. But today, I am happy we voted yes the second time around."

NORTH CONWAY, N.H. (UPI) — Jimmy Connors would like to settle a few things with Arthur Ashe on the tennis court.

Connors, who won his second-round match, 7-5, 6-3, over John James of Australia in the 100,000 Volvo International Tennis Tournament Wednesday, spoke afterwards of some comments attributed to Ashe in a national magazine. Connors was obviously bothered.

"I never said anything when I beat the hell of him twice in South Africa and Boston," Connors said. "There's a time to say things and time not to. I think he picked the wrong time, because the next time I may just beat the hell out of him."

Hendricks Signs Pact with Oakland

OAKLAND (UPI) — The Oakland Raiders have signed four-time all-pro linebacker Ted Hendricks.

No figures were disclosed but Hendricks was believed to have signed a three-year contract.

The 6-foot-7 Hendricks, nicknamed "the Mad Stork," was an All America performer at the University of Miami (Fla.) in 1966 and played five years for the Baltimore Colts. He played out his option year and signed a World Football League contract. Baltimore then traded him to the Green Bay Packers, where his salary moved into the $125,000 range. But he again became a free agent.

Hendricks and his agent, Tony Roberts, were known to have negotiated with at least a half-dozen teams, with Atlanta and the New York Giants thought to have the inside track.

Negotiations with the Falcons broke down over an insurance policy Hendricks demanded be added and Hendricks signed after lengthy talks with Raiders Managing General Partner Al Davis Tuesday night and Wednesday.

He passed his physical and turned up Wednesday night at the Raiders' camp.

Coach John Madden, who said Hendricks might start Sunday against Detroit at Berkeley, said "he's a good player who was available, and we're always interested in a player that good."

Clarification

The Manchester Board of Directors at its Tuesday night meeting clarified the situation at the Mt. Nebo complex.

The resolution they had earlier passed renamed the baseball diamond in honor of Matt Moriarty, who for over 40 years has sponsored teams in town.

The baseball diamond will be known as Moriarty Field while the rest of the complex softball diamond and football field will still be known as Mt. Nebo.

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — Bob McCarley, last season's leading scorer in basketball, has decided to end his playing career.

No Tennis Surprises

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — The long awaited debut of the three top seeds brought no surprises in Wednesday's action at the U.S. Open City Courts tennis championships.

However, despite victories by No. 1 Guillermo Vilas of Argentina, No. 2 Arthur Ashe of Miami and No. 3 Manuel Orantes of Spain, the men lost two top seeds when Raul Ramirez of Mexico and Brian Gottfried of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., were upset.

Defending champion Chris Evert and Julie Heldman, the No. 1 and No. 2 seeded women, respectively, also won their matches.

Vilas, who arrived just three hours before he was to play, cut through John Whittinger of Niesbach, Wis. for his 10th straight match victory over four tournaments, 6-3, 6-2.

"I had trouble warming up," Vilas said

Weiskopf Says PGA Six-Man Race

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) — Tom Weiskopf had the PGA Championship all figured out even before it started today.

"There are about a half-dozen of us who can win that's all, and I'm one of them," he said Wednesday.

There were 138 players in the starting field at Firestone Country Club, and most of them would be surprised to know they had been eliminated before they started.

But eliminated they were, at least in the mind of Weiskopf.

Miller, streaky but tremendous

Weiskopf, who beat Nicklaus in sudden death to win the Canadian Open two weeks ago, then blew a seven-stroke lead last week in the Westchester Classic at Harrison, N.Y., was the only one willing to put names on that group of players, however, and he stopped when he got to six.

"Nicklaus, of course," Weiskopf said. "Trevisno, because he drives so straight."

Palmer's a great competitor

"Palmer's a great competitor," Weiskopf said. "No one drives it straighter or more consistently, unless it's Trevino."

NEWS CAPSULES

Permit Denied

HARTFORD (UPI) — The Connecticut Department of Environmental Protection has denied an air quality permit for a proposed Middletown race track on grounds it would produce air pollution. A report of the department's Air Compliance Division Wednesday stated construction of the Saw Mill Brook race track would produce violations of federal carbon monoxide standards along a portion of Rt. 9 in Middletown.

Oppose Rail Cut

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — The Government's Railroad Advisory Task Force will meet Friday to try to block the federal government's decision to exclude 90 miles of freight lines from a proposed northeast rail reorganization plan. The excluded track is about 42 miles less than was originally planned for abandonment in the world devoted exclusively to the training of mineral engineers.

Woman Missing

WETHERSFIELD (UPI) — Police Wednesday listed as missing an attractive operator of a local interior decorating business who was last seen by her husband as she walked from a supermarket. Mrs. Marjorie Jean Scott, 45, had gone shopping Monday with her husband, George, 50, and left with groceries while her husband waited for a butcher to cut some fresh meat.

MP Refused Bail

LONDON (UPI) — Member of Parliament John Stonehouse lost his fifth attempt for bail Wednesday. A high court judge refused to free him from Brixton prison. Stonehouse, 50, who faked his own death on a Miami, Fla. beach Nov. 20 and fled to Australia with a dead man's passport, was extradited on 21 charges of fraud, theft, forgery and conspiracy. He was denied bail three times in magistrate's court hearings. Wednesday's application to a high court judge was his second. Stonehouse was to appear in court again Monday for proceedings committing him and his secretary, Sheila Buckley, 26, to trial. Mrs. Buckley is free on bail on six charges of theft and conspiracy.

Troops Join Protest

LISBON, Portugal (UPI) — Mutinous army troops have joined anti-Communist demonstrators in Portugal's conservative north, sparking fears of a military rebellion. The government sent Marines sympathetic to the country's left-wing leadership to the area Wednesday to quell rioting that has left at least two persons dead and destroyed dozens of Communist offices.

Permits Barred

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Police Chief Edmund Misco says he will not issue any further gambling permits to the Terra Mar Marina as a result of a state organized crime task force raid on a Las Vegas night operation. The Saturday night raid took place among some 300 patrons in the plush restaurant and motel complex as they played at gaming tables where thousands of dollars passed hands, police said.

Charge Reduced

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI) — Attorneys beginning their defense of Jean Little today already had one major victory — the young black woman no longer can be sentenced to die even if she is convicted of killing her white jailer. "The court holds now there is insufficient evidence to support a verdict of first degree murder," Superior Court Judge Hamilton Hogood announced Wednesday in reducing the charges against her to second-degree murder or voluntary manslaughter.

FBI Withdraws

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The FBI has removed itself from the investigation of a break-in at the home of Sen. Howard Baker, R-Tenn., in which burglars ransacked the house but ignored jewels, furs, gold coins and other valuables. An FBI spokesman said Wednesday the agency determined no government property was stolen and withdrew. A spokesman for the District of Columbia police department had no comment on the investigation. Baker, a member of the Senate select committee investigating the CIA, said he was baffled by the break-in because the burglars took none of the $40,000 worth of possessions in the home.

The last hostage to be turned loose was Stebbins. The time was 5:35 p.m. (6:05 a.m. EDT). "Under the circumstances I think we were pretty well treated," Stebbins said. "I asked them why they seized the consular office to achieve that objective but they just kept repeating their objective without answering my question." Malaysian Home Minister Ghazali

Hostages Freed

Shafie arranged the Sri Lanka stopover in a phone conversation with Sri Lanka Prime Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike. Sri Lanka insisted that the door of the DC3 must remain sealed during the fueling stop — and said that if it opens, police there will open fire on the plane. Bergentrable told newsmen after his release. "We were treated very well but in a situation like this there is bound to be tension." Asked why he was taken hostage by the terrorists, Bergentrable said, "Our embassy is next door to the American consular office so the explanation is rather complicated. "It could be because of the incident where similar (Red Army) people were deported from Sweden," he said. Two of those freed in Japan had been involved in a bomb plot in Sweden.

New Quarter Out Aug. 18

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A new quarter for a new century coin will have the dates 1776-1976 below the date. The 25-cent piece will depict a revolutionary drummer boy on the back, instead of the American eagle, and will keep the likeness of George Washington on the front. The quarter is the second of three coins issued for the bicentennial. The half dollar was issued a month ago, and a new version of the Eisenhower dollar will come out in October.
